Wheat Negotiations Put In Private Hands

By ADREN COOPER Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has placed negotiations for a mammoth sale of wheat to the Communist bloc in the hands of private traders after setting guidelines on the sensitive shipping issue. Shortly after agreement was announced Friday between the United States and Russia on the handling of transportation, the Commerce Department issued an export license for the shipment of 100,000 tons of wheat — about $7.6 million worth — to Hungary. The deal, by the Giant Car, Inc., grain firm of Minneapolis, will be the first trickle in a steady flow of U.S. surplus grain to the Soviet Union and her European satellites. Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. said the understanding between the United States and Russia on shipping covers 2.5 million tons of wheat which the Soviets want by May 31. The satellite countries are expected to take an additional 1.5 million tons. The 4 million tons would be about 120 million bushels and would involve more than $250 million. Transportation costs may add another $50 million or more to the purchase price. Some members of Congress have said the deal may open the door for further sales of wheat and other U.S. farm products to the Communist countries. The Soviet Union recently purchased 6.8 million tons of wheat from Canada and 1.8 million tons from Australia. The government said 50 per cent of the wheat must be carried in U.S. ships. If they are available, and ceilings were set on the rates U.S. ship operators can charge. U.S. grain dealers will offer the Russians prices based on cost plus delivery, and then, if the Soviets accept, a trader can seek the best shipping deal available within the rules set by the government. The ceilings are based on guidelines used for the shipment of commodities under the foreign aid program and are approximately the same as current rates charged by U.S. shippers. Negotiations at the government level were stalled for more

Hundreds Die In Japan As 2 Disasters Strike

TOKYO (AP) — Disaster struck twice in quick and deadly succession in widely separated parts of Japan today, leaving at least 285 persons dead and hundreds injured. First was a tearing mine explosion on the southern main island of Kyushu which snuffed out the lives of at least 171 coal miners, with more bodies expected to be pulled out of the earth's depths as rescuers reach a gas-filled underground chamber where police said some 600 others were reported trapped. The second accident occurred about eight hours later in the port city of Yokohama, where two passenger trains speeding in opposite directions hurtled into a derailed three-car freight bill toward passage next week after the Senate voted to reauthorize the number of dead at 114, with at least 100 injured. The means of the injured could be heard under the twisted wreckage. The mine tragedy resulted from an explosion of coal dust which brought tons of stone and earth crashing down in one of the main tunnels of the Mikami, Mikawa mine at Onuma. The company said 1,221 miners were at work in the slanting galleries at the time, but many of them were able, bleed-

Voting Light In Election

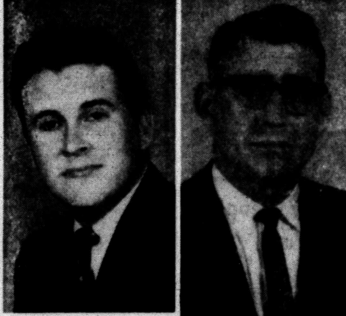

DALLAS (AP) — Extremely light voting was reported today as Texans voted on eliminating the poll tax. A congressman in the Austin district, three legislators and three other amendments were being elected. Local issues appeared at places such as Houston and Galveston. Beaumont reported voting was slow in most Jefferson county precincts. Balloting was heaviest in Negro areas there and in Port Arthur. Dallas reported an extremely light morning vote. At Austin the early morning turnout was reported as normal despite an early morning rain. Scattered showers fell over areas of South Texas during the morning, but elsewhere skies were clear to partly cloudy and temperatures cool.

Buddhists Pledge Aid Against Reds

By PETER ARNETT Associated Press Staff Writer SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's new regime received promise from Buddhists today they will help in the war against Communism. Buddhism can play a major role in the campaign against the Viet Cong guerrillas by preparing the nation's Buddhist millions — psychologically, said Thich Duc Nien, a leading Buddhist spokesman who was jailed under the Diem regime. "This war cannot be won by guns alone," said Duc Nien. The psychology of the nation is just as important. We can build it up. The Buddhist hierarchy has issued a series of pamphlets from Saigon's Ka Loi pagoda, center of Buddhist activities against the late president Ngo Dinh Diem, promising to stay out of politics. The proclamations urge support of the new government. But the Buddhist leaders have indicated a new militancy by announcing their intentions to form a new improved organization aimed at revitalizing Buddhism, the nation's predominant religion, through education and social welfare programs. On the battlefield, a U.S. Army sergeant was killed and another enlisted man wounded Friday afternoon as Viet Cong machine gun fire raked a mountain patrol in the desolate Darcac Plateau region near the Cambodian border, 170 miles east of Saigon. The government announced it has freed 250 opponents of the old regime who were held in secret underground jails and was still seeking other hidden prisoners. One such hideaway in Hue, 400 miles to the north, belonging to Ngo Dinh Can, brother of Diem who is now awaiting trial by a military tribunal. Called the "nine caves" the cell block was made up of caves about 5 feet long and high and 3 feet wide, without lights or sanitary facilities. "They are filthy, horrible places," said a U.S. officer who examined them. "It's hard to imagine prisoners being kept in such things in this day and

Smart in the Westbrook field of Mitchell County, four miles northwest of Westbrook. On the 24-hour potential, it pumped 72 barrels of 24-gravity oil plus 50 per cent water with a gas-oil ratio of 250-1 from perforations at 2,446-3,162 feet which had been treated with 3,000 gallons of acid and fractured with 20,000 gallons. Location is 467 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 16, block 28, T-1-N, T&P survey. W. C. Russell of Lubbock completed No. 13 E. T. Strain in the Sharon Ridge (1,700-foot) field of Mitchell County, 12 miles southeast of Ira. It completed for a daily potential of 37 barrels of 27.6-gravity oil plus 10 per cent water from perforations at 1,825-728 feet which were fractured with 20,000 gallons. Location is in section 10, George J. Reiger survey. Skelly Oil Company has scheduled No. 11 W. H. Parish as the second well in the recently opened Snyder No. 1 (upper Strawn) pool of Scurry County, five miles north of Snyder. On the 24-hour potential, it pumped 41 barrels of 38-gravity oil plus 50 per cent water from perforations at 2,499-1,000 feet with a gas-oil ratio of 300-1. No stimulation was reported. It is 467 feet from north and 1,667 feet from east lines of the south half of section 385, block 97, H&TC survey and is former producer from the Strawn B formation perforations between 7,300 and 7,296 feet. Continental Oil Company has cemented 4 1/2-inch casing at total depth of 7,100 feet in No. 1 C. B. Killgore and was running logs preparatory to perforating the Strawn B formation in the Nolan County wildcat. Strawn production was indicated on three drillsite tests between 6,055 and 6,190 feet with the recovery of 44-gravity oil, oil and gas-cut mud and salt water. A test of the Ellenburger at 6,960-7,020 feet recovered five feet of oil and 25 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Location is 853 feet from north and 666 feet from west lines of section 114, block 1-A, H&TC survey. It is 1 1/2 miles east of the lone producer in the Group, West (Strawn) pool.

Gang Attacks Calif. Woman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say a white woman was attacked on a bus Friday by a gang of Negroes who jabbed her with pins and pulled her hair. Mrs. Mary Kittendorf, 45, told officers the melee began when one youth asked her for a kiss. She said that when she resisted the others cursed her and knocked her to the floor of the bus.

Home Ready To Open Parliament

By RAYMOND E. PALMER
 Associated Press Staff Writer
 LONDON (AP)—Fresh from his success at the polls, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home prepared today for the reopening of Parliament and the task of strengthening his party for general elections that have to be called by next November.

Parliament will reconvene Tuesday after a summer recess that began Aug. 2. The reopening was delayed for two weeks to permit Douglas-Home to run in Thursday's special elections for a House of Commons seat for the Scottish district of Kinross and West Perthshire.

Sir Alec, who sat in the House of Lords as the 14th Earl of Home, required the Commons seat to be able to lead his Conservative party in debate in the lower house.

Mishap Reported

The Snyder police department reported a two-vehicle mishap Friday afternoon at 4.25.

The mishap occurred on private property at a service station on the East Highway.

Involved were a 1950 Chevrolet pickup driven by Isaac Winford Kinsey of Hermleigh and a 1962 Ford driven by Bolle Calloway of Snyder. Damage to the Calloway car was estimated at $100. The truck was not hurt and there were no injuries.

Hopes Dimmed For 1963 Civil Rights Bill Passage

By JOHN BECKLER
 Associated Press Staff Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Hopes for House passage this year of a civil rights bill dimmed today after the controversial legislation hit political and procedural snags.

Like President Kennedy's tax cut bill, it appears to have fallen far back in a race with the calendar.

Although the civil rights measure was approved by the House Judiciary Committee Oct. 29 after turmoil and compromise, a report explaining it and the committee members' views won't be ready until Nov. 18.

Such a report must be filed with the House before the bill can take the next step—to the House Rules Committee for a resolution setting terms of debate and sending it to the floor.

With Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., hostile to the bill, the process is certain to consume the maximum time possible.

It would appear that mid-

December is the earliest the bill could be ready for the floor, leaving little time for the house to act before it shuts down for a Christmas recess.

This evidence mounted that neither of the President's top priority domestic measures, civil rights or tax reduction, will make the grade with Congress before next year's session.

"There just mechanically cannot be a tax bill this year," Republican Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen declared today.

And, he said, the schedule is also working against civil rights legislation.

"As I put it together, it would be mid-December before that heavily on Kennedy's civil (civil rights) could get to us and our Christmas recess is going to begin on the 20th of December," Dirksen said in an interview with Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, prepared of Midwest radio and television stations.

Dirksen emphasized that Congress still has a lot of work to do on appropriations.

Practically all hopes for the tax measure this year were killed Friday by the Senate Finance Committee.

The committee set Dec. 13 as the final day of its hearings on the bill.

"That would leave only one week before the holiday recess—hardly enough days to complete Senate passage and compromise any differences with the House, which has already passed the bill.

Although the final measure was largely the result of negotiations between the administration and House Republican leaders, the report—prepared by the committee staff—leaned heavily on Kennedy's civil rights message as the source of the legislation.

Protests from Republicans who saw the draft were loud and long and it eventually had to be rewritten to place greater emphasis on the GOP contribution.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What advice have you for a 33-year-old woman who thinks it's time to marry, but doesn't know whom man to choose? I've taught school for eight years, and am well-traveled, so I'm not a sheltered country girl. A 42-year-old minister (widower, three children) wants to marry me, but the fish-bowl type of life I'd have to live doesn't appeal to me and, besides, I'm not that goddy-goddy. A doctor has proposed, but my best friend is married to one and she says it's a dog's life. The most attractive candidate travels, and he'd expect me to travel with him. That's no good for a woman who wants roots! There is also a young professor, but people in education don't make much and I don't want to work after I'm married. Can you help me?

DEAR ANNETTE: Face it. You haven't met the man you want to marry yet. When (if) you do, you'll find a hundred reasons why a husband makes sense.

DEAR ABBY: Ron and I have been married only a few months and we are living with his parents until we can afford an apartment of our own. We pay $80 a month for our bedroom, but we have no privacy whatsoever. When I am away at work during the day, they go through every one of my drawers. If they would let me know what they are looking for, I'd be glad to help them find it. I have nothing to hide. There is no excuse for anyone even going into our room as I clean it myself. My husband knows about his parents going through my things, but he says they'll be hurt if we make any accusations. What should I do?

DEAR NOTHING: How about a compromise? Don't ask the folks about the "treasure hunts"—but put a lock on your door and end them.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and I suppose I should be the happiest girl in the world, but I'm not. You see, I am going to marry a wonderful young man, but my parents are standing between me and the most important thing in my life—the kind of wedding every girl dreams of! I want a white gown and veil and I want to walk down the aisle. They insist that I get married in a short dress at a private ceremony in the parson's study. Their reason is a very narrow-minded one. When I was only a child (17) I eloped with a boy the same age. I got pregnant right away. It was a big mixed-up mess. My folks had the marriage annulled and I gave the baby up for adoption. It is like it never happened now. ## Storm Sinks Shrimp Boat

SABINE PASS (AP) — One shrimp boat sank and a rescue craft battled a storm to reach another crippled by raging seas today.

An 82-foot Coast Guard cutter located a shrimper named the Miss Caroline 10 miles north east of Galveston in the Gulf of Mexico about 6 a.m. Three persons were reported aboard. The Caroline, from Freeport, messaged at 10:30 p.m. it was sinking 11 miles southwest of Sabine Pass on the upper Texas coast. Radio contact was lost three hours later.

Coast guardsmen again made radio contact shortly before the rescue cutter approached the shrimper, and the Caroline advised it still was taking water heavily. But then the wind and waves had calmed considerably.

The Coast Guard station said efforts would be made to take the Caroline in tow.

Fifteen-foot waves and wind gusts meanwhile hurled the Princess, another shrimp boat from Freeport, over a jetty near the Coast Guard station here.

Coast Guardsmen found two men clinging to the stern of the Princess — the only part still above water — on the opposite side of the jetty and took them off. They are Russell MacCheremie, about 35, the skipper, from Cut Off, La., and Russell Scully, about 30, of Shreveport, La.

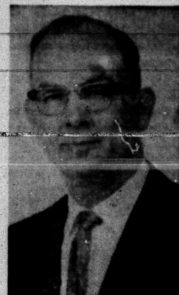

The Princess sank after the rescue.

ABE AND JAY ROGERS

Rogers, Inc. Has Complete Staff

If it's really true that people are the important ingredient in any business, Rogers, Inc. has the combination for successful service to Snyder and the surrounding countryside.

Abe Rogers, founder of the firm many years ago, has turned over most of the active management of Rogers to his son, T. Jay Rogers. The elder Rogers now mainly confines his contribution to the firm to a job he describes as "conversationalist" and keeps a special chair available for anyone who wishes to avail themselves of his service.

Jay Rogers is assisted by his wife, Jo, who is office manager at Rogers Inc. And Jay Don, their son, has been helping out part-time for the past three years.

Billie James, an employee of Rogers for the past four years, heads up the women's department. Mrs. James is married, and has one son, David.

Others in the ladies department include Jane Reynolds, who has been in the department for three and one-half years. Mrs. Reynolds, a native of Wichita, Kan., has lived in Snyder for the past seven years. She is married and has three children.

Also in the ladies department are Valla Osborne and Estelle Swann. Mrs. Osborne has been with the firm for two years, and Mrs. Swann joined the firm only recently. Both are married. Mrs. Osborne has four children, all married, and Mrs. Swann has three children.

Assisting part-time in the ladies department is Jackie Adams. Mrs. Adams is a native of Snyder, is married and has one son, Joe Mark.

Oneida Sevey is in the alteration department. A 16-year resident of Snyder, she has worked as needed for the past 14 years. Mrs. Sevey has two married daughters.

Head of the alteration department is Thelma Davenport. A native of Snyder, Mrs. Davenport has been with Rogers for the past year. Mrs. Davenport has one married daughter.

Clifford Hale and Kenneth Aldridge are the Rogers employees who meet in the men's department. Hale has been at Rogers five years and Aldridge for three years.

A native of Snyder, Hale has three children: Mokee, 20-years-old, Cindy, 16-years-old, and Joe, 18-years-old.

Aldridge, a native of Tullia, has one daughter, Angela, 2. In the children's department, Frankie Wall provides expert advice and assistance to Rogers customers. Mrs. Wall has been with Rogers for four years. She is a native of Snyder and has two married daughters.

Cut Due Bomber Force In England

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will cut its B47 jet bomber force in England by 19 planes and turn over two British bases to the Royal Air Force by next July 1, the Defense Department announced today.

At the same time, the Pentagon said, a squadron of 22 KB50 tanker airplanes for air refueling will be returned to the United States. The statement said "these are no longer required for U.S. air operations from Europe."

The Pentagon said the action is a part of the gradual change in the composition of the U.S. strategic force structure, as operational Polaris and land-based missiles increase rapidly in numbers.

Third Try Successful For Bandits

NEW YORK (AP)—The bandits who hijacked a car carrying $1 million in jewels and gold Friday apparently tried twice before to rob it but were scared off, police say.

Two of the five bandits masqueraded as policemen. Less than 7 hours after the midtown Manhattan robbery—

New York's biggest—the distributor's delivery car and slightly more than half the loot were found abandoned in a lot.

Louis Moots of Ridgely, N.J., the driver of the car, told police two of the five bandits were disguised in police uniforms. Moots was accompanied by five other messengers. All were unarmed.

Moots said that two other times in the last five weeks he had seen similarly dressed men leave an unmarked, black car in the same vicinity and approached his car, slowed by heavy traffic.

He said all three times, including the actual robbery, he thought he was about to get a traffic ticket. The first two times the men returned to their car he said, just as a marked police patrol car appeared.

Friday, however, one of the men in uniform pointed a pistol at him and said: "This is a stick-up."

The car, owned by the AAA Jewelers Service, was found abandoned at the rear of a partly demolished building several blocks away from the robbery site on West 41st Street. Police said tire marks near it indicated part of the loot had been transferred to another vehicle.

They said some of the jewels and eight gold bars, each weighing 15 pounds, were left behind, apparently when the men were frightened off by demolition workers nearby.

Police said the six messengers were ordered out of the station wagon and into a panel truck that pulled up near them. They were handcuffed to the inside of the truck, driven to a spot four blocks away and told not to seek help for an hour.

Police estimated the total loot at $1 million, subject to later inventory. They said it was all insured. The previous record for gem theft in the city was $1,000,000 in 1951. The biggest jewel theft in the nation is believed to be the $1,750,000 robbery of a Pompano Beach, Fla., jewelry store last year.

Her Death Reports Are Exaggerated Too

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Several unnamed persons are being sued for $1.5 million by former actress Claudia Dell, who says she was falsely reported to have died by suicide in Miss Davis' autobiography.

Miss Dell said Friday the actress Bette Davis and several other persons are being sued for $1.5 million by former actress Claudia Dell, who says she was falsely reported to have died by suicide in Miss Davis' autobiography.

Race Fans Are Likened To Howling Animal Pack

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following eye-witness account of the riot at Roosevelt Raceway Friday night was written for the Associated Press by Jack Lee of the Long Island Press. Lee was in the press box at the track throughout the hour-long riot.

By JACK E. LEE
Long Island Press
WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—It took only a few minutes for an orderly harness racing crowd to turn into a pack of howling animals. It was frightening.

I've seen a riot at a harness race track once before, about a year ago at Yonkers. But I've never seen anything like this. Yonkers was a corn-husking bee. These people were animals.

They swarmed onto the track, smashed the tote board, knocked down the fencing around the winner's circle, fought with police, started fires, smashed up a sulky, broke windows and doors and tried to turn over a couple of police cars.

It all started Friday night after a six-horse pile-up in the sixth race at Roosevelt Raceway, the first of four races involved in the twin double, a gambling device that often pays off in the tens of thousands of dollars.

All the favorites were cut down in the huge pile of horses, sulkeys and drivers. Only two horses—well back at the time of the accident—finished. The winner paid $35, negating most of the twin-double tickets.

For a minute or two after the accident, the crowd let off steam by booing. Then two men climbed over the rail in mid-stretch. In a twinkling they were followed by dozens, then scores, and finally by hundreds.

Even the announcement over the public address system that Conrad Rader, head of the security police at the track, had died of a heart attack while trying to quell the riot did nothing to halt the damage.

Then police began arriving. Fights broke out spasmodically and arrests were made one after another.

The police took command in a hurry, using nightsticks and the threat of riot guns.

I saw a couple of police dragging off a struggling man who tried to keep on fighting. Finally one of the cops fetched him a shot in the stomach that I could feel in the press box. It would have dropped Sonny Liston.

Still another time I saw a policeman using his night stick on a man's head like a gey pounder, a piece of wood into the ground.

Eight Employees At Modern Shop

Eight employees insure the success of the Modern Beauty Salon at 903 Fortieth Street. Owned by Jessie Hampton, the firm opened for business in January, 1958.

The owner is a native of Durant, Okla., and has lived in Snyder for 13 years.

Operators at the Modern Beauty Salon include Mary Beidman, an 11-year resident of Snyder who has been at the Modern for three years, and Lorena (Billie) Mattson, a native of Dunn, who has been at the Modern for eight and one-half years. Mrs. Mattson has had over 30 years of advanced training under outstanding artists in the United States. A widow, she resides with her mother in Dunn.

Karen Millhollen, a native of Snyder, is a graduate of Jessie's Beauty College. Mrs. Millhollen joined the Modern staff in September. LaWanna Vincent, a 12-year resident of Snyder has been on the Modern staff for four years.

Betty Row also has lived in Snyder for 12 years. She is a graduate of Jessie's Beauty College, and has been at the Modern for one and one-half years.

Syd Wilson, a former resident of Harlem, Mont., has lived in Snyder for a year and three months. A graduate of Jessie's Beauty College, she has been at the Modern for the past six months.

Needa Guelker, from Sweetwater, has lived in Snyder for three years. Mrs. Guelker, the mother of two sons, is a graduate of Jessie's Beauty College and has been at the Modern for six months.

Mary Hood, manager of the Modern Beauty Salon, is also from Sweetwater and has lived in Snyder for 13 years. She has been with the Modern for the past four years.

MARY HOOD

Three of the younger fans stole a sulky from the paddock area. One of them climbed on and the other two pulled him back and forth across the finish line several times. Finally they tired of it, broke up the sulky and set it on fire.

Police kept arriving by the carload. The place looked like a battleground and the new police rushed in as reinforcements. On one occasion, I saw five police surrounding one of the rioters.

On another, a crowd of about 20 spectators surged over a lone policeman and swept him out of sight. I don't know what happened to him.

Finally the police gained control and spectators began leaving the track.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hodges, Paula Aguilar, a native of Austin, is another long-time employee of the firm, having been with the 66 for eight years. Mayo Bollinger is from Abilene, and has lived in Snyder for five months, and has been with the 66 all of that time.

Sallie Rios, from Tucson, Ariz., has lived in Snyder for seven years, and has been with the 66 for three years. Frankie Hardy, a native of Fluvanna, has been with the cafe for six years.

Alonzo Johnson, a native of Snyder, has a 12-year service record with the firm. Carl Barnett, a native of Steele, Mo., has lived in Snyder 11 years, during the last seven of which he has been employed at the 66 Cafe.

Erna Sherwood, a native of Snyder, has been with the 66 for four years. Gladys Pemberton, from Plainview, has been an employee for six months. Conway Preas, from Big Spring joined the 66 staff just last week.

Johnnie Bounds, a native of Colorado City, also just joined the 66 Cafe staff about a 12 weeks ago. Hulene Smith, from Comanche, has lived in Snyder for five years, with the last year spent as an employee of the 66. Ora Gray, a native of Borden County, has been an em-

Ever since that first day they have taken pride, not only in the interior of the building, and in the excellent foods served, but in the outside of the restaurant as well, with its attractive entranceway and landscaping in the covered walkway and outside.

Few of the 66 Cafe employees are natives of Snyder. They have come from near and far to Snyder from Menard where they had owned and operated a restaurant. They opened for business in Snyder on March 10, 1950, and added the luxurious dining room in 1960.

There was a report that the American Bar Association said it can produce witnesses to substantiate the state group's opposition to the nomination.

Rabinovitz, 52, declined comment. So did the White House and the state's Democratic senators, William Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson, who had endorsed the nomination for Rabinovitz, nominated in February, was lawyer for the United Auto Workers in the long and bitter strike against the Kohler Co. in the 1950s.

State Bar President Francis Wilcox said the poll results are being forwarded to Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Judiciary Committee which suspended hearings on the nomination after opposition by the ABA.

The Milwaukee Sentinel said it learned that a letter sent to Eastland by the NBA said Rabinovitz "didn't possess the qualifications and standards necessary."

50,046 Enroll In Aged Health Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—A total of 50,046 persons enrolled in the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association program during the first enrollment period.

Future enrollment periods will be held at infrequent intervals, the association said Thursday.

Insurance companies are participating in the program, which provides health insurance with no restrictions to persons over 64. The legislature established the program, to make Texas the fourth state with such programs.

I Killed, 2 Injured

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP)—Miss Ruth Ann Miller, 24, of Gustine was killed and her parents suffered critical injuries in a car-truck crash Friday night. Officers said a car driven by a large truck halted eight miles east on Texas 36.

Miller and his wife, Pauline, 36, were taken to Comanche. The Negro trucker, Albert Alton, 47, of Houston was not hurt.

Erna Sherwood, a native of Snyder, has been with the 66 for four years. Gladys Pemberton, from Plainview, has been an employee for six months. Conway Preas, from Big Spring joined the 66 staff just last week.

Johnnie Bounds, a native of Colorado City, also just joined the 66 Cafe staff about a 12 weeks ago. Hulene Smith, from Comanche, has lived in Snyder for five years, with the last year spent as an employee of the 66. Ora Gray, a native of Borden County, has been an em-

Ever since that first day they have taken pride, not only in the interior of the building, and in the excellent foods served, but in the outside of the restaurant as well, with its attractive entranceway and landscaping in the covered walkway and outside.

Few of the 66 Cafe employees are natives of Snyder. They have come from near and far to Snyder from Menard where they had owned and operated a restaurant. They opened for business in Snyder on March 10, 1950, and added the luxurious dining room in 1960.

There was a report that the American Bar Association said it can produce witnesses to substantiate the state group's opposition to the nomination.

Rabinovitz, 52, declined comment. So did the White House and the state's Democratic senators, William Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson, who had endorsed the nomination for Rabinovitz, nominated in February, was lawyer for the United Auto Workers in the long and bitter strike against the Kohler Co. in the 1950s.

State Bar President Francis Wilcox said the poll results are being forwarded to Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Judiciary Committee which suspended hearings on the nomination after opposition by the ABA.

50,046 Enroll In Aged Health Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—A total of 50,046 persons enrolled in the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association program during the first enrollment period.

Future enrollment periods will be held at infrequent intervals, the association said Thursday.

Insurance companies are participating in the program, which provides health insurance with no restrictions to persons over 64. The legislature established the program, to make Texas the fourth state with such programs.

I Killed, 2 Injured

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP)—Miss Ruth Ann Miller, 24, of Gustine was killed and her parents suffered critical injuries in a car-truck crash Friday night. Officers said a car driven by a large truck halted eight miles east on Texas 36.

Miller and his wife, Pauline, 36, were taken to Comanche. The Negro trucker, Albert Alton, 47, of Houston was not hurt.

Quints Cause Changes In Family Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Old ways are changing, and giving way to the new for the Fischer family of Aberdeen, S.D.

"Life will never be the same for us as it was before," says Andrew J. Fischer, father of the only quintuplets ever to survive birth in the United States.

Nevertheless, he adds that he and his wife are determined to maintain a normal, close family life for their children, now numbering 10.

"Mary Ann and I don't plan to let our good luck and the shower of publicity go to our heads, either," he writes in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

"But at the same time, our life has changed in many unpredictable ways—and we do have to make some big decisions about how we are going to handle our suddenly complicated affairs. We are trying to take things step by step and learn as we go along."

Fischer says that when he first learned his wife was pregnant he has quintuplets, it never occurred to him that vast attention would focus on his family. He says a big worry was paying the bills.

"A crushing responsibility had dropped on my shoulders," he says, noting that his take-home pay from his job as a shipping clerk in a food-distributing warehouse was only $78 a week.

Fischer says his wife's fears were much like his own. She kept asking, "how are we going to take care of them?"

But after the births, the avalanche of concern, gifts, and offers of help began.

"Believe me, Mary Ann and I weren't—and aren't—interested in making money out of the quintuplets," Fischer says. "I never crossed our minds. We simply prayed for them to survive and grow up as healthy, normal children, regular members of our family."

"If we had been rich, we simply would have turned down all offers, with sincere thanks. . . . But we had to face the reality that we were poor and we had to meet obligations to our family and our community."

Since the quintuplets were born two months ago, the Fischers have moved into a large, rented home in town, and the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce has offered to build them a new specially designed home by next fall.

Use a five-or-six-inch skillet when you want to make paper-thin French pancakes, and fry one pancake at a time.

Hobbs Panthers Trounce Highland In District

HIGHLAND — The Hobbs Panthers romped to a 62-30 victory over the Highland Hornets here Friday night to remain undefeated in District 4-B competition. The victory, coupled with McCaulley's 47-0 loss to Blackwell insured the Panthers of a tie for the district honors. Friday, and the winner of that contest will represent the district in the playoffs.

Ruben Mijares was the big gun for the Panthers as he scored five touchdowns and seven extra points and a total of 37 points. He also passed for another score and an extra point.

The Panthers jumped right out in front, scoring 23 points the first quarter while holding the Hornets scoreless. Donald Hull opened the scoring by running a fumble back 50 yards for the TD. Freddy Martinez scored the extra point on a pass from Mijares.

Jerry Hodges then ran 21 yards for another Hobbs score and Mijares kicked for the two points. Mijares then ran 21 for the third Panther touchdown and kicked the two points.

Highland came back in the second period to score 12 points while Hobbs crossed the goal-line once. For Highland Dave Wright tallied on a 13-yard run and Gene Rankin on a 69-yard run. The try-for-points was unsuccessful after both scores. Ben Garcia tallied for Hobbs on a six-yard run.

Hobbs scored twice in the third period. Tommy Lay crossed pay dirt once on a three-yard run and Mijares went 43 yards for another score. Highland did not mark during this period.

Each team put up three touchdowns on the scoreboard during the final period. For Highland Larry Taylor tallied on a pass from Rankin. Ronnie Krejci ran 10 yards for a score,

Snyder Has Sole Lead In District

The pre-season favorite for the District 3-AAA championship was virtually eliminated from the race and a team picked to finish in the lower division gained undisputed possession of the lead in action Friday night.

Defending champion Brownfield who was tabbed as most likely to succeed again this year was edged 12-7 by the Lamesa Tornados for the second consecutive loss for the Cubs.

On the other hand the Snyder Tigers, who were supposed to finish fourth in district, up-ended the Sweetwater Mustangs for their third consecutive win.

Ruth Jessen holds a two-stroke advantage going into the second round.

After 18 holes today all the amateurs will be dropped from the field for Sunday's double.

Only three foursums got off the first tee Friday before heavy heating either Lake View or

Johnson May Be What Giants Need

By The Associated Press

The New York Giants could win forever and it wouldn't mean a thing if they don't get some help. John Henry Johnson may be just the man to provide it.

Johnson, Pittsburgh Steeler fullback, was out of action the first time the Steelers played Cleveland, and the Browns pull out a squeaker. But Johnson is healthy, hale and hearty again and will be very much in evidence when the Steelers take on Cleveland in the National Football League's top game Sunday afternoon.

The outcome could have a vital bearing on the Eastern Conference race. Cleveland leads at 7-1 and the Steelers are second at 6-2. They aren't matched again this season and if New York is to catch up, some one must knock off the Browns.

Pittsburgh, with a healthy Johnson, may have as good a chance as anyone.

The Browns, with Jimmy Brown running for 175 yards, won the first game 53-23, but the Steelers had a 23-21 lead going into the final period. With Johnson out, Pittsburgh twice had to settle for field goals from short yardage. The Steelers now are 4-31 for the season.

The first game drew a record 66,884 at Cleveland and the return match is expected to have a turn-away crowd of some 55,000 in Pittsburgh.

New York has won five straight over Philadelphia and is heavily favored to do it again. The Eagles, with top quarter-back Johnny Rodgers still troubled with a shoulder ailment, now are 2-5-1.

Green Bay and Chicago, co-leaders in the West at 7-1, each are solid favorites in home games. Los Angeles, 2-6, is at Chicago and Minnesota, 3-5, at Green Bay.

Washington, 2-6, is at St. Louis, 5-3; Detroit, 4-4, is at Baltimore, 3-5; and Dallas, 2-4, at San Francisco, 1-7.

Ira Defeats Divide 32-8

IRA — The Ira Bulldogs rolled over the Divide Trojans 32-8 Friday night for a district 4-B victory. The Bulldogs are now 1-3 in district competition and will finish up their season Friday night in Highland.

Jack Payne opened the scoring for Ira as he went around right end for 20 yards and a score in the opening period. Norman Turner kicked for the two points. Ira got two more points when Danny Crowder tackled Divide's Jerry Rotan in the endzone for a safety.

In the second period Divide went around left end for 20 yards and another tally to give the Bulldogs a 16-0 halftime advantage.

In the third period Don Kimbrell tackled Rotan in the endzone again for another Ira safety and then Kimbrell scored a touchdown on a two yard run. Divide got on the scoreboard in the final period as Jerry Rotan tallied on a six-yard run and kicked the points.

With about 43 seconds left Ira scored again on a pass from Kimbrell to Payne. Turner kicked the points.

Top-Rated Teams Face Stern Tests

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Most of the nation's top-ranked college football teams faced stern tests this afternoon, risking not only their high standings but—in many cases—their conference leads as well.

Texas, as the No. 1 team in the land, probably had the most to lose. And unranked Baylor, which played the Longhorns, probably had the most to win.

The Longhorns are rocking along at the top of the national ratings with a 7-0 record, but they've been hard-pressed in each of the last three. The margins of victory have been 4, 4 and 5 points.

In Baylor they faced a batch of hungry Bears armed with the country's most deadly effective passing game in the tossing of Don Trull and the catching of Larry Elkins.

Among the other ranked teams, only No. 3 Mississippi appeared to have a real breather. Ole Miss, 5-0-1, was at home to little Tampa. No. 7 Alabama is not scheduled.

No. 5 Auburn, at 4-0 in the three unbeaten, untied teams remaining, had its work cut out against a good Mississippi State team, 4-2-1, at Jackson.

Miss. Auburn needs a victory to break a tie with Mississippi for the South-east Conference lead. Each is 4-1 in the league.

Illinois, Michigan State and Ohio State, all among the top ten, are tied for the Big Ten lead at 3-0-1. No. 2 Illinois, 5-0-1, was at home to an up and down Michigan squad with a 2-3-1 mark. No. 9 Michigan State, 4-1-1, visited tough Purdue, 3-3; and Ohio State, 4-1-1, hosted tough independent Penn State, 5-2.

Oklahoma, No. 6 and 5-1, continued its quest for still another Big Eight title against Iowa State, 4-3.

No. 4 Navy and star quarterback Roger Staubach played host to Maryland, 2-5. No. 8 Pitt, 5-1, visited unpredictable Notre Dame, 2-4.

Three games were down for regional television coverage: Penn State at Ohio State, Northwestern at Wisconsin and Arkansas at Rice.

Princeton, the third member of the unbeaten, untied, took a 6-0 mark to Cambridge, Mass. Against aroused Harvard for the Ivy League game.

Villanova opened the weekend activity with a 24-14 victory over Detroit in the only major game scheduled Friday night.

Player Wins Game With Wooden Leg

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—He looks just like any other eager football player when he's standing around.

He looks like a special one when he kicks the football.

And when you realize Ron Manka, 17, is kicking with a wooden leg, you know you are seeing the epitome of determination.

Manka loped onto the field Thursday and kicked two extra points that gave the Kansas freshman football team a 14-13 halftime lead over the Kansas State freshmen.

In the third quarter, Kansas grabbed a K-State fumble but couldn't advance the ball. Coach Buddy Lee sent Manka in and the youngster booted a 33-yard field goal, using just a step and a half.

Kansas scored another touchdown and won the game 23-13.

The Wichita boy had his right leg amputated below the knee after an accident at a construction site when he was 10 years old.

That didn't stop him from keeping up with the other boys. At Wichita East High School, he became the regular kickoff man and placekicker.

Kansas gave him a limited scholarship.

Celtics Can Be Defeated

By The Associated Press

Now it's official: The Celtics CAN be beaten. For a while the it looked like there was room for doubt.

Cincinnati finally turned the trick Friday night, but it took a bit of doing. The Royals' Bob Boozer dropped in a game-winning jump shot with five seconds left, handing the powerful Boston Celtics their first National Basketball Association loss of the season, 116-115.

The defending champion Celtics, who have won five titles in a row, had reeled off a string of seven straight victories and were threatening to make a run away of the Eastern Division race before Cincinnati finally found the combination. The Celtics still hold a two-game lead.

Philadelphia dropped St. Louis 106-106 and Los Angeles edged San Francisco 93-90 in the only other games scheduled Friday night. The combination cut the Hawks' Western Division lead over Los Angeles to a half game.

The Celtics led Cincinnati 107-83 with 6 1/2 minutes left, but the Royals ripped off 13 consecutive points, nine on free throws, and closed to within one point.

They swapped baskets until Boozer put Cincinnati ahead with 21 seconds left, Sam Jones hit for Boston, and then Boozer connected on his winner.

Philadelphia's victory over St. Louis was the 76ers' first on their home court and snapped a six-game Hawk winning string. St. Louis' Bob Pettit, who had 26 points, almost tied the game in the final second when his shot hit the rim and rolled off. Lee Shaffer had 29 points and John Kerr 27 for the winners.

Saturday's schedule has Philadelphia at Baltimore, Detroit at Cincinnati, Boston at St. Louis and New York vs. San Francisco at Oakland.

Fighter Can Give Thanks To Referee

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Tony Alongi, a stringbean fighter with whiplike arms, can thank referee Cy Gottfried for his disputed decision over Canadian George Chuvalo in their brawling 10-round fight Friday night.

Gottfried, who earlier had warned Chuvalo, took away the last round from the Toronto slugger and gave the decision to Alongi, 95 to 93.

Judge Jim Ruby also saw it for Alongi, by the same score, while Judge Bunny Lovett saw Chuvalo the winner, 99 to 93.

So did at least half the 2,240 ringside spectators, who burst into a storm of boos when the decision went to Alongi, fighting out of nearby Hollywood, Fla.

The fight was nationally televised, and TV matchmaker Teddy Brenner called it "one of the worst decisions I've ever seen."

The Associated Press scored it 95-94 in Chuvalo's favor.

Alongi, 6-feet 5, weighed in at 204, and he needed every ounce to withstand the bull-like power of Chuvalo, and the slamming rights and lefts to the body and head. Chuvalo, weighing 200 and with a vicious left and a right standing just over six feet, three, but took the mandatory never took a backward step and eight count. Chuvalo failed to in the third he floored Alongi follow up his advantage.

Oakland Trying For Championship

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Coach Al Davis wince at the mention of his Oakland team's four-game winning streak and talk of its title chances in the American Football League—but admits "these kids are unbelievable."

Oakland, winner of just three games out of 23 in 1961-62, clipped a half game off San Diego's Western Division lead by smacking the skidding Kansas City Chiefs 27-7 Friday night. Tom Flores fired two touchdown passes to end Art Powell and halfback Clem Daniels ripped the Chiefs for 122 yards rushing.

"Powell was fantastic and so was Daniels," Davis said. "Our ability to control the ball surprised me."

The Raider coach wouldn't discuss his club's four-game streak, longest in the AFL this season. Oakland is 6-4. San Diego is 6-2 going into its game Sunday at Boston, the Eastern co-leader at 5-4.

Daniels, a swift 220-pounder, once played for the Chiefs as a defensive back. His 122-yard game was only the fourth over 100 yards against Kansas City in its four-year history.

Davis said Oakland defense was aimed at stopping Len Dawson, Kansas City quarterback, because "he's the key to their team."

Dawson hit only six of 25 passes for 49 yards and was dumped six times for losses totaling 71 yards. The Chiefs played almost all the way without their talented split end, Chris Burford, who is injured.

It was the fifth straight defeat for Kansas City, now 2-6-1.

Chiefs Lose To Raiders

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Forward passing by Tom Flores and the running of Clem Daniels helped the Oakland Raiders whip the Kansas City Chiefs 27-7 Friday night for their fourth straight American Football League victory.

The Raiders' winning streak is the longest of the AFL season and put Al Davis' club only one game from first-place San Diego in the Western Division. Oakland is 6-4, San Diego 6-2.

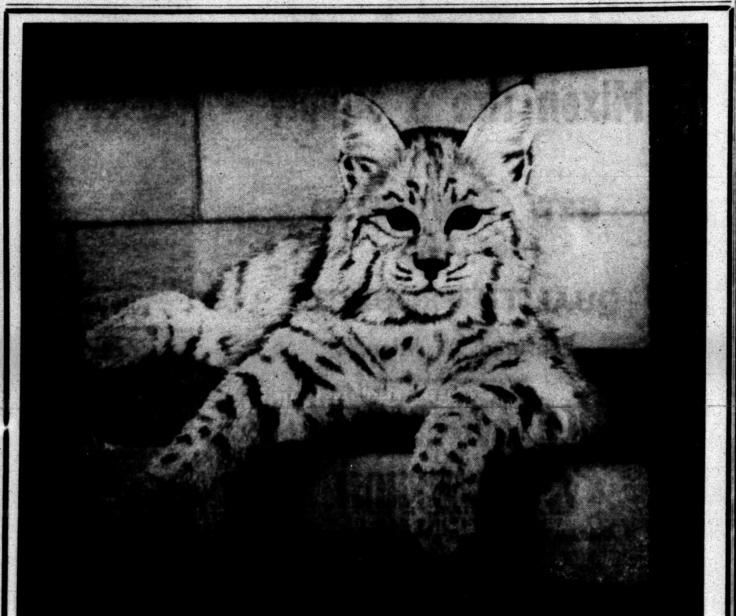

It was the fifth straight defeat for the once-proud AFL defending champs and gave them undisputed possession of last place at 2-6-1.

Flores fired touchdown strikes of 24 and 34 yards to his talented split end, Art Powell, in a 19-point second quarter which settled the issue. Mike Mercer kicked 14 and 41-yard field goals.

Snyder Tigers Roll By Sweetwater 20-7

Now Lead In District

SWEETWATER — The Snyder Tigers took over sole possession of first place in the District 3-A-A race here Friday night by trouncing the Sweetwater Mustangs 20-7. The win gave Snyder a 3-0 record in district play while Sweetwater is now 2-1.

Quarterback Jimmy Wilson threw two touchdown passes to halfback Leslie Brown, and ran over on himself as the Tigers won over their arch-rivals.

The Tigers soundly whipped the Mustangs in the first half of play, and then held off a second half surge by Sweetwater to up their record to 6-2 for the season. It was the fifth loss for the Mustangs in eight starts.

Snyder completely dominated the first half of the contest, holding Sweetwater to only a net four yards rushing, 12 yards passing, and one first down, which came on the last play of the half.

Meanwhile the Tigers had put 12 points on the scoreboard by half-time while grounding out 137 yards on the ground and 66 in the air.

Mustang Comeback
The Mustangs began a real effort for a comeback in the third quarter after Snyder had stretched its lead to 20-0. Quarterback Benny Face put life in the Sweetwater offense with his running and passing.

The Tiger defense arose to the occasion, however, and a staved off two partial-threats by the Mustangs in the fourth period.

Snyder came out on top in about all of the statistics. The Tigers edged the Mustangs in first downs 15-12, and outgained them in total offense 271 yards to 151.

The Tigers showed that they came to play ball as they took the opening kickoff and marched forward for a score without relinquishing the ball. The 63-yard drive took 14 plays, all on the ground, and consumed six minutes and 15 seconds. During the march most of the gains were of the short — yardage variety, with the only gain of more than five yards being an 18-yard run by Brown on the second play of the game.

The march began on the Snyder 37 after Jay Williamson had run the kickoff back 23 yards. Fullback Danny Aycock hit for four and then Brown got his 18 and a first down on the Snyder 41.

Wilson Scores
From then on it was "hit-bit-hit" with Brown, Aycock, Tom Kincaid and Wilson all lugging the ball. Wilson took it over the last five yards for the score with five minutes and 45 seconds left in the initial period. The Tigers decided to go for two, but Brown was stopped short of the double-stripe and Snyder had a narrow 6-0 lead.

Sweetwater took the ensuing kickoff, but could not penetrate Snyder's defense, and was forced to punt. Brown took the punt and returned it 20 yards, but the Tigers were penalized 15 yards on the return.

From their own 40 yardline the Tigers threatened again, driving to the Sweetwater 36 before being halted. The big gainer of the drive was a 21-yard pass from Wilson to Kincaid. After reaching the 36 in Mustang territory a second down pass by Wilson was intercepted by Danny Foust in the end zone and Sweetwater had the ball on its own 20.

Once again the Tiger defense stood like the Rock of Gibraltar and once again the Mustangs had to kick out of the hole.

The Tigers started from their own 48 and looked like they were going to score again, but another interception stopped the drive. They got to the Mustang 19 before a fourth down pass by Brown was intercepted by Pace and run back to his own 19.

Four downs later Sweetwater was forced to punt and the kick was good for 53 yards, setting the Tigers back to their own 27.

This time Snyder was not to be denied as the Tigers marched 73 yards to paydirt, with two key pass-plays keeping them going.

Wilson returned the punt 17 yards, but once again a 15-yard penalty pushed the Tigers back. With only about two minutes remaining in the half, the Tigers took to the air. After one went incomplete, the next attempt was intercepted by Lane in the endzone.

Hoping to light up their side of the scoreboard the Mustangs tried to get their passing game started. With five seconds showing on the clock one pass went complete for 11 yards and the first Sweetwater first down was intercepted by Lane in the endzone.

The Mustangs came back fired up in the second half, but to no great avail. They took the kickoff back to their 40 but were pushed back by the defensive-minded Tigers. On second down Face was tackled for a nine-yard loss by Murphy and Kincaid and the Mustangs punted to the Snyder 45.

Tigers Score Again
The Tigers started a drive for their third tally, and this time used the airways. Three passes by Wilson sparked the drive, with the first one being an 18-yarder to Brown. Then came one to Dower good for 16 yards, followed by an 18-yard completion to Brown for the touchdown. Wilson then threw to Dower for the two points and a 20-0 lead.

The Mustangs had too good a team to be contained completely and took the kickoff and marched for their one score, with the aid of a 15-yard penalty. Sweetwater had to work for the yardage against the stingy Snyder defense. Foust carried it over from the five, and end Joe Bob Shook kicked the extra point.

Trailing by 13 going into the final stanza, the Mustangs still hoped to pull one out of the hat. Taking a Dower punt, they gained possession on their own 20. Pace passed incomplete to Groughar, and then Lane lost a yard as he was tackled by Kincaid. Another incomplete pass and the Mustangs had to punt.

Brown returned the kick about 20 yards, but another penalty cost the Tigers 15 and.

they were in business on the Mustang 45.

The Tigers almost got another score as Wilson uncorked a long one just out of the outstretched arms of Brown at the goal line.

The Mustangs finally got their passing game to working and tried to come back for a tally. Most of the passes were of the short-yardage variety. They marched to the Snyder 31 before Brown intercepted to thwart the drive.

SCORING SUMMARY
SNYDER — Wilson on five-yard run with 5:45 left in first quarter.
SNYDER — Brown on 28-yard pass from Wilson with 2:44 remaining in first half.
SNYDER — Brown on 18-yard pass from Wilson with 6:46 showing on clock in third period. Wilson passed to Dower for two points.

SWEETWATER — Fouse on five-yard run with two minutes remaining in third period. Shook kicked the extra points.

Players Hope For Boycott Of Game

PRAIRIE VIEW (AP) — Students for Equality, Liberty and Freedom, said the football team completely supports the group's call for a boycott of the game.

Prairie View, undefeated and ranked high among small colleges, was to play Bishop College of Dallas Saturday. The Prairie View team is tied with Southern University of Houston for the lead in the Southwestern Athletic Conference, composed of all-Negro schools.

Franklin said Prairie View and Bishop students had been asked to stay away from the game.

"Some of the team didn't want to play," he said, "but since they are ranked so high in the nation and since the game has been scheduled for a long time, they agreed to play."

The Prairie View-Bishop game usually draws about 9,000 fans.

Franklin said he was not sure alumni would honor the boycott but that students were expected to skip the game.

Nearly all of Prairie View's more than 3,000 students have backed the student organization in complaints that the school administration gave students no support in their attempts to integrate public facilities at nearby Hempstead.

Student government leaders recently resigned in protest. They also asked the ouster of Dr. T. R. Solomon, student life director. "The school rejected this demand,"

Franklin said his organization decided to abandon attacks on Solomon and others in the school administration in order to concentrate on boycotting the homecoming game and ceremonies.

He said all homecoming activities except the Prairie View-Bishop game had been cancelled because students refused to take part in them.

Only one New York Yankee regular, batted better than .300 in the 1963 World Series. Catcher Elston Howard hit .333.

TCU Polywogs Edge Texas Freshmen 10-7

FORT WORTH (AP) — A 37-yard field goal in the fourth quarter gave the Texas Christian Polywogs a 10-7 victory over the Texas freshmen Friday.

The Sooners took the lead in the second period on a 7-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Grady Herold to end Robert Oliver. David Conway kicked the extra point.

Texas Christian tied the score in the third quarter on an 8-yard pass from quarterback Steve Theel to end Joe Sherrill. Bruce Alford kicked the point.

Alford booted the winning field goal 4:06 into the final quarter. It was the Polywogs' first victory over Texas freshmen since 1957.

Chile President Has Oasis On Continent Of Turmoil

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Ever since he said, "with complete publicity morning around 10:30 the order of Chile, strides out of to decrease or repressive meas- his apartment house, waves to citizens who happen to notice, and walks, unguarded, in his office 10 blocks away."

Frequently Jorge Alessandri Rodriguez finds 20 or 30 people gathered on the sidewalk to applaud him as he sets out. Others greet him at street corners where he waits for lights to turn green.

Despite all of Chile's problems—the same kind of problems which have created anti-government violence in other Latin lands—Alessandri is an immensely popular figure and he presides over a peaceful country. What makes the difference in Chile?

Alessandri's answer to that question was developed in an interview with The Associated Press. Though he spoke strictly in terms of Chilean interests, his words had a broader significance.

He had found, he said, that "the country is tired of old-fashioned sterile politics and hungry for a healthy political approach to basic national concerns."

Petroleum Industry Set For Review

By MAX B. SKELTON
CHICAGO (AP)—All segments of the domestic petroleum industry will be here the next three days for an annual review of operations.

About 6,000 producers, refiners, pipeliners and marketers will attend the American Petroleum Institute meeting. It is a trade association of both independent and major operators.

Topics will range from government regulation to worldwide production.

The oilmen will find healthy factors conflicting with continued depressed conditions.

Domestic production and demand for petroleum products have set all-time records this year but drilling operators have declined another five per cent.

Many companies have reports of record or near record incomes (the first nine months of the year) but a new rash of crude and products price cuts have prompted concern.

Washington problems will dominate the Monday report by the institute's chief executive officer, Frank Icard, a former Texas congressman.

Icard resigned from Congress two years ago to become the institute's chief spokesman in Washington. He was elected president of the trade group Jan. 8, succeeding the late Frank Porter, who had headed the institute since 1950.

Icard, a former member of the House Ways and Means Committee, has warned the industry it can expect a tougher tax battle in 1964.

A House tax bill that would boost the oil industry's tax bill an estimated $40 million a year now is under study by the senate.

Icard has warned that oil's controversial 47½ per cent depletion tax allowance has strong opposition in the senate. For this reason, Icard says, the full battle on oil taxation has not yet begun.

Junior Editors Quiz on INTERNATIONAL DATE LINE

QUESTION: Why is the International Date Line so crooked?

ANSWER: In (1), we look down on the earth which turns in the direction of the arrows. The sun shines at right angles to the date line. The square marked 'o' to the left of the sun shows the zero meridian, a north-south line running through Greenwich, England, from which east-west distances are measured. In this position of the earth, it is noon at Greenwich, just opposite is the 180th meridian which runs through the middle of the Pacific. This is the International Date Line and here it is midnight on Saturday. But the instant the Date Line moves past with the earth's rotation, a new day, Sunday, begins (2). As different parts of the earth turn past the midnight line, it becomes Sunday there too, so the Date Line carries Sunday right around the earth (3, 4).

The Date Line has crooks in it by arrangement between countries. If it had been straight at the top, for example, a part of Siberia would have been in a different day from the rest of Siberia. Further south, it is angled so groups of islands can be in the same day together.

FOR YOU TO DO: It seems strange to think that a boat can sail from Sunday back into Saturday, but it is possible. From our map of the Date-Line, figure out how this can happen.

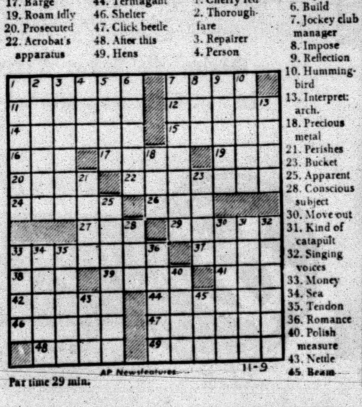

(Mary Joan Harper of Collinsville, Ill., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.)

Berlin Autobahn Crisis Follows Allied Concessions

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
Associated Press Staff Writer
BERLIN (AP) — The East-West crisis over the Berlin Autobahn follows years of retreats to Communist demands by low-ranking allied officers stationed in the divided city after World War II.

In the face of an aggressive, but subtle, Soviet effort to whittle away at Western rights, the Western officers have often taken the easy way out.

Rather than argue with the Russians when facing possible incidents, the Western officers bowed to Soviet pressures and demands.

Western rights were established at a meeting June 29, 1945, attended by Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, representing the United States.

They discussed the Western occupation of Berlin and how the 110-mile Autobahn would be used by allied military traffic. Zhukov demanded that:

1. All travelers must have military orders.
2. Soviet army military police control the Autobahn.

3. Customary traffic rules and regulations be obeyed.

Clay demanded that the allies determine the size of any convoy — both in number of vehicles and troops — and that the Soviets not be allowed to control cargo and equipment on the vehicles.

Zhukov agreed and Clay wrote in his memoirs: "It was agreed that all traffic — air, road and rail — would be free from border searches or control by customs or military authorities."

From the time American, British and French troops moved into Berlin in July 1945, until the spring of 1947 these rules on the freedom of movement on the Autobahn were genuine.

Early in 1947 the Soviets began demanding identifications, but this still was a haphazard operation.

Continued insistence on border and customs control and rejection by the allies, according to Clay, eventually was made the Soviet excuse for the 1948-49 blockade of Berlin.

The four-power agreement lifting the Berlin blockade stated that the transportation restrictions imposed during the blockade would be eliminated.

But the Russians continued to chisel away at established allied rights such as the U. S. Army aid station and the British army gasoline and rest station on the Autobahn.

So far as can be determined, the first time the Soviets asked troops aboard an American convoy to dismount for a headcount was April 15, 1951.

A young U.S. officer told the Russian checkpoint commander where to go — and used unprintable four-letter words. The Russian guards, according to one source, shrugged their shoulders and waved the convoy through.

A month later the Russians tried it again. This time, according to the source, a different American convoy commander allowed his troops to step out of their trucks.

On Aug. 20, 1961, a U.S. Army battle group of 1,500 men commanded by Col. Glover Johns was moved toward the Communist-surrounded city, as token reinforcement when the Reds built their wall.

Pro Teams Have Things To Prove

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings and the Green Bay Packers will have things to prove in their National Football League game Sunday.

The Vikings will try to prove that the defending champion Packers were lucky to get so close.

In the initial clash at Minneapolis the Vikings trailed 20-28 and were on the Green Bay 10 with two minutes left. A Viking field goal attempt was blocked by Herb Adderley and the ball bounced to Green Bay's Hank Gremminger, who ran 85 yards for a touchdown that put the victory away 37-28.

Packer defensive end Willie Davis said Green Bay also learned something.

He explained that the Packers, tied for first with the Chicago Bears in the Western Division, are seldom forced by the opposition to play other than their own game, offensively or defensively.

The Packers, who have won seven in a row after losing their opener to the Bears, apparently will have all of their injured ready for action, except starting quarterback Bart Starr.

Uncle Sam May Draft Cassius Clay

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Heavyweight contender Cassius Clay is being paged by Uncle Sam for military service, and could be drafted before a scheduled fight with champion Sonny Liston.

Clay has been ordered to reappear for a Selective Service physical examination Nov. 21. If he passes, he could be called up late in December. But his backers have said they will seek a four-to-six months' deferment.

The Liston fight is set for early February and some predict it will bring a $6 to $8 million gate.

"We don't want Clay to have something he is not entitled to," said William Faversham, spokesman for Clay's sponsorship group. "But we feel that is an extenuating circumstance. If his entry into service were delayed a few months it would give him his big opportunity."

Liston, visiting in Las Vegas when he learned of Clay's draft call, said, "if they take Cassius into the Army, I want to go too. If he passes, he could be called so I can protect him. If he gets a deferment and we fight, the Army won't want him there."

Clay was reported in New York and could not be reached for comment.

Belgium Tour Ends

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson wound up his tour of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg today at a farewell luncheon with King Baudoin and Queen Fabiola.

The luncheon was given by the royal couple just before the departure of Johnson for Washington. Johnson visited headquarters of the European Common Market and the European Atomic Energy Commission.

HIS BEST FOOT FORWARD—University of Texas kicking specialist Tony Crosby pulls a sock on his kicking foot as the Longhorns ran through workouts for their game against Baylor. Crosby, who kicks the ball without a shoe on his foot, has scored 42 points in seven games for the top-ranked Texans. His score on conversions is 21 for 21, and 7 out of 11 field goals. ## Kelso And Mongo Give U. S. Chance LAUREL, Md. (AP) — With a powerful one-two punch of Kelso and Mongo, the United States is given a good chance to draw even with foreign opposition in the Washington, D.C. International horse race on Monday.

The foreign thoroughbreds hold a 6-5 edge in victories since the 1½ mile turf race was inaugurated at Laurel Race Course in 1952.

The ability of the invaders to hold their own has surprised American racing experts, who thought the foreigners would be completely outclassed. In fact, the competition has been so good that the U.S. has never taken the lead in the won-lost column.

Kelso had a chance to break a 5-5 tie last year, but was passed in the stretch by Match II of France after beating off early challenges by Beau Purple and Carry Back of the United States.

Kelso, the 6-year-old gelding on the way to his fourth straight American Horse-of-the-Year award, has won 9 major stakes in 11 races this year, including the last eight in a row. The early line has established Kelso as an even-money favorite, with Mongo second choice at 5-1. Imperial of Hungary and Nyrcos of France were rated at 8-1.

Graham Falls From List Of Unbeaten

By The Associated Press
White Oak and Hallsville, unbeaten and untied Class A powers in Texas schoolboy football, battled to a scoreless draw Friday night.

The only other game this weekend matching undefeated and untied teams is the Saturday tilt between San Antonio Highlands and San Antonio Lee, both in Class AAAA.

Most of the teams with perfect records breezed to victories Friday night.

Among the few casualties were Graham in Class AAA, Friona and Little Cypress in Class AA and Petersburg and Bastrop, who battled to ties in Class A games.

Among the undefeated but tied teams that went down were Crane and Azle in Class AA. Squads keeping perfect records intact were Dallas South Oak Cliff, Tyler Lee, Dumas, Phillips, Corsicana, Austin Lanier, Gonzales, South San Antonio, Dellhart, Talia, Mansfield, Rockdale, Katy, Beaumont Forest Park, Rains, San Augustine, Grapeland, Rosebud, Hull-Daisetta, Louise and Ingleside.

Garland, undefeated but once tied, clinched at least a tie for the District 7 championship of Class AAAA by defeating Denton 20-0.

Rotz Goes For Five Of A Kind

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Five of a kind is mighty tough to draw, but it cards or horse racing, but John Lawrence Rotz goes for it today in the $317,290 Garden State Stakes at Garden State Park.

The 29-year-old former Illinois farm boy, top flight jockey on the big time circuit for several years, isn't looking for a wild card to fill his hand of five straight major stake victories in as many Saturdays. He has the mount on Roman Brother, the 2-1 choice over 13 other 2-year-olds in the 1-1/16-mile race that could well give the winner the divisional title.

Rotz, who began working around stables at Fairmount Park in Illinois the day after graduation from Warrensburg, Ill., high school in 1952, put together his four winners on successive Saturdays with Roman Brother in the Champagne at Aqueduct, The Axe II in the Canadian Championship at Woodbine, Goodfied in the Ladies Handicap at Aqueduct and once again with The Axe II in last Saturday's Man O'War at Aqueduct.

But with the prospect of an off-track after several days of steady rain the winner could well be an outsider. It has been that kind of a season with the 2-year-olds since Raise A Native was forced into early retirement by an injury.

When you embark on a shopping trip for pots and pans, you may find a matched set that's exactly what you want. By and large, however, you will do better to buy assorted wares to suit your needs.

Viet Nam Coup Was Result Of Careful Planning Over Several Months Period

EDITOR'S NOTE—The overthrow of the Diem regime in South Viet Nam was no spur-of-the-moment operation. It was achieved through months of careful planning, and it went off like clockwork. Here is the detailed story by Roy Essoyan, Associated Press correspondent on the scene. He describes the principal figures involved, what they did and the prospects for the future.

By ROY ESSOYAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Every time an American ambassador goes away, somebody starts a coup.

The words were Ngo Dinh Diem's and they were probably the most prophetic he ever uttered.

Diem was saying goodbye in his sumptuous cream stucco palace in downtown Saigon to U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who was due to leave two days later for consultations in Washington on the mushrooming crisis in South Viet Nam.

The time was noon Friday, Nov. 1.

Barely an hour later the first crackle of rifle fire signalled the start of the coup that was to end Diem's dictatorial eight-year rule.

Less than 24 hours later Diem's bullet-riddled body and the body of his once-powerful Ngo Dinh Nhu, were dragged out of the joint general staff headquarters of the South Vietnamese army.

In between, practically his entire army joined the meticulously planned and efficiently executed 17-hour revolt.

Many months before, Diem and his family had lost the loyalty of practically every segment of the population. The handwriting appeared clearly on the wall. The generals could read it. But Diem had always been remote from the realities of life.

Diem's total aloofness from his people and the increasingly harsh rule of his brother and his brother's acid-tongued wife set the stage for their downfall. The Buddhist crisis that erupted last May merely hastened it. It drove the Diem family to brutality and provided a rallying cry for national disaffection and resentment.

According to information gathered from Vietnamese and Western sources, the plotters started meeting months ago. Ma, Gen. Tran Van Don, a key figure in the coup and now minister of defense, says the plotters discussed some details of strategy at La Cigale, a popular Saigon nightclub, and in the eighth floor bar of the swank Caravelle Hotel, innocent-appearing gathering spots. But the fate of Diem's regime could well have been sealed on the golf course.

Some time in the last two months, on the fairways, one of the leaders of the coup sounded out a high-ranking American on what the U.S. attitude would be toward a coup.

It was one of many soundings and previous to this one the American rejoinder had always been a "no comment."

But by this time the Kennedy administration had lost its final illusions about Diem's regime and the American told the United States would not object—according to the best available information.

U.S. and Vietnamese officials emphatically deny Americans were directly involved in planning and executing the coup. But there seems little question the United States encouraged the coup with official statements expressing disapproval of the Diem regime's repressive measures against the Buddhists.

"The coup was a masterpiece of planning and execution," one Western military expert says. "I've been told a detailed staff planning was involved in troop movements outside Saigon within Saigon during the battle. Everything was memorized. Nothing was put on paper."

Another expert comments: "They thought of all the little things that are so frequently overlooked in coups that backfire. Gasoline allocations to commandos outside Saigon—of doubtful loyalty to the rebels—were reduced four days before the coup to prevent Diem forces from moving too many troops if they rallied to a palace call for help."

storehouse of the palace guard one mile from the palace, suggested the artillery must have been in position for some time before the coup.

By midday Friday, Nov. 1, everything was set. The sky was blue, flecked with fluffy clouds. The weather was hot and drizzle.

Ambassador Lodge and Adm. Harry Felt, visiting U.S. Pacific commander, bade Diem farewell after a long formal call. The smiling politeness of the president's parting remark.

At his headquarters near the airport Gen. Don Tretted. He had been informed that Felt's departure, originally scheduled for 11:30 a.m., less than two hours before the hour set for the coup, was being delayed by the Diem visit.

An aide phoned to say the departure would be postponed to 12:30 or possibly 1:30, just past the zero hour. The plot was sudden.

"I felt like pushing Adm. Felt aboard that plane to get it off the ground," he said later.

As it turned out Felt reached the airport not too much after the appointed time.

By 1 p.m., in downtown Saigon and around Diem's Gia Long Palace the streets were deserted and shop fronts shuttered for the siesta. The city appeared to slumber in the tropic heat.

Fifteen minutes later the rebels struck. Three battalions of red-shirted marines swiftly surrounded and seized the national and municipal police headquarters in the western suburbs, the telegraph office, the radio stations and the Ministry of Defense telecommunications center.

Only a few shots were fired. Seventh Division units moved into the city. A government special forces unit near the airport was subdued after a short firefight. Six fighter bombers peeled out of the sky, rocketed navy headquarters on the waterfront, troops closed in and navy headquarters was taken.

Antiaircraft and small arms fire shattered the siesta quiet. People popped out of doors and windows for a look and quickly scurried away. All key suburban installations fell to the rebels in the first two hours. Then the rebel forces closed in on the center of town.

They topped and regrouped some 10 blocks away, waiting for word to attack.

There was no answering fire and no enemy in sight at that point.

In hells downtown Saigon presented a strange spectacle. People wandered outdoors. Two GIs asked the way to the nearest bar. Children dashed around collecting spent cartridge cases. A motor played with her son on a grass traffic circle in view of a tank. Two drunks sauntered past the National Assembly, one expostulating: "Tell them to knock that off. They're scaring everybody."

At 4:30 p.m. Diem telephoned Lodge and asked him what he knew about the coup. Lodge said he could hear firing but knew nothing more. He aid he was concerned for Diem's personal safety and offered to do what he could.

Diem brushed him aside and said: "I shall do what duty and good sense requires."

That was the last Lodge heard from Diem. At 6 p.m., the rebels started shelling the barracks of the palace guard to cut off possible reinforcements for the palace.

At 8 p.m., according to best available information now, Diem and Nhu stepped quietly through one of the many palace gates, walked unobtrusively through the darkened streets to a waiting car two blocks away and were whisked off to a small Catholic church in the tenement district of Cholon, Saigon's Chinese twin city.

The guard barracks was overwhelmed at midnight. Four hours later rebel tanks moved along across deserted intersections on the palace itself, guns blazing. Soldiers darted door to door. Buildings around the palace caught fire. Billows of smoke rose over the city.

The palace held out for more than 2½ hours. At 6:37 a.m. a white flag was finally hoisted from the palace, a cheer broke out outside and rebel troops pouring in, through the gaping holes in the seven-foot wall surrounding the palace grounds.

Inside Nhu's office downstairs, gray with fallen plaster, the bank of telephones on his desk lay shattered. Ten new copies of a war book called "Shoot to Kill" were scattered on a table.

On a table in Diem's office upstairs was a pile of men's magazines, one with a nude on the cover.

Diem and Nhu, who had refused several rebel promises of safe conduct, were arrested in the church.

Don said later Diem and Nhu were killed in an armored personnel carrier during a struggle over possession of a gun belonging to the rebel captain assigned to bring them to army headquarters.

He said the fight broke out when Nhu, livid with rage, lunged for the captain's pistol in the murky darkness of the personnel carrier as it rolled away.

The coup was led by a group of relatively young Western-trained army officers. Hard-core leaders probably numbered no more than six. Twenty-three officers including 19 generals comprise the ruling Revolutionary Council, from whom the provisional government takes its orders.

SMU Edges Baylor In Freshman Game
WACO, Tex. (AP)—A 35-yard field goal by Richard Callahan brought the Southern Methodist freshmen a 3-0 victory over the Baylor freshmen Friday.

The game was played in the rain and there were eight fumbles on each side. SMU was able to get close enough to the Baylor goal line to try two field goals, one of which was successful.

Baylor got to the SMU 19, 8, 23 and 25 and also had a field goal try blocked.

Negro Firm Is Handling Soldier Dead

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas News said today that all the military dead at Ft. Hood, Killean Base and Gray Base are handled now by a Negro undertaking establishment at Temple, 36 miles east of Ft. Hood. The News said the Hornsby firm became the official mortuary contractor for the Central Texas military complex by submitting the lower bid.

Only two funeral establishments in the area bid, Wayne Frank of Lampasas, the other bidder commented: "There is no business of a more personal nature than a funeral business. If there were a white funeral home for white soldiers and a Negro funeral home for Negro personnel. The News said that since early August, "all the military dead, regardless of rank, race or sex," have been handled by the Hornsby Funeral Home in Temple, 36 miles east of Ft. Hood. The News said the Hornsby firm became the official mortuary contractor for the Central Texas military complex by submitting the lower bid.

Protestants Hear JFK

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, addressed a huge Protestant gathering and received an unparalleled honor and a warm tribute.

The chief executive was the guest of honor Friday night of the Protestant Council of New York City at which some 3,500 representatives of all faiths were present.

The council gave him its new "Family of Man Award" and a gold medal, which was engraved with his name and an inscription saying it was "in recognition of creative leadership and dedicated service."

In presenting the award, council President Rev. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, told Kennedy: "You are regularly in our prayers, sir, that Almighty God may bless, strengthen, guide and inspire you... You may be assured of the solidarity of our loyalty and support."

Dr. Kinsolving said it was an unprecedented occasion and somewhat of an acknowledgment of gratitude to a man of destiny who, he said, helped people "break out of their suspicions and prejudices and realize that we are all one people."

Charges Urged Against State Department Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd called on the State Department today to bring charges against three of its officials.

He said they have admitted in effect that they lied under oath to Senate investigators. "This is a shocking matter," said the Connecticut Democrat, vice chairman of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

Dodd's comments were made to a reporter in another flare-up of the controversy over the dismissal of Otto F. Otepka, veteran State Department security officer, over the protests of subcommittee members.

Among other things, Otepka was accused by the department of supplying the subcommittee with information from confidential employe loyalty files.

The subcommittee Friday made public statements from three State Department officials acknowledging that wires were connected to Otepka's telephone to permit eavesdropping on conversations in his office.

Also made public by the subcommittee were excerpts from earlier secret testimony of the officials denying knowledge of the installation of any listening devices in Otepka's office.

The officials are John F. Reilly, deputy assistant secretary of state for security; David L. Belisle, special assistant to Reilly; and Elmer Dewey Hill, chief of the division of technical services in the department's office of security.

They said their statements, sent to subcommittee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., with a request they be included in the hearing record, were in effect to amplify and clarify their previous testimony.

The statements said no actual interceptions of conversations took place, none was authorized and that the wiring on Otepka's telephone was disconnected within 48 hours after a test of the reception showed it unworkable.

"The department ought to move on this — and quickly," Dodd said today.

"When three officials of the State Department admit, in effect, that they lied under oath to a Senate committee, every American and every member of Congress ought to be concerned," he said.

Reilly said in the statement he sent to Eastland that March 18 he asked Hill to look into the feasibility of intercepting conversations in Otepka's office.

He said this was after he began to suspect that Otepka might be furnishing information privately to J. G. Sourwine, the subcommittee's chief counsel.

However, Reilly said he had not authorized the actual interception of any conversations, but wanted to find out if "this technique could be used without undue risk of detection" in the event nothing of significance turned up in examination of burn bags used by Otepka for disposal of classified trash.

Reilly said that as it turned out, the wiring of Otepka's telephone didn't prove successful and the next day the contents of a burn bag "revealed that Mr. Otepka had furnished certain material to Mr. Sourwine."

Closed-door testimony released by the subcommittee quoted Reilly as replying "No, sir" when he was asked Aug. 6 whether any listening devices had been installed in Otepka's office.

Two In Tie For Lead In Golf Open

By CHARLES MAHER Associated Press Sports Writer PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—About the only thing Dow Finsterwald and Ray Floyd have ever had in common is that both were in first place today going into the third round of the $50,000 Frank Sinatra Invitational Open Golf Tournament.

Finsterwald is a spare, 155-pounder and Floyd is a muscular 200-pounder. Finsterwald is a 12-year veteran of the PGA tour and Floyd is barely old enough to vote.

Approaching the game oppositely, they managed to play identically Friday. Each started slowly, finished fast and came in with a 36-hole score of 138, four under par. Finsterwald had two rounds of 69 and Floyd was 70-69.

They were just a stroke ahead of Billy Casper, who scored a 185-yard eagle two on the 16th hole Friday and came in at 69-70-139.

Bob Rosburg, who led after the first round with a 67, slipped to 73 Friday and was tied at 140 with Tommy Aaron, Frank Beard, Dan Sikes, Phil Rodgers and Don Whitt.

Massey's 'Dr. Kildare' Role Longest Run Of His Career

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Raymond Massey, an actor who really knows his performing strength, finds himself after five decades in the theatre a costar in the longest-running bit of his career.

"I've always been rather bad about long runs," confessed the tall, rugged-faced actor, "and usually have been able to duck out of a show after a decent interval."

However, playing one character in a television series is different from repeating the same lines night after night in one play, so Massey has no complaints about his Dr. Leonard Gillespie of NBC's "Dr. Kildare."

"The stars of a running television show," Massey reflected, "are really anchor men. The challenge for the actor is to play the same character, to try to make him grow."

As the almost rigid television formula for the hour-long dramatic show with continuing characters works out, the most interesting parts from the standpoint of the performer usually go to the guest stars, who pop in for one episode and move on.

"I'm perfectly happy in my spot," continued Massey. "I like to work, there's security and it is interesting to develop the character."

"In fact, the only time I do get a little restless is when I get a script for a movie or a television show and see a good, meaty part—and know I don't have time to sink my teeth into it."

Until NBC decided to adapt the old popular movie series,

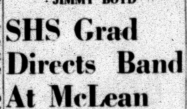

"Dr. Kildare," into a television show and cast Massey as the older doctor—a part "once played as an irascible, heart-of-gold type by the late Lionel Barrymore—the Canadian-born performer was most widely known for his performance in the title role of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

Originally a stage play written for Massey by the late Robert E. Sherwood, it ran on Broadway for two seasons, toured nationally—and Massey also played the role in the film.

Massey may very well be the only star of show business who became infected with the performing virus in Siberia. He was born in Toronto, he served in the Canadian field artillery during the World War I—and during 1918 and 1919 was stationed in Siberia. There he organized a minstrel troupe to bolster morale—and cast himself as end man. That did it.

Massey became an American citizen almost 20 years ago. But his brother, Vincent, stayed in Canada and served seven years as governor-general, retiring in 1959.

During his pre-television career, Massey and his wife Dorothy lived in suburban Connecticut. Now they have moved to Beverly Hills. One son is an actor and the other, an architect in Vancouver.

JIMMY BOYD SHS Grad Directs Band At McLean

McLEAN — The McLean T-ger Band, directed by Jimmy Boyd, a 1955 graduate of Snyder High School, was rated Division I in its recent Region IV marching contest.

The band, under Boyd's direction, has received nine first division ratings and individual bandmen have brought home more than 50 first division medals during the past five years.

Each of the last four years at least 10 members have been chosen for the all-regional band, including eighth graders.

In 1959, Boyd received a bachelor of music education degree at West Texas State College and took the job at McLean, which had a 35-piece band, including eighth graders.

The high school band alone has grown to 81 members, one of the largest Class A bands in Region IV.

Boyd was drum major for four years in Snyder High School and was first chair French horn in college for two years. He was vice commander of the ROTC band in 1958 and commander in 1959 at West Texas State. Boyd's wife, Bata, also a 1955 graduate of Snyder High School, also teaches in the McLean School System.

As a consequence, he was rather type cast for awhile. Another of his "long runs" was the Broadway production and two seasons of touring in Stephen Vincent Benet's "John Brown's Body." But "Dr. Kildare," now in its third season, promises to continue for at least two more.

He was born in Toronto, he served in the Canadian field artillery during the World War I—and during 1918 and 1919 was stationed in Siberia. ## Montana Girl Is Murdered

HARDIN, Mont. (AP)—An 8-year-old girl was found stabbed to death in a roadside ditch Friday night, and law enforcement officers in southern Montana began a vigorous search for her murderer.

The girl, Stormy Timberman, was found slain four days after 3-year-old Julia Ann Hagadone who lived not far away vanished for 17 hours before being found. She had suffered only bruises.

The brutal slaying "shook up this town like nothing ever has before," Sheriff Roy Riley said. The younger girl, whose home in Hardin is four blocks from the Timberman home, told of "an old man in a car" after searchers found her crying in a field Tuesday morning.

"She mentioned a puppy and a farm and a broken-down television set," said her mother, Mrs. Helen Hagadone, 25. "She also said there was another girl and that the man gave her a toy."

"Sometimes it was candy that she said he gave her." Riley said the Hagadone child apparently had not been molested and that there were bruises on her face and neck. The Timberman girl's body was face down in a ditch along a country road three miles west of Hardin. There were seven stab wounds in the heart and head. "He stabbed her in the heart and head," Riley said.

Revolution On In Dry Cleaning

HIGH STAKES FOR X-RAY VISION — Ray Milland uses his X-ray vision for high stakes at gambling casino while Diana Van der Vlis looks over his shoulder in scene from American International's "X." It is coming to the Palace Theater here Sunday, Nov. 17.

By REINHOLD ENSZ
MOSCOW (AP)—Two California men hope to create a dry-cleaning revolution in Moscow. They are even delving into such controversial details as buttons. Should buttons be cut off before clothing is cleaned? The Russians doggedly insisted that this should be done, but the Americans have convinced them to give non-removal a trial.

The button issue was one of many which C. D. Baxstreser and Fred Huber have been struggling with since they began installing a self-service dry-cleaning unit. It is the first such unit in Russia, and it has 12 machines of U.S. manufacture, modified to accept Soviet coins.

The grand opening is scheduled for next Friday. But since coin-operated dry cleaning machines are a novelty here, the whole thing is on official exhibition for two weeks before going into actual service. During the exhibition period, technicians from all over Russia are being brought to Moscow to inspect the made-in-America wonders.

Baxstreser still has a nagging worry. Some Soviet clothing is stuck together with glue—no stitching at all. Baxstreser says it will fall apart in the machines.

Since the war, Russians have become more conscious of the need for dry-cleaning, and they are expanding the facilities. Service is slow and the quality of the work is often poor. Because of this, American embassy personnel send their clothes to Finland for cleaning.

Baxstreser's shop will include a conventional dry-cleaning plant plus the self-service machines. In regular Soviet cleaning shops, the charge for a suit is about two rubles. The average Soviet monthly wage for an in-

Rocky Rests After Fast Campaigning

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller rested at his Westchester County home after a whirlwind, two-day campaign for New Hampshire's primary next March 10.

The New York governor, who announced his candidacy Thursday for the 1964 Republican nomination, waded cheerfully through two days of rain as he visited industrial plants and shook thousands of hands in Manchester, Nashua and Concord.

He returned by plane Friday afternoon. Setting up his campaign headquarters in Concord, Rockefeller said he would "right every step of the way to get that nomination."

The New Hampshire primary which would involve about 100,000 Republican votes and 14 convention delegates is looked upon as a crucial test for Rockefeller. He has said, however, if he loses in the New England state, he would keep on campaigning in other primaries.

Woman Is Helpless For 18-Hour Period

DALLAS (AP)—For 18 hours Mrs. Betty Alexander, 65, lay suffering and helpless on her kitchen floor because of a broken hip.

She fell about 8 p.m. Wednesday in the house where she lives alone. It was Thursday afternoon before her landlord, Abe Greenblatt, discovered what had happened.

Greenblatt stopped for a visit while in the neighborhood. It was a warm day but the house was tightly closed. He heard faint cries in answer to his knock.

By the time Greenblatt forced the back door open, Mrs. Alexander was nearly unconscious. She was taken to a hospital.

Mrs. Alexander said later that although food and water were within a few feet, severe pain thwarted every attempt to reach them.

The Gardeners Corner

BY EARL ARONSON
AP Newfeatures

SPRING - BLOOMING bulbs such as scilla, tulips, hyacinth, daffodil and crocus should be planted before the ground becomes too hard and cold to work easily.

Be careful in setting them in the ground that they are not too deep, to make their task of poking into the sunlight difficult next spring, nor too shallow to endanger them from the winter elements.

Digging holes for the bulbs is to us one of the duller chores of autumn. And the later in the fall you wait, the tougher will be the job.

There is a tool that will make the job easier. It has a shovel-like handle, is of adequate circular width to handle the largest of the spring bulbs, and has notched edges to facilitate cutting into the ground. There are inch-depth markings to make digging to proper depth no task at all.

Scilla and crocus, two of the earliest bits of color to emerge after the long winter, should be planted (bottoms of the bulbs) three inches deep. Grape hyacinth goes an inch deeper, tulip goes to five inches, hyacinth to six, and daffodil, seven.

If the soil is extremely sandy, bulbs should be planted a little deeper. If you have heavy clay soil, set the bigger bulbs closer to the surface.

Your choice of tulips is wide and handsome. There are at least 800 varieties in cultivation, divided into 20 classes. Some bloom very, early some weeks later. There are short and long-stemmed types.

One new tulip we noted is called Sparkling Fringed. It has frosty, fringed edges, and blooms in May.

There are other bulbs that do well when planted early in the fall. Among them are galanthus and muscari.

Colorful perennials for fall planting include iris, sweet william, painted daisy, columbine, carnations, canterbury bells, delphinium, lythrum, baby's breath, oriental poppies, pin cushion, scabiosa, bleeding heart, lupines, achillea and peonies.

There is a wide selection of hardy lilies, including red-banded rubrum, midcentury hybrids, Olympic hybrids which have big trumpet-shaped blooms, madonna and gold band.

Banana planatiana along Honduras' hot Caribbean coast account for about 45 per cent of its foreign trade and made the nation the world's fourth largest banana grower.

The largest eye found among land animals belongs to the ostrich. Keen vision and the ability to run 40 miles an hour protect this bird from its enemies.

Blass Makes Old Fashion Big News

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It is only sporting to warn America's 19 million bachelors that designer Bill Blass has reinstated sex appeal in women's fashions in time for leap year.

The provocative woman was the star of Blass' spring collection previewed by international socialites and fashion reporters Monday.

She is a far cry from the past season's lady of style, who has been wearing bowlers, boots, knee socks, turtle-necks and vests.

For example, there are flounces of black Chantilly lace over flesh pink, which look more like boudoir costumes than date dresses.

It would be impossible not to attract attention with vivid pastel linen jacket costumes, other bright hues as linings and still others as blouses.

Also good for stares are polka dots, especially bold yellow ones on navy silk sleeveless princess coats and turbans.

Other eye-catcher weapons are the floral prints, soft and wispy on tailored organza jacket costumes. As the show moved along, floor length dinner gowns with tantalizing slashes up the side and ball gowns with yards of fabric in the skirts relied on still bigger and bolder prints.

Mankins undulated in silks and linen dresses bias-cut to slither across the figure. Sexy sheaths, belted at the middle, exploded into curves elsewhere.

And the date-bait collection was fussy and feminine with ruffles on necklines, hemlines, cuffs; and all the way down the middle of dresses and blouses.

PROGRAM—A special program was presented to members of the Lambda Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi recently by two members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Cogdell Hospital. Above, Mrs. Badger Robertson and Mrs. Skipper Joyce, (pink ladies) look through the Sorority scrapbook at the various projects completed by the group. Mrs. Nita Arnold, left, is program chairman. The chapter's present project is assisting the Hospital Auxiliary in various duties at the hospital.

Bake an extra batch of biscuits, wrap them in foil and freeze-store them. When you want to serve them, put the package of biscuits in a slow oven for 10 to 15 minutes to thaw and heat.

Don't hesitate to store leftovers in opened cans. Canned foods may be safely left in the opened can if they're covered and kept in the refrigerator. Of course any leftover cooked food, stored in any type of container, should be refrigerated.

Serve two vegetables in one dish for easy supper service; mix sliced cooked potatoes, cooked French green beans with cream sauce. Garnish with a sprinkle of paprika.

Family Weight Watching — Bear in mind that your children's lifelong food habits are set while they're very young — and it's you who set them.

Harrell Ranch Home Visited Pitners Honored On 50th Wedding Anniversary By Club

The Altrurian Daughters Club held one of their outstanding programs of the year recently. Members and guests met at the home of Mrs. Herman Daak, and from there proceeded to the Harrell Ranch for a covered dish luncheon followed by a program. The ranch is one that has been reconstructed using as much of the original material as possible. It has been awarded a historical medalion by the Texas Historical Society.

The furnishings of the home were in keeping with the early period, such as coal stoves, oil lamps, and books dating as far back as 1880. The place was settled in 1883 by T. R. Melland. He married Judge Buchanan's sister, and she built a little rock room in front of the house. In 1934 it was built by the Harrells and they started restoring it in 1961 and completed it in 18 months.

After lunch, the program titled "Our American Heritage of Homes in Texas" was given by Miss Faye Harrell. The Harrell ranch home is certainly in keeping with the description Miss Harrell gave of the early Texas homes. Texas homes are friendly and inviting, and have been so from the beginning. In the early days the breezeway of the house was a good place to throw saddles, shell peas, hang hats and shelter dogs. The front porch with its side lights and window covered by blinds, not only gave light to a hall, but enabled the occupants to see an approaching stranger, so they might open the door and ask him to come in. The porch or veranda was a pleasant place to spend the evening talking with a neighbor.

Fresh Pineapple Sauce

1 medium or large ripe pineapple
1 cup sugar
2 1/2 cup water
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 Pare pineapple: cut into thin rings and core; slice into small wedge-shaped pieces. In a saucepan no larger than quart; over low heat stir together the sugar and water until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a fairly gentle boil - bubbles should break closely over surface of water; boil for 7 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in the vanilla; pour syrup over pineapple and cover tightly. Cool and serve as a sauce over vanilla ice cream.

Volume Explores 1793-1815

THE HORIZON BOOK OF THE AGE OF NAPOLEON. By J. Christopher Herold.

Here we have a broad spectrum coverage of an era. It is the sort of all-out interpretation that is comparatively new in publishing. It combines a text in the middle ground between glib popularization and drybone pedantics with a lavish use of illustrations. In this respect, it is like an earlier Horizon book, "The Renaissance."

Each chapter is accompanied by one or two portfolios of illustrations, the total running to 330 pictures, of which 117 are in color. The combination is almost overwhelming.

Herold's text provides not only a sea of detail on the biography, conquests and defeats of Napoleon, but also explores the intellectual, political and philosophical trends of the 1793-1815 era, with appropriate attention to affairs in Britain, Spain, Russia and America at that time.

The accompanying portfolios cover everything from Goya drawings and English naval techniques to political caricatures and the charades in Napoleon's family.

The author has enough standing to protect himself from the envious barbs of nit-picking academic historians, and there is enough scholarship here to give the volume weight. On the other hand, this book is not for casual readers. It isn't child's play.

The diligent reader will find this a remarkable adventure into the follies of mankind, the ferment of politics and the absurdities of an almost unbelievable age.

The text of the Horizon book, without the portfolios but with a 16-page insert of black and white pictures, is being published at $7.50 and this version is the November selection of the Book of the Month Club.

Children as well as adults should become familiar with seasoned foods. Herbs and spices add new interest and delightful flavor to your everyday cooking. But when you introduce a new seasoning, do it with a light hand. Remember, herbs and spices should enhance, not overpower food flavors.

Family Weight Watching — Don't deprive your family of bread and potatoes, if they love them. The plain fact is, it's what you put on bread and potatoes that plumps up the menu. So be wise about spreads and go-alongs.

Bar Cookies Proclaim Joy Of Jam And Honey

Everyone has a reason to bake a batch of Honey Jam Bars. It may be great or small. The occasion could be an afternoon tea, a church guild meeting, a P-TA bake sale, a treat for the cub scout troop, a dessert for a bridge luncheon, a lunch box morsel, a quick dessert for the family's dinner, a yummy television or bedtime snack.

Whatever your reason, Honey Jam Bars are easily lined up, stacked up or wrapped up for action. The pretty, little pan cookies consist of a honeyed-batter layer, topped with a jam filling, and completed with another layer of honey batter.

After baking they welcome a sprinkling of confectioners sugar. Use your favorite jam for the filling or try a variety of jams so you may offer a flavor choice and a colorful plate arrangement.

Get your reason? Then let's begin.
HONEY JAM BARS
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup honey
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup jam
Cream shortening. Add honey. Blend well. Add sifted dry batter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Cut into 1x1-inch bars. Spread half batter in greased pan and spread with jam. Cover jam with rest of batter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Cut into 1x1-inch bars. Makes 2 dozen bars.

ALL ABOUT BABIES
A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

CLOTHING BABY—By Robert McNair Mitchell, M. D., Dept. of Gynecology and Obstetrics, Pennsylvania and Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia, Penna.

For the first year of his life, your baby needs very little in the way of clothing. The fact is that all your baby needs is to be clean and warm.

Baby's clothes should allow for growth, be easy to put on and take off, be washable and durable. As I point out in my book, "Nine Months To Go" (Lippincott), babies don't like to be overdressed, it makes them fussy. Babies also don't like to have clothing that covers their heads. Wrap-around garments will overcome this.

Here is a typical minimum list:

If you plan to use a diaper service, you won't need a lot of diapers, but a dozen or so extra diapers will always come in handy.

Six shirts, long sleeves if it's cold, short sleeves if it's warm. Six nightgowns or wrappers. Three waterproof pants, part plastic or rubberized cotton. Two sweaters, one wool and one cotton. Six pads 11x18 and rubber sheeting to be placed over the mattress. Four flannel blankets, 36x40. One baby blanket or coat for cool weather. One wooden blank. One package of special diaper pins.

A word about diapers. There are all sorts and the diaper service will be glad to show you the several kinds that they offer. The diaper should be soft and absorbent. There are some which have a triple thickness of cloth in the middle and are made so that they go around the baby with a lot less material left over to fold and pin. Make sure you see all kinds before you decide on the one you will use. The disposable paper diapers are very useful if you go visiting with baby.

If at all possible, use a diaper service. In the long run, when you count the time it takes, the amount of detergent, disinfectant and trouble involved, using a service costs about the same and you are sure that the diapers are germ-free. It takes a lot of washings under the right conditions to get diapers really clean. If you do them yourself, make sure they are clean and dry when you put them on the baby.

It is a good idea to plan your baby's wardrobe so that one complete set of clothes is in the wash, one is ready in a drawer and one is on the baby.

Actor Charts His Robings

WANDERER By Sterling Hayden

Mention Sterling Hayden to 10 people and eight probably will recall him as "the movie actor who took his children off to Tahiti in a big old sailing ship, in spite of a judge who said he couldn't do it."

The ninth may remember him as one of the movie figures who were accused of, or admitted — as Hayden did — flirtations or deeper involvements with the Communist party in the 1930s and 1940s.

The 10th, if he has a good memory, may recall Hayden as the 22-year-old master mariner who, with 10 young crewmen, sailed a 60-foot brigantine from Massachusetts to Tahiti in 1899, going through the famous 1938 hurricane en route. Hayden did all these things and a good many more, as his 434-page autobiography recounts in sometimes interesting, sometimes jerky fashion. He says he always wanted to be a writer, and at times he shows signs of being a good one, always colorful and sometimes lyrical.

Like most Hollywood figures describing their private lives, he spares none of the sordid details: marriages, divorces, extra-marital affairs, binges, flights from education, flights from responsibility, flights from reality.

There is little here of Conrad and London and other writers of sea stories; you get the idea that most of it is Hayden himself.

If you are baking Canadian bacon in one piece, be sure to remove the casing before the meat goes into the oven.

COLLABORATORS—William Lederer, left, and Eugene Burdick, authors of "The Ugly American," are in Hawaii working on a new novel.

Burdick & Lederer Criticize

By ROBERT MYERS

HONOLULU (UPI)—Authors Eugene Burdick and William Lederer again are criticizing America's official behavior overseas. But this time they plan to solve all the problems — on paper at least.

The creators of "The Ugly American" are at work on a new novel tracing the adventures of a college professor and a retired naval captain, who save a fictional Asian nation from communism, political chaos and religious upheaval. The nation could fit the mold of South Viet Nam.

Burdick and Lederer insist the book — due for publication next spring — is not autobiographical. They acknowledge that it may be more than coincidence that Burdick is a political science professor at the University of California and Lederer is a retired U. S. Navy captain.

Burdick said, "and six months to work out solutions. And they'll be successful."

Burdick and Lederer wrote "The Ugly American" in 1955. It was an instant success, selling more than 500,000 hard-cover copies and 3.1 million paperback. It became a motion picture this year.

"We've been asked why we didn't come out with another book immediately after that one," Lederer said. "We felt we didn't have much more to add, that the book covered the multitude of sins existing at that time."

In the interim, Burdick collaborated with Harvey Wheeler on the best seller "Fail-Safe," a controversial story of accidental nuclear attack.

"But the nature of the globe has changed since 1956 and America's position with it," Lederer continued. "It's time for a look at the new problems."

When Lederer described the book as "an effort to show indirectly what we are doing wrong all over the world and what we can do to make things right," Burdick brought up South Viet Nam as an illustration. He referred to the religious controversy between the Buddhists and the country's president, a Roman Catholic.

"Almost all of us who have been there have known this, and have known something was going to happen," Burdick said. "We didn't know it was going to be Buddhist monks burning themselves to death, but we knew it was going to be something drastic."

"Our official intelligence people, who obviously were aware of the problem, apparently did nothing. At least our government acted as if it was caught off guard."

Add a little butter and dark brown sugar to the cavities of halved baked acorn squash shortly before the squash is tender.

Some cooks like to replace a little of the butter called for in a hard sauce recipe with a little heavy cream. Just enough cream should be added for a fairly stiff consistency.

A half pound of sausage meat and a pound of ground beef is a good proportion to use for a meat loaf.

They call the novel an adventure story in a puckish mood. The story, as yet untitled, deals with U. S. intelligence methods in foreign lands. There is strong criticism — by inference — that America fails to collect, interpret and utilize information in effective ways.

"There are individual Americans — mainly newsmen — who find out more about a country in two weeks than intelligence officers or the ambassadors do in two years," said Lederer.

"I've never understood," chimed in Burdick, "why our government people don't utilize the talents of nongovernment workers in other countries."

Said Burdick, "We are not going to come right out and say the U. S. intelligence sources — State Department, Central Intelligence Agency, military intelligence — are doing a bad job."

First Novel Concerns Second Time

HONEYMOON DIARY. By Jim Bishop
The groom is Lon Michaels, 32, a successful writer whose first marriage ended in disaster, and whose 23-year-old son is a manic depressive, mother-smothered problem.
The bride is Kay, just coming up to 33, who had made a foolish first marriage which ended in divorce, and whose 8-year-old daughter is a scared, nervous kid.
The story is in 30 chapters. The story is for each day of the couple's honeymoon flight around the world. Or more exactly, it is about the adjustments that take place between two human beings in such a situation.
Lon and Kay are sincerely in love, but is sincerity enough? Lon is sensitive about his age, is anxiously determined to establish a male dominance; he also is a little stuffy about his learning and worldly experience, and warily jealous. Kay is anxious to make a go of this marriage after her first failure, but not so submissive as to be abject.
There are moments of pleasant rapport and other moments of flustered antagonism, and gradually unfolding revelations about their children and their first mates, all against a tourist background.
The narrative is flawed a little by the very fact that Bishop did a tremendous research job on the journey itself — he and his hero keep bringing in large chunks of tourist data that slow up the action. On the other hand, his minor characters at various cities around the world are artfully done.

Bishop is the author of "The Day Christ Died," "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," etc., and this is his first novel.
He has an interesting story, and he holds the reader right down to the last page. Perhaps that is because he has succeeded in catching hold of the mercurial changes that flow from the emotions of his hero and heroine. By writing expertly, incisively and dramatically, he has made the bride and groom of his story very engaging personalities.

Myrdal Says U. S. Has Under-class

CHALLENGE TO AFFLUENCE. By Gunnar Myrdal.
There will be a big stir over this little book.

Much of the commotion will be among professional economists, government figures, sociologists and people directly connected with public affairs, both domestic and foreign.

But since all of us are more or less closely concerned these days with such matters, it will be read and talked about on many levels of society.

Myrdal is the author of "American Dilemma" (1944), which aroused much talk for many years. He is a Swedish economist with experience in American affairs and in the work of the United Nations. He speaks as a friend and well-wisher, but he does not hesitate to chide and exhort, to disagree — and to challenge.

His title naturally brings to mind John Kenneth Galbraith's "The Affluent Society," a compelling book completed in 1958. Myrdal says he believes that if Galbraith were to rewrite his book today it would be "a very different work, indeed a book challenging some views he himself has contributed to make conventional: that America is affluent and that increasing production is no longer a main problem."

Myrdal argues that America is plagued by relative economic stagnation, with a low and jerky growth rate and a stubbornly high level of unemployment. He contends that economists who habitually assume unemployment can be overcome easily and automatically by pump-priming toward a boom have missed the point.

Despite the seeming comfort and affluence of much of America's population, he declares, there exists an "under-class" of unemployed, underemployed, unemployable and poverty-stricken people who are a vitally crippling drag on the economy.

And because of America's economic stagnation, he says, she is increasingly at a disadvantage in the international exchange rate — money power. From this point he expands into a contention that America's international power and leadership is waning; he criticizes America's handling of the Marshall Plan and the Common Market dilemma, as well as her market policy.

His basic theme is that if America is to get her economy into permanent high gear she must take very vigorous measures "to induce greater equality and of standards of living," and make "huge re- dal in 'tallic letters."

Myrdal's controversial ideas will be debated, but it seems unlikely they will be ignored. A sail-powered hydrofoil being developed for the U.S. Navy has exceeded a speed of 30 knots in moderate winds during trials on Lake Mendota, Wis.

Discover The Neglected Quince

6B The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Sun., Nov. 10, 1949

ROLL 'EM UP—Bread slices spread with a cheese and pickle relish mixture are rolled up and then sliced into miniature pinwheels.

Ever Make Pinwheel Sandwiches?

PICKLES CAN do a lot for sandwiches. So many fillings benefit from this savory morsel whether it is served whole or used in relish form.

Chicken and turkey, tuna and salmon salads used as sandwich fillings, have good texture contrast and zest when they are made with celery, mayonnaise and pickles.

Another filling we like is cheddar cheese, mayonnaise and pickle relish. This combination is excellent for sandwiches whether they're plain or toasted. And when I was young, my mother would use the mixture for party pinwheels.

Those party sandwiches were wonderful things to us youngsters. A whole loaf of unsliced bread would be relieved of its crusts and sliced lengthwise—the quicker to spread with filling. Then the long slices would be rolled, wrapped in a well wrung-out towel and chilled. Just before serving they'd be sliced crosswise to make pinwheels.

Nowadays sliced bread is easier to find than the unsliced variety. But never mind, you can make pinwheels with regular bread slices. Our only caution: use a spongy type of bread that rolls without breaking. The firm-baked sliced loaves won't do for these sandwiches.

CHEESE PINWHEELS

1/4 pound cheddar cheese, grated
1/4 cup well-drained sweet pickle relish

1/4 cup mayonnaise
8 soft bread slices
Butter or margarine
Mix together the grated cheese, drained pickle relish and mayonnaise. Trim crusts from bread and butter the slices.

Zero Search Is Stymied

MERCEDES (AP)—The Confederate Air Force's search for a Japanese Zero fighter for its collection of World War II planes is stymied.

Col. L. P. Nolan of the war plane buffs said Wednesday the group has searched the world over for a Zero in flyable or repairable condition. It found only two, both owned by the U.S. Navy.

"One of them is at the Willow Grove Naval Air Station in Pennsylvania and the other is at the Field in Manila," Nolan said. "Our objective is to maintain a complete line of World War II planes for the next 20 years. This is the only collection of its type in the world, and we don't think this collection can be duplicated."

Confederate Air Force members are amateur flying enthusiasts interested in preserving World War II planes and eventually building a museum to house them. All members are colonels. They fly the planes in air shows.

Spread with cheese mixture; roll up and chill. Cut crosswise to make pinwheels.

India Chutney

quart (slightly heaped) pared sliced peaches, 1/4-inch-thick
1 tablespoon plus 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup wine vinegar
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons diced candied ginger
dry red pepper from mixed pickling spices, crumbled
1/2 cup grated (medium) onion, pulp and juice
1/2 plus 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 cup lime juice
1/2 cup currants

Cover peaches with 1 tablespoon salt and 1 quart cold water; refrigerate for 24 to 36 hours; drain. In a kettle, mix together the sugar, vinegar, garlic, Worcestershire sauce and 1-3 cup water; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; add peaches. Cook slowly until peaches are almost as clear as water; make preserves. Drain peaches and return all syrup to kettle. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt, candied ginger, crumbled pepper, onion, ground ginger, lime juice and currants; cook until as thick as desired. Add pack-aging and heat to boiling. Pour boiling hot into half-pint jars—about 4 will be needed; seal at once.

Here's where we get into a controversy. According to the New England specialist, the Japanese Flowering quince "belongs to an entirely different genus and the fruit, while edible, is really not palatable. It is not poisonous, but there is no particular use for which it can be put."

Frank C. McKeever of The New York Botanical Garden disagrees. He tells me that he has made jelly from the fruit of the Japanese Flowering quince "according to the recipe of my dear old Scottish grandmother, and although the flavor is not like that of the true quince fruit, it is delicate and delightful."

"Also, can you tell me if the fruit from the Flowering Quince (Chaenomes japonica) is edible?"

Our reader's great-grandmother was right. Quince Honey is a delicacy. Here's what a New England gardening expert says: "To me, the quince flavor in a preserve or jelly is one of the finest of all fruit flavors."

He mourns the fact that nowadays the quince is "the least-grown and most neglected of our common fruits." Nevertheless it is still possible to find quinces each fall, although you may have to persuade your market to hunt them out especially for you.

About using the fruit from the Japanese Flowering quince.

Deer, Rabbits Are Space Age Casualty

When one shops at Forrest Builders Supply, he is assured of dealing with a person fully experienced in the lumber business. Every employe there has years of experience.

R. E. Weber, while only having been manager of the Snyder yard for about a year and a half, has many years experience in the business. A native of Moran, Tex., Weber has been a resident of Snyder for the past eight years.

Salesmen at Forrest include Grady Sellars, who has over 12 years experience at Forrest Builders Supply, and Gene Pate, who has been on the Forrest payroll for just a few months, but also boasts many years in the lumber business.

Sellars is a native of Sweetwater. He has lived in Snyder for 28 years. Pate is a native of Snyder. Florine Richter, a native of Eagle Lake, Tex., is the bookkeeper for the firm. She has lived in Snyder for 11 years.

Probe Of Case Slated

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A through investigation of the case of an American sentenced to death in Mexico will be made by Fred Orleans, a San Antonio lawyer who also is a member of the Mexican Academy of Law. Orleans said he will make the inquiry at the request of Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex.

The case involves Dykes A. Simmons of Fort Worth, who was convicted of a triple murder. His case is still on appeal with the Mexican Supreme Court.

Two girls and a boy were shot Oct. 13, 1959, between Laredo, Tex., and Monterrey. One of the girls, Hilda Villagomez, lived long enough to identify Simmons as the gunman.

Orleans said Simmons did not fit the description of the killer given earlier by the girl, he was not in the kind of car the girl said he was driving, and the conviction was on circumstantial evidence.

Uninterpreted Speech Is Hit

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gov. George Romney recently received this letter from an observer of Michigan politics: "Dear Gov. Romney, I liked your speech but I did not understand it. It was good anyway. How can you talk so much?"

It was among the dozens of letters Romney receives each week from school children.

Co. was made available to NASA through Rice University. Private interests nearby are putting up office buildings, motels, hotels, banks, apartments and hundreds of homes.

A modern, self-contained community, Clear Lake City, is being carved out of ranch segments flanking the space center. Long range plans call for residential and industrial development of 15,000 acres of the ranch.

Six of the seven original Mercury astronauts have moved into the area. All but Cmdr. Alan Shepard Jr. have built $30,000 to $50,000 homes within five miles of the center.

The official move from temporary offices in 14 Houston buildings is expected to come in March 1964. The Gemini missions are to begin late in 1964 or early 1965.

The master plan for the 1,700-acre site earmarks one section as a "lunar landing area," but NASA officials insist several other possible landing sites still are under study.

The background for selection of the Clear Lake site is unusual. Humble Oil bought the West ranch for about $40 million in 1938.

In 1942 Humble decided to Houston's Rice University a 24-acre tract that included two mansions built by the West family.

When the Clear Lake site was selected in 1961, NASA said Humble had donated 1,000 acres of the ranch to Rice "with the understanding it would be used for the NASA project."

Rice, through a property swap made another 700 acres available. Six months before the selection was made, Humble disclosed plans for Clear Lake City. Humble and Del Webb, the developer, formed the Friendswood Development Co., with Webb as operator.

Humble still is operating 92 producing wells on the West ranch and has retained a 20-acre leasehold inside the 1,700-acre NASA site.

Forecasters now are that well over 200,000 people will be living around the center within a few years.

The NASA project is going up on part of an old ranch dotted with oil wells. The land, owned by the Humble Oil and Refining

Donnie's Salon Is Up-To-Date

Growing as Snyder has grown over the past several years is Donnie's Beauty Service.

Opened in 1951 by Donnie Chorn, the business is now located at 1909 Fortieth Street, having moved there in order to get enough space for the growing business which now employs three hair stylists in addition to the owner.

The present quarters of the firm offer all the modern conveniences, including air conditioning and modern equipment. Included in the equipment are the air-conditioned dryers, the most modern on the market today.

Hair Stylists at Donnie's are Stevanne Graves, a 13-year resident of Snyder who hails from Brownwood; Mabel Covey, a 22-year resident of Snyder who came here from Ft. Worth; and Gene Thomas, a 10-year resident of Snyder from Ranger.

Each of the stylists has been employed at Donnie's for six years, and each is married.

DONNIE CHORN

Mrs. Graves has one son, Raymond, Jr. Mrs. Covey has three sons, Bobby, Bill, and Chris. Mrs. Thomas also has three sons, John, Leslie, and Glenn.

First Cold Front Failed As Good Producer Of Rain

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The first cold front failed to bring Texas critically needed rain. Its drying winds stole some of the scant moisture that fell the previous week, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Moisture is very short and livestock are in only fair condition in West Central Texas. Cotton is in the last stage of harvest. Pastures are below normal and feeding is increasing. Marketing is heavier.

Moisture is still short in Central Texas. Cotton harvest is near completion. Some grain is being planted dry but most some pecans are being harvested. Cattle will go into winter in fair to excellent condition, but some feeding is being started in the Ozona area. Some herds of cattle and sheep are being culled.

Moisture is still short in Central Texas. Cotton harvest is near completion. Some grain is being planted dry but most still very dry. Livestock producers are culling their herds. The late peanut harvest shows spotted yields.

Heavy rains fell over much of the upper Gulf Coast early in the week. All harvest except of pecans is complete. Pastures are poor with little grazing. Most ranchers are feeding.

South Texas moisture ranges from adequate to short. Cattle are in fair to good condition with some feeding. The citrus harvest is on but light. The harvest of flax is beginning. Vegetables are being harvested. Eggplant, peppers, cabbage and cucumbers are being picked in the Winter Garden.

Moisture is very short in East Texas and ranges are below normal. Cattle are showing stress due to the shortage of grass but livestock are in fair condition. Pastures are short and most areas have no cover crops. Marketing is steady.

Some spotted showers fell in South Central Texas, which is in 1958.

Snyder Laundry Serves Full Area

Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning is one of the larger service firms in the Snyder area.

Owner of the firm is Bentley Baize, a Snyder resident for the past 23 years. Baize, a native of Gatesville and who lived in Stamford before moving to Snyder, is married and he and Mrs. Baize have four sons.

The manager of Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning is J. W. Palmer. Palmer has been with the firm 14 years, and before that lived in Amarillo. He is married and is the father of two sons and five daughters.

Ted McMillan, a Snyder native, is the route supervisor for Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaners. McMillan has been with the firm for about eight years. He is married and is the father of three sons and one daughter.

Ernest Hollis and Jack McDaniel are route men for the firm. Hollis, who formerly lived in Kermit, has lived here eight years and has been with Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning for four years. He is married and is the father of three children.

McDaniel has lived in Snyder for 13 years, but has been with Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning for only about two months. He is married and is the father of a son and a daughter.

The office manager is Maxine Bush. A native of Texas, she lived in California for 15 years until about two months ago when she became associated with Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaners. She is married and has three daughters.

Carl Foree is manager of the dry cleaning department. He is a native of Georgetown, but has lived in Snyder for the past 29 years. He is married and is the father of four children.

Office personnel include Jackie Norris and Grace Bryant. Mrs. Norris, a native of San Angelo, has lived here nine years and is a new employee of Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning.

Mrs. Bryant is a local native and has been employed by Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaners for 10 1/2 years. She is married and has five children.

Mattress Firm Here Since '35

A good night's rest every night for Snyder area residents has been the aim of Dunning Bros. Mattress Factory since 1935.

The firm is located at 2302 Avenue S.

Owner and manager of the firm is B. W. Dunning, who has always insisted that his operation use the most modern equipment and methods in its operation. Consequently, the firm has a modern machinery and experienced personnel for making mattresses and box springs.

In addition to Dunning, there are two other full-time employees of the firm.

Glile Irene Vernon, a resident of Snyder since 1950, has

Service Key Note Of Local Firm

One of Snyder's newer firms which continues an older tradition is Marshall's Appliance Service, 1903 1/2 Seventeenth Street.

The firm is owned and operated by Marshall Boyd, who has 18 years of experience in his line of work, the past two in his own business.

Marshall's offers complete service and parts for Maytag appliances in the Snyder area. The specialty is service and repair of Maytag washers and dryers. In addition, the firm offers repair service on all kinds of cook stoves, heaters, refrigerators, freezers and air conditioners.

Marshall Boyd is an authorized parts and service dealer for Maytag products.

For 16 years he was appliance service man for Snyder Truck and Tractor Co. and when that firm discontinued appliance service, Boyd established his own firm.

The shop is completely outfitted for expert repair of any major household appliance.

Boyd is married and he and Mrs. Boyd have one son, James, who lives in Little Rock, Ark. He is a native of Scurry County.

Beef Price Dip To Be Major Issue

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—A major farm issue in next year's presidential campaign—doubtless will be beef cattle price declines and an increasing volume of beef imports.

Cattlemen in all parts of the country have been shouting complaints over this year's big drop in cattle prices, and the dark prospects for the future.

No one knows how they feel better than Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. He ran into this in most of his recent meetings with farmers while seeking their views on farm policies.

Prices of fed cattle, that provides the better qualities of beef, are 20 to 25 per cent below a year earlier. The spread between feeder cattle, which are raised on range for feeding and fattening in feed lots, has narrowed sharply. All this reduces the profit potential for cattle feeders.

What is responsible?

Cattlemen have a ready answer. They blame increased imports and government feed-grain price policies.

Kennedy administration farm officials take a different view. They assert that cattlemen themselves are largely responsible because of increased production.

The government concedes that beef imports have increased. They now represent about 10 per cent of the beef eaten in this country. The figure was less than 4 per cent in 1960.

Administration officials assert that the imports have little effect on prices of domestic fed cattle because, they contend, most of the beef brought in is of a lower quality used mostly for manufactured meat products and hamburger.

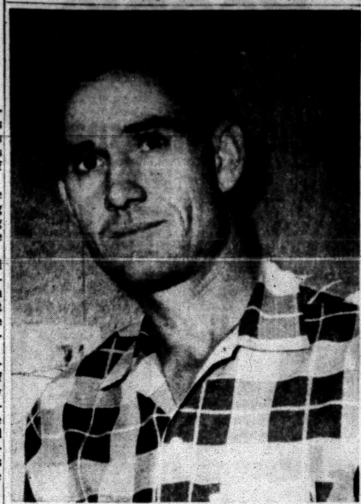

Cattlemen don't go along with the imports, even of the lower grades, do compete with lower quality cuts from the fed animals.

Allegheny Corp. Return Scheduled

NEW YORK (AP)—The formal return of the management of the Allegheny Corp. by the Murchisons of Texas to forces of Allan Kirby has been set for Dec. 4.

Directors set the date Wednesday.

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Sun., Nov. 10, 1963 9B

BILL BALDWIN

Salvage Business Serves Big Area

Bill Baldwin, owner and operator of Bill's Auto Salvage, started in business in Snyder, selling used cars.

But, being closely connected with the automobile business, he saw a greater need for another service in the automotive line, and in 1932 opened his salvage business.

From the handful of old cars with which he started in 1932, the firm now has about 2,800 cars which cover 22 acres.

day for the annual stockholders meeting in Baltimore.

Kirby, a wealthy eastern financier, was ousted as chairman of the huge holding company in a 1961 proxy fight. The victors, headed by John Murchison and Clint Murchison Jr. of Dallas, couldn't come to terms with Kirby, the largest single stockholder. The Texans finally sold their shares to Kirby and his allies.

Starting in business by himself, the business has now grown to the point where three other employees are necessary.

From a strictly local operation in 1932, the firm has also grown geographically. With the teletype service to which Bill's Auto Salvage subscribes, they are in constant contact with 56 wrecking yards in 19 towns and cities in Texas and New Mexico.

The local employees, therefore, are filling orders for the much wider area than just the local scene.

Other employees include Clyde Baldwin, who came here from Vernon shortly after Bill's Auto Salvage was established to manage the business; Travis Dean, a native of Clarksville who has lived in Snyder and been employed at Bill's for the past two and one-half years; and Eugenio Gutierrez, a native of, and still a resident of Ira, who has been employed at Bill's for the past two years.

Pinnells Brought Experience Here

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Pinnell is a native of Comanche. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Pinnell, the firm employs Virginia Rose Williams who has been with the firm for the past year and one-half. She is a native of Scurry County, and a graduate of Herleigh High school.

Both were well experienced in the insurance business, and seeing Snyder as a growing town, and one which offered an opportunity, they bought the Willis Cox, Jr. Insurance Agency and moved to Snyder.

Pinnell had been Abilene district representative for National Life and Accident Insurance Co. in Abilene for the preceding six years. Mrs. Pinnell had been associated with the firm of Castle & Castle for the preceding four years, and had been associated with a Brownwood insurance firm for nine years before that time.

In 1952 they added real estate sales to the operation of Pinnell Insurance Agency, and further expanded the firm in 1953 when they bought out the Wentzel-Walters firm here.

Mrs. Pinnell is a native of Brown County and Mr. Pinnell

Wings Might Shave Moon Travel Time

DENVER (AP)—Putting wings on a U.S. spaceship to Mars may reduce to 300 days a round trip which planners have expected to require 30 months.

Robert B. D. Demoret, program director for advanced Titan launch vehicles for the Martin-Marietta Corp., said in a speech Wednesday that astronauts using a wingless craft would have to wait 405 days on Mars until that planet is in proper orbiting relationship for the return to earth.

Scurry Butane Is Well-Known Here

Scurry Butane Co., located at 1012 Twenty-fifth Street, is one of this area's best-known firms.

It was established in 1936 and its service is just what the name implies—butane, or liquefied petroleum gas—a commodity that has assumed a vital position in the American standard of living.

L. P. Houston is the owner and manager of the firm, as he has been for the past 15 years. Mrs. Houston also has been employed by the firm for the past 15 years. He is a native of San Saba, while Mrs. Houston is a native of Wise County.

Three native Scurry Countians are employed by Scurry Butane Co.

Alton Sturdivant has been with the firm for six years, while Jerry Mack Scrivner and Royce Key Summers have been employed by Scurry Butane for the past two years. All three are married.

Scrivner is a native of Dermot and Summers is a native of Fluvanna.

The firm was established in 1936 as a branch of another firm, and Houston became a partner 15 years ago. He has a total of 27 years of experience in the butane gas business.

Dallas Is Site Of Association Meet

LUBBOCK (AP)—Dallas will be the site for the 1963 meeting of the Baptist Missionary Association of Texas.

The association, at a final session Wednesday, re-elected Curtis Carroll as president of Jacksonville College.

The Rev. Paul Robinson of Lubbock was re-elected association president.

Nights gradually become longer than days in the northern hemisphere after the autumnal equinox. As the earth moves in its orbit, its northern half begins to tilt increasingly away from the sun.

Close Korea Race Pleasing To U. S.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Americans on the scene were surprised by the result of the South Korean presidential election, and say they are happy about it—but storm warnings are up.

What makes them happy, the Americans say, is that the October election was close. Therefore, the reasoning goes, Gen. Chung Hee Park, when he becomes president, will be more responsive to popular opinion than he was as head of the military junta which toppled a feeble democratic government in May 1961.

Americans in Seoul say that so far as they could determine, the election was a free one and they expect the same Nov. 26 when a 175-member congress is elected.

Park's opposition says otherwise. It says the election was stolen. It contends Park never satisfactorily answered questions about his involvement with the Communist party 15 years ago.

Park went into the election with a powerful machine, organized under military rule when the opposition was forbidden to operate. Everyone, including the Americans, expected him to win by a landslide. But Yun Po-sun, quiet, professional looking head of the Civil Rule party, almost captured the presidency.

Yun, 67, descendant of Korean nobility, says foreigners did not understand the situation, and so viewed the election as a fair one. He ticks off charges of overt and covert pressures which he contends robbed the voters.

Much of this is demonstrably true, Park's Democratic Republican Party—DRP—began organizing in February 1962, but opposition activity was under total ban until January 1963.

Thereafter, says Yun, all sorts of political and economic pressures blocked the opposition from sources of funds.

Yun, who is small and tired-looking, speaks softly but defiantly. He speculates that the United States must have played a role in forcing Park to hold popular elections at all.

Yun says Park in the late 1940s was in charge of military affairs for the Communist party in South Korea, was involved in a Communist revolt in Taegu in

Say Soviet Fleet Grows

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's merchant fleet is expanding rapidly while the U.S. cargo fleet is deteriorating, a Senate study reports.

The study by the staff of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee was made public today. It said Russia is embarked on a maritime expansion program that in "a very few years will make her one of the foremost seapowers in the world."

"It is all too evident... that the Soviet Union recognizes the importance of the sea, and seapower in all its many facets figures prominently in its plan to dominate the world," the report declared.

The study focused on what it termed an enormous merchant ship construction program designed to double the size of Russia's 1960 fleet by 1965, triple it by 1970, and achieve a five to sixfold increase by 1980.

In 1961 and 1962, the staff report said, Russia increased its fleet from 873 to 1,062 ships and increased its total tonnage from 4,939,000 to 5,922,000. The number of American merchant ships decreased meanwhile from 954 to 843 and tonnage dropped from 13,345,000 to 12,810,000.

Order Turns Songs Into A Tidy Sum

NEW YORK (AP)—A Belgian nun and some American sisters are turning popular tunes into dollars for their Roman Catholic orders.

Unlike such groups as the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, which sticks to hymns, the sisters are recording popular discs.

In the forefront is Sister Sourire, who specializes in French folk songs. Since last August, she's sold 250,000 albums plus a half million singles—mostly of her haunting "Dominique."

She agreed to record the album, called "The Singing Nun," only after she was guaranteed anonymity. "Sister Sourire" is a pseudonym.

"A couple of more artists like her," signed a press agent, "and we'll be out of business."

The 60 singing sisters of Mount St. Mary College at Newburgh, N.Y., have cleared more than $100,000 with their album, entitled "Joy." Their songs include such popular standards as "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Climb Every Mountain," "Whistle While You Work," and "Let A Smile Be Your Umbrella."

Probably the first nuns to earn money for their order with popular music was the Jesus and Mary Choral Group of Hyattsville, Md. This 17-voice choir has cut five albums since 1960, and all have sold well.

Mother Marie Laetitia directs the singing but Mother Mary Immaculata handles business affairs and promotion. Among her must reading are such Tin Pan alley publications as "Billboard" and "Cashbox."

There's at least one precedent for using secular songs to further the work of the church.

Seven years ago, famed jazz saxophonist Boyce Brown, who had retired to become a monk, took up his alto horn and cut an album with Eddie Condon's New York band. Proceeds of the album, entitled "Brother Matthew," went to Brown's order for missionary work in Africa.

Though the female brown hat of the eastern United States weighs only six or seven grams, it gives birth to a two-gram baby.

Holt Music Co. Started In '55

It was in June of 1955 that Mr. and Mrs. Terry Holt opened their own business, the Holt Music Company.

They had lived here since 1950, and Holt had operated a record machine route before buying the Davis Music Co. But even before coming to Snyder, Holt had been in the music business.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Holt are natives of Bentonville, Ark. They are quick to explain that Bentonville is near Springdale, Ark., and that Springdale is the home of Daisy air rifles.

The Holt Music Co. underwent a complete remodeling in 1962. More room was added to the display areas, and in addition to a larger selection of records, vinyl records, and cassette tapes, the store now carries a complete line of Gretsch guitar amplifiers and accessories.

Terry and Billie Holt are also proud of their selection of transistor radios, recorders, record players, sheet music, and other selections in the music field.

Holt's is the only business in Snyder which deals exclusively in music.

records being made available, the firm also had room to take on the complete line of Gretsch guitar amplifiers and accessories.

Town Plans To Appeal Decision

KAUFMAN, Tex. (AP)—A lawyer for the small town of Lawrence plans to appeal a district court jury finding that the Kaufman County town was incorporated illegally.

The suit was brought by County Atty.-Harold Hollingsworth. The town has filed petitions three different times seeking an election on the sale of liquor.

Venezuela sits atop more than 8 percent of the world's known petroleum reserves. The South American republic is third only to the United States and the Soviet Union in production.
