Frenchman Learning To Speak "Texan"

The sixth European student to visit Tahoka in as many years, Patrick Ardant of Limoges, France, arrived in Tahoka Sunday night by bus and was greeted by a delegation of young people, Rotarians and their wives. He is the second visitor to Tahoka from France.

The Tahoka Rotary Club is host to the Frenchman in cooperation with the Youth Ambassador Program of the Experiment in International Living organization. While here, he will be a guest in the homes of various Rotarians. This week Ardant is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harold Green and next week will be with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bray.

The tired young man alighted from the bus following three days of travel from New York City, in addition to a flight from Paris. He speaks English extremely well, better than any former visitor here, Rotarians say, and reports that he had no difficulty on his trip across the United States. He explained that he also intends to master the Texas brogue as well.

Asked if he met many people on his bus trip, Ardant said that he became acquainted with only one person, that a student from New Mexico.

Ardant has just completed his college training and holds the equilavant of a Master's Degree in agricultural economics. He plans to study agricultural methods on the South Plains during his eight week visit. Following his return to France, he expects to enter military service in November.

On Tuesday, Ardant was taken on a tour of Texas Tech in Lubbock and Wednesday made a trip to Lake Thomas. County Agent Bill Griffin is scheduled to take him into the farm fields in Lynn county this week.

11 Cities Near Agreement On Canadian River Water Rates

After several years of bickering, proposals and counter-proposals, final agreement of the eleven cities involved is now almost in sight on the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, states E. R. Edwards, Tahoka's director in the Authority.

Tahoka's rate has been set at 21.76 cents per 1,000 gallons of untreated water delivered from the proposed lake on the Canadian River near Borger to the local city limits.

Early this week, Lamesa was believed to be the only member city that had not signed the agreement on the new rates, and the belief is that Lamesa will sign.

The latest rates proposed to the 11 member cities was made on July 11 by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation when cities at the lower end of the proposed project had complained the first propased rates were too high for them to operate under.

Amarillo, which held out for so long, and Borger are among those that have voted to go along with the new rates.

These are the rates now approved for the various cities in the project; Amarillo, 12.79 cents; Lubbock, 17.33 cents; Plainview, 13.95 cents. Borger, 12.79 cents; Pampa, 13.30 cents; O'Donnell, 25 cents; Lamesa, 28.50 cents; Brownfield, 28.50 cents; Levelland, 27.26 cents; Slaton, 21.26 cents; and Tahoka, 21.76 cents.

The higher rates are being paid by those the greatest distance from the proposed lake because of the pipeline expense involved.

When the project was first proposed, previsions were for each city paying the same rate, but Amarillo and others refused to go along with such a proposal. However, as the plan has finally been worked out all cities involved have had to give in a little to make the plan feasible for all concerned.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Economics Made Easy

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson

Family life in America is changing. The traditional family patterns are undergoing fearful strains and disintegrating pressures. Yet we know that the welfare of any human community depends on the health and stability of its families for they are the seed-beds of human personality.

The prediction of seventeen million new families in America by 1975 is startling. The kind of a nation this will be will depend largely upon the moral and spiritual development that our children of today are receiving. No generation of parents ever faced so grave a responsibility as those of today.

The family is a "small community within the large community." The community therefore should be vitally interested in the welfare of the family.

The disintegrating influences of our day are ruthless and requires the most diligent efforts to guard family life stability. But there are many ways this can be accomplished. Family fellowship in recreation and worship are necessary to a healthy family life.

It is not trite to say that the family that "prays and plays together—stays together."

SOME GALS ALERGIC TO FINGERNAIL POLISH

Some women are allergic to all nail polishes. Others don't care for bright colors. But in either case, you needn't neglect your nails. You can buff them to a high, glossy shine. Or you can use a colorless or natural nail polish which will show off the pink of your nails to advantage.

Wear a pretty ring or two, keep your nails nicely shaped and the cuticle pushed back. Your hands will rate compliments.

QUESTIONS, PLEASE

Question: "Will Christ come back to earth to reign for one thousand years?"

Answer: No. He will not reign upon the earth for one thousand years at his second coming. The main reason we know He will not is due to the fact that the kingdom is in existance NOW. Col. 1:13 "(God) hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son." If the Colossian people had been translated into the kingdom then it must of necessity be in existance now. The Lord's supper is an institution for the kingdom (MK. 14:25). But the Corinthians had the Lord's Supper in the church (1 Cor. 11:20-30). If the Lord's Supper was for the kingdom and the Corinthians had it in the church then the church and the kingdom are one and the same. Since the church is in existance today the kingdom is in existance. Christ is now regning over His subjects. The everlasting kingdom rules out the temporal world that premellennialists say that He is to rule over (Isa. 9:6-7). Jesus' refusal of an earthly kingdom once proves he would not want one now or later, (Jno. 6:15). He had the power to set up a temporal kingdom at the time and would not do so. Simultaneous kingship and priesthood are not possible on earth. (Heb. 8:4). Heavenly citizenship precludes any idea of an earthly kingdom. (Phil. 3:20). A heavenly message excludes an earthly law. (Heb. 12:25). Kings do not sit on footstools, but thrones. Isa. 6:1). For Christ to set up a kingdom of temporal order would do the following. It would "bring Christ down." (Rom. 10:6). It would bring the law back and substitute it for the gospel. (Jude 3; Gal. 5:4). It would substitute animal sacrifices for Christ's blood. (I Pet. 1:19). It would also substitute force for free will. Rev. 22:17). Carnal weapons would be substituted for spiritual weapons. (2 Cor. 10:4).

You are invited to send your questions to: Bob Barnes, Box 812, Tahoka, Texas. You are also invited to attend all the services of the church of Christ.

INEQUALITY FOR AGRICULTURE

(The Farm Journal)

Can this country defend the practice of giving one kind of deal to labor and the opposite kind to farmers?

Take two examples:

The idea is becoming widely accepted that if wages increase no faster than gains in productivity, this is "fair" is not inflationary and hence all right. Is it, really? Most of the increased productivity comes from better tools. (In making steel, 95 percent of the energy comes from tools.) The tools are paid for by the stockholders who invest their savings. If capital gets none of the increase, what is the incentive to go on providing still better tools? If the public gets none of it, people are deprived of the lower prices that better productivity is supposed to bring.

With farmers it's very different! Output per man hour has gone up 64 percent in agriculture since 1950, as against 14 percent in non-farm industries. What sky-rending howls would we be hearing if farm prices had gone up 64 percent!

A second example: Many current labor contracts contain an "escalator clause" which provides that wages shall fluctuate with the cost of living—which means fluctuating up. When you take a case of eggs or a load of hogs to town does any buyer ask what it cost you to produce them? The only farmers whose costs receive any recognition are the minority whose support prices are based on parity and their percentage of parity has been going down.

Farmers have no means to enforce "productivity" or "cost of living" increases. But you can demand of Congress that the laws be changed to put labor on the same basis as the rest of us. If you do nothing, don't complain.

Insecticide Use On Cotton Studied

College Station—Tests on the residual toxicities of chlorinated hydrocarbon and organophosphorus insecticides to cotton insects have recently been completed by the tion in cooperation with the Ento-Texas Agricultural Experiment Stamology Research Division of the USDA. Chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides tested were toxaphene, dieldrin, endrin, aldrin, benzene hexachloride and heptachlor. Organophosphorus insecticides tested were parathion, methyl parathion, malathion, Guthion and Phosdrin.

The residual properties of endrin and Sevin appeared to be quite similar in tests on the bool weevil. Based on residual properties alone, Toxiphene and dieldrin ranked with endrin and Sevin, but the initial toxicities of dieldrin and endrin to the boll weevil were appreciably greater than those of toxaphene. The mortality rate among weevils confined on Spray residues of these insecticides was reduced by 20 to 30 percent after the exposure of the residues to simulated wind or rain. This reduction could result in failure to control the boll weevil under field conditions.

Results obtained in tests on the boll weevil paralleled those abtained in cotton leafworm, salt-marsh caterpillar and garden webworm tests.

Of the organophosphorus insecticides, Guthion appeared to be the most resistant to weathering. The residual effectiveness of Phosdrin was very limited under all conditions, and the rest of the insecticides fell between Guthion and Phosdrin.

For both the chlorinated hydrocarbon and the organophosphorus insecticides the residual effectiveness of sprays was less affected by weather than that of dust compounds. All spray materials used were prepared from emulsifiable concentrates, and all dusts were formulated with commerical diluents.

A Texas Agricultural Experiment Station bulletin, B-951, which contains the results of these tests, has been published. This bulletin may be obtained by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

When he (the prodigal son) was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. (Luke 15-20.)

As our train pulled into the station, I offered some help to the man across the aisle from me—I carried one of his heavy bags, and as we left the coach and were walking into the station, I heard him say, "I wonder if my son will know me."

Then the father told me that he had been away for a while and he was wondering is his little son, eighteen months old, would know him.

We walked on. Suddenly, the man's steps quickened. He exclaimed, "He knows me!" Sure enough, there was the little fellow He was standing in his go-cart. His arms were eagerly outstretched, and he was shouting, "Daddy! Daddy!"

Jesus gave us word pictures of the heavenly Father. From them we know that the great heart of God must beat with quickened joy when He sees our attention fixed upon Him, and our hearts lifted in adoration, saying, "Father."

PRAYER: Our Father, how grateful we are for Thine eternal concern for us. May we bring gladness to Thy loving hearts by the evidences of our childlike trust in Thee and our adoration of Thee. In the name of Jesus, Thy Son and our Savior. Amen.

THE FARMER—HIS BURDENS AND BLESSINGS

George D. Scarseth of American Farm Research Association says:

1. He may be the first to go broke but the last to starve.
2. He must stay close at home, has much privacy, and is free from Time Cards.
3. He knows storms, cold, rains and mud, but his air is free from cancer-producing gases.
4. He uses labor-savnig machines but farms bigger, so works as hard as ever. Hard work doesn't kill anyone with a good heart—good in spirit and good by use.
5. His work is steady, so he isn't soft. (Many city people in the North die shoveling snow.)
6. He can forego comforts and have much freedom or he can trade his independence for more things.
7. He does not need a vacation in the country, but would like to see the "bright lights" occasionally.
8. He may not have time to go fishing, but there is nobody saying—"you can't go."
9. He used to be regarded as a "hayseed", but many of our national leaders got started from hard times on the farm.
10. He can't hide his property from the tax collector, and is taxed to death for the tools he uses to produce a taxable income.
11. Inflation increases the value of his land, but in turn increases the taxes and the cost of farm supplies.
12. If he conserves his soil or builds its productivity, he gets no tax deduction; instead, the taxes go up because the farm is worth more.
13. He is a diciplined man. He can't cheat on the laws of nature, and as such doesn't like orders from confused man-made regulations; he hates bureau charts, and is suspicious of "do-good leadership."
14. He believes in God. Of all men, the farmer must still work with God as a partner who will not strike.

FAMILY FARM IS NOT DISAPPEARING

In 1910 the percentage of family workers on farms was 75.1 per cent, and hired workers 24.9 per cent.

In 1959, the last available figure, family workers still accounted for 73.9 per cent of the total work force and hired workers 26.1 per cent during the same period.

Actually, 96 or 97 per cent of the farms in the U. S. are family-operated units, and there has been no significant decrease in this high proportion of family farms during the last 20 to 30 years.

The percentage of farm owner-operators has changed from 60.9 per cent in 1920 to 75.6 per cent in 1954; farm managers from one per cent to 0.4 per cent, and tenants from 38 1 per cent to 24 per cent durnig the same period.

Joe Unfreds Visit Boy Scout Camp

Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Unfred and daughters, Nancy and Vicki, and Mrs. Unfred's mother, Mrs. Jane Fetter of Lubbock made a quick trip last week end to the National Scout Jamboree Camp, north of Colorado Springs, which their son, David, is attending along with seven Tahoka and three O'Donnell Boy Scouts.

Joe D. says the camp is quite an affair, with 57,000 Scouts camped on the 2,000-acre ranch in the foothills of the Rockies. He says the boys are getting along fine, and the affair is being run off in a surprisingly smooth manner.

They arrived late Saturday, and on Sunday there were 25,000 visitors to the camp. Joe D. says he knows there were that many people because there were that many cars ahead of them when they started to leave the parking lot. He had no trouble finding the Tahoka delegation, but says they were about a Texas mile from the parking lot.

He said the boys had their laundry out, and it appeared they had been using "Brand X" we hear so much about on television.

The Unfreds also visited this old Army first sergeant, J. O. Atherton, who now is assistant postmaster a Manitou Springs.

PCG Favors A-B Cotton Program

Lubbock— Continuation of the 1960 two-choice cotton legislative program into 1961 was favored here Monday night by directors of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The vote to favor—"in lieu of a better program"— the retention next year of the same cotton legislative program that is in effect this year came as somewhat of a surprise move, but in view of the fact that cotton leaders fear "hasty" action when congress reconvenes in August might wreck the entire cotton program.

Presen. legislation calls for the two-choice program to end in 1961 with a minimum national allotment of 16.3 million acres and price supports of not less than 70 percent of parity.

In addition, the standard grade for purposes of price support would go onto "average of the crop" instead of the present middling 7-8 inch. Some observers figure cotton would bring about $17 a bale less next year under such a program.

The 1960 cotton program provides farmers operating under the "A" plan with their "regular" farm acreage allotment and price supports of not less than 75 percent of parity. It enables growers who selected the "B" program to expand acreage by 40 percent in exchange for lower price supports of not less than 60 percent of parity.

Growers also voiced opposition to reports than an effort may be made in the future to put production controls on a poundage, bushelage or baleage basis.

In essance, the vote to continue the 1960 program into next year apparently was aimed at voicing dissaisfaction with the lower acreage allotments and a cut in price supports that are looming for 1961.

At the same time, however, it seemed likely that the Plains Growers would oppose any efforts to raise price supports to unrealistic levels at the expense of greatly curtailed acreage allotments.

"It's my guess that any sizeable increase in price supports would be accompanied by the most strigent production controls we's ever had," one leading cotton observer said.

Action on the legislative situation was taken prior to a meeting scheduled July 29 in Memphis of the American Cotton Producer Associates, where some legislative action is contemplated.

In other action PCG directors approved a $185,000 budget for 1960-61, approximately $47,000 of which will be used in various phases of cotton research on the High Plains at the Lubbock and Spur Agricultural Experiment Stations, High Plains Research Foundation in Hale County and at Texas Tech.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

While it is perhaps true that one swallow does not a summer make, and thus one action by the Federal Trade Commission does not a program make, there is hope in the FTC order against Giant Food, Inc.

* * *

For this supermarket operation of some 50 units in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia has been ordered to stop inducing discriminary advertising allowances from its suppliers and using any part of such payments for its own use.

C. W. Harder

* * *

During an "anniversary sale" in 1955, the FTC charges, the outfit urged some 500 of its suppliers to contribute various amounts. Some 150 succumbed for a total of $37,785.

* * *

The FTC examiner in this matter, a Loren H. Laughlin, in making the decision, wrote an opinion which masterfully stated what has become a major problem of the times.

* * *

For he said in part "Giant officials must have known that many suppliers paid the requested sums only because of its tremendous buying power. It requires no great seer to know that a concern doing over $60 million worth of business can exert an economic pressure upon its sellers, large and small, to obtain concessions that no small competitor could possibly attain.

* * *

"For every supplier who contributed," he continued, "anywhere from $250 to $1000, Giant well knew that in the cost accounting of such supplier that expense item would have to be considered and reflected at some time in the cost of the merchandise bought by other grocers. Such amounts would ultimately not only increase the cost to other grocers but would add to the consumer's cost. These attempts to obtain special concessions amount to improper pressures."

* * *

Thus, Examiner Laughlin not only stated one of the principle reasons why independent business firms are being unfairly squeezed, but also why consumers are constantly, to their bewilderment, faced with mounting costs of living.

* * *

It is very easy to see in this case, cumshaw extracted for just one incident amounted to more than $150 per store in the Giant operation.

* * *

There are at least 40,000 stores as big as the units in this operation. Thus, to give same cumshaw to all just once per year would add $30 million per year to food costs.

* * *

For a long time the nation's independent businessmen, through the National Federation of Independent Business, have asked for more enforcement of the anti trust laws.

* * *

This action by the FTC would seem to indicate that at long last something will be done.

* * *

It is quite possible that the efforts of the Senate Small Business Committee, headed by Sen. John Sparkman, and the House Small Business Committee, especially it's sub committee on the food industry headed by Rep. James Roosevelt, is making it necessary for the FTC to get busy on its job.

Guide Book On Labor Available

Lubbock—Businessmen who operate small or medium sized businesses in Texas now have a guidebook on Texas labor law available for handy reference.

Written by two Texas Tech business administration professors, the booklet is entitled "Texas Labor Law for the Small Employer."

"It is not intended to replace the need for an attorney," says Dr. William G. Cain of Tech's management department. He co-authored the booklet with Charles E. Dale, Tech assistant professor of finance who is also an attorney.

"The purpose of this handbook is to serve as a reference for the many thousands of employers who operate small or medium sized businesses within the boundaries of Texas," Cain said. "It attempts to point out the framework of Texas State Law which governs relationship between the employer and his employees."

The handbook is essentially written for application to the smaller company engaged in what is called "intra-state commerce"—whose business is done primarily within the state of Texas. It may be obtained by writing Cain or Dale at Texas Tech.

Seven chapters in the book covers such subjects as "Special Conditions of Employment for Women and Minors," "Employer Safety Responsibility," "Wages", "Workmen's Compensation Laws," "Labor Relations," "Texas Unemployment Compensation," and a "Miscellaneous" chapter on sunday laws on sales and working hours, information needed by the state and voting privileges.

The booklet points up many legal aspects many businessmen do not know or are not aware of. For instance, current wages for personal service cannot be the subject of garnishment in Texas. And, a married man cannot assign his wages (to a person to whom he is in debt) without the consent of the wife according to Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes (Articles 4099 and 616a).

TAHOKA, TEXAS "Heart of the South Plains" FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1960

David Bray Tells College Attitude

"My First Year In College" was the subject of a talk by David Bray at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week in which he interestingly pointed out the problems a student has to meet.

He says the student at this age is in an awkward situation, not an adult and not a child, and must make adjustments and is faced with new decisions.

He thinks the student coming from a small town has a lot of advantages, for he has learned better how to get along with people and has had more opportunity for leadership. Therefore, he is better able to assemble the college jig-saw puzzle.

With much more outside study activities and distracting forces to contend with, the student must learn quickly to budget his time and to practice concentration in class and at study.

He declared that entrance requirements to colleges are getting more stringent, and the colleges are now looking for more character, desire and ambition in their students. However, he thinks almost any high school graduate can go to college if he wants to badly enough, as loan funds and jobs can provide such means.

The young man expressed many thoughts which indicated his growth. He said no college gives you an education—you have to seek it; simply getting a degree is not important—you have to acquire education to go with the degree; we are now faced with the most terrible war the world has ever known—the war over men's minds.

Wynne Collier, in charge of the program, introduced the speaker and announced that David is the first freshman ever elected to the Student Council at Southern Methodist University. He has also been accorded many other honors at the school during his first year there.

J. A. Sanders, 86, Here 55 Years

J. A. Sanders, 86, retired pioneer Lynn county farmer who now lives at North Ketner and 8th Street, has seen many changes take place on the Plains since he came here 55 years ago.

"I can hardly see or hear, but I'm not dumb," Mr. Sanders remarked. The News found the latter to be true, for Mr. Sanders is still very alert mentally and retains a good memory.

Early in 1905, Mr. Sanders, wife, and baby girl, Elaine, were living in Hill county, where he was raised, when he decided to cast his lot in the new West.

He traded "everything I had but my wife and baby" for 440 acres of land out near Edith, five miles east and a little south of Tahoka. They rode the train out to Big Spring, the nearest railroad point, and then took out for Tahoka, spending the night en route at Gail.

He hauled lumber from Big Spring to build his first house, and broke out 10 or 12 acres of land. He had to haul water from the spring at Moor's Draw, about where the Grover Stewart lake now is located.

However, he dried out that year and couldn't see how he was going to make a living, and after a year moved back to Collin county where he rented a farm.

Alex and Frank Vaughan had come out in about 1902 and settled in the Edith area near the present Gandy store, and while Mr. Sanders was back in Collin county these two men had a well dug on the Sanders place. Then, Mr. Sanders returned to Lynn county to stay.

Also settling here with him were his brothers, Sid and Bob Sanders, and some time later two other brothers, Dee and Oscar Sanders, moved out to Lynn.

J. A. Sanders continued to live on the Edith farm until 1954, when he and Mrs. Sanders moved into Tahoka. Last August, Mrs. Sanders passed away.

The farm was sold to a son, Charley Sanders of Ralls, and Mr. Sanders now lives with his daughter, Mrs. Elaine Hart, who is the widow of a well-known South Plains Methodist minister.

FORMER FRANCES SCOTT VISIT MISS CALAHAN

Here visiting Miss Ethel Calahan last week were her sister and family, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Greene and six children from Beaumont.

Mrs. Greene will be remembered by many people here as the former Miss Frances Scott, who spent about ten years in the Army as a nurse. While in the service she met and married Dr. Greene, and after leaving the service he entered the practice of medicine in Beaumont.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Edwards and daughter of Rocky Ford, Colorado, visited here last week with Mrs. Edwards' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I Lemon.

Hecks Sell Home, Move To Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heck have sold their home at 2311 North Third to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hopkins, and moved to their new home at Lubbock this last week end.

Herman, who formerly managed Shamburger-Gee here, has been with Morrow-Thomas Hdwe. Co. in Lubbock the past two years and recently was promoted to manager of the wholesale firm.

Their new home is a three-bedroom and den brick residence located at 1512 82nd Street in South Lubbock.

The Hopkins family will move into their newly acquired home this week. Ray is with Wharton Motor Co., and Mrs. Hopkins is with Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative.

Savings Bond Sales Increase

"Savings Bond sales through June 1. 1960, totaled $135,397," Mr. A. C. Verner, chairman of Lynn County Savings Bonds Committee reported today. "Our county has now reached 54.2 percent of its 1960 goal of $250,000. June sales were $2,210."

Sales in Texas for the first six months of 1960 were $80,671,012 which is 48.7 percent of the state goal.

"Never before have United States Savings Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike," Mr. Verner, chairman of the Lynn County Savings Bonds Committee, said today in commenting on the one-half percent increase in interest rates on old and new Series E and H Savings Bonds.

Students named to the honor roll must carry a minimum of 12 semester hours and maintain a grade point average of 3.58.

HOYETTE HODGES MOVES

Hoyette G. Hodges has resigned as manager of the Hi-Plains gin near Lockney to accept a similar position with the Dempsey gin at Providence, effective August 1. Mr. and Mrs. Hodges formerly lived here and he was manager of Tahoka Co-op gin.

New Home People At Summer Camp

Two Lynn county people were among those scheduled to leave Wednesday from Lubbock for a summer camp near Antonio, Colorado, sponsored by Rev. Hugh Daniel, pastor of Overton Methodist Church in Lubbock and former pastor of New Home Methodist Church.

Attending from here are Miss Rebecca Morrow of New Home, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Morrow and a graduate of McMurry College, who will be one of the counselors at the camp; and Sharon Blakney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Blakney of New Home, one of the young people to take the spiritual retreat course. Mrs. Daniel is also a counselor at the camp.

Printer's Ink-lings . . .

By F. P. H.

How far we've gone along the road to socialism, or stateism, and dependence on the government to solve all our worries, is illustrated by the following which was originally printed in "The Right Hand" and reprinted by Neil Vanzant in the Gaines County News at Seagraves:

A boy lived with his parents in a public housing development. He attended public schools and had his lunch through the "free" lunch program. He served in the Army, and after discharge retained his national life insurance. He attended the state university, worked part time at the state capitol to supplement his GI education check. He married a home demonstration agent, bought a home with an FHA loan, and got an RFC loan to go into business.

His baby was born in city hospital. He bought a small farm through the veterans' land program, and got emergency feed from the government for his livestock. He put some of the land in the soil bank, and used the payments to buy the farm. His parents lived comfortably on the farm with their social security and old age assistance checks. REA furnished the electricity, the government helped clear the land, SCS showed him how to terrace it, and ASC helped pay for his fishing pond.

He read books borrowed from the public library; his bank account was protected by federal insurance. His children went to public school, rode the school bus, played in the city park, swam in a public pool, joined the FFA and 4-H clubs. The man favored the federal highway program. He signed a petition seeking federal assistance to develop an industrial project and a recreational area to help the economy of his town; he led a movement to get a new local federal building. He went to Washington with a group to ask the government to get his specific type of business special tax exemptions.

Then he wrote to his congressman: "I wish to protest all excessive governmental expenditures and high taxes. I believe in rugged individualism. I think people should all stand on their own two feet. I am opposed to all forms of handouts and I demand a return to the principles of our Constitution and free enterprise for all."

• • •

Like the Democrats, the Republicans had just about everything cut and dried before the first session opened. The delegates have very little to say in the proceedings. In either party, the average voter has little or no say in who is nominated for the presidency or what the policies of the party will be. Democracy is just about gone.

• • •

Why are you a Democrat, or a Republican? Principally, from heritage. But each is the same party in name only. The Democratic party of Thomas Jefferson, or even Woodrow Wilson, or even Franklin D. Roosevelt, is not the party of today. Once the Democratic party stood out against high tariffs and strongly for states' rights and rights of the individual. The South was the bulwark of the party.

• • •

Today, the Northern ultra liberals, the Labor bosses, the NAACP and the Negroes and the blocs of foreigners, the advocates of concentrating all government in Washington, have taken over and thumbed their noses at the South.

• • •

The nominee for president, Jack Kennedy, is from Massachusetts, which has been losing industry to the South, and his record in the past in voting in the Senate has been consistently against the South—as well as against farm programs. His running mate, Lyndon Johnson, has turned-tail and joined the ultra-liberals by endorsing and promising to work to carry out the points of the most radical platform ever adopted by any major political party. And, the Republican platform is nearly as liberal.

• • •

The Democrats, we are told, have embodied everything that was contained in the Socialist Party of 1932 and then gone them one better in several fields. Our patron saints should now be Karl Marx, Eugene V. Debs, Earl Browder, and Norman Thomas, instead of Jefferson, Jackson, Wilson, and Roosevelt.

• • •

We've had the New Deal and the Fair Deal, and now America is about to get the Raw Deal. Guess who's going to pay for it all?

• • •

On the less gloomy side, here's a few items for a smile or two:

• • •

Some first graders were in the habit of bringing apples to school to eat at recess. The apples began to disappear. This continued until one day the teacher threatened. "Children, if the apples keep on disappearing, I'll have to see Mr. Purvis about it."

To which one indignant first grader replied, "Well, I don't believe Mr. Purvis has been getting those apples."

• • •

During one of his presidential campaigns, Williams Jennings Bryan, the "silver-tongued orator," was about to address a group of Midwest farmers. In the absence of a speakers' platform, a manure spreader was brought up to accommodate Mr. Bryan. He mounted it and began his oration: "Ladies and gentlemen, this is the first time I hame ever spoken from a Republican platform! . . ."

• • •

"Daddy," said the small boy, "where did I come from?"

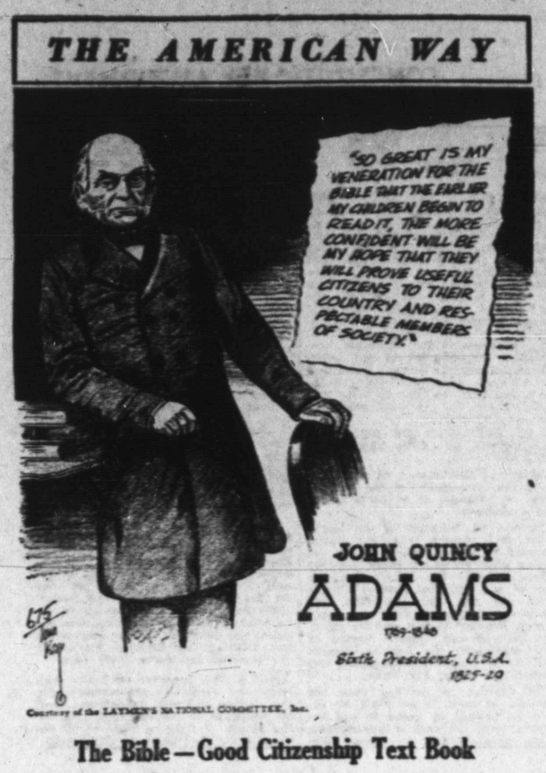

The father, who was dreading the day the question would be asked, launched into a long contrived explanation on the facts of life. The boy listened attentively.

At last the father concluded, "So now you know—but just as a matter of curiosity, how did you happen to ask?"

"Nothing special, Dad," said the son, "The new boy at school said he came from Chicago, and I was wondering where I came from."—Santa Fe Magazine.

LAFITTE'S GROVE IS HISTORICAL SPOT

LaFitte's Grove is just 8 miles west of Galveston, Texas.

Established in 1817, this fort was the headquarters of the freebooter Jean LaFitte while he was pirating ships in the Gulf of Mexico.

This also was the site of the "Battle of Three Trees" between LaFitte's men and fierce Karakawa Indians.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Lankford and Mike left Sunday for a trip to Lake City, Colo., where they plan to spend their vacation.

ODESSA IS SITE OF WORLD'S LARGEST METEORITES

One of the world's largest meteorites lies about two miles west and six miles south of Odessa, in the far western portion of Texas.

The great meteor, a mass of iron, nickle and various other metals, rests 170 feet deep in a 10-acre pit.

This great visitor from outer space is established to have fallen to earth thousands of years ago.

CHEVROLET

Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route

That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana. "With my previous truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty. . . . I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."

Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. Those facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.

◀ "I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

Youth Visiting In Tahoka Has Verse Published In Alaska

Mrs. Lorene W. Freer and son, Tim, from Anchorage, Alaska, are here visiting her brother, R. H. (Hick) Gibson and family, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gibson of O'Donnell until about Sept. 1. Mrs. Freer's husband, Jim, is in civil service work in Alaska.

Tim W. Freer, age 13, has gained some notice in Alaska for writing verses good enough to have been published.

With April showers, the blooming of flowers and ten-hour sunshine or more, The game will come back to be be shot or to track, and birds will flock to our shore, The blooming of clover, the fireweed and fern, the continuous cycle of growth. "No problems here, it's Nature's career, and don't interfere," I quoth.

The tremendous break-up, the melting of snow is a wonderful sight to behold. The ice drips away, the snow ceases to play and the cool air replaces the cold. Alaskan Springtime is wonderful to see and has a harmonious tune. The one thing wrong with Alaskan Springtime, it often brings in June.

TRYING TO RESCUE $150 COSTS MAN $9,000 CASH

Joplin, Mo.—Trying to save $150 from a bandit cost Virgin Bunn an auctioneer in Joplin, $9,000 in cash.

Bunn jumped on a bandit leaving his store with the $150. The holdup man forced Bunn to take off his clothes and lie face down on the floor. Then he took Bunn's trousers. The $9,000 was in one of the pockets, Bunn told police.

JAMES BOWIE STATUE IS IMPRESSIVE

At Texarkana, Texas, one of the major gateways into the Lone Star State, stands an impressive statue of James Bowie, one of the great men in Texas history.

On the monument are the words, "They never fail who die in a just cause."

Jim Bowie, for whom the Bowie Knife is named, was one of the most famous of the valiant defenders of the Alamo who fought to make Texas free.

STUCK-IN-MUD RESCUED

Albany, N. Y.—It took the efforts of 48 firemen to rescue Andy Guarigal, 12 after he got stuck in the muddy bottom of a drained-out reservoir near Albany.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1960.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 39 proposing an amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto new Sections to be known as Sections 6, 7, and 8, to provide that the Legislature may authorize the creation of Hospital Districts co-extensive with Lamar County, Hidalgo County, and County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, having certain stated powers and duties and subject to certain stated limitations; providing that any enabling Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character; providing for an election; prescribing the form of ballot and providing for the necessary proclamation and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be, and the same is hereby, amended by adding the following Sections which shall read as follows:

"Section 6. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Wichita County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Lamar County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be seventy-five cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District, subject to district taxation.

"Section 7. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Hidalgo County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Hidalgo County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Hidalgo County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be ten cents (10c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District subject to district taxation.

"Section 8. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District to be co-extensive with the limits of County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, Texas.

"If such District is created, it may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed seventy-five cents (75c) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property for taxation. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections so long as obligations are not impaired, and not to exceed the maximum limit of seventy-five cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation, and no election shall be required by subsequent changes in the boundaries of the Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County.

"If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the District may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals, nor shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities, but the District shall by resolution assume all such responsibilities and shall assume all of the liabilities and obligations (including bonds and warrants) of such subdivisions or municipalities or both. The maximum tax rate submitted shall be sufficient to discharge such obligations, liabilities, and responsibilities, and to maintain and operate the hospital system, and the Legislature may authorize the District to issue tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements and initially equipping the same, and such bonds shall be payable from said seventy-five cent (75c) tax. The Legislature shall provide for transfer of title to properties to the District.

"(b) The Legislature may by law permit the County of Comanche to render financial aid to that District by paying a part of the expenses of operating and maintaining the system and paying a part of the debts of the District (whether assumed or created by the District) and may authorize the levy of a tax not to exceed ten cents (10c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation (in addition to other taxes permitted by this Constitution) upon all property within the County but without the County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County at the time such levy is made for such purposes. If such tax is authorized, the District shall by resolution assume the respensibilities, obligations, and liabilities of the County in the manner and to the extent hereinabove provided for political subdivisions having boundaries co-extensive with the District, and the County shall not thereafter levy taxes (other than herein provided) for hospital purposes nor for providing hospital care for needy individuals of the County.

"(c) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the general election to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar and Hidalgo Counties, and co-extensive with County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar and Hidalgo Counties, and co-extensive with County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as requires by the Constitution and laws of this State.
