Plans Begun For Second Alumni Reunion

Date of the second annual reunion of the Wellington Alumni Association has been set tentatively for August 16, Dr. C. B. Jones announced following a meeting of directors Monday night, April 28. Three chairmen were named to take the lead in planning the reunion.

Mrs. Darwin Nix was named chairman of entertainment, while Cliff Campbell is chairman to be in charge of notifying ex-students of the reunion. Dr. Jones will be in charge of food for the reunion. Those planning the reunion estimate that this year's attendance will be even larger than last year's occasion which was highly successful, although worked up in comparatively short time.

During the immediate future, work will concentrate on getting names of as many of the graduates as possible. Anyone knowing the present addresses of alumni they believe were not turned in to the

Dukes Plan Ticket Campaign

Red River Valley League Baseball Gets Set for 1952 Season

Red River Valley League Baseball is coming back this year on a pay-as-you-go basis, utilizing mainly the talent of home town players, but with an eye to giving fans some top-notch games, Leonard Hoyt, secretary of the Dukes of Wellington announced this week, after plans for the season had gotten under way.

The season starts June 1, and a schedule of four games per week is planned.

Earlier this spring, the Dukes re-organized for the season, electing Hiram Cudd president, Dr. Tom Hunter and Dr. E. W. Jones, vice presidents; Mr. Hoyt, secretary; and Virgil Francis, manager. Directors are the officers and Gurnie Jones, F. C. LeDerer, F. O. Masten, Clyde Alexander; Bess Owen, Ben Morris and Goat Hopper.

Five teams are in the league and another may be added before the season starts. The present set-up includes Wellington, Paducah, Electra, Sheppard Air Force Base and Hobart, Oklahoma.

Sale of season tickets will go into the campaign stage within the next few days, and the club is aiming toward 200 tickets sold in the next 10 days. Selling tickets will be Mr. Hopper, Mr. Hoyt, Bob McAlister, Dick Richards, Bernice Welch, Lewis Morris, Luther Thompson, and a number of others to be selected this week.

"We're going to try to run a cheaper ball club and still a good one. We'll play more local boys, and we feel we'll get better support than for any season in the past," Mr. Hoyt said.

"The only way we'll raise money is by the sale of tickets and the sale of advertising space on the diamond fence. We're not going to ask the merchants or anybody else for donations this year."

Several home-town boys are already lined up, including Ted O'Neil, Bob McAlister, Ed Bonneau, Kenneth Rippetoe and Bill Dennis.

Bobby Farmer and Britt are due to come down from Wheeler. Work-outs start Sunday and will be held each Sunday until the season

McLean Man on Big Game Hunt

Cook to Show African Picture at Norwood

Charles Cook, McLean car dealer who last year went on a big game hunt into Africa, will show motion pictures of the hunt at the Samnorwood gymnasium Thursday night, May 8, at 8:00 p. m.

"These pictures are in color, and they are truly outstanding. The work is professional in quality, and everyone who has seen them is astonished and highly entertained," Orville Cunningham, superintendent, said. There is no charge for the show, since Mr. Cook is showing them throughout the area for the pleasure he gets from the work.

Now the Chevrolet dealer at McLean, he formerly did construction work and has built a number of houses over the county. He is a relative of the Montgomery and Cook families of the Samnorwood area.

Z. T. Lowrie, 76, Early Mill Iron Ranch Hand, Dies

Z. T. Lowrie, a cowboy and cook on the Mill Iron Ranch half a century ago, died at 12:45 p.m. Saturday, April 26, at the age of 76. He had been hospitalized since Wednesday, but his health had been failing for a number of years. He had engaged in farming and livestock raising for many years prior to his retirement.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p.m., with the Rev. Oliver Riley of Decatur Baptist College officiating.

Pall bearers included those who had served at the service of his son, Marvin, who was killed in action during World War II, and were John Robert Henard, Eddie Sam Henard, Wayne Parker, R. C. Patrick, Barney Glenn and Jimmie Bowen. Honorary pall bearers included friends from his earliest years here, Wood Baxter of Shamrock, Nevin Willard, Gibbs Glenn and Andy Bell.

Assisting with the flowers were Mrs. Eddie Sam Henard; Miss Penny DeShazo, Miss Carmen Raines and Miss Jo Crook of Carlsbad, N. M.; and Mrs. Bill Mayes. Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home.

Zack Taylor Lowrie was born at Poetry, Texas, July 4, 1875. Both parents had died by the time he was five years old, and he took on many responsibilities of adult life at an early age.

He came to Collingsworth County in 1893 with the late W. D. Bailey. Two years later, in 1900, he went to work for the Mill Iron, remaining until 1906, when he entered stock farming for himself.

It is believed he helped build the first fences for Mill Iron, and the old time cowboys and other pioneers recall that he was known for making 50 pounds of flour into sordough biscuits at each meal.

Mr. Lowrie was married to Miss Bessie Henard in 1904, at the D. M. Henard home. So far as is known, this was the first formal home wedding in Wellington, and the first engraved wedding invitations sent out here were to the occasion. John Snider, in later years, to be known as the barbecue king of the Panhandle, brought the flowers from Amarillo by horseback.

Moisture Above Average; More Rain Falls Monday

The heaviest rainfall of the spring fell Monday night, April 28, with all parts of the county receiving as much as one inch and some sections up to two inches.

Rain gauges of a number of residents in and around Wellington measured from 1.1 to 1.3 inches. This fell slowly during the night and soaked into the ground as it fell.

Southeast of Wellington, in the Fresno area, where the rainfall previously had been lighter than for most parts of the county, a good rain was reported.

Approximately an inch and a half fell at Loco, and south of there, Cliff Campbell reported 1.75 on his ranch.

Earl Allen, living near the county line west of Quail, said more than an inch fell at his ranch, bringing the total for April to over five inches.

In the northwest part of the county, two inches was received at the Jess Coleman ranch and farther north, one and one-half inches at the J. D. Coleman place.

In the extreme east part of the county, Bill Hill and Charley Hill reported about an inch of moisture.

The Samnorwood area received an inch and a half of rain, falling slowly through the night. It's the most wonderful rain we've had all year," Orville Cunningham commented.

The First State Bank at Dodson estimated the amount there at between a half and three fourths inch, but in the Arlie area the fall was heavier.

Since April 8, when the rains began, Wellington has received about four inches. This is more than twice the normal, since over a period of years the county averages only around two inches.

Some sections have received more than five inches during this period, and the Dodson section almost six inches.

Mrs. S. W. Norwood, Pioneer of Area, Dies Friday

Mrs. Sam Norwood, one of the county's pioneer women, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 1 o'clock Friday morning, April 25, at the age of 78. She had lived here since 1898, most of the time on the family ranch near Samnorwood, the town that was named for her husband.

Few women had been more active through the years than Mrs. Norwood, working for community progress, and for its schools and churches.

She was born Tamie Vie Hall the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. George Hall, on October 16, 1873, in Warrenton, Alabama. Her father was a Methodist preacher and also served Alabama as a state senator. She was educated in the Alabama schools and attended Centenary College at Cleveland, Tenn. She was married to Sam W. Norwood at Stevenson, Alabama, January 19, 1892, celebrating with him their sixtieth wedding anniversary this year.

Knowing the value of an education for her children, Mrs. Norwood moved to Shamrock as they grew older, and later to Clarendon College, returning to the ranch each summer.

She and Mr. Norwood wanted a fine education for all children, however, and they were staunch supporters of the Samnorwood school district when it was organized to include much of the northwest part of the county.

Mrs. Norwood was postmaster at Samnorwood from 1934 to 1945, and since then she had helped with the management of their farm and

Second Largest in America

Wild Animal Circus Shows Here Friday

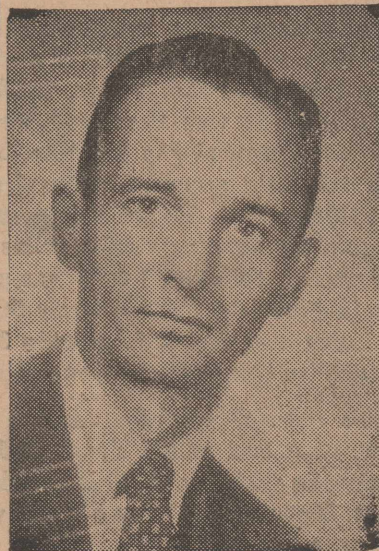

The Al G. Kelly-Miller Brothers Circus, America's second largest, will play in Wellington Friday, May 2, for both afternoon and night performances.

The circus will be at the old Fair Grounds.

This will mark the first appearance of a big circus here in five years, and undoubtedly the very first one to bring such outstanding and unusual animals as giraffes, hippopotamus, and rhinoceros. In addition a herd of eighteen elephants, besides over 200 animals including Polar bears, lions, tigers, leopards, panthers, pumas, kangaroos, zebras, camels, llamas, gnu, zebus, five species of bears, chimpanzees, wart hog, hyenas, ostriches, bison, water buffalo, 127 horses ponies and that strange jungle creature the Tapir.

Advance representatives of the circus, have been here several times in recent weeks to contact school superintendents relative to the students seeing the many animals featured in the show, and to put up the bright and flashy posters. In addition to newspaper advertising, box holders will be sent out, and from a 30 mile area, a huge crowd is expected to be in Wellington for the circus.

Quail Teachers Re-Elected For 1952-53 Year

Re-election of Quail teachers was announced Tuesday afternoon by Supt. Herman Moseley.

All teachers in the system desiring to return were re-elected. Mr. Myers, mathematics instructor, plans to attend West Texas State College next year and will not return to the system. That teaching position is still open.

Quail school will have one less teacher for the 1952-53 year due to a drop in scholastics from 420 to 398, Mr. Moseley said. This will be taken care of by not hiring a music teacher, to replace Mrs. Lowell Wells, who resigned a short time ago due to ill health.

The three school administrators, Mrs. Lewis Morris, grade school principal, R. E. Bradley, high school principal, and Mr. Moseley, have one more year under their present contracts.

Elementary school teachers elected include Mrs. Jim Lowe, Mrs. Monnie Rambo, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Zella Noble, Mrs. J. I. Morgan, Mrs. Opal Joiner, Mrs. Ola DeBord, and Mrs. Bernice Tucker.

High school instructors are Mrs. Monty Mitchell, vocational home-making, Frank Kennedy, vocational agriculture, and L. W. Sheppard, Bill Phillips, W. F. Howard and Miss Evelyn Fancher.

School will be held each Saturday for the next three Saturdays, and parents are urged to see that their children are present. Classes are dismissed at 2:30, Mr. Moseley said.

Coming here from Vernon Sunday to be with the family of the late S. R. Pinkston were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Juvenal and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rainwater. Mr. and Mrs. Hancock lived in Wellington a number of years ago.

Sawdust Useful As a Mulch

COLLEGE STATION — Sawdust has very little value as a fertilizer. But when used as compost or as a mulch, the gain in mellowness of a heavy textured soil is considerable and the water holding capacity of a sandy soil is increased greatly, says M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In areas where large quantities of sawdust, chips, shavings and bark are available, at little or no cost, they can be used to advantage, says the specialist. It is better to use the weathered material, he adds, for some sawdust may contain small quantities of substances that retard plant growth. It is unlikely that sawdust is poisonous to plants but the yellowing of plants growing in soils where sawdust or wood wastes have been applied is caused from a shortage of nitrogen.

Sawdusts and other wood wastes are low in nitrogen. Soil bacteria and fungi that cause these wastes to decompose, need nitrogen to carry on their activities and if necessary will rob the soil to get it, thus depressing plant growth and causing a shortage of available nitrogen for plant use. This condition can be overcome by adding enough nitrogen to the waste to provide that needed for the decomposition process. Approximately eight-tenths of a pound of ammonium sulphate or a half pound of ammonium nitrate added to each bushel of loose sawdust or other wood waste is sufficient to prevent a nitrogen shortage. About 115 pounds of ammonium sulphate is needed for each ton of wood waste.

Sawdust and other wood wastes can be combined with barnyard manure and other farm wastes to make good compost material. Thornton says the cheapest and simplest way to make a compost pile is to put down a layer of the waste then a layer of manure or fertilizer and continue the process until the pile is four to six feet high. The edges of the pile should be higher than the center so water will run into the pile and keep it moist. Each layer should be thoroughly wet as the pile is built.

Repiling and moistening will give a more uniform product and decomposition will be faster, says Thornton. After four or five months, the compost will be ready for use. For the home gardener, it is suggested the compost pile be made three or four feet square. For each six inches of material used, such as sawdust, leaves, straw, grass clippings or other wastes, the specialist suggests that one pound of 5-10-5 or 8-8-8 fertilizer be sprinkled uniformly over each layer. Continue building up the pile until it contains the amount of compost needed for the garden or flower beds.

To keep the compost pile from being scattered, Thornton recommends using an enclosure made of pickets or woven wire. Boxes can be built as containers for the compost.

As a final reminder, Thornton says, the best fertilizing materials are farmyard wastes and manures.

They are often allowed to wash away or have been neglected because it has been thought they were not worth saving. Manure and composts and organic matter as well as nutrients to the soil and keep soil alive and productive.

Natural gas

FROM LONE STAR GAS COMPANY arrives

What Lone Star Gas System means to you

THE MAP ABOVE shows Lone Star Gas Company transmission pipeline system and the location of our gas reserves.

This transmission pipeline system was begun in 1909, with the construction of a 126-mile pipeline from Petrolia, Texas, to Fort Worth and Dallas. It was the Southwest's first long-distance natural gas pipeline. Ten gas wells in one field supplied natural gas for about 15,000 homes. Today this system has been expanded to over 6,000 miles of pipeline connected to over 1,000 gas-producing wells in over 100 fields. Nearly 600,000 homes, businesses and industries in 375 cities are served by this transmission system.

Lone Star's natural gas reserves are located in east, west and south Texas and in west and southern Oklahoma. This provides an advantage. Your natural gas supply will not depend on a few wells in one field. Instead, you have natural gas reserves from many fields, sufficient for many years.

Soon Lone Star will build approximately 70 miles of 20-inch transmission line from Clay County, Texas, to gas-producing fields in Garvin County, Oklahoma, which will increase the supply of natural gas substantially for homes and industry here.

In addition Lone Star's exploratory, production and lease departments will continue to find, develop and secure new natural gas reserves.

In the 42 years of service, Lone Star Gas Company people have developed special skills, technical "know-how" and teamwork necessary for efficient operation of our natural gas service facilities.

So, with natural gas reserves for many years... an adequate transmission pipeline system... and a veteran organization, we believe we shall provide dependable natural gas service. So use natural gas to your heart's content... you have plenty.

Lone Star Gas Company people are friendly, courteous and above all—people you can depend on.

"What's Right With America"

BUDDY FORBIS GUEST SPEAKER AT B&PW BOSSES BANQUET APRIL 22

Buddy Forbis, young Childress attorney who was reared in Wellington, was guest speaker at the B&PW Club Bosses banquet Tuesday night, April 22, the annual event to which members invite their employees and other guests.

"Just for a change, let's talk about some of the things that are right with America," he said, after enumerating many of the things that are considered wrong. "First, there are the freedoms given us by the Bill of Rights, freedom of Assembly, freedom of Religion and Freedom of speech and press," he pointed out, then added, "Talk about it has become corney in the eyes of many people but they weren't corney to the old boys who wrote it."

Politics and politicians are not all wrong, he said, and American interest in Education is right.

"National morality isn't shot. Look at your church attendance and the number of young people there. Sure, we have the college athlete scandals. But there are 100 young people taking the vows of some church for every one who is taking a bribe. A good kid isn't sensational news, but there sure is a lot of them."

Mr. Forbis listed as right with America the productive capacity, the high value of human life, science and medicine, and our system of justice. "The bellyachers can take their pessimism somewhere else to sell it. I have faith in the 150 million folks in America," he concluded.

In charge of the evening's program was Mrs. Pink Sullivan. Mrs. Nita Brantley read the club collect while Miss Katherine Boverie, president, welcomed the guests and Orval Couch gave the response.

Cornet solos were given by Kelly Kern Pigg, and vocal solos by Mrs. Jack Kopp. Mrs. Kelly Pigg was accompanist.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Dick Wiley, Earl Hunter, John D. Glenn, Ernest Nunneley, Heber Brantley, Orval Couch, Clark Anderson, Jack Kopp, Kelly Pigg, Pink Sullivan, Henry Sullivan, Jack Davis, N. A. Norwood Seniors To Abilene

Seniors of Samnorwood high school attended the Senior Day events at Hardin-Simmons University late last week, joining graduating students from throughout West Texas in visiting the campus.

An inter-collegiate rodeo entertained the visitors Friday afternoon and again Saturday, and a big barbecue was served at noon on the latter day.

"We're not backing any college, but we try to take the seniors to seem college campus each year in an effort to interest more of them in attending college. We have 60 per cent from last year's class enroll in college, at A&M, WTSC, Tech, Midwestern and ACC, and all are passing and doing well," Orville Cunningham, superintendent, said.

Making the trip to Abilene were Billy Ray Alexander, Juanita Baker, Geneva Baker, Mazie Benton, Charles Daugherty, Barbara Harvey, Harold Kendrick, Joy Martin, Dale, Peggy Moody, Mildred Newkirk, Lawrence Overcast, Laverne Purkey, LaVanna Bradley and Ike Smith.

Accompanying the seniors were Winston Connors, class sponsor; Mrs. J. L. Alexander, class mother; Lawrence Skylsted and Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham.

Former Residents Here for Visit

Back in the county last week were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parsons, en route to their home near Lubbock after visiting her uncle at Durant, Okla., and with friends at Mena, Ark. They were guests of his sister, Mrs. M. J. Holland.

Mr. Parsons, an artist who took up painting after he was 45 years old, is continuing with what began as a hobby and is now a profitable profession. At 70, he is still doing some landscapes in oil, but he is specializing in painting baptistry pictures in churches. He recently completed pictures at the Baptist Church and Church of Christ at Lakeview.

He did his first picture in 1928. "It's the most interesting work that ever was. Rather profitable, too," he commented here last week. Mr. Parsons first came to the county in 1900 and worked on ranches around Aberdeen, for the late Judge H. E. Small the late Tom Pain and the Seals. He later went back to Montague County, then moved here in 1916. The family settled in the Plymouth community in 1918 and remained until 1947. After three years at Paducah, they moved to Wolford, near Lubbock. He also owns a blacksmith and welding shop there which is operated by his son-in-law, H. E. Conway.

Harwell and Dunn Lease Station

Lester Harwell and W. M. Dunn have leased the Texaco station on Highway 83 from the Texas Company. They will continue to handle all Texaco products as well as Goodrich tires and other automobile accessories such as batteries, etc.

Mr. Harwell has lived in Collingsworth for many years and in the last several years has been engaged in farming and raising stock. Mr. Dunn comes to Wellington from Amarillo where he was connected with a freight line. They invite all of the old customers of the station to come to see them. We think you will like our service, they said.

Tucker Starts New Business

J. W. Tucker announced the opening of Tuckers Recording Studio as a new service in Wellington this week. Mr. Tucker will make tape and disc recordings of any events that people want recorded such as weddings, anniversaries, reunions, etc.

He points out that this is particularly valuable to those who are studying speech or dramatics. He is also the dealer for Webcor recording equipment and will provide this for those who wish to do their own recording.

His office is just west of Owens and Scott Grocery and just south of Stevenson Implement Company on 8th Street.

Group to Church Youth Meeting

A group of workers from the First Baptist Church were in Abilene last week to attend a conference of youth leaders.

Outstanding leaders in this field of the church's work were on the program, and a clinic for counselors of GA, YWA and RA groups.

Going from here were Mrs. Charles Cason Sr., Mrs. J. C. Whisenant, Mrs. J. L. Hays, Mrs. W. T. Williams, Mrs. Olan Lowe and Mrs. J. K. Porter.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Want to see a lot of money? Then journey down to Dodson next Monday, May 5. The First State Bank will have a display of money used from the founding of the nation up to the present time. Saw this at the Dallas fair one year and it is quite interesting.

Thursday, May 1, is the day the County Coyote Trappers Association meets to decide what to do next year. The meeting will be held in the county courtroom at 7 p.m. In his first year of work, Bill Hamilton killed 592 coyotes and 5 bobcats.

Zook Thomas needs some more money to guarantee that the Cemetery Association will operate as efficiently as it did last year. It is a labor of love with Zook and he and those working with him have a long range plan for beautification of both cemeteries as well as just taking care of them for the present. If Zook can spend as much of his own time and money on this project as he has, then the least the rest of us can do is to provide the funds the association needs. The cemeteries were a disgrace to the town until Zook took over.

Tommy Wood, the Rockets' versatile quarterback of the last few seasons, has been offered scholarships at both West Texas State and Texas Tech. Personally I feel that he will get to play more if he goes to West Texas State, but that is up to him to decide. I do know that Coach Kimbrough is a fine gentleman and a very able man.

Since there is a lot of talk about irrigation in the Wellington area, it might be well for local farmers and ranchers to be on the lookout for well wishers. Lefty Thomas says that one appeared down in Motley county and collected $200 from one rancher and went out with his forked stick and selected a spot. They dug the well right where he indicated and they kept on drilling to a depth of 175 feet; but they found no water and when they looked around over the county they couldn't find the well wisher either. Lefty suggests that the farmers get the water before they pay out the money.

E. A. Singley says that this is the best April moisture that he can remember in the past forty years. Well, you can't prove that the cloud seeders had anything to do with it; but you can't prove that they might not have had something to do with the gently falling, soaking rains.

A. Y. Bell says that if man can build an atom bomb, invent television, etc., that seeding clouds with silver iodide seems simple to him.

New business people in Wellington: Lester Harwell and W. H. Dunn are now operating the Texaco station on highway 83. J. W. Tucker has opened a tape and disc recording studio on 8th street. Jim Martin takes full charge of the O. K. Welders and the inimitable Goat Hopper has leased the O. K. Motel. Myrett Henry is leaving for Jackson, Mississippi.

Saturday, May 2 is the time of the Precinct conventions. Here is what the brilliant Ben Ezzell of the Canadian Record has to say about these conventions:

Since President Truman's withdrawal from the race, the "loyal Democrats" have no candidate to rally behind . . . so the issue boils down to whether or not Texas Democrats will support present Democratic Party policies and leadership, or will throw their weight into the fight to reorganize and revamp the Democratic Party along lines more to their liking.

Or, as Governor Shivers states it, "The real issue is, in my opinion: Shall we, as Texas Democrats, take full advantage of the present favorable conditions to make our weight felt in the national party . . . or shall we just write a post card and say, Dear Harry, count on us as usual."

The Governor's own interpretation of an uninstructed delegation is "a delegation that is uninstructed, except in the sense that it will have our implied orders to look for the best man and the best platform that can be found . . . and I mean best for Texas."

So what it really boils down to is whether Texas Democrats want to entrust the leadership of their own delegation to the national convention to anti-Fair Dealing Allan Shivers, or to Truman-Democratic Fagan Dickson. Our guess is that Hemphill county Democrats will go along with the Governor . . . like the majority of the rest of Texas party members . . . and hope for the best at Chicago; and that they will go along with the Governor,

They also went on to San Diego, California where they visited Mr. Needham's sister, Mrs. Sam Gibson and family. They reported a fine trip as it was their first trip to the West Coast. They enjoyed seeing the new country, mountains, sand deserts, canyons, valleys, pine trees, and some farming land. But Mrs. Needham said for her part she will take Texas with its sandstorms instead of Sunny California.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clifton stayed with Dale in the Needham home while the Needhams were on their trip.

News of Men in Service

Dear Deck,

I am just another G. I. But I read a piece in the Wellington Leader the other day and I thought about how some of the higher up officers spend money. I saw the work order for General Ridgeway's House and the work order alone was 33 thousand dollars, and the rent for the place for one year is 15 thousand dollars, Deck why do they let the higher up officers spend the money so readily. Then all the time talk about the army spending too much money. A budget of mine gets the Wellington Leader. When he gets through he lets me read it. Well, I have to stop for now. So long.

Sincerely yours,

FUTURE FARMERS HONOR PARENTS AT ANNUAL BANQUET THURSDAY

Wellington Future Farmers held their annual banquet Thursday night, April 24, and this year, for the first time, it was a father-mother-son affair.

The guest speaker was Elmore Dodson of Dodson, one of the first white men to settle in this area, a livestock man for more than 60 years, and a beloved citizen of Collingsworth.

Mr. Dodson urged the young future farmers to carry on farming and ranching operations through the use of modern machinery.

Another high point of the program was the presentation of the Honorary Member award, which this year went to Stanley Brooks, high school vocational guidance teacher.

Jimmy Leggett was toastmaster and Jim Thompson gave the invocation.

Following the dinner, Jim Hartman welcomed the guests and Ed Bawcom introduced them. A short talk was made by Supt. C. T. Roberts, and musical numbers given by Georgia Nell Galyean, LaDonna Sparks, Nelda Terry, Ruthie McCaskill and Frank Jones. Rev. Sam Sparks gave the benediction.

The chapter officers in charge of the opening and closing ceremonies were Doclen Starkey, president; Leggett, vice-president; Bawcom, reporter; Hartman, treasurer; Harold Moore, parliamentarian; Jessie Davis, second vice-president; Lester Montgomery, third vice-president; Dale Lockhart, historian; Thompson, secretary; Don Sessions, sentinel; and Bennett Goodloe, adviser.

Grow a Vegetable Garden in 1952

COLLEGE STATION — There are a lot of reasons why most families should include a home vegetable garden in their 1952 plans for aiding national defense. According to J. E. Hutchison, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, home gardens can be the source of much low priced food; the nutritional value of the family's diet may be improved and working the garden provides recreation for the gardener.

It is just good business, continues Hutchison, to produce at home a part of the family's vegetable needs. Each person needs from 600 to 700 pounds of fresh vegetables annually to maintain good health and chances are good each member of the family will get his share if the production comes from a home garden. In these tense and unsettled times, physical fitness is a must for every citizen, says the specialist and fresh vegetables are needed for balancing the daily diet.

He points out that a small garden can be just as profitable as the larger ones. It may not be possible to produce a surplus for canning or freezing but production can be high because small plots can be irrigated and given better care.

Most garden soils should be prepared for spring planting in January and February, says Hutchison. Low spots should be avoided as garden sites for during periods of heavy rainfall, the excess water may drown out the vegetables. Vegetables need sunlight and a shady backyard doesn't make a choice garden site.

If compost or barnyard fertilizer is used on the garden plot, it should be applied early and worked into the soil. Commercial fertilizers can be used in most sections of the state to increase yields and improve the quality of the vegetables.

Hutchison suggests that families needing more information on home gardening, contact their local county Extension agents for the best varieties to grow and the latest information on soil preparation and care, as well as, how to control the insects that may cause trouble during the growing season. Bulletins and other materials are available upon request, and throughout the year, meetings and demonstrations will be given by gardeners and Extension agents that should help even the experienced gardener do a better job, says Hutchison.

Why Get In Hot Water

The Texas Motor Vehicle Law Requires That Your Car or
Truck Must Pass the Inspection
Test For Safety

Avoid The Rush

The Texas Safety Association estimates that if every shop that is qualified to inspect cars and trucks under the new Texas Motor Vehicle Law were—starting May 1—to inspect eight vehicles a day that they would not be able to inspect all of the cars and trucks in Texas by the deadline in September.

But the facts remain that the average qualified inspection agency is inspecting considerable less than this number each day.

For that reason the Texas Safety Association predicts that there will be a terrific glut of cars and trucks at each inspection point in July and August unless motorists start having their cars inspected now and keep on doing so steadily through May and June.

As inspection agents of the state we respectfully urge you to bring your cars in now; for we are sorely afraid that we will not be able to handle the task if too many people wait until July and August to have this work done.

It should be remembered that your car or truck must have an inspection sticker on the windshield if you are to drive it today. The inspection test is not nearly as severe as most people think it is. The items to be checked are the ones that will save your life.

So don't delay. Act today. You can save yourself time and trouble by making an appointment to have your car inspected now and you won't be among the hot and bothered people who will be sweating it out in August waiting your turn.

Black Cats Get New Name

The Wellington Black Cats get a new name with the opening of this season. They'll be the Shamblers' All Stars, with veteran manager Earl Shamblee at the helm.

Shamblee said this week that new uniforms have been ordered, and Wellington business men are contributing toward them.

The team has had one practice game, which they won when Hollis, in the lead 12 to 11, walked off the field when the All-Stars ran in a pinchhitter. The two teams will meet again Sunday, however, for another practice session at Hollis.

A number of players are already lined up. There's Freddy Edwards and Ceol Pease. Bruce Simmon is coming in from Samnorwood to play right field. Others are 16-year-old James Leonard Hunnicutt, first base; his 17 year old brother, J. C. at second; Donnell Williams, utility man; Tiny Riley, third; R. D. Dawkins, left field; M. J. Randon, center field; the Randon brothers, substitutes; Babe Ruth Robinson, Bill Jones and two pitchers, Okla Lee Young and Charles Ray Mathews. Several players will be picked.

The season will be officially opened when the new suits arrive, Shamblee said.

petent and efficient operation of the District Attorney's office without any undue burden upon the taxpayers. The District Attorney is a state officer, and the salary for the office, plus certain expenses, is paid out of the state treasury. It is my opinion that such salary and expenses paid from the state treasury, are adequate to insure an efficient and satisfactory operation of the District Attorney's office, without the taxpayers of Carson, Childress, Collingsworth, Donley and Hall counties being called upon to provide additional money for unusual and unnecessary expenses in the operation of the District Attorney's office.

If the voters will elect Sheffy Mahan your next District Attorney, there will be no unnecessary and unusual expenses incurred in discharging the duties of District Attorney. Violations of the law will be prosecuted with the utmost diligence, without favoritism to any group or to any individual, but with fairness and impartiality and consideration to all. I will make every effort to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the District Attorney's office to the very best of my ability.

In the 15 frames of paper currency comprising the exhibit are shown specimens representing every type of note, bill, and certificate which has been circulated as money in the United States from the early colonial period to the present day.

There are notes in pounds, shillings and pence used in the early years of the nation; obsolete bank notes; early "greenbacks", and "Shinplasters" of the Civil War period. There are the large sized notes of not so many years back, now often referred to as "saddle blankets."

The 15 frames to be displayed include: Frame 1: Colonial and Continental Currency, and obsolete bank notes. Some of the colonial notes were issued as early as 1690 by the Massachusetts Bay Colonies. They were crudely printed and easily counterfeited and became almost worthless through inflation. These were issued in the English money measure. Those in dollars are the Continental currency. The obsolete notes were issued by banks, insurance companies, railroads, state governments and individuals up to about 1861.

Of particular interest will be Frame two, containing treasury notes from the Republic of Texas, notes of the Confederate States of America, and State of Texas Warrants.

Postage and fractional currency are in Frame 3. This includes postage currency used by the government during the Civil War when all metal coin disappeared from circulation.

Frame 4 holds the United States and Treasury Notes; Frame Five, the United States Notes, many of which are works of art, representing two and three-color printings. United States and Treasury Notes, with their ornate geometrical lathe designs are in Frame 6. The treasury notes are in a distinctly artistic class. The United States Notes are known for their eagle, which inverted makes a very good "donkey head."

Frame seven and eight have United States Silver Certificates; Frame 9 Federal Reserve Notes; Frame 10, Federal Reserve bank notes; Frame 11 and 12, National Bank Notes; Frame 13; United States Notes and Silver certificates; Frame 14: Federal Reserve Notes; and Frame 15, Miscellaneous currency.

The Bank Personnel, including Frank Smith, president; Floyd Teutsch, vice president; Nadine Birchfield, cashier; and Gloria Dodson, assistant, has invited the public to see this exhibit on Monday.

New uniforms for the first team will be bought, and several merchants have already volunteered to buy one, Mr. Hoyt said.

"Dumas was dropped from the league due to the distance from the other teams and Sheppard Field came in to replace it. Having these Wichita Falls Air Force men in is an advantage. They don't play for money, and they're willing to play here most of the

"They will have a very good ball club because nearly all the players are on some major league roster and when they leave service will go into a farm club. They should offer us some real competition," Mr. Hoyt added.

Voters' 'Write-in Fever' Hits Unfair Primary Laws

The "write-in fever" that has marked the nation's 1952 primaries ought to be well studied by party leaders in all states. It is the voters' commentary on the absurd confusion and inequity of our primary laws.

As they are now framed, these statutes do not generally provide a fair test of strength between the leading presidential candidates.

The heavy write-ins in states like Minnesota and Nebraska are a demonstration of popular irritation with this intolerable situation. The voters want a chance to vote on all candidates. It is evident that except where they are expressly forbidden by law, they will take matters into their own hands and put down the name of the man they want.

The candidates' personal inclinations are partly responsible for the scarcity of good primary tests. They naturally refrain from entering states where they feel their showing might be poor, and leap into areas that look promising.

But they are encouraged in their reluctance by the addities of the various state laws. A man may believe that a particular test will be unfair, or inconclusive, or unproductive of real gains in convention delegates.

A candidate actually needs legal counsel to make these decisions. Faced with the incredible complications, in any instance he is more likely to stay out than go in.

There is no question at all that some primary laws have been drafted by state leaders who were trying to stack the cards for or against a particular man in a particular year. They seem deliberately designed to block a fair test.

Some states require a candidate's written consent for his entry, some do not. Some allow write-ins, some do not. Here and there a popularity contest result is binding, but more often it is merely advisory, leaving the delegates free to ignore the voters' recommendations if they choose.

Senator Taft stayed out of populous Pennsylvania's test on the ground it would be inconclusive. The "written consent" required barred General Eisenhower from the big Wisconsin show. The same feature kept the general out of Nebraska.

President Truman and others have suggested a national direct primary as the best way out of this wild hodge-podge. But the temper of Congress in this election year is against that solution.

In the absence of that, let us at least have state laws which by their uniform liberality encourage the entry of all candidates. Let us have simple statutes, so framed that the voting result they produce will be clear—not as now lost frequently in a fog of complexity.

Today we either get no test or a possible misleading outcome in our most populous states. The inevitable sequel is a disproportionate stress on voting in smaller states. Too often their characteristics are so special and the voting sample so slender that they do not merit being taken as gauges of national sentiment.

If state party leaders do not recognize the signs of a popular desire for a bigger, clearer voice in the choice of their presidential nominees, the people one day soon are likely to write in a vote that will blast the party brass right out of their comfortable seats.

Students at State College police school in San Jose, Calif., must take a course in ballet dancing. Most cops refrain from stepping on the wrong toes anyway.

Both the Republican and Democratic political conventions convene in Chicago this July. At least the Windy City's weatherman will be able to explain sudden summer squalls.

Youngstown, O., police arrested a man for riding on top of a taxi. He explained that his wife, with whom he'd argued, wouldn't let him ride inside. Suppose he told the boys he really went through the ceiling when his wife got tough.

A thief made off with 200 phonograph records, all of hog calls, from a songwriter's New York apartment. This explains much we didn't know about how "hit music" is written.

A California woman sent her girdle to a congressman suggesting that the lawmakers exercise a little more "figure control" taxwise. Wonder what she'd send to illustrate false economy.

Bible Comment FOR MAY 4

Peace Needs Foundation of Righteousness

Laws and ideals are one thing; observances and performances are quite another. Nowhere, perhaps, in all history were there more idealistic regulations than those to be found in ancient Israel. Yet in spite of these, injustice and oppressions were prevalent.

Imagine some thoughtful, intelligent, hard-working farmer, who understands the conditions upon which our life and welfare depends, coming into one of our modern cities. He would observe the ease and luxury of those making no real contribution to society, not to mention the evil and corruption that are so flagrant. Then you can understand something of what the prophet Amos was to his times.

Amos was a herdsman, accustomed to clean living. He was roused to indignation by what he saw . . . "the dust of the earth on the head of the poor . . . the righteous sold for a pair of shoes."

He saw the gross immorality of fathers and sons, the turning of judgment to wormwood, and the abandonment of righteousness. He saw the very acts and rites of religion perverted, feasts observed and offerings sacrificed by those who had no true observance or sacrifice in their hearts.

Amos represents God as saying "I hate, I despise your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies."

But he calls for repentance: "Let judgment run down as waters and righteousness as a mighty stream." Don't we need that call today?

The association of righteousness with peace is not accidental. It reminds us of the only true foundation upon which peace can be built, weather it be domestic peace, the solution of industrial troubles or international peace. Organization and negotiation are not enough. We must find, and build upon, a sure foundation of righteousness.

A majority of votes means more than half, while a plurality is more votes than any other candidate receives, but less than half the total.

SOCIAL SECURITY TAX ON HOUSEHOLD WORKERS EXPLAINED

April 30th is the deadline on which social security payments for household workers for the first quarter of 1952 are due at the office of your Collector of Internal Revenue.

The federal law bringing household workers under the old-age and survivors insurance system went into effect January 1, 1951. However, lawyers say that many persons who employ help in their homes are still in the dark about requirements of the law.

Here are some provisions everyone should know. Household workers covered by the law includes maids, laundresses, housekeepers, cooks, nursemaids, gardeners, handymen, valets, grooms, chauffeurs of private owned cars, practical nurses, and others.

Whether or not a household worker is included in the law depends on how many days she works and how much she is paid. If the person works 24 days and earns $50 during any of the three month periods into which the calendar year has been divided, a tax report must be filled and payment made.

Only cash wages are considered, which includes bus fare if paid in cash, but does not include bus tokens, clothing, room and board or other noncash items furnished the employee. A domestic worker does not have to put in a full day to count on the 24 day rule -- any portion of the day worked counts as a full day.

The rule is different for domestic workers on farms operated for profit. In such cases the domestic is considered a farm worker and is covered only if he or she meets the test for farm labor.

The tax in all amounts to 3 per cent of the cash wages paid. You, as an employer, must deduct 1 1-2 per cent from your household worker's cash wages if the person meets the 24 day, fifty dollar test. You then include another 1 1-2 per cent which is the employer's contribution. After the close of each specified three-month period you should send the tax, with a report of the wages paid, to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

These three-month period, or quarters, end on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st. Reports and payments are due by the last day of the month following the close of each quarter. During any quarterly period that a household worker does not work 24 days or earn $50, the employer need not be concerned the work your employee performs for any other employer.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has a special household report form, printed on the back of a return envelope, which can be obtained from your Collector upon request. Just ask for Form 942.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform -- not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.

INSOMNIA

"If I could only sleep!" This statement is sufficient most of the time to stamp a case of "insomnia" an with it all the train of other symptoms that follow. Basically insomnia is a condition which prevents the nervous system from relaxing. Organic trouble has been frequently blamed and usually enters into the complex but when vitality has been restored to the nerves and sufficient pressure removed to permit them to relax, sleep follows that is natural and refreshing.

While several pressures on nerves can produce insomnia, the usual case has many and the condition is one of long standing. The general health is usually affected since insomnia produces a type of nervous exhaustion which prevents proper organic action.

By correction of the cause, the affects disappear and prove to be secondary. Chiropractic has assisted nature in restoring healthful rest to hundreds who were threatened with taking something because they could not sleep unless under the influence of opiates.

State Government More Efficient In Many Fields

D. A. Hulcy, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is advocating, in the interest of better government, that proper powers of the States be relinquished by the federal government. He has gone so far as to list some areas in which he believes federal controls should be returned to the States. They include the following, as he enumerates them:

"I believe the Federal Security Agency's old age assistance program should be administered under State direction. For who is better able to appraise the needs of an applicant than his neighbors?"

"I believe that unemployment compensation could be administered by the States more efficiently than under Washington's control. Living costs vary widely from State to State. Unemployment compensation that would mean virtual starvation in one State might be adequate in another.

"I believe that some water power facilities could be more appropriately operated by the States than the federal government — if they are to be operated at all by government.

"I believe that responsibility for secondary and local road programs should be transferred to the States. Federal control too often means waste and inconvenience to local residents."

Miss Eleanor Dakil of Childress spent Monday here visiting relatives.

Joyce McPherson and Wanda Hartman spent last Monday in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gulley, Iris Prestidge, and Ocie Dorsey went fishing in Munday Lake near Shamrock Sunday.

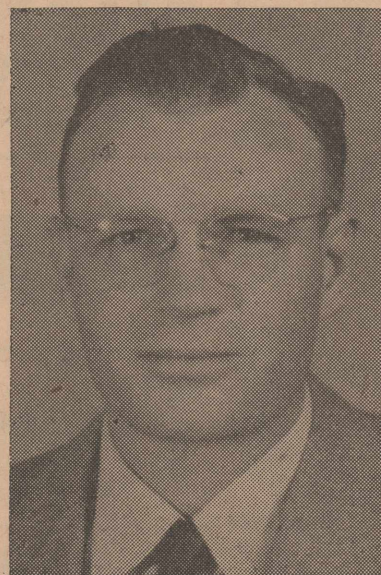

Walter Dodson, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Dodson, underwent major surgery in St. Joseph's Hospital April 18, and remained there until April 21.

Lord Jim Says--

By Bill Hughes

Last week we were flying our flag at half mast for our friend Mrs. Pinkston and her family. Lots of people will miss Roy as we do, but he acquitted himself of his job here above average and God has called him to greater things.

This week we are sailing with Uncle Sam's mighty "Sweet Pea."

AN EXPERIENCE, AN OPINION, A QUESTION

The Navy for several years has been taking groups of representative citizens aboard various types of operational vessels that are either on their way out to join or coming back for overhaul from the fleet.

The reason for these trips is providing a way of acquainting Americans with the reality of military effort and need, and providing a clearer conception to individual citizens of what makes the Navy and Marine force tick and why we need them.

The groups either join a ship on the West Coast and go to Hawaii where they are returned via regularly scheduled Navy air transports or they are flown to Hawaii to meet the ship to make the final leg of the vessels' voyage to the states.

Approximately six days are spent in Hawaii under guidance of Naval personnel on a very concentrated bird's eye view of all types of military installation, Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force. Naturally, being under the auspices of the Navy, the majority of time is spent in review of Naval and Marine procedures and facilities, both ashore and at sea.

Since all but the closely guarded secret equipment and information is open to inspection by these groups every individual participating is thoroughly checked by the FBI for security, sense of obligation and of responsibility for the privilege of such experience and knowledge.

All personal expenses are borne by the individual including travel to and from point of embarkment, so that the monetary cost to taxpayers is more theoretical than actual. Rather the cost is one of time and personal effort graciously given by individual Naval and Marine personnel of all ranks and rates.

The particular group of sixteen, of whom I was one, came from Washington, Oregon, California, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Texas. They represented ten different professions.

The group was met in San Francisco and introduced to the Navy by Admiral J. L. Hall, Commander Western Sea Frontier.

We sailed with Capt. P. D. Stroop, USN, my friend and the reason for my presence on the USS Princeton (CV37), an aircraft carrier from Alameda, California, March 21, spent one day of flight operations off of Hawaii and disembarked its civilians in Pearl Harbor, March 27th, after a most memorable cruise. The group spent six days touring Naval, Marine and other military installations on the island of Oahu with two extremely interesting briefing periods, on the Korean "police action", by the respective staff officers of Admiral Arthur W. Radford, USN Commander in Chief Pacific and US Pacific Fleet, and Lt. General F. A. Hart, USMC Commanding Gen. Fleet Marine Force, Pacific. We then returned via the Mars type flying boat to Alameda.

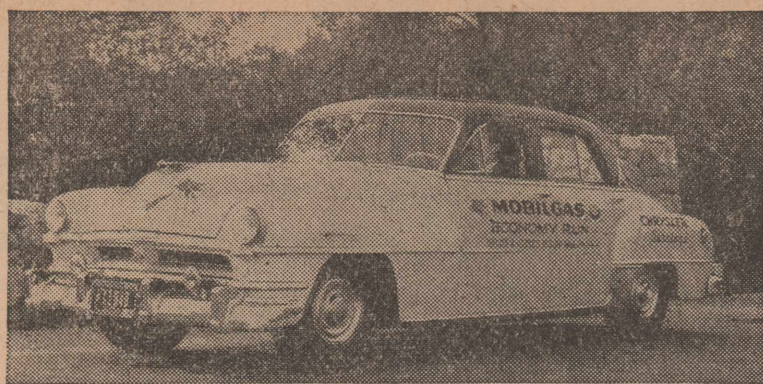

On the ship the group as a whole was charged to the capable hands of personable LSMR George Neise, USNR. Ashore, we were turned over to the equally capable and personable LSMR Bill Fey, USN and his assistant, Lt. Dave Tyson, USN, who in turn introduced us to the pilot and crew of VR 2's Mars type flying boat for a very smooth overnight flight home.

It was a highly concentrated inspection trip of a complete phase of a large part of our Navy. Since it was done under operational conditions and was in no way a "dress parade", it was doubly convincing as to why so many men, so much concentrated specialized training, so much equipment, so much money is absolutely necessary in these years of mounting tension.

It was easy to grasp the fundamental fact that no branch of the service can carry on National defense by itself alone. Each branch does have a vital part in a balanced effort, which at this stage of man's mechanical achievement, for all the change, invention, and improvement cannot adequately be absorbed or displaced by another.

On the question of waste and duplication it was powerfully borne in upon one, and that any first

Chrysler Wins Five Economy Run Awards

Chrysler cars took first in Classes F, H and I with Chrysler Saratoga six and eight passenger sedans and the Chrysler Crown Imperial sedan. Second places were won in Classes D and G by Chrysler Windsor and Chrysler Imperial sedans. Shown is the Chrysler Saratoga which won in its class for the 1,415 mile mountainous run.

class American military machine will always be highly expensive by reason of its nature. The continual drain of vast resources, of brain power, of man hours, and of men's lives produce not conquered material wealth, but intangible qualities such as hope of freedom, peace and security from violent attack.

Nothing so large, involving so many people and so many fields of knowledge and skills handling such great wealth — whatever its objective of purpose — in a world of constant invention, subject to human nature can ever be free of so-called waste and duplication. However, the intelligence, moral fiber, character, and the responsibility of our Naval and Marine leaders is such that it compares to its advantage with its equal in civil life and is far above our National political administration and Congress.

Naturally, our military leaders charged with the vital and final responsibility of physically protecting Americans and the free world in a brawling hostile atmosphere of major conflicting forces are going to ask for every single thin dime they can squeeze, because there is no such thing as a plan without mistake, perfect readiness, being perfectly trained, perfectly equipped or perfection beyond improvement. But of, course, there are other factors equally vital; and one supremely fundamental to defense is productive capacity and national economic health.

One immediately sees that a wise balance of all factors involved is the top business of the National administration today. This demands the soundest, highest type of intelligent leadership possible. It is a leadership that must act upon integrity, farsightedness, knowledge, wisdom and facts. It must act with high purpose of the strongest moral character and not out of petty bias and selfish partisanship for political benefit and illusionary purpose. It is the decision by politics and expediency of low order and questionable purpose that breeds conflicts between the branches of our services.

One also comes to realize the importance of the fact that freedom of the press has obligations and duties beyond the mere beating of competition and making of a profit. All news media must meet these obligations and duties to keep it. By over-emphasis, by screaming headlines of oblique angles, and by personal interpretation of incomplete facts, it has been guilty of contradictions, prodding to the point of frustrating the American public. The tendency to try to scoop the news and predict the future before it happens, indeed, accuracy of fact and proper perspective in the heat of any happening, crowds that very thin line between truth and dangerous fiction. Such instantaneous perspicacity is beyond the powers of the average.

It becomes clear that ultimately what our Armed forces can and cannot say is controlled from the top of the chain of command by The Commander in Chief, (The President).

A very noticeable thing on this trip was the observance of little political discussion among Naval or Marine personnel. The higher the command the more scrupulously any political opinion was avoided. Nor was the most insatiable civilian curiosity cunningly phrased able to trap staff briefing officers into political utterances. They stayed strictly to military fact within the provision of their discretion.

From seaman to admiral there is a terrific wealth of very able, well-trained and highly skilled men. They have to be, because the penalty (even in peace time) of ignorance, ineptness and irresponsibility is death from unforgiving, highly complex, powerful machinery. On the sea, still a relentless natural forces of tremendous magnitude, for all our modern wonders, man must yet obey the laws of years of experience to survive. Add to this an enemy and it can be better understood why a disciplined, just, but taut ship is dearly loved and morale is high.

Such power, skill and co-ordinated resources as we witnessed, harnessed by threads in the hands of faithful, freedom loving men is a tremendous thing to behold. The thought of the same fettered by chains in the fists of dictators forces one to consider the importance of citizenship that is only sustained by individual wisdom and self-discipline. It causes one to wonder how governments of men might be equally held by forfeiture of their lives for ignorance, ineptness, irresponsibility, and moral dishonesty.

One word about the Marines. Whoever joined the hue and cry to do away with that corps, knowingly or not, went all out for the Communists, but failed, thank God.

Speaking of Communists, Chinese in this instance, with whom we are involved in a "police action" in far off Korea, can you understand the feeling of one who stood beside our young naval pilots? Pilots called back to duty, waving goodbye to their wives and small children. Husband and wife know the parting to be as costly lifewise as World War II. You are only going for the ride! sure to return to "business as usual"! If you can understand it, then tell me when as a nation are we going to stop dividing and wasting our strength for selfish purposes and unite to give these families the only support that is right. They are laying not merely their futures on the line, but life itself. For whom? Not just for themselves but for you and me.

180 HP CHRYSLER V-8 FIRST IN 3 CLASSES IN ECONOMY RUN!

Here is truly dramatic proof that Chrysler's great new FirePower 180 HP V-8 engine design sets an entirely new standard of efficiency among American passenger car engines!

In this annual economy test, rigidly supervised, and limited strictly to stock car entrants, cars competing are divided, by price and size, into 11 standard classes. The route, from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, covered 1,415 miles of every possible kind of driving. Average speed for all cars was just under 41 miles per hour.

And in 3 of the 11 classes, the Chrysler V-8 engine was best for gasoline mileage.

In Class "F", this magnificent new engine won first place for a Saratoga 6-passenger sedan (125 1/2-inch wheelbase, 4010 pounds). In Class "H", it won first honors for a Saratoga model 8-passenger sedan (139 1/2-inch wheelbase, 4510 pounds). And in the top price and size, Class "T", it was again first, in a Chrysler Crown Imperial Sedan (145 1/2-inch wheelbase, 5360 pounds).

To travel these substantial cars at this speed under these conditions gives additional proof, we believe, that here in the FirePower V-8 engine is the finest and most efficient engine ever put into an American passenger car!

WE INVITE YOU TO DRIVE THIS ENGINE, YOURSELF...

The same engine which has just scored these remarkable accomplishments is no farther from you than your own Chrysler Dealer. He will welcome the chance to let you take the wheel and feel for yourself what Chrysler has done... not only in engine performance, but in power steering, power brakes, new shock absorbers, passenger comfort... to deserve the title: "Finest Car America Has Yet Produced!"
