French Envoy Injured As Yanks Bomb Hanoi

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes attacked Hanoi today and the French said their diplomatic mission was heavily damaged and their chief envoy wounded.

In response to a French protest, the U.S. Command said initial operational reports indicated that Navy planes hit military targets 2 1/2 to 3 miles from the mission buildings. It promised an investigation of a French complaint.

MISSILES FIRED

"A number of enemy surface to air missiles were fired at the U.S. aircraft," the statement said. "No U.S. aircraft were lost, and the surface to air missiles, after missing the aircraft, could have impacted on the ground."

A spokesman agreed the statement might give the impression that the destruction of the mission headquarters was caused by the North Vietnamese missiles. The command refused, however, to rule out the possibility of U.S. bombs going astray and hitting the French compound.

The command said the military targets attacked included major railroad yards and transshipment points across the Red River north of the French delegation.

DEPLORABLE ACT

In Paris, President Georges Pompidou after a Cabinet meeting called the bombing "a deplorable act." The French protest was handed to U.S. Ambassador Arthur K. Watson.

A French government spokesman said the chief of the mission in the North Vietnamese capital, Delegate-General Pierre Susini, was "very seriously injured."

While his injuries were not fatal, Susini suffered from loss of blood and shock, the spokesman added. Three other diplomats and the mission's French secretaries were unhurt, but four Vietnamese employees were missing.

First to comment in Saigon on the bombing was Gen. John W. Vogt, deputy commander of the U.S. Command and chief of the 7th Air Force. He promised an investigation.

"Right now, I can honestly say I know nothing about it," he said. "I can't imagine how it could have happened. We'll just have to go into it and see what happened. We're going to take a good hard look at it. What we have to do is pick up the pieces and see what the allegations are and try to piece it together."

SPECULATION

Radio Hanoi reported that the four Vietnamese employees and one French woman were killed. It added that the Albanian charge d'affaires, who was calling on Susini, also was wounded.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported from Hanoi that the American planes bombed the central part of the city. The Tass correspondent said several heavy demolition bombs hit the French headquarters—a group of five buildings on a main avenue—and virtually destroyed it.

The air attack on Hanoi was the first in several weeks and came as peace talks between President Nixon's adviser Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese representatives in Paris were going into their fourth day.

There was speculation in Saigon that the attack on Hanoi had been ordered in an attempt to push the North Vietnamese into agreeing to the U.S. and South Vietnamese demands.

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, outlining the steps he as president would take to end the Vietnam war, says the United States can have peace "any day that we put the saving of lives ahead of the saving of face."

The Democratic presidential nominee presented his seven-point plan in a nationally televised speech Tuesday night. He said he would suspend U.S. bombing, military action and aid to Vietnam on inauguration day, and dispatch his vice president to Hanoi.

Saying President Nixon's "decisive military action" has failed to bring peace to Indochina, McGovern declared that his proposal is "a program that will work" and is similar to the method used by France in withdrawing from Indochina in 1954.

HAD HIS CHANCE

The South Dakota senator said there are two basic differences between his plan and Nixon's: the administration's effort to maintain the government of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, and the view that military action can successfully end the conflict.

McGovern said Nixon "has had his chance" and failed to produce peace, noting that "40 per cent of all the Americans lost in Vietnam have died in the last four years, died under the present administration."

"Now the answer to failure is not more of the same," he said. "And yet, I fear continued war is what the Nixon administration has in store if they stay in power."

Later in the evening, McGovern spoke to a crowd of aides said numbered 10,000 persons at a $15-a-plate fund-raising dinner.

He declared the choice in the Nov. 7 election is "between endless war in Indochina or the very distinct possibility—and I believe the absolute necessity—that we could have peace in Vietnam."

Flood Control Funds Are Authorized By Committee

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, member of the Senate-House Conference Committee on the Omnibus River and Harbor Bill, announced Tuesday that the measure approved by conferees includes a $1,578,000 authorization for a flood control project along Bear's Creek in Big Spring. The federal authorization is to be combined with $948,000 in non-federal funds to make a total project cost of $2,526,000.

Sen. Bentsen explained that this project is designed to alleviate floods along Bear's Creek originating from a runoff area above Big Spring.

This plan consists of relining the channel and enlarging it. It is going to have an overflow floodway on about 3.6 miles of Bear's Creek running through the city.

The upper two miles of the segment would be realigned to pass around commercial and industrial development near the T&P Railway yards. The lower 3.6 miles would generally follow the existing channel.

This project will provide complete protection from the 50-year frequency flood and with the floodway complement it would provide protection of the 100-year frequency flood.

Mayor Wade Choate passed no immediate verdict on the project, saying that the matter has been pending for several years.

City commissioners will study the project again to determine what value the flood-control will hold for Big Spring, Choate said.

He recalled that money has been placed in a fund for the project, but doesn't believe that the amount is enough to cover the City's share of the cost.

Commissioners will face the decision of placing a bond issue before the citizens, Choate added.

Five Per Cent Pay Raise Granted City Employees

By CHARLES TEAGUE

Mayor Wade Choate recommended on behalf of the Big Spring City Commission a five per cent raise for city employees Tuesday evening, to be no less than $25 nor greater than $35 per month. The pay increase does not apply to division heads in the city government.

The announcement came at the end of the regular meeting of the Commission. The motion to affect the raise carried unanimously.

CITY AUDIT

John P. Wilson, of Hollingsworth, Wilson, Lee and Reynolds, addressed the Commissioners, recommending that an audit committee of two Commissioners be appointed to work closely with the firm during the audit.

Commissioners Harold Hall and Jack Watkins were appointed and announced they were to meet with Wilson this morning.

City Manager Harry Nagel requested permission that he and Finance Director Robert Massengale meet also with Wilson to recommend special verification on certain accounts. Commissioners concurred.

RADIO COSTS

Chief of Police Vance Chisum announced to Commissioners that the original estimate on the City's cost of replacing the law enforcement radio system was likely higher than the actual cost will be.

Chisum explained that the $2 court cost fee attached to all fines about two years ago has accumulated as credit with the Criminal Justice Council. Chisum stated that he has been in contact with the CJC recently, learning that the court costs fund will lower the City's share of the cost from 25 per cent to about 10 or 12 per cent, a cash share of approximately $3,500, while the Criminal Justice Council provides a grant to fund the remaining $25,000 to $27,000 cost of updating communications equipment.

Commissioners approved a resolution granting the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission power to advertise for bids on behalf of the City to make a Region-wide purchase of communications equipment.

Nagel noted that the Planning Commission is capable of purchasing the equipment on a less expensive basis than individual cities.

MOBILE HOMES

Commissioners accepted and approved the minutes of the Oct. 3 meeting of the Planning and Zoning Boards in which General Residence Zones were suggested to be rezoned to include permission for the placement of mobile homes as fixed dwellings.

ANNEX TABLED

Annexation of the south half of the block between Arroyo and Central in the Canyon View Subdivision was tabled. Commissioner Watkins requested that the action be tabled until an objectioning residence of the area recuperated from an illness and could appear before the Commission to present his objections.

Commissioners tabled the item.

Commissioners also took action on the following items:

Laird Says Air Strikes To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today conceded that American bombs may have struck the French diplomatic mission in Hanoi, but said U.S. air strikes against North Vietnam will continue even as private peace talks go on in Paris.

On the basis of preliminary reports, Laird said, he couldn't state positively whether the damage was caused by a faulty bomb drop or by North Vietnamese anti-aircraft weapons falling back on the city.

Asked at a news conference if he thought it wise to bomb close to Hanoi while peace talks were in a delicate stage, the secretary replied:

"We will continue the use of airpower during this period. The President has stated this on several occasions and we will continue to strike military targets in North Vietnam."

Laird declared, as he has on several occasions, that the U.S. planes strike at only military targets and not at "downtown Hanoi."

Today's targets, he noted, included a railroad marshaling yard and transshipment point three miles from the French diplomatic mission. He called them "significant military target."

"I can assure you the damage is regrettable and we will check into the matter, but on the basis of preliminary pilot reports I can't state whether it was a faulty bomb drop or SAM missiles," Laird said.

Rattlers Roam, So Be Watchful

"It's just the time of year for snakes to be wandering about. There's nothing unusual about it."

Spokesmen from three veterinary offices here made this statement in regard to the increasing number of reports of pets bitten by rattlesnakes.

Two local veterinarians, who treat primarily small animals, report that they have treated a combined number of about 13 dogs who have been snake bit in the last month.

"However, this is the time of year when the snakes are wandering, seeking a place to hibernate for the winter. They wander again in the spring," one vet stated.

A vet who treats primarily large animals reported there have also been a large number of snake bites to cattle and horses during the past month.

Residents who reside near weedy vacant lots are urged to caution their children about snakes and urge them to stay off the lots during the weeks before real cold weather arrives.

MAKING DECISIONS TOUGH Tests Show Vols Who Smoke Pot Suffer Sleep Problems

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Human volunteers who smoked marijuana under laboratory conditions suffered sleep problems and impairment of decision-making, a preliminary study here shows.

Dr. Ernest Barratt of the University of Texas Medical Branch stressed the conclusions drawn from the study were still preliminary. "We still have a lot more to learn."

Marijuana was smoked regularly by 14 young male adults—all prior users and some holding responsible professional positions—for 10 days at a time.

LESS AGGRESSIVE

The drug caused a decrease in heavy sleep of the users, Barratt said, about mid-way through the 10-day period. The decrease continued for several days after they quit.

During the period, he said, the men experienced behavioral changes. Most were physically tired the morning after having smoked marijuana and they were generally less alert and less aggressive about coping with their jobs and other routine.

Dr. Barratt said he felt the disruption of the heavy sleep—known as Stage 4—was important because it is considered the period of rest most vital to the rebuilding process of the human body.

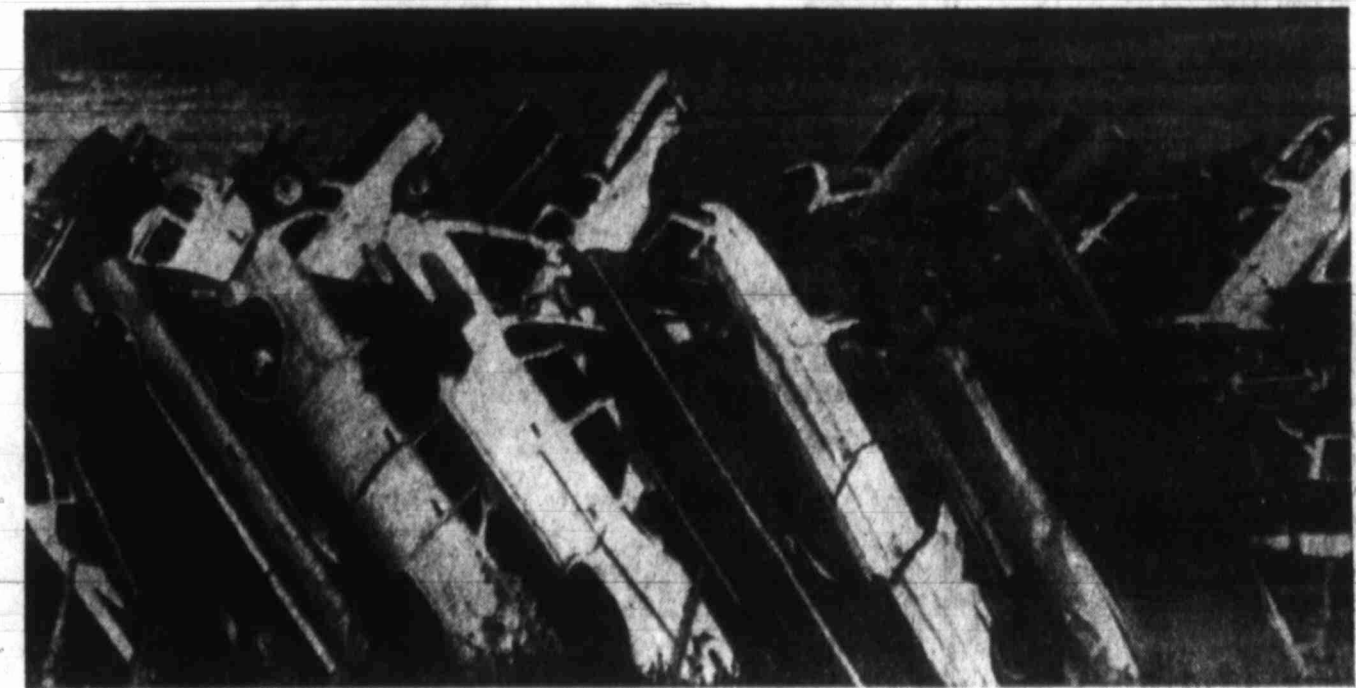

Barratt, research professor of neurology and psychiatry at the university, said the 14 subjects ranging in age from 21 to 27 would report to the laboratory every night, smoke a prescribed dose of marijuana and go to bed in research quarters where technicians monitored the sleep patterns.

NEXT DAY

The men were awakened about 6 a.m., various tests were done, and they each related how "high" they had been the night before, he said. A control group also smoked placebo cigarettes.

"It was interesting to see some of the control subjects report they had sustained 'highs' but they suffered none of the sleep decreases or physical problems the next day.... There was just a psychological and not a physical high," Dr. Barratt said.

Speaker Cites Need Of Vocational Training

The history of vocational training programs, and the need to continue such training, was discussed by Mrs. Wesley Deats when she was speaker at Monday evening's meeting of Potpourri Club in the home of Mrs. Tippy Anderson.

Mrs. Deats is an instructor of business education and vocational technical education at Howard County Junior College.

"As advanced technology creates the need for trained technicians in all fields, the need for vocational skills also increases," said Mrs. Deats. She said the training is needed for students who seek job training and for adults who want to increase their skills or be retrained for a better position.

"Only two of every 10 students in school today will complete college," said Mrs. Deats. "The remaining eight students need training in a field of productive labor where they can earn a living and serve the community as well."

It was announced an "after-the-game" party will be held Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Deats, 702 Tulane.

Cohostesses will be Mrs. Noel Hull and Mrs. John Richard Coffee.

Members will furnish cakes for the geriatric ward at Big Spring State Hospital for the annual Christmas party. The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 13 in the home of Mrs. Gerald Harris.

'Frontier Night' Activities Slated At Webb NCO Club This Month

Two members of Big Spring Square Dancing Club will demonstrate the dance during "Frontier Night," Oct. 20 at Webb Air Force Base Non-Commissioned Officers Open Mess. The announcement was made at an NCO Wives Club meeting Tuesday at the club.

Other events scheduled by the club include a "white elephant" sale Oct. 24 at the club, and the "birthday" money collected by members throughout the year will be used to provide refreshments. Members also agreed to bake cakes for a "cake walk" Oct. 31 at the John H. Lees Service Club.

Mrs. Don Murphy and Mrs. Lawrence R. Seabolt will serve refreshments at Veterans Administration Hospital Friday. The club's annual children's Christmas party is scheduled Dec. 17 at the club with Mrs. Louis Rodriguez and Mrs. Charles Majors handling arrangements.

In other business, $50 was allotted to the VA Hospital Christmas fund, and $20 was allotted to Big Spring State

'Operation Santa Claus' Underway At Hospital

Mrs. Marple Cutright of Sand Springs presented geriatric patients at Big Spring State Hospital with eight hand-made quilted lap robes recently that were made by women of the Sand Springs Church of Christ.

Mrs. Larson Lloyd, volunteer coordinator at the hospital, said response to requests for participation in "Operation Santa Claus" has been good. The project provides Christmas gifts for patients, donated by individuals and organizations. She said $300 has been received. Gifts are to be at the hospital by Nov. 1 so gift-wrapping can begin. Shoe boxes and junior-size baby food jars are needed for packaging.

Mrs. Lloyd said patients are trying to start a rhythm band and any type of musical instrument is needed such as tamborines, wrist bells and rhythm sticks. Anyone desiring further information may call the volunteer office at 267-8216, Ext. 308.

Voters In Snyder OK Sales Tax

SNYDER — Snyder voters went to bat for a city sales tax here Tuesday, approving by a margin of over 3-to-1 a proposal to impose a one-percent levy on sales made within the city. The margin was 814 to 248.

K. O. Pitner, city secretary, said the tax would officially take effect in April.

Snyder voters turned down a similar proposition five years ago.

City officials had proposed the sales tax as an alternative to increasing the property tax.

Bitter Taste

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My father is 71 and has rather severe arteriosclerosis. He also has gout.

His main complaint, however, is a persistent bitterness in the mouth. It has been present for many months. He describes it as "bitter as gall" and says it is getting worse.

His doctors say they do not know the cause, seem almost unwilling to discuss it with him, and imply that it might be psychosomatic.

Is this a common condition? Might it have a correctable physical cause? — H.C.M.

Common? Quite. Alteration in taste in older folks is not unusual, most prevalently a salty or bitter taste.

When your father's doctors say they don't know the cause, they are being frank. We don't know, although there are some suspicions.

It is known that there is an appreciable decrease in the number of taste buds in the tongue as we grow older. It is also possible — perhaps probable — that in some cases mild strokes or some alteration in the nerve pathway dealing with taste may be involved.

However, let's talk plain talk. There isn't very much that can be done to correct this problem. Perhaps one important goal is to assure the patient it isn't a sign of some evil disease creeping up on him. Worry may cause more misery than the symptom itself.

I can make two suggestions, by no means promising that either will work for you. But sometimes they help. Poor nutrition can be a factor in some cases; so a potent mixed vitamin supplement may be worth a trial. Second suggestion: breathing with the mouth open is a fairly common habit in the elderly, and dryness of the mouth can distort sense of taste. Does that apply in your father's case?

Oh, and one more thought. Taste perversion may be related to smoking. Does that apply?

Sometimes sucking a hard lime or lemon candy will help. Dear Dr. Thosteson: I've been drinking two spoonfuls of apple cider vinegar in hot water each morning because I thought it was good for me. Now someone has told me that much vinegar is bad for the heart. Please comment. — Mrs. E.T.

It's not bad for the heart — but it doesn't do any good, either.

Dear Doctor: I have asked persons suffering from severe arthritis and all have said they were heavy meat-eaters. Would a person who ate very little meat be less likely to be afflicted? — C.S.

No. For one classic example, bones show that even the ancient dinosaurs had arthritis, and those huge creatures were not meat-eaters.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read your booklet on diverticulosis, but am wondering why the bulges in the intestine, if there are only a couple, cannot be removed by surgery. — Mrs. A.H.

They can — that is, a section of the intestine can be removed. One does not snip off the individual bulges. It's major surgery, and in most cases the trouble can be kept under control without surgery. Put it this way: you wouldn't amputate a toe because the toe was sore. But if the toe (for example) were gangrenous, then you would.

House Votes To Give Nixon Power To Hold Back Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted to give President Nixon authority to hold back appropriations at his discretion and confine government spending through June 30 to $250 billion.

Nixon had pressed hard for the authority, saying it would ensure that no tax increase will be needed next year. But the bill faces possible trouble in the Senate.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee, who set a tentative hearing on the measure this afternoon, opposes the broad authority it would give the President, as does Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

It was that question of authority over government spending which dominated the House debate and pitted some of its most prominent Democrats against each other.

House approval by a 221-163 vote Tuesday was a triumph for the President, who issued a statement saying, "The nation's taxpayers are the real winners in this action to provide insurance against any need for a tax increase."

The measure contains two sections. The disputed one authorizes the President to hold government spending for the current fiscal year to a maximum of $250 billion and gives him the power, regardless of any other laws, to choose where reductions will be made.

The other section raises the present $450-billion debt ceiling to $465 billion through June 30. If Congress does not act on the

The run of a long suit is one of declarer's most effective weapons in exerting pressure on his opponents. The defenders are often induced into discarding errors which prove fatal to their cause. South was able to effect a legitimate vise against West in today's hand which forced the latter to first part with the potential setting trick and then finally to lend an assisting hand in the fulfillment of declarer's six heart contract.

When South's one heart response received a direct raise by the opening bidder, the former decided to probe for slam by rebidding three clubs. Note that if he had been bent only on reaching game, he could have proceeded directly to four hearts without first showing his support for partner's suit.

North's three diamond call was a cue bid designating first round control of that suit. This was all South needed to hear since he had second round control of spades, so he proceeded directly to six hearts.

West opened the king of diamonds on which dummy played the ace. It appears that South's contract hinges on finding an even division of the outstanding clubs. Declarer observed that he might survive an adverse break, however, if West held the long clubs and the ace of spades in which case the latter will experience difficulty in retaining all of his assets if sufficient pressure is applied against him.

Since South had nothing to lose by running trumps first, he proceeded to cash out seven rounds of hearts. West's first four discards were the six of diamonds, the six of spades, the ten of diamonds and the queen of spades. North parted with two spades and the deuce of diamonds. This was the position when declarer was down to his last trump:

NORTH

♦ Void

♣ K Q 5 3

WEST EAST

♠ A ♠ 10 9

♥ Void ♥ Void

♦ Q ♦ J 8

♣ J 8 7 6 ♣ 10 2

SOUTH

♠ J

When the three of hearts was led, West was obliged to discard the queen of diamonds if he was to retain his protection in both black suits. The steady flow of diamonds and spades from his left hand opponent, made it clear to declarer that West held a stopper in clubs. He therefore threw the three of clubs from (dummy inasmuch as the threat was no longer required).

The jack of spades put West in with the ace, but since he was out of diamonds, the forced return of a club put South back in to score the last four tricks with the ace, king, queen of clubs and the king of spades on which declarer disposed of his losing diamond.

Machine Salvaged By Inspection

Commissioner Jack Watkins found what ails the city's check signer, saving the city about $800.

Scheduled for Commission action in Tuesday's regular meeting was a request for permission to advertise for bids for the purchase of a new check signer.

The one formerly in use was no longer operable. Watkins announced in the meeting had inspected the machine and found a plate and screws missing which could be replaced for about $10.

The item was discarded from the agenda.

Inflation's Ugly Head

Both businesses and consumers have reason for glumness as they survey the outlook for prices and profits 1973 and beyond. The devil of inflation is very much in evidence.

The ultimate effect of wage and price controls is now becoming clear. It is expressed in the word "profits." Optimists among us thought that wage and price controls would not affect profits directly. Now, as the Price Commission has made plain to the automobile industry, price increases are being tied directly to a company's profit history. This has come as a nasty shock to the auto industry, whose executives thought it would be sufficient merely to justify price increases on the grounds of such added cost factors as pollution control and better bumper protection features.

The average consumer must be puzzled. President Nixon has promised not to ask for new taxation in 1973 if he is re-elected. Yet the federal government is operating at a peacetime record deficit of approximately $35 billion. If this deficit is not cut by drastic economies or by new or added taxation inflation will surely resume its upward spiral sometime next year.

Consumers, too, are worried about escalating food prices. They find it difficult to understand why price controls are not applied at the producer level, the farm and the ranch. Food, after all, is the major item in most household budgets.

The administration's reluctance to apply controls at the producer level is understandable only to those who realize that a veritable army of bureaucrats would be needed to enforce price controls at that level. But the average consumer is not concerned with the technical problems, only in a result which controls the rising price of food.

In the beginning it was pleasant to pretend that controls can be applied selectively. But as time goes on it becomes apparent that the process must be a seamless web. All prices and wages must be controlled if a program is to be successful.

Unfortunate Result

Through oversight, apparently, thousands of elderly Americans are being denied benefits of the recently approved increase in Social Security payments. Instead, many of them actually will suffer, not gain, from it.

The reason is Social Security payments are considered by states — including Texas — in determining eligibility for state welfare payments to the elderly. So the 20 per cent Social Security increase has moved many Texans above the income line which determines eligibility for old-age assistance payments. So their state checks will either be eliminated or cut.

The next, inevitable step, is an examination of profits — all profits. It is a most painful subject for business and industry, because the question will ultimately be asked: What is a fair profit? Who is to answer that question?

We can't have the best of two worlds. Without complete economic controls inequities and distortions become evident, leading to abandonment because of public dissatisfaction. But without controls inflation at this point in history might become catastrophic. The choice may become one of complete controls or runaway inflation, not a little of both.

Moreover, the increase affects eligibility for Medicaid payments. In cases where the increase lifts recipients above the eligibility limit, it means an end to Medicaid support — and thus recipients are worse off, since the increase comes nowhere near meeting their medical expenses previously covered by Medicaid.

That's a cruel surprise for the Social Security pensioners. And certainly it could not have been the intent of Congress to aid state treasuries instead of Social Security recipients. A bill to rectify the mistake is under consideration in Congress. It should be quickly passed, and made retroactive.

Is it true that the divorce rate is lower among Christians than others? P.R.

In a recent survey it was found that only one divorce in every 57 marriages took place where the family attended church regularly. The national average is one out of four. But think of it — only one divorce in every 57 marriages took place where the family were regular attendants at church! It was also found that only one divorce in 500 marriages took place where there was regular Bible reading and prayer in the home. Bible reading and prayer in the family group is the simplest form of worship.

This amazing survey gives us two significant facts — first, that divorces in America are mostly among non-religious people, and that a Christian home is the best possible insurance against a broken home.

A home is like a solar system. The thing which holds the solar system together is the fact that a great sun is in its center. If it were not for the sun, or solar system would fly to pieces. Unless the Son of the living God, the Lord Jesus Christ, is put at the center of your home, it too will fly to pieces. The reason one out of every four marriages falls apart is that at the center there is no Son. Make the Son of God the center of your home, and most of the other problems will take care of themselves.

P-E Ratio Rehashed

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Which is the better investment: A company with a price-earnings ratio of 35 or one with a P-E of 7?

It could be either. A lot of factors other than P-E, which is the ratio of a stock's price to the company's earnings per share, determine the quality of an investment.

An understanding of the P-E ratio is especially pertinent today, now that it has been added to the stock market tables carried by many newspapers.

The P-E ratio, related to other information, offers a concise insight into the possible merits of an investment. It is an essential ingredient, a pointer. It is used by analysts, quoted by brokers.

All things are relative in the securities markets, however, and the P-E takes on significance mainly in relation to other factors within the company, the industry and the economy. It is, in effect, an invitation to further study.

A textbook used by brokerage houses in training employees states flatly: "A high and rising price-earnings ratio is a sign of strength."

But, as is demonstrated regularly, the truth might be found in precisely the opposite conclusion. The high P-E might result from a badly inflated opinion of the company's future. It is a common enough occurrence.

Some companies, for example, attract more attention than others. They may be glamorous; they make an exotic or essential product, publicize their achievements and grow swiftly.

Inspired by this aura, investors are willing to pay a higher price per share for a piece of a company with such bright prospects. They bid up the price — and with it, of course, the price-earnings ratio.

"This isn't the work only of individual investors. The big institutions — the pension and mutual funds, the trusts and insurance companies — sometimes have a tendency to share a high opinion of the same stock."

From time to time, however, there come reassessments. The company's profits might not grow as fast as had been anticipated. The product might be found to have flaws. Or it might simply be that the industry has fallen out of fashion.

As was learned in the price collapses of 1969-1970, P-E ratios can become badly distorted. And so, if unrelated to other facts and events, the ratio is not always a reliable guide.

Company A is a 40-year-old firm with sales of $500 million a year, growing at 4 to 5 per cent a year. It has always been profitable and, in fact, has been paying dividends at the rate of 6.8 per cent a year.

Company B is a seven-year-old firm with sales of $50 million a year, growing at a rate of 15 per cent a year. For three years it failed to return a profit, but has been in the black for the past five. It pays no dividends.

Company A conceivably could have a P-E ratio of 7 because, in effect, it attracts and rewards investors by its high dividend rather than great growth. Company B might have a 35 P-E, based solely on future expectations.

There is also a matter of perspective involved with the P-E. The current figure is based on past performance — it is the number of times earnings for the latest 12-month period, the most significant factual basis for the calculation.

That too calls for some explanation. The market always looks ahead. It projects rather than looks back. It is necessary, therefore, to relate that P-E to anticipations.

The Teacher

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

The first time I saw Wendell Bedichek was in the hallway of one of the top floors of the brand new Settles Hotel. He was managing editor of The Herald; I was a journalism student home for the summer. He had heard of me through my father, a grocer, and when a sudden vacancy occurred, Beddy asked for me to come to his room.

BEING SUMMONED to meet the managing editor in a room in the Settles was heady stuff, but when he offered me a job for the remainder of the summer I felt higher than the hotel.

My predecessor, who happened to be The Herald's only reporter, gave me the works for one day, showing me all the offices, introducing me to so many people I could hardly remember anyone, and how to check the public records. And then he was gone, and everything got all mixed up, and those wonderful ideas I had about stories vanished like vapor.

TALK ABOUT green and scared! I'm sure Beddy knew it, but he never let on that he thought I was anything but a journeyman reporter. I was told to cover the courthouse, city hall, chamber of commerce, and anything else that I could find, and I dared not come back to the office without something. In my spare time I got to write some sports and for a special edition.

Beddy had his hands plenty full, trying to stretch the daily "pony" wire report into a full length story, catching the bulk of local news (in spite of what I thought I was doing). Besides, he wrote a daily column, "Home Town Talk," edited the paper, and attended to a lot of civic work.

HE WAS a left-handed and a tobacco chewer from way back and frequently dispaired of my chances in newspapering because I was neither. He used his wastebasket for a cuspidor and cursed the day he embraced the tobacco habit when he had to fish out a lost copy. He was fast and sharp as a tack, and he peered out from under sticks of blonde hair and over his steel rim glasses through small brown eyes. He talked in low modulated phrases that sounded like they were squirted around a cud, whether he had one in his jaw or not.

HE GOT me straightened out right away on mixing names and misspelling them; he untangled my crossbreeding of the public records and patiently explained which office handled what records, and what specific records meant, and to make darn sure that there was a charge actually filed when a name was used. Once I almost committed a gross libel because of similarity of names and not keeping my head in the game, and I got a dramatic lesson from the ME that I never forgot.

HE GAVE me no quarter, and I dared ask for none. One day I got a tip from the sheriff's office that a whiskey still under a place on the north side had been knocked over. I rushed to get the details, then had to make a decision about ordering a photographer since I couldn't get hold of Beddy. Then came a flash that a policeman had been shot at the west edge of town, and I hurried to the hospital to intercept his weeping family and learned he was dead.

STILL NO Beddy, and then came word that a lad, pouring gasoline down an ant hill, had been swatched in flames by the exploding mixture. And so I rushed to that, and then back to the courthouse to check on the bootlegging charges in order to file with AP (that was news in those days), and to check on the capture of the policeman's assailant and charges against him, and back to the hospital to check on the critically injured lad.

IT WAS nearing sundown when I got back to the hot, steamy office and found Beddy. My first impulse was to give him a piece of lip for being gone when I needed him, but he peeked over the glasses, mumbled "you did fine, by golly," and arched a stream of juice into the wastebasket. He had been following me, out of sight, all afternoon.

You never forget a teacher like that, God rest his soul, and I like to think maybe he never forgot his "boy" in newspapering.

No Projection

Marquis Childs

NEW YORK — In this state with its prize of 41 electoral votes where Sen. George McGovern has been campaigning so intensively, two handicaps he labors under are painfully evident. The first derives from the costly backing and filling, the on-again-off-again uncertainty that followed his triumphs in the primaries and the Eagleton disaster.

THE HIGH COST of that slippage in time is shown by the reaction of a group of distinguished medical men who had wanted to see McGovern on the way to making effective use of the issue of medical care in the campaign. They had been recruited by Max Palevsky, a big-money McGovern contributor and theoretically in charge of issues before he opted out as a result of staff rivalries.

The fantastic rise in the cost of health care — a major illness can be ruinous to a middle-income family — was an issue with the widest possible voter appeal. How to present a workable program demonstrating that the upward spiral can be brought under control? Dean Paul A. Marks of the Columbia University Medical School assembled a committee of doctors from around the country. Devoting precious spare time and energy, they outlined a proposal for expanded government medical and hospital care that would put supplementary costs within reach of the average family.

THERE HAS thus far been no effort to project a constructive plan into the political dialogue. Issues such as health care that touch every citizen are lost sight of as the Democratic campaign concentrates on attacking President Nixon and promising rewards to particular voting segments — the Poles, the Italians, Catholics, Jews.

The second handicap gets down to McGovern's temperament and character. A remark by one of his principal public image advisers is revealing. We tried, he said, at the start to get George to take voice and speech coaching. But he turned us down because he didn't want to have anything artificial or false about his campaign.

HIS DELIVERY on the stump is monotonous, seldom varied from a tone of earnest idealism interspersed with barbs hurled at the corrupt Nixon Administration. On a one-to-one basis he is persuasive and convincing.

IN HIS TWO campaigns for the presidency Adlai Stevenson promised to talk sense to the American people. His good sense on a score of issues availed him little running against a national hero already enshrined in the American pantheon. But it was the kind of sense that lives today as part of a political heritage rarely marked by excellence.

IT IS PERHAPS too much to ask a presidential candidate hard pressed on the short end of the polls to take a stand for nobility of purpose and good sense. Whatever influence it might have on the voters on Nov. 7, and if the Stevenson precedent meant anything it could be precious little, he would have a better chance for an honorable place in history. The man from South Dakota, the populist, the idealist, is having his first go with the big time and he is finding it rough indeed.

Can A Cantor Belt Out Rock?

TORONTO (AP) — The use of folk rock at Jewish religious services was discussed at the 19th American Conference of Cantors held here.

Revisions in the wedding service, music attractive to youth and other ways of adapting traditional religion to the changing times were topics of debate.

Cantor Howard Stahl, a recent graduate of Hebrew Union College in New York, called the use of rock music "a gimmick."

But, said Stahl in an interview, "It's a holding pattern to get them into the synagogues — then you've got a fighting chance."

A Devotion For Today..

This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it. (Psalm 118:24)
PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, for this new day. We receive it with joy and by Thy help determine to make it a good day. In the name of Him who taught us to say when we pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

(From the "Upper Room")

Will Stay Home

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Nixon made it crystal clear in a press conference last week that he doesn't intend to become involved in any personal clashes with his opponents and plans also to spend as much time on his tasks at the White House as he feels is necessary. He said, for instance:

"MY OWN prediction is that after talking to our own leaders and after hearing from some responsible Democrats in the House and Senate, that even though the Congress will probably send to my desk in the next two or three weeks a number of bills that will substantially exceed the budget, and that would result in a congressional tax increase, I think my vetoes of those bills will be sustained and that will make it possible for me to keep my commitment for no tax increase. That shows one of the reasons why it is important for me to stay on the job here in Washington until the Congress adjourns."

"NOW, ONCE the Congress leaves, or once I see that danger passing, then I can make plans to go into various parts of the country."

The President added that, if he has to choose between "engaging in all of the spectaculars of a campaign" and "staying on the job and doing something that would result in avoiding a tax increase for the American people," he will certainly remain at the White House.

In answer to questions, Mr. Nixon took occasion to emphasize his position on some of the principal issues. He declared that he is against forced busing, against massive increases in spending that would require a tax rise, and against a cut in our defenses by $30 billion which would make us second to the Soviet Union. He called attention also to the domestic proposals which had been set forth by him in more detail in the State of the Union message for 1972.

THE PRESIDENT said that a new Congress might be more responsive on the busing issue if the present Congress doesn't act on the legislation now before it. If, however, Congress doesn't pass the anti-busing bill, he feels that a constitutional amendment would be a natural alternative.

ON THE QUESTION of the possibility of a settlement in Vietnam before the election, the President declared that the negotiations in Paris are at a "sensitive stage." He would not predict whether or when they might succeed, as he did not want any public statements made that could have a detrimental effect.

IN ANSWER to a query about the bombing in North Vietnam, Mr. Nixon asserted:

"I will only say that the bombing and mining was essential to turn around what was a potentially disastrous situation in South Vietnam. The back of the enemy offensive has been broken. They hold no provincial capitals now at all. This could not have been accomplished without the mining and the bombing, and the mining and the bombing will continue, of course, until we get some agreements on the negotiating front."

Those Were The Days

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the best monument.

Time erodes it but little, air pollution does, not stain it, storms do not chip it away, and the idle malice of empty minds cannot deface it with aimless scrawlings.

Yes, our memories endure, as few things do, comparatively changeless. If they do weather at all, it is for the better, as passion is replaced by compassion, and with the passage of the years the past wears a kinder aspect than when it first confronted us when our days were all still new.

You are host to many memories yourself "if you can look back and remember when—"

Back in 1921, a forgotten group known as the Committee of Fourteen solemnly reported that New York City had less open crime than any other big city in the world.

That same year Warren G. Harding became the first president to put a radio in the White House.

You could write your congressman and get back a free packet of garden seeds.

One of the excuses a small boy could give his teacher for being tardy was the claim he couldn't find his shoe buttoner.

A heart patient was warned that, above all, he must avoid exercise. On the other hand, some doctors still thought that tuberculosis patients could benefit by going horseback riding in winter.

Every small town had at least one haunted house — and one haunted mind, known by all as the village idiot.

You had to guess what time it was if you were out of sight of the county courthouse clock.

It was hard to tell which was the best-dressed man in town during the work week — the banker or the undertaker.

More grownups than teenagers wore blue jeans. Newlyweds bought twin beds and wondered how their parents had put up with sleeping in a double bed for a lifetime.

Today they buy king-size beds so they can be alone while together.

One of the memorable shocks of a young boy's life was to stumble into the parental bedroom and see his red-faced father struggling to lace his mother into a tight corset before they went out to a fancy ball.

All the electric lights were in the towns and cities. All the kerosene lamps burned in farm windows.

Some old-fashioned communities, fearful of the traffic hazards created by that new-fangled monster, the motor car, passed laws limiting the speed of these vehicles to four miles an hour.

People whose lips had never touched liquor before took to drinking during prohibition just because when it became illegal it also became the smart thing to do.

Those were the days — remember?

New Censorship

ANKARA (AP) — A parliamentary committee approved a strict new censorship law that prohibits films depicting threats to the military, the constitution, public morals, public health, national security and public order. It also forbids films that provoke racial or class struggle, insult religious or national feelings or encourage criminal behavior.

More Colorful Highway Signs Are Due In State

International highway signs are leaning toward the picturesque. Already up on the highways in Europe and Mexico are a new international set of signs that feature pictures that are intended to clarify the sign for persons who do not understand the language or cannot read.

America's signs, on the other hand, would be absolutely no help to those who cannot read. For instance, "NO Left Turn." So — the international signs say NO left turn and then show an arrow going left with a red line slanting through it meaning, "No, no, no." And a sign which says no trucks with a picture of a truck with a line through it. A sign that says "Slippery When Wet" shows a car slipping around that might get confused in the language break-down with drunken driving.

The hill sign shows a truck going down a hill and the deer crossing is changed to a deer with a deer silhouette leaping into the air. The deer can't read either one.

One of the new signs that might not surpass the language problem is one that says H for hospital. It's possible that the H might be thought to be two highways with a bypass in between.

Service signs include pictures of trailers in camping areas and telephones near public telephones.

Officials at the local state highway department indicate that they have been given several years to get the signs changed and that, in the beginning, they will probably be changed on a replacement basis only.

One target date for the changeover is Dec. 31. For a while, the picture signs will be placed above worded signs that drivers are already used to viewing.

Gradually, the changeover will switch to mostly picture signs. If the signs can be universal throughout the world and geared to overcome the language barrier, it's possible that highway sign language will really become a universal language.

County Stock In State Fair

Next week, 15 Howard County 4-H Club members plan to show barrows and two plan to show steers at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

Around 700 or 800 barrows and 400 or 500 steers will be shown Oct. 18 and 19.

Knott 4-H Club members showing barrows include: Danny Peugh, Patty Peugh, Stacy Parker, Summer Shaw, Cindy Shaw and Van Gaskins.

From Gay Hill 4-H are hogs raised by Sid and Dana Westbrook. Dirk Perry of the Lomax group is showing a barrow, and Danny Johnson's barrow will represent the Big Spring Northridge club.

The Lucky Acres 4-H Club in Big Spring is sending barrows raised by Brent Nichols, Bret Griffith and Bart Griffith.

Donna and Guy James of the Goshoma 4-H Club are both showing barrows, also.

Taking steers to Dallas are Mary Kaye and Jill Hunt, both of the Knott club.

TEEN FORUM

BRIEFLY: (Q:) A friend and I met these guys from Texas and we think we like them an awful lot. They were only here from Tuesday night till Wednesday morning. We can't believe it's love at first sight, because we aren't the kind of girls to go overboard the first time we meet a guy.

It wouldn't be quite so bad if we knew they liked us. It would be different if they were nearer. They both asked us to write them. We are now awaiting an answer from them. In our letters we tried not to show our feelings too much.

We know that if it is God's will we may meet them again. The problem is what now. None of the boys around here interest us. — Sherry and Pam in Alabama.

(A:) You do not have to do anything at the moment. You are waiting for letters that may not come, or that may not be as exciting as you anticipate if they do come.

Many times teen-agers have experiences such as you have had. A few of the many, many times the experiences prove to be the real thing.

TALK: (Q:) This guy used to like me, but at that time he just didn't turn me on. I really like him now, but I saw him with another girl.

I really have to talk to him. Would it be stupid to write him a letter, or call him, or stop in where he works? I wouldn't let him know I came by just to see him. I just have to see him somewhere! Help! — Changed in Connecticut.

(A:) Your best idea is to stop in where your friend works, if it is in a store or other public place where people come and go to shop or do other business.

Do not try to talk with him at any length while he is at work. If he seems friendly, ask him to call you on the telephone.

Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, c/o the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 262, Big Spring, Texas 77611.

TAYLOR UNABLE TO GO FOR TWO ON PLAY — Detroit Tigers second baseman Tony Taylor is upended by the sliding Gene Tenace after Tenace was forced at second by Tim Cullen in the ninth inning of the Oakland A's-Detroit Tigers playoff game in Detroit Tuesday. Tenace walked, then Cullen grounded to Tiger shortstop Dick McAuliffe who flipped to Taylor for the forceout. Detroit won the game 3-0 for their first win in the series.

BLASS, GULLETT TO START

Showdown Tilt For Bucs, Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates turned confidently toward reliable Steve Blass, while the Cincinnati Reds had to go with young and comparably inexperienced Don Gullett today in their showdown game for the 1972 National League pennant.

"I've got to like my chances with Blass," said Bill Virdon, manager of the Eastern Division champion Pirates.

Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson spoke more cautiously about the 22-year-old Gullett, who spent most of the season wracked with hepatitis and didn't make the starting rotation until mid-August.

"I look for Gullett to pitch like he did from the second inning in the first game of the series," said Anderson.

Gullett lost 5-1 to Blass in the first game, giving up three runs in the first inning and two more in the fifth during his six-inning stint. Anderson figures that Gullett had playoff jitters and will be more in control today.

Cincinnati forced the best-of-five series into the fifth and deciding game by trouncing the Pirates 7-1 Tuesday behind the two-hit pitching of young Ross Grimsley. The Reds stole three bases, hit and ran, and took advantage of three Pittsburgh errors.

Virdon had a right to be smug about his apparent pitching advantage for the final game. Blass won two games for Pittsburgh in last year's World Series victory over Baltimore, the Eastern Division pennant-clincher this season, and the first game of this playoff series.

The 30-year-old right-hander was 19-8 this season, while Gullett posted a 9-10 record as the Reds easily won the National League West title. Gullett missed at least six weeks of the season and spent another month or so working himself back into shape.

Ironically, Pirates' catcher Manny Sanguillen and left fielder Rennie Stennett, heroes of the Pirates' 3-2 third game victory were the goats of Tuesday's defeat. The Reds ran wild on the bases on Sanguillen, while Stennett lost two fly balls in the sun.

Pittsburgh's problems started in the first inning when Sanguillen threw into centerfield as Johnny Bench stole second. Bobby Tolan scored on the error. In the fourth, Gene Alley dropped a pop fly along the foul line in short left field allowing Bench to score. Alley then compounded the mistake by throwing wildly in trying to get Bench at the plate, allowing the batter, Cesar Geronimo, to reach third from where he scored on a single.

Cincinnati boosted its lead to 5-0 in the sixth on a double by Denis Menke, an infield out, an intentional walk, another stolen base, Grimsley's run-scoring single and an RBI hunt by Pete Rose.

Coleman Sets Mark

Tiger Hurler Strikes Out 14 A's

DETROIT (AP) — Although little extra in the fourth inning, cracking a low, inside fast ball by Ken Holtzman through the box for a bases-loaded, two-run single. Detroit had loaded the bases on a walk to Al Kaline, a double by Bill Freehan, and a walk to Willie Horton.

"No, it wasn't a bold move," Martin said of the insertion of Brown into the starting lineup at first base. "He is used to playing in and out."

"It was beautiful," Brown said of the hit. "I think it was the biggest hit of my career because it might have turned things around for us."

"I think it's pretty tough to be in the play like that because I didn't get to play much the last three weeks of the season," Brown said. "I think I only pinch hit three times."

Coleman was another Tiger who reached back for a little extra, establishing his rhythm with a good fast ball, then coming in with his favorite pitch—the fork ball.

The previous playoff strikeout record was 12, set by Baltimore's Jim Palmer in 1970 against Minnesota.

"No manager has an excuse for losing when he has a Mickey Lolich and Woodie Fryman in that order at home," said Martin, who will send Fryman to the mound on Thursday should the Tigers win today.

Before Tuesday's game, Martin held a short team meeting. "It was no rah, rah job," he explained. "I just said we should have won the first game, we didn't play well in the second, and now we need to reach back for that little extra."

Brown reached back for that extra. "We're still ahead, two games to one."

"We had more opportunities but we didn't get the hit. It wasn't for lack of trying. Give Coleman credit for that. He was tough when he had to be."

THOMS EARNS 'LINEMAN' HONORS

Hill Named 'Back Of Week'

DALLAS (AP) — Halfback Calvin Hill doesn't cock his arm often for the world champion Dallas Cowboys, but if he does the enemy safety had best be on the ball.

The Yale graduate who was a quarterback in high school has passed 10 times in his four-year National Football League career, completed five, and recorded three touchdowns.

Hill's ability to throw the

Raider Tackle Captures Award

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was a great time to do it—on national television," Art Thoms of Oakland observed. "My mom and dad must have been going nuts at home."

The Raiders' defensive tackle had Houston going nuts Monday night, to the obvious displeasure of the Oilers' fans who had to sit through a 34-0 beating. Thoms was instrumental both in enabling the Raiders to roll up the score and in keeping Houston off the Astrodome scoreboard.

For his outstanding individual performance, the 6-foot-5, 250-pounder was selected today as The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Thoms overshadowed showings by Buffalo middle line-backer Ken Lee, Kansas City safety Mike Sensibaugh and St. Louis defensive back Roger Wehrli.

Thoms made six unassisted tackles and helped out on at least eight others. He also blocked two Skip Butler field goal attempts and deflected a pair of Dan Pastorini passes, both of which wound up as interceptions.

"It's the best game I've had for thing like that," said the fourth-year pro from Syracuse, the Raiders' No. 1 choice in the 1969 collegiate draft.

halfback pass earned him The Associated Press Back of the Week honors for Sunday's performance in which he teamed with Ron Sellers on a 55-yard pass-and-run touchdown over Pittsburgh.

The third quarter bomb gave Dallas a come-from-behind 17-13 victory and kept the Super Bowl champions tied for the lead in the National Conference Eastern Division.

The last time Hill earned National AP honors was as a rookie in 1969 when he threw a touchdown pass.

"I still say the National Football League needs a good black quarterback," Hill joked. "Of course, the pass to Sellers was the only spiral I threw all week. I never could get one to spiral in practice."

Hill also plunged one-yard for a touchdown and gained 108 yards in 23 carries as the injury-plagued Baltimore native flashed the form that made him an overnight sensation as a rookie.

"If he stays healthy, he'll have a tremendous season," says Cowboy Coach Tom Landry. "He runs more bent over now. When he runs straight up, he's a pretty big target."

Hill has been trying to restrain his tendency to hurdle tacklers which resulted in several trips to the sidelines last year to recover from the collisions.

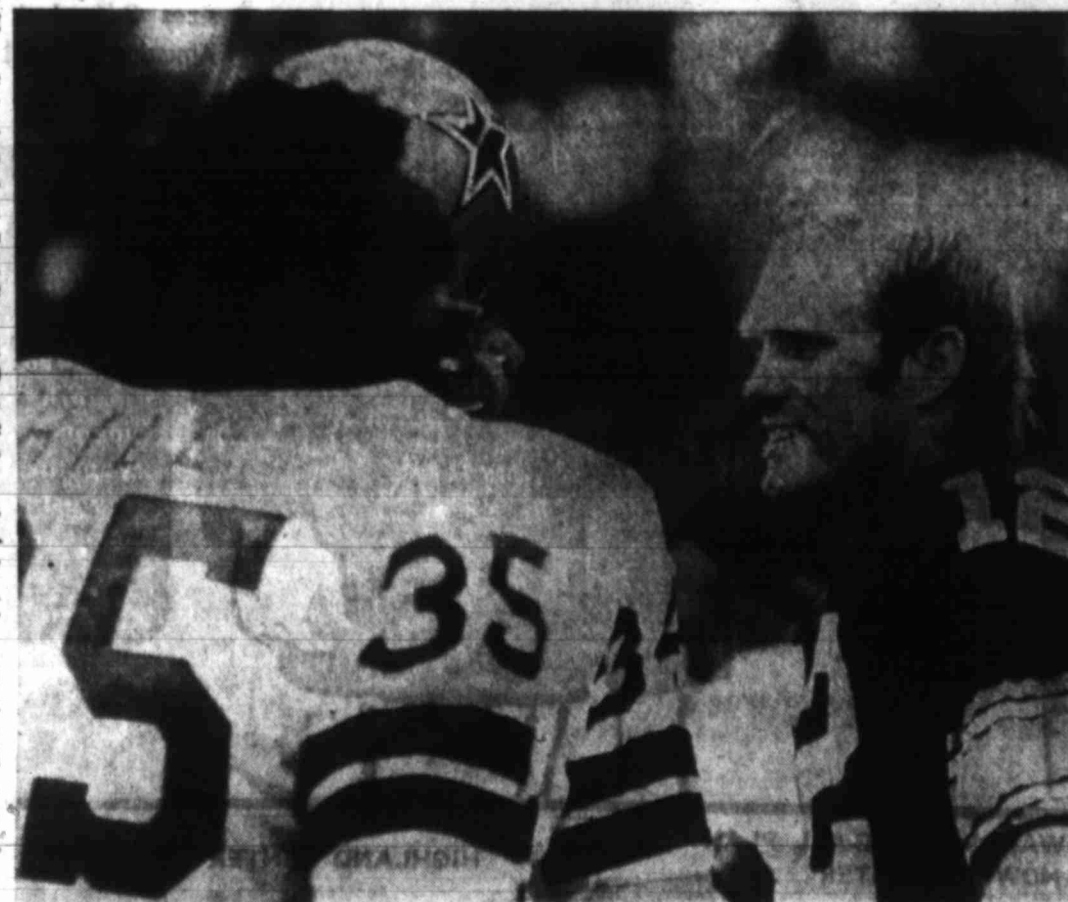

The 6-foot-4, 227-pound Hill, who many observers feel could also be an excellent tight end, snared four passes against the Steelers, giving him 11 catches for the season. His previous high was 20 catches in 1969.

"We haven't tapped his potential as a receiver," said Landry, giving the opposition something else to worry about when Hill is on the field.

But games like Sunday make the Cowboy brass consider the talented Thomas a distant memory.

"All I need to do is stay healthy and everything will take care of itself," Hill said. "The game this week was for my new son (Grant Henry). He was born Thursday and I wanted to do something special for him."

'BACK OF THE WEEK' — Dallas Cowboy running back Calvin Hill (35) was named "Back of the Week" in the National Football League for his performance in the Cowboys' 17-13 win over the Pittsburgh Steelers. 'HORN DEFENSE CONCERNS UT, OU Oklahoma Gets Nod Over Texas

NEW YORK (AP) — You think you've got troubles? We present for your perusal some of the schedules currently confronting some of the nation's major college football teams.

Quarterbacks Share Award

By The Associated Press

Considering that neither came out a winner last Saturday, Coaches Bill Yeoman of Houston and Billy Tohill of Texas Christian found consolation in the little things. "I can't say I'm sorry that Don Strock won't be coming to Houston next season," Yeoman said after Virginia Tech's senior quarterback riddled the Razorbacks for 527 yards on 34 completions in 53 attempts in a 27-27 tie. "You can rest assured we're glad Joe Ferguson's a senior," said Tohill after the Arkansas passing star sparked a second-half rally and lead the Razorbacks to a 27-13 triumph, completing 20 of 32 passes for 304 yards and four touchdowns. Those outstanding performances enabled Strock, of Warwick, Pa., and Ferguson, from Shreveport, La., to share National Back of the Week honors from The Associated Press. Ironically, although Strock's yardage was 27 short of the record of 554 set by Cincinnati's Greg Cook in 1968, he didn't throw a touchdown pass. He did, however, set up three touchdowns and two field goals with his passing and only a pair of fumbles by a running back inside the Houston five-yard line killed two more threats.

of the schedules currently confronting some of the nation's major college football teams.

For instance, Oklahoma and Texas, both ranked in the Top Ten, have their annual skirmish Saturday in Dallas. Next week, Oklahoma faces Colorado and Texas plays Arkansas. "We haven't had to get down on our bellies and crawl yet," says Coach Chuck Fairbanks, noting Oklahoma's romps over Clemson, Utah State and Oregon that have the Sooners leading the nation in total offense and rushing. "The real strength of Texas defense is against a running attack. And they've got as fine an offensive line as I've seen in some time. It's going to be difficult to get the ball away from them," he said.

The Hearing that Fairbanks was concerned about the Texas defense, Darrell Royal, coach of the Longhorns, quipped: "That's two of us. We're getting the ball moved on us quite a bit. And we're probably playing one of the great offensive teams in the history of college football. I just can't tell you how much speed and depth they've got."

"Nuff said ... Oklahoma. Last week's score was 47 right, nine wrong and four ties, for 839, bringing the season's mark to 198-66-8-750.

AUBURN-LSU Auburn at Louisiana State—For the third week in a row, Auburn gets a chance to knock off the team with the nation's longest winning streak. First Tennessee bit the dust; then it was Mississippi. Now, it's ... Louisiana State.

Illinois at Ohio State—Winless Illinois have lost to Michigan State, Southern Cal, Washington and Penn State. Now it's Ohio State. Ohio State.

MSU-MICHIGAN Michigan State at Michigan—Southern Cal, Notre Dame and now Michigan for the harried Spartans, who have had trouble scoring. On the other hand, Michigan has only allowed 23 points in four games. Michigan.

Missouri at Nebraska—Tigers start a three-week stretch against Nebraska, Notre Dame and Colorado, with Oklahoma two weeks later. Nebraska.

Washington at Stanford—The next two games against Stanford and Southern Cal will decide the Huskies' Rose Bowl fate. Washington still has Sonny Sixkiller, a real Indian. Stanford.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Six Razorbacks may not be able to play in Saturday's Southwest Conference game here against Baylor. Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday.

He said defensive tackle David Reavis, safety John Moseley, guard Scott Bannion and center Ron Bevar probably will miss the game due to a variety of knee and foot injuries.

But by the time the procession reached the OU campus, the crowd had swelled to some 3,000.

An added feature of this year's rally to stir up spirit for the Oklahoma-Texas football game Saturday at Dallas was an exhibition jump by eight members of the OU Skydivers Club.

Only a few hundred persons turned out for the parade, which included an appearance by Gov. David Hall.

SUPERSONICS SCORE! — Supersonics Heard Garfield goes up to score in the fourth period of the game between New York Knickerbockers and Seattle at New York's Madison Square Garden Monday night. He was fouled by Knicks' Luther Rackley (23) on the play. The Knicks went on to win, 113-69.

'Big E' Sparks Bullets To Win

By The Associated Press

It can hardly be called conclusive yet, but so far the Big Experiment is working just fine for the Baltimore Bullets.

Elvin Hayes, acquired by Baltimore in the off-season, poured in 18 points, grabbed 23 rebounds and blocked six shots, leading the Bullets to a 102-90 victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers as the National Basketball Association opened its 27th season Tuesday night.

In other openers, the New York Knicks coasted past the Seattle Supersonics 113-89, the Chicago Bulls nipped the Philadelphia 76ers 95-89 and the Atlanta Hawks topped the Buffalo Braves 120-109.

In the major NBA trade of the off-season, the Bullets shipped steady forward Jack Marin to Houston for Hayes, the moody, mercurial pivotman who was the mainstay of the Rockets franchise.

But Baltimore already had a center, a very good one by the name of Wes Unseld. Thus the gamble in the trade: could Hayes and Unseld play well together? Would one complement the other, or would their talents conflict?

Judging from their performance against Cleveland, the gamble looks to be a success.

Hayes, playing center, dominated the backboards. Although he hit on only five of 18 shots from the field, he moved well, played solid defense and blended in smoothly with the Bullets' play.

Unseld, meanwhile, did a strong job at forward, scoring 15 points and putting down 15 rebounds.

The scoring punch for the Bullets came from the backcourt. Rich Rindl, starting in place of holdout Archie Clark, tossed in a career-high 26 points, while Phil Chenier chipped in with 20.

Reynolds Ranks Fourth In Loop Rushing Stats

Earl Reynolds is ranked fourth among the leading rushers of District 5-AAAA after the first week of district competition.

Reynolds picked up 100 yards on nine carries in Big Spring's 34-19 win over Abilene last Friday night.

Alan Davis broke into the top 10 rushers of the district with 13 carries for 45 yards in the Abilene game.

Davis is also sixth in the conference in passing with three completions in four attempts for 69 yards.

Steer receivers Jerry Knoepfel and Ronald McKee are ranked among the league receivers. Knoepfel has one catch for 35 yards, while McKee has 18 yards on one catch.

Davis has a 39.2 yard average for five punts to rank fourth among district punters.

Reynolds is tied for the district scoring lead with three touchdowns for 18 points.

In the team statistics, the Steer defensive unit is ranked third in the district. The Steers allowed Abilene just 64 yards on the ground and only 225 yards through the air. The Steer defenders have been the stingiest in the league against the run.

KBST Slates Pep Rally

A crowd estimated at 750 showed up for a Big Spring High School pep rally staged in front of radio station KBST last Thursday evening.

Supporters of the Steers will shoot for twice that many at 6 p.m. Thursday, at which time the big buildup for the Big Spring-Midland game will start.

The pep squad will be there, as will the band and coaches of the team.

KBST is located at 702 Johnson Street.

The streets will be blocked off while the rally is in program.

Parade Kicks Off OU Rally

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A downtown Norman parade and a campus pep rally kicked off the annual "Beat Texas" activities at the University of Oklahoma Tuesday night.

Only a few hundred persons turned out for the parade, which included an appearance by Gov. David Hall.

But by the time the procession reached the OU campus, the crowd had swelled to some 3,000.

An added feature of this year's rally to stir up spirit for the Oklahoma-Texas football game Saturday at Dallas was an exhibition jump by eight members of the OU Skydivers Club.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: If you try to hold on to a situation that has served its purpose, you can have a series of disappointments follow that can confuse and frustrate you. But if you are alive and alert to sudden events and happenings that occur, you find you have a real chance to gain big headway to some new idea or approach to your interests.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Do nothing to irritate an associate who is vital to your wellbeing, and be cooperative with one who can help you do precisely in personal life. Choose your words carefully, or you find others misinterpret your meaning.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Use good judgment in dealing with one who think a great deal of, but do not rely on your hunches, which are off-base. You can handle all those duties very well, if you use those Venus talents wisely. Avoid pitfalls of all kinds.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) With claims and good humor with others over equity, you can have a partner with a dictatorial attitude. Use more diplomacy with this person. Anything of a creative nature is fine to pursue now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You had better delve right into all that work ahead of you, otherwise you have trouble. You are not as well as co-workers. One of them is most appreciative of you now. You get fine cooperation.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make sure you have these appointments on file that will help improve your position in business and your personal life. Handle constructive matters instead of going out for fun, which is not favored now. Early to bed tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Solve those problems in the business world.

and don't waste further time alone trying to decide between two avenues. In the future, listen to what a clever business expert has to suggest. Show that you are devoted in p.m.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Not a good day for socializing, but fine for improving your appearance during spare time. Show more understanding for kin. Working of that hobby you like so much will give you fine results, relocation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You had better study more first. Figure out how to be more cooperative with others in the future. Drive with utmost care. You must go out.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Forget that difficulty you are having with some individual and get together with good friends for the fun and relaxation you need. Discuss new ideas that are inspiring to you. Use tact with those who are not.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't permit that private anxiety to deter you from being with blivies who can open new doors of opportunity for you. Sifting back now will mean that others get the benefits possible instead of you. Act.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Become more alert to what is going on around you and get into the swing of things. Plan trips, plan to have increased income in the future. Don't waste time or you will regret it later.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Prepare in the outside world are best reduced by doing what male suggests and being very appreciative. Your intuitive faculties are working well, so make good use of them. Combine with good judgment.

New Officers Are Installed

COAHOMA - New officers of the Coahoma Office Education Association were installed at the monthly meeting Tuesday in the VOE lab at high school.

Mrs. Don McKinney installed officers for the current year, using the 11 purposes of OEA and assigning one to each of the in-coming officers. Pam Baker lighted a candle for each purpose, and officers also lighted candles as they were installed. Cindy Parrish outlined OEA purposes.

Assuming their duties were Mark Milliken, president; Cindy Parrish, vice president; Pam Baker, secretary-treasurer; Patti Lee, reporter; Gloria Webb, historian; Steve Fraser, parliamentarian; and Benny Mansfield, sergeant at arms.

Mrs. McKinney challenged officers to develop qualities of leadership such as inspiring or influencing actions of others, making decisions, moving groups to action.

Mark Milliken, who presided, reported on a VOE autumn workshop set for Oct. 14 at Western Texas College in Snyder. Cindy Parrish and Pam Baker will represent the Coahoma chapter and will be accompanied by Mrs. Marie Ethridge, chapter advisor.

Discussion of a money-making project was held. Next meeting is Nov. 6.

No Juveniles Due Back, According To Mitchell

With the announcement Tuesday from Austin that several hundred girls and boys in Texas reform schools apparently will be freed next month because they did not have attorneys when they were committed, Howard County found themselves in good shape.

No notification has been received here that any juveniles will be returned, according to County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

"We appointed attorneys for all of our juveniles when we held trials," the judge added.

Steven Bercu of the Travis County Legal Aid and Defender Society said it was clear to him that there had been no waiver by the 514 youngsters for whom he filed a writ of habeas corpus.

But apparently the Howard County youths sentenced to facilities at Gatesville, Brownwood, Crockett and Gainesville correctional institutions will be among those staying at the scene.

They will apparently be among the 40 per cent who stay behind, since the number 514 makes up 60 per cent of the population of those institutions.

They probably won't feel like thanking Howard County for their efficiency.

Counting Method Gets Complicated

The tax collector's office, which is assigned the duty of keeping up with voter registration is now uncounting the count before it can tabulate the total.

Mrs. Zirah Bedner, Howard County Tax Assessor, said her office has been busy for two days tabulating cancellations. These are mailed in from other tax offices if a voter registers there in order to cancel his registration in the original county and keep anyone from voting in more than one place.

"There's bound to be an easier way to tabulate voter registration," Mrs. Bedner stated here today. "This method is more complicated than the poll tax and gets a little bit more complicated all the time."

Retired Federal Employees Meet

The meeting of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. in the First Federal Savings and Loan Community Room. Alfreda G. Sextette of the Abilene chapter will be guest speaker for the occasion. All retired federal employees, regardless of membership, are urged to attend, said A. A. Porter, president.

HOUSE DEBATES 'SUPERPORT' BILL Smith Might Call Solons Back

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Important votes on insurance and an offshore dock for huge oil tankers were expected today as legislators began what could be the final seven days of the special session under an ultimatum from Gov. Preston Smith.

The Senate got a half-hour jump on the House, starting work at 10 a.m., with extended debate anticipated on a proposal setting up a system for competitive car and house insurance rates.

Smith threatened another special session after this 30-day session runs out at midnight next Tuesday if lawmakers fail to take a "clearcut vote" on the insurance issue.

A 3-3 vote in the Senate Economic Development Committee apparently killed the competitive rate proposal by Dallas Sen. Oscar Mauzy last Thursday. But the Senate voted 22-7 Monday to print Mauzy's bill anyway.

Sponsors agreed to postpone a vote on the "superport" bill until today after Rep. Dave Finney of Fort Worth protested that it had only been out of committee for 34 minutes Tuesday when the House agreed to consider it.

The House Insurance Committee approved Tuesday night a competitive rate bill, sending it to the floor for debate. The vote was 3-8. Sponsored by Rep. Don Cavness of Austin, the bill would require the State Insurance Board to continue setting "standard average rates" based on the combined losses of all companies writing policies in Texas. Companies could charge those rates or issue rates of their own.

Smith told an impromptu news conference in the governor's reception room Tuesday that "in the event the House and Senate do not have a clear-cut vote on insurance reform, due perhaps to a filibuster or... I certainly would call one (special session) because I think the people are entitled to know how their legislators stand on insurance reform in this state."

The governor also said he would wait until the session ends to make his third attempt at filling a vacancy on the three-man State Insurance Board. Two appointees were rejected by the Senate.

Trainer Lauds Grid Spirit

The mounting spirit manifested in the Big Spring Steers drew praise from Phil R. Irwin, trainer for the BSHS athletic department Wednesday morning at the Morning Optimists meeting at Coker's.

He said this played a key part in the stunning Big Spring upset over Abilene here last weekend. Irwin also described the background required of licensed trainers and how men in his field follow instruction of the team physician. He had words of praise, too, for his group of student trainers.

Today's program was the kickoff for a program of having young people visit from the high school. The club had as its guests Johnny McCasland, senior football player, Chris Duron, senior football and baseball player; Scotty Lankford, vice president of the Chess club, and a student trainer.

Russell Lutter was introduced as the newest member of the club. The district board meeting has been fixed for Oct. 27-28 in Pampa.

Farm Bureau Picks Walker

Johnnie Walker was named president of the Howard County Farm Bureau at the organization meeting of the directors Tuesday evening.

To serve with him will be Neil Fryar, vice president, and Derwood Blagrove, secretary-treasurer and whom Walker succeeds as president.

Other directors are Larry Fryar, who succeeds Lloyd Underwood, Blagrove, Larry Shaw, Ralph White, Delbert Stanley, Neil Fryar, Ross Hill and J. L. Baugh.

At the annual stockholders meeting Saturday evening at the Howard County Fair Barn, members participated in a barbecue dinner and then heard Sallie Echols, Coahoma, Billie Reed, Ackery, Cathy Fryar, Darla Buchanan, tell of their experiences in the summer at the Bureau's student citizenship seminar at Waco. Cindy Parrish, who also took in the seminar, could not be at the meeting. Music for the occasion was furnished by Joe Dunn and his band.

Delegated named for the state convention in Houston Nov. 12 is Johnnie Walker, Neil Fryar, Larry Shaw, Derwood Blagrove, Larry Fryar, Delbert Stanley, L. J. Davidson, Robert Nichols and Mrs. Morris Molpus. Kayla Gaskins, the district queen contest winner from Knott, will attend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins.

UW Workers Add $1,000

The United Way campaign added another thousand dollars since its last report and today was at $71,565 on the way to a $113,000 goal.

Robert Hickson, campaign chairman, renewed his appeal for division leaders to contact workers and emphasize the urgency of completing all contacts. The next division leader's meeting is set for Oct. 18.

Fourteen local agencies depend upon the United Way for their support.

Added to the list of 100 per cent participation were Fina production, Fina lube sales and Fina asphalt sales.

Nagel Is Seeking Water Rates Talk

In regular session of the City Commission Tuesday evening City Manager Harry Nagel asked Commissioners to place on the agenda for the Oct. 24 meeting a discussion of water rates for customers outside the city limits.

An ordinance proposed by Nagel during the June 27 Commission meeting would have made the water rates outside the city limits double that of the rates for Big Spring citizens.

The Commission tabled that ordinance during the June meeting.

DEATHS

Dr. Ellington; Rites Thursday

Dr. E. O. Ellington, 90, who came to Big Spring 61 years ago to follow his profession of dentistry and serve as a community leader for years, died at 10 p.m. Tuesday in a hospital here. He had been ill a long time.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m., Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church. Officiating will be the Rev. Earl Price, assisted by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Survivors, in addition to his wife, the former Fern Wells, include a daughter, Mrs. Bill Meyer, Newport Beach, Calif., a granddaughter, Mrs. Dennis White, Laguna Beach, Calif., and a grandson, Bruce Bove, Minneapolis, Minn., and a sister, Mrs. Ray Baldwin, Jasper.

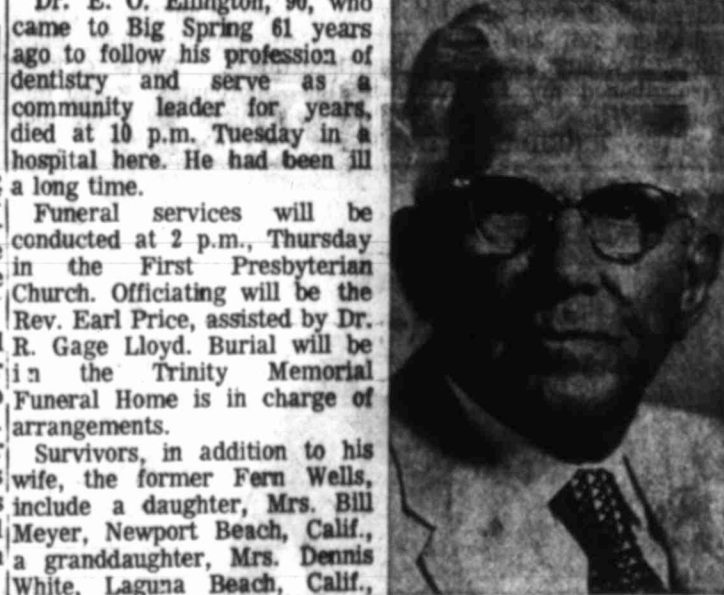

Dr. Ellington's first wife, Daisie Lorraine, preceded him in death Sept. 19, 1959.

Dr. Ellington was born Jan. 20, 1882 in Shelbyville, Tex., and came here a few years after he had begun his practice and for more than a decade he and Dr. Whetsel practiced over what is now the Elmo Wasson Men's store. Dr. Ellington moved his office to the Petroleum (now the Cosden building) when it was completed in the late 20's and remained there until Cosden acquired the building prior to his retirement in 1961.

There was hardly a community activity in the span from 1910-50 that he did not have an active if not leading hand. He served from April 1923-1933 as a member of the Big Spring Independent School board and was its president during the hectic days of the late 1920's when an oil boom thrust a major building program upon the district.

He was a charter member of the Big Spring Rotary Club, had headed the old Big Spring Luncheon club, the forerunner of service clubs here and an arm of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, which he also served as president in 1930.

He was one of the founders of the Big Spring Country Club and once served as its president, and so long as he was physically able, was one of its faithful golfers. He also participated in a number of local industrial ventures and served as an official of his church. A small but wiry man, he kept in remarkable physical condition, working out on an "acting pole" in his back yard until he was past 70.

A member of the Texas and American Dental Societies, he participated in many professional activities. Along with Dr. E. H. Hoppel, also a dentist, and Dr. G. T. Hall, he was honored at a special community program in the late 1950's.

He had been a member of the IOOF and the Knights of Pythias, and the Elks Lodge.

Exam Committee Okays Minister For Coahoma

A meeting into the early morning hours of a Presbytery examination committee possibly set a new precedent in this Presbytery in accepting a new minister.

At a combined meeting of two Presbyteries, including the Tress Presbytery U.S. and the UP-USA Presbytery, at First Presbyterian Church here, part of the business in the two-day session was to examine two men for acceptance into the Presbytery as ministers.

These included the Rev. Robert B. Smith for First Church in Midland, who was quickly accepted due to his criteria, and the Rev. Charles Murphy, applying for the Coahoma church.

IN SEMINARY

The Rev. Murphy had attended a seminary in Memphis, Tenn. which was somewhat different from Austin Theological Seminary and others readily acceptable in this area. Following an examination from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m., the committee finally recommended that he be considered a candidate for acceptance, that he be allowed to serve during an 18-month period during which he is increasing his knowledge through correspondence with the Austin Seminary.

In Presbyterian circles, this was considered a compromise between a needed clergyman and holding up their standards.

Water Deliveries Less, Due To August Rains

Another unusually wet August showed up in lower September billings for the Colorado River Municipal Water District in comparison to the previous month. Deliveries, however, continued to gain over the previous year and to maintain the wide bulge of 1972 over 1971.

The district, delivered 1,513,055,058 gallons of water in September, down from 1,758,147,376 in August, but up 8.98 per cent over the 1,388,373,429 in September 1971.

For the first nine months of the year, the district has delivered 14,536,176,682 gallons up 33.35 per cent over the 10,900,709,657 gallons in the first three-quarters of last year. If deliveries match those of the ago,

Some Justice!

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: "COOLVILLE, a fair conclusion. The accused was already a convict, he was black and uneducated, but we jurors tried to put ourselves in his place. We knew in our hearts that man was not guilty! And we judged him innocent!"

I had the same disgusting experience in San Diego. One juror said, "If we don't find this man guilty we will never be asked to serve on jury duty again, and that's the way I make a little extra money, so let's make it unanimous and go home."

My husband served on a jury in Tuscaloosa, Ala. He said a cafe owner was being tried for arson. Another juror, a salesman in one of the stores, said they should find the accused guilty because he had voted to keep the stores open on Thursday afternoons instead of closing them as was the custom during the summer months.

TWO FORMER JURORS

DEAR ABBY: I served on a jury in Columbus, Ohio, and I received the most valuable lesson on being an American in all my 52 years of life.

I used to sneer about the rich getting away with murder while the poor languished in prisons, but when we heard the case of a convict accused during the prison riots in Ohio, you wouldn't have believed the way the judge, lawyers and jurors bent over backwards to weigh all the evidence and come to

STILL ASHAMED

DEAR ABBY: I served on a jury with 10 honest sincere people who all agreed on a verdict of "Not Guilty." But a romance had developed between a married woman and a very stubborn, prejudiced, closed-minded man. We needed 11 "not guilty" votes, but the man held out and the woman refused to go against him, so the trial had to be rescheduled four months later.

WASTE OF TIME IN GEORGIA

DEAR ABBY: I served on a jury. One of the women jurors refused to believe the accused could be guilty of rape because he had such a nice-looking mother. Another juror (a man) said, "But his chin is so weak, he can't possibly have any character." Another one said, "Let's not come to a hasty decision. The county is paying for all the meals, and the food is sure good here."

LEARNED A LOT IN OKLAHOMA

DEAR ABBY: Re jury duty. Having recently served a month's jury duty (criminal cases, Detroit) I wish to praise the organization of the court, the consideration accorded the accused, and the common sense and courage of my fellow jurors. We thoroughly discussed each case and arrived at what we felt were fair and sound verdicts. My jury experience has strengthened my faith in our courts.

'Mexicanos' First Choice

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Most Mexican-Americans in the Southwest prefer to be called "Mexicanos," says the University of Texas Center for Communication Research.

A report from the Center said "Mexicanos" was the term selected by 43 per cent of the persons interviewed in Texas, Arizona and California during research for "Teletemas," a national program to create cultural and entertainment television programming for Mexican-Americans.

The report said 31 per cent preferred to be called "Mexican-Americans," 8 per cent "Americans," and six per cent "Chicanos." The other 12 per cent selected other names that included "Latin Americans," "Latinos" and "Texanos."

The Center said the 1,500 persons interviewed in the Austin-San Antonio area were selected at random from Spanish surnames listed in telephone directories. Those who were not of Mexican descent were eliminated.

The research center is working with educational television station KLRN, which has studios on the UT-Austin campus, to produce five segments of a pilot TV series. Also producing sample segments are KUAT-TV, Tucson, Ariz., and KPBT-TV, San Diego, Calif. Coordinator of research is Dr. E. B. Eiselein of the University of Arizona.

'Boxcar Bertha' Is Proud Mama

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Barbara Hershey has delivered a son by natural birth at her Laurel Canyon home.

The father is actor David Carradine, Miss Hershey's co-star in "Boxcar Bertha," and son of John Carradine. The parents have lived together for three years but say they reject the idea of marriage. They have named their son Free Carradine.

Pills Replace Pigeon Shoot

MCLESTER, Okla. (AP) — McAlester has called off the pigeon shoot scheduled for the downtown area Tuesday night. It's going to try birth control pills, instead.

The pigeon shoot, which was to be open to anyone as long as they registered with the Police Department, was canceled after merchants complained that it might scare off more customers than pigeons.
