TEXAN WINS IN AUSTRALIA

MELBOURNE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Joe Ezar of Waco, Texas, scored a sensational victory over Harry Cooper of Chicago on the 37th hole today to reach the semi-finals of the Melbourne Centenary professional golf championship along with three other Americans.

Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., eliminated Jimmy Thomson of Los Angeles, winner of last week's $5,000 Centenary open, 2 and 1. Densmore Shute of Philadelphia, 1933 British open champion, defeated Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., American pro title holder, 4 and 3, while Leo Diegel of Philadelphia pushed out Australia's sole remaining contender, Martin Smith of Victoria, 7 and 6.

ATTACK ON NRA RENEWED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Renewing their attack on the constitutionality of the National Industry Recovery act, the Amazon Petroleum corporation and other oil producers in the East Texas field today filed in the supreme court a brief contending their activities did not involve interstate commerce.

The document was submitted for use when the case brought by the producers is argued on December 10.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Mrs. William E. Massey, of Hot Springs, Ark., was re-elected president-general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy today at their first convention held in the north. The confederacy voted to hold their 1935 convention in Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Millionth Can Of Relief Food Is Turned Out Here

SUPPLY OF CATTLE IS NEAR EXHAUSTION; MAY CLOSE PLANT

The 1,000,000th can of relief food was produced late Wednesday by the canning plant of the Lubbock County Relief board. It, with the others which are being turned out at the rate of about 10,000 a day, will go to the unemployed of this relief district, which comprises 29 counties.

Can No. 1,000,000 contained roast cut, one solid piece of beef cut to fit the can, with a small amount of broth added. Hamburger and stew are the other meats canned at the local plant.

To Exhaust Supply

The present cattle supply is expected to be exhausted this week.

"I think the last cow will be in cans by Saturday," said W. E. Inmon, administrator of the county board.

Nothing definite has been done by the Federal surplus Relief corporation toward continuation of its cattle buying program. Unless additional beeves are supplied, the canning plant will be closed, throwing 403 persons out of work.

All Cans Treated

Beef to be canned is cooked an hour and 15 minutes under 17 pounds of pressure. Hamburger meat is cooked one hour. The cans are put through a 10-day incubation process, after which "swells" are removed and destroyed, and the remainder cased preparatory for use here or distribution to other parts of the district.

The plant has operated almost continuously, day and night seven

STATE RELIEF BODY READY

INCREASE IN GRANTS OF FOOD, CLOTHING TO BE ORDERED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 — The near approach of winter today found the state relief organization as much fortified with food, clothing, fuel and bedding as its means have permitted.

E. A. Baugh, assistant director of relief, estimated there are now 250,000 families, or 1,000,000 persons, on the relief rolls in Texas.

During December, he said, the commission will authorize an increase in grants to take care of clothing needs. In October 93,500 garments were made in the sewing rooms of the organization in 208 counties and plans have been laid to step up the rate of production during November and the winter months.

Mattresses Delivered

David W. Brack, supervisor of transportation and distribution, said 20,000 mattresses have been delivered to homes of relief families in 185 counties.

Orders have been placed for delivery in December of 862,430 yards of comforter covering to be used in sewing room activities; 275,000 pounds of mattress cotton, and 55,000 yards of mattress ticking.

Other officials announced that 7,400,000 pounds of potatoes and 288,000 pounds of rice had arrived in Texas for distribution among relief clients.

Stabbing Case Ends In Suspended Term

CLEBURNE, Nov. 22. (AP)—Gene Jones was convicted of murder and given a five-year suspended sentence today for the fatal stabbing of W. A. Matthews, jr., Cleburne filling station operator, last Oct. 24.

Jones, a farmer, claimed he did not intentionally wound Matthews and had merely thrown his hand out to ward off what he thought was Matthews' impending attack.

Mother Silent On Son's Giving Away Entire Fortune

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (AP)—The strange story of Alexander Ector Orr Munsell that he gave away his entire fortune in the past 15 months brought terse comment here today from his mother, Mrs. Julia Munsell of San Francisco.

"Yes, it's true," she said. "My son has given away his entire fortune. I don't care to discuss it any further."

Munsell announced last night in New York that he had given away about a million dollars to charity, saying the only joy he found in his fortune "was in giving it away."

Munsell, who said he earned $100,000 in one day just before the market slump five years ago is living at the Hartford house, a free lodging house provided by the FERA.

Government Strikes At Long's "Empire"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Washington Post says the federal government has struck again at Senator Huey Long's Louisiana "empire" by cancelling a $4,000,000 low-cost housing project slated for New Orleans.

The Post says that, in another of a series of moves against Senator Long and his attempted "dictatorship," the Public Works board voted not to go through with the slum-clearance after plans had been drawn and a preliminary survey made. The action was surrounded with the utmost secrecy. No specific reason was given.

Relief Pay Scale Abandoned By FERA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The relief administration today abandoned its 30 cent an hour minimum wage for work relief.

Hereafter, it was said, the factor in governing work relief wages will be the rates prevailing in the communities where the work is done.

An order rescinding all rules and regulations governing work relief wages has been sent to state administrators by Harry L. Hopkins, the federal administrator.

Responsibility for determining wages in the future, it was said, has been placed with local committees representing labor, business and the local relief administration. These committees have been functioning for some time.

Officials said they expected the new order to result in an increase in the number of persons on work relief.

MERCURY HITS LOW; COLDER FORECAST

TEMPERATURE 27 HERE LAST NIGHT; HEAVY COATS IN VOGUE

Lubbock shivered in subfreezing weather early today as the first cold wave of the winter sent temperatures tumbling to a seasonal low of 27 degrees and brought the South Plains area its first killing frost of the season.

The frost, about 20 days later than normally, was believed severe enough to kill all vegetation. The first killing frost last year was December 6, although a light one occurred early in November.

Fair And Colder Forecast

After hitting the 27-degree mark at 7:30 o'clock, the mercury began to climb rapidly under clear skies and by 11 o'clock had reached 44. Fair and colder in the south portion of West Texas was the weather prediction for tonight and fair and warmer for Friday.

Delay in the first severe frost helped cotton wonderfully, according to Don L. Jones, superintendent of state experiment sub-station here. He said small bolls which had been aided by late August and early September rains were given time to mature into a better crop. Feed also was allowed time to develop into a better class of roughage, he said.

Two Counties Aided Most

Mr. Jones said Terry and Lynn counties probably benefitted more by the delay than did other sections of the South Plains.

Lubbock's moisture Wednesday was gauged at .27 of an inch. Snow, light flurries of which were perceptible here, reached a depth of four inches to the north and west.

Farmers throughout the county were reported taking advantage of the first cold spell to kill their hogs.

Mr. Jones predicted the hog population would be reduced greatly

TECH FROSH HIGH IN EXAMINATION

A score of 320 by Jack F. Fox, 17-year-old Texas Technological college freshman, is the highest ever reported in a psychological examination that colleges throughout the nation give freshmen. Highest score made in 1933 was 302, formerly the peak.

Fox, of Childress, is a premedical student in the division of arts and sciences. His score represents a percantile rating of 99. The percantile rating is the student's percentage as compared with all the nation's scores.

The examination consists of tests in completion, arithmetic, artifical language, analogies, and opposites.

Other arts and sciences division freshmen who had percantiles exceeding 91 were: Condrad Castles, Abilene, 95; John McNeill, Lubbock, 95; H. M. Gibson, Lubbock, 94; and Clarence Mast, Lubbock, 93.

Sixty-two minutes is allotted for completion of the examination.

A percantile of 50 is considered normal. Compilation of scores in other divisions of the college had not been finished this morning.

FRANCE PLANS AIR FORCE

AIR MINISTER SEEKS FUNDS TO MATCH GERMAN PLANES

BY STUART MORONEY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS, Nov. 22 (AP)—France made plans today for a commanding air force in the face of allegations that Germany has a large plane building program underway.

Victor Denain, minister of air, asked a committee of the chamber of deputies for 3,500,000,000 francs (about $230,000,000) to finance the program to be spread over a period of several years.

Task Already Underway

The task of recovering ground lost by French aviation is already well underway, the minister said. He has spent 500,000,000 francs (approximately $32,500,000) of an appropriation available for modernization.

Warns Against Germany

The air minister warned that "since Goering (German minister of air) came to power, Germany has a military air fleet available and proclaims it."

Denain admitted France has more machines than Germany, in protesting against "panic fomenters" who claim the reich has thousands of planes. But, he estimated, Germany will have from 1,000 to 1,100 by January.

Outright Subsidy Is Better, Says Board

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—President Roosevelt probably will be advised that the government should support the merchant marine by outright subsidy rather than by the present indirect subsidy through mail contracts.

A departmental committee, working on a policy to recommend to the president, now has this in mind. Companies receiving the subsidies would have to give assurances that they would maintain good service and keep their ships up-to-date.

Moratorium Law Is Held Invalid By State Court

STAYS OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE ACTIONS NOT CONSTITUTIONAL; QUOTES BILL OF RIGHTS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 22—Efforts of the Texas legislature to ease the burden of debt-ridden property owners during the economic emergency by declaring a moratorium against mortgage foreclosures was inoperative today under a decision of the Texas Supreme court.

The supreme court yesterday ruled invalid a law authorizing judicial stays of mortgage foreclosure proceedings in deserving cases on the ground it violated a constitutional provision prohibiting the impairment of the obligation of contracts. On similar grounds it ruled unconstitutional a law to prohibit the taking of deficiency judgments in cases where real property sold to satisfy a debt failed to bring its actual market value.

Follows Higher Decision

The moratorium law followed closely the Minnesota statute which was upheld last January by the United States Supreme court in a five to four decision.

In an exhaustive 37-page opinion, concurred in by all members of the court and the commission of appeals, Chief Justice Cureton ruled the statute to be an unlawful exercise of the state's police power. The contention that the law affected only the "remedy" and not the "obligation" of the contract was declared by the court to be "without merit".

Permitted Court Stay

The law permitted property owners in danger of foreclosure to petition the district court for a stay contingent on proof of inability to pay, that the property could not bring its market value if sold at forced sale, that the value of the property exceeded the debt and would not be abused, that there was a reasonable prospect of liquidating the obligation. The property owner also would agree to pay a reasonable rental value to the mortgage holder during the suspension period.

Eight cases, one involving Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, were decided in the opinion.

WHEAT FUTURE IS GLOOMY

WORLD DEMAND IS TO BE SAME FOR TWO YEARS, REPORT

BY ALBERT W. WILSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 22. (AP)—A discouraging outlook for wheat exporting nations during the next two years was given today by the International Wheat commission.

It predicted the annual world demand for exported wheat would remain at 600,000,000 bushels until at least August, 1936, in a statement reviewing conditions.

Acreages Increased

Pointing to the nationalistic policies of importing countries, the commission said 26 nations have increased their acreage during the past year.

"The world demand for imported wheat in recent years has declined 20 to 25 per cent below what was looked upon as normal prior to 1932," the commission asserted.

"As both the trend of population growth and that of per capita consumption of wheat are declining in many countries, it is clear that any appreciable increase in world demand is largely dependent upon a reversal of the trend of wheat production in importing countries."

1934 Decreases Reported

Decreases in 1934 acreage were reported for the "big four" wheat countries as follows: Australia, 13.5 per cent; United States, 11.8; Canada, 6.9 and Argentina, 6.

The commission has postponed a final decision on extension of the wheat pact for twe years on the insistence of Canada and Argentina, who refused to act until questions of acreage reduction and export quotas are set.

All Because The Emperor Got On The Wrong Street

KIRYU, Japan, Nov. 22 (AP)—All of Kiryu's 65,000 inhabitants observed one minute of silent prayer today to express their apologies for an inconvenience caused Emperor Hirohito here last Friday when he was directed over an incorrect route.

They faced the palace at Tokyo during the prayers, which began at 9:41 a. m., the hour the emperor arrived in Kiryu.

Serious government complications were threatened when Hirohito was embarrassed by being taken along the wrong street by two police sergeants guiding his entourage. One of the sergeants later attempted suicide.

Allred Is Back In Austin Minus Deer

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (AP)—Governor-Elect James V. Allred returned from his deer hunt in Mexico today without any deer. He had no alibi.

Allred went into Mexico, crossing the border south of Del Rio for a week's vacation, the first he had had since beginning his campaign for governor last summer.

He returned to an office crowded as usual with office seekers. His first appointments probably will be announced soon.

FARM INCOME IS HIGHER

AAA ECONOMISTS SAY MILLION MORE TO GO TO FARMERS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—AAA economists estimate that farm income in 1934 would be $1,000,000,000—or more—above the return in 1933.

Figures compiled by economic advisors to Secretary Wallace here were cited, showing that Jan. 1 through September, 1934, the increase in returns to the farmer was $834,000,000 more than for the corresponding period in 1933.

Comparison Shown

Comparative figures for 1933 and 1934 were $3,479,000,000 and $4,313,000,000.

Benefit payments—money paid the farmer by the AAA to adjust production—were quite a factor in the 1934 rise. Through September, 1934, the producers had received $329,000,000 in benefit payments compared with only $76,000,000 last year.

Other Figures Given

AAA OFFICIAL SAYS ACTION NECESSARY

SOUTH AND MIDWEST MUST JOIN FOR PLAN, HE SAYS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—A huge farm bloc uniting the middlewest and south to demand "drastic, fundamental remedial legislation" for agriculture was advocated today by Oscar Johnston, prominent AAA official.

The stocky Mississippi cotton planter, who heads the producers' cotton option pool within the AAA, confessed he had been repressing his views for some time.

Must Have Equal Footing

Now, he said emphatically, the time has arrived "when America must definitely determine and publicly proclaim that industry and agriculture shall be put upon an equal footing."

Since the Civil war, control of government policy has been in the hands of the east and unjust emphasis has been placed on the development of the industry, he said.

Situation Intolerable

"The result is, whether consciously or subconsciously, the trend of our legislation and the building of our economic structure, has been with first consideration for industry," Johnston added. "This situation has become intolerable."

Although he made clear he was speaking only as an individual, his views were regarded as significant because of his position and because of internal storms agitated by the now-striking declines in exports of farm products.

Gives Main Points

Johnston declared the government must:

1. Discontinue the policy of reclaiming land through one department while another is taking acres out of production.

2 Give proper consideration to agriculture in negotiating international trade treaties.

3. Discontinue "the policy of playing fairy godfather for every sort of manufacturing enterprise that may be sought to be developed in America."

4 Plan both internal and external economic conditions in the light of the welfare of the farmer.

5. Rewrite tariff laws to open up foreign markets for agricultural products which have been accumulating surpluses.

TWO SLAYERS ARE HOPING FOR STAY

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 22. (AP)—Two slayers, J. P. Hogan of Hidalgo county and June Woolfolk, Bexar county negro, held only slight hope for executive clemency today as the hour of their execution, set for the early morning hours Friday, drew near.

Hogan was convicted of slaying his wife and burying her body on his farm at Hidalgo county last year. The state board of pardons reviewed the case and submitted a report to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Woolfolk was convicted of the slaying of Mrs. Alma Dell Cebble of San Antonio, slain after being lured to an apartment to answer an advertisement.

NEW LEGAL FIGHT LOOMS OVER GLORIA VANDERBILT; IS WARD OF COURT NOW

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A new legal fight over 10-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt loomed today in the wake of a court order directing her mother and her aunt to share the child.

The order, handed down by Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew, makes the aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Gloria's legal custodian, and gives her the child five days a week. The mother, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, will have her daughter on Saturday's and Sundays.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, however, said "such a promise" is unacceptable to her. Still confined to bed since testifying before Justice Carew, Mrs. Vanderbilt announced through her sister, Mrs. Benjamin Thaw, jr., that she would fight the case through.

It was not clear what legal steps she can take. Justice Carew did not rule on Mrs. Vanderbilt's writ of habeas corpus, but instead declared Gloria to be a ward of the supreme court until she is 21. Louis Frohlich, associate counsel for Mrs. Vanderbilt, said this may block an appeal since the court failed to dismiss the writ specifically.

Frohlich said one course open would be an application to the appellate court for an order directing Justice Carew to show cause why he should not be ordered to issue a final decision.

In awarding Gloria to Mrs.

BATTLE FOR SPEAKERSHIP DEVELOPS COMPLEXITY; EASTERNERS IN RACE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—What promises to be one of the hardest speakership fights in years developed new complexity today.

A volunteer committee was set up to back Representative O'Connor of New York and friends of three westerners got busy. They are Representatives Lea of California, chairman of the Democratic caucus; Crosser of Ohio, starting candidate for speaker two years ago, and Taylor of Colorado, another veteran.

Majority Leader Byrns of Tennessee, and Chairman Rayburn of the interstate commerce committee and Bankhead of the rules committee have generally been looked upon as the leading candidates to date. There is a group, however, which thinks the speakership should not go below the Mason Dixon line because so many committee heads are from the south. Backers of the western trio see possibilities of a deadlock on the favorites and a chance for their entries.

Those behind Mead of New York, Rankin of Mississippi, and Woodrum of Virginia, also continued active.

Representative Kennedy (D-NY) said frankly the pro-O'Connor move might enhance Bankhead's chances of at least drawing the leadership, whereupon the New Yorker would be in line for chairmanship of the rules committee, third highest house post.

Church Federation Continues Plans For Crusade

Dinner Is Served To Football Boys

Lubbock Westerner football players, their coaches and several other members of the high school staff were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Aycock, 1613 Eighteenth street, when they entertained with a dinner honoring their son, Woodrow, Tuesday evening.

The hosts were assisted by Mesdames Henry Sciba, Mary Frances Brewer, N. H. Wood and Miss Ruby Penney.

The party was a surprise to all the boys, who were directed by the coaches to the Aycock home after football practice.

Thanksgiving Motif

The Thanksgiving motif and the Westerner colors, black and gold, were featured in the appointments and decorations. Strung from the ceilings at the scene of the party were numerous "turkeys." Above the fireplace were large letters spelling "Westerners," black and gold alternating. Bows of the colors were draped around the lights.

On the plate favors, the words "Beat Pampa" were inscribed.

Special Program

A radio program of football and school songs was dedicated to the group between 8 and 9 o'clock. Games and stunts furnished other entertainment. Prizes were awarded contest winners.

Those who registered were Weldon B. Chapman and Berl Huffman, coaches; Ross Ayers and Bennie McWilliams, assistant coaches; Morgan Duval, squad manager; Dan W. Powers, Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, R. W. Matthews, Orban Aycock and daughter, Kendaleen and the following players: Eugene Alderson, Woodrow Barnes, Charles Calhoun, Erwin Gear, Vergil Griner, Ocie Griggs, jr., James Hendrix, Harry Halsell, Robert Allan Hill, Joe Jackson, Glenn Jones, Billy Linn, Robert Martin, Jeton Meador, Weldon Phillips, W. M. Robinson, Othie Upton, Dixie White, Dexter Walthall, Neil H. Wright, jr., Starky Whitehorn, Morris White and Howell Young.

Mrs. Bill Whittaker entertained at her home in West Haven addition for the N.R.A. Needle club Wednesday afternoon. A Christmas party was planned for December 14 in the home of Mrs. M. B. Cranford, 2012 Fifteenth street.

The group planned to cooperate with the Church Women's Federation in a Christmas stocking crusade for unfortunate families of Lubbock.

Those attending were Mesdames W. L. Duke, Everett Price, F. W. Martin, T. S. Cranford and M. B. Cranford.

The group will meet at the home of Miss Jennye Mae Whittaker, 1419 Eighteenth street, at 2:30 p. m. December 5.

L'Aiquillee Club Is Entertained Here

Three tables of forty-two were in play at a party given by Mrs. J. C. Dunkin Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Roy Hall, 2202 Fourteenth street. L'Aiquillee club members were guests.

Tallies, drawn to resemble large turkeys, concealed handkerchief favors.

The Thanksgiving theme was featured in all decorations and the refreshment plate.

Those attending were Mesdames Maude Bradley, V. O. Jennings, Jack Bowers, William Von Wolff, T. L. Biggs, Earl Ellison, H. T. Wilkins, Martin Kuykendall and D. C. Pollard.

They will meet, December 5, at 3 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Jennings, 2207 Twentieth street, with Mrs. Bradley as hostess.

Eight Guests Attend Party For Club

El Miercoles club members met with Mrs. C. H. Hickerson, 2506 Twenty-third street, Wednesday afternoon.

Refreshments and decorations were in the Thanksgiving theme.

Scott Home Is Scene For Club Affair

Mrs. S. Horace Scott, 2223 Fourteenth street, entertained for the Kongenial Klan Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. T. L. Miller was a special guest. The group worked on a quilt for an orphans' home.

Members attending were Mesdames J. H. Beard, H. W. Sims, J. A. Hood, W. W. Campbell, R. C. Odom, A. B. Ellis E. B. Harris, R. B. Smith, T. G. Bates, G. B. Walden and the hostess.

Royalty Will Give Funds For Charity

By BURDETTE T. JOHNS
Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—A visit to her future Belgrave Square home which she has never seen was a likely part of Princess Marina's program today.

After waving a greeting from a window of Buckingham palace to a great crowd as dusk fell yesterday, the princess retired early. Her arrival in England for her marriage a week from today to the Duke of Kent (Prince George) had made an exciting and fatiguing day.

To Increase Allowance

J. McGovern, outspoken member of commons from Glasgow, has given notice he would ask an opportunity to discuss an increased allowance to be given the Duke when he is married. Prince George's 10,000 pounds annually will be increased to 25,000 pounds (about $125,000) after the ceremony.

Sums ranging from a few shillings to thousands of pounds are rolling into the coffers of one of the city's oldest hospitals under the leadership of the betrothed couple.

In addition to sanctioning a national fund for the relief of underprivileged children of the unemployed, the royal couple has agreed to head a drive to raise 1,000,000 pounds (about $5,000,000) for the rebuilding of St. George's hospital which has stood at Hyde Park corner, one of the city's landmarks, for 200 years.

At the request of the couple money which might be spent on wedding presents will be diverted to these two funds. Checks and postal orders ranging from two shillings (about 50 cents) to thousands of pounds have been received.

Liberty Club Elects New Officers

LIBERTY, Nov. 22 (Special) — Officers were elected when the local 4-H girls' club met at the church Monday.

The new executives are: President, Miss Esther Ruth Pulliam; vice-president, Miss M. Nelson; secretary-treasurer, Miss Martha Sue Fugate, and reporter, Miss Frances Emery.

The following new members were introduced: Misses Mildred Fugate, Annie Alice Hines, Florence Townsend, Annie Lee Cone, Frances Nelson, C. Burrus, Mary Townsend, Helen Wells, Zelna Criswell, Virgie Dowd, Onetta Nelson, Pulliam, Martha Lawson, Estelle Criswell, Dorothy Lawson, Lorene Crabtree, Elena McLain, Martha Sue Fugate, Nila June Carpenter, Louise Lock, Marie Sowder, M. Nelson and Doris Sowder.

Girl Scouts Practice Yuletide Carols

Christmas carols were practiced when Girl Scouts of Troop 4 met at Junior High school gymnasium Wednesday after school. The girls plan to serenade at Christmas time.

They decided to make Christmas money by selling cookies, candies and doughnuts, orders for which may be called to Miss Mary Ann Davis, lieutenant of the troop.

Date-nut pie and hot chocolate were served to twenty-eight members and the captain, Mrs. C. C. Mansell, and Miss Davis and a new member, Miss Roberta Ellison.

Union Club Women Elect Officers

UNION, Nov. 22 (Special)—The Union Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. Finis Griffis Tuesday with 12 members attending. Officers were elected as following: President, Miss Sophia Combs; vice-president, Mrs. Wilmer Dial; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. McDuff Gamble; council members, J. Angerer and T. E. Ussery.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement don't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food don't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get them two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent substitutes. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

The club will meet each third Wednesday afternoon, it was decided. Officers elected were: President, Mrs. T. C. Reynolds; vice-president, Mrs. M. O. Hiatt; secretary, Mrs. B. E. Needles.

Other members are Mesdames Willie Dean Watson, T. H. Barnard, John R. Hall, H. B. Tong, J. P. Posey, J. A. Hodges, N. A. Payne and C. R. Hurmence.

Officers Elected In Wolfforth Club

WOLFFORTH, Nov. 22 (Special) —Officers were elected when the local home demonstration club met with Mrs. G. L. Graston Tuesday afternoon. They were: President, Mrs. W. C. Price; vice-president, Mrs. B. M. McWhorter; secretary, Mrs. Sam McWhorter; reporter, Mrs. O. F. Corley. Mrs. C. B. Tibbets was selected as wardrobe demonstrator.

Others attending were Mesdames M. M. McReynolds, M. E. Casey and W. B. Tibbets.

Thanksgiving Dinner Served To Club

Mrs. Sidney Oglesbee, 2307 Sixteenth street, entertained for the Lucky 13 Needle club Wednesday afternoon. An annual Thanksgiving dinner was served.

After the dinner, games and sewing were the entertainment.

The following entire membership of the club attended: Mesdames Joe Telford, Roy Furr, Allan Hill, John Read, Robert L. Stewart, Burton S. Burks, J. L. Murfee E. F. Alford, R. O. Short, O. W. Ribble, Walter Clark, A. K. O'Kelly and Oglesbee.

Annual Affair Given For Needle Club

Mrs. Homer Jennings of Sonora and Mrs. J. R. Weiss were special guests when Mrs. H. W. Cherry, 2506 Seventh street, entertained with a Thanksgiving luncheon and all-day meeting for the Loyal Sisters Needle club Wednesday.

Others attending were Mesdames W. G. Lofland, M. B. Cross, D. A. Davis, C. A. Paulger, D. A. Atkins, Ralph Moore, W. H. Trice, J. G. Oslin, Tom Abel, John R. Hall and N. A. Payne.

Church Circle Meets For Book Study

Members of Circle 11 of First Baptist Women's Missionary society met at the church Wednesday for an all-day meeting. Mrs. J. W. Reid taught the book, "Where Is He?" A covered dish lunch was served at noon. Eleven members and two visitors were present.

Methodist Wesleyans Plan Social Hour

First Methodist Wesley class will attend a party in the church parlors Friday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

Yuletide Joy Will Be Spread In City

Plans were continued for an empty stocking crusade for the unfortunate at Christmas when a committee from the Church Women's Federation met in the home of the president, Mrs. E. L. Robertson, 1902 Broadway, Wednesday afternoon.

Two representatives from each women's society of each federated church will be on a committee to collect the stockings and turn them over to Mrs. W. T. Milam who, in turn, is to arrange for a truck and a "Santa Claus" to deliver the filled stockings to unfortunate families at Christmas time.

Mrs. Milam, who is to acquire all available names of needy families, will investigate each and determine their needs. Then she will distribute the names, ages, sexes and needs of individuals in each family to committee members for fulfillment.

Anyone May Help

Any organization or individual who wishes to cooperate in the crusade should get in touch with one of the committee members, Mrs. Robertson announced.

The price of each stocking has been limited to fifty cents. Each individual may fill as many stockings as he wishes. All children, under the age of 13 years, will receive a useful gift, a toy, fruit and candy. Children, older than 13 years, will get a gift, fruit and candy. Adults in each improverished family will receive canned goods and boxes of groceries.

See Members

In order that families may not be duplicated and that direst needs may be more appropriately filled, Mrs. Robertson requests that each person, who wishes to fill a stocking, see one of the following committee members for instructions:

First Christian General Aid society, Mesdames George Kuykendall and Clyde Elkins; First Baptist Women's Missionary society, Mesdames O. J. Hull and C. H. Beck; Cumberland Presbyterian W. M. S., Mesdames W. L. Duke and F. W. Groce; College Avenue Baptist W. M. S., Mesdames G. C. Morgan and Buster Odell; First Presbyterian Women's auxiliary, Mesdames W. L. Hester and Harry Blocker; St. Paul's Episcopal auxiliary, Mesdames J. S. Penney and Clayton Carter; First Methodist W. M. S., Mesdames C. E. Love and Harry Heil; Asbury Methodist W. M. S., Mesdames R. E. Ellison and V. O. Jennings; Nazarene W. M. S., Mesdames J. E. Cook and L. M. Hocker.

To Aid Mexicans

The Mary Helm auxiliary of the First Methodist church will cooperate in the drive taking care of the Mexican families as is its annual custom. Mrs. H. C. Maxwell is chairman of this committee.

All of the above women are to sponsor the work within their own church organization, their purpose being to get as many women to fill as many stockings as possible, Mrs. Robertson explained.

The above women will also receive any used articles which persons wishing to cooperate may contribute, to be distributed among the families according to their needs or special wishes. This group of gifts will include used toys, clothing, jewelry or any other discarded articles which might serve to brighten the Christmas for some unfortunate person, it was announced.

Two Entertain Wives Of Postal Men

Mrs. Earl Pate and Mrs. Cody Carroll entertained Tuesday afternoon in the home of the former, 2106 Seventh street. Mrs. C. I. Waller was honor guest.

Guests, who are wives of postal employes, were: Mesdames John Morrison, Lloyd Johnson, George De Shazo, Warren Johnson, C. R. McLaurin, Roscoe Webster, Roy Potts, T. A. Hulin, H. J. Kendrick, Robert H. Chipley, E. L. Thaxton, D. C. Pollard, Fred Atkins, C. E. Waller, W. C. Barnett and daughter, Dorothy, Carroll and Pate.

Others who sent gifts were Mesdames Fred Higbee, W. B. Sides, James Dowdle, Garland E. Davis, Ernest Ohnemus, John R. Green, M. M. Brown and Miss Dolores Johnson.

Guns May Send Two To Electric Chair

WACO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Guns they had purchased here for protection in case they were captured in their swindling game operations may send Roy Curry and Joe Bailey Averett, 21, of Hubbard, Tex., to the electric chair.

In two signed statements admitting the slaying last Saturday of James Malcolm Stewart, jr., the youths said they planned to hitchhike toward Dallas Saturday and hijack whoever picked them up. Stewart, driving by, gave Curry and Averett a lift, and was later shot and killed when he resisted the men's attempt to rob him. District Attorney Williard McLaughlin said today the death penalty would be asked.

Burglars Nearly Put Max Out Of Business

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Max Fleischman, for 34 years a merchant here, has told police he might as well hang a "for rent" sign on his store.

Aug. 9 burglars took his entire stock of fall and winter suits.

Late in October they returned and carried off all his new overcoats.

Tuesday a trio of robbers entered the store and took watches worth $200, $3 in cash and even $2.10 worth of stamps.

Max was left without anything to sell, he said.

LUCKY GIRL

Her mother felt that family physicians and child specialists, and the hospitals must be right. A simple test that proves they are.

MRS. STRONG AND DAUGHTER, NANCY

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin brought relief at once," says Mrs. A. G. Strong of 34-47 80th St., Jackson Heights, N.Y.

If anyone in your family is occasionally sluggish or constipated; especially any child, you should know this medical truth:

You cannot get safe relief with any medicine if you cannot regulate the dose. And to regulate dosage, you should have a liquid laxative. With a liquid laxative, you can gradually reduce the dose. And that is the secret of safe relief from a sluggish, constipated condition.

Why Doctors Use Liquid Laxatives

A liquid laxative can be measured. Its action can be thus controlled. If properly made, of natural laxative elements like senna and cascara, it forms no habit — even in the youngest child. And such a laxative will help the bowels to help themselves, not make matters worse.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative containing herbs, active senna, and cascara, and is the one widely used. You can always obtain it at any drug-store. Why not make the "liquid test" which has attracted so much attention of late? It helps nearly everyone who tries it. It may make you feel better than you have in a long time.

If you will risk sixty cents to discover the natural, comfortable action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, we believe bowel worries will be over for your household.

FIRST WEEK OF DRIVE OVER

INCOMPLETE REPORTS RECEIVED; WORK IS TO CONTINUE

Virtually ever family in Lubbock will have been offered an opportunity to learn of a federal housing campaign when a canvass of Lubbock, begun Thursday, by 30 workers is completed. First week of the drive ends today. Late Wednesday about 1,500 questionnaires, representing 24 districts complete and 18 either incomplete or unreported had been returned to the chamber of commerce.

Tapping credit courses, improving residences, business buildings and apartments, money for the building industries, and employment for construction workmen are the main aims of the nation-wide movement.

Urged To Complete Work

Chamber of commerce officials urged canvassers to complete their work as quickly as possible so that results of the drive could be compiled. A complete report on the expected 2,500 questionnaires is expected late this week.

Numerous inquiries have indicated an intense interest in the campaign, according to A. B. Brown, manager of the Lubbock Housing agency, 1011 Texas avenue. The agency, maintained by the Lubbock Clearing House association, accepts applications for housing loans and submits them to a local committee.

Case Of Personal Risk

"A loan doesn't necessarily have to be supported by a lien on the property to be improved," Mr. Brown explained. "It is more of a case of personal risk, based on a person's income and credit rating. A prior lien doesn't necessarily render a property owner ineligible for a loan if his income and credit rating justify the risk.

"When an application is approved, the loan is made at once with no red tape. Everything is passed on in Lubbock."

Mr. Brown said most of the work so far had been of an educational nature.

TENTATIVE PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S REVUE

Tentative program for the annual Lubbock Crippled Children's Council show, to be held the afternoon and night of December 14 in the high school auditorium, has been announced.

Styled "big time vaudeville," the show will have 14 numbers, each with a member of the Lions club looking after its production. That club is sponsoring the show this year and in order that all of the money received from sale of tickets might go into the fund, directors of the club have voted to pay the costs.

Have One Rehearsal

Only dress rehearsal planned is for the night of December 13. Numbers are so arranged that it will not be necessary to have more than one dress rehearsal.

A matinee is scheduled for the afternoon, with the main show that night.

Following is the list of attractions, with the club members in charge:

Tech Orchestra To Play

Overture by Texas Tech orchestra, directed by D. O. Wiley, with Marshall Harvey in charge; time, five minutes.

Kids dance chorus, Waldo Trotter in charge; time, five minutes.

Park Board Head To Inspect Site

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 22 (Special)—D. E. Colp, Austin, chairman of the state park board, will inspect the proposed Quitaque Canyon park, near Quitaque, probably around Thanksgiving, he recently informed Col. R. P. Smyth, president of the association sponsoring the park.

Mr. Colp was unable to give Colonel Smyth the exact date of his visit here, but said he would be at Palo Duro canyon for an inspection about Thanksgiving day and would come here and then to Quitaque on that trip.

Directors present at a meeting recently at Floydada were: R. P. Smyth, Plainview, president; Clement B. McDonald, Quitaque, secretary; W. Edd Brown, Floydada; William McGehee, Lockney; Herbert S. Hilburn, Plainview; J. B. Russell, Quitaque; W. Coffee, jr., Silverton; H. F. Pipkin, Matador and Morris Goulding, Spur.

Plans are for the trip of inspection to be made by a Fort Worth and Denver train.

The Texas citrus crop for the 1934-1935 season will be about 12,000 carloads, a new record, a survey indicated.

FUND LEFT TO TWO SCHOOLS

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 22 (AP)—Details of the terms of a trust fund created from the estate of the late A. C. Barber, Fort Worth lumber man, the income from which will be divided equally between Mary Hardin-Baylor college at Belton and the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary here, were announced Tuesday by Rev. C. V. Edwards, vice president of the Belton institution, who was here for a conference with A. B. Culbertson, attorney for the estate.

The trust fund, created in 1930, by the lumberman's widow in line with his expressed wish, was formally transferred to the schools at the death of Mrs. Barber, Nov. 1. The entire estate has been appraised at approximately $320,000, half of it going to relatives in a will and the other half going into the trust fund for the Baptist schools. The trust fund is held by the First National bank here.

Must Be Loaned

Terms of the gift are that the income from the trust fund must be placed in a student loan fund for worthy students, the money to be paid back without interest and re-loaned to other students.

The gift from the Barber estate is the third which has come to the school in the last year. Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hardin of Burkburnett first gave $125,000 to the college and later provided for its participation in a $900,000 trust fund provided it met the conditions of liquidating its indebtedness, Rev. Mr. Edwards said. The terms were met and the school now is clear of debt and has assets estimated at around $2,000,000.

Five Little Dionnes Suddenly Become Ten as Doll Arrives for Each

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

What's this? Ten little Dionnes instead of the famous five? But look a little closer, and you'll see that five of the figures above are beautiful life-sized dolls, one of which was sent to each of the famous quintuplets.

So you see they didn't have to wait until Christmas to get "twin sisters" that would gladden the heart of any little girl. Santa Claus came early to the little house at Corbeil, Ontario.

CHEMISTS AND DOCTORS CLASH OVER VIRTUES OF CHEMICALS AS LIFE AID

BY F. B. COLTON
Associated Press Science Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 22—Chemists and doctors clashed here in a scholarly argument sometimes verging on sharpness before the dignified National Academy of Sciences on the virtues of some chemicals as aids to health.

There was spirited give-and-take, some of good-humored, some less so; as Dr. Wilder D. Bancroft, noted chemist of Cornell university, issued a challenge to the medical profession.

Could Prolong Life

Dr. Bancroft first had predicted, on the basis of experiments with rabbits and chickens, that human life could be prolonged by giving a drug, sodium rhodanate, to men over 45 by building up resistance to disease and diminishing worry and nervous strain.

He predicted an average increase of at least two years in the human life span by this method, as contrasted to an average increase of only about one month made possible for people over 45 by medical men in the last 25 years.

Previously Dr. Bancroft has claimed sodium rhodanate a good treatment for drug addiction, alcoholism and other troubles, though many medical men have disagreed.

Accusation Is Made

He accused the medical profession of obstructing further research into the virtues of sodium rhodanate by discouraging grants of funds from scientific foundations. The medical profession he said "does not dare to make these tests because the results would show we are right."

Dr. Torald Sollman of Western Reserve university at once found fault with some of Dr. Bancroft's experimental procedure.

Dr. A. J. Carlson of University of Chicago, also elderly, said old men's lives are not worth prolonging unless the functions of the body are kept working well.

The medical men's accomplishment of prolonging life a little, he said, is better than Dr. Bancroft's promise of extending it two years. He hoped to live to see the finish of the fight without taking sodium rhodanate.

War's Latest Monster Is Active, Powerful

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—War's latest monster, an eight-ton tank capable of making 50 to 60 miles an hour over rough country, has been tested by the war department.

Protected by three-quarter inch armor-plate, and costing $30,000, it is designed to be the first of a fleet of war tanks to go into action ahead of the infantry.

Major General Hugh A. Drum, deputy chief of staff, and Major General Edward Croft, chief of infantry, reported that the tank car, is comparatively free of noise, and at 20 miles an hour, can almost turn in its own length.

The tank runs on revolving hard rubber tracks, has a cruising range of 125 miles and is armed with three machine guns, capable of firing 500 shots per minute.

There's To Be No Best Man At Duke Of Kent's Wedding

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Officially there will be no best man at the wedding of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina Nov. 29.

Contrary to the general belief that the Prince of Wales would officiate alone for his beloved younger brother, it was learned today that both the prince and the Duke of York will act as his "supporters."

To Wed In Uniform

The duke will be married in naval uniform. He has chosen the hymns which are to be sung at the ceremony, and has approved a special anthem "Alleluia, Alleluia", the music for which was composed by Dr. Ernest Bullock, the abbey organist.

There will be two ceremonies, it has been decided, both of them replete with age-old religious ritual. The first will be the Church of England service at Westminster Abbey.

The second will be a Greek Orthodox service. This will take place immediately afterward in a private chapel at Buckingham palace where King George and Queen Mary worship each Sunday while the royal court is in London.

More than 1,500 guests will witness the ceremony in the historic abbey. Only a few, possibly no more than 50, will attend the private ceremony at the palace.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS

BORGER, Nov. 22 (AP)—Fire last night razed the box shop, press room and the machine shop of the Norrick carbon black plant of the Kosmos Carbon company, three miles northeast of Borger. No official estimate of damage was made, but rough estimates placed the loss at $10,000.

A single deck of cards provides the material for 733 different games.

That's Nothing

PALESTINE, Tex.—A newspaper story relating how Frank Leezer, 82, a brick mason of Columbus, O., could stack about 500 bricks daily has J. P. Wolf, Palestine brick mason, excited. Wolf, who is 88, says he can "easily" lay 1,000 bricks a day.

DAVENPORT, Wash.—Cecil V. Fisher was declared the winner by one vote over Frank E. Rowland for the Lincoln county treasureship. In the primary he defeated Charles Ramm by seven votes. Eight years ago he was nominated assessor by four votes, and elected.

PHILADELPHIA — Mayor J. Hampton Moore washed his hands in cold water and said nothing. Hundreds of city employes did likewise.

The world might never have known about the leaky hot water boiler in the municipal building were it not for the city hall reporters. They entered a formal protest.

LONDON, England — Little Rose Goss will have a lot of fun in future years showing her playmates where she was born.

Rose's mother, 28 years old, was on her way to the hospital afoot when she collapsed right in the middle of Bow Road in London's busy east side. Traffic was halted, and then diverted, while a police surgeon attended the mother.

Latest reports from the hospital to which mother and child were taken indicated both are doing nicely.

FDR And I, Etc.

SAN ANGELO — Fourteen-year-old Mary Elizabeth Runkles of San Angelo will have the seat of honor beside President Roosevelt at the annual Thanksgiving day dinner at the Warm Springs, Ga., foundation.

Mary Elizabeth wrote to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Runkles, that she was the lucky one when lots were drawn to determine who should sit at the president's right.

"When they called my number at the drawing," she wrote, "I was so excited I couldn't answer."

ICC ORDERS RAIL RATES REVISED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 222 (AP)—Endeavoring to aid western railroads in securing more revenue, the Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered a revision of class freight rates in the territory west of the Mississippi river.

To permit carriers to meet motor truck competition, the commission authorized them to reduce rates up to 170 miles and over that distance narrowed the limits so that rates will increase more rapidly on long hauls, thus increasing the income.

The decision was a revision of the western trunk line class rate case decided in 1930. The railroads contended that decision did not increase revenues sufficiently to prevent losses and applied for reopening of the case last spring.

The previous revision had gone into effect Dec. 3, 1931.

Sure Relief for Malaria!

Don't try homemade treatments or newfangled remedies! Take that good old Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Soon you will be yourself again, for Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic not only relieves the symptoms of Malaria, but destroys the infection itself.

The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic kills the Malarial infection in the blood while the iron it contains builds up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and fortify against further attack. The two-fold effect is absolutely necessary to the overcoming of Malaria. Besides being a dependable remedy for Malaria, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is also an excellent tonic of general use. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle today at any drug store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2 1-2 times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25 per cent more for your money.—Adv.

Westerners Off For Pampa Tilt

GOPHERS PREFER ROSE BOWL TILT TO OHIO STATE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 22—It appears highly unlikely that they will have an opportunity to choose, but Minnesota's gridiron giants apparently prefer the Rose Bowl to the huge double-decked stadium at Columbus, O., for post-season warfare.

The proposal for a charity game between Minnesota and Ohio State is up to the Western conference faculty committee on athletics today. However, even the most hopeful of enthusiasts see little chance that the committee will alter its attitude toward post-season affairs and waive the rule limiting Big Ten teams to eight games a season.

At Minneapolis, the unofficial attitude is that Minnesota, if it plays a post-season game, should go to the Rose Bowl. There is little interest in a game against a team already beaten—by Illinois early in the season. But an opportunity to throw its power against the far-western Rose Bowl choice, likely Stanford, probably would be welcomed.

West Texas Gas company's team won three games and rolled a total of 2498 pins to 2471 to take a match from Doak's Barbers in the final Lubbock Bowling league match of the week at the Lubbock Club last night.

L. W. Bell was individual high scorer with a three-game total of 584 pins. He rolled a score of 203 in the first game.

MEETING SCHEDULED

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Texas Amateur Athletic Federation will hold its tenth anniversary meeting in Waco Saturday, Koger Stokes, president, has announced.

FINAL WORKOUT TO BE TAKEN ON PAMPA FIELD TODAY

The Lubbock High Westerners, 24 strong, pulled out of town this morning for Pampa, scene of their district embroglio tomorrow with the husky and confident Harvesters.

This afternoon the Westerners are to hustle through a final workout on the Pampa field.

A special train carrying a portion of Lubbock's football fandom will clank out of the Santa Fe yards at 8 o'clock Friday monring. The train is to arrive in Pampa at 12 noon.

Westerners Are Underdogs

Conquerors of three district champions of the interscholastic league but lop-sided losers to the Amarillo Sandstorm, the Lubbock High team will go on Harvester Field favored—favored to lose by more than a touchdown.

For the Pampa team is composed of seasoned veterans who haven't been turned back since the first of the season and have steadily gained in power each week-end. A clever foursome of versatile backfieldmen hitched to an unbroken forward wall of veterans—that is the Harvesters.

Were he so inclined Coach Odus Mitchell could use the team system of substitution so many and so capable are his replacements. So even if the Westerners uncoil a few surprises and hold the Pampa line-bludgeoners in check for a period or two, Mitchell can hurl in his storm troops to shock the Lubbock eleven, which does not have the sort of reserve strength to bear up well in a grilling game.

Two Harvesters Hurt

Monroe Owens, all-state Pampa wingman, broke his nose in practice this week. But Owens loss, if he's not able to perform, won't effect the Harvesters' potentcy much. Mitchell has seven ends of almost equal calibre as Owens. Also absent will be hard-hitting Red Fanning, according to reports. Fanning has been out for about a month during which time the Harvesters have run rampant over heavy opposition.

The Westerners closed nine days of practice sessions yesterday with a skull practice followed by a brisk workout in the howling wind at Fair Park.

Charles Calhoun, injured wingback, has been back in uniform this week but probably will not be in shape to play. Robert "Block" Martin, reserve tackle, is scholastically ineligible and did not make the trip.

The following men made up the traveling squad:

COLD WEATHER SUITS BISON GRID SQUAD

NORTH DAKOTA TAPERS OFF FOR GAME WITH TECH HERE FRIDAY

The wind roaring from the north was to the North Dakota State Bison's liking yesterday as the invaders from the north worked out for their game here tomorrow afternoon with the Texas Tech Matadors.

Under the whip of Coach Casey Finnegan's tongue, which sometimes stung like the wind, the Bison club got down to the fundamentals of their attack, brushed up on offensive plays they intend to hurl at the Matadors.

Ends Are Strong

The Bison coach was paying close attention to a couple of his all-North Central conference lads, Bud Marquardt, and Charley Olson, ends, yesterday. Olson, a hefty, rangy chap, is down for a starting position tomorrow afternoon. He won all-conference honors last year, and is pretty sure to repeat this year as a senior. Olson is captain of the ball club, plays right end, weighs 190 pounds or slightly less, and is playing his third and final year as a regular.

Although Beryl Newman is scheduled to start at left end, big Marquardt, all-conference last year, is sure to see service at the post, Finnegan said. Marquardt is a basketball star as well as a football ace, standing 6 feet, 4 inches high and with poundage in proportion. Forrest Stevens is another end who likely will play against Tech. Coach Finnegan is well fortified at the wing positions, boasting four men between whom there is not a great deal to choose.

But in their earnest workout later in the afternoon, the Tech Matadors had thoughts of little Fritz Hanson, the ace ball carrier of the North Dakota club, a 143-pound package of blond dynamite. A great showman and crowd pleaser as well as one of the swiftest men in the North Central conference and the conference's leading scorer to date, Hanson is sure to make a hit with the crowd tomorrow. He is faster and more agile than any player on the Tech team, probably more so than any halfback to appear here this season.

Chapman Gives Warning

Coach Weldon Chapman of Lubbock High school, who scouted North Dakota State for Texas Tech last Friday at Oklahoma City says that the Matadors must watch Hanson every minute, or he is sure to be off and away. Once past the line of scrimmage, Chapman said, there's not much that can be done toward halting him. He can shake a mean leg in an open field, stopping and starting, reversing his field and eluding tacklers like a frightened rabbit.

"Hanson looked more like Texas' great Bohn Hilliard than any man I've ever seen," Chapman said, "and he's even faster and more elusive than Hilliard. If he gets any good blocking at all, he's going to travel."

Against Oklahoma City university Friday night, Hanson scooped up a punt on his own goal line and carried it for a touchdown without stopping. Last year he ran three touchdowns against O.C.U., his shortest run being a gallop of 36 yards.

Coach Cawthon cautioned his boys about Hanson in yesterday's workout, part of which was spent in dealing with a defense to stop the Bison running attack.

Their Swan Song

The Matadors seem to be putting every ounce of feeling and spirit into workouts this week. For fourteen of them, Friday's game will be their last before the home folks. Nine of the regulars, or first stringers, will be chanting their swan songs, and this nine includes the entire backfield of McKeever, Clark Harris and Dowell, as well as the important replacements and sometimes regulars, big Bear Curfman and fleet D. M. McElroy. McElroy is expected to be ready to start at halfback. It will be his first participation since the Loyola game at Los Angeles when he came out with a broken collar bone. Curfman also may start, or is sure to play. He, too, has been ailing of late, and has been kept out of action for the last two games because of an injured ankle. This squad of fourteen who will play their last tomorrow also includes Captain Malcolm Martin and Brax Gilmore, regular ends, Larry Priddy, first string center; Truett Owen, regular guard, and G. B. Morris, regular tackle. Woodrow Wilson, dependable tackle, and Elmer Fortner, center replacement, also will be bidding adieu, as will Joe Barlow, reserve tackle.

All these figure to play tomorrow, to make their final appearance a colorful one. There has been no fooling around in practice this week. A serious air has pervaded the athletic grounds.

Friday's game starts at 3:15 o'clock. Tickets, priced at $1.65 for reserved seats in the stands, suffered a slight sales slump yesterday, but are due to be selling fast between now and game time. Only a few desirable seats in the center sections remained unsold yesterday.

COURT INJUNCTION HALTS GAME

SCHEDULED CLASH BETWEEN EAGLE LAKE AND RICHMOND MUST BE SETTLED IN COURT

(By The Associated Press)

BAY CITY, Nov. 22.—The scheduled clash Saturday between Eagle Lake and Richmond High schools for the championship of district 25, class B interscholastic football league, has been halted by a court injunction.

County Judge W. E. McNabb of Matagorda county, acting on a 22-page petition filed by the Bay City independent school district, has issued a temporary restraining order against school authorities of Eagle Lake and Richmond High schools from permitting their teams to play the titular tilt.

The petition cited that Bay City's undefeated team, ruled out of the race because of the alleged ineligibility of a star tackle, Donald Hager, was entitled to the championship spot and that Hager was not ineligible.

Judge McNabb set a hearing for Friday morning.

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 22, (AP)—Let us go back to September 11, 1934. It was then that Jimmy Kitts, up from the high school ranks, walked briskly on the Rice Institute gridiron and issued initial practice instructions for the Owls.

Kitts knew that day, even better than his most loyal friends, that he was strapping on a belt and buckling himself to a man's size job—that of endeavoring to lift the Rice football team into the Southwest conference race.

Higher Education Prevails

It is a tradition that higher education and not superb football prevails at Rice. There wasn't any pre-season controversy concerning the Owls. It was an accepted consensus that even if Kitts was blessed with fair playing timber that the "suicide schedule" would quickly exile Rice from the titular marathon.

There was no defiant of the issue from Kitts. He simply grinned and dared the challenge of the gloom spreaders to materialize. Jimmy worked long and hard with the Owls. He made a drastic change by junking the Notre Dame style and inserted his own system of single and double wing back formations.

Critics Dubious

On September 22, Kitts had his Owls ready for their first game. It was against Loyola of New Orleans, and when the Owls won, critics simply wrote that it wasn't a stiff test.

On September 29, the Owls played a 9 to 9 tie against a powerful Louisiana State Tiger machine. Critics took notice but left room to argue that the Tigers must have been off stride.

On October 6 when the Owls smothered the Purdue Boilermakers, the critics jumped aboard the glory boat and started wondering if Jimmy didn't have something up his sleeve after all.

Swamp Mustangs

The next week the Owls unleashed an attack that swept aside Southern Methodist and the following week the Owls beat the Creighton Blue Jays.

Only a few skeptical critics then remained and they also were convinced on October 27 when the Owls staged a phenomenal fourth period rally to crush a power-house University of Texas team. Texas A. and I. was the next Rice victim. Arkansas, uncrowned 1933 conference champion, was the next to fall, then last Saturday it was the Texas A. and M. Aggies.

Ranked Among Leaders

And today Jimmy's team is ranked among the nation's leaders.

Saturday at Houston Kitts will send his Owls into the field to win the Southwest conference championship. They will battle the Texas Christian Frogs. It will be a tough assignment, the last dangerous notch on "suicide lane" but the Owls, who need one more victory to clinch the crown, are smiling and telling Jimmy they'll come through for him.

Southern Methodist will play Baylor Saturday at Waco, and on Friday, the University of Texas Longhorns battle Arkansas at Fayetteville, but the game, the team, the coach and the interest will be at Houston.

COWBOY FROSH COMING HERE

PICADORS TO BATTLE ABILENE TEAM HERE ON SATURDAY

The Texas Tech Picadors will close their season in conflict with the Hardin-Simmons Freshmen at Matador Field Saturday afternoon.

Defeated this year only by unbeaten, powerful Amarillo college, the husky lads coached by Virgil Ballard and Elva Baker will face the junior Cowboys inhibited by any jittery forebodings such as Matador varsity teams seem to pack when they face Hardin-Simmons.

No Hardin-Simmons freshmen football team has licked a similar Tech aggregation in the last five years. Beyond that the records have not been well-kept.

But this year things could be different. They haven't been impressive in their games, they're used mostly as cannon fodder for the varsity, but the Abilene Freshmen according to reports are said to carry plenty of punch.

Also steeped in potential power are the Picadors. And they will be out to shoot the works in this their final game before the home fans. In their only other home game here they rolled Decatur Baptist college for seven touchdowns. Last week they were foiled in scoring attempts against New Mexico Military by persistent penalties.

Some Of The Boys

Coach Ballard has a wider range for selection in the backfield than on the line. Cecil "Doc" Merrill and Gene Barnett, demon backs of the 1931 Lubbock High team, besides being excellent running backs, have developed into a smooth-working aerial combination. Other former Lubbock High stars on the club are Rayburn Hale, slim quarterback on last year's Westerner team who is getting heavier and huskier, and Edgar "Red" Doherty, an all-district tackle last fall.

Captain of the team is John Bray, of Ranger, center. At one of the terminals is "Baby Ugg" Curfman, Electra, brother of Varsity Fullback "Double Ugg" Curfman.

KOPECKY WINS OVER PURDIN

MORE WRESTLING IS PRODUCED IN BILL LAST NIGHT

It was old home week last night for Wrestler Joe Kopecky and things happened about as expected. Kopecky added another mat triumph to his string, overpowering "Gentleman" Jack Purdin, but the old Bohemian must not have been too impressive about it for an irate customer came around after the gong, apparently wishful of grappling with Joe.

"Gentleman" Jack took the first toss after 15 minutes of rough battling using a reverse crab and shoulder lock. Kopecky fell into one of his deadly drop-toe holds, added a hammerlock to win the second fall in 24 minutes. The final fall, which lasted 8 minutes, ended when Kopecky tossed poker-faced Purdin with a giant airplane spin.

Cyclone Burns toyed with poor old Ernie Arthur for 15 minutes before pinning the Canadian in the semi-final. Burns feinted in and about to completely befuddle the veteran warhorse.

Although he means no harm by it and it is doubtful if it hurts, Arthur likes to fling haymakers and short jabs now and then. He got to doing this consistently and had Burns in a bad way at one time. But Referee Pat Dowdy interfered, and by the time the referee and Arthur had concluded their little spat, Burns was rested. He drove his body at Arthur for a series of killing flying blocks, and fell on the worn out Canadian for the fall.

They Lose No Time

There was more wrestling in the 20-minute preliminary than in all the rest of the show combined. In fact, Richard Costello and Gene La Belle indulged in more real grappling than has been seen here in several weeks. Now and then one would fling a fist at the other, pull hair and do this and that, but on the whole it was full of real wrestling.

La Belle's scientific knowledge made up for a difference in manpower and enabled him to stay the limit with the muscular Costello. It was fairly clean and legal, 30 minutes of wrestling that would have done on anybody's main event.

Baseball's Annual Trading Season Is On; Stars And Cash Figure In Deals

TEX CARLETON GOES TO CUBS; BATTERIES IN DEMAND MOST

(By The Associated Press)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 22—Facts and rumors from the major-minor league player mart:

FACTS:

Chicago Cubs give Pitchers Bud Tinning and Dick Ward and cash to St. Louis Cardinals for Pitcher Tex Carleton.

Cincinnati Reds pay $40,000 to St. Louis for two stars from Cardinal farms: Third Baseman Lew Riggs, Columbus, and Outfielder Ival Goodman, Rochester.

Cleveland gives Pitcher Bob Weiland, Infielder Johnny Burnett and cash to St. Louis Browns for Outfielder Bruce Campbell.

Sox Get Washington

Chicago White Sox buy Vernon (George) Washington, star Indianapolis outfielder and hitter, for cash and Pitcher Phil Gallivan and Infielder Billy Sullivan, former White Sox player who played with Milwaukee last season. Indianapolis traded Sullivan to St. Paul for Third Baseman Otto Bluege in straight transaction.

Boston Red Sox sign working agreement with Knoxville of Southern association and release Second Baseman Clarence Blair of Syracuse, Outfielder Max Rosenfield, Syracuse, Shortstop Walter Novack, Reading, and Third Baseman William Kluch, Reading, to Knoxville.

Pirates Buy Pitcher

Pittsburgh Pirates buy Pitcher Mace Brown from Kansas City.

Cubs and Pirates still angling for deal that would send Outfielder Freddy Lindstrom and Pitcher Larry French of Pirates to Cubs for Pitcher Guy Bush, Outfielder Babe Herman and cash.

Catcher John Heving, Toronto, signed as manager Fort Worth of Texas league.

Pasek Released

White Sox release Catcher John Pasek on option to St. Paul; release Pitcher Milton Bocek outright to Dallas.

Buffalo purchases Outfielder Howard McFarlane from St. Joseph in straight cash deal.

St. Louis Browns admit they would part with Second Baseman Oscar Melillo, but are demanding more than other clubs.

RUMORS:

Yankees place Outfielder Ben Chapman on trading block for best offer, a young player preferred.

Cubs dicker with Boston Braves for Pitchers Dutch Brandt and Frankhouse.

Of half a dozen lively bidding major league clubs, the Cincinnati Reds lead in the race for First Baseman Johnny Mize, Rochester star. If the Reds obtain Mize, they will offer First Baseman Jim Bottomley for sale or trade.

Manager Bill Terry expects to play only half as many games next season and wants a capable sub for himself at first base for the Giants. Ditto for Manager Charlie Grimm of the Cubs.

ONCE A YEAR the time for this particular column comes around. It is one of the hardest, most painful columns on the calendar, because it reminds the writer, as it is designed to remind all three of you readers, that tomorrow will see the finish of a number of our friends and entertainers as college football players here.

There is one more game after this, but it's away from home and few of us will see it. So tomorrow afternoon we'll be seeing fourteen young men block and tackle and lug the leather for the last time as Texas Tech football players. There's no indication that a post-season game will be scheduled.

The North Dakota State college Bison are the opponents in this final home game of the season. The record of the Bison, the fact that the visitors have been here all week, adjusting themselves to local climate and conditions, and their known ability makes it safe to say that the game will be along the lines of a honey; that is, if the Matadors play according to their high standards.

But local and sectional fandom should not depend upon the possibilities of a spectacular football to draw them out to Tech Field tomorrow. In deference to the fourteen boys who have labored and fought and bled for Texas Tech football during the last four years, fans should not hesitate to turn out in huge numbers for this final game. The boys have worked hard. They have been subjected to training rules and practice routines that would make the ordinary citizen holler "uncle" in less than a week. They have denied themselves the fun and frolics of less obligated individuals. They have served faithfully and well to give you weekly treats through three or four years, to give Texas Tech and Lubbock national publicity and popularity.

Whether you figure it's going to be a good game or not, you owe it to these fourteen boys to come out Friday and give 'em a big farewell hand. It IS going to be a good ball game, because the Matadors are going to be hustling to make their final home appearance of the season a great one, and the Bison from Fargo are going to be worthy opponents.

THE MATADORS who are checking out this year are lads you have depended upon for the past two or three years, and you will miss them greatly next fall. Nine of them are "regulars" this year, so you can easily see what it means to lose them. We have eulogized these players before; they've lived up to everything we've ever said about them. Look over the following list and see if you can forgo your obligation to them. Then be on hand tomorrow to give them a final salute. Go with them on the special train to Tucson next week if you can, but let 'em know tomorrow that you appreciate all they've done.

Captain Malcolm "Moon" Martin, former star at Lubbock High, heads the list of departing college gridders this season. Moon carried to college his fighting heart and courageous football that made an all-state high school end. A Lubbock football team without Martin will be like a ship without a veteran pilot.

Another staunch lineman you'll be missing is Laurence "Larry" Priddy, who claims Gainesville as his home. Priddy is one of the best centers Tech has had, although the smallest. He'll be playing a guard position part of the time tomorrow. Still another great lineman to play his last game here tomorrow is big Truett "Juicy" Owen, of Sherman, who started in as a freshman when Cawthon and Smith started in as coaches. Owen had a lot of hard luck last year, else he would have been gone already. In a way, his illness and forced retirement last year has been a break for the team. A great tackle in 1932, he has been an equally great guard this year.

Woodrow Wilson, O. B. "Senator" Morris, Elmer Fortner and Brax Gilmore are other graduating linemen, each of whom has performed admirably. Morris and Gilmore have been running with the regular lineup at tackle and right end respectively this year. Gilmore is one of the most improved ball players on the club. His work against De Paul last week would have been enough to earn a letter, but he performed equally well in other games. Morris is steady and dependable. Fortner, another Sherman lad, is the No. 1 reserve center, and Wilson, a letter tackle last year, has shown his stuff at guard this season. Barlow, reserve tackle, has played in most games.

The entire regular backfield will play on the home field for the last time tomorrow, and when you get to thinking about how Ed McKeever, Adrian "Tay" Clark, Gwynn "Mule" Dowell and Marion "Stud" Harris will be replaced, you will come down with a headache. Dowell has been another Harold Crites for the last two years, comparing in nearly every way with the former fullback. One of the greatest line plungers ever to carry the oval for Tech, Dowell will be missed probably more than any other graduate. Clark, the Denison demon, has made a great reputation here as a quarterback, a punter and a ball toter. One of the greatest exhibitions of punting you ever saw was his work in 1933 against S. M. U.

Harris has come into his own this year. A shock trooper last year, he was a good ball carrier, but slow to get started. He has just about everything now, and it'll be a struggle to get along without him. McKeever's field generaling, his ability to diagnose the opposition's attack and his smart handling of his own forces, as well as his superb blocking has placed his name at the top.

One of the fastest, most capable halfbacks ever to lug the leather for Tech is D. M. McElroy, Dallas boy who has made good in a handsome way. A regular last year, he has been alternated at regular and a reserve position this season. His speed and shiftiness have made him invaluable, and he has been sorely missed in the last two games because of a broken collar bone. Folks who saw the Loyola game say that Tech would have won had McElroy stayed in the game. He'll be ready to play, at least for a little while, tomorrow. You'll have a hard time forgetting and replacing big Leonard "Bear" Curfman, for four years a popular name at the Matador institution. Curf has been handicapped recently with a twisted ankle, but the big boy from Electra is due to be feeling good tomorrow.

There are 78,000 deaths and 100,000 births in New York City annually.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE ON NOTRE DAME AND ARMY BUT WHAT ABOUT HARVARD, WISCONSIN AND CALIFORNIA HOPES

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—It will be even money and take your pick so far as Notre Dame and Army are concerned on Saturday but what are the odds against Wisconsin, California or Harvard pulling another football miracle such as Yale's conquest of Princeton last week?

Underdogs of the deepest dye are these three as Doc Spears' Wisconsin Badgers prepare to face Minnesota's thundering herd; California attempts to stop the rush of Stanford's mighty Cardinals, and Harvard, already beaten four times, casts about for ways and means of halting Yale.

Crimson Favored

Most experts concede the Crimson by far the best chance to score an upset. Strictly speaking, however, it won't be much of a form reversal should Harvard win. The soundness of the usual advice to toss away the form charts whenever two members of the Big Three get together was never more strikingly illustrated than last Saturday when Princeton, unbeaten in 15 games, went down before Yale's savage defense although the Tigers were 3 to 1 shots with virtually no takers on the short end at game time.

The same psychological situation which helped Yale last week will be battling in Harvard's corner. More to the point, perhaps, it seems impossible that Yale's "iron men" can duplicate their Princeton performance and inevitable that there should be a big let down in the Eli camp. Harvard, ready to shoot the works, will be fully prepared to take advantage of any opening the Elis may give.

Wisconsin Faces Task

Wisconsin scored one of the season's many stunning upsets last week by eliminating Illinois from the Big Ten championship race but even the Badgers' most enthusiastic supporters can see no real chance of stopping Pug Lund, Stan Kostka and others of that powerful Minnesota combination which has ridden rough shod over seven successive opponents this fall. Minnesota, with at least a share of the conference title within its grasp, unquestionably will apply the pressure from the start and there does not seem to be the man power in Spear's squad to cope with the Gophers at their best.

Stanford After Glory

California, after a disastrous early season marked by defeats at the hands of St. Mary's, Washington and Santa Clara, now is rolling in high gear. A 7-2 victory over Southern California got Bill Ingram's Golden Bears back on the right track and they followed this up with a 45-13 rout of Idaho's strong array. But whether they have any real chance of stopping the terrific charges of Bobby Grayson and his Cardinal backfield mates remain to be seen. Stanford will be fighting not only for a share of the Pacific Coast crown but a place in the Rose Bowl game as well, two incentives to induce them to give their very best efforts.

The fourth outstanding game, Army's tussle with Notre Dame, looms as just such another even struggles as these ancient rivals customarily put on. Army's only defeat, 6-0 by Illinois, came in the mud and rain at Champaign. Otherwise the Cadets, with Jack Buckler and Joe Stancock as its leading stars, have done everything asked of them in a fairly easy schedule. In sheer power, however, the Soldiers will be heavily outgunned by Notre Dame whose running attack has eaten up tremendous yardage this season. In the scoring zone, however, the Ramblers have failed consistently to realize on their great power.

TRAINER REINSTATED

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (AP)—C. A. Marone, race horse trainer recently suspended at Arlington Downs for allegedly stimulating a race horse, Donday, may train horses on any track in Texas, the Texas Racing commission ruled today.

The commission ruled that Marone's suspension did not extend beyond the Arlington meet.

AGENTS SMASH MONEY RING

TEN PERSONS HELD IN COUNTERFEITING IN NEW ENGLAND

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. — After sudden raids in three cities, a special squad of secret service men, assisted by New York and New Jersey police, have smashed what they called "the biggest counterfeiting ring in years."

In an old mansion at Tenafly, N. J., the federal agents, operating under special instructions from the treasury department, found $70,000 in counterfeit currency and a complete counterfeit outfit, from delicate photo-engraving paraphernalia to a printing press.

Ten Persons Arrested

Ten persons, one a woman, rounded up in Tenafly and in subsequent raids in Newark and New York, were brought to secret service headquarters here for questioning.

Robert L. Godby, head of the Syracuse office of the secret service, said:

"We found a complete photo-engraving plant set up in the basement of the house at Tenafly. On the second floor we found a photographer's galley and in the attic we came on a printing press.

Found New Bills

"We found 700 new $100 bills, just off the press and we seized plates for printing $20, $10 and $5 bills.

"These bills were about the best I have run across in years. They were so well executed that many of them might easily have passed unnoticed through bank tellers' hands."

JUDGING TEAM IS HONORED AT FEED

Seventy-five persons attended an annual pig roast given by the Texas Technological Aggie club in honor of the senior livestock judging team at the livestock pavilion Wednesday night. The judging team is to leave Friday at 12:30 o'clock to represent the college at the Chicago International Livestock Show.

Jot Smyth, jr., club president, was toastmaster for the occasion. He introduced the guests of the club, including Deans A. B. Leidigh, O. V. Adams and James M. Gorden, Business Manager W. T. Gaston, Seth Cummings and a group of former students of the division. Others were P. T. Montfort, county agent; Jason O. Gordon, Tech graduate and assistant in charge of cotton administration; Douglas Pounds and Ches Merrill.

Stangel Is Speaker

W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry, was the only speaker of the evening. He assured the team of the united support of not only the division of agriculture, but also of the entire college and the faculty from President Knapp on down.

Ray C. Mowery, associate professor of animal husbandry and coach of the team, introduced the members: Homer Burmley, Hereford; Herbert Davis, Lubbock; Henry Elder, Cuero; Casey Pine, Posey; Lawrence Shipman, Fluvanna; J. P. Smith, Littlefield.

Mr. Mowery also introduced the five other seniors who did not make the team, but whose records were only a few points below those of the successful judgers. He also expressed appreciation of the assistance of A. C. Magee and C. Luker in coaching the boys.

To Leave Friday

Leaving Friday, the team will travel in a coach leased from Joe Bowman and will stop at Oklahoma A. and M., Stillwater; University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.; University of Illinois, Urbana; Purdue University, LaFayette, Ind.; Columbian Stock farms, a hog farm and Rubel Hereford farm, Grandview, Mo.; Sni-A-Bar farms, Grain Valley, Mo., near Kansas City and H. C. Horneman Belgian Horse farm, Danville, Ill.

Judging will be on Saturday, December 1. Last year the team placed third. In previous years rankings were: Eighth, twelfth, tenth and sixteenth.

RESTORATION URGED

SHAMROCK, Tex. (AP)—Wheeler county residents have asked the legislature for $20,000 to restore old Fort Elliott as part of the Texas centennial celebration. The fort, one of the last of the old posts built as protection from the Indians, was located near Old Mobeetie, oldest town in the Texas Panhandle, which formerly bore the name of Hidetown.

AMONG the most welcome recent additions to the citizenship of Lubbock is that of the Blitz family.

Prof. Julien Blitz is the new head of Tech's department of music and has brought his wife and son here to live.

The family is highly musical and in their few appearances since coming to Lubbock have sent listeners home singing their praises.

Professor Blitz, whose scrapbook shows that he has bowled over music lovers in Dallas, Sherman and a hosts of other places where he has taught, is recognized as one of the nation's leading celloists.

But that fact does not detract from the piano accompaniments played by Mrs. Blitz, whose technique is apparent even to the untrained in music.

Unless The Plainsman is wrong, the Blitz family will blaze a popular trail over West Texas in double-quick time, extending the renown which has long been theirs in other parts of Texas.

And the reason is not alone their unquestioned musical ability. For in addition to the latter they do not feel it necessary to 'high hat' their audiences as many lesser performers are won't to do.

They can and do render superb music without surrounding their efforts with the icily smug atmosphere which so often irks the music lover who may be untrained in the art.

A PALM, too, to the members of the Lubbock Red Shirts, who last month went all the way to Philadelphia to decisively defeat the powerful Philadelphia Quakers and come home with the national motorcycle polo title.

Big spreads in The Motorcyclist, official magazine of the American Motorcyclists association, and the Harley-Davidson Enthusiast laud the locals who, as representatives of the West, walloped the Quakers, who represented the East.

'Tis a nice tribute to the Red Shirts and some good publicity for Lubbock.

"Hard times," says an exchange, "is when people quit feeding the cow and then wonder why she gives less milk."

You don't suppose, do you, that the same could be applicable to industry that pays its workers less and then wonders why more money isn't placed in the channels of trade?

"How many people work where you are employed?" one friend asked of another.

"Seven, with the boss," was the reply.

"You mean six without the boss."

"No," came the answer. "When the boss is not there, none of us work!"

PERHAPS it is not generally known among persons under 60 years of age, but there has been a good deal of activity hereabouts lately in favor of the Townsend plan of old age pensions.

A number of meetings have been held in Lubbock, as well as in other centers over the country, and petitions have been widely circulated here as the part of a nation-wide campaign to present thousands of signatures to Congress when the latter body goes into session.

The Townsend plan, which was authored by a Californian and has been more or less sweeping the country, appears to The Plainsman, at least, to be rather fantastic.

It provides for a $200 per month pension for every person 60 years old or over, if the person elects to accept the same.

Among other things it insists that every penny of each month's pension must be spent during each month received and that recipients of the pension must not be allowed to engage in any gainful enterprise.

The idea, of course, is threefold: (1) to care for the aged; (2) to take elderly persons out of the realm of business and industry, thus making places for younger persons who are unemployed; (3) to increase buying power and circulation of money.

WHAT Congress will adopt some sort of old age pension, there is little doubt.

We who live in Texas may not know it but 38 of the 48 states of the Union already have adopted some form of old age pension and others are swinging into line and will continue to swing unless the matter is settled by federal statute.

While none of the 28 states pays any such sum as the $200 per month advocated by the Townsend plan, a number of them pay a dollar a day, which appears on the surface to be about the average.

Here is the list of states and territories and the amount of pensions paid to the aged:

Alaska, $35 a month for males and $45 a month for females; Arizona, $30 a month; California, $1 a day; Colorado, $1 a day; Delaware, $25 a month; Hawaii, $15 a month; Idaho, $25 a month; Indiana, $180 a year; Iowa, $25 a month; Kentucky, $250 a year; Maine, $1 a day; Maryland, $1 a day; Massachusetts, no limit; Michigan, $30 a month; Minnesota, $1 a day; Montana, $25 a month; Nebraska, $20 a month; Nevada, $1 a day; New Hampshire, $7.50 a week; New Jersey, $1 a day; New York, no limit; North Dakota, $150 a year; Ohio, $25 a month; Oregon, $30 a month; Pennsylvania, $30 a month; Utah, $25 a month; Washington, $30 a month; West Virginia, $1 a day; Wisconsin, $1 a day; Wyoming, $30 a month.

Together with many other 'new era' movements, the old age pension proposal is worthy of every American's consideration.

And it awaits but a practicable plan to become a national reality.

Deep Breathing Exercises For Tired Business Men

Jean Harlow, Platinum Blond, Points To The Long, Busy Days During And Between Pictures, As Routine Of Stars

BY JEAN HARLOW
Written Exclusively for The Evening Journal

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

Work is a habit with screen stars.

Most of the people in this picture business start at such an early age that the habit to work is germinated in their formative years.

The accepted opinion of most persons unfamiliar with our daily activities is that we film players work only while our pictures are in production.

That we do work, and work hard, during the shooting of a picture cannot be denied. As proof, consider my last picture, "The Girl From Missouri."

Start With Conferences

There were the long conferences with Adrian, our designer, the many meetings to discuss cast and characterization, long hours of daily studying the script, wardrobe sittings, hot days under the arcs in the portrait galleries—all this before the first scene was shot.

Then came the real work when the picture began—up at 6:15 every morning; in my dressing room at 7:30 for makeup and hair dressing; on the set at 9 to work steady in the blinding lights until noon; magazine and newspaper interviews during the lunch hour; more steady work until 5:45; viewing the day's film "rushes" from 6 to 6:30; 20 minutes to remove makeup; home to a late dinner and 40 minutes with my hair-dresser to have my hair finger-waved.

And Between Pictures!

Such is the program almost every day the picture is in production.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

WAITING OR DOING?

Sometimes a change in the habit of thought is an excellent thing. It serves to lift us out of a rut. It gives us new conception. Frequently it is productive of astonishing result.

That is why The Journal was interested in a brief report of a talk given by the head of two companies engaged in the manufacture of nationally known aides to the comfort of living. It was his idea that business men were on the wrong track in thinking wholly in terms of "buying power" and that recovery could be vitally advanced by thinking more in terms of "selling power." He called up the experience of his own companies to illustrate how the public can be convinced of the importance of buying. Executives in these companies, he said, did not look at tax or income lists or employment records to appraise a territory, but counted on effective salesmanship to awaken the market. "Wherever we have replaced the notion of depressed opportunity with the idea that if we get to work we can still find and make enough business to be successful, our men, our branches and our business have been successful," he said.

Development of that experience into a theory of general applicability, this industrialist went on to say that he believed the greatest service that could be done for American business and for the American people would be the organization of a national selling campaign. Expanding that thought, he contended that "it is not irrational to say that the proper inspiration, moral support and incentive given to the multiplied thousands of America's great army of salesmen would stir up enough dormant money and credit as to be the surprise of the business world."

Doubtless there are those who will scoff at this notion. Still, here is an industrialist who has found that an application of the old adage of looking up and looking forward has produced practical and satisfactory results. That experience may represent the difference between sitting and waiting and getting up and doing.

Thought For Today

For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.—Romans, 5:19.

We need only obey. There is guidance for each of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word.—Emerson.

which sometimes lasts for two months.

But what do we do between pictures? The general belief is that we play, go on long train rides and cruises. Once in a great while we may take a vacation trip, but not often. However, when we do, we feel we have earned it.

I have found, in conversations with others in the profession, that they unanimously agree with me—that the picture business breeds an incurable habit for work.

None of us will ever be happy unless working, whether in pictures or anywhere else. When our usefulness is spent in the pictures, we will seek work elsewhere. We won't be able to resist it.

It's in the Blood

Almost all the important people, in pictures of the past and present, have found a soothing balm in the habit of work.

Most of those who have left the industry continue to work. Many who are yet popular on the screen engage in outside work between pictures to appease their urge.

There are William Haines and Jetta Goudal, successful interior decorators; Thelma Todd's prosperous cafe; Mrs. Skeets Gallagher and Bebe Daniels' smart Hollywood dress shop; Director Chuck Riesner's sporting goods store.

Not All Glamour

The urge to work not always is confined to outside industry. Norma Shearer presents an admirable illustration. She is the perfect wife and mother. Because of her terrific energy and love of work, she not only has risen to become one of the biggest of film stars, but she also devotes herself to managing a large household and ministering to her own lovely family.

No, all of us are not in the picture business for all the glamour and publicity we may reap from it. We are in it because work seems to be a mania with all of us, and pictures supply that outlet more satisfying to us.

No matter what the future holds for us in our screen careers, we will continue to work—whether it's on the screen or away from the screen.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—A spirit of brotherly love and mutual affection envelops the National Industrial Recovery Board.

So much can be said, even though the board, observed at the outset that thousands of curious eyes were turned upon it because of doubt whether seven men could function harmoniously in an administrative unit, virtually went into hiding.

Speaking privately and individually, NIRB members vie in high praise of one another. The liberal members butter the conservative members and the conservative members pour treacle on the liberal members.

And each privately boasts that the board has achieved a splendid unanimity on nearly—not quite—every issue.

But there's one big wedge which drives the boys far apart whenever it comes in view—the labor problem.

The instant a labor question arises, Members Williams and Whiteside of industry and Member Hillman of labor set their teeth and begin to glare.

Members Hamilton, Marshall, Henderson and Smith take sides or start trying to compromise.

3,000,000 Affected

Lately, though not a word has leaked out about it, NIRB has been grappling with an issue involving wages and hours of a group of 3,000,000 persons.

Months ago, an executive order was prepared abandoning service codes for industries employing those men and women — cleaning and dyeing, garages, barber shops, shoe repairing, laundries, and the like. General Johnson neglected to sign it.

The document came before NIRB and only sheer luck kept it from being signed as a routine matter. It was Hillman who raised a terrible roar and insisted that the 3,000,000 must not be deprived of the protection offered by minimum wage and maximum hour provisions.

Admittedly, these provisions are poorly enforced, though they have greatly benefited workers. Hillman also demands compliance.

At last reports, Hamilton and Henderson were backing him, with Smith and Marshall on the fence and nobody being sure whether Henderson and Smith— appointed as ex-officio members — were to have votes. Roosevelt may have to decide.

Tugwell Has Earful

Dr. Tugwell is back with more than a large earful for Roosevelt. That was one of the considerations which sent him to Europe weeks before his arrival at Rome for the international agricultural conference.

Tugwell stopped in at our embassies in London, Paris and Rome and most insiders are sure he met foreign statesmen privately at each point. It isn't commonly known, but Tugwell was in on the deliberations here which preceded the celebrated abortive London conference at which Dr. Moley stubbed his toe.

There were several trans-Atlantic telephone conversations between Tugwell and Washington and only one had to do with his Rome speech, in which he implied that future world trade would be narrowed down to raw materials. That speech, incidentally, had been checked over by Roosevelt and Secretaires Wallace and Hull.

Exile Story Explodes

Whatever excursions Tugwell may have made into currency and other international problems, he certainly figured as an advance agent for American farm products in conferences with our own agricultural attaches in Europe and with foreign agricultural representatives at Rome.

He inquired into efforts at agricultural control comparable to AAA, discussed possible world commodity treaties, and tried to learn first hand what the most likely outlets were for American exports.

Stories that Tugwell was sent away because he had lost favor with the White House or to get him out of the way during the campaign may be considered exploded.

His friends suggest that he felt it wouldn't do the administration any harm if he were away—and it didn't—but he went on his own initiative.

Latest Town Jokes

The new Democratic party slogan is, "Ain't we got funds!"

The national party conventions of 1936 will be held at Montpelier or Rutland in Vermont because Republicans will be wanting to save their last state from Roosevelt and Democrats will be anxious to get the electoral vote of all 48.

Monthly Pains Relieved

Women who take CARDUI have found that severe monthly pains have been relieved and that by continued use of it for a reasonable length of time their strength has been renewed and their general health improved.

"I am glad to speak a few words for Cardui, the medicine I have taken for a weak, run-down condition, for bad pains in my side and back and for irregular periods," writes Mrs. Roy Chandler, of Cusseta, Ala. "Cardui straightened me out and I felt 100 per cent better. It certainly helped me."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRAKE
©1934 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for The Blade, is found dead DAN BLEEKER, publisher, employs SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder.

Morden had been investigating the affairs of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, following the arrest of an imposter claiming to be Cathay and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIGGS.

The day following Morden's death Cathay dies of poisoning.

Griff learns Morden had visited the apartment of ALICE LORTON who has reported the disappearance of her roommate, ESTHER ORDWAY. Griff questions Alice and instructs detectives to shadow her.

Griff and Bleeker go to the apartment occupied by KENNETH BOONE, friend of Alice's. Boone denies knowing Morden. Griff moves toward another door of the room and Boone threatens him with a gun.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIX

Dan Bleeker's voice was strained and harsh. "Drop that gun," he said, "or I'll make a sieve out of you."

Boone hesitated. Bleeker's gun was covering him. Boone's gun was covering the criminologist. Griff was cool and smiling.

"You don't want to do that, you know, Boone," Griff said. "The place is surrounded. We took that precaution before we came up. There are two detectives downstairs. You can't possibly kill us both. You may stand some chance of beating the other murder case but you stand no chance of beating this."

The door of the closet burst open. Alice Lorton pushed her way into the room, disregarding Griff and Bleeker, running straight to Boone.

"Don't do it, Kenny!" she said. "Please don't do it. Please drop the gun. I got you into this. Don't let me get you in any deeper. I'll take my medicine."

The man's extended arm slowly dropped.

"Now drop the gun," Griff said in a kindly tone.

Boone let the gun slip to the carpet.

"Now," Griff said, "let's come down to earth. Boone, you took Morden's body out to the place where it was found and planted it. Personally, I don't think you killed him. I think the girl killed him and you did it to protect her."

"I'm not making any statements," Boone said.

The girl started to say something. Griff silenced her with a motion of his hand.

"What's the use of lying?" he said. "You're just going to make things worse. Let me sum up the case the way it stands. Morden is murdered. His body is found in an abandoned subdivision. It had been taken there in an automobile and dumped. Obviously, a woman wouldn't have had the strength to carry the body to the automobile and dump it. We know something of Morden's movements on the day he was killed. We have absolute proof that he was in the apartment of Esther Ordway. We locate that apartment and find a young woman there who swears that she is Alice Lorton, a roommate of this mysterious Esther Ordway.

* * *

"She can't make her story quite convincing enough until after she's planted a few more alibis, so she gets you, Boone, to go down to Summerville and write a letter to Esther Ordway to which you sign the name of Robert Chelton and in which you mention Alice Lorton. She thinks the authorities will get that letter and that it may help establish her secondary identity. The weak point in her whole alibi is the bank account that is kept under the name of Esther Ordway. She tries to clean that account out and get the checks delivered as soon as the account is closed out and balanced. It took a day or two to do that. The fact that a Saturday afternoon and a Sunday intervened enabled us to get the checks when

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 15 Miles Of Kidney Tubes

If kidneys don't pass 3 pints a day that contain nearly 4 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters become clogged with poisonous waste products and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased. Backache, nervousness are different . . . which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discomfort.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney functions is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Most people watch their bowels which contain only 27 feet of intestines but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes or filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 3 pints a day.

Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

PLATT SCORES SEC. ICKES

VIEWS OF SECRETARY ON OIL INDUSTRY "CONTEMPTIBLE"

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, Nov. 22—In the opinion of Warren C. Platt, Cleveland oil publisher, Secretary Ickes' ideas about the industry "are contemptible."

The things the secretary, national petroleum administrator, said at the American Petroleum Institute meeting in Dallas last week "must be met either with equally fiery statements or be laughed at," said Platt in an interview here.

Ickes Scourged Industry

Ickes scourged the industry's leaders for their own lack of ability to manage their affairs. He stung them particularly with the statement that if they, with all their years of experience, could not prevent chaos, how could they expect the secretary of the interior to do so in 14 months.

"I believe Ickes is overworked and doesn't have time to consider his program carefully," said Platt. "And I think he has been rather unfortunate in his choice of assistants. Nevertheless, we are all hot under present conditions, he said.

Price Should Be Cut

Platt said the price of crude should be cut to 10 cents a barrel, "unless Secretary Ickes' efforts at control become more successful," and that "about 100,000 dealers" (filling stations) should be eliminated.

The former, he said, would enable "someone besides producers and marketers" to make money. "Refiners can not pay a dollar a barrel for crude and make a profit" under presnt conditions, h said.

Eliminating filling stations would "increase gallonage for the remainder and profits could be made."

KILLING FROST

by night fall. He said he knew of no big-scale killing program as the supply of hogs already had been reduced to a low figure.

Overcoats, rushed out of storage at the first touch of yesterday's chilling north wind, remained very much in vogue throughout most of the state today.

28 At Pampa

Sub-freezing weather and frost were reported in the north Panhandle and other parts of Texas felt the sting of the wintry blast. The temperature was creeping up a bit at Pampa after hitting a low of 28 degrees.

Borger's minimum temperature this morning was 30 degrees—the lowest reading this season. A freeze followed a heavy rain which had soaked the Borger area for two days.

36 At Wichita Falls

At Wichita Falls the mercury dropped to 36. The total rainfall there in the last week was three inches.

A stiff northwest wind last night sent the temperature down to 38 at Paris. At 8 a. m. today it had climbed to 40 degrees.

Abilene reported a low temperature of 36 degrees, a seasonal low. Skies were clear at Abilene today after .11 of an inch of rain yesterday. The forecast was for colder weather tonight.

At Corsicana it was cold and cloudy, the minimum temperature reading 43. The rainfall there has amounted to 2.74 inches in the last three days.

Amarillo Has Frost

The first killing frost of the season was felt at Amarillo, where the temperature dropped to 30. Records showed that the frost came nearly a month later than normally for the first frost date and within six days of the latest it has appeared.

It was fair and clear at San Angelo, where a low temperature of 38 degrees was reported.

Austin reported a low temperature of 45, and Tyler 40. The rainfall at Tyler amounted to 4.4 inches.

INDIAN SUMMER BITES DUST IN SOUTHWEST

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22 (AP) — Indian summer bit the dust today in the southwest and Rocky Mountain states.

The first cold wave of the season was ushered into the section by a drouth breaking rain, sleet and snow. Temperatures hovered near the freezing mark.

Precipitation was generally heavy, cheering farmers and livestock producers with the replenishment of streams and promise of new growth on lands burned by the summer's sun.

Air service was disrupted and motor traffic was slowed down.

Government weather forecasts said today would be generally cold with more rain.

Whitney five days a week. Justice Carew directed that the child be reared in the Roman Catholic faith, that of her mother. Mrs. Whitney, an Episcopalian, said she would comply with the court's decision "not only to the letter, but in spirit."

Justice Carew's decision said that Mrs. Vanderbilt's privilege to have the custody of her child "has been overcome by the evidence offered by both sides." Mrs. Whitney, with whom Gloria has been living for the last two and a half years, charged the mother was "unfit" to care for her child.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22. (AP)—Cotton today opened firmer and active, Liverpool came in much better than due.

First trades showed gains of 2 points on the near months and 4 to 6 points on the more distant positions.

Later December rallied 2 points to 12.31 while the later months eased off 1 to 2 points with March at 12.42, May 12.41 and July at 12.36. This made the price level near the end of the first half hour 2 to 4 points above yesterday's close.

The market was moderately active during the morning. The bulk of the trading was in the shape of liquidation of Dec. contracts in advance of the first notice day on Saturday. Dec. eventually traded down to 12.26, March to 12.40 and May to 12.39, or 3 to 5 points under the early highs and 1 point net down to 1 up compared with yesterday's close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 3 to 6 higher in response to steadier Liverpool cables and on foreign buying. Dec. 12.28; Jan 12.33; Mch 12.40; May 12.40; July 12.37; Oct. 12.01.

Trading was more active than recently at the start and some observers thought they saw a broadening of interest, but orders were fairly well divided and fluctuations right after the call were irregular. Very little southern selling was reported but the advance met some realizing or liquidation which was absorbed on setbacks of 2 or 3 points. The market at the end of the first half hour was steady with December selling at 12.29 and Mar. 12.41, or about 4 to 5 points net higher.

The volume of business tapered off after the close of Liverpool but while this eliminated the early arbitrage buying, offerings were light and prices held fairly steady later in the morning. At midday December was selling around 12.28 and March 12.41, or about 1 to 5 points net higher.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Decided strength which for the first time in a long while the Liverpool wheat market showed, led to early upturns today in grain prices here. Likelihood of a sharp drop in corn belt temperatures counted also as a stimulus.

Opening 1-8 to 3-8 up, May 98 1-8 to 1-2, Chicago wheat afterward rose further. Corn started at 1-8 to 1 cent gain, May 85 5-8 to 3-4, and subsequently held near the initial limits.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—While the utilities continued to reach for recovery in today's stock market, the backwardness of the rails again acted as a restraining influence to speculative activity.

The news was neither especially good nor bad. Traders in equities dabbled here and there in their favorites, but most dealings were of an apathetic sort and the activity dwindled after a moderately brisk first hour.

Grains showed some improvement following a firmer Liverpool market. Cotton also moved slightly ahead. Bonds, however, were inclined to emulate stocks and few noticeable changes were seen in the corporation list. U. S. government securities did a little better. Foreign exchanges followed a small fractional range.

Shares of Eastman Kodak got up nearly 2 points and Liggett & Myers B was a trifle higher, both at new tops for the year. A firmer tone was displayed by American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey and American Water Works.

National Lead and May Department Stores were down about a point each. The majority of the rails were a trifle lower. Such stocks as General Motors, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Westinghouse, American Can, Gillette, Case, Montgomery Ward, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Smelting and numerous others were virtually unchanged.

Livestock Market

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 22 (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Colorful Inaugural Ball Being Planned

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (AP)—An inaugural ball the equal of any in the history of Austin is being planned in honor of Gov. and Mrs. James V. Allred and Lieut. Gov. and Mrs. Walter F. Woodul.

It will be held on the night of Jan. 15, following the inauguration of Mr. Allred at high noon. Amos M. Felts, attorney, is chairman of the temporary arrangements committee. The main reception probably will be held in Gregory gymnasium, on the University of Texas campus, with auxiliary entertainments elsewhere.

The planet Pluto, located in 1930, was an object of search for many years.

Seeks $100,000

"Madame, your services are no longer required." Thus, says Mrs. Elizabeth Edlund of Pennsauken, N. J., Donald K. Lawrinson, wealthy Philadelphia dairyman, ended the romance which had induced her to divorce her husband. Details will be presented in the trial of her $100,000 balm suit being heard at Camden, N. J.

MORATORIUM LAW

gation of contracts shall be made," the court construed this language to be "an express limitation of power" and "all laws contrary thereto shall be void."

Holding that the constitution was written in time of an "emergency", the court stated:

"The meaning which a constitutional provision had when adopted, it has today; its intent does not change with time nor with conditions; while it operates upon new subjects and changed conditions, it operates with the same meaning and intent which it had when formulated and adopted."

Differentiate Decision

The court differentiated between its decision and that of the United States Supreme court in the Minnesota case, stating the Minnesota decision appeared to be based on the proposition that a wide range of police power may be exercised by the states in an emergency while in Texas such a course was barred by direct limitations on the legislative police power.

"We recognize that the police power is broad and comprehensive but the constitution forbids its exercise when the result would be the destruction of the rights, guarantees, privileges and restraints excepted from the powers of government by the Bill of Rights."

Obligations Not Impaired

The court took the position that the obligations of contracts could not be impaired by legislative action any more than the legislature in any emergency could suspend provision of the Bill of Rights prohibiting monopolies and guaranteeing the right of a trial by jury, freedom of the press and the right for the people to assemble in their common good.

After a lengthy inquiry into the history of the contract clause of the state and federal constitution the court stated there was "no room for doubt that the contract clause was placed in the constitution for the very purpose of preventing the enactment of moratory laws. . . . It was intended to apply to emergency conditions existing at the time of the adoption of the constitution; its purpose was to cure the evils of debt repudiation and delay then prevalent."

Would Have To Aid Others

The court pointed out that if it sustained laws to relieve debtors it also would be forced to sustain statutes to relieve creditors.

The deficiency judgment case was appealed from Tarrant county. H. H. Miller had obtained a judgment for $1,338.29 and foreclosure of a mortgage against J. J. Langever. Miller bought the property at forced sale for $25, leaving a deficiency judgment of $1,450 after costs were added. Langever brought suit under the anti-deficiency law, contending the value of the property was greatly in excess of the deficiency judgment.

"It is obvious that the legal effect of this act is to cancel all deficiency judgments to the extent of the difference between the actual value of the property sold under foreclosure and the amount which it may have brought at such sale, provided, of course, an action is such purpose. The status of the judgment being stated, the legislature was without power to vacate, annul, set aside, reverse or modify the decree or to affect the process which the court had lawfully ordered for its execution."

To Return Man Here—Arrangements were underway today for Lubbock county authorities to reacquire custody of George Harlin upon his release soon from the New Mexico prison at Santa Fe. Harlin, indicted here as Harland, was convicted here in October, 1928, of felony theft. While he was free on appeal bond he was convicted in New Mexico. The offense of which he was convicted and the size of his sentence were not learned here. The Lubbock county case was affirmed by criminal appeals court May 10, 1929.

Dr. Knapp Back—Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, returned last night from attendance at Homecoming at Vanderbilt university, Nashville.

Dr. Knapp was with a group of college administrators who greeted President Franklin D. Roosevelt when the chief executive inspected Nashville educational institutions Saturday morning.

A reunion of the Vanderbilt football team of 1890 was held at the Homecoming. Dr. Knapp played tackle on the team. Six members of the squad that represented Vanderbilt 44 years ago, all of them over 60 years of age, were present at the reunion.

Sentenced For Forgery—Juanita Jones pleaded guilty, before Judge Clark M. Mullican in 99th district court this morning, of forgery of two checks and was sentenced to 2 years in the state penitentiary in each case, the terms to run concurrently. Cases of Mrs. J. A. Ray, charged with liquor law violation, and Joe Nelson, with burglary, were to be called this afternoon.

* * *

Theft Reported—A battery and a spare tire were stolen from a truck in the Shamburger Lumber yard, at 719 Thirteenth street, late Wednesday or early today, police reported. A spare-tire storage place, forced open, was empty so the loot was not increased. A gate to the yard evidently was not forced open. Police said it had been climbed over.

Fortune's Golden Smiles

When Lady Luck smiles, you can't help smiling right back, these folks found. Every one is a beneficiary of the lavish way in which Lady Luck scattered $2,542,000 to holders of tickets in the latest international sweepstakes pool. Their winnings total $800,000. Top left to right, Mrs. Frieda Schelbel ($75,000), housewife; Mrs. Mary Booth ($50,000), federal typist; Mrs. Amelia Fenz ($150,000), housewife; center, Peter Dolan ($150,000) carpenter, and Simon Koss ($150,000), store clerk; in jackets, Harry Demiro and Jerry Russo, restaurant countermen, who share $75,000; left, William Mooney ($75,000), boilermaker, with wife and daughter; and below, Angelina Graffeo ($75,000), seamstress, with mother and stepfather.

GAS SUIT IS TO BE RENEWED

STATE TO FILE BRIEF IN CIVIL APPEALS COURT SOON

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 22—Efforts of the state to force a reduction in the gate rates of the Lone Star Gas company will be renewed soon with the filing in the third court of civil appeals of its brief supporting its appeal from an adverse lower court decision.

Prepared by Assistant Attorneys General A. R. Stout and William C. Fitzhugh, the brief will contend that an order of the railroad commission reducing the rates from 40 to 32 cents was just and reasonable. A Travis county district court jury held that the order was not just and reasonable.

Contend Limitation

The state will contend further that the district court trial should have been limited to a review of a hearing on the rates held by the railroad commission prior to the trial.

The commission conducted the hearing at intervals over a period of eight months, taking many thousands of words testimony, but the same straw, for the most part, was threshed over again in the district court.

Subject To State Regulation

The third point in the state's argument—and all will be buttressed by claims of errors in procedure and admissibility of evidence—will be that the Lone Star Gas company's business is almost wholly intrastate and therefore is subject to regulation by the state.

At the district court trial, the company argued that it was engaged in interstate commerce, that its business could not be segregated into intrastate and interstate divisions, and that its interstate business was not subject to state regulation.

BIG LUMBER SALE

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—An important lumber company here is purchasing 1,000,000 board feet of American sap gum lumber. The purchase, says United States Commercial Attache Walter J. Donnelly, can be attributed to the new Cuban reciprocal trade agreement, which reduced the duty on sap gum lumber 60 per cent.

days a week, since it was opened July 2. One of 15 in the state, it has five cookers, each with a capacity of 165 cans. An average of 35 persons, including a supervisor and foreman, works each shift. The workers are paid 30 cents an hour. Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw of the State A. & M. Extension department is plant supervisor, and R. A. Metcalfe is building superintendent.

On a recent trip here, Miss Grace I. Neely of Austin, state inspector, said the work of the plant was "excellent."

Organized Golf For Schools Endorsed

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Golf professionals launched a plan today to foster the game among the youth of the country.

Delegates of the Professional Golfer's association endorsed a move to promote boys' championships to be worked out along the lines of the American Legion baseball tournament, with sectional, state and national competition.

The pros see no reason why colleges and high school should not spend a portion of their athletic funds on golf. They feel that golf instruction in schools would benefit their own members and at the same time create a new field of players.

Jacobus Is Re-Elected

George Jacobus of Ridgewood, N. J., was elected president of the organization for the third consecutive year. The 1935 championship was awarded to the Twin Hills Country Club of Oklahoma City, Okla., with dates to be set later.

The report of the tournament bureau showed a total of $117,000 had been distributed among the pros as prize money this year, $71,000 for winter tournaments and $41,000 for the summer events.

More than $125,000 has been lined up for the 1935 season.

One Killed, One Hurt In Car Wreck

BRYAN, Nov. 22 (AP)—One man was killed, another critically injured and three were hurt less seriously in a traffic accident on the highway just north of Bryan today.

Lloyd Richey, 38, Brazos county farmer, was killed.

Edward Redman, Houston laundry owner, was badly injured.

A car driven by R. K. Rowalt of Dallas was in collision with a car driven Richey.

GEN. WOLTERS QUITS POST

COLORFUL LEADER OF NATIONAL GUARD IN TEXAS RETIRES

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—After 41 years with the Texas National guard, Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters, colorful commander of the 56th cavalry brigade, retired Wednesday at his own request.

He was promoted immediately to the rank of brevet major general by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in recognition "of his long and meritorious service" in the Texas Volunteer guard, the Texas National guard and the National Guard of the United States.

Col. Lawrence McGee of Dallas, who also has seen many years service with the national guard, will be in command of the 56th cavalry brigade temporarily.

As commander of the state militia, General Wolters at various times was sent into trouble spots to enforce martial law and was regarded as an authority in that connection. He commanded the troops which set up and enforced martial law in the East Texas oil field in 1931-32.

Started In 1891

His military service began in May, 1891, when he enlisted as a private in the First Texas infantry. He was commissioned a first lieutenant, serving in that capacity during the Spanish-American war. On January 17, 1911, he was appointed lieutenant colonel and on April 1, 1918, was made a brigadier general.

During the World war, General Wolters conducted vigorous speaking tours throughout the state, explaining the duties of citizens. He was chairman of the speakers' bureau which obtained enlistment of volunteers at the early organization of the 36 division. He organized one of two calvary brigades requested of Texas by the war department.

General Wolters declined to state his reasons for asking retirement at this time. However, it was recalled that during the recent election campaign he said publicly that if Attorney General James V. Allred were elected governor he would resign. Allred publicly replied that if he were elected he would speed Wolters' "farewell to arms."

PATE IS GIVEN TWO-YEAR TERM

A 99th district court jury having found him guilty of abortion and set his penalty at 2 years' imprisonment, Carlos Pate, 21, posted appeal bond. The jury reached its judgment Wednesday afternoon after about 40 minutes' deliberation.

Mrs. Gladys Cobb was dealt a two-year term for performing an abortion. The two cases were companionate.

Hunting Victim Is Recovering Today

Wounded in the left thigh in a hunting mishap late Wednesday, Cecil Walker, 32, a son of O. C. Walker, of near Sudan, was in a satisfactory condition at Lubbock sanitarium this morning.

Otis O. Walker, about 36, a brother, was hunting with Cecil Walker when the latter was struck. He was first treated in Sudan. He was received at the sanitarium soon before midnight.

The Walker brothers were hunting ducks near a lake on their father's farm, 4 miles south and a half mile west, when Otis O. Walker's single-barrel shotgun was discharged accidentally. A Stuart ambulance brought Walker here.

A scuffle in bed sent Charles Wilson, 18, a Texas Technological college sophomore student, to Lubbock sanitarium at 12:15 o'clock this morning with three deep wounds in his left thigh. He left after being treated.

"Talking Book" For Blind

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRAKE

©1934 NEA Service, Inc.

they were ready for delivery.

"That gives us all we need. We can get the bank to identify Esther Ordway as being this young woman. We can show from her signature that she is. We can identify the letter from Summerville as having been posted by Robert Chelton. The hotel men can identify him. We can show that Kenneth Boone was in direct communication with Esther Ordway, by the check made in his favor and his endorsement on the back of that check. Also, the bank will remember cashing it.

"Now suppose you people act sensibly and tell us the truth. Why did you kill Morden, Esther?"

"I didn't kill him!" she flared.

"I'll take the responsibility for that," Boone said sullenly.

"Kenny!" she screamed, "Don't say that! You don't know what you're talking about!"

Griff stared steadily at the young woman. "Suppose," he said, "you tell me the truth?"

She made a gesture of resignation. There were, however, no tears in her eyes. She stood slim, straight and white-faced.

"I didn't kill him," she said, "but Kenny thinks I killed him."

"Aw, Esther," he muttered reproachfully.

"Don't interrupt, Kenny," she said, "You keep out of this." She turned to face the criminologist with dry-eyed defiance. "You can believe it or not," she said, "I found Morden in my apartment and found him dead. I don't know how he got there. I should have telephoned the police, but I lost my head and telephoned for Kenny instead. He said there was no reason why I should get mixed up in a scandal that we could leave him there until dark and then dump the body some place."

"That," said the criminologist, "is all right so far as it goes. It doesn't go far enough."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean," he said, "that your reason for not telling the police isn't credible. Even Kenneth Boone, who is infatuated with you, didn't believe it. You can't expect us to believe it and you can't expect the police to believe it."

She was silent, white-lipped.

"Go on," Griff said, "tell us the truth."

She shook her head in mute, white-faced negation. "You can question me all you want to," she said, "but you won't make me change my story. That's the only reason that I did what I did. I didn't want the newspaper notoriety."

Griff's eyes were staring steadily and appraisingly at her lips as she talked.

"Did you," he asked, "know who Morden was when you saw him?"

"No," she said.

"Did you have any idea?"

"No."

"You searched his pockets?"

"No."

Griff's smile was cold and cynical. "I'm not entirely certain just who you think you're protecting, Miss Ordway," he said, "but I want to assure you that your attempted protection is simply going to make things harder for both of you. Why don't you tell the truth?"

"I am telling you the truth."

"You haven't," he said, "told me the truth at any time since I've come in contact with you. You lied to me most dramatically and almost convincingly. . . ."

"Only about not being Esther Ordway," she said.

"About Esther's disappearance, with all of the weird story about her having taken her pictures, the photograph album, and the way she was dressed when she left. About how she happened to pick you up when you were down and out, and all of that stuff."

She remained silent.

"Lay off of her," Kenneth Boone muttered thickly. "You can't pin a murder rap on her."

"Shut up!" Griff snapped.

There was an interval of silence. The eyes of all three men were focused upon the girl's face, a face which was as white as the back of an invalid's hand. The orange make-up on her cheeks flared into crimson brilliance against the contrast of the dead-white skin.

"I think," said Griff slowly, "that you're trying to protect Mr. Frank B. Cathay, aren't you?"

Her lips quivered. She tried to say something, but the words did not come.

Boone glowered at her with sudden suspicion distorting his features.

"Say," he said, "am I a sucker in this thing? What the hell is Frank B. Cathay to you?"

The girl made no answer. It was the criminologist who answered the question, speaking in low tones, his eyes boring steadily into the girl's face.

"I think," he said softly, "that he's her father."

She looked at him, her eyes dark with pain. Slowly her head drooped forward. She pressed her hands against her eyes. Her shoulders shook with sobs.

Boone put a comforting hand on her shoulder.

She shook off the hand savagely. "Don't touch me, you beast?" she screamed.

Boone's jaw sagged. He touched her again, only his fingertips contacting her shoulder.

She gave a shrill scream and then burst into high-pitched, hysterical laughter.

Griff picked up the telephone receiver. "Police Headquarters," he said.

(To Be Continued)

Griff secures some information about the mysterious Mrs. Blanche Malone in the next installment.

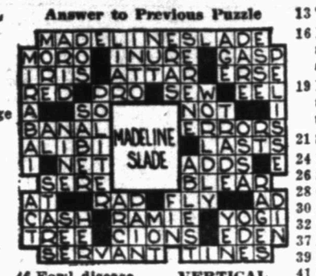

The United States maintains 55 embassies and legations and 345 consulates in foreign countries.

"SKY VIGILANTES" PROPOSED FOR OKLAHOMA BANKS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 22 (AP)—Oklahoma bankers, the most harassed in the nation during the last few years, favor establishment of "sky vigilantes."

Sheriff Stanley Rogers of Oklahoma county suggested the formation of a volunteer aerial pursuit squadron, asking the bankers to cooperate in obtaining one or more airplanes to be held in readiness to pursue bank bandits in any part of the state.

Grown Tired Of It

A typical reply, from W. J. Thompson, president of the first state bank at Lovell, was:

"We will do all we can to assist you. We have been robbed three times in the last four years and have grown tired of it."

Others told Rogers they already had arranged with local pilots for assistance in event of a robbery and were ready to cooperate in the formation of a statewide "air police."

Insurance Rates Hike

As a result of depredations, averaging more than one a week in 1932, Oklahoma bank robbery insurance rates were more than doubled and became the highest in the nation. Thirty banks were robbed in 1933 and 21 have been robbed this year.

In the last, Nov. 8, an amateur pilot kept a posse in close pursuit of three robbers who looted the First National Bank of Okeene until he ran out of gas and was forced down.

One of the alleged trio, Clarence Clay, 23, pleaded not guilty here Monday and was held under $25,000 bond pending preliminary hearing next Friday. Clay, 23, was arrested in Wichita Falls, Tex., last week.

If Ruptured Try This Free

NRA Men Ordered To Remove Eagles

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—NRA has authorized its state compliance directors to remove Blue Eagles from restaurant code violators.

It represented the first step since the Blue Eagle was hatched to decentralize control over its use. Until now, only the highest NRA authority—formerly Hugh S. Johnson and now the recovery board—had the right to deprive a code member of NRA insignia.

State compliance directors also were authorized to restore the right to use NRA insignia when restitution is made and evidence of compliance furnished.
