Gasoline Registration Begins At School Houses

Registering Hours From 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. Thurs.-Fri.-Sat.

Registration for gasoline ration books starts today at school houses in the county, at which time all passenger cars and motorcycle owners will sign for their ration books.

The registration will continue through Saturday, and will be held in Lamesa at the Primary School building between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. School teachers will handle all applications.

THESE ARE NECESSARY

In order to register at any of the school registration places, the automobile owner must have in his possession, the following:

1. Certificate of title and current registration papers.
2. Serial numbers from each tire in use. In addition he must be in position to certify that he owns no more than five tires for each automobile registered in his name.
3. A completely filled-in official application blank (OPA form R-534, part A). These are available at county rationing board headquarters. This must be personally signed by the automobile owner.

The lack of any one of these will prevent completion of registration and issuance of ration book.

Registration blanks for owner will be received and "A" coupon books for purchase of gasoline issued. The actual rationing of mileage will start December 1. After that date, pleasure car owners are not going to be able to drive as much and as far as they like, officials have said.

Last minute instructions and detailed information pertaining to the registration came yesterday from the regional office of Price Administration.

Only applications signed by the registered owner of automobiles should be presented to the registrars at school buildings.

In a memorandum from Mark McGee to the War Price and Rationing Boards that official said: "If the application for the basic mileage ration is signed by some person other than the registered owner of a car, the registrar is not authorized to issue the ration book, and must refer all such applications to the War Price and Rationing Board."

Emphasis has been placed on instructions from OPA officials all the way down the line to the county board which says that applications for extra mileage can not be presented to registrars at the school houses. Only the county War Price and Rationing board may issue supplemental rations. Supplemental gasoline is represented in books "B" and "C". Book "A" is the only one the registrars at the schoolhouses will issue. Book "A" is the base allowance—2800 miles a year or four gallons of gasoline a week.

Supplemental Rations
Applications for supplemental rations may be submitted, according to the ration board any time after Nov. 21, and the applications for "B" and "C" rations do not necessarily have to be issued by Dec. 1, when mileage rationing actually begins.

Motorists already have instructions regarding the disposal of all tires in excess of five for each automobile.

Owners of trucks and other commercial vehicles have been registering their machines for certificates of war necessity for some time, and are continuing to do so, and mileage rationing for them will be measured upon needs shown in their certificates, beginning on the same date as that for passenger cars—Dec. 1.

Any Old Silk Stockings? U. S. Can Use Them

Old silk and nylon stockings officially become a war salvage item this week, and Dawson County women have been asked to do their part. Mrs. M. C. Lindsey has been appointed to head the drive in this county.

The War Production Board has asked that all women take their worn and discarded hosiery to any store where hosiery is sold.

After the silk fibre has been reclaimed, it will be woven into powder bags to carry the explosive charges in big calibre guns of the army and navy. Silk burns completely, making it unnecessary to clean the gun breach before reloading. Reclaimed nylon also has important military uses.

Only stockings containing silk or nylon are desired, although the following mixtures of the fibers also are acceptable: Mixed silk-nylon, silk-nylon, nylon-rayon, silk-cotton and nylon-cotton. The stockings should be washed before being donated.

Each and every woman will be personally responsible for delivering her old hosiery to a store collection depot. No individual, store or group will get remuneration for the donated supply.

John Henry Dean Killed In Plane Crash Monday

Lt. John Henry Dean, Jr., a former resident of Dawson County, was killed in a civil air patrol plane crash near Mexia Monday night.

Lt. Dean, a prominent Fort Worth Hereford breeder was pilot of the plane in which one other man was killed and one seriously injured. The plane was on routine flight from Beaumont to Fort Worth when it was caught in a downdraft and flipped into a spin. It crashed before Dean could regain control.

The Deans are owners of the Indian Canyon ranch in Dawson and Borden counties, and made Lamesa their headquarters for several years. More recently Lt. Dean has been celebrated as a breeder of fine Hereford cattle on his modern stock ranch, located just west of Fort Worth.

Lt. Dean was the son of the late Dr. John E. Dean, prominent Dallas physician, and Mrs. Dean, who before her marriage, was Miss Carrie Slaughter, member of a widely known Southwestern cattle-raising family. She still resides in Dallas. The dead flier was a grandson of the late Col. C. C. Slaughter, in his life time a prominent cattleman.

Lt. Dean is survived by his wife and two small children, whose home is in Fort Worth.

Two Mexican Children Die In Road Crash

The dead were Hortencia Segovia, 4, and Carlita Segovia, one year old. Five other members of the family were under treatment for injuries and two others received first aid at the Big Spring hospital.

H. D. Council Meeting Changed To November 28

The date for the annual meeting of the home demonstration council has been changed to November 28th instead of the 21st. The reason is that many families will be going to get their gas rationing cards on the 21st.

The meeting will be held in the recreation building in the city park and will begin at 11:00 a. m. Club members as well as council members are invited to attend this meeting—bring a covered dish.

Red Cross Soliciting Aid

200 Kit Bags For Soldiers Overseas To Be Packed

The Dawson County Chapter of the American Red Cross has this week shipped 750 garments made in the sewing rooms. Among these were 260 doctors operating gowns and hospital bed shirts to be used in our army hospitals.

The U. S. government is now asking the Red Cross Chapters to make and fit Kit Bags for overseas soldiers. Dawson County's quota is 400. Tahoka has offered to take 200 of these.

Since there is only a limited time on these kits, all other work in the sewing rooms will be held up until these are finished, according to Mrs. M. Q. Martin, chairman for the county. The kits are composed of a bag with drawn string, containing many useful articles, such as a shoe laces, razor blades, cigarettes, soap box with soap, pencil, envelopes and paper, chewing gum, small book, comics, and a housewife, which is a case for buttons, needles and thread and pins. The cost of fitting out one these kits is about $1.00.

Volunteers are wanted to take stated numbers of these to fit individuals, social organizations, clubs or Sunday School classes. Phone any of these ladies the number you want, Mrs. A. H. Smith, Supervisor Tuesday; Mrs. Gus White, Supervisor on Wednesday; Mrs. L. F. Kenery, Supervisor on Friday; or Mrs. M. Q. Martin, chairman of Production.

The sewing rooms have on hand now a large new quota of garments to make. Work is progressing surely, but slowing, according to Mrs. Martin. They need many more workers to get the quotas out on time—There is a big job to do—Won't you help? The sewing rooms are open every afternoon except Monday and Saturday.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET MONDAY
Clay Randolph, president of the County School Board, has called a meeting for Monday, November 23, at 2 p. m., to attend to routine business. Anyone with school problems that fall under the jurisdiction of the County School Board is welcome to attend.

Mail Christmas Packages Early For Assured Delivery

The Post Office Department now is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world.

Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December 1941.

If thousands of our soldiers, sailors, marines and civilian friends are not to be disappointed at Christmas time, the public must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly. The best efforts of the Post Office Department alone cannot be enough, in view of wartime difficulties faced by the postal system. The public must assist.

According to Owen C. Taylor, local post master, patrons are urged to mail all Christmas packages early and to follow this schedule:

Packages going 2000-2500 miles mail them 25 days early. 1500-2000 miles, 20 days early. 1000-1500 miles, 15 days early. 500-1000 miles, 10 days early. Up to 500 miles, 5 days early.

Paul L. Jones was admitted to a local hospital, November 12, for a major operation.

Revival Meeting At Church Of God

$23,350 In Bonds Sold First Three Days Of Campaign

Women of Lamesa who have been selling war bonds all this week at the local banks report that $23,350 in bonds had been sold the first three days of the week.

This extensive war bond selling drive was started Monday morning with Mrs. M. C. Lindsey acting as chairman. Local women will continue to sell bonds each day at the two banks until December 7, Pearl Harbor Day. Dawson County was $90,000 behind in their yearly bond quota at the start of this drive by the women but at the rate bonds have been purchased the last three days, this shortage will soon disappear.

Mrs. Lindsey, who is working under the auspices of the Lamesa Delphin Club was in charge of the bond selling this week. Mrs. C. A. White, under the auspices of the Parent Teacher Association, will be in charge from November 23 through the 28th, and Mrs. V. Z. Rogers, under direction of the American Legion Auxiliary will be in charge from November 30 through December 7.

Lamesa ladies selling bonds at the banks on Monday were Mrs. C. A. Hollingsworth, Mrs. D. W. Ablesgale, Mrs. W. D. Arnett and Mrs. Tom Burnside.

On Tuesday the ladies selling were Mrs. A. E. Jacobs, Mrs. Arthur Hill, Mrs. N. H. Price and Mrs. Hush Lott.

Those selling bonds Wednesday were Mrs. W. H. Collins, Mrs. Harry Pace, Mrs. Karl Cayton and Mrs. S. Z. Frazier.

Tornadoes Play Colorado City Thanksgiving

The Lamesa High School Golden Tornado football team has one remaining game this season, that is with the Colorado City team at that place on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day.

The school holiday will be observed on Thanksgiving for one day only, according to V. Z. Rogers, superintendent. There is no meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association this year. A meeting of the House of Delegates has already been held. This annual convention has been abandoned for the duration in the interest of transportation and other problems incident to the war.

Mrs. Lena Ross New Art Teacher

Mrs. Mary Jo Marshall, art teacher in the Lamesa schools, resigned last Friday that she might accompany her husband to his work in the State of Arizona.

Mrs. Lena Ross of the Kansas State Teachers College is expected to succeed Mrs. Marshall in the local schools.

A "Cushion For Rationing"

The government's Share-the-Meat program should pave the way to a cheerful acceptance of rationing, and it likely is one of several food programs in which county and municipal food and nutrition committees will be assigned war-time responsibility, executive members of the State Nutrition Committee were told at a recent meeting in Fort Worth.

The local food and nutrition committees, which are a part of the OGD organization in Texas, will train block leaders for a face-to-face campaign for voluntary sharing of meat, according to Mildred Horton, chairman of the state committee and vice director of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

A sub-committee on community planning headed by Dr. Ercel Eppright of the Texas State College for Women, is helping local nutrition committees prepare for their duties in the movement.

In addition to training the local leaders, nutrition committees will help Texans have adequate diets in the face of increased war-time difficulties. Menus and recipes for "extending meat flavors" and for properly preparing meat and alternate foods will be made available by the local committees. They also will arrange war food demonstrations following the face-to-face campaign of November 30 to Dec. 5.

The county unit of home economists will serve as the county planning and coordinating committee where defense nutrition committees have not been organized, Miss Horton says.

A Farewell Message

my friends and customers

As a farewell message to the many friends and customers of The Lamesa Tire & Battery Company, who have made the splendid business possible that we have enjoyed throughout the years, I wish to make the following statement.

It has been a great pleasure on my part to have served the fine people of the Lamesa trade territory as their Goodrich Silvertown Tire dealer. And I can assure you that if it were not for circumstances beyond my control, my one ambition would be to continue to serve you in the same capacity.

I am joining up with the United States Army this week and have turned my business, The Lamesa Tire & Battery Company, over to the B. F. Goodrich Silvertown Rubber Company for the duration.

Russell Roland, who has had many years of experience in the tire business, will have charge of the new store which will operate under the firm name of B. F. Goodrich Silvertown Store. The store will be enlarged and several new lines added due to the rubber shortage.

After the war is over it is my intention to return to Lamesa and again operate the Lamesa Tire & Battery Company and until that is possible I especially invite all my friends and customers to continue to do business with the new store.

Teen-Age Registration Set In December; Deferment Of Essential Labor Provided

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 — President Roosevelt today ordered registration for selective service of all youths who have turned 18 since July 1, 1942. The registration will be spread over the last three weeks of December.

This will make perhaps 500,000 more 18-year-olds eligible for service under the new draft law.

Mr. Roosevelt issued his order shortly after national selective service director Lewis B. Hershey had set in motion machinery which will bring some "teen-age youths into the armed services, probably within 40 to 60 days, and defer essential farm workers, Hershey acted under the recently passed "teen-age draft law.

Continuous Registration

Mr. Roosevelt's order provided for the continuing registration of those who attain their 18th year after Jan. 1. They will register on their birthdays.

For those who become 18 after July 1, the following schedule was set:

Youths born between July 1, 1924 and Aug. 31, 1924, will register during the week beginning Dec. 11. Those born between Sept. 1, 1924, and Oct. 31, 1924, will register between Dec. 18 and Dec. 24. Those born between Nov. 1, 1924, and Dec. 31, 1924, will register between Dec. 26 and Dec. 31.

Sixth Registration

This is the sixth registration ordered by the president. The last was on June 30, when 18-and-19-year-olds were first registered. At that time, however, the 18-19 year class was not subject to call for military duty. Mr. Roosevelt signed the legislation last Friday, permitting their drafting for military service.

Hershey issued directives to state selective service headquarters to guide local draft boards in carrying out provisions of the new law. He ordered:

Deferment of all men who registered before the age of 45 who have since passed their 45th birthday. Exceptions may be made when men in this age group consent to induction.

Defer Essential Farm Workers

Deferment of farm workers of all ages subject to the draft who are necessary to and regularly engaged in work in war-essential agriculture.

Deferment of high school students in the 18-19 year class, if the student requests it and they are in the last half of the autumn-to-spring school year.

Hershey set up two new draft classes — 2-C and 3-C — for deferred farm workers. Those without dependent wives, children dependent will go in 2-C, those with dependent in 3-C.

Rules On Federal Employers

President Roosevelt meanwhile sent a memorandum to heads of all government departments and

YOUR COUNTY AGENT FOR FREEDOM
TEXAS EXTENSION SERVICE

The "Share The Meat Program," which limits the average person to 2 1-2 pounds of red meat per week (including bone and fat), is to be participated in by all people in the United States, farmers and civilians alike.

Information regarding this program will be carried direct to the farmers by Neighborhood Leaders of the County Agricultural Victory Council.

Farmers can sell their 1942 maize for over $2.00 per 100 IF THEY FEED IT TO HOGS stated Ray Mowery, when talking to the Dawson County 4-H Pig Club Boys.

Save enough feed to carry on your hog program for at least two years, further stated Mr. Mowery. West Texas has never gone out of hog production because of low hog prices. Short feeds crops have put us out of the hog business several times. Save this feed. Feed it to hogs. By doing this you will be contributing to our War Efforts.

Now is the time to be selecting your turkeys for the 1943 breeding season, states B. J. Baskin, County Agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Try Tomato Mince Meat Form Your Green Tomatoes

Many families have on hand a good supply of green tomatoes. Part of these tomatoes will ripen if placed in a cool ventilated place and if they are not bruised. Those tomatoes which are cracked, may be worked up in to green tomato products. The following recipe will be found to be very tasty and makes good pies:

- Green Tomato Mince Meat
- 1 peck of green tomatoes
  - 3 pounds brown sugar
  - 2 pounds raisins
  - 1 pound beef or suet or cocoanut
  - 2 tablespoonfuls salt
  - 1-2 cup water
  - 2 teaspoonfuls ground cinnamon
  - 1 teaspoonful ground cloves
  - 2 teaspoonfuls nutmeg
  - 3 cupfuls chopped apples
  - 3 lemons, thinly sliced after yellow surface of peel has been grated off.

Chop or slice the tomatoes thinly, or put them through a food chopper. Sprinkle salt over them and allow to stand for about one hour. Drain well and cover with cold water, and place over the fire and boil for five minutes. Drain off all the liquid by pressing the tomatoes as dry as possible. Add the suet or shredded cocoanut and one half cup of water. Return to the fire and allow to simmer about twenty minutes. Stir in sugar and boil until dissolved; then add spices and boil rapidly for about fifteen to twenty minutes until very thick.

Pour hot into jars, seal and process in hot water bath 10 minutes.

Advertising Is Said Essential

Advertising Is Said Essential

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Advertising is an "essential part of our communications system," a system which the government has "no remotest desire" to destroy. Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production board asserted tonight.

At the same time, Captain Oliver Lyttleton, British minister of production, called the United Nation's invasion of Africa "the greatest amphibious operation in history" and said the number of vessels in convoy was well over 500, plus more than 350 ships of war.

Not Wholly Black
Nelson said the future does not hold a bright picture for the individual businessman, but "the picture is not wholly black either."

At a dinner meeting of the Association of National Advertisers, he said:

"I see no reason why any man should assume, now, that no scope is going to be left for the free exercise of his talents; I see no reason to assume that the field is going to tighten up so much that advertising will not still have an important job to do in the distribution of goods."

"For advertising, I must repeat, is an essential part of our communications system. We dare not destroy or cripple that communications system in wartime, and we have no remotest desire to do so."

Africa Only Beginning
The WPB chief prefaced his address with a warning against a too-optimistic view of war developments. "What is happening in Africa is only a beginning, not an end," he cautioned. "The German military organization is immensely powerful it has lost heavily in Russia, but it will still take a lot of licking."

And on the other side of the world we have only made the barest beginning of the reconquest of the immense and wealthy territories seized by Japan."

The American economy is vital enough and flexible enough to crush the enemy without itself breaking down in the process, Nelson said. "It has a greater adaptability than our enemies dreamed; greater, I suppose, than we ourselves suspected."

Marketing Machinery
The peacetime distributive and marketing machinery has found a vital role in the war economy, the WPB chairman said, albeit a role "vastly different" from its peacetime one. This machinery can help cushion the conversion to an all-out war effort, he added, and through it "our basic structure can be preserved and kept sound for the years of peace and prosperity which lie ahead."

Nelson assured his hearers that whatever temporary restrictions and limitations might have to be lead on the free enterprise system in the coming year would not be "capricious."

The government was not making changes, he said, just for the sake of changes, or using the war "to cloak a move for social or economic reform."

Luxuries Must Go
Nelson said WPB intended to continue as vigorously as in the past to eliminate the frills and luxuries from the country's economy, until it is stripped down to "absolute essentials."

Everything that WPB does must be planned to throw the whole weight of the nation against the enemy so as to strike the hardest blow in the shortest time, he declared.

The simplification of lines and styles of clothing, utensils, tools and consumer goods is a fundamental part of the future program. Such simplification is not to be confused with standardization, which would "eliminate competition and initiative," Nelson warned.

Rationing Date Definitely Set

Leon Henderson, chief of the Office of Price Administration, promised Texans Friday that nationwide gasoline rationing would go into effect December 1 and patiently explained that the petroleum producing southwest must share the nation's conservation task.

At the same time, he promised that rationing would be tailored to measure sectional needs.

He spoke at a joint meeting of the Dallas and Fort Worth chambers of commerce.

Oil Producers Present
In his audience sat many of the southwest's largest oil producers.

"The rationing plan may result in a 4,000-mile average in some states," he said, "while other states may possibly average more than 5,000 miles a year per vehicle."

But, he insisted, "an applicant isn't going to get additional mileage rations because he lives in Dallas, or San Francisco, or New York. He is going to get it only because he needs to drive to the shipyard, or munitions plant and the basic book won't give him enough mileage."

"Or because he is a doctor who needs more mileage on his professional calls."

"Or because he is a farmer who needs more mileage to deliver his produce to market."

Must Save Rubber
Texas must join other areas in gasoline rationing because the rubber motorists save is the rubber on which Allied armies ride to attack, Henderson said.

"It's the choice between an offensive and victory, or driving as usual," he said. "That is why, here in Texas, in the middle of the greatest gasoline producing area in the world, people aren't going to be able to drive as much and as far as they like."

Our rubber, he said, is attacking up and down the coast of Africa, carrying some of the finest fighting men in the world on their job of opening a second front.

"On the success of the mileage rationing program hangs part of our plan for winning this war in a reasonable length of time," he said.

Transportation Insurance
He pled with southwesterners to recognize gasoline rationing as a plan for insuring transportation rather than a "Rube Goldberg con-

Navy Seeking Young Men For Trade Schools

An earnest appeal to the youth of America is being made by the United States Navy.

Young men, and especially those just out of high school, are urgently needed to fill the numerous vacancies which exist in the Navy's numerous trade schools. Because of the increase in Navy personnel, men with specialized training, and qualified candidates for the specialized courses taught in the Navy are in great demand at the present time.

Boys, who only a few short months ago were attending high school and who are anxious to either complete their education or learn some useful trade are especially invited to investigate the advantages offered by the Navy, and it is to such boys that the Navy offers the best training available.

Forty-nine different trades are taught in the Navy's schools, and each man is trained for a particular traption guaranteed to make people miserable."

Henderson pointed out that despite all public transportation can do, 86 per cent of the nation's transportation depends on its 27 million passenger cars.

"Buses and street cars can carry only 14 per cent of it, including our workers to and from their jobs," he said. "Far from laying up passenger cars, we must keep them running as long as we possibly can."

job. If the recruit is not sent to trade school immediately, he is furnished with prepared Navy courses, and studies under the able direction of the officer over him, at Naval bases or on board ship.

In the Navy's modern and completely-equipped training schools today are taught such special radio (operation of special radio equipment), aerography, radio, music, machinery, electricity, telegraphy, metal working, and so fourth.

Lieut. L. H. Ridout Jr., officer in charge of the North Texas Naval recruiting district, has urged that all young men faced with the prospect of being called into service in the near future investigate fully the Navy's plan for vocational training, at the nearest Navy recruiting station.

U. S. Navy recruiting stations are located at Dallas, Abilene, Amarillo, Big Spring, Fort Worth, Longview, Lubbock, Paris, San Angelo, Sherman, Tyler, Waco and Wichita Falls. Also in Brownwood, Childress, Corsicana, Eastland, Graham, Mt. Pleasant, Nacogdoches, Rusk and Brady.

BEHIND THE WAR NEWS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Wide World War Analyst

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18

The full fruits of the great American naval victory in the Far Pacific are yet to be revealed in Japanese military reaction to the blow; but Navy opinion that the foe must strike again at Guadalcanal, if only to save face, seems well justified.

Neither Japan, recoiling from a new defeat at American hands, nor Adolf Hitler, menaced by active second-front positions in North Africa, dare surrender the initiative. To do so would be to acknowledge failure of the Axis dream of world conquest.

The Achilles heel of a philosophy of power politics, of rule by force of arms, is that its practitioners cannot stop. Aggression is their only watch word. To revert to a defensive role is to accept auguries of defeat. Thus the next move is obviously up to Germany and Japan. Even so, there are certain unchallengeable new war factors resulting from the staggering rebuff dealt Japanese sea power in the Solomons. They have a bearing on the war in Africa as well as the war in the Pacific.

Waiving the psychological by-product — which could prove vastly important — the factual and practical results achieved are highly encouraging. They lend a color of realism to Allied hopes that the tide has definitely turned against the Axis everywhere, that years may already be lopped off the probable duration of the war.

Jap Sea Power Lost
Of supreme importance even before the full score of the Solomons battle comes in is the cumulative attrition of Japanese sea power. On Navy books a ratio of better than 4 to 1 has been established against Japan in ship losses since and in Pearl Harbor.

Unofficially the figures are set down at 365 Japanese craft of all types, combat and auxiliary, put out of action as against eighty-five American. That, too, despite the dispersion of American fleet units on other war business in the Atlantic, the Mediterranean and elsewhere.

Sea power hangs no less on cargo than on combat tonnage. The unfavorable odds at sea for this country in the Pacific produced by two-front war are being whittled down relentlessly.

That must influence sea odds in other oceans. The Solomons victory was decisive enough to make it virtually certain that no American war craft need be recalled from other seas to the Pacific. It is the Japanese not the American fleet that must grope desperately for replacements.

Lack of Scouting Planes
The absence of Japanese plane carriers from Navy reports of enemy ships sunk or damaged is highly significant and unexplained. It seems obvious that Japanese air power losses must be even greater in proportion and more telling in effect than ship losses to date.

Lack of scouting and attack planes may have been the key to the Japanese defeat. The other aspects of the Solomons sea victory that strongly impress this observer is the evidence it gives of co-ordinated and effective Army-Navy staff work. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's planes from Australia had much to do with the victory Vice-Admiral William F. Halsey's ships won off Guadalcanal. American forces in the Far Pacific may have learned co-operation in a hard school; but the proof is clear in that shattered Japanese armada that it has been learned.

History probably will trace the sea victory off Guadalcanal more to good scouting and combined staff work than to its individual genius shown by any officer in the fight, daring as Halsey's plan of battle was. That daring must have been founded on assembled and digested advance information of enemy dispositions to warrant the risk.

DANGER IN THE HOME

THE whole breed of domestic contagious and infectious diseases will disappear in the years to come as the lessons of cleanliness come to be learned; not only the lesson of cleanliness of the home, but also personal cleanliness, the cleanliness that demands the daily washing with soap and water, the cleanliness that destroys germs, removes the substances in which they breed, and disinfects and makes healthy all human surroundings.

It has long been an established fact that one of the most dangerous agents in the transfer of bacteria is the human hand with its five fingers.

When we wash our hands we seek to do for others what we would have them do for us.

Questions And Answers On Idle Tire Purchase Plan

The representative of the Office of Price Administration who conducted meetings here on mileage rationing has reported that several questions arose which they were unable to satisfactorily answer. These questions have been discussed with the proper authorities and we wish to pass your information and guidance. The following questions and answers seem to present a good cross-section to these problems:

1. Q. Is an applicant allowed a spare passenger-type tire for a farm trailer, tractor or farm implement?
A. No. A spare passenger-type tire may be retained on a motor vehicle but there is no provision for a spare passenger-type tire for a farm trailer, tractor or farm implement.

2. Q. Is an applicant required to report on his application the tire numbers for tires mounted on a trailer, tractor or farm implement?
A. No. Only the five tires mounted on the vehicle for which the ration of gasoline is sought and any passenger-type tires not mounted on a vehicle or piece of equipment are listed in the spaces provided on the application.
3. Q. Should excess passenger-type tires be turned in regardless of the condition of the tires?
A. Yes. Tires which are usable or can be made usable by repair should be turned into the nearest Railway Express Agency. Scrap tires should be sold to any scrap dealer.
4. Q. If the tire numbers are obliterated, how must they be identified on the application?
A. By the brand name and size of the tire.
5. Q. If an applicant has more than one size passenger-type tire on his vehicle, may he retain a spare for each size?
A. No. Applicant may only retain one spare for each motor vehicle.
6. Q. What papers should be presented by the applicant to the school site registrar in order to obtain a Basic Ration?
A. The applicant should present the Registration Receipt showing that the vehicle is licensed to operate on the highways for the current year, the application signed by the legal owner, and the certificate of title or an application therefor substantiating such ownership.
7. Q. How will gasoline be obtained for a passenger-automobile used on a farm or ranch for which no license for highway use has been secured?
A. Application should be made to the local Board for a Non-Highway Ration and an E or R book issued on approval.
8. Q. Should a Non-Highway Ration for an unlicensed passenger automobile be granted by the Board without reservation?
A. No. Mileage should only be allowed for the essential use of the vehicle.
9. Q. How will gasoline be obtained for use in a commercial motor vehicle not licensed for use on the highways?
A. The owner or agent must apply to the ODT for a certificate of War Necessity and upon approval apply to the Board for a Transport Ration on form R-536.
10. Q. May a pickup or commercial vehicle be registered as a passenger automobile?
A. Yes. Provided that the applicant produces a statement from the Office of Defense Transportation to the effect that the vehicle will not qualify for a Certificate of War Necessity.
Undoubtedly numerous other problems will arise during the registration, a large per cent of which will either be covered in the Rationing Order or the Rationing Guide. However, if these questions cannot be answered by these and other instructions, please do not hesitate to call on us for any assistance you feel we may give.

11. Q. Is an applicant allowed a spare passenger-type tire for a farm trailer, tractor or farm implement?
A. No. A spare passenger-type tire may be retained on a motor vehicle but there is no provision for a spare passenger-type tire for a

Coffee Rationing To Start Nov. 29; Sales Frozen 22-28

Rationing of coffee has been ordered for November 29, and one pound of coffee for each person over 15 years of age has been declared by the Office of Price Administration as a normal supply, according to the official news received here.

Ration stamps must be deducted for all coffee in excess of that amount consumers have on hand when rationing begins. Inventories are supposed to be as of midnight November 28. However, the stamp deductions will not be made until application is made by the householder for ration book No. 2 on January 3, 1943, OPA officials say.

When the consumer applies for the second book, the OPA says, he will be required to declare the amount of coffee he had on hand at the start of rationing November 29. The registrar who issues rationing book No. 2 then will remove from the book stamps sufficient to cover the supply in excess of the one pound, and purchase can not continue until the stock on hand has been used at the rationed rate.

The bulletin said non-holders of sugar ration books must apply to the local War Price and Rationing board.

The first rationing period, November 29-January 3, includes 35 days.

All coffee will be frozen, during which there are to be no sales, during November 22-28, in order to allow retailers to stock their shelves and have sufficient coffee on hand when rationing begins November 29.

Restaurants, hotels, and other institutions serving coffee to the public are being advised of the dates for registering for coffee purchases, which is November 23-25. Registering will be at the rationing board office. The first allotment period for restaurants, hotels, etc. is November 22-January 31, and the base is to be the amount of real coffee that was used by each during September and October 1942, minus the amount on hand at midnight November 21.

Food For Freedom Goals Soon To Be Announced

Sign-up of Texas farmers in their second year of wartime production will get underway the latter part of December.

State production goals, which will be announced at Memphis, Tenn., December 7-9, will be allocated to counties and individual farms immediately, B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA war board, said this week.

Critical bottlenecks, such as labor, equipment and transportation were cited by the chairman as reasons why goals would be more difficult to reach in 1943 than in 1942 when agricultural production hit an all-time high.

"At the same time we're running into these shortages, demand for food has increased, not only for our boys in the armed forces, but for Lend-Lease requirements as well," he said.

To date, only two production goals, winter vegetables and hogs, have been announced under the 1943 program.

Cotton Insurance Pays Off On Crops

All-risk cotton crop insurance is paying off for some Texas cotton farmers this year.

Already, approximately 4,636,604 pounds of indemnity cotton have been claimed on 1,846 insurance contracts. Major causes for losses in Texas this year are hail, flood and insects.

According to Donald L. Cottrhan, state insurance supervisor, yields and rates under the 1943 program have been completed for all Texas counties and will be available to producers within a few weeks, however, signing of applications will not get underway in many counties until after January 1, 1943.

Under the 1943 program individual contracts will be signed in counties under the supervision of local AAA committees, he explained.

Offered for the first time in 1942, Texas farmers led the nation in Federal all-risk crop insurance when 54,252 units were guaranteed 338,306 bales on 1,488,690 acres.

Either 50 or 75 per cent of the average cotton yield may be insured against all unavoidable hazards.

Save Leaves And Grass For Compost

Fallen leaves, dead grass and other vegetation about the place in Nature's plant food in the making. Don't burn it, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Save all vegetation and make it into a compost. Composted vegetation improves the texture of the soil and prevents it from becoming hard and crusty. The more compost added to the soil the better. It is especially helpful in maintaining high quality in growing vegetables. Rosborough says.

In making compost, prepare a simple frame enclosure, then put down a layer of lawn trimmings, weeds, or other vegetative matter and cover with a thin layer of dirt. Add water if the material is dry. Let the pile remain for about 10 days or two weeks then fork it so that the portion at the bottom will be on top. After two or three spadings the heating will have disappeared and the material then is ready for use. The decaying process will destroy the fertility of weed seeds.

Compost has sufficient nitrogen, especially if a little barnyard manure is mixed with it. But it likely will be deficient in phosphorus and potash. In order to supply adequate plant food, Rosborough suggests mixing the phosphorus with the compost and plowing or spading it six or eight inches into the soil. Additional nitrogen and potash can be applied just prior to sowing the seed.

For growing carrots, beets and cabbage in winter gardens, compost is a valuable addition to the soil, the horticulturists says.

TATTOOED CHICKENS KEEP THIEVES AWAY
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia poultrymen think they've found a way to put the chicken thief out of business.

A simple, inexpensive method is being used to identify each hen and rooster. They are tattooed with the owner's mark and number.

Each fowl is then checked into the files of the state police, the Department of Agriculture, the state poultrymen's association and the West Virginia university extension service bureau.

Actual tattooing is done on the web of a wing and C. C. Blake, chief of the department of agriculture's poultry division, avers that even if the bird has been killed, plucked and placed in the oven, the tattoo identification will be visible to the trained eye.

THIS JUDGE HEARD ONE DRINK TOO MANY
TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Said the drunk to the judge. "I've got a job to go to at 8 a. m. and I'll never take another drink if you turn me loose." Said Judge Tom Shaw to the drunk: "Mr. Defendant, when I was city prosecutor 12 years ago you were one of the first men I prosecuted. I let you off on that story then but I don't believe it now. Eighteen dollars and costs!"

Dawson Leads District In Ginning Report

Without exception the cotton harvest on the South Plains is running far ahead of the progress made last year, when continued rains and other factors held up picking and ginning for weeks.

Official ginning figures as of Nov. 1 give the following 15 cotton producing counties in the Lamesa area a total of 209,782 bales, compared with 44,227 bales to the same date a year ago. This is four and three-fourths times as much cotton "in the bag."

The official figures for the counties, with comparative dates and number of bales last year are given below:

'Freeze' Exempts Some Fencing Materials

Fencing materials at retail levels are not covered in the recent 'freeze' order on farm machinery.

However, fencing materials at manufacturer and distributor levels fall under the general 'freeze' order and cannot be released until permanent rationing is begun, the Texas USDA War Board said this week.

Under the general order, most types of machinery were "frozen" as of November 1 to allow the government time to establish quotas since permanent rationing will get underway in the near future.

Purpose of the farm machinery rationing program is to route limited farm machinery into essential channels where maximum contribution will be made to the war program.
