Report shows county assets strengthened

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Howard County assets increased $617,641 over 1984, according to an annual financial report for the 1985 fiscal year unanimously approved by commissioners this morning.

Commissioners also unanimously approved tax collection contracts submitted by the city of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District to collect taxes for those entities.

The financial report, prepared and submitted to the commissioner's court by county auditor Jackie Olson, received a favorable opinion from Guy White, a certified public accountant hired by the county to conduct an audit.

White in his separate opinion on compliance said "nothing came to my attention" regarding the county not complying "with generally accepted auditing standards."

Olson said after commissioners approved the report, she was grateful that all county departments received a clean audit.

"For me, personally concerned," Olson said, "that's a good feeling."

White suggested to the court at the conclusion of his report that the 118th District adult probation office should prepare a separate annual report rather than having it incorporated within the county's report.

Olson said he made the suggestion because that office is similar to the juvenile probation office in

Farm bill gets Reagan's seal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan today signed into law a farm bill that is likely to boost federal subsidy spending to record levels while it tries to buffer farmers from the cost of restoring health to U.S. exports.

But despite reservations about the high spending and some provisions the administration regards as detrimental, Reagan said the legislation is "on balance ... a step forward for American agriculture" that will move farming closer to the "market-oriented" industry he has sought.

The president said the bill is "moving away from the failed policies of the past" and provides "new hope for America's hard-working farmers and our rural communities."

"If things are not going well down on the farm, things cannot continue to go well in our cities and towns," he said in a ceremony in the State Dining Room at the White House, surrounded by farm-state lawmakers, Agriculture Department officials and farm lobbyists.

The president also signed a rescue package for the financially strained Farm Credit System, the $70 billion banking network that is the nation's largest farm lender.

The president then went to the Agriculture Department to hold a brief closed-circuit television news conference with farm-state

Gala events to recount state's history

By The Associated Press

From wagon trains to steaming trains and spiffy new planes, the great Texas Sesquicentennial is gathering speed.

"For so long, everybody was saying, 'It's too early to get excited yet,'" says Sam Garner, spokesman for the Texas 1986 Sesquicentennial Commission. "But now they're saying, 'Hey, it's here — let's get going.'"

More than 6,000 events are scheduled statewide to celebrate the 150th anniversary of Texas' independence from Mexico, and 254 counties have organized groups to coordinate festivities ranging from parades to battles and big-bash balls.

One of the glitziest is a $150-per-person New Year's Eve ball at Dallas' new InterFirst Plaza. Each story of the city's tallest building will light up one by one to tick off 1985's closing minutes and herald the dawn of Texas' birthday.

But that sparkling gala doesn't mean Texans have gone soft: The Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train will gather rough-and-ready folk from all over the state for a six-month, 2,800-mile trek in covered wagons.

Its promoters call it "a living exhibit of our western heritage," and Garner says it will be "a camp-out deal for six months — those people won't be staying in hotels after a day of horseback riding."

For those who are looking for a smoother ride, there's the Texas Independence Express, a collection of restored steam engines and antique railroad cars that will puff through towns all over the state.

More modern modes of transportation are represented, too. Houston-based Southwest Airlines has just christened a new Boeing 737-300 called "The Texas Sesquicentennial."

Texans could hardly forget their state is celebrating a major birthday, considering the thousands of Sesquicentennial baubles already for sale all over the nation. Besides the official "Texadillo," a stuffed and banner-bearing armadillo, there are official cowboy hats, guns, watches, boots, candies, duster coats and miniature oil

Escapees back in custody

WOODBINE, Ga. (AP) — Four fugitives sought in a daring helicopter escape from a South Carolina prison were arrested early today as they slept at a highway rest stop in southern Georgia, ending a three-day, nationwide manhunt, authorities said.

The three prison escapees and a woman who allegedly help them break out were captured without incident about 3:30 a.m. at a rest area on Interstate 95 near the Georgia-Florida border, said Camden County Sheriff W.E. "Bill" Smith.

The four, who had vowed they wouldn't be taken alive, were identified as Joyce Bailey Mattox, 40, accused of hijacking a helicopter and forcing its pilot to land at Perry Correctional Institution near Pelzer, S.C.; Jesse Glenn Smith, 36, of Easley, S.C.; William Ballew, 42, of Greenville, S.C.; and convicted murderer James Rodney Leonard, 20, also of Greenville. A guard was wounded in a shoot-out during Thursday's escape.

A deputy making a patrol stop at a welcome center noticed a car that a computer check showed was wanted in the escape, Smith said.

"All four of them were in the car asleep," said Trooper J.M. Cunningham, who spotted the car. "They had a good awakening."

Deputies summoned to the rest area surrounded the car, and the occupants were ordered out, he said. The four surrendered, and deputies recovered the group's weapons — a .32-caliber pistol and some knives, the sheriff said.

The four were taken to the Camden County jail, where they were being held under heavy guard. They were charged with air piracy, a federal offense, and would be turned over to the FBI, the sheriff said.

A hearing before a U.S. magistrate in Savannah was scheduled for later in the day. It was expected that South Carolina authorities would come to Georgia to take the prisoners back.

The foursome had been seen about 2 a.m. Sunday at a motel in Mobile, Ala., said FBI agent Steve Tidwell. He said they stole a car from a man who stopped to aid two of the fugitives as they stood along a roadside.

The man, who was not identified, told authorities the fugitives bragged about the escape and said they wouldn't be taken alive, Tidwell said.

Personal income shows increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans' personal income rose 0.6 percent in November, the biggest advance in seven months, while their spending soared a sharp 0.9 percent, the government reported today.

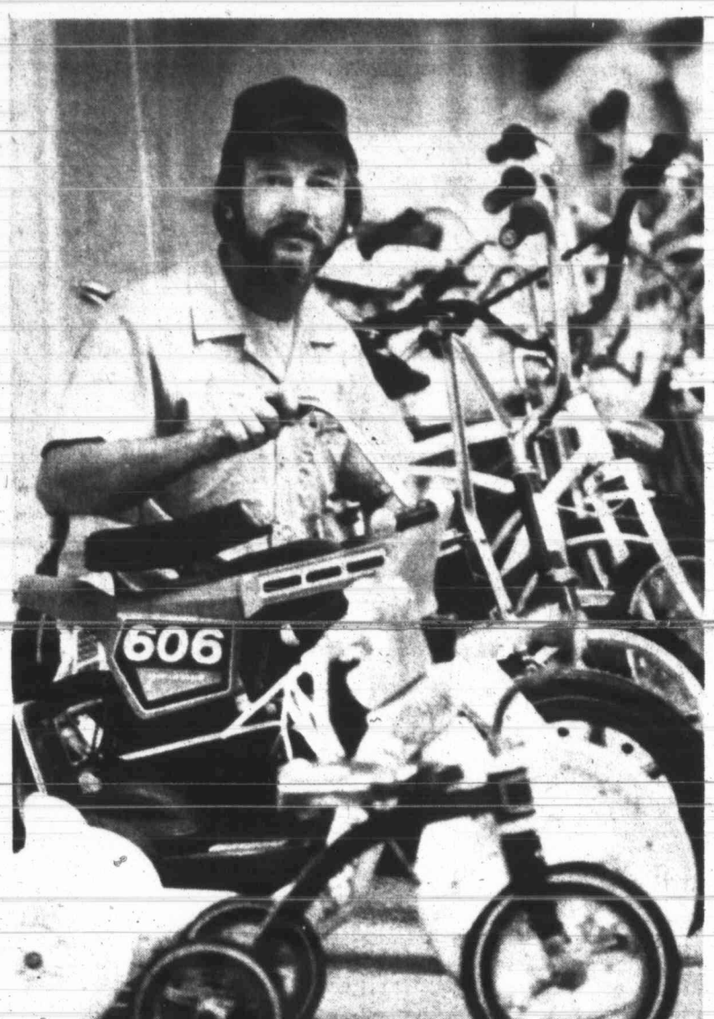

The rise in consumer spending followed a big 1.4 percent decline in October, which had been the largest drop in spending since May 1960. The October drop was blamed on weak demand for new autos following two months of strong sales spurred by attractive cut-rate financing deals.

The November rebound was likely to lend encouragement to those looking for consumer spending to gain strength during the important Christmas selling season.

The important consumer sector accounts for about two-thirds of economic activity. There have been worries in recent months that weak consumer spending could hold back the overall economy. Consumers are carrying record high debt burdens and their savings rate has fallen.

The new report said personal savings dipped to 4.2 percent of disposable income in November, down slightly from the 4.5 percent level of October.

'Santa's helpers' repair bikes

Wendell Thomas poses with bicycles he has refurbished at an informal Santa's workshop at the Twin Oaks Medical Center in Haltom City.

HALTOM CITY (AP) — Bent bicycle frames, old handlebars and tires will brighten Christmas for more than a dozen children, thanks to an informal Santa's workshop at a Haltom City medical center.

Two maintenance workers at Twin Oaks Medical Center adopted Santa Claus' habits and are building bicycles from donated parts to deliver to children on Christmas Eve.

Wendell Thomas and Don Wood, both of Fort Worth, said they opened their workshop to the Christmas spirit about a month and a half ago.

"The whole idea started at a meeting when one administrator said we ought to do something for Christmas other than give each other paperweights," Thomas said.

"I started thinking about it. I put out a memo asking employees for junk bicycle parts: old tires, seats, pedals, you name it," he said.

Both men said they were overwhelmed at the response. Everyone, it seemed, was willing to donate.

"Somewhere down deep inside of everybody, there is a little piece of Santa Claus," Thomas said.

When the two men aren't busy repairing heating units or unclogging hospital drains, they spend weekends and lunch breaks working to have 15 bicycles and several tricycles ready for the big day.

Like Santa, they hope to have everything finished by Christmas Eve.

Wood said it takes at least eight hours to assemble a bicycle and paint it so it will look like new.

"First you have to strip away the old paint, clean the chain, clean or replace the spokes, and put on new seats and handlebars," he said.

But the work doesn't stop there. Each bike rolls out of the workshop complete with safety reflectors, mag wheels, racing stripes and a personalized license plate that will have each child's name on it.

Thomas said when he and his partner began the project, they were flooded with bike parts from employees' garages and workshops.

And Thomas organized a Thanksgiving turkey raffle to raise money to buy more bicycle parts and paint.

The spirit also extended to a Fort Worth K mart store, where the manager has rounded up and donated handlebars, wheels, seats and tires to the effort.

Joe Figueroa, the store manager, said he liked the idea.

"Whenever they need a part or something, I try to help them out as much as I can," Figueroa said.

"You should see the place," Thomas said, referring to the maintenance workshop at the medical center. "It looks like the warehouse at White's Auto Parts or something."

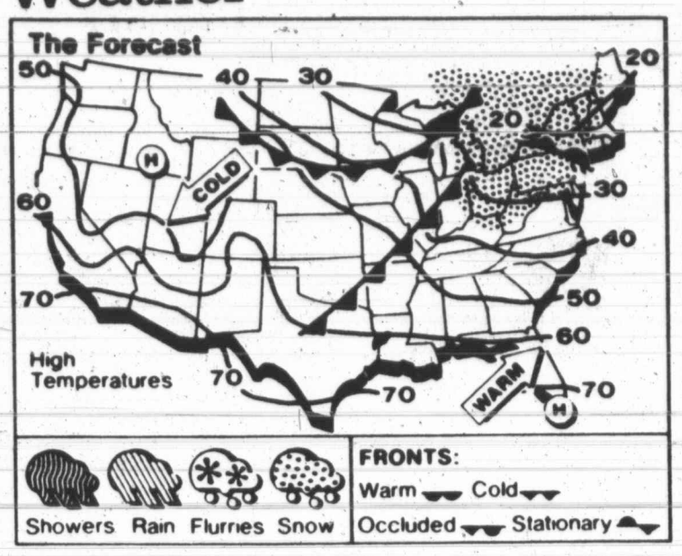

Thomas said he asked the medical center workers to make suggestions on who should receive the finished bicycles.

Some will be given to the children of hospital employees who are single parents, he said. Others will be donated to The All Church Children's Home in Fort Worth.

The tricycles will be sent to the Women's Shelter in Arlington.

"We weren't expecting any publicity out of this at all," Wood said. "We just want to see a couple of smiling faces at Christmas."

Weather

Forecast

West Texas — Fair through Tuesday. Lows 22 mountains to 27 Panhandle and 43 south. Highs 45 Panhandle to 68 Big Bend.

State

By The Associated Press

Mostly clear skies dominated Texas horizons today as forecasters looked for a cool Christmas across most of the state.

An area of low clouds hovered near the coast and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley before dawn. Some dense fog was noted over portions of the middle coast and far South Texas. Visibilities were reduced to near zero at McAllen and Brownsville.

A dome of moist air from the Pacific was the key feature of the state weather map early today. By 4 a.m., the front had advanced to a line from Houston to Cotulla.

Pre-dawn temperatures were mostly in the 30s and 40s behind the front, with a few readings in the 20s noted in West Texas. In Southeast Texas, readings were in the 50s and 60s. At 4 a.m., the mercury ranged from 24 at Marfa to 63 at McAllen and Corpus Christi.

No significant precipitation was reported, although a very heavy thunderstorm was spotted about 100 miles southeast of Galveston in the Gulf of Mexico.

Police Beat

$6,559 reported stolen

Ken Sedor, manager of Rosita's Fajitas, 404 East F.M. 700, told police Sunday morning that someone broke into the restaurant and stole a $250 safe containing $6,559.57. The burglary occurred between 1 a.m. and 8:15 a.m Sunday, according to police reports. Damage estimated at $100 was also done to a sliding door, the report stated.

- Terry Vaughn of Helen's, a clothing store at 406 East F.M. 700, told police Sunday morning that someone burglarized the business between 6 p.m. Saturday and 8:10 a.m. Sunday. According to the complaint, $20 was stolen and $350 damage was done to a window at the business.
- Allstate Insurance agent Leslie Zant told police Sunday night that someone broke into the insurance building at 408 East F.M. 700 and stole a gold manicure set of undetermined value. The incident occurred between 12:30 p.m. Saturday and 7:30 p.m. Sunday, according to the complaint.
- Buster Gartman, owner of Gartman Refrigeration, 3206 E. F.M. 700, told police Sunday morning that someone broke into the business and stole a $500 leak detector, a $100 amp probe, a $139 meter and a case of soda pop. The break in occurred between 5:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday morning, according to the complaint. A glass pane was also damaged in the incident, the report stated.

- Frances Flores of the House of Charms at 1507 Scurry St., told police Saturday evening that someone broke into the business and stole an undetermined amount of cash and a $1.99 Christmas door decoration. The police report stated the break in occurred between 5:30 p.m. Friday and 11:15 a.m. Saturday.
- Barbara Hale, 1214 Lloyd St., told police Sunday that someone damaged a car window as her daughter was driving on the 300 block of N. Gregg Street, Saturday night. According to the complaint, another vehicle pulled alongside the car driven by Hale's daughter and deliberately broke the passenger-side window.
- Melba Mathis, 1511 Oriole St., told police Sunday morning that she was assaulted in her residence late Saturday night. Mathis told police that she struck her head on a piece of furniture after being pushed to the floor.

Arrested in connection with the assault was Ronald Mathis, 25, of the same address.

- Randy White, 2008 S. Johnson St., told police early Sunday morning that someone he knew kicked in a bedroom door at his home during a dispute at 1 a.m. Sunday morning. $100 damage was done to the door, according to the complaint.
- A. E. Clanton of A and N New and Used Clothing told police Sunday morning that someone broke a picture window at the business between 5 p.m. Saturday and 7 a.m. Sunday. Damage to the window was reported to be $250.
- Randy Herrera, 18, of 1100 Pickens St., was arrested at the 1400 block of S. Gregg St., late Saturday night on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Sheriff's Log

Stolen vehicle recovered

Howard County sheriff's deputy Richard Stapp recovered a stolen vehicle Sunday night and also arrested a man who is currently being held in county jail in lieu of bond.

James William Bevan, 31, of Marietta, Kansas was discovered asleep at the wheel of the stolen vehicle at 11:50 p.m. The vehicle was parked at a rest stop south of Big Spring on Highway 87.

The suspect has been charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

- Deputies arrested Anthony Dewaney Smith, 23, of 1109 Lancaster early Sunday morning for public intoxication and criminal trespass.

He was arrested at the National Little League baseball park on Driver road.

He was released on bonds totalling $400.

- Police transferred Victor Zamora, 36, of Garden City to county jail Sunday morning after he was arrested for suspicion of driving while intoxicated and three Department of Public Safety traffic warrants.

He was released on bonds totalling $1,300.

- Deputies arrested Corina Puente, 29, of 3308 Auburn Sunday afternoon for theft by check.

She was released on $1,000 bond.

- Deputies placed Donnie M. Latimer, 33, of Route 1 Box 565 in county jail Sunday morning where he began serving a jail sentence for violating the conditions of his probation received from a prior DWI judgment.

that it raises its own revenues and is not controlled or overseen by the county.

County Attorney Tim Yeats, who was requested by commissioners Dec. 9 to review the tax collection contracts with the city and the school district, said those contracts should be approved with one exception.

He recommended that both entities assume the cost of $250,000 surety bonds furnished by the tax assessor's and collector's office, rather than having those expenses divided proportionally by tax entities the county currently collects for.

Commissioner Paul Allen made the motion that the contracts be approved with an added stipulation that both entities post their own bonds.

The contracts were approved with both amendments.

Commissioners also voted unanimously on a motion that the county treasurer's office should report a $3 per day fringe benefit fee to the Internal Revenue Service regarding employer-provided vehicles used for commuting on working days.

County Treasurer Bonnie Franklin told commissioners she had been notified by the IRS that the law requiring reporting fringe benefits would be more strictly enforced.

Commissioners also decided to classify five of the employer-provided vehicles as "emergency use," which would exclude them from the law. The vehicles are driven by employees of the county road and bridge department and the maintenance department.

CPA White told commissioners it was the court's privilege to declare the five vehicles as "emergency vehicles" if they so wished.

barrels.

Garner says sales from those souvenirs have netted $75,000 and could ready the millions by next year's end.

And in case anybody doesn't know what the celebration is all about, KEDT-TV is producing a 13-hour television miniseries — called "Lone Star" and based on historian T.R. Fehrenbach's book of the same name — to be carried by the Public Broadcasting Service.

Its producers say the movie, to be narrated by television's Larry "J.R. Ewing" Hagman, will explore the Texas "mystique" as it recounts the saga of the state's history and independence.

The Sesquicentennial's promoters are also hyping the hoopla in advertising nationwide and hope to add $2 billion to the state's $14 billion-a-year tourism industry. A visit from Britain's Prince Charles, scheduled for February, should help.

Sports spectaculars in Dallas and Houston — including the Cotton Bowl's Texas A&M-Auburn matchup on New Year's Day as well as baseball and basketball all-star games later in the year — will also help keep Texas in the nation's limelight.

Australians, too, are getting involved in the Lone Star State's celebrations. The same year Texas won its freedom, the first European settlement in South Australia was being founded, and both Texans and Aussies are working on a variety of exchange programs.

Wreck sends 2 to hospital

A one-vehicle crash at the 1100 block of E. 16th Steet Sunday night sent two young Big Spring women to the Malone-Hogan Hospital emergency room.

Andrea Lopez, 16, whose husband Joe Lopez, 17, 609 S. State St., was driving, and Judy Mata, 22, 1400 Dixie St., were treated at the hospital and released, said a hospital spokeswoman.

According to a police accident report, Lopez had been driving at a high rate of speed when he failed to negotiate a corner at E. 16th and State Street and slammed the car into a stone fence. After striking the stone fence, Lopez allegedly got out of the car and fled the scene without checking on the condition of his five passengers, the report stated. According to the report, Andrea Lopez is nine months pregnant.

A police complaint was filed against Lopez Sunday night for failing to seek aid for his injured passengers. Lopez has not yet been arrested in connection with the accident, police said Monday morning.

Bill termed chaotic

WASHINGTON — Unprecedented balanced-budget legislation passed during the first session of the 99th Congress is seen as a prelude to "fiscal chaos" when lawmakers return next year to try to fit the dream to reality.

The longest first congressional session in five years ended Friday in acrimony over spending authorities, with lawmakers grumbling that it was going to be tough for Congress and the White House to swallow the bitter pill called the Gramm-Rudman balanced-budget amendment.

Revelers hospitalized

FOXBORO, Mass. — Five young men celebrating after the Bengals-Patriots football game were hospitalized with electrical burns after a section of a metal goal post taken from the stadium touched a 13,200-volt wire, state police reported.

The incident was part of the rowdiness that erupted Sunday when a near-capacity crowd of 57,953 celebrated New England's 34-23 victory and the Patriots' wildcard berth in the National Football League playoffs.

Weekend fires kill 22

A young mother severely burned in a futile effort to save her daughters and a nephew from a burning house was hospitalized in critical condition today, after weekend fires across the nation killed at least 22 people, authorities said.

Chicago fire officials said at least three people died in a fire that raced through a three-story apartment building shortly before midnight Sunday, leaving about 60 people homeless in near-freezing temperatures.

Slow response worrying

MINNEAPOLIS — Doctors who implanted a mini Jarvik-7 pump in the first female recipient of an artificial heart remain concerned about her neurological and kidney functions, which they said have not improved as quickly as expected.

Mary Lund, 40, was on kidney dialysis Sunday, and X-rays failed to determine what has caused her to be slow to respond to stimulus, hospital officials said.

"Most of Mary Lund's problems are largely a function of how sick of a lady she was prior to the implant," said Abbott-Northwestern Hospital spokesman Mark Dixon. "She was a very sick lady."

Six vacationers dead in South African resort

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — A bomb exploded today in a shopping center crowded with Christmas vacationers in a Durban resort suburb, killing at least six whites — three young boys and three women, police said.

Lt. Col. Vic Haynes at national police headquarters in Pretoria, said that at least 24 people were injured. But spokesmen at two Durban hospitals estimated the number of injured at 45 to 50.

Police originally reported that four whites had died in the blast, but later increased the toll to six. Haynes said one of the dead was an 8-year-old boy.

Officials identified the dead as three women and three young boys, but provided no further details.

Ambulances and police rushed to the scene of the late morning blast in Amanzimtoti. Residents said the injured were taken to Addington Hospital in Durban, which is reserved for whites under South Africa's apartheid laws, and to a clinic in Amanzimtoti.

There was no immediate claim of responsibility for the bombing in the Indian Ocean resort reserved by law for whites. A woman who works in the shopping center said the explosives apparently had been planted in a trash bin across a corridor from a department store.

"I thought the whole building was coming down, said the 27-year-old woman, who declined to give her name. "Everything shook. Several of our windows are gone."

Dr. Margaret Barlow, Addington Hospital's senior medical superintendent, said the hospital received seven badly injured people and about 20 others who had been hurt less seriously.

Residents said at least eight ambulances were taking the injured from the scene. They said heavy traffic was cleared from the Victoria Embankment, a main waterfront road, so ambulances could get through.

The South African Press Association said police used dogs to control crowds that gathered at the site of the bombing. Amanzimtoti is packed with vacationers over the year-end holidays.

Haynes said there were several apartments at the shopping center, but said he said he had no further details immediately.

It was the second bombing in the Durban area in three days. A limpet mine exploded under a parked passenger van in a crowded street in central Durban on Saturday, injuring eight people.

That attack came hours after a threat by the African National Congress to step up its campaign against white-minority control. The ANC is the main guerrilla movement seeking to end apartheid, under which South Africa's whites rule the voteless black majority.

Tom Sebina, a spokesman for the ANC at its regional headquarters in Lusaka, Zambia, said in a Telex message to The Associated Press today that the organization was "not able to confirm" responsibility for the explosion Saturday.

Winnie Mandela freed

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Black activist Winnie Mandela appeared before a magistrate on a charge of defying government restrictions on her actions and movements, and immediately vowed to ignore the order a third time and return today to her Soweto home.

Mrs. Mandela, the wife of imprisoned black leader Nelson Mandela, was dragged from her Soweto home by police Sunday and taken to the Krugersdorp police station west of Johannesburg for being in Soweto despite a government order that allows her to live anywhere in South Africa except the Johannesburg area.

The court released Mrs. Mandela on her own recognizance after a five-minute hearing.

Quake rocks Canada

EDMONTON, Alberta — A strong earthquake centered in the Northwest Territories jolted parts of western Canada and was felt as far away as Alaska, officials said. Some Edmonton residents fled their homes, but no injuries were reported.

Officials at the U.S. Geological Survey in Golden, Colo., said the quake registered 6.9 on the Richter scale. Some residents of northern Alberta reported that the quake, which occured at about 10:15 p.m. MST (12:15 a.m. EST Monday), almost toppled their Christmas trees.

Moroccan charged

NANTES, France — A 33-year-old Moroccan who burst into a court with a a hand grenade and pistol, beginning a 1½-day hostage drama, has been charged with a series of crimes and will not be expelled from France, officials said.

An expulsion order had been signed by French Interior Ministry officials, but Morocco refused to accept the man, Abdel Karim Khalki, who had lived in France since 1974, officials said Sunday.

Aquino campaigning

BACOLOD, Philippines — Crowds showered opposition presidential candidate Corazon Aquino with flowers as she campaigned on Negros Island, where communist rebellion to the regime of President Ferdinand E. Marcos is growing.

Mrs. Aquino, who will challenge Marcos in the Feb. 7 special election, called for an end to political violence in the Philippines as she stumped Sunday on the impoverished island 300 miles south of Manila.

Marcos stature faces big test

Whether the festering crisis in the Philippines gets worse or better will depend in part on whether presidential elections scheduled for Feb. 7 are seen to be both honest and vigorously contested. The latter condition at least seems more likely now that Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos can expect to face a formally united opposition.

Mr. Marcos, who called the snap election to answer domestic critics and pressure from Washington, no doubt hoped that his opposition would remain as factionalized as ever. Instead, the two leading opposition figures agreed, albeit only an hour before the filing deadline for candidates, to run as a team on the same ticket. Corazon Aquino, widow of assassinated oppositionist Benigno Aquino Jr., is to run for president and Salvador Laurel, head of the largest opposition coalition, will run with her for vice president.

With luck, adequate finances, and a decently managed campaign, the Aquino-Laurel ticket could give Mr. Marcos a tough fight. The Philippines' aging strongman may still be his country's shrewdest politician, but he carries a ton of baggage into the election. The Philippine economy is a disaster. Government corruption is a continuing scandal even by the elastic standards of the Philippines. A communist insurgency in the countryside is rapidly gaining momentum. And President Marcos, 67 and ailing, is less and less able to pose as the vigorous reformer of 20 years ago.

All this could be enough to offset the opposition's principal disadvantages: Mrs. Aquino's utter lack of political experience, and the difficulties of stitching together an efficient organization from the disparate groups supporting the Aquino-Laurel ticket.

What stands to be decisive, of course, is whether the vote count is reasonably honest. As things stand now, most of the votes will be counted by those beholden in one way or another to the Marcos political machine. A rigged election, or one widely perceived as rigged, could lead to more violence or even civil war in the Philippines.

Pressure from Washington and from the Philippine Catholic Church helped produce a unified opposition to challenge Mr. Marcos' autocratic rule. More pressure will be needed to ensure that Mrs. Aquino and Mr. Laurel are credited with all the votes cast for them Feb. 7.

"I knew when they decided to build the world's tallest building it was only a matter of time before some nut would climb it..."

Campaign costs assume alarming proportions

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — Favors are part of a politician's stock in trade. He's expected to produce government contracts, public-works projects and jobs for the people he represents. They, in turn, may contribute to his election campaign.

This is a clumsy, capricious system, highly vulnerable to abuse. Many politicians begin trading favors for contributions. Given the high cost of campaigns, it's difficult for a politician to get elected without selling his soul to special interests.

Then, when the campaign contributors come around to collect on their "investment," it winds up costing the taxpayers billions of dollars in special-interest benefits.

Congress, with its usual timidity where campaign financing is concerned, is making noises about reforming the system by curbing the runaway spending of political action committees, known as PACs.

If our legislators need awakening, inspiration or encouragement in this venture, a forthcoming report by the non-partisan Center for Responsive Politics should be stimulating. We've obtained a draft of this exhaustive report, which is to be released later this month. Here are some of the mournful numbers that make clear the urgency of the situation:

- Campaign spending for the 1984 federal, state and local elections was $1.8 billion, compared with the $425 million spent in 1972. Ellen Miller, the center's director, told our associate Les Whitten, "in the next presidential-election year, 1988, it will almost certainly be well over $2 billion."

Congressional campaign spending alone totaled $77 million in 1974 and $374 million last year.

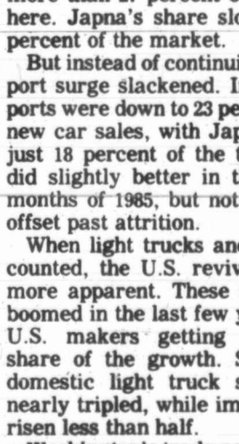

- The disease is spreading. Some candidates for state legislatures spent more than $1 million in 1984; a few years ago, that sum would have financed a respectable run for the U.S. Senate in a major state.
- PACs gave almost $113 million to federal candidates last year, almost 10 times the 1974 total.
- These increases result from "less (reliance) on traditional political tools, the grass-roots net-works, canvassing or rallies," the study discovered, "in favor of more expensive, sophisticated techniques (like) polling services, computers, direct mail and 'high tech' advertising."
- Another cause of the huge increase in campaign spending is the length of the campaigns themselves. Even before a freshman member of Congress has settled into his Washington office, he's already collecting money for the next election (and so are his opponents).
- The average cost of a winning Senate race has soared from $598,000 in 1976 to almost $3 million last year. The average may be $5 million next year. Sen Jesse Helms, R-N.C., spent $16.5 million to squeeze by his Democratic challenger, Jim Hunt, who spent $9.4 million.
- Winning a close House election in 1974 cost, on average, $90,000; last year the price tag was $450,000 and in 1986 it will probably top $500,000.
- PACs are edging small contributors out of the picture. In 1974, 46 percent of House campaign contributions and 38 percent in Senate races came from donors of $100 or less. Last year small donations made up only 19 percent of House candidates' funding and 23 percent in Senate races.
- Corporate PACs have grown 1,790 percent since 1974; labor PACs, which made up one-third of the total in 1974, constituted only one-tenth last year.
- In House races, PAC money rose from an average of $10,000 per candidate in 1974 to $89,000 last year; in the Senate races, the average went from $47,000 to $405,000.
- The center found a disturbing connection between the issues before Congress and the PACs' contributions to members. For example, while defense spending was growing in the early 1980s, the 20 largest defense contactors' PACs increased their contributions by 225 percent, to a total of $3.6 million last year. And $440,000 went to members of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

WATCH ON WASTE: The State Deprtment recently laid out a cool million to build a 16-room house for the Marine guards at the Manila embassy. An inspector general's report questioned whether the department got its money's worth. While noting that the building looked "impressive," the report said there wasn't adequate closet space in the small bedrooms, while the "open interior has considerable wasted space." The kitchen lacks "institutional-type appliances," and all things considered, "the inspectors are astounded that the Marine house is not more functional, given its extraordinary cost."

WATCH ON THE PENTAGON: The Army's computer problems continue apace. Former soldiers owe the Army more than $55 million paid to them by mistake after they left the service. The problem is an information gap in the main finance computer. Letters are routinely sent out asking for repayment, but with little success. To an old soldier, when the eagle screams on payday, that's it.

MINI-EDITORIAL: We were deeply saddened by the recent death of former Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart. He was a good and decent man and a jurist of surpassing wisdom. Like the overwhelming majority of his fellow Americans, he was a moderate, pragmatic, middle-of-the-roader. Stewart was not a knee-jerk defender of the press, but he clearly understood its organic role in our democracy. When the supreme Court decided, for example, that journalists had no consititutional right to confidential sources, he accused his fellow justices of having a "crabbed view" of the First Amendment. The people of Cincinnati should be proud of their native son, and the entire nation should mourn its loss.

Detroit emerges smarter, better

Five years ago, the American auto industry was being relegated to permanent decline. Gas prices were up, big car sales were down, imports were at record levels and Chrysler Corporation, despite a federal bailout, still was flirting with bankruptcy. But Detroit has eluded the oblivion that everyone expected, and it's giving the imports a good fight.

The trends in automobile sales over the last five years illustrate Detroit's new strength. In 1981, in the wake of the Iranian revolution, which sent gasoline prices into the stratosphere, imports captured more than 27 percent of car sales here. Japna's share slone was 22 percent of the market.

But instead of continuing, the import surge slackened. In 1984, imports were down to 23 percent of all new car sales, with Japan getting just 18 percent of the total. They did slightly better in the first 11 months of 1985, but not enough to offset past attrition.

When light trucks and vans are counted, the U.S. revival is even more apparent. These sales have boomed in the last few years, with U.S. makers getting the lion's share of the growth. Since 1981, domestic light truck sales have nearly tripled, while imports have risen less than half.

Washington's trade policies have played a role in this reversal. Japanese car sales have been limited by "voluntary" limits imposed by Tokyo, and trucks pay a 25 percent import tariff. If not for fear of a protectionist backlash, Tokyo could sell more vehicles here.

But other forces are also at work which suggest that in the long run, the U.S. car makers can hold their own with anyone. One is improvements in quality. In first-year reliability, Ford models now surpass the Japenese. The Big Three have made great progress on the old "fit and finish" headache.

In ride and handling, they are converting skeptics. Road & Track magazine says the latest Buick Electra is "at least the equal to the Jaguar XJ6." Car & Driver says, "Even the best German sedans are not better" than the new Ford Taurus. Consumer Guide ranks Chrysler's minivans the best on the market.

Not only are U.S. cars exceeding the Europeans in performance, writes economist Alan Reynolds of Polyconomics, "but they are doing it at half the price." Aficionados who once had no altternative to overpriced Audis and BMWs may save a lot of money by choosing a Chrysler Le Baron GTS or a Pontiac 6000 STE — without giving up driving thrills.

Another is the collapse of oil prices. Detroit has always had a hammerlock on big car sales, and cheaper gasoline is sure to push more buyers out of their Stanzas and into Cutlasses. The Japanese have done little to offset the U.S. advantage. The biggest Honda is about the size of the smallest GM model. Toyota's and Missan's "big" cars are really compacts, and expensive ones at that.

Demographic trends are also bound to boost sales of bigger cars. As the Baby Boomers produce offsring, they'll need more room than before. For that, they will have to decide between expensive European sedans and the more reasonably priced American models.

One obstacle for the Big Three is the federal government's silly fuel economy standards, which penalize them for making the big cars that are their competitive forte.

Billy Graham

Read God's Word daily

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you have anything to suggest on how I can become stronger in my faith? At times my faith is very weak, but I don't seem to be able to do anything about it. — H.G.

DEAR H.G.: I often point out to people that there is a parallel between our physical lives and our spiritual lives. Suppose you did not eat, or you only ate occasionally, or you ate only cake or ice cream all the time. What would happen to you? You know that you'd grow weak and sickly, and would be more vulnerable to illness and disease. In the same way, when we do not strengthen ourselves with spiritual "food," we become weak spiritually. Instead, we are told to "grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (2 Peter 3:18).

God has given us the means — the "spiritual food" — by which we may become stronger. The most important "spiritual food" God has given us is the Bible, which is His Word. Job declared: "I have treasured the words of his mouth more than my daily bread" (Job 23:12). If we want our faith to grow, we must have a steady diet of the Word of God. "faith comes from hearing the message, and the message is heard through the word of Christ" (Romans 10:17).

There is no substitute for God's Word, so make it your practice to read and study a portion of the Bible each day. Commit key verses to memory. Ask God to help you understand His Word and apply it to your life. Learn also from gifted Bible teachers.

In addition, God has given us prayer to help us turn to Him each day and receive strength. Also, God has given us other Christians, and we need their fellowship to encourage us and teach us.

Don't be content with a weak faith, but let God's Word be your strength every day.

Today

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Dec. 23, the 357th day of 1985. There are eight days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Dec. 23, 1823, the poem "A Visit from St. Nicholas" by Clement C. Moore was published anonymously in the "Troy (N.Y.) Sentinel." (The poem is more popularly known as ""Twas The Night Before Christmas.")

On this date:

In 1783, George Washington resigned as commander-in-chief of the Army and retired to his home at Mount Vernon, Va.

In 1788, Maryland voted to cede a 10-square-mile area for the seat of the national government. That area became the District of Columbia.

In 1805, Joseph Smith Jr., the founder of the Mormon Church, was born in Sharon, Vt.

In 1913, President Woodrow Wilson signed the Federal Reserve Act into law.

In 1928, the National Broadcasting Co. set up a permanent, coast-to-coast network.

In 1941, American forces on Wake Island surrendered to the Japanese.

In 1948, former Japanese premier Hideki Tojo and six other Japanese war leaders were executed in Tokyo.

In 1967, President Lyndon B. Johnson, on his way home from a visit to Southeast Asia, held an unprecedented meeting with Pope Paul VI at the Vatican.

Ten years ago: Richard S. Welch, the Central Intelligence Agency station chief in Athens, was shot and killed outside his home. And in Algiers, the last of the hostages sezied at an OPEC meeting in Vienna were released by their pro-Palestinian captors.

Five years ago: John R. Block was formally named as President-elect Ronald Reagan's choice to be agriculture secretary. At a news conference, Block said food was America's greatest foreign policy weapon and should be used "to tie countries to us."

One year ago: An explosion ripped through an express train in Italy as it was traveling through a tunnel between Florence and Bologna. The blast killed 15 people.

Winners of regional pecan show picked

The West Texas Regional Pecan Show was held last week at Highland Mall. There were 521 entries judged.

The winners from the 46 county pecan shows in West Texas were represented.

Winners were: in-shell pecan — (Mohawk variety) William C. Haseloff of Vernon, grand champion, and (Wichita variety) Richard Sherman of Vernon, reserve champion; shelling pecan — (Cheyenne variety) Ray Siegmund of Fort Stockton, grand champion, and (Sioux variety) Charles Dankworth of Paint Rock, reserve champion; and native pecan — Darrell Breeze of Lueders, grand champion, and H.A. Sherman of Haskell, reserve champion.

There are three regional pecan shows held in Texas. The West Texas show was in Big Spring; the Central Texas show was in Fort Worth; and the South Texas show was in Kerrville.

The top three winning entries in each class from the regional shows will be put in cold storage and held until the State Pecan Show, said Dr. Sammy Helmers, extension horticulturist with the Texas A&M Research Extension Center in El Paso.

The show will be held in conjuction with the Texas Pecan Growers Association's annual meeting scheduled for July, 1986, in Fort Worth. "There will be more than 1,200 pecan growers attending this meeting," Helmers said.

Dr. Donohue

Pain may linger after frostbite

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I hope you can help me. I had my legs frostbitten last winter. I had them tested for blood circulation, and that was OK. But I can't sleep. I take a warm bath and apply hot water bags. It only lets me sleep an hour, and I am awake the rest of the night. It's making me nervous. — N.S.

The approach to such pain from frostbite is the same used for chronic pain from any source. What you are doing is OK, except that you might invest in an electric blanket. It seems to me that the hot water bags are losing their effectiveness, leaving you unprotected from cold. The electric blanket will help you the whole night through.

You might wonder why you continue to feel the effects of the frostbite so long after the event. This is because frostbite damages more than the skin. The ice crystals that form damage nerves, muscles, and blood vessels as well. The fact that circulation to the area is intact is an encouraging sign, offering the good expectation for ultimate complete recovery.

However, when nerves are damaged, recovery of function can take a long time. During this time you have to avoid occasions that provide even the slightest chance of chilling the area or, in fact, letting it get damp. In time, you should lose this sensitivity to coldness.

Let me make an important point about frostbite in general. When a part of the body is frostbitten you should warm it rapidly by submerging it in water between 100 and 110 degress Fahrenheit. Slow rewarming was advised once, but not anymore. And you should not rub the skin. That may only aggravate damage already done to the tissue.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I'm middle-aged, and have trouble understanding a lot of this new medicine. I was just getting to understand what the blood pressure devices were all about when along came all the new gadgets. Have you heard of an exercise echocardiogram? I hadn't until my doctor mentioned I probably should have it done. What is it? If you haven't heard about it, I'm going to skip it, thank you. — MRs. E.V.J.

You must live in a very progressive community. They don't do exercise cardiography everywhere. It's only now emerging as a tool for diagnosis of heart disease.

"Echo" is the key phrase. An echocardiogram is a picture of the heart taken with sound waves. It shows heart action during exercise, when it is beating faster than normal. In many areas this procedure is beginning to take the place of heart scans done with injected radioactive material. In that, the picture is taken when the contrast material has settled in the heart muscle.

With the echocardiography, no injection is needed. You feel nothing. I'm sure more readers will be seeing and hearing this term as the technique grows in popularity.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I read your advice about ears plugging up during air travel. That's not my problem. I have a terrible body stiffness when I get off a plane after a long flight. I travel a lot in business. I know the advice is to exercise. I wish you could be specific about exercise I can use to help without having all eyes turn toward me when I do them. What about isometrics? — H.D.

Isometrics can help and they have the advantage of being inconspicuous. Here are a couple:

Place your hands on your knees. Cross your ankles. Press one ankle backward against the other until you feel the calf muscles tense. Hold for about five seconds. Repeat a few times, then switch ankles. Relax after each isometric push.

Another one you can also try while seated is done with the toes pressing against the floor. In that position, raise your heels as high as you can.

For the upper body, try drawing in the abdominal muscles, holding, then relaxing as you breathe out slowly. Or you can reach down from the seated position to touch your toes.

And nothing beats the aisle stroll to the magazine rack, even if you don't want to read.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Donohue, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Association elects officers

The National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway Employees met at the Kentwood Older Adult Center Dec. 19 for a potluck supper followed by a business meeting.

Officers for the next two years are: J.T. (Tip) Anderson, president; George Williams, first vice president; Bill Marlin, second vice president; and Margaret Barnett, secretary-treasurer.

The national secretary said that letters were being mailed to delinquent members. Delinquent members of unit 130 should send their remittance to the local unit instead of the national secretary in Kansas City.

Mrs. J.W. Weidel, Mrs. Bill Marlin nd Mrs. W.N. Woods were appointed to the refreshment committee.

Mrs. H.L. Ross read a poem in hnor of Albert Davis' last run as engineer on the T&P. A moment of silence was held for Paul Ennis and Mrs. Con Nichols who recently died.

Mrs. J.J. Richardson and Tip Anderson have December birthdays. Hostesses were Mrs. Ray Scott and Mrs. W.C. Cole. Brian Scott was a visitor.

The next meeting will be a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 15, at the Kentwood Center.

Annie Matt Angel presents program

The Howard County Extension Homemakers Clubs had a Christmas luncheon Dec. 10 at the Western Sizzlin. Annie Matt Angel spoke on "Thoughts for Christmas."

Members of the program committee were: Mrs. Gen Davidson, chairman, Irene Priebe, Myrl Soles, Bernice McCullough and Caroline Reed.

Gail Earls, representing the Howard County Rape Crisis Center, accepted a Christmas donation from members of the organization.

Guests were Naomi Hunt and Ruby Haynes.

Dear Abby

Cloud of cologne incites heavy breathing

DEAR ABBY: As I write this, my head is splitting! The reason? Too much perfume and cologne. I can hardly breathe.

A fragrance is a very personal statement. I use it myself, but you can smell mine only if you get within three inches of me. My co-worker's fragrance can be smelled from five feet away, and I am not exaggerating!

I have already asked this co-worker to please tone down the stuff, and he did (yes, the offender is a "he"), but in a few days, he's back at his old level.

Waiting for it to wear off during the day doesn't help. By that time, I already have a headache. (Also, I suspect he replenishes the dose in mid-afternoon.)

If you print this, I'll bet I won't be the only one cutting it out of the newspaper.

CAN'T BREATHE

DEAR CAN'T: I'm on your side. One of the few retail businesses that haven't stunk this Christmas is the fragrance business. With so many celebrities lending their names to perfumes and colognes, the competition is stifling.

Scents make dollars, but whatever happened to communication? Tell the offender, hourly if necessary, that he or she is interfering with your right to breathe.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who would call her hostess the morning after a beautiful, carefully planned Thanksgiving dinner and say, "I was sick all night. Have any of the other guests called yet to say they were sick, too?" (She was the only one who called, so I'm sure it wasn't anything I served.)

I was hurt and insulted, Abby. I am not a sloppy cook and use only the finest and freshest ingredients. What do the etiquette books say about a situation like this?

HURT HOSTESS

DEAR HURT: To my knowledge, it's not dealt with in etiquette books. Don't judge your guest too harshly. While she may not win a prize for diplomacy, I'm sure her intentions were not to hurt or insult you.

DEAR ABBY: Please alert readers who have had hip or bone replacements that they should advise their dentists.

I was just made aware of the hazards by my own dentist. I have only a pin (or "nail") in my hip, but my dentist had me call my orthopedist for advice.

Before even a routine tooth cleaning procedure, where any bleeding may occur, it is usually advisable to begin using antibiotics. Any foreign object in the body is a prime source of infection.

Abby, please let your readers know. This was news to me.

CAROL FROM MINNIAPOLIS

DEAR CAROL: It will be news to a lot of people. Thank you for sharing.

(Getting married? Send for Abby's new, updated, expanded booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (39 cents) self-addressed envelope to Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

49ers battle way into playoffs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, who reached Super Bowl XIX with a few short bus trips, must survive a three-week, travel-filled grind to qualify for the National Football League championship game this time.

"We don't look at our prospects for the playoffs. We've been there before. We know what it takes to win," Coach Bill Walsh said Sunday after his 49ers, the defending NFL champs, qualified for the playoffs by coming from behind to beat the Dallas Cowboys 31-16 in the final game of the regular season.

"I'm particularly proud of the way we were able to overcome all those injuries," Walsh added.

The most serious injury Sunday was to cornerback Eric Wright, who pulled a groin muscle and might be unavailable for post-season games.

The 49ers, a 15-1 division champion last year, won two playoff games at home and then traveled half an hour to Stanford Stadium for their Super Bowl triumph over the Miami Dolphins. At 10-6 this season, they're in the playoffs as a division runner-up without the possibility of a home game.

For starters, there's a cross-country trip to play the New York Giants next Sunday in the National Football Conference wild-card game. The winner goes to Chicago a week later to face the 15-1 Bears, NFC Central champion.

The 10-6 Cowboys, Eastern Division champs, will be on the road for their playoff opener Jan. 4 or 5 against the Los Angeles Rams.

"This time of year, it's not where you play that counts; it's how you play," Tony Dorsett of the Cowboys said.

ROGER CRAIG
...double trouble

The 49ers, who trailed 13-0 with four minutes left in the first half Sunday, played better than the Cowboys over the final 34 minutes. Joe Montana delivered two long touchdown passes to Dwight Clark, fullback Roger Craig ran for a TD and set an NFL precedent by reaching the 1,000-yard mark for the season in both rushing and receiving, and Jerry Rice had a 15-yard TD run to complement his 111-yard day as a receiver.

"Momentum is like that. It rolls like a big ball. Dallas could feel the surge going our way," San Francisco linebacker Riki Ellison said.

Dolphins win 7th straight crown with victory over hapless Bills

Miami clinched the AFC East title by blanking Buffalo 28-0. It was the seventh straight win for the Dolphins, who will host AFC Central champion Cleveland in the playoffs. New England and the New York Jets set up a wild-card game on Saturday with playoff-clinching victories. New England downed the Cincinnati Bengals 34-23 and the Jets beat Cleveland 37-10.

Victories by the Patriots and Jets eliminated Denver, a 27-24 winner Friday night over Seattle. The Broncos are the first 11-5 team ever to miss the playoffs. Eliminated when the 49ers beat the Cowboys was Washington, a 27-16 winner Saturday over St. Louis.

NFC Central champion Chicago became the second team — San Francisco was the first, in 1984 — to win 15 regular season games. The Bears, who will host the San Francisco-New York winner, finished with a 37-17 victory over Detroit.

In other games Sunday, it was Atlanta 16, New Orleans 10; Green Bay 20 Tampa Bay 17; Philadelphia 37, Minnesota 35; Kansas City 38, San Diego 34; and Indianapolis 34, Houston 16.

The Los Angeles Raiders can clinch the home-field advantage throughout the AFC playoffs with a victory tonight over the Los Angeles Rams.

Dolphins 28
Bills 0

The victory left the Dolphins with a chance to have the home field advantage should the Raiders lose to the Rams. For a time this season, Miami's spot in the playoffs was up in the air.

"We got it together and played excellent when we had to play excellent," Coach Don Shula said of his team, which rallied from a 5-4 start to win seven straight games.

Bruce Hardy caught Dan Marino touchdown passes of 19 and five yards and Tony Nathan and Ron Davenport ran for touchdowns against Buffalo.

Miami has won or shared the AFC East crown 12 of the past 16 years.

Buffalo, 2-14, had two drives stall inside the Miami 5-yard line.

Patriots 34
Bengals 23

New England has a long road to travel — starting with the wild-card game on the road — but that doesn't bother defensive back Raymond Clayborn.

"I think this team can go all the way. If we get our stuff together and play the way we are capable of playing, we can win the Super Bowl," Clayborn said.

Craig James rushed for a career-high 142 yards rushing, including an 11-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. The Patriots, 11-5, got a 1-yard run from seldom-used Robert Weathers for the clincher as they tied a club record for victories.

Jets 37
Browns 10

New York, 11-5, won the right to host New England thanks to what running back Johnny Hector called an all-around contribution.

"That's how we win," said Hector, who scored twice on short runs. "We feel we can do anything if we play together."

Pat Leahy kicked three field goals as the Jets dropped Cleveland to an 8-8 record, the worst full-season mark ever for a playoff team.

"We're 8-8 and we'll make no apologies," Cleveland Coach Marty Schottenheimer said. "Everybody knew the rules at the beginning of the season."

Hogs take Holiday

SAN DIEGO (AP) — On Wednesday, freshman kicker Kendall Trainor was making everything in practice and an Arkansas booster asked him what he was thinking about.

Fishing, Trainor said.

The next day, Trainor wasn't as effective. So, every time the booster saw him the next 48 hours, there was the reminder: "Think about fishing."

Sunday night, with 21 seconds remaining, Trainor kicked a 37-yard field goal to give the 14th-ranked Razorbacks an 18-17 victory over Arizona State in the Holiday Bowl.

"When I went out there tonight, I was thinking about that big ole bass," Trainor said.

A couple of seniors, Bobby Joe Edmonds and Mark Calcagni, made the big plays on offense for the Razorbacks.

It was Calcagni, making only the second start of his career, who threw 24 yards to Edmonds on third-and-nine to set up the second Arkansas touchdown. That TD came when Calcagni lured cornerback Eric Allen to him and then pitched to Edmonds, who went 17 yards down the right sideline.

Calcagni's two-point conversion made it 15-14 with 9:37 to play but Kent Bostrum's 28-yard field goal put ASU back on top 17-15 with 5:23 remaining.

Arkansas started from its 20 and Calcagni-to-Edmonds worked for 20 yards and a first down at the ASU 39. Eight plays later, Trainor kicked the winner.

Edmonds didn't start because he missed three practices last week after his grandmother was killed in a car accident.

"She was someone I wanted to share this with," Edmonds said. "I couldn't physically, but I know I did mentally and spiritually.

"Any individual who cared for a loved one who passed away, of course, would dedicate the game that loved one. When she died I lost my incentive for my football career last week," Edmonds said. "It took the spunk out of football for a while. But when the game lights came on, I knew I was ready to play."

Edmonds, offensive player of the game, caught seven passes for 93 yards and carried seven times for 43 yards.

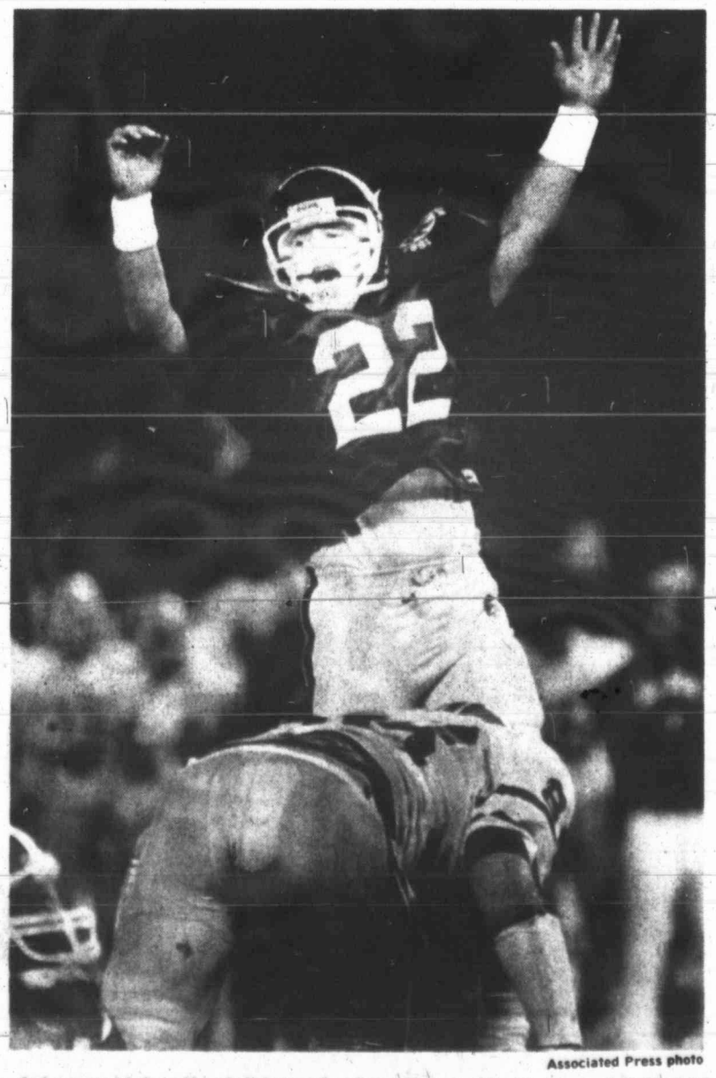

Cooper is 0-9 against Arkansas.

A 47-yard field goal put ASU on top 3-0 in the first quarter, but Arkansas went 80 yards in 16 plays for a 7-3 lead. Fullback Derrick Thomas covered the final 9 yards on third-and-four.

ASU had to settle for Bostrum's 22-yard field goal in the second quarter although the Sun Devils had a first down at the Arkansas 4. Two running plays against a defense that did not give up a rushing touchdown to a Southwest Conference opponent, and a pass knocked down by Nick Miller, forced the kick.

ASU took the lead late in the second quarter after a fourth-and-one pass by Arkansas failed at the Sun Devils' 48. From the 16, Jeff Van Raaphorst found Aaron Coxin the end zone. Van Raaphorst completed a two-point conversion pass to Vince Amoia.

Arkansas linebacker David Bazzel said he had no doubt Trainor's kick was good.

Arkansas kicker Kendall leaps for joy after making a 37-yard field goal with 21 seconds left in the game to give the Razorbacks, members of the Southwest Conference, a 18-17 victory over Arizona State, members of the Pac-10 Conference. The game was Sunday's Holiday Bowl in San Deigo.

Gophers down Tigers in Independence Bowl

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — There was a national championship in Danny Ford's future shortly after he became the first college football coach to make his head coaching debut in a bowl game.

Ford became an instant success when Clemson beat Ohio State 17-15 in the 1978 Gator Bowl after Charley Pell and his top two assistants left for the University of Florida.

In a strange twist, Ford was on the losing end when lightning struck again Saturday night and Minnesota defeated Clemson 20-13 in the Independence Bowl in John Gutekunst's debut as head coach of the Golden Gophers, replacing Notre Dame-bound Lou Holtz.

"Obviously, it feels good," Gutekunst said. "This is why you play, why you keep score. The most satisfying thing about this is that we came from behind to win. The kids had to work through some trying times (Holtz's Nov. 27 resignation and a period of limbo before Gutekunst's Dec. 5 promotion from defensive coordinator) just to get to this point, so I am very pleased for them.

Clemson followed Ford's debut with records of 8-4 in 1979 and 6-5 in 1980 before winning the national championship in 1981. Gutekunst probably has some building to do before Minnesota becomes a fixture in the Top Twenty but the Gophers do return most of their 1985 starters, including quarterback Rickey Foggie, twice the team's MVP.

Foggie, who comes from Waterloo, S.C., about 50 miles from Clemson, ran and passed Minnesota into position for Chip Lohmiller's game-tying 19-yard field goal and Valdez Baylor's 1-yard dive in the final 11 minutes.

Foggie carried three times for 35 yards and threw a 22-yard pass to tight end Craig Otto on third-and-11 to set up Lohmiller's field goal with 10:45 remaining.

On Minnesota's next possession, Foggie passed to split end Melvin Anderson for 10 yards and flanker Gary Couch for 14 before Baylor, who had runs of 16 and 12 yards on the drive, leaped over the top for the winning score with 4:56 left.

The victory enabled Minnesota to finish the year 7-5, the first winning campaign since 1977, which also was the last time Minnesota went to a bowl game.

Clemson, which turned the ball over four times, including each of its first three possessions, wound up 6-6, its poorest mark since 1976. Because of an NCAA probation, it was the Tigers' first bowl appearance since they won the 1981 national championship in the Orange Bowl.

It was only the eighth time in 60 games under Ford that Clemson had failed to win after taking a lead into the fourth quarter.

Sweden wins Davis Cup play

MUNICH, West Germany (AP) — Sweden confirmed its supremacy as the world's top tennis nation by clinching its second straight Davis Cup title with a dramatic 3-2 victory over West Germany.

Stefan Edberg came from behind to beat Michael Westphal 3-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3 Sunday in the last of the five matches in the final series to retain Sweden's title in a surprisingly close match against a West German team led by Wimbledon champion Boris Becker.

Edberg, the 19-year-old Australian Open champion, trailed against Westphal, the world's 51st-ranked player, before rallying to win the decisive match.

"I struggled but I kept on fighting even when I wasn't playing well," Edberg said.

Sweden retained the title it won last year over the United States. Its first Davis Cup title came 10 years ago with a victory over Czechoslovakia. It lost to Australia in the 1983 final.

Swedish coach Hans Olsson said this year's win was better than last year's.

"We proved that we can defend the title and that we can do it away from home," he said. "I think we also have good chances of making it three in a row and I think we could meet West Germany again in next year's final. Becker is just fantastic."

MATS WILANDER
...member of winning team

Becker defeated Sweden's top player, Mats Wilander, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3 on Sunday to level the score at 2-2 and keep alive German hopes.

Wilander won the opening singles Friday against Westphal 6-3, 6-4, 10-8, while Becker overcame Edberg 6-3, 3-6, 7-5, 8-6.

Wilander and Joakim Nystrom beat Becker and Andreas Maurer 6-4, 6-2, 6-1 in Saturday's doubles to give Sweden a 2-1 lead going into the final day.

In addition to winning the Davis Cup, Sweden was the only nation to produce winners of two Grand Slam events this year. Wilander won the French Open and Edberg beat Wilander in the final of the Australian Open.

Sweden's depth in high-ranking players proved decisive in the face of a strong West German challenge led by Becker.

Becker, ranked sixth in the world, was in devastating form against Wilander, ranked No. 3 in the world.

Becker started the match by serving two aces in the first game of the opening set and looked unstoppable except for a lapse in the second set.

Becker appeared untroubled by a hip injury sustained in training several days ago. He received ultrasonic treatment and took pain-killing tablets shortly before the match, then fired 14 aces on the fast carpet surface.

He raced to a 3-0 lead in the fourth set and served three game-winning aces as he powered his way to a four-set victory in 2 hours, 16 minutes.

"I am as happy about winning these two matches here in the Davis Cup final as I am about winning Wimbledon," Becker said.

Westphal appeared close to a major upset when he rolled past Edberg in the first set.

The Swede came back in the second but trailed 0-2 in the third set and was on the verge of losing his service again when he got his game together. He saved a game point at 30-40 and went on to win the game.

Westphal said that was the chance of the match for him.

"Had I gained that break, I could have had a chance," he said and West Germany's Yugoslav-born coach, Nikki Pilic, agreed.

"If Westphal had broken Edberg again, we would have had a strong chance of winning the match," Pilic said. "He was so close to it."

The match turned in the sixth game of the third set. Edberg stretched to full length to reach a cross-court shot by Westphal. The West German misjudged the return and let it pass, only to see it bounce just inside.

"That was my most important shot of the match," Edberg said.

Bouyed by that shot, Edberg evened the third set 3-3 and added a second break to win the set 6-4 and forge a 2-1 lead.

SWC hoop teams do well over weekend

By The Associated Press

Texas Christian University's Larry Richard had been bothered throughout the week by a sore foot and sat out the first 10 minutes of Saturday night's basketball game against Drake.

He put a spark into the Horned Frog attack, and led a rally early in the second half that led TCU to a 74-59 victory.

Richard finished with 18 points and 10 rebounds.

"I actually like coming off the bench, because it gives me a chance to size up the opposition to see what I can and can't get away with," the 6-7 leaper said.

All nine Southwest Conference teams were in action Saturday, and seven escaped with victories. The only losers were Arkansas, an 89-78 victim of sixth-ranked Kansas; and Texas Tech, which lost to unbeaten Clemson on a 20-foot shot with four seconds to play.

Southern Methodist defeated East Carolina 71-62 for third place in the University of Kentucky Invitational; Houston beat Long Beach State 96-86; Rice got by Northwestern State of Louisiana, 58-53; Texas A&M defeated Southern Mississippi 81-61 for third place in the Gator Bowl basketball tournament; and Texas won its Longhorn Classic tournament by beating South Florida 60-55.

TCU allowed Drake the first two points of the second half, for a 28-25 lead, but then ran off 16 straight points to take a 41-28 lead, and Drake never got closer than nine points thereafter.

Cougar center Greg Anderson scored 19 of his 25 points in the second half of Houston's victory. Guard Alvin Franklin followed with 23 points and Rickie Winslow had 21 for 5-3 Houston.

Rice's victory was its 17th in a row at home over non-conference opponents. Rice is 6-2 his season. Greg Hines scored 16 points for the Owls, including 10 second-half points, for the Owls. Terrence Cashaw added 15.

Clemson Junior Guard Larry Middleton canned a 20-foot jumper to give his team its victory over Tech's Red Raiders. Middleton's game-winning shot came eight seconds after a Gregg Crowe follow gave Tech its first lead of the night, 64-63, Crowe also led the Raiders with eight of 31 rebounds vs 28 for Clemson.

Kansas' Danny Manning connected on a key three-point play to start a 7-0 run late in the second half and carry the Jayhawks to victory over Arkansas..

A&M's Don Marbury scored 32 points and Winston Crite and Todd Holloway combined for 32 more for the Aggies in their tournament victory.

Cleveland's Earnest Byner rushed for 101 yards to give him 1,002 for the season. His running mate, rookie Kevin Mack, finished the season with 1,104. They are the first tandem to exceed 1,000 rushing yards since the Pittsburgh duo of Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier in 1976.

Falcons 16
Saints 10

Gerald Riggs set an Atlanta rushing record by finishing the season with 1,719 yards to break William Andrews' mark of 1,566 set in 1983. Riggs rushed for 158 yards and one touchdown to establish an 83-yard margin over Marcus Allen of the Raiders.

The Falcons, who got three field goals from Mick Luckhurst, closed out with a 4-12 mark under Dan Henning. The Saints are 5-11.

Chiefs 38
Chargers 34

Kansas City's Stephone Paige broke the NFL record for receiving yards in one game with 309 on just eight receptions — including scoring passes of 56 yards from Todd Blackledge and 84 from Bill Kenney.

Bears 37
Lions 17

Chicago's Walter Payton became the first player in NFL history to surpass 2,000 yards total offense in three consecutive seasons as Chicago reduced Detroit's record to 7-9. Payton rushed for 81 yards and caught four passes for 55 yards to increase his season total to 2,034.

Dennis Gentry also scored for the Bears on a 94-yard kickoff return.

Packers 20
Buccaners 17

Green Bay, with Phillip Epps and Jessie Clark scoring touchdowns, finished 8-8 for the third straight year. Tampa Bay wound up 2-14 to earn the first selection in next year's college player draft.

Colts 34
Oilers 16

Indianapolis, 5-11, got three touchdowns passes from Mike Pagel, while Randy McMillan and Albert Bentley ran for two scores.

The Colts finished with a two-game winning streak while Houston, also 5-11, lost its last four — two under interim Coach Jerry Glanville.

Eagles 37
Vikings 35

Philadelphia's Paul McFadden kicked three field goals, including a 35-yarder with 40 seconds to play, as Philadelphia, 7-9, beat Minnesota, 7-9 in the first season of Bud Grant's second tenure.

Cowboys

"It would have been close if we hadn't turned the ball over in the second half," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said. "There was nothing riding on this game, for us, except the homefield advantage against the Rams if they lost (tonight). That's not a whole lot of incentive, going up against the world champions."

The Cowboys kept three front-line players, quarterback Danny White, wide receiver Tony Hill and cornerback Ron Fellows, out of the game. All are recovering from injuries and expected to be sound in two weeks.

Gary Hogeboom, Sunday's starting quarterback, passed for 389 yards but was sacked six times and allowed two interceptions. The Cowboys drove 82 yards on their first possession, scoring on a 1-yard TD throw to tight end Doug Cosbie, but did the rest of their scoring on three Rafael Septien field goals.

Knicks shoot Bullets, 100-93

By The Associated Press

Ever since Jeff Ruland suffered a broken ankle on Dec. 11, Washington Bullets Coach Gene Shue has worried about the team's offense.

That fear was realized Sunday night as the Bullets equalled a National Basketball Association record for futility by scoring only 25 points in the second half en route to a 100-93 loss to the New York Knicks.

"We were not a good offensive team to start the season," Shue said, "so how can we lose a player who averages 21 points and 12 rebounds a game, and sets up easy shots with his passing?"

Although 7-foot-7 Manute Bol has averaged eight blocked shots per game since Ruland's injury, Shue called Ruland "the player we could least afford to lose ... and there isn't any replacement for him."

The Bullets didn't indicate they would fall apart so thoroughly after shooting 64 percent from the field and taking a 68-55 lead in the first half. But Shue said, "I wasn't deceived by the 68 points. I figured when the game was over, we'd be lucky to have 100."

The only other NBA games Sunday night saw Cleveland defeat Dallas 119-105 and Portland beat Denver 121-114.

The Bullets become the fourth team in NBA history to score only 25 points after intermission, tying an NBA record for the fewest points scored in a second half since the 24-second clock was started by the NBA in 1954.

Boston scored 25 points in the second half against Milwaukee on Feb. 27, 1955, St. Louis did it against Boston on Dec. 26, 1964 and Golden State did it against Boston on Feb. 14, 1978.

Jeff Malone and Cliff Robinson scored 17 points each in the first half for the Bullets, and they finished with 27 and 25, respectively. But the rest of the team managed only seven points in the second half.

Pat Cummings scored six of his team-high 26 points as New York erased a 14-point deficit with a 16-0 streak in the third quarter to go ahead 75-73. Washington went 5-for-24 from the field in the period.

The Knicks made their third-quarter run with rookie star Patrick Ewing on the bench. He went out with 10:34 left after picking up his fourth personal foul, plus a technical.

Ewing finished with 21 points and nine rebounds in 21 minutes. Bol was scoreless, but blocked six shots, all in the second half.

"You can't lob it over him," Brown said of Bol. "You have to take it to his chest. He's a force, an intimidator, and he cons you. If you stay on the perimeter, which he causes by his presence alone, you play their game."

Cavaliers 119, Mavericks 105

World B. Free scored 32 points and Roy Hinson 26 for Cleveland against Dallas, and they totaled 19 in the third quarter to help the Cavaliers take a big lead.

Cleveland led 57-47 at halftime and the Cavaliers extended the margin to 90-73 after three quarters as Free scored 11 points and Hinson eight. The Mavericks got no closer than 11 points in the final period.

Trail Blazers 121, Nuggets 114

Denver dropped into a first-place tie with Houston in the Midwest Division as Portland's Kiki Vandeweghe matched his season high with 35 points.

The Trail Blazers raced from a 58-56 halftime deficit to a 99-80 lead in the fourth period before the Nuggets rallied to cut the lead to four on two occasions, the last at 118-114 with 47 seconds left.

Mike Evans led Denver with 28 points, while Wayne Cooper had 25 and Alex English 24.

Portland's Steve Colter looks for someone to pass to as he drives the baseline between Denver's Danny Schayes and Wayne Cooper (42) during NBA action in Portland Sunday. Portland won the game 121-114.

Skater sets world mark

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet speed kater Igor Zhelezovsky set a world record in the 500-meter event Saturday, clocking 36.49 seconds in national competition at the high-altitude Medeo skating rink near Alma Ata, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Tass said Zhelezovsky, 22, bettered the previous mark of 36.57 seconds set in March 1983 by another Soviet skater, Pavel Pegov.

Record-breaking day in NFL

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Stephone Paige broke a 40-year-old National Football League record Sunday with 309 yards in pass receptions, highlighting a day of records as the regular season drew to a close.

Paige, a third-year pro from Fresno State, caught eight passes in the Chiefs' 38-34 victory over San Diego — two of them touchdowns of 56 and 84 yards — to surpass the NFL mark of 303 yards set Nov. 22, 1945, by Jim Benton of the Cleveland Rams.

In the same game, San Diego running back Lionel James established an NFL record for all-purpose yardage in a season. With 242 combined yards on the afternoon, James finished with 2,535 combined rushing, pass receiving and kick return yards, breaking the mark of 2,462 set by Terry Metcalf of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1975.

In San Francisco, 49ers Pro Bowl running back Roger Craig became the first player in league history to gain 1,000 yards rushing and 1,000 receiving in one season.

Miller-January win Mazda golf

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) — Alice Miller sank a 12-foot birdie putt on the second playoff hole Saturday to give her and partner Don January a victory over Lee Elder and Pat Bradley in the $730,000 Mazda Champions golf tournament.

Miller and January picked up the winner's share of $500,000 — the richest first-place prize in golf — in the two-day tournament. The mixed teams were composed of golfers from the LPGA and the PGA's Seniors Tour.

Fin wins ski-jumping

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — Finland's Pekka Suorsa won the two-day World Cup ski-jumping event Sunday with a total of 196.7 points and a meet-best 94.5-meter jump. His second jump was 85 meters.

Jens Weissflog of West Germany was second with 194.1 points, while Frederic Berger of France was third with 193.6 points.

Powerhouses set for Battle of LA

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The "Battle of Los Angeles" seems somehow to be taking on the trappings of a gentlemanly cricket match.

When the Los Angeles Raiders and Los Angeles Rams meet in tonight's National Football League showcase, there will be little at stake, and apparently no great sense of rivalry on either side.

"I think there's going to be a great element of fun just playing the game," Rams Coach John Robinson said. "It's something like a bowl game.

"Tom and I are good friends," Robinson said of Raiders' Coach Tom Flores. "I've always liked the Raiders. I've got some friends there, and they've always been winners."

"We have to approach it as just another game, even though they're closer than anyone else we play," said Flores, whose road trip will consist of a 35-mile drive down the freeway to Anaheim Stadium for the 9 p.m. EST contest.

Also taking some of the edge off the game is the fact that there's little incentive for either team, particularly not to the point of risking injuries.

The Rams already have won the NFC West title and the Raiders have clinched the AFC West, both with 11-4 records.

The last concrete incentive for the Rams was removed Sunday when Dallas lost to San Francisco, assuring the Rams the home-field in their playoff opener against the Cowboys on either Jan. 4 or Jan. 5.

The Raiders, on the other hand, could nail down the home-field advantage for the entire AFC playoffs with a victory over the Rams. The Raiders begin the playoffs the same January weekend at home against the winner of the New York Jets-New England wild-card game.

Even the matchup of two of the NFL's finest runners — the Raiders' Marcus Allen and the Rams' Eric Dickerson — may not be a true test. There's some question whether Dickerson will play, since he sat out practice late last week with a tight hamstring muscle.

Allen has some individual incentive. With 1,636 yards rushing, he goes into the final regular-season game 83 yards back of the Atlanta Falcons' Gerald Riggs in the chase for the 1985 NFL rushing title.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, DEC. 24, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day when there is a considerable amount of restlessness in the air which of course goes along with last-minute duties related to the holiday season.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A day when you can handle many activities and elevate your thoughts to higher precepts during this delightful season.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get your funds nicely budgeted so that everyone will be remembered properly. Make sure you get your home nicely decorated so that all will look charming. Get rid of clutter.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you schedule your time wisely, you can achieve more than you think is possible. Get into the right spirit of things.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) You have many errands to run and should bring thoughtful gifts with your warm and generous manner.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Be with as many friends as you can in the spirit of the holiday season and show true devotion to them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Think about support you have had and show appreciation during this holiday season. Run out for last-minute shopping.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Do something that will please newcomers who can be of help to you in the near future. Communicate well with others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Use your hunches where last-minute touches are to be completed before holiday celebrations. This can be a memorable evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do something thoughtful for your associates and improve relationships. Be sure to attend some important function.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make sure you get all of your gifts nicely wrapped and make your decorations lovely. Have more harmony in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get into the right spirit of things. Show more love for others. Be more inventive where gifts are concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Serve others very well and do more for those who are less fortunate than you. Remember that generosity is a fine trait.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she can easily comprehend the wishes and needs of others. Your progeny will handle practical matters in a most inventive manner. One who will be very quick at the time of any emergency. Teach to complete whatever has been started. An interesting and happy life here.
