TV, Shopping Spree To Go In Chinese Auction

Area residents can have a chance at a nine-inch portable TV set, a two-minute shopping spree and paintings by local artists in the Rockport Chamber of Commerce Chinese Auction next Saturday.

And that's just the beginning in the fund-raising event starting at 7:30 p.m. January 17 in the Paws and Taws Building.

A $5 per person donation entitles any area resident to admission, a free drink, free ticket for a drawing — and a chance at one or more of a number of items and services donated by local merchants.

Auctioneer Dan Adams will sell several larger items through a verbal auction during the evening.

These include a nine-inch Sylvania black and white portable television set with plastic walnut grain cabinet, a chain saw and a two-minute shopping spree at H.E.B. Grocery Store.

Also going in the verbal auction are several paintings by local artists and a Stackmor folding table and four chairs.

Items to be given away in drawings include savings bonds, free dinners, two weekends in Corpus Christi, rods and reels, a folding boat chair, hair dryer, smoke detector, water filter, fishing trips and a weekend in Laredo.

Also to be given away in drawings is a $50 certificate at Super D Food Store, a $25 certificate at Jimmy Woods Produce, a CB radio from Radio Shack and various services by local businesses.

Tickets to the event may be purchased in advance at the Chamber of Commerce office, First National Bank or Live Oak State Bank. Tickets may also be purchased at the door on the night of the auction.

Saturday's affair will be the first fund-raising auction ever sponsored by the Rockport Chamber of Commerce. Chamber Secretary Loyce Landrum has said if this one "turns out well," the Chamber plans to make the Chinese Auction an annual event.

Board Approves Meals Increase

The Aransas County School Board, in its first monthly meeting of the year, held Monday, January 12, decided to approve a ten cent increase, effective immediately, in the reduced-price meals now offered to some 99 students in Aransas County schools. The lower priced meals will now cost the students 20 cents per meal.

The change in the price for these meals was caused by the State Legislature's reduction of the reimbursement rate paid to schools for reduced-price lunches from 89½ cents to 79½ cents. The reimbursement rate of 99½ cents per lunch for free lunches was not changed, so the 410 Aransas County students now receiving free lunches will not be affected by the legislative decision.

The board also reviewed some changes made in the extensive building plans for the school. The firm of SHWC Inc., in charge of the remodeling, has already cut back on some aspects of the renovation, due to increased costs in building materials.

The buildings in question are the cafeteria, the auditorium and the new library and while suggested changes will not affect the functional aspects, the fu-

FOR THE AUCTION

Auctioneer Dan Adams, left, Jim Gould of Gould Appliances and Donna Knox from Rockport's Chamber of Commerce decide on the television set to be auctioned off during the Chamber's first annual Chinese Auction Saturday, January 17. The nine-inch Sylvania black and white set can be used in home, boat or car and is just one of the items that will be auctioned off during the event at the Paws and Taws Building.

Notable Notes

FHA Participates In March

The local Rockport-Fulton High School Future Homemakers of America Chapter will participate in the National Foundation of March of Dimes Mother's March January 24. The volunteers will contribute their time as block walkers, knocking on doors throughout Rockport and Fulton on that date between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

RFTA Sponsors Trip

The Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association will sponsor a bus trip to San Antonio on Friday, January 16. The group will visit the Alamo, the Lone Star brewery, and famous San Antonio river walk. Anyone interested in making reservations may do so by calling 729-2388 or coming by the Tourist Association building on Airport Road. Reservations must be made by Wednesday, January 14.

RFTA Gong Show

The Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association will present a Gong Show on Wednesday, February 4th. Awards will be given for the act with the most talent and for the act with the least talent. All those with or without talent are encouraged to come by and sign up at the Tourist Association Building on Airport Road or call 729-2388.

First Presbyterian Services

The First Presbyterian Church is holding two morning worship services, one at 8:30 and the other at 11 a.m. each Sunday. A nursery is provided at both services.

Peace Lutheran Services

Peace Lutheran Church, 1501 West Market Street, is holding two morning services, one at 8:30 a.m. and the other at 10:45 a.m., each Sunday until the end of March.

ACMSI Women Meet

The Women's Committee of Aransas County Medical Services Inc. will meet Friday, January 16, at Sandollar Restaurant at 11 a.m. for its monthly luncheon and business meeting. A representative from Pearson's Garden Center, Highway 35, will discuss "Getting Ready for Your Spring Garden." For reservations call Lois Harrington at 729-2227.

Republican Women Meet

The Republican Women of Aransas County will meet at 10 a.m. Thursday, January 15, at Live Oak State Bank. Any man or woman interested in the organization is invited to attend. Judge Rachel Littlejohn will be the speaker for the occasion, with a talk on the proposed legislation to split the judicial districts.

Democratic Women To Meet

The Aransas County Democratic Women will meet Thursday, January 15, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the First National Bank Town Hall Building.

Ruff Times Club To Meet

The Ruff Times Club will meet Tuesday, January 20, at 8 p.m. at Live Oak State Bank. There will be no charge and anyone interested in investments and financial survival is particularly urged to attend.

Social Security Visit

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the County Courthouse on Thursday, January 22, at 9:00 a.m.

The representative will answer questions and will also help claimants file applications for the regular Social Security benefit payments as well as for Supplemental Security Income benefits.

C of C Seeks Nominees

The Chamber of Commerce will have a presentation of an Outstanding Citizen or Citizens at the Annual Banquet this year. All civic organizations are urged to turn their nominees in to the chamber office as soon as possible in order that the committee can make a decision.

Legal Services

A representative from the Coastal Bend Legal Services will be at the Aransas County Courthouse, Room 102, each Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. until noon.

Square Dancers To Meet

The Square Dance Group will hold beginner lessons at 2:30 and intermediate classes at 4 p.m. each Sunday at the Tourist Association Building at the Aransas County Airport. Each Thursday at 8 p.m. a regular square dance — at the fun level — is held and those who enjoy square dancing are invited.

Commissioners Approve Airport Regulation

The Aransas County Commissioners' Court, in its first meeting of 1981, decided unanimously to adopt a set of rules and regulations governing the Aransas County Airport.

Following guidelines set by the Texas Aeronautics Commission, these regulations—the first such for Aransas County's Airport—will set standard patterns for entry and departure of air traffic as well as govern refueling procedures and other airport practices.

While no changes in the new set of rules is foreseen at this point, any changes deemed necessary in the future may be made by the Court.

In other action, the Court decided to eliminate the County Probation department, which had been costing the county and state $60,000 a year.

The Court also heard the Sheriff's monthly report and approved the purchase of three new patrol cars.

Three new reserve deputies—Bruce McMahan, Ralph Gonzales, and E.J. Koubek—were also approved by the Court for the Sheriff's Department.

Also approved by the court were deputies for the District and County Clerks.

Other action included the setting of county salaries, with a 10% across-the-board increase over last year; the setting of holidays and County Court terms; the appointment of a grievance committee for county employees; and the move to advertise for bids for the county depository.

Deposits at both of Aransas County's banks are up but high lending rates are keeping the financial future uncertain.

But despite a prime interest rate that was reported at 19.5 percent last Friday, January 9, First National Bank is looking forward to "another growth year," according to President James Sorenson.

The bank ended 1980

Rockport To Have Building Code

By Pat Blair

City officials in Rockport will start work on a building code for the city as a result of action taken by the Council in its first meeting of 1981 Monday, January 12.

Council members also approved a measure that will clear the way for development of Candlestick Subdivision north of Rockport.

And in other action, council members accepted the resignation of Police Detective Jim Hill, who has been with the city four years, and authorized hiring of Charles Lee Holmans Jr. as a city patrolman effective February 1. Hill's resignation is effective as of Thursday, January 15.

Council members voted 4-0 to authorize members of the city staff to proceed with preparation of a building code for Rockport based on the Southern Standard Building Code.

City Secretary Herman Johnson said City Inspector Mike Henry has been preparing for the past year to enforce the Southern Standard Code.

Once the city adopts a building code, no house or business in the city may be occupied until it has received a certificate of occupancy.

Johnson told council members Monday that it will probably take five or six months before the city staff will have the code ready for council consideration.

Members of the council voted unanimously to reallocate 63 sanitary sewer connections to the proposed new Candlestick Subdivision but voted on a split of two for and two abstaining that the city will not take responsibility for maintenance of the lines and lift station.

John Bailey and Herman Mayhew, developers of the project, told the council they propose to build 62 new homes in the subdivision and that in order to secure FHA approval, the subdivision must be connected to city sanitary sewer facilities.

Charlie Garrett and Burt Mills voted for the motion that the city would not be responsible for maintaining the facilities. Betty Jean Ward and Henry Bent abstained.

The council gave unanimous approval to an ordinance that sets speed limits on streets on Navigation District property in Rockport. The new ordinance defines the streets as

United Fund Luncheon Set Thursday

Aransas County's United Fund organization will meet Thursday, January 15, to discuss strategy for raising another $4,000 to meet its 1980 campaign goal.

The meeting will begin at noon in Rockport's Duck Inn.

United Fund officials are trying to raise approximately $4,000 to meet the goal of $20,103. To date, the organization has received just over $16,000.

Tentative ending date of the 1980 campaign — which began October 1 — was January 1, but board members earlier voted to continue the campaign past that point if necessary to meet the 1980 goal.

Organizations supported in part through donations to the Aransas County United Fund include the Aransas County Emergency Corps (the five volunteer fire departments), Aransas County Medical Services Inc. (the ambulance service) and the Aransas County Youth Council.

Also supported at least in part through United Fund donations are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts (local and Paisano chapters), the Aransas County Council on Aging, Family Counseling Service, American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation and the U.S.O.

All of the money donated to the United Fund and allocated to these organizations remains in Aransas County to assist Aransas County residents.

Chairman of the 1980 United Fund campaign is Betty Jean Ward and Vi Street is co-chairman in charge of special gifts. Betty French is 1980 United

Lamar Sets Date For Chili Supper

The Lamar Volunteer Fire Department and Auxiliary have set Monday, January 26, as the date for their annual Chili Supper.

The place is the Lamar fire station and serving will start at 6 p.m.

Members of the fire department and auxiliary will serve up chili with all the trimmings for a donation of $4. Jennie Heldenfels is

"chili cook" and the "go-alongs" will include beans, tamales and cake.

Proceeds are used to benefit the fire department.

The Fire Station is located on Hagy Drive in Lamar, north of Rockport. "Just turn on Park Road 13 at Sea Gun Resort and follow the signs," according to Lamar VFD members.

A CHECK FOR THE AMBULANCE

Benny McLester of Houston Oil & Mineral presents a check to Bill Aston, right, chief paramedic for the Aransas County Emergency Medical Service (EMS). McLester presented the $500 check to the EMS Monday morning, January 12, and announced he had a check in the same amount to present to the Rockport Volunteer Fire Department later this week. McLester said Houston Oil & Mineral annually presents checks to one or more organizations, such as ambulance services and fire departments, in communities where the oil company has facilities. Aston said the money was coming "at a good time" for the county EMS which depends in part on donations for its operating funds.

French-Fried Zucchini

2 cups 1/2-inch slices zucchini or other summer squash
1 cup flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
2 egg yolks, beaten
6 ozs. beer
2 tbsps. margarine, melted
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Dry squash slices on paper towels. Combine flour, salt, pepper, egg yolks, and beer. Stir thoroughly. Add melted margarine and let mixture rest 1 hour at room temperature. Fold in egg whites. Dip squash slices into batter and deep fry at 360 degrees until browned.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, ENGLAND — From the bow of the barge, Katie Parratt swung the hawser expertly, snubbing it to one post after another, holding it against the force of the water rushing over the weir, urging the barge little by little into the lock. Then she hailed the lock-keeper standing in front of his garden-rimmed cottage. Katie and her husband, Jonathan Parratt, are friends with all the lock-keepers on the upper reaches of the Thames: The Parratt's barge, the Actief, is a floating hotel, and goes upstream one week, downstream the next, from early April through October. Katie is more than an ornamental hostess and member of the crew. She also is an enthusiastic cook, conscientiously following recipes from Le Cordon Bleu de Paris Cooking School. Fresh foods and grains from the English Countryside, Le Cordon Bleu recipes — these combined to make meals aboard the Actief a feast. One night we had beef en croute, broiled tomatoes, cauliflower au gratin, and hot, freshly made bread. Another night we had Stilton soup, salmon and shrimp flan, Brazilian bananas. I begged recipes. STILTON SOUP

1 medium onion, finely chopped
2 sticks celery, finely chopped
2 oz. butter
1 1/2 oz. flour
1/2 pint milk, warmed
1 1/4 pints chicken stock
2 1/2 oz. white wine
5 oz. Stilton cheese, grated

2 tbsps. cream
Salt and pepper to taste
Soften onion and celery in butter over gentle heat. Add flour, cook a minute or two, do not brown. Off heat, stir in milk and stock, return to heat and bring slowly back to boil stirring continuously until thickened. Add wine, simmer 2 minutes. Remove from heat, whisk in cheese and cream, salt and pepper.

...not to be served immediately, keep covered to prevent skin from forming. When reheating do not boil or it will curdle. Serves 7.

This supper dish is named after Chateau Valencay, once owned by Talleyrand, French statesman and gastronome:

SALMON FLAN VALENCAY
2 salmon steaks, 12 oz. each

1 wineglass white wine
12 oz. puff pastry
4 oz. shelled prawns, chopped
4 oz. mushrooms, chopped
Salt and pepper
2 1/2 oz. whipping cream
1 egg, beaten
1 1/2 oz. maitre d'hotel butter (recipe follows)
Flan ring, 8-inch di-

Skin, bone and slice salmon steaks, divide each slice into two and marinate in wine 2 hours. Set oven at 425 degrees. Roll out just over half of the pastry and line flan ring with it. Lay salmon slices in pan, scatter the prawns, mushrooms and seasoning over the salmon. Pour the cream over all. Roll out remaining pastry and cover, trim edges and decorate top with pastry leaves (see note). Brush top with a little beaten egg and bake in hot oven at 375 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes. Just before serving remove flan ring and slit top edge of pastry enough to slip in savory butter. Serve at once.

Maitre d'hotel butter: Stir together 1 1/2 ounces butter, 2 teaspoons chopped parsley, few drops of lemon juice and seasoning to taste.

Pastry leaves: Cut diamond shapes, 2 inches long.

Crease down center, mark upward with diagonal lines which alternate on the center line.

BRAZILIAN BANANAS

4 bananas
1 tbsp. rum
1 tsp. instant coffee
1 tsp. sugar
4 oz. whipping cream
Browned and flaked almonds

Slice bananas thickly into coupe glasses and sprinkle with rum. Dissolve coffee in 1 to 2 teaspoons boiling water, add sugar, stir to dissolve, cool. Whip cream. Add cold coffee mixture. Pile onto the bananas. Sprinkle almonds on top. Chill. Serves 6 to 8.

POTAGE CREAM D'OR
(Golden Cream Soup)

1 medium onion
2 lbs. carrots, peeled and thinly sliced

1 to 1 1/2 oz. butter
1 pint chicken stock
1/2 pint fresh orange juice
Thick cream
Nutmeg and parsley

Chop onion finely, melt butter in saucepan, add onions and carrots and allow them to "sweat" for 5 to 7 minutes. Pour in stock, season and bring to boil. Simmer until carrots are tender. Puree in blender or through sieve. Return to rinsed pan. Add orange juice with nutmeg. Reheat and serve marbled with cream and sprinkled with parsley. Serves 6 to 8.

Claire Picton Weds Lynch

Claire Elizabeth Picton and Matthew R. Lynch, both of Rockport, were married at 4 p.m. Saturday, January 10, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church with Father Rory Deane officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Picton of 1217 Sabinal. The groom is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Frank L. Lynch of 2205 Cape Charles.

Miss Picton was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of pale ivory silk peau de soie, designed by Priscilla of Boston. The molded bodice was fashioned of French alencon lace, defining the Queen Ann neckline. Lace appliques combined with satin Venice lace flowers highlighted the long, fitted net sleeves which were fastened at the wrists with tiny bridal buttons.

The flared floor length skirt featured a chapel train and was trimmed with more lace flowers around the hemline and appliques of lace on the skirt front. In place of a veil, the bride wore sprays of fresh baby's breath in her hair.

She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white Columbian phalaenopsis orchids accented by Starburst Ruebrum Lilies from Holland and sprouts of lily of the valley. Trails of needlepoint ivy and baby's breath encompassed the bouquet.

Sarah Shenk of Rockport was maid of honor and Mrs. Rick Berger of Houston, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Picton of Houston, Angela Satterfield of Dallas and Laurie Woodman of Rockport. Lisa Michelle Picton was flower girl.

The attendants wore floor-length taffeta gowns in American Beauty red, featuring fitted bodices with curved portrait necklines. The shoulders were accented with lattice-edged taffeta bows and the shaped skirts were tucked at the hipline creating a full fan back. A deep flounce bordered the hemline.

The bridesmaids carried nosegays of hot pink pixie carnations, wine-colored astromeria lilies from Holland and intertwining leaf fern and baby's breath.

Best man was Francis Patrick Lynch, brother of the groom, and groomsmen were J.P. Lynch, Stewart Wells of Houston, Allie Parma of Humble, Phil Ruffin of Huffman and John Picton of Rockport.

Charles H. Picton Jr. was ringbearer. Jerry Picton, Ricky Littleton and Todd Caspary, all of Rockport, were ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a royal blue chiffon gown with jeweled neckline and elbow-length capulet sleeves. The pannier skirt was floor length. A softly sheered cummerbund emphasized the waistline. The mothers and grandmothers of the couple wore corsages of white South America phalaenopsis orchids.

The wedding was followed by a reception for the couple at the Paws and Taws Building on Fulton Beach Road. After a honeymoon in Keystone, Colorado, the couple will return to Rockport.

Hazel Daily and Helen King were winners in bridge during game afternoon Thursday, January 8, at the Paws and Taws Building.

Canasta winners were Marty Day and Sue Bowden. Lorene King won the "Pouch of Coins" and Dottie West took the finale during the afternoon.

Frank and Nell Skrobareck hosted the game afternoon that began at 1 p.m. The next game afternoon is Thursday, January 15, at 1 p.m. at the Paws and Taws Building.

Eleven tables of bridge and six tables of canasta were going during the January 8 event.

The first AARP meeting of 1981 is set for 10 a.m. Wednesday, January 14, at the Paws and Taws Building on Fulton Beach Road.

From the TAP Kitchen

Texas Curry Dip satisfies the three criteria that make for a favorite recipe, notes the Texas Department of Agriculture's home economist.

It's delicious, simple and easy to fix.

The dip can be made ahead of time and served with a variety of "dippers" like ham or turkey chunks.

TEXAS CURRY DIP

2 C. mayonnaise
4 tsp. vinegar
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. thyme
4 tsp. chives
1 tsp. curry powder
1/8 tsp. pepper
4 tsp. chili sauce
2 T. grated onion

Mix all ingredients well and chill. Serve with chunks of ham or turkey.

For additional recipes, write: Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Your Social Security

Q. I keep reading recurring stories in our local press regarding the impending collapse of the Social Security Trust Funds. Is anything being done about this?

A. The problem revolved around one of the Trust Funds — the Old Age and Survivors Trust Fund — which faced a depletion of revenues by the end of 1981.

Congress was advised of the problem in June 1980 and it was recognized that swift action was necessary.

On Oct. 9, 1980, the president signed legislation passed by Congress that provided a two-year reallocation of tax rates between Old Age and Survivors Trust Fund and the Disability Insurance Trust Fund. This will guarantee payment of benefits into 1982 and give Congress an opportunity for a more thorough study of the problem this year.

Fulton Woman Writes Of Alaska Cruise

Editor's note: This past August, Kathleen Bachman of Fulton took a cruise to Alaska with a neighbor. The following is an account, written by Kathleen, of her trip.

Our Alaska Trip
First I want to introduce you to Maj. Bruce Bieber who is my neighbor here at Broadway 6 Trailer Park. He and I both wanted to take a trip to Alaska but we didn't want to go alone, so we left Corpus Christi August 19, 1980, and flew to Seattle, changing planes at Dallas.

I enjoyed a good meal on the plane but poor Bruce had to settle for a Carnation Breakfast Drink. Dysentery hit Bruce a couple of days before.

We landed in Seattle at 1:30 a.m. Pacific Time and we took pictures of Seattle aboard the Matanuska Ferry — our first pictures with our Polaroid One Step and wouldn't you know I put my purse on the floor before I took the picture and went up to the upper deck before I missed it. But the people were still there when we went back for it and told us it was in the purser's office.

This is a beautiful ship and we are enjoying our trip. Had coffee in our stateroom which is just big enough for three bunk beds, a little dressing room off the bath, just big enough to cuss a cat.

August 21 — The ferry cruises on the inside passage and on this day we disembarked at Ketchikan, population 13,000, and took a sightseeing bus downtown, $5 per person. Hamburgers were $3.75.

We arrived back at the ferry about 2 p.m. and had a Bloody Mary — $3.58 for two. At 7 p.m. we disembarked at Wrangell, 900 population, but Bruce and I came back to the ferry because we couldn't climb the hills.

We watched them raise the bridge and when all the passengers were supposedly aboard three came straggling in and they had to put ladders down so they could climb aboard. It was still light at 9:30 tonight.

August 22 — Disembarked at Sitka and have three hours to browse. Sitka is a pretty place — lovely homes, 10,000 population. On the way to Sitka all the mountains were surrounded with a two-foot rock base and the islands the same — very neat.

The passengers were spotting bald eagles with their binoculars all along the way. We had a hamburger at Sitka, only $2.50. It kills my soul but Bruce says you can't take it with you. We have a picture Bruce took at Sitka.

August 23 — Had to pack and be up on deck by 7:30. We disembarked at Haines and a bus took us to our Hotel Halsingland where we spent the night. Went by bus the next day to Beaver Creek.

Before I forget Bruce has been teaching me ship language: "Starboard" is right side; "Port" is left side; "Down" is below; "Go above" is on ladder instead of stairs.

Our cabin or rather stateroom was midship on starboard side, 3490.

Although we had vacated our stateroom we remained on the ferry to Skagway and did not go ashore. Then back to Haines where we disembarked for a short bus ride to the hotel at Chilkoot Barracks. Toured the Haines area by bus in the afternoon for a sightseeing tour.

August 24 — Aboard the Alaska Anchorage Motor Coach. Today we had the same driver as when we took the bus before and arrived at Beaver Creek around 8 and had dinner at Alaska Yukon Lodge and lunch at Degadesh Lunch — had the best salmon salad sandwich.

The mountains had a lot of snow and our bus driver said it was 44 degrees last night close to the Chilkat Range — 3490 feet high. Kathleen Lake in the Klane National Park is beautiful. Bruce took four pictures today — one of our bus, one of the glaciers in the Chilkat Mountains, one of Klane Lake and one of Chilkat Mountains and me.

We have a lovely place to stay tonight and had a delicious dinner — rare roast beef and all the trimmings. Took a $20 bill to pay for it, plus the tip. Checked in at motel near Alaskan border happy but tired.

August 25 — Customs from Yukon territory, Canada and back into Alaska — turned watches back two hours — heading for Valdez. Same mountain range but name changed to Wrangell. Visited Heart D Ranch where the kennels for the Husky dogs are located.

Picked up Alaska Highway to Tok Junction where they had sled puppies in a kennel. Had lunch here and while waiting for the bus from Fairbanks we met folks from Seattle who had lived in Alaska.

Had an enjoyable and scenic trip — one of the mountains, Mt. Drum, is 14,011 feet high — had lunch at Glen Allen and changed motor coaches for Valdez where we checked in at a hotel for the night.

August 26 — Aboard Glacier Queen — Glacier Bay from Valdez to Whittier. Columbia Glacier three miles wide and 40 miles long — seals sunning themselves on the ice floes.

We saw huge chunks of glacier tumble down into the water. Pretty soon the boat would rock and we had to hold onto the rail. The Captain said we would have to move on before we got sea sick.

They announced we might see some eagles and pointed out a nest that might be 30 years old. Several pairs will occupy a nest and build on a room or garage and it will become quite large.

We docked at Whittier and boarded a bus which was driven on a flat car of the Alaskan Railway operated by the U.S. government — for a trip by rail to Portage. The ground from Whittier to Portage is low and swampy. No roads exist in this area.

After unloading the bus from the train it took us to Anchorage where we checked in at the Sheraton Hotel. A wonderful trip and beautiful scenery. Sheraton is a beautiful, modern hotel — good clean rooms and an excellent dining room — also nice gift shop.

August 27 — Anchorage — A tour of the city of Anchorage in the morning. It's a beautiful, modern city. Most of it has been rebuilt since the earthquake in the 1960s. We were on our own in the afternoon and made preparations for our trip to the Arctic next day.

August 28 — Anchorage — Ate breakfast early, checked most of our luggage, took cab to airport for tour to Point Barrow and Prudhoe Bay. Arrived Point Barrow 10 a.m. Took a bus tour of the area. Received a certificate showing we had crossed the Arctic Circle.

Eskimos put on a show depicting their way of life in the Arctic and sold artifacts and souvenirs. Kathleen bought a nice fur piece but unfortunately lost it. We both were disappointed. The temperature was below freezing. We were issued parkas and more than likely she left her purchase in the parka.

Enplaned for Prudhoe Bay at 4 p.m. Checked in at the only hotel there which was an old bunk house. Meals cost $45 per day.

August 29 — Prudhoe Bay — Arose early, had breakfast. Watched a slide show in the hotel. Bruce went on a bus tour of Alaska pipeline installations. I stayed at the hotel because I had a bad cold. Bruce was feeling bad too so we decided not to take the afternoon tour. We left the hotel for the airport at 5:30 p.m. It was cold and snowing. Plane left for Anchorage at 6 p.m.; arrived Anchorage 7:30 p.m. Took cab to Sheraton — checked in — had supper and went to bed.

August 30 — Anchorage — Stayed at Sheraton — took a few short walks — took a few pictures and had our meals at the hotel and spent most of the day packing for the trip home.

August 31 — Took cab from Sheraton Hotel to airport 12:15 a.m. — plane departed Anchorage 1:15 a.m. — arrived Seattle at 6:15 a.m. Confirmed reservations to Corpus Christi. Ate breakfast in terminal.

Bruce dropped plane tickets, but fortunately an honest person found them and returned them to the desk. We both were ill so decided to remain at the airport until plane time to Corpus at 11 a.m.

The steak on the plane was too tough to eat and the rest of the dinner was unappetizing so we fasted. Arrived Dallas-Ft. Worth 4 p.m. Had to walk the length of the terminal to reach the plane to Corpus — arrived in Corpus 6 p.m. The battery in car was dead so the people in parking lot started the car.

Arrived home at 8 p.m. tired and glad to be home.

Fulton Fire Department Holds First 1981 Meeting

The Fulton Volunteer Fire Department held its first meeting of 1981 on Thursday, January 8, with 29 active members attending.

New 1981 officers presented at the meeting were Chief Jimmy Hattenbach, First Assistant Chief Danny Cox, Second Assistant Chief Wayne Oakman, Secretary Robert Elliot, Treasurer Mike Womack, Sergeant at Arms Kenneth Jackson, Truck Captains Charlie Potter, Bobby Loflin, John Anderson Sr., John Anderson Jr., Jackie Mundine and Robert Elliot.

The department answered 96 alarms during 1980. Eighty-two of these were county alarms — one drowning, three major accidents, three calls for oxygen, two false alarms and 74 fires. Fourteen alarms were for the City of Fulton — one gas leak, two gas spills, one diesel spill, one chlorine leak and nine fires.

Chief Hattenbach extends thanks to all those who donated to the department's funds during 1980, enabling the department to purchase equipment such as the "jaws of life" machine, to rebuild firetrucks and to handle normal running expenses. He adds that any donations for 1981 will be greatly appreciated.

QUOTE FOR THE WEEK!
"If we open up all the old arguments of the past, we shall lose the future." — Winston Churchill

Police Report Man Arrested For Illegal Cable Tap

Roy Lee Sarver, 22, of 501 West Market was placed under $1000 bond on a charge of illegally tapping into Rockport Cable Company lines.

Sarver was arrested by Rockport police about 3:15 p.m. Thursday, January 8, after police received a call from the local cable company that a possible illegal tap had been located in the 500 block of Market Street.

Sarver was officially charged with theft of service.

Arrested On Warrant

Johnny Edward Stroot, 24, of Houston was under $1000 bond after he was arrested early Monday, January 12, on warrants from Karnes City.

Stroot was arrested about 1:45 a.m. near the Aransas Bay Apartments on South Bronte on the strength of warrants charging him with issue of bad checks.

Bait Stand Theft

More than $200 in items were reported missing from Bea's Bait Stand on Rockport's Turning Basin after someone apparently kicked in the front door to gain entry to the building Saturday, January 10.

The incident happened sometime between 5:30 a.m. Missing items included two ice chests valued at $40 each; $80 worth of plastic worms; $80 worth of leaders; and two dip nets.

Public Intoxication

Two Rockport men were arrested for public intoxication in separate incidents during the past weekend.

Robert Charles Bowen Jr., 24, of 806 South Magnolia pleaded guilty to a public intoxication charge and was fined $53.50 after he was arrested on the Fulton Beach Road about 5:35 a.m. Sunday, January 11.

In a separate incident, Mickey Wayne Miller, 38, of Peninsula Oaks was placed under $75 cash bond on a public intoxication charge after he was arrested about 2:21 a.m. Saturday on Liberty Street at Gagon.

Brake Line Cut

Alene Biddle of Windwood Apartments, Rockport, called police Friday, January 9, after discovering someone cut the brake line on her car.

The incident occurred sometime between 11 p.m. Thursday and 6 a.m. Friday.

Church Windows Broken

The windows were broken out in two classrooms in Rockport's First United Methodist Church, 801 Main Street.

The incident occurred sometime between 6 p.m. Friday and 11 a.m. Saturday. Nothing is believed to be missing from the rooms.

Oil News

Murphy H. Baxter will drill a 10,600-foot wildcat 10 miles northeast of Rockport in Aransas County.

St. Charles Under New Management

St. Charles Landing is easy to find. Drive across the Copano Bay Causeway, hang a right on Park Road 13 and drive on down to the water. There you will find a full-service marina destined to be the hub of community activity for the whole family.

Jake Campbell and Jason Cohea, owner-operators were employed by St. Charles Bay Tidewinds, Inc.'s chairman of the board, J.W. Zintgraff of San Antonio to rebuild the marina after Hurricane Allen demolished the place.

Upon restoration they were installed as interim owners pending approval of a disaster loan to rebuild.

And that they did. They offer a place for the sportsman, the sightseer, the duck hunter, bird watchers, nature lovers, conservationists and those that just like to be near the water.

Campbell said that Cohea is the one in charge of the shrimping operations and he is in charge of the in-house activities and the store, which sells a little of everything. Including a few groceries, fresh fish, bait and ice.

They open up thirty minutes before sunrise and close thirty minutes before the sun sets. That should give the fishermen time to get in and un-gear.

And if you get there early Cohea will cook breakfast for you. Eggs, sausage, pancakes and hot coffee—and throughout the day you can order a hamburger.

Campbell has a positive attitude about the flourishing business. An optimistic person, he plans to add 33 boat stalls to the ones already there. He plans to open a dinner club which will serve steak, shrimp or fish after 5 p.m. It is to be patterned after the Crow's Nest at Magnolia Beach.

There is going to be a lighted pier built for night-time fishermen and on and on and on with the additions and improvements.

At the present time there are airboats taking duck hunters to the blinds and in a small shed behind the building is an electric duck plucker that does a fine job on de-feathering. Duck season is at its peak and the marina is busy.

The men have extended an invitation to clubs in the Lamar area to use their clubroom for their monthly meetings. It is decorated tastefully with fish nets and hanging pot plants. There's a color television, plenty of tables and a view of the bay.

At the present time a student with the National Audobon Society is collecting data on whooping cranes, using the marina as her headquarters, and Hugh Goodrich, a biologist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is conducting a fish survey and gathering data from the marina.

Campbell said he is interested in Ducks Unlimited, and while game and fish are his business, he also seeks to protect our national wildlife.

Across the road is a recreational vehicle park and cottages rented out by the week or month. Winter Texans aren't the only ones who can enjoy all the activities and services offered by the marina.

The full-service marina has atmosphere and as the owners emphasize, it is the "closest marina to the Cedar Bayou Cut", which should interest fishing enthusiasts.

The owner's dreams are fast becoming a reality as the marina is truly the "hub of fun and water activities—and the coldest beer in town."

Wednesday evening, January 7, in a grand opening event, the marina held a drawing for four items.

Winning a VHF weather radio was Roger Sherman of Rockport for first prize. Second prize went to Bill Sturges of Michigan, who got a reel. Peggy Cantrell of Victoria took the third prize, a fishing rod, and fourth place fishing line was won by David Nesloney of Rockport.

Lower Death Rate

American women have lower death rates than men for all diseases except diabetes, a U.S. Census Bureau report shows, according to Cindy Wilson, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

NEW MARINA OWNER

St. Charles Marina has a new look, new owners, new attractions and is going to be the "hub of activity for fishermen, hunters and sightseers" according to Jake Campbell. He and Jason Cohea are owner-operators of the marina which supplies everything a sportsman might need—and it's a fun place to visit. The pair rebuilt the marina after Hurricane Allen played havoc with it. They have been open several months and invite the public to drive out to Lamar and get acquainted. Eleven Students To Receive Winter Diplomas

Eleven students of Rockport-Fulton High School will receive diplomas in Winter Commencement Exercises in the high school auditorium Friday, January 16.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the Processional led by Suryta Joyce Laqua.

The Rev. Rory Deane, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, will present the commencement address.

Candidates for graduation include Debbie Rae Anderson, Kathy Lynn Brownlee, Jeri Lynn Davis, Sheri Ann Davis, William Kyle Dietze, Vera Lee Green, Yolanda Hinojosa, Susan Terese Hunter, Linda Mae Kravecki, Heidi Joy Madill and Patricia Sue Reyes.

Dietze will lead the Pledge of Allegiance and give the Invocation and Miss Brownlee will give the Benediction in the commencement services.

Ottie Mundine, president of the Aransas County Independent School District Board of Trustees, will present diplomas to the students.

Also on the program will be the RFHS Choir under direction of Martha Luigi.

Sheriff's Report Charlotte Plummer's Seafare Burglarized

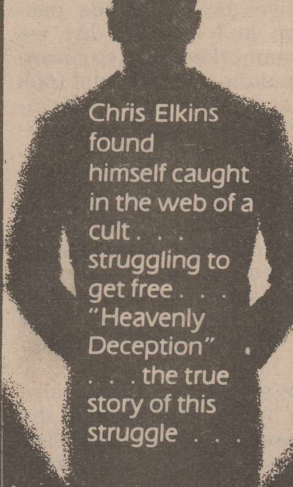

Charles Wright of Rockport was charged with burglary after he was found inside Charlotte Plummer's Seafare Restaurant on Fulton Beach Road early Saturday, January 10.

Aransas County Sheriff Bob Hewes said a burglar alarm went off at the restaurant about 12:34 a.m. Saturday. Mrs. Plummer was called to unlock the restaurant and she and County Constable Buddy McLester, investigating officer in the case, entered the building.

According to the report on the incident, they found Wright inside the building drinking beer from a five-gallon cooler.

Hewes said the only thing missing, so far as is known, is the beer that Wright allegedly consumed before the arrival of McLester and Mrs. Plummer.

Pirates Fight Wildcats, Win 58-43

The final score would never indicate how close the game was with six minutes to go. With six minutes to go, Calallen tied the game at 41-41 before the Pirates broke loose on a scoring rampage, outscoring the Cats 17-2 in their eventual 58-43 win in Calallen.

From the first quarter, the game gave all indications of being close. The lead changed hands many times in the first period. The Pirates were guilty of missing many shots underneath the basket, allowing the Cats to stay close.

In the second period, Rockport managed to build a lead with good team play and quick ball movement. Donnie Frels controlled the boards with 10 rebounds in the first half, and he pitched in 11 first-half points to pace the Pirates to a lead at the half, 33-22.

The Pirates hit a cold spell in the third period after increasing their lead to 13 points, 35-22. Calallen reeled off 16 points to only four for the Pirates in the remainder of that third period.

The Cats did the tie-job early in the fourth period, and had the Pirates worried with the score at 41-41, but the teamwork came on the scene again, and the Pirates became aggressive again. Before the Cats knew what had happened, the Pirates had taken a big lead 54-43. Rockport kept the lead until time ran out.

Frels was the big gunner for the Pirates with 19 points, but the overall play of Dennis Hull gave the Pirates a big boost as he played tough defense and netted 17 counters.

In JV action in Rockport, Marty Davenport and Tim Redden combined for 40 points in Rockport's 58-51 win. Aaron Commander put in 11 points to aid the cause. The win for the JV pushes their record to 6 wins against 3 losses.

Also in Rockport, the Freshmen nailed the Wildcats with a loss behind Dwayne Wall's 20 points. The game was close throughout the course of the game, but in the fourth period, the Pirates pulled away.

Bobby Dingenary, Ross Huff, and Walls combined for 15 points that spelled the difference. Dingenary, Jeffrey Dickerson, and Charles Showalter each contributed eight points for the game, and Huff netted seven to spread the scoring around.

Phase I Beach Improvements To Begin

Phase I of the Rockport beach improvement program will get underway on February 1, utilizing $56,000 from the Federal Energy Management Association and $200,000 in matching grants from the state. The funds were attained by the Navigation Commission and The Aransas County Recreational Planning Association, Inc.

Rockport Alderman Henry Bent and Phil Adler will represent the Planning Association on Channel 3's "Morning Magazine" on Thursday, January 15, at 9:00 a.m. They will give a report on the complete Phase I operation, which will start with dredging the entrance channel to Key Allegro, then placing the dredged sand on Rockport beach. More dredge material will be obtained from both ends of the ski basin and the salt-water pool, widening the beach to 100 feet.

ture appearance of the buildings will be altered somewhat from the original plans. The board approved the suggested changes for the auditorium and cafeteria, but changes to the new library's roof, affecting the lighting of the room, did not meet with their approval. The decision was made to request that the architecture firm make a more satisfactory change.

In other action, the board decided to maintain their present delinquent-tax attorneys, the firm of Calame and Linebarger, for another two-year term. In the past two years the firm has collected more than $169,000 in delinquent school taxes for the district.

As they did last month, the board also heard from a parent visitor group headed by Mr. and Mrs. James Metzger. The group was still interested in the board's action on the present detention hall policy. The board received a report on the subject from Joe Randow, Superintendent of Schools, and will discuss the report at their next monthly meeting.

In other action, the board approved for payment bills amounting to $147,274.39 for the month of December.

In its executive session, the board approved another three-year contract for Mr. Randow, becoming effective on July 1, 1981, and running to June 30, 1984.

Wildcats Strangle Lady Pirates

Calallen's powerhouse girls team completely overpowered the Lady Pirates of Rockport-Fulton Friday night in Calallen, 71-25.

For a while, the game was close as the Pirates scored seven points in the first quarter while the Cats were hitting for 15 points.

The Cats continued to press the Pirates into floor mistakes and bad passes, and when the Lady Pirates had a shot, most of the time it was too hurried.

With a five point second quarter, the Ladies fell behind 33-12 by the half. From then on the game was uphill.

The Cats, who along with Tuloso-Midway and Flour Bluff, have a very advanced girls program, and it was evident how long the Calallen girls had been playing in comparison to Rockport. Coach Dennis Gartman hopes to even things out as his program progresses.

The Lady Cats outscored the Lady Pirates 38-13 in the second half on their way to the 71 point final total. Maggie Kiker led the scorers with eight points for the Pirates. The loss now makes the Lady Pirates 11-11.

Calallen also jumped on the JV Lady Pirates by a score of 72-18. The Cats began with a 23 point first quarter, and the Lady Pirates were forced to play catch-up for the remainder of the night.

Even in the role of catch-up, the Lady Pirates were blanked in the second period without scoring as much as a free throw. By the half, Calallen led 37-6.

The game continued in the same fashion after the half. A two point third quarter by Rockport allowed the Lady Cats to move ahead 54-8.

Diana Herman hit eight for Rockport, Alma Dickerson seven, and Theresa Roberts had three to account for all of the scoring by the Pirates.

The Freshmen Lady Pirates game was in the same mold. The superior shooting Lady Cats built up a 31-9 halftime lead on the way to their 55-18 victory.

For one quarter, Rockport stayed close 7-6, but then the Cats made their run. Mona Cowen was the high scorer for the Lady Pirates Freshmen with six points.

Nursery Course To Highlight Retail

COLLEGE STATION — Discussions on retail management for maximum profit will highlight the annual Nurserymen's Short Course at Texas A&M University January 19 and 20.

Featured speaker will be Melvin Brady, management and marketing consultant from Brea, California. He will talk on "How to Compete Effectively Against Discount Chains" following 9 a.m. opening remarks the first day.

Brady will also discuss "Skills Management for Increased Profits" at 1:30 p.m. the first afternoon.

Other discussions the first day will center on effective newspaper and radio advertising, an update on turf, and helping customers with fruit and pecan trees, according to Dr. William C. Welch, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The second day of the short course will feature discussions on landscaping, the worth of a tree, oak decline in Texas, vegetable varieties and consumer demands for floral and foliage plants.

Speakers will include media specialists Neil Sperry and Ed Busch of Dallas, Warren Purdy of Houston, Jim Ellison of Brenham, and a number of Extension Service specialists.

It was in January 1934 that I first met Walter McNeil — age 8. He was a small boy for his age but was he ALL BOY.

The first and most lasting impression I had of him was a story told me by the lady we rented from in Mercedes, Texas. She had caught him in her garage mixing various-colored waters — who knows what they were.

She chased him across to his home where he took refuge under his house and where he remained for several hours. That's my Walt.

My wife and I and son John D (age 9) had moved to Mercedes where we lived for three years. I was Scout Executive for the Lower Valley Council Boy Scouts of America with headquarters in Mercedes.

We lived just across the street from the McNeil family. Walter was the youngest of several children. He and my son were constant companions. They rode with me on many trips up and down the Valley.

We just about adopted him. My son and his sister Dot were childhood sweethearts. No one ever came to visit us but Mrs. McNeil sent over a pitcher of cream and some homemade butter.

Walter did not like to wear shoes. He was a "nature boy" — barefoot all the time except when he went to Sunday School and Church and that was every Sunday.

We took him to Dallas in 1936 to see the Centennial. Do you remember that? His mother said he could go on one condition and that was he must wear his shoes. All went well until the second day, after much walking, he came to my wife, and said, "Mrs. Leslie, my feet hurt. Can I take off my shoes?"

We agreed — he made the rest of the Centennial with his shoes hung around his neck. His dear mother almost passed out when she heard this.

Then during the war we received a phone call from Walter. He was in Houston and wanted to come to see us (we had moved there).

We were glad to see him but we were not expecting a fine-looking six-footer in uniform. Little boys do grow up! Walter had!

Friends You Don't Forget

Many years later he moved to Houston with his wife Gwynn — a full-fledged geologist. He came to see us, took us fishing and we renewed acquaintance and enjoyed him.

He moved on and in 1971 I found him in Corpus Christi with two fine children — Little Walter and Sister Jesse.

About that time I was trying to make up my mind to move to Rockport. Walter, my boy said, "Mr Leslie, you were like a father to me in Mercedes. Come to Rockport. We will look after you. We have two phones. If you ever need us we're 45 minutes drive away."

Thank the good Lord I have never had to call them but I know they were there.

Here they come to wish us a Happy New Year. Thank you Lord for Walt, Gwynn and children.

An Emergency Every 8 Hours

Emergencies Increase

Aransas County paramedics were called to 1097 emergencies during 1980 — an increase of eight percent over the calls in 1979, according to a report released recently by officials with the service.

In the annual report, Paramedic Director Bill Aston and Operations Manager Dr. J. Martin Shaw noted that the calls during 1980 averaged out to an emergency every seven hours and 58 minutes.

They also emphasized that, during the 12-month period ending on December 31, no patient died while being transported in the Aransas County Mobile Intensive Care Units.

Heart attacks led the list of emergencies during the year, accounting for 238 calls, 22 percent of the total.

Another 198 calls, 18 percent of the total, were to vehicle accidents. Aston and Dr. Shaw noted that vehicle accidents were down from the 221 reported in 1979.

Ninety-three persons were injured in falls, 65 in recreational accidents, 54 were victims of stroke and 51 were victims of assaults.

Emergency Medical Service (EMS) units responded to 35 industrial accidents, 35 drunk calls, 23 drug overdoses and 22 calls of respiratory distress. Paramedics also were called to the scene of 20 emergency childbirth cases.

Other calls included 13 diabetic emergencies, 11 water rescues, 10 to aid burn victims, five persons treated for stab wounds, four for heat stroke or exhaustion and four persons drowned in the county during the year. Three persons were shot and one was electrocuted.

Another 210 calls were logged as "miscellaneous," and two false alarms were recorded during the year.

While responding to these 1097 calls in 1980, paramedics logged 44,797 miles, a distance equivalent to 28 trips from Rockport to New York City.

The Life-Pak 5 Heart monitors were used 368 times during the year and 16 persons were defibrillated. Paramedics started live-saving IV fluids on 252 persons and 114 persons were given drugs by the paramedics before being taken to a hospital.

Of the 1,097 calls, 681 persons were transported to medical centers. Some 293 were not transported and 50 refused service after the ambulance arrived.

The victims were gone on ambulance arrival in five of the calls and units were cancelled enroute to the scene 31 times. Thirty-seven victims were dead at the scene.

Both units were dispatched to the scene on 244 calls, 22 percent of the total.

Ambulances were called out of the county only 11 times in 1980. Some 588 calls were inside Aransas County during the year, and 498 calls were inside the City of Rockport.

Label, Envelope Prevent Errors

AUSTIN — Many simple errors that can cause weeks of delay in the processing of federal income tax returns could be avoided if taxpayers used the label and envelope that accompany their tax packages, the Internal Revenue said.

The peel-off label, which is encoded with the taxpayer's name, address and social security number, is designed to expedite processing at IRS Service Centers and prevent common errors that can delay issuance of refund checks.

One of the common and yet most troublesome errors that can be averted by use of the label is the listing of an incorrect or illegible social security number. Such an error can take weeks or even months to unscramble, the IRS said, and is one of the major causes of delayed refund checks.

The agency advised taxpayers to use the label, even if corrections are necessary. If such is the case — due to a change of address, for example — the correction should be marked directly on the label.

The IRS also noted that each label saves the government about 10 cents in processing costs due to automation.

Additional savings can be realized if taxpayers use the pre-addressed, coded envelope, which speeds sorting of tax returns during the annual deluge of mail that arrives at the 10 IRS Service centers.

By Dr. Hap Lutz

Body Language

Dr. Lutz is a graduate of Baltimore City College and Texas A&M University. He specializes in small and exotic animal practice. He was an instructor of small animal diseases and surgery in the Veterinary School at Texas A&M and was in private practice in Waco for 25 years.

Every dog has its own distinct personality.

After 40 years of teaching and practicing medicine on my four-legged friends, I feel I have developed an ability to tell how a dog feels: happy, sad, bored, disgusted, puzzled, confident, uneasy, or frightened.

The inconspicuous and almost continuous movements of a dog's eyes, body and tail are his emotional body language — and his primary means of communication. A dog uses every part of his body in some way to express his feelings and intentions.

The appendage he uses most expressively is his tail. He holds it up when he is alert and expecting something. If he has heard an unusual sound, or met a stranger (man or beast), the tail quivers a little. The dog is saying, "I'm ready for danger."

A tail held very high, almost vertically, or arched over his back says he feels aggressive and dominant — and intends to do something about it, if necessary.

The dog with his tail tucked tightly between his hind legs is saying, "I'm scared — let's get out of here!"

There are lots of different wags. A plain, ordinary, enthusiastic wagging means a friendly dog. A slow wag is a nervous laugh of a dog who is embarrassed about something.

A tail held high and wagged widely, instead of slightly, means he wants to play. If the dog wiggles up to you after you have disciplined him, wagging his tail between his hind legs, he is saying, "I'm sorry, let's make up!"

I can tell whether a dog likes my company by noticing the position of his lips. When he draws the corners of his lips forward, he is feeling antisocial. He may become aggressive and could attack; especially if he has drawn his lips open to show his teeth.

However, when he pulls his lips back horizontally, so he appears to be grinning, he is expressing his friendliness.

A dog will use his tongue to show his friendliness and to ask for attention. A dog that licks walls and eats dirt is either deficient in minerals or is desperate for attention and company.

How a dog uses his eyes can tell you much about his mood. A dog that is trying to "make up" with his master looks away from him in an exaggerated way.

A contented dog curled up in a corner has a sleepy-eyed look. A dog that is submissive avoids eye contact with a dominant dog. A direct stare from a dog says he feels aggressive and means to have you keep your distance.

In working with my four-legged friends, I watch the eyes more than anything else to determine one that is likely to try to bite me. This seldom happens. I have more problems with patients licking me to death rather than biting.

Dogs speak with their ears as well as listen with them. A dog holding his ears straight up, forward and erect is alert. He may be checking on something he heard.

A dog with lowered, relaxed ears is calm and sociable. A dog making a threat display — and on the verge of attack — twists his ears outward and downward, laying them flat against his head.

A dog's vocal repertoire of whines, howls, growls and barks are part of his body language. These noises are what he resorts to when he considers it imperative that someone gets his message.

The pitch of an unfriendly, aggressive dog's snarls and growls tell you how sure of himself he is. The deeper the growl, the more confident he is that he can defend his position. A dog that goes Yip, Yip, Yip for hours on end is bored.

When a dog lowers his front end, leaves his tail end up, makes a nose stab and leaps backward, then runs off, he is inviting you to play. When you see him race about in circles, he is overjoyed about something — probably your arrival home.

If you will take time to try and study, to understand your dog's body language, you and he will become real buddies and understand one another.

These are the ways a dog communicates. This is body language.

From your pet's best friend, the one with a warm heart for cold noses, Dr. H.H. Lutz

Health Systems Agency To Review Health Projects

ALICE — The South Texas Health Systems Agency Board of Directors will review four proposed health care projects for the region in a meeting Saturday, January 17, in Alice.

The meeting will get underway at 1 p.m. in the Alice Room of the Holiday Inn, 555 North Johnson Street.

Scheduled for review by the board is a request by the Starr County Memorial Hospital for a recommendation on the hospital's application for a certificate of need for two kidney units. Cost of the units is estimated at about $35,000.

Also set for consideration are requests by three area South Texas cities and counties for federal funds to help finance health care proposals.

These three proposals would aid health care projects in Victoria and Goliad County, Cameron County and Laredo-Webb County.

On all four proposals, the South Texas Health Systems Agency is being asked to make recommendations — to the Texas Health Facilities Commission on the hospital application and to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on the requests for federal funds.

The STHSA board will also take action on several committee nominations during its meeting Saturday, including appointment of Maxine Struve Sommers and Lester Hill, both of Corpus Christi, to the Appropriateness Review Committee.

The STHSA board reviews health care proposals for 26 South Texas counties, including Aransas, as part of its health planning efforts.

Alma Meinrath of Corpus Christi is president of the board of directors.

There's only one reason not to review your will.

If nothing's changed.

But that's not very likely.

Just take a look at your home's appreciation. Or how much your other property is now worth.

There are other considerations, too. Perhaps you have more valuables. Or maybe the number of members in your family has changed.

Even new tax laws can affect your estate. And the ones passed in just the last few years can really make a difference.

Well, changes like these can certainly shake your financial peace of mind.

So why not trust the Parkdale People to shine for you. Let our estate planning professionals review your will to make sure it still meets your objectives.

Just fill out the coupon and drop it in the mail.

Or call Gene Koch, Senior Vice President & Trust Officer, at (512) 993-0300.

Unless you're sure there's no reason to review your will.

Dear Gene,
I've got some reasons to have you review my will. I understand there's no obligation.

Patman Takes Office As Congressman; Welcomes District Visitors

WASHINGTON, D.C. — State senator Bill Patman of Ganado became Congressman Bill Patman during ceremonies held in Washington, D.C., on Monday, January 5.

The new Congressman, who will serve the 11 counties — including Aransas — that make up the 14th Congressional District, was sworn in twice, first taking his oath of office on the floor of the House Chamber, along with the other 434 members, then repeating it in a special ceremony held for visiting constituents and friends in his congressional office in the Longworth Building.

Some 50 guests attended the office ceremony and a luncheon hosted by Patman and his wife for their visiting well-wishers.

The extra oath-taking ceremony was planned by Patman so that his district visitors "could personally witness and take part in the solemn commitment I am making today to those who elected me to this office." (House rules permitted only family members to be in the House Chamber for the official oath-taking on the floor.)

The private ceremony began with a prayer delivered by Mary Jane (Mrs. Hubert) Kaiser of El Campo.

Robert Chapa of Corpus Christi led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, followed by Patman's repetition of the traditional oath.

With his right hand on a congressional Bible held by his wife and daughter, Patman promised to "support and defend the Constitution...against all enemies, foreign and domestic," to "bear true faith and allegiance to the same," and to "well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office (of U.S. Representative)." In an addition to the customary ritual, those constituents attending were then asked to respond with a pledge of their own to support their new Congressman "with their continuing counsel and their prayers."

Congressman Henry B. Gonzalez, a longtime friend of Patman's who once served with him in the Texas Senate, presided over the event as Master of Ceremonies.

He described Patman as "a man of honor, competence, and compassion... a man who has the courage to stand up for what is right — just the kind of public servant that is so much needed in Congress today."

Following the oath-taking ceremonies, the group was treated to a special tour of the Capitol, with a special White House tour scheduled for early the next morning.

Patman expects to spend the next few weeks organizing and staffing his congressional office in Washington, as well as district branches in Victoria and Corpus Christi.

His Capitol address is 1408 Longworth Building, Washington, D.C. 20037, telephone 202-225-2831.

Patman says he will be "eager to hear from constituents, whenever I can be of service."

Confab Set On Computers

CORPUS CHRISTI — Farmers and ranchers are into computers just like the rest of the business world, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is working to help them make the most of these technical marvels.

That's the purpose of a workshop on "Computers in Agriculture" to be held here January 27-28 at the Holiday Inn — Emerald Beach.

"This workshop is designed to provide agricultural producers, agricultural lenders, commercial fishermen and Extension personnel an introduction to several of the computers available to them," said Dr. Richard Trimble, Extension economist in management at Texas A&M University.

Advance registrations are requested by January 23. Registration information is available from Lawrence Lippke, Extension area economist, Rt. 2, Box 589, Corpus Christi, Tex. 78410 (512/265-9201).

The Florida Indian war began on Dec. 23, 1835.

TAKES OATH TWICE

Bill Patman takes the oath of office as new Congressman for Texas' 14th District, which includes Aransas County, on a Bible held by wife Carrin and daughter in ceremonies January 5 in Washington D.C. Patman took the oath of office twice, once, formally, in Congress and again in special ceremonies before friends and well-wishers from his district.
