Clyde Brown, 52, Farm Leader, Dies Sunday

Clyde S. Brown, 52, farmer of the Buck Creek community and a leader in farm and community affairs here for many years, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday, July 18, about 3:45 p. m.

He had been ill for the last year and a half, suffering from cancer.

Mr. Brown had spent most of his life in Collingsworth County, coming here at the age of nine with his parents, Mrs. S. E. Brown and the late Mr. Brown, from Gorman, where he was born October 23, 1901.

He received his education in the county and attended Wellington high school.

Through his adult years, Mr. Brown had farmed in the Swearingen and Buck Creek communities. In addition to his being a progressive farmer and farm leader, he was active in all other phases of community life, and in the work of Friendship Baptist Church at Buck Creek.

The quality for which he was best known, however, and the expression most used in speaking of him was that of "a wonderful neighbor." It was in the small as well as in the larger things, that with whom he dealt found equality that marked his character.

In the early years of the government farm program, in the 1930s, Mr. Brown became active in that work. He continued active participation on community and county level for a number of years.

Mr. Brown was married to Miss Geneva Austin October 19, 1929.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Wellington Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with Elder L. Stonecipher of Friendship Church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Chester O'Brien. A large crowd of friends from every walk of life gathered to pay tribute.

Pal bearers were Benton Shields of Willow, Okla., Wren Hart of George, Okla., Palo Cunniff, Jr. of A. Davis, Ralph Messer, Robert Lacy and Travis McGuire.

Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Mr. Brown is survived by his wife and one son, Cpl. Leroy Brown of Fort Bliss; his mother, Mrs. S. E. Brown of near Wellington; and five brothers and sisters, Ernest Brown of Duncan, Okla.; Claude Brown of Tulsa; Mrs. Ethredge Ward of Hereford; Mrs. S. A. Johnson of Dublin; and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson of Wellington.

Precinct Conventions To Be Held Saturday July 24

Dick Sweat, Democratic County Chairman has posted and mailed full particulars on precinct conventions that will be held Saturday, July 24. He has named place in which precinct convention will be held. This is the first time that such full and complete information has been sent out by a Democratic County Chairman in recent years. He has also filed this information with the county clerk as is required by law.

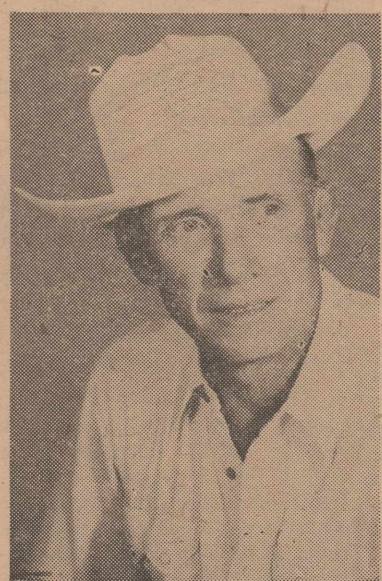

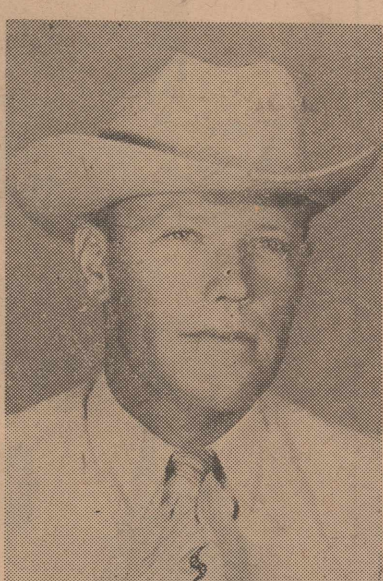

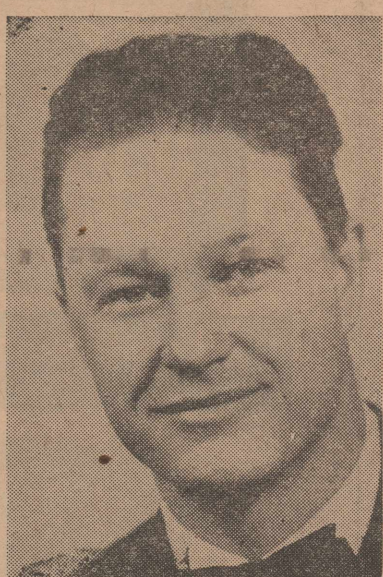

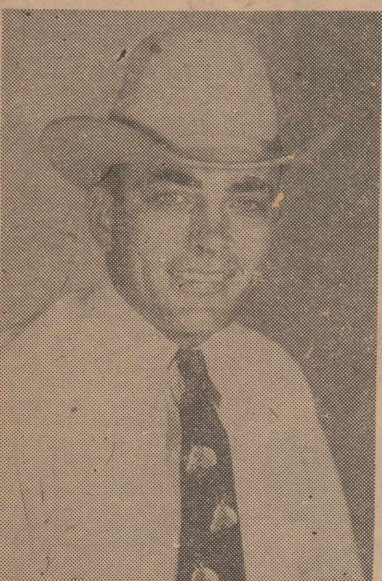

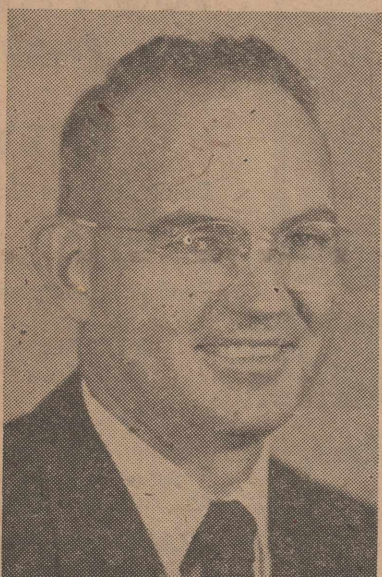

Mr. Sweat also announced the time table for the various Democratic conventions. All of the precinct conventions will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday, July 24. The county convention will be held Saturday, July 31, in the district court room in Wellington at 2 p. m. at which time delegates will be selected to attend the state convention September 14.

Mr. Sweat also advised each precinct chairman that his precinct would be entitled to one delegate to the county convention for every 25 vote or major fraction thereof cast in the Governors race in 1952.

The county chairman made an appeal to all precinct chairmen to hold a precinct meeting, pointing out that it was the one means by which the people could register a direct vote on party affairs.

His notice of precinct conventions follows:

Notice is hereby given that the Precinct Democratic Convention will be held at the following places:

THREE CONTESTED COUNTY AND ONE PRECINCT RACES

Voters of Collingsworth County will vote on three contested county races in the election Saturday, July 24, and in addition to this, three contested commissioners and one other contested precinct race.

In the top row are Wayne Cudd, left, and R. L. Templeton, who are seeking the office of county judge. Templeton is the incumbent. Cudd heads the trucking firm of Cudd Brothers. In the next two pictures are the candidates for the office of district clerk, Mrs. Roy Cunningham and Mrs.

O. E. Dodson, who holds that office. Mrs. Cunningham is also a Wellington resident. In the lower row are two of the three candidates for sheriff, Bob Willoughby, left, who is conducting a write-in campaign, and John Rainey. A picture of Claude McKinney, who now holds the office, was not available. In the two pictures at lower right are the two candidates for the office of Constable of Precinct 1, Wayne Jones and Bruce Hite. Hite in the present Constable. Jones is also a Wellington resident.

Open Bids August 20

Final Approval Given on Armory For National Guard Unit Here

The last hurdle in the way of a National Guard Armory has been passed, and Wellington is approved for the building, Major Dale Watkins, commanding officer of the Medical Company of the 42nd Infantry Regiment, was notified in a telephone conversation by Major General Carl Finney of Austin, Commanding General of the 36th National Guard of Texas, Tuesday, July 20.

In the final action, the National Guard Armory Board in Washington allocated funds for the project and made them available.

Bids on the job will be accepted in the immediate future, Major Watkins said, and will be opened August 20 in Austin.

Information regarding plans

Senator Lyndon Johnson Tuesday sent The Wellington Leader the following telegram.

National Guard Bureau has authorized State Board of Control to advertise for bids, Armory at Wellington for Medical Company, 142nd Infantry Regiment, 36th Infantry Division. Construction to commence very soon.

Lyndon B. Johnson and specifications can be obtained by contacting the State Board of Control, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

According to information given Major Watkins by General Fin-

Ruthers To Host Kelton, At 8 P. M.

Baseball under the lights will be Thursday night, July 22, as Wellington's Babe Ruth team entertains Kelton, the team that they beat Sunday, July 18, by a 7-6 score. Gametime is at 8:00 p. m.

"These Days For God"

MYF Youth Revival To Begin Services Sunday

"These Days For God" will be the guidepost in which all county young people can look forward to during this next week at the MYF youth revival at the First Methodist Church which begins this Sunday evening, July 25. The services will be held nightly at 8:00 p. m. will last one week with the concluding service set for Sunday, August 1, it was announced this week by Rev. J. F. Michael, who said that plans for the meeting were nearing completion.

"The youth will have charge of the services in their entirety. James Glascock, a sophomore ministerial student at McMurry College, Abilene, will be the evangelistic speaker. He will lead and direct our thinking in the ways and lines that God has led him to do. James has had some valuable experience in revival work, as he was program chairman for the Campus Revival on the McMurry campus, which was held in the latter part of April, the pastor declared.

"One of the main features of the services will be the special music that our young people will prepare. A quartet, a trio, two or three soloists and a choir have

S. G. Ketchum Dies Monday After Long Illness

Samuel Glenn Ketchum, 70, Collingsworth resident for the past four years, died at his home at 303 Dalhart Street Monday, July 19, at 7:30 p. m. He had been ill for the past five years.

Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of word from a son, who is en route home from Army service in Japan, but services probably will be held Thursday. The Kelso Funeral Home is in charge.

Mr. Ketchum, a retired farmer, was born September 19, 1883, in Jack County.

The family moved from Seagraves to the Lutie community then came to Wellington a few months ago.

Mr. Ketchum is survived by his wife; and five sons: Cpl. Sanford Ketchum, with the Army in Japan; Pfc. Emmett Lee Ketchum, with the Army at Fort Lewis, Washington; Pfc. Herschel Ketchum, with the Air Force at Pittsburgh, Penna.; Wayne Ketchum and Jessie Fred Ketchum of Wellington.

Also surviving are three sisters and a brother: Mrs. Carrie Allen of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Loula Mae Cagle of Dalhart; Mrs. Ophelia Cox of Stephenville; and Willie Ketchum of Wichita Falls.

Four Teachers Elected In City School System

A home economics teacher and a "B" coach are the only two vacancies that now exist in the faculty of the Wellington schools, it was announced this week by Bennett Goodloe, superintendent of schools.

Four new teachers have been added to the system to replace those who resigned earlier in the summer. Mr. Goodloe said. Mrs. Ralph Word, former Wellington teacher, has joined the faculty and she will teach Junior High English. She has been associated with the Dodson schools for the past three or four years and before that she taught in Wellington.

Political Interest Picks Up Sharply with Election Sat.

Interest in politics, and the first primary election Saturday, July 24, has picked up sharply during the last week after having created little in the way of either talk or interest for six and a half months since candidates began their filing.

With farmers laying by their crops until another rain, gatherings in air conditioned offices and buildings have grown in size with politics on both the local level and in the governors race becoming more heated.

Only three county offices are contested, sheriff, tax assessor and collector; county judge and district clerk.

In the sheriff's race, the names of two candidates are on the ballot, Sheriff Claude McKinney, and John Rainey, both of Wellington. Campaigning for the office on a write-in basis is Bob Willoughby of Dozier, who was denied a place on the ballot by county and state democratic officers on the ground that his name was not properly filed with the county democratic committee.

For county judge, R. L. Templeton, the incumbent is opposed by Wayne Cudd.

Seeking the district clerk's office are Mrs. Roy Cunningham and Mrs. O. E. Dodson.

Only on the precinct level do more than two candidates appear for any one office.

In Precinct one, Jack Brewer, incumbent, is opposed by W. D. Aldridge and Charles Cason, Jr.

In Precinct 3, Jerry DePauw and Pat O'Hair are running for the office now held by the latter.

Precinct 4, also has three candidates, W. C. Barnett, the incumbent, Jack Clark and Alex Coleman.

Alfred Knoll, commissioner of Precinct 2, is unopposed in his race for re-election.

Two candidates are running for constable of precinct 1: Bruce Hite the incumbent, and Wayne Jones.

Unopposed county and precinct candidates are:

County Attorney, Denzil Bevers.

County Clerk, David Robinson.

County superintendent, B. W. Beard.

County treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Aaron.

Justice of the Peace, Raymond Horton.

County Democratic Chairman, Dick Sweat.

On the district level, Congressman Walter Rogers, of the 18th district, is opposed by Mike M. Kemp of Moore County and Geo. W. Crawford of Hartley County.

Andy Rogers of Childress County is unopposed for state senator; Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler County for state representative; and Allen Harp of Childress for district attorney.

State Candidates include:

Governor: Allan Shivers, Cyclone Davis, J. J. Holmes and Ralph Yarborough.

Lieutenant governor: George T. Hinson, C. T. Johnson and Ben Ramsey.

United States Senator: Lyndon B. Johnson and Dudley Tarlton Dougherty.

Attorney General: Doug Crouch and John Ben Shepperd.

Congressman-at-Large: Martin Dies.

Commissioner of Agriculture: John C. White.

State Treasurer: Jesse James.

Commissioner of the Land Office: Bascom Giles.

Comptroller of Public Accounts, Robert S. Calvert.

Railroad Commissioner: Ernest O. Thompson.

Chief Justice, supreme Court of Texas: J. E. Hickman.

Associate Justice, Supreme Court of Texas, Place 1: Robert

Special Edition of Leader Planned

Plans Take Shape for Ex-Student Reunion

Fifteen hundred ex-students and their families are expected here for the fourth annual reunion Saturday, August 7, Sandy Parsons Jr., president of the Wellington Ex-Students Association, announced this week.

Wellington will be decorated for the occasion. The Chamber of Commerce is arranging for a sign painter to paint "Welcome" messages on the windows of all firms in the business section wishing them. This will be done a few days before the reunion itself.

A special edition of The Wellington Leader will be printed on July 29, ten days ahead of the reunion, and mailed to all out of county exes who are not already subscribers, and whose addresses are available. Readers knowing of an ex-student who has changed names during the past year are asked to contact either the Newspaper or Miss Bessie Rainer, secretary of the Association, by phoning 119.

The traditional events will be held again this year, along with one new one, the Friday night Watermelon Feast at Ellison Park, directed by Orval Couch.

Registration will begin at the community building at 9:00 a. m. Saturday morning, under the direction of Miss Rainer and Miss Dorothy Robertson.

Since the purpose of this reunion is to renew acquaintances and visit with friends, there is no set program, except the business session.

Wm. Barjenbruch Only Candidate In City Election

Only one name will appear on the ballot when Wellington voters name the alderman to fill an unexpired term Thursday, July 22, Bura Handley, city manager, said this week.

William (Doc) Barjenbruch was the only candidate to file for the place left vacant when Dr. Tom Hunter and his family moved to San Angelo recently.

Voting will be in the city hall, during the regular voting hours. In charge of the election will be Grady Graham, judge. Mrs. Mary Stall and Mrs. Ola Wall, clerks.

Morris Competing In State FFA Speaking Contest

Darryl Morris, Quail Future Farmer, is competing this week in the state FFA public speaking contest at San Antonio.

The first portion of the contest was due to be held Wednesday, but results have not been learned here at press time.

If he is among the finalists, he will remain through Friday, when that part of the contest will be held.

With the young Future Farmer in San Antonio are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morris of Quail, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Glenn and children, Vicki and Jan. The group will return by way of Breckenridge.

A New Angle on Ingenuity

Goat-Power Better Than Horsepower For Boys

BY JAMES GLASSCOCK
This may sound fantastic. You may have played with horses, or an ultra-modern tractor, but to plow with goats is relatively unheard of. However, two Wellington lads—J. R. Underwood, 14, and his brother, Joe Ike, 11, do that very thing with their two fully grown goats, "Jiggs" and "Nannie."

The boys and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Underwood, live at 410 East Avenue. They have approximately two acres of land on which they, the boys plant and harvest corn, beans, squash, sudan, peanuts, and okra. These products help when it comes meal-time around the Underwood house hold, the lads said.

Both boys are students in the Wellington schools. J. R. is in the seventh grade, while Joe is in the fifth grade.

Up to now, you may have been astounded by this unusual story of the goats cultivating a crop; however, the most unbelievable part is that they used their little black and white dog, "Lady," before they hit upon the idea of using the goats in their small-scale farming business.

The idea came to the boys when they were playing about two years ago. "Our cat was close-by and we tied a strawberry box to the cat and away it went, the brothers laughed. "We like that so well, but the cat cat, that we tied a pasteboard box to our dog." The dog pulled the box in such a calm manner that the idea of using the dog in our small farming scheme came to us, they said.

The boys began this unusual adventure during the spring of 1952 using a small very light plow, which did not make the dog struggle with the weight of the pulling. The boys did most of the work because one pulled at the front of the plow and the one that guided the plow helped by pushing. The same situation is with the goats.

Their plow, built on the order of the old western "sod busters" is made of wood and has two steel sweeps that till the soil. Looking at it, one might be reminded of a turning plow. This farm implement, which may look antiquated, covers the ground and it works almost as good as a machine driven implement.

Day-Long Tour

Bankers, Business Men See Soil Saving Practices Over County

Diversified conservation practices, covering all types of crops and water-saving methods, were viewed by a group of bankers, businessmen, and interested persons, who were conducted on a 14, by the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, who acted as sponsors for the caravan.

Fifteen farms were visited and at each place, something new in the way of soil conservation was brought to their attention.

Their first stop was at the James Doneghy farm, just north of the Wellington Livestock Barn. The group, under the direction of Fred Squyers, was shown the affects of weed-killing with spray.

Perhaps, the most unique part of the whole trip was the display that met the eye of the "tourists" as they saw how sewer water made for growth the excellent grass on the Dr. Dale Watkins farm, which is located south of the West Wellington Cemetery. Dr. Watkins uses this farm as a part-time hobby and enterprise. The interested persons viewed bench-level terraces and border-type irrigation.

Cecil Shank's farm was next on the agenda of the group. Mr. Shanks is using the new syrup pan system, which spreads the water evenly over the field and not just in one spot as the old type of terraces did. He is now using 50 acres of his land in which this type of program is being carried out.

Guar, the plant that originated in India, hit the eye of the men next. Raymond Ward, one of the many county farmers that have plant the bean-bearing plant, let the interested party examine some of the plants and see the unusual way in which they make for future gains in soil protection.

John Brim, the first member to sign-up with the Salt Fork Soil District, told the group his entire story of conservation from its beginning back in 1947 when the local district was set-up.

Brim, who follows conservation to the complete form, has every type of soil program that has been approved for practice. Terraces, grass-seeding, chiseling, and many other conservation methods are all placed into work by this man and at about a $200 or less investment through the years.

Barney Glenn and Elvis Crawley were visited next and a guided tour over their irrigation facilities were studied.

Deskins Well's farm, which is located one mile north of the Fresno gin, was included into the tour to show the men the root system of Guar as compared with sorghum. In the soil test that was run for the demonstration, the group saw how Guar broke the hardpan, while the sorghum failed to break the soil and get at the needed moisture, which is below the harden surface.

Cotton on chiseled land was viewed at the R. R. Hightower farm on the Dodson highway. The entire group remarked that it was a fine demonstration of how chiseled land can hold water and store it for future use.

Elbert Warren's farm, the last stop before the noonday meal, gave an idea of how and why dams are built. The dam, although recently constructed, is a monument to soil conservation and water storage for cattle, which, during a pro longed drought, will aid the small cattlemen in their water problems, the group was told by Squyers.

A break for dinner was taken by the group at Dodson and the meal was served to the members of the tour by the City State Bank of Wellington as their contribution to the tour.

After the meal, W. E. Patterson displayed some of his Weeping Love grass that yielded some 70 pounds per acre on the 15 acres this year. The grass is now two years old and the return for the initial investment has more than been paid, he told the group.

The tour continued through the Kelley community where, as they were riding by the Morris Wells farm, they viewed Blue Panic grass in the field.

John Robert Henard farm was the next stop for the soil delegation. Some of the nodules on Blue Panic grass were displayed to the men and they were told that these are important in the growth of the plant because of their part in the nitrogen-fixation rate.

J. W. Wells and Morris Wells' farm on Highway 83 was next shown. The field, once an abandoned strip of clay, now producing good native grass.

A. Y. Bell's range was next on the program. "The men got to see a first hand account of his work with the pasture program, that he has inaugurated.

Truett Thomas presented an excellent display of how Guar helps to conserve and make soil for the future. His display consisted of two strips of cotton. One had followed Guar and the other had been planted after sorghum. The one that had followed Guar is marked by a distinct darker green in the leaves and the growth of the cotton stalks is much larger. The entire group remarked, "You can tell the difference in the growth and color of the plant."

The last place on the day-long program took the tourists to the James Doneghy farm, located on the Quail highway. They observed the affects of shinnery spraying and the percentage of kill to the acre.

The group was enthusiastic in its comments. Jimmie Lee, vice-president of the City State Bank said, "I am pleased with such a tour as this. If we will follow a program, such as we have viewed today, our county productive ability and the sound economical basis of the county that we have long sought will be found. As bankers, businessmen, or what, we must face this in a realistic manner. Our aid to soil conservation, in all ways, will preserve the soil that some day our children and our children's children will be able to have a better and more productive agricultural outlook.

Durant McInnis, representative of the First National Bank made these observations: "We must find a way to break this hardpan and I believe Guar may be our answer. I really did enjoy this tour and I feel that I have learned much about our Soil problems and their correction."

James Doneghy, President of the City State Bank and a person who is vitally interested in the future of agriculture in the county, said, "It is too bad that more of the county farmers could not have gone along on this trip. I believe that we saw the solutions to many of our problems. It occurred to me as the group was coming in from the tour that our county has more problems in all fields of agriculture than any other area. Whereas, many sections have only grass trouble, or terrace trouble, Collingsworth County has all kinds of problems. We have many facets of agriculture," the farmer-rancher-banker declared.

Men making the tour were: James Doneghy, Jimmie Lee, Durant McInnis, Zook Thomas, Frank Ford, Cleveland of the Farmer's Home Administration, M. L. Burks, Fred Squares, and Bill Brooks of Childress of the Soil Conservation Service.

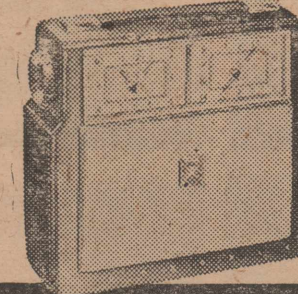

DOUBLE VICTORY FOR "BABE"—Babe Didrikson Zaharias joyfully clutches the cup which symbolizes two victories for her. Her card of 72-71-73-75 not only made her the first woman ever to become a three-time winner of the U. S. Women's Golf Championship, held this year at Peabody, Mass., but also marked a victory for "Babe" in her comeback fight against cancer.

Friends, I deeply appreciate your co-operation as I carry on the duties of Commissioner of Precinct 2. I couldn't ask for better people to serve.

I am grateful that I do not have an opponent this year, but I'll be in there working just as hard during the next two years as I have ever worked as your public official.

Precinct 2 has problems and Collingsworth County has problems, and when these come up, I hope that you will come and talk these over with me, as your commissioner. Working together, we can accomplish much good for the county.

As in the past, I will co-operate with the other members of the Commissioners Court in giving you sound, business-like government. I'LL APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE OF CONFIDENCE ON JULY 24.

Orval Couch is in charge of getting the watermelons for the watermelon feast that will be held at Ellison Park on Friday evening for the ex-students before the big event on Saturday. When asked if he had made any preparations he said: "Yes I have several boys out spotting patches."

Election return boards will be posted on both the East and West sides of the square Saturday night: so come to town Saturday and get the news first hand. Loudspeakers will also announce state returns as they come in on the radio.

The dry weather continues to oppress us. But the facts are that a good rain in July could make a bumper crop of feed and an excellent cotton crop. The crops on the sandy land, especially where deep broken, are still holding up; but those on the tight land need rain now, and by now I mean last Tuesday.

However a trip from Galveston through Corcianna, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls etc. convinces me that the Vernon and Wellington areas are still in the best shape of any part of the southwestern and northwestern part of the state not to mention a considerable part of the central part of the state. The Dallas News reports that the crops are about to go unless they get rain immediately.

One rain saved us last year. It was unusual and it is not to be expected in July of this year. But the weather bureau does predict scattered showers—let us hope that some of the abundant ones will scatter on us.

Shamrock and other similar cities are rationing water. This is not the case in Wellington thanks to the new reservoir. People in Wellington can use all the water they think they can pay for (Considering the beauty of their lawns, I don't see how Jimmy Kelso or J. E. Roberts can afford the water bill.) But anyhow water is not rationed in Wellington and it is not liable to be. Great credit should be given to all of those who had the foresight to make this possible.

A group of Korean war veterans fly to Wellington from Lawton about once a week to go swimming in the Marian Airpark swimming pool. That is quite a compliment to our pool. The water has never been better in temperature and the pool has never been cleaner.

ton, the superintendent revealed.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Bush have been hired to fill the places opened when Mr. and Mrs. Lee Plante resigned and moved to Graham, where they will teach. Mrs. Bush, the former Miss Peggie Yarbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yarbrough of Shinnery, will teach in the Elementary school.

Mr. Bush, a graduate of Childress high school and West Texas State College, Canyon, has five years teaching experience and those were in the Childress school system where he was principal until he resigned to accept a position on the local faculty. He has also taught in the Panhandle schools. Mrs. Bush, a graduate of Wellington high school and Bethany Peniel College, Bethany Oklahoma, has taught in the Childress schools for the past year.

The other addition to the faculty was that of Mrs. W. C. Whiteside, who will teach in the elementary school. Her husband, W. C. Whiteside, will be the high school principal, replacing Mr. Goodloe, who was elected superintendent of

Norwood Schools To Open Aug. 2; Two New Teachers

Vacation ends and school begins for students of the Samnorwood schools on Monday, August 2, it was announced this week by Orville Cunningham, superintendent of schools.

The schools will probably be in session for about two months before they will close for cotton harvest, the school head stated.

Two new teachers have been added to the faculty. J. R. Williams, the grade school principal, replaced Ted Parker, who resigned to accept a position with the Dodson schools, and Frank Clayborn, the new agriculture teacher, replaces O. L. Christie, who moved to Idalou, to accept a similar appointment there. Cunningham stated.

Williams, a graduate of West Texas State, Canyon, has five years of teaching experience. For the past three years, he has been girls basketball coach at Groom and he has also taught in Colorado for one and half years. He is married and they have a daughter that is two years old.

Clayborn, who replaces Christie, is a graduate of Texas Tech, Lubbock, with the class of 1954, and this is his first teaching assignment. He is married and they have a boy that is four years old. More details on the school program for the coming year will be announced later, the superintendent said.

No Action On Phone Rates

No action was taken at the regular City Council meeting Monday night, July 19, on the requested telephone rate increase of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, due to the lack of a quorum at the meeting.

Mayor Lester Hunter is undergoing a physical check-up at a clinic, and Alvin Horton, council member, was reported at the meeting to be on a business trip in Colorado.

Luther Sullivan, mayor pro tem, presided at the meeting and said that a called meeting may be held later this week if it is definite a quorum can be present. Other council members present were Hook Elliott and Jack Brisbin.

In this situation, Mr. Sullivan would not have had a vote except in case of a tie. The council is short one member until a new one is elected Thursday to fill an unexpired term of Dr. Tom Hunter.

The telephone company was represented at the Monday night meeting by Gene Craig, Memphis, district manager, and R. C. Johnson, tax engineer from San Angelo.

In addition to the council members, City Manager Bura Handley and City Attorney, Paul Spillman were present.

FOR COMMISSIONER OF PRECINCT 1

Three candidates seek the place of Commissioner of Precinct 1. Jack Brewer, at left, is seeking re-election. W. D. Aldridge is a former county official, having served as tax assessor and collector. Charles Cason Jr., at right, is asking for public office for the first time. All three have been conducting an active campaign for the office during recent weeks. Mr. Brewer and Mr. Aldridge live in Wellington, Mr. Cason farms near town.

Alta Karen Lowrie Wins Contest

Alta Karen Lowrie, seven months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lowrie, was the winner of her division in the recent Baby Contest sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club in Childress.

Alta Karen was in the girl's division of the infants to toddlers class.

She received a silver loving cup. Weighing twenty pounds, the little miss and her family live in the Arlie community.

Thompson To Modern Market

Leroy Oswart, manager of Modern Market, announced this week that Albert Thompson has accepted a position as checker and produce man with that firm. Mr. Thompson began work there Monday morning July 19.

Thompson has had several years of experience in grocery work.

Wheat Vote Fri. Cotton Measuring In Progress

Wheat farmers are reminded that Friday, July 23, is the day that all county wheat growers will vote on whether or not they want to use marketing quotas for the 1955 wheat crop, Millard Brown, head of the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation office, announced.

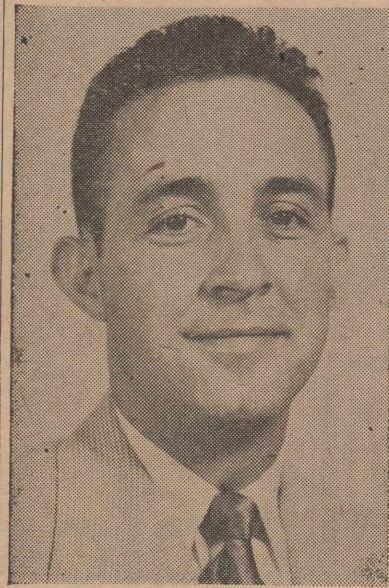

"If the quotas are approved, growers may market penalty-free all the wheat that they produce within their acreage allotments, and also be eligible for the full level of price supports authorized for 1955. However, if growers with more than 15 acres of wheat for grain have more acres of wheat than the allotments calls for, the excess wheat will be subject to a marketing quota penalty. The penalty is set by law at 45 per cent of the parity price as of May 1, 1955, Mr. Brown revealed.

"If quotas are not approved, marketing quota penalties will not apply, but available price supports will be 50 per cent of parity. Every eligible wheat farmer and his wife should be sure and cast their vote on this all important question, Brown emphasized.

"If you have over-planted your allotment and the reporter has measured your crop, then you will have twenty days in which to dispose of the excess, Brown reminded.

"At the end of this time, one of the reporters will come back to your farm and measure the plowed-up spot. The charge for the initial plot is $3, while each additional plot is $1 each, the A. S. C. head said.

The polling places and where they will be held are listed: Well-

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS

THE PUNISHMENT SHOULD FIT THE CRIME

The bill being considered was HR 9580, a bill to revise and extend the laws relating to espionage and sabotage, and for other purposes. The penalty provided for sabotage during time of war or national emergency was fixed at not to exceed a 10,000.00 fine, and not to exceed 30 years in prison, or both such fine and imprisonment. Other situations involving sabotage would be punishable by a fine of not more than $10,000.00 or a prison term of not more than 10 years, or both such fine and imprisonment. The hour was late, the Members were very tired and wanted to go home. It was a bed time to be offering amendments, but the Republican leaders had indicated that we finish the bill before the House adjourned. This simply meant that if an amendment was going to be offered at that time. The espionage section of the bill provided for the death penalty as an extreme, but the sabotage portion of the bill did not. Therefore, I offered amendments to the bill that would empower a court to impose a penalty on saboteurs of death, imprisonment for any term of years, including life imprisonment, or a fine up to ten thousand dollars, or both fine and imprisonment. In other words, I merely attempted to enlarge the authority of the court so that it could exact the death penalty or life imprisonment if the circumstances of the case warranted it. Frankly, I have always felt that the court should have full power to assess a punishment commensurate with the crime committed, and I can think of no worse crime than sabotage, espionage or treason. A seventeen year old boy in Texas can receive the death penalty for robbery with firearms, while a mature man could contaminate the water system of a defense installation, which could result in untold agony and death to thousands of people, and if tried under the act that we were considering, the most that he could receive in punishment would be 30 years in prison and a $10,000.00 fine. This just doesn't make sense to me, and I feel sure that if the House of Representatives had the opportunity to consider these amendments under different circumstances, they would not turn them down as they did the other evening. We are never going to be able to thoroughly defeat Communism or the other "isms" that would destroy our way of life, unless the courts have the full power to mete out penalties that will not only punish the criminal, but will be a potent deterrent to the crime involved.

RED CHINA AND THE UN statements on the Red China-UN issue kicked off debate on foreign policy and foreign relations that has been smoldering for some time. The reason being that if Red China gets into the United Nations, it will be by virtue of the votes of nations that are supposed to be our friends. As Secretary of State Foster Dulles recently said, we do not anticipate that Red China will be voted into the UN, however, should such a tragedy occur, the circumstances present at that time should determine whether or not this nation stayed in the UN or gave up its membership. In other words, it is entirely possible that the best interests of this country could be served by permitting our potential enemies to guess what we will or will not do at some future date, rather than continue to telegraph our punches as we seem to have been doing for some time. I know of no one in this country who wants to see Red China admitted to the UN, certainly I, as a Member of Congress, would vigorously and bitterly oppose such entry. However, if Red China should gain admission by a narrow margin, the subsequent action or course of this nation should be determined by thorough analysis of the world situation at that time. Certainly we would not want to do something that would aid and abet Communist forces in their quest for world domination. Giving the other team our signals is not going to help us win the game.

LIFE AT THE ROGERS HOUSEHOLD The other afternoon our Mary Catherine, who is five years old, received as a gift from one of her little friends, a stray cat. Jean was away from home at the time, so Mary Catherine deposited her treasure in the house and closed all doors so that it could not escape. For fear the cat might be able to get some of them open, she locked several, including one that leads to a screened porch. It just happened that Susan, the twelve year old was entertaining some friends on this porch at the time. No one noticed that the door was locked until one of them started into the house. They were supposed to be keeping an eye on Mary Catherine, but they soon discovered that the baby sitters were prisoners of the baby and the baby didn't realize it. Mary Catherine was playing in the back yard, and if one of her friends hadn't come into the house to get a drink of water, I suppose the baby sitters would have had to wait it out. They finally found the stray cat and promptly evicted it, over the loud protests and opposition of Mary Catherine.

THANKS FRIENDS

It has been a pleasure and an honor to serve you as your County Attorney during the present term, and I am grateful that I have no opponent in this election.

I am simply repeating the promises I made when I ran for office two years ago. I will do my very best to make you an efficient, capable county official. I will keep in mind at all times those qualities of justice, fairness, yet observance of law that must be uppermost in the minds of a law enforcement official.

When you go to the polls Saturday, I will appreciate your vote of approval.

Zenith has done it again! Imagine—the tiny but mighty "Royal-M" weighs about the same as a pocket lighter and is hardly larger. It operates for about 10½ a week! No "B" battery, no tubes...just one midget "A" battery. Yet this remarkable little Zenith aid is packed with power, has Zenith's famous instantly adjustable fingertip tone and volume controls.

Compare it with the most expensive hearing aids on the market. Take it on Zenith's famous 10-day money-back Guarantee...try it under all hearing conditions—at home, work, church, at the theatre. Discover for yourself all the advantages of the smart, tiny "Royal-M"...so convenient, so lifelike in tone, so amazingly economical!

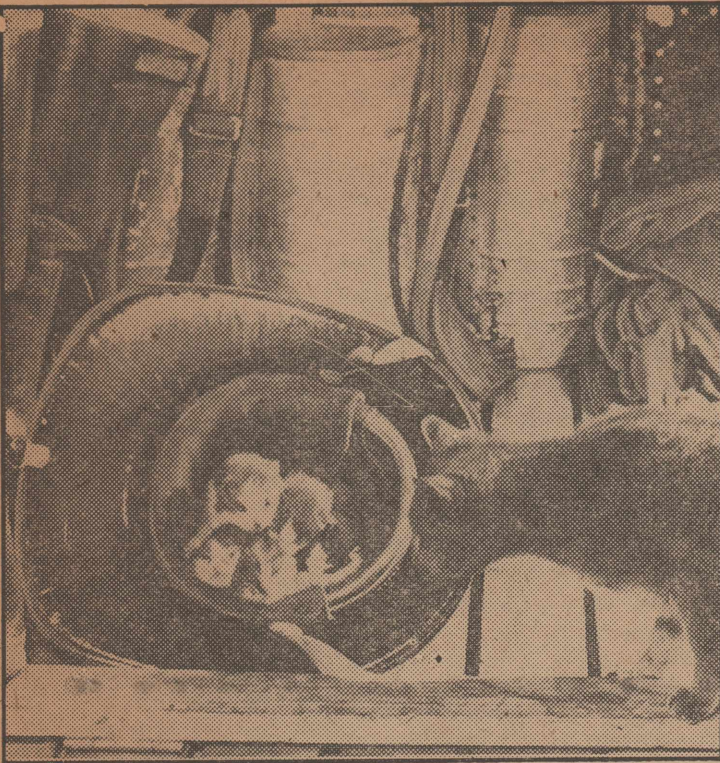

EASY TIME-PAYMENT PLAN now available. Your savings in battery costs pays a considerable portion of your monthly payments.

10-DAY MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE If, in your opinion, any hearing aid out-performs a Zenith in any way, simply return the Zenith within 10 days and your money will be refunded promptly.

FIREMAN'S HELMET FITS FIVE—"Five Alarm" keeps a motherly eye on her five-kitten litter after moving in on the Hartford, Conn., fire department. She established residence on a tarpaulin, but firemen thought a helmet would be a safer place for the kittens should one of the trucks roll out on a call.

Rev. Letcher To Oklahoma Church On August 1

Rev. Stanley Letcher, who has been pastor of the First Christian Church in Wellington for the past year, resigned recently to accept the pastorate of the First Christian Church of Cleveland, Okla.

The Cleveland church is a growing concern with an active enrollment of some 600 members and the community might be called a suburb of Tulsa, the pastor revealed.

The church there is one of the 10 best Christian Churches in Oklahoma and has drawing area of from 8,000 to 10,000 people.

Since Rev. Letcher has been in Wellington the local church has had an increase of 25 per cent in membership, and the morning attendance average has been 94 per cent, while the evening attendance records shows 74 per cent of the membership present for the past year.

Rev. Letcher will preach his last sermon on Sunday, July 25, and his first sermon at the new pastorate will be August 1.

A graduate of Carthage, Missouri high school where he took an active interest in the school's activities, the pastor graduated in 1944 and then he joined the Marine Corps. He served in all theaters of action during the war. He received his discharge in 1946. Rev. Letcher took his B. A. and M. A. degrees from Phillips University, Enid, Oklahoma, and Kansas State Teachers College, Pittsburg, Kansas.

During his year's stay in Wellington, Rev. Letcher has been one of the popular figures in the city. He has been active in various phases of community life.

The Letcher's have one son, Stanley, III, 6.

Rev. Letcher said: "It is hard to say good-by to these fine folks, but, I feel that I must go and take this advancement. I will always have a warm spot for the people of Wellington, the pastor and family related."

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McKinney of McKinney spent the week end here visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McKinney. They reported Wellington the coolest place they had been on their vacation, which included a trip to the Ozarks and through North Texas.

Dr. C. L. Harrison Here Part-Time

Dr. Chester L. Harrison, Holli's optometrist, is now associated with the Jones Watkins Clinic in Wellington, and will have his office there each Tuesday afternoon and all day Friday, he announced this week.

Dr. Harrison has been in Holli's for the past four years and already has a number of patients in this area.

One of Holli's most active civic workers, Dr. Harrison is president of the Kiwanis Club, a member of the board of stewards of the Methodist Church, past commander of the Holli's Post of the American Legion and past chairman of the American Red Cross for Harmon County.

Both he and his wife were reared at Durant, Oklahoma. They have two children.

Dr. Harrison graduated from the Southern College of Optometry at Memphis, Tenn., in 1950.

They will continue making their home in Holli's.

Creed Hill Attends New Mexico Camp

Creed Hill was one of 71 boys in camp at Skyline Ranch, Mountain Park, New Mexico for ten days. His cousin, John W. Walker Jr., 831 Mission, El Paso, also attended camp for the last period. Creed won five awards — Cobin, Competition, Cobin Honors, riflery, and rodeo. He was one of two of the 71 who were initiated into the Tribe of the Setting Sun which is the next to highest award that the El Paso YMCA gives to its campers.

After camp adjourned he flew from El Paso to Amarillo.

been planned to give the nightly services an inspirational body, the pastor said.

"Besides the preaching services and the special numbers, the youth will direct their testimony service, play the organ and piano, be ushers, and do all that goes with the work of the revival. Everyone of our young people have a job and each is working with enthusiasm," the Rev. Michael stated.

"This may be a young people's revival, but it is for the young in heart as well. We are looking forward to having capacity crowds, because of the interest of the people in this momentous undertaking, Rev. Michael stated. "Many people, who live outside of this area, will probably be here for this first revival of the summer season, the pastor went on to say.

"A prayer service preceding the meeting will be held each evening at 7:30 p. m. in the church parlor. Different ones of our young people will be directing this effort, too, the Methodist leader emphasized.

"The last service of the revival will be one that will culminate our whole efforts and it promises to be the best. A special musical number will be given and the evangelist's sermon will keynote the final service. If you cannot make the other services, do come and worship with us in that final one, the pastor stressed.

"We extend to you, the people of Wellington and surrounding area, a personal invitation to come and pray with us that these eight days will be used for soul-searching and soul-winning, the like that has never been seen before," Rev. Michael concluded.

Other young people that are in this work are: Misses Ann and Nell Gholson, Veda Mae Kiker, Billy Sue Ward, Nancy Elliott, Ruthie McCaskill, Ada Carol Thomas, Frankie Sue Campbell, Linda Singley, Molley Denley, Mary McCaskill, Bette Elliott and David McCaskill, Jimmy Thompson, Kern Pigg, and Billy Bratten.

I SHALL CONTINUE TO SERVE YOU IN THE OFFICE YOU ENTRUSTED TO ME

I have tried to fulfill the duties of this office as they should be, for I feel deeply the responsibility of the work of your county treasurer. The money handled belongs to you, the taxpayers, and the accounting of this and keeping the records accurate and in order are, I sincerely believe, among the most important duties of any official.

My only pledge is that I will continue to carry out the work you have entrusted to me to the best of my ability. If you have any question concerning the operation of this office, I will be glad for you to come in and talk it over.

Chas. Cason's Farm Land Improved By Her Grandfather 50 Years Ago

There are more farms in Collingsworth County where the present operator is the child or grand child of the original settler than most people believe.

It is the case of last week's Mystery Farm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cason, Sr., and located a mile and a half northeast of Wellington.

The farm was first identified by Wesley Savage, who received the free show tickets. Two other identified the farm correctly. Mrs. Bill Long and Pat Wilkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Cason have been on the place since 1930 and have owned it since 1941. It came into the county when her grandfather, E. L. Blythe bought it from a Mr. McNair when he came to Collingsworth County in 1902.

Mr. and Mrs. Cason bought the quarter section on which they now live when Mr. Blythe's estate was settled.

Mrs. Cason recalled that her grandfather bought the land for only $5 per acre. She said she did not know what the land might be worth today, but since some of it is subirrigated, it and the place is well improved, it would probably be in the neighborhood of $200 an acre.

The spacious white brick house was built in 1950.

With seven rooms and two baths it has every modern convenience, and the yard is landscaped. Mr. Blythe had lived in a half-dugout during the years he owned the place.

Mrs. Cason is the former Willie Collier, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Collier who now live at Friona. She was born in Kaufman County and came here in 1910 with her parents.

Mr. Cason was born in Tusculum, Ala., but his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cason, brought him to Fort Worth when he was a year old. The family came here in 1909.

The couple was married January 2, 1924 at Memphis. They have three children, Chas. Cason, Jr., who is married and has two small sons and a small daughter; Clyde Cason, who will receive his degree from Hardin Simmons University at Abilene, with a major in accounting, on August 23; and Donald, 17, who will be a senior in Wellington high school next year.

The Cason family, in addition to the quarter section that is their home place, operates another 440 acres a mile northeast. They plant cotton and row-crops and run about 30 head of black Angus cattle. Part of their land is terraced, and they have built a large earthen tank.

The family is active in the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Cason teaches a Sunday School class of young married women and is young people's director for the WMU. She is the president elect of the WMU. Mr. Cason is a deacon in the church and director of the Adult Department of the BTU.

Mrs. Elvia Rayle and daughter, Mrs. Gene Ashmore and Kathy of Fort Worth, are visiting Mrs. W. S. Burgess and Mrs. Toots Somerville and children this week.

Duncan Receives Tech Scholarship

LUBBOCK—Two all-regional backs from the Panhandle—Joel Lummus of Dumas and Douglas Duncan of Wellington—have accepted athletic scholarships from Texas Tech, Coach DeWitt Weaver announced today.

In district track competition, Lummus won the 440-yard dash and Duncan took first in the 180-yard low hurdles. Each anchored a first place mile relay team in last spring's meets.

Lummus scored 114 points as a halfback and captain for John Whinnery's Demons, who won nine and lost only one game last season. He was also high scorer in basketball. At Tech he will study petroleum engineering.

A former Tech letterman, Maxey McKnight, coached Duncan. As a fullback, Duncan scored 132 points his junior year and 84 last season, making the Texas Sports Writers Association all-state second team in 1953.

Air Coolers Need Open Windows

AUSTIN—A washed-air cooler works best when enough windows and doors are open to exhaust its breeze properly and when it is in the shade, Associate Professor John R. Watt of the University of Texas asserts.

Watt is testing evaporative coolers this summer to determine their best possible performances.

"When washed air flows through an area, it absorbs heat from the ceiling, walls, windows, furnishings and people," Watt explains. "Unless that heat is carried out of the area, it just makes things seem hotter and clammy because of increased humidity."

Place an evaporative unit where prevailing breezes strike it if possible but keep it out of direct sunlight, Watt advises.

Mrs. S. B. Jackson went to Perryton on business Friday. While she was there she visited her two brothers and sister. From there she went to Gage, Okla., where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Travis Readour.

Douglas Little of Dallas visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Little, Sr., over the weekend.

Mrs. J. E. Fisher of Amarillo visited Mrs. I. D. Fisher Sunday.

HIGH 'N' DRY—Candy Anne Weber swings from the family clothesline in Milan, Ill., and not because someone washed the baby clothes with Baby Inside them. Candy, four-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolan Weber, has a precedent for her ability. Little brother Billy, now 7, was a tree-branch swinger at seven months of age.

Civil Service Places Open at Altus Air Base

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced examinations in two fields for employment at the Altus Air Force Base: Dental assistant, OS-3, at 2,950 per year; and gas appliance repairman, WB-13, at $1.79 per hour.

Full information and applications may be obtained from the Post Office, or from the Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Altus Air Force Base, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Burkhalter are visiting their parents, Mrs. Toots Somerville and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Burkhalter and grandmother, Mrs. W. S. Burgess for a few days this week. He has been working in Bay City.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Copeland this week were: Mr. and Mrs. Bus King of Fresno; Estelle Adkins of Amarillo; Mrs. Coy Cates, Kathryn and Tim, and Mrs. J. P. Sullivan.

Cortez Barnett Stands for Conservative, Efficient County Government

"My principals and policies on operation of the county's business are known to all of you who are interested in our government.

If you see fit to return me to the office I now hold, Commissioner of Precinct 4, I shall continue to look after the county's business as I have in the past, standing for conservative operation of our local business, but at the same time with the efficiency and the positive, prompt action that is necessary in so many things.

I am grateful for your past support. I have appreciated the fine co-operation both the people of Precinct 4 and the entire county have given. If I have missed seeing you, please consider this my personal solicitation. And I earnestly ask your vote and your support when you vote in the primary Saturday, July 24.

Your Support Helps Make Collingsworth Schools Among The Best

I am grateful for the support you have given me during the years I have been your county school superintendent. I could not have asked for better co-operation than you have given, and what ever success I may have had in helping improve the schools of the county has been due to you.

I feel strongly the need for making Collingsworth schools superior, for the education of our boys and girls receive today determines to a great extent the quality of our citizens of tomorrow. Anything I can contribute through serving you as county superintendent, I feel is worth any effort.

I appreciate the fact that I do not have an opponent this year, and in returning to the office for another four years, I pledge my best efforts to the schools that our boys and girls will attend.

Brides Should Change Social Security Records

June brides are urged by J. R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, to include his office among those getting wedding announcements. This announcement, he explains, should be a change of name form so that a duplicate social security card can be issued in the new name.

Sanderson points out that failure to file this record causes considerably extra expense to the Government and a possibility that earnings won't be posted properly. If the name and number on the employer's tax return agree with those on the social security card, TEACHER'S LITTLE HELPER—Teacher, at blackboard, won't have to interrupt his work to check arithmetic answers for Eric Newhall, third grader at Agassiz School in Cambridge, Mass. The eight-year-old is using a mechanical "teacher" developed by psychologists at Harvard University, which shows the problem to be solved in a window in top of box. Unless Eric moves the right combination of levers to produce the correct answer, he can't turn to his next assignment.

the posting of wages to the proper account is done by machinery. But if the June bride continues to work without advising about the change in her name, he said, her account cannot be posted by machinery. "With her last name different from that in our records," he said, "any typographical or spelling error in her first name may make it impossible to give proper credit for wages earned and reported."

Filing of a change of record form takes just a few minutes,

Sanderson says, and will save the Government expense, may save the employer needless correspondence, and will help insure that the employee gets proper credit for his wages. So, if your name is different from that shown on your card, write or telephone the Amarillo Social Security Office for a change of name form.

A representative from the Amarillo Social Security Office will be in Wellington, on Wednesday, July 28, at 9:00 a. m. in the County Court Room.

Prospects Good For Texas Hunters

AUSTIN—The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said Texas hunters probably will enjoy a good season this fall despite shrinkage of such minor species as antelope and whitewing doves.

He said prospects are good for both mourning doves and waterfowl and added that the big game outlook is satisfactory. Even bobwhite quail reports are favorable for the first time in several years.

The Commission, at its recent regular meeting in Austin, voted against a season on antelope in both the Panhandle and West of the Pecos, and recommended a closed season on whitewing doves which have been on the downgrade for several years.

"It is not always sound conservation to forbid hunting just because some species are in low population," explained the Executive Secretary. "But the Big Bend antelope herds are in hard straits from the drought and the whitewings in the Valley almost got the coup de grace from the recent hurricane which caught the birds at the peak of their nesting and wrecked nests by the wholesale. There was some question about the Panhandle antelope status and the Commission judged the harvestable surplus not to be worth the trouble."

The Executive Secretary said field men, reporting on a recent census, found increases in mourning doves in most areas. Meanwhile, Canadian sources described the duck and goose nesting conditions as favorable. This is because of good spring rains which also have been credited with rallying Texas' bobwhite quail population.

He referred to deer prospects as blighted somewhat by the lingering drought but adequate to yield "a pretty good harvest of venison."

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hardy of Livingston returned home Saturday after a two weeks visit with Mrs. R. S. Montague Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Bledsoe Mr. and Mrs. Otis Ball and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leach.

Texas Has Enough Water But Not Where It's Needed

AUSTIN—Texas annually gets more than enough water in its streams but the problem is to find ways to conserve it and transport it where it's needed, Dr. Walter L. Moore of the University of Texas declares.

Approximately 63 million acre-feet of water are available each year in intra-state and bordering streams, Dr. Moore, a civil engineer and water-control expert, says in a report to the Southern Regional Council of State Governments.

Texans now use only 8.5 million acre-feet of water from streams and wells annually, he adds. Irrigation takes 51 per cent, manufacturing and industry, 30 per cent; municipal and domestic users, 7 per cent, and storage losses, 12 per cent.

Current Texas water demands—small as they are compared to the amount available—closely approach or exceed the maximum dependable supply from streams in present, undeveloped conditions, Dr. Moore says.

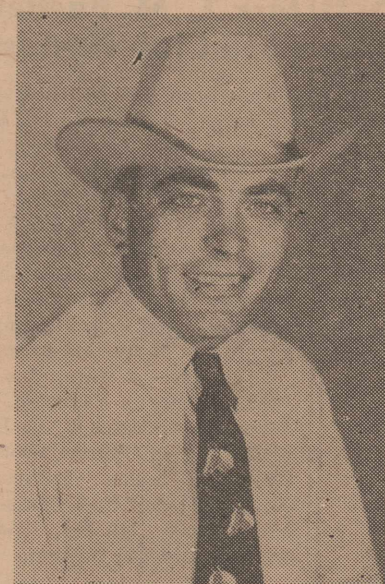

The 53rd Legislature enacted laws strengthening powers and effectiveness of the State Board of Water Engineers, primary agency controlling Texas water, he reports. The Legislature also established a nine-member water resources committee now working on a long-range plan for statewide water conservation and development as a resource.

BOB WILLOUGHBY WRITE-IN CANDIDATE FOR Sheriff Tax Assessor-Collector

Due to a technicality in filing candidacy for this office, my name is not printed on the ballot, BUT I AM STILL IN THE RACE!

You can elect me your next sheriff, tax assessor and collector by the write-in method. To do this, you need only to mark through the names of my opponents, then write my name beside or beneath their names, in the space headed "For SHERIFF, TAX ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR."

If I go into a run-off election in the second primary, my name will be on the printed ballot.

I invite you to read the following points of my platform:

1. People of the county have written me and have told me that they are ready for a change.
2. I believe you are ready and it was my wish that you would have a choice between several.
3. It is also my belief that the people of Collingsworth county—not the Democratic Chairman and his secretary—should choose their sheriff.
4. I have received unsigned letters asking that I not run, and they gave the reason that it would ruin a good man if he was elected.
5. I believe that we should have the best man possible for this office, regardless if he comes from north of the river, Dodson, Wellington, Quail, or any place as long as he is in our county.
6. People have been most friendly with me and have encouraged me all the way.
7. I have been working 18 hours a day to feed my family and to make this race, and if I am elected I will work this much and more for your protection and your safety.
8. I am a combat veteran, have been military policeman, and know how to arrest a man of any race or color.
9. Will carry a gun but will use it only in case of life or death.
10. I will check in all parts of the county at regular intervals for I believe that a little prevention is worth more than lots of cure.
11. I further promise to stand between your homes and the hardened criminal and will work with your boys and girls to make them better citizens.
12. If I have missed seeing you, it was unintentional and I am taking this means to ask to be your candidate and your sheriff.
13. My name is not on the ballot but you can write it there.
14. Write in BOB WILLOUGHBY. You do not have to spell it that way.
15. It's easy to remember if you say that "BOB WILL BE our next sheriff."
16. Many thanks for your consideration.

Lyndon Johnson Works for Us In Washington Let's Give Him Our Vote of Confidence

Lyndon Johnson achieved a rare distinction when he was chosen the Senate leader of his party in his first term as Senator, the youngest in history. His brilliant record of achievement in that difficult position is even more remarkable. It has won the acclaim of leaders of both parties, and the confidence and trust of his fellow Texans.

He has given the Democratic Senators dynamic and masterly leadership. He has won and held their confidence and maintained harmony, while showing a minimum of partisanship and a maximum of patriotism in his attitude toward legislation and government affairs. He has joined in the bi-partisan approach which President Eisenhower has exemplified and urged upon Congress in vital domestic and international matters.

Senator Johnson has judged issues on the basis of merit rather than party advantage, putting what he believed to be his country's best interests above political consideration. In following this policy he has sometimes voted with the Republicans, sometimes with the Democrats.

Tabulations compiled by the Congressional Quarterly in 1953 and 1954 show that he has voted with the administration on approximately 52 per cent of key issues. This is remarkable, considering his position as official minority leader.

Sen. Johnson supported a 3-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreement, which Mr. Eisenhower wanted. He was a moving spirit behind the Randall report which recommended it. But for the Randall program and Lyndon's activity, the Senate might not have voted even a one-year renewal of reciprocal trade.

On July 1 he voted with the administration on the Internal Revenue Code.

In these critical times of World peril he has demonstrated an exceptionally high order of statesmanship by supporting the President in policies involving national security and world peace, such as those relating to the atom and hydrogen bombs.

It takes skillful leadership indeed for a Democratic senator to win such tributes as the following (among many other) from leading colleagues, who are in best position to judge his stature: Conservative Democratic Sen. Russell of Georgia: "I did not believe that any man could have achieved as much harmony within the Democratic party and contributed as much to the operation of the senate as a whole." The late Sen Robert A. Taft, who was Republican Senate leader: "I do not see how any majority and minority leaders could co-operate better than we have done, and it is due very largely to your thoughtfulness and understanding." Sen. William F. Knowland, Senate Majority Leader: "The distinguished minority leader has been cooperative and has put his country ahead of any narrow partisanship."

As a representative of the people of Texas, he attends diligently to the problems of his home state, and has been effective in finding solutions. He has stood steadfastly for states' rights and all principles to which Texans are devoted. Requests of constituents for his services receive prompt attention, and help if he can give it.

Texas can take real pride in the statesmanship of Senator Lyndon Johnson. He has abundantly earned the traditional second term, and his friends of Collingsworth County feel that the people of his state, and of this county, should and will reward his splendid service with a majority so overwhelming as to constitute a ringing vote of confidence!

His position as Senate Democratic leader is distinctly advantageous to Texas. It enables him to wield a more powerful influence for measures important to this state than a senator not in that position could command.

Already Lyndon Johnson has established himself as one of the ablest and most effectual men in Congress, gaining national prominence. And he is still young and gives promise of greater growth and stature. He has served Texas faithfully and well, and his experience and growing influence qualify him for greater future service to the state and nation.

FOR COMMISSIONER OF PRECINCT 4

Three men living in the north part of Collingsworth County are in the race for Commissioner of Precinct 4. Cortez Barnett, left, is the present commissioner and is seeking re-election. He is from the Lone Mound community. Alex Coleman, Dozier, served the county as commissioner in the late 1920's. Jack Clark, right is asking for a public office for the first time, and he, too, is from the Lone Mound community.

Looking Ahead With George S. Benson

REDUCE THE PAYROLL

Many honorable men and women develop "blind spots" when they get elected to public office. Members of state legislatures and of Congress frequently fall victim of "payroll blindness", an occupational disease in government. Their integrity can be of the very highest order, and yet they will almost invariably close their eyes to reality when replying to taxpayers demands for reductions in government spending.

The state legislator will usually say: "Asking for cuts in the budget is easy. Finding a place to apply cuts without crippling some vital service is difficult. Where would you suggest we cut?" The Congressman will usually say: "Finding a place to apply cuts without crippling some vital service is difficult. Most of the budget is for national defense. We're down to the bone elsewhere. Where would you suggest we cut?" The following official statistics on government employment holds forth a good answer to "Where would you suggest we cut?" The figures are from the U. S. Bureau of the Census, and they give the total number of civilian employees on the government payrolls (local, state and federal.)

TOO MANY EVERYWHERE

Alabama, 123,303 government workers; Arizona, 40,756; Arkansas, 58,323; California, 649,838 (yes, you read it correctly — 649,838!); Colorado, 82,130; Connecticut, 72,654; Delaware, 13,293; Florida, 138,679 (more people in government jobs than the entire population of Tampa); Georgia, 144,846; Idaho, 26,791; Illinois, 346,770; Indiana, 157,554 (more government workers than the population of Gary); Iowa, 105,491; Kansas, 90,803; Kentucky, 95,610; Louisiana, 108,405; Maine, 44,672; Maryland, 114,979; Massachusetts, 234,769; Michigan, 248,979 (75,000 more government employees than the population of Grand Rapids); Minnesota, 132,832; Mississippi, 69,838; Missouri, 150,794; Montana, 29,070; Nebraska, 68,044; Nevada, 12,693; New Hampshire, 22,503; New Jersey, 194,905; New Mexico, 40,183; New York, 732,325 (that's more government workers than the entire population of Buffalo and Albany combined); North Carolina, 128,596; North Dakota, 30,594; Ohio, 345,297; Oklahoma, 116,079; Oregon, 72,504; Pennsylvania, 387,538; Rhode Island, 34,008; South Carolina, 77,330; South Dakota, 33,554; Tennessee, 124,065 (exactly the same number of government employees as there are men, women and children in Knoxville); Texas, 329,798 (50,000 more Worth); Utah, 57,166; Vermont, 15,986; Virginia, 166,541; Washington, 149,191; West Virginia, 59,955; Wisconsin, 135,258 (as many government workers as the combined populations of Madison, the capitol, and Green Bay); Wyoming, 16,819.

This adds up to 7,047,000 persons on the public payrolls of the nation. The Census Bureau says the money required to meet this enormous payroll totals $23-billion a year.

A PLACE TO CUT

Is there an honorable state legislator or Congressman who has "payroll blindness" so acutely that he can't see a place to cut government expenses when he examines these official figures?

Let us suppose that in a government office of 10 people, three came down with an illness that kept them absent 30 days. Could the work of the office go on — could the seven remaining people pick up the work of the other three for the 30 day period? The answer, in almost any government office would be, Yes. And in most government offices, the

I Am Asking for Your Vote on the Basis of Law Enforcement Experience!

ELECT WAYNE JONES CONSTABLE PRECINCT NO. 1

I am asking for the office of Constable on one basis—experience in law enforcement work. I believe that the people realize that it is valuable to them to have an official who has had some experience in the job to which they elect him.

Here is my experience:

1. Deputy Sheriff of Dallas County.
2. Deputy Constable of Dallas County.
3. Anti-Submarine Patrol Duty with Navy.
4. Navy Shore Patrol Duty Three Years. (This is the law enforcement branch of the U. S. Navy)
5. Eligibility Rating P-98 for Civil Service U. S. Border Patrol.

With this knowledge, I feel I am familiar with and qualified for the duties of constable.

I hope to see all of you before election, but if I do not, please consider this my personal solicitation for your vote.

FRIENDS

I am asking your help in the race for Sheriff-Tax-Collector-Assessor. Most of you know me and my past record therefore I have no big promises to make.

The years I have served you have given me the knowledge and experience to serve you better, as time and methods change with the changing world. I have tried to do my duty at all times, with malice toward none.

I sincerely appreciate your support in the past and for the hospitality given me during my campaign. Thank you for the little visits with you and the wonderful meals.

It has not been my policy in the past to belittle my opponents and I shall not begin now.

If I have missed anyone, it was not intentional, and I take this means of asking each of you for your vote and influence on July 24.

Sincerely,

No honorable legislator or Congressman, with his eyes wide-open to reality, can deny that the business of government could be carried on with fewer government employees. Thirty per cent could be trimmed from the huge 7,047,000 payroll within the next 12 months at our state capitals and in Washington. That would reduce expense on the taxpayers by nearly 8-billion in salaries alone. Honorable Congressmen and legislators: Here is a place to cut the budgets. Reduce this $23-billion payroll!

NOW COMES THE DAY, FOR PRECINCT 3 TO HIRE A HAND FOR TWO YEARS

I appreciate the opportunity of serving as your county commissioner in the past. I want to thank each of you for your support and courtesy.

For several reasons I am asking re-election.

1. For seven long years, I wanted and waited, I worried and worked for a set of machinery for Precinct 3 that could build roads in the worst places. For six short months we have had just that. I certainly believe I can do more for our precinct roads than I have been able to do heretofore.

2. I have always opposed taking away any road money from road use by any means and shall continue to do so.

3. I am opposed to increasing the size of Precinct 3. The same old proposition is going around again. It has been tried, it did not work.

4. I have co-operated with the other members of the Commissioners Court 100% at all times, when I considered they were right.

I thank you very much for your vote and influence.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

High Score of Shivers Regime

Among the many mudballs which Ralph Yarborough has been slinging at Gov. Allan Shivers since announcing that his campaign would be a clean, temperate one, pitched on his own merits and not on his opponent's demerits, the most reckless recent charge was aimed at the strongest point on the governor's armor. News reports have quoted him as calling Shivers a "do nothing" governor. Allan Shivers answered this devastatingly in his televised speech Tuesday night, giving established facts and figures on accomplishments of his administration, all of which add up to a splendid constructive record.

Monday Yarborough said specifically that Shivers had done nothing to raise old age pensions (he didn't explain what a governor could do to raise them.) The facts, recited by Shivers Tuesday night, are: 1. As state senator he wrote and sponsored the first old age assistance law in Texas, and 2. two years ago, he promised the old people of Texas he would seek constitutional amendment to increase their pensions. The electorate will vote on that amendment next November.

Other accomplishments:

As state senator, lieutenant governor and governor, Allan Shivers has supported, sponsored or signed every major piece of school legislation during the past 20 years. Last spring he called a special session of the Legislature to raise minimum teaching salaries $402 a year, and the Legislature levied taxes which he recommended to pay the salary raise.

The governor played an important role in the fight to restore the Texas tidelands to our school children. The victory in the fight already has enriched our permanent school fund by $32 million, and it may eventually mean hundreds of millions for them in oil royalties.

During the Shivers administration more miles of farm-to-market roads and state highways have been built than in any other comparable period. Last year Texas added almost 9,000 miles of farm-to-market and state highways to its network.

When Shivers became governor, conditions in the state hospitals were deplorable. One of his first official acts as governor was to call a special session of the Legislature to appropriate $20 million in additional administrative funds and $35 million in building funds to improve those conditions. During his tenure the average amount per patient spent by the state was increased from $516 per year to $766.50. The latter amount is $20 more than the national average, but, as the governor says, there is still room for much improvement.

When he took office the Texas prison system was rated as one of the worst in the country. It is now recognized by experts as one of the best. And the Texas penal system is operated more efficiently and economically than that of any other state.

These are by no means all of the government achievements for which Allan Shivers is due a full measure.

but they are enough to mark his administration as one of the best in modern years.

Wonder of Wonders: Take Your Choice of Counter Claims

We hear two very conflicting stories:

1 That cigarette smoking has declined since it was revealed that cancers and cigarettes go hand in hand;

2 That cigarette manufacturers have reported an increase in the sale of the weed since scientist have attempted to sell the people on the idea that cancer is caused by cigarettes.

So far as non-smokers are concerned, it seems that there are about as many cases of cancers among this class of people at there are among those who puff the weed.

Take your pick. At least, the income from cigarette stamps in Texas went down materially after the disclosure.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek has what some people may call a hair-brained idea this week, but that's his lookout, not ours.

Dear Editor:

As everybody interested in farming know, there is a big argument going on in Washington, over price supports. One side wants flexible or lower supports, the other side wants rigid or higher supports.

As I understand it, this argument has been going on ever since somebody thought up the idea of a farm program and the way it looks to me it never will be settled at the rate we're going. Every year the argument comes up again, and it will continue as long as a farmer finds he can't make a profit selling for less than it costs to produce and politicians find there's votes in such a situation.

I have been thinking this situation over for a long time and have hit on an idea that ought to satisfy everybody.

One group for example says it's wrong to guarantee a price for farm products, and in this country a man is entitled to his beliefs. The other group says it's not wrong, it's right to be able to know when you plant what price you'll get when you harvest, and they're entitled to their belief too.

Therefore, what Washington ought to do is establish two Departments of Agriculture, one favoring price supports, the other opposed.

Every year let each farmer decide along about the first of January which Department he wants to operate under for that year.

If he chooses the price support division, he can sell his crops under that system. If he chooses the other, he can sell under that system. Any farmer who thinks it's wrong to get a guaranteed price, he'll join up with the Department of Agriculture

No. 2. Any farmer who thinks the other way, he'll join up with Department Number 1. This will give freedom of thought and action to everybody.

I haven't worked out all the marketing details, that'll come later, but the thing I'm working on now is to get the question of price supports out of politics.

Since some Republicans are in favor of supports, some opposed, some Democrats are in favor, others opposed, the two Departments won't necessarily follow party lines, and whatever administration is in charge will still have the privilege of appointing both Secretaries of Agriculture, or Secretary of Agriculture, however you want to put it.

This country is too big to have everybody thinking alike. Let's get these two Departments set up right away and settle the farm problem.

Yours faithfully,

'Good Life' Is Positive Way of Life

What is the conception of the good life, the best life of all, as we see it set forth and exemplified in the teaching and example of Jesus?

Though there are profound and striking exceptions, there have been many followers of Jesus who, inspired by Him, have lived lives of conspicuous devotion and service. In our own time there have been men like Father Damien of Molokai, and Sir Wilfred Grenfell of Labrador; women like Jane Addams of Chicago.

And their names, in spite of all the shortcomings of professed Christians, have been legion; for many unknown of fame have not been unknown to God for their sincerity and goodness.

But in general the emphasis in historic Christianity and the church has been negative, rather than positive. It has been upon sins, rather than upon the great, positive expressions and acts of righteousness and truth.

If one doubts this, he need only make wide observation of life to see how many lives of "good" men and women, well-intentioned and free from evil are none the less inconspicuous for evidence of the "fruit of the Spirit."

The thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians, next to the Sermon on the Mount the greatest sermon ever written, in its simplicity, conciseness and brevity, makes plain the nature of the good life as the Apostle Paul learned it from His Master.

In the positive emphasis upon the good life, such as Jesus made, there is no danger that there will be less inhibition against sin and sins.

The positive attuning of the heart to truth and righteousness, is, in fact, the surest guarantee that one's life will be inwardly and outwardly correct. A world concentrating more upon righteousness and the spirit and acts of a world freer from sin and evil of love will be, correspondingly,

You get Tomorrow's Style
in Today's Buick

It's a Million Dollar Ride—and no foolin'

YOU can see for yourself the gay and gorgeous styling that's sure to be the fresh note next year, too.

And you can easily learn that here is power a-plenty—the highest V8 power, Series for Series, in the annals of Buick history.

But what you can never know, till you try it yourself, is the feel of a Buick in motion.

It's a ride as precision-soft and firm as only coiled steel can make it.

Yes, coil springs on all four wheels. And a full-length torque-tube drive for true tracking. And a massive X-braced frame for solid steadiness. And specially calibrated shock absorbers, V-braced struts, wide-rim wheels, a unique front-end geometry—plus a host of other betterments too numerous to mention.

You feel the result of this advanced engineering every mile you drive—in what is literally and figuratively a Million Dollar Ride.

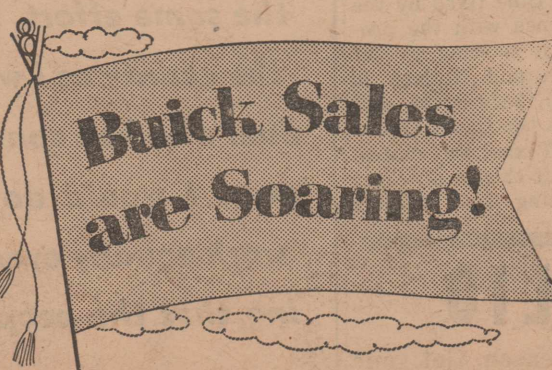

You feel it in the superb and buoyant cradling. You feel it in the serene levelness of your going over ruts and ridges. You feel it in the precise snubbing of jars and jounces. You feel it in a new kind of steadiness, handling ease, curve control.

Only thing for you to do, we believe, is to come try this miracle of motion—and we'll be glad to oblige.

That way you'll also learn firsthand about the style, the power, and the value that have made Buick such a best-selling success this year. For Buick today is out-selling all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

(Smart tip: With Buick such a beautiful buy this year, think what a winner it's bound to be at trade-in time! Come see us this week!)

Some Reasons for Changing

The Head Of Your County Government

I ROAD TAXES

Return all Advalorem tax money and automobile and truck license fees to the County Road Funds, and spend it on the county roads and bridges, giving first consideration to school bus routes and mail routes.

II FINANCE

Operate the county's business on a sound financial basis; Use this year's taxes for this year's operation, and not spend next year's taxes for this year's operation by issuing warrants for the deficiencies of this year to be paid next year.

III QUALIFICATIONS

The partnership of Cudd Brothers which he heads maintain offices in Collingsworth, Donley and Hall counties and in accordance with law register a portion of their trucks in each of such counties and keep abreast with the finances of each of these counties. The finances of Donley and Hall counties are on a sounder basis than is Collingsworth County. The County Judges of these two counties, as well as the County Judge of Wheeler County, another of our adjoining counties are business men, not lawyers. Since these counties are successfully headed by business men we see no reason why Collingsworth County should not be headed by a business man.

IV COURT MATTERS

In probating wills and handling guardianships and hearing civil and criminal cases, the non-lawyer county judges of other counties successfully handle these matters, and it can and will be done in this county, if he is elected

V FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS

All farm-to-market roads are built by the State Highway Department out of State and Federal funds provided for that purpose. The county furnishes and clears the rights-of-way for all such roads. He proposes that the County furnish and clear the rights-of-way for every mile of farm-to-market road Collingsworth county can get. Every mile of hard surfaced road the county can get relieves the county of that much maintenance costs, since the State maintains all hard surfaced roads in the county.

SALT FORK NEWS

By MRS. R. H. ISBELL

Monday morning, July 19. It is a still hot day. A few clouds around. How people are wishing for rain. A year ago this day in July we had a young flood. We don't want a flood but surely need rain.

Sunday was a scorcher too. But Sunday School and church was well attended. Bro. Marvin Clubb brought a good message. The Clubb family was dinner guests in the Wright and Isbell home. Bro. Clubb and Mrs. Isbell attended singing in Wellington Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. S. L. Maxwell has been feeling very bad lately with a summer cold.

Bro. Allen, Ted Parker and Jean Ham are still at the L. Church in a revival from Cleveland. Y. L. is near a shoe.

This community is very sad at the death of Clyde Brown, who passed away Sunday afternoon. Our hearts ache from the Brown family. Especially for Mother Brown, who has been sick for so long, but seems to be very much improved the last few months. We were very glad to see our old neighbors the Ethridge Wards. They live at Hereford now. Use to live out here.

We noticed Sunday morning someone had been very nice to the Salt Fork folks by cleaning off the ground around the church. Some one said for us to thank Mr. Leo Massey. Thanks Mr. Massey and also Mr. Cortez Barnett.

Mr. Oran Starkey and Bo Yates were callers at the Isbell home late Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cummings were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brewer in Wellington Sunday.

We hear Mrs. Henry Wischkaemper is home again from South Texas. Welcome home Mrs. Wischkaemper. We have missed you.

Mrs. Monty Mitchell entertained a few of the Home Demonstration Club ladies last Tuesday. The ladies report a good time and delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Isbell and Mrs. Wright visited in the C. D. Messer home while last Thursday night. Miss Ellen Messer is greatly improved from her recent illness. She has been sewing some lately. Ellen is a busy 4-H Club girl.

Mrs. S. L. Maxwell and Edna Ellen Wright, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Isbell attended Church at Lillie Baptist Church last Sunday night and also visited in the Woodrow Wilson home while after church.

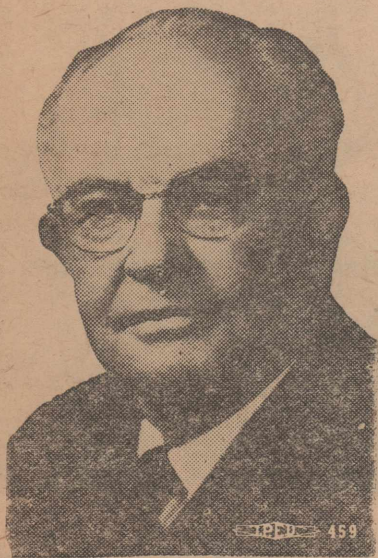

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey DeBord were visitors in the Shay Morris home over the weekend.

Don't forget that August 14 is Homecoming Day at Salt Fork. It is the Third Sunday singing convention time too. Everyone bring some dinner and come. We are expecting a large crowd and lots of good singers.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peters and children attended the family reunion at his father home near Wellington over the weekend. There was a large crowd of relatives and friends in attendance. This is an annual event.

Nell Hurst is visiting with her grandparents in Vinson, Okla., this week.

CONTRACT ESSENTIALS EXPLAINED

Only in exceptionally important instances must contracts be entered into with any great degree of formality. In the usual case the simple requisites of a binding contract may be completed in the most informal manner.

Probably most of the contracts in force today are merely spoken agreements. Many contracts are created by informal letters written by persons to one another. Many are made over the telephone, as when you call up a store and they agree to deliver some goods you order. Much of the world's grain supply is bought and sold, in the first instance, merely by hand signals in the great Pit in Chicago.

If the contract is of importance, involving substantial sums of money or vital services, it is a good idea to reduce its terms to writing to minimize the possibilities of fraud and misunderstanding. Details or oral understandings are easily forgotten or misinterpreted, but written contracts endure unchanged. And, if a difference of opinion must be settled in court, a written agreement speaks for itself.

Certain kinds of contracts, such as those involving the sale of real estate or the lease of real estate for more than a year, will not be enforced in the courts unless written. In the same category are contracts wherein one person undertakes to stand good for the debt of another and those which are not to be performed within one year from the date on which the agreement is made.

In order to create a valid contract of any sort, each party involved must be legally competent to enter into the agreement. Each must be sane and of legal age. A contract entered into by a male or unmarried female under 21 is voidable at the option of the minor (but not at the option of the other party). A married woman is competent to contract if 18 or over, but she is subject to a number of contractual restrictions because of her marriage.

To be enforceable, a contract must be entered into freely by each party involved. Their consent must be genuine. Compulsion or coercion will make the agreement void. Mistake, misrepresentation or fraud may also serve to invalidate a contract.

Another requirement of a contract is that each party shall perform some part of it. Similarly, there must be some object or benefit to be gained by each party. In return for your work, your employer agrees to pay you certain sums of money. He gains the use of your services, while you are benefitted by the wages or salary received.

Also, a contract must be entered into for a lawful purpose. You cannot enter into a binding contract to commit a crime or to evade the law. Thus, since gambling and wagers are prohibited by law, gambling debts cannot be collected by legal process. Nor will the courts enforce an agreement to pay interest in excess of the legal maximum provided by statute.

Crossroads Report

Dear Mr. Ike:

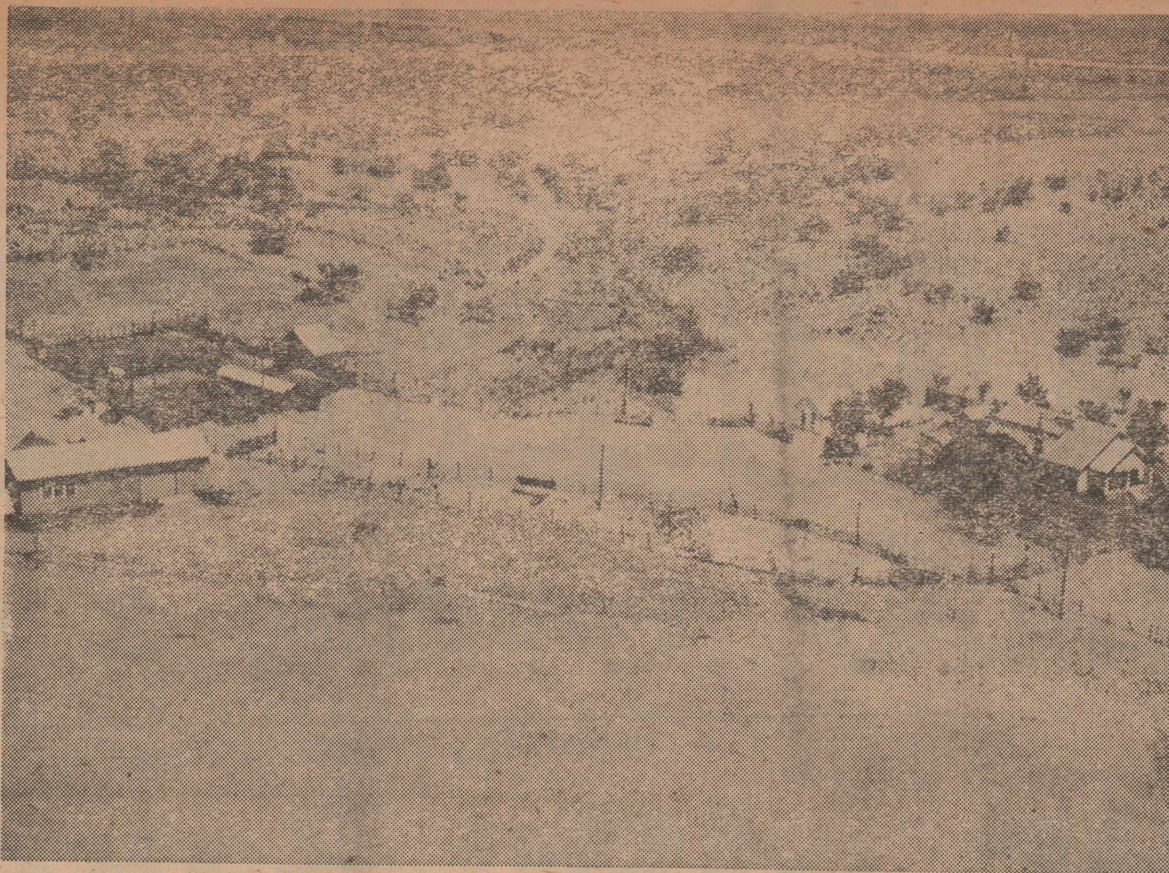

I guess it was mostly your being born in Texas that makes you such a problem in this world diplomat business. Mr. Churchill and Mr. Eden, now, are cut from a different cloth. They teched on the diplomatic double-cross and were brought up on the principle that statesmanship consists of clouting the little fellow around and polishing apples for the bullies. Which probably accounts for their puzzlement over your stubbornness, not wanting to vote Red China into the United Nations lodge.

That is one of the drawbacks about our country. We have to get so many of our leaders from backwoods areas where they have been taught to try to protect the weak and to use a wagon-spoke on hodlums. It's a plumb shame that we are so short of the kind of ancestry, training and environment that it takes to produce the high type of diplomat who, for instance, can't see anything wrong with voting the Red Chinese into membership in the U. N. while they are still at war with it.

It seems like war just doesn't mean the same thing to a full-blooded diplomat that it does to some old country boy. Now if a man was to raid my chicken coop, or poison my dog, or set fire to my house, it would take me a long time to get willing to cohort with him any more.

Your Judge

R. L. Templeton

Some Reasons For Keeping Him

1. HE IS QUALIFIED

A man should know the law before asking to handle the many legal duties of the Judge's office, such as probating wills, handling guardianships and especially civil and criminal jury trials.

2. HE HAS THE EXPERIENCE

There is no substitute for five and one-half years studying law, two years passing laws in the Legislature, and five and one-half years administering laws as your judge.

3. HE GETS THE JOB DONE

Approximately one third of all paved roads in this county have been built while he has been judge. Before he was judge the Precincts were lucky if they received $5,000 a year for roads and bridges; now each Precinct receives at least $15,000 for road and bridge work, over $100,000 is spent each year on dirt roads and bridges.

4. HE KNOWS HIS JOB

He knows that the Commissioners, not the judge, run your county; that the judge has no vote in county affairs, except in case of a tie vote in Commissioners Court. There have been no tie votes in over two years. That is the way it should be.

5. HE APPLIES THE GOLDEN RULE

He feels that a candidate for County Judge should not complain about county finances if he registers his trucks outside of the county he is running for county judge in.
