Beet armyworm headed here

Local farmers get ready for fight

Mitchell County cotton farmers are gearing up for a fight—a fight to protect this year's crop from the beet armyworm.

Most of the 200,000 acres of planted cotton belonging to their neighbors in the San Angelo area were devastated beyond hope by the insect within seven to 10 days. Facing what could be a $50 million economic loss, producers in the Concho Valley counties of Runnels, Tom Green, Concho and Schleicher are asking for clearance to plow under their cotton stalks in order to kill some of the remaining worms and keep them from reproducing.

Here in Mitchell County, it's serious and a cause for alarm but doesn't warrant a panic, says Mitchell County Agent Joe Raff.

While many neighboring cotton farmers have already lost the battle, local producers have a distinct advantage—they can be prepared for the fight—whether it's a skirmish or all out war.

"It's not out of control here but it could be if we get a lot of moths from the San Angelo area or if we don't control what we already have," said Raff.

He estimated that about one-tenth of the county's cotton—5,000 acres out of the 50,000 acres of cotton in Mitchell County—has been affected by the worm. Only about a handful have reported serious infestations but the county agent is concerned that some farmers may not have scouted thoroughly and may be unaware of a serious problem.

"I don't think we have large enough numbers to worry about losing the county's crop, but it could get serious if these worms make their way to Mitchell County from San Angelo," says Raff.

It's the migration pattern of the insect that threatens local farmers. The adult moth can migrate over 100 miles a day and the armyworms, who have a life cycle of 35 to 40 days from egg to adult moth, have reached the moth stage in nearby counties, said Raff.

ACS golf tourney this Friday

The Fifth Annual golf tournament to be held this Friday promises to be loads of fun for both golfers and non-golfers.

The night golf tournament to be held at Wolf Creek Country Club is a benefit for the American Cancer Society.

Golfers will be put in four person scrambles, in an ABCD format. Teams will be flighted by handicap, said Terry McAdams, an event organizer.

The first nine will begin at 5:30 p.m. with dinner at 7:30 and the second nine to begin at 9:30 p.m. Entry fee for golfers is $40 which includes the rib-eye dinner and one nightlie golf ball.

First and second place prizes will be awarded. In addition, there will be prizes awarded for longest drive, closest to the hole categories, straightest drive, first eagle and a golfer's drawing.

Even if you don't play golf, you can enjoy the rib-eye dinner and socializing with friends, all for a $12.50 donation.

Drawings will be held during the dinner for items donated by local businesses.

For tickets contact First National Bank, 728-3485, or Terry Ann McAdams, Mitchell County Hospital, 728-3431.

Surgery...

local boy faces
first of several

Christopher Sanchez, the local child who has been the focus of prayers and concern from Mitchell County residents since he was first diagnosed with cancer this spring, is scheduled today to undergo the first of several major surgeries he'll have this year.

The 10-year-old son of Daniel and Betty Sanchez has a rare bone cancer which started in his leg and spread to both lungs.

The family, including Chris' new baby brother Mark Tyler who was born last Wednesday evening, left for M.D. Anderson Medical Center in Houston Sunday.

The cancer is still massive in both lungs and his left leg, said Daniel Sanchez.

"They'll amputate his leg up to the hip bone Thursday [today]. Leg tissue will be grafted onto the hip to form a base to attach an artificial leg. Five to seven days later an operation will be done on one lung and five to seven days after that, Chris will undergo an operation on the other lung," he said.

Sanchez isn't sure how long Chris will be at the Houston hospital. However, after a week at home here in Colorado City, Chris will return to Lubbock Methodist for more chemotherapy. Then, Sanchez said the doctors have told

Attorneys resolve disagreement

Mitchell County Attorney Mark Piland and local attorney Pat Barber both said Tuesday that they had resolved their differences following a verbal exchange that became physical outside a Snyder courtroom last Wednesday.

The incident occurred around 9 a.m. in a witness room outside the Scurry County courtroom prior to a child custody hearing. According to the police report, the two had a disagreement. Piland called Barber a liar and started to walk out of the room when Barber allegedly assaulted him from behind and held him against the wall.

According to Snyder Police Detective Kevin Fritz there were no serious injuries from the confrontation. A bailiff was summoned to the witness room.

A complaint was filed at the Snyder Police Department at 9:20 a.m. by Piland against Barber, a former county attorney.

Class A assault charges were dropped, although both attorneys said Tuesday that "technically" there were no charges because their differences were resolved before the process was completed for having charges filed by the county attorney in Scurry County.

"Pat and I had a discussion with a third party mediator present Monday afternoon and mutual apologies were issued," said Piland Tuesday.

"We want to preserve a professional working relationship, put this behind us and move on," said Piland.

"We shook hands and agreed to put this matter behind us," said Barber.

Beverly and Rob Junell at Appreciation Picnic... He announces he will run for another term.

Junell picnic a success

"A big success" is the way organizers described the Rob Junell Appreciation Picnic Monday night at Ruddick Park.

Over 200 local residents attended the hamburger picnic dinner to show their appreciation to the popular state legislator for the outstanding job he's done for people in Mitchell County.

The picnic was sponsored by Mitchell County Friends of Rob Junell.

Representative Junell thanked everyone who took part in organizing the dinner and expressed appreciation of Mitchell County people for their support.

In addition, he delighted the City tax rate same as 1987

Colorado City Council proposed a tax rate of 64 cents per $100 valuation at a called meeting Monday night.

The rate is a 22 cent increase over 1994; however, council members point out that it is the same as the 1987 tax rate.

Council members reviewed three proposals for tax rates—one at .6485 per $100 valuation, the proposed rate of .6415 per $100 valuation and the highest tax rate which has a rollback rate of .6795 per $100 valuation.

LISD principal looks forward to good year

The new principal at Loraine Independent School District, Scott Patterson, said he's very happy with his new position as a pre-k through twelfth grade principal and looking forward to a good year.

"It's a good situation and I'm proud to be here," he said Monday.

Patterson has been on the job since August 1. After the first week of school, he had high praise for the faculty, administrators and people of Loraine, but especially for the students.

"The kids here are really good kids," he said. "People are very friendly here."

"There's lots of team spirit and pride," Patterson said, noting that every boy in high school is on the football team this year.

COOK'S CORNER

Winnie Roach

Winnie Roach has cooked ever since she had to use a stool to reach the stove. She picked up all her mother's cooking ideas while growing up, then when she married her husband of 45 years, County Commissioner Ed Roach, he wanted her to cook like his mother, so she started using some of her mother-in-law's recipes. Hence to say, she has quite an accumulation of good down-home recipes, three of which she is sharing with us today.

You might know Winnie from the Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio, which she has owned for 22 years. Since working full-time, she has cut down on her cooking and only cooks big meals on the weekends. In cool weather, she will spend all day in the kitchen, cooking up new recipes she has found.

She doesn't cook much of the meat in her home, since Ed is so handy with the barbecue pit. In fact, when called for this interview, Ed's reaction was, "your best recipe is giving me directions to the barbecue pit."

Although it wasn't a new recipe Winnie was trying, she did have a funny story about an Italian cream cake to share. She was making this cake to take to a New Year's Eve party. Her grandchildren were visiting and one of them wanted a piece of that cake so bad. As soon as the cake came out of the oven and was barely cool enough to take out of the pan, Winnie iced it so that her granddaughter could have a slice.

As Winnie cut the cake, it began to tremble and fell into several pieces. While calling for help, she caught the cake with both hands and a knee. Ed says he still remembers that incident from many years back and laughs every time he thinks of Winnie standing there holding that cake. The moral of the story is: let your cake cool completely before cutting.

Winnie's family consists of husband Ed and three children, Eddie B., who lives in San Antonio; Kelley who resides in Lubbock and local resident, Ty. The only time she cooks big meals any more is when all the family comes home for the holidays, and then she worries about getting it all done. It does get done, which leads us to her first recipe, Mexican Dressing.

MEXICAN DRESSING
3 pkg. Mexican Cornbread Mix, cooked by directions
1 lg. onion, chopped
1/2 celery stalk, chopped
9 eggs
Red pepper to taste
Garlic powder to taste
1 1/2 pkg. bread cubes for dressing (stuffing)
Sage to taste
Cook onion and celery until tender. (You can freeze the cornbread and cooked onion/celery mixture until ready to use.) Mix all ingredients together. Taste and add "whatever" until it tastes like you desire. (Eddie B. is Winnie's official taster). Bake at 350 degrees until done.

MOTHER-IN-LAW'S PASTRY

For 3 crusts:
3 cups flour
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup shortening
1/2 cup water
Cut shortening into flour and salt mixture until mealy. Add water and mix until dough pulls away from sides of bowl.

OLD-FASHIONED CHOCOLATE BUTTER ROLL

(taught to Winnie by her father-in-law)
For 1 butter roll:
1 cup sugar
1/3 cup flour
1/3 cup cocoa powder
Vanilla
"Gobs" of butter
1 rolled out pie crust
Milk
Mix all ingredients. Spread on pie crust. Roll up like a jelly roll. Put into a greased pan to prevent sticking. Dab margarine on top and pour milk on until it is about 1/4 inch deep in pan. Cook until crust is brown/crispy and milk is absorbed, about 1 hour on 275-300 degrees.

RICE'S POUND CAKE
(from Mrs. J.W. Rice, mother of Mary Lloyd, Mollie Caldwell and Ann Cook)
2 cups sugar
1 cup Crisco
7 eggs
3 cups flour
Vanilla
Blend sugar and Crisco. Add eggs, one at a time. Keep beating while adding flour. Mix in vanilla. Pour into greased and floured tube pan. Cook about one hour at 250-300 degrees (it depends on your oven).

Senior citizen award nominations sought

For the second year, all Mitchell County residents 65 years old or older are eligible to be nominated for Mitchell County Senior Citizen of the Year.

This award is a joint effort of the Mitchell County Home Economics Committee, the Mitchell County Extension Program Council and the Old Timers Reunion Committee. It will be presented at the Old Timers Reunion September 16.

The award will recognize a county senior citizen for outstanding contributions and volunteer efforts in the community. Last year's award recipient was L.B. Elliott of Colorado City.

Nomination forms are available at the Mitchell County Extension office located in the Mitchell County Annex building just north of the courthouse or from Mary McMullen, 728-3111.

The deadline for nominations is Thursday, September 7 by 5 p.m.

We now offer Cannon towels, along with Fieldcrest, in several colors to choose from for $19.00 set. Fieldcrest and Cannon sheet sets are also available.

Hardegree authors book on grief

In his new book, When Death is Imminent, Greg D. Hardegree strives to answer many of the questions that haunt people faced with a great loss.

Using real life situations as examples for survival, the work teaches lessons about life, death and the healing of emotions.

The author, who is the son of Kelley School Principal Rita Hardegree, was born and raised in Colorado City and worked with the local ambulance service for several years before moving to Abilene. For the past 15 years he has worked for Abilene Regional Medical Center as a respiratory therapist.

After working around death and dying and watching his 39-year-old terminally ill wife meet an early death, Hardegree wrote his book to help others dealing with the same issues.

Bettie Bowen, bereavement coordinator for Hospice of Abilene, recently remarked, "This book is eloquently written...it resonates with unmasked emotion.... It's the true story of a beloved life and devastating loss...I recommend it to you."

Caldwell, Gavin are wed

Lisa Ann Caldwell and Gavin Dale McIntyre exchanged vows in a double-ring ceremony at 6 p.m.

March 11 at First United Methodist Church with John Barfield, the groom's uncle, officiating.

Lisa Ann McIntyre

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Caldwell of Donna, formerly of Colorado City. The groom is the son of Mrs. Bartlett J. McIntyre, Jr. of New Boston, Texas and the late Bartlett J. McIntyre, Jr.

The bride wore a white silk gown featuring Swiss Guipure lace, an off-the-shoulder neckline, long tapered sleeves and a low Basque waistline.

Melani Russell of New Boston was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Gina Fiaschetti of Huntsville and Shawna Lofstrom of Los Fresnos, cousin of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Erica McShan of Brownwood, cousin of the bride.

Flower girls were Lauren Bode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bode and Ashley Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Watson.

Terry Graham of New Boston was best man. Groomsmen were Scott Hosman of The Woodlands, Keith Latham and Monte Whisenhunt, both of College Station. Chris Casaday of College Station was usher.

Grady Staton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Staton, was ring bearer. A reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

After a wedding trip to Grand Cayman, the couple are at home in College Station.

The bride is a graduate of Donna High School and Sam Houston State University. She is employed at Snook Elementary as a fourth grade teacher.

The groom is a graduate of New Boston High School and Texas A&M University. He is employed by Bryan Research & Engineering.

Baker accepts WTC position

Colorado City resident Ellen H. Baker has been named to the Western Texas College (WTC) recruiting office and its campus visitors' center.

Joining Deidra Graves, director of college relations, Mrs. Baker will be responsible for coordinating on-campus visits and office work in the visitors' center. Last year, students from more than 100 high schools toured the WTC campus.

Mrs. Baker most recently worked as a church administrator for the Bel Air Presbyterian Church in Los Angeles. Her husband, Ken, was recently named pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Colorado City.

Mrs. Baker earned her bachelor's degree from Hanover College in Hanover, Ind. and has held both teaching and administrative positions.

Archaeological dig uncovers old relic

Archaeologists have discovered an old relic in the town of Colorado City. The excavation site is located at 101 East 22nd Street. According to a preliminary study this relic appears to be classified as an "oldmus rex" from the older than dirt era. In the 20th century this relic is more commonly known as "Connie Cooley Baker". Join us in wishing this relic "Happy Birthday" on August 25, 1995 and congratulate her on surviving the passage of time with such dignity and grace.

Going it alone: a business checklist for farm and ranch couples

All too often estate planning is viewed in a negative light due to the fact that it often brings us face to face with our own mortality. Farmers and ranchers are a very independent breed and all too often this independence leads them to be "pushers" in everything but estate planning. Here is a question to ask yourself. If your spouse or you should die would your farm or ranch survive?

Here is a brief list of things all farm and ranch couples should do before the death of one spouse:

1. Have a will and keep it up to date.
2. Communicate and work together. Discuss farm/ranch goals and management.
3. Know your banker and accountant. If both spouses can't work with them, find a new banker and/or accountant.
4. Retain a lawyer who understands farming and ranching; become familiar with him or her.
5. Know where important legal papers are kept and make sure they are up to date. Review them and be familiar with their contents.
6. Each spouse should have a separate line of credit established in his and her own name, even if it is only on a small scale.
7. Get acquainted with people you do business with.
8. Get to know your F.S.A. personnel (formerly A.S.C.S. and F.H.A.) and your N.R.C.S. personnel (formerly Soil Conservation Service). Know and understand the government programs your farm or ranch is enrolled in through them.
9. Purchase a cemetery lot and stone and make pre-planned funeral arrangements.
10. Do not assume if something happens to the other spouse you'll be taken care of. Discuss all facts of your farm/ranch business and be prepared.

After a spouse dies the surviving spouse may have other needs. Here is some advice from farm/ranch spouses left alone:

1. Build support among friends—reach out.
2. Communicate intentions and plans with your family. Don't keep secrets.
3. Be patient with yourself and others. Even if the above preparations have been made, it will be a lengthy process dealing with bankers, accountants and attorneys.
4. Identify possible mentors in the community.
5. You won't be able to make all decisions by yourself. Ask for advice and help.
6. Evaluate your operation. You might need to make changes. If you are a woman left alone you might not be able to handle all physical operations of a farm or ranch. If you are a man you may not be able to handle the financial recordkeeping and management of the household. Can you hire someone to handle what you can't? Do you need to make changes to adjust to the needs of you as the sole manager?
7. Finally, the surviving spouse should complete 1-10 above with their children, or the person who will handle their legal affairs upon their death.

More locals go to Alaska! Joan and Roy Beach just returned from a two week visit to Alaska to visit Joan's sister. Along on the trip was Joan's sister and brother-in-law, Betty and Bobby Griffin, from Fort Worth.

Wright and Suda Hock have been busy this week, helping their grandson, Cody Scott, move to San Angelo where he has taken a teaching position with Angelo State University.

It seems too early to be talking about football, but the season does start soon. In fact, the annual Kiwanis Club pre-game barbeque is planned for the first home game, Friday, September 8th. The good barbeque brisket and sausage with all the trimmings will be served. Advance tickets can be purchased from any Kiwanis Club member.

I think Bob and Charlene Reily have recuperated from their recent visitors. Grandchildren Christopher, 5, and Alexis, 1, came to visit for a few days recently. Bob says it's not easy keeping up with little ones.

Christopher and Alexis are the children of Bill and Jackie (Palmer) Reily, who live in Bedford.

Happy 69th anniversary to Jake and Kitten Richardson.

The St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Loraine held their annual festival Sunday. April Bailey was crowned festival queen. She is the daughter of Ricky and Teresa Bailey. Congratulations!

More congratulations....to Brett and Carol Footer on the birth of their son. Also to Dobie and Michelle Williams on the birth of their second little girl.

Jay and Marian Craddock have returned from a Hawaiian cruise. They flew to Honolulu and then cruised the islands for seven days.

Marian said the highlight of the trip was a visit to the Arizona Memorial. She was there approximately 50 years ago, about one week after the war ended. She said she was more moved by the memorial this time than she was the last time.

Jami Goebel qualified to go the the Champion of Champions Horse Show held in Fort Worth last weekend. She competed in Horsemanship. It is an accumulation of a lot of hard work that qualifies a person to enter this show—so congratulations Jami on a job well done. Jami is the daughter of Donna and Ron Goebel.

Welcome to new Anthony's manager Ron Matta and his wife, Laura. They come here from Midland. Former manager Tim Brower was transferred to Alpine.

Kathy Bassham sure wanted to win a flag at the Rob Junell picnic Monday night. Her name wasn't drawn, though. Sorry, Kathy!

Sue Lowrance is a grandmother again. Her daughter, Carol, who lives in Snyder, had a baby girl recently.

for a few more weeks to help with the healing process.

Dori Shutt's son, Bradley Patzke, is graduating from Army Boot Camp today (Thursday). She left Wednesday to watch the ceremony in Ft. Sill, Okla. He will be stationed at Ft. Leonardward in Missouri for additional Airbourne training.

IMMUNIZE YOUR LITTLE TEXAN BY TWO

SHOTS ACROSS TEXAS

SHOTLINE

Q. Are immunizations really necessary for children before the age of two?

A. Yes. Childhood diseases like measles and whooping cough can cause permanent brain damage or even death. All children should have four immunization visits from two months to two years of age. In the past seven years, more than 4,400 Texas children under five years of age have had measles, and 14 of these children died! Half of the nation's 2,200 measles cases in 1992 were reported in Texas. With only 55 percent of its children immunized, Texas ranks very low in the nation in childhood immunizations. Dangerous childhood diseases could reach epidemic levels in Texas, and the cost of immunizations is far less than the cost of treating these diseases.

For information on free or low-cost immunizations in your area, call the Texas Department of Health and Shots Across Texas Shotline at 1-800-252-9152 or write Shots Across Texas, Immunization Division, Texas Department of Health, 1100 W. 49th Street, Austin, TX 78756.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In your Aug. 3rd issue you had an editorial about the positive community impact made by the local TDCJ. I am sure there are many cases like mine, where the impact on an individual that received help goes unnoticed.

The Christmas in April people, the high school students, the county commissioners, and the inmates under the able supervision of Warden Rodney Cooper of the Texas Dept. of Criminal Justice who worked on my home also deserve a lot of credit for making a positive impact on an individual basis.

As the individual is helped so is the community.

NEW ANTHONY'S manager Ron Matta, left, bids farewell to previous manager Tim Brower, who has been transferred to Alpine. Matta comes to Colorado City from Midland.

TAX RATE

Total taxable values in the city for 1995 are almost $66 million.

Suggesting that council members should consider "the current environment" and the extreme fluctuations that the tax rate has been over the last nine years, City Manager Steve Shutt recommended the 64 cents proposal. Public hearings are not required for the 64 cents proposal, as they would be for the other two proposals.

Shutt noted that the rate was .6071 in 1986, .6412 in 1987, .4593 in 1988, .5291 in 1989, .5475 in 1990, .5892 in 1991, .3314 in 1992, .3763 in 1993 and .4186 in 1994.

A tax increase will be necessary for the water and sewer project, Shutt said.

The city manager also said that the delay in the opening of the state jail has hurt city revenues this year, estimating that the jail would have generated $10,000 a month in revenues.

Following the unanimous vote by the council for the rate, Mayor Jim Baum said, "Just look at what they're getting now in comparison to what they were getting in 1987 for the same price."

CISD enrollment down

First-day enrollment for Colorado Independent School District was 1,168, a decrease in enrollment of 69 students compared to the opening day of classes in 1994-95 when 1,237 students enrolled.

The biggest loss was in the third grade where 68 students enrolled Thursday compared to 85 students last year.

Kelley Elementary's enrollment was 281 this year. Last year there were 296 students.

At Hutchinson Elementary 252 students were enrolled this year compared to 274 last year.

Colorado Middle School had the only increase in enrollment compared with last year. Enrollment was 292 this year, eight more students than at the beginning of 1994-95 school year.

Three hundred forty-three students reported to Colorado High School the first day. Last year's enrollment was 356.

By Monday, CISD had gained 25 additional students, Superintendent Russell Merket said.

The superintendent said he expects enrollment to increase until it stabilizes around midyear. Last year Kelley Elementary added 40 students between the beginning of school and midyear.

Loraine and Westbrook ISDs showed increases in their enrollment. The first day of school at Loraine last Tuesday 203 students enrolled compared with last year's enrollment of 197 students. In Westbrook, 188 students started school last Monday. Last year there were 175 students.

All three school districts expect more increases in enrollment within the first two weeks of school.

Redwine assumes directorship

Golda Redwine began work Monday in her new job as director at the Wallace Center.

Redwine previously worked at Colorado High School in the special education department for eight years.

She is replacing Debby Ginbey who was awarded a scholarship to attend nursing school.

Her first week on the job Redwine plunged into her duties directing the many activities offered at the Wallace Center and attended a workshop in San Antonio on community programs. She said she is looking forward to being at the Wallace Center and working with the senior citizens.

Old Timers Reunion plans underway

Preparations for the Old Timers Reunion are well underway.

"Reservations for the noon dinner Saturday, September 16 at the Civic Center are really picking up," said Shirley Delaney, who is in charge of reservations.

The reunion is sure to be a highlight for approximately 300 people coming from far and near to recall past friends and events in Mitchell County.

Anyone who has ever called Mitchell County home is considered an Old Timer and is urged to come.

A classic trio, Sarah Carter Smith of Colorado City, Gus Armstrong of Loraine and Joe Williamson of Snyder, will provide the "musical memory walk" of a few years ago.

Doris Hargrove McClellan of Spade Ranch will be the principal speaker. She will recall ranch history and cowboy stories.

Decorations depicting ranching are being created by Brenda Aguilon and the Garden Club.

Registration will be held Saturday morning from 9-12 at the Civic Center. Betsy Aycock will head the refreshment table with homemade cookies and coffee as visiting begins.

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce plans to prepare and serve a ranch-style breakfast for guests and citizens from 7-9:30 a.m. in Kiwanis Park. Breakfast tickets are available at the park.

Dinner reservations are $5 each. Contact Shirley Delaney at The City National Bank, 728-5221 or P.O. Box 1031 for dinner reservations.

ARMYWORM

Initially detected in the Rio Grande Valley, the insect has since spread up the central and western parts of the state with some areas affected more severely than others.

The local county agent said that although beet armyworms are common throughout the state every year, they're usually not found in large numbers. The infestation is the worst outbreak he has ever seen. In addition, this is the worst year he has ever seen for pests in general—aphids, flea hoppers in the cotton fields. Stink bugs in the middle of the season shed squares and destroyed grain fields in the county.

Factors that have made this growing season unusual include an early spring, late May and June rains that washed out the pesticide Trefland, and hail and flooding that forced many producers to replant as late as June, said Raff.

Dr. Tom Fuchs, an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, laid the blame for the beet armyworm situation on the weather.

Speaking before a group of 60 West Texas cotton producers at the Texas A & M University Research and Extension Center near San Angelo, Fuchs said it wasn't correct to place the blame on the boll weevil eradication program as some producers are doing.

Woody Anderson, a local grower who is with the Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation said that the foundation was taking a pro-active position on the problem and evaluating the program.

State Representative Rob Junell joined other state and congressional leaders for a meeting Monday in San Angelo to discuss the damage, from the beet armyworm and possible solutions.

Calling the destruction from the armyworm an economic disaster for the Concho Valley, he noted, "it's a disaster not only for the farmers, but for the gins, the fertilizer companies, the seed companies, the implement dealers, the banks that made the loans and a whole lot of other businesses that depend on the success of that crop," said Junell.

Last Thursday, August 17, the Texas Department of Agriculture issued a section 18 on Pirate use in Mitchell County to control the beet armyworms. Section 18, a provision controlled by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, allows a producer to use the pesticide. Earlier this month, the use of Furadan F4 was also allowed in the county to control aphids in the cotton fields.

The TDA has limited the amount of Pirate that can be used in the state.

Robert Hoback at Colorado Feed and Seed said he has been notified he will not receive any Pirate.

"Only enough Pirate has been manufactured to spray 30,000 acres and I expect that to be used in the San Angelo area," said Hoback.

Cotton producers who attended the meeting in San Angelo drew up a list of requests they'd like taken to Congress which includes asking Congress to work closely with the EPA to allow chemical companies to maintain sufficient amounts of pesticides capable of killing all known pests.

County Agent Raff had the following advice for local cotton producers:

"According to entomologists [Dr. Fuchs and Dr. Leser] the threshold to spray for beet armyworms is: one egg lay per 200 plants, which (for all practical purposes), is if you find an egg lay in your field—spray. The threshold for aphids is 50 per leaf (and I have not seen many cotton fields that were not at this level).

"They have revised their threshold on the beet armyworm because of the tremendous damage that has taken place in the valley and the San Angelo area.

"It's my opinion that if you see a beet armyworm or worms in your cotton, grain or any other field, it would be to your advantage to spray," says Raff.

While the Texas Agriculture Extension Service qualifies references to brand names with the statement that no endorsement of a product is intended, Raff said, "best control of the beet armyworm is to spray with Demilin when you notice egg lays and small worms. Confirm should be used on larger worms.

"If Pirate is available for Mitchell County, it does provide better control than Confirm on older worms. But remember—Pirate is not a cure-all. It just provides a little better control than Confirm," he said.

Raff wanted growers to know that he will be out of the office

August 24 through September while he's on his honeymoon. However, questions concerning the beet armyworms can be directed to: Dr. Tom Fuchs (915) 653-4576; Dr. Jim Leser (806) 746-6101, and Mark Logan (915) 573-5423.

The adult moth (4 days or longer) has a wing span of 1.25 inches and can migrate over 100 miles a day. A total of 500-600 eggs can be laid by one female (opposed to the 100 eggs earlier thought) in masses averaging about 80 eggs each, covered with hairs and scales from the female's body. Eggs hatch in two-five days, and larvae feed for 10-24 days (opposed to the seven-14 days earlier thought). The newly hatched larvae are white with a black head. Older larvae are distinctively green in color with a conspicuous black dot on each side on the second body segment behind the head (just above the second pair of legs). Larvae are smooth with few or no hairs on the body and are about 1.25" in length. Unfortunately, the host plants of the larvae can include, but are not limited to, sugar beets, asparagus, alfalfa, corn, lettuce, tomatoes, potatoes, onions, peas, citrus, wild sunflower, pigweed, mallow, saltbush and even wild grasses.

Classic damage includes egg masses coupled with leaf skeletonization by early instar larval feeding. Large larvae can feed on foliage, squares, flowers and bolls (the only thing not listed is the kitchen sink).

him there will need to be four more operations before the end of this year.

In the last few months, Chris has already spent a large amount of time in hospitals. This summer he had chemotherapy treatments at M.D. Anderson.

"Some of 'em [treatments] made me real sick and some of 'em didn't," Chris said last Thursday. Thirty pounds slimmer than he was before he became ill, he uses crutches and wears a baseball cap to cover hair lost from the chemotherapy.

Besides the treatments in Houston, the youngest also spent several weeks at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock this summer where he was in critical condition for four days.

Mr. Sanchez said Chris is in good spirits and anxious to get through the operations and hospital stays, put them behind him and "get on with being a kid".

Chris is interested and involved in his own medical care. In fact, he's so interested that his dad said he was thinking about a career in medicine someday. Intensely curious, he knows about his medications, treatment, and medical procedures. This summer when a technician came to his hospital room to draw blood, he asked them how long they've been working at the hospital and how long they've been taking blood.

A special feature of both hospitals has been hospital employees called "child life workers".

"They're like guardian angels," says Mr. Sanchez. They look out for children's best interests, spend time with them, play games with them, keep them amused, answer their questions, make sure they have whatever they need and help keep their spirits up, he said.

"When he wakes up from his surgery, there'll be two or three child life workers there," said Sanchez.

To face the future and the series of operations Chris will be undergoing, Daniel Sanchez said he was given good advice from Chris' doctor in Houston, Dr. Jeffries.

"Go on with life. Enjoy every day for what it has to offer," Dr. Jeffries told the family.

"Be open and honest with Chris, and learn how to encourage others to be open and honest without giving him false expectations," the doctor told Mr. and Mrs. Sanchez.

Mr. Sanchez said he has so many people he wants to thank.

"Just say thanks to all of the Mitchell County people for their prayers and special thanks to the doctors and staff at Mitchell County Hospital, the churches and the school."

During Chris' hospital stay, mail should be sent to the home address in Colorado City: Chris Sanchez, 828 Cedar, Colorado City, Tx. 79512. The mail is being forwarded.

Several benefits to help defray expenses are scheduled in the near future. Donations to Chris Sanchez are appreciated but should be made only in three ways: 1) directly to the fund set up at City National Bank, 2) directly to Josie Lara (Chris' aunt), or 3) directly to Daniel Sanchez.

He and his wife, Barbara, an instructional aide at Loraine ISD, moved to Loraine this summer after Patterson was hired in July. The couple have three grown children, two of whom are in college—Jody, 23, Jeannie, 20, and Cynthia, 18.

Patterson has taught for 16 years, 15 of those years as a vocational ag teacher.

Patterson, who received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Tarleton State University, is currently working on the mid-management program at Sul Ross University.

His goals for the Loraine school? "We want to be good both in academics and athletics," said Patterson.

WALT DISNEY COMPANY PASS ALONG SHEET

Here are the facts about Walt Disney Company that you should know.

- FACT: Disney HELPED UNDERWRITE the 1993 Hollywood benefit for the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force.
- FACT: Disney GAVE ADVERTISING DOLLARS to support Out, a homosexual magazine.
- FACT: Disney amended its employment policy to add a sexual-orientation clause to give homosexuals special rights. Brian Arbogast de Hubert-Miller, co-chairman of the Gay and Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation/Florida chapter, said: "The most wholesome corporation in America looked to the future and did what they know was in their long-term best interest."
- FACT: Tom Shumacher, Disney VP of feature animation, is an open homosexual who takes his "husband" to executive retreats. In an interview with the homosexual publication The Advocate, Shumacher said: "There are a lot of gay people (at Disney) at every level. It is a very supportive environment."
- FACT: Disney HIRED avowed lesbian Lauren Lloyd for the specific purpose of developing female and lesbian movies. In its November 1994 issue, the homosexual publication Out praised Disney saying: "Like it or not, lesbians are not yet chic entertainment attractions for a lot of America. With Lloyd and Disney on our side, though, anything's possible."
- FACT: In May 1995 Disney's Hyperion Press PUBLISHED A BOOK for children entitled "Growing up Gay." The book is targeted toward children, as this quote from page six proves: "... so we dedicate GROWING UP GAY to all gay youngsters out there who were bred by heterosexuals." Not surprisingly, Disney released the comedy book in time for the Gay/Lesbian Day/Weekend at Disney World.
- FACT: Disney has "HOSTED" Gay/Lesbian Day at Disney World for five years. Although Disney officials (specifically Kenneth Green, Disney's Director of Corporate Communications) claimed they neither knew of nor sponsored the event, the homosexuals who organized the day said Disney was "exceptionally helpful" and went "well out of their way providing assistance."
- FACT: According to monitoring by American Family Association, Disney is one of the top sponsors of pro-homosexual TV programming.
- FACT: Disney's come a long way since Snow White and Pollyanna. Disney movies ARE NOT what they used to be. Disney is the owner of several subsidiaries — most notably Miramax, Touchstone Pictures and Hollywood Pictures — which BUY, PRODUCE and/or RELEASE R-rated movies. A short list of recent examples includes —
 - Priest* (Miramax) — a pro-homosexual movie which depicts five Catholic priests as pervers and blames their perversion on Church teachings. One priest is a homosexual; a second an adulterer; a third an alcoholic; a fourth demented; and the fifth just plain mean and vicious. The film is blatantly anti-Christian.
 - Pulp Fiction* (Miramax) — a seedy movie starring John Travolta. It had an NC-17 rating before editing gave it an R rating.
 - Color of Night* (Hollywood Pictures) — shows co-stars Bruce Willis and Jane March entwined in numerous sex scenes featuring full frontal nudity.
 - The Advocate* (Miramax) — filled with nudity, the movie was rated NC-17 (formerly the "X" rating) but on appeal (and after cutting out a 12-second sex scene) it was given an R.
 - Clerks* (Miramax) — this black and white film about New Jersey convenience store clerks was originally rated NC-17 because graphic and sexually explicit language is woven throughout the film. On appeal, it was given an R-rating.
 - Kids* (Miramax) — according to Variety magazine, this is poised to become "one of the most controversial American movies ever made." According to Newsweek, "the film follows a number of barely pubescent looking boys and girls around New York City as they smoke pot, bait gays, beat a black man and engage in graphic sex." Concludes Newsweek, "The movie is called 'Kids' but you'd better leave yours at home."
 - Chicks in White Satin* (Hollywood Pictures) — a film about a lesbian couple who decide on a semitransitional "commitment celebration."
 - Jefferson in Paris* — Disney backed the production of this movie which spreads the smear (initiated by his political rivals but discounted by historians) that Thomas Jefferson fathered children by a 13-year-old slave girl.

Please write to Mr. Eisner and voice your concern about Disney's betrayal of American families at this address: Chrm. Michael Eisner, Walt Disney Company, 500 S. Buena Vista Street, Burbank, CA 91521. Paid for by Mitchell County Friends of American Family Association, A.K. McCarley, Colorado City.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

By Jim Baum

On the night of April 10, 1889, Gaspar Trevino was gunned down near King's Saloon on Colorado's West End.

Philip Noriga was charged with murder and a special venire of 75 Mitchell County men was called for possible jury duty. Three of the men were excused for various reasons. There were Winfield Scott, J.W. Gilliland and J.W. Nunn.

Attorneys for the two sides selected the following men to serve on the jury: J.E. Adams, George Colvin, H.C. Beal, W.D. Capps, H.H. Otten and Gus Bertner. Also, J.B. Chapman, Fred Schroder, Irving Park, R.H. Griffin, T. McDowell and W.N. Waddell.

Testimony in the case began on May 16, 1889, despite the fact Noriga had requested a continuance in his trial because some of his witnesses could not be located.

They were Stefania and Maria Arianas, Apolonio Arianas, Jesus Hernandez, Lianadro Aguirre, Rosalio Soto, Manuel Dessero and Julio Contreras.

Their subpoenas were returned to the 32nd District Court with the notation, "Not to be found in Mitchell County."

Meanwhile, the state had lined up an impressive list of witnesses. They included Will Swartz, J.W. Woods, Ches Baker, George (Buckey) Brown, Henry Alexander and W.K. King.

Also to be called as witnesses were T.J. Robertson, J.M. Goodwin, Sheriff R.C. Ware and Dr. E.T. Terrell.

There also were two other state witnesses. They're identified in court records as "Mexican Louis" and "Gus, a Mexican."

If the state thought Gus was going to help its case, they were sadly mistaken. In his testimony, the Mexican man said he did know the victim, Gaspar Trevino, but he had only known him about a month. And he didn't know anything about the shooting.

Gus did say, though, that Trevino had come to his house drunk the night of the shooting and the witness added, "he was drunk nearly all the time."

Gus concluded his testimony by saying he didn't know Noriga, he had only seen him two or three times and concluded by saying, "I don't know many Mexicans by name."

Another witness who wasn't very helpful was George Brown. He testified he had seen two or three Mexicans behind King's Saloon, but it was pretty dark that night and he didn't see too much.

Nor was the testimony of Henry Alexander beneficial to the state. He said he was walking past King's Saloon when he heard a shot about 35 yards away. Alexander said he glanced up to see five or six persons standing around.

But he didn't see anyone fall. He didn't see anyone run. And he didn't stick around himself.

Maybe no one saw anything, but Colorado lawmen had a body on their hands and the deceased was definitely the victim of a gunshot.

Dr. E.T. Terrell was called to the scene and he testified he "visited the wounded man in a shanty in southwest Colorado...near the Palace Saloon."

Dr. Terrell said he "found a gunshot wound in the abdomen which caused the death." And the physician concluded his testimony by saying, "He lived five or ten minutes after I reached him."

The inquest was performed by Judge Pearson. He testified that upon examining the wound he found powder in the flesh, indicating the shot had been fired at a very close range.

Also called to testify was the owner of the saloon, W.T. King. "Yes," he said, he knew both Noriga and Trevino. And in fact, around 11 o'clock on the night of April 10, 1889, he heard a shot out behind his place of business.

"We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree and assess his punishment to ten years in the state penitentiary." Signed,

W.J. Beal, Foreman.

King said after a while he went out and found Trevino, as well as several other Mexicans. King added, "The victim lived for about half an hour."

Also, the saloon owner testified earlier that Noriga had been in his business and had a very large pistol, "A 44 or a 45 caliber."

And King said that Noriga claimed, "there was one Mexican he was going to kill."

That was about 20 minutes before the fatal shot was fired.

King added he heard several other shots which sounded as if they had come from near the river shortly after the initial shot.

And he noted both men, Trevino and Noriga, had been in the Palace Saloon earlier in the day. And there had been a row between the two.

King said Trevino seemed to be the aggressor and he had put him out of the saloon.

As for Noriga, King said the Mexican man was drunk the night of the murder and was quoted as saying, "That Mexican is going to kill me and I am fixed for him."

When lawmen examined Trevino's body after the shooting, no weapon was found. However, King testified that earlier the evening of the shooting, the victim had a knife up his sleeve.

Then the state unloaded its big gun and its key witness. A person identified as Will Swartz. When the subpoena was issued for Swartz, it was sent to Tom Green County with this notation: "[Works on] Wiley's Sheep Ranch and is a boy and very dark complexioned."

Swartz's testimony was dramatic. He made the statement, "I saw the killing." And he added, "I was close enough to see the flash of Noriga's pistol and Trevino's clothes caught on fire."

Swartz estimated the two were standing only ten feet apart when the shot was fired.

The young man's testimony was also shocking as he described Trevino's struggle for life after being shot.

"He hollered once in a while, but was not cussing." And Swartz saw Trevino walk, "then fall...get up...fall...and get up...and go in a house." Meanwhile, Officer J.W. Woods had arrived on the scene and put out Trevino's clothes that were on fire.

Swartz concluded his eyewitness account of the shooting by saying he saw four other Mexicans.

Next to testify was Ches Baker, who told the jury he had heard the gunshot and went with Deputy Wood to look for the suspect.

Apparently, it didn't take them long to find him. Baker said they approached a cabin near "Harby's," where they found the door closed and fastened.

But Noriga was enticed to surrender and inside the house they found his coat and belt. Under the house, a pistol was located.

Baker concluded his testimony by saying Sheriff Dick Ware had helped in the search and Noriga muttered, "Me heap good fighter," and several other things which could not be understood.

Judge William Kennedy presided over the trial in his 32nd District courtroom. In his charge to the jury, he told the jurors that Noriga might be found guilty of murder with malice and, if so, his punishment should be set at either life in prison or death.

Or, the court added, Noriga might be found guilty of murder with implied malice. And if such were the case, his punishment would be set for any term not less than five years.

Or the court noted a third possibility. If there's a reasonable doubt in the jury's mind that Noriga committed the murder, "You will acquit him."

Case Number 812, Mitchell County, the State of Texas versus Philip Noriga came to a close when the jury returned the following statement:

NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON THE ENVIRONMENT AND NOTICE OF INTENT TO REQUEST RELEASE OF FUNDS

City of Colorado City
P.O. Box 912
Colorado City, Texas 79512

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

Seventeen (17) days after this publication the City of Colorado City intends to request the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-383), to be used for the following project: Install approximately 8,540 linear feet of sewer lines, manholes and service connections on the west side of the City through a Texas Community Development Program contract No. 714199.

Project to be located in the city limits of Colorado City, Texas. A more detailed description of the project and a map showing the specific locations of the proposed improvements are available for public examination at City Hall, 180 West Third Street, Colorado City, Texas.

Finding of No significant Impact

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and accordingly the above named City of Colorado City has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (P.L. 91-190). The reason for such a decision not to prepare such Statement is based upon the fact that all environmental concerns could either be minimized or mitigated.

An Environmental Review Record for the proposed project has been made by the City of Colorado City which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying upon request in the office of the City Secretary between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Public Comments on Finding

All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the City to address set forth above. Such written comments must be received at the address specified within sixteen (16) days after this publication. All such comments so received will be considered and the City will not request the release of funds or take any administrative action on the project prior to the date specified in the preceding sentence.

Release of Funds

The City of Colorado City will undertake the project described above with Community Development Block Grant under Title I from its program year 1994 under grant numbered 714199 from the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The City of Colorado City is certifying to TDHCA that Jim Baum, in his official capacity as Mayor, consents to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision making and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the City of Colorado City may use the Block Grant funds and it will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. TDHCA will accept an objection to its approval only on one or more of the bases and the procedures described in 24 CFR Part 58.75. Objections are to be addressed to Texas Community Development Program, Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs, P.O. Box 13941, Austin, Texas 78711.

Objections to the release of funds on basis other than one of those stated above will not be considered by TDHCA. No objection received later than thirty-three (33) days after this publication will be considered by TDHCA. The Chief Executive Officer of the City of Colorado City is Jim Baum.

Lorraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Lorraine. Have you been following the Simpson trial from day one?

It seems as if it has been in existence since Texas was a baby state.

Recently, while channel surfing, I stopped on CNN just in time to hear Judge Ito say that there is light at the end of the tunnel.

I just wonder what tunnel he's referring to? The tunnel from England to France, or vice versa, took many years to complete.

Nevertheless, say the trial is over in two months. Can you believe anyone having enough resources to keep eight or nine attorneys at your beck and call for months on end? We all know they don't work for minimum wage.

If Judge Ito is correct and the end of this trial is in sight, then all dedicated, loyal trial watchers should start in now to form group therapy sessions for those of us who will have withdrawal symptoms once the trial is over.

The political arena might prove fun to watch by then, but I doubt it!

Millie Rose had Mr. and Mrs. Theo Harris from Pomona, Calif. visit in her home for several days recently. Millie said they had a great time dining out, shopping, sightseeing and going to church.

Margaret Brame has just returned from San Angelo where she spent last week helping out where she could, while her little grandson Joshua was ill. He was in the hospital for awhile. We are happy to hear is some better.

Juanice, Danny and Pam Butler went to see Gladys Hart recently. Gladys is still at Scenic Mountain Hospital in Big Spring at this time and is doing fairly well.

Soon she will be transferred to a rehab center in Midland.

Our well-wishes go out to her.

Bea Lee has recently attended a dedication with her daughter Jean that honored the late Roy Johnson. Mr. Johnson had taught science for many years in Spur.

A new science room was built and on Thursday it was dedicated in honor of the memory of Roy Johnson.

Clark and Liz Christian from Albuquerque, N.M. spent several days this past week with Oscar and Rachel Singleton.

Syble Walker went home with her daughter, Mary Love Albright, who lives in Odessa, last week. She had some doctors' appointments to make while there and should be back in Lorraine sometime this week.

Krystal and Dawn Butler were taking "things" to HSU last week, getting ready for school.

This will be Krystal's first year and Dawn's second.

Good luck to both! Hope you have a great year!

May and Ann Vonroeder visited the center last Friday as guests of Bro. James Merrell.

The Vonroeders are thinking about operating the cotton delinting business here. They reside in Snyder.

Mary Munoz told me she had been sick for quite a long time this summer but was finally feeling better. We certainly are glad to hear that.

Commissioners appointed to the Lorraine Housing Authority Board are Tom E. Green, Joel Ray Adkins, J.O. Sanderson, Billie Shroeder and Louis Davila.

Hello and congratulations to Golda Redwine, who is now manager/director at Wallace Center in Colorado City.

Anna Staats from Home Health came to the senior center this past week to give us a program on cancer.

This was a program worth waiting for, as Mrs. Staats did a wonderful job of making it very informative and interesting.

It is now known that excess worry and stress in our lives weakens our immune systems, leaving them vulnerable to cancer and other diseases.

Watch your diet, lessen fats and yes, exercise.

Visitors to the center lately have been Fred and Barbara Bowlin, Marie and Curtis Riggs, Arnold Jarrett and Lou Ella Hall.

Also, Becky Morris from Colorado City and Bari Sadler.

Thank you go out to O.C. Gabler and Delmas Bowlin for the delicious cantaloupe donated to the senior center.

Lorraine Stores of Yesteryear More names of Lorraine's places of business of yesteryear are still coming.

My original 30 have been added to several times, thanks to Christine Hall, Ruth Blair, Lela Richburg and Dual Blair.

Kennison Truck Service, Askin Dry Goods, Ola Bassham's Beauty Salon, Hendricks Furniture, Harvey Munn's Baseball Club, Train depot agents—Mr. Graham, Lou Rhodes, B.R. Vaughn (my late husband) and May Caswell. (I'm sure there were others.)

Lee Walker Gin, Blue Goose Gin, Mrs. Richards' Cafe, Virgil Richards' Service Station, Howard Preston's service station, Ed Preston's Cafe, Evan Armstrong's service station, Allen Nelson's grocery, William Martin's barber shop, Hop Manley's garage, Dee Lands' garage and station, Bob Bruce's station, W.P. Mays' station and courts (motels), Mrs. Fairben's grocery, Mrs. Meadows' grocery, G.B. Tart garage, Joe Bryant's cafe, Ike Glass' barber shop, Marion Martin's tailor shop, Bryant's Shoe Shop and Repair, Black Dray Line, Jess Pratt cotton buyer service, Ledbetter Telephone Co., Oden Griggen's phone company and Varnell Templeton's phone company.

Our good friend and neighbor Hilda Etheredge hasn't been feeling up to par lately and we hope she is better at this time.

Here are two notices she would like us to share with their many friends and relations not residing here at this time.

Hilda's sister, Alma Ohlenbusch Hefner, 87, died August 8, 1995 at Rio Grande Regional Hospital in McAllen.

Born in Roscoe, she had lived in Edinburg since 1933.

Survivors include her husband, J.R. Hefner; a son, Dr. James Hefner of Harlingen; a daughter, Joyce Phillips of Houston; a brother, Albert Ohlenbusch of Oglesby and sister, Hilda Etheredge of Roscoe; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mr. J.R. Hefner, 92, husband of the recently departed Mrs. Alma Hefner, lived ten days after his wife's death, then passed away August 18 at Retama Nursing Home in Edinburg. He, too, was buried in Edinburg.

Our sympathy to all the family.

History of Lorraine School Annual

Facts by Edith Wilkerson Since school has once again started, I thought you might enjoy the history of the Lorraine school annual, The Bulldog.

The first book was named The Lorraine and begun in 1942. In 1953 the name was changed to The Bulldog.

In addition to the usual purpose of such a school publication to record the school activities of any current year in pictures, the practical objective was for a senior class project to help finance the customary schedule of graduation events, such as the senior trip, which was never omitted, even in World War II.

The first volume contained only 32 pages but continued to grow during following years.

The first editor was Aileen Hallmark, class of '42. First publishers numbered 34 members. The first dedication was to Superintendent Ed. E. Williams and co-sponsor Mrs. Henri Gay Ison, who continued to sponsor every edition of the Lorraine until she was granted a leave of absence, due to Mr. Ison's failing health in 1951.

From 1942-1952, the publication was a very successful money-making project. To the credit of each annual's staff, it is recorded that every copy deadline and all cash discounts available were realized.

Although every issue was handmade and pictorially reproduced in the final process at the publishers, the edition of 1948 with the late Elaine James heading the staff of students, was the most nearly perfect when critically judged. It scored the highest by every test. Elaine chose to recognize the cotton industry of her local community and saw to it that every phase of it paralleled some part of school life at LHS.

Other books were well done in one or more ways and were outstanding for various reasons. One paramount thought kept before each succeeding staff was to make the best annual of which they were capable for the amount of money involved, but to keep the annual small enough so as not to burden or impair the quality of the following year's production.

Under the very able direction of Mr. Bob Parker, Miss Chrystene Kitchens and Mr. Willis Spurgin, the Lorraine Annual has continued to grow to be a larger publication than ever before.

In 1953, as stated, the name was changed to The Bulldog, which is thought to be more in keeping with the school program.

This goat teriyaki recipe is for readers who requested it.

2 lbs. 1/4 inch thick boneless goat meat

1/4 cup sherry

1/3 cup soy sauce

1/3 cup canned chicken broth

2 tsp. cornstarch

1 Tbs. sugar

1 Tbs. cold water

Trim excess fat from meat, pound flat with mallet and cut into small strips. Blend in sherry, soy sauce, chicken broth, reserve 1/4 cup of this sauce. Marinate meat in remaining sauce for one hour.

For a meat glaze, use 1/4 cup of reserved sauce, 1/4 cup sugar in a 1 quart sauce pan. Heat but don't boil. Dissolve cornstarch in the cold water and stir into heated sauce. Cook over medium heat until sauce is thick. Glaze over meat, then stir fry until brown. Serve over rice. Thanks to Mary McMullen, C.E.A.

We are looking forward to seeing old friends as they come back to Mitchell County for the Old Timers' Reunion. Remember, the date is September 16.

A State of Superiority

A Texas preacher once prayed:

Oh Lord, we thank thee for the bounteous blessings bestowed upon Texas; and we beseech thee to look with favor upon those places where your feet have never trod.

In the general post office at San Antonio, there are three letter drops. One is labeled "Local," the second, "Texas" and the third, "Other States and Foreign Countries."

Take good care and see you around town.

Wolf scrimmage Thursday

Face off against Bangs in Ballinger

The Colorado Wolves travel to Ballinger Thursday for what will be the first of two pre-season scrimmages this year.

The Wolves will face-off against Bangs, a very strong 2A school.

Wolf coaches got their first look at the Wolves in game type situations last Friday during an intersquad scrimmage.

Head Coach Bill Grissom was somewhat pleased with the scrimmage.

"We did a few things right and after looking at the film we saw a lot of things we need to work on," he commented. "Overall, I was pleased with the good effort by the kids. I liked the way we moved the ball."

Offensively this year the Wolves will be running the veer. Coach Grissom's veer will be led by senior quarterback Frank Espinoza with sophomore speedster Aerian Emerson and junior Tony Walthall making up the backfield.

The defense suffered a big blow last weekend when junior stand-out linebacker Joe Ross Jameson was injured in a roping accident.

The All-District linebacker will be sorely missed. Monday he was taken to Concho Valley Regional Clinic in San Angelo for examination. According to Rosanne Jameson, major reconstructive surgery will have to be performed in November; however, he will be able to play most of the season.

Jameson will miss three to four weeks and may be back in the Wolves line-up for the Merkel game. Jameson is to start therapy this week.

The scrimmage Thursday will begin with the freshmen at 5 p.m. Each team will have 20 plays on offense and 20 plays on defense.

Around 6:30 p.m., the JV will scrimmage, followed by the varsity at approximately 8 p.m.

The varsity starters will go 20/20 followed by the second team going 15/15 and another 10/10 series by the varsity to conclude the scrimmage.

Gold pass allows free admission to seniors

Expect to see even more senior citizens than normal at the Wolf football games this season. They'll be the ones holding gold cards, a pass that allows them to attend all local athletic events free of charge.

CISD Board of Trustees approved issuing the Senior Citizen Gold Cards at Tuesday's meeting of the school board.

The card will allow senior citizens 65 years and older free admittance. Reserved seats will still need to be purchased at regular prices.

Gate keepers at the football games and all other athletic events will have the cards. They can also be obtained at Colorado High School.
