ANSWERLINE
Q. Since another area of Mitchell County has voted "wet", can you tell me how much money is spent by people in Mitchell County for liquor?

A. This question is really impossible to answer. However, according to figures from the State Comptroller of Public Accounts, gross sales receipts, liquor stores in Mitchell Co. had sales of $3,283,118, a year ago. This is actual dollars spent at the store and there is no way of telling what County the purchaser lived in.

Salary dispute causes split vote

What appeared to be a routine item on the Colorado Independent School Trustees' agenda, the salary schedule, caused a split vote by the members that had to be broken by the Board president.

Actually it was only a portion of the schedule as a 25-cent per hour raise had been included in the schedule for custodians, lunchroom personnel and bus drivers but it had been omitted from the budget.

In discussing whether to approve the raise for this school year, the board noted it would add approximately $40,000 to the budget expenditures and Billy Bridgford stated, "all this needed to be taken care of back in April."

Board president Dwayne Harris said, "I personally feel like the raise is deserved but we should do this in the Spring."

On a motion to grant the raises for this school year, Larry Blassingame, Diana Garza and Yolanda Molina voted for and Bridgford, Jesse Munoz and Roxie Strain voted against making the tie-breaking vote necessary.

Harris cast the deciding no vote.

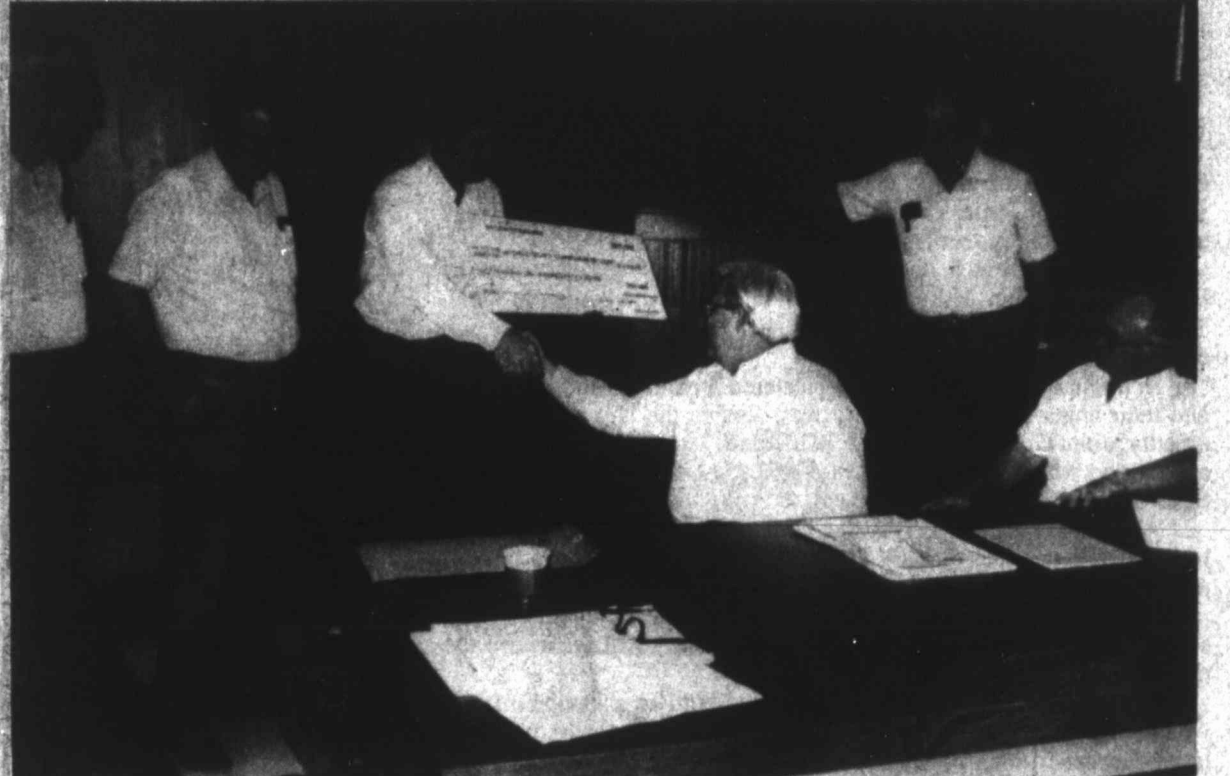

The board did approve however, raises from $8 per hour to $9.50 per hour for a bus mechanic and for skilled labor in the maintenance department.

The board also heard from committees from the Middle School and the High School concerning doing away with the traditional six weeks tests. In their place, the proposals called for at least two major exams during a six-weeks period and the exams would contain both objective and discussion questions. The board approved the recommendations.

They also accepted bids on tennis, baseball, golf and track equipment and supplies.

Also approved were the payment of bills, the financial report and tax rolls, the Texas Teacher Appraisal System calendar and Appraisal.

Changes were also noted in the gifted and talented schedules and hospital insurance policies for employees.

CISD dress code questioned

The Colorado Independent School District's "dress and grooming" code appears to be headed to the Courthouse if local attorney Pat Barber follows through on his statements made to the Trustees Monday night.

Barber addressed the Board and asked for a vote on the present grooming code as it applies to the length of hair boys may wear.

The District's manual states "boys may wear hair to the bottom of the collar, the bottom of the ear and combed out of the eyes."

Barber said he "would like to see the regulations changed as it applies to 18-year old adult students and told the board 'if you vote it down, we're contemplating a law suit.'"

He went on to add that it would be a class-action lawsuit for all 18-year old adults and he said "I think your policy is in error in treating adults as boys...I would like the Board to vote on whether or not to

Big plays lead to Wolf win

"We had some big plays made when we had to have them," head coach Mark Howeth of the Wolves stated Monday, "we really had to overcome a lot to win that football game."

Colorado City narrowly defeated Stanton Friday night, 14-13, on the Buffaloes' home field. Stanton led all statistics except the one on the scoreboard. The Wolves were also tagged some 85 yards on 12 penalties while Stanton amassed 40 yards on just three infractions.

"We had some kids who really played their hearts out," added Howeth noting that "Doug Conner had a huge ballgame - both offensively and defensively. He came in and threw two big passes on our touchdown drive and of course, returned that punt 50-yards for a touchdown."

"Johnny Martinez had several big tackles and the biggest of all was when he stopped Ricky Lucas of Stanton near the goal line towards the end of the game to save a touchdown."

That play by Martinez set up a fourth-down field goal attempt by Stanton that was blocked by Ashley

C-Court approves bid

The Commissioners' Court approved a bid from West Texas Equipment of Abilene for a motor grader for Precinct #1 in their meeting Monday afternoon.

The amount was for $44,000 after allowing for a trade-in. The bid, before the trade-in allowance, was for $118,132. The only other bid was for $55,289 after trading in the old grader while the initial bid was for $117,289.

The bid from West Texas Equipment also has a maximum maintenance cost and a guaranteed buy-back up to five years or 5,000 hours.

The Court also accepted a check from the Soil Conservation Service in the amount of $2150 to be used in the prisoner restitution program for equipment.

Jimmy Appel presented the check to the Court.

In other action, the Court approved the audit of the forfeiture account of the District Attorney's office. At the present time, $3,648

CHIEF LONE WOLF

Every time I drive by the Mitchell County cemetery my eyes are drawn to the tombstone of W.P. Patterson. It's broken, and although from time-to-time I've placed it upright, it's probably best left as you see it in the picture, one piece propped up against the other.

Mr. Patterson was laid to rest in the county cemetery back in May of 1881. It's a shame he had to die the way he did. As far as we know, he was the first gunshot victim of our town.

Historian J. Evetts Haley has a detailed account of Patterson's last day on earth in his book, "Jeff Milton, A Good Man with a Gun."

Haley tells that Patterson was a prominent cowman, a hard drinker and a candidate for election as the first sheriff in Mitchell County. (His opponent was former Texas Ranger Dick Ware). We're told when Patterson had too much to drink, and that was apparently anytime he drank, he wasn't the same W.P. Patterson, as when he was sober.

Shooting up the town was par for Patterson's course, and when that happened, the rangers would step in and arrest him. Of course this was before the town and county had even built a jail, so Patterson would suffer the humiliation of being handcuffed to a big tree, in sight of all passersby.

The night of May 16, 1881, was when Patterson had his last drink. He had been arrested several times in recent days and now, he was angry and thirsty.

Patrolling Colorado City that night, until elections could be held in the new county, were Texas Rangers Jeff Milton, J.M. Sedberry and a newcomer to the rangers, L.B. Wells. Shortly after midnight the trio heard gunshots near the Nip and Tuck Saloon, which was south of present day Anthonys, near the intersection of First and Elm.

The rangers ran toward the saloon and as they rounded a corner, they saw Patterson and one of his friends, Ab Adair, coming toward them. The staggering Patterson had obviously been drinking again.

The rangers stopped the two men and informed Patterson they would have to check his weapon.

"Damn you, you'll have to examine somebody else's pistol," Patterson spat back at the lawmen. With that, two of the rangers grabbed hold of Patterson, but the stout cowman was able to break away and pull out his six-shooter.

Patterson shot at Sedberry, but the ranger suffered only powder burns. Meanwhile, Milton fired his .45 and down Patterson went. Then, Ranger Wells compounded the problem by shooting Patterson again, while he lay on the ground.

In no time at all a mob of men clustered around the shooting scene and their anger was about to boil over. Inside the Nip and Tuck, an agitator, John Good, son-in-law of Ab Adair, jumped on a poker table and started whipping the crowd into a frenzy. Shouts went up to get Sedberry and hang him.

About that time Sedberry walked into the saloon, his Winchester in his hand. He threatened to kill Good, and according to Haley, "(Good) not only got down, but also got better."

Later that night the three rangers, Milton, Sedberry and Wells, surrendered to sheriff Ware, but because of the hostility toward the rangers, they were allowed to keep their guns.

Two days later an examining trial was held in a clapboard hall which was used by the county until a courthouse could be built. A large number of men in town were still clamoring for the rangers to give up their guns.

"I've got mine on and I'm going to keep it on," Milton warned anyone who would listen. A riot atmosphere prevailed as the three rangers were taken before a man identified only as "Justice Smith," who was the owner of a livery stable.

At the last minute, the trio had agreed to disarm, but only if their backs were against a wall with each man standing next to a ranger, who in turn would have a six-shooter conveniently holstered on his left hip.

The attorneys representing Milton, Sedberry and Wells were R.H. Looney and C.G. McGinnis. It soon became obvious "Judge" Smith was going to make things tough on the three rangers. First, he issued a ruling on a point of law which was contrary to the good of the lawmen.

TOMBSTONE OF W.P. PATTERSON

That brought one spectator, former ranger John Birdwell, out of his chair.

"Judge, you're full of prune juice," Birdwell thundered. ("Prune juice" was the word J. Evetts Haley used and may not be an exact translation.)

Next the judge ruled that the three men would have to be held without bond until their trial.

"Hell, I'm not going to jail," Milton raged.

Judge Smith quickly reconsidered and then set bond at $1500 for each of the defendants. (The bonds were put up by J.M. Culp, a local merchant, and John Shaughnessy, who was a professional gambler and saloon owner in Colorado City.)

Meanwhile, the case was set for hearing in Buffalo Gap, in Taylor County, which had jurisdiction at that time. However, the three rangers were never brought to trail. It seems the night before the case was scheduled to be heard, the state's chief witness was found dead in an Abilene alley.

His murder was never solved.

Back in Colorado City there was an investigation into the volatile situation between ranchers and rangers. Veteran ranger D.W. Roberts checked into the case, then made his report to the Texas Adjutant General.

Roberts concluded Patterson was a drinking man "and very troublesome while under the influence of liquor and was considered a dangerous man, under those circumstances."

As for the possibility of future problems between the two factions, Roberts said that was not likely because "Rangers are not supposed to be any party to a feud - I can see nothing ominous of any further serious trouble."

W.P. Patterson would probably not have agreed with that conclusion, but he wasn't talking.

Catalogue now available from Texas VLB

A catalogue listing 550 tracts of forfeited state land reserved exclusively for bids from Texas veterans is now available from the Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB) by calling 1-800-252-VETS. Bids will be opened on October 27, 1992 at 1 p.m.

Located in 128 Texas counties (with the majority in North, Central and East Texas) the tracts, known as Type I properties, range in size from five to 66 acres.

The VLB will finance the full amount of all winning bids. There is no limit on the amount loaned or on the number of tracts that an individual can bid on. However, eligible Texas veterans are limited to one land purchase in the sale.

"Texas veterans should take advantage of this sale if they are in the market for land to use for recreation or an investment," said Garry Mauro, chairman of the BLV. "Since these tracts have never been offered for sale by the board, this sale gives Texas veterans an excellent opportunity to buy good land with 100 percent financing."

Mauro noted that setting aside new forfeitures exclusively for bids from Texas veterans is a long-time VLB policy.

"The land program is a Texas way of saying thanks to our veterans," Mauro said. "It's only fair that they should get first shot at these tracts."

Tracts not sold in the October sale will be offered to both veterans and non-veterans through local real estate agents.

Eligible Texas veterans will receive a 7.99 percent interest rate with a 30-year assumable fixed-rate loan. A $25 non-refundable fee for each bid submitted is required.

The sale will be by sealed bid only, with a minimum bid set on each tract. All bids must be received by October 27, 1992 at 1 p.m. Bidders need not be present at the bid opening in Austin.

Details of the sale and a description of each tract can be obtained by calling the VLB toll-free 1-800-252-VETS.

Wage complaints may be made to TEC

"More than 33,000 wage complaints have been filed against Texas employers since the Texas Employment Commission took over enforcement of the Texas Payday Law in 1989, and that is just too many," TEC Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers said. "Obviously too many Texans don't understand the law."

Nabers said she believes that either Texas employers are unaware of the various aspects of the law or employees are confused about what the law provides. "Either way, the current statewide awareness campaign initiated by the TEC should be helpful," she said.

The statewide campaign by the TEC labor law division started last month with a new toll-free information line: 1-800-TEC-WAGE. The labor law division's existing phone number (1-800-342-3836) will be phased out and permanently disconnected by the end of October 1992. The awareness campaign also provides a series of educational materials pertaining to the law for employers and employees.

"This outreach to workers and employers alike is necessary because so many Texans are not aware of the law and its provisions. For some time now the law has been misunderstood and this new program should resolve some of the problems," Nabers said.

The Texas Payday Law was created in 1915 to resolve wage disputes between employees and employers. In 1989 the Texas Legislature transferred payday law enforcement responsibility to the TEC. Since then the labor law division has received 33,061 claims, and more than 12,000 of them were filed from July 1991 to July 1992.

The labor law division has collected a total of $3.9 million in unpaid wages since 1989. In the last 12 months, more than 2,000 liens have been placed on employers' properties, and today, approximately $1.3 million in wages have yet to be collected.

"These statistics indicate employers might not be fully aware of the state's payday law provisions," Nabers said. "There is an obvious need to educate everyone about the law to reduce the number of claims filed and to ensure that employees are treated fairly in respect to payroll issues."

Nabers said new brochures and informational materials are available to employers and employees alike. One booklet titled Survival guide to the Texas Payday Law, is designed to inform employers about the wage complaint process. It explains the law in simple terms and includes a step-by-step guide for dealing with wage claims.

COOK'S CORNER

Today's featured cook is Evelyn Wiggins. Evelyn was born in East Texas but grew up close to home in Snyder. It was there she met the young and handsome Jessie Wiggins of Colorado City. After they were married Jessie brought her to Colorado City where they have lived and raised a family for the past 39 years. They have two grown children. Ronnie Creswell and his wife Pat live in Gales Ferry, Connecticut where he is employed at a horse farm. A daughter, Sandra, is married to Barry Jackson of Hermleigh. She keeps herself busy raising two sweet girls. The Wiggins' have eight grandchildren, Carol Badley 26, is in the Air Force, stationed in Tacoma, Washington; DeDi Breit, 24 of Klamath Falls, Oregon, Stacie Rutland of Norway, South Carolina; Michele Creswell 13 of Sweetwater, Toni 8 1/2 and K'Leigh Jackson 3 1/2 of Hermleigh and Eric Jackson 14 of Waco. They are also blessed with one Great-grandson, Adam Breit 19 months old.

Jessie was the long-time owner of the (Gulf) Chevron gas station which was located on the interstate. He was forced to quit for health reasons and is now working part-time at Henderson's.

Evelyn enjoys sewing and hand work. In fact, when I went to pick up her recipes she was sewing a dress for a cow! Crocheting was also a very pleasant past time but because of Arthritis, she isn't able to enjoy it any longer.

She learned the art of cooking as she was growing up from her Mama. Evelyn has been restricted from the joy of cooking because of the recent discovery that she is a diabetic.

When I asked her if she had a cooking goof she wanted to share with us she said she really couldn't remember one. She said she likes to "black them out!"

Evelyn's helpful hint: Use hair spray on pen ink to remove from clothing.

Ramp completed at library

A handicap ramp has recently been completed on the south side of the Mitchell County Library. There are several parking spaces on that end of the building and anyone having a need to use the ramp is encouraged to do so.

Also, in the last few months, the library has acquired a small collection of video cassettes. Anyone who is at least eighteen years old and has a Mitchell County Library card is eligible to check out the videos for a period of two days at a time. A few of the videos available to be checked out are Pyramids, Fitness Walking, Best of Candid Camera, Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, Desert Storm, Hunter's Safety, The Jungle Book, Mary Poppins, The Nutcracker, Where The Red Fern Grows, Treasure Island, The Parent Trap.

The library owns a collection of audio cassettes and receives six rotating packets of cassettes per year through the Big Country Library System. These audio cassettes are great for listening to while travelling or while doing work. They are also helpful for those people who have eyesight problems. Among the audio cassettes that are now in the library are The Handmaid's Tale by Atwood, Unnatural Death by Sayers, Down The Pogonip Trail by L'Amour, When All You Ever Wanted Isn't Enough by Kushner, Dragon by Cussler.

For other video and audio cassette titles, visit the library on Mondays from 12 to 8 and Tuesday through Friday 9 to 5:30.

Autograph reception planned

An autograph reception marking the publication of Jane Gilmore Rushing's new book, Starting from Pyron, is planned here on September 19.

Mrs. Rushing has written six novels set in West Texas. The first of these, Walnut Grove, published in 1964, has recently been reprinted and will also be available for purchase on September 19. The reception will be held in the Dermott School on the Scurry County coliseum grounds from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served by the hosts, the Scurry County Historical Commission and Historic Scurry County, Inc.

Billie Roche Barnard, Mrs. Gilmore's cousin who made many of the photographs in the book, will also attend. Both Mrs. Rushing and Mrs. Barnard were born in their maternal grandmothers' home in the Pyron community in eastern Scurry County.

Starting from Pyron is non-fiction, the tale of a community that gradually lost its stores, its school, and its churches but never its spirit. The book is illustrated with 81 photographs including those made by Mrs. Barnard and others borrowed from the family collection and from area residents. The introduction was written by A.C. Greene, who notes, "...with only a twist of plot here and a change of characters there, Pyron could be the story of us all."

Additional information can be obtained by contacting the Historical Commission at 915-573-7108. After September 19 the books can be purchased in the gift shop of the Scurry county Museum at Western Texas College.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has asked the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for approval to offer new optional call management services called Caller Identification Service (Caller ID) and Anonymous Call Rejection (ACR).

Caller ID is a new optional phone service which allows subscribers to see the phone number and/or name of most local calls before they answer the phone. Caller ID also allows the recording of the date, time, name and/or phone number of calls. Currently, Caller ID would work only on most local calls, not long distance calls. It would also require that a separate display unit be connected to the telephone. These units that attach to the telephone will be available from various retail vendors, including Southwestern Bell, at a cost starting at approximately $50.

Southwestern Bell is also proposing that all customers be able to "block," or stop their name/number from being transmitted and displayed on a Caller ID device, free of charge. You would have this option of "blocking" your name/number on each call free of charge. There would be no need to subscribe to this service. All customers would have this capability when Caller ID is introduced in their area.

If you want to block your name or number, you need only press *67 on your touch-tone pad (or dial 1167 from a rotary phone) before dialing the telephone number. The person you're calling would see displayed a message such as "private" or "anonymous" on their Caller ID display unit.

Southwestern Bell also proposes that qualified domestic violence and law enforcement groups have the option of free per-line blocking, or free per-call blocking.

Anonymous Call Rejection (ACR or "block the blocker") allows subscribers to automatically reject all calls that have been marked anonymous, or "blocked" by the person calling. It is not necessary to subscribe to Caller ID Name/Number to subscribe to ACR. With ACR, your telephone will not ring if the person calling you has "blocked" his/her name or number. The person calling whose identification is blocked will receive a message to hang up and call back with caller identification unblocked. Following are the proposed monthly rates for Caller ID and ACR.

Proposed Rates (monthly)*	Residence	Business
Calling Number only	$6.50	$ 8.50
Calling Name only	$6.50	$ 8.50
Calling Name & Number	$8.00	$12.00
Anonymous Call Rejection	$3/$1	$3/$1

* These rates are in addition to the initial installation charges and monthly basic service rate. For residence customers, installation charges are $2.70 per feature, with a maximum charge of $5.40. For business customers, the charges are $5.40 per feature, with a maximum charge of $10.75.

 Anonymous Call Rejection is $3 per month if purchased without Caller ID and is $1 per month when purchased with Caller ID Name or Number.

This proceeding has been designated Docket No. 11362, and a hearing on the merits has been scheduled for November 16, 1992. The PUC has jurisdiction to consider this matter pursuant to Sections 16, 18, 37 and 38 of the Public Utility Regulatory Act (PURA). This application was filed pursuant to the provisions of the PUC's Substantive Rule 23.24. Among the issues that will be addressed in this proceeding is the legality of the Caller ID device and service under Texas wiretap laws.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the PUC as soon as possible. The deadline to intervene is October 26, 1992. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

LORRAINE PERSONALS

I will remind all Loraine Exes that October 2nd is Homecoming. Be sure and make plans to come from near and far. You will get to see a lot of faces you have not seen for awhile. The 50 year class this year is the 1942 class. Reports are something special is in the air for this class.

They will be here for the ball game, so Bulldogs that will give us some more supporters for the game, so we know you will do your best.

Sug Bynam and Mary Love Albright have worked hard on this and we appreciate it. I for one hope Homecoming never dies out as long as we have a school. DON'T FORGET!!

Mary Love Albright called to say that her mother, Syble Walker had spent several days in Odessa with them. She also saw her doctors while there and got good reports.

The Allbrights and their children Gordon, Mary, and Paul & Jeanie Finn and families had an early birthday bash for Syble for her coming 89th birthday which is in this month. Congratulations Syble. Mary Love and Jack served birthday cake at their home in the afternoon to the family and honoree.

Syble, Jack and Mary Love also visited a sister Opal Coles in Iraan, also a niece and husband Charlie and Jean O'Lappon. The brother-in-law of Syble, Ervell Coles is in a nursing home in McCamey since Iraan does not have one.

Jimmie Hall returned to his home last Friday after spending the week with his mother Chrystene Hall. Jim lives in Scottsboro, Alabama.

Greg and Robin Walker spent the week-end in Loraine visiting friends and relatives. They also came to help his mother, Patsy Walker celebrate her birthday.

...BY LOIS PHILLIPS

Pam Butler's parents Mr. and Mrs. Hughes of New Mexico visited her over the week-end and helped the family celebrate Pam's birthday on September 12. They had a real good time.

Elba Mae Evans and I attended Jean Vest's funeral this Monday. We always loved Jean and her family and appreciated them very much. Also was glad to see Joe Thomas and their families.

Saw Christi Blain White Sunday at church. She looks great as usual.

Verda Mae Owens gave me this little story. She said they were called to Corpus because their daughter-in-law was having major surgery. She decided to call her friend Addie Mahoney and she came to the hospital and stayed all day with them and came back every day to sit and help with Tina. Same Addie isn't it, always willing to help anyway she can. God Bless you Addie.

Patsy Graham is home and doing better from the wreck she had last week. We were real glad to hear this report.

Inez Webb seems to be doing great. Hope it won't be long before she can go and do as she pleases. We are rooting for you so we will see you later.

I hear that our Bulldogs did well last week-end at Sands. Keep up the good work guys.

Visited a while with Gladys Hart this morning on the phone and really enjoyed it.

Bulldogs beat Sands; look to Midland Christian

The Loraine Bulldogs travelled to Ackerly Friday, Sept. 11, to play the Sand Mustangs.

The Bulldogs took an early 8-0 lead but the Mustangs came right back and put together a drive of their own. A costly penalty placed the Mustangs in Bulldog territory and after a breakdown in the defense the Mustangs scored. When the first half ended, Loraine was down 22-14.

When the second half started, a complete change had been made in the 'Dogs -- they were determined that the game was going to be theirs. They played one of the best halves that any team could play.

Completely dominating the line of scrimmage on offense, they were collapsing the Mustang defense and causing them to commit numerous mistakes. When the Bulldogs gained the lead, there was no doubt who was going home with the victory. The entire team played as a unit, and, as a result experienced a well earned victory.

Coach Loy's Note: The team and I would like to thank the many fans who have traveled to our games this season. We will need your support at home this Friday against Midland Christian. This will be our parents night. This will be another tough game as Midland Christian is highly ranked in their conference and have two All-State running backs.

Loraine homemakers meet in Schroeder home

The regular monthly meeting of the North Loraine Extension Homemakers was held on Sept. 9 at 2 p.m., at the home of Billie Schroeder, hostess.

Nelma Ritchey of the Buford EH Club presented an interesting program on her trip to the National Extension Homemakers convention, which was held in Vermont. Mrs. Ritchey reported on the workshops she attended and highlights of the meeting. She also shared photos of the areas that were toured while there.

Mary McMullin, our new County Extension Home Ec Agent was introduced to our group.

W'brook 3rd, 7th grades to TAAS tests

Westbrook students in Grades 3 and 7 will take the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS) tests on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 22, 23 and 24.

The examination will measure students' skills in three areas: mathematics, reading and writing. The writing section will consist of two parts: a multiple choice section testing mastery of language mechanics and a composition testing ability to write a first draft on a given topic.

Westbrook School reminds parents to plan for their children in Grades 3 and 7 to be well rested for the testing. Also, parents can help by encouraging their children each day to do their best.

Walthall with 33-seconds left in the game and the Wolves ahead by one point.

Walthall scored his third touchdown of the season in the fourth quarter as he pushed it in from the one-yard line. Walthall also added an interception to his defensive efforts.

"David Castillo played with a lot of character and pain too," said Howeth, "he went as far as he could go with his injury." Castillo is still listed as questionable for the Slaton game Friday night.

On the down side of the victory, fullback-linebacker Coty Strain is lost for the season as he went out with a broken bone in his shin. "He's going to be hard to replace," the coach said, "not only for his playing ability but his leadership also."

Slaton defeated Post last week, 35-12 and for the season, they are 1 and 1.

Fast is the way Howeth described the Tigers. "They have a sophomore, Oscar Solis, who has tremendous speed."

Kickoff is set for 8 pm.

Trustee Billy Bridgford stated "if we don't do anything tonight, our present rules stand."

However, the Board did vote and the total was four for maintaining the present guidelines and two against.

Trustees Roxie Strain, Jesse Munoz, Billy Bridgford and Larry Blasingame voted for and Diana Garza and Yolanda Molina voted against the current policy.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for optional Custom Calling Services and Touch-tone service, effective March 15, 1993, unless otherwise determined by the PUC.

These proposed rates will not increase or decrease the Company's overall revenues; the net effect will be neutral to the Company's annual revenues.

The Company proposes to decrease the rates for Touch-tone service for residential customers from $1.00 to 68 cents, and also to reduce the Touch-tone rates for business customers from $1.75 to $1.70. In addition, the Touch-tone rates for business PBX trunks will be reduced from $3.15 to $2.18.

This proposal to decrease the rates for Touch-tone service does not change the commitment that the Company made in the Docket No. 8585 Stipulation to reduce the rates for Touch-tone service in 1993.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling-8 and Speed Calling-30. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

	Residence		Business
	Current Rate	Proposed Rate	Current Rate	Proposed Rate

Speed Calling - 30 code capacity	3.20	3.20	4.25	3.20

Most of the Company's residence and business customers who subscribe to Custom Calling Features and Touch-tone service will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring.

It is expected that the restructuring of Custom Calling Features will result in a rate increase for approximately 2.9 million residence customers and 280,000 business customers. The reduction in rates for certain Custom Calling Services and Touch-tone Service will affect approximately 4.3 million residence customers and 1.7 million business customers.

This rate restructuring is expected to have a "revenue-neutral" effect on the Company's annual revenues. The proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $19.8 million; while the reduction in Touch-tone rates will decrease the Company's annual revenues by $19.8 million.

This proceeding has been designated Docket No. 11382. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in this proceeding should notify the PUC as soon as possible. The deadline to intervene is October 30, 1992. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

New rule issued by TABC

A new rule, issued by the Texas State Treasury, prohibits minors from bringing cigarettes across the border. The Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, which collects state taxes on tobacco products for the Treasury at all international crossings, will enforce this regulation which goes into effect today. Current law permits consumers to import up to one carton of cigarettes duty free.

State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison stated, "This rule closes a loophole in the existing law. Previously, while minors were prohibited from purchasing cigarettes in Texas, they legally could bring cigarettes into the state from Mexico. Now, if a person under the age of 18 attempts to bring cigarettes across the border those cigarettes will be seized." No other penalties will be assessed.

"The Treasury is committed to upholding the law that forbids the purchase of cigarettes by minors," Mrs. Hutchison added.

Greenhouse effect could make climate drier

The greenhouse effect could make the Texas climate drier and less hospitable to cattle production during the next 50 years, according to the director of the Climate System Research Program at Texas A&M University.

"Ranchers shouldn't be hurt too badly overall, but water will be the major issue," Dr. Gerald North told a group of cattle producers at the 38th annual Beef Cattle Short Course and Trade Show here. More than 1,000 cattle producers from several states and Mexico attend the recent two-day event.

The laws of physics require that the earth maintain a balanced heat budget, North said. In simple terms, components of the earth and atmosphere work to balance the amount of heat that the planet retains and loses.

It's when these components get out of balance that the earth retains more heat than is desirable. With the greenhouse effect, Texas could see warmer temperatures of 3 to 7 degrees, and therefore drier conditions, over the next century.

Water rights, access and cost will be the major concerns ranchers will face. "Even if the rainfall stays the same, evaporation rates go up," he said. In Texas, the soil will dry at a much higher rate.

For example, Brazos County averages about three inches of rain each month, creating a fairly inviting habitat for grasses and trees. In areas west of Austin, the evaporation rate exceeds rainfall, creating a "tree line" that marks the beginning of the smaller and fewer trees of West Texas. With the drying effect of higher temperatures, that tree line could possibly move as much as 100 miles eastward to College Station, he said.

Arid range conditions, similar to those in South and Southwest Texas, could move farther east, while West Texas producers could face even more desert-like conditions. Fewer animals could be stocked per acre, he said.

"We don't know what the exact effect (on rangelands) will be. Actually, studies have shown that some grasses will do better because of increased carbon dioxide," which is elevated by the greenhouse effect.

Cities will need water, and those residents would be willing to pay for it. "Water is going to be expensive," he said. Landowners will see increased competition for water, and probably a continuing battle for water rights as well.

The possible impacts of the greenhouse effect have been the subject of debate for more than a century, North said.

The amount of solar energy radiating on the earth is about 340 watts per square meter (on an average through a 24-hour day), or the equivalent of having a few reading lamps every few yards. Satellite measurements of infrared rays indicate that 30 percent of this energy is reflected directly back to space by clouds and other bright features of the earth-atmosphere system. Without a mechanism to release this heat, the surface temperature would rise and liquid water would evaporate.

Conversely, greenhouse gases, such as water vapor, carbon dioxide, and methane help hold heat on earth so life can survive. These gases are invisible, but absorb infrared rays. "If there were no greenhouse effect, the temperature would be about 70 degrees colder," North said.

Carbon dioxide, one of the main greenhouse gases, is removed from the air by the photosynthetic process of plants, and is absorbed by cool ocean surface waters and carried deep into the ocean by downwelling currents. These input and removal mechanisms were in balance until the Industrial Revolution of the 1800s, when fossil fuels began to be used. Scientific evidence suggests that the concentration of carbon dioxide is doubling every 140 years, he said.

Methane also occurs naturally, and has increased through man's activities in the last century. "You (cattle producers) may be under more fire from environmental groups," he said. Some groups charge that cattle contribute significantly to the problem by releasing methane from their digestive tracts.

On the other hand, scientific evidence of the last few years indicates that the amount of methane gas released into the atmosphere may be leveling off, possibly due to repairs and improvements in natural gas lines, he said.

Scientists have found that the earth's temperature has increased about 1 degree over the last century, North said, but controversy remains over whether the greenhouse effect will occur. Part of the problem is that computer climate models used in predictions are inexact because of the uncertain nature of weather.

CONVERSATION CORNER

...BY BARBIE LELEK

While at the High School the other day, I spotted several students outside and inside the school measuring almost everything in sight with a yard stick. They told me they were working on a project for trig. TRIG. can you believe it? I was lucky to pass introduction to algebra! These overly intelligent young people were Robbie Culpepper, Sarah Wike, Tommy Magdaleno, Scott Payne, Cretia Caye Carpenter and Mike Dossey.

Have you noticed the work that has been going on to restore the old Colorado Drug Store sign downtown? I love it!! John and Mary Kay Williamson are planning to re-open this fine part of Colorado City history. They own an antique business next door to Corky's which they will eventually move into the Colorado Drug building.

The outside of the building will be restored to how it looked in it's past all the way down to repainting the huge 20 foot picture of a coca-cola bottle with the saying "drink Coca-Cola!" This will be located on the west wall where the Spanish Inn sign is now.

Inside, they are planning to bring back the fountain! Yea! I remember that fountain. I drank many a coke there and I'm not even very old! Just think of the memories that must lurk there for some of the old timers! They are also going to remove the new flooring and new ceiling to display the original beautiful oak floor and the beaded board ceiling.

John is hoping for an opening date sometime in the last spring as they can only work in their spare time.

David and Becky Mainka have also been working to restore a building downtown, in which they hope to open an antique store. The building they are working on was where the Tanning Salon used to be.

If you are downtown make a point to take a gander in their windows. You will see how they have removed the dropped ceiling to show the original tin ceiling. They have removed the carpeting and other flooring so the old wooden floors can be seen.

The modern walls will be removed to show the original brick. David and Becky hope to move sometime next spring also.

While I'm on the subject (kinda) let me remind you that September 17 (tomorrow, if you're reading this Wednesday) is the last day to turn in your Logo and Motto Contest entry! Let me encourage you to think up a new and clever motto about Colorado City.

You will also have to design a logo to go with your motto. It must have a historical or antique theme and have the words Colorado City somewhere. Draw your work of art on a 8 1/2 x 11 piece of paper with your name address and phone number on the BACK.

Two winners could be selected if the judges like a certain motto and a different logo. Each winner will receive $50.00. Or if you are really lucky they might chose only yours and you could win 100 big ones alone!!

AWESOME, I realize I use that word a lot but for lack of anything better to describe Friday night's ballgame. I must say Awesome!! Let me tell you all about it but first you must feel the mood! Turn a fan on in front of you so you can feel the "breeze." Have the kids yell two bits and scream a lot. But most importantly, you must have (as in Stanton) an Elementary School principal pronouncing most of our players last names incorrectly!

The first half was pretty slow with neither team doing a whole lot at first. Then Stanton made a squirrelly touchdown off of a fumble near their goal. It wasn't long until Doug Conner ran the distance for a Wolf TD on the ball he received as a Stanton punt. Frank Briseno kicked a perfect extra point.

Nothing more to speak of until James Franco livened things up at the sounding of the buzzer signaling the end of the first half by an amazing interception IN THE END ZONE!! Whew, that was a close one!! The score was 7-7 at the half. Boring third quarter! In the fourth, Ashley Walthall (sounded like waffle in Stanton!) forced his way through the mass of bodies to claim the Wolves second touchdown. Again Frank Briseno made the extra point.

Everything was pretty slow again until around four minutes left in the ballgame, that's when Stanton made their second TD. To the Wolf fans delight, the Buffalo's opted to go for a 2 point conversion instead of kicking for the extra point. This late in the game one would think that if they didn't score we would win the game because we would get the ball back. YEA, THE WOLVES DID STOP THEM!!! Score 14-13. The Wolves had the ball, then fumbled. Stanton had the ball but the Wolves defense stopped them with 1/2 foot to go! Buffalos tried for a field goal which would win the game but Ashley Waffle foiled their plans.

Wolves got the ball back with 25 seconds on the clock, everyone was ecstatic!! Wolves win right? Wrong. Wolves fumble!! Stanton recovered. The Buffalo's threw a pass at the goal line but once again Waffle (Walthall) saves the day by intercepting the pigskin!! The clock SLOWLY ticks and FINALLY signals the end of the game. WOLVES WIN and Coach Howeth is still the only undefeated coach of Colorado City!

EMT instruction offered by WTC

The Continuing Education Division at Western Texas College will offer EMT Intermediate skills instruction for Emergency Medical Technicians as well as an EMT Refresher course. Both courses are approved by the Texas Department of Health and will provide the necessary skills to meet state requirements for intermediate certification and refresher certification.

The Intermediate course meets Tuesdays and Thursdays through December 17 with the Refresher Course scheduled October 1-20, November 17-24, and December 19 and 23.
