CAR, TRAIN COLLIDE—Two Snyder High School students were injured when this 1960 Pontiac collided with an RS&P train at about 4 p.m. Thursday at the Thirty-seventh Street crossing. John Pickering Jr., valedictorian of the SHS senior class and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pickering Sr., Lion Camp, was the driver of the car, and Kay Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, 320 Thirty-fifth Street was a passenger. Pickering was treated for cuts and bruises and Miss Smith was admtited to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises. They were taken to the hospital by Bell Ambulance. The injuries were not believed to be serious. The mishap was investigated by Texas Highway Patrolmen.

Chinese Refugee Flow Halted Abruptly Today

Think Reds Took Action

By CONRAD FINK

HONG KONG (AP)—The mass flight of refugees across the Red Chinese border into Hong Kong stopped abruptly today. It appeared that Communist Chinese authorities had taken positive action to choke off an exodus which had poured 60,000 refugees into teeming Hong Kong since May 1.

In an official statement, British authorities said the situation on the border is rapidly reverting to normal. They said British army units have been withdrawn from patrol activity and that a detention camp in which refugees were held until they could be returned to Red China has been closed.

The reference to normal conditions apparently meant that a trickle of refugees trying to slip into Hong Kong was expected to continue. That trickle swelled into a torrent in the past few weeks, causing harried British authorities to appeal to the Peiping government for action to halt the flights.

It was not immediately established what action the Communist authorities and guards had taken on the other side of the border.

Border sources said they had heard no shooting and that all appeared to be orderly and quiet at the main crossing points which the refugees have been using since the big rush began.

During the 24 hours before the refugee flow stopped, the number sneaking across the border dropped drastically, to fewer than 2,000. Days before between 4,000 and 5,000 had been shipping across each day.

There were no reports from the British side of the border to indicate the Communists were getting tough. Chinese villagers near the border continually report hearing gunfire from the Communist side, but officials generally discount these.

There was speculation that the Communists were using force in the hills behind the border, out of sight of British patrols.

Communist loudspeakers were silent today after a full day of broadcasting exhortations to the fleeing Chinese to return to their villages. This nonviolent form of persuasion in a police state had mystified Hong Kong officials.

There was also speculation that the drastic drop in the number of refugees might be a result of British diplomatic protests to Peiping. This could not be confirmed.

British officials were pleased at the drop in the refugee flow and hoped it was only the start of a trend that would accelerate. But one official pointed out that in jam-packed Hong Kong even 100 border crossers would have caused concern a month ago.

No hope was held here that Hong Kong's plight would be greatly relieved by President Kennedy's announcement that his government is working to expedite the admission of several thousand Chinese to the United States.

Washington is talking about 18,000 Chinese who have applied for admission to the United States since 1954, the U.S. Consulate said. These are relatively well-to-do Chinese who applied for entrance under normal immigration laws and not the penniless peasants sneaking over in recent weeks.

Refugees trying to avoid deportation back to Red China would be afraid to come out of hiding to apply for admittance to the United States, it was felt.

FIRST HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL DELIVERED—Mary Ann Moffett announced the dedication of this year's "Tiger's Lair" to M. E. Stanfield and gave him his copy yesterday before the books were distributed to the students. Stanfield, assistant superintendent of Snyder schools is retiring this year. Stanfield said of all the honors he had been showered with lately, this would be one of his most treasured.

Carpenter Lives To Tell Fantastic Story

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Malcolm Scott Carpenter lived to tell a stranger-than-fiction story today—how he orbited the earth three times, overshot his landing by 250 miles and vanished for 41 minutes.

Plucked by helicopter from a dighy in the lonely Atlantic Thursday, Carpenter, a Navy lieutenant commander, was taken late night to Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas for an emotional reunion with the first American to go into orbit, Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

In relative isolation, he will tell his exciting story there to physicians and spacecraft technicians —before he can forget any part of it.

And then, probably on Sunday, he will be returned here for a news conference—a clinical discussion of the most dramatic bit of space fiction yet to come true.

To the scientists, the engineers and the space medicine workers who monitored every minute of the almost-five-hours-long flight, this was a major milestone on the way to the moon.

The mission brought to light new dangers—the hazards of missing landing target areas by wide margins, for example—and pointed toward solutions of some of the problems of man in space.

It opened up, too, new vistas of voyage by satellite.

It may even have advanced the United States manned space program beyond the phase of three or even five-or seven-orbit flights, and on to the field of 18-orbit, all-day missions.

The launching of Carpenter's Aurora 7 spacecraft at 7:45 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Thursday was a perfect one. The orbit into which the Atlas vehicle inserted the capsule was near the ideal.

And the orbital flight itself, as ticked off in Carpenter's flat, terse reports, seemed almost routine in spite of nagging little problems that kept cropping up.

The really alarming part came after the Navy lieutenant commander fired the retro-rockets that would retard his speed sufficiently to make the capsule drop out of orbit and descend through the atmosphere.

Normally the heat of reentry, the ionization of the air in front of the spacecraft, cuts off radio communication for a minute or two. Glenn experienced a communications blackout at this stage of his historic flight of last Feb. 20.

But Carpenter's craft struck dumb at the 12:30 p.m. reentry, never regained its voice. Nor did Aurora 7 become visible to the ships in the planned recovery area 400 miles southeast of here. The craft might have been burned to a cinder. It simply disappeared.

Aurora 7, tilted at a wrong angle at the time the braking rockets were fired, simply went into a longer, shallower descent than would have been the case had it dug in more steeply into the atmosphere. It plopped into the ocean off Anegada Island, north of the Virgin Islands and about 1,000 miles southeast of Florida.

Carpenter methodically eased himself out of the floating spacecraft and into a rubber dighy. Then, while the world wondered what had happened to him, he sat and waited for help.

It was not long in coming, really—though to millions of keyed-up observers it seemed an eternity. A homing beacon, part of the Mercury spacecraft rescue equipment, caught the attention of a Navy Neptune search plane 41 minutes after the capsule had gone silent on re-entry.

At 1:20 p.m. the Navy craft sighted the capsule and was able to point out the pilot raft. The astronaut was aboard his raft, waving his arms vigorously and therefore apparently in good health.

A helicopter took Carpenter to the carrier Intrepid, from which an airplane delivered him to Grand Turk Island. The destroyer Pierce picked up Aurora 7 and took it to Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, for airlift later to Cape Canaveral.

Declaration Against War

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union jointly proposed to the 17-nation disarmament conference today a declaration that "war can no longer serve as a method of settling international disputes."

The 400-word draft declaration against war propaganda was hammered out in weeks of private negotiations between the two co-chairmen of the conference, U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin.

It states that an end to propaganda "which can provoke or encourage a threat to or breach of the peace" would facilitate the conclusion of an agreement on general and complete disarmament. But it left governments free to take whatever measures they considered practical or desirable to suppress war propaganda.

British Jets Join Thailand Forces

By TONY ESCODA

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — British jets flew to Bangkok today to join steadily growing American forces in safeguarding other areas of Thailand's border against possible Communist aggression from Laos.

Six Hawker Hunter fighters, a Canberra twin-jet light bomber and a Pembroke reconnaissance plane arrived from Singapore. They were the bulk of a Royal Air Force squadron assigned to this pro-Western kingdom.

An R.A.F. spokesman said four more Hawker Hunters would complete the British force, which with ground crews would total 250 men.

A small New Zealand paratroop detachment and an Australian air force contingent also are expected. These will put in the field units from four of Thailand's allies in the eight-nation Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The Philippine government said today it was ready to send ground or air forces should the call come. The other two members of the anti-Communist alliance — Pakistan and France—have made no gestures toward joining the military buildup.

The British planes will be based in the northern city of Chiang Mai, about 100 miles from the northwest frontier of Laos where the Red Communist Pathet Lao are in control.

American forces form the southern anchor of the defensive arc along the frontier, with U.S. Marines based near Udon, 40 miles south of the pro-Western Laotian government's administrative capital of Vientiane, which is in central Laos. U.S. Army troops are based still farther south, at Khorat, opposite the southern end of Laos.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the airlifting of American troops and equipment into Thailand will continue for at least another month. The movement, described by President Kennedy as precautionary, The American military backstop to this Asian ally is scheduled to reach a peak of 5,000 Marines and Army infantry and up to 45 jet planes.

Communist forces in Laos have been reported quiet since before the American landings, but a Thai cabinet minister warned the anti-Communist allies must keep on the alert.

Storms Hits Farm Twice In Panhandle

By The Associated Press

A tornado made two passes at a Texas Panhandle farm late Thursday and bounded eastward into Oklahoma, where wind, rain and hail hit hard at several areas.

Farmer James Luck who lives near Dodsonville, told of watching the twister rip the sheet metal roof off his barn and roll it into a cotton field. Dodsonville is 19 miles east of Wellington and near the state line.

The funnel cloud touched ground at least twice. Luck reported. Several cotton trailers were overturned and wheat fields in the vicinity were damaged.

In Oklahoma, winds up to 90 miles per hour and severe hail pounded Altus, causing damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars. Two of 17 persons injured stayed at a hospital overnight. The stormy weather also battered Oklahoma City.

The Weather Bureau had issued a severe thunderstorm earlier for the east edge of the Texas Panhandle, part of the South Plains, a tip of North Central Texas and parts of Oklahoma before the turbulence developed.

For a second straight night, North Texas residents witnessed a brilliant display of lightning during thunderstorms in South Central and Eastern Oklahoma.

No break in Texas' current spell of summery heat was in prospect Friday. Forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies with an occasional thundershower through Saturday.

One temperature Thursday in Texas was the coldest for the season. Childress was the coolest point at 85.

Readings early Friday ranged from 53 degrees at Dalhart up to 76 at Corpus Christi and Mc-

Living Costs Edge Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose two-tenths of one per cent in April—setting a record for the third straight month.

The government reported consumer prices have risen seven-tenths of one per cent so far in 1962, equaling the total rise recorded during the entire 12 months of 1961.

The Labor Department index of consumer prices rose in April to 105.2 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This is 1.2 per cent higher than in April last year.

The April increase will bring pay raises of one to two cents an hour to an estimated one million workers of the auto, farm equipment and aerospace industries, and various local transit systems.

These workers have union contracts calling the wage adjustments in relation to the government's living costs index.

Robert J. Myers, deputy labor statistics commissioner, told a news conference he wasn't worried that the latest price increase marks an inflationary uptrend. He said that, while he looks for another increase in May, he expects living cost declines later in the summer.

In April, the main price increases were for fresh fruits and vegetables, used cars, gasoline, movie admissions, and medical care services. Prices were lower for poultry, fresh milk, fuel oil, and house furnishings.

The weekly earnings of factory workers, after deducting Social Security and federal income taxes, averaged $85.53 for the worker heading a family of four. This is a record for April, and only a bit lower than the all-time record set at $85.70 last December.

Japan Refuses To Extend Agreement

TOKYO (AP) — Japan has refused a North Korean request to continue repatriation of Koreans for one more year when the current agreement expires Nov. 12.

The foreign ministry gave two reasons—the number of Koreans gathering at the repatriation center has been decreasing, and Koreans can get to North Korea on an individual basis if they want to.

So far, 75,472 Korean residents of Japan have gone to North Korea under a repatriation program which started in 1960. Another 29,605 have applied to go.

Clues Sought After Autopsy

By JERRY PILLARD

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP) — A pathologist's finding of probable murder in the year-old death of Henry Marshall, who investigated affairs of Billie Sol Estes, sent officers digging for clues to the slayer today.

This development occurred as a congressional committee prepared to open a hearing in Washington Monday on the operations of Estes, Pecos, Tex., promoter of multi-million-dollar farm enterprises who has been indicted on fraud and theft charges.

Dr. J. A. Jachimczyk of Houston, who studied the exhumed body of Marshall, made his final autopsy report Thursday to District Judge John Barron.

The physician expressed belief that Marshall, shot five times with a 30 caliber rifle, was murdered but said, "There is the barest possibility of suicide," Judge Barron related.

Dr. Jachimczyk also said there was evidence Marshall's blood contained 30 per cent carbon monoxide at the time he died last June 3. Judge Barron said the pathologist estimated 35 to 40 per cent carbon monoxide—the gas in exhaust fumes from an automobile—could cause death.

The autopsy likewise disclosed a severe blow on Marshall's head.

Dr. Jachimczyk said all five bullets entered from the front and came from a gun very close to the body. Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ, who studied the exhumed body, said other tests showed there was a possibility one shot hit Marshall in the head and another in the back.

Marshall, 52, was found dead on his farm near here. As an investigator for the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Marshall had checked cotton acreage allotments held by Estes. The Agriculture Department since has ruled that Estes held the allotments illegally.

The inquest verdict five days after Marshall's death was suicide.

Capt. Clint Peoples said he would call in every Texas Ranger necessary for the reopened investigation.

County grand jurors who began inquiring into Marshall's death four days ago recessed until Monday, when they hope to hear Dr. Jachimczyk and William Elliott, of Temple, Tex., an Agriculture Department investigator. The grand jurors had climbed to 850 million worth. Estes successfully protested an order raising the bond to $1 million.

Since the Estes case came under the spotlight, Minnesota Democrat Humphrey has been mentioned frequently as a possible successor to Orville Freeman, who resigned to run for governor of his home state.

In Washington, an authoritative source said Carl Miller, who last year approved Estes' bond for storing government grain, would be the first major witness before the House Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee. Headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., the group will start a hearing on the Estes case Monday.

Miller, then chief of the warehouse branch in the Agriculture Department's marketing division, is said to have let a $700,000 bond posted in 1960—about although the secret details not relating to Marshall pending further investigation.

The Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said Thursday the Agriculture Department wants to produce only part of the [illegible] Justice Department wants the rest and the aim is to keep it [illegible] to other facts.

Gladson Rites Set Sunday

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday for Connie Anne Gladson, 15-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Morris Ray Gladson.

Miss Gladson suffered an apparent heart attack and died in her sleep early today at the family's home in Seminole. Rev. Gladson is pastor of the First Missionary Baptist Church of Seminole. The family has lived in Seminole for about a year, having moved there from Knott, Tex.

Miss Gladson was born Nov. 14, 1946, in Snyder. Both parents are also natives of Snyder. Her mother is the former Miss Edith Creswell.

Funeral services will be conducted at the North Side Baptist Church with the Rev. A. W. Smith of Longview officiating. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

In addition to her parents Miss Gladson is survived by a brother, Gary, who lives in San Antonio.

Male Students Riot At Oklahoma State

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—A thousand male students at Oklahoma State University took part in a four-hour riot that lasted until early today.

Thirty-two students were arrested, 17 detained overnight in jail. One coed was cut on the head by a thrown soft drink bottle.

Two policemen and a fireman were injured.

Assistant Dean of Men Darrel Troxel called the riot "a vicious, uncalled for incident and the type behavior not expected of responsible students."

He said "stern measures will be taken and there's a possibility of explusion for some."

TO MODEL IN DALLAS—Miss Susan Gracey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gracey, and chosen Miss Thermo-Jac of Snyder last month, will go to Dallas tomorrow with the buyers of Rogers Inc. to the fall - winter market. Miss Gracey will model Sunday, Monday and Tuesday for the manufacturers of the Thermo-Jac line.

Say Federal Probe Made In Oil Field

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Post said today an aide to a ranking federal official has made a personal investigation of East Texas oil drilling and producing practices.

The Post said John O'Leary has not as yet made his report to John M. Kelly, assistant secretary of interior for mineral resources.

The Post's Washington bureau said Kelly confirmed he had sent O'Leary to East Texas and might send him back.

"We will keep on top of the situation and will send more people if the situation warrants," Kelly was quoted as saying.

The Texas Railroad Commission earlier this month ordered East Texas wells be checked for possible violations of maximum directional variations. Inclinations surveys began this week.

The Post said O'Leary left Kilgore early this week.

Kilgore is the headquarters for the Federal Petroleum Board, which administers the Connally Hot Oil Act. The act prohibits state movement of oil produced in violation of state conservation statutes. Substantial amounts of oil produced in the East Texas field enters interstate commerce as crude oil or as refined products.

TREAT YOUR GUESTS to a Coolie Cook-In next time you have company. Your guests poach fresh vegetables and thin sirloin strips in a "hot pot" of bouillon.

Put Your Guests At Ease With A 'Coolie Cook-In'

A "Coolie Cook-In" is a dinner party that's bound to break down the Great Wall which stands between not-so-well acquainted guests.

That's because the dinner is cooked and served by honorable guests themselves. And Confucius say guests who make own dinner also bound to make own conversation!

Adapted to Western tastes from Chinese "hot pot" cookery, the "Coolie Cook-In" is simple. Your guests poach fresh vegetables and thin sirloin strips in a "hot pot" of bouillon while sitting or kneeling on cushions around a low cocktail table (or sitting at a dining table if you prefer).

The foods will be ready to eat after just 5 minutes of piping hot fried or boiled rice and tiny cups of steaming tea.

For your "hot pot" use an electric skillet or a hot plate with a large, flat casserole. Arrange the bowls of fresh vegetables and paperthin slices of sirloin around it.

You can expect your guests to drip bouillon as they dangle tidbits between pot and plate with their chipsticks or spoons. So be sure to protect your table top by completely covering it with strips of quilted foil tucked tightly under the edges.

If you will be serving more than six people, plan for your guests to cook in relays, or use two skillets.

Keep the bouillon bubbling. Everyone will be cooking more.

COOLIE COOK-IN

2 lbs. uncooked sirloin, cut in thin strips
1 head Chinese cabbage or celery cabbage, coarsely chopped
¼ lb. fresh spinach leaves
½ lb. fresh mushrooms, quartered
4 large bunches green onions, cut in 2-inch lengths
1 eggplant, diced
3 or 4 strips fresh or canned green ginger (OR 2 tablespoons soy sauce)
6 cans beef bouillon or consomme
6 cups steamed or fried rice
Quilted cooking foil

Wash and chop cabbage, spinach, mushrooms and onions. Shake off excess water, wrap in quilted cooking foil and place in refrigerator to crisp. (Dice eggplant just before serving to prevent discoloration.)

Cover a low cocktail table with sheets of quilted cooking foil and tightly crimp under table edges to moisture-proof table top and prevent damage from drips. Place in the center and electric skillet or a hot plate a large, flat casserole dish.

Just before serving time, steam or fry the rice as directed on the package. Dice eggplant but do not peel. Place all vegetables and sirloin strips in individual bowls (or large platters) and arrange them around the skillet. Pre-heat bouillon and pour into the skillet until it is half-filled, slip in 3 or 4 strips of ginger, and heat till bubbling.

Ask guests to select their own portions of meat and vegetables, place them in the "hot pot" and remove them to individual plates when cooked as desired—5 or 6 minutes. Serve over rice. Makes enough to serve about 6 people.

Keep the pot bubbling so guests can cook several serving. (The recipe makes enough to allow 2 to 3 servings apiece for 6 people.) The rest of the bouillon may be added as needed.

The green ginger gives the Coolie Cook-In its typically Oriental flavor but if it is not available in cans at your local market, soy sauce can be substituted.

Refrigerate leftover bouillon till another day and use it in place of water when cooking rice.

Registration Starts Today For Girls Summer Program

The Scurry County Girls Summer Recreation Program registration opens today at 4 o'clock, and again Monday from 4 to 5:30 p.m. at the Towle barn at the park.

The girls may pick up their registration blanks at the schools.

Three new courses will be added to the program this year.

A course in "Kar Kare" for girls 14 to 18, will be conducted in two classes. The first class will be conducted by a mechanic, designed to give the girls some idea of how to take care of the car in minor engine troubles and emergencies. The second class will be on tire changing, car washing and polishing.

A "Keep Fit" class is being offered for the girls and their mothers. This class will be under the direction of a physical education teacher. The exercise class will begin June 11 for each day the first two weeks and then three days a week.

A class for posture control modeling will be conducted in July for junior high and high school girls.

Swimming lessons under the direction of Mrs. Laverne Henderson will begin Monday, June 4, from 9 to 10 a.m. The lessons will be 25 cents each, the fee to be paid at the time of registration. The classes will be divided into beginners and intermediates.

Tennis lessons will be conducted from 9 to 10:30 a.m. under the direction of Miss Carol Bailey. Classes for Travis gym will be on Monday and Tuesday; classes for High School gym will be from 9 to 10:30 a.m. Thursday and Friday. Matches will be held later in the summer.

Softball will be under the leadership of Linda Gayle Miller. These practice sessions will be from 9 to 10:30 on Monday and Tuesday morning for the High School gym and 9 to 10:30 Thursday and Friday in the Travis gym. Teams will begin to be organized and playing. Later a game will be planned for the girls and their dads.

Art lessons will be conducted by Mrs. W. A. McGlaun at the Towle barn on Monday and Tuesday of each week from 9 to 10:30 a.m. The Monday class will be for those girls that have never been in the art class. Tuesday class will be designed for the girls that have had instruction the past summer.

Twirling classes under the direction of Camilla Roberts will begin in July. These classes will be designed for the beginer and those already twirling.

Uke lessons will be offered. Each girl must have her own instrument.

Idle Lives And Absurd

SUMMER STORM. By Juan Garcia Hortelano. Translated from the Spanish by Elsa Barea.

There have been quite a few books and films about those dissolute rich people in Italy and the south of France who cut some pretty raw capers in the midst of alcoholic fogs and casual, arrogant attitudes toward sexual promiscuity.

This time the scene is a "fashionable" beach area in one of the more humid areas of Spain. The pattern is pretty much the same. The plot has to do with the commotion that arises when the nude body of a very attractive young female is found on the beach.

The central figure and narrator is a rich creep named Javier, who seems to be the leader of this little colony of leeches on the chic body of society.

Javier is a spoiled brat of a man who can't brook any nonsense from the married woman who is his mistress, or from the female tramp he picks up as a handy backstop. He isn't much of a genius when it comes to handling the identification of the body as as friend of his lady tramp.

The author's purpose, it seems, is to show the absurdity of life among the idle rich, and in that respect you have to credit him with making a point. He has some devastating pictures of their moronic entertainment, their total disregard for their offspring and their narrow concern with modern falsities.

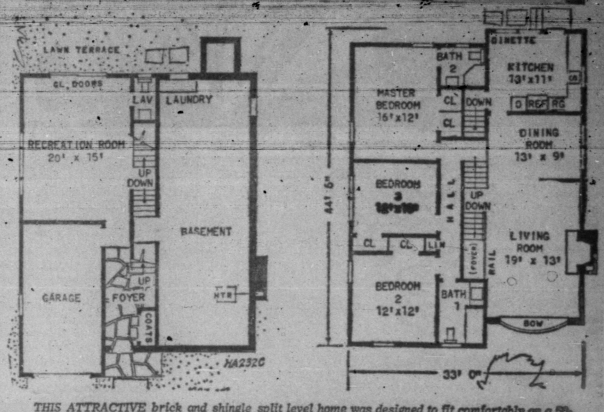

This book is the first winner of the annual Formenter prize, which means it is being published in 13 countries. The judges apparently are seeking the jet beat. This one resembles the French movement which has geen given the name "anti-novel."

From the writing standpoint, Hortelano makes a great use of dialog—which of course is quite legitimate—but he usually neglects to identify the speaker, so that the confused reader has to cling to the list of characters in the front of the book and try hopefully to decipher who's which. And the shotgun prose is sprinkled with an overdose of cigaret-stubbing and glass-draining mannerisms.

All in all, the reader may wonder how sophisticated you can get.

Campaign Just Beginning To Return Deluxe Rail Service

BY INEZ ROBB

My crusade to bring back the once-excellent passenger service on American railroads has just begun. The wiseacres will say that I am licked from the start. Maybe so. But if the domestic air carriers don't get some stiff competition soon, heaven help the traveling public.

In recent years nothing has made me so nostalgic for the crack passenger trains of the recent past as the take-it-or-leave-it meals plunked into my lap by a stewardess who is racing against time to serve more passengers than she can really cope with.

One look at the food on the tray—with or without free champagne which I do not want—and I close my eyes and dream of the food and service on the old Twentieth Century, the first-class dining cars of the Union Pacific and the Super-Chief.

Who does not remember the old de-luxe dining car (now a thing of the past, I am told) with its always fresh, snowy linen, real linen; with its silver shining like the Koh-inoor; with its bud base holding fresh flowers; with its pleasant waiters, its excellent and diversified menu and its sense of leisurely dining.

When I was a schoolgirl I could hardly wait for the dining car to open when I rode the Union Pacific. There were always such delicacies as Columbia River salmon (phooey on Nova Scotia), Idaho and Colorado trout and, occasionally, game such as venison and pheasant.

One dined like a king—or so I thought—on the old Portland Rose that carried passengers between Portland and Chicago in a more leisurely day. The vegetables and the fruit were fresh, and so was the salad. And French dressing was still French dressing—not this awful thick paprika-colored lava now misnamed "French dressing." In one women's opinion, the French should sue.

Sure, one paid for the food and the service. It didn't come free, with the purchase of a railroad ticket. But still, I can dream, can't I? I can even dream nostalgically of the days when I first began to fly in commercial planes, more than 30 years ago.

In the early thirties airplane food consisted of hot coffee and sandwiches, or hot coffee and cold fried chicken. In retrospect, and with a tray of 1962 airplane food in front of me, I sigh for those good ham and chicken sandwiches or the cold fried chicken of old. The man sitting next to me sighed for those old days, too, when, a week ago, in the midst of an oppressive heat wave in the Midwest, we were served a meal of fresh roast pork in a DC-6 that was like a furnace when we entered it and never really cooled off in flight.

This gentleman ate two or three bites of pork and then put down his fork and knife as I had. He turned to me, a stranger, and said, "What wouldn't I give for a good ham or cheese sandwich." and then he added what I had been thinking. "If you don't get a jet these days—and you can't get 'em for short hauls—there isn't much comfort in flying."

The air carriers have been having their troubles. But I wonder how many of them are self-induced. The DC-6s and DC-7s, now used for short hauls, are shabby on the interior. Even a little paint would brighten them up.

As of now, I am on my second—or is it third?—million air miles. I am, in reality, a pioneer of the air-passenger age. So what really hurts is to see the efficiency and the great know-how ebb out of the air carriers as it did from the railroads. There is still the utmost efficiency in the cockpit and in the servicing departments.

It is in the passenger compartment and the ticketing operations that the slackness is beginning to show.

Bring back the de-luxe railroad passenger train. For the sake of us travelers, let's have competition in the interest of service.

Stuarti Was Prepared For Lucky Break

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many people dream of one big lucky break that will change their whole existence.

But they have to be ready for it when it comes. Enzo Stuarti, the tenor, was.

He was at home in New Jersey a year ago tinkering with his sports car when his big break came in the form of a phone call from the management of a hotel.

A woman singer who was to open there that night had fallen ill. Could Stuarti fill in on such short notice?

"Why not?" replied Enzo. He wiped the grease off his hands, got in his car and drove to town. As usual Enzo, a health fan, ran around the block to pep up his circulation before stepping out before his audience.

"That 35 minutes changed my whole life—and that of my family," recalled Stuarti. He was an instant hit. Instead of a one-night fill-in, he remained for five weeks.

"I knew after that I wouldn't have to worry any more about meeting mortgage payments," he said. "I was able to send my mother back to Italy for the first time. It is a luxury I'll never forget."

Although Stuarti had appeared in 13 musicals, made records, been given a Hollywood film test, that overnight success gave an immediate bounce to his career.

His fees have since tripled.

Enzo, son of an Italian baker, came to this country at 13, and his first problem was to learn to speak English. After the death of his father, he worked as a baker, auto mechanic and tile-layer to support his family.

As a merchant seaman during World War II, he became the only survivor of a tanker torpedoed and sunk off the Azores. He entered show business after less than a year of vocal coaching.

"All my life I had a lust for singing," he said simply.

Enzo, a friendly, volatile, deeply religious man, has only one real interest in life beside his music and family—sports cars.

"They are my only vice," he said.

"I've got a wife and two children who put up with all this. I'm a pretty lucky guy."

"I count my blessings," Enzo said, "and I am grateful for what the good Lord has given me. I never take anything for granted—never. I feel that to be liked is a great privilege. I am aware of it, and never want to take advantage of it."

Face-Lifting Work Begins

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Effects of a plan to give a face-lifting to Mexican border cities have begun to be felt in Nogales, across from the Arizona city of that name...

Work is on moving railroad and customs facilities away from the line dividing the two cities in order to relieve congestion.

The project will cost 24 million pecos and will be the first step toward giving Nogales a new look, says Antonio Bermudez, director of the National Frontier Program, the federal agency.

The federal government is paying for all the work.

Projects also are under way in Juarez and Matamoros. Plans call for starting work soon in Piedras Negras, Tijuana and Mexicali.

The idea is to make Mexico's 1,600-mile border with the United States a show window that will benefit both countries.

Junior Editors Quiz on KNIGHTHOOD

QUESTION: There is a famous Order of Knighthood in England called the Order of the Garter. How did this term originate?

* * *

ANSWER: The Order of the Garter is perhaps the most respected order of knighthood in all England. It began around 1349, according to an old tale, at a court ball. The Countess of Salisbury lost her garter while dancing at the ball. She was quite startled and embarrassed. As the King picked up the garter and handed it to her, there were smiles and comments among the other guests. The King was angry and he said "Evil be to him who evil thinks" in French, as French was the language usually spoken at the English court. He added that he would make the little blue garter something so important that it would be sought after by everyone. No one knows whether this story is true, but the Order of the Garter is indeed sought after by all who serve their country in England. There are very few people who reach the Order of the Garter. The garter itself is dark blue velvet and gold. Written on it in golden letters are the words "Honi soit qui mal y pense," the King's "Evil be to him who evil thinks." On occasions of ceremony, Queen Elizabeth II wears the garter on her left arm above her elbow. The men in the order wear the garter on the left leg below the knee.

Panel Probe Is Deepening

WACO, Tex., (AP)—The Texas House Investigating Committee probes deeper today into what the laymakers say was a statewide gambling network possibly reaching into the Southwest Conference.

The committee's public hearing Thursday ran headlong into a wall of Fifth Amendment pleas. Five of the seven witnesses testifying refused 298 times to answer questions on the ground that an answer might tend to incriminate them.

This week's two-day hearing is the third in a series held by the committee in its probe of gambling and rumors of point shaving in Southwest Conference basketball games.

The most cooperative witness appearing at Thursday's hearing was Boston Smith, a retired Fort Worth bookie.

He said he had never talked to any official of the Southwest Conference concerning fixing of basketball games except Abb Curtis, supervisor of officials for the conference.

Smith said Curtis came to his home about a year ago "and looked like he was trying to get some leads to see if anything like fixing was going on in the conference."

Smith said he told Curtis he knew of no point shaving.

He testified that in his opinion a referee might be able to influence the outcome of games over a long period "but he couldn't guarantee the outcome of any one game."

Committee counsel David Witts of Dallas said in a pre-hearing statement that testimony would show that organized gambling existed in Central Texas and extended to West Texas and from there to national connections.

Witts said "certain basketball games were taken off the boards (no bets were accepted) when certain referees were calling these games." He did not name the referees.

"It (gambling) has had an impact on the Southwest Conference," he said.

Joe George, Waco tavern owner, testified he had handled football betting cards the past five or six years. He said he made several bets with Pat Rogas of Marlin.

He told the committee he made 50 to 100 bets a week averaging $1 to $2 each.

George denied any knowledge of point shaving in Southwest Conference games.

Among about 10 witnesses due to be called today and possibly tonight are two conference referees, O'Dell Preston of Waco and Bill Johnson of Lorena. Both testified at secret sessions here last week.

Other witnesses Thursday included:

Rogas, who was questioned on possible activities in gambling and bookmaking and who took the Fifth Amendment 81 times. He did say that he owns a federal wagering tax stamp.

Willard Clifton, who took the Fifth Amendment 86 times when quizzed on his knowledge or possible participation in gambling and specifically on Southwest Conference game betting.

Sam Abdnor of Waco, who took the Fifth Amendment 71 times when questioned on gambling, specifically at the Waco Elks Club where he is manager.

Tell Todar of Waco, who also refused to answer questions concerning gambling and who took the Fifth Amendment 24 times.

Howard Dodd of Fort Worth, who said he knew Boston Smith but never worked for him. He took the Fifth Amendment 36 times.

THREE'S A CROWD ESPECIALLY AT FIRST BASE—Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale leaps high between his first baseman Ron Fairly, and a New York Met's runner, Eddie Bouchee (11) as he got out of the way of Fairly's unassisted putout at first base during a game at Los Angeles. Drysdale had charged to the base to take the throw if necessary as Fairly fielded the ground ball. His leap took him between the runner and Fairly. Only Pair Beat Wind In Civitan Open DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A field of 28 professional women golfers, led by veteran Betsy Rawls and Mary Lena Faulk, will do battle with the wind today as the second round of the $10,000 Civitan Open unfolds.

Thursday only Miss Rawls and Miss Faulk could beat the wind. The pair posted 1-under-par 70s—the only par or below scores to come from first-round play.

The Ladies PGA golfers agreed after Thursday's 18 holes that the wind shortened drives considerably. Both Miss Rawls and Miss Faulk said that good green play was the key to their low scores.

"I putted better today than I have all year," Miss Rawls said.

Three women—one of them in her first golf tournament of the year—are tied with 72s going into the second round. Those posting 72s were Murle Lindstrom, Shirley Englehorn and Lesbia Lobo.

For 28-year-old Miss Lobo the tournament is the first of the year. After turning pro in 1953 she gave it up and returned from the tour to her hometown of San Antonio, where she was a bookkeeper for eight years.

Patty Berg, one of the favorites, was among the 73-shooters. So was Louise Suggs, winner for the past three years. Mickey Wright, leading money-winner of the LPGA tour, shot a 75.

Patched-Up Reds Begin To Act Like Defending Champs

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

A weak-hitting second baseman flashing a big stick, a part-timer plugging the shortstop hole and a guy nobody wanted filling a complete vacuum at third—and Cincinnati's problem-plagued Reds suddenly have started to act like defending National League champions.

The patchwork trio—Don Blasingame, Leo Cardenas and Don Zimmer—collected nine of Cincinnati's 11 hits Thursday night as the streaking Reds whipped Houston 5-0 behind Joey Jay's six-hitter and coasted to their ninth victory in 12 games.

Benched earlier with a .219 batting average, Blasingame has raised his mark to .284. Cardenas has taken hold at short and is hitting at a respectable .270 clip.

Zimmer, who went to the New York Mets in the draft was acquired in a trade and now has been installed at third.

While the Reds were solving their problems, league-leading San Francisco regained its hitting touch when Willie Mays came off the bench, powered homers No. 12 and 13 and led the Giants to a 7-4 conquest of Philadelphia. Los Angeles' Dodgers remained a game and a half back by beating the Mets 4-2. Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 5-2 and Chicago's Cubs edged Milwaukee 4-3.

In the American League, the first-place New York Yankees belted Kansas City 9-4, Boston knocked off Minnesota 7-5, Detroit nipped Baltimore 5-4 in 11 innings and the Los Angeles Angels beat Washington 7-4. Cleveland and Chicago were not scheduled.

Blasingame had two singles, a double and a triple; Cardenas a homer and run-scoring single, and Zimmer a double and two singles in the Red's attack. George Witt (0-2) was the loser.

All but one of the Giants' run came on homers. Consecutive shots by Mays and Orlando Cepeda, his 13th, snapped a 1-1 tie in the sixth. After the Phils took a 4-3 edge in the seventh, Mays' two-run homer and Felipe Alou's two-run blow for San Francisco ahead to stay. Juan Marichal started for the Giants but had to leave in the fourth with a sore knee. Stu Miller (2-1) picked up the victory with Cal McLish (4-1) taking the lose.

Frank Howard homered for the Dodgers' first run, then drove in the deciding tally against the Mets with an eighth inning single. That gave the victory to reliever Larry Sherry (2-1), who took over for Johnny Podres. Craig Anderson (3-2) was charged with the defeat.

Singles by Dick Stuart and Don Hoak around a walk, and Don Leppert's doubleplay grounder gave the Pirates two runs in the fourth and snapped a 1-1 tie against the Cardinals. Stuart later homered in support of Al McBean (5-1), who ran into ninth inning trouble and needed relief help from Diomedes Olive and Elroy Face. Ray Sadecki (2-3) lost it.

Bob Buhl (3-2) beat his former teammates when Andre Rodgers tripled and pinch hitter Jim McKnight stroked a single for the winning run in the ninth. Bob Hendley (2-4) went the distance, losing an eight-hitter.

Cards, Athletics Record Victories

The Cardinals and the Athletics scored shut-out victories last night in Little League play.

The Cardinals opened the evening's activity with an 8-0 triumph over the Braves and the Athletics rolled over the Yankees, 11-0, in the American League tilt. The latter game was halted at the end of four innings, since the Athletics already held a lead of more than 10 runs at that point.

Hits were scarce in both games as the Cardinals bunched four of their five safe blows in the fifth inning to score seven runs. Meanwhile, the Braves were limited to four safeties on the combined efforts of Gene Greer and Mickey Allmand.

Frankie Grimmett smacked two home runs for the Athletics, while Eloy Benitez held the Yankees to one hit, a first-inning single by Ray Nokes.

Benitez also contributed two hits to the Athletics offensive.

Boys' Club Track Meet Set Saturday

The final reminder has gone out to all Scurry County boys who wish to take part in the Scurry County Boys' Club Track Meet tomorrow.

Participants must make arrangements for entry before 6 p.m. today, by either calling or reporting in person to the Scurry County Boys' Club.

The meet will begin promptly at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at the Snyder High School Stadium. Boys who qualify in the meet here will be eligible for the state meet in Abilene June 2.

The events in the meet here will include high jump, broad jump, softball throw, shot put, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and the 440-yard dash.

Three Share League Lead

By The Associated Press

After Thursday night's dust cleared, three teams—Tulsa, Albuquerque and, for all practical purposes, San Antonio—claimed a share of the Texas League lead.

Only the Amarillo Gold Sox, who are 9½ games back, could not be called real contenders. El Paso is one game out and Austin is 1½ away.

San Antonio's Missions beat Amarillo 7-3. This left them 3 percentage points out of first. They've played two more games than the two leaders.

Austin fell from fourth place as Albuquerque outslugged the Senators 19-8.

Tulsa lost a solo hold on first place in getting beat 10-3 by El Paso. Jesus Alou, Carl Boles and Chuck Teuscher hit home runs for the winners.

Phils, Rebels Win Thursday Night

The Ray Taylor Well Service Phillies edged the Wilson Motors Yankees, 5-4, in the Colt League and the Snyder National Bank Rebels downed the Optimist Club Cats, 6-3, in the Pony League last night.

Kenneth Gay had a pair of doubles to lead the Phillies, and Blake Roberts was the winning pitcher, although he had to have help from Rob Hall in the last two innings.

J. N. Wall had a single and a triple for the Yankees, and Leslie Brown rapped out a pair of singles.

The Rebels pushed over three runs in the sixth inning to take the lead in their Pony League game. The Braves had scored two in the third and maintained their two-run margin until the sixth. Ramon Valdez held the Braves to a pair of safeties, both singles, one by Murry Bowden and one by Whit Boren.

Lloyd Potts had three singles to account for half of the Rebels' hits.

Sunray Pulls Triple Play, But Loses,

Sunray pulled off a triple play, but it didn't help the score much last night as the Harlin Oilers romped to a 20-2 decision in City Softball League play.

Harlin had the bases loaded in the fourth when Jack Lawrence lashed a line drive. Dub Holt of Sunray, speared the drive, threw to Oliver Butler at third for a second out, and Butler then tripled up the runner at first with a quick toss to Ronald Ratton.

For the Oilers, James Wesson had a home run in the sixth with one on and Gene Williams hit a double in the fifth with the bases loaded. Wendell Autry, Jack Lawrence and Guy Sullivan each had a double.

Clinton Gregory, Sunray pitcher, gave up only seven hits, but 15 bases on balls paved the way for Oiler victory. Hester and Sullivan combined their efforts to hurl a four-hitter for the Oilers.

The travelling Merchants Softball team will entertain the Merchants team of Abilene in a doubleheader Saturday night on the local diamond just south of the high school. The first game will get underway at 7:30 p.m.

Athletics, Cards Win

The Cardinals defeated the Braves 8-4, and the Athletics decisioned the Yankees, 10-6, in Farm League play last night.

Billy Blythe rapped a home run and a single, while David Coy had two doubles and Jerry Clemmer a double and a single for the Cardinals.

The Cardinals scored three runs in the first inning and were never headed.

Ronald Hardman had three singles and Gil Thomas had a triple to pace the Braves batters.

Don Ed Thompson's home run was the biggest blow in the Athletic's victory over the Yankees. Rick Mirick had a triple and a double for the Yankees, and Paul Rushing picked up a double and a single.

Gun Show At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER — Sweetwater Rifle and Pistol Club's second annual gun and coin show to be held here on May 26-27 at the National Guard Armory is expected to attract visitors from several states, leaders said.

Chairman J. Paul Turner of the show said that about 60 display tables of old and new guns, weapons of all types, ammunition exhibits, Indian arrow heads and coin collections are indicated.

Guns will be for sale, trade or in some cases for exhibit only.

Larry Mims is president of the sponsoring organization and C. L. Wilson is secretary-treasurer.

Auxiliary Slates Match Shooting

Mildred Sparks, president of the women's auxiliary of the Canyon Gun Club, has announced the first match shooting of the organization.

Club members will shoot at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Canyon Gun Club range southwest of Snyder. The ladies will be competing with .22 rifles with iron sights at 25 yards.

While the competition is limited to members only, visitors would be welcome, Mrs. Sparks said.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held at 7:30 p.m. June 5 at the home of Mrs. Blackie Lammert, 2207 Forty-fifth.

Bob Rosburg, Campbell Share Lead

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Hoosier Joe Campbell and overdue Bob Rosburg, backed by eight-under-par 63, took a three-stroke lead into today's second round of the $50,000 Speedway Festival Open golf tourney.

Campbell, who has an aching back, and Rosburg, who has an aching title void, both used hot putters to come up with the most sizzling Speedway round since Billy Casper's record 62 in the 1960 inaugural meet.

Within hailing distance, however, were five pros deadlocked at 66, including Casper, George Bayer, Rex Baxter, Dave Ragan and Dave Hill.

In all, 25 sub-70 rounds were fired Thursday on the wind-ruffled par 71 course, half of which is encircled by the amed racing strip where the Memorial Day 500 will be contested Wednesday.

It seemed the absence of top money-winner Arnold Palmer, laying off the tour until next week's Memphis Open, inspired just about everybody to give the old college try for the $9,000 winner's swag.

In a trio of 67 shooters were Al Geiberger, Paul Harney and Jerry Steelsmith, while notched at 68 were Buddy Sullivan, Tony Lema, Both Goalby and Bob Goetz.

Defending champion Doug Ford, who won the only two previous Speedway events, was elbowed back to a tie for 50th place with a par-matching 71.

Anchored in a multiple tie for 48th was highly regarded South African Gary Player, another pre-meet favorite.

The field of 142 is trimmed to the top 80 scores after today's second round and will be lopped to 60 at the 54-hole mark Saturday.

Methodists Slate Annual Conference

REV. H. DEWITT SEAGO

BIG SPRING—The Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the Methodist Church will meet in its 53rd annual session beginning Monday and continuing through next Friday. Conference officials estimate that nearly 1,000 Methodists throughout the West Texas and Panhandle areas will attend.

All services and meetings are scheduled in the modern First Methodist Church, across the street from the Howard County courthouse in down town Big Spring.

Bishop Paul V. Galloway, San Antonio Northwest Texas area, will preside over the conference. He has planned a series of meditations for each day of the assembly.

Dr. William H. Dickinson, Jr., pastor of the Highland Park Methodist Church in Dallas, will be the preacher for the conference. He will bring the sermon at each evening service.

Other activities of the annual meeting include an all-conference reception, a banquet for super-annuate ministers, a minister's wives luncheon, memorial service, special music, ministerial training dinner, board of lay activities dinner, as well as the regular business sessions.

Courtesy cars will be provided, as well as a nursery for pre-school age children.

Highlight of the conference will be the reading of appointments by Bishop Galloway, after the business of the conference has been concluded.

Rev. H. Dewitt Seago is host pastor of the Big Spring church, which has reported a continuing expansion program for the last 10 years. The membership has built a sanctuary, remodeled the educational building, established a Latin American mission, and purchased a church plant and parsonage for African Methodist Church in Big Spring.

Other ministers on the program include Dr. John Donaho, pastor of the St. Paul Methodist Church, Abilene; Dr. C. A. Bickley, former Big Spring pastor; Dr. J. O. Haymes, also a former pastor of the Big Spring church; Dr. H. Clyde Smith, district superintendent of the Big Spring district; Dr. E. D. Landreth, pastor of First Methodist Church, Lamesa; Dr. E. E. White, retired; Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo and Dr. E. E. White, retired; Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of Polk Street, Methodist Church, Amarillo and Dr. J. Chess Lovern, pastor of First Methodist Church, Lubbock, Texas.

Witnesses Are Set For Assembly

"Every available car will be needed to take delegates to the semi-annual assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses," announced J. D. Cook, presiding minister of the local congregation.

"Practically the entire congregation plans to be in Abilene, June 1-3 at the Exhibit Building, Taylor County Agricultural Center, site of the 'Increasing Our Praise to Jehovah' assembly," said Cook.

More than 700 delegates expected from 18 congragations in West Texas and Mew Mexico, are filling every car for the trip.

An advanced ministerial training program, not a revival, will enable witnesses and others attending to apply Christian principles more fully to their every day lives and train them for more efficient ministerial activity.

"Who Will Rule The World?" is the feature talk for Sunday June 3 at 3 p.m. by W. R. Thomas, Watchtower Society representative from Brooklyn, N.Y.

All sessions are open to the public. No collections taken.

Girl Back, Man Charged

BALLINGER (AP)—Sheila Allen, 9, was back home unharmed today and a San Angelo man was in jail charged with kidnaping.

Sheriff Don Atkins of Runnels County filed a complaint accusing Richard Powell, 27, of enticing the child from school grounds where she played with other children.

National Guardsmen and Air Force helicopter were pressed into an intense but short manhunt.

Officers arrested Powell as he turned away from a roadblock in the Bronte area. His car stuck on high center on a dirt road. The child appeared unharmed, the sheriff said.

Playmates of Sheila said the man who took her called the girl to his car, saying he was her uncle. Mrs. Scott Allen, the mother, sounded an alarm at noon when the child didn't appear for lunch.

Creditors Of Estes Claim $23.7 Million

EL PASO (AP) — Creditors lodged claims totaling $23,799,651.39 against Billie Sol Estes in federal district court yesterday.

They are being filed with the court clerk because the affairs of Estes, the indicted farm financier, have been placed in receivership.

The filing began one day after a hearing attended by Estes and more than 500 creditors before U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason. Estes refused to answer most questions, claiming the answers might tend to incriminate him.

Court attaches predicted numerous additional claims will be recorded before another meeting of the creditors, set for June 15.

A $5,702,051.99 claim by the Walter Heller Co. of Chicago, one of the finance firms which took as security mortgages on liquid fertilizer tanks which the government says never existed, is the largest.

The smallest is $7.14 by O. T. Smith of Fabens, Tex., for purchases from his hardware store.

Mrs. Pauline G. Siveus, chief deputy court clerk, recorded 120 claims before her office closed yesterday.

One claim, penciled on scratch paper, reads: "Mr. Estes owes me $140 for labor." It was signed D. C. Pace of Pecos, Tex.

Other claims include: Lubbock Machine Supply, $4,684,589.53; Associates Investment Co., Dallas, $1,412,280.07; CIT Corporation of New York, $929,662.97; James Talcott, New York, $682,587.26; Richard E. Sparks, Ysleta, $505,552.69; John P. Gallagher and Roy Cowsert, Hereford, $152,260.36; Pacific Finance Co., Los Angeles, $289,877.06; Kuykendall Investment Co., Lubbock, $90,657.35; Pensan Chemicals Corp., Tacoma, Wash., $464,899.54; James F. Speights, Dell City, $233,354.42; Claude J. Rigsby, Fabens, $232,983.40; Superior Manufacturing Co., Amarillo $108,581.49; Southwestern Investment Co., Amarillo, $97,205.29; Gene Wells, Sierra Blanca, $398,497.40; S. B. Hunt, Pecos, $148,902; J. C. Barnes, Midland, $647,445.66; Russell J. Ramsland, Midland, $646,872.32; J. C. Williamson and J. C. Williamson Petroleum Co., Midland, $2,420,317.85; L. B. Sikes, Bangs, $395,576.60; Hubert P. McClure, Midland, $608,179.80; R. Wayne Russell, Dallas, and Bertha Mae Russell and estate of Jesse Russell, deceased, $98,975.98; Barton D. Cramer, Pecos, $106,300.40; H. W. Elam, Pecos, $102,809.76.

Policeman Is Slain During Gun Battle

BOSTON (AP)—A policeman was killed and a protective service guard and a would-be bank robber were wounded early today in a furious gun battle in the Kenmore Square branch of the National Shawmut Bank.

Patrolman John J. Gallagher, 33, father of three, died at Beth Israel Hospital three hours after he was felled with a bullet wound in the chest and one in the leg.

Police said some 50 pistol shots and several tear gas bombs were fired before the wounded suspect was disarmed by a detective in the bank basement.

The battle broke out, police said, when the suspect tripped a burglar alarm while entering the bank through a rear window.

A patrol wagon driver, Gallagher was one of the first to enter the bank.

Harold Gillette, 56, protective service guard, was shot in the leg. His condition was reported as not serious.

The suspect, identified by police as Charles Tracy, 37, and married, suffered multiple gunshot wounds. He was taken to Boston City Hospital in serious condition.

Police said Tracy, a Negro, lives only three doors away from the branch bank.

Says Bachelorhood Aided Longevity

BURLINGTON, N.J. (AP) — Don't marry, boys, if you want to live to be 101.

That's the word from David B. Huffman.

On the eve of his 101st birthday today he credited bachelorhood for his longevity.

Huffman was born in Clinton township and now lives at the Masonic home here. He formerly was a farmer and a watchmaker.

Storm Beats Mover To Barn On Farm

BUIES CREEK, N.C. (AP) — Addison Brewington of Dunn, a house mover, went to a farm near here this week to move a tobacco barn.

He returned to town for more equipment, then back to the farm.

He found the barn had been moved—a sudden wind and hail storm had blown it down.

Heresy Charge No Longer Humorous

By HENRI JONKER

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — When heresy charges were brought against a Calvinist Dutch Reformed Church leader six months ago, some South African newspapers jokingly conjured up visions of a burning at the stake.

Now, shortly after a verdict of guilty, the case still draws wide attention though nobody is humorous about it any more.

Professor Albertus Geyser, 44, a New Testament expert of the Nederduitsch Hervormde Kerk, was found guilty on one of three charges of teaching heresies. He was defrocked.

On two counts of heresy and the key one of insubordination he was acquitted.

The N. H. Kerk, like the other Dutch Reformed Churches in South Africa, supports the official segregation policy.

Geyser disagrees and made his objections public by contributing to an anti-segregation book. For this he was severely criticized at the last N. H. Kerk General Assembly and his resignation demanded.

Before he could reply, three of his students at Pretoria University brought the heresy charges plus the insubordination charge against him. The insubordination charge concerned a rule made at the last General Assembly, aimed at rebels like Geyser, that the church's ruling on matters such as segregation could not be criticized in public.

In its verdict, the 13-man Synodal Commission dismissed the charge of insubordination as not adequately proved.

Geyser was actually condemned for interpreting a certain verse in the second book of Phillipians as meaning that Christ was lower in status than God before and after His incarnation and prior to His resurrection. This was objected to as detracting from Christ's true and everlasting Godhead.

Geyser unsuccessfully pleaded that as a learned interpreter of the Bible he had the privilege of freedom. The commission's rejection of this point was mentioned last week by another prominent N. H. Kerk theologian, Prof. A. Van Selms of Pretoria, when he resigned his position in protest against the heresy verdict. This resignation of a man esteemed here and in the Netherlands was the first serious repercussion of the Geyser verdict.

Van Selms predicted that relations between the N. H. Kerk in this country and the mother church in the Netherlands would be severed.

Meanwhile South Africa's heretic has become a crowd-puller. At his first public appearance, before a crammed hall of students in Johannesburg, Geyser accused the ruling whites of South Africa of losing sight of human dignity in their race attitudes.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"You have declared this day concerning the Lord that he is your God, and that you will walk in his ways...."

Deuteronomy 26:17

Many of us have made vows of all sorts. Most people have especially made some sort of vow to God—only the vow is usually in the form of a bribe—"Oh, God, I'll be yours, if you'll do this for me". We must understand that God will not be bribed or bought off. Our vows to God should be declaratipns of what we propose, to be or do, no matter what circumstances may come, and based on our past experience of God's mercy and love, rather than future expectations.

Vows, also, are not to be undertaken lightly, like New Year's Resolutions to be broken. When You vow that God is your God and Him only shall you serve, this is a great duty and responsibility you have undertaken. It behooves you to do everything in your power to perform this vow, for this is a binding promise.

Strippers Perform For Grim Audience

By ALEC CUTLER

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Strippers Zelda and Fifi peeled for their sternest audience Thursday night—members of a dozen women's organizations intent on stamping out vice in Cape Town. Lots of the ladies liked the show.

Clarrie Roos, whose night club recently introduced the striptease to Cape Town, invited the clubwomen for a special showing of what they've been complaining about. He asked them to view the show with open minds.

The club was jammed with 300 women, dressed smartly for the occasion. The audience also included wives of members of Parliament and some who came just out of curiosity.

As an organ played "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better," Zelda and Fifi slowly removed their gold stoles and their green evening dresses.

Some of the women watched with grim faces, their arms folded, their cigarettes puffing furiously.

The final garments fell, leaving the girls clothed only in black stars and black G-strings.

A gasp came from the show's leading opponent, Mrs. A. S. F. Murray, provincial councilor for Port Elizabeth, who had assailed stripteasing as "evil, degrading and vile."

There was a burst of applause from others.

Very artistic, said Henrietta Benzion.

"I saw absolutely nothing wrong with it," said Sandra Schuman.

Not so Mrs. Murray.

"I hope Roos will find a better way of earning a living than by degrading our womanhood," she said, puffing at her cigarette. "I found the show a thousand times worse than I expected."

"We were both terribly nervous," said Fifi. "It was the grimmest audience we ever faced —but everything came off better than we expected."

South Africa Paper To Suspend Column

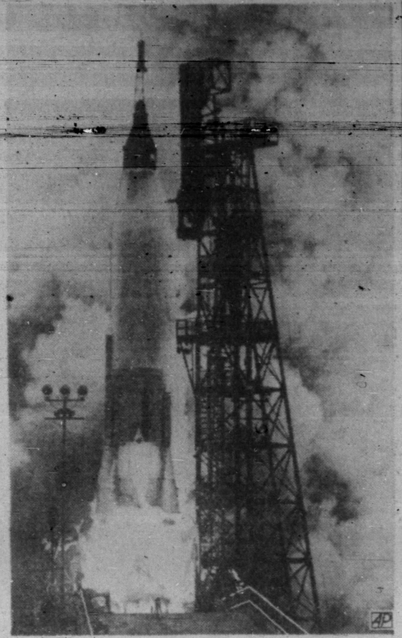

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The weekly Johannesburg Post announced today it is discontinuing a column written by Nobel Peace Prize winner Albert John Luthuli because of the government's proposed antisabotage bill.

Under the far-reaching bill, now being pushed through Parliament, a newspaper could be prosecuted for quoting an alleged or suspected subversive. The government has confined Luthuli to a sugar field district outside Durban for advocating non-violent resistance to the government's white supremacist policies.

Instruction in Turkey's Robert College is given in English, although fewer than 10 per cent of the student body come from English-speaking countries.

JFK Insight Seen In Medicare Bill

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the best insights into President Kennedy's policy of not making people mad at him shines through his handling of the medical care for the aged bill.

He's all out for the Anderson-King bill. Another program for giving the aged medical care, the Kerr-Mills Act, has been law for almost two years. It's much more limited in scope than the Anderson-King measure.

Kennedy is pushing the latter because he doesn't think the Kerr-Mills Act goes far enough or covers enough people.

This Kerr-Mills Act is one of the Kennedy administration's main obstacles in getting passage for the Anderson-King bill if only because it is backed by Kennedy's main opponent, the American Medical Association.

The AMA's position is that the Kerr-Mills Act is good, goes far enough, and will get better.

Yet, the administration has been very gentle and sparing in criticism of the Kerr-Mills measure.

Back in 1960 Congress passed this act sponsored by two powerful Democrats, Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas.

Under this program the federal government shares expenses with states which set up a system for providing medical care to needy old people who may be able to pay their living expenses but not their medical bills.

But not all states have set up such a system. The AMA says 38 states have. The Health, Education and Welfare Department says only 27 have. And each state sets its own standards.

Thus in one state a person with over $1,800 income can't get help under the Kerr-Mills Act, in another a person with over $1,200 income can't. And the kinds of benefits vary.

In March about 86,000 people, according to HEW, qualified to receive aid under this system but three-quarters of them were in only four states: New York, Massachusetts, California, and Michigan.

So the Kennedy administration is campaigning now for a program which, it thinks, would cover more people not only better but in the same way everywhere, without variations or tests for income.

This one is sponsored by two other Democrats: Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico and Rep. Cecil King of California. It would work like this:

Let all people over 65—if they're entitled to receive Social Security or Railway Retirement benefits—get hospital and nursing care at a cost of no more than $90 and for months at a time.

The cost for this would be paid by a slight boost in the present Social Security tax. The government, however, would not pay these people's doctors' bills. They've had to pay those themselves.

And not everyone over 65 would be covered by this program, either. The administration figures about 14 million out of 18 million over 65 would get the benefits.

But Rep. Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and a major opponent of the Kennedy - backed Anderson-King bill, is more than just an extremely powerful Democrat.

As chairman of his committee he's in a key position to damage the administration in other programs. Actually, in other programs he's been a big help.

On the Anderson-King bill, however, he's keeping it bottled up in his committee and keeping it from getting up on the House floor for a vote.

But you never hear any criticism of him from Kennedy or his administration. Kennedy never even referred to the Kerr-Mills stumbling block in his nationwide talk from Madison Square Garden last Sunday.

That speech, off the cuff, was not one of Kennedy's best. Although it had been planned at least two months ahead of time, the President didn't seem to have prepared himself thoroughly.

He made a glaring mistake twice when he told millions of listeners that the Social Security tax to pay for his medical care plan would cost them $12 a month. That would be $144 a year. Actually, it would cost $12 a year.

While it's true Kennedy's handling of the steel price increase made some businessmen mad at him, his handling of the medical care program is a typical example of how he tries to do te opposite day in and out.

Minister Issues Public Challenge

MOBERLY Mo. (AP) — The Rev. Fred R. Belk, Baptist minister, has issued a public challenge to three unidentified men who tried to pick up his wife on a Moberly street the other night.

Meet him in a gymnasium boxing ring where, he said, "I will politely knock your years back one by one for insulting the [illegible] tile of my wife," or—

Meet him in the church where "I will tell you of moral evil, be it ever so slight, that will some day destroy our American culture and way of life if left unchecked."

The minister made the challenge in a letter to a newspaper.

Carpenter Is Latest Hero In Free World

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP)—The non-Communist world had a new hero today—Malcolm Scott Carpenter, America's second astronaut to orbit the earth three times.

The epic of his flight Thursday and the drama of the final minutes when his spacecraft overshot the target area filled acres of newspaper pages and eons of air-space on radio and television.

"Commander Carpenter's flight yesterday had a rather too exciting end,' said the Guardian with traditional British understatement.

West Europeans joined in the tension and pride of Americans as they listened during the day to radio commentaries and newscasts from Cape Canaveral. They waited breathlessly for the final relief-flooding moment when Carpenter was picked up from his tiny liferaft.

The story of Carpenter's ride through space was beamed across the iron curtain by Radio Free Europe to Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Back across came a complimentary comment from Moscow radio by Astronomer Valery Lutzky of the Moscow Planetarium.

"This is another achievement by U.S. science in conquering space," he said. "Manned flight in space, though so far only in orbit around the globe, will be followed with trips to other planets. It opens up a new era in the history of science and civilization."

Soviet Cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin, on a goodwill tour of Japan, told newsmen Carpenter's flight "cannot be termed a total success" because he missed his landing target by 250 miles.

"There were no such failures with either myself or Gherman Titov," he said. "We landed in our designated areas."

Gagarin, the world's first spaceman, even voiced some doubt that Carpenter made the triple orbital flight.

"It is still unknown whether Carpenter's flight is a fact," he said. "However, if it is true, it did not indicate any progress"—over (John H.) Glenn's three-orbit flight.

Cairo Radio devoted large parts of its afternoon and evening newscasts to reports of Carpenter's epic journey. The state television gave a full description of the flight from blastoff to final rescue.

Carpenter's adventurous ride was the main story in all Indian newspapers. An official Indian spokesman offered congratulations to the United States and Carpenter on the flight.

In Rome, even the Communist-leaning Paese Sera rolled out its biggest headlines: "Carpenter in Orbit."

Il Messaggero, Rome's widely circulated indpendent newspaper, said the flight reduced the gap in the space race between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Spaniards learned of the flight by television announcements. U.S. forces in Spain were kept advised by continuous announcements from the armed forces radio stations.

The West German government press service said President Heinrich Luebke and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had remained glued to their radio sets listening to the latest news.

In Paris, all four French-language dailies with early editions hailed the latest American space triumph in page on headlines.

In the only editorial comment in the four, the Parisien Libere lauded Carpenter as a brilliant second to Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., and the United States as a brilliant second to the Soviet Union.

Japanese scientists praised the successful flight.

Prof. Takeo Hatanaka of Tokyo University, a member of the United Nations Space Committee, regarded the flight as "a chance for a thaw between the United States and the Soviet Union, because America now is even with Russia in space development."

Ike, Kennedy See ECM Advantages

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower agree that the European Common Market holds great promise for the United States. But both foresee at least temporary hardships for some segments of the American economy.

In recorded interviews televised Thursday night in a CBS report on trade barriers, Kennedy looked upon the Common Market as potentially "the most extraordinary source of strength to us, and what I'm concerned about is that we might get locked out of that market."

Eisenhower viewed the market as "a challenge to our ability to export, to have a prosperous economy of the free world stronger, and making it impossible for the Communist ambition to weaken us economically and destroy us piecemeal."

The program centered about Kennedy's pending request to Congress for unprecedented power to eliminate all tariffs on a wide range of commodities.

Kennedy called the bill "the most important piece of legislation before the country this year."

In foreseeing some disruption in the domestic economy in competition with the market, Eisenhower said:

"We want long-term wisdom applied to this problem. This is going to be a hardship. There's going to have to be a retraining. I think the unions and the businessmen, themselves, must do most of it. We just have to be more intelligent and more understanding, not only of this human problem of the particular individual at home, but of the national need to buy as well as sell."

Kennedy, in discussing trade dislocation at home, said: "For the first time, in this legislation we provide assistance to companies to modernize, as I've said. We provide retraining. We provide unemployment compensation if anyone is adversely affected. What will come of this will be increased employment by those industries, as a matter of fact, which pay the best wages."

Silo Blast Probe Slated

CHICO, Calif. (AP)—Investigators awaited clearing of smoke and fumes from a smouldering, underground silo to determine what caused the multimillion-dollar blast of a 95-foot Titan intercontinental ballistics missile Thursday.

The giant weapon, one in a complex of three eight miles north of this northern California community, exploded in its 150-foot silo during a fueling test.

Seven civilian workers were hospitalized from smoke inhalation and were in fair to good condition. Fifty-two others were treated for slight inhalation and released after checkups at a Chico hospital.

Although the other two launching systems were not damaged by the blast, Col. William Sault ordered suspension of work on the entire project pending a thorough investigation. Sault is in charge of the checkout phase of the nearly completed Atlas-Titan project.

The blast in silo No. 1 came after the three Titans had been fueled with liquid oxygen and the propellant was being withdrawn by the installation's complex pumping system.

Vapor and smoke preceded the blast, reaching workmen in the adjacent tunnels. The men raced through a ventilation tunnel and out a ground hatch that normally would have been closed.

Citation Awarded To Gen. MacArthur

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur received Thursday night the Circumnavigators Club's "Order of Magellan" citing him as "soldier, engineer, statesman, educator, author, proconsul."

Presenting the medal to MacArthur was George F. Pierrot of Detroit, club president.

Accepting the award, MacArthur said that although "we now face a new world, the world of space," here on earth Americans are confronted with "deficit, arrogance, corruption, crime, and morals too low and taxes too high."
