Crowd moves inside for Tree lighting event

Twelve people can away a little richer from the community tree lighting event held at the Mitchell County courthouse Thursday night as names were drawn for $355 in cash.

Winners in the drawing for students grades 12 and under were Nikki Findley, $10; Richie Parras, $10; Sarah Lawson, $10; Robbie Parras, $10; Cody Loving, $10; Jason Costilla, $10; Tracy Hoover, $20; Norma Guerrero, $20; and Elias Mendoza, $30.

Winners in the adult division were Sara Ortiz, $50; Ray Mayo, $75; and Ruben Parras, $100.

Persons had to be present to win.

The cold and icy weather forced most of the activities to be held inside the courthouse lobby. County Judge Bill Carter led the group in caroling with Golda Redwine at the piano. The Colorado High School band, under the direction of David Shelton, played a medley of Christmas tunes.

Jim Baum was master of ceremonies and later went outside to turn on the lights of the living Christmas tree planted on the front courthouse lawn.

Judge Carter gave the welcoming. Also on the program were Rev. Ernest Bailey, pastor of Oak Street Baptist Church, and Dr. Jim Ramsey, superintendent of schools.

Santa Claus arrived at the end of the program to visit with the children.

Chairman of the third annual "Colorado City - Christmas Country!" was Joan Beach.

TREE LIGHTING—Mayor Jim Baum was the only one to brave the 3-year-old living Christmas tree lighting Thursday as the crowd moved indoors to the County Courthouse lobby for the annual season event.

Icy, cold weather hits area

The season's first wintery blast moved into Colorado City and Mitchell County Wednesday night, bringing sleet, light snow, and sub-freezing temperatures.

The small amount of precipitation, the first since September, was welcomed, but the conditions did shut down the last of the cotton harvest, and slippery streets and highways caused numerous traffic accidents during the day Thursday. The local Highway Patrolmen were called to about seven different weather-related mishaps. Most were jackknifed trucks or cars sliding into the bar ditches, but there was one rollover and some reported injuries just west of Mitchell County on IH20. A Mitchell County Ambulance broken down while enroute to the scene.

In town there were numerous reports of cars sliding into each other, into guard rails or unable to backout of parking places, but only one bad enough to report to the police. All schools remained in session Thursday and Friday, but classes were started about two hours late Friday at Loraine. Most events remained on schedule, but the annual Tree Lighting ceremony and program at the Courthouse Thursday evening was moved inside. There was one main water line break at 15th and Eastover that required repair by City crews Friday morning.

FROM THE SCRIPTURES— "...Make sweet melody, sing many songs, that you may be remembered." Isaiah 23:16

* * *

It was indeed sad to hear the news of singer/songwriter Roy Orbison's death from a heart attack last week. It wasn't long ago, after a visit with Cornfed Fred Crawford, that I wrote about our mutual acquaintance with Orbison. I watched Orbison grow up in Wink, and remember him, at age 11 or 12 years, sitting on a drug store counter stool singing and playing his guitar for customers. He learned to play the guitar at age 8 and wrote his first song at 14, and formed his first band, the Wink Westerners, while still in Wink High School. Cornfed was first to put him on the air over a Kermit radio station. Orbison, always dressed in black with dark sunglasses, went on to have a fabulously successful career in the music business. Like Elvis, he had a distinctive, unique voice, that spanned three octaves. At one time he had some 27 of his songs on the popularity charts, and had sold more than 30 million records.

Gene Dow

But he did have several tragedies in his life. His wife was killed in a motorcycle accident and later his two small children died in a house fire. He had undergone multiple heart bypass surgery nearly ten years ago.

Most will remember him for his more popular songs like "Oh, Pretty Woman" and "Only the Lonely" and "Crying", but I'll remember him by one of his earliest rock 'n roll tunes, "Oobie Doobie".

One of my first "attention-getters" in this corner was my sure-cure preventative for AIDS. Since that time billions have been spent in research and education. So far research hasn't come up with a cure and I'm not at all sure that education is working.

Just the other day, a youngster came home from school and his mother asked him what he had learned that day.

"Oh, just readin', writin' and stuff", he replied.

"Nothing new?" she asked.

"Well, some woman did come in and tell us about AIDS," he said.

Now she was quite curious, "And what did they tell you about AIDS?"

"Just be careful at intersections and buy lots of condominiums", he replied.

Every Thursday afternoon I take time to go by the city pound at Mitchell County Veterinary Clinic to take a picture of the "Pound Puppy" of the week in hopes that by running a picture in the newspaper, someone will adopt the puppy or kitten or whatever happens to need a home at the time.

Usually, Thursday afternoons also are spent writing this column.

As I write this particular column, I have already been to the pound and half asleep on my desk is a yellow and white kitten. She and her brothers and sisters along with a few other kittens are this week's pound "puppies".

This kitten, unnamed as yet although several of my co-workers keep calling it "Punkin" because of her color, seemed to adopt me as Charlie Froneberger and I tried to keep the kittens inside their cage with the door open in order to take their picture - no easy task with a cage full of kittens.

"Take her home with you if you want to," Charlie told me with a grin on his face.

"Our cat at home might not like another one around," I reply, as the kitten clings to me.

Rascals, the alley-type cat we brought home from a pet store last year, is what you might call a rather aggressive cat. She's also stubborn and can be less than agreeable at times. If she were a human, she could be described as arrogant and stuck-up. As a cat, I suppose she could be referred to as what some call a female dog.

Charlie, knowing my weakness for animals, particularly puppies and kittens, tells me if not completely satisfied, I can bring back the still-clinging kitten.

"Well, if we can't keep her, maybe I can find someone who will give her a good home," I reason to myself.

After work...

I introduce the kitten to my wife, Janet, who's finishing up another day teaching school. I ask several of her fellow teachers if they would like a kitten.

"No thanks," they tell me.

We take the kitten home and she and I and Jeffrey, our 12 year old, take turns holding her.

But she was not completely welcomed at home with open arms. Rascals the cat keeps hissing and running from her. The two dogs seem to be snubbing her, also. So far, there's been no physical violence.

The next day...

"We ARE going to keep her, aren't we?" Jeffrey asks as he gets ready for school.

"Why don't we keep her through the weekend and see how it goes?" my wife asks as she leaves for work.

Rascals is still hissing. The dogs are still being snobbish.

The kitten is still playful, cute and cuddly.

It should be an interesting weekend.

Dear Walker,

I've been lying on the floor reading Mike Cochran's epic research effort on the Railey family.

I lie on the floor to relax because, for me, it's more comfortable. I suppose I have a peculiar bone structure that makes hard surfaces feel comfortable, but then, we all have our peculiarities, don't we?

You'll be glad to know, Mike has done his usual splendid job of gathering the facts and putting them into focus for his readers. And the AP completed the package by sending across the wire a colored picture of you in your element at the First United Methodist Church in Dallas.

One of the problems with reading while lying on the side of one's head, Walker, is that sometimes you see double vision, like the two identical Walker Railey's in front of me. It makes me think about all the times you must have spent seeing two, or more, Walker Railey's.

One, I'd guess, is the God warrior, speaking behind a pulpit at age 17. The other is the man who found his wife in a vegetable-like state in the garage of his home one night, the man who was having an affair with another woman, the man who abandoned his comatose wife and two kids in short order to run off with the other woman, the man whose alibi on the night of the assault is filled with disturbing inconsistencies.

Most of us think you tried to murder Peggy, Rev. Railey. We can't prove it, of course. But we think you typed, or had typed, those notes which threatened you and your family because of your outspoken remarks from the pulpit on racism. We think after a week of standing by your wife's bedside, you couldn't take it anymore, and attempted to kill yourself.

"There is a demon inside my soul," you wrote. "It has always been there. My demon tries to lead me down paths I do not want to follow. At times that demon has lured me into doing things I do not want to do. "...My demon has finally gotten the upper hand."

Those are your words, Walker. The same kind of excuse-making words your exact pulpit opposites - Bakker and Swaggert - used to explain away their indiscretions after they got caught cheating awhile back.

Let's look at those words. You say there is a demon inside your soul. If you hadn't become so self-possessed, you'd remember we all fight the same demons, Walker.

You say this demon tries to lead you down paths you don't wish to follow. But a man chooses his own paths. Why can't you guys be man enough to admit you made the decisions that altered your lives - not some intangible beast that grabbed hold of your collective mind when you weren't looking and forced you - against all your rightous will - to do things you didn't really care to do?

You wanted to do it, Walker. You wanted to have an affair. You even enjoyed it up to a point. Otherwise you'd never have gotten involved. You know that.

This doesn't make you unique - even among the clergy. It makes you human, though, and therein lies the problem, don't you think?

Once again a member of the clergy has started out to serve God and concluded by impersonating him. Every Sunday you had a membership approaching 6,000 who swarmed to see you. To listen to you. To confess to you, to laugh and to cry in your arms.

When the human feelings occasionally surfaced, - because after all, you were only an impersonator - you went to pieces, Walker. When you had to admit to yourself that you were as human as the rest of us, you wrote that pathetic note. It was as if to say, "If I can't be Bad, I won't be anything at all."

Once they pumped your stomach, you had second thoughts about survival. You sold your fashionable North Dallas home, left your kids with another couple, signed responsibility for your wife over to your in-laws, then headed for California to be with your girlfriend.

Because there were no eyewitnesses, it appears you will not be tried for this attempted murder. I think you got away with it, Walker, but we can't be sure. That son of yours may yet have something to say.

Or maybe someday you'll stop pinning your dark side on the devil, accept it as a part of your human makeup and deal with it responsibly like most adults. Maybe then the other Walker Railey can provide some conclusive answers to this tragedy.

Until then, think about Peggy lying in that bed, Walker - and know that her misfortune - tragic though it may be - is mild compared to your own.

Letters to the editor

Great welcome

TO THE EDITOR:

A million thanks for the great reception and the warm welcome home. I wish each of you could have heard Dale say, "That's my buddy," "they are my people," and I'm so glad to be home. It is really a nice feeling to know so many people in Colorado City are concerned about Dale and I. We do love Colorado City and all of you who make it so special.

Dallas is a large city, with many places to go, places to eat and things to buy, but most of the people working here at Baylor Institution for Rehabilitation and Baylor Medical Center just can't even dream of what it is like to have such a warm welcome by so many friends who care so much. Believe me, they have missed so much in life not to be able to experience the love of "true friends" such as you.

I was also quite honored when I saw all the students (my kids); teachers, and staff from CHS waiting and waving to greet us. Thanks so much for the signs, smiles, cards and concerns! I really do love you and I'm so proud of you.

Thanks again for all your prayers, cards, letters, visits, phone calls, the blood drive and the wonderful welcome home.

Thanks: Margaret Cawthron, Dr. Bennett, Mother and Daddy, Charles, Phil, Misty and Kimberly; the class of Mrs. Ellis for the cards; Colorado City Police Department, Sheriff's Office, Fire Department and Highway Patrol.

Thanks Colorado City friends,
Love,
Dale and Linda Mathis

Students Against Driving Drunk chapter formed

Sixty five Colorado High School students attended an organizational meeting Friday of Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD).

Charter members of the chapter are Mendy Conner, Kendra Ritchey and Tammy Loving.

Officers elected were Dane Hoover, president; Debbie Gardner, vice president; Shelia Monroe, secretary; Marlyn Kay, treasurer; and Brittany Bridgford, public relations officer.

The organization will meet once a month and will sponsor various activities involving the school and community.

Founded in Wayland, Mass. by Robert Anastas in 1981, SADD is dedicated to addressing the problem of drinking and driving among America's young people. In the past four years, the program has grown from a single chapter to a national organization which has reached over 3 million high school and college students nationwide.

SADD educates students about the risks associated with drinking and driving and helps them to become aware of the problem as it exists on the local, state and national levels.

SADD's goals are to:

- help eliminate the drunk driver and save lives;
- alert and inform students of the dangers of drunk driving;
- help students deal with the peer pressure which too often promotes reckless and drunken driving, and;
- organize a peer counseling program to help students who may have concerns about alcohol.

As part of the SADD program, the students of Colorado High have pledged to themselves, their parents and their community to become active in the fight to eliminate this major cause of injury and death.

Wolves in Pit debut

Wolves and Lions will battle here Tuesday night when Colorado High School varsity basketball teams make their home debut at the Pit by hosting Roby. The four contests at the middle school gym begin with a 4 p.m. junior varsity girls contest. Following, in order, will be a JV boys game and a varsity girls contest prior to a boys varsity game.

The varsity boys, who were to have played at Lubbock's Reese Air Force base tournament Thursday through Saturday, dropped to 3-3 for the year with a 61-56 loss at Merkel Tuesday. The Lady Wolves, who were scheduled for an Ozona tournament over the weekend, dropped to 2-3 with a 59-32 loss to the Badgers.

"We played awful," said Wolves coach Chuck Claxton. "The kids played hard but we just couldn't buy a basket. We shot 33 percent in the first half and 31 percent in the second half. We missed inside and outside. Merkel played good man-to-man defense. They played it the whole game. They took away our outside shots and we didn't work it inside like we should have. I hope the kids will learn from this and recognize defenses and go to the weak point."

The Wolves led 17-15 after one period and 32-30 at halftime but Merkel took a 47-43 lead after three periods.

Scoring for the Wolves were Dane Hoover 19, Bubba Bailey 10, Chris Perkin 9, Mark Russell 8, Pat Ridge 6, George Rivera 2 and Dennis Smith 2.

For Merkel were Kenneth Jowers 19, Griffin 17, Adkins 10, Toombs 7, Walsh 4, Toombs 2 and Bauer 2.

Roby, who hosted a tournament over the weekend, improved to 5-1 with a 66-63 Tuesday night victory over the previously undefeated Ballinger Bearcats, also 5-1. Colorado City lost to Ballinger 75-59 in the Wolves season opener at Ballinger.

The only loss for the Lions was a double-overtime setback against Hawley. Roby has also defeated Roscoe, Hamlin, Robert Lee and Aspermont.

The Wolves, third place winners at a Coahoma tournament, have beaten Stanton, Stamford and Coahoma and lost to Ballinger and Midland Greenwood.

"We're pretty good," said Roby coach Mickey McCarty. "We're small but quick and have some good shooters. Our tallest kid is about six feet. I'm not sure we start a six footer."

Colorado City has been running also but will have an edge in height Tuesday.

McCarty said Carter Edmondson (20 ppg.), Jerry Carrion (19 ppg.) and Rick Onofre "are three pretty good players. We're a running team and play man to man on defense. We like to press and get up the floor."

McCarty, in his 12th year at Roby, said "It's one of our better teams but we're lacking a little bit in depth. We're not as quick as we've been. We've never played Colorado City before. We've been in the same tournaments but haven't played. It will be good to play a bigger school, especially at their place. I hope the team doesn't get intimidated."

The Lady Wolves "just couldn't stop Merkel's big girl" Tuesday night, said coach Wayne Alexander. Merkel led 19-9 after one period, 27-12 at halftime and 45-22 after three periods. "They're not bad," said Alexander. "They're pretty good size. We just didn't play very well. We shot very poorly (13 of 68)."

Colorado City, 2-3, made 6 of 12 free throws. Scoring were Sheila Monroe 13, Monica Hamilton 4, Brittany Bridgford 3, Cami Redwine 3, Pat Molina 3, Denise Lowrance 2, Mendy Conner 2 and Joann Ornelas 2.

Rebounders were Lowrance 8, Monroe 7, Bridgford 5 and Priscilla Mays 5. Redwine made 3 assists and the team made 15 turnovers.

For Merkel, 8 of 14 from the line, were "big girl" Lucas 19, Whiz 2, Hellums 19, Bohanna 8, Doan 6, Goldsmith 1, Harrison 2 and Bentley 2.

Roby and Colorado City also have a common opponent in girls play. Colorado City began the season with 53-49 win over Ballinger while the Lady Lions, 4-3, beat the Bearcats 75-53.

The Lions have also beaten Aspermont, Hamlin and Robert Lee while losing to Roscoe, Stamford and Wylie. "We lost to them (Wylie) by 35," said first year coach John Curry. "It was a game we really shouldn't have played. They're a couple of leagues better than us but I wasn't disappointed."

"Our team's kind of like the boys," said Curry. "We try to run when we can. We press full court most of the game if we can but we fall into a zone and run different variations off of different zones. We don't have the quickness to press the whole game."

Bulldog boys win

The Loraine Bulldogs survived a late fourth quarter comeback by the Grady Wildcats to win 74-71 in a boys basketball contest at home Tuesday night.

Tommy Meredith's ball club place all five starters in double figures in the contest. It was one of the best games played by the Bulldogs this season. "It was a good team effort," said Meredith. "It was the most points scored by a Loraine basketball team in sometime."

The Grady Wildcats won the opening jump but the Bulldogs brought down the rebound and quickly stunned Grady by building a 20-9 lead. The Cats came right back to score 7 unanswered points to trail by only four after the first quarter.

Grady gained the lead with 4:30 left in the second period, 30-29, but LHS came back with a layup by Shawn Finley. The Wildcats took the lead once again with 1:00 left in the first half but the Bulldogs tied the score at halftime 38-38 on a Luis Leija basket.

The teams traded baskets in the third quarter, but LHS came out ahead by four going into the final period.

The Wildcats tied the ballgame up at 58-58 with 6:10 left to go in the contest. Leija put LHS up by four with 3:12 to go. This lead would stand up despite a valiant effort by Grady. The Bulldogs are now 2-2 on the season.

Scoring for Loraine were Casey Cooper 16 and Finley, Ruben Vasquez, Luis Leija and Anthony Williams each had 14. Steve Crawford added 2 points, Williams 19 rebounds and 9 as-

Botts, Wildcats hold off Cardinals

The Westbrook Wildcats swept the Hermleigh Cardinals in varsity basketball games in Wildcat gym Tuesday night. Westbrook's boys team upped it's record to 5-3 with a 56-45 victory while the Wildcat girls edged Hermleigh 37-34 for a 2-6 record.

Sherry Putman led the Westbrook girls with 11 points. Westbrook led 11-8 after one period, 21-18 at halftime and 29-27 after three periods.

Also scoring for Westbrook were Glenda Wallace 8, Chrystal Kelly 6, Elizabeth Wright 4, Stephanie Matlock 4, Jeran Ware 2 and Linda Cantu 2.

Smith scored 14 to lead Hermleigh.

The Westbrook boys also led all the way. The Wildcats held a 17-10 lead after one period, a 28-26 lead at halftime and a 40-35 lead going into the final period.

"It went pretty good," said coach Jim Hill. "It was real close until the very last. It was 40-35 after three periods. We just made things happen with the press some. Botts (Bubba) had ten points in the fourth period. He's our weakside post at 5'9"."

Botts finished with 20 points. Also scoring were Marty Browne 19, Scooter Hines 10, Spencer Cannon 4 and Luis Aguinaga 3.

Felix Martinez led the Cardinals with 17.

Grady beats Loraine girls

The Lady Bulldogs of Loraine led the Grady Wildcats by five going into the final period of their contest here Tuesday night but it slipped away as Grady defeated LHS 48-41.

"We played a good ballgame tonight," said coach Jackie McNew. "We got good shots, but went cold in the fourth quarter. We went four minutes without scoring. That was the difference in the ballgame, we went from three points ahead to six behind."

The Bulldogs kept it close after trailing at the end of the first period 14-12. They quickly took the lead on Michi Atkins layup with 6:46 to go in the first half, but the Lady Cats tied it right back on the next trip down the floor. A technical foul on Grady allowed LHS to regain the lead 26-22 at halftime.

Loraine kept the pressure on the Wildcats with good defense and outside shooting by Michelle Garcia who scored six of her eight points in the third quarter. The Bulldogs would lead going into the fourth quarter, 36-31.

Home Economics

FOCUS

by LIBBI GARNETT
County Extension Agent

The Christmas season always brings to mind home and family and the memories that we have from Christmas experiences in our childhoods. As a home economist, I see a great deal of research done on ways to improve the quality of life and family living. Some of our greatest problems can be solved by truly considering the other person and their situations. Some of our greatest joys are gained by truly seeking the peace and understanding that is generally associated with the Christmas season.

The following poem was shared with me when I was working in the Washington, D.C. area. Its message is significant here in the Big Country of West Texas where we have as much diversity and interest as anywhere. The poem was written by B.J. Wright, a family day-care provided in Brighton, Mass. Hope you enjoy it.

Can Santa Be Black?

It happened in the kindergarten class,
Right at the table where they were having snack.
Joanie asked the question and they all sat back:
"Mr. Slater? Can Santa Claus be black?"

Poor Mr. Slater didn't know what to say.
Christmas vacation was twenty days away.
There were snowflakes to cut and
Window wreaths to be hung,
Christmas cards to be painted,
And Christmas songs to be sung.

He hadn't time to think
What Christmas was about,
In twenty more days,
School would be out!

Why couldn't they wait
And ask their questions then,
When mommies and daddies
Were home to answer them?

"Mr. Slater, Can Santa be thin?"
"Is Santa Claus always a him?"

Mr. Slater looked at twenty pairs of eyes,
Twenty children of every shape and size.
He ate a bit of cracker and finished his drink.
"Children," he said,
"I'll need some time to think."

As soon as class was over,
He ran down the hall,
Skidded 'round a corner,
Crashed into a wall.
Ran up the steps to the second floor,
Rapped on the window of the principal's door.

"Ms. Frazer, Ms. Frazer, what can I do?
The children asked these questions
That now I ask of you:
'Can Santa Claus be black?'
'Can Santa Claus be thin?'
'Does Santa Claus always have to be a him?'"

"Mr. Slater, it's a difficult task
To find answers to the questions you ask.
I think with these I'll need some assistance.
But I'll get you the answers with a little persistence."

Ms. Frazer turned in her swivel chair,
Picked up the phone and dialed Mr. Dare
Mr. Dare was the head of the P.T.A.
He called for a meeting the very next day.

"Thank you for coming."
He began with a greeting.
"I'd like to get right to the point of this meeting.
Mr. Slater, in charge of the kindergarten class,
Needs the answers to some questions
And he needs them real fast."

"'Can Santa be black?'
"'Can Santa be thin?'
"'Does Santa always have to be a him?'"

The parents didn't know what to say.
Christmas vacation was nineteen days away.
There were cookies to bake and lights to string.
Gifts to wrap and carols to sing.

They hadn't time to think
What Christmas was about.
In nineteen more days,
School would be out!
Why did children have to ask questions when Parents had no time to sit and answer them?
"Well, parents?
Are there any suggestions?
Do we have any answers
To these difficult questions?"

"Who knows best
What Christmas is about?
Let's ask Santa!"
Someone called out in a shout.

The secretary of the P.T.A.
Sent a letter to Santa the very next day.
They reply came back, very, very fast,
Addressed to Mr. Slater
And the kindergarten class.

Dear Mr. Slater, Dear Girls, Dear Boys,
Once a storywriter caught me bringing you toys.
The year he spied me opening my sack,
my skin was white, my boots were black.
You probably know how that story goes...
I laid a finger aside my nose?
All these years, needlessly,
that story worries children who don't have a chimney.
All year long I listen to the news,
read people's thoughts, see people's views.
At the end of the year, when I see what's needed most,
I take the shape, like a Christmas ghost.
I can pass through keyholes, windows and locks,
apartment buildings, hospitals, tents and trailer lots.
One year I used a wheelchair in place of my sleigh,
Once I was blind and had to feel my way.
It's hard to understand when I don't leave a toy:
you can't unwrap a gift like hope or health or joy.
My skin has been black, white, yellow, red, brown;
my eyes have been slanted, crossed and round.
Sometimes I have been a she:
all these things are a part of me.
You may not believe all this is true,
but that's OK, boys and girls, because...
I believe in you.

The Thanksgiving Season has passed and it is once again time to turn our thoughts toward Christmas and the theme that goes along with Christmas. We think of Christmas as the time that our Saviour was born. The time when God gave us His only begotten son, the greatest gift that could have been given to anyone. This precious gift, Jesus Christ, is still being offered to whosoever. Did you know that you are a whosoever? John 3:16 states that whosoever believes in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. This is a precious gift. One that can't be bought with money, merits, or good reputation. Since God loved us so much and gave us this gift, don't you suppose He would like for us to have a giving spirit? I think it pleases the Father when we give to others and share with others the things God has blessed us with. There is an organization in town that represents all the churches in town called Helping Hand. During this Christmas season Helping Hand is making an appeal to the community to help others this Christmas. If you would like to be a part of this effort you can bring canned goods to the banks of this community and they will be picked up from the banks by Helping Hand and distributed out in Christmas baskets to the needy and those who might be out of work. If you have never partcipated in anything like this, try it, you will be pleased at the satisfaction it brings to your life. May the God of peace bring you the peace of God this Christmas is our prayer!
