

Easter Symbolic Of Lord's Love

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of stories on the meaning of Easter as written by Pampa High students.)

By CINDY ERWIN

Perhaps the most fascinating time of the year is Easter. There is the small child's excitement over the bunny's visit while thoughts of new clothes and Easter vacation fill most of our minds.

Whether a regular church member or not, everyone goes to church on this one day, dressed in gay finery. Each will worship in his own church. Each will hear how a loving God who is all-important in our Christian nation, sent his son to die that we might have eternal life.

Easter marks changes. Not only is it the death of Christ, but the weather and future seem to brighten from this date each year.

By Easter, spring is a week on its way, and soon the various shades of green will brightly color the landscape. School becomes a blur of rush activities and is over all too soon for parents.

To me Easter is all these things but most of all, Easter is a symbol of our Lord's undying love.

STABBED — U.S. Ambassador to Japan, Edwin Reischauer, is visited in a Tokyo hospital by his Japanese-born wife after he underwent surgery for a four-inch stab wound in his right thigh. Kowa Shiotani, a former mental patient, attacked the ambassador Monday as he left the Embassy for lunch. The ambassador's condition is good. Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda today used the first live television broadcast between Japan and the United States to apologize directly to the American people for the incident.

Senator Urges New US Policy On Cuba, Canal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., called today for a new U. S. look at policies toward Cuba, Panama and Viet Nam. He said the American people should abandon "myths" for "realities" in their approach to the cold war.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the United States should negotiate revisions in the Canal Zone treaty with Panama "even though a commitment to revise the treaty may be widely criticized at home."

He also said the time had come to recognize that Fidel Castro's Communist regime in Cuba is here to stay indefinitely as a "distasteful nuisance but not an intolerable danger."

The administration has said time and again it would sit down with the Panamanians to review the 1903 Canal Zone treaty, but only after diplomatic relations are resumed. President Johnson and his advisers have steadfastly refused to agree to any "revisions" of the treaty before such talks and before relations are re-established.

The administration also has sought to isolate Communist Cuba from the rest of the hemisphere and to choke its economy by persuading the United States' allies not to trade with the Fidel Castro government.

Although Fulbright appeared to be bucking the administration line on the two Latin American hot spots, he rejected proposals for neutralization of South Viet Nam.

Two Options
In Viet Nam, he said, the "only two realistic options" are expanding the war to Communist-held territory or giving heavier support for the South Vietnamese regime. He favored the latter course, which is current administration announced policy.

Fulbright's views were contained in a major foreign policy speech prepared for Senate delivery. The address appeared almost certain to touch off repercussions in many quarters.

He said the U. S. failure to persuade allies from trading with the Communist bloc was a good reason for "relaxing our own restrictions." But, he added, "there is a better one—the potential value of trade, a moderate volume of trade in non-strategic items, as an instrument for reducing world tensions and strengthening the foundations of peace."

Fulbright said the Johnson administration should seek to end the Panama dispute by "stating positively and clearly that it is prepared to negotiate revisions in the canal treaty and to submit such changes as are made to the Senate."

No Weakness
He found "no weakness or dishonor" in such a position and said it would be "entirely proper and necessary for the United States to take the initiative in proposing new arrangements that would redress some of Panama's grievance against the treaty as it now stands."

Fulbright said the Vietnamese situation "poses a pressing need for a reevaluation of American policy."

Meet Obligations

In any case, he said, the United States must "meet its obligations and fulfill its commitments with respect to Viet Nam."

Fulbright called for a "can-did reevaluation of our Cuban policy even though it may lead to distasteful conclusions."

He said there were only three options — an invasion to destroy Castro, an economic boycott to bring down his regime, or "acceptance of the Communist regime as a disagreeable reality and annoyance but one which is not likely to be removed in the near future."

Fulbright said "no responsible statesman advocates" invasion. And, he said, it seems clear that the U. S. policy of strangulation by boycott "has been a failure and there is no reason to believe that it will succeed in the future."

Senate Anticipating Filibuster on Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, almost past the first obstacle in its civil rights struggle, today began sizing up troubles expected when the full-fledged filibuster begins after Easter.

Leaders agreed informally to vote Thursday on two motions — one to call up the House-passed bill and the other to refer it to the Judiciary Committee for a 10-day study.

The Senate was certain to vote to take up the measure, which would ban racial discrimination in voting, education, employment, unions, places of public accommodation and use of federal funds.

Backers of the bill also were confident they could defeat the motion by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to send it to the Judiciary Committee.

It was Morse who sent up storm signals Tuesday on what is to come after the Easter weekend recess.

He served notice he would try to bring other Senate business to a "dead halt" in an effort to encourage members to furnish the two-thirds vote needed to gag the impending filibuster.

Morse announced he would object to any committee meeting while the Senate is in session. He refused to exclude the Appropriations Committee despite pleas and protests that its work is vital to conduct of government business.

Committees now are meeting in the early morning to beat the 10 a.m. convening hour of the Senate. Later on, longer Senate sessions — perhaps round-the-clock — would block all committee hearings if Morse carries out his threat.

U.S. Officer Hit, Native Killed in Viet

SAIGON (UPI) — A U.S. Army officer was wounded and a South Vietnamese military province chief was killed when they were riding in a Viet Cong mine about 30 miles south of Saigon Tuesday night, it was reported today.

The American officer was the ninth American casualty in two days.

He was evacuated to the U.S. Naval Hospital in Saigon and reported in "good condition" today.

The dead province chief was Vietnamese Army Lt. Col. Tran Hoang Quan, described by some American military advisors as one of the most effective province chiefs in the vital Mekong River delta region.

A U.S. Army helicopter with five Americans and a Vietnamese observer aboard crashed Tuesday while supporting a supply mission in Quang Tri Province north of Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

General MacArthur continues to progress satisfactorily, indicating a better than average post-operative course. "He is alert and conversing."

MacArthur underwent a six-hour operation Monday to halt severe internal bleeding while recovering from a previous critical operation for jaundice on March 6.

Now, as after the earlier operation, his doctors indicated they were impressed with the tough battle back he is waging for a man of his age.

He came out of a long period of anesthesia early Tuesday but was kept under sedation.

Demonstrations Planned Again In Jacksonville

Florida Governor, Negro Leaders Meet to Set Good Friday March

By United Press International
More demonstrations were planned today at Jacksonville, Fla., where racial violence has left one person dead; several others injured and scores arrested.

Jacksonville was the focal point of racial unrest across the Southland. At Tallahassee, Gov. Farris Bryant and Negro leaders met today to lay peace plans for a Good Friday racial march and to discuss integration problems in Florida.

Integration technically became a full reality in public schools Tuesday at Little Rock, Ark., scene seven years ago of federal forced desegregation.

Negro pickets marched in the rain at Little Rock outside the building while the school board voted unanimously in favor of a resolution declaring "that all 12 grades of the system be desegregated as of the 1964-65 school year."

The demonstrations planned at Jacksonville were to be of the "hit-and-run" type, according to the Rev. Rutledge Pearson, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

However, Pearson, urged the Negro community to cease acts of violence and vandalism.

Pearson blamed Mayor Haydon Burns for violence that broke out Monday and resulted in a two-day wave of beatings, shootings, rock and bottle battles and fire bombings that resulted in the death of a Negro woman and the arrest of 315 Negroes, including 185 juveniles.

Pearson said Burns incensed Negroes by swearing in 495 firemen as "special policemen" to help deal with demonstrators and that he had given only token support to a biracial committee that recently disbanded for lack of success in negotiating the desegregation of downtown hotels and restaurants.

Burns has blamed the troubles on his political opponents. He is running for governor.

Bryant's meeting today with Pearson and other NAACP officials was to work toward improving the racial situation in Florida and to discuss plans for the Good Friday demonstration.

Elsewhere:
Atlanta: The owner of a truck stop restaurant where whites and Negroes have staged rock and bottle battles said that Negroes stoned three automobiles parked in front of his establishment Tuesday night. Negro integration leaders disclaimed any knowledge of the incident and said they have declared a moratorium on demonstrations at the restaurant.

Also in Atlanta, a committee studying a new state Constitution has approved a draft in Georgia's basic school law that erases all reference to race except for a "freedom of association" amendment. A special session of the general assembly will consider the proposed new constitution in May.

Cleveland, Miss.: Louisiana segregationist leader Leader Perez and former Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett took turns attacking the federal civil rights bill Tuesday in speeches before a gathering of citizens councils. Perez described the bill as "a blackjack to coerce the people." Barnett said the bill would "absolutely destroy local self government."

Total Soars For Foundation Drive

A near-perfect attendance for the morning coffee report of the Pampa Industrial Foundation, Inc., investment drive produced lots of laughs and another $17,765 in pledges to the campaign. Fred Neslage, general chairman of the drive, reported a total of $17,765 in additional pledges had been received since the last coffee meeting Thursday.

This brought the general total to $143,531 or some 72 per cent of the $200,000 goal being sought.

The laughter came when Duggan Smith's team, nicknamed "Slim's Big Thinkers," walked off with a "valuable prize" for having the highest percentage of workers present at the meeting.

The prize turned out to be a "Mama Easter bunny and a flock of little Easter bunnies."

Smith quickly turned the presentation into a roaring success as he calmly named each rabbit for a member of the campaign's executive committee. He ran into one problem, the bunny named "Red" (for E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth) wouldn't co-operate and came out of the cloverfield he was munching on while being presented.

"I'm going to take these furry little friends right down to the Pampa Daily News and pawn them off for my subscription bill," Smith joked.

The General investment drive group brought in $8,065 to add to (See DRIVE, Page 3)

Bible Getteth Man Off Jury Duties

HOUSTON (UPI) — Newlywed Clyde Nathan Williams of Houston used a Bible quotation Tuesday to be excused from a week of jury duty.

The quotation, from Dueteronomy 24:5:

"When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business; but he shall be free at home one year and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken."

Judge Arnold Krichamer checked the passage in the Bible and sent Williams home to his wife.

Russia Gets Dual Warning

PARIS (UPI) — The Chinese Communists have delivered two blunt warnings to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that a complete break between Moscow and Peking may be near, Eastern European diplomatic sources said today.

They were based on: —A recent statement by the Chinese to a visiting Romanian delegation that Red China now considers itself the leader of world communism and regards the Russians as "deviationists." This assertion, the sources said, was passed on by the Romanians to Moscow.

—Rejection by the Chinese Communists recently of a Soviet offer to send Russian experts back to China and to resume Russian technical aid which was withdrawn after relations between the two parties became strained.

The Romanian delegation, which visited both Khrushchev and Chinese leaders in Peking, returned home with the feeling that a complete break is inevitable and may come soon, Eastern European diplomats said.

The Romanians were said to have proposed a cooling-off period during which both sides would pledge themselves to refrain from polemics. Later, it was suggested, a Soviet-Chinese meeting would take place, possibly with other Communist parties acting as mediators.

Communist sources said the (See RUSSIA, Page 3)

College Professor Takes Ruby's Case

DALLAS (UPI) — The re-volving-door job of chief defense attorney for condemned killed Jack Ruby, held previously by two flashy courtroom performers, wound up in the hands of a bespectacled college professor today.

He is Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, director of the Law Science Academy at the University of Texas, who holds both a law degree and a medical degree from Harvard University.

His hiring was announced by Ruby's sister, Mrs. Eva Grant, at a press conference Tuesday night.

Smith said he will serve without fee.

Defense Team
Working as his assistant, also without fee, will be Prof. Charles Wright, a colleague at the university. Defense attorneys Phil Burselson of Dallas and Joe Tonahill of Jasper, Tex., will remain on the case.

Smith replaced famed Texas criminal attorney Percy Foreman of Houston who quit the case Monday in a dispute with Mrs. Grant. He said she was trying to run the defense. Bell was fired by Ruby for denouncing Dallas and the trial court in a wild tirade after Ruby was given the death sentence.

Mrs. Grant Tuesday night complained about Foreman's charges and said he had "stood me up" for a breakfast date they had to discuss his contract to try to save Ruby from the

Ruby Is Pleased

She said the contract Foreman presented the family "made me sick," but that Ruby seemed "very pleased" with the hiring of Smith.

Tonahill said the motion already filed for a new trial "only scratched the surface," and a new motion would be presented within 17 days.

Smith said he plans to ask to have Ruby taken to some hospital, perhaps the Austin State Hospital at Austin, Tex., for medical tests.

Smith said he anticipated introducing new evidence into the case within 30 days, probably sooner.

General Still Continues To Improve

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur was reported showing continued satisfactory progress today in recovery from his second major operation in 18 days.

The 84-year-old military hero's convalescence appeared to continue to amaze his doctors. A bulletin issued by the Army's Walter Reed Medical Hospital center at 9 a.m. EST said:

"General MacArthur continues to progress satisfactorily, indicating a better than average post-operative course. "He is alert and conversing."

MacArthur underwent a six-hour operation Monday to halt severe internal bleeding while recovering from a previous critical operation for jaundice on March 6.

Now, as after the earlier operation, his doctors indicated they were impressed with the tough battle back he is waging for a man of his age.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hdw. (Adv.)

Dear Abby.... Leave Well Enough Alone Things Are Doing O.K.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who used to arrive on my doorstep daily for a two-hour coffee break. I finally had to tell her that I didn't have the time for it. She is the sensitive type who is easily hurt, so, ever since then, she has acted very cool towards me, and hardly speaks. I must admit that I enjoy the freedom from these coffee breaks, and therefore hesitate to revive our friendship. How can I accomplish this without getting back on those two-hour coffee breaks?

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: You can't. Leave well enough alone. You don't know when you are well off.

DEAR ABBY: A second man has entered my life. I am a church woman, but if you will let me explain, perhaps you will find some compassion for me.

I think it was his eyes that first breached my reserve. Always beautiful, they sometimes appear gray and turbulent, like mountain lakes whipped to anger by a passing storm. His hair, rivaling the beauty of his eyes, has the windblown freshness of the open field. His physique is as perfect as his smile is disarming. And when he looks into my eyes, as he did to-night, I can see no end to this relationship. You see, Abby, he is my grandson, just one year old, and this is his first visit to our home. Aren't some women just plain—

LUCKY?
DEAR LUCKY: Yes, and I was getting ready to reply, "It will never work, forget him."

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who says, "I am going to GET a bath." I keep telling him that he should say, "I am going to TAKE a bath." Who is right?

FASSIO
DEAR FASSIO: One who bathes himself TAKES a bath. If he is given a bath by someone else, he GETS a bath. Unless your friend is at an age where his mother is still bathing him, he is all wet.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BETSY AT LOCKHEED: I think you are wise to wait. A man who has been divorced three times is a very, very, very poor risk.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Those attending were Pampa 4-H Club; Regina Hunter, Lorena Nickel, Penny Nickel, Diana Nickel and Gary Nickel; Top O' Texas 4-H Club; Phyllis Atwood, Cathy "Kie" Nicki Hunt, Cynthia Hogsett, Ted Atwood and Mike Trimble; McLean 4-H Club; Toni Willoughby, Mollie Gray, Debra McClellan, Jeanne Sanders, Patricia Suttle, Judy Sanders, Eva Morgan and Frankie Morgan.

Adult advisors and instructors were Joe McGhee, Firestone manager; Herschel Hutchinson and John Hair, Firestone employees; Mrs. George Saunders, McLean leader; Mrs. D. W. Nickel, Pampa 4-H Club leader; Mrs. Juanita Channell, assistant home demonstration agent and Jerry Harland, assistant county agent.

The next meeting, April 20, will be a lecture on hazards on the highways given by a patrolman.

Care of Child's Hair

A child's hair can be damaged by permanenting or too tight curling. It is best to delay the first permanent until she is at least 14. If her hair is straight, have the beautician cut and shape it so it can be worn wimpily and neatly without the constant struggle of nightly settings.

Sonny Should Have Won, Witness Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jack Liston is "neurotic" about his health. But he said the dejected champion was fit for his title fight with Cassius Clay should have won it.

"I still believe that Cassius Clay is no match for Sonny Liston," said Nilon, who was Liston's manager in all but one of the Miami fight. He said Liston, after "dogging it" through pre-fight training, "was not in the condition he should have been in."

Liston's personality and the financial arrangements for the fight figured in Nilon's testimony before the Senate antitrust subcommittee. The subcommittee is considering legislation to regulate boxing promotions.

McNamara Asks $1 Billion in Security Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara warned Congress today that to maintain U.S. security, a full billion dollar's worth of military assistance is required this year and for years to come to America's friends around the world.

Anything less would necessitate a reassessment of U.S. policy in depending on foreign military forces for part of the free world's defense, McNamara told Congress. Allied strength around the fringes of the Communist world "will quickly melt away" if U.S. military aid is not kept flowing, he said.

Farm Bill Called 'Short-Sighted'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said today opposition of House Republicans and the American Farm Bureau Federation to the wheat-cotton bill "is short sighted in terms of the farmer" and "destructive to the fabric of the whole economy."

Freeman told a news conference that passage of the administration's farm bill could provide more than 58,000 jobs this year.

Foreign Students Speak at Assembly

An impressive ceremony spotted with laughter and jokes about American teen-age behavior, highlighted the annual American Field Service assembly program today at Pampa high school.

A panel discussion, moderated by Senior Class President Larry Gregory, with exchange students from New Zealand, Holland, and Finland topped off the morning's events.

Some 1,200 high school students heard the exchange students describe life in their countries and school systems as compared to that in the United States.

Evelyn Roberts who has spent her senior year at PHS as a AFS student from New Zealand told the assembly, "American teen-agers enjoy more freedom with less thought about it than any other country in the world." She said she had found her stay one of the most interesting times of her 17 years.

Yuhani Karmasoski from Finland, a Pampa High School student, compared teen-age dancing and dating practices in this country with those of his native land, pointing out that Pampa youths, "want more action and more things to do than we do at home."

The assembly was conducted under the direction of Mrs. Otis Holladay, sponsor of the PHS student council and Mrs. Don Myers, speech and drama instructor.

Canadian Police Hold Youths

CANADIAN — Deputy Sheriff Billy Starr Sr. and Canadian police arrested three youths from Liberal, Kan., about 1 a.m. today and are holding the boys on a charge of forgery for Kansas officers.

The boys were picked up during an investigation of a disturbance near a cafe-service station on the other side of the Canadian River. One of the youths had a check which had been illegally endorsed, according to Starr.

Questioning brought out the fact the check had been given in Garden City, Kan., during a poker game. During the questioning, officers called Liberal and learned the police in that city had warrants for the youths, ages 16 and 18, charging them with passing and forgery.

Kansas officers were expected to arrive in Canadian to pick up the three youths this afternoon.

their total, which stands at $25,456 thus far, while the Advance Investments group posted $9,700 to their total for a $118,075 campaign figure.

"We are really making progress," Neslage declared. "I want everyone to carry this spirit through the Easter holidays and when we meet again next week, perhaps we can see the closing phases of this drive."

The campaign is designed to raise $200,000 to attract new industries into the city to be used in developing an industrial center for Pampa.

Smith, a Pampa businessman and president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, after packing away his rabbits, told newsmen that "the only way we are going to meet this $200,000 is to get out and sell the public on what we are trying to do."

"I know these fellows who are conducting the campaign are really working, but it will be a real test for them to break the last $50,000 and we must buckle down," he said.

Smith said the rabbits will be offered for sale to any comers and the proceeds will go into the fund campaign.

The next coffee meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Coronado Inn with both the general and advance campaign captains and workers urged to be present.

Walter Rogers Reports:

American Indian in
'Pocket of Poverty'

"Pockets of poverty" is a phrase that you'll be hearing more and more as debate and discussions continue on the President's anti-poverty program formally presented to Congress last Monday. It remains to be seen how the Congress will act on the proposed "Economic Opportunity Act of 1964," the measure in which President Johnson spells out his plan for what he called "a national war on poverty." Committee hearings have begun on its provisions. No one can be certain how the American people and their Congress will view the proposed legislation, but this much is sure: Discussions about it will bring to light many aspects of the problem President Johnson's program is aimed at correcting.

The President told the Congress, "There are millions of Americans — one-fifth of our people — who have not shared in the abundance which has been granted to most of us, and on whom the gates of opportunity have been closed."

Many of these citizens on whom, as the President said, "the gates of opportunity have been closed," live in "pockets of poverty" — areas in which levels of income, employment, and education are extremely low.

Among the groups on whom the focus of attention is falling are the "first Americans" — the American Indian. Poverty is not limited to city slums and so-called "distressed areas" — it exists in the wide open spaces of east and west, on the lands Uncle Sam set aside as Indian reservations. Philo Nash, the commissioner of Indian affairs in the Department of the Interior, states the situation bluntly: "Most Indians are poor, desperately poor — as poor as anybody we know of in this rich country of ours."

According to the 1960 census, there were 552,228 Indians and Alaska natives, 509,147 Indians in the United States excluding Alaska. More than half of the total live on reservations. Approximately 380,000 Indian people come within the scope of the programs of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and most of these live on reservations in sparsely populated rural areas far from cities where industrial employment might be available. This is the situation affecting Indians on reservations:

— Unemployment runs between 40 and 50 per cent — seven or eight times the national average.

— Family income on the reservations averages between one-fourth and one-third the national average. Average Indian reservation family income was $1,500 for 1962.

— Nine out of 10 Indian families live in housing that is far below minimum standards of comfort, safety, and decency.

— Average schooling of young adults on reservations is only eight years — two-thirds the national average.

— The average age at death on the reservations is 42, two-thirds the figure for the national population.

Indians do, indeed, make up one of the nation's "pockets of poverty." Publicity concerning the Indians has centered on that small minority of tribes and individuals which have received enormous sums from oil and gas and other minerals. But the great majority of Indians lack the vocational training needed to compete for the few skilled jobs that can be found in their home areas.

Unskilled agricultural jobs are growing fewer as more and more farmers follow the trend toward mechanized operations. A young Indian adult with no more than an eighth grade education is lucky to get a job of any kind — but he must generally content himself with a low-paying job which leads nowhere in terms of salary and advancement. Much worse is the plight of the Indian who has less than an eighth-grade education or no education at all. Through vocational training programs, programs aimed at improving housing, programs to improve grazing and agricultural resources, programs aimed at providing credit for business and individual development, encouragement of tribal enterprises, and school construction programs, the Bureau of Indian Affairs is tackling the arduous and complex long-term job of helping Indians help themselves into a brighter future.

US Import Attitude
Jeopardizes Nation

HOUSTON (UPI)—The United States is at a dangerous disadvantage in international trade because of its history of concessions on imports of livestock, wool and cotton, a Wyoming senator said this week.

U.S. Sen. Milward L. Simpson, addressing the Houston Downtown Republican Club, said less developed nations "have indicated they intend to sandbag us and wring some type of compensatory financing out of the U.S. and the more developed European nations."

"Many of the small nations that will control the trade conference by sheer weight of numbers have also served notice that they do not intend to help themselves by encouraging private investment and adopting sound internal economic policies," he said.

This position weakens U.S. bargaining at the U.N. conference on trade and development, the Wyoming Republican said. Simpson said foreign beef imports have increased 333 per cent in the past 10 years, depressing Western prices by 20 per cent during the same period. He called for an end to "will-of-the-wisp import policies" and said the government's first responsibility "is to its own people."

DRY CLEANED EGGS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Farmers now can dry clean dirty eggs to make sure they look "Grade A" before they ship them to market.

An English firm recently patented a machine that holds eggs cradled safely in a soft, resilient foam rubber cup while a rotating brush whisks away surface dirt. Dirty eggs cannot be "wet" washed because water removes natural sealing materials and exposes the eggs to damage and attack by bacteria, rot and mold.

SEEKING BUYER

CARDIFF, Wales (UPI)—A man paid 64 cents for a child's swing at a charity rummage sale held by the townswomen's guild.

Today the women were looking for the man who bought it. The swing belongs to the school where the sale was held and would cost about $14 to replace.

Plans Set for Lakeview Event

LAKEVIEW (Sp) — Plans have been finalized for the Ex-Students and Ex-Teachers Homecoming here Saturday in the Grade School auditorium. The celebration will be an all-day affair with registration at 10 a.m. and a noon luncheon in the school cafeteria. The afternoon session at 1:30 p.m. will include a variety show, class reunion, business meeting and recognition of the student who travels the longest distance, the oldest student, oldest teacher and the oldest board member present. An evening meal will be served at 6 followed by a dance at 8 in the school gymnasium. Ex-students and ex-teachers from Lakeview, Webster, Price, Lesley, Pleasant Valley and Deep Lake will take part in the homecoming festivities.

RECEIVES VISITORS

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth II began receiving official visitors again Tuesday for the first time since the birth of her fourth child two weeks ago. The first visitors were Lord Cobbold, the lord chamberlain, and Graeme Finley, the vice chamberlain of the household, who delivered addresses of congratulations from the House of Lords and the House of Commons on the birth of her third son.

ELECTRIC BIRTHDAY

IPSWICH, England (UPI) — Walter Horne woke up Tuesday — his 100th birthday — and switched on the electric light. "That was my finest birthday gift in 100 years," he said. "Hearing that my home was lit by gas, some friends had electricity laid on in time for a switch-on today."

INVENTOR HONORED — Physics professor Arthur L. Schawlow of Stanford University, shown here in his laboratory, will be awarded the 1964 Morris N. Liebmann Memorial Prize. Dr. Schawlow is co-inventor of the laser, an intensified light beam.

Lee Pupil Wins Spelling Contest

A Robert E. Lee Junior High student walked off with top honors at the annual Gray County Spelling Bee, held at Pampa High School, after she defeated a McLean boy who had spelled her down once in the finals.

Sharon Cambern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cambern of 1536 Coffee, an eighth grader at the Pampa school, downed Steve Fuller, seventh grader from McLean, by spelling spaghetti and then spelling spontaneous.

Miss Cambern had misspelled psychoanalysis, which Fuller had correctly spelled right after her. Rules to win say the student must spell a second word after spelling the word missed by his opponent.

Young Fuller promptly misspelled spaghetti and set the stage for the comeback win.

Miss Cambern, who is a member of the Lee Choir and lists reading as her hobby, will go to Amarillo May 2 to compete in the Amarillo Daily News and Globe Spelling Bee in an effort to make the national championships in Washington.

Kirk Douglas of Lamar School won the junior spelling bee for youths under the seventh grade and finished fifth in the overall competition that saw 28 persons take part in the affair.

Mrs. Ruby Capps was pronouncer and Mrs. J. T. Cornutt was judge for the spelling bee held under the sponsorship of B. R. Nuckols, county superintendent of schools.

AMERICANA

BUCKET SEATS

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — By 1970, a third of all cars produced will carry bucket seats, predicts the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company.

As recently as 1960, the company said, only sports models had bucket seats. The following year 10 per cent of all cars had them. The figure jumped to 15 per cent in 1962, 18 per cent last year and Goodyear expects a further rise to 21 per cent in the current model year.

Property Should Be Rendered To Tax Authorities

April 1 and May 1 are important deadlines for Texans to render their property to various taxing agencies. State laws require all real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

Some Texas cities set their own tax deadlines. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provisions of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between January 1 and April 1 each year. A number of home rule cities set up the same requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods.

For state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 30, and homestead exemptions must be claimed by the same time.

In some localities a third taxing unit is involved — the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water, irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadlines for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries its requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Ramsey Promises Linksters Will Gain

"We'll continue to move up," was Pampa High golf coach Ramsey's promise as the Harvester linksters prepared for the third round of district 3-AAAA play at Lubbock Saturday.

Ramsey was pleased with the showing of the Harvesters in a practice round at Ross Rogers Monday. "I'm real pleased with Richard Ellis," exulted the smiling golf skipper. "Richard came down from an 83 at Lubbock to a 77 at Plainview. He had an 86 in the practice round and he should improve even more Saturday."

Ramsey pointed out that the Harvesters are constantly lowering their scores and getting better each week, while Monterey seems to be at a peak. The Plainsmen will be away from their own stamping grounds this week as well, he pointed out, with the first two rounds having been on their own course and that of neighboring Plainview.

"We moved from sixth to fifth place last week and I feel we can gain another notch or two this week, and we still have our own home course to play on," pointed out the baldheaded one. "Remember, George Snell and Skip Warren are only 12 strokes off the medalist pace. A good round Saturday and we'll pick up."

Monterey's Jimmy Conine and Amarillo's Jay Brown are tied for medalist honors with 147 apiece for 36 holes.

Team totals thus far are: Monterey 601; Tascosa 614; Borger 617; Amarillo 628; Pampa 636; Palo Duro 637; Lubbock 658; Plainview 662 and Caprock 685.

Yanks in British Indoor Track Go

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pete McArdle of New York, Wendell Motley of Yale and Henry Wadsworth of Miami, Fla., will represent the United States in the British indoor track championships Saturday and Sunday at Wembley.

Donald F. Hull, executive director of the American Athletic Union announced the three stars had been given permission to accept the invitation of the British Amateur Athletic Board. High jumper John Thomas also received permission to compete, but he had to decline since an ankle he sprained two weeks ago has not responded to treatment.

NAMED AS ENTRIES

WESTBURY, N. Y. (UPI) — Overtrick and Meadow Skipper have been named as supplementary entries for the $100,000 Realization at Roosevelt Raceway, May 9.

Pampa At Perryton T&F Meet

PERRYTON — Twenty-three teams are expected for the first annual Perryton Relays Friday, reported Ranger track coach Jimmie Jones.

The one-day meet on Perryton's brand-new cinder track will have two divisions, with Pampa in Division One (AAA and AAAA schools) and White Deer, Canadian and McLean among Top O' Texas teams in Division Two (B to AA).

Jones said that the list is not complete, with more acceptances coming in every day, but Pampa, Borger, Hereford, Caprock, Guyton, Okla., Liberal, Kans., and host Perryton are slated for division one, and Darrouzett, Panhandle, Boys Ranch, Booker, Stratford, Dalhart, Gruver, Canadian, McLean, Sanford, Fritch, Sennett, White Deer and Follett in Division Two.

Jones declined to make a prediction on either division, reporting that all the Texas teams had some outstanding track men, that Guyton was an unknown quantity, and that Liberal always had a pretty good track team.

The host coach also passed on a predicted winner in division two, saying that the only school in that field he had seen was Booker, which ran a dual meet to inaugurate Perryton's new track.

On the record of the season results, Dalhart and Booker, which tied at Panhandle and ran one-two at Gruver, must be rated the favorites.

The meet will run the standard 14 events, with any mark set a new record. Preliminaries in both divisions in track and field events will start at 9:30 a.m. Friday, with finals beginning at 2 p.m.

YCC Basketball

KPDN eliminated Amarillo Office Supply, 64-62 and the Panhandle Packers popped Borger, 73-61 in last night's round of the YCC Basketball Tournament.

KPDN held a narrow lead throughout the game and stretched it to 53-44 going into the last quarter on the shooting of Roy Kieval and Wayne Kreis, only to have Gary Patterson and John Hever pull Amarillo to within two at the final buzzer. Kieval had 20 points and Kreis 19, Patterson had 14.

The Packers led all the way as Jimmy Enloe and Coyle Winborne pumped in the points while the defense held Borger star Ron Attenberg to only 13 points. Enloe and Winborne each had 17.

56TH YEAR

Sporting Sidelines

by JEFF COHANE

AT A WHITE DEER-Groom dual track meet Tuesday, I was grabbed by ancient Ronnie Mills and Jackie Moss who asked me if I would be interested in watching a youngster who threw the discus over 150 feet and the shot over 50. Having seen nothing since Randy Matson departed these parts who could come close to these marks, the Ol' Swami hustled over, only to find the "youngster" was Carl McAdams, Buck All-Stater who is now playing football for the University of Oklahoma.

Although Carl was before my time here, long tales from coaches such as Mills, Colie Huffman and Roy Simmons, and reminiscences from teammates like Curtis Campbell and Carroll Russell had just about convinced me that Carl was one of the greatest boys who ever pulled on pads or sneakers in Buckland.

Much to our surprise, Carl, instead of being the usual snarling behemoth associated with Soonerville (couldn't help that one, Bubba), turned out to be the usual friendly, smiling youngster associated with White Deer.

Looking in the pink of condition, Carl reported he was home for the holidays between spring training, had been working and had come over "to keep in shape" and give the young weightmen a few pointers.

Last year's second-string center reported that he had been playing with the second unit again both on offense and on defense for two weeks of spring workouts, and would go back for three more later. Carl said he had played both ways last year, possibly a little more on defense, but that he really liked to play defense better and hit people.

The Big Buck opined that OU would have its finest football team in five years or so this coming season, and took off with raves about new coach Gomer Jones. Carl agreed with most of the OU athletes that Jones was the man for the job and should have been named by the Board of Regents immediately upon Bud Wilkinson's resignation. Despite the late start, said Carl, Jones and his staff have done a standout recruiting job and picked up some fine youngsters. Hmmm, this could be bad news for Tea-Sippers.

SOBBIN' JACK YORK is beginning to brainwash his boys too. The Groom coach (who insists he's only a youngster despite his shiny dome) has been reputed as one of the biggest weepers and wailers and gnashers of teeth in the Top O' Texas. Now the Tigers are doing it too... the whole team was crying to me about how poor prospects were for track, etc., etc.,

Ed Diddle Retires At West Kentucky

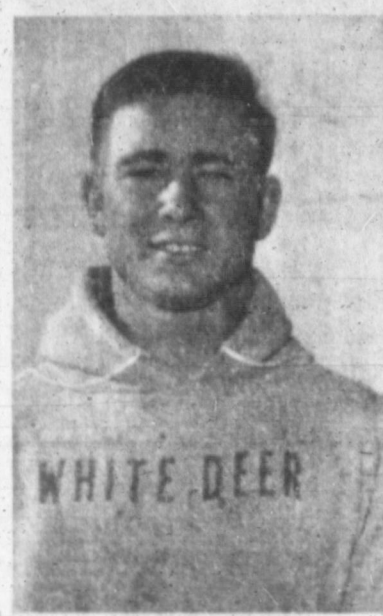

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (UPI) — Everyone knew the announcement of Ed Diddle's retirement at Western Kentucky State College had to come soon. Just the same, it dropped Tuesday with as much impact as if the school's administration building had collapsed.

In fact, the much-beloved Western Kentucky basketball coach had become such a fixture on the campus that many thought he might outlast the AD building. And the AD building is the only structure still remaining from the tiny campus that was there in 1922 when Uncle Ed was appointed athletic director and coach of all sports.

Diddle, who will be 70 next March 12, announced that he will retire at the end of next season and turn the reins over to one of his prize pupils, Johnny Oldham.

Oldham, who has coached Tennessee Tech since 1955, was a star guard on Diddle's 1942 and post-World War II teams which are generally credited with putting Western on the national basketball map. The fast-breaking Hilltoppers of 1942 reached the finals of the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) in their first appearance there. Six years later, they were back in the NIT and placed third.

The growth of Western Kentucky is inseparably linked with the colorful career of Diddle, the colorful career of Diddle.

CARL MCADAMS

while their runners were giving White Deer's standouts a good chase for their money. Guess we'll have to title them "Sobbin' Jack and the Crying Tigers."

A MEMBER of the Pampa High baseball team who lettered in track last year asked if he could go out and also run track again this season. He was told that he could run track, but that he couldn't compete in any meets. Kinda like letting a child put on a bathing suit and telling him not to go in the water.

THE ACIDULOUS pen of Burle Pettit of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal recently commented on West Texas spring training, an article that bears repeating to wit:

When West Texas State opened its spring football drills a few days back, Joe Kerbel greeted 74 men. And of that bunch, 21 were junior college transfers, most coming from California and Pennsylvania.

Most Southwest Conference schools — Tech included — take a minimum of juco boys. One reason is that the transfers have only two years during which to learn the program, the system under which he'll have to operate.

Now and then an individual such as Jeff White will show sufficient potential to warrant a chance being taken on his ability to adapt. Otherwise, you'll seldom see a juco transfer on one of the SWC rosters.

But one of the main reasons junior college players are not universally solicited is because of the expense. It costs money to run from coast to coast on recruiting trips. One trip to California would pay for several jaunts downstate.

Apparently money isn't one of the problems at West Texas State. A check of the current Buffalo roster shows about 30 out-of-state football players. But there aren't many more than that in the entire Southwest Conference.

Major League Results

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

There's something about the New York Yankees that makes the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Well, like a major league team anyway.

The undisputed sad sacks of the majors the last two years, the Mets nonetheless have managed to win four of six games from the Yankees in various exhibitions, charity affairs, etc.

Yogi Berra matched wits with former boss Casey Stengel for the first time Tuesday and the result was a 1-0 victory for the Mets behind the six-hit pitching of Carlton Wiley and Larry Bearnarth. Wiley went the first six innings and then Bearnarth cleaned up in deluxe fashion.

The Mets were shut out by Ralph Terry and Pete Mikkelsen for seven innings. They scored the game's only run in the eighth off rookie Tom Metcalf when Ed Kranepool singled, went to second on Ron Hunt's sacrifice and tallied on Frank Thomas' single.

Continues Heavy Hitting
Outfielder Dave Nicholson continued his heavy hitting for the Chicago White Sox with a two-run tie-breaking eighth-inning triple in a 4-1 win over the Dodgers. Nicholson now has hit two homers and two triples in his last four games. Ron Fairly doubled home the Dodgers' run.

Phil Gagliano, making a strong bid to stick with the St. Louis Cardinals as a utility infielder despite an unimpressive .242 batting average for Atlanta last season, raised his spring average to .308 with a double and triple as the Redbirds downed the Kansas City Athletics, 12-3. The win was the Cardinals' ninth in 12 exhibition games.

Orlando Cepeda's three-run homer was the big blow as the San Francisco Giants shaded the Cleveland Indians, 9-8, in a seven-inning game called at Tucson, Ariz., because of cold and wind. Bob Shaw was the winner, although tagged for six runs and 10 hits in five innings.

Senators Down Tigers
John Kennedy and Ed Brinkman hit homers to lead the Washington Senators to a 9-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers. Al Kaline, Jake Wood and Mike Roarke homered to produce the Tigers' runs.

The Milwaukee Braves scored their fifth straight triumph and their ninth in 11 games when they beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1. Denny Lemaster and Bob Sadowski limited the Pirates to five hits — three of which were by Ted Savage.

Richie Allen hit his fifth and sixth homers of the spring in the Philadelphia Phillies' 7-1 win over the Cincinnati Reds. Allen has now driven in 17 runs this spring in a powerful bid to make the Phillies' variety.

HOLLYWOOD FINISH — White Deer's Larry Elliott, sunglasses and all, comes surging up to nip Jerry Quirk of Groom at the tape in the 440 relay by one-tenth of a second. Elliott anchored a team of Randy Elliott, David Clemens and Larry Simmons. Quirk finished for Alton Vaughn, Dan Craig and Jerry Roberts in a dual meet at White Deer yesterday.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (UPI) — Everyone knew the announcement of Ed Diddle's retirement at Western Kentucky State College had to come soon. Just the same, it dropped Tuesday with as much impact as if the school's administration building had collapsed.

In fact, the much-beloved Western Kentucky basketball coach had become such a fixture on the campus that many thought he might outlast the AD building. And the AD building is the only structure still remaining from the tiny campus that was there in 1922 when Uncle Ed was appointed athletic director and coach of all sports.

Diddle, who will be 70 next March 12, announced that he will retire at the end of next season and turn the reins over to one of his prize pupils, Johnny Oldham.

Oldham, who has coached Tennessee Tech since 1955, was a star guard on Diddle's 1942 and post-World War II teams which are generally credited with putting Western on the national basketball map. The fast-breaking Hilltoppers of 1942 reached the finals of the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) in their first appearance there. Six years later, they were back in the NIT and placed third.

The growth of Western Kentucky is inseparably linked with the colorful career of Diddle, the colorful career of Diddle.

By United Press International
They're staging "operation reversal" in Philadelphia these days, and if the show is a hit, they'll take it to Boston for a rout.
The company in charge is the Philadelphia 76ers, who Tuesday night completed the first act by defeating the Cincinnati Royals, 122-114, and ended their National Basketball Association Eastern Division playoffs at 1-1.
The 76ers finished the regular season in third place while Cincinnati was second. As a result the two teams are playing best-of-five series to determine which will meet the Boston Celtics for the Eastern Division title and a berth in the NBA finals.

The catch is that the fifth game, if necessary, will be played on the Royals' home court. The table-turning hope Philadelphia is the result of a year's playoff when Cincinnati, then the third place club, upset the 76ers (then the Racine Nationals) in five games—with the clincher coming on the loser's court.

This year's playoff is following the same pattern to date except that the roles are reversed. Cincinnati, which won the opener at home, hosts Philadelphia tonight in the third game while the visiting St. Louis Hawks attempt to wrap up their series against the Lakers in Los Angeles. The Hawks are 2-0 in the Western Division semifinals.

Hal Greer took the spotlight Philadelphia when the 76ers' star guard dropped in 15 points in the last quarter to lead the game open. Greer's throw with 6:32 remaining snapped the game's 15th tie and gave Philadelphia a 101-100 lead.

Greer then proceeded to score seven straight points and pull the 76ers into a commanding 109-102 lead with but four minutes to play.

Philadelphia earned its winning margin from the foul line, sinking 36 of 42 as compared to Cincy's 18-29 effort.

Oscar Robertson paced the Royals with 30 points, but the weak Cincinnati bench, hampered by the absence of guard Adrian Smith, contributed only eight points in the entire game. Smith is expected back tonight.

New Rule Controls Basketball Coaches

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The nervous basketball coach may have to restore to tranquilizers under a major rule change adopted by the National Basketball Committee of the United States and Canada.

Clifford B. Fagan, committee secretary, said the new rule will attempt to control decorum of the coaches, players and attendants on the reserves' benches during a game.

A coach or other offender, he said, can be removed from the game if his behavior is interpreted as disrespectful or "baiting" of the officials.

It will control the coach's bounce from the bench. A technical foul will be called if the rule is violated.

Frank Howard Returns

Lost Lamb Back in Fold

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers have won the "war" with slugger Frank Howard but the "mopping up" operation may yet pose some problems.

Dodger Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi announced Tuesday night that the massive, 27-year-old Howard had solved his personal problems and decided to play this year but added, "we can't guarantee anyone will play every day although as of now Howard is our right fielder."

In Green Bay, Wis., however, Howard said, "I feel I can do a good job for the Dodgers if I can play 150 games this season."

Is the difference between what Bavasi and Howard are saying minor or major? The answer may come Friday when Howard is slated to arrive at Vero Beach and discuss his contract with Bavasi. Both men seemed to dismiss money as an issue Tuesday night but the amount of time Howard plays — the original stumbling block in their negotiations — could still be a problem.

"I never sign my contract until Buzzie and I talk," commented Howard when the subject of his contract arose. "Buzzie has always been more than fair to me. There has been no trouble in the past and I don't expect there will be any when we meet."

Howard added that he weighs about 255 pounds — 15 more than his playing weight — and "I'll be ready to play in a week — my weight is no problem."

"He hasn't signed but he's got a contract in his pocket," said Bavasi. "I'd say that he merits a raise. He's too big not to get one."

Senate Investigators to Call Jack Nilon and Associates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate boxing investigators called for questioning today two men who wound up with more than half of Sonny Liston's earnings in the heavyweight title fight he lost to Cassius Clay.

Scheduled to appear before the Senate antitrust subcommittee were Jack Nilon, the ex-champion's adviser, and Sam Margolis, identified as a Philadelphia vending machine operator.

Two others involved in the financial arrangements surrounding the Liston-Clay fight also were on the witness list. They were Nilon's brother, Robert, and Salvatore Arena of Camden, N.J., who got a piece of the money Margolis obtained from Liston.

Holds Rights

Robert Nilon served as executive vice president of Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., a small stockholding group that held the promotion rights to Liston's championship fights and Clay's first title defense.

Liston was described in the testimony Tuesday as a financially fuzzy individual who signed away more than half his earnings from his losing bout with Clay.

But Garland D. Cherry, a Chester, Pa., lawyer, testified that Liston still was treated more generously from a money standpoint than any heavyweight champion in history.

Cherry related that the Lion's share of Liston's profits from the lucrative bout were eaten away in two chunks.

First, he said, Liston arranged last December for Margolis to be given 275 shares of the half interest the ex-champion held in Inter-Continental. This left Liston with 225 of an original 500 shares.

Estimates Value

Cherry, secretary of Inter-Continental, estimated that the shares turned over to Margolis probably would bring up to $100,000 after taxes.

The attorney said he learned just recently that Liston also had entered an agreement to give to Jack Nilon half the purse he received as the champion's share of the gate.

From this, Cherry testified, Nilon paid all training and similar pre-fight expenses. In addition, Liston paid his trainer 5 per cent of his purse, he said.

Cherry told the senators he believed that the Liston-Nilon arrangement was not unusual in the fight game. He said he understood that the stock transfer to Margolis was made because the former restaurant owner was an old friend of Liston's and had helped arrange creation of Inter-Continental.

Lincoln's Advice to Workers

In 1859, the oft-quoted Abraham Lincoln gave us a credo that has since been rather constantly overlooked.

He said: "The prudent, penniless beginner in the world labors for wages awhile, saves a surplus with which to buy tools or land for himself, then labors on his own account another while, and at length hires another new beginner to help him. . . . If any continue through life in the condition of the hired laborer, it is not the fault of the system, but because of either a dependent nature which prefers it, or improvidence, folly, or singular misfortune."

This particular bit of sound advice is as valid today as it was just before the Civil War. The problem today is that people don't believe it any longer. And since they don't believe it, they act as though it were not true. This places them in a condition of self-imposed poverty.

Indeed, in a popular history book recently brought to our attention we found this criticism of what Lincoln had had to say:

"Twenty years after that speech, it was evident that even the most prudent beginner in the world stood little chance of buying the millions of dollars' worth of tools which made up a factory. The current was running swiftly the other way. The hired worker was not only short of his expectations of becoming a capitalist, but as shops increased in size he was lucky if he knew by sight the capitalist who employed him."

This appalling paragraph in a volume in common use among school children cannot but help to create a dismal and inaccurate picture of the economic system. Let's take a closer look.

Is it true that the most prudent beginner stood little chance of getting hold of the millions of dollars necessary to set up a factory? No, it was not true and is not true today.

Granted, the government is now taxing everyone with such ferocity that it is becoming increasingly difficult.

Are Politicians People?

It has been established, with some finality, that pigs is pigs; but the question of relationship between people and politicians remains in grave doubt.

The United States Supreme Court has bearded up the notion, already prevalent, that there exists some unbreachable gulf between politicians and the human race. They may be kissing cousins, as they say down South, but they danged sure ain't real kin.

It was the substance of the court's rulings that you could say almost anything about a public official without libeling him.

In dismissing a $500,000 libel

Ego Barrier

It is curious that men have such prompt emotional rejection of new ideas, when it is new ideas they thirst to possess. Possibly the reason lies in conceit, the unwillingness to concede that another might have gotten there first.

Simple, Make Poverty Illegal

We've been having that nagging hangnail of doubt. You know the feeling. Something is missing, somehow. Some detail overlooked, some appointment forgotten, some essential element shoved back into the subconscious.

That's the way we've felt about Lyndon's War on Poverty. Splendid concept, of course. Everybody, but everybody, is against poverty. (Who was that reactionary who said there'll always be some poor folks around? A Bircher, probably.)

What, then, is the missing element in this War on Poverty? Of course, that's it! Why not a law against poverty? Let's make it illegal, like racial discrimination. Anybody caught poor is subject to a fine and/or imprisonment. Second

CAPITOL EYE:

Lodge Tries To Dislodge Delegates

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Like actors who ignore bad reviews, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's top political workmen are shrugging off professional judgments that their man can't win the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Their next hard aim is on the May 15 Oregon primary, where Robert Mullen, chief of Lodge Washington headquarters, says "we are going for broke." They are already setting up shop there.

But that goal, with its prize of 18 convention delegates, is a long way off. In the spacious interval, Lodge leaders hope to build little bonfires of interest in many of the 33 states where they now claim some sort of organization.

The labor will not be easy, despite rekindled excitement over Lodge after his whopping New Hampshire write-in victory. Says a Colorado Republican leader:

"Out here most people may be inclined to think that Henry Cabot Lodge is a ski resort."

The Lodge people do not blink at such comments. They report that even professionals are writing Lodge leaders now, opening communications lines. Illinois, long marked down as a "Goldwater country," is one state that has been heard from.

With the expected signal from Sen. Everett Stinson, Lodge's own Massachusetts now will give him its 34 delegates and may add a bonus of a plump write-in in the state's primary April 28.

Richard Treadway, Massachusetts GOP national committeeman, is reported to have written Oregon's Gov. Mark Hatfield, saying "Lodge is our favorite son; please treat him well in Oregon."

Encamped in Oregon presumably for the duration are Paul Gindie and David Goldberg, the Boston boys who masterminded the Lodge sweep in New Hampshire.

This time their candidate is on the ballot. But the Boston boys have to woo two and a half times as many GOP voters as in New Hampshire. The cost could run to three times the $25,000 they spent in the Granite State.

On the ballot with Lodge are Sen. Barry Goldwater, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Richard Nixon, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Lodge spokesmen argue that if they can whip this crowd, then Goldwater and Rockefeller will be dancing a meaningless minuet in the "key" California primary 17 days after Oregon.

Sources in Oregon, freshly tapped by telephone interview, say Goldwater still holds a popular edge, though Rockefeller's early jump in organization has not been wiped out.

Some word is heard that Nixon, allegedly concerned over his fourth place write-in showing in New Hampshire, may allow a bigger try in Oregon. A respected eastern professional says: "Nixon can't be fourth in Oregon and keep alive."

Scranton's latest move in that state is puzzling politicians and observers anew. "Is he, or isn't he?" they ask.

He permitted his name to stay on the primary ballot. But when Pennsylvania's State Chairman Craig Truax put up the required $300 and supplied state officials with Scranton material for a state-mailed voters' pamphlet covering all candidates, Scranton disavowed Truax and pulled the material out.

The Lodge people missed the deadline for pamphlet material. But the Scranton pullout is the kind of thing that gives them heart that in Oregon they can bring off another New Hampshire.

OLD HAP'S HANDS

Editor:

Giant blazing yellow sunflowers peered out between crimson rambling roses and multicolored petunias ricocheted their bright smiles from every nook and corner. Zinnias battled with cornflowers for place, while grape vines climbed among the limbs of fruited elberta peach trees and dangled clusters of blue grapes beside the ripening peaches. Watermelons and cucumbers mingled their runners with cantaloupe vines in an odd profusion giving the appearance of being one vine producing several delicacies.

The king of this fantastic domicile of tangled beauty was called Old Hap, and if he ever had any other name, no one ever bothered to find out what it was. Like other derelicts of small towns, Old Hap had achieved a fame of sorts. He was as well known as Banker Brown, although as far removed socially as the north and south poles. Every one in Spangula county knew Old Hap, and mention of his name usually caused men to snicker and tap their foreheads. Old Hap was grotesquely ugly with a head far too large for his stunted body and his misshapen feet, but perhaps the most odd physical characteristic was his completely abnormally large hands, which looked like two hams hooked on to his broom handle sized arms.

Old Hap avoided people as much as possible, sometimes hiding when some one came to buy his produce. It was a common thing for him to go in the dead of night to the cattle yards to get fertilizer to spade into his garden and always he avoided people when possible, for there were many who taunted him about his deformed body and others who talked to him as if there were no heart within.

his breast. He became tongue-tied when around others and could scarcely talk in an understandable way.

Sometimes children have a way of crossing barriers that grownups cannot cross and this is how I became a close friend of what people derisively called the village idiot. As a matter of fact, I was the only person ever to see the inside of the domicile Old Hap called home. For all of his strange ways Old Hap was no fool. His heart was as big as all outdoors and to me he was a grand friend.

One day while I lurked in the shadows, two ladies came to buy vegetables. While standing near Old Hap, one of the ladies said, "Everything that idiot touches grows and I can't get anything to grow."

After they left, Old Hap seemed to have forgotten that I was there, for he stood looking at his abnormally big hands and said to himself, "Old Hap ain't no different from her, ain't no magic in Old Hap's hands. She touches her garden only in the spring, but Old Hap touches his garden all year long, with a shovel, with fertilizer, with water and I guess a whole lot of love."

It seems to me that there is a lesson here that everyone could use, more especially those politicians who believe that Uncle Sam should tax the industrious in order to feed the indolent who refuse to make an honest effort in life.

WASHINGTON:

Americans Are Hiding Cash Abroad

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — It hasn't been made public, but U.S. officials are quietly investigating ways to restrict the use by U.S. citizens of numbered, coded or secret bank accounts in Switzerland, Panama and Mexico.

It is normally illegal for a bank to disclose the amount of money in such an account, the name of the depositor, or even that the account exists. In Panama, a bank official who discloses such information may be sentenced to six months in jail.

One U.S. official guesses that deposits by Americans in Swiss secret-numbered accounts "may approach a billion American dollars."

His best guess is that perhaps $200 million or more of that American money is "illegal" money. That is, it's money either obtained through numbers, dope, bribery, prostitution, gambling or other illegal activities, or legally acquired money deposited in a secret-numbered account to escape U.S. taxes.

The Mexican situation is unclear. Officials in two U.S. government agencies insist that Mexico has a numbered-account law and that the system operates in Mexico. Mexican embassy officials in Washington claim ignorance of such a law or practice.

At least one bank in Tangiers did operate such secret-numbered accounts, but it is understood here that someone absconded with the money. Officials are not certain about the situation in the Bahamas.

Panama, a recent starter, is a long way behind Switzerland, but Panamanian banks are moving into the market with promises of better deals for depositors. Officials guess that U.S. citizens already have "millions of American dollars" in coded accounts in Panama. U.S. government experts say they understand some major U.S. banks are involved in Panama business.

Panama is of special interest because its secret-coded account system apparently is growing steadily.

Panamanian banks apparently will make arrangements for you to hide your money and use it at the same time under very favorable conditions.

You can borrow back your own money and additional funds at not too high a fee, either in your name or in the name of a dummy Panama corporation (which you own).

You may then lend those funds to yourself in the United States to buy an office building or to gain control of a company. You may deduct from your U.S. income tax any interest payments that you, in the United States, make to yourself (the Panama company).

You, in Panama, use the interest you collect from yourself in the United States to pay the interest the bank is charging you.

You then collect interest on your numbered account in the a better location when business drops off due to changing traffic patterns.

Country Editor speaking: "About all the average person learns from his mistakes is how to be an expert in making excuses."

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Wednesday, March 25, the 85th day of 1964 with 281 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase.
The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:
In 1776, the Continental Congress awarded the first medal ever given in the United States to George Washington in recognition of his role in bringing about the evacuation of Boston by British forces on March 17.

In 1900, the Socialist party of the United States was organized in Indianapolis.

In 1911, 147 lives were lost when fire swept the Triangle Shirtwaist Company in New York City.

In 1963, Davey Moore, 29-year-old featherweight champion, died of brain injury after knockout in a title bout with Sugar Ramos.

Panamanian bank. You escape paying U.S. income taxes on these secret deposits and on the interest they draw. In actual practice your money need never leave the United States.

The Swiss make similar arrangements, but their terms are less favorable.

A letter to a Swiss or Panamanian bank is all that's needed to open a secret-numbered account. You give your real name and the name you will use for account purposes. The bank assigns you a number.

If you like, the bank will send a secret messenger to the United States to pick up your deposits. But the handiest way is for you to send in your money through a co-operating bank in the United States. When you desire to withdraw funds, a co-operating bank will issue a draft in whatever name you wish.

Unhappy United States officials say they're having a difficult time in their attempts to draft realistic regulations that would discourage banks operating in the United States from co-operating in the transference of money to or from these foreign secret accounts.

Pat had never been ill before, so when he was brought to bed, he and his friend Mike were much interested in the proceedings of the doctor. At last when the doctor began to use the stethoscope, Mike could restrain himself no longer.

Mike — Pat, what's he doing?

Pat — Hush, you old fool, can't you see he's phoning to me inside to find out what's the matter with 'em.

Fact

Bleachers is an American term for the uncovered tiers of benches surrounding the outfield of a baseball diamond. The name probably originated from its obvious connection with early processes of bleaching articles by exposure to the sun.

Don Yarborough Names Pampans To Staff Posts

Don Yarborough, Democratic candidate for governor, has appointed Mrs. Mary Simpson and Mrs. Jacque Rumsey, both of Pampa, as co-directors of women's activities for the 26-county Panhandle area.

In 1962 Yarborough conducted a spirited campaign and came within 26,000 votes of winning the governor's race.

Yarborough was a popular candidate in this area and carried Gray County over Gov. John Connally.

Yarborough was recently in this area to confer with his area campaign manager, Asa Willis of Texline.

He made a 30-minute TV appearance after which a reception was held at the Holiday Inn West in Amarillo, where he discussed his campaign strategy.

SCOTCH IS OUT
MILAN, Italy (UPI) — If it's made in Italy it's not Scotch.

This was the ruling in a Milan court which forbade an Italian whisky company Tuesday from using the word Scotch on its labels. The ruling had been sought by the Edinburgh Whisky Assn., and by two other British groups.

The court ruled that the word "Scotch" for Italian-made whisky was unfair competition. It ordered "Scotch" labels removed from all unsold bottles.

Former Pampa Teacher Tells Of Life in Tel Aviv, Israel

A former Pampa school teacher, Mrs. E. H. Helm, and her husband are on temporary residence in Israel where Helm is drilling superintendent for Lapidot Israel Oil Co. Ltd., according to word received by friends here.

The Helms are residing in Tel Aviv four miles from the four rigs operated by the company.

Mrs. Helm, the former Wilma Chapman, taught in Sam Houston elementary school in Pampa. Prior to going to Israel she was a teacher in schools at Odessa.

She writes of the little country where they have been for more than six months, describing the city of Tel Aviv as having more than half a million people.

Her interesting story of Israel and Tel Aviv follows:

"The Israelis are a cultural minded people. Their Philharmonic orchestra is rated the best in the world and performs in an auditorium that seats 3500 people, filled at each performance three times a week. The Habima theatre is currently showing 'My Fair Lady' in Hebrew only.

"An art collection from Bordeaux, France, is appearing in the Helena Rubinstein Museum. It is the first time the collection has left France, some of the old master's works dating to the 14th and 15th century.

"There is no food shortage in Israel, as the people cultivate and irrigate every bit of land possible. There are miles after miles of citrus groves and much of the fruit is exported. Their oranges are sweet and delicious and the lemons grow as large as oranges. They grow excellent vegetables, and there is something in season the year round.

"There are only two supermarkets in Tel Aviv, where we shop once a week. The labels are in English and Hebrew. At other times I take my shopping bag like a true Israeli, and go to the many specialty shops nearby. There are many of these tiny hole in the wall shops, one for pastry, one for the green grocer. Friday is the day to get the best bread, called 'Shabat' meaning Sabbath, Saturday. On this day the bread is wrapped, sliced, the rest of the week it is unwrapped. Beef is expensive and most butchers do not know how to cut meat. What you get comes next on the animal as far as the butcher has progressed. Bacon is $1 a pound.

"Although there are many good highways in Israel, they are the world's worst drivers. Most have only been driving a few years. They have the highest accident rate per capita in the world. There is every conceivable vehicle, donkey carts, bicycles, motor scooters, which the women ride also. There are huge buses going in every direction and seven passenger cars called 'sheruts.' Most of the personal cars are of the small foreign variety. The filling stations are out of the city and you clean your own windshield.

"Israel is becoming a more popular tourist center each year, and consequently there are many lovely seaside hotels. Since we live only three blocks from the sea, we can walk to the lovely Sheraton Hotel for dinner. Nearby the Hilton is building an elegant hotel to be completed in 1965. With few exceptions all food is kosher. There is no tipping but a ten per cent service charge is added to your bill.

"Medical care and doctors are excellent and their prices are also in line with the U.S. My dentist who came from Rumania speaks good English and the chiropodist I have patronized is very reasonable. Barber and beauty shops are also reasonable but everything else is expensive, including rent.

"The temperature never gets below 40 degrees in the winter, but the weather is damp and penetrating. The rainy season is December, January and February and I have learned not to leave the apartment without my umbrella.

"The Israelis just pretend there is no cold and put on another sweater. It is hard to heat with oil stoves which they use here. We also have an electric heater and cook with butane.

"Eilat, at the southernmost tip of Israel, is a winter resort. On a recent vacation we flew there for a few days. We stayed at the new Queen of Sheba Hotel on the Red Sea, toured King Solomon's copper mines, took a ride in a glass bottom boat and saw the beautiful coral and tropical fish in the Red Sea. Many people come from the Scandinavian countries for the winter. The President of Israel was there.

"Eilat is 10 thousand population and they are building at the rate of 14 apartments every 10 days.

"On Christmas day we went to Nazareth; we got a guide and went to holy places, including Mary's home where the angel appeared to her, then to the grotto where the family lived during Jesus childhood, and to Joseph's workshop. We followed the same route the Pope did on his visit here.

"Haifa is about 50 miles up the coast, Israel's main seaport. Here is the rugged ridge of Mt. Carmel, the mountain of Elijah, now covered with lovely homes and apartments. Ashkelon is a seaside resort, about 30 miles from Beersheba. Here are ruins of an ancient sea wall and courtyard built by the Philistines many years B.C. New Ashkelon is a modern little town.

"For the most part people act like they do in the U.S. on their day off, and hit the highways and beaches. By the time they reach 18 years, all youth serve in the army for two years, including the girls. Most of all Israelis speak some English, especially the young and many speak several languages."

MORE BOYS THAN GIRLS IN HOSPITALS

NEW YORK (UPI) — More boys than girls are hospitalized each year, according to the Health Insurance Institute, partly because of a substantially higher rate of accidental injuries among boys.

Analysis of U.S. National Health Survey data, the Institute said, showed that at least 63 out of 1,000 children of both sexes under the age of 15 are hospitalized each year. But the rate for boys is nearly 14 per cent higher than the rate for girls.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) Stanley Heller & Co. believes the current rise in the stock market is being supported by two factors — inflation and an expansion of capital expenditures.

However, the firm also believes the market is doing little in evaluating what the consumer is going to do with the extra dollars supplied by the tax cut and points out that if those extra dollars go for debt amortization, or into savings the blessings of the tax relief will be minimized.

The company expects the answer to what the consumers will do with their extra cash to be forthcoming within the next three months and that the stock market will be significantly affected by the initial indications.

Bache & Co. says that, except for small corrections, it continues to look for higher prices in the months ahead.

Thomson & McKinnon says the conservative stocks are becoming speculatively valued while the more speculative issues are gaining attention as conservatively priced recovery vehicles.

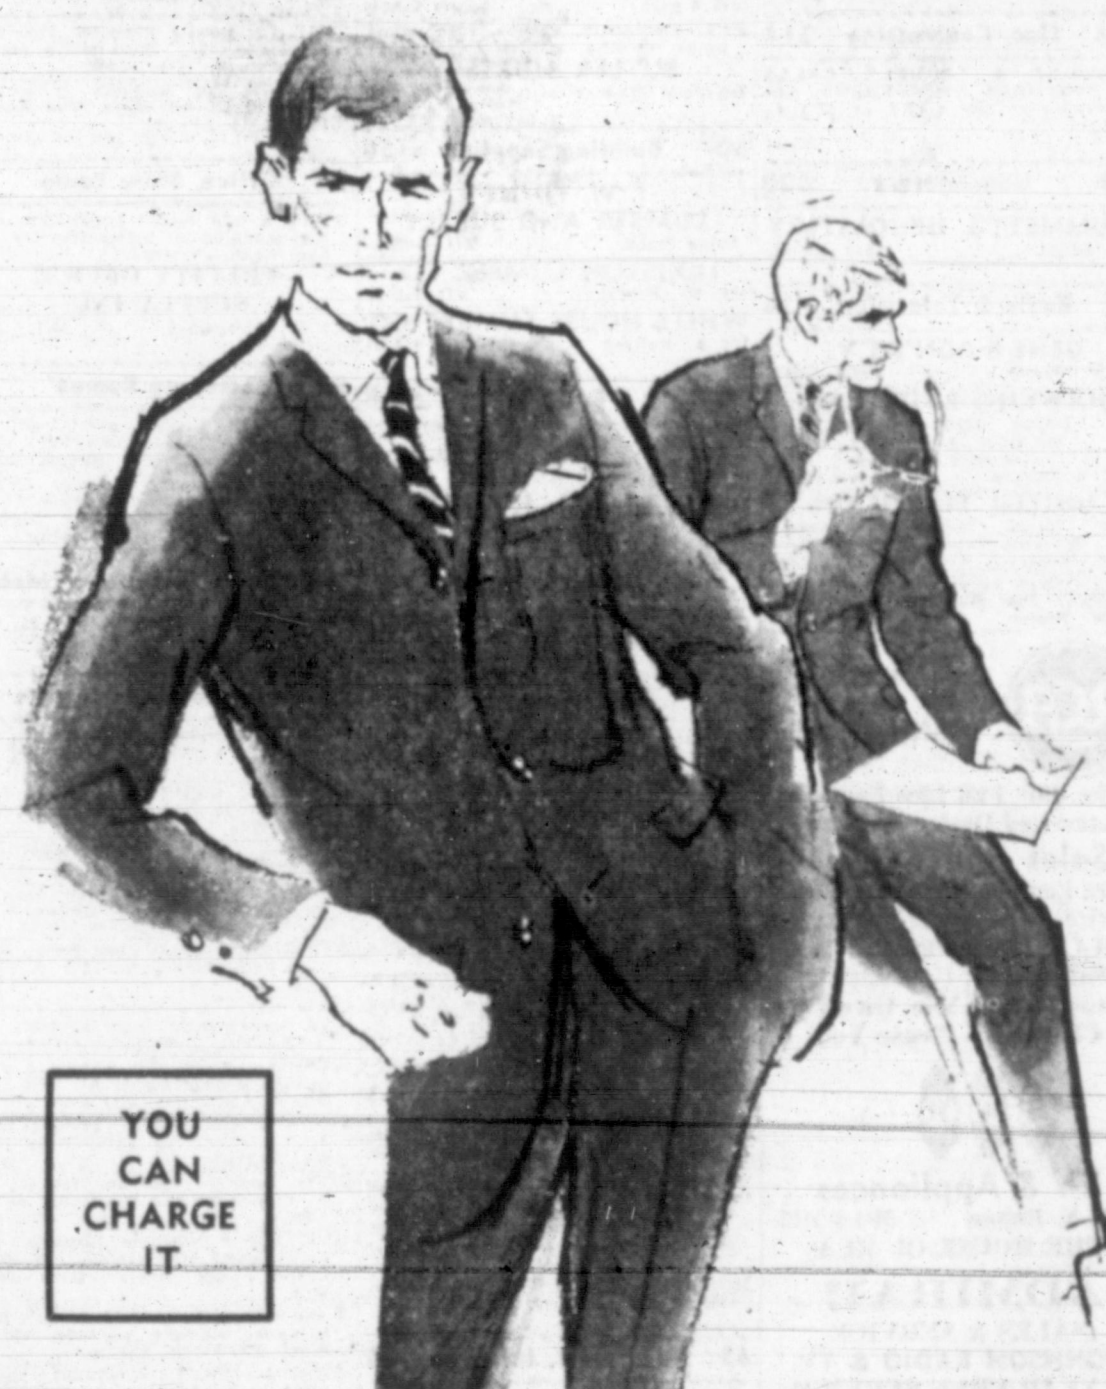

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bache & Co. says, "In view of the market's ability to absorb bad news in good style and rally on good news, corrections will be limited in nature and we continue to foresee an upward trend immediately ahead. Another important factor is the quality of the advance which has been concentrated in the more attractive fundamentally situated issues."

According to Moody's, "Public participation in the market has not yet led to a condition of excess but it does seem to be growing. The outlook is that stock prices will advance as earnings continue to expand and public interest broadens. Currently the principal element of risk appears to be in existing high valuations on the averages. Still, investors should remember that there remain numerous stocks which are reasonably valued and suitable for purchase."

Standard & Poor's says, "Making allowance for the market's need to pause for reappraisal after the fact of the tax cut and the fresh developments in the money markets, we continue to advise a constructive investment approach. Maintain well-regarded holdings but apply careful selection in any new buying."

Allies Urged to Ban Cuban Trade

PARIS (UPI) — U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball urged America's European allies Monday to cease trading with Cuba to help block the spread of Castroism in Latin America.

He was reported to have met with a turnaround from the British although other members of NATO — including France — were said to have been sympathetic.

Ball spoke to a private meeting of the NATO Permanent Council in Paris before going to Geneva to attend the trade and development talks which opened there Monday. The United States asked the special NATO council after several of its members, including Britain and France, recently concluded big deals with Cuba.
