Lone Wolf Co-operative Co-operates

SHORT OF GOAL

United Fund Extended Until 3 p.m. Thursday

United Fund campaign in Mitchell County has been extended until 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Paul Boyd Hunter, drive chairman, said after a report session Saturday morning.

Saturday morning at 10:30 had been set as last report day for the current drive in $22,000 campaign. The latest report proved somewhat disappointing to United Fund officers and volunteer workers.

Report at the Saturday meet showed a total of $16,096.21 now contributed or pledged to United Fund here. The new total, Hunter pointed out, is a total of 73.2% and is $5,903.79 short of the hoped for goal.

At 3 p. m. Thursday results of the five-day extension for the campaign will be tallied. Final reports are to be turned in at a meeting in United Fund Campaign office, downtown at 203 Walnut St.

"We feel that the minus sign is still with us," said Hunter "just simply because many willing givers have not yet been contacted by anybody. We urge all volunteer team workers to continue to work through all un-returned cards between now and Thursday.

"There are," Hunter said, "more natural-born-givers in this world than there are natural-born-askers. We want to say again that any citizens not asked so far to contribute, join us in helping to raise the fund."

By present averages various divisions now stand: Advance, 72.8%; Special, 57%; Public Employees, 105.5%; Schools, 71.7%; Branch Houses, 82.8%; Employees, 67.7%; General, 86%; Loraine, 54.1%; Farm and Ranch, 111.8%; Westbrook, 114.8%.

Those new totals still show Westbrook leading the field with Mrs. John Hawkins as chairman. Farm & Ranch, with Buddy Logsdon as chairman, is second. Public Employees, headed by County Judge Elmer Martin is third.

All three of those star divisions are well over the top. Low point divisions are Loraine, Special, and Employees in that order.

Lions Ladies Night Dinner Thursday Eve

Suraiya Akhtar will be guest speaker Thursday night at 7:30 when Colorado City Lions observe their annual Christmas Ladies night. Dinner will be served in Civic House before the program.

Dr. William S. Rhode will introduce the evening's speaker, Miss Akhtar, who is living in the Rhode home this school term as an exchange student in Colorado City High School. Her home is Karachi, Pakistan.

Music and entertainment will be presented by the 7-Teens, combo, with Mary Ann Montgomery at the piano; Aria Jo Payne, playing the drums; Jan Williams, bass fiddle; Jeannie Wood, flute; Debbie Hunter, clarinet; Dana Hammans, alto sax; Linda Ross, tenor sax. The combo is coached by Mrs. James E. Payne.

Lions Club president Roy Bates is asking that each Lion bring canned goods or staple groceries to the Ladies Night party. The food will be placed in Christmas baskets which Lions will distribute to needy families.

Lions are requested too, to notify Joe Earnest at his office, RA-8 2520, of intention to attend the dinner so that reservations can be made. Reservation deadline is Tuesday noon, Earnest said.

Water Joint's Big Blowout Flood Streets

A big blowout in a mechanical joint of a water main, 4th and Chestnut Sts., here Friday morning flooded several streets about 7:15 a. m.

When the joint blew, said J. A. Sadler Jr., water superintendent, 3000 gallons of water per minute flowed up and out a hole it took 20 yards of dirt to fill after repairs were finished.

In the 15 to 20 minutes it took to shut off the pump, water ran downhill on both 3rd and 4th Sts. to stand in low areas corner of 3rd and Oak near City Hall and the postoffice.

Lines were repaired by about 3 p. m. Friday. Water

PARALLEL PASSE'

New Parking Angle Now For Second St.

City Council gave Colorado City citizens and their cars a Christmas present this week. Council ordered a change in downtown parking.

The change is from parallel parking to flat angle parking, at about a 22 degree angle on two major business area streets.

Second Street, all the way through, is first to be gifted with the new parking under order of City Council and City Manager Ford Merritt. Friday night, city crews began painting the flat angle parking spaces along Second. Walnut St. is the other street to have the parking change-over.

Asked whether the change over to flat angle parking is on a trial basis or were to be permanent, City Manager said "If the people like it, we'll keep it, of course, and perhaps add other downtown streets to the angle parking area."

Recent opening of Interstate 20 which loops around Colorado City made the change from parallel parking possible, members of City Council said. Heavy through and truck traffic, which long has used Second St. as part of Highway 80 through this town, has now been largely diverted to Interstate 20.

"The new parking angle just makes it easier to park," said Merritt, Saturday.

Interstate 20 Dog-Leg Flips Student's Car

Additional reflectors, warning signs, slow signs, and some luminous paint were added this week to one point of the new turn-off from Interstate 20 to the business route into Colorado City.

The turn-off is part of Snyder Highway (Hickory St.) and new Interstate 20 Loop. City police and State Highway Dept. officials conferred on the need for more signs and light reflectors after at least one accident pointed to danger in a short "dog-leg" jog in the turnoff.

Reports of four wrecks at that "dog-leg" sharp turn were proved without foundation, a Colorado City Record check showed. The quick turn did prove hazardous for one driver at average speed, however.

David Eugene Baldwin, ministerial student from Waxahachie, was given emergency treatment at Root Memorial Hospital here Monday night at 9:45 after the Volkswagen he was driving overturned four times on the turn-off. Baldwin's car was a total loss, police records show. The ministerial student was dismissed after treatment at the hospital here.

Food, Clothing Toys Needed For Baskets

All next week, beginning Monday Dec. 17, has been designated collection week for the Christmas baskets. Food money, clothes, toys, may be taken to collection center — the old parsonage of First Christian.

Giving away of the baskets will be done by committee members of the various organizations which help sponsor the annual Christmas basket.

All baskets are to be distributed not later than early Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, Mrs. Moore said Saturday.

Used toys, used clothing, canned food, staples, fresh fruit — gifts of some of those items can make a big difference to somebody, some family, somewhere near-by. Money might help charify to begin here at home, too.

The listed items are needed for Christmas baskets for Colorado City's not-so-fortunate homes. Ministerial Alliance is acting as "clearing house" for the annual project. Mrs. Mary Lee Moore is again the Lady Bountiful volunteer who will distribute baskets.

Citizens who have are invited by members of Ministerial Alliance to help make it Christmas morning for citizens who "have not." Gifts are to be taken to the old First Christian parsonage, next door to the church.

Whatever you have—money, a doll, a red wagon, skates, toys for any age, one extra can or a dozen, a sack of apples, oranges, nuts, dollars wanting to do good, old sheets quilt scraps, needles, thread—whatever you have to add to thes gift baskets which go here in your home communi-

Flow was from notches at 6,892 and 6,933 feet. The zone was acidized with 250 gallons. Tubing pressure was 525 lbs. Gas-oil ratio was 1,675-1 with no water produced.

From the Canyon sand the well flowed 160 barrels of 43-gravity oil, no water, from 5 sets of perforations at between 6,136 and 6,182 feet with flow from 14/64 inch choke from pay washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and fraced with 10,000 gallons. Casing pressure was 500 lbs. tubing pressure, 375 lbs.

The three-well field was born with Knox No. 1 Nail which potentialed for 238.28 barrels from the Strawn in July. In August Knox No. 1 Nail potentialed at 177 barrels from the Canyon.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Seven days . . . seven days . . .
Seven days . . . seven days . . .
This December's pranced away!

* * *

ALL GOOD THINGS come to an end. Even that beautiful thing known to grammarians as "procrastination" and to us procrastinators as "never do today what you can put off until tomorrow" has to stop sometime.

The time is now. It's shop now or never. Even us procrastinators are sure of one thing: not all our putting-off can put-off the approach of Christmas. It'll be here before we can say "gift wrap it, please."

* * *

NOW'S THE SEASON when us procrastinators decide every year to reform. To turn into the "let us then be up and doing" type—the early Christmas shopper-type, which is our exact opposite in strong Christian character. Ours is just more the "line of least resistence" spirit.

Every year, come the middle of December, we're gonna buy all our Christmas presents early. Next year. Every year we're gonna put up the tree, decorate the mantel, win friends and influence people by mailing dozens of Christmas cards, and please Arlene Morris by mailing things along about Labor Day.

* * *

EVERY YEAR we wind up in the same last minute mishmash. Seven days . . . seven days . . . and only one box mailed. The one that travels to Michigan.

Seven days . . . no cards bought, let alone mailed! Seven days . . . and where in the name of Dancer and Prancer did we put away the Christmas decorations last year?

Seven days . . . seven shopping days staring you in the face . . . Christmas cantatas coming up this very Sunday night . . . and where are the fine resolutions toward reformation made last Christmas?

* * *

THEY'RE GONE. Gone with last season's candleglow. Like holiday tapers, resolutions burn brightly to shed a warm radiance for a little while. Then they're gone.

As gone as the lost Christmas lights . . .as wood fire smoke . . . as a pleasant dream . . as last year's poinsettia. They're always part of Christmas—those fine resolutions. And they never last one bit better than the fruit cake. Only thing which ever lasts longer than shop-early resolutions is the Christmas turkey. And that's because it winds up in hash.

* * *

LOCAL SEEN LATELYS include this time Bobbie Steakley (Mrs. H. Jene) wearing Christmas red and saying she and her family will spend the holidays with family, including her much-loved grandmother, in Gatesville.

Saw, too, A. L. McSpadden of the long-time-no-see department . . . Ditto Pete Humphreys . . . Selma and Willie Landau . . . and pipesmoking Jim Edison of Sun Oil here.

* * *

JIMMIE MADDOX, amiable rancher along about the Mitchell-Nolan line, was caught coffee breaking in the Baker . . . Saw Mrs. O. L. Simpson and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen in town together. Myrtle (Mrs Wulfjen) was feeling gay over the coming of Christmas—which she will spend in Big D with son Bob and his family.

* * *

MET a pretty little charmer from Baltimore, Maryland. She's Andrea Woodle, CCHS soph, who was having lunch with her mama's cousin, Jo Wyatt. Andrea's daughter of Juanita (Cook) Woodle, and came to C. City for a summer visit last June.

With her came her cousin Gwen Watson, daughter of Vivian (Cook) Watson of Trenton, New Jersey. The girls liked C. City and their grandmother's house so much they stayed for this school term. Gwen's a freshman. They're granddaughters of Mrs. Harvey Cook, 340 East 2nd St.

* * *

EXPECTED here for the Christmas holidays, Dec. 22, is Colonel Harvey A. Cook (Jr.) plus his wife and their two sons Keith, 15, and Carlton, 11. The colonel and his lady and their boys will join the celebration of cousins at the Cook home.

The Cooks Jr. live in Albuquerque, N. M., where Colonel Cook is stationed at Kirkland AFB.

FOR CHURCH PARTY

Three Students Present Program

A trio of Colorado City High School students presented the program at the Christmas Party of the Daughters of the King Sunday School Class of First Methodist Church recently.

Ricka Guitar recited "The Night Before Christmas" and Billy Harris recited "Just Before Christmas."

Donald Brown presented three musical selections.

The meeting was in the home of Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon, 319 Elm St. Mrs. E. H. Winn was co-hostess.

Mrs. W. H. Garrett, president, presided at the business session. Mrs. H. L. Jamison led prayer. Mrs. Garrett told the Christmas Story of Mary and Jesus.

Mrs. C. P. Coles and Mrs. L. A. Costin were chosen as a committee for the selection of a door curtain for the classroom in the new chapel.

The courtesy chairman reported that four Thanksgiving baskets had been distributed. The class members voted to send a donation to the Wesley Class to be used for White Christmas baskets.

The members exchanged gifts by drawing numbers.

Members present were Mmes. Garrett, Costin, Coles, A. D. Priddy, J. D. Norman, Tom Phillips, W. J. Chesney, Jamison, Effie Miller, Lela Hart, Walter King, Pearl Durham and the hostesses Mmes. Winn and Pidgeon.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A. D. Priddy, 616 E. 18th St. Thursday, Jan. 10.

Come Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barnes of 405 East 13th St., are leaving for Houston where they'll spend a two-weeks Christmas vacation with daughter Marcia and her husband Jerry F. Jones.

* * *

ONE THING is sure as Santa Claus. The only people not expecting company for Christmas are BEING company.

* * *

NICEST old-fashioned gesture of the season, so far, is the tall cedar Christmas tree now gracing Mitchell County Historical Museum. It's as quaint as all your yesteryears dressed in your prettiest memories.

The cedar came to town and the museum because three Mitchell County cedar-fans drove out in the Cedar Bend area and fell in love with that old-fashioned Christmas tree at first sight.

So they decked it with popcorn strings, ropes of cranberries (no less) and little trinkets from long ago. Garden Club members planned the old-fashioned tree as a seasonal museum piece.

It's the handiwork of three cedar-choppers. They're Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. Ruth Airhart, and Mrs. John Brown. The cedar looks perfectly at home, standing there smiling among your souvenirs.

PEGGY'S Paragraphs

By PEGGY BELVIN

CHRISTMAS IS COMING ever closer. Everyday we're just a little closer to that great day . . . and everyday my pocketbook gets a little thinner.

With such a big family, Christmas-giving can be quite a problem. Especially when one litle girl just must have a doll that talks and another just must have one that will kiss her goodnight.

HAD NO TROUBLE finding the one that kissed, but nowhere could I find one that talked.

Was relieved to finally find one in the local BEN FRANKLIN store, and had it all but wrapped and carried home before I made a starting discovery.

The doll talked all right . . . but in Spanish!

AM NOW NOT SO LONELY in the little apartment I call home. Have two adorable dolls to keep me company. But the poor little things will be all talked-out and all kissed-out by the time my half-pint sisters get them for Christmas.

Guess I'm still in my first childhood, am too young to be graduated into a second. But I just can't bear to wrap them up and hide their sparkling blue eyes and smiling faces.

When Christmas comes, and the dolls must go to their rightful mothers, it's going to seem like losing two members of the family.

AT CHRISTMAS TIME, television can prove to be a catastrophe. Know one litle boy who saw a toy advertised on television and is wishing his heart out to Santa Claus for it.

But his parents, messengers for old St. Nick, can't figure out what it is he is yearning so to posess.

The best they can make out, the name of the contraption is "BOP THE BEETLE."

The little tyke describes it as something that walks on the floor and everytime you bop it one, it changes into a toadfrog.

In their search for this new-fangled toy, they have met some of the weirdest creatures ever to invade Toyland.

They made the acquaintance of "ODD OGG." This little frog-like monster is target for plastic balls thrown by the toy's owner. If a direct hit is scored, the creature will be enraged and rush in the direction of the assailant. But, if you miss, the creature will sit back and laugh at you . . . all the time snaking his long red tongue out at you.

Then there's "GAYLORD," the robot dog and "KING ZOR", a mechanical dinasaur. And "ROBOT COMMANDO," a mechanized robot that follows commands given from the remote controls.

All these monsters are on the shelves-net-door to sweet little baby dolls, cuddly teddy bears and coloring books. But nowhere, in all the land of mechanical monsters, could there be found a "BOP THE BEETLE."

Church Group Meets For Holiday Party

Busy Believers Sunday School Class of Plainview Baptist Church met recently for their annual Christmas pary.

The meeting was in the home of Mrs. C. O. Shurtleff. Mrs. Hilton Parsons was co-hostess.

Mrs. Shurtleff read the Christmas Story. Miss Lana Shurtleff and Miss Lynn Witten played several piano duet selections.

Miss Shurtleff accompanied the group as they sang, "Joy to the World."

Mrs. W. M. Vest opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. B. R. Jackson, president, presided at the business session. Projects for the month were discussed. The members voted to donate to The Woman's Missionary Union's box being prepared for the McKnight Hospital in Carlsbad.

Secret Pals were revealed. Gifts were exchanged and names were drawn for Secret Pals for the next 3 months.

Games of password were played by the group under the direction of Mrs. Parsons.

Refreshments of open-face sandwiches, snowball cookies and punch were served in Santa Claus punch cups and Christmas dishes. Favors of Santa Claus ashtrays bearing the members' names were given.

Guests present were Mrs. Rosie Hamrick and Misses Witten and Shurtleff.

Gift Idea from Mexico—Here is a wonderful new table setting idea that would be very easy to make for gifts. It is a piece of fabric 18 inches wide to stretch the length of your dining table. Use two of these, one down each side of the table, instead of place mats or criss-cross them in the middle to make 4 place settings.

To be most effective, these "scrape" table linen should be made of a gaily striped materfal. Fringe the ends and hem the sides. That is all there is to it. Napkins can be made to pick up one or more of the colors in the stripe. For the real Mexican look, get the brightest, boldest stripes you can find.

Dripping Candles Cause Problems—If you get wax stains on your nice table linen, scrape off the excess with a dull knife. Then place a clean white blotter over the stain and apply a hot iron to the blotter. This will melt the wax and absorb the coloring. Keep changing the blotter so that a clean area is always on top of the wax until it is all absorbed. If any oily stain remains, sponge with drycleaning fluid.

GARDEN CLUB PROGRAM

"Plants, Man of Peace" Discussed By Mrs. Steakley

"Plants and the Man of Peace" was the program presented by Mrs. H. Jene Steakley at the annual Christmas program of the Colorado City Garden Club.

The program was in the Colorado City Col-Tex Club Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Ben Elliot introduced Mrs. Steakley.

Mrs. Steakley displayed a map of the Holy Land and asked the members to take an imaginary trip with her to see the trees, shrubs and plants grown in the Holy Land in Jesus' time. She illustrated her talk with hand-drawn and painted posters and Bible quotations.

Frankinsence was the first plant Mrs. Steakley discussed. She said it was one of the gifts the Wise Men brought at the birth of Christ. She told the members that it was grown in northern Arabia.

"Myrrh is grown on the coast of the Red Sea and the southern coast of Asia, "she said. "It is sold as spice and medicine. Aloes is a plant with thick, spiny leaves and is used as medicine while Anise, or dill, as we call it today, is used as seasoning and oil as flavoring."

Mrs. Steakley said that Cinnamon belonged to the laurel family. She told the group that spice is made from the bark of the cinnamon tree.

"The olive tree is the most familiar in the story of Christ. Olive gardens are still numerous in Palestine. The palm tree is the most remarkable tree mentioned in the Bible. Some are 100 feet tall when fully grown and have no branches and yield dates as fruit. Mats are woven from the palm leaves. Jerico is known as the country of palms and Phoenicia as the city of palms."

Mrs. Steakley said that flax-plant was used to make linen. She said the plant grows to about 36 inches in height, has flowers with 5 petals and are blue in color. She said linen was used as swaddling clothes of Baby Jesus and was used as His burial clothes.

"The crown of thorn grows in Jerusalem and the rolling thiug is a plant that looks like a dried-up ball and grows near the Dead Sea. The plant revives when placed in water and has the power to bloom again. This plant is known as the Resurrection Plant."

Mrs. Steakley told the members to remember God and His greatest gift of all-Christ, from whence comes Christmas.

Mrs. A. H. Jackson presided at the tea table, accented with an arrangement of red carnations in silver compote, flanked by red candles in silver candelabra. A silver coffee service was used.

Recorded Christmas music was played during the tea hour.

Guests were Mmes. Hallie Norman, Rush Barnett, L. A. Keith and J. D. Williams.

Members present were: Mmes. L. J. Taylor, Will Berry, W. C. Hooks, Jackson, John Brown, Ruth Airhart, Steakley, R. D. Bridgford, J. B. Pritchett, Maberry Willbanks, Elliot, Roy Porter, Earl Brown, A. A. Herrington and Roy Davis Coles.

The Colorado City Historical Museum has been decorated for Christmas by a club committee composed of Mmes. John Brown, Ruth Airhart, and Earl Brown.

At Boys Ranch

Eddie Towery of Colorado City is doing well in the West Texas Boys Ranch citizenship program, according to Ranch management reports. Eddie recently received recognition for having made an excellent progress at the Ranch.

HOME FOR 64 BOYS

W.T. Boys' Ranch Is Raising Citizens

West Texas Boys Ranch is currently home for one boy from Colorado City, Eddie Towery. A report from the Ranch says this week that Eddie is "progressing quite well in the Boys Ranch citizenship program."

This Christmas season the West Texas Boys Ranch has something pecial to be thankful for. A recent study of boys who have been released from the Ranch since 1962 reveal that 75% of the boys have made excellent or good adjustments without future social agency service or court action. The study also revealed that only six boys were incarcerated by courts because of their activity.

The study was made over a six month period, January to June 1962, to determine the present educational, employment and social status of the boys. The boys accepted into the Ranch program come with various problems: Some have multi-delinquent activity; others are admitted because of primary family breakdown and stress. Each boy accepted comes from a situation that is a hinderance to good emotional life. In view of the background of the boys, it is evident that the program is doing definite good in training and education of those admitted.

The Ranch is currently serving 64 West Texas boys. Four of the boys will be Seniors next year and 12 will go into special vocational training in the Summer. For the last few years, the Ranch has had in force, a special training and vocational program which has proven to be very effective in reaching the boy who is behind in his school work.

The Ranch is now in its fifteenth year of operation and has continued to operate solely on free-will donations and contributions. Morris Craig, Executive Director, remarked, "This year we are behind in our Christmas donations and would like to make a special appeal to West Tex as to remember us."

Recently, the idea of a "half-way house" was presented to the Board of Directors. The function of the "half-way house" would be to serve boys who are working in San Angelo but still need ties to the Ranch, for those who are participating in on-the-job training, and for those who are in the upper high school grades and show sufficient maturity to live in a semi-independent enviornment. Such a move would be a real progressive step toward the Ranh work. If the plan is found fesatible, it will entail a house in San Angelo large enough to accomodate 14 boys.

Craig remarked, "The Ranch truly has a great deal to be thankful for this year and we appreciate the opportunity to serve the "Hard-luck" boy of West Texas.
