PRISONERS REPORTED RELEASED — Hanoi radio said today North Vietnam has released three U.S. war prisoners held for more than a year. American pacifist Rennie Davis, who received custody of the three men, sent a message to Hong Kong identifying them as: Seaman Douglas Brent Hegdahl of Watertown, S.D., Lt. (jg) Wesley Lewis Rumble of Oroville, Calif. (center), and Lt. (jg) Robert Franchot Frishman of Santer, Calif. Davis said all three were in "excellent condition."

'Replacement' Of More U. S. Troops Discussed

Budge Says He'll Answer Allegations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, who has declared "I'll answer all your questions," was called before a Senate subcommittee today to defend himself against conflict of interest allegations.

SEC Chairman Homer H. Budge told the Senate banking and currency subcommittee last Wednesday, when it opened hearings, that he would reply fully to charges he breached ethics by considering a job with mutual funds his agency regulates.

The committee directed Budge to return for testimony today after he said there were so many allegations he wanted adequate time to answer them. Democratic Sens. William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Thomas J. McIntyre of New Hampshire have said Budge's consideration of the presidency of six Minneapolis-based funds managed by Investors Services, Inc., constituted a conflict of interest.

"A gross, clear, transparent conflict of interest," was the way Proxmire said it. "It's reckless to make allegations of violations and conflicts of interest," countered Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass. "On the evidence we've had so far, you can't even in common sense come to that conclusion."

Harold Bradford, president of the funds, said Budge did not solicit the job and rejected it twice.

Bradford said he had exploratory talks with Budge on May 16.

"The indication was he'd be glad to see us. My interpretation was he was interested," said Bradford.

Minutes of a directors' board meeting quoted one fund officer as saying Budge told him "he would like to accept the offer but his boss (President Nixon) might like him to stay on the job till he finds a successor."

Nixon Talks About Peace Information

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was quoted today as telling congressional leaders another contingent of U.S. troops probably will be withdrawn from Vietnam beginning this month.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Nixon discussed that prospect at a briefing on his journey to Asia and Communist Romania, a trip which included a visit to Vietnam.

Dirksen said Nixon discussed his hopes about the future there and expressed "the evident belief that we'll probably have a further troop replacement and it could come probably before the end of this month."

HOW MANY?

Dirksen said he used the word "replacement" to indicate that South Vietnamese troops will be taking over for Americans who are withdrawn.

He said there was no indication that it will involve another 25,000 men, the same number pulled back after Nixon's Midway Island meeting with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Further he noted that Nixon conferred in South Vietnam with Gen. Creighton Abrams, the U.S. commander there, and with American diplomats. "He spoke no doubt, on the basis of the information that he got from our military leaders," Dirksen said.

NO IDEA

He said there was also a general discussion of the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, and an indication that information "from private sources might be brought to bear," Dirksen said. "There was no indication as to the source of that effort or who it might involve," Dirksen said.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader, said Nixon emphasized that his call for increased self-reliance in Asian defense represents an important shift in American policy. "He emphasized that there was a new shift," Mansfield said.

Mansfield said the new policy was based on the statements Nixon made July 25 at Guam, as he began his Asian journey.

Nixon said then the nations of Asia must bear increasing responsibility for their own defense, and indicated the United States would intervene there militarily only in cases of external aggression.

HIGHLY PLEASED

"I said that I agreed with his basic premise," Mansfield said after the two-hour, 40-minute session at the White House.

Twenty-two members of Congress from both parties attended the session along with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said Nixon "was obviously highly pleased" with the trip.

"He didn't claim to have solved our problems, but his trip was a step in the right direction," Mahon said.

Mansfield said general application of the Nixon policy, which the senator called the Guam doctrine, will have to await an end to the Vietnam war.

"In areas not involved in the war, it will be the doctrine which will guide our actions in the future," Mansfield said.

The senator said the Nixon policy precludes intervention in cases of internal subversion in Asia.

"It emphasizes that the United States is a Pacific power with peripheral interests on the Asian mainland," Mansfield said.

Police Hunt Pal Of Coed Slay Suspect

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Police today sought an associate of a college student accused of murdering an Eastern Michigan University coed as the investigation of seven slayings of young Michigan women spread into California and Canada.

Col. Fredrick Davids, Michigan State Police director, said Andrew Manuel was being sought on a larceny warrant in connection with the theft of a house trailer. Manuel's last known address was the same Ypsilanti, Mich., rooming house where John N. Collins lived.

Collins, 23, an Eastern Michigan University student, has been charged with first-degree murder in the strangulation of Karen Sue Beineken, Miss Beineken, also an EMU student, was the latest victim in a string of seven brutal slayings of young women in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in the past two years.

Two investigators were sent Sunday to Salinas, Calif., to probe the killings of two young women about a month ago. Michigan authorities said they would also look into the sex slaying of a teen-ager near Los Angeles.

Davids said Collins and Manuel were believed to have rented a trailer and driven to California with it in mid-June. Manuel is being sought for theft of the trailer because it was not returned to Michigan.

Police described Manuel as a 6-foot-2, 200-pound Mexican-American who also uses the alias, "Richard Diaz Jr." They said he has a tattoo, believed to be an eagle, on his left arm.

Douglas J. Harvey, Washtenaw County sheriff, said Sunday that Michigan investigators wanted to examine the trailer which they said was left in California by Collins and Manuel.

"Police also are investigating some recent killings, probably of a similar nature, somewhere within Ontario," said Curtis Stadfield, an Eastern Michigan University information officer who is acting as the news coordinator for the investigation.

He said the Canadian deaths may "involve some of the people under suspicion here."

Harvey said he was "hoping for additional arrests."

In Toronto, Ontario, Provincial Police said they did not know of any similar slayings in Ontario, and had not been contacted by Michigan authorities.

However, Stadfield said Michigan authorities stood by their statement.

Police in Salinas noted at least two unsolved slayings were under study in their area. In one, the body of 17-year-old Roxie Phillips of Milwaukee, Ore., was found on a city dump at Carmel, Calif. The body of the other victim, an unidentified woman, was found under a bridge in Salinas.

Michigan authorities also said the death of Virginia Lynn Smith, 13, of Claremont, Calif., 35 miles east of Los Angeles, would be probed. The body of the girl, who had been strangled, beaten and raped was found June 23 in a canyon.

Miss Beineken was last reported seen leaving a wig shop June 23 and getting on a motorcycle with a youth.

EARNINGS RECORD

Job Total Continues To Grow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's total employment continued to show a moderate growth in the economy in July, while the jobless rate increased slightly because of a rise in the labor force, the government reported today.

Total employment rose more than half a million to 79.6 million last month, the Labor Department said.

The total number of unemployed was 3.2 million, actually a decline of 225,000 from June. But the Bureau of Labor Statistics said this was less than expected, and thus figured a rise in the jobless rate from 3.4 to 3.6 per cent of the civilian labor force.

The bureau also reported that average earnings of some 47 million rank and file workers rose in July to record highs of $3.03 per hour and $115.44 per week. This was one cent per hour and 68 cents per week above June.

However, the bureau had reported earlier that because of inflation, purchasing power was slightly below a year ago.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of the bureau, said the July employment figures showed virtually no indication of any significant economic downturn.

"Employment growth is not going up as fast as a few months ago, but it is still going up," he said.

Nixon-Red Press

By The Associated Press

President Nixon's visit to Romania got a good press in Romania, Yugoslavia and Hungary, brief mention in newspapers of Poland and the Soviet Union and, finally, 12 lines of type in East Germany.

The East German Communist party organ, Neues Deutschland, noted in an obscure brief on Page 5 today that Nixon met with President Nicolae Ceausescu at the latter's invitation.

On the same page, the newspaper carried a long article on the race problem in the United States, saying 22 million Negroes there live as "second class citizens." Accompanying the article were two pictures, one showing President Nixon grinning, the other of policemen with dogs, described as "dogs especially trained for Negroes."

Until today the East German press had ignored President Nixon's visit to Romania but had carried daily articles assailing him. For example, Neues Deutschland carried one photo captioned "He is smiling while bombs are falling" in Vietnam.

Voting Time In Big Spring

It's voting day Tuesday for Howard Countians, as they join in rendering verdicts on nine proposed changes in the Texas constitution.

Whether many people regard the issues as important enough to go to the polls was a major question. Anything more than a token vote would be surprising.

Balloting will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the standard designated 21 precincts in the county.

Two changes have been made in boxes, according to Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk.

Box 20 has been transferred from Crest View Baptist Church to Jonesboro Fire Station, and in Box 7, at the R-Bar Salem Church, H. G. Reid will replace S. O. Buchanan as election judge.

Martin County Polling Places

STANTON (SC) — Polling places and judges have been named for the constitutional amendment voting Tuesday in Martin County.

Boxes are at Stanton elementary school, Mrs. James Jones judge and Grady Standefor alternate; Grady school, Joe Glaze judge and Mrs. Delmar Hamm alternate; Flower Grove school, Murray Cook judge and J. H. Burrow alternate.

There were four votes cast during the absentee balloting period.

NOEL, Mo. (AP) — "It blew the hell out of things," said Kenneth Meador.

One piece of metal ripped through a wall of Mrs. Roxa Miller's house, killing the 74-year-old beauty parlor operator.

An 800-pound railroad car wheel soared three blocks and smashed into the home of Virgil Bentley, seriously injuring his wife.

Roofs caved in. Walls buckled. Main street was carpeted with shattered glass from store fronts. More than 40 persons were injured. Pieces of shattered railroad cars were thrown half a mile. At the site of the explosion there was a hole 15 feet deep and 50 feet across in the railway roadbed.

MYSTERY

"Practically every building in town is damaged," said Meador, who operates a gas station.

The mystery blast shattered a 115-car Kansas City Southern freight train as it was passing through the community Sunday. Officials pieced together this report:

About 3:45 a.m. as the freight train rolled into Noel en route from Kansas City to Shreveport, La., the crew spotted a fire on one of the cars.

"They tried to get the train out of town before it blew up, but they didn't make it," said J.W. Braswell, local station agent.

There was a relatively minor first explosion.

The volunteer fire department and some other residents were rushing to the scene when a second, devastating blast occurred.

The sound of the explosion was heard as far as 40 miles away. Ambulances, fire trucks, law enforcement officials and volunteers from communities in nearby Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas rushed to Noel. Most of the injured were taken to hospitals in Gravette and Bentonville, Ark.

ESCAPING FUMES — Railroad officials were uncertain just what blew up. Chief suspects were cars carrying dehydrated alfalfa and ammonium perchlorate—the latter an oxidizing agent in powder form used as a propellant in munitions.

The explosion severed some pipes on a propane gas tank standing beside the tracks, and a fire ignited which began burning off escaping fumes.

Authorities feared the 12,500 gallon tank would explode and perhaps touch off two other tanks next to it.

Police ordered the town evacuated at 2 p.m. while employees of the Empire Gas Co. rigged a 2½-inch pipeline to the tank's main valve. Just before 6 p.m.

they turned a valve allowing the propane to flow in liquid form through the pipe and ignited it. The fuel billowed into a 30 foot flame, which roared harmlessly over a ditch and by 10:30 p.m.

the tank was safely drained.

And through it all, vacationers and tourists kept padding their canoes and fishing in the Elk River not half a mile away from devastated Noel.

Dayan Sounds Call For 'Offensive'

TEL AVIV (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan called on Israelis today to take the offensive against Egyptian forces along the Suez Canal, but warned against a confrontation with Soviet military advisers stationed there.

Dayan told a meeting of Israel's ruling Labor party it is not enough for Israelis to fight a defensive action along the 103-mile waterway "sitting in a bunker keeping your head down."

The situation calls for offensive action against Egypt's breaches of the cease-fire, he said, such as air raids and ground thrusts by Israeli commandos into Egypt.

"But we have to be very selective in these actions," Dayan warned, "and take every measure to avoid a relationship with the Russians."

Dayan said Soviet advisers not only counsel Egyptian forces on how to use their weapons, they are now telling them "what must be done."

In taking counteraction against Egypt, he added, Israel must also keep in mind the U.S. desire to prevent a flareup in the Middle East.

Dayan said the battle of the canal was a fight to prevent the full-scale war that would erupt, if and when Egypt tries to cross the waterway in strength and recapture the Sinai Desert from Israel.

Israel will never allow any foreign army to fight along side its troops against the Arabs, he asserted.

"All we want is the equipment from abroad, and we will use it."

Labor party leaders proposed a platform plank specifying that Israel retain the Gaza Strip, the Syrian Golan Heights and the southern shore of the Sinai Peninsula.

The party's platform committee submitted the plank Sunday night to a party convention which is expected to approve it this week. It would become government policy if the Labor party wins in the national election in November, as is expected.

The plank also says Israel will never permit a foreign army west of the Jordan River. This apparently means that the areas on the West Bank captured from Jordan in the 1967 war will not be returned unless they are demilitarized.

On the military fronts an army spokesman in Tel Aviv said two members of an Israeli patrol were wounded when their vehicle ran over a mine near the Lebanese frontier. He said another border guard was wounded as he patrolled along the Jordan River south of the Sea of Galilee.

The Palestine Armed Struggle Command said in Amman that members of the Al Fatah guerrilla organization killed a number of Israeli soldiers in an attack near the Jordanian frontier Saturday night. Two guerrillas were killed, the announcement said.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — "I always said there'd be a man on the moon before I get promoted," observed police detective Hugh Simpler.

Brief Rites Dedicate New Downtown Parking Project

About 200 people turned out this morning for the dedication of the new downtown parking lot formerly occupied by the Crawford Hotel.

"This project is unique," declared Roger Brown, president of the Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors' Club and master of ceremonies for the program. "The city, the county and private investment all were involved in making this possible. We can be proud that no federal or state funds were necessary for this project."

He paid special tribute to Adolph Swartz, who had been the major driving force for the development program.

Mayor Arnold Marshall and County Judge Lee Porter performed the traditional ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Afterwards more than 20 gift certificates were awarded as attendance prizes. Establishments that offered the certificates were Anthony's, Elmo Wasson, Franklin's, Swartz, Gibbs and Weeks, Hemphill-Wells, Prager's, Big Spring Furniture, State National Bank, Zale's, Blum's Jewelers, J&K Shoe Store, First National Bank, Barnes-Pelletier's, Woolworth and Stanley Hardware.

Webb AFB provided the public address system for the ceremony. Music was furnished by the Harvesters band.

One of the features of the public parking area is a drinking fountain-bird bath. Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said the concrete structure was built by McMahon Concrete Co. and installed by city workers.

The project was made possible by purchase and demolition signalling the opening of the Crawford Hotel parking lot. About 200 people were on hand for the ceremony.

Select Ten Durbin Jurors

DALLAS (AP) — A chubby insurance adjuster who was a Marine sergeant was selected today as the 10th juror in the Clyde Durbin Jr. murder trial.

Jack Rodney Allen, 31, a dimpled-chin father of a boy, 10, and girl, 3, said he was aware of "a tremendous amount of publicity on capital punishment" in recent years but did not know whether it would affect his verdict.

Dist. Judge Tom Blackwell said testimony would start "about an hour after the 12th juror is selected" unless it is late in the day.

The defense used its 13th and 14th peremptory challenges in a special session Saturday. It is in the judge's discretion to allow the defense peremptory challenges after the 15 granted by law are used up. A judge usually will grant at least one more.

Durbin, 22, is charged in the slaying of John Albert White, 21, Jan. 8. He also is charged in the slaying of White's picnic date, Miss Keitha Morris, 19.

The original jury list called specially for this trial was exhausted Saturday, and interrogation began on jurors from the regular weekly jury list who had been transferred to this case.

A total of 73 prospective jurors were questioned the first week, 44 men and 29 women. A majority of the women, 15, disqualify on the death penalty. Fourteen men also said they could never vote for it.

Alvin A. Roe Dies In Arizona

Alvin Aubrey Roe, 54, died Sunday in a Veterans Administration Hospital in Prescott, Ariz. He had been living in Winslow, Ariz. Services are pending at Nalley-Pickles Funeral Home.

OR 'MOON ROCKS'

Hippo, Anyone?

NEW YORK (AP) — Take one average size hippopotamus. Chop well, season and voilà! You have enough meat for 1,200 small cans of the newest food delicacy on the market.

The 19th annual National Fancy Food and Confection show opened here Sunday, with over 700 companies and 11 foreign countries represented.

And the company that previously pushed such gourmet goodies as chocolate covered ants, French fried grasshoppers and canned rattlesnakes offered a new delicacy—hippopotamus.

A spokesman for the company described the flavor of hippopotamus—a popular food in South Africa—as "slightly gamy," then added, "You know you're not eating steak."

The hippo meat is packaged in 4½ ounce cans and comes in a sauce. Asked how many cans came from one hippo, the spokesman went to find the president of the firm. The president went to find another man. All three finally agreed on an answer of about 1,200.

Other specialties at the show were more mundane in flavor, but even further out in concept. One enterprising candy company presented "moon rocks."

The candies, about an inch in diameter and generally oval, have a cream center, a layer of chocolate and a sugar coating spotted to look like rocks.

"We were watching television one day and my son said 'Why don't you make a moon candy?'" explained a spokesman for the company when asked where the idea came from.

Foreign exhibitors offered foods popular in their countries. Japan showed "instant noodles" which are dehydrated and can be cooked in five minutes and packaged sukiyaki ready to heat and serve.

New Zealand displayed a variety of eels and a green, fuzzy fruit about the size of an apricot called a kiwi. The fruit tastes like a cross between a banana and a melon.

Entry List Peaks For Junior Rodeo

The 24th annual Howard County 4-H Club Junior Rodeo opens Thursday with the largest number of entries ever recorded, according to Paul Gross, Howard County farm agent and superintendent of the show.

Deadline for entries was Friday, and 248 rodeo performers under 20 years of age have entered the events. This is 25 per cent larger than any entry list in the history of the rodeo, said Gross. Last year's rodeo had 203 entries, "and contestants rode all day and night for the full three days," Gross said.

The local show is approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association, which means that all points earned by contestants here are credited to their cumulative scores in determining national placings.

Gross said the heavy turnout can be credited partially to no other junior rodeo in progress this weekend. The Howard County rodeo annually draws entries from New Mexico and Oklahoma as well as Texas. New Mexico contributes almost as many contestants as Texas, Gross said.

Two specially-made saddles have been provided as added rewards for the top cowboy and top cowgirl of the rodeo. Twenty silver belt buckles, specially designed, will be presented to the top riders in each division.

A parade at 4 p.m. Thursday through downtown Big Spring will kick off official activities, with events nightly at the Rodeo Bowl west of town. Tickets are on sale in Gross' office on the basement floor of the courthouse. Heath Rodeo Producing Company of Brownwood, which will provide the animals. The stock will come from Weimar, Tex.

County Eyes Tax Value Deviation

The Howard County Commissioners Court today asked oil companies "how come?" an agreement to accept a three per cent increase in valuations for the Coahoma Independent School District while leaving county values the same.

At noon they were considering whether to reconvene the board of equalization meeting, for another look at oil values recessed from last month. Indications were, however, that this would not be the case.

The problem arose when Howard County and the Forsan Independent and the Big Spring Independent School Districts accepted a standard table of values on rural properties, but the Coahoma Independent School District fixed a lesser table of values.

Because of this smaller valuation on land, the Coahoma district was in need of revenues to meet the budget and added three per cent to oil values. The companies muttered about it but at the recent board of equalization meeting in Coahoma raised no official objection to the increase, provided it was only on a one-year basis.

Company spokesmen said that they would insist on another revaluation for next year's values.

If the present table of values for the county is left unchanged from the figures established last month by the board of equalization, then a total roll of around $80,000,000 will be on the books. This is nearly $2,000,000 more than the previous year.

The increase in values is necessary to meet the budget, Judge Lee Porter pointed out, because the county is at the limit of 80 cents constitutional rate, plus 15 cents levy for road purposes. To this is 10 cents for bond retirement, making a total rate of $1.05.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice set a $2,500 bond for Mrs. Ezell, who still remained in custody of police Monday morning.

Police said the incident occurred about 9 p.m. Sunday at the Ezell residence and that Parker apparently was stabbed with a rusty pocket knife.

Parker was taken to the hospital by Oscar Hill Jr., who saw the victim shortly after the stabbing.

Shortly after detectives had started to work on the case, Mrs. Ezell came to the police department.

Parker who had been a resident of Big Spring for the past 16 years came here from Marshall. He was a driver for Baroid National Lead Company.

Survivors include his wife, Bernice; his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. William Parker of Big Spring; five brothers, Charlie and Arbruno Parker, both of Marshall, Henderson Parker of Jefferson and J. D. and Jerry Lee Parker, both of Big Spring; and one sister, Mrs. Ossie Lee Watson of Big Spring.

Services for Parker are pending at River-Weich Funeral Home.

Bowling Green State University researchers are using the fruit flies in a study of genetics and heredity.

The researchers say a plan by city officials to fog the Bowling Green area with insecticide to get rid of mosquitoes would affect the fruit flies.

Consequently, Prof. Erwin Oster went to Common Pleas Court Judge Floyd Collier and obtained a temporary injunction against the planned use of the insecticide. A hearing was scheduled today.

But Rohatsch is not a one-dimensional man. He was a trainman for Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad during the 20s and spent some time in the oil fields.

So now that retirement is upon him does he intend to sit back and take it easy? Not exactly.

"There's lots of work I can do with my hands on guns, jewelry, radios and large machinery, too. And of course I'll fish," Rohatsch said.

And how does retirement look to him?

"Looking at retirement from here and getting rid of a lot of pressure—well, it looks great."

Murder Charge Filed After Fatal Stabbing

Charges of murder with malice were filed Sunday against Claressa Ezell, 404 N. Bell St., following the stabbing of Arthur Lee Parker, 32, of 304 N. Eleventh St.

Police said the incident occurred about 9 p.m. Sunday at the Ezell residence and that Parker apparently was stabbed with a rusty pocket knife.

Parker was taken to the hospital by Oscar Hill Jr., who saw the victim shortly after the stabbing.

Shortly after detectives had started to work on the case, Mrs. Ezell came to the police department.

Parker who had been a resident of Big Spring for the past 16 years came here from Marshall. He was a driver for Baroid National Lead Company.

Survivors include his wife, Bernice; his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. William Parker of Big Spring; five brothers, Charlie and Arbruno Parker, both of Marshall, Henderson Parker of Jefferson and J. D. and Jerry Lee Parker, both of Big Spring; and one sister, Mrs. Ossie Lee Watson of Big Spring.

Services for Parker are pending at River-Weich Funeral Home.

Bowling Green State University researchers are using the fruit flies in a study of genetics and heredity.

The researchers say a plan by city officials to fog the Bowling Green area with insecticide to get rid of mosquitoes would affect the fruit flies.

Consequently, Prof. Erwin Oster went to Common Pleas Court Judge Floyd Collier and obtained a temporary injunction against the planned use of the insecticide. A hearing was scheduled today.

But Rohatsch is not a one-dimensional man. He was a trainman for Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad during the 20s and spent some time in the oil fields.

So now that retirement is upon him does he intend to sit back and take it easy? Not exactly.

"There's lots of work I can do with my hands on guns, jewelry, radios and large machinery, too. And of course I'll fish," Rohatsch said.

And how does retirement look to him?

"Looking at retirement from here and getting rid of a lot of pressure—well, it looks great."

OIL NEWS

Martin Gains Two Producers

Two wells have been completed in Martin County, a location staked in Garza County, and a dry hole reported in Dawson County.

John L. Cox of Midland has completed No. 1-D Anderson in the Spraberry trend area of Martin County, 1,980 feet from the south line and 660 feet from the east line of section 39 33-1N, T&P survey. Wellsite is 5½ miles northeast of Stanton.

Operator pumped 215 barrels of 40-gravity oil per day and no water with a gas-oil ratio of 690-1 after fracturing with 90,000 gallons. The 4½-inch casing is set at the total depth of 8,225 feet and perforated at 7,533-8,164 feet.

John L. Cox of Midland has also completed No. 1-B Kentex in the same field at a total depth of 8,200 feet. Operator pumped 227 barrels of 40-gravity oil per day and no water with a gas-oil ratio of 840-1 after fracturing with 90,000 gallons. The 4½-inch casing is set at the total depth of 7,522-8,139 feet. Actions Against Water Pollution

AUSTIN (AP) — "Intensive actions" against water pollution in the upper reaches of the Sabine River have begun, the Texas Water Quality Board said Sunday.

The actions are being taken to protect the quality of water flowing into Louisiana at Logansport, which uses the river water for its domestic supply.

Texas Eastman has stopped discharging waste from its Longview operation into the Sabine until more effective waste treatment can be accomplished, the board's executive director, High C. Yantis, said.

Yantis took the action at the request of the board.

The Louisiana State Department of Health had expressed fear of contamination of the Sabine water used by Logansport.

The Panola County grand jury and delegations of citizens from Panola and Harrison counties have studied the matter for several weeks. Last week, Dist. Atty. K. Baker of Panola County asked the board to start corrective

PLANE COLLISION NEAR FORT WORTH

Five Shot To Death In Texas

By The Associated Press

Twenty-nine persons met violent deaths in Texas over the weekend, with 19 dying in traffic.

Five were shot to death, three drowned, one was stabbed and one person died in a plane crash.

The Associated Press count started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

A collision in flight between a light plane and an American Airlines passenger jet on a training flight Sunday near Fort Worth killed one man. State police said they had not positively identified the pilot of the light plane but said the aircraft had been rented to Air Force Capt. Norman E. Bates, 26, of Dyess Air Force Base at Abilene.

SELF DEFENSE
The airliner, which was not carrying passengers at the time, managed to land safely.

Walter Jackson, 65, of Dallas was stabbed to death Sunday during an argument over a can of beer in a neighborhood backyard. Police arrested a 74-year-old man in connection with the killing.

Darrell James Waters, 20, of Dallas was shot to death in an argument late Sunday in West Dallas. A 23-year-old man surrendered to police several hours after the slaying and claimed he had shot Waters in self defense.

A Chicago woman, Mrs. John Szurko, 28, died in a two-vehicle collision on an access road to U. S. 75 at Howe in North Central Texas Sunday night. Her husband and two of their children were treated and released from a Sherman hospital.

Steven L. Gregory, 16, of Deer Park near Houston drowned Sunday as he swam with friends in Taylor Bayou. A brother said the youth disappeared under the water after being caught in some submerged barbed wire.

RECOVERED BODY
Archie Stevens, 52, of Longview, drowned Sunday while setting fishing nets in the Sabine River. The body was recovered by rescue teams.

Maria Guadalupe Flores, 11, of Houston, drowned Sunday at the north end of the Texas City dike, where she had been wading with friends near a boat ramp.

Mrs. Rhoda Houston Schlessing, 77, of San Antonio died Saturday of injuries received earlier in the day when she was struck by a car.

John R. Reyes, 26, a faculty member of the University of Texas at El Paso, died in a one-car accident Saturday near Del Rio.

Garland Gaines, 53, of Hurst, died Sunday when his car hit a utility pole in Fort Worth.

An auto struck and killed Arvesta Walker, 19, of Houston Saturday.

FLIPS TRACTOR
Willie Byford, 46, died Sunday when his tractor overturned between Grayford and Palo Pinto in West Texas.

Mrs. Beverly Brooks Flowers, 18, of Lufkin was killed Friday night in a two-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 69 and a farm road near Lufkin. Six other persons were injured, none seriously, in the accident.

A one-car accident in Dallas early Saturday killed Jerry Bryan Pilgrim, 33, of Lancaster. Officers said his car went out of control and plunged into a lake.

Raul Garcia, 33, of Dallas was shot to death on a Dallas street early Saturday. Police were looking for an assailant.

Dillary Joe Shaw of Mesquite was dead on arrival at a Dallas hospital after he was shot once in the head Saturday. No arrests were made in the case, police said.

FATAL SLEEP

A car crashed into a shallow ditch Saturday killing Archie Paul Golden, 18, of Baytown. Investigators said the youth apparently fell asleep at the wheel while driving on Texas 225 near Deer Park.

Two persons were killed early Saturday in a two-car collision in Corpus Christi. Killed were Edward Earl Shaw, the driver of one car, and Martha Boston Gregory, a passenger in Shaw's car. Police said the victims were thrown from the car which then rolled over them.

Mark Preston Felton, 17, of Waco was killed early Saturday when he lost control of his motorcycle west of Waco on Farm Road 939 and crashed into a culvert.

Andrew Menifee, 41, was shot to death Saturday as he sat in a tavern in Houston. Police arrested a 29-year-old woman in connection with the case.

TAVERN SHOOTOUT

A Robstown man was shot to death early Sunday in a tavern at Clarkwood, just west of Corpus Christi. Police said Inez Jasso died of a bullet wound in his chest. A second man was wounded slightly in the shootout.

Police arrested a third person. A one-car accident on U. S. 181 between Portland and Gregory in South Texas early Sunday killed one person and injured another. Police said the car left the divided highway and struck a palm tree.

Killed was Donnie Ray Sanders, 24, of Palacios.

A car-truck collision Saturday night a mile east of Killeen on Farm Road 2410 killed Janis

Short, 24, of Killeen. Four other persons were injured in the accident, none seriously, police said.

DOPE RAID

Theodore Lee Johnson, 20, of Houston was shot to death by police officers around midnight Saturday during a narcotics raid.

Police said Johnson opened fire on them and officers fired back, killing him. They said 14 persons were arrested during the raid on Houston's south side.

A head-on collision seven miles west of Brookshire on Texas 359 in Waller County Saturday night killed Roy Munoz, 30, and Lupe Lemos, 14, both of Brookshire. Three other persons were injured in the crash, one critically.

Charles Edward Elsey, 12, died Saturday night when he was struck by a pickup truck along US 80 in El Paso County. West Texas officers sought the truck and its driver.

Clarence Franklin Nichols, of Jackson, Mich., died Saturday night when he was struck by a bus as he ran across a Houston Freeway.

Cathy Bates, 6, of Baton Rouge, La., died of burns received Sunday in a two-car collision on a Dallas freeway.

Police said the car the Bates girl was riding in stalled on the freeway and burst into flames after it was struck by another car.

Showers Dot Bits Of Texas

By The Associated Press

More hot, dry weather was predicted for Texas today, with a few widely scattered thunder-showers possible this evening.

The precipitation was expected to develop over west and northwest portions of the state, where rain also fell Sunday night.

Considerable cloudiness still hung over West Texas early this morning while remaining for scattered thunderstorms after sections were clear to only partly cloudy. Temperatures were in the 70s and 80s. Long-range forecasts called for scattered thunderstorms after midweek in all of the state but southwest and south central portions, and little change in temperatures.

Stops Tormenting Rectal Itch

Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, Burning and Relieves Pain of Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): The embarrassing itch caused by hemorrhoids is most torturous. But science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. And all without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other hemorrhoid formula like it. Preparation H also lubricates, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

San Angelo Ad Executive Dies

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Advertising executive at the San Angelo Standard-Times, Truett Trammel, died Sunday at the age of 40.

He had been ill for three weeks.

Trammel was manager of advertising for the newspaper and a former president of the Tri-State Classified Advertising Managers Association. He had been manager of classified advertising at the Wichita Falls Times-Record prior to employment here.

Survivors include his wife and two sons. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Ben Crocker Heads Final Raw Materials Division

American Petrofina, Inc., has announced the transfer to its Dallas headquarters of its raw materials supply department and the appointment of Ben G. Crocker, Big Spring, as general manager.

As general manager of the new department, Crocker will be responsible for the acquisition of raw materials for the refineries of the company and its subsidiaries located in Big Spring and Mt. Pleasant; and in Kansas at El Dorado.

Crocker has been manager of the pipeline and supply department for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, a subsidiary. He joined Cosden in 1966 after 12 years of crude oil purchasing experience at various management levels.

A native of Mansfield, La., he attended Natchitoches schools and received his BS degree in business administration from

BEN CROCKER

Northwestern State College in Natchitoches in 1949. Also, he holds a masters degree in business administration from Tulane University, New Orleans. Crocker served as a lieutenant in the supply corps in the Navy during the Korean war. In Big Spring, he has been active in Boy Scout work.

New Record For Haircuts?

TOKYO (AP) — Shigekatsu Kawamata, a barber in southwestern Japan, today claimed a new world record for haircuts—294 in 48 hours—and then collapsed into bed from exhaustion.

"I couldn't care less if someone now breaks my record because I have no plans to try it again," he told a telephone interviewer from his barber shop in Omura, a seaside town in Nagasaki Prefecture.

Kawamata's performance bettered the record of 196 haircuts in 46 hours and 30 minutes set by Guy Mudd of St. Louis, Mo.

Using only a manual hair clipper, Kawamata, 36, began his marathon hair-cutting session at 8 a.m. Saturday.

A doctor examined him after he finished clipping his final customer, said he was on the verge of total exhaustion and ordered him to rest the next two days.

July Much Hotter

July temperatures were generally above average this year. The average maximum temperature was 99 degrees while the 54-year average is 95 degrees. Minimum average temperature was 74 degrees; the 54-year average is only 70 degrees. The highest reading during the month was 103 degrees on the 24th and 25th, and the lowest reading was 68 degrees on the 18th.

Precipitation was .18 inches on July 21, with traces being recorded on the 22nd and the 26th; the 70-year average is 2.04 inches. The total rainfall for the year has now reached 13.32 inches, 2.52 inches more than the normal 10.80 inches, but only slight moisture has occurred since mid-June.

Thinks Divorces Should Be Free

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A lawyer for Community Legal Services thinks divorces should be free to the poor.

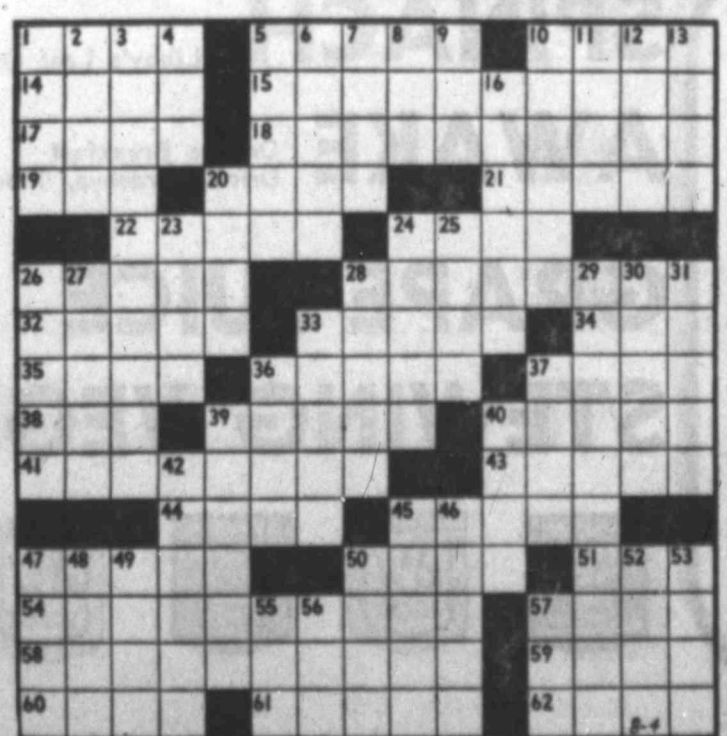

According to Ben Levin, many poor people are denied divorces because they can't pay court costs involved. In Philadelphia, a divorce costs a minimum of $215, he said.

The poor, unable to remarry, structure new relationships, establish homes and raise families. "They may not be moral, but morality is beyond their financial means," Levin said.

Community Legal Services is a free lawyer service for the poor.

It's up to YOU!

For 20 years, we have been doing all that is humanly possible to provide adequate water for this area of our state. We therefore feel that we have learned something about water and its importance.

Our experience has convinced us that unless there is some orderly, bold plan, Texas cannot realize the full benefit of its present water resources, let alone take the first steps toward the importation of massive quantities of water so vital to the economic growth and the general development of Texas in the next half century.

We already are late in Texas in facing up to this tremendously vital problem. Time is almost as important as water when it comes to providing water.

We therefore urge every qualified voter in this area to go to the polls Tuesday and support constitutional AMENDMENT No. 2—the tool of the Texas Water Plan. Texas will need this—and we must have it.

Religious War Spreads To Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — More than 90 persons were injured as Northern Ireland's religious warfare spread to Belfast over the weekend. It was the worst violence in the capital since before World War II.

Two members of the British Parliament called on Home Secretary James Callaghan to intervene, but the British government is traditionally reluctant to take a direct hand in local affairs in Northern Ireland. The territory has domestic self government but remained in the United Kingdom when Ireland was partitioned 50 years ago.

The provincial Cabinet held an emergency meeting Sunday and said the government would take "any measures, however firm or exceptional," to bring the violence to an end. The statement implied that the government was prepared to call in the British Army, but despite the warning there was more rioting Sunday night.

Prime Minister James Callaghan flew back from Switzerland where he had been vacationing. The British government sent several thousand troops into Northern Ireland earlier this year, but they have been used only to guard power plants, pipelines and other such facilities. Riot control has been left to the 3,000 men of the constabulary.

Protestants and Catholics have been feuding and fighting in Northern Ireland for more than 200 years. Unlike the Catholic-dominated Irish Republic, the six northern counties of Ulster have a Protestant majority. The Catholics charge that they are discriminated against by the voting laws and in the allocation of housing and jobs. A civil rights campaign on their behalf began 10 months ago, and the demonstrations brought opposing Protestant groups into the streets. There have been frequent violent clashes, but until this weekend most of them occurred in Londonderry, a Catholic center 75 miles northwest of the capital.

Violence erupted in Belfast Saturday night when milk bottles were thrown from an apartment building at crowds waiting to see a Protestant procession. About 3,000 Protestants tried to storm the building, which is largely inhabited by Catholics. Some of the Protestants broke through police lines and battled with Catholic residents.

Gangs of youths roamed the streets throwing rocks and a bar was set on fire. Several times the mobs threw gasoline bombs, street gratings and stones at police. About 100 stores were looted.

Horoscope Forecast TOMORROW —CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There is danger, until sundown, that you could make a big mistake where some practical matter is concerned, so watch your assets and your money. What you are thinking of making investments, handling money or property matters, wait until the evening. Study those fascinating problems and solve them easily, also working to have physically.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you are thinking of making investments, handling money or property matters, wait until the evening. Study those fascinating problems and solve them easily, also working to have physically.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Use gentle persuasion to get a good friend to help you do some work. Trying to use force is not wise. Take some treatment that makes you feel dynamic tonight. Then go out socially and get the right results.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Selfishity does no good at all. You need to study objectively to determine how to do your private work, and how to overcome what is worrying you. By evening all is much easier. Life becomes very pleasant by 7 P.M.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are doing something that bothers a good friend of yours and you should stop it. This evening's social event can be very pleasant, if it is added to your circle of friends in the evening than during the day.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Contact those persons who can help you to do better in your regular work, but don't annoy one in a higher position who is usually on your side. Make sure you do not take any risks with credit. See that all your bills are paid.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You do not have the information you need yet, so do not act off on that important trial or begin a business project. Study the situation well first. Evening is a good time to come to decisions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be sure that you keep promises made, whether they are concerned with government, business or personal affairs. This could prove to be a fascinating day for you. Plan a special evening with your mate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to clarify certain points with your partners. Wait until evening to come to the final decisions. Situations will come up that will show your true position with others. Then you can proceed wisely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure you all finish and finish that job, although you are eager to seek out new fields and pleasant people. Plan your time wisely or you will get bogged down with work, neglecting other important things. Do some reading.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can have a wonderful time today if you are affectionate with others. Act more positively. Do something constructive about that creative idea you have.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take care not to antagonize those with whom you live. Do something to improve conditions of home. Some situation has been causing strife. Get rid of it in a tactful way.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Contact your good associates for help with solving problems. Instead of trusting outsiders, look at everything objectively, step by step, so excited about small emergencies.

MARINER 7 RETURNS THREE NEW PHOTOS OF
MARS—These three pictures of Mars were returned to earth last night by Mariner 7 and released today at Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif. They were made as the spacecraft moved from 716,250 miles from the planet, top, to 630,700 miles, center, and finally, to 535,650.

Seeks Funds For Schools

TOYAH (Spl.) — Four big days of celebration are being planned here for the last three days of August and on Labor Day to raise funds for the Toyah Independent School District.

Supt. J. H. Smith said that all proceeds would go to replace $18,000 the district has expended in an effort to avoid annexation by the Pecos school district. Monday, District Judge J. H. Starley rejected an application by the Pecos district enjoining the Toyah school from operating this year, and the district posted a $2,500 supersedeas bond in order to open as usual pending final adjudication.

Smith contended that the Pecos district moved to annex only after the sulphur prospects had indicated sharp increases in value. The Toyah school had 76 pupils last year, but Smith said the sulphur boom already has boosted prospects to 140 pupils and that the number is due to grow steadily.

The August celebration will be under the theme of "Back to Progressive Life," said Smith, and there will be basketball tournaments, an all-star game, and a variety of other entertainments.

Embarassing And Full Of Peril

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A 25-year-old television repairman has met a gun moll — and lost everything but his shirt.

The man told detectives Friday he was flagged down by a young woman hitchhiker who asked for a lift to town — and then pulled a gun and ordered him to park in a vacant lot.

"She ordered me to strip off my wedding ring. Then she said to get out of my clothing. I did that too. She took everything except my shirt and one sock," he said. The man declined to be identified. "If my wife ever hears about this she'll beat my brains out," he told detectives.

Want A Ferry?

CHULA VISTA, Calif. (AP) — Anybody want a ferryboat? The Chula Vista City Council wants to unload one.

The city bought the Silver Strand from the state for $100 for conversion to a community theater. Then the city learned it must post a considerable bond to cover any mishap while the work is being done.

The council decided to sell the boat or get the state to take it back.

KANITTA SUWANJINDA

HCJC Rolls Will List 'Kanitta Suwanjinda'

Kanitta (Nid) Suwanjinda, a native of Bangkok, Thailand, will spend the next two years as a 'daughter' in the home of Chief WO and Mrs. Henry D. Brewer, 2514 Carol.

She arrived Friday and has already adopted the American custom of wearing shorts (which she had not done previously) and bought her first bikini.

Brewer was formerly stationed at Korat Air Force Base in Thailand where he met Capt. Taruttee, flying safety officer for the Thai Air Force and brother-in-law of Kanitta. It was through their association that he came to know the family.

Kanitta is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Suwanjinda, a family with higher living standards than most in Thailand. Brewer stressed that it was through this family's kindness to him that he got to see much of Thailand and become acquainted with its customs and culture.

In gratitude for their hospitality, he wanted to bring Kanitta to the United States when she became 18 and ready for college. When Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, heard of the Brewers plans for sending the girl to college, he arranged a scholarship through private sources. She plans to major in social science and return to her country for her degree from the University of Bangkok. She plans to teach English like her sister, Dang Taruttee.

"So far, I like everything about America," said the diminutive Kanitta. She is giving a new experience to Patty Brewer, 16, who now has a new 'sister'.

"It certainly is different for me, too," said Patty, "but I am sure that it will be a lot of fun having a companion."

Kanitta's brother, Lek, is working on his Ph.D. in political science at the University of California in Berkeley. She got to see him while she was in San Francisco, en route to Big Spring. He is attending college under a Rockefeller Foundation Grant.

According to Kanitta, there is a big difference in the life of a Thai and American girl. A Thailand teenager of 18 may have dates during the day, and she will probably go bowling, swimming, water - skiing, or have an early dinner. She is not allowed to have a date unchaperoned after dark.

Kanitta is well-mannered as are all Thai peoples, according to Brewer. She already likes hamburgers, Coca-Cola and ice cream. She likes all recipes with rice, because rice is the staple food of Thailand. She has developed a liking for steak but is reticent about trying out many other foods.

The Brewers will clothe their guest and buy all her personal articles just as if she were their daughter. They will be completely responsible for Kanitta during her stay in Big Spring.

"We have been looking forward to this for two years," said Brewer. "We couldn't be happier having her with us."

V. E. Long's Honored At Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Long, 1800 Dixie, were honored Sunday at a family reunion held on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the affair was Mrs. Long's mother, Mrs. Cora McCormick, who makes her home with the Longs. She was assisted by the couple's sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wright, Arlington, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rutherford, Big Spring; their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ronald E. Long, and their son, Pfc. Ronald E. Long, who is now stationed in Vietnam.

Mrs. Long is the former Miss Jeanette McCormick of Big Spring, Long, a laboratory and X-ray technician at Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital, has been employed by the hospital for 20 years.

The honoree will be married to John Shuffler on Aug. 22 at the First Methodist Church in Big Spring. She was attired in a pink linen dress.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white lace cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. The centerpiece was of pink carnations interspersed with lily of the valley. The carnations were also used in corsages for Miss Biffar and her mother, Mrs. Elva Biffar of Big Spring, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jack Shuffler of Dallas.

Guests were the honoree's co-workers at the Southern Baptist Annuity Board.

Exercises that promote coordination of the arms and legs and "those coordinated movements that require a child to think through the performance patterns before execution" appear most valuable, he said.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: I finally jarred loose and bought one of those cast iron fryers with the glass top. But no matter what I do, it always rusts inside.

Oh, Heloise, I sure hope you have an answer for me... New Bride

Honey Chile: Whether your dutch oven is new or you have inherited it, the first thing I want to tell you is don't ever, no matter what sticks to it, put water in it and boil it on the stove to clean it. This absolutely ruins it. It will take years to build up that "seasoning" again.

What you are probably doing is washing it, putting the lid back on and sticking it on a shelf. Those little pores in that cast iron still have moisture in them. Natch, when you put the lid back on, there is no place for this moisture to evaporate. This is what causes your rust.

After washing any of my cast iron utensils, I put them back on the stove just a moment and warm them, turn off the fire and let them cool. This allows the moisture to evaporate. I never put the lid back on mine without stuffing some newspaper or paper towels in them. Just in case there is a teensy-weensy bit of moisture left, the paper will absorb it.

While the pot is still warm, you can tear off a piece of wax paper and rub around the inside of the pot. This will also prevent rust. When I don't go to that trouble, I take a paper napkin and grease it with some grease and wipe it good. This never allows for rust!

For those of you who have a cast iron top, never put the lid back on like it belongs. Turn it UPSIDE DOWN and grease the inside of the cast iron top too.

It's the lid that usually collects the most rust. This is because we usually steam or boil things in these big glorified pots and all that steam has had hours to collect in that beautiful cast iron lid.

So don't fret and quit worrying. Just try any of the above methods and you won't be cooking with rust anymore... Love, Heloise

BY HELOISE
Dear Heloise: I found a good way to reduce drapery vacuuming in half. Just attach four thicknesses of nylon net to the upholstery attachment of your vacuum cleaner with masking tape or a rubber band.

No more material being sucked up and pulled into the tube, and you can run the attachment over the drapes real quick... Mrs. Fred Schikora

Dear Heloise: When your make-up "cake" breaks, dump the broken pieces into a plastic sandwich bag or something similar and crush them into powder form. Then put it back into the compact, press it down, and it will become firm again.

Of course it may be lumpier, but, after all, you haven't lost as much cake make-up... Mrs. L.M.

Dear Heloise: I made a spot remover container out of my husband's discarded liquid shoe polish bottle by using the new applicator in the old bottle that had been cleaned out.

It's perfect!... A Reader

Shower Held For Coleta Witcher

A pre-nuptial shower for Miss Coleta Witcher, bride-elect of James L. Reed, was held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Joe Wasson, 604 Baylor.

The honoree, attired in a green A-line dress, was presented a white carnation corsage, as was her mother, Mrs. J. E. Witcher.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth with tangerine underlay and centered with tangerine daisies. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

Cohostesses for the complimentary affair were Mrs. Minnie Chapman, Mrs. U. S. Beechley, Mrs. Ernest Hughes, Mrs. Maurice Chapman, Mrs. Clint Miller, Mrs. O. A. Davis, Mrs. Ira Dement and Mrs. W. C. Killough.

Breakfast Held For Retiree

Mrs. Florence Rhoton was honored with a Continental Breakfast Friday at Coker's Restaurant on the occasion of her retirement from Hemphill-Wells Company.

Mrs. Rhoton, who resides at 1701 Main, began work as a saleslady in the fabric department Aug. 29, 1957. Mrs. Rhoton is retiring early due to an injury received while on vacation in early June.

Mrs. Rhoton's children are S. C. Rhoton Jr. and Mrs. Harvey Fryer, both of Big Spring, and Mrs. Charles Cunningham of Seminole. Mrs. Fryer, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Rhoton were special guests for the breakfast.

Employees of the local store were in attendance as Scottie Johnston, a director and vice president of the company, presented the honoree with a plaque and her first retirement check.

Mrs. E. Everett Feted At Shower

Mrs. Eddie Everett was honored at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning with a baby shower in the home of Mrs. C. O. Nalley, 908 Gregg. Mrs. Merrill Creighton was cohostess.

The honoree was presented gifts and a novelty corsage made of miniature rattlers. Refreshments were served from a polished table centered with a crystal compote arranged with fresh fruit.

New Fighting On Burger Hill

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting flared up on Hamburger Hill Sunday night for the first time since American paratroopers captured the 3,000-foot mountain last May 20, U.S. military spokesmen reported today.

The spokesmen said North Vietnamese troops attacked a column of American tanks in a base camp on the hill overlooking the A Shau Valley. The enemy attacked with mortars, machine guns and rifles, but the thrust was broken by big 90mm tanks guns firing point-blank and a twin-engine AC47 pouring out 18,000 rounds of fire per minute.

NINE KILLED
At least nine North Vietnamese soldiers were killed and there were no American casualties, headquarters said.

Within a few hours, 20 B52 bombers retaliated with a massive raid around the mountain to thwart any new enemy buildup.

U.S. spokesmen said they did not see any immediate major threat to American and South Vietnamese units operating in the A Shau Valley. American tanks and armored personnel carriers from the U.S. 5th Mechanized Infantry Division have been operating on Hamburger Hill and inside the A Shau Valley in Operation Montgomery Rendezvous. Their aim is to deny the North Vietnamese supply routes from Laos through the valley and staging areas there.

FIELDS OF FIRE
Tank trails and fields of fire have been cleared on top of Hamburger Hill, known formally as Dong Ap Bia. But U.S. officers said they do not plan to keep the armored column on the hill. They said the task force was deployed there to clear the top of the mountain for any future major fighting.

American paratroopers from the 101st Airborne Division captured the hill last May 20 at a cost of 55 Americans killed and 300 wounded in 11 separate assaults in 10 days. More than 600 North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed.

A remark by the American commander in the operation that "backing off is one thing that commanders hate to do" touched off a storm of criticism in the U.S. Congress, led by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.

Kennedy said the repeated charges up the hill were "senseless and irresponsible" and that American lives were being sacrificed for "military pride." U.S. officers in Saigon said the purpose of American military operations in Vietnam was to kill the enemy and the kill ratio in the battle for Hamburger Hill — 10.9 North Vietnamese to 1 American — was as good or better than the ratio in most operations.

SHOT DOWN
Meanwhile, U.S. South Vietnamese and South Korean forces reported a total of 206 enemy troops killed Sunday in 13 clashes scattered about the country. The U.S. Command reported a helicopter and a Phantom jet fighter-bomber shot down, with two airmen killed in the Phantom crash and two wounded in the helicopter.

The Phantom was supporting a unit of U.S. Marines who had encountered North Vietnamese troops during a sweep 24 miles southwest of Da Nang. There was a heavy exchange of rifle and machine-gun fire, and the U.S. Command said two Marines and five North Vietnamese were killed and 14 Americans were wounded.

Despite the scattered fighting, the U.S. Command said it considered that the lull in major sustained ground fighting was still on.

LONG LULL
U.S. intelligence officers reported that a captured Viet Cong training officer has told American interrogators that some North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops operating northwest of Saigon were sent into Cambodia for training in guerrilla warfare.

The information from the prisoner, coupled with the seven-week lull in heavy enemy attacks, indicates to some U.S. military analysts that the Communist command may be planning to rely almost exclusively on guerrilla warfare in some sections of South Vietnam.

But these analysts cautioned that the enemy is still capable of launching large-scale attacks and may be planning to do so late this month or early in September.

The captive officer, a senior captain, said the Viet Cong's 268th Regiment had sent about half of its 600 troops into Cambodia in June for guerrilla training warfare. The troops returned to South Vietnam in late July and have been operating in an area called the Citadel about 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

The prisoner said the 268th Regiment is now broken up into small units of squad or platoon size. The idea is to cover more territory and reduce casualties while maintaining some pressure on allied bases and towns, analysts said.

Many American units also are operating in small squads, matching the enemy change in tactics.

SIX SHELLINGS
U.S. headquarters reported six enemy shellings Sunday night and no enemy ground attacks from 8 a.m. Sunday to 8 a.m. Monday. All of the fighting was touched off by allied ground forces or reconnaissance aircraft.

The Viet Cong also blew up the center span of the Rach Hao highway bridge on Highway 15, the main road from Saigon southeast to the seaside resort of Vung Tau. Military traffic was cut and hundreds of weekend vacationers who had driven down from Saigon had to stay over until today.

PRESTON PONDER — Gov. Preston Smith, at a news conference Monday, ponders a question, then promises he would approve an "adequate" one-year spending bill if voters demand it in Tuesday's election.

Astros Wrap Up A Report Of Journey

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — With only one week remaining in their quarantine, three healthy Apollo 11 astronauts met with spacecraft experts today to begin wrapping up a report of their adventure before stepping out to a world waiting with honors.

Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins and 16 other persons isolated with them all "remain in good health," the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today, indicating there is no reason to extend their quarantine beyond the scheduled release date of next Monday.

MOON MICE

Twenty-four mice inoculated with moon dirt last Thursday and 240 more which received doses last Saturday also have shown no ill reaction, officials said.

A spokesman said the astronauts unfortunately missed televised newscasts late Sunday which carried President Nixon's arrival speech emphasizing how people abroad were captivated by Apollo 11's moon landing, and "would have been impressed" if they had heard his words.

"Some way, when those two Americans stepped on the moon, the people of the world were brought closer together," Nixon said after completing a 12-day trip to eight countries.

THE SPIRIT

"The spirit of Apollo transcends geographic barriers and political differences. It can bring the people of the world together in peace," the President said.

Meanwhile, scientists planned today to open the second of two boxes of stones collected by Armstrong and Aldrin on the lunar surface.

Dr. T. Robin Brett, Manned Spacecraft Center geologist, said samples in the first box opened last week "seem to be setting down to three major rock types."

Two types appear to be hardened from molten lava, with one more dense than the other, Brett said, while the third seems to be a clod of dust—with drips of glass around it something like "the covering of taffy candy over an apple."

GLASS DROPLETS

Scientists suggested a meteor impacting the lunar surface could have compressed dust to make the clods and melted lunar material to form glass droplets which rained back upon the surface.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins scheduled an all-day meeting today with experts on spacecraft systems. Tuesday, the trio plan to go over film they made during their flight to select highlights to be shown Aug. 12 during their first news conference after getting out of quarantine. The astronauts speak from within the isolation chamber to the experts on the outside.

The nation will begin showering them with honors that same day, with the astronauts first appearing as special guests at a dinner of National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials.

On Aug. 13 they are to have ticker tape parades in New York and Chicago, with the day climaxed at a state dinner in Los Angeles to be attended by President Nixon and governors of the 50 states.

HOUSTON HONORS

Houston plans to honor the trio with a Texas-sized production in the Astrodome on Aug. 16 assembled by David Merrick, producer of "Hello Dolly" and other Broadway shows.

Honors also are expected in Armstrong's home town of Wapakoneta, Ohio, and in Aldrin's home town of Montclair, N.J. Collins, who has lived many places, claims no home town.

Smith Plans To Nix One Amendment

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith promised today that he would approve an "adequate" one-year spending bill if voters demand it in Tuesday's election.

"I would certainly be willing to accept a one-year bill if it is a responsible program and takes care of our needs, provided of course the people want it," Smith told a news conference.

Smith also said the proposed constitution amendment calling for annual session was the only one of the nine amendments on Tuesday's ballot he would vote against.

The governor has opposed annual sessions since they were proposed by former Gov. John Connally while Smith was lieutenant governor and vetoed the one-year bill passed in the spring session of the 61st Legislature.

Smith said he was not sure the one-year bill he vetoed adequately funded several items, particularly mental health projects.

The previous one-year bill also did not include the $30 million cost for added state welfare benefits—if the ceiling is lifted in Tuesday's election.

If a one-year bill is approved and legislators want to go home early, "it will be all right with me," Smith said, "but a number of them have been in to see me about opening the session to other subjects, some that were vetoed before and some that are pretty non-controversial."

Smith's news conference was called just before the House took a second look at the Senate's version of the 1970-71 appropriations bill.

Disabled Vets Schedule Meet

An important, special meeting of the local Chapter 47 of the Disabled American Veterans of all wars has been set for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the community room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Marshall Jones, Abilene, Region I commander, and Grady Ramey, Abilene, region adjutant, will explain many of the new benefits for disabled veterans, said R. R. McKinney, commander of the chapter here.

Jaycee Meeting

Jaycees will have a meeting at 7 p.m. today at the Officers Club at Webb AFB, and Col. Harrison Lobdell, wing commander, will be the speaker. He will speak at 7:30 p.m. on the subject of leadership training.

Site In Odessa Chosen For New Permian Basin College

Ector County citizens, elated that site of the new University of Texas of the Permian Basin has been designated in the edge of Odessa, apparently were mobilizing forces today to meet conditions laid down by the board of regents of the University of Texas system.

The board announced that it had selected as the site of the new school a tract offered by Tom and Ewell McKnight. It lies between 42nd Street on the north and 27th Street on the south, and borders on the west of the eastern property line of Nimitz Junior High School in Odessa.

It is some four or five miles directly east of the Odessa College campus at the end of what eventually be an extension of 27th Street. The site is about one-half mile west of Headlee Road, which is a north-south traffic artery connecting IS 20 and US 80 on the south and

Andrews Highway on the north. The regents laid certain specifications: that not less than 600 acres of land adjoining Loop 338 and 42nd Street be acquired; that adequate written agreements on future land use in the area be obtained; that removable and existing relocation of easements be obtained; and that Ector County meet "any other conditions that may be necessary to the satisfactory development of the site."

Dig This Hungry Guy

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — "When I went through the serving line I felt like hitting some body, grabbing their bean roll and running."

State Sen Joe Bernal came on hungry Sunday after skipping breakfast and lunch.

"I've been fasting today and it's rough," he told supporters of the state welfare proposal.

Bernal, of San Antonio, ate supper with about 250 other persons at one of two gatherings where meals were served to what can be bought with welfare funds.

The senator ended his fast in support of the welfare proposal, Amendment 5, by eating a single bean roll—the portion served to each person in attendance.

Under the present Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program, each child is allotted 42 cents per day.

City Councilman Dr. D. Ford Nielson, whose family joined Bernal in fasting Sunday, expressed similar feelings. "I thought there might be a little more," Nielson said, looking up from his empty plate.

Counties Ballot On Representative

At least two area counties will have a double-barreled election Tuesday.

In addition to the referendum on state constitutional amendments, voters in Martin and Dawson counties will be balloting between Jim Clack, Andrews and E. L. Short, Tahoka, for state representative.

Randy Pendleton, Andrews, who has been serving as representative, resigned the post to become the Texas liaison man in Washington for Gov. Preston Smith.

Short was the top man in a field of nine in a recent election which gave no one a majority, hence a runoff was necessary.

The regents' decision apparently brought to an end a bitter controversy between Midland and Odessa citizens over the school's location. Midland had fought for a tract about half-way between the two cities, just south of IS 20 and near Terminal; Odessa countered with several locations, contending that any of them would be better and arguing that the upper level institution should be as close as possible to Odessa College, a two-year school.

Howard County and Big Spring interests had joined Midland in its efforts, and sent witnesses to a hearing before the UT board of regents. The Howard County contention was that the new upper level university should be located within the easiest access to Howard County Junior College.

A location in Ector County had tremendous support from Ace Pickens and Dick Slack, both legislators serving that city. Slack is seeking in the present special-session budget bill a provision for $3 million for two years of planning for the University of Texas of the Permian Basin.

Unions In Fort Worth OK 2 Company Pacts

FORT WORTH (AP) — Company contracts were accepted Sunday by union workers at two Fort Worth area aerospace plants.

Unions at Bell Helicopter and General Dynamics each approved three-year contracts.

The Bell contract ratification averted a possible strike of around 1,200 office and clerical employees at the firm's North Texas facilities. They were represented by United Auto Workers Local 317.

General Dynamics' International Association of Machinists Lodge 766 overwhelmingly voted to accept their contract.

Had the contract with Bell not been approved, workers said they were prepared to begin a strike at midnight.

The terms of the new Bell contract call for improved wage benefits with an immediate increase retroactive to June 2 and additional increases in the second and third years of the contract.

PENSION PLAN
The pact also called for an improved pension plan, additional holidays during Christmas and added insurance and hospitalization coverage.

Contract approval came after union members, union officials and company officials met for three hours to go over the new contract page by page.

Consensus before the meeting was that the contract would be accepted if it was on a par with a new contract approved June 21 by striking Local 218 of UAW.

Local 218, with about 7,500 members, represents employees in shops and assembly lines.

After the meeting, Lloyd Cox, president of Local 317, said, "This is the best contract in Bell history."

"It was approved almost unanimously," he added.

J. E. Floyd, president of the General Dynamics union, which represent about 15,000 employees, said 2,631 members voted to accept the contract with 510 voting to reject it.

Under terms of the new General Dynamics contract which goes into effect Monday, employees will get from 20 to 35 cents per hour over what they were drawing under the old contract, Floyd said.

The pay raises will add an estimated $5 million to the company payroll for the company's Fort Worth and Waco, Tex., facilities for the remainder of the year, making the payroll for the last half of 1969 total approximately $131 million, a company spokesman said.

Floyd said insurance benefits also were "greatly improved."

Under the old contract, employees received $19 per day for a hospital room. The new contract will pay $28 beginning Monday; Jan. 1, 1970, $31 and by Aug. 4, 1972, employees will receive $36 per day for a hospital room, Floyd said.

A total of 56 jobs will be upgraded under the new contract, affecting approximately 948 employees and involving almost a half million dollars, Floyd added.

Lodge 776 members are production and maintenance employees and represent the largest union at the plant.

LETTER TO EDITOR Favors Proposal To Aid Elderly, Lauds Writer

To the Editor:

During the past few weeks there has been much discussion throughout our state regarding Amendment 5 which must be approved or disapproved on Tuesday Aug. 5 by the citizens of Texas. This amendment seeks to increase the Texas Welfare ceiling from 60 million dollars to 80 million dollars.

Perhaps there are a few voters who do not clearly understand the consequences of this amendment being defeated. If Amendment 5 is defeated, the state of Texas stands to lose 56 million dollars in federal money which will eventually go to other states.

Amendment 5 could better be named Senior Citizens of Texas as the majority of the welfare funds goes to help the elderly citizens of our state who can not help themselves. In Texas today, there are over a quarter of a million old age pensioners trying to live on an average grant from the state of Texas of $58.96 a month.

We have thousands of blind people and disabled citizens of Texas who will also benefit from the passage of Amendment 5. Today a blind individual receives $71.71 from the state to exist on for an entire month and a disabled person receives $59.74 a month. Many of us spend more than $71.71 on a single fishing trip, or a hunting trip, or an out-of-town weekend.

The elderly do not seek our pity. Like most of us, they have made their contribution to our society but in their twilight years they need our help. There will be no loud pickets or wild demonstrations in front of the State Capitol on Aug. 5 demanding passage of Amendment 5 — just silence from the weak and old.

I urge every Texan to vote yes on Tuesday for Amendment 5.

Cordially,
BOB GHORMLEY

To The Editor:
About a year ago I met a man who soon became a good friend.

He was interested in the history of the early-day West, and so am I. I have spent many happy hours with him talking about the old days of this area. He could tell a true story or write them so vividly I felt like I was there living them over again.

My heart was grieved when he passed from this life. West Texas has lost one of the finest men I have ever known. I will miss Sam Blackburn's friendly smile and warm handshake. I was proud to call him my friend.

LESTER WILKINS
1296 Harding

To The Editor:
Sam Blackburn will be missed among those of us who are concerned about the history of our country. No one can fill his shoes. I would like to suggest that you take Sam Blackburn's interesting things about Howard County and put them in book form. This would be a good memorial and future generations would have a good history.

LEGISLATORS HOPE TO GET PAY RAISE OUT OF BALLOTING

What's At Stake In Constitutional Election?

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Texas' lawmakers are standing by to see what guidelines the state's voters will hand them Tuesday in making a decision on nine proposed constitution changes.

Multi-billion dollar issues of public welfare, water development and state spending are at stake.

Legislators also hope to get a pay raise out of the balloting.

The Texas Election Bureau estimates only about 650,000 out of the 3.49 million eligible voters in Texas will bother to mark ballots.

Only about 273,000 voted on constitution changes in 1967 the last "off year" election.

However, close to two million voted on constitution changes in 1968—when the latest attempted legislative pay raise toppled in defeat and voters unexpectedly refused to raise the state public welfare ceiling.

The proposal to raise the state's contributions to welfare payments, from a maximum of $60 million to $80 million, is a prime issue again this year, along with a controversial proposal for financing Texas' water development the next 50 years.

The voters' decision will have a quick reaction on the special legislative session now in progress.

'NEW MONEY'

If the public welfare increase is approved, then the senators and representatives trying to write a compromise 1970-71 appropriations bill of more than $5 billion and a tax bill to finance it will have to make room for another $30 million. That is the estimated "new money" cost of the increase the next two fiscal years.

If voters approve annual sessions of the legislature, the same compromise committees passed after voters approve annual sessions.

If the amendment to authorize issuance of $3.5 billion in bonds to finance water development is defeated, state officials and legislators will be hard put to convince federal officials to go ahead with their part of the 50-year Texas water plans.

A Devotional For The Day

"My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." (II Corinthians 12:9, RSV)
PRAYER: Stand by us with Thy grace, O Lord, especially when we face defeat or trial. Help us to use the fires of experiences through which we pass to refine and strengthen our faith. Amen.

Attacking Waste Problem

The day will come when it costs more to get rid of our society's mountain of waste than it does to convert it for useful purposes. When that day comes, society will undertake large-scale transformation of many kinds of waste — from kitchen garbage to abandoned automobiles.

That, at any rate, is the likely sequence of events. A policy of greater wisdom and foresight would be not to wait until our swiftly rising tonnage of solid waste overwhelms us, but to tackle that problem at once in a broad, systematic way.

A start was made on a national scale with passage of the Solid Waste Disposal Act in 1965. The results of this legislation thus far, however, have amounted to only a kind of preliminary warmup. Less than $20 million a year has been appropriated to finance the Public Health Service program and the grants to states for its implementation. A far bigger investment of federal money is called for by the magnitude of the problem.

One important aspect of this problem is the fact that responsibility for dealing with it is scattered all over the map. Many small communities simply lack the resources to do an adequate job of waste collection and disposal on their own. In many instances the matter could be handled more cheaply and effectively if neighboring communities would join forces.

It would be a mistake to think of the problem simply in terms of operating present waste disposal systems more effectively. A shift of emphasis is called for — a shift from the idea of merely getting rid of rubbish to the concept of converting it into useful material. Though quite a bit of experimental work has been done, the possibilities of waste reclamation have scarcely been touched.

Economic considerations are an important factor. The natural tendency will be not to undertake reclamation on any wide scale until it pays for itself. While this may be basically sound, another point also should be considered. This is that old-fashioned methods of waste collection and disposal have had environmental effects; they deteriorate the quality of American life. Our national aspiration should be to improve the quality of life. One way to do that would be to start now on an imaginative program of systematic waste reclamation.

How Responsible Are You?

Under the best of circumstances, there always is a certain percentage of the electorate who will not take time or trouble to vote.

This portion could be expanded considerably, Tuesday, even dangerously, if our citizens do not make a special effort to go to the polls.

For one thing, it is August — in the middle of a hot summer and a time when many families are off on vacations. For another, the election concerns only proposed amendments to the Texas constitution. There have been no candidates stumping the state, calling each other names and stirring the juices of prejudice or favoritism on the part of the voters.

Without this stimulation, a lot of people likely just won't be bothered. In addition, a lot of others will shrug it off: "Election? What election?"

Yet there are vital issues at stake — vital issues (One of them involves $3 1/2 billion) in which every citizen is invited to have a direct voice.

How many of us will have the good conscience, the sense of responsibility to take time out to vote?

Apollo 11, Trains Romantic Sights

WASHINGTON, D.C. — How many of us as a youngster remember the receding red and green lights on the back of the passenger train as it left the depot?

To those who remember when the passenger train was important, those lights were the most romantic sight as the train pulled away in the night.

It meant going to far away and unknown places. Leaving the depot in Anson, the whistle blew at Highway 80A and again when about even with the old Putnam place. The Wichita Valley was on its way to Abilene at a speed just a little less than lightning.

THE A bit later was seen the T&P's "Sunshine Special." No doubt it was the biggest, the finest and most glamorous of any train in the world. Standing on tiptoes on the T&P lawn in Abilene, watching people being served in the diner was elegance beyond anything known. No places since visited, no meetings with kings, queens, princesses and potentates have compared to the dignity of the waiters, the finery of white table linens and gleaming silverware. It was the ultimate of luxury, the final epitome of graciousness, the final

Billy Graham

Somehow, I believe that man's desire to conquer outer space is wrong. Didn't God make the moon as a "lesser light to shine by night," and not for human habitation? What do you think about our obsession to get to the moon?

T.R.D.
Man has always had an insatiable curiosity. Sometimes this curiosity gets him in trouble, as in the case of Adam and Eve eating of the forbidden fruit. And sometimes it produces progress and benefit, as in the case of Franklin discovering electricity.

Thoughtful people seem to be in disagreement about man's quest of outer space. Some say that with the problems of poverty, ignorance, and disease in the world that these billions spent on our space program could better be spent in alleviating some of the pressing problems of mankind. Others say that there may be minerals and other commodities on the moon and other planets which might be beneficial to the earth's people, and that the effort is well worth the cost.

I feel sure that one cannot turn the clock of progress backwards. I'm sure that many thought Columbus crazy, stupid, and immoral, for his burning desire to find an unfound continent. But, if it hadn't been for his efforts where would we be today? Some compare our space exploration to the building of the Tower of Babel. If our space efforts are carried out in defiance of God's authority, there could be some resemblance. But if they are carried out reverently, there would be no similarity.

'THIS BEAT IS TOO MUCH FOR ONE COP'

John Cuniff

What It Takes To Be A Manager

NEW YORK (AP) — What are the qualities needed for management success. You name them. At one time or another almost every quality has been attributed to the successful top-level manager.

A brief survey of printed opinions seems to suggest that he has to be determined, sensitive, selfless, liberally educated, that he must have the stamina of a fullback, the style of a Hollywood idol, the patience, understanding and conscience of a clergyman.

LONG HOURS
Maybe so, but the one factor that always shows up in studies of successful managers is the ability to work long hours. Various studies show that long workweeks are most prevalent among professionals, managers and owners.

Assuming, however, that the hard work is a result rather than a cause of success, the search leads elsewhere. First, the comments of Lawrence Appley, former president of the American Management Association:

"There are two vast areas of knowledge a manager must master: First, the nature of the business he is managing; second, the principles and techniques required to manage."

Appley added: "It has been said that 'he who can manage can manage anything.' But to manage anything, Appley said, a man must understand long-range planning, be able to organize, be able to carry out his plans."

QUESTIONS
The head of a Chicago executive recruiting firm, writing in International Management magazine, asks the executive aspirant:

"Do you have the ability to see things clearly from the corporate viewpoint, divorced from personal prejudices and needs? Can you pinpoint a problem in your field of responsibility before serious trouble occurs?"

"Do you encourage others to air their opinions and are you responsive to their viewpoints and suggestions? Are you willing to take a chance? Are you flexible, unafraid of change?

"Can you simplify and cut problems to size. Can you dramatize yourself and your beliefs so as to influence people toward a desired goal. Is your sense of discipline strong, meaningful, such qualities."

That Violent Death Toll

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: One hundred and eighty thousand Americans are hurt yearly in forms of personal violence ranging from private fist fights to public riots.

Doctors are hopeful that the survival rate in heart transplant cases can be increased through the use of anticoagulants which help prevent blood clotting, the first sign that a patient's system is rejecting the inserted heart. Only about 30 of 132 heart transplant patients have survived "a significant period of time."

GAMBLING PERILS
Gambling has medical as well as financial perils. Gamblers who stand long hours at crap tables are likely to develop varicose veins. Card players can be afflicted with "blackjack dermatitis," a skin irritation caused by a substance in green felt table coverings.

Is your boss beginning to think of you as a liability because you miss work too often? The average U.S. worker is absent from his job seven days a year.

WHO'S BOSS?
Who's boss in the house? In increasing numbers it is the lady in the house. The U.S. Census Bureau lists 12 million women as "heads of households."

Exit glamor. "A girl no longer has to be glamorous to land a good secretarial post," says Elmer L. Winter, president of Manpower, Inc. "Because of the shortage of help today, executives are thankful to get any secretary at all."

Twin Surprise

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Laurie Schimmoller, 23, and expecting her second child, was being taken to a hospital by her husband in the midst of morning workout traffic. As Mrs. Schimmoller sat in the bucket seat of the car about a half-mile from the hospital, a baby girl was born.

Within the next two blocks, another baby girl was born. The doctor had not predicted twins. They finally got to the hospital mother and daughters were fine.

Ways To Meet Hardening Of The Arteries

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
(First of two articles)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told by two doctors that I have hardening of the arteries and very poor circulation, which I guess most people do at my age—65.

The doctor prescribed nicotinic acid, 50 milligrams four times a day, but it does not seem to have done any good. What do you think of it? Would you suggest anything else?

Is there anything a person can take to slow up hardening of the arteries?—A.S.T.

You're right. By 65 most people have some hardening of the arteries, but this varies considerably, both as to type and location of the affected blood vessels.

Hardening is usually one of two types. One is a thickening of the inner lining of the arteries. The other involves increased rigidity of the middle layers of the arteries.

The former causes narrowing of the blood vessels and hence interferes with circulation. The latter does not interfere to as great an extent.

Nicotinic acid is often helpful. It is a vasodilator. That is, it relaxes the arteries and lets them expand a bit, thus carrying more blood. That is why people feel a flush or sense of warmth shortly after taking a tablet.

Yes, there are other vasodilators that your doctor could try, but if one does not work, it is not likely that the others will, either. This is because the walls of the small arteries must be pliable for these drugs to work. If the walls are rigid, little effect is possible.

Likewise the drugs will not undo the hardening — cannot remove the deposits which have thickened the artery walls.

There isn't, frankly, much to be done about hardening of the arteries once it has occurred. It is thought that if fats (and cholesterol) in the diet can be kept low, formation of these deposits can be minimized.

However, the process of hardening of the arteries starts early in life, and to be of maximum effect, proper diet must be started early — let us say in the 30s or perhaps before.

After symptoms of hardening have appeared, one must not expect too much from corrective diet. Further, the hardening is influenced by heredity, blood pressure, and general living habits.

Tomorrow I will suggest what I can for readers whose troubles involve hardened arteries.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

A Coming Taxpayer Revolt?

People can discuss, with horror or with relish, that long-rumored war between the races, if they want. I don't think such a solution will ever be sought to the problems that beset this land.

There could well be, however, in the not too distant future, a bloodless revolt — a revolt of the taxpayer who is fed up to here with the abuses foisted upon him by agencies he has appointed to look after his interests.

THOSE AGENCIES, lamentably, promise to work FOR him until such time as they are elevated to office, after which they begin to dance to a different drummer.

Many a person elected to office thinks the keys to the treasury comes with the honor.

Consider the case of the pension system voted to men in high office by legislators in an eastern state. An act liberalizing pension payouts was voted as recently as 1968.

THE WINDFALLS included payments of $423,740 to the state of a state Supreme Court justice, although the jurist himself had contributed only $59,062 toward the amount.

The beneficiaries of a state representative in the same commonwealth were paid $110,623 although her contributions amounted to a mere $19,577. The average taxpayer would dearly love to reap the pension benefits of U.S. Supreme Court justices who earlier have served as state governors or as U.S. senators. In some cases, they qualify for three or four pensions, money that must be supplied by the federal or state treasuries.

IN PRIVATE INDUSTRY, a man who retires at two-thirds of his final salary is considered extremely lucky.

Invariably, the mischief makers dedicated to the task of creating lush pension rights for themselves and their fellow conspirators first take case of jurists who might question their right and then help themselves.

THE POOR taxpayer finds himself boxed in because the courts or the Congress say it is all right to tap the till.

The pirates of old were pikers compared to some men we have elected to high office, when it comes to taking care of their own.

Criticism aimed their way invariably falls on deaf ears, simply because the average taxpayer has no recourse, no avenue of appeal.

Only in a situation where the citizenry organizes and refuses to ante up taxes would the public officials take heed, and try to correct some of the abuses. —TOMMY HART

We Must Deal With Moscow

WASHINGTON — There is only one way the Vietnam war can be ended soon, and that is through the intervention of the Soviet government.

Maybe it would have been a good idea if President Nixon had arranged to go to Moscow on his current trip. For, despite the widespread belief that the North Vietnamese government can make concessions at the peace negotiations in Paris and at least bring about a cease-fire, the motivating force and influence happens to be in the Russian capital — not Hanoi.

THERE IS much discussion about American military strategy at the moment in South Vietnam and also about the policy and tactics to be pursued at the Paris peace table. But it is evident that all the concessions that have been made — publicly and privately — to the North Vietnamese government have been of no avail. This is because North Vietnam is back up by the Soviet Union, which is the principal supplier of money and munitions.

What has tended to confuse the issue is the announcement that the United States will adhere to a planned withdrawal of troops. To the Communists this means a virtual surrender, and they are in no mood to make any concessions.

AMERICAN MILITARY leaders in Saigon are bewildered. They are not sure just what strategy they will be permitted by Washington in applying pressure against the North Vietnamese. The military men are in favor of maximum effort, not only to help maintain the morale of the South Vietnamese but to convince the Communists that, while the United States is bringing some troops home, it is not going to withdraw completely for at least a few years and in the interim will keep up an effective resistance to all attacks.

WHAT IS essential is that Washington and Moscow should really understand one another. President Nixon first needs to persuade the top men of the Soviet Union that the United States sincerely wants to withdraw its troops from Vietnam but cannot do so unless the Kremlin is willing to exercise a restraint upon the Hanoi government.

There are ways by which an understanding could be reached between the Soviet and American governments, but the principal obstacle is mistrust. The Russians continue to insist that America's entry into the Vietnam conflict was an act of aggression, instead of part of an allied effort to preserve a nation's right of self-determination.

SOME WAY has to be found to convince the Soviet leaders that the United States is not an aggressor and doesn't seek to impair in any way the independence of any country. At the same time, it must be recognized that the controlled press in the Soviet Union makes difficult the penetration of such facts to the people.

A determined effort to reach an agreement with the Kremlin should have high priority in the Nixon administration. If this cannot be achieved, then the only recourse would be to start talking directly to the Russian people by radio and telling them that the peace of the world depends upon their exercise of control over the policies of a government which has been prolonging the war in Vietnam.

Republican Era To Continue

WASHINGTON — One little-noticed result of Ted Kennedy's election last January to be Senate Democratic Whip was to speed the shift of conservative Democrats out of the Democratic party.

The shift already had started with George Wallace and his American Independence Party. But Ted's elevation to Senate leadership was a booster-rocket away from the Democrats and their allies — the New Deal, the Fair Deal, the New Frontier and Great Society and Hubert Humphrey's "politics of joy," a maladrofit phrase with which he tried to launch his candidacy.

TED'S BUGOUT as a hit-and-run driver, leaving a dead girl behind, apparently has cost him the Democratic nomination, but the presidential election of 1972 or '76 was already lost to him, and probably to any Democrat. The anti-Democratic vote last year was 57 per cent, garnered by Richard Nixon and Wallace. It began in the Goldwater Era when Senator Strom Thurmond and Rep. Albert Watson, South Carolina Democrats, bolted to the Republicans — starting a trend in elections of Southern Governors, Congressmen, State legislators and mayors which is running strong. It was given added impetus when Kennedy's elevation to the Senate whipship marked him as the probable party nominee and warned Senators like Stennis of Mississippi and Byrd of Virginia that the people who wanted to keep them in office were becoming registered Republicans.

A YOUNG lawyer-scholar, Kevin Phillips, was among the first to see the trend coming, and is certainly the first to document its beginning and momentum. He does so in a remarkable book, "The Emerging Republican Majority" (Arlington House) which is equipped with 47 maps, 143 charts and the dead-sure style of a mathematician who knows his figures won't lie.

IN 1966 Phillips began this book, finished it the next year, but wisely put it aside to see if the 1968 presidential election would prove it out.

He also began showing his findings to Nixon leaders, including then-campaign manager and now-Attorney General John Mitchell. Candidate Nixon's problem last year was not Humphrey, the liberal, but Wallace, the ultra-conservative, for the country was lurching to the right much faster than Nixon dared to go.

PHILLIPS DRAWS as a new political map of the U.S., and he finds hidden historical cycles, and he isolates the unmet ingredients of the mythical Melting Pot. His geopolitics show that the main arteries of the new Republicans are the Sunbelt, from Florida to Southern California; and the Heartland, which runs almost longitudinally through the center of the country. He finds that the natural lifespan of a political dominance is between 32 and 37 years with a mid-life break.

THE GOP Era could be interrupted if the Republicans abandon their conservative affirmation, say, by turning to some candidate like Lindsay, Finch, Rockefeller or Romney. But there's no longer much doubt that President Nixon has got the message and is Rightward bound.

The Republicans are probably with us for three decades, subject to a short interruption, and their opportunity for wise rulership is great.

Poachers Beware!!

BHOPAL, India (AP) — The Madhya Pradesh government will set up a "Shikar (Hunting) Corporation" to cater to the needs of the foreign big game hunters.

The 171,000 square mile state in central India is a hunters' paradise. Many private agencies have been accused of demanding exorbitant prices from foreigners. One tourist was charged 10,000 rupees ($1,333) just for spotting a tiger.

The proposed public corporation also will check large-scale poaching in the game preserves.

HEADED FOR UT — Five members of the North All-Star football team are getting their first taste of playing together which will continue in the fall at the University of Texas. Left to right they are Rocky Wooley of Big Spring; Bill Rutherford of Irving; Bruce Gaw of Dallas; Jerry Sisemore of Plainview; and Dan Steakley of Colorado City. The football all-star game is Thursday night.

Roaring Reds Seize Lead In National

By The Associated Press

"Hey G!" Chico Ruiz shouted above the din in the Cincinnati Reds' clubhouse. "You just proved that pitching is the name of the game."

The roaring Reds had just seized the National League West Division lead for the first time this year by outmussling Philadelphia 19-17 Sunday and second baseman Ruiz was congratulating winning pitcher Wayne Granger.

Or was he?

Granger, for one, figured Chico must have had someone else in mind.

"We were saying in the bullpen that only God could get anybody out today," said the Cincinnati reliever, only hurler among 11 used by both sides in the 46-hit shindig who escaped unscathed . . . and unscored upon.

The Wild West victory, coupled with Atlanta's 6-5 11-inning loss to the New York Mets and San Francisco's 3-2 nod over Pittsburgh, left Cincinnati in a virtual first place tie with the Giants and Braves . . . but on top by five percentage points.

Los Angeles, which trimmed St. Louis 5-0, is one game off the pace . . . and just one ahead of fifth place Houston. The Astros extended their winning string to eight games with a 7-3 conquest of Montreal before bowing 1-0 in the nightcap of a doubleheader. The Chicago Cubs nipped San Diego 4-3 in another single game.

At Philadelphia, the Reds had 20 of their 25 hits and a 16-9 lead after scoring 10 runs in the fifth inning as Lee May and Pete Rose crashed three-run homers.

Alex Johnson's homer and a run-scoring double by Johnny Bench, who stroked five hits, made it 18-9 in the sixth. But the Phillies, triggered by Tony Taylor's grand slam homer, erupted for seven runs in the bottom half to close within field goal range.

Granger became the fifth Cincinnati pitcher after Richie Allen's leadoff homer in the seventh trimmed the margin to one point . . . oops, make that one run . . . and immediately was tagged for a pair of singles.

"I came in and, bang-bang, they had two hits and I figured 'I won't be any different,'" Granger said.

And the slender right-hander pitched out of that jam and, after Tony Perez homered in the eighth for the Reds' 19th run, stopped the Phillies' rest of the way . . . aided by Rose's spectacular, game-ending grab of Ron Stone's liner with the tying run on the bases.

"The only way a game like this could end," sighed Reds Manager Dave Bristol.

"When you score 17 runs and lose," Phils skipper Bob Skinner brooded, "something's got to be wrong."

BRAVES SKIDDING

Jerry Grote drilled a leadoff homer in the bottom of the 11th, boosting the Mets to their third straight victory over the Braves, who slipped from first place in the West to third . . . one percentage point behind San Francisco.

Ailing Cleon Jones, the NL's leading hitter, lifted his average to .350 with two-run pinch single that capped New York's tying five-run rally in the sixth.

Dick Dietz and Ken Henderson both scored as Hal Lanier tapped into a bases-loaded game play at second in the fourth inning, breaking a 1-1 tie and sparking the Giants to victory at Pittsburgh. Henderson raced home from second with the deciding run as the Pirates failed to complete a double play and first baseman Al Oliver turned away from the plate to argue the call at first.

Gaylord Perry weathered Roberto Clemente's eighth inning homer for his fifth consecutive victory and a 14-7 season mark.

City Tourney Is Under Way

Golfers can begin qualifying in the annual City Golf tournament at the Muny course today. Deadline for entry is Aug. 13. Anyone can play. Phil Howe is the defending champion.

Match play toward the championship gets under way Aug. 16 and all play must be over Aug. 24.

Entry fee is $10, payable before the player starts his qualifying round. An estimated 50 players took part in last year's tournament.

Los Angeles, which trimmed St. Louis 5-0, is one game off the pace . . . and just one ahead of fifth place Houston. The Astros extended their winning string to eight games with a 7-3 conquest of Montreal before bowing 1-0 in the nightcap of a doubleheader. The Chicago Cubs nipped San Diego 4-3 in another single game.

Dave McNally Takes Lumps; Horton Hot

By The Associated Press

Dave McNally, pulled out of numerous corners by his teammates during his 17-game winning streak, backed himself into one too many this time, and couldn't get out.

"I had myself in a jam where I had to get the pitch over," said the Baltimore right-hander. "It wasn't a case of wanting to get it over. I had to get it over."

McNally threw his fastball on the 3-2 pitch, got it over and pinch-hitter Rich Reese belted his first grand slam home run with two out in the seventh inning Sunday, giving Minnesota a 5-2 victory over the Orioles and McNally.

"I've pitched a lot worse games and won during the stretch," McNally said, managing a weak smile. "I've left six or seven games when I was behind and the club got me out of it. I shouldn't have gotten myself behind Reese."

FIRST IN 15

The loss was McNally's first after 15 victories this season and 17 in a row over two years.

Both streaks were one short of American League records for consecutive victories at the start of a season and over two seasons. The 15 also was one short of tying the mark for successive triumphs in one season.

Reese's belt was the most significant of three grand slams hit in the American League Sunday, although Detroit and Oakland wouldn't agree.

Willie Horton's second slam of the season and third of his career broke a 2-2 deadlock in the ninth inning and gave the Tigers a 6-2 victory over Chicago, and Danny Cater's slam helped Oakland to a 10-7 decision over Boston in the opener of their twin-bill. The Red Sox gained a split with a 3-2 victory in the nightcap.

In other games, California nipped Washington 3-2 in 11 innings, the New York Yankees trimmed Seattle 5-3 and Kansas City tripped Cleveland 3-2.

Baltimore had given McNally a run in the fourth inning when Merv Rettenmund, a replacement for Frank Robinson, was ejected in the first with Manager Earl Weaver for arguing a strike call, scored on a double play.

McNally was breezing along with a two-hitter for 6 2-3 innings when Leo Cardenas beat out a hit and Frank Quilici singled.

Andrews Wins District Title

SAN ANGELO — Andrews captured the district Hi-Junior baseball championship here Saturday night with a 5-2 victory over Midland.

Andrews scored twice in the state tournament in Waco and will play at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the first round.

Andrews scored once the first and four the third inning while Midland scored twice the sixth inning.

Tony Boxell was the winning pitcher. He struck out 10 walked five and gave up one hit the five innings he was in the game. He also got two of Andrews' six hits and scored twice.

Byron Seal relieved Boxell and went one-third of an inning, giving up the two runs on three hits. He was relieved by Mike Hilton, who walked one and had a strikeout the sixth. He struck out the side in the seventh to clinch the victory.

Ronny Barrett, Randy Willey, Gary England and Vick Brevard added singles for Andrews.

Floyd Houdyshell was the losing pitcher while Mike Holloway, Jerry Robinson and Randy Brauch got the three Midland singles.

Midland had beaten Big Spring in an earlier round, 5-4.

A. J. FOYT DECLARED WINNER OF RAIN-SHORTENED EVENT

By The Associated Press

Rain forced a curtailment of things at the eastern debut of the rejuvenated United States Auto Club stock car division at Dover Downs International Speedway Sunday, while the thunderstorms completely washed out the Dixie 500 at Atlanta.

Veteran A. J. Foyt of Houston led the entire race — except for three laps when he made a pit stop — in winning the Mid-Atlantic 300 at Dover. The race, the first major one of this length for USAC stock cars in 11 years, had to be stopped after 133 laps of the 300-mile chase because of rain.

The race was stopped for about an hour in the faint hope the rain would cease. The USAC officials finally declared Foyt the winner. McCluskey took second in his 1960 Plymouth.

Stram Meant What He Said About Chiefs

By The Associated Press

It's much too early to tell what's going to happen during the new professional football season, but more than a quarter of a million spectators undoubtedly came away from the weekend's opening exhibition games with some fairly solid conclusions.

UNITAS IS BACK

Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts is ready to resume his old role as the scourge of the National Football League quarterbacks.

Coach Hank Stram of the Kansas City Chiefs meant what he said when he predicted, "We'll be much better in 1969 than we were in 1968."

Minnesota Coach Bud Grant may have found the "more explosive striking threat in our passing" needed to make the Vikings a team that could go all the way.

Weeb Ewbank, coach of the New York Jets, wasn't spoofing when he allowed that "it will be harder this year with everyone pointing for us."

The six weekend games saw Washington beat the Bears 13-7, Baltimore roll over San Diego 26-6, Kansas City outscore Oakland 22-17, Minnesota clobber the Miami Dolphins 45-10, Houston trample Buffalo 34-7 and the Jets squeeze by the College All-Stars 26-24.

The crafty and illustrious Mr. Lombardi, who pinpointed Green Bay, Wis., as the world's football capital while coach of the Packers, didn't have too much to say about his first triumph as Redskins boss except that "I'm very happy we won our first game and very, very pleased to come away with a victory."

"I felt the defensive team played very well."

Pass interceptions by Sam Huff and Tom Rouselet set up the Redskins touchdowns that beat the Bears in a game punctuated by hard rain. With the score tied 7-7 in the third period, Rouselet picked off Jack Concannon's pass and returned it to the Chicago 31. Sonny Jurgensen's 17-yard pass to Bobby Mitchell won the game.

Sayers dazzled the crowd of 45,988 in Washington by running the opening kickoff back 69 yards. He was used only to run back punts and kickoffs. Concannon scored the Bears' touchdown on a one-yard sneak.

ON TARGET AGAIN

Unitas, out most of last year with a tendonitis-ridden elbow, replaced starting Baltimore quarterback Earl Morrall after the latter had guided the Colts to their first touchdown. He completed seven passes for 86 yards and saw action only in the first half and had the Colts out from 19-6 at halftime.

Morrall wound up with eight completions in 14 throws for 126 yards. A sellout San Diego crowd of 52,171 saw the game. Stram praised the Chiefs' defense but was disappointed with coverage of kickoffs against Oakland's Raiders, who finished last season by losing to the Jets in the American Football League title game.

The game, played in Birmingham, Ala., before 21,000, was decided when Gene Trosch fell on Eldridge Dickey's fumble. A 21-yard pass from Jackie Lee to Robert Holmes pulled the Chiefs from behind seconds later.

Minnesota spotted Miami a 10-0 lead before the Vikings' explosive passing game, led by Joe Kapp, erupted at Tampa, Fla., where the crowd numbered 37,461. Kapp threw two touchdown passes, both to Bob Grimm. In all, the Vikings completed 15 of 38 passes for 272 yards.

A crowd of 37,250 in the Houston Astrodome watched Houston batter Buffalo with ease. Highlights of the game were passes by Don Trull and Pete Beathard and George Webster's pass interception that resulted in three Houston touchdowns.

Tigers Decision Stockton, 17-8

The Big Spring Tigers wore their hitting clothes to Steer Park here Sunday, burying the Fort Stockton Blue Sox under a 17-8 score.

LeRoy Spires started on the mound for the locals but it wasn't his day. The visitors scored three runs in the first round and followed with a five-run second.

Spires was relieved by Tony Fierro after 1 1-3 innings and Fierro closed the gate on the Blue Sox.

After two innings, Fort Stockton led, 8-2. After that, it was all Big Spring.

The Bengals counted three runs in the third, one in the fourth, batted around to get five in the sixth and duplicated the feat by getting six in the seventh.

Joe Cadenhead banged out three hits for Big Spring. Jesse Zapata did even better — He got four. Andy Gamboa and Albert Flemons also collected three blows each while Billy Weatherall smacked a home run.

The win was the 11th in 17 starts for the Tigers, who travel to Colorado City next Sunday to play that city's Indians.

Odessa Team Wins Sophomore Title

MIDLAND — Odessa Natural Gas, second round conqueror of Big Spring, won the District 2 Sophomore Teen-Age Baseball tournament here Saturday night by defeating Midland Permian's Rebels, 7-5.

Midland Permian beat the San Angelo Optimists, 2-1, while Odessa Natural Gas had turned back the same club, 7-2, in earlier games.

Beard Wins Westchester Cash With Birdie On 18

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — "Winning," said Frank Beard, who had just won $50,000 in the richest of them all, "doesn't mean a hill of beans to me personally."

"I just want to make my wife and three kids happy."

His family should be delirious. Beard, a bland, bespectacled character who approaches the game as a businessman approaches his desk, pushed his earnings to $155,000, first on the list, by canning a two-foot putt for a birdie four on the final green Sunday for a one-shot victory in the $250,000 Westchester Classic.

His final round 67 gave him a 72-hole total of 275, 13 under par for the rolling 6,677-yard, par 72 Westchester Country Club course.

Third round leader Bert Green, a cool, quiet covey from Georgia who started the day four shots in front of Beard and the rest of the field, finished one shot back with 72 for 276.

Rogers Is Named Knox City Coach

KNOX CITY — Jimmy Rogers, one-time McMurry College athlete, has been named track and field coach at Knox City High School.

Rogers has coached at Anson the past two years.

FRANK BEARD

and $28,500. He lost a chance to win when he missed a 20-footer for a birdie on the final hole. But Green, 25, said his hopes for his first victory in three years on the tour slipped away on the 15th hole, where he said a bad lie for his second shot cost him a bogey five.

Dan Sikes, the golfing attorney from Jacksonville, Fla., three-putted the final green and wound up in third place with 69 for 277. South African Harold Henning was next with 70 for 278 and Lee Trevino and Tommy Aaron tied for fifth at 279. Trevino with a 70 and Aaron with a 67.

Beard said the key to his victory, his second in four weeks, was consistency rather than a charge.

"I'm a good putter and I don't have to charge," he said.
