TUESDAY MORNING COLLISION PUTS ONE IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Lynn George was critically injured when driving the automobile above Tuesday morning. Her car ran head-on into a parked vehicle, left, on the side of Highway 70 about one mile west of Olton. Mrs. George suffered several broken ribs when her car collided with the other car, throwing her into the steering wheel, right, and dash board. She is in Lubbock Methodist Hospital recovering at the present.

Olton FFA Members Place In State Fair

Morrison Shows Reserve Champ

Olton High School's FFA members did their usual at the State Fair in Dallas—Very Good.

As in the past, members of the local Future Farmers of America chapter captured numerous awards with their animals in the livestock judging.

Of the 15 animals entered by eight Olton youths, 12 placed. Highest honor awarded to one of the local entrants was Reserve Grand Champion Burrow, owned by David Morrison.

Also, Morrison and Jerry George showed reserve grand champions in individual swine classes.

How They Placed

Other members placing in competition were: Carl Nafzger, third place in Shorthorn heavyweight class; Jimmy Tollett, third place middleweight Shorthorn; Roy Neil Jones, 22nd and 31st in Southdown lamb class;

Jerry Mathis, first place middleweight Chester White class; George, first heavyweight and Reserve Champion Chester White; Morrison, first light-weight Duroc and Reserve Champion in class;

Mathis, fourth place heavy-weight Duroc; Nafzger, second in heavyweight Hampshire; Jones, sixth, in lightweight Hampshire; George, first lightweight boar in Poland China class;

Morrison, first middleweight Poland China, champion in class and Reserve Grand Champion of Show.

Paid $1 A Pound

The high-winner entry of Morrison was defeated by a Hampshire. Eight breeds were entered in competition. Morrison is the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Fisher of Olton. His barrow, bred by Dewey Hukill, weighed 207 pounds and sold for $1 per pound.

There were 853 pigs entered in the beginning. Of that amount, the local FFA members competed against 567, after 99 had been sifted.

In the lamb judging, 375 were judged after 46 entries were sifted.

More than double the amount of milk-fed steers were shown in the market steers class, 199 and 99.

The FFA members from Olton rested nights in the Shamrock Motel in Dallas. Max Malone, one of the chapter sponsors, complimented the boys, stating "All the boys worked exceptionally good at the show."

The group left Olton late Sunday afternoon, Oct. 12, and returned Saturday, Oct. 18.

Mrs. Lynn George was critically hurt early Tuesday morning in one of two traffic accidents involving parked vehicles.

Highway patrolmen said Mrs. George was injured when her car crashed into a parked auto operated by E. C. Jones.

Relatives with Mrs. George at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Thursday morning said the victim suffered a shattered knee, fracture of the thigh bone just above the knee, fracture of five ribs and a bruised lung.

"The doctors say she will be just fine if she doesn't take pneumonia," said a sister, Mrs. Vern Steffey, who was at the bedside. Mrs. Steffey said her sister "rested fairly well" Wednesday night.

The accident occurred about 8:15 o'clock Tuesday morning on Highway 70 just west of Olton.

Officers Explain

Here's how officers say it took place.

Mr. Jones had gotten out of his car and walked across the highway to talk to one of his truck drivers, Thomas Davis. The Jones car and the truck were parked off the highway and just across the road from each other.

A truck operated by an unidentified driver was traveling east and approaching the two parked vehicles. Mrs. George was attempting to pass in her car.

Officers believe the sun was in her eyes. As she approached the two parked vehicles, she realized the danger and apparently hit her brakes. From existing evidence the left brake grabbed, pulling her head-on into the parked car.

No charges have been filed in connection with the mishap, authorities said.

Mrs. George was rushed to Community Hospital in Olton in a Parsons Funeral Home ambulance. She was given emergency treatment and then taken to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Second Wreck

The second accident took place about a half hour later and under strangely similar circumstances. It occurred on Cemetery Road about 1 mile east and three miles north of Olton.

Two automobiles were parked on opposite sides of the road about 180 feet apart. Mrs. Roma Martinez was driving south. She pulled out to miss the first car and then lost control of her auto hitting the second which belonged to Ustacio Garcia of Brooketville, Texas.

There were no serious injuries in that accident.

Band Boosters Are Selling 1959 Calendars

The Band Boosters Club have launched a campaign to sell band calendars to raise money for the band, according to Mrs. Cleo Smith, secretary.

The calendars will be similar to last year's. They will feature pictures of the band and band activities each month. Also, listings of individual birthdays, anniversaries, club and civic meetings, will be featured on the correct dates.

For the family, the listings of each child's birthday and the parents' birthdays and anniversary plus the calendar, will cost $2.00; however, individual listings will cost 25 cents and $1.00 for the calendar.

Listings and orders will end November 10 and the calendars will be distributed January 1.

Highway 70 Must Be Widened, Or Moved

Heavy Decision Placed On Property Owners

By BOB HAMILTON

Highway 70 will either stay at its present location or will be routed around Olton—depending on the decision of property owners who presently front the thoroughfare.

The option was presented to three Olton men by O. L. Crain, division highway engineer in Lubbock.

Crain told the three Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture delegates that the portion of highway through town must be widened, or be routed around the city's limits.

State highways passing through a town must have 100 feet right-of-way, and must be curbed and guttered. The distance from curb to curb must be 80 feet, with 10 feet on either side for sidewalks and utility lines.

The option was stated, according to the delegates, "If the people don't want to spend the money, a by-pass will be built around the city. The state will have to go one way or another."

Ralph Glover, one of the delegates, said Wednesday "The Chamber has gone as far as it can go. The state has the money available, wants to do the job, and now the property owners must determine if they want the highway widened or not."

Glover was joined on the trip by Basil Sherman and Marshall Campbell.

Meeting Called
The Chamber board will meet with Highway 70 property owners at 7:30 PM Tuesday in Legion Hall.

The decision to be made by the property owners is—if they are willing to move some of the objects obstructing the highway's expansion, or blocking off a part of their business facilities. Also there is the financial angle.

Most of the businesses to be affected are service stations. According to a survey made by the Highway Dept., most of the moving must take place at the McGowan Service Station, Roberts Service Station and G. H. Bley Service Station.

Others heavily affected will be Roberson-Givens Texaco Station and Highway Service Station. Southwestern Public Service Company and General Telephone Company must move all their lines.

Almost all of the other businesses will be affected little according to the Highway Dept. survey, Crain said.

Decision that the improvement must be made on Highway 70 through Olton was reached by the Department after a traffic count disclosed the normal flow of traffic from the east was 2,150 vehicles a day, and 1,890 from the west.

Actual cost to the property owners, Crain said, would be approximately $2 per foot for curb and gutter. The rest would be paid by the state.

City To Help

The city of Olton has guaranteed payment to the state and agreed to handle collections of payments from property owners.

Crain told the delegates he believed the construction could be completed within the next six to 12 months, but probably by the end of next summer.

The engineer also told the delegates that, should the highway be widened through town, property fronting it would increase in value two-fold. But, should Olton be by-passed, the value would decrease by the same amount.

Crain said "Now is the cheap time to do this sort of thing. If by-passed, all improvements to the highway in the future would cost the city and individuals, and not the state. All maintenance would be left up to the city, also. This would cost city tax payers heavily in Olton, because the road is badly in need of repairs even now."

All propositions are the same as they were when Main Street was widened and improved three years ago. The Highway will be the same as Main Street, complete with intersection islands.

This means that from Straw-Burrow Gin to Olton Co-Op Gin, the highway would take on the appearance of Olton's Main Street, in beauty and safety.

Mother Of James M. Speer Dies

Mrs. W. H. Speer, 86, of Rogers died Friday morning, October 17, at the home of her son at Houston. She is the mother of James M. Speer of Olton.

Funeral services were held at 3 PM, Saturday, October 18, at the First Methodist Church at Rogers. Rev. W. E. Harold and Rev. Ben Marney officiated with burial in the Rogers Cemetery.

Mrs. Speer was born September 14, 1872, at Luthersville, Ga. She married Wayne H. Speer in Roodville, Ga., on May 15, 1892, and moved to Texas in 1895 and to Rogers in January, 1902. She was a member of the First Methodist Church for 56 years.

Mrs. Speer was preceded in death by her husband and five children.

Survivors are four sons, George, of Dublin, James M., of Olton, Blake L., and Dr. Wayne H., both of Houston; three daughters, Mrs. J. C. Rucker of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. John Chaffin, Waco, and Miss Eunice Speer of Rogers; two brothers, Rev. L. E. Strickland of Buffalo and L. Z. Strickland of Waco; a sister, Mrs. John Morris of Rogers; 17 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Heavy Loss From Fire In Hart Store

Had the city of Hart not purchased a fire truck some 60 days ago, one of the town's oldest business establishments would be ground-level today.

Fire broke out in the Homer Hill Store about 2:30 PM Tuesday when a 100-pound butane tank exploded, spurring flames into the store itself.

Two employees were injured, neither critically, by the explosion. Insurance adjusters estimate $2,000 damages to the building and about the same to stock.

Hill's laundry, located across the street from his general merchandise store, was partially burned only two days previously.

The two fires were the first in Hart since the city acquired the fire engine.

Men Injured

Most seriously injured in the butane explosion was Vincent Chapa, 25. He was blown several feet in the air by the explosion. Chapa received first degree burns to his face, head, neck and hands. He also received a severe contusion to his left leg.

Vincent's father, Cesario, 67, received a head concussion and was overcome by smoke inhalation. Both men were treated at Community Hospital in Olton and released.

According to one of the Hart Volunteer Fire Department members, when the butane bottle exploded, in a small shed next to the store, it fell facing the store, spewing flames.

The flames followed the building wall interior up to the ceiling, and about the same to stock.

Insurance adjusters estimate $1,000 damages to the building and about the same to stock. Most of the stock damage was caused by water. Fireman had to break through the ceiling to put out the overhead flames.

Drag Flaming Bottle

One group of men hooked a chain onto the flame-throwing butane bottle and dragged it into the road to let it burn itself out. The bottle had been filled that morning.

Hill's store was open for business yesterday morning, though very little repairs had been made.

Mrs. Hill expressed deep gratitude to the firemen for their quickness in extinguishing the flames, saving the structure and most of the stock.

COTTON PICKIN' OHS SENIORS

Books On Parade

By Mardema Ogletree

Preacher's Kids by Grace Nies
Fletcher, Dutton, $3.75.
The author of In My Father's House now brings us a sometimes gay and sometimes sad story of what it meant to be brought up in a New England minister's family at the turn of the century.

But times and human nature have not changed so much. Some of the same kind of hilarious and inspiring episodes still take place in preachers' homes. For it is this fish bowl kind of life that often makes children rebell and seek revenge through a bit of mischievous.

The author tells of her family's background and some interesting facts about her grandfather's and her mother's life in early day Fort Worth, Texas.

She says that her family owned nothing when she was a little girl except "a battered upright piano, Dad's books, a fifthhand typewriter with the letter a missing, and our clothes. But it never occurred to us we were poor.
Our wealth was in the coin of the spirit, in music, laughter, and the reality of the unseen, treasure which can be neither stolen nor taxed away. Heaven was as much a place to me as Chicago, which I'd never seen either."

She tells of how she and her family took turns reading a chapter from the Bible every morning at the breakfast table. She says,
"Those early morning sessions set up measuring rods for all literature; we caught the rhythm and glory of great cadences as we never could have skimming
the pages by ourselves."

Is it pure accident that since
'reading readiness' and 'remedial reading' have taken the place of the family's reading aloud together so many boys and girls consider books a nasty dose of medicine? . . . The secret of Ike's and my joyous discovery of the Bible was that Our folks enjoyed it with us."

You meet and laugh at the nosey Mrs. Newte, chairman of the parsonage committee at one small town where the family lived. You silently applaud the mischievous little Ike (the author's little brother) when his well-planned scheme with the cat, the catnip, and the hole in the worn-out sofa shows up the stingy
Mrs. Newte for what she really is.

Summer vacations on the Maine seacoast are vividly described as well as all the people and places the Nies family encountered through the years of moving from one Methodist pasonage to another.

Adolescence and college mean a few wild oats and more rebellion for the preacher's kids. However, their faith, love, marriage, and families of their own give them the courage to face the great sorrows of life.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Editor of the Christian Herald, says of Preacher's Kids—"A thoughtful book it is; but with gaiety and fun everywhere and with an under-flow of inspiration that draws you irresistibly into the depths of an abundant and glorious family life."

And Dr. Clarence W. Hall,
Senior Editor, Reader's Digest, praises it highly also.

In the November issue of Journal of Lifetime Living, is an article about Small Business.
And in that article Hi-Fi Records and Books are listed as good investments because it says that Hi Fi has become popular and that reading is again becoming fashionable.

Fashionable or not, I love reading. I have enjoyed Many Windows, Seasons Of The Heart by

Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Barbara Ann Huff And Norris Dean Holmes

Roswell, NM, First Christian Church Chapel was the scene October 14 for the marriage of Miss Barbara Ann Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Carmie Huff of Roswell, NM, formerly of Hart Camp, and Norris Dean Holmes, US Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Holmes of Roswell.

Rev. C. H. Vanlandingham of Cloudercraft, NM, read the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of golden chrysanthemums and white daisies and candelabras.

Mrs. Irma Johnson, organist, played nuptial selections. They were "I Love You Truly"; "The Lord's Prayer"; and the traditional processional and recessional.

Bridegroom's Sister Attends

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Dearlene Holmes of Roswell attended the bride at maid-of-honor. She was attired in a frock of royal blue nylon net over taffeta and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli tied with pastel blue and royal blue ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Misses Carol Alsop and Fanny May Holmes, both of Roswell. They wore gowns of pale blue nylon net over taffeta. They carried bouquets made identically to the honor attendant's. Their headresses were blue bandeaus with net veils attached.

Sherry Holmes of Albuquerque, NM, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Jim Carter of Roswell and Alan Caraway of Roswell. Carmie Huff II, of Roswell, served both as a candlelighter and ring bearer.

Father Gives

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was a picture in the traditional white gown of all-over lace, styled with long torso waistline. Deep ruffles of nylon net over white taffeta made the full skirt. She wore quinquets of white lace that came to points over the hands. Her bouquet was of white roses and surrounded with white embroidered lace. Her only jewelry was an heirloom gold cameo inherited from her grandmother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Huff selected a pink lace sheath dress over pink satin, black accessories, and a corsage of deep pink roses. Mrs. Holmes chose a pale blue lace over taffeta and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party was honored with a reception in the church parlor. Laid with a blue satin cloth under a nylon net cloth, the serving table was trimmed in sequins edged in lace. The four-tiered cake was white trimmed with roses and love birds and topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. The centerpiece was of orange blossoms, wedding bells, and a good luck horse shoe.

Home After Nov. 1

For traveling to Cloudercraft, Carlsbad Caverns, and Santa Fe, NM, Mrs. Holmes wore a beige wool suit with avocado accessories. After November 1, the couple will make their home in Jacksonville, Fla., where Holmes will be stationed with the US Marines.

Mrs. Holmes is a senior at Roswell High School. She attended Olton High School prior to moving to Roswell where she was awarded the Olton Enterprise

The Play That Could Have Won

About to throw a pass is Senior Halfback Royce Bodkin, right. Had the aerial been completed, Olton would have defeated Muleshoe Friday night. Bodkin was attempting to pass for two points after the last Mustang touchdown, when Olton was trailing 14-13 and only 50 seconds remained in the contest. The pass, however, was blocked by Mule Halfback Lee Roy Corrales.

Mustangs Drop Critical Game To Muleshoe, 12-13

The Mustangs led in everything but the score Friday night as they lost their first conference game of the season to Muleshoe, 12-13.

Playing on the Mule home grounds, Olton repeatedly penetrated the hosts' end of the field, only to lose the ball on downs.

Coach Joe Turner's crew, racked up 296 net yards rushing to Muleshoe's 211. The Mustangs completed 10 of 21 attempted aerials for 167 additional yards, while Muleshoe never got a ball in the air—though several plays had been designed for aerials.

Olton punted out 20 first downs to 30 for Muleshoe.

Fall Three Times

Three times the Mustangs failed to make their destination after penetrating the 10-yard marker. The first time was only seconds after the opening kickoff, when they were stalled on the nine yard line.

The second time Olton had the ball the drive was stalled on the Mule five. The third time was late in the second quarter, on the seven.

Mule halfback LeRoy Corrales proved himself worth his weight in gold during the game. Not only did the Mule speedster score a touchdown on a kickoff return—and kick the winning extra point—he blocked the pass attempt after Olton's last touchdown which, if it had been completed, would have won the game.

On the play, senior halfback Royce Bodkin started around his left end and on a fake run and passed. Corrales was there, and blocked the two-point worth aerial.

The game never lacked excitement. Only one of the touchdowns scored was from closer in than the 35 yard line. And that particular play, a one-yarder, was set up by an 85-yard run.

Both of Olton's touchdowns were scored on passes. The first was a 70-yarder from quarterback Arno Hall to Bodkin. Bodkin caught the ball on the Muleshoe 45, and outran all defenders.

Second Olton Score

Hall, in the fourth quarter with about 50 seconds remaining to play, took the ball from center Phil Neinst, dropped it while rolling out around end, picked it up and passed over the outstretched defenders' hands to end Jimmy Robbins. The play originated on the Mule 35. Robbins took the ball on the 13, where he was standing all by himself, and scampered the rest of the distance unmolested.

Muleshoe scored for the first time when Olton kicked off after the first Mustang tally. Corrales took the ball on his own 10 yard line without breaking full stride, continued to the left sidelines and never slowed or dodged until he was in the end zone.

Hall trapped Muleshoe's quarterback behind the line of scrimmage on the following attempt to score points after touchdown.

Muleshoe scored again midway in the second stanza. After an Olton drive stalled on the Mule 14, fullback Gerald Shanks broke free through the center of the Mustang defense and ran 85 yards before being brought down by L. H. McAdams on the one foot line. Shanks went the distance on the next play.

The deciding point of the game could have gone either way, literally. Corrales place kicked the ball, which hit the goal post center bar, and barely bounced over the top. It made the difference.

The Mustangs netted 127 yards rushing in the first quarter alone. Muleshoe netted 43 in the same period. Both teams ran for 103 yards in the second quarter, and Muleshoe led in net yardage during the third frame, 39 to 20.

Olton was forced to punt only once during the game.

MUSTANGS, INDIANS TANGLE TOMORROW NIGHT AT MORTON

Olton Mustang fans will probably see much of big, rugged running fullback Buck Nairn tomorrow night.

The Mustangs will travel to Morton for the second conference game of the season, and from scouting reports, 170-pound Nairn will be ready for them.

Though the Indians are in their first year as a 2-A team, they must be considered a threat to any team they face, regardless of size and name.

Morton does not have a large team, but the Indians are experienced. Coach Vernard Alexander has 14 returning lettermen back from the 1957 edition which chalked up eight wins against only two defeats.

The Indians run primarily from the Wing T formation. Jack Brown Morton quarterback and returning letterman, is considered by Olton scouts as a "fair passer".

Indians Praised

Mustang scouts praised the Indians in saying "They have good spirit and are fast. They never let down."

Largest player on the Morton team is tackle Eugene Fleenor, who weighs 180 pounds.

Other returning lettermen are Butch Naim, back; Gary Willingham, back; Perry Don Seaney, back; Bob Christian, back; Max Hawthorne, center; Marvin Gathright, guard; Eugene Tarlton, guard; Gary Coffman, end; Butch Tucker, back; Bill Lackey, tackle; Don Gandy, tackle and Ernest Wilson, end.

The Mustangs must win the Morton game to stay alive in the District 2-AA title race. Olton's only hope of emerging from the season with a championship hinges on whether they can defeat Morton and Abernathy. Abernathy, meanwhile, must put down Muleshoe, who defeated Olton last week, 13-12.

Abernathy took Morton to the shed Friday night, shutting out the Indians to the tune of 38-0.

It doesn't take much to keep up with the Joneses in this year's new phone directory! There's only three Jones families listed.

The Smiths are ahead. There are 19 different Smiths listed. Next are the Thomases, 8, and the Browns, 7.

Several names have five telephones listed. For instance, Williams, Huckabee, Hall, Hair, Hackler, Green, Dennis, Carson, and Campbell. In the four names alike column are Roberson, Hines, George, Ball, and Daugherty.

There are approximately 677 telephones listed in Olton's directory this year. (I know that the figure in "about" right—cause I counted 'em!)

We have some pretty good names, too. Let's see, there's Bagley, Ball, Bean, Bearden (pronounced Beer-don), Blackwell, Bledsoe (pronounced Bled-so), Boykin, Bridges, Brothers, Buchenau, Bundick, Burrow, Butler, Campbell, Chitwood, Cole, Coleman, Combest, Cooner, Cross, Cure, Daugherty, Dear, DeBerry, Feathergill, Fisher, Fite, Fitts, Ford, Fuller, Galloway (Galloway—I'm in a hurry!), Givens, Glover.

Godsey (he's a preacher, by the way), Goynes (pronounced Goings), Granberry, Graves, Hackler, Haddad, Hair, Hamby, Hankins, Harcrow, Hardy, Harper, Harrod, Hedges, Hicks, Hipp, Holland, Holley, Holt, Hoop, Horn, Hyatt, Hyman.

Hysinger, King, Kirkpatrick, Lacey, Lambright, Lawson, Light, Locke, Long, Loveless, Love: Machen (pronounced Mansion), Malone (Let me Malone!), Maltby, McBroom, Meadows, Moses, Moss, Nafzger, Neinstay, Nichols, Offield, Ogletree, Oursbourn, Owen, Pinkerton, Pinson, Poteet.

Price, Rainey, Robbins, Salaman, Sampler, Scheller (pronounced Sheller), Sharp, Shaw, Sides, Small, Smart, Smoot, Spain, Speer, Storebel, Stockdale, Traylor (pronounced Trailer), Trotter, Truelock, Turner, Waldrop, Walker, Weaver, Welch, Wheeler, Workman, and Young.

Isn't our weather unpredictable? Friday and Saturday were such beautiful Indian Summer days that I thought, sure 'nough we're gonna' have Indian Summer this year!

Then came Sunday and Monday, bringing sand and high wind. (Which was more like March and April than any other time.)

(Guess you heard about the weather man who moved—the climate didn't agree with him!)

The Ford double wedding (Ann to Bob Pullig and Janice to Don Shepard) was lovely, but I think it was sadder than any other wedding I've seen.

It was sweet that the two sisters wanted a double wedding but think of their parents, Ruth and Harry Ford, having to give them both away. Not only were they giving away their two daughters in one night, but all they were also giving away "all" their family!

And when Ann and Janice both kissed their pop 'fore he left to sit with Mrs. Ford, I could've boo-hoed out loud!

Ann and her husband are living in Brownwood and Janice and Don, in Borger. (The Fords are OHS teachers.) Jes' sentimental, that's me!

The Jeff Smarts—Pat and Jeff—have two of the prettiest little girls, I've seen. Jennifer is red-headed, with creamy complexion and brown eyes. Cindy who is 1½ is dark headed with dark complexion and brown eyes. Such a lovely combination—and both so pretty!

Olton is Chattering About:
The beautiful flock of young mothers: Barbara Daugherty, Fern Gunter, Peggy Carson, Linda Dennis, Maurice Carson, Shirley Pickrell, Beverly Hasha, Alene Light, Betty Coleman, Betty Jo Hall, Ann Nicholas, Margaret Head, Iva Harper, Norma Kennedy, Pat Smart, JoAnn Goss, Naomi Machen, Alada Ross, Mary Moore, Helen McClure, and on and on.

The way cotton harvest has gotten underway and the grade the farmers are getting . . . The thickly populated downtown Olton on Saturdays and Sundays and the impossibility to get through the stores on Saturdays.

Our new Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture head and his wife, Ollie and Wayne Cooper. They're a young couple and have two children.

The awful rash of wrecks we've been having lately and the "luck" that nobody's been seriously hurt or killed . . . The new school buildings that will be started soon . . . The wonderful way our Mustangs played against the "suspendedly terrible" Muleshoe Mules. The almost incredible "likeness" of Joy Johnston and her mother . . . The cute funny-as-can-be Mary (Mrs. Parley) Meyers . . . Mary Berry's sense-of-humor . . . The way Bert Thomas attracts children.

To Parents Concerned About A Child's Progress In Reading!

Reading difficulties are no reflection on a child's intelligence. Some with very high I.Q.'s have trouble with reading. E. W. Dolch, Professor Emeritus of Education, University of Illinois, in his brilliant career as an educator has directed the successful teaching of thousands upon thousands of children who had reading problems. He found the answer in a series of "learn-to-read" games, which seem to fascinate children. While they play, they learn, easily, naturally. Instead of a feeling of failure, they quickly gain confidence and pleasure in their new-found ability. These Dolch reading games cover every phase of the reading subject, such as sight reading, phonics (sounding), etc.

Our store carries a complete stock of the Dolch Play-Way Reading Games. Most teachers heartily endorse these games. We suggest you ask your child's teacher to recommend specific Dolch games, or to tell you in what area of reading your child needs extra help. There is a Dolch reading game to help your child, no matter what the difficulty may be.

ironing things out

by korye martin

It may not be such a small WORLD anymore, what with rockets to the moon et cetera, but it does still seem to be a small EARTH.

For instance:
 Editor Bob Hamilton went to school at Hereford with Gayle

Earthman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Foster. And Gayle and family are now visiting in Olton for the first time in about a year and a half.

Furthermore, Bob is acquainted with another Bob Hamilton who has a twin brother, Bill, and I grew up with these two boys in Amarillo.

What's more, Bob's wife, Dolores, went to school at my alma mater, Amarillo High School, and her math teacher was one Richard Mixon, with whom I went to AHS and whose family is very close to mine. (Her class, for you cynical ones, was, yes, ten years later than mine.)

And finally, some Olton folks ran into my ex-Amarillo Santa Fe boss, Kenneth Chapman and his family, while vacationing in New Mexico last summer, and invited them to Olton to the Shetland Pony show. Chappy came, with his daughter, and of all the people in town that Saturday, ran into the same folks.

But what I'd like to know, is who were the Oltonites who met Chappy and his family in New Mexico? Please show yourselves.

Getting ready for a Blessed Event these days is comparable to making ready for a personal visit from the President of the United States.

At least, it is for some folks. The lady-in-waiting begins rearranging her rooms, painting up old furniture, cleaning out closets and drawers, washing windows, scrubbing woodwork and appliances, mending old clothes, taking inventory on second-hand baby things (if she's lucky), sewing ahead, scrubbing and waxing floors, cleaning walls, and even shampooing the carpet.

All this, for a little wiggly bundle of softness who doesn't care a hoot about any of it and in fact, cares about nothing for quite some time except that his tummy is full and his diaper is dry. He can't even see the things around him—whether they're pink or green, whether the windows are clean or dirty, whether the floors are scuffed or shiny.

And then, when he IS big enough to see and care, this little presumptuous addition makes it his primary business to wet on the waxed floors or the shampooed carpet, to throw his bottle against the scrubbed walls and woodwork, to smear his grubby little fingerprints against the sparkling window panes, and to wreak havoc with the neatly arranged drawers. And this reminds his sighing mother of all the work she manifested in getting ready for the little creature.

But who can tell? Maybe she really was making ready for a FUTURE president of the United States!

Our three-year-old Kaysee almost can't wait for No. 3 to arrive. She's been told he's to get here about Christmastime. And so, in her three-year-old logic, she has arranged this sequence: "It's going to snow and Mommy will go to the hospital, and then Santa Claus will come and bring us a baby boy."

It's been a "boy" for some time with her, because she's already had some experience with a little "baby sister" pulling her hair, and that doesn't sound like too cheery a prospect for her. However, she's finally convinced, I believe, that it may be a girl, and several hours after a conversation about same the other day, she had this figured out:

"Well, when you go to the hospital, Santa Claus will be all out of boys, and so he'll give us a little baby girl!"

As for Jamie's impressions, he's largely concerned with the fact that his mother will have to be away for three days or so. He remembers his little sister's advent. And neither does that sound too cheery a prospect for him.

Otherwise, he thinks another baby sister would be ideal; which is surprising, considering the conflicts between him and the three-year-old now existing. Or, on the other hand, it may be indicative of how much he really and truly loves his little sister.

We'll just have to wait and see.

THE HART BEAT

IN CONFERENCE PLAY

Mustangs Hang On For 24-14 Win Over Hart

Hart's second-half rally Friday night fell short as the Bovina Mustangs stiffened to drop the Longhorns 24-14 in a District 2-B contest here.

Bovina started the scoring in the first quarter on a pass from Kelso to Isham. It was good for 23 yards and a touchdown. Later in the same period, Kelso pushed over from the one-yard line for the second tally.

In the second quarter Kelso passed again to Isham for a three-yard scoring play. Lawlis skirted right end for 10 and the fourth Mustang score in the same frame.

At halftime, Bovina had a 24-0 edge on the Longhorns, and the Mustangs gave every indication they were going to run even wilder after the rest stop.

The third quarter was scoreless.

On the second play of the fourth quarter Hart's Mando Gonzales pushed his way over from the one-yard marker to score. Mando ran the extra point, and Hart closed the gap to a 16-point spread.

Varner Rambles

About three minutes deep in the fourth period Gene Varner roamed 70 yards on a keeper play, only to be stopped on the two-yardline.

Varner refused to be held scoreless however, and plowed through the defense on the next play for the second Hart tally. Coach Bill Shelby said afterward he was pleased with the fight the boys showed in the second half. He said "We looked good the first time we had the ball, but a fumble stopped our drive."

"The second time we had it we looked good on a couple of plays and our quarterback, Larry Lee, made a good fake on the play, but was hurt. It was a belly play. He looked good enough on it (Lee didn't have the ball) that they tackled him, breaking his collar bone."

"Larry is our second quarterback to be lost for the season. A couple of weeks ago, we lost senior Ronnie Farris to injuries." Hart has an open date this week. Next week the Longhorns travel to Happy to meet a strong and powerful-scoring Cowboy eleven.

Hart's yardage gaining backfield Friday night nearly matched the Mustangs, by piling up 213 yards against Bovina's 260.

It may not be such a small WORLD anymore, what with rockets to the moon et cetera, but it does still seem to be a small EARTH.

For instance: Editor Bob Hamilton went to school at Hereford with Gayle

Earthman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Foster. And Gayle and family are now visiting in Olton for the first time in about a year and a half.

Furthermore, Bob is acquainted with another Bob Hamilton who has a twin brother, Bill, and I grew up with these two boys in Amarillo.

What's more, Bob's wife, Dolores, went to school at my alma mater, Amarillo High School, and her math teacher was one Richard Mixon, with whom I went to AHS and whose family is very close to mine. (Her class, for you cynical ones, was, yes, ten years later

And finally, some Olton folks ran into my ex-Amarillo Santa Fe boss, Kenneth Chapman and his family, while vacationing in New Mexico last summer, and invited them to Olton to the Shetland Pony show. Chappy came, with his daughter, and of all the people in town that Saturday, ran into the same folks.

But what I'd like to know, is who were the Oltonites who met Chappy and his family in New Mexico? Please show yourselves.

i-to
Getting ready for a Blessed Event these days is comparable to making ready for a personal visit from the President of the United States.

At least, it is for some folks. The lady-in-waiting begins rearranging her rooms, painting out old furniture, cleaning out closets and drawers, washing windows, scrubbing woodwork and appliances, mending old clothes, taking inventory on second-hand baby things (if she's lucky), sewing ahead, scrubbing and waxing floors, cleaning walls, and even shampooing the carpet.

All this, for a little wiggly bundle of softness who doesn't care a hoot about any of it and in fact, cares about nothing for quite some time except that his tummy is full and his diaper is dry. He can't even see the things around him—whether they're pink or green, whether the windows are clean or dirty, whether the floors are scuffed or shiny.

And then, when he IS big enough to see and care, this little presumptuous addition makes it his primary business to wet on the waxed floors or the shampooed carpet, to throw his bottle against the scrubbed walls and woodwork, to smear his grubby little fingerprints against the sparkling window panes, and to wreak havoc with the neatly arranged drawers. And this reminds his sighing mother of all the work she manifested in getting ready for the little creature.

But who can tell? Maybe she really was making ready for a FUTURE president of the United States!

i-to

Our three-year-old Kaysee almost can't wait for No. 3 to arrive. She's been told he's to get here about Christmastime. And so, in her three-year-old logic, she has arranged this sequence: "It's going to snow and Mommy will go to the hospital, and then Santa Claus will come and bring us a baby boy."

It's been a "boy" for some time with her, because she's already had some experience with a little "baby sister" pulling her hair, and that doesn't sound like too cheery a prospect for her.

However, she's finally convinced, I believe, that it may be a girl, and several hours after a conversation about same the other day, she had this figured out:

"Well, when you go to the hospital, Santa Claus will be all out of boys, and so he'll give us a little baby girl!"

i-to

As for Jamie's impressions, he's largely concerned with the fact that his mother will have to be away for three days or so. He remembers his little sister's advent. And neither does that sound too cheery a prospect for him.

Otherwise, he thinks another baby sister would be ideal; which is surprising, considering the conflicts between him and the three-year-old now existing. Or, on the other hand, it may be indicative of how much he really and truly loves his little sister.

We'll just have to wait and see.

THE HART BEAT

IN CONFERENCE PLAY

Mustangs Hang On For 24-14 Win Over Hart

Hart's second-half rally Friday night fell short as the Bovina Mustangs stiffened to drop the Longhorns 24-14 in a District 2-B contest here.

Bovina started the scoring in the first quarter on a pass from Kelso to Isham. It was good for 23 yards and a touchdown. Later in the same period, Kelso pushed over from the one-yard line for the second tally.

In the second quarter Kelso passed again to Isham for a three-yard scoring play. Lawlis skirted right end for 10 and the fourth Mustang score in the same frame.

At halftime, Bovina had a 24-0 edge on the Longhorns, and the Mustangs gave every indication they were going to run even wilder after the rest stop.

The third quarter was scoreless.

On the second play of the fourth quarter Hart's Mando Gonzales pushed his way over from the one-yard marker to score. Mando ran the extra point, and Hart closed the gap to a 16-point spread.

Varner Rambles

About three minutes deep in the fourth period Gene Varner roamed 70 yards on a keeper play, only to be stopped on the two-yardline.

Varner refused to be held scoreless however, and plowed through the defense on the next play for the second Hart tally.

Coach Bill Shelby said afterward he was pleased with the fight the boys showed in the second half. He said "We looked good the first time we had the ball, but a fumble stopped our drive.

"The second time we had it we looked good on a couple of plays and our quarterback, Larry Lee, made a good fake on the play, but was hurt. It was a belly play. He looked good enough on it (Lee didn't have the ball) that they tackled him, breaking his collar bone.

"Larry is our second quarterback to be lost for the season. A couple of weeks ago, we lost senior Ronnie Farris to injuries." Hart has an open date this week. Next week the Longhorns travel to Happy to meet a strong and powerful-scoring Cowboy eleven.

Hart's yardage gaining backfield Friday night nearly matched the Mustangs, by piling up 213 yards against Bovina's 260.

Had it not been for our own fire equipment and boys, the building and contents could have been a complete loss with perhaps other damage being done.

HATS OFF TO YOU, Fire Boys!

Have asked Glenda Dean (Mrs. Joe Newman) to write an article for me this week. She very graciously consented.

This trying to write each week and find NEWS for the paper when there just seems to be none, is quiet a chore, especially when one's education is as limited as mine. It really is a task.

So if you get TWO BLANK PAGES IN THE HART BEAT SOMETIME I just failed to find the news and YOU DID NOT CALL ME. Then I can say "I TOLD YOU SO."

Believe Mr. and Mrs. Casey

THANK YOU NOTE

Members of the Hart Zealot Club wish to thank those who helped with their supper recently. After bills were paid, the club netted $100.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank each and every one who was so nice to me during my recent illness.

Your visits, flowers, cards, and calls helped me to "get well". May God bless each of you.

Ray Warren

Note OF Thanks

We wish to thank everyone who helped to save the laundry from burning entirely Sunday. We would like to thank you personally, but are unable to get names. Especially do we thank the HART FIRE DEPARTMENT, for without their assistance the building and contents would have been a complete loss.

Jones were shown "WESTERN HOSPITALITY" at their formal opening Saturday. The many flowers sent them, made them so happy, and just proves that HART HAS A HEART!

Had you noticed the construction going on in front of the business houses on BROADWAY? We are getting a FACE LIFTING on them. Believe the new fronts are to correspond to the BANK BUILDING FRONT.

Also have you heard rumors of other new buildings and new businesses for Hart? We still have a number of vacant lots and need more people and businesses.

I did not know there was a HART YOUTH FUND in Hart until we recently had a death in our family and some friends contributed to the Fund in place of giving flowers. Others gave to the CANCER RESEARCH, while others gave to THE CEMETERY FUND.

To us, they are living MEMORIALS, while the flowers were so sweet but were so soon gone. When I was a child, I went to a funeral where there were no flowers and it made a sad impression on me.

Just wanted to pass along the word about using our money for LIVING MEMORIALS.

Thank you GLENA DEAN for your article! When you feel like

W. G. Finney, for the second time this season, won The Enterprise weekly football contest.

The Oct. 18 judging marked the first time in the contest's young history a winner emerged with a clean-cut victory. There were no ties for first place.

There were, however, four ties for second and third places—Wayne Hair, Alton Goodin of Hart, Flake Price of Hart and Joe Turner.

Hair and Price won second and third places respectively. Turner was the only one of the four—some who missed selecting the three "tie breaker" winners, and was automatically out of the running. Hair had the closest point-spread, and Price's point-spread was closer than Goodin's.

Entered Four Times

Finney, who now has a 56-16 record for the season, won the week of Oct. 4. He has entered only four times.

This past contest marked the fourth consecutive week W. Hair has selected 13 correct and five wrong winners. He has won second place twice. The other time was Sept. 20.

Hair is tied with G. T. Sides
