Martin Dies Predicts Outbreak Of Sabotage In U. S.

Texan Declares Agents Are In Key Industries

Saboteurs Await Time To Strike Defense Plans

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18.—Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex) today predicted an outbreak shortly of a series of "sabotage incidents" like "the recent Hercules powder explosion in New Jersey" unless the federal government takes active steps at once.

"Foreign governments have placed agents and saboteurs in every key industry and unless the government acts within 30 days I predict a series of actual sabotage that will cripple the whole national defense program," the chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities asserted in an interview.

Told Of Plans Year Ago.

The Hercules powder explosion was not the first of the destruction planned. Everyone laughed when a man named Van Hess, former bund official, testified before our committee more than a year ago about plans to blow up the Hercules company.

"A full record was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. When the plant blew up last month, it happened in the way Van Hess said it would."

Referred To State Department.

The husky Texan said his committee had collected a vast amount of "evidence of improper activities" on the part of German Italian and Russian consuls and agents in the United States, much of which has been referred to the state departments.

"We got some extremely important new information just a couple weeks ago in New York. The evidence seems conclusive that many foreign government representatives have been violating treaty rights accorded them, and action must be taken. The issue is squarely up to the state

Dust Bowl Said Moving South

By The Associated Press

WACO, Oct. 18 — The center of the dust bowl has swung to the southern part of the Southern Great Plains this year although the area as a whole is in less danger of severe blowing than it has been in several years, the Southern Great Plains agricultural council said here today in its quarterly report.

"The area of cropland and pasture land in condition to blow is the smallest it has been in many years," the report said. "The decline is especially pronounced in Oklahoma, Colorado and Arkansas. An increased acreage is in condition to blow in Texas and New Mexico compared with last year because of unfavorable conditions for the establishment of stands of sorghums and wheat."

Annual Rainfall Shifts.

Shifts in annual rainfall was said to have resulted in the Southern movement. Last year rainfall was light in Kansas and Colorado. This year the same thing was true of the southern part of the belt. Adequate rainfall resulted in a good cover of crop residues, wheat and weeds in the northern section. Local areas

British Cruiser Ajax Ready To Battle Again

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 18, (AP)—Her dead buried and her scars patched, the British cruiser Ajax stood ready with steam up and guns primed tonight to take up where she left off in last Saturday's victorious encounter with the Italian navy in the Mediterranean.

Already twice a hero in this war—against the Italians and in the River Platte battle which sent the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee to self-destruction—the 6,985-ton Ajax appeared as good as new when repair crews completed their task today.

The bustle around the Ajax was duplicated abroad numerous other British men-of-war lying in Alexandria harbor, indicating that the Mediterranean fleet might soon be on the prowl again.

WPA Vote Intimidated By Demo Leaders, Charge Says

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A charge that WPA officials were "conspiring" to "deliver" the relief vote for President Roosevelt was made before the Senate campaign investigating committee today, and was followed by a WPA announcement that all its workers would be reminded that they were free to vote as they pleased.

The conspiracy charge came from three New York union leaders, Richard N. McKibben, representing the Workers Alliance; William Levner, president of the WPA teachers union of New York City (AFL); and Daniel Koerner, of the United American Artists union (CIO).

Intimidation Charged.

McKibben testified that "Democratic wardheelers, vast armies of investigators and spies, and large sections of the administrative apparatus of WPA have been enlisted to intimidate Republicans, former Roosevelt supporters and voters for the various minority parties into supporting Roosevelt."

Koerner offered similar testimony, and Levner declared that there had been "an unparalleled campaign of intimidation, espionage and persecution" of WPA workers by a "special WPA police force known as 'The Guard.'"

Without making any reference to the Senate hearings, Howard O. Hunter, acting WPA commissioner, announced that a letter was being sent to each WPA worker advising that "voting is your own business."

Interpretation Of Act Is Denounced

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP) — The Democratic high command's interpretation of the Hatch "clean politics" act, which National Chairman Edward J. Flynn said "speaks for itself," was denounced today by Republican leaders as "strongly hinting of intimidation" of federal employes.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, jr., Republican national chairman, declared that the Democratic strategists had "put more than 1,000,000 federal employes on notice that they are expected to stand and deliver to the Democratic third term treasury, 'or else.'"

Declared Ruthless Bluff.

He termed a "cold blooded, ruthless bluff," a letter and accompanying opinions sent to Democratic workers regarding their activities as they are affected by the Hatch act.

Flynn, at his press conference, was asked specifically about a letter received by Democratic workers in Minneapolis which indicated they could obtain support, financial and otherwise and still be within the

John B. Bentley Dies Late Friday Night

John Barton (Dad) Bentley, 74, of 720 Avenue M died at 11:35 o'clock Friday night in the residence after an illness of several weeks of a malignant ailment.

He was the father of Lloyd Bentley, Lubbock city fireman of 718 Avenue M, and Elmer A. Bentley, who had resided with the parents since his father became ill.

Mr. Bentley had lived in Lubbock since 1923 and until last July 1 had been engaged in construction work. He came here from Navarro county.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Central Baptist church with Rev. W. B. Wages, Morton Baptist minister, officiating, assisted by Rev. Floyd Dawson, pastor of the Foursquare church. Sanders Funeral home will direct burial in Lubbock cemetery.

Surviving are the wife, three other sons, Arthur L. of Bartlett, H. D. of Muleshoe and C. B. of Hermleigh; a daughter, Mrs. F. W. Cowan of Los Angeles, Calif., and nine grandchildren.

Bearers will be J. B. Maxey, Robert Maxey, Charles Byers, Louie Huneke, Tom Wages and Wilbur Lemon.

Communists Ruled Off New Mexico Ballot

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 18, (AP) — Secretary of State Jessie Gonzales today withdrew the Communist party emblem from the New Mexico ballot on advice of the attorney general's office.

The Communist party, Assistant Attorney General A. M. Fernandez advised the secretary of state, had failed to file its party rules as required by law.

Maryland Republicans Raise Clamor For Debate Between Roosevelt And Willkie

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18.—Prospects that President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie both would make campaign speeches in Baltimore, Oct. 30 raised a clamor from Maryland Republicans tonight for a formal "debate."

Democratic leaders immediately discounted any chance of the president and the Republican presidential nominee meeting and even observed that it would be more "suitable" if the candidates spoke on different nights.

FDR Might Switch.

Willkie's address will climax a one-day Maryland tour which includes a brief train speech at Cumberland. It was arranged some time ago.

The president's plans which the White House said today might involve switching an Oct. 30 address from Washington to Baltimore, still were not definitely determined. However, informed at his press conference of the possible clash of speaking dates, Mr. Roosevelt said that was good.

May Accept Challenge.

W. David Thighman, jr., Republican state chairman, promptly asserted that "perhaps the president is breaking down at last and accepting Mr. Willkie's challenge to debate."

"I hope it will be possible to get them both on the same platform," he added.

Truman B. Cash, state Democratic chairman, demurred. Cash said "we'd rather get different nights" on grounds "a lot of voters would like to hear both candidates."

Village's Record On Volunteers Is Kept

MORLEY, Tenn., Oct. 18, (AP) — Willie Booth joined the army today and kept intact this mountain village's record of sending every eligible male into military service as a volunteer.

Willie tried to join several months ago but was rejected because of his age. Since then he has celebrated his eighteenth birthday.

He was the twenty-sixth youth to enlist from Morley, which has a population of some two-score families.

PRICE GOES HIGHER

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18, (AP) — Theodore Carver, who objected strenuously last night to paying ten cents each for four bowls of Philadelphia pepperpot, a soup, was convicted today of disturbing the peace and fined $10 or $2.50 a bowl.

Falsifications Cited By FDR

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. — Accusing his opposition of "systematic" and "deliberate falsification of fact," President Roosevelt announced today he would reply in a series of political speeches to be delivered in the populous East, and in Ohio, before election day.

As part of the travelling involved, he told a press conference, he plans to make a series of defense inspection tours, similar to the several of the recent past. But, he added in a voice heavy with sarcasm, for the benefit of people whose ethics differed from his own the defense tours would be paid for by the Democratic national committee because there would be some political speeches during the trips.

Itinerary Is Announced.

He did not, himself detail his itinerary, but, supplementing an announcement made yesterday by Chairman Edward J. Flynn of the National committee, White House attaches said that, tentatively, it involved:

A speech on Oct. 23 at Convention hall, Philadelphia, where Wendell L. Willkie received the Republican presidential nomination, and as part of the trip an inspection of the nearby Frankford arsenal and the shipbuilding yards across the Delaware river in Camden, N. J.

A mass meeting address in Madison Square garden, New York City, on Oct. 28, with visits to the Kearny, N. J., shipyards and the Brooklyn Navy yard, and, possibly, a speech

Things Not So Rosy In Germany As Nazis Try To Make You Believe, Consul Avers

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON, Oct. 18—Things in Germany aren't as rosy as the Nazi government would have the world think, Carols Meissner, jr., former Brazilian consul in Frankfort, Germany, said here today.

Meissner, in Houston to set up the city's first Brazilian consulate, told of 20 bombing raids on Frankfort before he left the city in July.

In one raid—on June 3—the British dropped 400 bombs on Frankfort, which has a population of 500,000, he said.

He told about another raid in which the government announced there were 10 casualties. The people, the consul declared, said the casualties numbered 150.

This difference in figures, he said, would hold true in most cases.

The damage to German cities by enemy air raids is quickly covered up, Meissner said. Soldiers form a guard and prohibit persons from inspecting bomb damage. The people are

British Barrage Scatters Nazi Aerial Raiders

London Suffers 42nd Straight Night Bombing

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 19. (Saturday) — Low-hanging clouds and a roaring barrage of anti-aircraft fire took the steam out of the 42nd consecutive Nazi night air raid on London early today and the all-clear signal shrilled several hours before dawn.

Another alarm was sounded shortly before dawn, but there was no sight or sound of further activity.

Last night, in the face of defensive fire so heavy that it appeared the guns were being loaded and fired on the recoil, the Germans struck at the city singly from different directions.

Weather Is Aid, Too.

The Germans spread out, too, all over the United Kingdom, causing casualties in the London area and elsewhere.

The weather steadily thickened, however, and lulls became longer and more frequent, until finally the "raiders passed" signal sounded.

Eighteen high explosive bombs were dropped on one area of a west midlands industrial town; anti-aircraft guns drove off a plane attacking a northeast England town; and raiders were reported over towns in Wales, and southwest and northwest England.

Grease Bombs Dropped.

A "stick" of oil bombs fell in one London area shortly after the night's raid started but residents of the neighborhood said they did nothing but cover the section with thick black grease.

Three Royal Air force men and a member of the RAF women's auxiliary were among six persons killed when a high explosive bomb hit one London district. An elementary school, a workmen's club and a number of shops and houses were damaged badly.

In many outer London areas it was the quietest night for some time.

London thanked the dirty flying

Willkie Declares Socialism Issue

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 18. — Wendell L. Willkie asserted tonight that President Roosevelt had demonstrated he favored the establishment of "some form of state socialism in the United States."

Speaking without a prepared text in the state arsenal in his hometown of Abraham Lincoln, Willkie told an applauding crowd.

Declares Main Issue.

"The issue is whether America shall adopt a form of what might well be described as state socialism, or, if you prefer the term, state capitalism, or, if you wish to state it in a different way, state centralized government dominating the economic life of the people.

"Whether consciously or not, the third term candidate is in favor of establishing such a system of government in the United States."

The Republican presidential nominee said that even though Roosevelt might be sincere in his expressions favoring a system other than state socialism "that is what his policies lead to."

On The Negative Side.

"I am on the negative side of that question," he continued. "I know of no way to maintain the freedom of the individual under such a system.

"If you believe in the establishment of that kind of system, of state socialism, then you should follow the banner of the third term candidate.

WILLKIE TARGET AGAIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 18, (AP)—A tomato, a green pear, and an electric light bulb were thrown near Wendell L. Willkie's automobile tonight shortly after the Republican presidential nominee arrived here for an address.

The tomato fell in a reporter's car parked next to the candidate's at the railroad station while Willkie still was on the train. The other objects were thrown just as Mr. and Mrs. Willkie reached their car, but fell wide of the mark.

COST OF LIVING UP

NEW YORK, Oct. 19, (AP) — The cost of living for wage earners increased 5 to 1 per cent from August to September after declining for 2 months, the National Industrial conference board said today.

Increases in all major items such as food, rent and clothing, caused the rise.

Postoffice Robbery Gang Is Broken Up

A CONSPIRACY gang that in recent months has burglarized nine postoffices in three states has been broken up, federal and county officials from Abilene divulged here Friday night.

The arrest of four persons over the period of a week, the last two Friday morning in Seminole, brought the case near its solution.

C. S. Brown, United States deputy marshal, and George Bosley, deputy constable at Abilene, brought John Polk, 42, to Lubbock county jail for safekeeping. Polk and the other three persons are charged in federal district court at Abilene with burglary of all or some of the nine postoffices.

Two Held At Abilene.

Held in Taylor county jail are Clyde Davis, 29, and Raymond McAdams, 31, both ex-convicts. Davis is held under $2,000 bond and $5,000 bail was set by the U. S. commissioner for McAdams.

Polk, said by authorities to be a parole violator from El Reno, Okla., reformatory, is under $3,000 bond. With Polk, when he was arrested in Seminole by Bosley, was his wife. She was released on $250 bond, the officers said.

Davis and McAdams were apprehended last Saturday at Houston by Bosley, who took them to Abilene and put them in custody of federal authorities. He followed the same procedure with the Polks.

Money And Stamps Taken.

Brown and Bosley said money and stamps taken in the nine breakins would approximate $1,700, but they were unable to estimate the amount of bonds taken.

Postoffices burglarized by the gang, according to officials, included those at Kress, Swisher county; Ackerly, Dawson county, and Girard, Kent county, as well as three in Taylor county, at Trent, Ovala and Tye; that at Monument, N. M., twice, and at Quin, Ill.

It was the second postoffice burglary conspiracy the constables office in Abilene has broken up in two and a half years, Brown said.

Kress Postoffice Burglarized.

O. A. Curry, postoffice inspector of Fort Worth, signed complaints against the quartet.

The Kress office was burglarized last Aug. 3. Brown said the trail of breakins started at the Illinois town last Feb. 24, then led to West Texas and New Mexico. The Monument office was entered May 5 and again May 30.

Bosley started his investigations May 12 after the Trent job. Other dates were: Ackerly, in June, Kress Aug. 3, Girard Aug. 25, Ovala Sept.

Debt Relief For Draftees Passed

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Legislation designed to afford debt relief to men who find they can not meet their financial obligations because they have been called to military service was signed today by President Roosevelt.

Similar to a 1918 act, the bill gives courts wide latitude to stay eviction proceedings where the rent is not more than $80 a month, to prevent foreclosures and to delay judgments.

To Defer Insurance Premiums.

Payment of premiums on insurance policies up to $6,000 face amount may be deferred, while the holders are in service and for one year thereafter. The veterans administration is empowered to guarantee payment.

Tax assessments, including income tax payments, may be deferred until six months after military service has ended. The act also calls for adequate legal representation for defendants in court suits who are absent on military service and courts are authorized to stay the execution of judgments or reopen cases for further evidence.

Installment contracts can not be rescinded without court action.

Sam Rayburn Is Due To Arrive In Texas

DENISON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Sam Rayburn of Bonham will return to Texas tomorrow for the first time since his elevation to the speakership of the national House of representatives. He is expected to arrive at Denison by train at 6:50 a. m. and drive from here to his Bonham home.

A homecoming celebration in his honor is scheduled at Bonham next Tuesday. Preparations are being made there to entertain thousands of persons from northern Texas and southern Oklahoma.

The veteran Democrat congressman is expected to return to Washington immediately after the celebration.

Two Cowboys Held For Slaying In New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 18, (AP)—Two cowboys from the Far West—one in high-heeled boots and the other in moccasins—were led out of homicide court to the Tombs prison today to await hearing on charges that they beat to death John Martin, 37-year-old steward of the liner Queen Elizabeth.

A score of their fellow rodeo performers, in cowboy regalia, witnessed the arraignment of Bail Hancock, 23, of Roswell, N. M., and Larry Finley, 19, of Phoenix, Ariz., before Magistrate Morris Rothenberg, who held them without bail for hearing a week from today.

According to a detective captain who had questioned Hancock and Finley, they said that they had quarreled with Martin in Finley's hotel room yesterday morning and that one of them pummeled him into unconsciousness.

An elevator operator found Martin dead in a corridor of the hotel.

Dealer Couldn't Cash $250,000 Check And Besides He Was Suspicious; Negro Jailed

A SECOND-HAND car dealer couldn't cash a $250,000 check presented Friday by a 22-year-old deaf and mute negro—besides he was suspicious.

The negro proposed to make a down payment on a second-hand automobile with the check.

Payment was $25 and so was the check, the negro said.

The dealer called police, who found that J. R. Jameson's name had been forged to the instrument. The negro had used a check writing machine, officials said, and had added a few too many zeros.

He was held in city jail Friday night but authorities doubted that charges would be filed. Amount of the check made the matter somewhat beyond an attempt to defraud, said one official.

Concessions To Italy, Bulgaria Are Demanded

King's Abdication, Breaking Off With Britain Asked

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 18—Germany and Italy have made five all-inclusive demands on Greece, calling for territorial concessions to both Italy and Bulgaria, the use of Greek air bases by the axis powers, and reorganization of the government to fit the axis pattern, Greek diplomatic circles reported tonight.

The demands were said also to stipulate that Greece break off trade relations with Great Britain.

Five Points Set Down.

Specifically, the five points were said to have been set down by the axis partners in this order.

Immediate severance of economic relations with the British.

The cession of a strip of territory adjacent to the Albanian sea to Bulgaria.

Use Of Air Bases Included.

The grant of the right to Italy to construct a road from Albania to Salonika, Greek port and so-called key to the South Balkans.

The use of certain Greek air bases by Germany and Italy.

The abdication of King George II of Greece, The resignation of Premier-Dictator John Metaxas and the formation of a pro-axis government.

The Greek diplomats said they learned of the alleged demands directly from Athens.

British Pledged To Aid.

Greece and Turkey are Britain's last remaining friends in the Balkans. The British are pledged to aid the Greeks against attack and are aligned with Turkey in a mutual defense pact.

Unofficial reports earlier in the week from Ankara said Turkey would go to the aid of Greece in the event of an axis thrust. The Turks already have declared "two million bayonets" will resist any German-Italian drive against the Near East.

Bombing Started On Burma Road

By The Associated Press

HONGKONG, Oct. 18. — Japan struck her first threatened blow against the re-opened Burma road today by bombing and blasting the strategic city of Kunming, Chinese terminus of the stories "Road to Mandalay" over which is surging one of the greatest motor caravans of history.

With the flood of arms-bearing traffic along the Burma road rising hourly, Hongkong headquarters of the Japanese South China fleet announced that Naval warplanes severely damaged military objectives in and around Kunming, capital of Yunnan province.

Japanese airmen flying deep into the province also heavily bombed the Burma road itself, causing considerable damage to bridges, the Japanese South China fleet headquarters announced.

None of the Chinese truck caravans was sighted, the announcement said.

Hit Munition Factories.

Roaring down on their targets through gaps in heavy clouds, the Japanese bombers were reported to have rained explosives on Chinese munitions factories in the suburbs of Kunming and military establishments within the city itself.

Japanese headquarters said the raiders met no opposition from the air.

However, the Chinese were reported ready for the promised Japanese attacks on the vital road between British Burma and China. Anti-aircraft guns were said to be planted at many vantage points.

Sturdier Food And More Baking Days Are Necessary At Frost Time

The Woman's Angle
by Margaret Turner

A FAMILY, an honest to goodness job, good health and intelligent thrift will make a contented and respected man out of just an ordinary fellow.

ON JOINING CLUBS

SOME women are considering joining clubs. It's only common sense to check up on a few things.

What is the purpose of the club? Does it suit your ideas, plans and present way of living? Are the members likely to be congenial according to your notions? What is the status of the club in the community? Does it tie up definitely with your interests?

If a women does not carefully go into such queries she may have headaches and hard feelings later.

One should consider how much work there is to being a club member. An inactive member gets little for herself from the club and gives it even less.

Do you know of any women who join a club for the sake of adding their names to another list? You wouldn't do a thing like that would you?

One should know how much money is involved in club membership. A budget deserves that much consideration.

If one decides the club is what she wants to add to her life, she should go ahead, plan to be on time at meetings and to attend them regularly. She should pay her dues promptly and cooperate with other members in work and finance for special projects.

America is a club-conscious country and there's a club to fit every taste. Just be sure of your club before you join, is our advice.

WOMEN'S ROLE

AMERICAN women have never sat around with their hands folded when they felt the country needed their help. Consequently, they don't want to do it when men are rallying toward national defense measures.

Uncle Sam hasn't time right now to train women or even consider their usefulness to national defense. All of his attention is being directed toward training the men in this gigantic undertaking.

The Women World War Veterans have formed a national committee to plan the women's role in national defense. First to register will be women who were engaged in active war service in the last year. They will be used as teachers in their various fields. There will be training courses in home defense, the formation of ambulance and transport corps and the development of training facilities for pilots, ground forces and air ambulance corps.

There will be education in the matter of propaganda for those who ask, "What can we believe?"

Miss Dorothy Brooks, national commander of the organization, says that actual training of women will be underway within the next two or three months. She thinks that the work will allow a place for the talents of a woman who is better equipped to knit and make jelly than to drive an ambulance or for the woman who can do clerical work better than other duties.

She believes, and we agree, that the only way to meet the emergencies of the future is to be fully prepared.

WHOLESALE BOOS

RUTH MILLETT thinks what this country needs is a polite way to say boo en masse.

In private conversation we have learned a few tricks. We disagree with a person with such smooth phrasing as "You may be right but . . ." or "Yes, I see your point, but on the other hand . . ."

But, says Miss Millett, we have not learned how to express disagreement in group. A polite way to say boo is needed during election year, she believes. The English have adopted a new silent gesture to express undaunted courage. It's "thumbs up." It expresses an attitude without a word.

We might get an idea from that. Instead of hissing or booing in the future we might indicate our feelings with a twist of the thumb. Only our gesture would be the ancient Roman one—thumbs down.

Hot Breads Meet Favor Of Family

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Feature Service

Crisp autumn days are here again and with them comes the call for sturdier foods. Meals need not be especially rich or expensive, but they should be substantial enough to meet the needs of a more active family.

Baking gets heavier. A fruit nut loaf or raisin bread makes a hit in sandwiches for lunch boxes. There will be no late breakfast comers when coffee cake is on the menu. Spicy nut cookies are bound to satisfy extra-hungry kitchen raiders.

Molasses refrigerator cookies are a boon to the busy homemaker. They can be baked as needed and they answer many food calls. Cream ½ cup fat with 1 cup brown sugar. Add ½ cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, beaten, ½ cup molasses, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, a teaspoon each of cloves, nutmeg and ginger, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup buttermilk and ½ cup raisins. Beat thoroughly and mix in 3½ cups flour, 1 teaspoon each of soda and baking powder. Chill the dough. Drop portions of the dough from the tip of a spoon onto greased baking sheets. Bake 10 minutes in a moderate oven.

Luncheon Treat

For a breakfast or luncheon treat here is Cranberry Ring, gay and sprightly and introducing a delicious new flavor. Mix together, 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup granulated sugar, 1 egg, 3 tablespoons fat, melted, and 2-3 cup milk. Pour the soft dough into a well greased ring or round pan. Cover lightly with regular cranberry sauce and sprinkle with ½ cup dark brown sugar mixed with 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and 3 tablespoons butter. Bake 25 minutes in moderate oven.

Nuts put pumpkin pie on a pedestal. Make the filling like this: Mix 1½ cups cooked, mashed pumpkin into 1 cup dark brown sugar, 1-4 cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon each of ginger, mace and nutmeg. Add ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 beaten eggs, 1 cup milk and 1-3 cup broken nuts. Pour into an unbaked pie crust. Bake 10 minutes in a hot oven and 35 minutes in a moderately slow oven. The pie is done when it is quivery in the center. It will thicken as it cools.

Now for those school lunch boxes. A fruit loaf intrigues youngsters because of the delightful flavor. Mix ½ cup chopped prunes, 1-2 cup chopped figs and ½ cup chopped dates with 1½ cups boiling water. Soak 10 minutes and then fold in 1 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 3 tablespoons fat, melted, 2½ cups flour, 1½ teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder and 1 cup graham flour. Pour into 2 loaf pans, lined with waxed paper. Let rise 15 minutes and bake an hour in a moderate oven. Cool, wrap in waxed paper and store in the bread box. This bread will keep a week.

Peanut Butter Cinnamon Rolls

2 cakes compressed yeast, ½ cup peanut butter, 1-3 cup lukewarm water, 5 cups sifted flour (about), 1-4 cup sugar, 2 eggs—well beaten, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1-3 cup butter, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup milk—scalded, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, Currants.

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Add 1-4 cup sugar, salt, and shortening to scalded milk. Cool to lukewarm, add peanut butter and beat. Add 2 cups flour and beat until smooth. Add yeast and eggs, blending thoroughly. Add flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on slightly floured board and knead until satiny. Place in lightly greased bowl. Brush top with melted shortening, cover, and store in refrigerator. When ready to use, remove dough from refrigerator and let stand in warm room about 1 hour before molding. Turn out on lightly floured board, knead slightly and roll 1-4 inch thick. Cream together butter, 1 cup sugar, and cinnamon. Place 1 teaspoon of mixture and ½ teaspoon water in each section of greased muffin pan. Spread dough with remaining butter-sugar mixture and sprinkle with currants. Roll as for jelly roll, sealing edges. Cut in 1-inch slices. Place cut-side down in prepared muffin pans. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Bake in moderately hot oven 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from pans at once.

Motorcar Industry To Subordinate Model Changes To Needs Of U. S. Defense

Plane Building To Be Stressed

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Oct. 18 — The agreement of the motorcar industry to subordinate model changes to the needs of national defense, it was explained in authoritative quarters here today, is the first step toward mass production of aircraft.

Representatives of the Automobile Manufacturer association and the Ford Motor company, in New York for the current National Automobile show, signed the resolution, agreeing that until the present emergency has passed tooling in their plants will be directed toward production of fighter planes.

To Pool Resources

The car makers agreed to pool their resources for the production of tools, dies, jigs and other machinery needed in the manufacture of aircraft parts.

Part of the plan, as outlined by representatives of the car manufacturers, would call for the production by the motorcar plants of parts for standardized airplanes, assembling to be done by established aviation companies. Its precise effect upon 1942 model production has not yet been clearly defined, although several automobile production engineers have pointed out that many style changes are possible without entirely new machine tools.

The automobile industry already has defense contracts for the production of aviation engines, tanks, machine guns, shells, trucks and other materials, totaling more than $400,000,000.

National Defense Is Talked By Bradley

The problem of national defense, which resulted in enactment of a peace-time conscription act that brought approximately 9,000 men in Lubbock county to register, was discussed Friday before an American Business club luncheon in Hilton hotel by Durwood H. Bradley, member of the county draft advisory board.

Secretary Jimmy Wilson distributed tickets for the coming Dunbar-Amarillo negro high school football game Wednesday night to members. Game will be at 8 o'clock at Texas Technological college football field. President Bob Gee presided over the session. Bert Collard was chairman of the day.

Bradley said he had not received complete instructions on his duties as a member of the county advisory board, and was unable to tell the men much about what they were. He said each county should have one board member for each 1,000 population and that 11 men had been added to the three named by the governor, making 58 in all. Board members will assist all registrants who so desire, to fill out their registration papers.

"Why was it necessary to start a new experiment in American history when we started registering," he said. "Why do we need an army to defend us. Have we anything in the country that we should defend."

Bradley pointed out the "God given right of Americans to be free and to own property." He said under the constitution we in this country have the right of free and peacable assembly, to petition congress for redress, the right to own property that cannot be taken away except by due process of law, religious freedom and free speech.

"We have been too tolerant in this country, I think, for those who don't appreciate it," He declared, adding he believed those who failed to show the proper appreciation, should be returned to their native land.

Brick Matinee This Morning At Palace Is To Aid 'Give A Brick' Campaign For West Texas Museum Building; Total Is 150,111

Two bricks will admit any child to the "brick matinee" at 9:30 o'clock this morning in the Palace theater.

Children also may pay the equivalent in money, five cents.

The bricks will be given to the West Texas Museum association to be used in its building program.

A special program of short subjects is scheduled.

Passes 150,000 Mark

The 'Give a Brick' campaign total went past the 150,000 mark Friday afternoon, leaving less than 80,000 bricks to be pledged for the organization to meet its goal of 230,000 bricks, estimated number needed for construction of two additional floors to the museum building on Texas Technological college campus.

The 274 reported by Las Chaparritas club were in addition to the total previously announced following 'Give a Brick' day at the college last week. Money for the 274 was raised by sale of 'I gave a brick' tags.

Olin Culbersons To Be Honored In City; Busy Schedule Set

Olin Culberson, railroad commissioner elect, who is to be in Lubbock today, has a busy schedule ahead of him when he arrives this morning, the program to include Sunday also.

Tonight he is to attend the Scottish Rite feast in Lubbock hotel, where he will meet other Masons from Amarillo, Pampa, El Paso and other towns over this area.

Basket Dinner Set

Mr. and Mrs. Culberson will attend the Sanders Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, will be guests of firemen at the Downtown Bible class at 10 o'clock, guests of Dr. and Mrs. James M. Gordon at the First Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock and will attend a basket dinner, to be held in their honor at 12:30 o'clock in Mackenzie state park.

The Culbersons will spend Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Dupree, 2314 Seventeenth street.

The public is invited to attend the gathering in the park, Dupree said. Only requirement is that those attending bring basket lunches. Numerous visitors are expected from South Plains towns.

The gathering will be non-political. It has been promised there will be "no high-powered speeches."

President Vetoes Bill Protecting Pigeons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (U.P.) — President Roosevelt told Congress today that it was carrying national defense too far when it enacted legislation to put homing pigeons under the special government protection.

"I have a feeling that this is carrying national defense a little too far in times of peace," Mr. Roosevelt wrote in a veto message. I am inclined to think that there are no Americans, or at least very few of them, who would deliberately shoot or capture a homing pigeon.

"I think there are practically no people who would deliberately remove or alter a message in the legband of a homing pigeon. After all, homing pigeons do not closely resemble any wild game birds."

LAND DEMAND INCREASES

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 18 (AP)—An increasing demand for Midwest farm land was reported today by President Roy S. Johnson of the Federal land bank of Wichita.

Johnson said 1,261 farms and ranches in Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico were sold by the bank during the first nine months of this year for a total of $3,026,914—a "considerable increase over a year ago.

Negro Provides Real Problem For Draft Registration Heads

NACOGDOCHES, Oct. 18 (U.P.) —A negro, complying with provisions of the draft, furnomed a number of registration officials' brows before they got him registered.

"I was given away as a baby," he said in answer to the 11 questions. His real name, date of his birth, birthplace, and name of his parents are unknown, he said.

Navajos Ready For Warfare But Papago Braves Won't Sign

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz., Oct. 18 (AP)—Supt. E. R. Fryer of the far-flung Navajo reservation announced today the registration for selective service totaled 4,520 braves, about 300 more than was estimated.

Several tribesmen appeared at registration stations with rifles, ready to take the war path at once. Another showed up with his horse and pack animal "ready for trip to Germany," officials said. One Indian offered to sell his sheep to help feed the army.

Stubborn Indians Refuse To Register

TOAPIT, Ariz., Oct. 18 (AP) — Stubborn Papago braves of this little mud village still refused today to register for conscription, and Indian agency officials and the U. S. marshal's office left them alone while trying to decide what to do.

Supt. T. B. Hall of the Papago agency reported that a deputy marshal and Indian police had been compelled by a group of tribesmen to release Pia Machita, 80-year-old chief, who had been arrested for ordering his followers to refuse to register.

MISSOURI PROFESSOR DIES

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 18 (AP)—Dr. Samuel Tilden Bratton, 61, University of Missouri professor of geography, died at his home today. He suffered a heart attack yesterday.

U. S. Flour May Be Sent Spain

By J. S. STARK
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 — President Roosevelt canvassed the problem of American relief for Europe with state department and Red Cross advisers today and it was reported that a large consignment of flour might be sent to non-belligerent Spain.

At the White House conference with the president were Secretary of State Hull, Undersecretary Sumner Welles and Norman Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross. It was described officially as relating to the "refugee" question.

Proposal Under Consideration

Usually well-informed sources said, however, that a proposal for a gift of 10,000 tons of flour through the Red Cross to Spain had been under consideration by the administration.

Some trained observers returning from Europe have described the food situation in Spain as practically as bad as in France and other German-occupied countries.

Possibly affecting the question of relief for Spain, however, was the appointment of Ramon Serrano Suner, brother-in-law of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, as Spanish foreign minister.

Coming after Suner's recent extended visits to Berlin and Rome, this was interpreted widely as a further shift toward the axis powers. But there was considerable doubt whether Spain, still suffering the effects of civil war, would become an active ally in the war.

Britain's attitude would be an important factor in any relief plans for Spain or France, both because of the British blockade and the question whether American aid might indirectly benefit Germany and Italy in the prosecution of the war.

British Government Not To Leave London

LONDON, Oct. 18 (AP) — The British government has no intention of leaving London despite recent heavy bombings, it was made known in parliamentary circles today.

The correspondent in the House of Commons lobby for Reuters, authoritative British news agency wrote tonight that "there is no question of the government leaving London."

The correspondent gave no reason for reiteration of what has been understood to be the established government policy since the start of the war.

Step Toward Liberalization Of Protestant Episcopal Church's Marriage Laws Taken

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18 — The Protestant Episcopal church, after more than 15 years of discussion took its first step today toward liberalizing its stringent marriage and divorce laws.

The house of bishops adopted and sent to the house of deputies a proposed new canon which would permit divorced persons who remarry to receive the church's blessing. This would not be given, however, until one year after the remarriage and then only upon recommendation of ecclesiastical authorities.

Still Forbids Ministers

The measure still forbids Episcopal ministers to marry divorced persons, thus requiring that such marriages be performed by civil authorities or clerics of another faith.

Under present church law, described by some bishops in the debate which preceded the 69 to 26 vote of approval as "merciless and cruel," only the remarriage of an innocent party in a divorce granted for adultry is sanctioned.

Strong Opposition Shown

Concurrence in the new canon by the house of deputies was considered unlikely by some delegates who said strong opposition was known to exist in that body among both lay and clerical members.

The suggested new canon formally charges the clergy with greater responsibility toward attempting to correct family difficulties.

Its adoption followed defeat of a motion to recommit the matter for further study until the 1943 convention.

Nine Youths Enlist In Army; Are Assigned

Nine young men who were accepted for service in the U. S. Army and were assigned to Fort Sam Houston and Fort Bliss, brought the total enlistments for the month up to 13, Lieut. George T. Coleman, recruiting officer of the district, said Friday.

Six selected service at Fort Sam Houston, Lewis H. Bost and C. T. Murdock of Lubbock and Leach L. Hutton, Anton, for the infantry and James L. Morris, jr., Maypearl and Aubrey W. Johnson and Billy W. Harris, Spur, for the engineers. Alvin Daves, Childress and Paul J. Simmons and George H. Cole, Sudan, for the cavalry, Fort Bliss.

The first Baptist church in America was founded by Roger W. Williams.

Crosby County Serial Numbers Are Posted

RALLS, Oct. 18 (Special)—The selective service board of Crosby county has marked serial numbers on draft cards, 1641 of them, and the list has been posted.

Of the number, 567 young men were dwellers from outside Crosby county. Of Crosby's net 1,075, negroes numbered 83.

Out-of-county cards have been mailed to proper boards and the committee of P. B. Ralls, chairman, L. A. Wicks, secretary, and Dr. E. L. Haney, medical member, is making time awaiting orders from Washington.

Crosby board headquarters is in the Ralls First National bank.

Students of Mexico's National university backed the government's new conscription and compulsory military training plan.

Texas Meteorite Said Located

(By The Associated Press)

ODESSA, Oct. 18 — The Odessa meteorite, which centuries ago exploded this country's largest meteor crater — a partially filled-in, 600-foot-wide depression 10 miles west of here—today was located at a depth of 164 feet.

Top of the big projectile from outer space, which has been sought more than a year by a joint University of Texas-W. P. A. field crew, was established when a 1,500 pound, 10-inch rotary bit came up sharply against "solid bottom."

Fix Edge Of Crater

Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the university's bureau of economic geology and supervisor of the excavation, hoped that magnets might bring up fragments of the meteorite believed smashed off at contact with the bit.

He said plans are underway to fix the edge of the crater with additional shafts. Once outlined, the edge of the meteorite will be exposed for visitors by a tunnel sunk to the 164-foot level.

Plan Shaft For Visitors

Width of the meteorite can be proved only by trial and error drilling, Sellards said. A second shaft is being sunk 15 feet from the discovery hole. However, extensive magnetometer surveys of the site originally fixed the general location and indicated that the uniform depth of the body should lie between 100 and 170 feet.

Second in size only to Canyon Diable, the huge Arizona meteor depression, the Odessa crater should be tunneled for visitors within 18 months, Sellards believed.

Sterling Says Texas To Go For Roosevelt

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 18 (U.P.) Former Texas Gov. Ross Sterling said today that "Texas isn't anything except Democratic and will vote for President Roosevelt" when asked to comment on efforts being made to carry his state for Wendell Willkie.

Sterling, an oil operator, visited here while enroute back to his home in Houston after inspecting east Tennessee oil properties of L. V. Echols of Memphis.

Midget Has Trouble But He's Accepted

BALLENGER, Oct. 18 (AP) — "But, I must register," the boyish appearing male insisted to a Runnels county registrar, Wednesday in Uncle Sam's round up of men within the conscription age. Failing he tried another.

Today, the Runnels county draft board gave him an audience and subsequently accepted his resignation.

Thus, Rowena's midget, Paul Mazac, became a prospective soldier.

Texas Tech Noses Out Brigham Young U. In Game Of Fast Action, 21 To 20

Cougars Find Tech Weakness To Score 3 Touchdowns On Passes

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

MR. E. J. McKNIGHT, of the Mexia, Texas, McKnights, whose versatility as an end on the Texas Tech varsity has not necessarily included the art of place-kicking, put on Jodie Marek's old square-toed kicking boot last night and booted the pigskin squarely between the uprights for the point that gave a far superior Texas Tech team victory over a surprisingly clever Brigham Young university eleven.

The final score was 21 to 20, and although the Red Raiders of Tech ran up a much higher statistical record they were rather fortunate in winning the ball game.

McKnight's extra point followed McKnight's touchdown. He had caught a long heave from C. L. Storrs on the Cougar 12-yard line and scooted across for Tech's second touchdown. The pass was good for 48 yards, and came directly on the heels of a 48-yard pass that meant a touchdown for Brigham Young.

Safety In Second

It was one of the two passes completed by the Red Raiders all evening. They confined their football to running plays, as a rule, and gained a lot of ground that way.

Brigham Young, unable to make much headway on the ground, went through the air for all three of its touchdowns—the first for six yards, the second for 48 yards, the third for 20 yards, and the Cougars were plenty smooth in the execution thereof.

Texas Tech claimed a safety in the second quarter that meant the difference between defeat and victory, as things ultimately turned out, since the Raiders are by no means popular as a "converting" team. They have no Aubrey Buttses or Jodie Mareks or Joe Bob Posters, and at least twice this season already they could have used some extra points to advantage.

Game Hard Played

The two-pointer came early in the second period after the Raiders had driven down to the Cougar five yard line. They lost the ball on downs there, and Dee Chipman, attempting to kick out from behind his own goal line, missed the snapback, due to a mix-up on signals, and was smothered by Will Allbright and Newman Ledbetter of the Texas Tech forward wall.

Each team had scored a touchdown in the first quarter of the wild and reckless and hard-smashing contest. The Cougars had taken a lead early in the game when George Jackson passed to Lloyd Brink for touchdown and Chipman had kicked the extra point. The touchdown play followed a 37-yard dash by Jackson, longest run of the evening for the Cougars, putting the ball on the Tech 4-yard line. He was overhauled there by Will Allbright.

They Wouldn't Give Up

Original set-up for the play came when Brigham Young recovered a Tech fumble on the Red Raider 40 following a BYU punt. Just before that, to back up farther, Tech had been on the verge of scoring shortly after taking charge of the game for the first time. Milton Hill, one of the numerous Tech backfield stars of the evening, had made a first down on a 12-yard run, and then a Tech pass was intercepted on the 15-yard line.

The Brigham Young team lived up to advance publicity in that they offered red-hot competition and never would quit, and in that they showed a big, rugged team that attacked hard and often and never stopped.

Four Raiders Injured

So hard did they crack, in fact, they sent four Texas Tech gridders to the hospital, after knocking 'em cold on the field of battle. Captain Primo McCurry was the first to go. He was laid out stiff in the first quarter, on the seventh play of the game in fact, when Brigham Young intercepted the pass. He rallied and came back in the last half, but spent the night in the hospital while doctors treated an injured knee. The injury was not believed to be very serious, and he may be back at work in about three days.

Backfield Captain and Quarterback Ty Bain was laid low early in the second half, was led from the field in a groggy condition, but he also returned to the game in the last quarter. Afterwards, he was carted to the hospital for observation of a head injury.

Probably the most seriously stunned was Don Austin fleet halfback who really turned in a swell job of work at lugging the apple, fighting his way through without much interference a number of times and playing the kind of a running game a coach loves; he came out in the second period with a head injury, and although it was not considered too serious, he was still "playing

Frenship Crew Drops Ropes Eleven, 20-0

ROPES, Oct. 18 (Special)—Coach Bauman Roper's Frenship eleven registered a 20-to-0 conference 5-B victory over Ropes Eagles here today.

Wayne Bennett paced the Frenship eleven, figuring directly in each of the three touchdowns. In the first period he passed to Oliver Heard for a touchdown on a play that carried 50 yards. In the second stanza he intercepted a Ropes aerial and returned it 70 yards for a counter.

Bennett tallied again in the fourth on a five-yard plunge. Harold Smith Farrar booted points after the first and third touchdowns.

GETS JOB DONE.—It's Big Dutch Charles Dvoracek, and he's a Texas Tech backfield hotshot. The way he was ramming the Brigham Young line last night, and the way he went for a Tech touchdown was something to behold, and although he had a lot of help from blockers and interferers, he deserves a lot of credit for keeping Tech in the ball game last night.

Aggies To Meet Froggies Today

By FELIX D. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 18.—Fired to a boiling point that shook down the odds, Texas Christian came down to the Brazos banks tonight coolly intent on upsetting the finest Texas Aggie football team in history.

Tomorrow, in promised clear weather, the Christians will unload every passing and running trick they own. And that's aplenty.

Injuries have rocked the TCU club, but the psychological pitch they reached balanced the books. Only a year ago the unbeaten Aggies stormed into Fort Worth and plowed under the Christians, 20-6.

Cowart To Start

On that day a cotton-topped little fellow of 150 pounds, Rusty Cowart, was forced to play sixty minutes of tailback against the Aggies. He was the only able man for the spot. He took a terrific beating. Last Monday Cowart, who played brilliantly against North Carolina two days before, cornered Coach Dutch Meyer and quietly pleaded for a starting job against the Aggies.

Meyer agreed, and the little man they pounded around last year will get his last chance at the nerveless Cadet machine. That's the attitude TCU had tonight about a "hopeless" matter tomorrow.

Frogs' Passing Potent

The two schools which have had the nation's outstanding teams of the past two seasons—TCU in '38 and the Aggies in '39—have been gunning for each other since 1937. Now it's Texas Christian's turn to try for the upset again.

Meanwhile, the Aggies, fearful of

McAdoo Cops 34 - 10 Decision Over Wilson

McADOO, Oct. 18. (Special) — McAdoo's six-man grid machine rolled over Wilson here this afternoon, 34 to 10, with an assorted and powerful passing and running attack.

The winners struck twice in the first quarter, Roy Allen counting on a pass, Bertrand Robertson plunging for the second touch. Don Anderson and Austin Rose added extra points. In the second stanza, Clinton Formby found Roy Allen on an aerial to score McAdoo's third counter. In the same period, Wilson added up 10 points on a touchdown, field goal and safety.

The third quarter saw Roscoe McWilliams and Formby, Robertson and Anderson accounting for the extra points. There was no scoring in the fourth.

Hicks Faces Zaharias For Texas Open Title

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18. (AP)—Mrs. George (Babe Didrikson) Zaharias and Elizabeth Hicks of Pasadena clash in 36-hole championship finals of the Texas Women's open golf tournament at Colonial club here tomorrow.

Miss Hicks, the school girl with the sophisticated game, today scored a 3-2 victory over Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite.

Mrs. Zaharias on the 16th green shouldered a curling 10-foot putt through the cool shadows for a par three that gave her a 3-2 decision over the tanned, blond Helen Dettweiler from Washington, D. C., in the other semi-final.

The little California star was even with women's par as she defeated Mrs. Goldthwaite.

Locals Measure Ponies, 26-13

(Special To The Avalanche)

OLTON, Oct. 18.—Coach Cy LaMaster's Lubbock High Cowhands toppled Olton's Mustangs, defending champions of District 5-A and 6-A, by a surprising 26 and 13 count here tonight in a non-conference go.

The victory was all the more of an upset considering the performances of the two elevens last week, Olton defeating Muleshoe rather easily while New Deal was walloping Lubbock, 12 to 6.

Standouts for the Ponies were Willis Hedges and W. H. Jackson, halfback and fullback, respectively.

The Mustangs play an important conference game here next week against Littlefield.

Plainview Is 27 To 0 Winner Over Ysleta

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 18. (Special)—Plainview won a 27 to 0 victory over Ysleta tonight to maintain its perfect record for the season.

To start excitement in the beginning minutes of the tussle, Ysleta completed two passes moving the ball from its own 35-yard line to the Plainview 7. Stopping the runaway, Plainview sacked up 20 points before the end of the initial part of the combat. M. Mason went over an 11-yard off-tackle play, and added another touchdown on a 15-yard off-tackle smash. The third score of the first quarter was by Hoefer, who went around left end for 19 yards. M. Mason kicked two extra points.

In the third stanza Plainview scored by a pass, Hoefer to W. Mason, from the 8-yard line with M. Mason kicking the extra point. In the last few minutes of the game Ysleta drove to Plainview's 6-yard stripe, losing five yards on the last play.

McVicker was an outstanding guard for Plainview with Ballentine and Hill star defensive players for Ysleta.

Matador Annexes 26-0 Victory Over Turkey

MATADOR, Oct. 18. (Special) — The Turks from Turkey failed to shine their bayonets when they lost to the Matadors of Matador here tonight 26 to 0. The non-conference game was played under the new lights installed at the Matador field.

Nelson made an off-tackle four-yard plunge for a touchdown in the first few minutes of the game. Berryman plunged for the extra point. Both teams played a scoreless scramble through the second and third quarters.

In the beginning of the fourth Nelson passed to Tunnell who ran 50 yards before being downed. Then Nelson stepped 12 yards to score. The Matadors failed to kick the extra point. Nelson passed 40 yards to Green who drove 15 yards for the third tally. Attempted conversion failed. The winners made their fourth touchdown of the game on a pass from Nelson to Tunnell.

Paducah Wins 25 To 0 Tilt From Crosbyton

PADUCAH, Oct. 18. (Special) — The Paducah Dragons crushed Crosbyton, 25 to 0, here tonight in District 4-A football game.

The Dragons scored first in the last minute of the second quarter with Rudolph Mobley, quarterback, climaxing a 70-yard drive by going over the double strip from the Crosbyton one-yard line. He skirted left end for the extra point.

Leading team scoring with 103 points for the season, Mobley reeled off a 55-yard thriller in the third stanza, breaking through right tackle, reversing his field and racing across the goal untouched. Again in the fourth period, he climaxed a 72-yard drive by going around right end.

Hubert Sandlin chalked up the final tally in the last quarter with a 12-yard sprint around the left terminal. The victory left Paducah undefeated and their goal line crossed only once, that by Crowell.

Conn Takes Decision Over McCoy In Ten

BOSTON, Oct. 18. (AP) — Light Heavyweight Champion Billy Conn, from Pittsburgh, cut loose with all of his power tonight to gain a unanimous decision over Al McCoy, the veteran Boston heavyweight, in a 10-round non-title bout at Boston Garden.

Lamesa Loses 10 To 0 Fray To Big Spring

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Oct. 18. — The Big Spring Steers won a District 3-AA game from Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes here tonight, 10 to 0.

Big Spring scored on the first play of th second quarter after a long pass, Rowe to Pressley, set the ball on the two-yard line. Pressley Barton kicked point.

Statistics Favor Steers.

Barton added three points late in the fourth with a perfect field goal booted from the nine-yard line.

Great punting by White and Pressley and vicious play throughout enlivened the game.

Statistics showed a big margin for Big Spring; The Steers led in total yards gained, 446 to 138.

Lineups Given.

The starting lineups: Lamesa—Blair and Myers, ends; Morgan and McBride, tackles; Oswalt and Roberts, guards; Carmichael, center; Barnard, White, Reeves and Cates, backs.

Big Spring—Nations and Stewart, ends, Patton and Rush, tackles; Barton and Battle, guards; Koch, center; Rowe, Brummett, Collins and Pressley, backs.

Brownfield Jumps On Littlefield, 14 To 0

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 18. (Special) Brownfield's Cubs retained their unbeated record tonight by beating Littlefield 14 to 0.

The game was a District 5-A non-conference game.

Quarterback Deverelle Lewis and Halfback W. D. (Dunk) Warren paced the Cubs attack, dividing the scoring honors between them.

Football Spotlight Swings To The South—

Boni Picks Vols To Smash 'Bama, Aggies Over TCU, Irish To Drop Carnegie Tech

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The football-interest indicator, which gravitates toward every section of the land at least once each season, bears south this week, on Birmingham, Ala.

There, tomorrow afternoon, Alabama and Tennessee will play the game of the week. Victory in this duel, is likely to bring with it victory in the Southeastern conference race, and the odds-layers are riding with Tennessee.

A year ago, coming up to this game, Bama presumably had proved its worth in beating Fordham while Tennessee was as yet untested. This time the roles are reversed. Tennessee has played and whipped one big one, Duke, while the Crimson Tide has needed little more than orthodox power to get by three rivals. A year ago Tennessee won, 21-0. This one may be as decisive.

It's The Gophers.

As for crowds, the biggest of the day, 72,000, is expected in the Ohio State stadium to see the Buckeyes, Western conference defending champions, attempt to stand off Minnesota.

To detour around such crass commercialisms, however, and lay the prediction on the line, here goes (home team first, probable attendance in parentheses):

Alabama-Tennessee (25,000) — Tennessee.

Cornell-Syracuse (20,000) — Cornell.

Ohio State-Minnesota (72,000)—The Gophers are well-rested and well-primed. Despite an apparent wealth of material, Ohio State has had one (disputed) close call, one defeat, Minnesota.

Aggies, Of Course.

Texas A. and M.—Texas Christian (15,000)—The Aggies' first conference test also should be their first conference triumph.

Michigan-Illinois (40,000) — 23-point a game Harmon may not maintain that average forever, but a vote for Michigan.

Washington State-Stanford (22,000)—Strictly on hearsay, Stanford.

Penn-Princeton (60,000)—Penn.

Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech (35,000)—They say the Irish, like a new car, have been operating under the restraint of a "governor." They probably won't have to open the throttle wide here, Notre Dame.

Rice Over Tulane.

Yale-Dartmouth (45,000)—Yale.

Pitt-Fordham (50,000)—Fordham, though it's weak on reserves.

Washington-Oregon State (35,000)—Out of a hat, Washington.

Georgia Tech-Vanderbilt (25,000)—Taking the home team—Tech.

Columbia-Georgia (20,000) — Columbia, close.

Harvard-Army (30,000)—Harvard, the same way.

Tulane-Rice (25,000) — Rice to hand Tulane another.

Wisconsin-Northwestern (30,000)—Looks like all Northwestern.

Villanova Over Baylor.

Southern California-Oregon (48,000)—Southern Cal.

California-U. C. L. A. (30,000) — U. C. L. A.

Baylor-Villanova (15,000) — We're leary of this, but Villanova.

Indiana-Iowa (20,000) — Iowa, to keep going.

Colgate-Duke (15,000)—Duke.

Southern Methodist-Auburn (20,000)—S. M. U. in a battle.

Mississippi-Duquesne (20,000) — Ole Miss to halt the Duke's streak.

Kansas-Nebraska (13,000) — Nebraska looks too good.

Likes The Steers.

Here 'n' there elsewhere:

East—Boston college over Idaho, Holy Cross over New York U., Navy over Drake handily.

Midwest—Oklahoma over Kansas State, Missouri over Iowa State.

South and Southwest — Florida over Maryland, Kentucky over George Washington, North Carolina over N. C. State, Richmond over Washington and Lee, Virginia over Virginia Military, Texas over Arkansas.

Rocky Mountains—Colorado over Colorado State.

Amarillo Negro Team To Play Local Squad

Lubbock-Amarillo grid rivalry breaks out sooner than expected this year.

Wednesday night at Tech Stadium, the colored high schools of the two cities will tangle in a regulation football game. Sponsored by the Lubbock A.B.C., the game will get under way at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds of the game, other than expenses to the two elevens involved, will go toward paying for the big electric clock installed on the Tech scoreboard this season by the Lubbock A.B.C. Admittance will be 40 cents, the west stands to be reserved for whites, the east stands for negroes. Ducats may be obtained from any A.B.C. member and soon will be placed on sale at the regular agencies.

Loboes Run Wild To Swamp Morton, 74-0

LEVELLAND, Oct. 18. (Special) —In a non-conference clash here tonight, Levelland's Loboes set some sort of scoring record for the section, swamping Morton, 74 to 0.

Counting three times in each period with the exception of the second when two touchdowns were reeled off, the Loboes uncorked every trick in the book, using laterals, forwards, power plays and reverses to advantage. Quarterback Bill Green led scoring with six tallies, tossing aerials for another pair.

Levelland collected 24 first downs to 1, added up 512 yards running to minus 13 and completed five of 8 heaves for 94 yards.

Spur Stops 'Rabbits, 13-6, In 4-A Game

SPUR, Oct. 18. (Special)—Storming back in the fading fourth period, Spur's Bulldogs tonight chalked up a 13 to 6 victory over Ralls. First downs stood at nine even.

Two passes set up the Jackrabbits' initial and only counter, that in the first quarter. Then, midway the fourth, Spur paid off on a drive and took the lead by conversion. Two plays later, Lester Balls intercepted a Ralls heave and raced 36 yards to the Rabbits' four, a plunge adding up the final tally. Ralls completed 3 of nine attempted aerials for 44 yards. Spur connecting for the same number in 11 trys for 53 yards.

Amarillo Is Good—

Sandies Drop Norman, 37-0

(Special To The Avalanche)

AMARILLO, Oct. 18.—A flying circus—Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm—ran and passed its way to a 37 to 0 triumph over the Norman, Okla., Tigers here tonight to chalk up its fifth straight win this season.

More than 5,000 fans thrilled as the Sandie offense featuring deceptive double reverses, sudden laterals, powerhouse line plays and a clicking overhead game struck at every opportunity.

First, Strong, Task.

The Sandstorm counted two touchdowns in the first period and a second team took over until the half ended. Storming back them, the Sandie regulars started rolling again in the third period and added 21 points to that first half 14 so quickly and with such precision that the Tigers never had a chance to try their hand at making a game of it.

In the fourth period, Norman tried to run out from her one-yard line when she had held the Sandie seconds and a safety resulted to bring the count up to the final 37 points.

Johnston Among Stars.

Sandie backs, Otto Payne, Boone Baker, Myrie Greathouse and M. T. Johnston all played big parts in the crushing offense which stunned the Tigers from the outset.

A hard-charing Amarillo line played with such fire it melted huge holes in the Norman defense, and played so viciously and alert against Norman's attack that the Tigers could make only one first down.

Sudan Registers 12-6 Upset Over Muleshoe

MULESHOE, Oct. 18. (Special)—Sudan's Hornets struck swiftly in the first period to score two touchdowns, then beat back threat after threat to win a District 5-A conference game from Muleshoe here today, 12 to 6.

Coach Phillip Harmon's oft-beaten Hornets, paced by the superlative play of Quarterback Blanchard, scored once running and once on a 50-yard pass play early in the game, then turned their attention to defensive play.

Muleshoe piled up 15 first downs to four for the losers and outgained them consistently. But time after time their offensive bogged down in scoring territory. Finally, in the fourth period, Fullback James Warren crashed over for a touchdown.

The victory was the second straight conference triumph for Sudan and leaves the Hornets tied with Olton and Littlefield for the lead in the northern division of the district.

The starting lineups: Post—Carpenter and Harrison, ends; Miller and Hudman, tackles; Hodges and Williams, guards; Surman, center; Carpenter, Stevens, Sherrod and Dean, backs.

Slaton—Green and Stenningame, ends; Butler and Smith, tackles; Maxey and Hall, guards; Weathers, center; Miller, Bell, Martindale and Collier, backs.

The summary:

	Post	Slaton
First downs	11	12
Yards gained rushing	182	155
Yards gained passing	56	70
Passes attempted	10	12
Passes complete	4	6
Yardage penalties	15	30
Yards lost running	11	8
Gross yardage gained	238	225
Net yardage gained	209	205

Scoring: Touchdowns, for Post, Carpenter (40-yard run) and Gossett (4-yard run); for Slaton, Collier 2 (2 and 9 yard runs).

Score by periods:

SLATON	6	0	0	6—12

Tigers Triumph On First Downs

By JOE PIERCE
Avalanche Sports Staff

SLATON, Oct. 18.—By a margin of 60 seconds of play and one first down, Slaton's Tigers won a District 5-A conference game from Post here tonight. The final score was 12-12, penetrations were even at 3-all and the Tigers led in first downs, 12 to 11.

Elso Collier counted a tying touchdown for Slaton only a minute before the end of the game, after the Tigers had trailed through most of the second half.

The game started wild. Post received the kickoff and on the first play fumbled, Slaton recovering on the Post 44. Slaton scored then on five plays, with Collier carrying on four of them and counting from the 9-yard line.

Post received again and after three plays from scrimmage on the 35 failed to gain, elected to kick. Big Ralph Dean dropped back, but fumbled. Unable to get the kick off, he started running and wasn't stopped until he had a first down on the Slaton 40. On the first play from there, Quarterback Winifred Carpenter took out around left end and outdistanced the whole Slaton team to the coffin corner.

Both points were missed and the score was 6-6. The game then settled down to a semblance of sanity. Neither team did any further scoring in the first half. Slaton carried the offensive most of the time the rest of the half, but Post twice held for downs inside the 25 and kicked out of danger.

The Antelopes went ahead near the end of the third period, with Daimo Gossett scoring on a nine-yard dash after setting things up with three pass completions in quick succession.

The score remained at 12-6 until near the end of the game when Slaton took the ball on their own 18 and started driving. Collier counted the tying marker from the 2-yard line, but failed on an attempted plunge for point.

Outstanding for the Antelopes were their smashing linebackers, Carpenter and Dean, Guards Clyde Williams and J. W. Hodges and Tackle Billie Hudman. For Slaton, Ends George Green and Earl Blassingame, Tackle Vap Smith and substitute back Jimmy Cooper stood out along with Collier.

House Democrats Claim Roosevelt Regime Most Beneficial In U. S. History

Letters Will Be Sent To Voters

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. — House Democrats, in a history of the new deal prepared for distribution in advance of the Nov. 5 election, claimed today that more beneficial legislation was enacted under President Roosevelt than during any other administration in history.

The document, entitled "The Family Life and Its Preservation Through Legislation Recommended by President Roosevelt," was prepared by House Democratic Leader John W. McCormick and placed in the congressional record. Thousands of letters, containing a non-governmental expense reprint of the article, will be mailed out to all sections of the nation under congressional frank.

Reviews Accomplishments.

The majority leader usually reviews accomplishments of each session of Congress but McCormick made this year's report a complete history of the New Deal administration.

He said wages and salaries have risen 62 per cent since 1932; factory payrolls 146 per cent, dividends 55 per cent, and the national income from $40,000,000,000 in 1932 to $71,000,000,000 in 1939. Farm income, he said, rose from $4,682,000,000 to $8,519,000,000 (b) in 1939, including approximately $850,000,000 of benefit payments.

the game" at a late hour last night in the hospital.

Newman Ledbetter, heavyweight tackle who turned in a whale of a game, had to have his face sewed up all over again. He suffered a bad cut in the Oklahoma Aggie game, and apparently the same old wound opened up last night.

Kimball Is Satisfied.

Nor did the Cougars escape unscathed. They seemed prepared for a hard game; they played it that way, and they took their medicine. Several players were removed from the game, some of them by force.

Coach Eddie Kimball, discussing the game with this reporter, said that none of his boys were seriously hurt, at least not seriously enough for hospital attention, and that all hands would be in good shape when they get home. The team leaves at 1:15 o'clock, by Santa Fe train, this afternoon for the long trip home.

Coach Kimball was pleased with the showing of his boys. "We were a little over matched, but it was a good, clean game, and we got a kick out of playing it. We should have won it, taking advantage of the breaks, and we should never have allowed that safety. It was a case of mixed signals, rather than a bad pass from center. And it was certainly a hell of a place to get the signals mixed!"

Parents Honored.

Except for their obvious weakness against passes, the Texas Techs did just about all that the fans could have expected. There were about 7,000 fans there, including a lot of mothers and fathers here in answer to "Parents Day" invitations. Parents of football players sat on a special bench and wore numbers corresponding to the numbers worn on the field by their sons. They were introduced in a special ceremony between halves.

Better lighting facilities at the stadium made for a better "show," and the teams last night really put on a show. It was a "fan's game," and if any one went away disappointed they probably can get their money back.

Getting back to the scoring of last night's game:

Hill Gets, Loses.

In the first quarter, after Brigham Young had scored on Jackson's long run and his pass to Brink, Texas Tech struck back with a touchdown late in the period. Wing-footed Milton Hill, winding up his college career this year in what promises to be a brilliant windup for him, shook himself loose, after being escorted past the line of scrimmage by fine blocking, and ran 46 yards for a touchdown. McKnight's try for point was low.

Still later in the period, Tech started a drive on the ground which reached the Cougar 14-yard line, as the period ended. Hill and Storrs and big Charles Dvoracek had alternated in the drive.

Cougar Line Holds.

Early in the second, the Techs drove to the 5-yard line, then lost the ball on downs as the sturdy Brigham Young line and secondary stiffened like a brick wall.

Doc Chipman, brilliant punting expert for the visitors, dropped back to kick, and that's when the signals were mixed. He was smeared by Allbright and Ledbetter, and it was 2 points that put Tech ahead 8 to 7.

Tech made two other drives in that period, with Red Amonett and Don Austin and Tom Douglass doing the ball carrying, and they looked very good indeed. Amonett, the Flomot Flash, had an average of about 11 yards per try for the dozen or so times he carried the ball. Austin and Douglass performed well while they were in the game.

Pass, Pass, Off.

Late in the half, the Techs drove 60 yards to the BYU 18-yard line, lost the ball twice but got it back on interceptions. Allbright intercepted one and almost got loose.

In the hectic third period, Wing passed to Mills for about 25 yards and a first down just inside Tech territory. Two line plays lost some yardage, then Wing passed to Chipman, 48 yards for touchdown. Chipman kicked goal.

Storrs returned the kickoff 36 yards to the Cougar 48, from where Storrs passed to McKnight for touchdown, and McKnight kicked that very important point after.

Touchdown Called Back.

Tech scored twice late in period, but only one of them counted. Amonett had dashed over from the 12-yard line, but the play was called back and Tech penalized for off side. Storrs went back to the 10, then big Dutch Dvoracek went for touchdown. McKnight's try for point was low.

The Cougars scored on a freakish bit of business in the fourth. They got the ball on Tech's 40, failed to gain in three tries and Chipman kicked over the end zone. But the play was called back, and on the second fourth down of the series, Jensen passed to Mills for first down on the 22. Wing made two yards at the line, two passes were incompleted, and then in a beautiful "sucker" pass, drawing the Tech defense clear out of the way, Jensen passed to Reeves who caught it for touchdown. Tech's line rushed the kicker and Chipman's try for extra point was blocked.

The starting lineups:

Brigham Young	Pos.	Tech
R. Jensen	L.E.	Duncan

FDR Asks U.S. To Pay Armistice Day Tribute

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP) — President Roosevelt today asked the nation to observe Nov. 11 as Armistice day as an occasion for national striving for a new peace "with understanding."

"Observance of the anniversary of the armistice of 1918 will direct our minds to the need of the world then, as now, not only for peace but also for peace with understanding, not only for a cessation of hostilities but also for mutual respect in the intercourse between nations," Mr. Roosevelt said in a proclamation.

DIVIDEND IS VOTED.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 19. (AP)—Directors of Skelly Oil Co., today voted a 50-cent dividend payable December 20 to common stockholders of record Nov. 7.

J. D. Powell, vice president in charge of marketing, was elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death recently of W. T. Atkins. All other directors and officers were re-elected.

TYLER GROCER DIES.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18. (AP) — Robert Minor Goyne, 62, of Tyler, owner of a wholesale grocery bearing his name, died early today in a hospital here where he had been confined since Sept. 18.

His wife, the former Clare Jay Snyder, died in 1929.

Funeral services will be conducted here at 2:30 p. m., tomorrow.

GETS NO. 1 CARD.

BURLINGTON, N. C., Oct. 18. (AP) This must have been a coincidence.

When Alamance county registration officials came to draw cards for the purpose of assigning numbers, the first one drawn was that of Ted Roosevelt Wilkie, 21, of Burlington. He was assigned number 1.

RATHER SUBURN THING.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 18. (AP) — Dennis O'Keefe, film actor, telephoned actress Steffi Duna in New York last night and proposed. She said yes and caught an airliner for Phoenix.

Today they were married by Justice of the Peace Nat McKee.

SENIOR FINALS ON.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Dr. D. S. Harris of Dallas and George Rotan of Houston, defending champion, went into the final round of the state senior golf tournament Friday at the San Antonio Country club, while Red De Range of San Antonio and R. H. Nix of Dallas went bouncing out.

McGIBB BACK JINX.

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 18. (AP) Oklahoma A. and M. college opens its Missouri Valley football campaign against the defending champions from Washington University here tomorrow, attempting a trick no other Aggie team has been able to turn in the last 10 years.

Sabotage Cases Are Predicted

department," Dies said.

Await Only Proper Moment.

"I don't believe anyone in the government realizes how serious the threat is. The already placed saboteurs await only the proper moment to strike, and their efforts will impede our whole defense program.

"Politically we are weak in our efforts to stop this. We need stern laws vigorously and sincerely applied to curb not alone this work but the illegal activities of many foreign consuls in this country. We have uncovered much evidence of this latter fact, which has been turned over to the state department for action."

New Orleans, "Hot Spot."

Dies described New Orleans as a "hot spot for un-American activities in the South," and announced he would hold a series of hearings here next month inquiring into such activities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

"We have evidence indicating an espionage system on the waterfront here," Dies said.

Dies stopped here with his family to have an infected arm treated. He is enroute to Chicago on committee work.

SWC Busy Today

the TCU passing game, have drilled into twilight throughout the week. Big John Kimbrough, the All-America fullback who has been troubled with illness, was in perfect condition.

Rangy Marion Pugh, the Fort Worth lad who leads the conference passers with 29 completions out of 30 throws for 291 yards, a record that ranks him high among the nation's aerialists, was the spearhead of a surprise overhead attack the Aggies had cooked up for the Horned Frogs.

Aggies In Good Shape.

Not a man on that famed Aggie starting eleven was hurt.

But the situation was different in the TCU camp. Kyle Gillespie, the stout fellow who could be a Southwest conference immortal if his knee didn't buckle, is, at best, a very uncertain player at halfback. Capt. Clarence Alexander, a fine center, faces the prospect of playing 60 minutes. The only other capable replacement, Billy Blackstone, went down with a broken leg Wednesday. Tackle Woodrow Adams may not play. Co-Capt. Logan Ware is due to see only light service at wingback.

Some 15,000 are expected for the 2:30 p. m. kickoff.

Porkers Face Task Of Trying To Stop Crain

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 18. (AP) The Razorbacks of the University of Arkansas moved out of their Ozark mountain fastness today all primed for battle with a resurgent University of Texas football machine here tomorrow.

Coach Fred Thomsen tucked in his 34 huskies at nearby Conway tonight and will take them into Little Rock first thing in the morning, just about the time Dana Bible and his Longhorn team arrive.

Texas, with elusive Jack Crain ominously sticking out in the backfield, rated the favorite's position, this despite the laborious hours the Porkers put in on "stop Crain" drills this week. Arka., as stock also was up because of the sound thumping it handed favored Baylor last Saturday.

Auburn Tangles With Unbeaten Methodists

DALLAS, Oct. 18. (AP)—A couple of unbeaten teams, each more or less a question mark in its own conference, reach the turning point in the gridiron trail here tomorrow.

Auburn's Plainsmen, boasting victories over Howard and Tulane and a tie with Mississippi State and Southern Methodist, with wins over U. C. L. A. and North Texas State and a tie with Pitt, clash as a feature of the Texas State fair.

A crowd of 15,000 was expected.

What the teams do against each other here tomorrow will be the real gauge of what is to be expected of them when they start playing for keeps in their respective conferences —Auburn in the Southeastern, Southern Methodist in the Southwest.

Baylor, Villanova To Meet In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Vengeance burning in both teams' hearts, Villanova's colorful Wildcats, potent Eastern gridders, and Baylor university's rugged Bears of the Southwest conference, today polished off drills for tomorrow night's affair in Alamo Stadium.

Villanova was set to even scores with a Southwest conference representative for the 39-7 walloping received last year at Tyler from Texas A. and M. The licking ingloriously ended a victory string covering three seasons.

Baylor, ranked high as a conference title contender at the start of the season and crippled by injuries since, has managed to win two but hopes to work off the sting of last week's 12-6 defeat by Arkansas.

TULANE BANORED.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18. (AP) — Tulane's thrice-beaten Green Wave found itself tonight in the peculiar position of a 3-5 betting favorite over unbeaten, unscored-on Rice institute for their game here tomorrow, attempting a trick no other Aggie team has been able to turn in the last 10 years.

Parents Are Honored At Tech Friday; One Couple Traveled 1,837 Miles For Event

Combined mileage traveled by parents of students of Texas Technological college who attended the Parents day observance was 23,907.

That represented the total in miles listed by parents when they registered at a reception Friday afternoon in the women's dormitory.

Came From Pennsylvania.

Parents winning the prize for coming the longest distance were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Redding of Punxsutawney, Pa., parents of Paul Redding, an engineering student. They came 1837 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Cook of Post and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lindsey tied for the distinction of having had the most sons and daughters in college since the institution opened. Mr. and Mrs. Cook are parents of the five former students, Anna Bennett Cook, Victor Gorden Cook, Paul Blair Cook, J. W. (Tom) Cook and Alvis Clinton Cook.

Have Three In Tech Now.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey also have had five children in college, Kathryn, Alice, John, Margaret and Betty.

The Cooks have three children in college at present, Adrain, Oran Cook, Mary Kathryn Cook and Johnie Glenn Cook. The Lindseys have one son, Bob, in college now.

Mrs. V. T. Hall of Quitaque registered as the mother of four students in college at present. Wayne, Jack, Robert and Marie. One daughter, Mrs. B. L. Manire, is a former student. Mrs. Hall won the prize for having the largest number in college at present.

Players' Parents On Sidelines.

James Snyder, president of the student body, presented awards between halves of the Tech-Brigham Young university football game. Parents of varsity football players were introduced. They sat on the sidelines.

Mothers of players were honored at a reception given by Mrs. Clifford B. Jones, wife of the president, and Mrs. Pete W. Casthon, Mrs. Burl Huffman and Mrs. Russell T. Smith, wives of coaches, Friday afternoon at the present's residence.

Parents attended from several states.

Cowboy-Cowgirl Parade Through Downtown Lubbock This Afternoon To Open Texas Tech's Annual Block And Bridle Rodeo

A cowboy-cowgirl parade will begin at 1 o'clock this afternoon on Texas Technological college campus, followed by a rodeo at 2:30 o'clock at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds.

The rodeo will be sponsored by the college Block and Bridle club.

The parade, beginning at the circle in front of the administration building, will go through Lubbock to the fair grounds. Any person with a horse is invited to report to the campus at 1:30 o'clock to ride in the parade rodeo, officials announced.

Excellent Performers To Compete.

Rodeo performers who will be students, will ride in the parade.

"Although the contestants will be amateurs, the wide experience on the open range of many of the participants is a guarantee of excellent and wholesome performance," according to announcement from Tom E. Murray from Hobbs, N. M., president of Block and Bridle club; W. L. Stangel, head of the Tech animal husbandry department and sponsor of the club, and Dr. Clifford B. Jones, Tech president.

Special buses from the city bus station will transport persons to the fair grounds.

To Select Representative.

The college representative to the All-American rodeo and horse show to be held at the Will Rogers Memorial coliseum in Fort Worth Nov. 15 will be named.

Elbert Overton has directed rodeo plans, as rodeo manager, Lewis Nance from Justiceburg is assistant manager and Tom Green from Albany is secretary.

Prizes will include boots for first prize and sweater for second in calf roping; spurs and kid gloves in bronc busting; camel hair jacket, billfold and suspenders in steer riding; head stall and rodeo shirt in wild cow milking; riding breeches and loving cup in the rodeo queen contest, loving cup for the best all-around cowboy and a plaque to the social club represented by the winning sponsor.

Performers Announced.

Performers will be James Gunter, Conway; Lewis Nance, Justiceburg; Wayne Mears, Stuvanna; Wesley Roddy, Denison; Paul Anderson, Fort Worth; Lewis Herron, Archer City; Glen Elliot, Albany; Howard Heard, Brownwood; Buster Smith, O. W. Sumner, Lubbock; Joe Watkins, Paint Rock, Johnie Bradshaw, Sweetwater; Charles Stewart Seymour; Joe Weatherby, Pecos, Roy Jarvis, Paul Aston, Sweetwater; Courtney Cowden, Midland; Nathan Allen, Big Spring, Roy Rogers, Allison; Bill Miller, Snyder; Teddy Vinson, Ackerly, Robert Kelley, Sonora; Tom Arnett, Smyer; Sims Taylor, Lubbock; George B. McLeroy, Brownfield; Wayne Hildreth, Fairview, Okla.; Fred Owen, Whitney; Bobby Boyd, Sweetwater; Noel Percifull, Bronte, Gene Bimley, Baird; Robert Starkey, Muleshoe; Tom Green, Albany, Pete Fernandes, Quessa; Hubert Moseley, Roscoe; Bill Craddock, Robert Lee, and Yeats Causey, Ozona.

The winning sponsor will be chosen from candidates entered by campus organizations. Mrs. Clifford B. Jones and Mrs. W. L. Stangel will judge costumes and beauty and Dr. Jones and Professor Stangel will judge riding ability.

Sponsor Candidates.

Candidates are Mary Price and Martha Price, Pampa, representing DPD club; Wynona Keller of Snyder, Jane Ann Floyd and Mary Jarrott of Lubbock; Sans Souci club, Patsy Ayres of Slaton, Barbara Ann Read of Lubbock and Marie Petersen of Lubbock, Los Chaparritas club; Lois Nance of Justiceburg and Nancy Binford of Wildorado, Women's Athletic association; Jeanne Draper of Memphis, Ko Shari club; Lucy and Lucille Payne of San Augustine, Las Vivaracnas club.

Murray's parents, Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. James M. Murray, will attend the rodeo.

Defense Orders Will Be Given Priority

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP) — President Roosevelt made known today that new arrangements were under consideration to assure that the government's orders for defense materials shall be given priority over other orders.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference, without going into details, that he intended to take such steps, but added that no action was in prospect in the immediate future.

He intended to see to it, he told an inquirer, that no bottleneck delayed the defense program.

New Use Found For Registration Cards

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 18. (U.P.)—Police found a new use for draft registration cards today.

Capt. Jule Stumpf instructed tavern keepers to ask to see the registration card of any patron suspected of being under 21, to whom liquor sales are banned.

"If he's over 36, the bartender should be able to tell that without the card," Stumpf said.

News Briefs

Regular meeting of Lubbock County Bar association is to be at noon today in Lubbock hotel. Vaughn Wilson is president.

Word of the transfer of Robert Narville Stapp, son of Mrs. Billie Frances Ramsey of route 4, Tahoka, to the U. S. Marine corps base at San Diego, Calif., has been received. He enlisted in Amarillo and will receive training in the base for service.

Mrs. M. E. Moore, 91, of 1812 Main street, who fractured her left hip in a fall Wednesday, was resting well at midnight, said an authority in West Texas hospital. As in the case of other aged suffering fractures, her condition is serious but no complications have developed.

George Jacks, of 1907 Avenue S, reported theft of clothing valued at $17 from his car Friday night, police said.

confines of the Hatch act.

The Democratic chairman said "the letter speaks for itself," and declined further comment except to say that "undoubtedly" similar letters were sent to Democratic workers in other states.

Flynn's letter said: "You will find attached two legal opinions to guide you in what you are permitted to do with respect to soliciting and giving contributions under the Hatch act during the election campaign.

"Even where the type of government or state employe can not engage in political activity or even make contributions (and there are very few, as you will see from the annexed legal opinions) their friends and relatives are in no way prohibited from such activities."

Attached was a legal opinion by Sol A. Rosenblatt, general counsel for the Democratic national committee, and an interpretation from Oliver A. Quayle jr., national treasurer.

Quayle, referring to Rosenblatt's legal opinion, said: "In a few words anybody who is not on relief is permitted and can be urged to contribute within their means and desires, toward the reelection of President Roosevelt."

Here's A New Way To Bag Goose—Rope Him

HOUSTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Five wild geese dropped down in an oil well slush pit.

Ross Davis, 29-year-old school custodian, got a rope and lopped up on one of them.

He was within about 12 feet of the bird when it took off.

"I threw a loop at him and got the surprise of my life when the noose slipped over him.

"If I'd used a gun, I probably wouldn't have touched him."

Davis has the goose in a pen as proof of the story.

METHODISTS SELECT ODESSA.

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Oct. 18. (AP)—The New Mexico conference of Methodist churches today selected Odessa, Tex., for the 1941 conference. Assignments of ministers in New Mexico and West Texas for next year are to be announced tomorrow.

COP SAVER — COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., policemen have a better chance of coming out of gun battles, unscratched now that they carry these bullet proof shields in patrol cars.

Burma Road Bombed

along the way.

Supplies started moving toward China in the early darkness today after a three-months suspension of traffic in a vain effort by the British to appease Japan.

(From Rangoon, Burma, came word that fleets of munition trucks, long ready at the barrier to carry arms and munitions to the Chinese troops of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, sped northward from the railhead at Lashio toward the border. A British army officer said he never had seen a larger assemblage of trucks—and he served in the World war.)

Gain Close At Hand Base.

While the road was closed, the Japanese gained close-at-hand air bases in French Indo-China. They also made it plain their bombers would attempt to close it with explosives if their diplomats could not keep it closed by negotiations.

Meanwhile, the British announced indefinite postponement of the reopening of the Hongkong Crown colony to the shipment of petroleum products and railway material to China.

The Japanese who are blockading the South China coast, protested against the opening of the Hongkong route to materials for China.

braska, North Dakota and South Dakota, 34,627; Eighth, comprising Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, and Texas, 32,454; Ninth, comprising California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming, 34,984; Hawaii, 1,409; and Puerto Rico 9,609.

Registration Exceeds Expectation.

On the basis of official reports from 17 states and the District of Columbia, draft headquarters said Wednesday's registration of men in those areas exceeded census bureau estimates by more than 1 1-3 per cent which, if maintained throughout the nation, would add approximately 215,000 more men to the group between the ages of 21 and 36 than was originally expected. The original estimate was 16,400,000.

Among the first 17 states for which figures were announced, the selective service system reported these total registrations and the previous estimates:

Arkansas, 230,294 and 225,000; New Mexico, 69,763 and 63,000; Oklahoma, 261,963 and 238,000.

The Germans, he said, put up a fierce anti-aircraft defense for Frankfort, but the gunfire did not seem to bother British airmen. Sometimes the British planes swooped down to 300 feet over the house tops, he said.

He spoke of the extreme cost of maintaining the 7,000,000 men in the German army, and he was asked how the government pays for it.

Suit For $23,800 In Damages Filed Friday

Attorney for R. V. Gore filed suit in 72nd district court of Judge Hamlett A. Blair Friday against Manuela G. Abernathy and wife, asking $23,800 damages.

Gore, who recently entered suit to have his real estate license restored, claims the damage grew out of his being ousted from his office in a downtown office building. An agent of the defendants ordered him to vacate the quarters last July 9, he alleges.

Petition asks $10,000 personal damages, $12,300 in loss of business and $1,500 attorney's fees.

in each part of the area may not conform to the general pattern, the report pointed out.

Land seeded to wheat this fall was about 1,600,000 acres more than in 1939 and there was an increase of more than 1,300,000 acres of sorghums this year compared with 1939, the report continued. The wheat increase reflected improved seeding conditions this year. Last year's acreage was below normal for the area.

Wheat Acreage Abandoned.

The increase in sorghum acreage was caused by the planting of sorghums last spring on abandoned wheat lands and to farmers' desire to grow sorghums for seed and for wind erosion protection. Sorghum acreage in Texas and New Mexico was less this year than in 1939 because dry weather in some areas during the spring and early summer prevented establishment of stands.

"Feed supplies are not adequate to meet livestock demands in most of the Texas Panhandle, northeast New Mexico, western Oklahoma east of the Panhandle and in a small north-central Kansas area," the report said. "Surplus feed supplies exist in most of eastern Colorado and western Kansas.

Total Is 1,336,600 Acres.

Prospects there are for good wheat pasture. Seriousness of the feed situation in counties reporting shortage will depend on fall rainfall and the amount of available wheat pasture."

Total land in condition to blow, including both crop and pasture land is 1,336,600 acres. By states the acreage is: Oklahoma, 197,300; Kansas, 212,100; New Mexico, 312,800; Texas, 544,000; Colorado 70,100.

The report was made to the council by R. I. Throckmorton of Manhattan, Kas., head of the Kansas State college agronomy department. His report was based on figures submitted by county agents in 100 counties of the five states.

The Germans deployed over the United Kingdom also. One southeast Scottish town said German planes made their first daylight appearance there in many months. Their bombs trapped two women in their home, damaged other houses and a church. The planes were chased out to sea.

Toll Of Dead Announced.

September's terrific toll of dead was announced by the ministry of home security, which said 6,954 civilians were killed and 10,615 seriously wounded in air raids on the United Kingdom last month.

Prime Minister Churchill announced in commons on Oct. 8 that British civilian casualties from the beginning of the war up to Oct. 5 were 8,500 killed and 13,000 wounded.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Our Navy And The Latinos

GERMAN Rear Admiral Gadow was exactly correct in his evaluation of the United States fleet the other day as being one designed to operate "on the offensive on far-flung oceans."

Nothing could be further from the truth, however, than his implication—unquestionably intended to put Latin American nations in fear of us—that such a fleet necessarily must be one designed for conquest.

A navy capable of operating offensively "on far-flung oceans" is desirable for two fundamental reasons. One is that a powerful attack is the best defense. The other is that if the United States should be forced into war, it is desirable that the scene of operations should be kept as far from our shores as possible. We don't want to wait until the enemy gets within gun range of our shores, perhaps in position to pound some of our coastal cities to pieces, before we are in position to attempt to repel them. If an enemy ever is permitted to get that close, then this nation will indeed be in danger.

History and the physical facts as they apply to nations are the positive proof that smaller nations, particularly those of the Americas, have no cause to fear aggressions by the navy. If this nation was of an imperialistic mind, Latin America could have been ours long ago. Any resistance other nations in the Hemisphere could offer would be feeble.

But we have done a good deal more than merely respect their integrity as independent nations. Every last one of them has been scene of revolution after revolution, yet with exception of a few isolated instances, Uncle Sam never has lifted a hand to interfere. They have established trade practices which discriminated against us in favor of Europe and even of Japan. Yet there never has been a suggestion that there should be an infringement of those rights. On the contrary, we have respected them as independent nations, and have forced a grasping world to respect them.

The navy of the United States has done more than protect our own nation. It has been the first line of defense for human liberty on the two continents of the Americas.

The Ho-Hum Department

ABOUT as futile as any undertaking to be imagined is the agitation by the newly organized "Americans of Standards of Life, Inc." for the removal of the national capital from Washington to a more central point. It is futile because there is no good reason why it should be done.

The only arguments in support of the proposition are that it would place the capital nearer to more people and that it would make it less accessible to attack if the nation should be invaded.

Against that are the facts that even now, Washington is within less than 48 hours from any portion of the nation; and that, even if it should be attacked and captured, the loss would not aggravate any problems of defense for the nation except for the moral effect it might have. It is neither a fortress nor an industrial center.

But the most powerful argument against a change is that in Washington the nation has built the world's most beautiful and most magnificent city. It is the world's supreme achievement of inspired artistic genius of its kind, not to mention the billions of dollars invested there. It would be as impossible to build a city to equal or surpass Washington as it would be for a painter to produce, on order, something to compare with the Mona Lisa.

If it doesn't happen that this new corporation is a racket which will seek to solicit funds, then the best that can be said for it is that it is preparing to waste whatever effort that may be expended in its behalf.

With Our Contemporaries

"It is the most natural thing in the world for the people of Littlefield and Lamb county, and for all Americans, to be concerned about the present state of affairs in Europe," says John A. Price in the Littlefield County Wide News. "We should be. But brooding about the war too much will do more harm than good to our preparedness and national defense program."

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

FIRST WAR CORRESPONDENT

George Wilkins Kendall (1809-1867) is the first war correspondent of modern times. He was sent to cover the Mexican war of 1846-7 for the New Orleans Picayune, antedating by eight years the work of Sir William Russell, who covered the Crimean war for some English papers. He was the first man to report a war from the battlefield extensively for the daily papers. By means of a special pony express service which he organized, he succeeded in anticipating by several days the dispatches received by the government in Washington. A special boat equipped with a printing press would meet the pony express on the Gulf Coast and while sailing back to New Orleans, the news received would be put into type, so that on arrival in New Orleans all rival newspapers could be scooped.

The Road To Shani Lun

By RITA MOHLER HANSON

YESTERDAY: On their way to the court of the Prince of Shani Lun, lovely Lynn Britton and her escort, Temu Durin, have arrived at the Mongolian monastery of Pallichao, from which a party issues to meet them. Frightened though she is by what amounts to her captivity, she still cannot hide her interest in Temu, a Mongolian with great experience in the Western world.

Chapter 15

Terrible Message

"The trail forks at the foot of Pallichao," Temu said, "one branch going south to a mission on the Yellow River; the other continuing on west is our road to Shani Lun."

She loked at him with rising anger. "Our road! How sure you are of yourself!"

His eyes held hers. "I want you to be sure of yourself, too."

"I am sure you will pay for this."

"I'm not harming you," he said reasonably.

She threw up her hands in despair. "You're quarreling with me and spoiling the scenery." They both laughed. That, she felt, was the most maddening thing about her nature; her special weakness, a sense of the ridiculous that adulterated any particular power of rage she might possess.

Temu's mount had been restless all the time. Now, he sidled up to Lynn's camel and snarled and ground his teeth. Lynn eyed him doubtfully.

"He's a big, black, Bactrian brute!". She stumbled a bit over the words.

"Speak it swiftly," Temu commanded.

"He's a big, back, Blactrian bot!"

They both laughed again. "The poor fellow's showing symptoms of being in love," Temu explained. "Last month, he had a fight with a rival male and they almost killed each other; wound their necks together and twisted and wrenched and kicked and bit the flesh from each other's bodies."

"I think I prefer horses," said Lynn.

Suddenly, as if resenting her remark, the big beast swung and spat his cud at her, a huge mouthful of a soupy substance that seemed to Lynn like green grape pie and smelled like a chemical experiment gone wrong. She could hardly breathe.

Temu dismounted swiftly and brought down Lynn's camel, then helped her off with her sash and Mongol coat, laughing helplessly and apologizing, both at the same time.

"I'm sorry, so sorry."

Lynn was half laughing and half crying herself. Fortunately, but little of the mess had struck her face.

"Is there any in my ear?" she asked.

He looked. "Clean as a sea shell," he reported.

Lynn shuddered, fanning her face with her hands. "I'll never smell right again, I fear."

He broke into another gale of laughter.

"So sorry. I never dreamed he'd do such a thing."

"Men on foot know they have to be careful of camels, but a mounted person is seldom assailed. Now you have been really initiated into caravan life. You are one of us." Because the air was cool he wrapped a rug around her shoulders while they awaited the horsemen's approach.

Dick's Letter

They were staying over a day in Pallichao. Lynn had been informed, to give the animals a day of good grazing before they entered the stony desert with its bitter water. The camp was set up at the foot of the hill below the Monastery.

Lynn, who was very tired, woke in the morning refreshed, remembering that Sherlock and Temu had promised to tell her why she was being compelled to go to Delun. They sat after breakfast in the dining tent, Sherdock in his priestly yellow robe, Temu and the Duchess in their Mongol garb, and Lynn in a soft, knit dress of silvery blue with white at the throat and wrists, which made her look particularly feminine and exotic in these surroundings.

Chin Pak brought in the dispatch case and Temu took from it the envelope address in Dick Britton's handwriting. Handing it to her, he explained, "This is the final communication your brother sent to the Prince."

Lynn drew out the letter with trembling fingers.

My sister does not know the truth. I could not have persuaded her to leave America had I told her she had been asked not merely to visit the court at Delun, but to become its princess. She is the last girl in the world, I have since discovered, who would be agreeable to a marriage arranged after the French custom.

I took her to the temple village hoping that there I could break the news to her, but I found it impossible. If ever a girl requires courtship, Lynn is that girl. However, I have brought her here and turned her over to Sherdock according to agreement. So I consider that I have earned the marriage settlement.

The rest is up to you. She is at your mercy. Knowing you, I imagine you will take her and marry her, and knowing what a poor deal life is anyhow, I imagine she will not find you as dull as that American banker she might have married.

Tell her whatever you wish.

DICK BRITTON.

Lynn sat a moment stunned, unseeing, the paper falling from her fingers.

"To think that Dick would do this to me!" she whispered, and added presently, "I suppose that somehow I made it easy for him."

He had practically sold her to this Oriental and deceived him in the buying; had let him believe that an American girl would willingly come to him as a bride, satisfied with a marriage arrangement made by a member of the family.

Presently her eyes focused on Sherdock, his face calm and serene as he fingered his beads. She turned and looked at Temu. He met her glance, his face watchful, expressionless, but she noticed that his knuckles were white as he gripped the arms of his chair. Perhaps he had not been as confident as Sherdock and the Prince that these revelations should be made. They explained many things.

"Now, what do you think?" he asked in a level tone.

"It's incredible, unbelievable! Weren't you educated with the Prince in Europe and America?"

"Yes," he agreed, frowning.

"Didn't you both learn that no intelligent American girl would willingly accept such an arrangement?"

"The Prince took your brother's word. You must remember that he is very much in love with you, and with the least encouragement a man in love believes what he longs to believe."

"But you, the Prince's friend, you weren't in love."

He shrugged and smiled faintly. "Mine not to reason why—"

She looked at the letter again "Dick implies that the Prince might try to force me to marry him."

Temu spoke quickly. "The Prince wants you to come to Delun so he may talk this over with you."

"There is nothing to say."

Story Of A Prince

"He thinks there is. He's very much in love with you, convinced that you belong to him and he to you."

She turned to Sherdock. "Oh, Sherdock, you're a wise man and a good man! Can you be a willing party to this?"

The priest sat in silence, looking at her, breathing on her as it were, his peace and serenity.

"I love the Prince very much," he said. "Let me tell you about him. He needs you."

Lynn sat back in her chair as Sherdock continued: "My family has ruled Shani Lun since the breaking up of the empire of Kubla Khan. My brother, the Prince, had no male heir but it was revealed to me that our illustrious ancestor had incarnated and would be found as a child in a village of herdsmen north of Koko Nor. I would know him for he would come to me of his own free will and speak the words of our sacred mantra."

Lynn listened impatiently as he went on. "I headed the cavalcade that went in search of the little Prince. And among the black tents in the grasslands north of the lake we found a child six years of age, whose parents had been murdered by robbers. Somehow the boy had escaped the fate of his elders, and attaching himself to a band of herdsmen, had managed to survive.

"The natives presented their own terrified children who stood dumb before me as is natural with the wild children of the grasslands. They cuffed the orphan waif whenever he came near.

"But the child was alert and spirited and driven by an inner knowing. Character and power already displayed themselves in his features; he was a comely child despite the dirt and rags in which I found him. Presently he forced his way to me, placed his hands on my knees fearlessly, and looking me straight in the eyes, he repeated the sacred mantra again and again with insistance and without prompting: Aum mani padme hum."

Lynn listened rather breathlessly now, impressed by Sherdock's picture of the child, terrified and bewildered, his parents murdered while he was left to scavenge the camps of brutal Tibetan nomads or to die . . . But that was no life to join with hers.

The priest smiled a little, the light of love and tenderness bringing a glow to his face. "I took him to Delun. The Prince became his father and I his teacher. I believe he had a very happy childhood. When he grew older, I took him and several sons of our nobles to the Western world for further education."

Lynn glanced at Temu. "Sons of nobles?"

"There were ten of us," he said.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S oft-expounded theory that the dictators crave his defeat does not hold up under the analysis of a distinguished ex-diplomat intimately acquainted with the mental and political processes of the No. 1 men in Germany and Italy. The critic's views may be subject to discount because he is a well-known GOP-er, but they have both logic and plausibility.

Hitler and Mussolini entertain the utmost contempt for the democratic processes and philosophy, as their careers demonstrate. But they have the deepest reverence for America's economic and industrial might once it is fully exercised. That feeling derives from their experiences during and since they fought in the World war, when they saw Uncle Sam's men and money turn the tide against the kaiser. Despite their derisive threats, they do not want the United States in this war until they have conquered all other enemies.

In rebuilding their own countries after fitful attempts to rule by liberal, democratic governments patterned on a European model, the two dictators mobilized their industrialists, financiers, practical experts—Thyssen, Funk, Schacht, etc. They turned to the corporate rather than the political state in order to make their nations great and powerful in a material way. They eliminated the politicians and time-servers and "softies."

CHOICE: President Roosevelt has adopted altogether different methods in his attempt to bring the United States out of the depression, according to this diplomatic critic. He has shown a hostility to business and industrial interests, and the lesson has not been lost on foreign observers here and across the water.

It is not generally realized, but only two of the 19 cabinet members who have served during almost eight years of this administration had any intimate contact with industrial operations of production problems. They were William H. Woodin and Charles Edison, and their periods of service were comparatively short. Only two others—Frank Knox and Jesse Jones—ever had to meet a payroll of any magnitude. How to make an economic machine operate is admittedly a mystery to brain trusters like Cohen, Corcoran, Hopkins, Ickes, etc. The last thing the dictators want, according to the commentator mentioned above, would be any change in this setup.

New Dealers are beginning to feel the force of this pro-Willkie argument. The tenor of their more recent attacks is that he, too, is not an industrialist or a businessman; they denounce him as a promoter, a lobbyist and a front man for the utilities. They deny he can do any better than FDR in gearing industry for national defense against foreign or internal enemies. Nobody knows exactly how Adolf and Benito stand on Roosevelt and Willkie, but obviously they don't want the man who can best prepare to meet them when and if—.

WOMEN: The adage that a woman scorned is a dangerous enemy is vividly exemplified in the presidential campaign. The President's most bitter foes are the wives of distinguished Democrats and erstwhile Roosevelt Republicans whom he has cast aside—senators, prominent politicos, ex-cabinet members, governors and the like.

Two leading Democrats once closely associated with FDR show no rancor publicity, but their wives are peddling Willkie buttons. The wife of a great Republican isolationist from the West lives on the phone these days as she tries to "needle" other wives into forcing their Democratic husbands to declare for the GOP nominee. The wife of a certain Democratic senator from the mountain states did not speak to him for 48 hours when it was reported that he would drop his feud with the White House. She has threatened to divorce him if he dcelares for a third term. He is still wabbling. A left-wing labor leader's spouse has about won him over to Mr. Willkie. If he does not declare for the utility magnate, he will say nothing either way.

The reasons for this feminine hatred are probably varied—personal, political and biological. They are frankly mad because of the way their husbands have been treated. They don't approve of many New Deal policies. Lastly, it seems that women don't kiss and make up in political feuds as easily as the male sex does.

BELIEF: Between the lines of the President's appeal for hemispheric defense—his "all for one and one for all" speech—was a direct bid to the thousands of Italian voters supposed to resent his "stab in the back" accusation at Charlottesville.

FDR's selection of Columbus Day for this kind of address, as he said, was not "accidental." From every center of Italian-related peoples the White House and National Headquarters have received pleas for some action or statement that might win back this important element. Local bosses feared a revolt against the national ticket might affect adversely their slates for city and county and state offices. They more or less put it up to the President to undo the damage he had caused, and he was not unwilling. So he mentioned Columbus directly or by reference four times, and referred to Italians directly or indirectly the same number.

The local politicos were frankly delighted. They had expected some simple statement out of the White House at an opportune moment. They did not dream that appeasement would come in the form of a radio speech to the universe. Now, with a more practical, followup campaign, they believe they can make everything hunky-dory by election day.

SIGNS: The Republicans may be kidding themselves, but they think they detect a decided swing toward Wendell Willkie as the campaign enters its last weeks. As Eastern Manager Sam Pryor, jr. said early in the fight, "We tried to plant our corn so that it would come up late in October rather than early September."

As reported here previously, Henry Wallace brought bad news from the West to an inner-inner circle conference at the White House. He begged FDR to take off the wraps, and to make more inspection trips of national defenses. John L. Lewis has received reports from his scouts in five states—Ohio, Indiana, Kansas and the Dakotas—that Mr. Willkie looks like a sure winner in that area. The outcome in Illinois will depend on how many votes the Kelly-Nash machine can roll up—or weigh—for FDR. The GOP nominee will reach Cook county line with a bangup majority, according to these estimates.

A Willkie upturn at this time may have incalculable effects. It may panic the New Dealers, especially the President, and they are best only when they are front-runners; they make mistakes when things go against them. It may influence several important figures to declare for the Republican; they have held off because they don't want to support a loser publicly. And GOP gains will undoubtedly lead the undecided and bandwagon hoppers to make up their minds Willkie-ward.

OPENER: Public speakers who try to keep abreast of current events have hit upon a new introductory sentence to get their listeners in a warm, receptive state of mind. It is:

"This is not a political speech—and I am not making an inspection trip."

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

AFTER the capitulation of France precluded materialization of the proposed merger of the Anglo-French empires, British's Federal Unionists have been extremely active in promoting an Anglo-American union. Since Winston Churchill's recent statement that the fate of the two English-speaking nations is inexorably entwined the unionists have been making hay in the publicity sunshine.

Their latest proposal to reach New York is for a common citizenship of the British commonwealth and the United States for the purpose of final victory over the totalitarians, and to create a new order in the world. Certain members of the group advocate the revival of Wilson's 14 points as the primary basis of their peace aims. In this connection the most often heard statement is that the United Kingdom is fighting the battle of civilization which can be brought to a successful conclusion only with American help.

More cautious elements in the British Isles warn against over-optimistic hopes for widespread American support. The Middle West, in their opinion, is extremely suspicious and prejudiced towards any moves which would necessarily lead eventually to a complete re-writing of our Constitution, preceded by a quiet funeral for the Declaration of Independence.

Here And There In Texas

By HOWARD C. MARSHAL
Associated Press Staff Writer

STREAMLINED rules shaped to eliminate long-standing evils may guide the Texas House of Representatives through the gruelling general session of the legislature which begins at Austin in January.

Complaints accumulating over the years that business of the House often was hurtfully retarded to the tempo of horse and buggy days have culminated in a report of a special committee recommending important changes in procedure.

The committee of six, appointed by Speaker R. Emmett Morse, has been grubbing through the tangled rules for more than a year. It is composed of Lon A. Alsup of Carthage, chairman; E. H. Thompson, Jr., of Galveston, James E. Taylor of Kerens, Joe Keith of Sherman, Bryan Bradbury of Abilene and De Witt Hale of Farmersville.

The letter transmitting the report to the next House will say in part:

"Many of the rules were obsolete, a number were conflicting, some were expressed in phrascology difficult to interpret and understand, many were indefinite, and in numerous instances the rules were not applicable to the procedure under consideration and precedents had to be relied upon. This condition often led to confusion and misunderstanding."

Fewer Committees Proposed

Conflicts have been removed wherever possible, and the language of many rules has been simplified where it might be subject to more than one interpretation.

The number of committees, now 41, has been reduced by combining the duties of many.

"Under the old rules," the letter continues, "there were so many committees that often a member had to serve on six or seven. It was impossible for the member to attend the meetings of all and as a result he was subjected to unjust criticism.

"In addition, the member's time was so divided that he was not able to give proper consideration to any committee. Obviously this prevented all committees from giving careful and deliberate attention to legislation.

"Under our proposal, the members will serve on fewer committees, and though the committees will have more subjects before them the members will have more time to devote to the same."

To meet objections that controversial bills many times are killed by a committee without giving interested citizens opportunities to be heard, notice to the public through the press would be required before hearings could be held.

Indefiniteness has been attacked, and in this connection one of the most important changes has been worked out.

IN the past, some speakers have held that a joint resolution providing for a constitutional amendment could be considered by the House repeatedly although it never received more than a majority vote, which was not true of a bill. There is a stopping point for consideration of a bill, which prevents a hopeless fight after the House has expressed an opinion and possibly the blocking of other legislation.

The committee has recommended that if a joint resolution receives a majority on second reading it shall pass to engrossment (third reading), and if on third reading it does not receive a two-thirds majority of the membership it may not be considered again during the session.

Such a rule would have stopped the long drawn out fight over 'SJR-12,' proposed sales-natural resource tax amendment, in the last session. The famous proposition repeatedly received more than a majority vote, but failed by a few votes to obtain the necessary two-thirds.

After each failure, until the last on the final day of the session, it was laid aside, later to be called up again. In the interval, members were subjected to much pressure, which included radio talks by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, in endeavors to gain the constitutionally-prescribed margin.

Examples Are Seen

Critics contended that procedure not only may tend to hamper other important business, but is antagonistic to sound democratic government in that it may lead to virtual coercion and distortion of members' judgments. The same principal applies in holding trial juries an unreasonable length of time, they assert.

The committee view is that repeated tests in a session were never contemplated by the Constitution.

Another feature of the SJR 12 struggle would be impossible in the future under the rules revision, which would forbid "personal privilege" speeches after the "previous question" had been ordered by the house. "The previous question" is ordered, on occasion, to curb debate.

Opponents of SJR 12 used such speeches again and again to delay proceedings, organize for votes and make arguments. This also has been done on other controversial legislation.

A personal privilege speech primarily is intended to give members opportunity to discuss questions affecting the safety, dignity, and integrity of the House collectively and the rights reputation and conduct of members individually. It has right of way over all other business except motions to adjourn.

Brazil was discovered April 22, 1500, by Pedro Alvarez Cabral, a Portuguese navigator.

"We had a splendid time but it was always good to get back to our own plains and mountains." He and the Duchess smiled at each other.

"After the death of my brother," Sherdock went on, "the young prince traveled no more to foreign lands. Then one day your picture came to Delun. The next day your brother came. We consulted the stars and the spirits of the sages. A marriage was arranged. It has long been predicted that the Goddess Tara would come from the West in her next manifestation." He bowed. "We have found you."

Approximately 4,000 NYA Boys Register

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (AP) — Approximately 4,000 of the 10,000 young men on National Youth administration projects in Texas registered for selective service, NYA headquarters reported today.

Administrator J. C. Kellam said youths from 17 to 20 years of age would be assigned to replace any enrollees selected for military training.

FDR, Jr. TO SPEAK

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Oct. 18. (U.P.)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., will be the principal speaker at a Democratic rally here Wednesday night, it was announced today by Charles E. Miller, chairman of the Leavenworth county central committee.

APPLICANT TURNED DOWN

ENNIS, Oct. 18 (U.P.)—One applicant for registration here this week was turned down. He was a 70-year-old negro who "wanted to do the right thing. The disappointed darky went away without revealing his name.

MARKET CONTINUES RISE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The stock market made it four straight on the rising side today when buying in the final hour slightly more than offset an early profit taking stumble.

A fair-sized volume of offerings unsettled prices for steels and other recent industrial climbers at the start. Dealings then slowed and quickened again on the last-minute recovery shift. At the close extreme losses running to a point or so were substantially reduced or replaced with modest advances.

Rails edged forward along with farm implements, mail orders, amusements and scattered aircrafts.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 44.8, sustaining the latest upturn which got underway Oct. 15. Transfers totaled 500,280 shares against 648,900 the day before.

Nothing particularly bearish could be found in domestic business or foreign war news, brokers said, and this, combined with a little more Wall Street political optimism, was thought to have given moderate encouragement to speculative forces.

General Motors and Chrysler were up small fractions. In the advancing column were Great Northern, Pennsylvania, Chesapeake and Ohio, Douglas Aircraft, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Sears Roebuck, Paramount, Lowe's and American Telephone.

A bit lower were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, du Pont, Westinghouse, Dow Chemical, Loft, Standard Oil of N. J., Kennecott, American Smelting and Consolidated Edison.

In the curb, where the turnover was around 102,000 shares compared with 132,000 yesterday, moderately higher prices were posted for Bath Iron Works, Gulf Oil, American Gas and Wright Hargraves.

Downey Says He Is For The President

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18 (AP)—Democratic Senator Sheridan Downey, former outspoken opponent of a third term "for any president," said at a press conference today he was supporting President Roosevelt for re-election.

It was the only choice he could make, he said, "between Roosevelt for a third term or Willkie for a first term."

He said he would speak over a radio chain (CBS) at 9:30 p. m. (CST), immediately following a broadcast from the same station by his Republican colleague, Senator Hiram W. Johnson, who will speak against the third term.

Downey said he and Johnson stood side by side, as advocates of "isolationism and a two-way Monroe doctrine," in opposition to policies of both Roosevelt and Willkie regarding United States involvement in foreign wars.

CONVICTS GIVE UP

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 18 (AP)—Cold and hunger drove seven rain-sodden convicts today from the top of a prison chapel where they had spent more than 22 hours defying guards in an unexplained strike.

One by one, the men climbed down a ladder into the yard of St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary from the roof of the chapel where they had perched suddenly late yesterday.

Delay by the government in paying salaries to civil employes is intensifying Honduras' economic depression.

WHEAT MARKET DECLINES

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Afflicted with a "what's the use" attitude today, the wheat market followed the path of least resistance and declined moderately.

Taking of small profits more than offset the influence of a continued good shipping demand and prices drifted slowly downward on a weak and easy market. The reaction, though, was rather expected in view of the recent creeping advance which had raised prices to the season's high marks.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ¾ cent below yesterday's final quotations, December 85⅝-⅞, 85½, May 84⅝-84⅞, corn ¼ to ½ down, December 60⅞-60¾, May 61⅝, oats ⅛ to ⅜ off, and lard 2 to 7 cents down.

A brisk shipping demand in the cash markets was reported with 190,000 bushels sold. This was much less than the 302,000 bushels sold yesterday, but heavy enough to surpass most daily sales in recent months.

The general attitude of the trade today was one of expecting the market to consolidate its recent advance to the season's highest prices.

Warning Issued On Wage-Hour

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 18—G. C. Street, jr., regional director here of the wage and hour division, today warned Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arkansas employers that all white collar employes are not exempted from provisions of the wage act.

"All so-called 'white-collar' employes are by no means exempt from the provisions of the fair labor standards act because of the new definitions of the terms 'executive', 'administrative' and 'professional' which have just been promulgated at Washington," Street pointed out. "Hence, for this reason, all employers, if they wish to safeguard themselves, should be sure that they are complying with the provisions of the wage and hour law and with part 541 of the regulations, newly issued."

Many questions relative to the application of the newly announced exemptions have been received at the regional office, he said. The new rules become effective October 24—on which date the regular straight-time work week becomes 40 hours with overtime pay for hours worked in excess of 40.

Mrs. Effie C. Cline To Be Buried Today

Last rites for Mrs. Effie C. Cline, 38, who died Thursday afternoon en route to West Texas hospital from her home in O'Donnell, probably will be read at 3 o'clock this afternoon in O'Donnell.

Plains Funeral home will be in charge of burial. Final arrangements had not been made Friday night.

Mrs. Cline suffered asthma and a heart ailment.

Mrs. Cline is survived by two sons, A. J. and Murle, and one daughter, Janie, of O'Donnell; her mother, Mrs. Amandia J. Cox of O'Donnell; five brothers, W. M. and Roy Cox of Portales, N. M., Floy and Loy Cox of a New Mexico town and Walter Cox of Douglas, Ariz.; and six sisters, Miss Edna Cox of O'Donnell, Miss Helen Cox of Denver City, Mrs. Florence Foster of Borger, Mrs. Emma Cribs of a New Mexico town, Mrs. Hazel Atkinson of Washington, Okla.

J. L. Gamble Elected Frenship FFA Leader

WOLFFORTH, Oct. 18 (Special)—The Frenship Future Farmers of America, Thursday, gathered in regular session for election of officers for the next year, and voted favorably to send a delegate of the chapter to the National FFA convention in Kansas City in November.

The delegate will be chosen three weeks hence at the next regular meeting.

Officers selected include: J. L. Gamble, president; Fred McCrummen, vice president; Golden Ferguson, secretary; John McCrummen, treasurer; Walford Bufe, reporter; Wesley Shuffel, watchdog; Melvin Simmons, parliamentarian; J. A. McWhorter, historian; and R. W. Shaw, song leader.

U.S. Employment Gain Predicted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The bureau of agricultural economics predicted today that American business and industrial activity in 1941, influenced largely by national defense spending, should expand to the extent of employing at least 2,000,000 more persons than in 1940.

Such an increase, when coupled with prospective enlargement of the armed forces under conscription, should, the bureau said, reduce the nation's unemployment rolls—which it placed at between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000—by about 2,500,000 persons.

Wage Increases Seen

These forecasts were contained in the bureau's annual outlook report on economic conditions for the year ahead.

Other developments forecast included "higher wholesale prices, some wage increases, improved domestic demand for some farm products, an increase in steel production to the record levels of 1916, 1917 and 1929, a 'modest' improvement in textile production, a 'considerable' increase in heavy construction, and a further slump in agricultural exports.

The bureau explained that its forecasts were based on the defense program as now projected and upon the assumption that the European war would continue.

News Briefs

"Merchandising of Dairy Products" was the subject discussed by George E. Vineyard of Amarillo, salesmanager and district supervisor of the Borden company, before 175 members of the freshman class in business administration of Texas Technological college Friday afternoon, according to Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head of the department of business administration and instructor of the class. Vineyard's son, Howard, is a member of the class.

C. T. Potts, farmer and Monroe U. May, assistant farm agent, left Friday for Dallas where they planned to purchase a registered Berkshire gilt. They also will pick up a county 4-H club grain sorghum exhibit which has been on display at the Dallas State fair.

Condition of John W. Thompson, who was injured in a car accident Tuesday, was reported as satisfactory Friday and his son, Neil Thompson, returned to his home in Pecos. The injured man is in Lubbock sanitarium.

Checks for newspaper advertising went out to more than 70 newspapers of the South Plains and eastern New Mexico, officials of Panhandle-South Plains fair said Friday. Advertising in newspapers was double that of previous years and officials said it was a "good investment."

Here between trains Friday, Rev. Dr. Frank L. Turner, president of McMurry college, Abilene, said he had been attending a New Mexico Methodist conference in Tucumcari this week. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt presided. The minister left late in the afternoon.

Satisfactory was the condition reported Friday of John L. Burkholder of 2310 Main street, operated on in Magnolia hospital, Long Beach, Calif. He is a student in a flying school there.

Charged in U. S. district court with postoffice robbery for entering the Tahoka postoffice some time ago, Pressley Van Zandt, 30, was given two years in Leavenworth, Kans., federal prison by Judge James C. Wilson in Amarillo. He had been held in county jail here until the trial.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ben T. Jeffcoat, 65, of near Petersburg will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the First Methodist church, with burial in Memorial Park cemetery, Rix Funeral home said. A resident of this vicinity 16 years, Mrs. Jeffcoat died Thursday at her home.

Problems of automobile sales was discussed by J. D. McPhaul, sales manager of Lubbock Auto Co., before a senior class of business administration students Friday, said Dr. J. O. Ellworth, head of the department of economic and business administration of Texas Technological college. McPhaul answered many questions by the 30 seniors in the class.

One hundred and five cotton parity payment checks, amounting to $14,231.14, were received, C. T. Wasson, administrator of the county Agricultural Adjustment administration said Friday. This brings the total checks to 3,783 and the amount to $485,991.15.

Mrs. Juanita Butler, district supervisor of home management agents of Farm Security administration, who has been on a tour of her district with Mrs. Moorehead of Washington, D. C., is to be back in her office this morning. Mrs. Moorehead is with the health division of FSA in Washington. The two will spend next week also visiting agents in this section.

The U. S. Marine crops recruiting office, in room 1 of the federal building, is to close this afternoon at 3 o'clock and men interested in service may make inquiries until that time, Sgt. Lon F. Rowlett, officer in charge, said Friday. "Men who have registered may volunteer for service in the Marines," said Rowlett. "They must, however, bring their registration card with them." The office will be open from 10 o'clock this morning until 3 p. m. The officer was to leave early this morning for Amarillo with several men whom he secured Friday. He will return by 10 o'clock, he said.

Next week he will be in Levelland three days.

Draft Boards Instructed To Enroll Dilatory Conscriptees

O'Daniel Names State Advisers

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Adjutant General J. Watt Page today instructed local boards throughout Texas to register for selective service any men who did not register Oct. 16 and who voluntarily present themselves before time for the national lottery.

Page acted on orders from the national director of selective service, Clarence A. Dykstra.

Appointment of one lawyer in each county to serve as members of advisory boards for registrants was announced by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel.

No Compensation Provided

The governor recently named district judges as chairmen of these boards, of which there is one for each judicial district and whose function is to provide help in preparing questionnaires and claims. Associate members will be appointed by the board chairmen and members to assist them.

"These men are rendering a fine and patriotic service to their country," Governor O'Daniel said. "No compensation has been provided for any member of the advisory boards."

Meanwhile, selective service headquarters said the total number of registrants would not be known because of tardy reports, until tomorrow.

Lubbock High Seniors Elect Cullen Chapman

Senior High school elected Cullen Chapman president and Louise Burrus secretary of its senior class Friday.

Chapman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Chapman, 2317 Seventeenth street. Miss Burrus is the daughter of Mrs. C. A. Burrus, 1621 Fifteenth street.

Rival candidates were L. A. Storrs for president and Evelyn Carpenter for secretary.

The nominees had been selected by the six class vice presidents who already had been named. They are Betty Ann McAfee, Bernice Cocanougher, Ruth Gray, Robert McKinnon, Dan Gregory and Ray McBrayer.

Campaign managers for the candidates were McKinnon for Chapman, Max Walthall for Miss Burrus, Leete Jackson for Storrs, and Miss McAfee for Miss Carpenter.

At the assembly preceding balloting, campaign managers and candidates made speeches. Voting then was by secret ballot. Motion pictures were made of typical scenes of the proceedings.

Consumption Of Cotton Is High

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—American consumption of cotton, stimulated by large government purchases of textiles for the armed forces, may set a new record of more than 8,000,000 bales this season, the agriculture department said today.

Other factors said to be encouraging greater consumption of cotton goods included expansion of production in other industrial lines and an improvement in payrolls as a result of national defense spending.

May Total 8,250,000

The department said consumption this season may total 8,250,000 to 8,750,000 bales compared with 7,750,000 last season and the record high of nearly 8,000,000 bales in the 1936-37 season.

Prospects were said to be darker elsewhere. The department said the prospective increase in domestic consumption was likely to be much more than offset by a reduction in consumption of American and foreign cotton in foreign markets.

Cotton Spinning Is Gaining Over U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The census bureau reported today that the cotton spinning industry operated during September at 96.7 per cent of capacity, on a 2-shift, 80-hour-week basis, compared with 90.4 per cent during August this year, and 92.5 per cent during September last year.

Hockley Registration Total Reaches 3,696

LEVELLAND, Oct. 18. (Special)—Final and official figures on Hockley county's contribution to the new draft army totaled 3,696, reported C. D. Bass, county clerk, today.

Of that number, approximately one-half were transients, he said.

A new draft board to replace the original one, resigned, includes Joe M. Barnhart, chairman, Sanford L. Jinkins and E. R. Nickerson. The trio replaces Major H. Rodgers, chairman, Tom E. Fenley and Bob Ford, who were unable to serve.

J. B. Reece of Levelland, has been named clerk by the new board, which is to be located in the county court room.

SUIT IS POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The federal government has indefinitely postponed its suit against the American Medical association, the District of Columbia Medical society and 21 physicians for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

District Attorney Edward M. Curran said today that the case, scheduled to be brought up in federal court here next Monday, would be taken off the list of assigned cases.

FIFTY ARE DROWNED

BARCELONA, Spain, Oct. 18. (AP) More than 50 persons were reported drowned in floods today in Barcelona province.

Masons Banquet Here Tonight

With five 33rd degree Masons expected to attend, and all plans completed, South Plains Scottish Rite Masons will observe the Feast of Tabernacles tonight at 8 o'clock in Lubbock hotel.

Scottish Rite Masons from Amarillo, El Paso and Pampa, are expected, as well as members of the South Plains Scottish Rite club, E. D. Parker, secretary, said Friday. The program and banquet will begin at 8 o'clock and Neil H. Wright, chairman of a notification committee, said Friday he expected approximately 75 to attend.

El Paso Judge Speaks

Homer D. Grant, chairman of the program committee, announced that the principal address will be delivered by Judge Joseph R. McGill, county judge of El Paso county. Others who will appear briefly on the program are: Oscar J. Allen, Ethan Allan Wells and H. L. McCune, all of El Paso; Anderson V. Weaver, jr., Rabbi Isadore Garsek, C. E. Maedgen, sr., and George P. Kuykendall, all of Lubbock.

The visiting El Pasoans, of 33rd degree rank and representing the El Paso Consistory, will be welcomed by John Dalrymple, Lubbock, only 33rd degree Mason in this area. Pampa and Amarillo delegations will be headed respectively by Mack Graham and Rolla V. Cartwright.

Is Annual Affair

Observance of the Feast of the Tabernacles is an annual affair in Lubbock, as well as in all major cities of the United States and most of the world. Fifty to 60 members of the Scottish Rite of Free Masonry usually attend the event here, together with Master Mason guests.

Claude Groilman is in charge of banquet arrangements and an invocation by Rev. Dr. Jack M. Lewis will precede the program. Officers of the South Plains Scottish Rite club, in addition to Secretary Parker, are Chas. A. Guy, Lubbock, president, and Loyd Kennedy, of Morton, vice-president.

The population of the French Cameroon has been officially estimated at over 2,500,000.
