Boy Shoots Teacher To Show Toughness To His Classmate

(By The Associated Press)

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 24—Police saw today in the shooting of Miss June Mapes, 50, Arlington school principal, by Robert Snyder, 12-year-old pupil, the picture of a boy temporarily deranged by hallucinations of "toughness as a gangster."

"I feel sorry for the boy and his parents," the principal, lying in Toledo hospital with a bullet wound through her groin, told Police Sergeant A. W. Bernhagen. Her condition was reported as favorable.

The boy was in a serious condition with a bullet wound through his head which Bernhagen said was self-inflicted.

Detective Lieut. Ralph Murphy said he was told by James Foltz, friend of the Snyder boy, that Robert recently had been listening to radio programs based on crime, and reading bandit stories.

Murphy said his investigation led him to believe the boy, armed with his father's automatic pistol, wanted to demonstrate his "toughness," in the face of authority, to his pretty classmate, Gloria Moore, 12.

There was no available information, Murphy said, to indicate any other motive for the shooting which occurred at 2 p. m. yesterday in the principal's office.

Sergeant Bernhagen said Miss Maples told him the following story:

"I was about to leave my office when I saw Robert at the door. He told me he wanted to see me and we went back into the office. 'I want to see Gloria Moore,' the boy said.

"I can't call her from class now. I told him. He pointed the pistol and said, you can step over to that buzzer and call her. I thought the gun was a toy and started to walk past him when he fired, the first shot striking me. Robert turned and ran toward the door, falling to one knee, and fired four more times, but missed. He then ran from the building."

Man Decides After 17 Years He Made A Mistake And Enters Tulane To Study; An Engineer Now, He'll Be A Doctor

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24. — Seventeen years ago Daniel F. Dutton of Beaumont, Tex., hesitated between medicine and engineering. He became a civil engineer. He built sidewalks, streets, and highways, married and had two children. He grew older. As he grew older he decided he had made a mistake.

So last night at 39, he turns his back on engineering and enrolled at Tulane university for the six-year medical course, including a year of pre-medicine, four years of medicine, and one year as interne. He entered the school as a junior in arts and sciences.

Heavyset, slightly bald, wearing horn-rimmed glasses Dutton sat among a group of young students yesterday and said:

"Two of my uncles were doctors and I always wanted to follow in their footsteps. But I was uncertain when I was in college. I studied engineering. For a long time I have been reading medicine. This summer I was finally in a position in which I could carry out my plans."

Dutton had to stop talking to rush off to grammar school to pick up his two children, Genevieve, 10, in the fifth grade, and Daniel, jr., 8, a second-grader.

"You're late," Genevieve said.

"I've just been trying to get into school," Dutton said.

United States To Play Big Role In Exports

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A confident forecast the United States will play a major role in world wheat exports this season came from government economists today.

Market experts, after a complicated survey of supplies, new crops, and demands, predicted 95,000,000 bushels of United States wheat will be sold to importing nations that need 485,000,000 bushels.

Exports Have Been Small

Exports since July 1 have been small, the government experts admitted.

This delay was attributed to a tendency by European nations to "shop around," watching the prices of grain from Soviet Russia and the indicated crops in Argentina and Australia.

These European wheat buyers will soon increase purchases, the bureau of agricultural economics said, because their supplies are now near a record low-level.

To Require Large Amount

The bureau estimated Europe would require 400,000,000 bushels of wheat exports this season with England buying 202,000,000, Belgium, 40,000,000, Germany, 28,000,000, France, 20,000,000 and the Netherlands, 24,000,000.

Its tentative estimate of sources for the 485,000,000 bushels of world wheat exports gave Argentina 100,000,000, the United States and Australia, 95,000,000 each, Canada and the Danube basin, 65,000,000 each, Russia, 20,000,000, French North Africa, 20,000,000 and other producers, 15,000,000.

War Veterans Return Home

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 — Daniel J. Doherty, stocky Woburn, Mass., attorney and veteran of the navy, took command of the American Legion today with a promise there would be no "raids on the national treasury" during the next year.

The new commander said the Legion's policies will be carried out by the national executive committee according to the dictates of the convention, but added that:

To Promote Americanism

"first of all, the promotion of Americanism will be my objective. Secondly, will come placing the wives of veterans o nthe same level as wives of veterans of previous wars in receiving pensions. There will be, however, no 'raids on the national treasury' for further pensions."

Doherty was elected at the closing session o fthe Legion's convention after a lively contest with Ray Kelly of Detroit.

As most of the estimated half-million Legion visitors departed, New York settled back into a workaday existence that held in the immediate future nothing more exciting than an election, the Notre Dame-Army football game and a few other minor incentives for thrills.

Driver For Freight Lines Is Critically Hurt In Mishap

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 24. (AP)—J. C. Covey of Fort Worth, driver for the Sproles Motor Freight Lines, was critically burned and his left leg crushed early Friday morning when the truck he was steering under tow broke loose, rammed into a culvert and burned after overturning seven miles southeast of Henrietta.

Covey was brought to a hospital here. The truck and a load of produce destined here were destroyed.

Woman Is Charged With Aiding Prisoners To Escape From Jail

WAXAHACHIE, Sept. 24. (AP) — Bond of $1,000 was set today for Opal Lusk of Ennis, charged with aiding four prisoners to escape from the Ellis county jail recently. The bail was set at a habeas corpus hearing. May Kidd, sister of Opal Lusk, fled with three men after a pistol has been delivered to them in jail. The men were Bracken Huddleston, Henry Day and Bill Garrett, all of Dallas.

High Wire Stunt Man's Foot Slips And He's Badly Hurt

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 24. (AP) — Benny Dryden, who has thrilled thousands of country fair audiences with his daring feats on the high wire, lay near death in a Tacoma hospital today because his foot slipped.

As his wife waited at the other end of the wire for him to complete his "giant swing," Dryden plunged from the wire at the western Washington fair last night and plunged 45 feet to the ground.

His skull was fractured, an arm broken and he was injured internally. Physicians said his chances of recovery were slight.

Dryden is the son of Dr. S. D. Dryden, Colorado Springs, and resides at McAllen, Texas.

Warnings Telling Citizens To Leave China To Be Ignored; Navy Board Tells Policy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —The United States navy served formal notice today that its Asiatic fleet will remain in Chinese waters "as long as the present controversy between China and Japan exists."

This statement was issued by the navy department as a formal announcement of Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic squadrons.

Board Takes Action

It was made public after a meeting of the naval general board, the highest policy making body of the navy department. Presumably it had the full support of the state department.

The admiral's announcement said that the navy's policy of maintaining warships at ports, where needed for the protection of American nationals "will continue in full force even after our nationals have been warned to leave China and after an opportunity to leave has been given."

Engaged In Business

"Most American citizens now in China," the statement said, "are engaged in business or professions which are their only means of livelihood. These persons are unwilling to leave until their businesses have been destroyed or they are forced to leave due to actual physical danger.

"Until such time comes our naval forces can not be withdrawn without failure in our duty and without bringing great discredit on the United States navy."

Cash Bonuses Are Ordered For Crews On Boats In War Zones

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP) — Maritime commission ordered tonight a cash bonus for officers and crews of government operated vessels entering the war zones in the Sino-Japanese and Spanish conflicts.

The commission voted to pay a $50 bonus to the men on government operated ships, saying it recognized "the hazards undertaken by seamen sailing into danger zones in Chinese and Spanish waters." The bonus is in addition to routine benefits provided for injury or death under the government employes compensation act.

WYOMING WELCOMES FDR

Court Foe Is On Hand For His Arrival

President Declares He Is To Continue Policy Of Trying To Accomplish Most Good

By The Associated Press)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 24—President Roosevelt told a crowd of thousands here today he was going to continue in his second term the way he had in his first, trying to do the "most good for the greatest number."

After being welcomed by a group including Senator O'Mahoney, Democratic foe of the supreme court increase proposal, the president said he had told a friend recently who advised him to "coast" from now on, that he would not take such advice.

Will Refuse To Coast

"I don't want to coast and the nation doesn't want me to coast with my feet up on the front wheels," he said.

"Don't let anybody deceive you, the government of the United States is not going broke," he said.

O'Mahoney was not invited to meet the president upon his arrival in the senator's home state. Governor Miller named the Wyomingite, who opposed Roosevelt's court bill, to a committee of Wyoming "private citizens" who gathered to welcome the president. O'Mahoney boarded the special train and will travel as far as Casper as the president's guest.

"I had thought it was part of the duty of the president to keep

Security Cash Goes Begging

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 — About $400,000 of social security funds due wage earners or their heirs is going begging, officials estimated today.

The total is made up of small sums available for thousands of individuals who became 65 years old during the last year and for the estates of persons who died after paying some social security taxes.

Accounts Closed Out

Actuaries had estimated there would be 300,000 social security accounts closed out this year. Yet in the first nine months of the year only about 30,000 accounts were closed.

In any case, officials said, the situation will take care of itself in future years. The average lump sum payment will be larger, providing more incentive to claim it.

Warden Of Folsom Prison Is Dead Of Wounds In Stabbing

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 24. (AP)—Stabbed 12 times by convicts Warden C. A. Larkin of Folsom prison died today, the fourth victim of Sunday's riot in the penitentiary yard.

Death followed by a few hours a sixth blood transfusion in a desperate attempt to save Larkin's life. Dr. Proctor Day, prison physician, said infection caused the warden's death.

Man Offers New Solution For Strikes; He Just Sells His Plant To Former Employes

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24—One Los Angeles manufacturer experimented today with a new "solution" for strikes—sell the factory to the strikers.

L. G. Griffith, of the Beverly knitting mill, said he expects to receive incorporation papers from Sacramento today by which his 55 striking employes can own his $20,000 plant and buy the equipment from him on the installment plan.

"I'm through with being the owner if this will help the men and women in my plant to go back to work.

"They'll be their own boss. They'll set their own wages and working hours. I'll just sell what they produce," Griffith said.

In setting up the employe-owned corporation, Griffith claimed he had the support of a plant foreman, J. D. Tate, who would urge the strikers, members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers, to join.

Besieged Chinese Army Is Facing Annihilation

(By The Associated Press)

PEIPING, Sept. 24 — The Japanese army completely surrounded the strategic Chinese base of Paotingfu, 80 miles south of here, today and issued an ultimatum to the Chinese army to surrender or be annihilated.

The Japanese high command reported the 50-foot high walls of the ancient city of 100,000 people had been reached in a dawn attack. The second Chinese division, commanded by Cheng Tung-Kuo, manning the wall, was said to be fighting desperately but the continuous Japanese artillery bombardment was too much for it.

Take Over Three Gates

The Japanese were sai dto have taken over the three gates, commanding entry to the city.

(A communique issued by the Japanese army in Tokyo announced that Paotingfu had been captured).

Other Chinese troops were reported fleeing to the southwest along the railway from Peiping to Hankow.

The Japanese were bringing up tanks and heavy artillery to support the infantry attack. The American Presbyterian mission is just outside the north wall where the battle raged.

No Word Of Americans

No word had been received as to whether the American workers had withdrawn before the battle swept all around the city's walls.

The fall of Paotingfu, the capital of Hopeh province, was considered by observers as likel yto mean that Chinese resistance in North China was browne and be the probable signal for a Japanese-controlled administration for the whole region.

Business Men And Farmers In Meeting At Slaton Today

SLATON, Sept. 24, (Special)—Enforcement of what is termed the "Memphis cotton plan' under which government cotton classers would be placed in various communities was given unanimously by a mass meeting of farmers and business men at Slaton City hall this morning.

More than 100 attended the meeting, which was called by J. W. Nesbitt, Slaton business man.

Youths Facing Court Counts

The juvenile problem occupied attention of at least three law agencies this morning.

One person charged with attempted passing of forged instruments had been referred to attention of Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court, whose jurisdiction in juvenile matters is concurrent with that of County Judge J. J. Dillard.

Three Boys Sought

Three other boys, 13, 14 and 16 years old, were sought by police as runaways.

A 17-year-old youth, associate of the juvenile charged with attempted forgery, pleaded not guilty of a similar offense before Walter Davies, justice of peace, and bond of $750 was set.

The two held in connection with attempted passing charges live near Buffalo Gap said Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff. One of them was in possession of a "billy" when arrested. They were in possession of several checks they assertedly had written and exchanged for purpose of thwarting possible attempts at detection, said the deputy.

Arrests Are Expected

Police said they believed they would be able to have the runaways, at least two of them, arrested this afternoon.

Two negroes will be charged this afternoon with possession of whisky after a raid in 1900-block east Avenue B late Thursday by officials of the Texas Liquor Control board, the sheriff's department and police, said Sam W. Port, inspector of the control board. Seventy pints of whisky was confiscated.

Police Are Asked To Search For Missing New Mexico Man

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 24. (AP) — Police were asked this morning to aid in a search for Lester Millhouse, Albuquerque N. M., trucker who disappeared here Thursday after selling a truck load of produce brought here from New Mexico.

Ernest Kenyon, uncle of the missing man, told officers he and his nephew were supposed to meet Thursday afternoon to return to New Mexico together, but Millhouse failed to keep the engagement.

Kenyon said Millhouse had a large sum of money with him.

Defeat Of Third Term Proposal Draws No Allred Comment

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. (AP) — The fact that New Mexico has refused to change its constitutional inhibition against third terms for state and county officers today drew no enlightening comment from Governor James V. Allred as to his future plans.

There have been rumors the governor was contemplating seeking a third term but he has consistently turned aside questions on whether they had basis.

Boosters Of Tech Red Raiders Off On Grid Special Tonight

The crack grid special to be operated by the Santa Fe railroad will steam away at 9:55 o'clock tonight for Austin, packed with an estimated 325 persons bound for the Texas Technological college-Texas university game Saturday afternoon.

Aboard will be included the Matador band, the Saddle Tramps, men's cheering corps whose trip was contributed to by the student council of the college, which authorized an expenditure of $150 to help defray expenses, and a representative cross-section of professional and business men and women and students.

Price of the tickets is $7.05 for the round-trip.

The schedule had been changed slightly this morning, said Santa Fe officials. Austin will be reached at 8:25 o'clock Saturday morning, and the train will leave Austin at 11:55 o'clock Saturday night, arriving at Lubbock at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning.

Officials indicated the change was due to the fact it had been learned the train would make a faster schedule than formerly had been announced.

The trip will be 432 miles. It unofficially was understood another special may be made up for the Loyola university game at New Orleans Nov. 5. That distance would be approximately 800 miles.

Italy To Join Alliance And Help Others

Mussolini Promises That He Will Send No Volunteers To Spanish Warfronts

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 24 — An authoritative source asserted today Premier Mussolini had promised Britain and France he would send no more "volunteers" to Spain, making possible Italian entrance in the Anglo-French diplomatic front and a new balance of power for Europe.

While Britain and France were keenly anxious to accept Italy's advances at face value they could not help but look for a possible snag. A definite feeling of optimism prevailed in foreign office circles but it was tempered by a slight suspicion of Il Duce's motives in presenting such a startling assurance regarding Spain.

New Move Expected

His sudden willingness to promise that no further troops should be sent to aid the Spanish insurgents—coming on the eve of his departure for an important conference with Chancellor Hitler of Germany—caused many observers to wonder whether Italy was preparing some new and surprising move.

Some British observers — and Rome dispatches bore this out — were frankly considering Mussolini's gestures of cooperation with France and England as a method of strengthening his position to drive a harder bargain with Hitler.

Definite Promise Given

The authoritative British source said that Italy had given both Britain and France a definite promise no more Italian troops would go to Spain if the three powers could agree, among other things, on Italian demands for parity with Britain and France in the Mediterranean anti-piracy accord reached at Nyon.

This agreement was expected to be reached without difficulty in technical talks in Paris next week among experts of the three countries.

Some informed observers were inclined to accept the growing friendliness among Britain, France and Italy because of what they asserted were two strong factors:

Passes Peak Of Power

1. Italian realization that she had passed the peak of her power in relation to Britain and France now that their huge rearmament programs had begun to take effect;

2. Mussolini is having trouble in Ethiopia and needs British friendship and recognition of his new empire to facilitate its government.

Former Noted Dancer And Her Husband At Parting Of Ways

CHICAGO, Sept. 24. (AP) — Irene Castle McLaughlin and Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, whose secret marriage in 1923 created a sensation in Chicago society circles, were at the parting of the ways today.

The former dancer of international fame charged "extreme and repeated cruelty" in a suit for divorce filed yesterday against the prominent business man and sportsman.

Mrs. McLaughlin asked for the custody of their children, Barbara, 12 and William, eight, and a financial settlement.

Big Military Demonstration Staged As Mussolini Leaves

ROME, Sept. 24. (AP)—Amid a gigantic military demonstration, Premier Mussolini left today for Germany to visit Europe's other powerful fascist leader, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler.

Il Duce drove from Palezzo Venezia to his special train in a closed car through streets packed by thousands of Romans, held behind tight lines of militiamen.

Kai-Shek Says That Country Is Obligated

Premier Declares That America Can Not Remain Neutral With Nine-Power Pact In Force

(By The Associated Press)

NANKING, Sept. 24— Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, premier of China and commander in chief of the army, declared today the United States was obligated by her treaties "to support China's struggle against Japanese aggression."

The generalissimo was visibly moved as he talked to American correspondents in the Chinese capital. His remarks were translated by Madame Chiang, his American-educated wife.

Appreciation Expressed

Shortly before, the official Chinese central news agency had expressed on behalf of the government appreciation for the American protests against Japanese bombardments of Nanking, adding "but we hope more positive measures will be adopted against the slaughter of innocent non-combatants."

The premier declared "America's responsibility in the present Sino-Japanese war is greater than ever before because she convened the Washington disarmament conference and was mainly instrumental in concluding the nine-power pact and the League of Nations covenant.

Fights For Existence

"China today is fighting not only for her own existence but for defense of the principles of the nine-power pact and the league covenant. Therefore it is up to the United States and all other signatories of existing agreements to support China's struggle."

The nine-power pact was signed in Washington in 1922. Under its terms the United States, Britain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Portugal, Belgium, Japan and China agreed to maintain the territorial and administrative integrity of China.

"Neutrality for the United States is impossible," Chiang asserted, "so long as the nine power pact remains in force. The United States cannot remain neutral. I am confident the people and the governments of the signatory nations have not forgotten their obligations."

The generalissimo declared he was sure "America's present attitude was not the real American attitude."

Gen. Chiang was understood to be referring by "America's present attitude' to the partial embargo on munitions to the Orient. He declined to comment directly on this.

The generalissimo expressed sur-

Tax Payments To Be Sought

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 24.—The large body of Texans who have fallen behind in their property tax payments will be one of the big targets at the special legislative session opening Monday if certain members of the senate efficiency and economy committee have their way.

Sen. Albert Stone of Brenham asserts delinquent state taxes owed by real property owners aggregate $20,000,000, and a vigorous campaign would collect most of that amount. He voiced the opinion a few weeks ago that anticipated expanded social security services could be financed out of delinquent tax collections.

Expert Is Summoned

Summoning a delinquent tax collection expert before the committee, Stone found him less optimistic. The witness said that if delinquent taxes totalled $20,000,000, about $10,000,000 could be pulled into the treasury but it would require at least two years and collections the first twelve months probably would be less than $5,000,000.

Governor James V. Allred believes county officials should make an earnest effort to bring in delinquent taxes but doesn't think the state's social security problem can be solved in that manner.

Entertainments For College Students Hold Spotlight Of Week-End Society

Churches To Be Hosts Tonight

Annual open houses honoring college students will be held by Lubbock churches tonight.

Carnivals, receptions, and college parties are included on the programs. No social activities were scheduled on the Tech calendar because of the church parties.

At the First Baptist church, students will enroll in Clam college, where they will be rushed by B. Y. P. U. groups, representing fraternities and sororities. Six parties, one for each night in the week, will be staged for students, and the Sunday entertainment will be a skit presented by the Sunday school department. Refreshments will be served in a bookstore. Miss Louise McCrummen, social chairman of the Baptist Student union council, and her committee are in charge of arrangements.

To Have "Carnival"

At the First Methodist church entertainment will be in the form of a carnival. Students will participate in games in booths around the wall of fellowship hall in the church basement. In each booth games from a different country will be played. The Japan circle of the Women's Missionary society will serve refreshments, and Miss Hazel Louise Bryant is in charge of the party.

Students will enroll in Fun college at the First Presbyterian church. They will meet classes, a stunt being presented in each class, go to a football game, attend convocation where Jack York will appear on the program with a marimba solo, hear an address by the president, and see a demonstration by the home economics department of Fun college on correct clothing. Afterward they will attend a tea. Betty Bizzell is general chairman of arrangements.

A "bean" party is in store for Tech students at Asbury Methodist church. Most of the games will be played with beans, and beans will be served on the refreshment course. Allen Forbis is working on plans for the entertainment.

An evening of music is slated for students who go to Central Baptist church. After the program, directed by Mrs. Jeff D. Welch and Mrs. A. R. Pendley, a sing-song will be conducted.

At Parish Hall

Open house will be held by Saint Elizabeth's Catholic church at the parish hall for Catholic students of Tech, their friends, and also members of the parish. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cole, H. N. Roberts, Herrol Skidmore, C. J. Quinian, Dick Dickerson, and Dr. Bessie League are on the reception committee.

At College avenue Baptist church, where a revival is in progress, a special service for young people will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock. Afterward, informal games will be played under direction of Miss Austine McDonald, there will be a musical program, and refreshments will be served.

A novel theme of "seven dates in one night" has been chosen for a party to be given at the First Christian church annex at 7:30 o'clock. In charge of the entertainment will be Misses Ouida Davis, Billie Crausbay, Iris Bailey, Marie Shook, Ioway Claunch, Barbara Goodloe, Messrs. Finley Winston and Nat Hynds.

Episcopal students are to be entertained at Seaman hall from 7:30 until 11 o'clock. Sam Roach is president of the young people's group. The Rev. J. Hodge Alves is rector.

There will be a get-acquainted program from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock and, after that, dancing for those who desire it. Refreshments will be served by the woman's auxiliary.

The floor committee consists of Peter Kent, Birt Brumby, Robert Wright, Misses Eileen Crosby, Jean McGee and Lois Bledsoe.

College students are invited to attend open house at Calvary Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock.

A program for Church of Christ students will begin at 8 o'clock at the church. John T. Smith, minister, will give a welcome address and Walter Coulson will give the response. J. C. Rigney will direct a sing-song. Mrs. H. E. Selby, Mrs. Mattie Lattimore, and Frances Chance will give readings, an octette will sing. Mrs. J. Bryan Edwards will direct a stunt, and games will be played.

Marriage Bared

Edith Marjorie Haldinand's marriage was so secret that even her father didn't know about it until she obtained an annulment in Chicago. The 17-year-old New York society girl and Wrigley Offield, 20, heir to the Wrigley fortune, testified they had given false information in obtaining a marriage license last April.

Lubbock Woman's Club Has Program On Thursday

Initiating the Lubbock Woman's club's 1937-38 program Thursday afternoon a program on "Family Relations" was given in the Hilton hotel Aztec room with Mrs. G. P. Kuykendall as leader.

Responses to roll call were suggestions for creating happiness in the home. Interesting discussions were as follows:

"Personality Problems of Men and Women", Mrs. T. H. Barnard; "Shaping Lives in the Home," Mrs. George Berry; "Friendship, the Greatest of All Arts," Mrs. Roscoe Cowart, and "Meaning of Freedom in Developing the Youth", roundtable.

Mrs. A. B. Brown, vice-president, presided in the absence of Mrs. P. A. Kleinschmidt who is sick.

Mrs. Jimmy Walker Honored With Party And Shower

Mrs. M. M. Hollingsworth, 1911 Avenue F, entertained Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Leo Hollingsworth, 1907 Avenue F, in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jimmy A. Walker, who was Miss Loyce Hollingsworth before her recent marriage.

After a series of clever games and contests, the honoree was presented with a shower of gifts.

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hollingsworth, W. R. Anderson, John South, Ralph Collins, John Hartnett, Lynn Jones, Marie Kelly, Margaret Ann Cleveland, Wanda Graves, Mrs. C. H. Sumner, Ruth Harvey, Margaret Dotson, Virginia Davis, Geneva Dixon, Joyce Hollingsworth and Mrs. J. Wright.

Series Of Rush Parties Given

Continuing a series of rush parties, a number of clubs were hosts Thursday. The events will end Sunday. Ko-Shari club was host with a dinner, Las Vivarachas club gave a tea dance and the Wranglers were hosts with a supper and smoker.

Appointments at the Ko Shari dinner, served in Hilton hotel ballroom, were in a Mexican theme. A Mexican orchestra in costume played from a balcony. Centerpiece was of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles were on the table. Favors of handmade pottery from Santa Fe, N. M., were presented and fall leaves served as place cards. A four-course Mexican dinner was served.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Further Trips Are Planned

Trips to several towns to extend invitations to visit the Panhandle-South Plains fair opening Monday were planned by chamber of commerce committees today, for Saturday and Sunday after rain had curtailed the program Thursday of the last of a series of good will journeys.

Among towns yet to be visited are Enochs, Hobbs, Morton, Levelland, Smyer, Plains and several others.

Thursday's good will trippers, driving constantly in rain ranging from a drizzle to a heavy downpour, reached Clovis, N. M., but abandoned the remaining schedule because of the slippery roads.

Not Likely To Damage Crops

They learned also to their pleasure that the downpour which farmers definitely did not want is not likely to cause crop damage unless rain continues for several weeks to come. The consensus of farmers and business men along the route was that the heavy foliage on cotton plants protected them from harm. At the same time, veteran crop observers admitted that warm and dry weather is needed if the entire area is to realize the maximum from the most promising crop prospects in history.

The sprinkling of rain which began falling as the good will group left from the City hall had become a steady downpour by time Shallowater, the first stop, was reached. That fact, however, did not stop the 30 selected members of Senior High school band nor their director, H. A. Anderson, who stood in the rain and played while members of the party distributed souvenirs and literature relating to the fair.

Rain Continues At Anton

Drizzling rain continued at Anton, the second stop, but once more the band played and Vernon Herndon, spokesman for the trippers, told of plans for the fair.

At Littlefield where one of the more elaborate programs of the day was scheduled, the drizzle had settled into a hard downpour. Again the band played and literature was distributed, but weather conditions prevented participation in the opening of the Lamb county fair and it likewise caused cancellation of a scheduled program at the high school. Mayor Pat Boone and Chamber of Commerce Manager Glen Burgess welcomed the Lubbock delegation and Jim Etter, truck line operator, joined the Lubbock group and finished the trip with them. County Clerk Ed D. Allen was spokesman for the Lubbock party and predicted that several hundred residents of this city will visit the Lamb county fair today and Saturday.

Programs at Amherst were given in the business district and in the high school auditorium where Superintendent C. E. Applewhite caused a special assembly of pupils. J. A. Price, manager of the chamber of commerce, extended the downtown greeting. Chas. A. Whitacre, chairman of the chamber of commerce good will committee which was sponsor of the trip, and Allen were speakers at the high school.

Rain interfered with scheduled activities at Sudan, but at Muleshoe, the next stop, the visitors were welcomed by a large crowd which included R. L. Brown, manager of the chamber of commerce, and Editor Jess Mitchell of the Muleshoe Journal. Likewise, the visitors found a watermelon feast awaiting them. W. W. Rix was spokesman for the trippers.

A heavy downpour once more prevented activities at Farwell but at Clovis the scheduled program was carried out despite a slow drizzle. The visitors were greeted at the high school, paraded through the business district and joined with Clovis business men at lunch at Clovis hotel. K. C. Lea, secretary of Clovis Chamber of Commerce, and Otto Smith, attorney spoke for the hosts and Whitacre and Harley D. Woods, former Lubbock mayor, for the visitors.

Latter Part Is Cancelled

Plans to visit Enochs, Morton, Levelland and Smyer were abandoned because of reports that heavy rains would make the roads difficult. They will be visited later.

It is possible to observe the earth spinning on its axis. A long pendulum, swinging north and south, in the northern hemisphere, will change slowly to a north-east by south-west direction, as the earth turns beneath it.

First Performers Arrive In City For Big Exposition

Members of LeMoind trio headed by Frank LeMoind arrived here Thursday to await the opening of the Panhandle-South Plains fair where they will present one of the feature acts before the grandstand each night. They will present slack wire, juggling and balancing acts.

He is a director of the circus and his act is one of the grandstand attractions.

The trio will be here until after the fair.

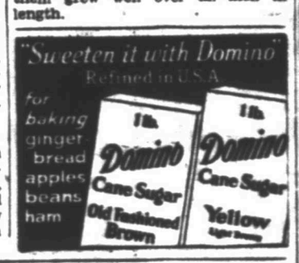

Lets Nails Grow

There'll be no more of this kind of nail-biting for Mrs. A. A. Schneider of Memphis, Tenn. In an attempt to discipline herself and demonstrate to her own satisfaction that she really had some will power, Mrs. Schneider went to the other extreme and started to let her nails grow. Soon she claimed the longest fingernails in Memphis. Some of them grew well over an inch in length.

City Budget Is Being Studied

Members of the city commission today studied a proposed city budget calling for expenditures totaling approximately $388,000 during the present fiscal year which ends next month if after having deferred action on it at the semi-monthly meeting at City hall Thursday afternoon.

Final consideration of the budget, Mayor Ross Edwards said, will be delayed until the return of Commissioners W. C. McMillan and W. R. Price, who were absent Thursday.

Under the proposed budget the tax rate would be 85 cents per $100 valuation, on an estimated $20,000,000, to raise $194,480 for meeting interest and sinking charges. Board of city development rate would be the same as last year, 5 cents. Current rate is 80 cents for interest and sinking and a total of 85 cents for all purposes.

Commissioners J. A. Fortenberry, A. J. Richardson and W. B. Pitts met with the mayor. The latter had to leave before the budget and accompanying rate setting ordinance came up. McMillan was out of the city.

Estimated Revenues $388,280

Estimated revenues of the city would amount to $388,280 for the coming year, including: $5,340, cash on hand; $183,000 from electric power; $136,000 from water; $61,000 from miscellaneous and $2,000 from other sources. Other receipts would amount to $2,000.

Estimated expenditures would be: general expenses $217,720; capital outlay, $65,910; miscellaneous, $26,600; transfer from general fund, $48,000; tax refunds, $300; total $367,480.

For the interest and sinking fund, a total of $134,433 would be from ad valorem source and $48,400 from the general fund, a total of $182,833; principal retirement demands, $77,000; interest accruals, $105,822; total $183,012.

Capital Outlay Provided

Capital outlay items showing that $65,910 would be added to the city's resources, as follows: electric department, $21,220; water department, $20,810; general, $26,170.

Allen Presents Proposal

A request from James G. Allen, acting dean of men at Texas Technological college for space marked off at Broadway and Avenue L and Broadway and Avenue K was presented and discussed. The city manager, Chief of Police Don Reeder and Dean Allen will work out the details after a resolution was adopted. During the discussion City Attorney Durwood Bradley spoke on the traffic ordinance being drawn up, as well as the parking meter ordinance. The matter of safety zones for the city bus line, in the business section, was also brought up and the city manager, the chief and the bus company will work out this also.

B. W. Kieran's 21-year-old labor bill against the city was approved when affidavits of former Mayor W. F. Schenck and Alderman F. M. Maddox and Raleigh Martin were presented. It amounted to $65.

A delegation of J. K. Miller, 1910 Avenue H and L. L. and K. T. Miller, sons, C. C. Burns and G. L. Glasener, all taxpayers, met to ask about condemnation of property to extend Nineteenth street from Texas Avenue to Avenue H. A resolution adopted said the commission would open the street.

Paving Is Accepted

Sixteen blocks of paving, recently completed, were accepted. They were Twenty-third street, Avenue S to Avenue T; Avenue S, Nineteenth street to Twenty-third; Avenue T, Twenty-eighth to Twenty-ninth; Twenty-ninth street, Avenue S to T; Avenue S, Twenty-ninth street to Thirty-fourth; Avenue G, Seventeenth to Nineteenth; Seventeenth Avenue M to G.

New contracts for city fuel oil, from the Southland Refining Co., were approved. It was explained the present contractor is unable to furnish enough oil and that about 120 cars a year are needed.

Cooking Rate Is Set

City electrical rate for cooking purposes was set at 4 cents for the first 100 k. w.; 3 cents for the next and 2 cents for all over 200 k. w. with 10 per cent deduction for prompt payment.

A suggestion that the city, the West Texas Gas company and Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co. and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. be permitted to mark off two spaces in front of their respective places for 10 minute parking to customers to pay bills was passed. Likewise, a proposal for a polo field inside the fair association race track was passed up.

Resolution to borrow $10,000 for six months for the street improvement fund was approved. Vacancy on the park board, caused by resignation of C. E. Russell was not filled, while W. H. Evans was named to succeed J. L. Kilpatrick on the recreational board.

A hospital bill for J. M. Harris, a city employe, at the West Texas hospital was left up to the city manager and Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer.

The city manager was authorized to settle a claim of J. F. Sherman for a well.

Although the next transit of Venus across the face of the sun will not occur for 97 years, the time when the planet will appear on the sun's disk can be predicted for any point on the earth's surface within a minute or two. The last transit was on Dec. 6, 1882.

Work On Salvation Army Home Starts

Pouring of concrete probably will be started today on the new tile and stucco Salvation Army hall at 1119 Seventeenth street, said Capt. John G. Churchill, corps commander.

W. G. McMillan is contractor.

The new 35 feet by 60 feet one-story structure will house two emergency relief dormitories, a kitchen, keeper's room, class rooms and an auditorium. Class rooms will be for character building and Sunday School classes, Capt. Churchill said. The structure is estimated to cost approximately $8,000.

Dedication Set For Oct. 30

Dedication ceremony has been set tentatively for Oct. 30 when Commissioner E. J. Pugmire of Atlanta, Ga., in charge of the Salvation Army in 15 southern states and the District of Columbia, will be here. A 50-piece staff band with headquarters at Dallas also will be here for the opening.

An appeal was made for volunteer labor in the construction. Officers of the corps said a number of skilled laborers had volunteered but that more common labor was needed. Volunteer workers are asked to contact either McMillan or Durwood H. Bradley, chairman of the labor committee.

Dr. W. A. Jackson Is Speaker Before Presbyterian Men

Dr. W. A. Jackson, dean of the graduate division of Texas Technological college, spoke on "Men as Leaders" before 60 Presbyterian men, representing five towns of this area other than Lubbock, Thursday night at the First Presbyterian church. Men of the church were hosts to visitors.

C. A. Bruner, president, introduced Dean James M. Gordon, of Tech and president of the laymen's organization who was toastmaster. E. A. Bills of Littlefield offered an invocation.

Guests included: Rev. David J. Murray and two laymen of Lamesa; Rev. Donald Harris of Littlefield and four laymen; Rev. Fred S. Rogers and three laymen from Plainview; and two laymen from Slaton and three from Tahoka.

Prof. Julien Paul Blitz of Tech's music department played two cello numbers and was accompanied by Mrs. Blitz. H. E. Blocker led group singing. Rev. Rogers read scripture and Rev. Harris led a prayer. Mrs. V. L. Doughtie, accompanied by Miss Margaret Huff, sang two numbers.

President Bradford Knapp of Tech introduced Dr. Jackson.

Anniversary Of VFW Founding Is Observed With Picnic

A picnic attended by approximately 60 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the organization's auxiliary was conducted Thursday night in observance of the 38th anniversary of the founding of the VFW.

Plans had been to have the picnic in the open, but weather conditions caused attendants to spread basket lunches at the Central Cafe.

Mrs. W. H. McDonald was chairman of the arrangements committee. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. W. R. Wilhite.

Robert J. Allen, member of the VFW, spoke over radio station KFYO from 12:45 to 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon in observance of the anniversary.

It was announced that Sunday is Gold Star Mothers' day, a day of observance for mothers who lost sons in the World war.

In various parts of the world where the tuna fish is found it is governed by water currents and temperatures. Certain migrations in the Mediterranean, where the largest of the world's tuna catch is made, provide fishermen with golden opportunities. Fishermen know in advance when the fish will appear, and have their nets in readiness.

Valuable Yield

BEND, Ore. — Eyes of harvesters on the W. R. Gerking ranch bulged when nickels, dimes and quarters started tumbling from a clover thresher. The crew threshed $3.85.

Gerking said he thought the money was from a purse lost in the field last spring.

Fish Dines Women

SEATTLE, Wash. — While Mrs. Adolph Watson was fishing near here a 15-pound silver salmon leaped into her boat and was captured.

The fish left a two-inch gash in Mrs. Watson's cheek.

How Annoying

PENNSBORO, W. Va. — Marvin Norman sighed with exasperation as he capped a new oil and gas well and resumed drilling.

Norman had been seeking water for prison road camps when he struck the well at 85 feet in the cow run sand.

Short Memory

INDIANAPOLIS — The man who lost the bass drum has the sympathy of city officials here who next month will reopen a "forgotten" bridge blocked off 7 years ago for repairs.

City Engineer Henry B. Steeg said civic officials had "forgotten" the bridge until a year ago, when the long-delayed repairs were begun.

Chicago's Cowpath Gets Protection

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 24—Chicago has a $161,000 cowpath in the heart of its Loop but cows can't use it.

In 1834 Farmer Willard Jones pastured his herd of cows on land now the site of a 20-story building at Clark and Monroe streets.

During subsequent selling and deeding unalterable provisions were made to keep an open pathway so that cows and hay wagons could get to the cow barn from the Monroe street side.

The ban has long ceased to exist, but the path remains — a useless passage 10 feet wide, 18 feet high and 88 feet long.

When architects designed the present buildings in 1925 they forgot the cowpath provision and had to alter their plans later to include it. The elevators and entrance had to be shifted because of it.

Owners of the building estimate the cowpath's land value is $161,000 and that they lose more than $12,000 annual rent on the space.

There were 19,000 public accidents not involving motor vehicles in the United States during 1936, in comparison to 18,000 in 1935. These were caused by drownings, firearms, poisonings and asphyxiations.

Mr. Frank Phillips, President,
Phillips Petroleum Company,
Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Dear Sir:

It all started when I got something in my eye while we were riding with the top down.

It hurt and I cried and Harold—that's my husband—flared up and called me a cry-baby.

Oh, he's usually a Dear. But our engine was overheating and puffing steam like a peanut roaster. And such knocking, you never heard in all your life.

Well, I was practically frantic with my eye. I rubbed my good eye. I pulled the lid of my bad eye three times. I really tried everything. But no use.

Suddenly, of all the marvelous things to happen—right there, practically in the wilds of Wisconsin, we saw a gas station. Harold drove in, slammed on the brakes, and yelled to the man, "What have you got for cinders in the eye?"

As polite as could be, the man answered, "There's a big, well-lighted mirror in our rest room, Madam, and water and clean towels." And with that, he started cleaning the fussy splotches off our windshield.

In a jiffy I had the black speck out, and what a relief! Harold felt so bad about being mean to the man that he bought some gasoline. By the way, of all things, I forgot to say it was a Phillips 66 station and that's the reason I am writing to you.

Well, you never saw such a change in a car. It ran like mad. Cool as an ice—facial and as quiet as the girl who gives it to you. The motor purred and Harold grinned and says, "She sure runs okay-dokey on Phillips 66. Wonder where that Poly gas has been all my life?"

From then on, he was all smiles the whole trip. Every time we needed gas, we'd wait till we saw a 66 shield.

To make a long story short, from the time we started using Phillips 66 gasoline and motor oil, we had a perfectly marvelous trip.

In fact, we had such a swell honeymoon with Phillips 66 that I felt I simply had to tell someone—and since you are president of the company I thought I'd write to you and you could thank that polite young man up in Wisconsin for starting us using Phillips gas and oil.

It certainly saved us money, and who knows, it may even have saved my husband some alimony? But seriously, we certainly are going to use Phillips 66—and nothing else—from now on.

Yours very truly,

(Mrs.) James

P. S. The snapshot is us coming back from our honeymoon.

Memories Of A 300-Foot Dive

Like a hazy, horrible, unreal dream of death on speeding wheels, Carl Young's thoughts flow through his mind in a jumbled stream as interpreted by this composite picture of Young against the background of his smashed automobile. Indelibly stamped on Young's mind is the memory of a 300-foot plunge in the motor car which he was driving—a plunge which ended in death for his 18-year-old girl companion and brought a charge of suspicion of negligent homicide against him in Los Angeles, scene of the wreck.

Sailors Not So Generous As They Used To Be; Bootblack Balks At Cut Rates

By The AP Feature Service

SHANGHAI, Sept. 24 — Sailors aren't so generous as they used to be, says Chen Tung-shin. He ought to know—he's unofficial bootblack to American gobs in Shanghai.

In the old days, says the 30-year-old Chen, they used to pay 12 cents for a shine. They're wiser now. They only pay six.

Has His Pride

Sometimes a seaman even will try to get off for half of that. Chen will take it from anyone but an American. But he'd rather give a Yankee tar a free shine than let him get away with a cut rate. It seems that even a bootblack has his pride — where Americans are concerned.

Bootblacks in China are rare. Most residents have servants to do the task and sailors of other nations shine their own shoes.

Chen's father had the business until he went blind. Now it is Chen who sets up shop in the popular bars along Blood alley, Shanghai's cabaret street, when the American fleet's in.

CHEN TUNG-SHIN
He's Death On Cut Rates

When it leaves, he frequents the waterfront bars where seamen of the merchant marines hang out.

One of the few Chinese of his class to adopt foreign clothes, Chen wears overalls and a black shirt. He keeps his foreign style shoes shining like mirrors—figures it pays to advertise.

Byron did not conceive the story of Atalanta's race. It is contained in Greek mythology and mentioned by Ovid in his "Metamorphoses."

CARRYING THE MALE suit pattern into women's clothes, this fall attire consists of a link-fastened black wool jacket, a pique edged waistcoat, and a striped skirt in men's suiting. The bow-tied blouse is surah and the beret is black felt. Inspiration probably came from tailoring shops for men.

A STAR IS GONE from the cinema firmament, for Charlie Chaplin has announced the little tramp with baggy pants and big feet is no more.

SHE'S SIMPLY WILD about Clark Gable, declared blonde, 23-year-old Delia Carrol, insisting she has been twice engaged to the film star and plans to marry him next spring. "I'm just nuts about Clark," she murmured, "and the big day draws nearer every hour. He's just the divinest man I ever met."

HE HOOPS WHILE OTHERS HOLLER for college football to get underway. This is how Dan Elmer, 195-pound center candidate at the University of Minnesota, sharpens his aim. Elmer, expected to be No. 1 bidder for the Gopher center job, snaps the ball through the barrel hoop from all angles with deadly accuracy. He started using the novel scheme in his backyard long before regular practice got underway, one of the reasons the Minnesota eleven is expected to be tops again this season.

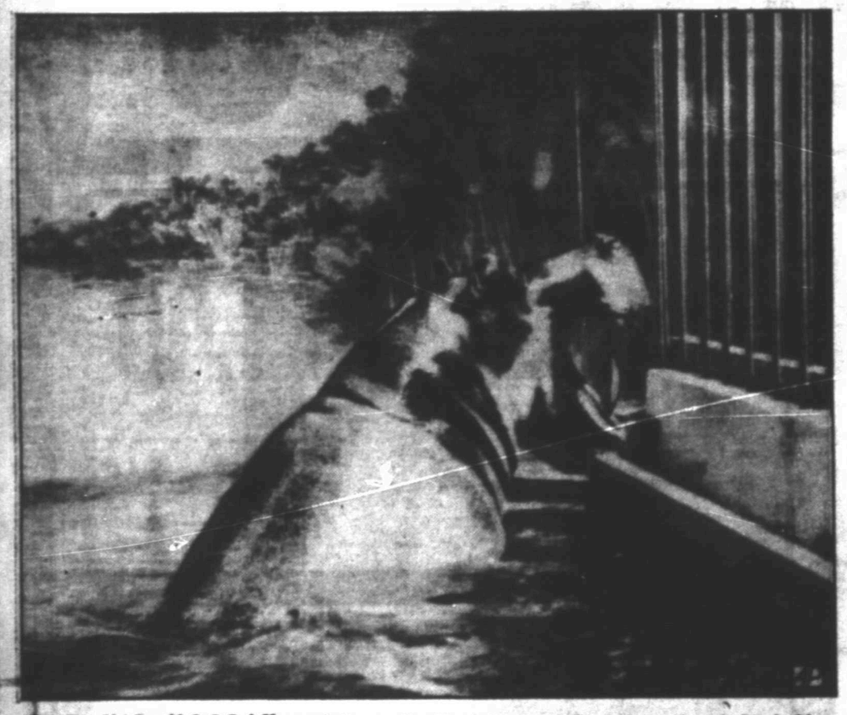

'EVERY NICKEL HELPS a lot, so shine, shine, shoe-shine boy.' This popular melody or its Chinese equivalent is probably the song these two lads are singing in San Francisco's Chinatown as they raise funds to help their ancestral land combat the Japanese forces.

AN ANSWER is in order, says Sen. David I. Walsh (D-Mass.) (above), from Justice Black on his KKK affiliations.

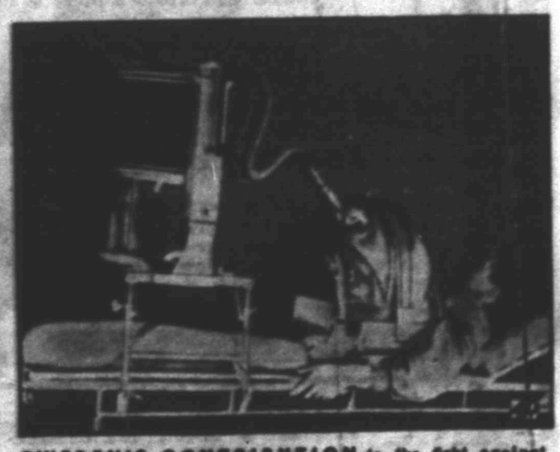

THREE ON A MATCH seems to hold no terrors for these British marines and American naval officers in Shanghai's International Settlement. The representatives of two nations are conferring near a sandbag barricade as they carry out their duty to protect lives and property of thousands of foreign citizens.

HIP, HIP, HOORAY grunts Bungo, the Hippo, in unrestrained glee as he splashes in his new pool at the national zoo in Washington, D. C. While water in the foreground is the real thing, the background isn't. It's a painting of the River Nile, part of extensive new murals in animals' cages.

SWEDEN'S CONTRIBUTION to the fight against paralysis is this small "iron lung" which covers only the patient's chest and is much cheaper than other types. Frederick R. Sisto will use such a respirator.

BASEBALL'S BIG BERTHAS are Lou Gehrig and Joe Di Maggio, whose parade across the home plate has led the New York Yankees into the home stretch with a clinch hold of the American League pennant. To them fans will look again for World Series home runs. Their bats mean base hits in any language.

THESE THREE MEAN TROUBLE to Yankee opponents in the World Series. Vernon (Goofy) Gomez (left) and Bill Dickey (right), star pitcher and catcher, respectively, discuss strategy with Manager Joe McCarthy who has kept his team well out in front in the pennant race. Dickey's work at the plate as well as behind it has been a major factor in the Yanks' success. Gomez often rises to his greatest heights when the going on the mound is toughest. To the kids he's a hero.

LAST YEAR'S HERO in World Series play was Left-fielder Jake Powell, who wields a powerful bat. Yankee fans hope he'll repeat.

HIS GOOD RIGHT HAND will be a mainstay in holding down Yankee opponents' hits in the World Series. Charles (Red) Ruffing started late this year with his pitching duties, but logged his fast ball over time and again to put himself in the top row of American League hurlers. He and Gomez will head the fireball squad.

Young Girl Is Brave In Air

YESILKEUY AIRDROME, Istanbul, Turkey, Sept. 24 (AP)—A single-seater military plane stops its flashing acrobatics in the air and dives, almost straight down, to a perfectly controlled landing while spectators gasp and cheer.

From the cockpit steps a 22-year-old girl. Goggles and helmet come off to reveal intense black eyes, a gay face, and a flood of dark brown hair.

The impression is one of complete femininity, of mirror and powder puff, and one finds it hard to believe that this same girl not long ago took part in actual warfare; that she took an airplane into the Dersim area in Eastern Anatolia and bombed the Kurd brigands out of their mountain dens.

Cited For Gallantry

"There you are," says a spectator. "That is Sabiha Guekchen. If you please, the Flying Amazon of Turkey. You will agree that she is an amazingly good pilot?"

This pride in Sabiha Guekchen is to be found everywhere in Turkey. President Kemal Ataturk is especially proud, for Sabiha is his adopted daughter. The army is proud for Sabiha now holds the rank of first lieutenant—the only woman in the world to have such title in the regular army air force of a nation. And on Sabiha's gray tunic sparkles the diamond air force medal, awarded for "conspicuous gallantry."

She is shy. There is nothing of the swagger or heartiness one might expect from a girl who, in a country which once concealed its women in high-walled harems, now is known as the "Flying Amazon."

Fearless In Air

"I do not like to speak to newspapers," she explains, while mechanics trundle in her machine. "But perhaps I may say how much I am grieved by the tragic fate of Amelia Earhart. That I would like to do.

"Amelia Earhart has, perhaps, disappeared, but her tragic end will not discourage the passion of women for aviation. On the contrary it will be a stimulant, leading to greater victories for human beings over the elements of nature."

Of herself she is reluctant to speak.

"My pleasure in flying? I would stay up all day long if I could."

"Danger? I do not know, really, I have never been afraid in the air."

She is sincere in this, and her flying instructors offer confirmation. In the air, they say, she never reveals the slightest emotion or weariness. Her powers of endurance are, in fact, regarded as almost superhuman.

"In my opinion," says the French flying instructor at the Turkish air force school, "Sabiha Guekchen is the most gifted woman acrobatic pilot of the world."

Daughter of a captain in the Turkish army who, in 1921, lost his life fighting the Greeks in Asia Minor, Sabiha was adopted by Ataturk while still an infant. Her mother died shortly after her father was killed. She is well educated, and early revealed an inclination for physics and natural sciences. When she became interested in aviation she was sent to Russia for a course in flying and gliding. Her ambition then became that of a "flying soldier" and she was eventually admitted as a cadet in the army air force school of Eski Chehir where she underwent the regular course of training.

She now handles all types of planes; during the recent punitive expedition in the Dersim area she risked her life repeatedly in flying through storms and on raiding expeditions through the mountains. She bombed with the rest of the pilots.

Defines Modern Woman

Off duty she has all the normal interests of any girl her age. She is well versed in the ideas and principles of her foster-father. Questions about her views on modern women bring a gay little laugh and her words flow freely:

"My conception of modern womanhood is that of my beloved father, President Kemal Ataturk. The women of today must be free. They must have access to all careers once reserved exclusively to men. They must enjoy equal rights with men, become deputies and stateswomen, but remain good wives and mothers."

And Turkey's Flying Amazon powders her nose in emphasis.

Fearless Flyer

'EQUAL RIGHTS'

Sabiha, as feminine as any girl could be and shy to boot, demands that women be on same footing as men.

PROBLEM IN DIVISION

ESSLAIRE, Mich. (AP)—Probate Judge William C. Severance has been trying to figure out an equitable division of a $1,200 estate among 67 heirs.

Judge Severance says that the shares of the various heirs, who live in the U. S., Canada and England, will run from $1.93 to $139.

Yanks Clinch American Title; Giants Heading For World Series

Boys Around Gotham Ready For Another Battle Of Subway

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York's diamond embroidery society got down today to the serious business of winding up its second straight pennant stitching monopoly.

The Yankees, who use bats for needles and homers for thimbles, had the American league flag all sewed up. The Giants, somewhat slower on the fancy work, but apparently heading for the same results, were rapidly completing their hemstitching on the National league flag.

All Set To Whoop It Up

And the embroidery society's very good friends, the Bronx baseball cheering and chowder club, was all set to whoop it up in another exclusive civil war of the diamond for little old New York, come World series time, October 6.

The Giants were 3 1-2 games ahead as a result of their wild and woolly win over the Cubs yesterday, and were riding along back to the comparative quiet of the east. With the Atlantic seaboard's usual soft touches—the Dodgers and Phillies—ahead, Bill Terry's terriers shouldn't have much trouble keeping some kind of an edge down to the tape, although a four-game series with the Boston Bees and their pitching stingers may do a lot of damage.

Daffy Battle Seen

The Giants' victory by an 8 to 7 margin yesterday in the rubber match of the crucial three-game set with the Cubs produced the daffiest battle of the lot. Despite a 17-hit New York attack, Terry had to trot out all four of his starting pitchers before the Chicago clouters surrendered. Finally, long, lean and lanky Cliff Melton, the southpaw rookie who applied a six-hit coat of whitewashing in Wednesday's game, was called on to save the day. And he did—by retiring the final two Cub batters in the ninth, with one run in, the tying and winning runs on base. Although he lasted less than two innings, Carl Hubbell was given official credit for the victory, his 21st of the year.

The Yankees, meantime, although taking a 9-5 beating, themselves at the hands of the St. Louis Browns, had the pleasure of watching an old ex-Yankee, Ben Chapman, clinch the American league pennant for them. Chapman, who loses no love for the Yanks, hit a homer with two on in the ninth inning, which gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 decision over the Detroit Tigers, and eliminated the second-place Detroits from the pennant chase. The Tigers are now 12 games behind and have only ten to play.

Indians Go Down

The win boosted the Red Sox back into fourth place in the American league. The Cleveland Indians, finding Washington's rookies too much for them, were beaten, 3-2, and sank to fifth.

Jim Turner hurled No. 19 as the Boston Bees nosed out the Pirates, 2-1. Don Padgett hit a homer and two triples and led the Cardinals to an 8-4 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Dolph Camilli's homer with the bases loaded gave the Phillies a 9-5 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds, who used 22 players for a new National league record.

Johnny Whitehead won his own game for the White Sox by driving in the only run for a 1-0 edge over the Athletics.

Conference Battles For Class B Teams

Four title encounters in district 5 and two in district 4 have been scheduled today and tonight for class B teams of this section. Four other battles will pit member elevens against non-conference opponents.

Slaton, in District 5, and Floydada, from District 4, entertain highest ambitions when they step into Class A competition against Lubbock and Plainview, respectively.

Other games are:

District 5

Littlefield at Tahoka conference.
Olton at Lamesa, conference.
Post at Levelland (night), conference.
Ralls at Brownfield.

District 4

Silverton at Matador, conference.
Quitaque at Estelline, conference.
Spur vs. Lubbock Cowhands, at Spur.
Roaring Springs at Turkey.

FOOTBALL TONIGHT, Lubbock High vs. Slaton High.

In former days, that meant something. It meant that two of the toughest rivals of the South Plains were about to go at each other, tooth and toe-nail. A lot of history, a lot of legend, hangs over Lubbock-Slaton athletic rivalry.

Well, the Powers finally went ahead and decided in favor of Lubbock from a population standpoint, and caused to be builded a great high school here. The difference in enrollments meant a "class" division — as far as the Texas Interscholastic league was concerned. Lubbock went Class A, Slaton to Class B. Slaton, for a couple of seasons, jumped up to Class A, but settled back to Class B, where it remains, and which is no fault of Slaton High school or Slaton's good people.

What matters now is that Slaton's Tigers come to Lubbock tonight for a football game with the Westerners. All the old rivalry will be flamed anew. Lubbock's fans can not afford to overlook tonight's possibilities. Slaton is due to be here in large and round numbers.

ALONG WITH Winston Reeves, our demon photographer, we sallied over to Slaton the other day to look over the Tigers and shoot a few of them — with the Reeves camera. Honestly, some of them were so big, the Tigers we mean, that it took two plates to get their pictures. Reeves called it a tough job. He tried to get a shot of the starting lineup, succeeded after a while, but he almost had to shoot it by divisions.

Coaches Stumpy Hamilton and Jim Nesley will bring a team to Lubbock tonight that will outweigh the Westerners, on the average, some three pounds per man. It's a good-sized team for any high school, much less a Class B school. Many of the boys on the team now were regulars last year when Slaton took second place, after defeating Lamesa, in the ten-team District 5-B. The boys are more experienced.

What's more, and most important, the Slaton gridders figure they have a swell chance of knocking off the Westerners tonight. They're coming up here, not just for the trip and the game, but for the purpose of mopping up on the Lubbocks. Slaton defeated Olton, 45-0, in its first game. Lubbock won from Cisco, 46-0, in its opener. Slaton's game came a week earlier, and Coach Hamilton had his boys up here "scouting" the Westerners last Friday night. You can draw your own conclusions.

MEANWHILE, TEXAS TECH is enroute to Austin. By the time this shall have appeared in print, the Red Raiders, their coaches, Bo Williams and your correspondent, will be in Austin. We left last night, in case you hadn't heard. We play the Longhorns, the big, bad Longhorns, coached by the old master, Dana X. Bible, and the young master, Blair Cherry, tomorrow afternoon. We shall expect a lot of you on the sidelines. We expect you to leave on the special train this very night, at 9:55 o'clock.

You know something of the Techs, who they are, where they line up, etc. Here's a bit of individual dope concerning the Longhorns, supplied by the Steer Sports Service of Austin, compiled by our good friend, Weldon Hart. Weldon tells us that even he doesn't know the starting lineup Bible will put on the field against the Techs. He does, however, come through with "the situation." It follows:

Left tackle — A royal battle on between two behemoths, Ray "King Kong" Keeling, 235-pound senior, and Park Myers, 220-pound soph.

Old Rivals Battle Tonight As Slaton Journeys To Lubbock

There'll be an interesting battle tonight when the Slaton Tigers and Lubbock Westerners tangle at 8:15 o'clock at Tech field. Aided by weight differences the class B Tigers may forget about "class" difference.

Coach Stumpy Hamilton openly admits that he has "something." Last year the Bengals were southern champions of District 5, class B, losing to Littlefield in a playoff. With a starting lineup averaging 163 pounds, Slaton is causing worry among the coaching staff at Lubbock high school.

The Westerner starters cannot average more than 155 pounds with the lineup Coach Weldon Chapman deems likely to send in. The entire squad averages barely more than 150 pounds, despite guesses to the contrary. The eight-pound disadvantage may be the turning tide against Lubbock.

Two of Chapman's able regulars have been relegated to the bench due to injuries. Herb Leaverton, 168 pound letterman center, is out with a fractured hand, and halfback Harold Parsons is bothered with a side injury. Loss of Leaverton helps to pull the Westerner weight average down.

Slaton got off to an auspicious start two weeks ago by slaughtering Olton, a District 5B sister, 45 to 0. Last week, Hamilton's "B" team was left at home to absorb a licking from Floydada, while the mentor peeked in on the Lubbock-Cisco encounter.

Erstwhile Rivals

The Westerners came cut with a 40-0 victory in that game. That one-sided score may mean little in tonight's fracas, as the Tigers, augmented by hundreds of rooters, are coming here in a winning attitude.

The two schools once bore one of the hottest rivalries in Class A football. It ended when Slaton dropped back to Class B.

Tech Fish Defeated By 14-6 Count Thursday

(Special To The Journal)

GREENVILLE, Sept. 24.—A bitterly contested game for the most part between two heavy, viciously fighting forward walls ended in a 14 to 6 victory for the Wesley Panthers over Texas Tech Picadors here Thursday night.

A beautiful 17 yard dash with a lateral pass by John McDonnell in the second quarter and a fourth quarter pass interception that picked up 40 yards, followed on the next play by a cutback inside left end for the speedy Prier, who crossed the goal line untouched, gave the victory to the Panthers. In each instance Palmer converted from placement for the Panthers.

Blocking, Tackling Deadly

The Panthers piled up seven first downs while the Picadors were getting five. Blocking and tackling were deadly on both sides.

The Picadors scored late in the first quarter, a 35-yard southpaw pass from Rankin to Jones putting them in position on the Panther 12-yard line. Hill swung wide around his left end to carry to the one-yard line and then Rankin drove through the middle for a touchdown.

Midway of the second quarter the Panthers staged a drive from midfield that ended with McDonnell's whirling dervish act, going ahead as Palmer converted. Throughout the third quarter the Panthers were in the hole, and their cause seemed lost when Saxe intercepted a Panther pass to race to the Wesley 36. The tide changed quickly, however, as Oliver intercepted Storrs' pass to set the stage for Prier.

Saxe And Storrs Star

Saxe and Storrs starred for the Picadors in the backfield, while Scott and Jones were standouts at ends. For the Panthers White and Reed were ends, Griffin was at guard, and "Cotton" Hill, Oliver and Prier in the backfield did yeoman service.

Starting lineups:

Officials—Jimmy Higgins (SMU), referee; Harry Faulkner (Oberlin) umpire; Byron Faulkner (Centenary) headlineman; Elva Baker (Texas Tech) field judge.

Gophers Boast Great Power

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 24. (AP)—A blasting backfield charge will be the main weapon for Minnesota's Golden Gophers in their drive for national gridiron honors—with three fullbacks stampeding in the lineup at the same time.

Dazzling speed from triple threat Andy Uram, left half, and one of the finest passing combinations in Minnesota history—Uram to Ray King, captain and right end—will prove a headache for Gopher foes who get set to resist the power charges.

"Chief mourner" Bernie Bierman, however, refuses to concede the Gophers any "championship possibilities" even in the face of this combination operating behind one of the best lines in Minnesota grid history.

Bierman has 28 lettermen available and a flock of reserves to help offset the loss of All-America Ed Widseth at tackle; Bud Wilkinson at quarter; Julius Alfonse at right half; Bud Swendsen at center and Ray Antil at end.

PRIMED FOR BATTLE

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 24. (AP)—Jacksonville was primed for a victory here tonight to end the series with Opelousas, Evangeline baseball league champions.

The East Texas pennant winners last night defeated the visitors 5 to 2 for a three-to-one advantage in the series. Steady hitting by the Jax and fast fielding by both clubs marked the game last night.

Texas Favored In Tilt With Tech Squad

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 24.—Tailored almost to the waterboys by circumstances gathered over a decade, the Texas Christian invasion of Ohio State's lair Saturday gives the Southwest conference the choicest schedule opener the league has ever known.

One of five conference teams shoving off for the season, Texas Christian hops into the national grid picture on its first out, being one-half of what critics and fans agree to be the nation's super attraction of the day.

Tech To Prove Dangerous

Slightly less glamorous but of major importance is the return to the league of D. X. Bible as head coach of a University of Texas team that must spend the better part of the afternoon trying to beat a dangerous Texas Tech team at Austin.

Three other games find Southern Methodist in their annual opener against North Texas Teachers at Dallas; Baylor playing a moonlight engagement with Southwestern at Waco and Arkansas' Razorbacks, defending champions, warming up against Central Oklahoma Teachers at Fayetteville.

Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer, the mellow type, has worked for weeks to key his none-too-experienced Texas Christian youngsters for the clash against Francis Schmidt, the barking, driving type, and his Ohio Staters.

Coaching Companions

Several seasons Schmidt drove the Christians himself, leaving three years ago for his Ohio State position. Buried on the coaching staff at T. C. U. when Schmidt was at the helm, Meyer turned out one good frosh team after another and when Schmidt chose to enter the Big Ten, Meyer was stepped up to the varsity.

In three seasons Meyer has turned in 29 wins and only seven defeats; victories in the Sugar and Cotton bowl and developed "Slingin' Sam" Baugh. It's not exactly a "pupil vs. master" turn events will take Saturday; it's more of a "master vs. master" situation now.

Notoriously slow starters—witness their feeble beginning of last year—the Christians have been awakened early this fall and have put everything into "two-a-day" drills to blossom out in the opener against Schmidt and his Buckeyes.

Depends On Power

Schmidt, who took the southwest's "hipper-dipper" style of football into the Big Ten, has discarded most of his open play for power, reports say. Christian followers again will see the Horned Frogs depend on aerial play with Davey O'Brien, Baugh's successor, the trigger man.

Rate the Christian-Buckeye game a tossup with TCU holding an edge if question mark ends, Mabry and Benach, come through.

Held to a 6-0 victory by a scrappy North Texas team last year on a muddy field, the Methodists should increase that margin by four touchdowns this year, what with Johnny Stovall, the old teacher threat, gone.

Coach Bible will loose his array of fleet backs—Aichison, Haas, Bryan, Wolfe and Forney—on Coach Pete Cawthon's Red Raiders at Austin, and probably come away with a comfortable margin, despite Tech's rugged play of the past. Mittermayer, right half and signal caller, may be kept out of the Texas lineup with a sprained ankle, but Bible is almost in the strange position of having backs to spare.

Arkansas, still stunned by the sudden death of Lundy Corbett, a regular tackle, should, nevertheless, steamroller the Oklahoma Teachers while Baylor, with Billy Patterson flipping his passes, rates considerably ahead of a big Southwestern eleven.

Oklahoma City's Indians Seek To Shake Jitters In Playoff

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Sept. 24 — One down to a Fort Worth team hardly in their class over the regular season route, Oklahoma City's Indians looked about today for a remedy that will shake the jitters and even up their Shaughnessy playoff finals.

Manager Jim Keesey, who sprouted grey hairs even when his Indians squeezed out a 5-3 victory last night, decided to trust Ralph Buxton, big righthander, with the job of evening the series tonight.

Cat Twirlers Crippled

Buxton, who twice licked the Panthers and also took two beatings from them this season, will face Clyde Smoll, a lefthander. Manager Homer Peel named from a crippled hurling corps. Smoll isn't so much his choice as his necessity, having been beaten in the only four starts he made against the Tribe.

Fort Worth, without a pennant winner since the days of Clarence (Big Boy) Kraft and his playmates, wants a Dixie series again and gave an example of how much they want it by almost erasing a five run deficit in the ninth frame of last night's wild melee.

Lefty Jack Brilliheart had allowed only two Cats to stand on third base until the ninth and was apparently ready to sack up a shutout. However, he walked pinch hitter Krole and Greenberg to start the minor riot. Jere Moore hit on three of his curves but McDowell pumped a single into right and Krole came home on Stebbins' one baser.

Fool Gets A Fat One

Sidesaddle Clay Touchstone came in at this point — just in time to feed Manager Peel a fat one he parked in center field for a single that scored Greenberg and McDowell. Shelley popped to temporarily halt the uprising but Mallon walked and packed the sacks again.

Jim McLeod, a tried emergency hitter, waited until the 2-2 count before missing Touchstone's last curve by a half foot with the tying, winning and double winning tallies on their way in.

Two sharp pops off Manager Keesey's stick accounted for three Indian tallies. He singled across Stoneham, who singled and then put on the double steal, in the fifth. Prier punched across his boss with a sharp single that ended the Indian scoring.

Easterling's walk, advance on a forceout and score on a wild heave by Ed Selway, starting Cat hurler, accounted for the other run in the fourth.

Dick Whitworth, who replaced Selway, found the Indians easy, giving up one hit in four and third innings.

Fair To Offer Racing Card

A six-day racing program, never before duplicated in the history of the Panhandle-South Plains fair, begins Monday with a full daily card.

With a guaranteed total of $3,000 in purses to shoot for, owners of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico are bringing their best horseflesh here daily, by truck, trailer and freight.

Thirty-five race horses had been stabled here last night. Accommodations for 70 more have been reserved, and by Monday fair officials expect all available stable space to be taken. Seventy-seven new stables have been built, bringing the number up to 127.

No Pari-Mutuels

Rainbirds, who must watch the sport for the sport's sake this year, since the meet will be held without benefit of pari-mutuel or other forms of wagering, have been watching the horses run in warm-up races and are pleased with the Ben Chapman, Red Sox — His ninth-inning homer with two on base beat Tigers, 4-3.

Don Padgett and Mike Ryba, Cardinals—Padgett hit homer, two triples, driving in three runs, as Ryba pitched four-hit shutout in 4 2-3 inning relief trick to beat Dodgers, 8-4.

Johnny Whitehead, White Sox—Blanked Athletics, 1-0, with seven hits and drove in only run himself.

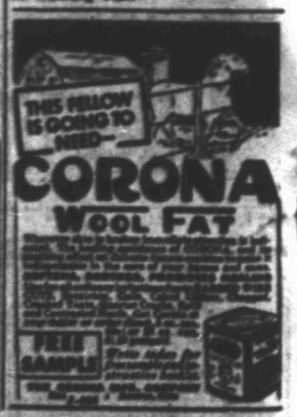

Dolph Camilli, Phillies — His homer with bases loaded in 9-5 win over Reds.

Joe Krakauskas, Senators—Stopped Indians, 3-2, with nine hits.

Jojo Moore, Giants — Hit two doubles, three singles and scored two runs in 8-7 win over Cubs.

Harland Clift, Browns—His homer with two on in 9-5 win over Yanks.

Jim Turner and Hal Warstler, Bees—Turner stopped Pirates, 2-1, with nine hits as Warstler singled in winning run.

Here's King Carl Hubbell Revealing The Secret Of His Famous Screw-Ball

CARL OWEN HUBBELL, the lefthander from Meeker, Okla., has twirled the Giants into the National League lead this year as a relief pitcher. To date he has won 21 games and lost 5, a record which puts him something under that of last year, when he won 22, lost 6. Neither he nor anyone doubts that he will improve his standing before the end of the present season. Because he manages to pitch best when the chips are down. It's more than likely that he'll add new luster to the Hubbell name if his team reaches the World Series.

This strip on the great southpaw is one of the best made of any pitcher and certainly the best made of the great moundsman. Rival hurlers, insist that Hubbell's crooked arm permits him to throw his highly effective screwball; Carl says he got the crooked arm from throwing the screwball.

Hubbers To Tackle Sinclair Oilers

The Lubbock Hub Clothiers meet another strong nine here Sunday in form of the Sinclair Oilers of Coahoma.

The contest stacks up as another duel between Southpaws Max Beard and Jerry Blanchard. The Hubber peanut consumer held the upper hand in a similar attraction last Sunday when the locals eked out a 2-0 triumph over the Forsan Oilmen.

Coahoma brings along a number of the boys who performed with Forsan in addition to Beard. Manager Wally Pulger, Hutto, Baker, Loper and Johnson are other "two-timers."

Forsan dropped four of eight games played with the Coahoma outfit this season.

Lubbock finally hit its stride afield last week, although appearing rather weak at the pan until reliable Bill Holloway streaked a single into the outer garden to bat across 2 runs in the eighth inning. Hubber management hope to attain the same fielding ability, plus added hitting power, with practically the same lineup used last Sabbath.

still in their private car but on another railroad line, and expected to reach there about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. A workout, on a secluded field, is scheduled for the late afternoon.

Argument On Motion For New Trial Being Heard Today

LEVELLAND, Sept. 24. (Special) —Argument on a motion for a new trial in the suit on behalf of Raines county against J. T. Spears and others involving title to land was scheduled before Judge Daniel A. Blair in 72nd district court here today.

Representing Raines county will be Weldon Johnson of Levelland. Attorneys for the defendants are Whitten and Fish, Matador law firm.

There also will be a hearing on a temporary injunction and the jury commission will be named for selecting grand jurors and petit jurors for the next term of court.

Minutes for the three weeks' term will be closed Saturday afternoon.

ard Terry, 180, senior.

Center — Glenn Jackson, 210-pound sophomore, plays a crashing defensive game that elevates him over Roy Bethea, a lighter squadman more polished on offense.

Right guard — J. T. King, 175, senior, excels on offense, which fact gives him an edge on Charley Naiser, 200-pound junior.

Right tackle — Will Tuller' granite defensive work is opposed to Bernie Hunns' speed, with the odds slightly in Bernie's favor.

Right end — Johnny Peterson is several lengths ahead of the field. He is a junior, weighs 180. Shelby Buck, 185-pound soph, is next.

Quarterback—Henry Mittermayer is the unanimous choice against Tech, provided his sprained ankle has sufficiently healed. Otherwise Bill Forney, 165-pound junior, will sub for the 185-pound senior.

Left half — A three-way fight here among Charley Haas, Beefus Bryan and Jud Atchison. Jud gets the nod against Tech because he is captain for that game. Their weights range from 160 to 175, Bryan being lightest and Atchison heaviest.

Right half — Hugh Wolfe, snorting ball-carrier, is the No. 1; Wesley Boyer, a squadman from last year, is not far behind. Wolfe weighs 180, Boyer 175.

Fullback — Nobody can touch Bullet Gray, 185-pound sophomore star. But Wallace Lawson, he of the broken ankle, is recovering rapidly and within a fortnight will be giving the Bullet plenty of competition.

The starting line against the Matadors probably will average about 200 pounds and the backfield 180. The replacements will average 202 forward and 185 in the backfield.

YOU WILL NOT forget the game Sunday afternoon between the Lubbock Hubbers and the Sinclair Oilers of Big Spring. It's a baseball game. You most certainly missed a treat if you were among the missing last Sunday when Lefty Beard tangled with Lefty Blanchard in a fine pitchers dual at the local park. You should not miss Sunday's game, even you who go to Austin. You'll be back by game time. Beard will pitch for the Sinclairs this time, Blanchard for the Lubbocks. The time is 3 o'clock. So long, till Tuesday.

number and calibre of thoroughbreds on hand.

J. H. Brock, generalissimo of the races, is highly pleased with the prospects, but hopes it doesn't keep raining. The new half-mile track can get awfully muddy. Rains last year all but spoiled the first two days of the races.

C. H. McMillan, famous starter, will be back in Lubbock today or tomorrow to contact horse owners and "practice" with young, high strung mounts at the starting gate. McMillan has his own starting gate here, a mammoth affair on wheels with stalls for twelve horses. He has used it extensively in state fair race meets in the midwest. It is the same used at Amarillo's Tri-State Fair meet.

Owners Are Given

Following is a list of owners, with the number of horses they are bringing here for the meeting beginning Monday afternoon:

G. H. Weldon of Graham, 3; C. E. Deshis, Panhandle, 5; Frank Zinn, Mineral Wells, 4; S. F. Whitney, Boise City, Okla., 4; R. E. Burrus, Santa Fe, N. M. 6; Johnny Singleton, Anadarko, Okla., 4; C. A. That Girl on Broadway says if a man brings his wife flowers long after their marriage it's either her birthday, their wedding anniversary—or his conscience hurts!

Generally the guy who thinks he's too good for his job has a job that's too good for him

SOME of the boys about town have been quite caustic in their remarks about the reception the fair trippers got—or, rather, didn't get—at Plainview on Tuesday.

According to reports, every other city visited by the trippers turned out in a great big way to welcome the Lubbockites, but in Plainview exactly nobody turned out. The band tooted and tooted and tooted, but from all the results it brought the musicians might just as well have been doing their stuff in the middle of the Sahara desert.

The trippers, naturally, didn't like it.

The Plainsman, however, cannot find it in his heart to rage and roar at Plainview for this, or any other incident in which the Hale county boys are charged with being inhospitable to Lubbock delegations.

In the first place, Plainview people are no different from Lubbock people and if they're mad at us up there we must have done something—no matter how far in the distant past—to make them feel that way.

In the second place, The Plainsman doubts if Lubbock business men would be very enthusiastic over a visit from a Plainview delegation if, after a few years, Plainview should happen to outstrip Lubbock in size, importance and everything else, just as Lubbock has outstripped Plainview in the past 10 or 12 years.

It hasn't been so long ago, you know, since Plainview was a bigger, better town than Lubbock—and even less time since the two were running neck and neck for supremacy in this territory.

THIS column's idea about Lubbock's relations with her neighbors is not that we should fall out with citizens of other communities when they fall out with us, but instead that we seek to find out WHY they have fallen out with us and then try to get the matter straightened out.

If we've been unfair or ungracious with Plainview, let's get at the bottom of it and in some way make amends.

If there are other communities with a grudge against Lubbock, let's eliminate those grudges by taking the initiative in the matter, by really and sincerely showing our true colors and by taking more than our share of whatever blame there may be in the matter.

If we've got to scrap with another town, let's scrap with Dallas, Houston, Ft. Worth, Oklahoma City—or with any community outside our own home territory.

The best thing for the whole Plains section—and incidentally for Lubbock and every other individual town—is for us all to work together or at least eliminate any animosity.

The Avalanche-Journal is not in the circus business and does not make a penny out of the deal, but it has an arrangement with the circus where 10-cent tickets are available for children under 12, if purchased at Avalanche-Journal offices.

We had 5,000 of those 10-cent tickets (children's tickets cost 25 cents at the circus grounds) and many of them are gone. But there are still some left so—

"Come and get 'em!"

The tickets are good for all performances of the Russell shows here on Monday and Tuesday.

BILL COLVERT, over from Littlefield for the Rotary club blowout the other night, told an interesting story.

Back in the early days of automobiling—about 1910 as Bill remembers it—Walter Lemond, now in the oil business in Littlefield, was in the automobile business in Amarillo.

One day two carloads of new models—a whale of a lot of automobiles at that time—were delivered to Walter in the Panhandle city and the problem of unloading them arose. Looking about the depot, Walter spotted several fellows, among them a redheaded guy by the name of Ernest Thompson.

"Hey Red," he called to the car-top. "Wanta job?"

"You bet," said Ernest—and he got one at a buck and a half a day for two days work.

As Walter recalls the incident, "Red" Thompson was well worth that $1.50 for each of the two days he toiled at unloading.

Thus, if Ernest happens to be the next governor, he will have come up considerably in the world.

His salary, aside from expenses, etc., will run $12,000 per year, or $11,686.50 more than he would have made back in the early days at $1.50 per day — counting holidays and Sundays off.

Not a bad boost—if and when he makes it!

SHORTLY after the death of Guy R. Johnston about four years ago, some Lubbock citizens interested themselves in who likely would succeed Mr. Johnston as state highway engineer for Division 5.

They had heard from semi-official sources that the state highway commission had all but decided upon a young fellow down at Coleman—a young fellow by the name of George Garrett. Hence, they went to Coleman and did a little snooping, without telling the Coleman folks why they were interested in George Garrett. When they came home they told other Lubbock citizens just this:

"We're highly skeptical about George Garrett, because we couldn't find anybody in Coleman who would say a word against him. Everybody down there praises him to the skies."

Time rocked along and sure enough George Garrett was promoted to the Lubbock engineership—one of the most important of the state's highway jobs. Since that time, as all and sundry know, he has been getting the job done in a quiet but capable way and from all The Plainsman has been able to learn, everybody in the far-flung division is thoroughly satisfied with their engineer.

BUT just to show that George's promotion was no flash in the pan and that even with personnel changes on the highway commission and in the office of the state highway engineer, Division 5's highway boss was one of four division engineers chosen from all Texas as delegates to the American Association of Highway engineers, which meets next week in Boston.

He was informed yesterday morning of his selection by the state department and left with Mrs. Garrett for Boston yesterday afternoon.

Since George is one of the youngest division engineers in the state, his inclusion among the four delegates chosen from 25 engineers is a nice compliment.

And The Plainsman, along with a lot of folks who have watched George's work with pleasure, is glad to see his efforts thus rewarded.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDITH IRVING, heroine, America's best dressed woman.
PHILIP IRVING, Judith's estranged husband.
MARTA ROGERS, Judith's rival.
BRUCE KNIGHT, author, Judith's old classmate.
MILLICENT BAYNE, Bruce's protege.

Yesterday: Safe at a Colorado ranch house, Judith meets Mark Price. She suspicions romantic tendencies when Mark asks to talk to her alone. Then he tells her, "It's something quite different."

CHAPTER IX

As Judith waited for Mark Price to state his request she wondered what he could have to say to her. Unless he was in love with Millicent and wished her aid in promoting his suit she could think of no help she might render him. He had not pursued Millicent, though.

"Is there any place you must be in Puly?" he asked.

There was—Reno—but she said: "Not particularly."

"Then you're going to listen to me! You wear clothes like nobody's business! Oh yes you do. I've noticed you in these white ducks. And the gay shirts. You give them a rhythm, a dare, a challenge! Lord, what wouldn't you do to an evening gown!

"You've never heard of me. You wouldn't for you don't follow the fashion pages. I'm Paul Price, a designer, just getting my start. I had a bum lung last year and had to leave and come out here. But now I'm going back for a real debut. I'm to have a part in the biggest fall showing. And you — Mrs. Irving, will you model for me? I'm made if you do. Made!"

Judith didn't want to laugh. The sound came out without volition. It burst from her lips and went on and on and on. She tried to stop it but she couldn't. It swept across the porch and up the road. She put both hands over her mouth.

She had thought he liked her for herself. Liked her for her fun and laughter. All he wanted was to have her wear clothes so he could be famous. He didn't know who she was!

Mark Price did not understand the reason for Judith's mirth.

"I know my request is something of a shock," he said. "I can see you don't know much about clothes, running around in these things, but you wear them like a million dollars. You have the figure, the grace, the carriage, the gestures. Your rhythm shows in your dancing, too."

So she didn't know much about clothes — Judith's laughter halted in sheer amazement. This young man wanted her to model in his show. He expected her to display clothes rather than buy them. Well, why not?

After all, she couldn't be among the customers much longer. This would provide an income. Clothes were her forte. Eventually she might achieve a partnership with Mark Price.

"What must I do?" she asked.

"Wear four creations in the show. These nitwits of 17 and 18, who haven't an ounce of personality, show off the deb things, but when it comes to clothes with appeal and charm for a woman of, say, 28 or 30 or even 35, what kind of models do we get? None! A real frock hasn't a chance to be displayed well. Now with you —"

As he talked Judith knew that he was seeing the runway, hearing the lilt of the violins and the cello, watching her advance to meet the widening applause. She saw more than the young man did. She caught the amazement in the audience as she appeared. This boy would have more publicity than ever he had dreamed.

"I'll do it on one condition," she said.

"And that is?"

"That my name be kept out of it until the actual appearance. Is it a bargain?"

"It is!" They shook hands solemnly.

Millicent's voice, gay and surprised, interrupted. "Judy darling, the village just telephoned. The train from the east brought the ranch a visitor who is hunting for us. He's on his way here now—do you think—do you suppose . . .?"

Judy asked the question, too, but she was thinking of a name not that which concerned Millicent. Down the road lights of a car were visible, though the distance to be covered measured several miles as yet. Perhaps Phil had come!

It wasn't Phil who presently alighted from that car. It was Bruce. He didn't say much, but his eyes were warm and tender as they watched Millicent.

"I came as soon as the show closed," he said. "Why did you go away?"

Judith, sick with disappointment because she had dared to hope for an impossible fulfillment, went back to the veranda and Mark Price. He told her he was leaving for New York shortly to lay his plans for the fall show. She was to follow soon for fittings.

Bruce stayed on for another week. One evening a party from the ranch drove into the village to buy ice cream and see a movie. Bruce had a package of newspapers from the east. He opened the first one and Judith saw him start.

"What is it?" she asked.

He held out the paper to her. It was her own picture that occupied three columns of the page and Bruce's was an insert. She read the head: "Actor Rushes to Best Dressed Woman." Then there followed a story of Judith's departure for Reno, the airplane's enforced landing, and a surmise that Bruce was her reason for the journey to Nevada.

"Don't worry about this," Bruce was saying. "I'll wire my press agent to correct the story. Millicent and I aren't wasting any time about getting married. I can make them understand why I came west."

But Judith didn't reply. Somehow she wasn't sure now whether she cared or not.

At the postoffice next day Judith received a letter from Anne. It began: "Judy, you foolish simpleton, why did you take the man up on it? Phil is too good for the rattle-headed Marta. I saw him with her last night. She was a creature glorious in white chiffon edged with silver, wherever there was anything to edge. Somebody had given her some pearls — simple but good — and she thought she was Cinderella with a time leave.

"Judith, the night your airship got caught in the storm Phil heard about it before I did and called me twice during the half hour you were battling the high winds. He sounded like a worried husband. No doubt he wants a divorce and will marry Marta and be dreadfully unhappy and blame it all on you for not holding on to him. Men always blame women for everything, my dear. We might just as well steal the pudding as be scolded for it. Marta will manage to get half of Phil's money, too. Anyway, why not come home for a while?"

Judith tore the letter into small pieces and walked back into the postoffice to deposit the pieces in the wastepaper basket. There was a note in the mail, too, from Phil's lawyer, who was an old friend since Phil did not want his own firm to handle this private case. It was a curt note. Reservations in Reno awaited her, she read, and it was advisable for her to take up an immediate residence in that city. Money would be sent to her regularly.

Judith stayed awake late that night, thinking. If she went to Reno, she couldn't take part in the fall showings that came early in August. She realized that she was glad for the delay. She did not want to hasten the divorce proceedings. She had no pride, she admitted. No pride at all. She was glad that as long as Phil was bound to her by ring and book he could not marry Marta. FLAPPER FANNY — By Sylvia

"Local boy makes good, huh?"
"Yeah. When he left home, he was just a smart aleck. Now he's a smart fellow."

Today's Journal Editorial . . .

THANKS, BUT WE'LL TAKE VANILLA!

The pronouncement by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler that "the fascist nations—Japan, Italy and Germany—present a greater threat to the world than communist Russia" is not surprising to those who are familiar with the career of Doctor Butler and the record of New York's Columbia university, over which he presides.

Columbia university, as everyone should know, has for years been a hotbed of left wing radicalism which has been extended from Columbia throughout the nation. The natural trend of Columbia—which means the Butler principles—is more toward the communal form of government than toward the fascist form.

However, be all that as it may, The Journal will go further than Doctor Butler. We say that both the communistic and fascist forms of government—which, despite the experts, work the same sort of hardship upon the average citizen—are threats to the world and to this country and that we don't want any of either.

Either of those forms of government—or, better, "misgovernment"—depends upon a dictatorship and can function only without regard for democracy. Under either regime the man in the street is a virtual slave and a puppet in the hands of his superiors.

Doctor Butler, if he chooses, can take communism over fascism, but as far as we are concerned, we'll have none of either!

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24.—There are movie stars you never see and may never hear about. They're behind-the-screen celebrities, but they play vital roles in the creation of glamour.

A star whom you really should hear about is O. O. Ceccarini. To him, Greta Garbo is just a lot of light vibrations, Jeanette MacDonald a certain number of sound frequencies.

The finest piece of dramatic acting ever done by Gladys George may move him only to the working of a problem in differential calculus.

I can't tell you in much detail about the things that Signor Ceccarini does, and if I could it would bore you. But for 10 years he has been chief consulting engineer at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. He is a physicist who deals largely in pure science and leaves the practical application of his abstruse findings to other men. Dr. Albert Einstein has named him as one of the five greatest mathematicians in America.

Salary Figures Stop Him

All this sounds pretty aloof and imposing. Actually Ceccarini is an amiable man with an accent, a pipe and the appearance of being much younger than he possibly can be.

He laughs when people suggest that such a master of figures should have a hand in the selection of chorus girls. He admits that the higher mathematics of players' salaries are beyond his comprehension.

Einstein's brand of relativity is a cinch for this Italian-born scientist. He says that relativity is merely a kind of mathematical shorthand, and applicable to any problem from the light of real stars to the lighting of reel stars.

In 10 years he has had a hand in most of the technical advances made by the flickers. Light and sound are his meat. He speaks of "sound perspective" as though it were visual.

Light, to him, is a tangible commodity. Everything is reducible to cold mathematics, even music. Russian and Spanish music, though, do give him an emotional kick.

Tele-visioning Profile

Ceccarini is technical director of the studio's development of a new color process. He offers no hint of what it's all about, but Metro is spending a lot of money on it. He knows some of the stars in terms of photographic color-sensitivities.

Robert Taylor, for instance, is "blue sensitive" because he has a heavy beard which, when closely shaved, makes his jowls look blue. Virginia Bruce is "pink sensitive" because of the texture of her skin.

Three-dimensional projection is something that Ceccarini is figuring on, but he has nothing to say about that. Television is another problem. When it comes, the movies intend to be able to use it to their profit and not to be victimized by it.

Before he came to Metro, Ceccarini did theatrical research in physics and electricity and his work in something called "the theory of circuits," and with electronic tubes won a lot of acclaim.

He thinks the unseen and infinitesimal electron likely will make it possible for motion pictures to be made with only the faintest illumination—but inside the camera light can be amplified just as sound now is amplified.

The figure wizard takes a pencil and pad to bed with him and woos sleep by working out some exciting equations.

When Mr. Mussolini Visits Mr. Hitler

"Brain Trust's Katzenjammer Kids" Are Two Young Leftists, Tom Corcoran, Ben Cohen

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Men closest to the Roosevelt "throne" always are subject to sharpshooting from those not so close, but wishing they were.

Embittered ex-members of the inner circle constantly snipe at them. They are bombarded by powerful outside opposition forces which find it easier to shoot at the President indirectly with the hope of dislodging those advisers and aides who remain.

Dutcher

Conservative hosannas greeted Tugwell's departure as a Roosevelt "shift to the right!" Promptly, however, it became obvious the President was cooking up the most radical of his programs—the Supreme court change plan.

And it took little time for the opposition, the would-be favorites and the ex-favorites to get their first sights on two lawyers, Thomas G. Corcoran, 36, and Benjamin V. Cohen, 42. "Tom and Ben" are the opposition's latest candidates for the sausage-grinder.

Both Considered Geniuses

Neither functions as a general adviser of the Tugwell or Moley type. But their scalps, for anyone who would strike at Roosevelt, are well worth getting. Corcoran, ubiquitous, super-energetic, brilliant, is the President's favorite trouble-shooter, liaison man, co-ordinator, conciliator, ghost-writer and salesman.

Cohen, his teammate and roommate, has drafted laws—none of which has yet been found vulnerable by either Wall street lawyers or the Supreme court.

Both have been dragged unwillingly into the limelight. Cohen is naturally a recluse, but Corcoran was called by Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes "the most alive man I ever knew." Both were considered "geniuses" by their professors. Both have been exposed to the Brandeis-Frankfurter influence.

Corcoran was secretary to Justice Holmes and four years with a Wall Street law firm. Cohen was with Brandeis in the Zionist movement.

Includes Bob And Bill

Actually the "Tom and Ben" team also includes a "Bob and Bill," Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson and SEC Commissioner William O. Douglas.

These four liberals, all promoted from obscurity in New Deal ranks because of jobs well handled, are expert in certain fields—Jackson on taxation, monopoly laws and successful argument before the Supreme court; Douglas in corporate finance, reorganization and other Wall Street devices; Cohen in legal draftsmanship and Corcoran in many fields, especially that of generalship behind the scenes. All have had extensive experience outside the New Deal.

CORCORAN AND COHEN

Corcoran and Cohen rank as special assistants to the attorney general, in addition to important legal jobs under RFC and the National Power Policy committee respectively. They seem to get the toughest White House assignments.

Much of the anti-Corcoran and Cohen attack is based on the delusion that they were responsible for the badly licked, perhaps fateful court plan. Attorney General Cummings plotted that one exclusively with Roosevelt. This fact may help dispel the notion of "Tom and Ben" as top braintrusters.

Nevertheless Roosevelt at once called them in as shock troops for the early administration drive for the plan. With Jackson they wrote speeches and arguments, recruited speakers, primed witnesses and collaborated with members of Congress. Later command of the fight was taken over by the Justice department and then by Senator Joe Robinson.

After The Rest Failed

In the last campaign Corcoran, Stanley High and Judge Sam Rosenman—who was on the presidential train—were collaborators on Roosevelt's campaign speeches. In the previous administration Corcoran and Cohen had fought the lobbies of the stockbrokers, investment bankers and public utilities.

Roosevelt had given them the securities, stock market and public utilities acts to draft after other men had failed to produce what he wanted. He ordered them to force those bills through Congress, co-operating with members, in order to prevent emasculation by the lobbies.

American To Be Released

CANNES, France, Sept. 24 (AP) — Spanish Insurgent General Francisco Franco informed Mrs. Harold E. Dahl in a personal letter she received here today that her American aviator husband, now Franco's prisoner, would be exchanged for an insurgent flier held by the Spanish government "if the occasion arises."

Written on the letterhead of the insurgent general staff and dated from Burgos, September 10, the letter assured the blonde American girl that her husband, from Champaign, Ill., was "perfectly well treated."

Usual Formal Phrase

It was signed with the usual formal Spanish phrase when writing to a woman:

"Your obedient servant who kisses your feet—Francisco Franco."

The letter was her first direct word from the insurgent chief. Mrs. Dahl, hardly able to control her pleasure and relief, said:

"After weeks of worrying I am delighted to know reports that Harold can be exchanged are true. The international Red Cross informed me they expect to be able to arrange an exchange."

Sentenced To Death

Dahl, 28, was shot down by the insurgents while flying for the Spanish government on July 12. He was sentenced to death.

Mrs. Dahl had not previously received Franco's 12-day-old letter, giving his promise of freedom for her husband in answer to her letter to the general begging him "please don't destroy my happiness."

With her letter, the tall and beautiful Mrs. Dahl enclosed a picture of herself which won the general's heart.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, down 4 to 6 points on lower Liverpool cables, favorable weather and under active hedge selling from the south. Oct 8.50; Dec 8.40; Jan 8.44; Mch 8.53; May 8.62; Jly 8.71.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24. (AP)—Cotton continued into new low ground for the season in today's early dealings under hedge selling and some liquidation induced by disappointing foreign markets.

Demand was lacking and initial transactions showed declines of 4 to 8 points with Oct at 8.47, Dec at 8.48, Jan 8.51, March 8.57, May 8.68 and July 8.79.

The market continued to recede and toward the end of the first half hour active positions were 6 to 10 points net lower.

Mechanical Shrimp Peeler Is Latest Wrinkle In Seafood Business; Now In Alaska

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP) — A mechanical shrimp peeler, fisheries bureau officials said today, is the newest wrinkle in the seafood business.

Charles E. Jackson, deputy fisheries commissioner, said he saw the device operated in the Petersburg, Alaska, plant of its inventor, Early Ohmer. He said Ohmer did not plan to market the device, but would keep it for his own use.

The shrimp enters the machine head first on a conveyor belt, Jackson explained, and the mechanism cuts the shrimp from end to end, turns it over, lifts off the shell, cuts off the head and tail, and drops the meat into a container.

Shrimp peeling employs many persons in Gulf and Pacific coast areas.

Taxation Of Fullers' Earth Is Seen As New Revenue Source

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. (AP) — Fullers' earth, thousands of tons of which are mined in Texas each year, was seen by officials as a possible source of state revenue.

The non-plastic clay, said to be indispensible to oil refining processes, now bears no tax.

Albert K. Daniel, tax commissioner, admitting he had no statistics on the quantities of Fullers' earth produced in many sections of the state, said:

"I think the possibility of realizing revenue from this natural resource should be investigated."

Governor James V. Allred, seeking sources of revenue to submit to the looming tax session of the legislature, had no comment.

Prominent Valley And Kansas Property Owner Dies Suddenly

McALLEN, Sept. 24. (AP)—Hoyt F. Perry, 52, prominent Rio Grande valley and Kansas property owner, died suddenly at his home here late Wednesday night.

Coming to McAllen from Kansas in 1926, he held large interests in citrus and oil lands in the valley. He was engaged in banking and real estate in El Dorado, Kas., for several years.

Funeral services were held here this afternoon. The body will be forwarded to Eldorado for interment tonight.

Severe Earthquake Recorded By Canadian Seizmograph

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 24. (AP)—A severe earthquake was recorded on the seismograph at the Gonzales observatory here today. The tremors began at 6:18 a. m., (p. s. t.) and continued two and a half hours.

W. A. Thorn, director of the observatory, estimated the center of the disturbance to be approximately 6,000 miles west of here, probably in China.

prise at the present attitude of powers which, he said, not only fail to live up to their obligations under treaties, but definitely are under the domination of Japan.

He added these powers calmly watched while Japan was tearing up solemn treaties of which they were signers.

Has Great Resources

He declared China possesses indefinable, inexhaustible man power and resources.

"China's resistance to Japanese aggression is without time or limits," he declared. "Any nation without respect for international humanitarian laws cannot last long. It will perish in its own fury and madness.

"No matter how long this war lasts, China will be able to hold out indefinitely."

in personal touch with the nation. And so this year, since January, I have already made one trip through some southern states and now I'm going out to the coast for the third time since I have been president, not counting campaign trips; going out to get a look-see, to try to tie together in my mind the problems of the nation," the president said.

He said the greater part of the emergency was over, but a lot of problems remained.

He said the government had spent a great deal of money putting people to work and at the same time the administration had tried its utmost to accomplish useful things.

Commenting on an editorial holding the government had wasted money on a certain project the president said engineers were human and "could not make a home run every time they come to bat."

Man Takes Post At Mt. Holyoke

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass., Sept. 24. — Dr. Roswell Gray Ham of Yale became the first male president of Mount Holyoke (women's) college today without a murmur to recall the bitter alumnae controversy over his appointment.

Dr. Ham's selection a year ago last June to succeed Miss Mary E. Woolley, who retired after serving since 1900, raised a storm of protest from feminine alumnae who insisted Mt. Holyoke should remain under a woman's control.

Motorist Attempts To Cross Bridge Moved Ten Years Ago

ALBANY, Ore., Sept. 24. (AP) — Allen S. Halls of Portland attempted to cross a bridge when he came to it last night, but the bridge wasn't there.

Halls drove his car onto what was once the approach to a bridge over the Willamette river. Now it is the loading platform for a gravel company. A new bridge went up farther down the river ten years ago.

Halls' car dropped ten feet into a railroad gondola full of sand.

Houston Man Fears Earthquake But It Turns Out To Be Drunk Driving Car Into His House

HOUSTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—T. M. Lindsey thought an earthquake had hit before dawn today as his home shook and the linoleum buckled in the bathroom.

Outside he heard a hiccough and saw a man sitting at the wheel of an automobile. The machine had ploughed into the side of the house, crumpling a part of the wall.

The driver was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Conscience Seems To Be With Us Always; Man Pays Hotel Bill Made 37 Years Ago

SAN MARCOS, Sept. 24. (AP) —Everything else may be changing in this old world but conscience seems to be with us always.

Thirty-seven years ago a guest left the Hofheinz Hotel here, neglecting to settle a $10 room bill. Today W. D. Hofheinz, son of the original owner, received the $10 from a San Antonio man he declined to name.

Talk Revived On New Rail Route

(By The Associated Press)

ALICE, Sept. 24.—Interest in a proposed new railroad to connect Alice with San Angelo and New Mexico and give the wool and mohair growers of that section a market outlet at Corpus Christi was revived this week with announcement that new officers had been elected and arrangements made to continue work already under way.

Elmer Homberger, recently of Beaumont and now of Corpus Christi, was elected president to succeed H. H. Holmgreen, who becomes active vice president.

Using Alice as its southernmost terminal, the road would run through Cotulla and Uvalde to San Angelo. At Alice it would connect with the Tex-Mex line and proceed to Corpus Christi.

Police And Firemen Go To Bow-Wows

DALLAS, Sept. 24 (AP)—Police and fire equipment, along with approximately 1,000 citizens, went to the bow-wows here last night.

"Bama", a Boston bulldog, fell into a manhole. Her owner hailed two radio squadmen, who got down on their hands and knees to retrieve the pooch.

Their radio began to squawk. They could not understand the call. They dashed to a telephone three blocks away.

"There's a baby down a manhole" headquarters told them.

"It's a bulldog" the officers snorted as they ran back to the rescue operations.

There they found three police squad cars, some fire apparatus and 1,000 spectators.

Yes, "Bama" was saved.

Jury In Earnest Trial Here Is Dismissed On Thursday

July in the trial of W. E. (Bill) Earnest, former Lubbock officer charged with murder while driving when intoxicated, was dismissed by Judge E. L. Pitts in 99th district court late Thursday when members reported they were hopelessly deadlocked after 36 hours deliberation.

Reports were the jury stood 7 to 5 for acquittal.

District Attorney Burton S. Burks announced the case will be reset for the first week of the November term of the court.

Charges against Earnest grew out of an automobile collision near Wolfforth February 14 in which Mrs. Lena Belle Bollman of Floyd county was killed. Earnest denied from the witness stand that his automobile figured in the wreck.

Representing him at the trial were Attorneys L. A. Howard and Owen McWhorter.

Two Suspects Are Being Held After The Beating Of Man

GALVESTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Police last night held two suspects on vagrancy charges who they said admitted an attack Wednesday night on Zeak Allred of Port Arthur after they had allegedly attempted to repeat the attack upon a local man, Gabe Smith, linotype operator. Arrest of a third suspect was expected momentarily either here or in Port Arthur, police said.

Allred told police here that he picked up two men, thinking they were students, on the road between Port Arthur and Groves Wednesday night. After they had traveled about a mile, one of them hit Allred in the head with a pistol. They later picked up a third man, threw Allred in a pasture, and escaped, the victim told police. The car was found abandoned at a filling station here today.

Smith reported to police that he picked up two men last night on a street here, and that one stuck a wrench in his neck, telling him that if he wanted to live "to drive straight." He attracted the attention of a police officer by driving near the curb.

John D. Biggers Doesn't Want To Take $10,000 For Salary

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP) — John D. Biggers, the Ohio industrialist who doesn't want to take a $10,0000 salary for directing the federal unemployment census, will have lots of company if he goes to work for nothing.

A check-up disclosed today that the United States government has thousands of workers—crop estimators, scientists, ornithologists and epidemiologists—on the payroll in name only.

Farmers Are Not Paid

W. W. Stockberger, agriculture department personnel director, said "untold thousands" of farmers, who receive no compensation whatever, aid in providing crop estimates. Scores of scientists and hundreds of bird banders also cooperate with the department and receive nothing for their efforts.

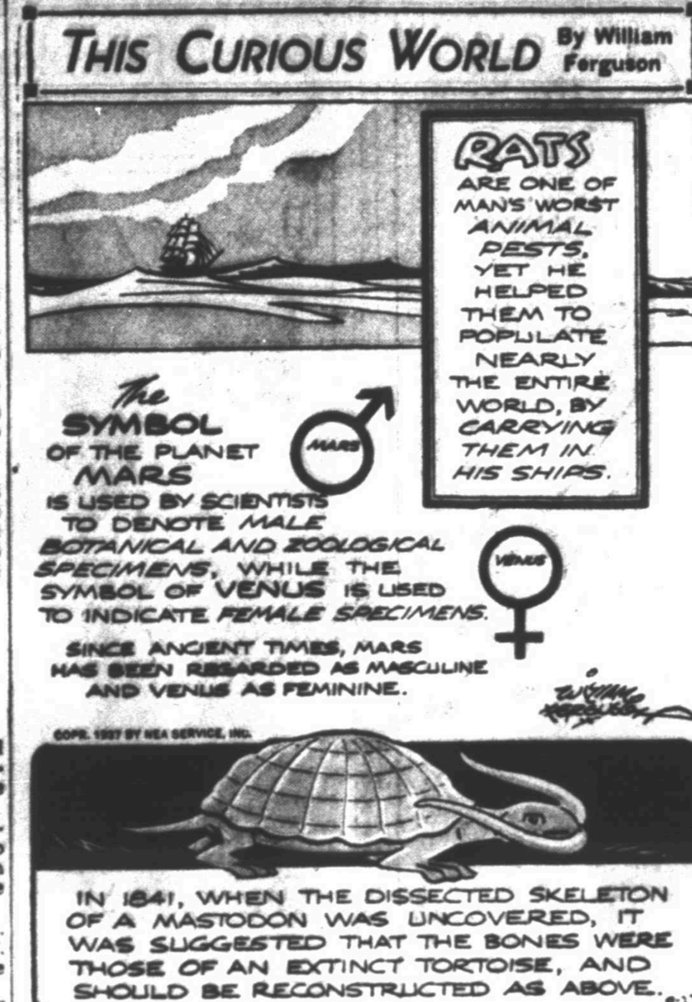

The public health service has about 5,000 "collaborating epidemiologists," each entitled to a yearly salary of $1, which most of them ignore. The weather bureau has about 4,500 cooperative observers whose compensation starts at nothing and virtually stays there.

Four Employes Of Red Cross Are Executed By Russians

MOSCOW, Sept. 24. (AP) — Four employes of the Red Cross gas defense corps at Leningrad were executed today on charges of poisoning sailors of the Baltic fleet.

The food which made the sailors ill, none fatally, was believed poisoned by chemicals used in experiments or anti-air raid drills.

MARLIN, Sept. 24. (AP) — Lee Smith, identified as a negro who escaped from the Louisiana state penitentiary in February, 1928, was arrested here last night. He was identified through finger-prints.

THE brown house rat is believed to have invaded Europe from Asia in 1727, by swimming the Volga river. Since then, it has invaded the rest of the world, traveling on man's ships. In the United States, they cause an estimated annual loss of $200,000,000, not to mention the disease they spread.

Kenedy County Only One In Texas Not To Seek Relief

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 24. (AP)—Only one county in Texas has never applied for money from the Works Progress administration, an examination of records brought about through the re-organization of the PWA in this state brought to light Thursday.

No person has ever been on relief rolls while living in Kenedy county, Mrs. Val Keating, assistant director of employment, said Thursday. Mrs. Keating was with the relief work from its beginning as the Texas Relief commission, and said this was true under that administration as well.

Tiffany Thayer Charges Amelia Earhart And Fred Noonan Were 'Murdered By Dogmatic Science' In Article In New Magazine

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24. — A charge that "Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan were murdered by Dogmatic Science" headlines the first issue of the Fortean Society magazine, just out.

"Unless by some miracle they found land and food and fresh water . . . they were sent to their death by the smug complacency of authority, of the schoolmen and the physicists and the astronomers," wrote Tiffany Thayer, secretary of the society, a national group of scientific agnostics, including several prominent writers.

Thayer referred to geographical and geodesic data compiled with astronomical aid, all generally accepted as correct.

Contends Science Is Ignorant

He contended science is ignorant of the true nature and dimensions of the earth and therefore is to blame for the Earhart-Noonan flight failure.

The Fortean society was organized in 1931 to perpetuate the ideas of Charles Fort, a scientific iconoclast who suggested, among other things, that the stars might not be so far away and the earth might be "nearly" stationary if all evidence was considered.

In his treatment of the Earhart-Noonan flight, Thayer declared "the latest and most detailed charts of the South Pacific ocean, prepared by the hydrographic office of the U. S. navy, are a crazy-quilt of guess work."

He pointed out that a chart embracing the New Guinea-Howland island route of Miss Earhart and her navigator shows 13 islands and reefs whose positions or very existence are officially marked "doubtful."

Fight Mapped On Marginal Wells

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. — Sen. Joe T. Hill of Henderson said today he was prepared to wage a determined fight, if necessary, at the approaching legislative session against curtailment of the production allowances of marginal oil wells.

Considerable doubt has arisen as to the power of the railroad commission to cut the output of the famous East Texas field in the face of the marginal well law, which permits the poorer pumping wells in that field to produce up to 20 barrels daily.

May Not Be Submitted

Hill said, however, he doubted Governor Allred would submit such a controversial subject as changing the marginal well law at his revenue raising special session.

The Henderson senator, whose district embraces most of the East Texas pool, said that if pumping wells there were cut to a maximum of 15 barrels a day "they never would be able to pay out."

"Total production of the East Texas field cannot be cut legally, in my opinion," he continued, "and it shouldn't be. The bottom-hole pressure situation there is not alarming."

Abilene City Commission To Give Parking Meters Trial

ABILENE, Sept. 24. (AP) — "Leave 'em at home, park 'em in Jiles county or get out your nickles," Abilene motorists are advising each other. The city commission has voted to give parking meters a four-month trial a survey is being made to determine the number needed for the business district.

OFFICIAL ON JOURNEY

LAREDO, Sept. 24. (AP)—Ceferino Dominguez, special inspector of the Mexican government's department of economics, arrived here today on an undisclosed special mission. He was to leave shortly for Ojinaga, Mexico, and Los Angeles, Calif. With him were Judge Ignacio Marino Cardona and Miss Luz Dominguez, his sister, and Miss Cecilia Garcia Moreno.

Tests Now Being Staged By Army

(By The Associated Press)

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Sept. 24. —Nearly 5,000 regular army soldiers, a part of the force of the proposed new infantry division now being tested here, have turned the Leon Springs military reservation, 20 miles northwest of San Antonio, into a gigantic military chess-board.

The maneuvers today reached the climax of the first phase of the three-part test. Only two more days remain in this first phase schedule—a period of preliminary training it has taken nearly four months to complete.

Now the 12,000 regular army troops from Fort Sam Houston and other posts scattered throughout the United States are ready for the second phase of the division tests —combat team tests which will get under way at Camp Bullis Monday.

Dallas Farm Editor Says Cotton Outlook Is 'Highly Unfavorable'

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 24. (AP) —V. H. Schoffelmayer, agriculture editor of the Dallas News, was the principal speaker at the Southwest Shippers Advisory board meeting here today.

Schoffelmayer told the 150 delegates that the world cotton outlook is "highly unfavorable" and that "the Southern cotton farmer is faced with falling cotton markets at home and rapidly increasing foreign production."

J. C. Murray, traffic manager of the Chamber of Commerce of Little Rock, Ark., spoke on "The Changing Cotton Structure."

The board voted to meet at San Antonio next March.

Composer Of Famous Song Dies In California At Age Of 72

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 24. (AP)—Carrie Northey, 72, known on the stage as Caro Roma, who composed the song, "Can't You Hear Me Calling, Caroline?" died here today. Numerous singing tours took her around the world.

Tolerance Of Black May Be Tested

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP) The Supreme court has selected Leon A. Smallwood, a negro and a Catholic to serve as messenger to Justice Hugo L. Black.

Black can veto the selection if he desires. A negro messenger is assigned to each justice. Smallwood has been connected with the Supreme court marshal's office.

Miss Ann Butt, who was associated with him while he was senator from Alabama, has been picked by Black to serve as his secretary.

$100,000 Trade Is Announced

(By The Associated Press)

BIG SPRING, Sept. 24. — In a deal reported to have involved $100,000, Otis Chalk, local rancher and oil man, has leased a half section of Howard county land to Lloyd Noble.

Chalk conveyed the 320 acres and one producing oil well to Noble in the deal. All pipe, tanks and equipment on the acreage were involved in the trade.

Chalk's recent No. 1-C Fee test, east extension to the Chalk pool, is the well involved. It tested 545.28 barrels two weeks ago from a depth of 2,981 feet in brown lime. The acreage is the south half of section 94-29, W and NW.

Economy Group Plans Report

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. — T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman, said today the senate efficiency and economy committee probably would present its report Tuesday, the second day of the special legislative session.

"We will let the governor shoot first with his argument for many millions of additional taxes," he said. "Then we will present in detail our analysis of the situation. The government can be run without making the heavy tax burden heavier and that should be done."

Holbrook expressed the opinion payments to dependent children and needy blind should not be started until some agency ascertained how many persons could qualify for such aid.

Retail Bread Prices Reported To Be Highest In Seven Years

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP) — Federal officials reported today that retail bread prices were the highest in seven years although flour prices and other ingredients averaged less recently than a year ago.

D. E. Montgomery, consumer's counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment administration said both average wages and total payroll in the baking industry were higher than a year ago but added that "available labor cost figures indicate that wages account for only a part of the enlarged spread between ingredient costs and wholesale bread prices."

Attempted Sabotage Of Planes Possible; Acid In Chemical

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 24. (AP) — Attempted sabotage of Pan American Airways planes using this terminal was termed possible today on the basis of chemical tests of fuel burned in the ships.

L. B. Kimball, vice president of a corporation manufacturing a fluid (aniloi) designed to boost the octane content of gasoline, said the fluid tested contained a large amount of hydrochloric acid, which is not included in the formula.

The tests were made at Texas A. and M. college. Pan American ships were found several weeks ago with their tanks containing the suspected fuel.

House Committee Continues Investigation On Pollution

WAXAHACHIE, Sept. 24. (AP) — Three members of the pollution committee of the Texas house of representatives surveyed Trinity river conditions near Bristol today.

Chairman Conde Hoskins of Gonzales, William Noll Sewell of Midlothian and Raglin Jones of Waco were the committee investigators. J. J. Adams of the state health department and Leland M. Johnson, representative, came with them. The committee is gathering information for a struggle to halt dumping of raw sewage into the Trinity.

Two West Texas Projects Are Included In Highway Jobs

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. (AP) — Orders for highway improvements costing more than $300,000 were in the hands of engineers today. They included:

Wilbarger county— appropriated $1,000 to supplement funds for labor and materials for widening from 18 to 36 feet Wilbarger street in Vernon and West Vernon between Tolar street and the west city limits; appropriate $13,084 for repairing and straightening concrete pile bents in Pease river bridge on highway 5 near Vernon.

Brown county—added to 1938 secondary road program the surfacing from end of present project to an intersection with Brownwood state park road at an estimated cost of $57,000.

Planning Need For Industry

(By The Associated Press)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 24.—Regulation by the Interstate Commerce commission of the economic factors of air carriers was urged today by Col. Edgar S. Gorrell of Chicago, president of the Air Transport Association of America, speaking before the Western Aviation Planning conference.

"Until such legislation or its equivalent is enacted, far sighted business planning in the air transport industry cannot be justified and will not occur," he said.

Principles Laid Down

Col. Gorrell laid down the following principles for maintenance of the United State's standing as a first class air power.

A fair and reasonable profit for the industry.

Prompt handling of scientific problems.

Proper management of air problems in both the government and private industry.

Adherence to a proper policy of regulation.

Ample capital in the business and through federal appropriations.

Aids to air navigation to permit ships to operate with a reasonable degree of safety and efficiency.

Policing of traffic along the airways.

Effectiveness Of Psychology On Automobile Drivers Seen On Amarillo-Denver Highway

AMARILLO, Sept. 24. (AP) — The effectiveness of psychology on automobile drivers is portrayed in the "movement" of accidents away from a Red Cross first aid station on the Denver highway near Amarillo.

In the year the station, located on a stretch of highway where many serious accidents had occurred, has been in operation accidents have retreated at least 10 miles up and down the highway.

F. E. Greenwood, safety expert in charge of the station, says not an accident of consequence has occurred near the first-aid markers.

"We have observed," Greenwood says, "that a majority of drivers slow down when they see the Red Cross signs beside the pavement. They continue safely over the stretch of highway that once was considered dangerous.

"Since the station was established accidents have started happening about 10 miles away on each side of the station. These spots had very few previous accidents. The little Red Cross signs seem to have a definite psychological effect on most drivers. Evidently it lasts only a short time, though, as cars which slow down at the signs have figured in accidents, caused by speeding, several miles away."

School For Tourist-Guides Is Opened In Monterrey, Mexico

MONTERREY, Mexico, Sept. 24. (AP) — School for tourist-guides opened here Sept. 1 under the auspices of the state and city governments with 30 pupils. Courses in Mexican history, English, colonial art, Mexican ethnology and folklore, and the principals of archeology will be given by authorities under the supervision of Prof. Caleb Sierra Ramos, state education supervisor.

The courses will last four months, after which examinations and certificates will be given. No person will be allowed to work as a tourist guide who has not passed the courses.

No person not a native Mexican may enroll, and before being accepted must present a certificate of honorable character from the mayor, and a health certificate.

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Sept. 24. (AP) — The search for animal specimens to determine effects of a long isolated existance turned to Wotan's throne, small plateau near the "Sky Forest" of Shiva Temple, today after Dr. Harold E. Anthony, mammalogist, reported he was "highly pleased" with results of the scientific expedition.

George Andrews, who remained with Dr. Anthony atop Shiva Temple for five days, returned to the mainland and joined Walter A. Wood, of the American Geographical society, for an assault on the sheer walls of Wotan's throne.

Andrews, said Dr. Anthony had trapped between 80 and 90 animals specimens on Shiva temple, but added that none was of a "spectacular" nature.

The scientist, mammalogy curator of the museum, hopes to find evolutionary data showing the results of an isolation of between 12,000 and 35,000 years. Shiva temple and Wotan's throne, never before visited by modern man, were severed from the mainland by erosion.

Administration Puzzled Over Exporting Wheat And Cotton

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP) — Administration leaders are puzzling over the problem of finding a foreign buyer for the extra wheat and cotton produced in the United States this year.

Secretary Wallace told reporters this at a general discussion yesterday of the 1938 farm benefit program.

The cabinet member emphasized that exports must be at a "fair price" and with payment assured.

"We don't want to ship our soil fertility out of this country and get nothing in return," Wallace said.

300 ATTEND MEETING

RICHMOND, Sept. 24. (AP)—Three hundred persons today attended the annual meeting of the Gulf Coast Council of Agriculture at the Fort Bend County fairgrounds. State Superintendent of Public Instruction L. A. Woods discussed agricultural leadership.

Topsy, Show Thief, Grabs The Favor Of Public With Pranks

Topsy With A Clown Ally; Inset — A Portrait

A circus performer who has spent hundreds of dollars and years of his life to perfect an act, sometimes finds to his dismay that his audience's eye has been stolen by the simple prank of a clown drawing a tenth of his salary.

Topsy is just such a show-thief as that. She is a 5-year-old chimpanzee, and those who attend the Russell Bros. circus in Lubbock, on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 27 and 28, will more than likely miss some interesting parts of the program when that rascally little ape makes her appearance.

Have Private Table

In the circus dining tent, Topsy and her trainer occupy a private table. Topsy must be watched then, so that she will use the proper silverware for each course, and will send her food to its intended destination instead of bombarding other diners with stalks of celery or orange slices.

Russell Bros. circus has its permanent winter quarters at Rolla, Mo., in the foothills of the Ozarks. Here, on Sunday afternoons in the early spring, thousands of townsfolk and tourists come to see the animals and to watch trainers perfect the coming season's routines.

Often the horse trainer will find only a few people admiring his thoroughbred stallions; the elephant trainer, too, can work without the comments and stares of onlookers, lions and leopards sleep in peace, and Bactrian camels chew their cuds and doze. A casual visitor to the grounds might think them deserted until he hears screams of laughter and see, in a far corner of the lot, a large circle of men, women and children. Topsy, tied to a tree, has stolen the show.

Topsy may be a naughty little show-thief, but her thievery is more than condoned by her fellow-troupers, by whom she is loved and regarded as highly as any human in the organization.

Best Dressed Woman

before she had censured women who held their men unwillingly.

She finally went to sleep. A knock at the door wakened her.

"Telephone, Mrs. Irving," a voice called.

She picked up the navy robe of heavy satin, slipped her feet into moccasins she had bought at an Indian settlement one day and went downstairs to the telephone. It would be the New York press or Phil's attorney calling her, she supposed. It wasn't. It was Phil.

"Judith, you aren't being fair," he began.

Her heart that had missed a beat in happiness lost it again. "Not fair, Phil?"

"You promised to go to Reno—and you are spending your time on a ranch. And this—this business of Bruce Knight. Why hadn't you told me?" He was a husband whose sense of pride and possession were hurt. He didn't want Judith but he didn't want anyone else to have her. She caught it all and the frightening tension broke. He was not entirely indifferent, then.

"Bruce came to see Millicent. He's marrying her," she explained.

"He is?"

"Yes, soon. The papers will carry it tomorrow."

"Wait a second, Judy."

She knew that he turned to relay the information to someone beyond. So she could not have even this moment, with the long miles between. Marta had to be there. When Phil said again: "Judy?" she asked, "Is Marta there, Phil? Did she ask you to call?"

"Yes," he answered, reluctantly. "Is she worried because I'm delaying?"

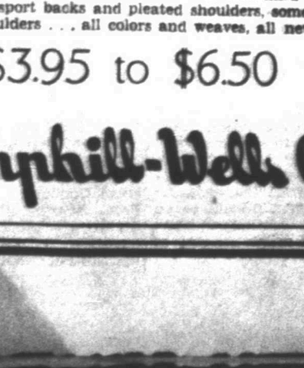

"Yes — I mean . . . Judith, that has nothing to do with the subject."

"Yes it does, Phil dear. Everything! It's Marta, not you, who called to hurt me. You couldn't be so unkind, Phil."

He ignored that. His voice became a small boy's aggrieved shout. "Will you go to Reno?"

Judith quietly hung up.
