Jeff Miller Wins Contest

Three tie ballgames plagued pigskin predictors last week but it was a problem shared by one and all and everyone starting out "even Steven" after being credited with three losses.

Jeff Miller lucky guessed the remaining contests better than all other contestants in the Enterprise football contest and claims first place for the week with five misses.

Five contestants missed six games each. Tommy Robison of Littlefield claims second place by coming nearest to the actual score of the Mustangs-Mules skirmish. He was off six points with a 32 to 7 prediction.

Harold Lloyd was off 23 points and picks up third place. His prediction was 20-0. Others missing six games and their tie-breaker predictions were Paul Walden, 14-7; Randy Goen, 28, 21-18; and Darryl Dennis, 39, 6-15.

Walden gained on season leaer Jim Curtsinger who managed to maintain a one-point advantage in the ten-weeks' standings. Curtsinger has 98 correct guesses for the season. Contestants with 88 or more points are listed elsewhere.

Those contestants listed in the standings should not give up even though trailing by several points. Two more contests remain to be graded and those standings could change.

Any contestant can be a week's winner, even one who has not entered yet this year. It's fun to try and predict the winners.

PEP SQUAD KING was crowned at the pep rally Friday before the Mustangs met the Mules that night. Ruben Saldivar, son of Mrs. Aida Saldivar, gets a kiss of congratulations from the crown-bearer, Cindy Walden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walden. Other candidates were Steve Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erschel Johnson and Leslie Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gary.

Rent Aid Is Available

There may be families or elderly people in Olton who qualify for rent supplement.

A representative of the South Plains Regional Housing Authority will be in Olton Nov. 29 and Dec. 10 at the City Hall to take applications.

The program is designed to help those persons who meet the qualifications by paying a portion of their rent, providing their present housing meets the standards set out in the program. If the present housing doesn't meet standards, other housing may be rented. The program will not be for new construction, however.

One person who has an income of $4,000 per year or eight or nine persons in one family, who has an income of $12,000 would probably qualify.

Persons interested in the program should contact the representative at the City Hall on the above mentioned dates and make application.

Roots Back To 1700's

Traces Nine Generations

Listening to her father tell of his ancestors was always a fascinating pastime for Mrs. W.T. (Dot) Hankins. Oft-repeated, the stories never grew old when he told her of his great-great-grandfather who served in the Revolutionary War and spell-binding accounts of other forefathers.

Never tiring of those stories and always filled with questions to ask, Dot grew up aware of much of her heritage. Ever eager to hear more, she says she was always at her father's side and constantly asking questions.

Dot's 85-year-old Aunt Maggie still has a keen memory of family history and sends Dot typewritten letters of her recollections which fill page after page.

It was because of those stories of her ancestors that Dot became interested in learning more and thus turned into a genealogy buff. The search into her past has enabled her to gather documented proof of nine generations.

"It isn't a nostalgia thing with me," she says. "I've always been interested and I'm proud of my family."

Her search for ancestors has introduced her to kin worthy of honor and she has failed to "rattle any skeletons in closets."

Twelve-year-old Terry Hankins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Billy Hankins of San Antonio, shares "M.D.'s" interest in the Hudson family tree. He is the ninth generation descendent of John Hudson who came with his brother, Charles, from London, England.

The brothers settled in Hanover County, Va. John married Elizabeth Harris in 1714. They had eight sons including George, the eldest, who inherited his father's holdings when he died intestate. The seventh son, Cuthbert, is Dot's great-great-great grandfather.

George was the father of two daughters. One, Elizabeth, married a Mr. Clay and their son, Henry, served as Secretary of State under John Quincy Adams.

Dot has copies of two letters written by Clay to the Hudsons who were her direct ancestors.

Cuthbert was born in 1733 and was married to Elizabeth Hall Hudson (no relation) in 1754 in Virginia. They were parents of 11 children. Moving to Georgia before the Revolution, he served in the Revolutionary War.

Cuthbert's sons, Joakim and William, served in the war with their father. After the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, Cuthbert and Joakin walked back to their home in Georgia.

A militia captain, Cuthbert received more than 1,200 acres of Georgia land for his service in the war. He died in 1801 in Elbert County, Ga., leaving much land and other properties to his heirs.

Dot has a copy of his will, dated 1799, which reads, in portion: "Being in low state of health but sound memory . . . during her widowhood . . . three Negroes, four cows, four sheep likewise the upper plantation with the dwelling house and kitchen and out houses where I now live."

Each of his children were bequeathed land and properties as well as slaves.

Cuthbert also served as an artificer in the French and Indian War. He was with General George Washington at Fort Winchester in 1756-57. Dot has a copy of a letter written to him from the Governor of North Carolina giving him authority to appoint another "much needed captain."

Christopher, third son of Cuthbert and Elizabeth, is the one Dot has been able to learn very little about. Records she has indicate he was probably born in 1765. He and his wife, Patsy Gibson, had at least three sons and two daughters.

One son, Cuthbert Gibson Hudson, was born in 1791 in Georgia. He became a medical doctor and lived in Chambers County, Ala. until 1850 when he moved to Rusk County, Tex.

Dot has a treasured copy of a book written about the history of Chambers County which humorously recounts an event participated in by Dr. Hudson.

Celebrating American Independence July 4, 1843, the book tells how a "procession formed on the court house square at 10 o'clock in the morning and marched under flying banners to the Methodist Church for appropriate ceremonies."

It relates, "following an excellent dinner, prepared at the Tavern by Mrs. Reed, the cloth was removed and the following toasts were drank:

"1. The day we celebrate - the proudest in the annals of history. 2. George Washington - the founder of the American Republic. 3. Lafayette - Friend and collaborator of the immortal. 4. Pulaski, DeKalb, and other Revolutionary worthies. 5. The American Flag - Generous to friends - formidable to foes - Her stars will ever light to victory. 6. The Genius of Liberty - Her age can but be coeval with time. 7. Agriculture, Commerce and Manufactures; the three pillars of the Republic. 8. The Constitution of the United States - We can fly it for refuge and find safety. 9. Southern Rights - resting on the rock of the Constitution - they made it safely defy the howling blast of Northern fanaticism. 10. The Legislature, the Judiciary, and the Executive Departments of the General Government - confined in their proper function, the strength of the country. 11. The Ex-Presidents of the United States - their country knowing, will appreciate their services. 12. Education - the most faithful and vigilant sentinel on the barbican of Liberty.

"Dr. Cuthbert G. Hudson, apparently possessing a vision of the greeting he would receive, upon his arrival home in such an inebriated state, arose from his chair and proposed: 'Here's to Woman - The perfection of Creation - When she is wrong, all is wrong.' Returning his glass to its proper place, the good doctor collapsed across the table."

The doctor was married to Pheriba Wood Alford Feb. 9, 1826 in Taliaferro County, Ga. Dot has a copy of the 1850 census of the doctor's family which lists eight children. The youngest, Cuthbert Gibson Jr., is Dot's grandfather.

Before moving to Texas, Dr. Hudson practiced many years in Georgia and Alabama. He acquired much property and accumulated considerable wealth.

He built and paid for a "Female Academy" in LaFayette, Ala. which he rented to the trustees of the school as recompense for his expenses.

Cuthbert Gibson Jr. was born in 1846 before his parents' move to Texas. He was married to Julia A. Spear in 1869 in Kilgore. They were parents of five children; four sons and a daughter. They died in Henderson County, Texas; she in 1869, he in 1903.

Their fourth son, Elmo, was Dot's father. He was married to Eugenia T. Bond in 1900 in Henderson County. They were parents of six children. Elmo died Sept. 6, 1956; Eugenia, Dec. 28, 1962 in Olton.

Dot's grandfather, C.G. Hudson Jr. and his wife were two of 15 charter members of a Baptist Church organized in a small school house in Henderson County near Brownsboro.

Organized Dec. 15, 1880, original minutes of that first meeting are in the archives of Baylor University. Dot has a copy of that old handwritten manuscript which states the new church would be called "Missionary Baptist Church of Hopewell." Other charter members are Dot's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Echols and a grand-uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R.O. Echols.

The church is still active and has never been without a pastor since its organization.

Searching for her family's history, Dot has been able to obtain copies of her great-grandparents' marriage license and that of Dr. Hudson's dear friend, Dr. Peterson K. Richardson, whose family came with the Hudsons from Alabama to Rusk County.

Dr. Hudson lived just one year after coming to Texas but Dr. Richardson lived a long life and maintained an extensive practice in Kilgore and was often spoken of by Dot's father.

Dot's gleanings of history have also disclosed that Dr. Hudson's daughter, Eliza, married Richard Bennett Hubbard, 15th governor of Texas. Dot has a copy of Eliza's and Hubbard's marriage license.

Her family searching has also produced many pieces of information made more meaningful the longer she looks. She has copies of wills, marriage licenses, death certificates, census reports and numerous other documentary proofs.

Even more satisfying, she has been "introduced" to new though distant relatives, many of whom have become very dear through correspondence, phone calls and visits.

Dot has, through experience, learned some things which help persons who wish to search for their own family's histories. "Don't forget that records which you have available now could be destroyed," Dot advises. "Or the person who may have related incidents to you may have passed away. So make copies - extra copies, of your information."

MRS. W.T. HANKINS & TERRY HANKINS

"Getting in touch with old family friends of your parents often leads to important information. I have found, through my searching, relatives I never knew existed -- a cousin from Roanoke, Va. who visited us this summer," says Dot.

"I've also had letters from another cousin in Massachusettes and another from Mt. Pleasant. But the dearest of all, a cousin, Pheriba Lindsey of Lubbock. Her grandmother, Emily Audrie Hudson and my grandfather, C.G. Hudson Jr. were sister and brother."

"When you find that missing ancestor, note where you found the information and make your documentation as explicit as possible so a future researcher will not find it necessary to retrace all the laborious steps you have taken.

Cattle brands and hog marks are registered with county clerks and may also provide "leads" in family researching. Dot learned that her grandfather, C.G. Hudson, was one of the first to bring pure blood cattle and hogs to Henderson County.

With the wealth of Hudson history she has compiled - and she has information farther back than that she has been able to document - Dot has been asked by "Kissing Kin," why she doesn't put her findings together in a book.

"Maybe I will someday," she says. "Maybe I'll call it, 'The Hudsons - Looking Back."

Probably that will be awhile, though. Right now the would-be authoress is busy searching for other ancestors and beginning a search for the Hankins' history.

Police Make Investigations; Question Four Juveniles

Chief of Police Don Hatley and Lamb County Deputy Ed Heskew investigated the report of broken glasses in a station wagon belonging to Eusebia Sanchez which had been stuck in a ditch overnight, Oct. 29.

Damages were paid by the parent of the juvenile offender.

Saturday, Hatley investigated an incident of simple assault which resulted in a filed complaint and fine.

William Hammond answered a call at 1:05 Sunday to find an intoxicated man in a pickup on 8th Street. He was lying against the steering wheel, causing the horn to sound continuously. He was placed in the city jail and charged with drunkeness.

Four juveniles were questioned Monday afternoon concerning the theft of money from a cash register and candy machine at the pool hall. A theft charge was expected to be filed in Littlefield.

It was reported that $15 was missing from the cash register and $20 in quarters from the candy machine.

The reported theft occurred about 3 a.m. Monday.

Don Hatley Approved As New Truant Officer

School board members took care of routine business as they approved the auditor's report, textbook committee and a new truant officer.

Creston Faver of Muleshoe presented the board with an auditor's report which the board approved.

Textbook committee approved by the board includes Joe Turner, chairman; David Grayson, co-chairman; Ray Kinnison, Inocencia Rey, Raquel Salas, Carl Mclure, Cathryn Lewis, Bobbie Hutson, Jewell Brogdon, Robert Sivley, Janet Taylor, Larry Shackelford, Susie Spain, Robbie Reed and Jim Rich.

Don Hatley, the Chief of Police, was approved as the truant officer.

Final action was the acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Carl (Wanda) Nafzger, effective Jan. 13, 1977. She will be moving to Kentucky. She was employed as a special education teacher.

'Mark Your Possessions' Day Set November 20

Olton Police Department and the Volunteer Fire Department are sponsoring a "mark your possessions" day, Saturday, Nov. 20. Persons are invited to bring property which they would like to have engraved with an identifying number to the Fire Station after 10 a.m.

Driver's license, Social Security or other identifying information will be engraved on CB's, tape decks or other articles free of charge.

"We want to try and stop some of the thefts of CB's and such and identification makes it harder for the thief to get rid of stolen merchandise. We'll mark anything people want marked if they'll just bring it in. And we'll use what ever identification you want," said Police Chief Don Hatley.

Thanksgiving Services Set

Community-wide Thanksgiving services are being planned for 7 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 21 in First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Raymond Mayfield, pastor of the local Assembly of God Church, will present the Thanksgiving message. Also participating in the worship service will be ministers from other churches in the city.

Special music will be presented by a Union Choir composed of persons from throughout the community, Barry Feriend, music minister of First Baptist Church, will direct the musical program.

Everyone in the community is invited to the annual event.

Council Meets Tuesday For Regular Business

In a regular business session Tuesday night, city council accepted a contract from Motorola of Plainview for the maintenance of the city's radio equipment, accepted a bid of Buck Rogers Roofing to roof the fire station and adjusted salaries of city police.

Council agreed to pay $25 per shift for relief men in the police department. Police Chief Don Hatley's salary was set at $750 and the night patrolman's salary was set at $650.

It was also agreed that Mrs. Hatley would receive $75 per month for answering a police radio which would be installed in the Hatley home.

It was further agreed that the city would no longer pay salaries to officers while they attend police schools.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

Free from prejudice, I report that The Most Beautiful Baby is doing great and becoming more precious every day.

Views expressed herewith do not necessarily reflect those of the publisher and other individuals connected with the Enterprise but are those of this writer. However, "they" have assured me that I am correct in proclaiming Courtney Nichole Trotter is a little beauty.

Enough for a boastful grandmother!

Whoosh, time is a-hurrying. Our bi-centennial year is almost over and Christmas is approaching with great haste. It's time to really really "get with" all the holiday plans so you can take time to see and hear and smell the true meaning of Christmas.

It's lots easier to say than do! Scarlett O'Hara's philosophy of "I'll think about that tomorrow" must have accumulated through the years and settled entirely in me! Somehow today is always so filled, things just have to wait till tomorrow.

There's so much awaiting in our tomorrows. The seemingly eternal "politicking" has reached that point of no return and now it's up to each one of us. We need to dedicate ourselves to working together - with those who believed in the cause we believed in and with those who were on the "other side". Right now there must be just one side - the right side of America.

Only "one" count? You'd better believe we do, when our ones all get together!

God doesn't ask us for our political credentials! Let us commit ourselves as United people of United States to pray diligently for those who will guide our Nation's destiny. And may we also pray that they join in our prayers.

Dear Editor:

The Olton Volunteer Fire Department would like to thank the people of Olton for their cooperation in trying to make our town a better and safer place in which to live.

Again, we would like to thank you for your gracious contribution in helping improve the quality of YOUR Fire Department.

Sincerely,
Phil Hughes, Chief
Olton Volunteer Fire Department

Dear Sue:

Enjoyed visiting with you during the homecoming activities. I enjoyed getting to see each one . . . . would like to express my appreciation to the ones who put out the work to make it possible, Joe and Betty, Mattie, Norma, Sandra and Mildred LaDuke.

Without homefolks to get it all together it would be impossible for us to have met. A special thanks to these and also to the ones out of town that made the effort to come.

Mrs. J.L. Snider Reviews 'Richest Lady In Town'

Mrs. Inez Yates hosted a meeting of Olton Study Club Monday, Nov. 8. Meeting for the first time in Mrs. Yates' new home, club members presented her with a money tree with which to buy some special item of decor.

A short business session was directed by Mrs. D.M. Granbery and names were drawn for a Christmas gift exchange.

Guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. J.L. Snider reviewed "The Richest Lady in Town" by Joyce Landorf. The book, a dynamic real-life story of the author, does not tell the reader-hearer how to make a million dollars, but rather how to spend the wealth already inherent in a Christian. With warmth and understanding, the message of the book points the way for every woman to become a real live heiress.

Mustangs Stomp Mules

The Muleshoe Mules took the opening kick off at their 20 yard line only to be forced to punt on fourth down.

Olton began a drive at the 40 yard line. Attempting to pass, Steve Johnson was forced to run to the thirty-seven for the first. Leslie Gary got two, with Buster Lloyd backing up with three more. Given the call Lloyd added five yards and then five more on the next play. An incomplete pass set up a field goal attempt by Brad Allcorn putting the Mustangs ahead by three.

Muleshoe started again, but, the Mustangs held on to force the Mules to punt. A pass from Johnson to Robert Offield set the ball on the fifty. Johnson ran to his right to be stopped at the line. Another pass attempt by Johnson was fumbled as a Mule hit him in the process of passing.

The Mules attempted to pass but, the Mustangs forced the quarterback to run fumbling as he was hit. Olton gave Lloyd the call for five yards. Gary added two more. Saldivar was stopped at the line setting up the punt.

Olton faked the punt passing to Gary to be stopped short of the first giving the Mules the ball.

At the fifty, the Mules went two plays before passing. It was almost intercepted by Allcorn who dropped the ball. The Mules' forced punt put the ball on the twenty-five.

Johnson ran to the forty-five for a first. Lloyd broke for a 10 to the Mules 45. Gary was stopped at the line and Johnson went for the first. A pass to Offield from Johnson was dropped. Another pass by Johnson to Averyhart was nearly intercepted. Johnson passed back to Offield for a forty-five yard touchdown run. The PAT by Allcorn was good with the score 10-0.

The Mules punted after four unsuccessful plays. Saldivar took the ball at the twenty-five and ran seventy-five yards for the touchdown. The PAT by Allcorn was good.

Muleshoe went four plays and were forced again to punt to the Mustangs. Lloyd took the call and was stopped at the line. A pass to Offield from Johnson went five yards. Another pass to Averyhart failed.

The Mules went eight yards to set up a passing play for four yards. A 15 yard run set up the first down for the Mules. Six plays later, the Mules scored their first and last touchdown of the night. A high snap from center caused the PAT to fail.

Olton ran five plays getting first downs on four of them to run out the clock for the half with the score 17-6.

The Mustangs came back to gain four yards on the first play as Johnson stopped off ten more for the first. Lloyd ran 28 yards for another first down. Johnson threw two passes to Averyhart and Offield only to be incompleted on both tries. Another pass was blocked by a Mule to bring up fourth down.

The Mustangs went for the first only to have the pass blocked giving the ball to the Mules.

The Mules took the ball on their 35 and added five. Muleshoe ran to the Mustang goal line but was short of the touchdown.

Olton held the Mules four plays to receive the ball. The Mules held the Mustangs to force them to punt. A penalty gave the Mustangs the first down needed. Gary stepped off four yards and Lloyd added five and two on the next plays. Saldivar went thirty yards for another touchdown as Allcorn added the PAT.

The Mustangs went for an offside kick but the Mules recovered the ball. The Mules ran three plays to bring up a first and the quarter. Olton forced the Mules to punt in four plays.

Johnson was stopped at the line. A pass to Offield from Johnson failed. Lloyd broke open to sweep 65 yards to the Mules 20 before being tackled.

Saldivar added another first at the 10 yard line. Five more yards by Saldivar put the ball on the five. Gary stepped off two yards then Saldivar carried the ball in for the touchdown. Allcorn's boot was good to put the score 31-6.

The Mules passed for one yard and on the second play Allcorn intercepted the ball and ran down the sideline for a touchdown. the PAT by Allcorn went off to the side. The score 37-6 in the fourth quarter.

Muleshoe passed back to the end who then passed across field to the fifty for the first. Another pass failed as Olton deflected it. A fake punt was handed off and dropped as the Mule ran five yards being stopped.

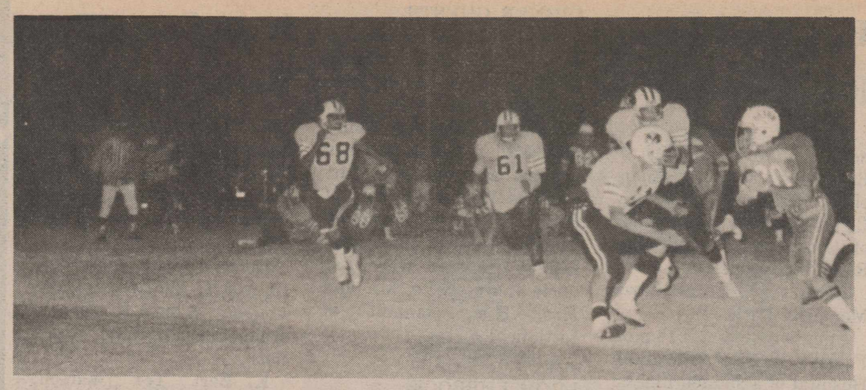

Olton wasn't able to gain anything on two plays. A low pitch set the Mustangs back five yards. Olton punted to the Mules on their 20.

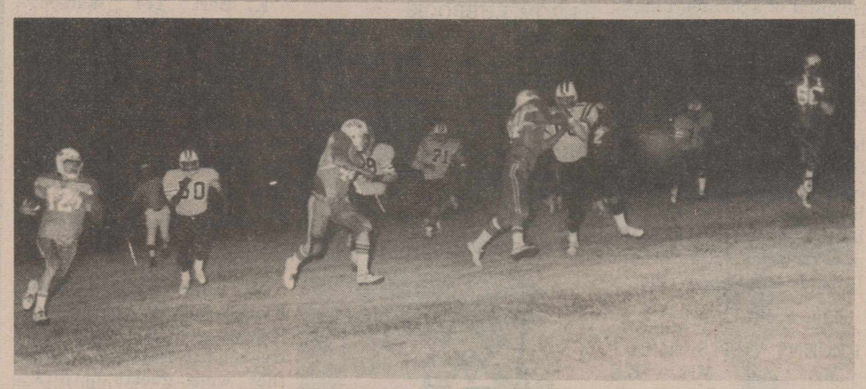

A Mule pass was intercepted by Averyhart and he stepped off yardage to the Mule 35 before being stopped. An overthrown pass by Averyhart went out of bounds. Averyhart ran to his left to gain three yards. Saldivar stepped off six yards but was short and the Mules got the ball.

SOFTEN FROSTING

If a boiled frosting starts to harden before you can spread it, you've probably cooked it too long. Beat in a few drops of lemon juice or boiling water.

TO GARNISH

A garnish of chopped parsley of watercress, or a sprinkling of nuts, enhances the appetite appeal of a side dish of stuffing mix.

No More Farm Bills

The U.S. Congress will probably never pass another agricultural oriented farm bill, cattle feeders were told during the annual Texas Cattle Feeders Association convention, Oct. 26.

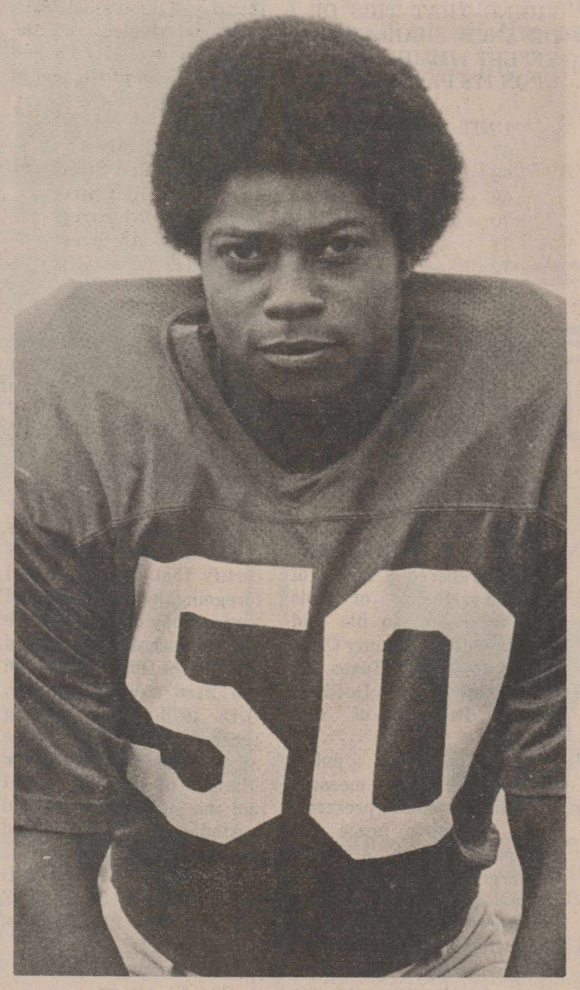

The 1973 Farm Bill was very likely the last bill to pass that would be primarily aimed at helping American agriculture, W.R. "Bob" Poage (D-Tex.) reminded the cattle feeders. "Any future farm bill will be more of a consumer bill than an agriculture bill," the veteran Congressman noted.

Poage, past chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture and current chairman of the Sub-Committee on Livestock and Grain, explained that the U.S. needs to expand the exportation of meat. "It makes more sense for us to export beef to Japan, for example, rather than shipping our grain over there to feed to their animals. They are paying about 20 times as much freight on the grain as they would pay for shipping beef."

Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Jr., also addressed the annual cattle feeders convention and saluted the feeders for their contributions to the economy of the state and pointed out: " . . . About 30,000 farmers will produce 12 billion pounds of feed grains for feedyards, valued at more than $600 million. And the cotton farmer looks to you as the primary market for his cottonseed meal and hulls."

Briscoe urged support for Amendment Number One on the Nov. 2 general election ballot. He pointed out that Texas needs an extension of the Texas Water Development Board which would renew the current program which supplies loans to agricultural communities and rural water districts.

During the meeting at the Amarillo Hilton Inn, the membership reelected all officers and named 10 new board members to the 30-member Board of Directors.

GELATIN TIPS

If you forget a gelatin mixture until it's too set to fold in other ingredients, warm gelatin to liquid stage for a few minutes, then let it set again to the right consistency. On the other hand, if you're in a hurry to get gelatin to thicken, set bowl in a larger bowl of ice and water.

PREVENT STICKING

If cookies stick to the cookie sheet and are difficult to remove, quickly run the sheet over a top burner, or return to the oven for a moment.

DID YOU KNOW?

There is no such thing as absolutely pure drinking water.

FOR TOPPING

For an easy ice cream sauce, combine 1 package of chocolate pudding and pie filling (use the cooked pudding, not the instant) with ½ cup sugar and 1 cup water in a saucepan. Place over low heat; cook and stir until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat; add butter. Serve warm or cold on ice cream.

TO UNMOLD

When a gelatin mold won't unmold, loosen around edge with the tip of a sharp knife. Then dip mold in bowl of hot water for a moment. Place plate over mold, invert and shake. Try again, if necessary.

The Farmer In The Dell

By Rex Boyles

It was planting time. The sun would come up early and poke his finger through my bedroom window right into my eyes. Right about then I would hear footsteps down the hall. Daddy would be right there with his, "Alright! Let's roll 'em!" (That can sure ruin your plans for sleeping late on a Saturday.)

I would crawl out of bed, into my work clothes, out the back door, out to the barn, and on to the tractor. The air was a little cool, but there was that gentle warm glow from the sun that makes it springtime. I got another, "Let's roll 'em!" from the boss, cranked the tractor, and headed toward the field. When I got there, I checked my seed, set my planter, heard my final, "Let's roll 'em!", and went to planting.

As I rolled through the field, about all I could do was make sure the seeds were dropping and that the tractor stayed on the right row. (Don't ask my Dad about that latter one.) When the seed was finally planted, I could not even do that much.

Anxious to see the fruit of my labor I would go by the field every day, scratch at the soil, and even cheerlead "two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar, if my maize doesn't come up, I'm gonna holler!"

There was nothing I could do though. I did not think of it much then but when you work with soil, seed, and the seasons, you are placing confidence in God, in His word.

He said in the beginning that each seed would bear fruit after its own kind. We reap what we sow. We want corn, so we plant corn. We depend on that.

Whether we admit it or not, know it or not, understand it or not; if we farm, invest or just live we are depending on God's word on that "reap-sow" principle. Now farmers, businessmen, or anyone else reading . . . since you are trusting God's word with your seed, why not entrust Him with your soul . . . since you are depending on God's word for your livelihood, why not depend on Him for your life . . . Rex.

you can BANK on it!

By Kenneth Burgess
Olton State Bank

Where do you keep your money? In a cookie jar? Between book pages? Stuffed inside mattresses? In the sugar bowl?

It sounds trite, but ask yourself how many times you've tucked money under the paper in a dresser drawer or put it "someplace thieves never would think of looking." That's usually where they DO look. And even if thieves don't get it, why trust your own memory? If you hide money in an obscure place, you can easily forget what you did with it.

It isn't unusual to read newspaper accounts of surviving family members finding their bachelor uncle or brother or sister had stashed thousands of dollars into cans in the basement or stuffed rolled bills into pillow cases in the attic.

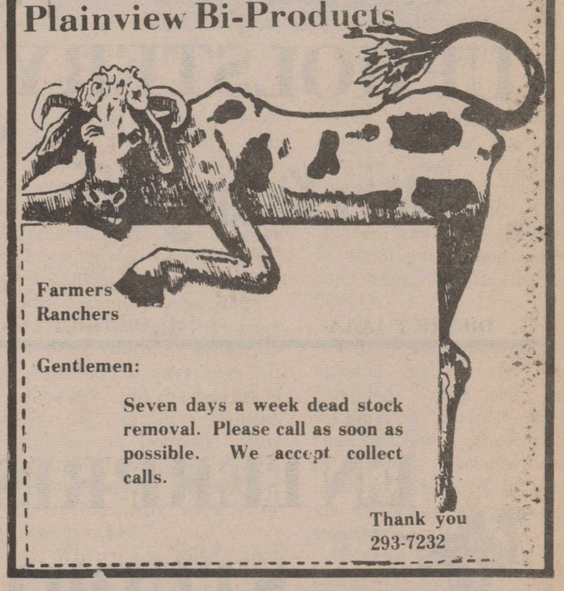

Protect your savings - the money you've worked hard for - by putting it into a savings account that will earn YOU interest and not the interest of someone else. There aren't very many sugar bowls or dresser drawers with time locks on them.

"The more you know about our business, the more we can help you!"
