AIRPORT GOES UP IN SMOKE

AMARILLO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Fire which caused an estimated $65,000 damage left most of the nearby English airport a shambles of burned wreckage today.

The blaze destroyed the main hangar where it started late last night, the brick administration building, and two planes, one a $9,000 cabin ship belonging to Bell ranch.

Most of the equipment of the Department of Commerce radio station on the second floor of the administration building, was destroyed.

Firemen Practically Helpless

Fire Chief George B. Cooper, who had three pieces of fire fighting equipment and 18 men on the job, said he was practically helpless to fight the fire, being handicapped by the absence of city water and fire hydrants.

"When we arrived we could have put out the fire at the hangar within a few minutes," said Cooper. "But, due to circumstances, about all we could do was try to confine the fire to one part of the building and make an effort to protect the frame structure to the west."

Besides the $50,000 building and the two planes which burned, one valued at about $9,000 and the other at about $1,000, it is believed that losses to the various occupants of the building will approximate $5,000 bringing a conservative estimate of the total loss to $65,000.

Immediately to the south and adjoining the hangar was the two-story structure occupied by the TWA offices on the ground floor and the U. S. Department of Commerce airways radio on the second floor.

To the south of that part of the building was the one-story addition occupied by the waiting room, which also housed the Braniff offices and the airport cafe.

I HEARD - - -

The fire boys belittling the singing of their new member, George Ingram, this morning, George was singing lustily as he repaired toys to be given less fortunate children of Pampa this Christmas when the hucklers remarked that they would rather hear him hammer and saw. An interested spectator was Fireman Tom Eckerd who is on his vacation.

INSTITUTE OF BUSINESS TO BE HELD HERE

Today's and tomorrow's business problems, as they exist in Pampa, will be analyzed and discussed by Henry W. Stanley, nationally recognized authority on economics and business administration, in a two-day institute of business, beginning Monday, December 6.

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce announced today that Mr. Stanley's engagement here had been definitely arranged. The business course will be offered free to Pampa merchants and sales people.

"It is an unusual opportunity to get a clear-headed, common sense discussion of selling and advertising problems," said J. M. Collins, president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. "Mr. Stanley brings a thorough knowledge of the latest merchandising ideas. Combined with that, he offers an impartial view on our own conditions as they relate to the general problems of business."

Final plans for the institute were worked out at a meeting of officials of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, the Junior chamber of commerce and the Pampa Credit association this morning in the B. C. D. office.

Collins presided and outlined tentative plans for the institute which was booked by the Pampa chamber of commerce several months ago.

Tom Aldridge is chairman of the committee representing the three sponsoring organizations. The committee will contact the larger merchants and other business institutions.

TRAIN ROBBER DOESN'T WANT FATHER TO HELP

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Nov. 30 (AP)—Henry Lorenz, facing double charges of murder and armed train robbery, expressed concern today for his father in Manitowish, Wis.

Informed by District Attorney Martin Threest that the elder Lorenz had asked the date of his son's arraignment, the 22-year-old "Brooklyn cowboy" urged:

"Don't tell him. He hasn't any money to spend helping me."

Lorenz, with Harry Dwyer, 27, will be arraigned tomorrow on the two charges—each carrying a possible death sentence—growing out of the death of W. L. Smith, El Paso gardener, in the Thanksgiving day hold-up on Southern Pacific passenger train.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL NOW $181 ABOVE GOAL

Although the annual Red Cross roll call in Pampa officially ended Thanksgiving contributions are still being received. A total of $1,281, or $181 above Pampa's quota of $1,100, has been obtained up to Monday evening.

Some firms that have not contributed to date are expected to do so within the next 10 days, at which time a final checkup will be made.

A partial report on the roll call in Pampa to date was mailed yesterday to the St. Louis office.

SECOND STEP TAKEN TO SAVE $55,000 FOR CITY

Mayor W. A. Bratton and City Secretary W. M. Craven at the city commission meeting last night signed documents sent here by Robert D. McCall, Dallas attorney, whereby the second step was taken in the process of saving Pampa $55,000 by reducing interest rates on bonds.

In a letter dated November 27, the Dallas attorney informed the mayor that the Helms Printing Co. was now printing the refunding bonds which are to be issued by the city, under the terms of a contract with R. A. Underwood & Co., Dallas, on October 18.

A copy of this contract, a copy of the ordinance providing for the issuance of the bonds, and copies of the warrants, were included in the documents sent to Mayor Bratton.

Under the contract, the city is to issue $16,000 in refunding bonds, reducing interest rate on $94,000 worth of outstanding bonds, from 5 1/2 to 4 per cent.

Visits Here

Gene Worley, above, state representative from this district, was a visitor in Pampa today. Mr. Worley was a member of a committee investigating nepotism after the special session ended. Mr. Worley declared the session should have resulted in certain necessary appropriations for pensions, and other forms of charity.

FIREMEN NEED TOYS TO MEND

Three interruptions to answer fire alarms yesterday kept firemen from getting much work done on toys being repaired for distribution among less fortunate children of Pampa this Christmas. Already large stacks of toys have been taken to the fire station but the fire boys can handle more.

The first call was early yesterday morning to North Ward street where a plumber was at work under a house and his blow torch caused smoke to enter one of the rooms. A couple of hours later a call was received from Tyng street where an acetylene torch ignited a truck.

Yesterday evening the firemen were called to 1100 Alcock street where a stove in a cafe had exploded. The fire had been extinguished when the truck arrived. No one was injured.

Pumpkins having toys that can be repaired are urged to take them to the fire station immediately. The Kenney Crossman American Legion post will furnish paint and repairs for the toys. Commander Howard Euckingham has informed the firemen.

MARVIN JONES PUSHES WAGE-HOUR MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—House sponsors of crop control and wage-hour legislation indulged today in some old-fashioned "horse trading" in an attempt to weaken the stubborn opposition to the two administration measures.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the agriculture committee and three other Southern representatives added their names to the petition to force the wage-hour bill to the house floor.

"It looks like a question of reciprocity," commented chairman Norton (N-N.J.) of the house labor committee.

Jones declared his signing did not commit him for or against the wage-hour bill. A subject of such widespread interest, he said, merited consideration.

While this was going on behind the scenes, 100 house members, called for "fixed" prices for major crops instead of the benefit payments and loans proposed in the bill on which debate began yesterday.

Half a dozen Senators, including McNary (R., Ore.) and Vandenberg (R., Mich.), said they would propose changes in the Senate measure.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) led the House bloc demanding fixed prices of $1.50 a bushel for wheat, $1 for corn and 10 cents a pound for cotton.

"I want someone to explain to me why we can fix the price on coal and we can't on any basic agricultural commodity," he said.

TWO KPND NEWSCAST SCHEDULES CHANGED

Change of time in two daily newscasts over KPND were announced today, moving the early morning news to 7:30 o'clock instead of 7:45 a. m. The news for this period will begin under a new sponsor tomorrow, the Post-Mosley Norge Store.

Santa Claus Tells R. R. And Boys He'll Be Here Saturday!

By THE ROVING REPORTER

Santa Claus told the Roving Reporter last night to announce today that he would come to Pampa Saturday to attend the Santa Day celebration.

The R. R. and two boys, Billy Mounts and Jimmy Shofner left the wrestling match early last night, and went to their cave on Red Deer creek where their short wave radio station is located. That was about 10 o'clock. About 11:30 the airways were sufficiently cleared to talk with Santa.

"I have already made up my mind to come," were Santa's first words. "In fact I told you that a day ago but you can put it in the paper tomorrow that I'm coming so the kids won't get worried."

"To tell the truth," Santa continued, "I didn't want to make that long trip that far south just 30 days before Christmas, but I got to thinking what I'd miss if I didn't go, and as usual I gave in."

"Boy that parade is going to be worth going a long way to see. If there's anything I like in a parade it's more kids."

Santa was referring to the parade of Fairland which will feature the celebration. Thousands of bags of candy, each weighing nearly a quarter of a pound, will be given away at a huge Christmas tree located on the vacant lot near the Santa Fe railroad tracks.

Sunday the Jaycees decided to buy the candy themselves, and permit Santa to give it away. Previously they had written Santa a letter asking him to bring enough candy for the kiddies, but the R. R. persuaded them to buy the candy themselves.

The young business men sipped candy until a late hour last night, and most of them had the stomach ache because they nibbled too much. The R. R. snatched a sack of that candy and boy was it good!

Clarence Kennedy, the Jaycees' leading wit, and chairman of the Santa Claus committee, was one of the best candy-sackers in the chamber of commerce rooms.

To Arrive By Plane

Santa Claus, he told the R. R. last night, will arrive in Pampa by airplane. He will fly over Cuyler and throw out candy as a signal that he is Santa Claus and has arrived. Then the plane will land at the airport, and he will be rushed down town in an automobile.

The kiddies should not go to the airport to see him because they might miss him. He will run from the plane to the car and be down town in two minutes. Besides Santa wants all the kiddies to be down town to get their share of the candy. Tickets are being given away this week in the schools to all children between the ages of 12 and 6. One ticket will entitle the holder to a bag of candy. Parents of children under six may get tickets for the youngsters at booths which will be located near the Christmas tree.

600 Costumed Boys And Girls To March In Santa Day Parade

20 BOYS GIVEN SCOUT HONORS

The ward schools were seething with excitement and anticipation today as parents, teachers and pupils gaily planned and made costumes for the most colorful, glamorous Santa Day parade in history.

The parade of Fairland, featuring costumed characters out of favorite fairy stories and legends, will begin at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the high school and will proceed south on Cuyler.

Hundreds of children will be in costumes. Why Sam Houston school alone will have 200 costumed children in the parade, counting 2 bands, one with 39 members and the other with 31, and a choral club of 43 members. So there will be singing in the parade! There will be music too.

All Bands To Play

Every ward school in the city will be represented by a band. The parade will be led by the colors, probably with the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars bearing and guarding the flag, and by the Harvester high school band. Then will come the Junior high school band, clad in blue. Then leading their own fairland hosts will be the various ward school bands.

Thus, you see, at least 600 costumed children will march in the parade. This morning D. B. Beck, chairman of the parade committee, announced that the masks for the children have arrived and were distributed to various city and county schools.

FINE PAID FOR PASSING BUS

A fine of $37.51 was paid by Don Kretzenburg on a charge of passing a school bus, following a hearing before County Judge Sherman White yesterday afternoon.

Kretzenburg, whose exact address is unknown, but who lives out of the state, was arrested two miles east of McLean Monday afternoon by Deputy L. S. Tinnin, when he passed a school bus while it was discharging passengers.

County Attorney Joe Gordon said that violations of the law forbidding the passing of a school bus had been fewer than at any other time this school year, until about a week ago, when a half-dozen complaints were received; however, the arrest Monday was the first since the complaints had been made.

CHILDREN DIE AS SKIES RAIN BRUTAL DEATH

SHANGHAI, Nov. 30 (AP)—The French ambassador said today that Japanese airbombs had destroyed a Catholic orphanage at Kashing and killed 86 Chinese children.

He also said 150 refugees, four French sisters and five Chinese sisters who were at the orphanage were missing.

The reports came as the Japanese continued their advances on Nanking. The Chinese defenders of the almost deserted capital were reported falling back to a line 40 to 60 miles east and southwest of the city, with Japanese columns in pursuit.

The orphanage bombing took place 15 days ago, but was reported today to Ambassador Paul Emile Naggler by a French and Italian father who walked ten days from Kashing to Nanking and boarded a vessel for Shanghai.

6 Buildings Destroyed.

The two missionaries brought 44 young Chinese seminarians with them to Shanghai, but said all other residents of the Sisters of Charity orphanage were killed or missing.

They told Father Moulis, procurator of the Lazarist mission headquarters, that the Japanese bombed the orphanage frequently and finally destroyed six buildings.

During the attacks, the missionaries said, the sisters threw their charges into a dugout on the mission grounds, but one bomb hit the dugout killing 26 girls between the ages of nine and 15 while another hit the nursery killing sixty babies and wounding two Chinese sisters.

Father Moulis said sisters took 150 other orphans and adults, including some wounded, on a large ship and fled toward the interior. He expressed fear for their safety as no word had been received from them.

The missionaries said the orphanage had no flag flying during the attacks and was located close to the home of Chinese General Chang Fah-Kwei where soldiers were constructing concrete pillboxes.

A Carmelite mission and a Lazarist seminary nearby, flying a French flag, were not bombed.

Japs March On

Japanese army communiques said the Chinese had retreated nearly to the Chingling-Tanyang-Kintan fortified line close to Nanking. The Japanese gained ground steadily on the central front, but were held up at the northern extremity.

They reported the capture of

PAIR CONFESS TO BANK ROBBERY IN PAMPA

He said the two were Fern Moore, 30, of Pampa, and Archey Holbrook, 35, of near Sp. Dale, Ark. Officers recovered $13,285 of the amount taken in the raid, Dean said.

Rogers police and federal officers arrested the men at their homes early today after two men resembling the robbers had been seen in this Ozark section in a pickup truck which had been stolen after the getaway coupe had wrecked.

AAUW to Sponsor Party on Friday

Following the latest vogue in entertaining, the Pampa branch of the American Association of University Women will have its first party Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall club room.

Emulating Elsa Maxwell, who says parties are such fun, the A. A. U. W. has planned to make its party different. For one thing, the hostesses are strictly original. They are Mmes. I. B. Hughey, Paul Kasishke, R. B. Fisher, Sone, and Henry Thut. A number of novelties, which will include the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and likely Hitler and Mussolini, will be sponsored by this group.

Admission to the party, to which the public is invited, will be 25 cents. Proceeds will be used in the club Fellowship to give an address on the continuation of graduate work in a university. Three Texas women were recipients of Fellowships last year.

Episcopalians to Hear Missionary Wednesday Evening

Arthur J. Allen, an educational missionary of the Episcopal church, working in Central China college, Wuchang, will arrive in Pampa tomorrow afternoon to give an address on the church work in China.

Mr. Allen, who has been in China since 1932 and is now in the United States on furlough, is a graduate of Colorado college and has done post-graduate work in Columbia university and Union Seminary in New York.

The address will be given at 7:30 o'clock in St. Matthew's parish hall at 707 West Browning. The public is invited to attend and an opportunity will be given to ask Mr. Allen questions about the general conditions in China and the work done by this interdenominational organization which is supported by several American denominations.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it good form to announce dinner by saying "Dinner is ready?"
2. Should a woman guest at a small informal dinner in a friend's house keep on her hat?
3. Should one invite guests informally for dinner and tell them to come at "about six?"
4. At a small party of six or ten guests would each person be introduced as he arrives?
5. Is it good taste to continually speak of one's husband as "he?"

What would you do if—
Your husband wishes to invite as a house guest a friend of his whom you do not know? Should the invitation be sent out by—
(a) You?
(b) Your husband?
(c) In both of your names?

Answers
1. It is better to say "Dinner is served."
2. No.
3. No. Be definite, say "at six."
4. Yes.
5. No. Use his name.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(a).

CRANBERRIES LIKE COLD.
Cranberries should be kept in a cool dry place to prevent spoiling. Preferably the refrigerator. Select the berries that are hard and crisp and have a brilliant, shiny surface. The large, bright red berries have a very tart flavor; the smaller, darker red fruit a milder taste. Besides the traditional cranberry sauce and cranberry jelly, use their juice alone or combined with other fruits as a cocktail, or in puddings and pies, salads and frozen desserts.

WMS Has Prayer Week Program

At the executive board meeting, which preceded the initial program of the Lottie Moon week of prayer at the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon, Mrs. J. J. Simmons, president of the Women's Missionary society, tendered her resignation due to illness.

The nomination of a new president was made and will be voted on at the next meeting. Mrs. Dee Campbell was appointed chairman of the year book committee and she will be assisted by Mmes. Tom Rose and Baker Henry. The new personal service chairman who was appointed at this meeting is Mrs. P. O. Gaut.

Mrs. J. A. Arwood was in charge of the program which was presented following the board meeting. Numbers given were a song, "My Jesus I Love You," by the group, the devotional by Mrs. R. W. Tucker, and a vocal solo by Mrs. C. Gordon Bayless.

Topics discussed on the program, "Looking Unto Jesus in South America," were "Making Bricks Without Straw," Mrs. Tom Rose; "A Soul Winner in Brazil," Mrs. W. A. Breining; "A Southern Baptist Mission in Chile," Mrs. O. A. Davis. Prayers were given by Mmes. Ella Brake for the work in South America, T. F. Morton, lost in Brazil; and Mrs. L. V. Roller opened a series of prayers which were closed by Mrs. Arwood. Mrs. H. T. Cox took the offering for the Lottie Moon fund.

Those who attended the meeting were Mmes. W. B. Davis, Dan Williams, Garnet Reeves, J. C. Vollmert, Haskell E. Dill, Raymond F. Schultz, Charles Miller, W. B. Holder, Elzie Whately, C. W. Windom, J. Luncheon Given By Dorcas Class

A covered dish luncheon honoring members in service was given yesterday afternoon in the dining room of the First Baptist church by the members of the Dorcas Sunday School class.

Small red candles marked the places which were laid at white covered tables arranged to form the letter "D".

Mrs. W. A. Breining conducted the meeting in which several members made two minute talks on letters forming the word "Thanks-giving". Mrs. C. Gordon Bayless told the group of her trip to Juarez, and plans were made for the banquet to be given for the class members and their husbands at the church on December 10.

The class extended its regrets to Mmes. Felix Stalls, Ed Anderson, Aaron Meek, E. C. Nelson, and Bo Barrett, who were unable to attend the luncheon.

Members present were Mmes. W. B. Murphy, P. O. Anderson, Dee Campbell, T. B. Rogers, Frank McFoy, H. A. Gailard, E. W. Tucker, W. R. Bell, J. P. Wehrung, J. A. Arwood, D. A. Caldwell, G. H. Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

It is an excellent idea to admit your complexion, posture and grooming faults, then to try to correct them. But it's decidedly bad to think and worry about them so much that you develop a negative personality.

A little vanity about your appearance is indeed a personal boon. When you have done your best to make yourself as attractive as possible, fret infrequently and, even then, only in a constructive manner.

If you have brushed your hair until it gleams like polished grid and are wearing it the most flattering way you could figure out, go ahead and be proud of it. Wear hats that show it off or shop around for an evening hair gadget that will draw attention to it.

If your mouth is by all means your best feature and eyes are merely so-so, use lipstick with a lavish hand—and smile often! If, on the other hand, your eyes are beautiful, don't be afraid to dramatize them with eye makeup. Yes, even in the daytime.

When you are perfectly groomed, the chances are ten to one that you will look fresh as a daisy, neat as a pin. If you know that your clothes are striking, posture practically perfect, why worry about the fact that there is a tiny blemish on one cheek? Do all you can to make the spot disappear, but don't let it make you unhappy. And don't discuss it with others.

It's a mistake indeed ever to discuss your physical shortcomings with men. Your favorite date of the season isn't likely to notice that your neck is too thin unless you draw his attention to it. But once you do, he'll think about it instead of your lovely hands or beautiful mouth or whatever feature you are proud of. Incidentally, never apologize for your clothes or accept an invitation with "Yes, I'll go, but I wish I had something nicer to wear." If your clothes fit smoothly and are always clean and pressed, he won't realize that they are old, unless you tell him. Don't do it!

CITY OPINIONS ON WPA CASE MAILED JONES

Reiterating the opinions expressed to George A. Linder, supervisor of the division of operations of WPA district 16, at their meeting last week, the city commission at its regular meeting Monday night approved the sending of letters containing these opinions to A. A. Meredith, WPA district 16 administrator, and to Marvin Jones, representative.

Both letters stated the city's position as believing the Works Progress administration should restore Pampa's fairground grandstand to the same condition it was in before the 200 pound per-square foot test made under WPA direction perforated a 15x28 foot square in the center of the structure.

The letter to Representative Jones was accompanied by a copy of the letter sent to Administrator Meredith. Both the communications to the administrator and to the representative commented on the expense the city had taken in purchasing the land, and buying materials for the project, designated as No. 2414 by the Works Progress administration.

Attention was also directed to the fact that the test of November 6 was that of a concentrated and not a distributed load, and that the load was twice above the usual standard of 100 pounds per square foot.

Twelve large photographs, four showing the grandstand packed with spectators at a rodeo, four showing a front view of the grandstand after the test of November 6, and four showing a rear view of the stands after the test were exhibited at the meeting last night, but were not mailed with the letters to Administrator Meredith or Representative Jones.

HIGH SCHOOL GIVEN A CONSTITUTION PLAQUE

A "Shrine of the Constitution" plaque has been presented to the Pampa High school by the Pampa post of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The plaque consists of a bronze stand which is the base for three frames that contain a facsimile of the American Constitution, signatures and pictures of the signers.

The "shrine" presented here was one of those that V. F. W. posts over the country have given to schools. The movement was sponsored by the Sesquicentennial commission.

The presentation was made in a chapel program at the high school last week, by a committee of the local V. F. W. post consisting of Commander L. L. McColm, O. K. Gaylor, Howard Neath, and D. E. Cecil.

NIGHT CLASSES TO BE HELD FOR GRID BOYS

To assist football players in making up on their school work, night classes will be made available for them according to an announcement by Principal L. L. Sone today. Ervyn Caba and one teacher, yet to be named, will be in charge of the study periods.

"Our football boys have worked faithfully both at their school work and at football but they naturally got a little behind in their studies," Principal Sone said. "So we are going to give them an opportunity to make up on any work in which they lagged during the football season. We have an exceptionally fine group of athletes this year and they deserve the consideration we believe."

GOLFERS COMPLAIN OF GREENS BEING MARRED

Love is love anywhere, but it doesn't rate par with ired members of the Pampa Country club who are complaining about Pampa youths driving their cars over the links of the club.

Members are especially aroused because even the greens have been scarred by the tires of automobiles driven by those who would convert the course into a "lover's lane." Sheriff's officers last night arrested a 19-year old youth in connection with the trespassing of the club property. The youth was given a lecture, and admonished to cease trespassing, but no charges were filed.

COURT DENIES COMBS' APPEAL ON LICENSE

An order upholding the Texas Liquor Control commission's ruling of November 8, which provided for the cancellation of a beer and wine retail license held by Bryan Combs of the Y tavern, was filed in 31st district court today.

The order followed a hearing before Judge W. R. Ewing Saturday after Combs had made an appeal from the commission.

Combs' beer and wine retail license will expire Dec. 5.

tions of Pampa this week to urge their cooperation by sending their employees to the meeting.

Other members of the committee include: Travis Lively, president and manager, Pampa Credit association; R. G. Hughes, president, Junior chamber of commerce; H. F. Harry, Harry L. P. C. Nelson, Hollis Keys, Frank Cuberson, Sid Patterson, Guy E. McTaggart, O. R. Phumpreys, Ben Guill, C. E. Compton, H. L. Hindman.

Mr. Stanley is trade extension director of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. The institute which he will conduct here is a service provided by the Dallas organization, and through this unusual opportunity to study modern business methods, a new chapter in trade development of the Southwest is being written.

The institute will be held at the city auditorium each evening, beginning Monday, from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock. Not only is Mr. Stanley an authority on merchandising and economics, but he is also a forceful and stimulating speaker. For the last 10 years he has conducted similar schools for business men in the South and West and has won a nationwide reputation as an authority on Southwest business. Stanley will likewise address the weekly Pampa Credit association luncheon Monday noon at the Schneider hotel.

part of the big structure and moved on to other parts.

Loss to TWA will amount to several hundred dollars, including airplane parts and one complete wheel and tire used on the giant Douglas transports, and part of their radio equipment. The transmitter was carried to safety but the receiving set was not saved.

It could not be learned last night what part of the valuable radio equipment operated by the Department of Commerce was saved.

Several small frame structures, about 300 feet west of the administration building, were out of range of the sparks from the flames, but at times slight windshifts threatened these buildings, together with the large gasoline storage tank between the airport building and the residences.

The hangar was 100 by 120 feet in dimensions, one-story high, and was the first part of the administration building to be constructed in 1929. Additions were made from time to time, until the total structure totaled more than 200 feet in length, north and south.

a certain amount that the city might expend, and to do all the things proposed by Mr. Massa would require additional police.

Graduated Setup
As an alternative, he proposed that the suggestions be adopted one step at a time. Mr. Massa said much of the force of the effort would be lost, but agreed that educational work in safety would be a worthwhile step, even though the city could not adopt the entire scheme.

Patrol Captain Present
Captain M. L. Berry of Amarillo, of the Texas Highway patrol, was present at the meeting, and was asked for his opinion on these questions as they applied to Pampa.

The captain said laws or rules without enforcement were worthless. He advocated parallel parking as superior to angle parking. Asked by Mayor Bratton what his experience had been as to the number of accidents that had occurred when cars were parked at an angle as compared with accidents that happened when cars were parked parallel, the captain said he could not give an off-hand answer.

He said that he did know on one certain downtown Amarillo street, angle parking had impeded traffic, while on an adjoining street, where parallel parking was the rule, the traffic was much faster and easier.

Safety Education
Mayor Bratton believes that much good could be accomplished if the city would send one of its policemen to the Texas Highway Patrol's spring school at Camp Mabry, when traffic instruction will be a specialty.

A course has been announced to begin December 6 at the camp, but it is at the spring course that safety and traffic work is stressed.

Instructor In Demand
The safety council had hoped to obtain Captain George Schauer of the Texas Highway patrol to give instruction to Pampa police in traffic safety. It had been expected that he would be available to give instruction here, but because of the limited personnel of the patrol and the great number of Texas counties wanting his services, he has not been able to come to Pampa. Captain Berry said he understood that Captain Schauer was now in Dallas.

Captain Schauer is an expert in safety and in first aid, and has given instruction in these subjects at the A. and M. college of Texas and to the state highway patrols of Arkansas and New Mexico as well as to the Texas patrol.

Will Furnish Prices
Captain Berry agreed to supply the commission with the prices of a radio loud speaker to be installed in the Pampa police car to be used in giving safety instruction and in directing traffic.

Mayor Bratton said he had been unable to obtain information concerning the price of such equipment and where it might be obtained.

Good Record
Pampa's safety record, with only one fatality thus far reported for 1937, was praised by Captain Berry. He also complimented Pampa officers, saying they were a "bunch to work with." He pointed out that few cities the size of Pampa had so much traffic, and he thought Pampa's record in this connection was commendable.

Danger Spots Noted
West Foster, the intersection of Ripley and Hobart, and the intersection of highway 88 and of Hobart, were among the danger spots noted in a discussion of what should be done in traffic safety here.

Mr. Massa said there had been complaints about motorists continuing their highway speed on West Foster after they had driven into Pampa from U. S. Highway 60 on the west.

The Three E's
Education, engineering, and enforcement were named by Captain Berry as the three means to success in safety work.

The captain advocated distinctive automobiles for Pampa police in safety work, saying a special colored car attracted attention and gained respect. He cited examples of how these cars, radio-equipped, were used in directing traffic on highways.

While the commission favors the safety instruction advocated by the advisory council, it indicated that it did not intend to spend any great amount of money or to add any new equipment, other than the radio loud speaker set.

The work here will first of all be one of education and will not involve any unnecessary expense, according to the opinions expressed at last night's meeting.

will be a decorated buggy drawn by boys dressed up like horses.

Practically every well-known character of fairyland may be seen in the parade. Parents are making costumes for scores of Robin Hoods at Woodrow Wilson school, Old King Cole's Court at E. M. Baker school, The Old Woman in the shoe and all her kids and the Pied Piper of Hamelin at Horace Mann, and the Glass Slipper and king and queen of hearts at Sam Houston.

Baker School
The first, second and third grades of B. M. Baker school of which Aaron Meek is principal will portray Old King Cole's court with the following characters: Old King Cole, his queen, village maid, four pages, court maid, 2 heralds, peasant maid, Little Boy Blue, Little Bo Peep, Mistress Mary, Peasant Lad, Tom Tom the Piper's son, Little Jack Horner, Old Mother Hubbard, Jack and Jill, Little Miss Muffet, Mary Had a Little Lamb, Little Red Riding Hood.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades of Baker school will tell the stories of Heidi in which Shirley Temple may be seen today at the LaNora Pinocchio, Beauty and the Beast, Alice in Wonderland, Cinderella, Tom Sawyer.

Woodrow Wilson School
The first, second and third grades of Woodrow Wilson school of which Frank Monroe is principal will tell the story of Peter Pan, and the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades will re-enact the thrilling, famous story of Robin Hood and his men, all of whom will be dressed just as Robin Hood and his men when they lived in Sherwood forest. The spectacle of Robin Hood and his men with bows and arrows marching in the parade undoubtedly will be one of the most attractive features of the entertainment.

Sam Houston School
Sam Houston's first, second and third grades will tell the story of The Glass Slipper, according to A. L. Patrick, principal, and the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will portray the story of the king and the queen of hearts and attendants.

Horace Mann School
Horace Mann school of which Miss Josephine Thomas is principal will also have three outstanding attractions in the parade. The first grade will show The Old Woman in the Shoe, the second grade pupils will re-enact the always amazing story of the Pied Piper of Hamelin, and the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will tell the fantastic, beautiful fairy story of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Junior high school will depict the story of the Three Little Pigs and the Little Tin Soldiers.

Kwangteh, 100 miles southeast of Nanking, and Kiangyin, 80 miles east of the capital.

The main Japanese column was advancing along the Nanking-Shanghai railway near Tanyang, 60 miles from Nanking, after capturing Wutsin.

As another column moved forward along the Hangchow-Nanking railway, the United States gunboat Cahu stood by at Wuhu to aid in the evacuation of 24 Americans if necessary.

(In Nanking itself, Chinese made elaborate defense preparations, apparently for a determined stand. Eight of the city's gates were closed and a trench network was constructed. The last line defenses extended from the city in semi-circular rings ending at the Yangtze river.)

Chinese made stubborn stands on the southern front, where Japanese drove northwest from Hangchow bay, and at the Kiangyin forts on the Yangtze river, the northern end of the Shanghai peninsula battle-ground.

The forts were threatened, however, by capture of Kiangyin City.

MOVIE TO BE SHOWN AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

Members of the high school Parent-Teacher association are sponsoring a moving picture show, "The Girl of the Limberlost," which will be shown this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium. Admission to the entertainment will be 15 cents for adults and five cents for grade school children.

Fellowship Supper Will Honor New Pastor Wednesday

The regular monthly covered dish Fellowship supper will be given Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the First Methodist church. Serving and decorations for the entertainment which will honor the new pastor, the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Pearce, will be in charge of members of the Friendship Sunday School class. Young people of the church will present the program. All members and friends of the church are urged to attend the supper and program.

Track Down Those Headaches!

Among the most important causes of headache is eyestrain. If you suffer from them, your eyes should be investigated. You may be working them with too little light, or with too much light (glare). Your vision may need correction by glasses. If you are now wearing glasses, your eyes may have changed since your glasses were made. In any case, it will pay you to have your eyes examined promptly.

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

It is easy for man to love those who love him, who favor him and speak well of him, but to forgive and love an enemy takes human nature, and only love for God can prompt real forgiveness for those who injure you. "But I say unto those which hear, love your enemies, do good to them which hate you."—Chivers.

U. S. CAN AVOID WAR—AT BARGAIN RATES

The first and biggest step in the process of getting a country ready for a war is to sell it on the idea that if war comes it can't possibly stay out.

We are getting a sizeable dose of that sort of sales talk right now. It is raining in on us from all sides, and the argument runs about like this: If a major war starts anywhere, the world is so much a unit nowadays that its effects are felt everywhere. Isolation is impossible; we got tangled up in the last war and we shall inevitably get tangled up in next one. So we might as well make up our minds to it, and co-operate with other nations now in an effort to keep the war from starting.

Now it may be true that we could profitably co-operate for the sake of world peace—if any major power showed the slightest willingness to make any sacrifices for peace, which to date none of them has done.

But it is about time that someone got up in meeting and pointed out the utter absurdity of saying that we can't possibly stay out of the next war.

Of course we can stay out of it. Nobody is going to be insane enough to come over here and attack us; if we just make up our minds that we aren't going to do any fighting off our home lot, and stick to it, then we stay out of war. It is as simple as that.

Of course, it might be expensive. Whole volumes have been written to show that we would have lost billions of dollars in 1917 if we had accepted the German submarine campaign and remained at peace. Our business boom would have stagnated, financial markets would have gone into a tailspin and there would have been the Dickens to pay generally.

But the answer to that is simple: we lost billions of dollars anyway, in the long run, and saddled ourselves with a mess of trouble that we still aren't entirely out from under.

From a dollars and cents viewpoint, it would have been far cheaper if our government had bought up all the foreign orders that were outstanding in 1917—orders for guns, shells, steel, cotton, wheat, oil and all the rest—paid the sellers in hard money, and then sold the whole lot out to the middle.

It is quite true that as the world is operated it can be fearfully expensive or a nation like ours to remain at peace when everybody else is fighting.

But there is this to remember: that nothing possibly can be as ruinously expensive as a war.

We ought to keep that fact in mind, when people start to telling us how "inevitable" our participation in that next war is going to be.

The term "political economy" is still used by highbrows, but it sounds funny.

When we get "ever normal granary," how about an ever normal cupboard?

Judge Ivy Duncan, just back from Washington, D. C., and environs, allowed his imagination to run a bit rampant and when he went out to George Washington's old home at Mount Vernon on the Potomac, among the many things that impressed him was his visualization of a pig being seared to the brown with an apple in its mouth—across the giant fireplace of the Washington home. . . . Judge S. D. Stennis, one of his law partners here, gets quite a kick out of telling others what impressed his learned colleague while at Mount Vernon.

The Pampa visitor there at Mount Vernon was awed as he stood on the bluff where the Washington home is preserved, and gazed out over the Potomac from the 200-foot high perch. . . . The estate where Judge Duncan stood was inherited by the Father of Our Country from his brother, Lawrence, in 1752. . . . The name in the meantime had been changed to Mount Vernon, in honor of Admiral Vernon of the British navy, under whom Lawrence Washington had served. . . . The center of the house was built by him and the wing was added by George Washington. . . . The house and 200 acres of land surrounding it are the property of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association, who purchased it in 1859 for $200,000. . . . It has been restored as nearly as possible to the condition in which it was during President Washington's lifetime. . . . Near the house is the plain brick tomb of Washington, containing also the remains of his wife, Martha. . . . The house contains many objects of historical interest, including the key to the French Bastille, which was sent to Washington after the French revolution.

In Washington, Judge Duncan also got much out of his visit to the capitol building. . . . Although he had been there before, he said he had missed much and on this trip decided to take it leisurely and look the place over. . . . He tells one interesting incident about the place directly under the rotunda of the capitol where John Quincy Adams, when a senator, held his whispering caucuses with party leaders, but wasn't smart enough to know that the whispers went up into the rotunda and came back directly into the ears of the opposition who always managed to "spot" a man in the only place where a whisper could be caught. . . . This place today is called to the attention of visitors in the capitol by a brass marker which designates the "whispering" spot, and a guide goes to the place and whispers for you a la J. Q. A., and you stand on the brass marker and hear every word distinctly. . . . To Judge Duncan, it proved an interesting highlight of his Washington visit.

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—After 14 years of illegal parking, Mrs. Daniel C. Roper, wife of the secretary of commerce, got a traffic ticket and it brought on a class-A investigation.

It is no trivial affair to pin a traffic ticket on the automobile of a cabinet member, not to mention the automobiles of a goodly number of second string government staffers. The family officer W. B. Kuhns, who gave Mrs. Roper the ticket, likely enough have had a day or two of deep concern.

Mrs. Roper said that for 20 years she had been shopping at a certain market and for the past 14 years had been parking her car "whenever possible" in a certain driveway. It has been illegal for a long time in Washington—as in most other places—to block driveways, but Mrs. Roper said she didn't know it was illegal. Besides, she said the farmers "who used the driveway usually drove there to the rear of the market early and

Mr. Kuhns pinned a ticket on her car, he knew that the car he was either a cabinet car or the car of someone almost equally important. Cars that rate high in the government always get the low numbers from the city license clerk.

Most officers will tell you—in the neighborhood privacy of a ride home together on a bus—that any officer who tags a car bearing a low license number ought to know better. It always brings trouble. It nearly always makes news in the papers, and long after the incident is forgotten it will be remembered that the officer tagged a cabinet.

After the story got into the papers, Mrs. Roper insisted that she wasn't concerned about the ticket but that he precinct captain and Officer Kuhns were discourteous to her when she went in to get an explanation of why a ticket had been put on her car. The captain said he wasn't discourteous and so did Officer Kuhns.

His fellow officers no doubt have already told Kuhns he was not discreet. He said afterward that when Mrs. Roper accosted him he replied: "Yes, ma'am, I know you." She said he also added words to the effect that she would have to pay fine, just like anybody else, but Officer Kuhns said he didn't go that far.

Members of congress can't be arrested, nor their cars tagged effectively, but the same rules don't apply—in law—to administrative officials. There is historic reason for exempting law-makers. Tim was in olden days that kings could sling unruly members of parliament into the cooler to put an end to opposition to the king's "must" legislation. So there are rules against any such tactics nowadays.

The congressmen stretch their privileges from time to time. When a local newspaper got interested in the problem a few months ago, it dug up all sorts of traffic tickets market "Senator so-and-so to be telephoned when this comes up," or "attention Representative this-and-that." Some bore the simple notation: "Friend of Senator Coofus."

East Is West

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Personal notes off a New Yorker's cuff:

Pickets in front of a Broadway cinema carry banners which flaunt the legend: "Do not see 'Wings Over Shanghai.' It is unfair to Japan." . . . But one of the pickets himself is a Chinese.

The prettiest girl glimpsed at recent opening nights has been Loreta Young, which is bad for the actors. . . . When she is there the audience can't keep its mind on the stage. . . .

There have been many books with weird titles this season, but the most upsetting has been that one called "Rats, Cats and History." . . . See, you never can tell! Ethel Barrymore is back on Broadway, and it hasn't been a year since she renounced the stage forever.

One of the most hilarious theatrical moments of the season happens mid-way the second act in "Madam Bovary." A half-wit boy is in love with the heroine and, entering her room, he happens to catch a glimpse of the lady's lingerie which the maid has tossed into the soiled clothes basket. Fascinated and crimson with embarrassment, he can only stare. But the maid is a cross-grained shrew, and she screams: "Haven't you ever seen a pair of drawers before? You look like you think I'm the Holy Grail!"

Ray Henderson's recent death has caused Katharine Cornell to cancel her plans for a world, theatrical tour. . . . The local sports writers are waging a terrific campaign to land the Rams in the Rose Bowl.

A fascinating place to look is along Madison avenue after dark. There are windows between 55th and 58th which exhibit delicate silver work and fragile china bric-a-brac. . . . In one such place I saw a tiny pepper grinder (price $23) hand wrought from sterling. . . . Another carried intriguing cigarette boxes, thimble holders, and other pleasing but useless items, all carved from silver and ivory. A few steps further on was a bright painting with drew more eyes than all the silver and gold in the windows. It revealed three priests convulsed with laughter, as if one has just related a witty story.

At a broadcast the other night which I attended one of the principals, a comic strip artist who was being interviewed, forgot his lines and walked away from the mike at the wrong time. Several other comic artists were there, and while all attempted to fill in for the missing link, none came through with anything more coherent than a plug, plug and several er's, and other incoherent but funny utterances. . . . Desperately the announcer grabbed the microphone: "Ladies and gentlemen," he cried, "the orchestra will now play 'Crazy People.'" Which seems to me some sort of commentary on the gentlemen who draw the comic strips.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

The old timers of Pampa are still as hospitable as they used to be when they lived on White Deer creek, the Cantonment, Chicken creek, the Talleybone, Indian creek, the Canadian river.

In the early days when anyone was deathly ill, the neighbors came in and "sat up," taking turn about night after night for weeks at a time. Their brand of hospitality would not permit the family of the sick person to bother about cooking or doing the chores. They cooked cakes, pies, bread, chicken, hams and all sorts of food and stacked it in the kitchen for members of the family and for visitors to eat. Such hospitality is neither practical nor reasonable now, but many Pampans who lived here when it was a cow country still hold to certain old forms of hospitality, thinking they do no more than they should. Thus Kate Heiskell, Mrs. Charlie Thomas, Mrs. Della Vicars, Frank Meers, C. P. Buckler, Charlie Truitt, and many others during the illness of Mrs. Lee Ledrick. They have gone back to the old-time western hospitality, and have brought and brought. Like Mrs. Heiskell whose heart never had a selfish beat—one day it was two chickens, the next day a complete meal, the next day something else. . . . So one knows that deep down in the hearts of the old timers and in the hearts of the newcomers, too, there still rests quiet, deep pools of the milk of human kindness. Newcomers would be the same as the old timers if they knew their neighbors as well as the old timers know each other.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

Among the more common home accidents, burns and scalds are two big hazards.

They can and frequently do menace life. Children, aged persons and those weakened by disease require special care when burned or scalded. Seemingly small and insignificant burns sometimes cause severe constitutional reactions.

Shock—as noted in the sufferer's collapse, weak pulse, subnormal temperature and shallow breathing—is a serious sequence to burns. It may develop suddenly and requires urgent and expert medical treatment.

Burns are classified as of first, second, third and other degrees, depending upon the depth and spread of the tissue injuries. In a first degree burn, only the superficial skin is involved and little more than an inflammatory redness results. In a second degree burn, there is deeper involvement of the skin, and blisters or degrees, the damage suffered is of mounting magnitude.

The constitutional reactions of a burn will depend largely, of course, upon the depth of the burn. But every burn, except possibly those of the first degree, threatens further difficulties because of complications.

The common complications are infection; hemorrhage following the sloughing (falling off) of the burned tissues; scar formation fol-

Book A Day

—By BRUCE CATTON

Officers and privates aren't supposed to be friends—not in the German army, in wartime, anyway. Nor is a conscientious British spy supposed to become emotionally attached to the very German from whom he is trying to wheedle out military secrets.

A friendship that leaped both of these gaps is described in a remarkably moving little novel, "I Met a Man" by Michael Blankfort (Bobbs-Merrill, $2). Mr. Blankfort's story deals with a young American, a student at Oxford in 1914, who joins the British intelligence service and is fitted out with the uniform, name, information and identification tag which enable him to become a private in the German army before Ypres. In that capacity he is supposed to find out when the anticipated "big push" to capture the channel ports is to begin.

The spy gets over the border and takes his place without trouble. Then he strikes up a friendship with a Prussian lieutenant—a strange, unexpected friendship which buds and flowers despite the army caste system because it gives two men a chance to escape momentarily from the horror and waste of war. This friendship soon becomes the most important chapter in the spy's emotional life. And yet it is the Prussian friend from whom he must extract the information he is seeking. He has to betray his friendship and his friend in order to do the job for which he is risking his life.

How Mr. Blankfort resolves this situation is something you had better read for yourself. It makes an appealing story which is an oblique but searching commentary on the inhuman madness of war.

PRODUCTION OF CRUDE SHOWS BIG DECREASE

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 30 (AP)—Daily average production of crude oil in the United States dropped 148,890 barrels during the week ending Nov. 27 to 3,426,180 barrels, the oil and gas journal reported today.

Oklahoma declined 22,200 barrels daily to 567,825. East Texas was down 70,549 to 416,050 and the total state of Texas dropped 110,452 to 1,321,973.

Louisiana declined 1,377 to 242,685, California decreased 10,750 to 702,000 and Kansas increased 350 to 179,300.

Eastern States including Michigan increased 674 barrels daily to 187,092. The Rocky Mountain area declined 4,425 to 75,095.

lowering healing with skin, contractions, and tissue adhesions. Burns of more than first degree severity should be promptly treated by a physician. Particularly hazardous are burns about the head and face, chest, abdomen, fingers and hand, and burns which involve the tissues about joints, such as wrist, elbow, shoulder, knee and ankle.

Organs under the burned area sometimes suffer inflammation. Thus, in burns of the head, inflammation of the brain may develop as a complication; in burns of the chest, inflammation of the lungs; and in burns of the abdominal surface, inflammation of the abdominal viscera.

Where there is deep destruction of the skin, the resulting scar tissue may cause contractures. Such contractures when located about a joint may seriously interfere with its movements.

Here's Why Both AFL And CIO Oppose Bill Fixing Wages, Hours

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—Here is a spectacle that puzzles many people; a wage and hour bill intended to benefit the working man, yet which has the active opposition of one part of organized labor and the lukewarm support of another.

To understand this seeming paradox, keep in mind these things: such a bill might help the A. F. of L. but it would probably help the C. I. O. even more. In just the same way, the National Labor Relations act helped the A. F. of L., but it helped the C. I. O. more.

That helps to explain why A. F. of L. President William Green, who was hot for a wages-and-hours bill last August, is now against it. They also explain why Green, who was instrumental in getting the NLRB started, is now bitterly attacking it, while C. I. O. criticism has been quite mild.

Pressure on Leaders

The tepid indorsement of C. I. O.'s Lewis, as well as the opposition of Green to wages-and-hours legislation, may also be influenced by the fact that such legislation might even benefit low-paid and unorganized workmen more than union members in better-paid fields.

Green and Lewis are each influenced by groups within their organizations. The garment and textile workers are hot for a law placing a bottom on wages and a ceiling on hours, for they are the ones who have to worry about sweatshops, low wage competition, and towns which offer inducements to firms seeking cheap labor markets.

Through the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, United Textile Workers, and International Ladies' Garment Workers, all C. I. O. unions, there is a pressure on Lewis which explains his support.

But some of the powerful building and metal trade unions behind Green appear to prefer no wage-hour legislation at all. They lobbied against the bill last summer, arguing in effect that higher wages for unskilled labor mean less chance of increased wages for skilled craftsmen, as if to say there is just so much money in the "wage pot."

Labor Board "Unsafe"

Green then suggested three amendments, and indicated that he would support a bill containing them. Late in August Green was

HARVESTER HOOPERS WILL PLAY MCLEAN QUINTETS HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

TIGERS HAVE BEEN WORKING OUT 2 WEEKS

The 1937-38 Harvester basketball season will open at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the local gymnasium with the McLean Tigers furnishing the opposition.

The first game will be between the B squads and the second will see the first teams of each club battling each other.

Coach Odus Mitchell who matched the games last night at McLean where he was the speaker at a football banquet, declared this morning that he would have to give the Harvester "the works" between now and Friday night if the Pampa boys expect to win their first game of the season.

Practicing Several Weeks
The McLean Tigers have been practicing two weeks under the tutelage of a new coach. Bill Allen, football mentor, will not direct the basketball team this year. The basketball team has made rapid progress, it was reported. However, the greatest advantage the team will have will be two more weeks in practice.

The two returning regulars, Claude Heskell and Topsy Reynolds, set the pace yesterday afternoon as 30 boys tried to make a good impression on Coach Odus Mitchell in the first Harvester practice of the season.

Coach Mitchell pulled a fast one on his prospects and permitted them to go through a grueling scrimmage session. There was enough wind escaping from the boys' mouth to inflate a balloon. Probably the reason why Topsy and Claude moved at such a furious pace could have been that they were trying to show the coach they were still good enough to hold their places.

Prospects Good Now
The 1937-38 Harvester basketball team should be superior to last year's crew. Last season, Coach Mitchell had green players to start with. There was not a previous season regular on the squad. This year there will be three regulars back and several squadmen. All in all, prospects for this season appeared top-notch.

The scrimmage yesterday developed a number of certainties. One is that no position is safe; Topsy and Claude are ahead of the pack all right, but they can't relax.

A furious battle for the other three positions has begun. The contestants for the berths are Junior Foster, Jack Cunningham, A. C. Miller, Omar Harrell, Bob Andis, Oliver Coshaw, Glen Dull, Pete Dunaway, Jack Wear, Norman Cox did not report for practice yesterday, but probably will today. He was making up back typing. Cox was a regular guard last season, but he may have to move faster this season to hold his place.

Particularly desirous of playing on the first team appeared Foster, Harrell, Dunaway, Miller, Coshaw, Andis. The boys got winded fast but they played enough to show that they will make the other fellow hustle like blazes all season.

To Divide Squad
In about a week, Coach Mitchell will divide the squad. He will keep about 12 players for the Harvester squad, and the others he will turn over to Coach Bob Curry of the Guerrillas.

Yesterday, Coach Mitchell scrimmaged three separate groups of players.

Allred Hunting Party Bags Eight-Pointers

AUSTIN, Nov. 30 (AP)—Renne Allred Sr., 73, and James V. Allred Jr., 7, were back in Austin today—each with his first buck.

Governor James V. Allred and his father brought down eight-pointers on their week-end hunting trip on the Kennedy ranch in south Texas. The boys bagged a six-pointer.

The governor said young Jimmy made the kill with a "thirty Jimmy."

'Whizzer' White To Lead Buffs In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Nov. 30 (AP)—It will be Byron "Whizzer" White and the Colorado university Buffaloes against top gridiron talent of the Southwest in a New Year day's game in the Dallas Cotton Bowl.

The Rocky Mountain champions formally accepted the Cotton Bowl committee's invitation last night.

"Whizzer," a triple threat, and the nation's leading individual scorer, will find either Ollie Cordell or Ernie Lane attempting to match his antics if the Rice Institute Owls of Houston win the Southwest conference title here Saturday by defeating Southern Methodist.

But if the Owls lose and Texas Christian university of Fort Worth automatically ascends, the Horned Frogs will present little Davey O'Brien, Sammy Baugh's successor, to play opposite White.

A tie between Rice and Southern Methodist would throw the Owls and Frogs in a deadlock for the title, necessitating a choice between them for the Bowl entry.

The Buffaloes finished an eight-game schedule without a defeat or tie, beating seven conference teams and Missouri of the Big Six, and scoring 248 points—of which quarterback White accounted for 122—to their opponents 26.

Rice, boasting three wins, a loss, and a tie in conference play to date, lost to Oklahoma, tied Tulsa, won from Auburn of the Southeastern conference, and lost to Louisiana State of the same conference, in out-of-circuit play.

Texas Christian, its schedule ended, won three, lost one, and tied two in the conference. Outside results included a loss to Ohio State, win from Tulsa, 7-6 loss to Fordham, and 10-9 loss to Centenary of Shreveport, La.

J. Curtis Sanford, president of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, Inc., telegraphed the Bowl invitation to the Buffaloes yesterday, and formal acceptance of the bid was made last night after the Colorado faculty executive council approved participation.

Trigger fingers itching, Pampa hunters today had difficulty holding themselves in check as they awaited the opening of the quail season tomorrow. Many of them spent Sunday morning in coyotes and for the first big hunt.

The elusive but tempting birds may be hunted in every Panhandle county excepting Hemphill and Lipscomb.

The "feathered targets" of game birds, the aristocrats will be legal quarry in most of Texas from Dec. 1 to Jan. 16. A few counties have no open season.

Will J. Tucker, secretary of the game department, expressed an opinion hunting would be "very good" generally, an exception being Southwest Texas where drought cut short the food supply.

One of the most colorful as well as skillful phases of quail activities, the quest for nimrod brings into the fields thousands of trained dogs.

When flushed from cover the thirty birds present one of the hardest targets and a kill brings the gun wielder, whose numbers include many sportsmen, a thrill comparable to none, some say.

Here are the species the Texas hunter may find, depending upon locale:

Bobwhite—distributed generally through the state. Most desirable of the quail. More abundant in the eastern portions.

Mexican quail—found only in high mountain ranges.

Gambel's quail—found along the Rio Grande west of the Pecos.

Scaled quail—found generally in the western portions.

Bag limit is 12 daily with a maximum of 36 a week, all species.

No gun holding more than three shells may be used.

Buffalo Coach Urges Sessions With Textbooks

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 30 (AP)—Coach Bernard F. (Bunny) Oakes of the University of Colorado warned his Rocky Mountain conference football champions today some stiff practice sessions with textbooks must precede their appearance New Year's day in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas.

Although Byron (Whizzer) White, pace setter for the triumphant Buffaloes, wears a Phi Beta Kappa key as a charm to ward off scholastic pitfalls, Oakes nevertheless indicated he did not want any eligibility troubles to crop up when he selects 30 or 35 men to make the Texas trip.

The coach said the Buffs would start "easy work," mainly running signals and hitting the dummy, next week, but that concentrated drill for the Cotton Bowl game would not begin until after the winter examinations December 17.

Montana Named As Texas Tech's Sun Bowl Foe

EL PASO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Montana university was named today as the probable opponent of Texas Tech in a Sun Bowl grid game here New Year's day.

At Missoula, Mont., a meeting of the University's athletic board was to be held today to consider an invitation. Athletic officials there said wishes of players would be taken into consideration.

A feeler sent Santa Clara brought a statement that school was not interested in a Sun Bowl bid. Gonzaga previously had been suggested as a selection.

MACKIE DOWNS VON LUDWIG IN ROUGH AFFAIR

Pampa wrestling fans last night got all the thrills and spills they wanted at one time when they saw Cyclopedia Mackie down Otto Von Ludwig in the main event. Tsuato Higami and Jack Hagen battle to a draw in the semi-final. Andy Tremaine won from Benny Wilson through disqualification in the opener, and feats of strength by the opener.

The grand finale was one of the highlights of the wild and woolly affair. Ludwig had battered Mackie unmercifully and while Referee "Big Train" Clements was giving Ludwig a lesson on rules, Mackie dove at Ludwig's feet, pulled them from under him, upsetting the big referee on top of the German. He then rolled Clements out of the way and pinned Ludwig for the match in 13 minutes.

Mackie won the first fall in 21 minutes with a surf board but not until after Ludwig had given one of the most stunning exhibitions of perseverance seen here in years. The German stayed in an arm scissor for seven minutes before making the ropes. Both did some good wrestling with Ludwig getting in a few blows for good measure.

It took Ludwig just six minutes to get Mackie in one of his famous pile drivers which almost battered the Amarilloan's head through the floor of the ring. Ludwig secures the hold by getting his victim groggy with headlocks and then locking his hands by his legs, high up. Then he puts his victims legs high in the air and falls backwards which causes the other fellow's head to collide violently with the floor. A couple of such rides and the match is usually over.

Jap Presses Buttons
Tsuato Higami took punishment as long as he could before starting to press "buttons" and then Jack Hagen started to cry calf rope in the semi-final but the boy from Louisiana stayed the full distance. Hagen put the Jap in a headlock and held it for four minutes to open the match. Then Higami started using jiu jitsu which made Mr. Hagen very uncomfortable. He wept copiously on the referee's shoulder but that worthy was anything but sympathetic.

Benny Wilson, replacing Dick Sampson, figured he was a big town boy in the stakes and tried to use the corner chairs holding the ropes, taut over which to bend Andy Tremaine but the referee took a hand in proceedings and disqualified him. Wilson of Ft. Worth after 14 minutes of lightning grappling by Tremaine who is one of the fastest and most scientific wrestlers witnessed in action this season.

Strongman Mahan allowed four men to pull a large rope tight about his neck but he didn't strangle. He also blew up an inner tube until more than half of it was the size of a truck tire but it wouldn't break for him and he had to give up as back pressure got too great for his lungs.

HEREFORD ALLOTTED $45,485 REA GRANT

Seven allotments, one of them to the Deaf Smith Electric corporation of Hereford, have been announced recently by Rural Electrification administration. The allotment is for $45,485 to provide for wiring and purchasing loans to 51 customers, and is the only Texas REA project in the list.

The Hereford cooperative was given $254,000 for line construction.

The other allotments, announced in the list of new grants, were to Genesee, Ill., Freedom, Wyo., Center, Ala., Humboldt, Ia., Tiffin, O., and Wauseon, O.

Montague Wants to Drop His Old Name

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30 (AP)—John Montague, who was disclosed publicly as La Verne Matthew Moore when he was arrested on a robbery charge several months ago, wants to drop his old name permanently.

The golfer, who won acquittal on the New York State robbery charge, in a petition today set forth that the name John Montague had become well known in the world of business and sports, and had acquired a commercial and sentimental value.

Hearing was set for Jan. 6.

WRITERS PICK PITTSBURGH AS NATIONAL GRID CHAMPIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—If you heed the fellows who look at football and write about it, Pitt's Panthers are the best collection of players in the United States this year and there's not much room for argument.

In the seventh and final weekly ranking poll of writers, made by the Associated Press, 29 of 33 experts throughout the country picked Pitt for first place. Two others split their ballot between Pitt and Fordham while single votes were cast for Fordham and Alabama for top rank. California earned second place in the balloting without getting one first place vote.

Counting 10 points for a first place vote, nine second, etc., the Panthers polled 327 points to California's 277. Alabama, undefeated and untied, could take no better than fourth, and Santa Clara, also with a clean slate, tied for ninth with Notre Dame.

A year ago Minnesota beat out Louisiana State in the final poll, but for 1937 the Gophers wound up fifth and L. S. U. eighth.

PITT PLAYERS ON SIT-DOWN STRIKE FOR POCKET MONEY

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30 (AP)—Pitt's undefeated Panthers took themselves out of Rose Bowl or any other consideration today, although there was a possibility they might change their minds.

By a secret vote, reported to be 16-15, the gridder rejected a proposal for any post-season contest, content with nine victories and a tie on the regular schedule.

The action constituted a "modified sit-down strike." Sports Editor Harvey Boyle of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette asserted. Although university authorities denied players had made any demands, Boyle said they had requested:

Pocket money of between $100 and $200 each for a trip to Pasadena; an immediate vacation of two weeks; and that the full squad of 60 regulars and substitutes be taken along to the coast.

Immediately following the session, several players attempted to rally the squad for a second meeting to reconsider the action but failed in their first attempt. They continued their efforts.

Director of Athletics James Hagan and John Weber, secretary of the university, said in a joint statement that the university "did not and will not" call a second meeting. They added that if the players reconsider their decision the university would "listen."

In the seventh and final weekly ranking poll of writers, made by the Associated Press, 29 of 33 experts throughout the country picked Pitt for first place. Two others split their ballot between Pitt and Fordham while single votes were cast for Fordham and Alabama for top rank. California earned second place in the balloting without getting one first place vote.

19,000-ACRE RANCH NEAR HIGGINS SOLD

HIGGINS, Nov. 30 (Special).—A business deal involving approximately $161,500 and 19,000 acres of well improved ranch land 18 miles southwest of here belonging to Ben Evans of Wichita, Kas., was transacted here recently.

Nine thousand acres of the Oasis creek will be turned over to the new owners, Walter and Eva Jones of Lebo, Kansas on May 1, 1938 at $8.50 per acre. An option on an adjoining ten thousand acres at the same price may be taken by Jones the year following.

Mr. Evans made this ranch his home from the year 1906 to 1916 when he moved his family to Wichita. Dave McCoy, from that time until 1929, when Evans leased his ranch to the Oasis Cattle Company, was manager of the outfit. McCoy, for the past eight years has been foreman for the Jones brothers ranch near here.

The Jones ranch, the Flying T, is one of the largest ranches in

FUGITIVE SURRENDERS TO SAN ANTONIO COPS

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 30 (AP).—Jesse T. Billings, who escaped from a Texas prison farm recently, surrendered to San Antonio police early today.

Last Night Detective A. Neal received a telephone call asking him to be in front of a hotel at 1 a. m. to meet a man. The detective, in a squad car, drove up promptly to keep the appointment. Billings stepped from a shadow and informed Neal he desired to surrender. He was locked in the city jail for prison authorities.

Billings told police he had traveled over a large part of southwest Texas since his escape, that he was worn out and hungry and decided the best thing he could do was to give up.

He was sent to prison from Bexar county.

Lazy F Cattle Sold to Sooners

By ISABEL DAUNER

HIGGINS, Nov. 30.—Dick and Jay Barton, owners and operators of the Lazy F ranch, northwest of Higgins, sold the balance of their Hereford calves to Clarence and Henry Anderson at Broken Bow, Oklahoma.

These cattle were of choice quality and weighed around 385 pounds. They also sold one purebred bull calf to go with these heifers to help the Andersons start a purebred herd in that section of Oklahoma.

He was sent to prison from Bexar county.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK STOCKS	NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP).—Stocks brushed up a sizable rally on relatively light buying in today's market.
Leading issues pushed up 1 to 3 points at the best with a few volatile performers executing wider swings.
Steele were well out in front throughout, and copper, rails, far mimpments, electrical equipments, chemicals and building stocks had their moment in the limelight.
Profit selling was well absorbed the greater part of the time, but offerings were not so well taken in the final hour, and closing prices were down from their tops in most cases.
The ticker tape loafed from the start, transfers approximating 1,200,000 shares.
Wheat at Chicago was unchanged to off 1/4 cents a bushel and corn yielded 1/4 to 1/2.

FEDERAL PLAN TO CUT ROAD AID OPPOSED

Pampa chamber of commerce officials, county officers, city dads and local good roads enthusiasts today expressed disapproval of the government's move to cut the federal aid for highway construction. They have been concerned for some time over the rumor which finally became a reality.

They endorsed a move of the Texas Good Roads association to hold a meeting in Austin on Dec. 17 to oppose the suggested slash. City Manager C. L. Stine, president of the Texas City Managers' association, favored the plan to take concentrated action. County Judge Sherman White and commissioners also voiced approval of the meeting.

Recently the state highway commission placed Highway 209, Pampa to Hartley via Berger, Stinnett and Dumas, on the federal aid program for next year.

AUSTIN, No. 30 (AP).—Robert Lee Bobbit, chairman of the Texas Highway commission, today expressed an opinion a proposed reduction in federal aid for highway construction would "set Texas back five years in its plan for a completed highway system."

At the same time he endorsed action of the Texas Good Roads association which has called a meeting in Austin Dec. 17 to actively oppose the suggested slash in appropriations.

Representatives of the Texas county and judges and commissioners association, the league of Texas municipalities and the governor's traffic safety committee will be invited to attend.

"Instead of decreasing federal aid, Congress should give most careful consideration to suggestions that the government's contribution be increased," the chairman said.

Don't Bully Constipation

Many purgatives over-stimulate your intestines. That's why you suffer from griping. Why not try a NATURAL laxative food—KELLOGG'S All-Bran!

If you have common constipation, All-Bran will keep you "regular" as the clock's tick. Instead of OVER-STIMULATING your intestines, it gives them two things they need. First, All-Bran supplies "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. Second, it's a good source of vitamin "B,"—the amazing vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract.

Eat crunchy, toasted All-Bran with milk or cream and fruits. In muffins it's delicious. But however you eat it, use it REGULARLY: eat two table-spoons of All-Bran and drink plenty of water. If you do this every day you can avoid common constipation and cathartics, too! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. At every grocer's.
