The Lockney Beacon

Vol 78 Lockney (Floyd County) Texas 79241

Thursday, June 14, 1979 12 Pages In One Section Number 47

CAPTURE COOPERATIVE DEMONSTRATION TITLE—Floyd County 4-H members Terri Kinard (left) and Darlene Broese, both of Lockney, claimed first place honors in the Cooperative Demonstration of the Texas 4-H Roundup, June 5-6, at Texas A&M University. The annual statewide Roundup attracted more than 1,600 youth to the A&M campus.

Clarke Gets First Wheat

Lockney's first wheat of 1979 came in Tuesday afternoon. Windy Clarke cut four loads from a dryland field on the R. L. Bennett Estate farm, about 3 1/2 miles east of Lockney.

The first load arrived at Patterson Grain at 2:45 but the 5:00 load qualified for the Chamber of Commerce first marketable wheat in the Lockney trade area. That premium is $25.

Coincidentally Floydada was receiving its first load of marketable wheat about the same time.

Another coincidence is that Larry Bramlet delivered the first wheat of the 1978 crop on the same date to the same elevator.

Each of Clarke's four loads were over 32,000 lbs. Test weight was 61 lbs. per bushel. Moisture on the first marketable load was 12.6.

Herbert Dudley, Patterson Grain manager, said that the wheat crop is better than was expected. Clarke's wheat had good, plump grains and wasn't bleached out as might have been the case considering the recent rains.

Clarke said the field would average 18-20 bushels per acre.

School To Build Field House Addition

Low bid of $54,963 was accepted Monday night by Lockney Independent School District trustees for a metal addition to the field house. Tusha Builders of Lubbock submitted the bid, and the bid by Lubbock Development Company was $4510 higher.

Construction is to begin immediately, with October 1 as target date for completion. The building will be 40 x 50 feet and have two stories in its 4000 square feet of floor space. The second floor will house the weight room and also have space for meeting and film viewing.

Dressing rooms and showers and coaches' offices will be on the lower floor. Also, near the coaches' offices will be a bathroom with shower.

In other business, the board decided not to exempt personal automobiles from the tax rolls for the '79-80 school year. If the exemption had been approved, the board felt that a 3-cent tax increase per $100 valuation would have been necessary to make up the lost revenue.

Resignations of four teachers were accepted. These are Gene Griffin, high school coach and history teacher; Bernadine Griffin, high school English; Charley Frazier, home economics teacher hired last month who resigned to accept a similar job in Plainview, and Sally Carthel, junior high English. The Griffins are moving to Matador where he will be head coach at Motley County High School.

New teachers hired included the following: Cynthia Dyer of Dimmitt, a new graduate of Texas Tech, home economics; Treana Aston of Lockney, a Texas Tech graduate who has been teaching in Plainview, home economics; Karen Herber of Texline, a new Texas Tech graduate and a sister of Steve Herber of Floydada, county extension agent, kindergarten, and Wendy Montandon of Lockney, high school English and speech. Mrs. Montandon taught one semester in LHS while filling in for a teacher on maternity leave, and then taught this past year at Floydada.

Supt. W. H. Hallmark told the board that vacancies exist in the faculty for '79-80. Still needed are a junior high English teacher, a special education, Plan "A" high school resource teacher, a high school coach who can teach math or typing, a junior high coach and a junior high principal.

The trustees voted to approve contract services with Region XVII Service Center for all Title I federal programs; to authorize principals James Poole and R. L. Knox to attend the state principals' summer conference this week in Austin; to approve First National Bank of Lockney as school funds depository for '79-80, and to have the July board meeting on the 16th instead of the 9th.

Present for Monday night's meeting were Supt. Hallmark, tax-assessor and collector Jack Samford, principals Poole and Knox, Don Riggs of Tusha Builders, Fred Davis of Lubbock Development, and trustees Tom Duvall, Kenneth Broese, Eugene Tannahill, Kelton Shaw, Jerry Williams, Eddie Teeter and Eddie Foster.

Swimming Pool Opens

Lockney Swimming Pool opened Tuesday afternoon and will continue operation through the summer months.

Senior Red Cross-licensed life guards Sharon Spencer and Gay Frizzell will be watching over swimmers from 1:30 to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays. The Sunday hours will be 1:30 to 5 p.m.

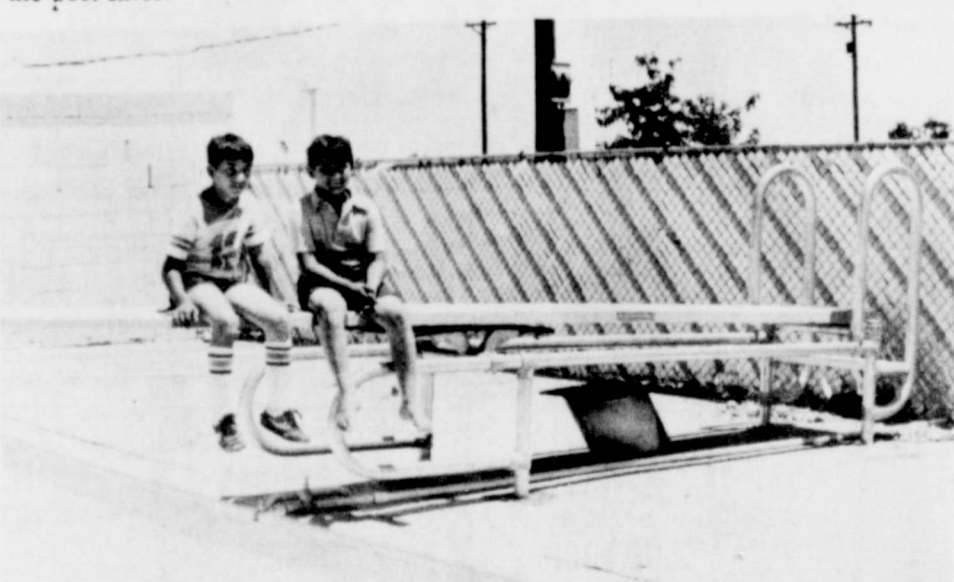

Pool admission prices are 75 cents for children under 12 years old, and $1 for adults and children over 12. Swim suits are the proper attire, as no cut-offs may be worn because raveling threads clog the pool filter.

Season tickets may be purchased from Violet Cooper, pool manager again this year, for $30 for families or $15 for an individual.

Mrs. Cooper plans to start swim lessons soon. Call her at the pool at 652-3769 for more information.

Private parties for after pool hours can be scheduled. Cost is $20 for up to 20 people, and $1 apiece thereafter.

Junior Red Cross-approved life guards will be used to assist the senior life guards.

Lockney Scouts Attending Camp Post

Boy Scouts from Lockney Troop 259 are at Camp Post this week to gain new skills, make new friends and learn more about themselves as individuals.

The boys are camping in tents provided by Lockney Cooperatives, Lockney Gin, Hi-Plains Gin and First National Bank (each firm donated a tent).

Dr. W. J. Mangold and the staff at Lockney General Hospital provided a free physical for each Lockney boy going to camp. In addition, Dr. Mangold made a contribution for camping equipment.

Camp Post, located near Post, has aquatics, rifle range, nature study, conservation, pioneering, hiking, out-post camping and "plenty of fun" as the Scouts work on badges.

Families of the Scouts are invited Friday night for special activities and awards around a high campfire. Each Lockney boy is studying this week five different courses.

The Scouts will return home Saturday afternoon after cleaning up the camp grounds.

Scout Master Clarence Ansley, his assistant Jack Gaskins, and all the Scouts of Troop 259 wish to express their appreciation to the businesses that gave the tents, and to Dr. Mangold and the hospital staff for the physicals.

Ansley, Gaskins, Jerry Johnson and Charlie Carthel are helping at the camp this week, although none are staying the entire time.

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

Termites cause wood decay and damage that threaten home upkeep.

"Subterranean termites live in colonies in the ground and require moisture to survive. The worker termites attack damp wood which is in contact with the ground.

They may build earthen tunnels from the ground up to the wood. They will sometimes completely eat away the inside of a piece of wood while leaving the outside surface intact.

HOW TO CHECK FOR TERMITES

1 - Check for termites at least twice a year.

2 - During the spring and summer (termite mating season), call an exterminator to identify large numbers of flying insects that you cannot identify.

3 - Look for earthen tunnels in the following locations:

-along masonry foundations and basement walls,
-along openings where pipes enter walls, and
-along the surface of metal pipes.

4 - Examine all cracks in slabs and loose mortar in masonry walls. Check all joints where wood meets with concrete or masonry, at walls, slabs, piers.

5 - Inspect all wood structures that are near the ground.

Pay special attention to any that touch the house, such as fences, wood trellises, carports.

Examine crawl spaces that provide moist conditions.

6 - Check windowsills, door thresholds, porches and the underside of stairs. Be on the lookout for peeling and blistering paint.

7 - Where termite damage to wood is suspected, probe with a sharp point, such as an icepick or penknife.

If the point penetrates the wood to a depth of one-half inch, when using only hand pressure, wood damage by termites is likely indicated.

HOW TO PROTECT AGAINST TERMITES

Chemicals needed to control termites are toxic to animals and plant life. There is also danger of contaminating the water supply.

Therefore, the chemicals should be applied with extreme caution and preferably by an experienced person.

Follow this procedure when chemical treatments are necessary for an existing building:

1 - Dig a trench, approximately one foot wide and three feet deep, adjacent to the foundation wall.

2 - Prepare a solution of the insecticide. Consult your county Extension office or local exterminator regarding the recommended type and mixing instructions.

3 - Pour the insecticide against the exposed wall surface and into the trench as it is backfilled.

Apply the solution to all other locations where wood and masonry meet at a joint. It should also be applied to other areas that have earth floors.

4 - Use extreme caution with these chemicals since they will also be poisonous to humans and pets.

If a chemical is used inside the house, the room or space must be well ventilated and vacated for a period of time.

Other considerations should include:

-All surface water should be directed away from the building, allowing no water to accumulate at the foundations.

-Keep crawl spaces well ventilated. A house of 1,000 square feet should have at least eight vents, 16 by eight inches, open at all times.

Crawl spaces should be at least two feet in height. Keep space clear of wood scraps.

-Untreated wood should not come closer than six inches to the ground.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, or origin.

Singing Convention

Sunday At Matador

The Motley and Dickens County Singing Convention will meet in the First Assembly of God Church in Matador at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 17. The event will feature many good singers and everyone is not only invited, but urged to attend.

The body of an adult man contains more than 10 gallons of water.

Veterans Administration News

The Veterans Administration wants to identify a relatively small group of veterans' survivors who are eligible for a new form of VA compensation payments authorized just before Congress adjourned in October.

Members of the group are survivors of certain totally service-connected disabled veterans who died prior to October 1, 1978, of non-service-connected causes.

Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office director, said the agency's problem is that its records system is not designed to identify survivors of these veterans.

"While we believe the number of these spouses and children is relatively small, we are doing everything we can to make sure that all potentially eligible survivors are made aware of these new benefits," Coker said.

"We are seeking the cooperation of the national veterans organizations and the press in bringing this to the attention of potential beneficiaries," Coker said.

CONDITIONS STATED
Several conditions must be met before survivors can qualify for these new dependency and indemnity compensation payments:

* The veteran must have been receiving 100 percent service-connected disability compensation payments from VA for at least ten years before his or her death, or for at least five years from discharge if death occurred within ten years of leaving service.

* The surviving spouse must have been married to the veteran for at least two years prior to the veteran's death.

* Benefits will not be paid if death was due to the veteran's willful misconduct or was wrongfully and intentionally caused by the claimant.

Eligible survivors: totally disabled veterans who died before October 1, 1978, will receive benefits," Coker said. "But the benefits will be retroactive only to October 1, no matter how long ago the veteran died."

Survivors of veterans who died prior to October 1, 1978, must apply for this new benefit, Coker said, but VA will automatically notify survivors of veterans who die

Few Games Played

Only three games have been played in Little League as of Wednesday, due mostly to the rain.

On June 4 Lockney Cooperatives beat First National Bank, but the June 5 game between Fire Department and Tye Company was rained out — as was the make-up game that was to have been played Saturday.

Tye Company defeated Lockney Cooperatives 7-1. The score was 15-10 as the Mathis brothers — Terry and Jerry Lewis — faced each other's team. Jerry Lewis was on the winning team.

Rain forced cancellation of the game Friday night between the Fire Department and First National.

Fire Department — which has as yet to play a game — forfeited Monday night to Lockney Cooperatives after part of its team went to Boy Scout camp. The Scouts don't return until Saturday, so the Fire Department's scheduled game with Tye Company this Friday night is in doubt.

Tye Company continued with its winning streak Tuesday night by beating First National 11-7. Tye is undefeated in two games, thereby leading the Little League. Lockney Cooperatives has two wins also, but Tye has beaten them making their record 2-1.

Teen League

Lockney 15 and 16-year-old team avenged an earlier loss against Petersburg Monday night. Lockney was host team and the score was 13-8.

Victor Villalon and Troy Turley were winning pitchers. Coach David Quisenberry said all members of the team played good.

Next game is Monday at 8:30 p.m. at Idalou.

Lockney's season record is 3-2.

Scoring Monday night went this way: Joe Reay and Steven Galvan, 2; Troy Turley, 3; Victor Villalon, Mike Arellano, Karl Race, Johnny Rodriguez, Gilbert Blanco and Dean Molinar, 1 each.

Baptist Girls Attend Camp

Eight girls and three sponsors from First Baptist Church of Lockney are at Plains Baptist Assembly near Floydada Monday through Thursday of this week.

Attending the camp for girls in the first through sixth grades are Heather Holt, Shandra Bybee, Terri Sparkman, Rachelle Ford, Donna Vernon, Cindy Cooper, Shea Jackson and Karen Ford.

Their sponsors are Glenda Ford, Juanita Jenkins and Jody Nance.

Teachers Receive Fellowships

Four teachers from the South Plains OIC Area of Texas were named to receive fellowships to attend the 22nd Annual Petroleum Institute for Educators to be held June 11-29, 1979, at the University of Houston.

Announcement of those selected was made by Mr. Bob G. Wilburn, Amoco Production Company, Levelland, who is the area Institute Chairman for the Oil Information Committee of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The four teachers are: Mr. Phineas Holmes, Levelland; Mrs. Sallye Jayne Lyles, Floydada; Miss Linda McAnally, Brownfield; and Mrs. Linda V. Shannon, Lubbock.

Mr. Holmes teaches fourth grade science at South School in Levelland. He received his B.S. degree in the field of elementary education in 1975 from Texas Tech University.

Mrs. Lyles teaches social studies at Floydada Junior High School. She received her B.S. degree in the field of education in 1964 from Texas Tech University.

Miss McAnally teaches third grade at Colonial Heights School. She received her B.S. degree in education in 1977 from Texas Tech University.

Mrs. Shannon teaches science and social studies at Nat Williams School. She received her B.S. and M.A. degrees from Texas Tech University.

The Petroleum Institute, designed particularly for science, mathematics and social studies teachers, will be coordinated this year by Dr. Jack M. Sheridan, professor of education, University of Houston. Lectures, provided by experts from the oil industry, will include transportation, exploration, production, manufacturing, marketing and research. Three hours of graduate credit in the field of education are granted upon successful completion of assignments.

Solar Home Tour Set Saturday

'Casa Del Sol' Tour To Benefit Floyd County Libraries

Saturday, June 16, from 2 to 4 p.m. is the open house at Casa Del Sol, the solar home of Mrs. Georgia Mae Ericson.

Tickets for the event are priced at $2.50 and are available at the Floyd County Library in Floydada and at the library's Lockney branch.

After the death of her husband in 1976, Mrs. Georgia Mae Smith Ericson has returned to her family property in Mt. Blanco Canyon.

Her collaborative effort with the Texas Tech Department of Civil Engineering has resulted in a public education project in order to disseminate information concerning the energy prob-blem.

Solar energy, via panels located strategically around the home, is used for domestic water, space and swimming-pool heating.

Throughout the school year seminars will be conducted at Casa del Sol for civil engineering students by Ernest W. Kiesling, professor and chairperson for the Department of Civil Engineering. All fees collected will be donated to the Stanley G. Ericson Fund in memory of Georgia Mae's late husband.

The solar home will be involved in other community activities with the Crosby County Museum and area hospitals (in whirlpool therapy for physically handicapped patients) in which all fees and donations will also go to her late husband's fund.

The interior design of the home has been enhanced by rock sculpture by an East Berlin refugee, Manfred Kater.

The rock utilized for the exterior and interior has been carefully selected from Slaton, Canyon, Mt. Blanco, Caprock, and Silver Falls.

Casa del Sol sits on a 38-acre land tract — part of the original property of Hank Smith (Georgia Mae's grandfather), where the original rock house of the pioneer and his family still stands — Goretta Hacienda.

As one approaches the solar home, a gazebo is first encountered, which has been designated as a memorial to her late sister Evelyn Smith Lowrie.

The rest area has been created to match the surroundings, and there will be a twin waterfall added later.

A nostalgic all-wood windmill stands outside the enclosed pool area and is functional as a weather vane and enshrined as a tribute to pioneer well drilling.

Georgia Mae is a philanthropist. She hopes to promote solar utilization within the community and offers her unique home as a haven for study and health therapy.

Dear Sir,
The letter to the editor in the June 7 edition of this newspaper was very interesting. I agree with the writer. The police officers should not have taken away the water pistols, yet if the kids had a place to shoot their water pistols they would not have had them taken away. Maybe next year the Old Settlers planning committee can come up with some ideas to entertain the kids.

There are empty lots that could be used for water balloon tosses, water pistol shooting contests, horse shoe pitching and other games. Why couldn't we have a carnival? There are many things that we could do to help our kids enjoy the Old Settlers and bring in more people for the weekend. It could help the whole area by having more interesting things going on for all ages.

This year Old Settlers was very boring! It should be something everyone looks forward to. It would help if the police officers stopped taking away kids toys, and put themselves to work doing their real jobs. Like giving tickets to speeders, kids under sixteen with no drivers license driving, drunk drivers, and other violations that go unattended! It's about time this community found something to entertain its kids! It seems everytime something is set up for the kids, the adults take it over! With correct supervision many things would go over real well for our kids here.

More concerned parents,
Bill and Shelia Nelson
