Ike Stresses Need For Free World Cooperation

ROUND UP CIRCUS ELEPHANT HERD AFTER BREAK—Handlers work to organize a milling herd of 42 Ringling Bros., and Barnum & Bailey circus elephants which made a break for freedom while being unloaded at a Washington, D.C., railroad siding. Young animals in the group are blamed for the commotion.

Last Link In Giant Turnpike System Being Opened Today

EDGELY, Pa. (AP) — Governors, George M. Leader of Pennsylvania and Robert Meyner of New Jersey shake hands on the center span of a new bridge over the Delaware River today—and then throw open the last link in a turnpike system stretching 719 miles from New York City to the Ohio-Indiana border.

Formal dedication of the 14-million-dollar mile-long span links the Pennsylvania and New Jersey toll road systems. The Pennsylvania and Ohio turnpikes were joined previously.

In addition, the motorist now will be able to drive with virtually no traffic delay beyond New York into New England. And when the Indiana Turnpike is completed next year, the way will be clear almost to Chicago.

The big bridge connects Edgely in Pennsylvania's Bucks County and Florence in New Jersey's Burlington County. Pennsylvania costructed the 32.3-mile extension of its toll road system to reach the span, while New Jersey provided a nine-mile connecting extension. The construction cost of the bridge was shared by the two states.

An estimated 10,000 cars and trucks are expected to use the six-lane bridge daily, many of them seeking a quicker route around heavily conjested Philadelphia. Traffic experts say the bridge will cut up to two hours off the former driving time from the Valley Forge interchange on the Pennsylvania Turnpike to the main New Jersey Turnpike.

Toll for the bridge is 40 cents, to be shared by the two states.

The bridge was built in 14 months—a rush job to catch the early vacation traffic crush and to aid in the rapid industrial expansion of the Delaware River Valley, an area stretching from Wilmington, Del., north to Trenton, N.J., and including Philadelphia and Camden, N.J.

The span is close to the huge new Fairless Works on the U.S. Steel Corp. Both Governors Leader and Mayner have hailed the bridge as a vitally important boon to the economic growth of their states.

More than 20,000 tons of steel were used in the bridge, which has been painted a gray-green closely resembling the U.S. Navy's battleship gray.

The center span provides an opening for large shipping with a clearance 135 feet above mean water level and 500 feet wide.

Man Admits Strangling Wife In May

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Robert E. Boeseneilers, 30, says he beat and strangled his wife in the early hours of Mother's Day, May 13, because she chided him about keeping late hours and seeing other women.

The body of Evelyn Boeseneilers 25, was recovered from the sand and trash of a township dump 20 miles southeast of here yesterday.

Lester McAuliffe, assistant police chief, said Boeseneilers broke down several times while police were taking a lengthy statement from him last night. McAuliffe gave these highlights of the confession:

Boeseneilers grabbed a wooden rolling pin and struck his wife during the early Sunday argument. Then he twisted a wire around her throat.

He went into another room to sleep, leaving the couple's son, Michael, 5 today, in bed with his mother's body. The suspect rose at 7:30 a.m., dressed the child and went to the home of a woman friend in Golden Valley, a suburb of Minneapolis.

Boeseneilers said he had been seeing this woman, Mrs. Elverin Carlson Spotts, for about two months and that they had discussed marriage. Mrs. Spots confirmed this but said that, until police questioned her, she had had no idea her companion already was married.

Boesneilers and Mrs. Spotts, divorcee, attended Mother's Day services at her church and spent the day together. When he returned home about 9 p.m., the suspect rolled his wife's body in a blanket and took it down to the trunk of his car.

Monday, with the body still in the trunk, he went job hunting in the Twin Cities. That night, he left Michael with neighbors and took his wife's body to the shallow grave where it was found.

Improved Housing

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. Army said today 80 per cent of U.S. troops in Korea are now housed in solid buildings.

Loot Found In Basement

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police said they found enough stuff in Ferdinand Del Pate's basement to start a hardware store—all of it stolen in the 28 years he worked at a hardware store.

"He told us he stole something every day," reported Police Inspector Max Reznik.

Del Pate's employer said an inventory several months ago made him suspicious.

Police estimated the loot is worth $5,000. It included everything from electric drills to hammers.

Del Pate was charged with grand theft. He is married and has two teen-age sons.

Four Are Arrested During Bookie Raid

DALLAS (AP)—Five persons were arrested in raids on four alleged betting establishments in Dallas and Fort Worth yesterday, in a series of nationwide raids by Internal Revenue Service intelligence agents.

Agent R. L. Winston said the places took bets on horse races and major league baseball games.

In Washington, a spokesman said the raids over the country were against establishments forming a nationwide syndicate.

Arrested and charged in Dallas were Richard Biggs, William Sellers, H. C. Winfrey and William Bevers. At Fort Worth, William Hicks was arrested and charged. An additional 15 persons were arrested in raids in 9 other cities over the nation.

Ike Is Given Baylor Honor

WACO (AP)—Historic Baylor University made President Eisenhower an honorary doctor of laws today in a ceremony hailing him as "the leader of the forces of freedom" in war and peace.

He was so cited by Dr. W. R. White, president of Texas oldest institution of higher learning, as Eisenhower received the diploma and the purple-edged black hood symbolic of the degree.

The President wore his own cap and gown. The latter liberally marked with insignia of his earlier academic and honorary degrees.

Eisenhower was presented for the degree by Dr. W. W. Melton, pastor of the Columbus Ave. Baptist Church and president of the Baylor trustees.

The hood was placed on the President's shoulders by two Baylor vice presidents, Dr. W. T. Gooch and Dr. R. J. McKnight.

It was draped so its lining of the green and gold colors of the university made a brilliant splash upon the dark background of academic robes on the rostrum.

While the possible political implications of the President's visit and the import of his foreign policy speech received great attention, to Baylor University it was basically a solemn academic occasion.

Eisenhower is the third president or former president to be awarded an honorary degree by Baylor, an institution controlled by the Baptist General Convention of Texas and founded in 1845

In 1920, on Baylor's diamond jubilee, William Howard Taft was awarded the degree in absentia. In 1947, President Harry Truman was similarly honored.

Dr. White's brief speech in conferring the degree was warm and friendly, noting that the President was a native Texan.

"Baylor University is privileged to salute you as a native son who has made an enduring contribution to man's ceaseless struggle for tranquility and liberty," Dr. White said.

Students Pay For Damages

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Male students at the University of California are being assessed $3.00 and $3.50 to repair the $10,000 worth of damage done in a riotous panty raid on sorority houses May 16.

The Faculty Committee on Student Conduct levied the $3.50 assessment on fraternity members, $3 on dormitory residents.

"The committee regards the panty raid as a grave offense," it said.

Raymond Kellner, 23-year-old junior from Fresno, Calif., the only student arrested, was fined $20 in Police Court on a battery charge.

Parking Tickets Are Exchanged By Police

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP)—Several weeks ago Policewoman Caroline Kitrell tagged a car parked in a no-parking zone. The car belonged to Detective Jack Kemmerline. Yesterday Kemmerlin tagged a car for a similar offense. It belonged to Mrs. Kittrell.

THIS BOY'S DRUMMING PAYS OFF — Five-year-old Richard Keith, whose parents don't consider his drumming a nuisance, pounds on his skins for newsmen in Los Angeles as he appeared in court to get judicial approval of his new $300-a-week contract with the "I Love Lucy" TV series. Richard—he was born Keith Thibodeaux in LaFayette, La. — began pounding drums at the age of ten months and has been a professional two years. His first Hollywood assignment will be the role of Ricky Ricardo Jr., on the "Lucy" show.

Foreign Aid Need Cited

WACO (AP)—President Eisenhower, terming communism essentially "a gigantic failure," urged America's great universities today to help provide needy free nations with modern science education centers in a "dynamic" move to promote world peace.

The President also sounded a strong new appeal for a European union. He declared it "seems nearer today than at any time in centuries" and would amount to "a mighty pillar of free strength in the modern world." He added:

"A free United States of Europe would be strong in the skills of its people, adequately endowed with material resources, and rich in their common cultural and artistic heritage. It would be a hgihly prosperous community."

In a major foreign policy address at Baylor University commencement exercises. Eisenhower hammered at the idea of need for free world cooperation in the struggle against communism—and at the idea of need for the United States to play a leading role in providing help.

In what seemed to be a plea for enactment by Congress of the administration's $4,908,000,000 foreign aid program, the President spoke out against being 'penny wise' 'in that field, saying it could lead "only to greater risk and greater cost.'

The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted earlier this week to trim the program by more than one billion dollars, mainly in military assistance.

Speaking in the big Heart O'Texas coliseum in his native state, the President said in a nationally televised address:

"Today a militant, aggressive communistic doctrine is dominant over much of the world's surface and over hundreds of millions of the world's people."

He called communism "cruel, intolerant, atheistic... committed to conquest by lure, intimidation and force,' 'and added it "poses a threat from which even this might nation is not immune."

But even so, Eisenhower said, "communism is, in the deepest sense, a gigantic failure."

Even in the countries it dominates, he said "hundreds of millions who dwell there still cling to their religious faith; still are moved by aspirations for justice and freedom that cannot be answered merely by more steel and bigger bombers; x x x still dream of the day that they walk fearlessly in the fullness of human freedom."

The President flew here from Washington for his address and to accept his 38th honorary degree, a Doctorate of Laws.

Eisenhower's proposal that American universities set up science education centers in needy free nations was set forth in the broadest of general terms. He said nothing about any U.S. Government role in such a program and left the impression it would be a private enterprise venture. In leading up to his proposal the President called for cooperation among the free nations in fostering mutual trade, advancing "legitimate political and economic aspirations,' 'respect for cultural traditions, and help for the weaker nations from the strong.

Then he outlined his education proposal in this way:

"The ways in which progress along these four roads can be achieved are legion in number. The first . . . is the need for the growth and spread of understanding among our own people. The

Area Scouts To Take Part In TCU Meet

Two area Explorer Scouts have been named to represent the Lone Buffalo District June 21-23 in the "Citizens Now" conference to be held at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

W. A. Vestal, chairman of the district camping and activities committee, said the boys are Dan Bohannan of Snyder and Melvyn Berman of Colorado City. Both area Eagle scouts. Berman is an explorer in Troop 22 at Colorado City and holds the Silver Award, the highest available in Exploring. Bohannan is a member of Troop 36, sponsored by the Rotary Club here, and of Explorer Post 27, sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

The two will recieve spegial training at the conference, along with other representatives from Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. They will then return to make plans for a similar conference on the council level sometime in December. The council has more than 1,000 active Explorers in units who will be invited to attend that conference.

Nolan von Roeder, organization chairman, is sponsoring the two representatives in attending the meeting.

Legless Man Freed On Burglary Charge

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—Legless George L. Noble, 36, of Merrimack, was acquitted of a burglary charge in superior court last night.

The charge against Noble was based on alleged crutch marks found in the snow on the roof of a burglarized Nashua restaurant.

Noble, father of four, lost his legs in a train accident when he was 18 months old.

Speedy Chute Jump Tested

HURRICANE, Utah (AP) — A rocket sled racing 500 m.p.h. hurls a dummy over a canyon wall today in the first public demonstration of an experimental high-speed parachute jump.

Purpose of the project, known a. Smart (supersonic military air research track), is to help develop and test ejection seats and parachutes for faster-than-sound aircraft.

More than 100 newsmen and technical experts were invited to watch.

An Air Force spokesman gave this advance picture:

A lifesize dummy is seated in an ejection seat in the rocket sled. The sled is fired on tracks atop Lower Smith Mesa until it reaches 500 m.p.h. A switch thrown in a control shack catapults dummy and ejection seat into the air. Parachutes on each open automatically and they drift 1,500 feet into a canyon while cameras record their descent.

The sled is stopped at the brink of the mesa by a combination of powerful water brakes and stacked bales of hay.

Researchers, who have been working on the project here since 1951, recover the ejection seat as well as the dummy to test the effects of the jump.

Project engineer C. A. Brosterhous said the maximum speed of the sled is now 600 m.p.h but "we hope eventually to raise it to 1,500 miles an hour,' well in excess of the speed of sound.

Broken Bone Record Set

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Three-year-old Michael Tener hasn't had a broken bone in 55 days now.

It's a record for Mike.

"Both of his arms and both of his legs were broken at birth," Mrs. Loyd Tener explains. "Since then we couldn't begin to guess how many fractures he's had."

He was in a cast seven weeks after his most recent misfortune.

Mike's case of brittle bones is uncommon because the disorder usually doesn't show up until a child reaches 3 or 4. His parents were advised he probably would not live.

Dr. R. Palmer Howard of the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation explained the condition is due to some kind of a failure in the body's process of making protein.

"We hope to slow down Mike's fractures and get him up old enough where nature wll sort of take care of this thing," Dr. Howard said. "If a child gets up to 14 or so, he usually gets by."

Favor Is Returned For August Rescue

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. (AP) — Richard Walter, 15, helped rescue two persons from drowning last August. The favor was returned in good measure yesterday.

Walter was rescued from the Pasquotank River by the Coast Guard after his sailboat overturned in a stiff wind.

Dr. John Weeks, Pasquotank County coroner who lives nearby, saw Walter clinging to an inflated inner tube. He called Coast Guard headquarters; which dispatched a rescue helicopter.

23 State Cities Cited On Safety

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic safety awards were given 23 Texas cities today by the National Safety Council which underscored the nation's worsening traffic situation by not awarding its top Award of Honor.

The Award of Honor is usually given to a city or state for all-around traffic safety performance.

Dallas was among four cities to be given an Award of Merit for achieving a grade of 70 per cent or more in all sections of the traffic safety award program. Dallas got the award for its accident record, its public safety education program, its safety organization and a decrease in the number of traffic deaths

A special recognition award was given Fort Worth for its school traffic safety education program and its public safety education work.

Special recognition was given Amarillo and Lubbock for their safety programs and Austin for its accident record.

Midland got special recognition for not having a traffic death during the year and Odessa won the award for its accident records.

Cities in the 10,000 to 25,000 population group, which won awards for not having had a traffic death in 1955 included Alice, Brownwood, Cleburne, Denton, Harlingen, Highland Park, Lamesa, Mercedes, Pampa, Seguin, University Prk, Vernon and White Settlement.

Big Spring, Borger and Snyder won awards for their school traffic safety education programs.

Snyder Gets Safety Award

The city of Snyder has been notified by telegram that a certificate of achievement for school traffic safety education has been awarded to Snyder in the 1955 traffic safety program.

"Our heartiest congratulations to you and your citizens," the telegram from G. C. Stewart, executive vice president of the National Safety Council, said.

Copies of the telegram were sent to Roy L. Dunlap, city manager, T. L. Steele, Snyder police chief, and to Fran W. Wilson, director of traffic safety education for Snyder public schools.

The award was based on a brochure of traffic safety records newspaper safety clippings, and records of public and school addresses made by safety officers, along with records of the schools driver education and driver safety programs.

GUATEMALA (AP) — Thirty-one persons were believed dead today in the crash of a Guatemalan airliner. Wreckage of an Aviateca plane was sighted on a peak of the Sierra de las Minas range. There were no signs of life.

Senate-Passed Housing Bill Heads Toward House Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-passed bill to authorize 135,000 new public housing units a year headed today toward the House, which has voted for the last three years to knock out all such authority.

The House has not yet acted this year on the recurring controversy. Housing legislation still is pending in the House Banking Committee. President Eisenhower asked a two-year program limited to 35,000 units a year.

The Senate's much larger figure was included in an omnibus housing bill passed by voice vote last night. Among other things, the bill for the first time would establish a federal program of providing homes for elderly persons.

It also would increase Federal Housing Administration loan insurance authority by three billion dollars, extend the GI home loan program for one year, continue provisions for military, farm and college housing, and provide another 100 million dollars for slum clearance grants.

Most of the provisions were noncontroversial, but on those where a fight developed, the Eisenhower administration lost on every test vote.

A 41-38 vote rejected a move to write Eisenhower's 35,000-unit public housing program into the bill in place of the Senate Banking Committee's plan for 135,000 a year to a total of about 500,000. The higher figure was retained, with seven Republicans joining 34 Democrats to support it. Seven Democrats and 31 Republicans voted for the Eisenhower program.

The Senate had voted for 135,000 units last year also, while the House voted none. The two houses finally reached agreement on 45,000 for one year.

In 1953 the Senate voted 35,000, the House none; they compromised at 20,000. Not since 1952 has the House, on its own, voted any such authority, and that year it approved only 5,000 units.

The low-rent housing projects are built by local housing authorities, but the federal government provides subsidies to help with operating costs and bond retirement.

The Senate accepted a one-year extension, to July 25, 1958, in the GI home loan program. Sen. Lehman (D-NY) originally proposed a three-year extension, but Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said this was unacceptable. Lehman hastily changed his proposal to Knowland's suggestion of a one-year extension.

The new program of housing aids to the elderly includes construction of 75,000 public housing units over a five-year period and liberalized borrowing terms for buying homes under FHA.

POLIO GIRL PERFECT SCHOLAR—Barbara McKittrick, who hasn't been in a classroom for six years, gets a final fitting of her cap in preparation for her graduation from high school in Assumption, Ill. Stricken with polio in 1950, the 18-year-old farm girl has not only kept up with former classmates, but has maintained a straight "A" average throughout her high school years. Bert Gruver, right, of the Assumption high school faculty, has driven the six miles to her home five nights a week for the past four years to give Barbara her private lessons.

next is that peoples of other nations must, through similar study and thought, recognize with us the need for this kind of cooperation. This, in itself, is not easy.

"Many nations, though their cultures are ancient and rich in human values, do not possess the resources to spread the needed education throughout their populations. But they can wisely use help that respects their traditions and ways.

"For example, the whole free world would be stronger if there existed adequate institutions of modern techniques and sciences in areas of the world where the hunger for knowledge and the ability to use knowledge are unsatisfied because educational facilities are often not equal of the existing need.

"Do we find here a worthy challenge to America's universities and to their graduates? I firmly believe that if some or all of our great universities, strongly supported by private foundations that exist in number throughout our land, sparked by the zeal and fire of educated Americans would devote themselves to this task, the prospects for a peaceful and prosperous world would be mightily enhanced.

"In no respect should the purpose of these institutions be to transplant into a new area the attitudes, the forms, the procedures of America. The staffing, the conduct, the curriculum of each school would be the responsibility of the people where the school might be built.

"Each school would help each nation develope its human and natural resources, and also provide a great two-way avenue of communication. We would gain new knowledge and wisdom out of the priceless values of other peoples' traditions and proud heritage. They would gain knowledge in the technical and scientific fields where we have had an earlier start."

The President said "much progress has been made" toward European unity despite continuing obstacles. One phase of the progress, he said, is reflected in the recent decision of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to have a committee of foreign ministers study "ways and means to improve and extend cooperation in non - military fields and to develop greater unity within the Atlantic community."

In that connection, Eisenhower noted that Sen. George (D-Ga), planning retirement from the Senate, has agreed to be his personal representative and special ambassador in the NATO setup.

Mother Kills 3 Daughters, Shoots Self

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP)—A woman, known as a "model mother" killed her three daughters today, placed them carefully in their beds, then fired two pistol bullets into her own breast.

Mrs. Lorene Culbeck, in critical condition in a hospital, told patrolman S. D. Betton that she killed her children, Shirley, 5, Pamela, 3, and Jan, 1, but refused to give a reason. Doctors said she is not expected to live.

Police entered Mrs. Culbeck's trailer home at 1:30 a.m. and found the bodies of the children in their beds and the mother on the floor.

Mrs. Culbeck, who is in her late 30s, left a note to her husband, Mark Culbeck of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., telling him he would find her valuables and "a very important black Bible" in a suitcase under her bed. Police could not find a suitcase.

She did not explain her action to her husband.

Police Chief Tom Petty said Mrs. Culbeck took the girls out in her car one at a time, stripped them except for their panties, killed them and brought the bodies back to the trailer.

Shirley was shot four times, the others twice each.

"I did the shooting of the children by myself," Mrs. Culbeck said in a statement to Betton. When he pressed her for an explanation, she cried "I don't want to talk about it any more!"

Neighbors in the trailer camp at the northern city limits of Lake Wales described Mrs. Culback as a "model mother" who devoted almost her entire time to care of her children.

Army Seeks Air Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is pressing—this time through channels—for more air power of its own.

It says it needs new planes to track missiles on which it is working, and others to transport troops and cargo. The Army arguments, set forth in the form of a "fact sheet," said nothing about another frequent Army demand—for control of airborne operations and close air support for front - line troops.

Unlike some other proposed policy papers leaked to reporters recently in a renewal of interservice feuding, the fact sheet was sent through official channels to the Army chief of staff and distributed by the Defense Department.

The paper said that during both training and combat, some types of aviation must be "under the unconditional command" of the field Army commander.

Its aviators need a basic understanding of all phrases of ground warfare, the paper added, and "the Army's interest must be their interest, undivided by other allegiances."

Less than half the antarctic continent has been explored.

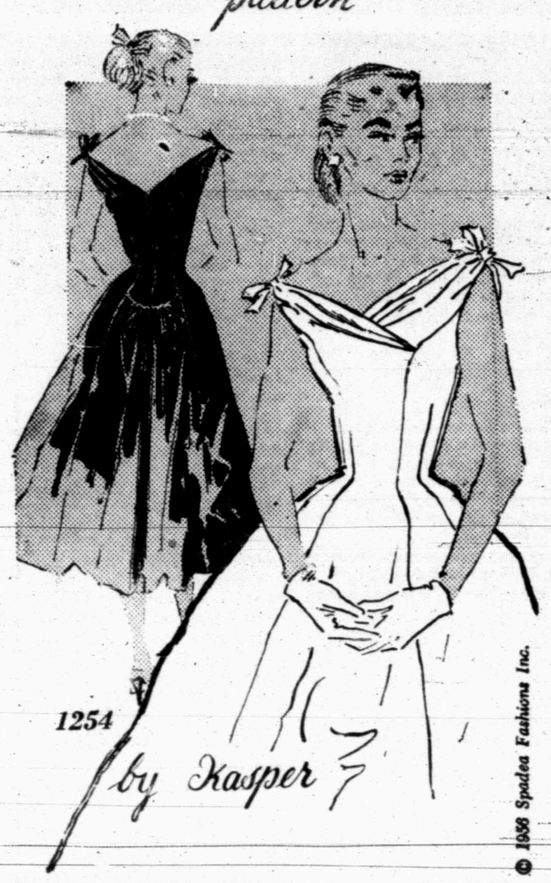
Spadea's american designer pattern



Award winning Kasper is one of the reasons why the up and coming crop of young designers are causing their seniors to look to their laurels. Cut with a sure knowledge of his trade, this dress is based on a prettily exaggerated princess silhouette, with some well placed waistline darts and some special treatment on the skirt. He has lengthened the bodice line in back, finished it off with a low curve and added a gathered panel. The bodice front has an effective crossedover drape that ends in shoulder bows. With all this detail you will find it easy-to-make as the pattern is custom cut and precisely perforated. Choose novelty cottons, lawns, faille, taffeta, brocade. This pattern is cut to Designer Measurements, not Standard Pattern Measurements. Size 12 requires 5¾ yards of 39-inch material for dress and ½ of a yard of 35-inch material for interfacing. To order Pattern No. 1254, state size; send $1.00; address Spadea Fashions, Inc., P.O. Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. S-13, New York 1, N.Y. Add 25c for Airmail handling. New 144 page Pattern Booklet XII—50c. Add 4c if paid by check.

Menu Given For Family Breakfast

How often does your family experience the pleasure of a big, leisurely breakfast?

Perhaps you think of family breakfast as a quaint custom, part of the nostalgic past. True abundance, variety and wholesomeness were traditional of the Early American breakfast. As Nathaniel Hawthorne pointed out the strengthening qualities of a good breakfast, "Life, within doors, has few pleasanter prospects than a neatly arranged and well-provisioned breakfast table."

Today, the gulp-of-coffee-on-the-run type of breakfast has become too often a habit. Nutritionists remind us that breakfast is unquestionably the most essential meal of the day, a meal that literally breaks a fast 12 to 14 hours.

For your next leisurely family breakfast, here is a hearty menu to encourage the good - breakfast habit at your house. Included are foods served early in this country-strawberries (which are often thought of as English, but were taken to England in the 17th century from America) and fried mush, a mainstay of the early diet for breakfast, dinner and supper. FAMILY BREAKFAST: Fresh Strawberries; Ham Slices or Flank Steak; Scrambled Eggs; Fried Mush; Maple Syrup; Raspberry Jam; Coffee; Milk and Early American Toast.

It Is No Trouble To Find Home For Babies In U.S.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

There is never any trouble finding homes for babies, says Col. Ruth Pagan, national child welfare consultant of the Salvation Army.

In 35 years as a Salvation Army oficer, this slender, white-haired grandmother with a wise and kindly face has seen many major changes in the ancient human problems that pass through her hands and those of her fellow workers.

"There is very little need for orphanages these days," says Col. Pagan. "There are several reasons for this. One is the great decrease in industrial accidents. Another is the great advancement in child birth care—few babies lose their mothers at birth. And perhaps the biggest reason is the great demand for babies by adoption."

The Salvation Army cares for some 8,000 unwed mothers a year in 34 maternity homes throughout the country.

"It seems that every couple wants a baby," says Col. Pagan. "Of the babies born in our homes, about 75 per cent are placed with qualified agencies for adoption. The others stay with their mothers who for various reasons don't want to give them up.

"It is a problem that is difficult to solve, this question of whether an unmarried mother should keep her baby. If the mother is very young and if she is not able to support the baby, we usually advise that she allow it to be adopted, for the baby's sake as well as her own.

"In some cases, however, the grandparents want to keep the baby. And in others a professional woman who is able to support herself and the child wants to keep the baby with her. This situation is easier these days, too. Society, I believe, is a little more tolerant than it used to be. If the mother is qualified to hold down a good job, employers do not inquire too deeply into her private life. If she has a child and no husband, the natural supposition is that she is a widow or divorcee."

Another change that Col. Pagan has noted is that the mothers who come to the Salvation Army for help are so much younger nowadays.

"We even have many 12-year-olds,' says she. "The average age of the mothers in these homes has dropped from 23 to 18 in the last 15 years. The situation is such that we have public schools in most of our maternity homes these days, so that a girl may continue her studies while she waits for her baby.

"Our most recent figures show that half of the girls who come to the maternity homes are under 21 and a fourth are under 16. These young girls are much more sophisticated than girls of the same age even 10 years ago. A 12-year-old girl frequently looks and acts as if she were 16. But of course she is really only a child with tragically grown-up problems."

Next week is National Salvation Army Week, in which observances will be held all over the country of the 86-year-old organization which has helped so many millions.

Indwelling Of The Holy Spirit

"WHAT! KNOW YE NOT THAT YOUR BODY IS THE TEMPLE OF THE HOLY GHOST?" (1 Cor. 6:19). The Holy Spirit does not leave a person when the act of conversion is completed; He remains with Christians so long as they follow the teaching of God's holy word (Rom. 8:14). Both in conversion and sanctification, the Holy Spirit uses the truth of God as an instrument (John 17:17). New Christians are urged to grow (1 Pet. 2:1,*2). The indwelling of the Holy Spirit is far more than just the presene of the word of God in the mind or memory of Christians. The word is the instrument which the Holy Spirit uses (Eph. 6:17).

ALL WHO OBEY GOD RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT AS A GIFT (Acts 5:32; 2:38). The believer in Christ is to receive the Holy Spirit (John 7:38, 39); the world (unbelievers) cannot receive the Holy Spirit (John 14:17); He is for those who love Christ and keep His Commandments (John 14:15). When a person becomes a child of God, he receives the Holy Spirit as a gift (Gal. 4:6; Acts 2:38).

HOW DOES THE HOLY SPIRIT DWELL IN THE CHRISTAIN? What does the New Testament say about this? Observe: Both God and Christ dwell in the the person who keeps (obeys) abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that the word of Christ (John 14:23, 24). "Whosoever transgreth, and adideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son." (2 John 9). Neither God nor Christ dwells personally in the Christian—God is in His heavens and Christ is at His right hand. The Holy Spirit represents God and Christ on earth. When the Holy Spirit dwells in a Christian, God and Christ dwell in him—and vice versa. The Holy Spirit dwells in a Christian when he follows the leadership of the Holy Spirit (Rom. 8:14); and the Holy Spirit leads a person by the will of God revealed in the New Testament (1 Pet. 1:22-25). The more faithful and consecrated a Christian is, the richer and fuller are the blessings of the Holy Spirit (Rom. 12: 1, 2; 2 Pet. 1: 3, 4).

"THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST SALUTE YOU." (Rom. 16:16). Ninteen hundred years ago the church you read about in the New Testament was established. Today, she is referred to by the same terms, and has the same worship, organization, doctrine, and life.

Tune in KSNY on Tuesdays and Thursdays a 7:15 p.m. and hear C. Dale Brooks.

An Old Controversy

Ex-President Harry S. Truman's remark on visiting the battlefield of Salerno, Italy, to the effect that that battle and the one that followed at Anzio were "totally unnecessary and planned by some squirrel-headed general," set off reverberations in this country and Europe.

Mr. Truman subsequently denied the remark attributed to him, but the correspondent who reported it stuck to his guns.

It was a new play on an old controversy. Since General Eisenhower was the top allied commander in that theater at the time of Salerno, his name naturally came into the picture, but a White House aide, asked if the President had any comment, replied: "Ask the squirrels."

But General Eisenhower in his book, "Crusade in Europe," made it quite clear that the Salerno-Anzio "left punch" designed to finesse the Nazis out of their position in Southern Italy had been the decision of the Allied High Command, and that he personally objected to Anzio in particular to Winston Churchill and the new allied commander in the Meditarranean, British Sir Henry Maitland Wilson. Eisenhower said the allied command picked Salerno after considering "every spot of the beach from Rome to the toe of the (Italian) boot."

The controversy over Salerno-Anzio consists in two parts, strategical (referred to by Truman) and tactical. It was the tactical aspect of the Salerno-Cassino campaign that brought General Mark Clark under the critical guns of former officers, mainly of the Texas 36th Division, after the war, who accused him of blunders in the Rapido River crossing, where the losses were frightful. Clark contended he was carrying out orders by superiors, and the effort to block his confirmation as a major general proved unsuccessful.

Mr. Truman was, or would have been, merely reopening an old controversy regarding the handling, or mishandling of part of the Italian campaign. Certainly allied generalship did not shine at Salerno and Anzio.

Perhaps Mr. Churchill's obsession with "the soft underbelly of Europe" set the stage for the Italian misadventure.

Outcome At Dallas

The Democratic State Convention in Dallas Tuesday, in its enthusiasm and uproarious jollification, was unlike any seen in recent years. One has to go back to the old torchlight days to mark its equal, and for the amount of energy, its theme song might have been that of an elder day—"Happy Days Are Here Again!"

It was not Lyndon Johnson all the way, but the demonstrations staged in his honor would have done credit to a national convention at its liveliest.

"We have achieved unity," Senator Johnson told the delegates at one point. "We have restored the Democratic Party to its rightful place in the hearts of Texans."

Johnson did not get all he wanted in the later stages of the session, especially in the matter of national committeeman and committeewoman, but as Dave Cheavens of the Associated Press summed it up:

"It (the convention) gave him the favorite son presidential designation, leadership of the state delegation to the National Democratic Convention, a delegation that will support the party nominees, and a 'moderation' way of doing business aimed at unifying the once badly shattered state party."

Not the least of the Johnson triumphs was the defeat of certain "liberal" groups who wanted to go all out in slapping down what was left of the Shivers political empire. The senator had said he wanted to unify the whole party, extend the hand of fellowship and amity to the "bolters," and restore the party to harmony and cooperation. Those who thought he might not have meant it soon found out he did. They were beaten overwhelmingly on the issue of ousting the Shivers-picked state executive committee who, instead of being thrown out, will serve their full term to next September.

Asking that bygones be bygones, Johnson declared:

"I welcome back to our party all those who subscribe to our principles. I think we should roll out the carpet and make the path easy for those who want to vote Democratic."

Spanking Troubles

DETROIT (AP) — Spanking in public schools has been approved by the Detroit Council of Parent-Teacher Assns. but only after a spanking hot argument over the issue.

The leader of the no-spanking faction twice was cut off the public address system and one prospanking man offered "to show the antispanking gentleman out of the hall." Final vote to support the spanking policy was 151-83.

Magazine Expressed No Sadness When Second Capitol Of Texas Burned Down

By ED OVERHOLSER
Associated Press Staff

On Nov. 9, 1881, the second state capitol, built in 1855 on the site of the present capitol, burned. The Texas Siftings, a weekly humor magazine, reported the fire in this way:

"The architectural monstrosity that has so long disfigured the crown of the heaven-kissed hill at the head of Congress Ave., in Austin, is no more. The venerable edifice that bore such a startling resemblance to a large sized corn crib, with a pumpkin for a dome, and whose halls have so often resounded with legislative eloquence, reminding the distant hearer of a dog barking up a hollow log, is gone.

"It took fire Wednesday at noon, and in two hours nothing was left of it but the bare walls. The old building, however, was filled with many historical reminiscences and thousands of bats, all of which perished in the flame. . .

We were on the spot....pretty soon a tongue of red flame protruded through the window and felt around for something to lick, very much like that of a hungry boy who has been feeding on corn bread and molasses, and is anxious to get in the returns from all the outside precincts. It was a thrilling scene.

"The fire demons cruel tongues licked the fair proportions of the historic pile, while huge volumes of black smoke poured from the doomed building and settled over the fair city of Austin, like a sable funeral pall, enveloping in its somber folds the spires and domes that glitter on the seven hills of the Capital City of Texas...

"In a very short time the fire fiend was in complete possession, as if he had been counted in or elected by an overwhelming majority. He showed his ruddy face and fierce glowing eyes...while Gov. (O.M.) Roberts, in a rubber overcoat, like a venerable Santa Claus, wandered about, and looked on from the outside. He was accompanied by two staffs. One, which looked like an enlarged broom handle, he grasped in his hand. The other staff, that accompanied him, was the staff that wanted him to attend the Yorktown centennial, and to take it, the staff, along so as to lend tone and dignity to the occasion.

"When the alarm was given, it was supposed by a great many that the Treasury, containing the million and a half cash balance, was in danger. The anxiety on the part of all classes to assist in removing the silver to a place of safty, was touching.

"Instead of the hideous old hen coop we have now a picturesque ruin, with columns that remind the traveler of the Parthenon and classic Greece and Italy.

The Texas Capital on Nov. 13, 1881 said the fire was caused... "through the carelessness of a department clerk, and the ignorence of a mechanic who ran a stovepipe against the paper and plank sides of a room full of books, instead of into a flue, as he supposed he was doing.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

DEBUSSY :Musician of France. By Victor I. Seroff. Putnam.

Born in 1862 in Saint - Germain-en-Laye, Debussy was ostensibly the son of a newly married couple who ran a newly acquired china shop. Nothing about these parents accounted for the composer's genius. Previous biographies have been reticent, but Seroff notes a friend who might have given the shop to pay off a mistress, and who had the money, the discrimination, and an active interest in creative workers.

Whether or not the boy inherited talent, he grew up to set his mark indelibly on the music of his age—who goes to concert hall or opera and does not know "Pelleas and Melisande," the Nocturnes, "La Mer,' "L'Apresmidi d'un Faune?" Healso grew up to outdo a hundredfold the quiet little scandal of his parentage. This spectacular contrast between the ethereal, unearthly quality of his music and and they earthy, unprincipled character of his amours makes for an eminently readable biography.

This is not to say that Seroff has taken the slightest unfair advantage of his opportunity. Here is a young man who in all truth got off to a tough start; to win prizes, he had to play the piano; which he did badly, or had to write compositions based on the conventional ideas of which Debussy was singularly, wonderfully innocent. It was only with the Nocturnes, in 1900, that he won fame; yet when he died in 1918, wartime Paris papers had no room for obituaries.

It is tragedy enough to be a composer who could spend weeks deciding between one chord and another. Debussy made it infinitely more difficult by his callous shunting from one woman to another, Gaby to Lily and so on — these two packed pistols. This book is a must be the music minded, and a fine selection for anyone interested simply in an absorbing story.

Even Experts Puzzled By Economic Trends Of Today

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—If the tug of war between economic forces today has you baffled, relax. The experts can't make up their minds which way it's going, either.

Government economists, purchasing agents for industry, analysts for financial houses appear agreed on one thing, however. By summer the direction the economy is taking should be a lot clearer, at least.

The President's top economic adviser, Dr. Arthur Burns, notes 'divergent movements" going on beneath the surface of generally good times. He finds a "cost-price squeeze" at work in farming, home building, and the auto and farm equipment industries.

Burns admits the possibility of new inflation coming, but thinks it isn't clear yet whether the industrial price hikes of late can be passed along to consumers. He believes it more likely that the pressure of rising wages on prices can be held down by increasing the output per unit of labor. And intense retail competition should ward off much of the inflation threat for the consumer.

More directly concerned with industrial prices, with new orders and with maintaining the most favorable level of inventories are the members of the National Assn. of Purchasing Agents. They report that the price spiral appears to be slowing up now.

But as for business in general they are less optimistic. A poll of the members of the association shows that business activity has leveled off even more this month. And they have to go back to early 1954 to find a time when so many kinds of businesses were reporting falling production and a slump in new orders.

With this background for their annual meeting in Cleveland, the purchasing agents appear to accept the finding of the economists addressing them that the chances for another broad upturn in the economy very soon aren't spectacular. They think a number of industries will have to work out their present difficulties first and how long that will take they just don't predict.

The National Federation of Financial Analysts Societies, meeting in Boston, heard the President's economic adviser warn that the present is a time of testing in the nation's markets and that "developments in prices, inventories and retail trade will bear careful watching in coming weeks and months."

If you could tell the experts what the consumers are going to do next, experting would be an easier job.

BUCKLEY

Boyle Learns Facts About One Claim To Fame Long Attributed To The South

By HAL BOYLE

CONNLEY'S CREEK, N. C. (AP)—Two of the Southland's greatest claims to fame are grits and Southern womanhood.

The exact virtues of each remain something of a mystery to the rest of the country, so on a trip here I decided to find out the answers to these puzzlers as my special public service for 1956.

Now that my researches are over, I'm not sure whether I'm any less confused than when I began.

Let's take grits first. Like most people I had assumed you mined grits, just as you do salt or coal. Well, it turns out that isn't true at all. No one knows just how that old myth got started.

"Grits come from corn," explained my host at breakfast one morning. "They're just hominy ground up and cooked. There just ain't any food better than country ham, red-eye gravy and good old grits. Have some."

He pushed over a plate. I gingerly spooned up some white grits in which swam some golden butter.

"Some damfool Yankees claim grits taste like library paste," said my host, genially. "What do you think?"

"Why that's ridiculous," I replied.

My host looked so pleased that I didn't have the heart to add that the real difference is — library paste tastes colder than grits. Grits, to me, didn't taste like anything except a mouthful of luke-warm cotton.

Now about Southern womanhood. What makes it so extra

"We have the prettiest girls in the world," explained one man I asked. "The farther South you go the prettier they get. That is, they do until you reach Atlanta. Below Atlanta the quality thins out some."

That didn't seem to be the whole answer. So I asked two young ladies—Mary and Margie—they insisted I not use their last names—what they thought was the difference between Northern and Southern girls.

"There is a coldness about Northern girls," said Mary, who is married. "They aren't as warm or talkative when you meet them. They are more aloof."

"Yes," said Margie, who is single. "And Northern girls are surer of themselves. They know exactly what they want. They have definite opinions on everything. And they know how to chase a man. My, I wouldn't know even how to begin."

Later, still unsatisfied that I had solved the secret of Southern womanhood's charm, I put the question to an elderly Southerner.

"First, let me close the door," he said. Then, sure he couldn't be everheard, he said:

"Son, I did a lot of traveling as a young man. The only difference between courting a Southern and a Northern girl is that the Southern girl can chase you harder without your even knowing she's after you.

"There isn't any real difference in 'em after you marry except this: A Southern girl bawls you out in a softer voice. But, as she speaks slower, it takes her longer to get through."

Jet Airliner Goes In For Modern Decorating Scheme

By INEZ ROBB

A dingy old loft building hard by the Hudson River is a Mecca these days for a small but steady stream of New Yorkers and visiting firemen who are being given a glimpse of the jet air age just around the corner for all of us.

Inside this unprepossessing building is imprisoned the purtiest airplane I've ever seen. It is a $500,000 "mockup" or full-scale model of the interior of the huge jet airliner that the Boeing Airplane Co. will begin delivering to the airlines in late 1958.

On the outside, this first American passengar jet may look like a bat-out-of-hell, which it is supposed to out-perform. But on the interior, it is as lush as a Hollywood boudoir, and passengers have never had it so gay. It seems a pity that it will only take five hours and 55 minutes to fly to London in a plane as pleasing to the eye as this Boeing 707 jet transport.

Walter Dorwin Teague, the industrial designer, and his associates, who are responsible for the interior of the plane, have used ice cream pastels in technicolor profusion to make the jet passenger plane as airy as the stuff through which it flies.

They have used blocks of color to break up the interior of this huge plane, which is capable of carrying from 98 to 122 passengers on domestic routes and as many as 146 passengers on the still larger intercontinentials, which will span the oceans.

One block of seats—sometimes in three, sometimes in four rows—is done in coral. The next block is periwinkle blue, and all against a background of soft gray carpeting and white walls printed with geometric designs in melting pastels.

The high, arched ceiling looks like the kind of strawberry ice cream that Mother used to make. Set into this ceiling are big, circular flat domes to light the cabin in a manner to compete with any planetarium in the nation.

At night, the opaque light changes to midnight blue, through which myriad stars twinkle, exactly as the ceiling at El Morocco (only no cover charge on the jet!). As dawn comes, the midnight blue fades to rosy dawn and the stars twinkle out as these talented domes return to their daylight status. Passengers of all ages will love this jet innovation.

Even the pillows and the blankets for the passenger who wants to snooze are a delectable strawberry pink

The two galleys and the four powder rooms on the big plane, which is both longer, wider and higher than any passenger plane in which I have ever flown, are pictures in pastels, too.

Even imprisoned in an old loft building (the only structure Boeing could find large enought to accommodate the hugh mockup), this is an exciting plane from the passenger point of view. Since seeing it, I can't wait to join the Jet Set.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Ph.D.s Tend To Marry Ph.D.s, Woman Claims

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Do Ph. D.s tend to marry Ph. D.s? Mrs. Bernice Cronkhite, dean of Radcliffe College's graduate school, says yes.

"Many of them do, but I have known one to marry a pastry cook," Mrs. Cronkhite told members of the Washington Radcliffe club. But she added, combining marriage with an academic career is more difficult than eombining it with any other type of job.

Mrs. Cronkhite acknowledged that professional women are lagging behind professional men in getting along in the world:

"They have much less economic drive. They are less adverturous, and when they get a good job all too often they stick in it for the rest of their days."

Eleanor Dulles, sister of the secretary of state, who was chairman of the meeting, took another tack. She said that women tend to change jobs to keeps their life interesting.

"When they see there is no chance of getting to be vice president of their firm, they try a different job," she said. "I've changed my job a couple of times and have had a much more interesting life because of that. "Miss Dulles is now special assistant to the director of German affairs at the State Department.

Mrs. Teun - Ying Wang, member of the Nationalist Chinese legislature, says that by law 10 per cent of that body must be women. Nominated by the party, they must stand for election by universal nd direct voting. The attractive Chinese woman, who is on the legislature's foreign relations committee, is in this country on a State Department "leader grant." She will visit our universities and study Congress and the state legislatures. She said that Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of Nationalist China's leader, is responsible for the current high status of women on Formosa.

The "Lady of Freedom" atop the capitol dome has had a shampoo and her robes have been freshened up. The commanding cast iron dome, 135 feet and five inches in diameter at its base, is also getting a glistening refurbishing. The lady, who doubles as a lightening rod for the Capitol, will get some new platinum points for her crown, which looks like a feather headress and leads some folks to mistake the figure for an Indian maid. This dolling up, which takes about five months and costs between $45,000 and $50,000, is required every four years to brighten things up for the Janurary presidential inauguration ceremonies.

Red 'Peace' Campaign Is Having Effect In Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians' campaign to look peaceful is having an effect in Congress—although Secretary of State Dulles seems to dread the thought anyone will believe them.

No matter how sincere the Russians are, their efforts are aimed at getting results either directly or indirectly. In the case of Congress the result was indirect.

On Tuesday — nine days after Moscow said it would reduce its armed forces by 1,200,000 men—the House Foreign Affairs Committee voted to cut $1,109,000,000 from President Eisenhower's requested $4,900,000,000 foreign aid program. That isn't final — both the House and Senate will act later.

One billion dollars of the chopped money would have been for military help to American allies and friends, the rest for economic aid.

One of the reasons for the committee vote was given by the chairman, Rep. Richard (D-SC); a "seeming lack of interest" in France toward Allied military preparations and a trend in Britain toward reduction of the total British defense program. He gave other reasons; such as the seven billion dollars left over from money previously voted for foreign aid.

A year ago Dulles had publicly stated he was afraid any general belief in Russia's peace campaign would weaken the desire of this country's allies to stay armed and Congress' desire to vote foreign aid funds.

He threw cold water on the Russians' announcement of their military cut last week. He was busy doing the same. The day just about the time the committee was making up its minds Eisenhower didn't need all the aid money he had asked for.

Its hardly likely members o Congress would take a chance on the military aid Eisenhower requested for the Allies if they feared war was imminent.

The British have been doing what the United States itself has done as technological progress with new planes and weapons put more emphasis on air power: reducing the size of their armed forces.

Eisenhower said yesterday the Russians seem to be doing the same thing now: "streamlining their forces.

In January 1953 this country had 3½ million men under arms; today it has 2,800,000. In 1953 Britains armed forces numbered 870,000; Britain plans to have 700,000 in 1958.

France apparently takes more seriously its troubles in Algeria than its fears about Russian attack. It has withdrawn three of its five divisions in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe for service in North Afrca.

In the Brtish Parliament more than 50 Laborites praised the Russian move, said the Russians wanted peace, and declared the Soviet competition was now political and economic but no longer military.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Did it ever strike you as curious that, among hundreds of television announcers and newscasters, so few are women?

Certainly there are many women swabbing themselves with lipsticks and unguents, and swabbing their floors with polishes and mops. And there are women like Wendy Barrie and Betty Furness who are expert promoters of certain specialized products with appeal to women viewers.

But for the most part, salesmanship on television is left to men. In fact you often come across a man making an effective pitch for a strictly-for-women product.

There's Arthur Godfrey, for example, who wanders through the feminine world of cake mixes and home permanents. And, less fortunately, Red Barber sitting beside a can of shortening bravely exhorting the little woman to race out and buy some.

Th predominant use of the male for sales promotion is no accident but a result of considerable discussion through the years. While many advertising men will confess they don't understand women, including their wives, a number of them have been telling me why TV salesmanship remains primarily a mans world.

Its because women want it that way, the boys insist.

"Women, explains one important any agency vice president, "don't like to have other women lecture to them.

"Women feel that men are the experts, says another agency executive. "When they hear a mans voice approving a product — whether its the way a woman looks after using it or its quality — they have a tendency to believe him.

"Men's voices are better, declares a third. "They carry more authority. They sustain better, and don't weaken as they go along.

"Ever heard of that old thing called sex? inquires a fourth.

There still are other reasons, apparently, why men are more popular as television salesmen and they don't come under the heading of theory. One is the shortage of convincing saleswomen.

"There just isn't enough good talent, was one down-to-earth (female) explanation.

SISTERS BEFORE KIDNEY TRANSPLANT—Twin sisters from Oklahoma at Peter Bent Brigham hospital in Boston, Mass., are shown together just before a daring operation, the first ever performed on women there, in which Mrs. Wanda Foster (standing) of Chandler gave a healthy kidney to her ailing twin, Mrs. Edith Helm, in chair, of Sand Springs. Doctors said the 21-year-old twins faced the risky operation designed to save the life of Mrs. Helm with "courage."

OPERATION A SUCCESS

Twin Donates Her Kidney To Sister

BOSTON (AP)—Identical 21-year-old twin sisters who underwent a kidney transplant operation at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital were reported in "very good condition" today.

In the first such operation involving women, Mrs. Wanda Foster of Chandler, Okla., donated one of her healthy kidneys to her ailing sister Mrs. Edith Helm of Sand Springs, Okla. The operation yesterday took 4½ hours.

The right kidney was removed from Mrs. Foster and transplanted to a spot below Mrs. Helm's own left kidney. Temporarily, Mrs. Helm will have three kidneys, the ailing ones to be removed later.

Mrs. Helm, pronounced incurably ill of glomerulenephritis (inflammation of the kidneys) came to Boston in April with her sister to undergo extensive preoperative tests to determine whether they actually were identical twins.

Doctors say that in the present status of transplant surgery, a transplanted organ can live only in an identical twin; it cannot survive in "alien" flesh.

The operation on the women, both of whom weigh less than 100 pounds, was performed by the same surgical team that twice before performed the same operation on twin men.

Dr. John P. Merrill, director of the hospital's kidney research laboratory, and Doctors Warren Guild, J. Hartwell Harrison, Joseph E. Murray, David Hume and Leroy Vandam were assisted by other members of the kidney research team.

Doctors had explained to the twins and their families the element of calculated risk in such serious surgery. The doctors said the twins accepted "with courage and optimism" the possibility of thus saving Mrs. Helm's life.

Harriman Is Supported By Sooner Group

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — New York Gov. Averell Harriman has established a Southwestern beachhead of Oklahoma support in the Democratic presidential contest but his claim on the state's 28 nominating votes appears shaky.

Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, who plans to lead his states delegation into the Harriman camp, indicated today he is ready to climb quickly aboard any bandwagon he sees rolling at the Chicago national convention.

"We want the party to pick the man who appears to be the strongest candidate for president," Gary said in an interview. "My personal reference is for Gov. Harriman but there are others I could support."

In the latter category, Gary listed Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 party standardbearer who is seeking this year's nomination, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Oklahoma's support is important to Harriman because it gives him grounds to claim that he has strength in a farm - oil, border state. President Eisenhower carried in 1952 by a surprising 87,000 margin out of about 950,000 votes.

Gary made it plain he expects Harriman to get the state's 28 votes on the first ballot. But he said:

'We from Oklahoma hope to be abe to be voting with the majority when the final decision is made on the nomination."

It has been a sore point among Oklahoma Democrats that their state missed the nomination boat at the 1952 convention by continuing to cast its vote for the late Alben W. Barkley on the third ballot when Stevenson was nominated.

Although many Democrats disagree, Gary said he thinks Harriman would run a stronger race in Oklahoma against Eisenhower than any other candidate. He insisted the New York governor has a greater "grass roots" appeal, for instance, then Stevenson.

"Stevenson is a brilliant and a good man," Gary said. "He would make a grand president. But for some reason he doesn't seem to take hold with the rank and file voter at the forks of the creek.'

Live Polio Virus Leaks Out

BALTIMORE (AP)—A container of live polio virus, apparently broken when an airport cargo handler dropped a crate, leaked out its contents in an airplane last night. Some swift telephoning brought quick action to immunize all those endangered.

The plane was a Capital Airlines DC4. It took off from Washington with four boxes packed with the virus for delivery to Johns Hopkins Hospital. An airline spokesman in Baltimore said a cargo man dropped the crate in Washington but the damage was not detected until the plane landed at Baltimore's Friendship International Airport.

The cargo was removed at Baltimore, but the plant took on 22 passengers at Friendship and left for Pittsburgh before airline personnel realized the seriousness of the accident.

A swift relay of calls—including one to Dr. Jonas Salk, originator of the Salk polio vaccine—brought quick action.

Seven cargo handlers at Washington National Airport were given protective shots at the airport first aid station. Three cargo men at Friendship were advised to stop at hospitals en route home from work and get shots.

The pilot, copilot and hostess of the plane were also given injections. They were Capt. Edward A. Tappe, Silver Spring, Md. ;co-pilot R. S. Hurley, Arlington, Va.; and Miss B. A. Miller, of Alexandria, Va.

Doctors supervised decontamination of the plane at Pittsburgh and of loading equipment where affected.

Airline officials said passengers were not exposed to the virus.

The virus was being shipped from Parke Davis Co. in Detroit.

Bus Driver Admits He Shot Wife

CHICAGO (AP)—A 34-year-old bus driver surrendered to police in suburban Downers Grove last night and officers said he admitted fatally shooting his wife as she lay in bed "because she was in constant pain."

Robert O. Schreckenberg was quoted by authorities as saying: "I just couldn't stand it (his wife's suffering). I took the gun and held it to her head and shot her several times."

The shooting occurred in the bedroom of the Schreckenbergs' six-room home in suburban Lisle. Mrs. Schreckenberg, 27, was found fully clothed, lying on her back in bed with her hands folded across her chest. Police said she had been shot in the head several times with a .22-caliber rifle.

Schreckenberg, also a part-time driver, was held in the Du Page County Jail in suburban Wheaton on a charge of murder.

Schreckenberg walked into the police station with Edward Taylor, 34, a policeman and a part-time cab driver, after he had told Taylor: "Better take me in. I've just shot my wife."

Asst. State's Atty. William Bauer said Schreckenberg told him his wife Dorothie "had been sick for the last two years" and that she had been in extreme pain for the last three days. He described the wife's illness as "pancreas attacks."

He told police he had sought to have his wife admitted to a hospital Wednesday "but it was all filled up." He said he also tried to contact two physicians yesterday but without success.

Sheriff's police said they found Mrs. Schreckenberg last week alone in an auto on a county road and took her to a nearby hospital. They said she was suffering from postoperative relapse following surgery.

The Schreckenbergs, married in 1949, had no children.

Doctors Tell Of New Drugs

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—A Brazilian research team announced today two new drugs have been found useful in treating one of the greatest causes of sterility in women.

The drugs are related to the better known and older ACTH and cortisone. They are synthetically made hormones.

The find was reported by Dr. Arthur Campos da Paz of Rio de Janeiro, president of International Fertility Assn. Teaming with him in the report were Dr. Affranio de Alengar Matos and Dr. Auricio Teicholz, also of Rio de Janeiro.

They made their announcement at the World Congress on Fertility and Sterility, a gathering of 1,100 of the worlds top experts in this field from 61 nations.

Discovered about a year ago, the drugs already have proven effective in the treatment of rheumatism, arthritis and similar diseases.

Tax Haven In Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP)—By settling in Norway for a couple of years an American financier can save himself a lot of taxes.

Under an agreement with the United States, an American living here pays Norwegian taxes and none to Washington.

Next year Norway is starting a withholding system, to replace the present system of paying income taxes in following years. To get the plan working, Norway is collecting this year on 1955 income and next year will start collecting on 1957 incomes — in effect skipping 1956. This does not help Norwegians, but can benefit a foreigner who had no income here in 1955.

One reservation to this scheme is that one's 1956 income cannot exceed his 1957 income by more than 20 per cent. Another is that the income must come from stock and bonds.

All-Around Safety Prize Not Awarded

CHICAGO (AP)—For the first time in many years, the National Safety Council today declined to present any state or city its grand award for all-around traffic safety performance in 1955.

A worsening traffic safety situation throughout the United States was given by the council as its reason for withholding its award of honor, the council's top recognition for safety performwnce.

Only one state—Minnesota—and four cities—Dallas, Seattle, Oklahoma City and Palo Alto, Calif.—were granted awards of merit for achieving a grade of 70 per cent or more in all sections of the traffic safety award program. The program formerly was known as th National Traffic Safety Contest.

In addition, the council awarded certificates of achievement to 24 additional states and 398 other cities for activities in various phases of traffic accident prevention, although their total grades were unsufficient to win major awards.

The award-winning cities included 195 which had no traffic deaths during 1955. In addition, 667 cities in the under - 10,000 population group, not eligible for the award program, were cited on a special honor roll for having no traffic deaths.

Court Rules Reds Can't Escape Taxes

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that the U. S. Communist party and its Daily Worker can't escape paying taxes on the ground that the payment would put them out of business.

"No entity has a right to restrain the collection of taxes . . . on the mere ground that continuance of such entity is threatened," Judge Richard H. Levet declared yesterday.

The ruling cleared the way for the Internal Revenue Service to collect tax assessments from the party and its newspaper.

Levet denied motions by counsel for the party and newspaper for an order to restrain Donald C. Moysey, district revenue director fo Lower Manhattan, from collecting further money to satisfy the tax judgments.

The judge said:

"There is no inherent right in any organization to avoid payment of taxes solely by reason of the fact that it may be engaged in publicity efforts which will perforce cease if it neglects or refuses to pay its taxes.

"A newspaper is subject to the same general laws of the United States as is any other industry conducted for profit. The fact that the Daily Worker may be forced to discontinue publication is a hardship which is no reason for this court's equitable intervention."

The judge said he found no violation of due process or invasion of the freedom of the press in the tax case.

The Communist party, contending that other political organizations are not taxed, charged it was being denied "equal protection under the law."

To this contention the judge answered:

"No facts are shown in any of the (legal) papers submitted here that other political parties have a like organization, like financial records and like sources of income."

The Treasury Department last March assessed the Communist party $386,265 and the Daily Worker $46,047 in back taxes.

Levet ruled that his court had no power to review the assessments.

Brief seizures of party and Daily Worker properties followed the levying of the assessments. Publication of the Daily Worker was not interrupted.

Hermleigh Builds Early Day Church

(Forty-second of a series on Snyder and area churches.)

The town of Hermleigh was just beginning to build up in 1908, and a part of its building included the establishment of churches.

One of those was the Hermleigh Methodist Church, which had its beginning after a revival meeting held in the nearby community of Pyron. Oscar Barfoot was among those who helped to organize the church, and Roy Coston was also one of the 1908 members. Both are still members there.

Among the earliest ministers were Revs. Clint, Hicks, Hudson, and Thorpe in the period from 1919 to 1924. In 1924, the church constructed its present building. The building will seat about 20 persons in the auditorium. In addition, there are three chassrooms.

The church membership has grown to its present 153. Services include church school at 10 a.m. on Sunday, Sunday worship services at 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m., Methodist Youth Fellowship immediately after the Sunday evening service, and Wednesday Bible study at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Lee Convicted Of Slaying Husband

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Elsie Lee was convicted for the second time last night of slaying her dentist husband, Dr. Marcellus Lee, 34, and sentenced to 10 years.

She took the decision impassively. Attorneys indicated they may appeal.

A 15-year sentence imposed in March 1955 was appealed and the verdict was reversed. The slaying occurred in the couple's fashionable home early on Nov. 8, 1954.

Witnesses described Mrs. Lee, 27, as a "nagger." The state said she was a jealous wife who had threatened to kill her husband. Lee's mother testified that Mrs. Lee had accused the dentist of associating with other women.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Lee had been married before. They had one child, who was 17 months old at the time of the shooting.

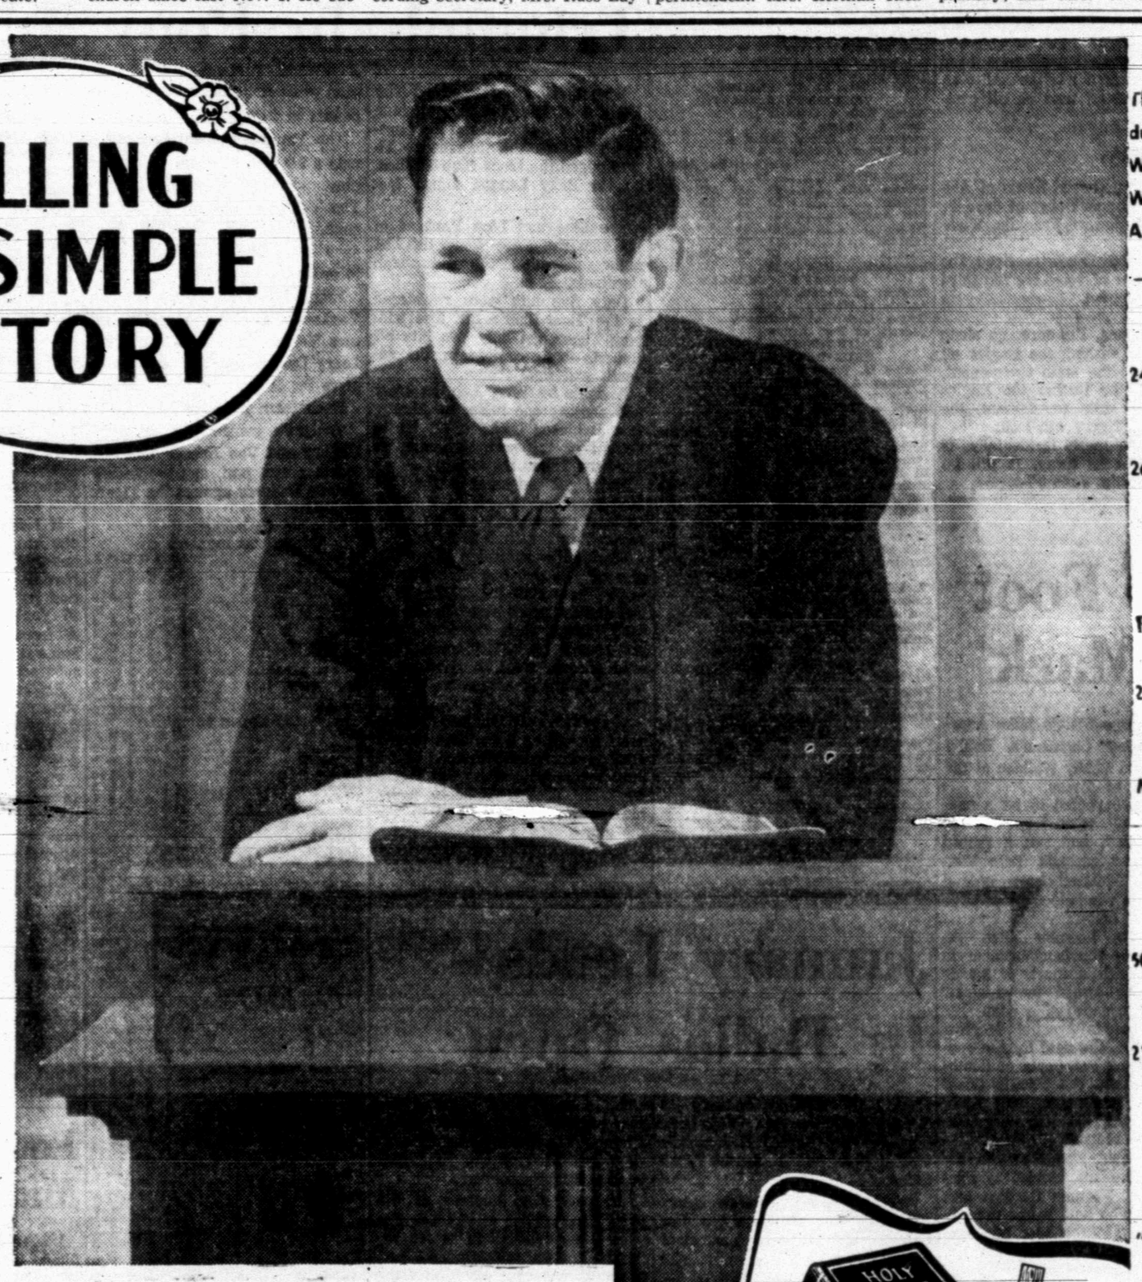
TELLING the SIMPLE STORY



MANY OF — smiled at the farmer in Pearl Buck's story of the Good Earth. It seemed to us most strange that a man should buy his coffin ahead of time and take grim satisfaction in looking at the fine box in which he was to be buried. Perhaps many of us are as strange in our American refusal to think about death at all. The old adage "as sure as death and taxes" should have put us in the frame of mind to look forward to our own death and to make some preparation for it. Too many of us, however, are like the proverbial ostrich; we dig our heads down into the sand and assume that while death will overtake everybody else, by some strange shift of good fortune, it will never knock at our door. We are "foolish virgins" as Jesus called the people who made no provision for the coming of The Great Day, because the hour was uncertain.

ONE of the SIMPLEST STORIES ever told is the one told by Jesus to the Disciples on how to be saved . . how to be ready for death. He made it so simple that even a "little child" can understand. Let us not take lightly the responsibility of telling this simple story! May we be conformed to right; subject to, and influenced by the moral laws of the Supreme.

FACE TO FACE let's face the fact of death and its certainty for ourselves. Then make plans that take death into account. See to it that we have arranged our minds and our souls for the promotion that we expect, from earth to Heaven. See to it that our families have been adequately provided for; let us face the fact fearlessly. May we be resolute and more determined to keep telling the Simple Story of how to live and what to live for, so that we may know how to die. Come with me to Church.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

WE SEE WHERE ABILENE baseball coach, Blacky Blackburn, has voiced his disapproval over the Tigers Milton Ham being chosen as the All-District 4-AA first baseman.

Blackburn thinks his first sacker, Bruce Boyd, should have made it. Its odd that Blacky would voice a complaint over the all-4-AA selections since eight of his Eagles were chosen on the 13-player all-district squad.

Some people it seems, are never satisfied. Blacky is sorta like the fellow who had a million but was unhappy because he didn't have two million.

Anyway, Blackburn, perhaps is only being prejudice toward his first baseman.

A quick survey of the District 4-AA records shows Ham with a .391 batting average to .176 for Boyd. Defensively, Ham handled 35 chances without a bobble, so Boyd couldn't be better than Ham afield. We do not have Boyds record defensively in district play.

Prejudice Probably Entered In

We followed Blackburn and his Eagles for three years while on the Abilene Reporter-News sports staff and we can vouch for the fact that Blacky has something on the ball when it comes to coaching high school baseball.

But we hated to learn that Blacky was critical of Ham when really there is nothing he can do to back up his argument of Boyd over the all-around Tiger athlete.

In regards to the All-District 4-AA team that was released last Sunday, some fans, we have learned, mis-understood the voting for all-4-AA catcher between the Eagles Glynn Gregory and the Tigers Don McNew.

Some are of the opinion that we dont vote for McNew because Gregory was a unanimous choice. Its true that Gregory was a unanimous choice but not at catcher. Gregory was placed on the first team on every ballot, either as a catcher or outfielder.

We voted McNew on the first team at catcher and Gregory in the outfield. Tiger coach Speedy Moffett, who, too, has been accused of not voting for McNew, did likewise.

Well, if a coach could take those 13 boys chosen on the All-4-AA team, he could take on all comers.

Starting Nine Listed

The starting nine, based on the number of votes each player received, would find five or six Eagles, two or three Tigers and one from Wichita Falls. There was a tie at one of the outfield positions.

The starting nine would be as follows:

Catcher — Glenn Gregory, Abilene; first base — Milton Ham, Snyder; second base—David Bourland, Abilene; third base — Freddie Green, Abilene; shortstop, Tommy Prichard, Snyder; outfield — Jimmy Carpenter, Carlton Winkles and Gerald Lewis of Abilene and Ronnie Baker of Snyder; pitcher — Howard Franklin, Wichita Falls.

Baker and Lewis received the like number of votes for the third outfield position.

Snyder fans, I'm sure, go along with us in wishing the Eagles all the luck in the state tournament. After all, the further the Eagles go in the state tournament, the better the Tigers will look.

The state meet, incidentally, is still two weeks away. It will be held in Austin, June 6-7-8.

IN MODESTO RELAYS

4 Aim At 7 Foot High Jump Mark

By JACK STEVENSON

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—Four fellows who like altitude make a concentrated assault tomorrow on the 7-foot high jump, a feat yet unattained in a decade that has seen the 4-minute mile and the 60-foot shot put.

At the California Relays are Don Stewart, the Southern Methodist freshman who has cleared 6-10¼ this year; Ernie Shelton, former Southern California NCAA champion with 6-10; Charley Dumas of Compton, Calif., College and Bill Russell of the University of San Francisco, both of whom went over 6-9¼ a couple of weeks ago.

Russell had decided to skip this meet and jump only once more before leaving with the USF basketball forces for a South American trip. His success at Fresno when he went the highest of his career and tied Dumas has apparently changed his mind.

Many feel that Russell, who stands 6-10, has the best chance of the quartet since he has consistently bettered his efforts.

The world record of 6-11½ was set in 1953 by Walt Davis of Texas.

The 100-yard dash brings together Fresno State's Mike Agostini, Abilene Christian's Bobby Morrow and Bobby Whilden of the University of Texas.

Agostini, expected to be a one-man Olympic team from his native Trinidad, has run a record equalling 9.3 seconds. Both Morrow and Whilden have official 9.4's and in wind-aided races have done even better.

Californias Leamon King, expected to be the fourth runner in the race with a mark of 9.4 or better, was forced to withdraw yesterday because of a cold.

In addition to Agostini, Morrow and Whilden, the field for the century includes Pat Coyle of Southern California, the Pacific Coast Conference champion, and Andy Stanfield, the 1952 Olympic winner at 200 meters.

Field events also drew an array of champions, headed by Parry O'Brien, Fortune Gordien and Bud Held who hold world records respectively in the shot put, discus and javelin.

The California Department of Fish and Game reports that California license agents sold 29,732 Arizona Use Permits for anling in the Colorado River during 1955.

Hermleigh, Tigers Triumph In Pony

Norman Gladson bested Tim Roberts in the tightest pitching duel of the season in the kid baseball ranks as the Courthouse Tigers edged the Lions Club Phillies, 2-1, in Pony League action last night.

The Line and Line Yankees of Ira won the other Pony tilt last night, defeating the Hermleigh Cardinals, 14-12.

Only five hits were registered in the Tiger-Phillie tilt. The winning Tigers got only two hits off Roberts—both coming in the seventh and final frame.

A single by Terry Lee, an error and another one baser by Jimmy Don Robinson broke a 1-1 tie in bottom of the seventh inning to hand the Tigers the victory.

The Tiger run came in the first inning without the aid of a hit. A walk, a passed ball and an error resulted in the first Tiger run.

The Phillies collected three singles off Gladson but none figured in the lone Phil tally. The Phillies tied the score at 1-1 in the second inning when Devane Jones got aboard on a fielders choice, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on an error.

After the second Gladson and Roberts hooked up a brilliant mound duel as the score remained at 1-1 until the seventh when the Tigers not only spoiled Roberts no-hit bid but also scored a run to win the game.

Roberts whiffed 14 Tiger batsmen while Gladson recorded 13 strikeouts. Gladson didn't walk a man while Roberts issued two free passes to first.

The Yankees spotted the Cardinals a 9-0 lead after 1½ innings of play and then surged back to win. The Yanks scored six in the second, two in the third and three each in the fourth and fifth innings to erase the Cardinal lead.

Eddie Lloyd and Dove led the Yankees with two hits apiece. James Vernon, Mickey Winters and Larry Denson also got two hits apiece for Hermleigh.

Each team got nine hits.

Tonight's games will send the Phillies and Von Roeder Red Sox together at 7 p.m. and the Scurry Butane Dodgers against the Tigers at 9 p.m.

January Leads In Dallas Open

DALLAS (AP)—Don January, a Texas freshman in professional golf, led the $30,000 Dallas Centennial Open into its second round today.

Another Texan, veteran Henry Ransom, who plays only a few tournaments a year, was close behind.

January put together a 6-under-par 64 yesterday. The field of 153 was decimated by three who fell out in the wake of a subpar onslaught that saw regulation figures over the tight 6,216-yard Preston Hollow course slaughtered 33 times.

Ransom, the 45-year-old Bryan, Tex., rancher who still plays under the banner of St Andrews, Ill., had a 65. Bunched at 66 were Mike Souchak, the big ex-Duke football star from Grossinger's, N.Y.; Mario Gonzalez, the National Open champion of Brazil; and hulking Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif..

Few of the big names and heralded favorites could stand the pace. Souchak was the only felow among those rated strongest for top money to offer a severe threat. Mighty Mike slammed the second nine in a bristling 5-under-par 30 in a grand effort to overtake January.

Ben Hogan, Fort Worth's great who was the pretournament favorite, ran into putting trouble and settled for a 1-over-par 73s.

The field will be cut to the low 90 professionals and ties plus 10 amateurs with today's round. There will be a further clash tomorrow when 30 pros are trimmed from the roster.

January never has won a major tournament. In fact, he has been playing as a professional only one year after a brilliant career as a college golfer at North Texas State. Ransom last won a tournament in 1955 when he took top money in the Rubber City Open at Akron, Ohio.

The Preston Hollow course is hazardous for those who don't drill their drives and iron shots straight — but experts wouldn't be surprised if it didn't yield at least a 62 before the tournament ends. January's 64 bettered the competitive course record by a stroke. The record was set last year by Bill Trombley of Dallas in a $5,000 pro-amateur.

The 26-year-old January, of Abilene, Tex., winner of $3,417.85 this year, has finished in a tie for fourth in two tournaments—Tucson and Pensacola. He missed the money in five tournaments.

January, who lives at Abilene, was one of the North Texas State golfers whose amateur standing was removed in 1952 because he was teaching golf at the school. He got it back soon after, however, and finished at the college in 1953. He was in the Air Force until November, 1955.

One of the three players who withdrew in the first round yesterday was Byron Nelson, the Texas great of a decade ago. Nelson had a 38 on the front nine and when he was out of bounds on the eleventh hole decided he had had enough.

Breaking NCAA Rules Termed Dangerous

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Colleges which violate athletic codes in the future are playing a dangerous game with fate, according to the man who rides herd on infractions for the NCAA.

The trend toward stiffer penalties for violators is the real thing, A. D. Kirwan, chairman of the NCAA Rules and Infractions Committee, said today.

"There is no turning back," said Kirwan, history professor at the University of Kentucky.

"It's either imposing stiff penalties or going professional whole hog."

Kirwan, a bespectacled former football coach, had praise for such conferences as the Pacific Coast, the Southeastern, the Southwest and Big 10 for cracking down.

Their lead in penalizing schools which permit undercovzr payments to athletes might even be the salvation of college athletics, he suggested.

Big League Heads Slate Meeting

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of the 16 major league baseball clubs headed into a meeting today with winter baseball and television topping the list of matters up for formal discussion.

The parley is the first of four quarterly sessions. Until this year the major leagues have held two meetings annually, one during the All-Star game break and another in December.

Final Speedway Trials Tomorrow

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The 33-car lineup for the $250.000 500-mile race Wednesday will fill up in a noisy, dangerous and confusing shuffle of cars and drivers in final qualifying sessions tomorrow and Sunday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Twenty nine cars qulified last weekend at a record-breaking average of 142.896 m.p.h.

"Car hopping" by drivers hunting faster vehicles and owners looking for hotter pilots will make th printed program a doubtful guide to fans, about 100,000 of whom turned out for the first trials last Saturdy.

Yanks Rout Tigers Again

The Associated Press

About the only printable thing Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City and Detroit — the American League's Western Division — can say about New York today is "Yankee go home!"

After 10 days in the West, the Yankees have pocketed an 8-2 record, including a three-game sweep that shattered Chicago's streak. And Mickey Mantle now as a .421 season batting average with 17 home runs.

It was strictly a get-well-quick trip for the Yanks, who left home May 13 with only a one-game edge over Cleveland after losing four of six. Now the Yanks have a three-game bulge over the Indians.

Yesterday the Yankees clubbed Detroit 11-4 to wrap up the tour. It was the second straight day they socked Tiger pitching for 17 hits. Mantle had a homer—putting him 12 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace—and four singles for his third perfect day on the tour.

The other other game scheduled was in the National, and Philadelphia dropped Brooklyn into a fourth-place tie 6-4 as Willie Jones drove in four runs with two homers and a single.

New York's picnic at Detroit was a pretty fair example of how the Yanks have operated in the West. Bob Turley didn't go the distance, but Tom Sturdivant produced 5 1-3 scoreless relief innings with one-hit ball. Joe Collins and Andy Carey joined Mantle with solo homers and Eddie Robinson belted a grand-slammer off Steve Gromek, third of four reliefers to follow loser Duke Mass, for a 10-4 lead in the fifth.

Robin Roberts won his fifth for the Phillies, although giving up homers by Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson. The veteran right-hander — who holds the one-season record of "home runs off" at 41 — now has given up 12 gopher balls this season.

Snider's homer put the Brooks into the lead in the first, but Jones tied it in the second and sent the Phils into a 4-2 lead in the fourth off rookie Don Drysdale, who lost his second in three decisions.

Mantle Just Hopes To Play In All Games

DETROIT (AP)—Mickey Mantle leads the American League in almost every hitting department, but he says what impresses him most is that he has played in every game.

"I don't set any goals as far as hitting goes," said the New York Yankee center fielder. "But just once in my life, I'd like to be able to play in every game of the season. Then maybe I could do some of these other things people are always talking about."

Not since Mickey came to the major leagues in 1951 as a 19-year-old sensation has he played in more than 147 games a season. And in many cases, his appearance was nothing more than to pinch-hit.

'These things' that other people talk about include breaking Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs, and winning the triple crown — batting, runs-batted-in and home runs. The free-swinging kid from Commerce, Okla., elects to leave that kind of talk to others.

If 1956 is the "big year" everyone has been anticipating, Mantle has his best start ever to send him flying toward a host of hitting honors. He has played in all 35 Yankee games and is far out in front of the pack in batting, home runs, runs-batted-in, hits and runs scored.

Before yesterday's 11-4 Yankee victory over Detroit, Mickey told a newsman, "It's probably silly to think I could keep going like this."

He took the field and proceeded to match the entire Tiger club hit for hit. He socked a home run and four line drive singles in five official trips for a perfect day at bat.

The performance shot his batting average up to .421, about 60 points ahead of his nearest rival. The home run was No. 17, five ahead of teammate Yogi Bera. He scored three times, giving him 9 — 10 ahead of Yankee Hank Bauer. Hz drove in three runs and leads Berra, who has 34, by 5. With 56 hits in 35 games, he is a dozen ahead of Detroit's Harvey Kuenn.

Louis Wins Mat Bout

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Louis, who fought his way from Detroit Golden Gloves rings to the world heavyweight boxing championship came back home as a wrestler last night.

But there were some 10,000 empty seats at Olympia Stadium which he once could have jammed to the rafters with paying customers. His estimated $1,200 share of the $4,681 gate was attached by U.S. Internal Revenue agents for back income taxes. He owes an estimated $1,250,000 to Uncle Sam.

Louis pinned Jim Bernard in a one-fall exhibition in 7 minutes and 57 seconds. A crowd of 4,410 turned out for this and three other matches.

Louis is unbeaten in 16 wrestling matches, since he turned grappler four months ago, but tax agents of late have been attaching his purses regularly.

In 13 years as a fighter louis grossed more than four milion dollars in purses, television, radio and testimonials.

By The Associated Press

Houston beat Tulsa 4-2 to gain a game while third-place Dallas edged to within three and one-half gmes by nipping Austin 3-2. Shreveport defeted Oklahoma City 4-0.

Dallas plays at San Antonio and Tulsa goes to Shreveport Friday night.

UCLA PUBLICIST HAS A HEADACHE—Vic Kelley, Jr., head of the UCLA athletic news bureau in Los Angeles, Calif., doesn't find anything funny in the Pacific Coast Conference putting the school on probation for three years, but he's willing to go along with a gag to show what a headache it's become for him. He not only is spending much of his time interpreting UCLA's stand in the matter, but as the school's golf coach he's worried that some of his better players may transfer elsewhere because of the conferenc dict that no UCLA team in any sport may win a championship regardless of its record and no team can participate in post-season or NCAA events.

IN LITTLE LEAGUE

West Texas Bank, Lions Club Win

The Lions Club Cubs and the West Texas State Bank Athletics won easy victories in Little League play last night, the Cubs defeating the Quarterback Club Giants, 17-5, in the National League and the Athletics downing the Holder Construction Indians, 8-1, in the American League.

The Cubs broke the National League game wide open in the sixth inning when they poured 11 runs across the plate.

The Athletics jumped into a 5-0 lead in the first inning and then coasted home against the Indians.

William Robinson of the Cubs got the nights only homerun, coming with two on in the third inning. Robinson, Bill Weaver and Adam Romero each got three hits to lead the Cubs 18-hit attack off two Giant pitchers.

Tommy Boothe was the leading Giant hitter with two safeties.

Dalton Walton pitched the Athletics to victory in the American League game, allowing only three hits, all singles.

Kenneth Roach and Keith Moreland were the leading hitters for the winning A's with two base hits apiece.

Tonights games will pit the Legion Yankees and the Trinity Methodist White Sox in the National League at 7 p.m. and the Rotary Cardinals and Kiwanis Club Braves in the American League at 9.

Mondays scheduled games have been called off due to graduation exercises at Snyder High School. The games will not be made up unless they will have bearing on the championship after the season has been completed.

Humez And Fullmer To Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson may meet the winner of tonight's Charles Humez-Gene Fullmer scrap in his next middleweight title defense.

On the other hand, he may wind up fighting Archie Moore for the light heavyweight crown or boxing Carmen Basilio, former welter champion. Plotting Robinson's future, even a few days before he is scheduled to fight, can be most difficult.

The 10-round match in Madison Square Garden between Humez, the European champion, and Fullmer, the "Cyclone" from West Jordan, Utah, should produce a worthy challenger. According to the latest Ring ratings, Humez is No. 2 and Fullmer No. 3 among the 160-pounders. As the same ratings also placed Bobo Olson No. 1, both men moved up a peg.

On the strength of comparative performances against Ralph (Tiger) Jones, 23-year-old Fullmer has been made the 7-5 favorite. Jones beat Humez in his American debut March 23 in the garden and Fullmer whipped Jones April 20 in Clevelnd.

Humez, 29, has an 83-5-1 record for 89 pro fights dating back to 1948. Fullmer owns a 35-3 record with 19 knockouts.

NBC will telecast at 9 p.m., EST.

Babe Zaharias Keeps Hopes Alive

GALVESTON (AP)—Babe Zaharias said yesterday she stil has hope of winning her third fight against cancer.

"I don't feel like I'm ready to leave the hospital but I still have hope," she said in a telephone interview.

The famed woman golfer and all-around athlete was re-admitted to John Sealy Hospital here several months ago. She devotes much of her time to the Babe Zaharias Cancer Fund to study cancer causes.

Spuds Nip Abilene To Hold 2nd Place

By The Associated Press

Wichita Falls, which shouldered by Abilene Thursday night, held second place Friday ready to try the job the Blue Sox couldn't manage—wresting the Big State League lead from Corpus Christi.

Wichita Falls clipped Lubbock 5-3 while Waco downed Abilene 4-2 and dropped the Blue Sox to third. Beaumont nipped Corpus Christi 7-6 to leave the Spudders a game and a half behind. Port Arthur beat Victoria 4-2.

The teams play at the same stands—Wichita Falls, Beaumont, Waco and Port Arthur—Friday night.

Rookie In 1-Hitter

By The Associated Press

Ed Donnelly made an auspicious baseball debut in the Sooner State League Thursday night while aiding his Ponca City mates into first place.

The rookie hurled a one-hitter in the seven-inning opener as the Cuby blanked the Shawnee Hawks 2-0. Ponca City also took the nightcap, 5-2.

All other games were rained out.

Ike Favors Legislation On 20 Items

WASHINGTON (AP)— The White House said today President Eisenhower has nearly 20 items of legislgation he would very much like to have Congress adopt before it adjourns in July.

Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder said in response to inquiries that the President has a list of pending legislation in the international, national security, government, economic, welfare and related fields.

Snyder supplied the list to newsmen without giving it a "must designation, but said Eisenhower regards these items as "high points of his legislative program and has "great interest in their being enacted before Congress quits.

Snyder said he hasn't heard of any plan to call Congress back into session in the fall in the event some of the legislation gets pigeonholed.

The "high points include two civil rights measures proposed by Atty. Gen. Brownell—establishment of a commission to see if new special legislation in this field is needed, and the setting up of a specal division, headed by an assstant attorney general, in charge of civil rights matters.

TERRIBLY WET

Bluebloods Jump In River

LONDON (AP) — River police hovered anxiously around today as champagne-inspired young British bluebloods climaxed a debutante party by egging two guests to dive fully clothed into the Thames.

The fun-loving Duke of Kent, 20-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, was one of the 300 revelers aboard the 190-foot motorship Royal Princess. But he didn't take part in the swimming.

The party off the picturesque Chelsea section of London celebrated the social coming-out of Felicity and Penelope Drew, 18-year-old twins who were presented to the Queen in March.

Young Kent—son of the Duchess of Kent—attended with a pretty blonde whom newsmen could not identify.

Midway through the celebration somebody cast off the mooring lines and the boat began to drift. Skipper Herbert Whincup hurried to the bridge, started the engines and brought his craft back to dock.

More champagne corks popped, then one guest shouted, "How about a swim"

A friend offered to bet him 5 pounds ($14) he wouldn't jump in.

The guest took the bet, popped his bowler hat on his head and leaped off the bow end, yelling, "The fiver is mine."

A lifebelt was tossed to him and he was retrieved, still wearing his bowler.

A second guest then offered to jump in for 10 pounds.

Annoyed at this inflationary trend, some of the other stags tossed him into the Thames.

He was rescued by a passing vessel manned by British Sea Scouts. They ceremoniously piped him back aboard the Royal Princess amid cheers.

At this point a police patrol boat arrived to investigate and Whincup said it might be a good idea if they stood by.

"I didn't want things to get too much out of hand," he told a reporter later.

Wealthy Mrs. H. M. Drew, mother of the twins, commented:

"Everybody seemed to have had a splendid time. I had no idea two men had jumped in the river until we were saying goodby. Then when I shook hands, I noticed they were terribly wet."

Polio Report Is Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP)— New polio cases last week totaled only 85, slightly more than a third of the 245 in the corresponding week last year and the lowest number for the comparable week since 1951.

However, Public Health Service spokesmen reiterated today it is still too early to say what may happen later in the year. They also said it is too early and information is too scanty to say whether the big drop reflects use of Salk polio vaccine.

Texas with 25 cases and California with 18 last week made up up more than half the national total but spokesmen said those totals were in line with seasonal expectations and with the national trend.

Paralytic cases are continuing to run proportionately higher this year than last.

Car Gas Pedal Sticks, Man Mows Them Down

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Simon Karp of Toledo stod on the curb telling her husband how to park.

"A little closer to the curb," she said.

Karp stepped on the gas. He mowed down Mrs. Karp, a parking meter, hit a parked car and a truck, climbed the sidewalk and rammed two more parked cars.

Mrs. Karp was treated for a shoulder injury.

Her husband told police: "I guess the gas pedal stuck."

Uranium Depletion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission says known U.S. deposits of uranium, raw material for atomic bombs, will be "greatly depleted" by 1962 "unless extended by aggresive development and exploration."

Young Child Is Stowaway

NEW YORK (AP)—A baby 27 days old went aboard ship at Naples, Italy, as perhaps the world's youngest stowaway. But he arrived here as a paying passenger.

Giuseppe Fabozzi was born after his Italian parents, Mr. and Mrs. Saverio Fabozzi, received a visa to come to the United States.

Fabozzi, a 31-year-old tailor, got the impression that it was unecessary to pay for the baby's passage.

After three days at sea board the liner Independence, the ship's purser spotted the child as a non-paying guest. The parents then forked over $10 the fee for an infant traveling tourist class.

Immigration officials here said the baby was entitled to travel on its mother's visa. The Fabozzis will live in Brooklyn.

Officers Raid Slot Machine, Bookie Joints

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second series of revenue service raids on alleged slot machine and bookie joints in six states left at least 14 persons facing criminal charges today. More arrests are expected.

Sixteen establishments were raided yesterday by the government agents following up leads from a similar effort April 19. Eighteen persons were arrested at that time.

The agents, directed from Washinoton, operated without the knowledge of local authorities as they hit social clubs, restaurants, a fish market and a number of private homes.

Those arrested were charged with violating the federal wagering law of 1951, which among other things requires a $50 occupational stamp for gamblers and imposes a 10 per cent tax on wagers.

Some of the raiders found nothing, but other confiscated slot machines, scratch sheets and other equipment used allegedly for horse track and baseball betting.

Four persons each were arrested in a Bridgeport, Conn., fish market and a private home in New Haven, Conn. Three others were arrested in Newport, Ky., where agents reported finding 25 slot machines. Two Nashville, Tenn., men and one in Cleveland also were arrested. In Cleveland, agents reported seizing six telephones, bookie equipment and race scratch sheets.

Four private homes and a waterfront cafe in Arabi, La., a New Orleans suburb, were among the places raided with no arrests. One raid was staged also in the California border town of Dulzura.

Clouds Hover Over Nation

By The Associated Press

Skies were clear in the Northeast and in most areas west of the Rockies but rain clouds hovered over most other sections of the nation today.

No precipitation was reported in New England and the lower Great Lakes region, but the weather was not pleasant. Temperatures dropped into the 30s along the lower Lakes area and into the 20s in New England.

Coldest spot early this morning was Mount Washington, N.H., with 13 degrees. Frost was reported at Olean, N.Y. The freezing line extended to Erie, Pa.

Fair and pleasant weather prevailed in most areas west of the Rockies although some coastal stations reported cloudy skies. It was cloudy and mild in the Gulf and Coast states except for Florida, which was mostly fair and mild.

Mrs. Luongo Mixes In Wrong Politics

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Luongo sat in on a meeting of the Republican City Club for five minutes last night before she realized she was in the wrong room.

Mrs. Luongo, a prominent Fall River Democrat, should have been at a meeting of Democratic women held on the same floor of the same hotel.

Republican Chairman John B. Waterman declared a five-minute recess to allow Mrs. Luongo to leave — and also to check if any more Democrats had wandered into the wrong hall.
