"WHO'S AFRAID OF FRIDAY THE 13TH?"
Bold Mark Alan Hitt shows scorn for old superstition

Expert Expects No Bad Luck For Friday The 13th

By SAM BLACKBURN
Friday the 13th, unlucky? Who says so? Instead of being unlucky, Friday when it falls on a 13th of the month, is double-lucky.

BEST DAY
Friday the 13th, for instance, is the best of all possible days. Don't take our word for it — ask our expert.

Our expert says:
"When it's Friday the 13th, man, don't be glum! Make with the giggles! Celebrate!"

Our expert is Mark Alan Hitt. Today, Mark is 17-months-old. He was born Friday, March 13, 1964.

In the course of the years ahead of him, Mark will have many birthdays and it is inevitable some of these will fall on Friday. And, of course, all of his birthdays will be on the 13th of March. He expects them all to be lucky.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Paul Hitt, 3724 Adams St. His father is an employee of the post office.

LUCKY BABY
Mrs. Hitt said that, to her way of looking at things, Mark has been a real lucky baby. He hasn't had any serious sicknesses, and he has thrived like the proverbial bay tree.

"He's just as happy, healthy and fine as his sister," observes Mrs. Hitt. "And the sister was not born on a Friday the 13th."

On the same date that Mark was born, three other little Big Springers made their debut.

According to the birth records kept in the office of Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, they were:

Kim Marie Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neil Cooper, who then lived at 1228 E. 15th Street; Sarah Dawn Proise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Durward Proise, then residing at 113 W. 19th; and Joan Marie Sikes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alman Derwood Sikes, then living at 4119 Dixon.

Parents of none of these youngsters could be located.

There was a second Friday the 13th in 1964 — Nov. 13, 1964. Four little tikes showed up on that date in this city.

The parents of two of these youngsters were contacted and in each instance, the mother reported that their Jinx day darling was doing just fine and had been as healthy and happy as one could wish.

Take Diana Lynn Olander. She is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. William Edward Olander, 59-A Chanute. This Friday the 13th, Diana Lynn will be seven-months-old. "Well," said Mrs. Olander, "if being healthy and happy is lucky, Diana's been as lucky as any baby I have ever seen."

Jeffrey Kent, son of Capt. and Mrs. Larry A. Hoskins, 21 Albrook, showed up at the Webb AFB Hospital the same night that Diana reported in. So he, too, will celebrate his seventh month of life today.

Said Mrs. Hoskins:
"He's just as healthy and happy as his brother."

OTHERS
Other Friday the 13th babies of 1964 were:

Janna D'Ann Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gary Hanson, Box 253, Big Spring and Shelley Camille Starr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Don Starr, 302 Circle Drive.

So if you have a fear of the day, ponder the happy fate of these tots. To them, the day's anything but bad.

Rioters Battle Police --- Fire, Rocks, Shots

County Sprinkled With Light Rain

Rains, ranging from an inch in Chalk to a sprinkle at Knott and averaging, perhaps, about .3 to .4 inch in most communities, moved across the county early Friday.

Here in Big Spring, the official measurement at the U. S. Experiment Station was .19; the Texas Electric Service Co. switching station gauged .24. There were reports of as much as half an inch in parts of town.

Along the southwestern border of the county, rains seemed to be heavier. Lee's Store reported .70, and Edwards Ranch in Glasscock County, .90.

There were reports of hail to the west in Martin County in scattered areas. Colorado City had .56 inch.

West of Big Spring in the vicinity of the Loy Acuff Ranch, no rain was gauged.

Coahoma had from .40 to .70 inch. Moss Creek Lake reported .40; Lomax, .30; Fairview, .40 inch; Luther Community, .40 to .50; Elbow, .10.

The early morning storm was accompanied by stiff winds and vivid electrical displays.

There were no reports of any damage done by wind or lightning.

The showers broke the temperature, and summer resort weather prevailed Friday morning. The storm seemed to have drifted north and west, and at mid-morning what appeared to be heavy cloud banks hinted at additional moisture.

Queen Surrounded By Young Pirates

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II stepped aboard the frigate Dido and found herself surrounded by pirates.

It was no mutiny, just some fancy dress for a children's party while the ship was in the Firth of Clyde. The queen gave the pirates a regal smile and walked by.

Blasts Rock Hotel, Motel

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Two small explosions — possibly dynamite — went off at two predominantly Negro hotels late Thursday night where civil rights workers are housed. No one was hurt.

The Lincoln Hotel in a Negro section about a mile from downtown Baton Rouge was hit by a small explosion just before 10 p.m.

About two hours later, an explosion raked the International Motel.

Keep Insurance, Over-65s Told

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner William R. Cotter has asked Connecticut insurance companies to make sure persons over 65 are not canceling health insurance policies under the impression that medicare is in effect. The new federal health law is effective July 1, 1966.

Hit Back If Peking Moves, Rivers Urges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, said today the United States should be prepared to hit Peking with everything in its arsenal if Red Chinese troops move into Vietnam.

Rivers said, however, he was not advocating a shoot-first nuclear attack on Communist China.

"What I am saying," the South Carolina Democrat declared in an interview, "is that Americans must be prepared to make the decision to attack Mao Tse-tung's homeland if Mao's forces start moving."

The United States would have to hit them "with every single, solitary gadget in our arsenal," he said.

Jake Hamon Quits TIPRO

DALLAS (AP) — Jake Hamon, one of the nation's largest independent oil operators, has resigned from the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO), his office said today.

He resigned in what is an apparent dispute with the association over tax depletion allowance studies on foreign-produced oil.

Hamon, in his resignation, said he could not take two sides on the 27½ per cent tax depletion allowance granted oilmen.

The association at a San Antonio meeting last month directed its staff to seek to remove any tax advantages that oil companies operating abroad may have over domestic producers. This apparently was understood by some, including Hamon, to mean an effort to reduce the depletion allowance on U.S. companies operating abroad.

Comedian Shot In Plea To Mob

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rioters fought police on the streets of Los Angeles' South Side today with guns, rocks and fire. Negro comedian Dick Gregory, hit by a bullet, was among 100 persons wounded.

Police jailed 72 rioters in the second night of violence along Central Avenue in the city's Negro district. More than 700 officers enforced a brief calm at midnight. Then, before dawn, mobs filled the streets again in an outburst of burning, shooting and looting.

Gunfire erupted just before Gregory, 32, had urged a throng of 500 Negroes to return to their homes.

"STAY AWAY"

Outbreaks of violence continued elsewhere in the area. Police warned motorists, "particularly Caucasians," to stay out of the section today.

Gregory, a $2,500-a-week night club entertainer, has been traveling the nation to assist in the civil rights movement since 1963.

He said the shooting was directed at the police, not at him. Doctors at Central Receiving Hospital termed his injury minor.

HIT BY BULLET
He was hit in the left thigh by a small-caliber bullet as he stood amid the battle-scarred scene of rioting — the Watts district of Los Angeles.

Buildings and a lumbard were set ablaze in Watts early today as rioting renewed in force after tapering off at midnight.

Police said Gregory was attempting to mediate between police and rioters.

He was hit as he stood in what police called a no man's land — Central and Imperial Highway.

A liquor store, a drive-in restaurant and a small clinic were burned to the ground. A nearby lumber yard was set ablaze.

DRIVEN BACK
Firemen, attempting to answer the calls, were turned back by barrages of windshield-shattering bricks and bottles.

The scene of the rioting is a normally quiet area deep in the heart of what civil rights leaders have referred to as the "black ghetto."

An outburst Wednesday night, when a white officer arrested a Negro on a drunken driving charge, touched off an eight-hour demonstration with heavy damage and more than a score of injuries.

After daylong calm Thursday, knots of youths and young men formed at sundown along Avalon Boulevard in suburban Watts. Two shoeshine boys, in pale mimicry of the previous night's brick tossing and board swinging, began chucking pebbles at passing cars.

Crowds that were virtually 100 per cent Negro poured out of homes, apartments and shops and were joined by others from outside the area. They jammed sidewalks and overflowed into the street, blocking traffic.

With darkness, the lid blew off. For four and a half hours, from 7:30 p.m. to midnight when police proclaimed the situation controlled, an estimated 6,000 persons milled, ran, shouted, cursed and fought virtually uncontrolled.

Police, who hoped to get through the evening with a skeleton force after daylong efforts by civic leaders and social workers to head off a new outburst, steadily beefed up forces.

An initial contingent of 80 was quickly reinforced and ultimately there were 200 police, 195 sheriff's deputies, 253 sheriff's reserves and 40 California Highway Patrolmen in the melee. The California National Guard was alerted for a possible short-notice call up.

Officers sealed off a six-block area, permitting people to leave but not enter, hoping tempers would cool quickly. They didn't.

Big Rodeo Entry List Keeps Officials Up Late

The 29th annual Howard County Junior Rodeo started with whoops and hollers last night when 300 prancing horse men and horsewomen filed into the big rodeo bowl for the grand entry, which was the largest in the event's history, rodeo officials said.

A moderate crowd of about 2,500 obviously enjoyed the three-hour show, as their applause for the young cowboys and girls rarely slackened. The youngsters, ranging in age from 7 years through 19, divided into three age groups, rode, and sometimes fell, with all the aplomb common to more seasoned rodeo hands, and with an equal amount of determination.

For each one was trying to make the finals, which will be held Saturday, the three-night event's last roundup.

More than 175 entries kept judges, and part of the crowd, up until 4 a.m. Friday, trying to get in one more ride. The official program finished at about 11 p.m. Thursday, but even with the extra five hours, the preliminaries won't be finished until after tonight's performance, according to Herb Helbig, county agent and superintendent of the show. It begins at 8 p.m. and tickets are available at the gate.

Between the more serious events, the sub-teen set clamored all over the arena trying to put goats in sacks, or to saddle and ride a wild calf across finish lines. The action in these events was so furious, and there were so many short-pants contestants, that officials never were sure who won, or if any one won, but the kids and the laughing crowds could not have cared less.

'Prophets' Fail To Determine Hits On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Everybody in show business has his private crystal ball, and the television division, in particular, is full of prophets. But nobody — not even a nobody with a computer — has yet invented a fool-proof way to tell in advance whether a series will be a hit.

In the wonderful world of television, a hit show is one which the Nielsen ratings declare is chosen by the largest number of viewers at a given time period.

Last season preseason scuttlebutt was that ABC had a real "sleeper" in a fantasy show called "Bewitched," and it turned out to be right. But nobody was doing much talking about "Gomer Pyle — USMC" and "Gilligan's Island." Few of the experts really believed that a nighttime soap opera, even one named "Peyton Place," would really make the Nielsen grade. And everyone seemed to think that "The Rogues," with Charles Boyer and David Niven, just couldn't miss. So much for crystal balls.

If one sorts the wheat from the usual preseason press agent chaff, it would appear that ABC has a hot property in "The FBI," being made with the official blessings of the G-men.

CBS seems to be looking with special affection on a comedy series about prisoners of war called "Hogan's Heroes."

The NBC show that is causing intratrade talk is a secret-agent spoof called "Get Smart."

This observer, who shrewdly picked "The Rogues" and something called "Valentine's Day" in advance last year — both quietly disappeared at season's end — this year will try picking winners on form.

HIT SHOWS

Thus "The FBI" has to be chosen, if for no other reason than that the ABC series is being produced by Quinn Martin who has made a string of hit shows ranging from "The Untouchables" to "The Fugitive." "I Spy," on NBC, figures to be a winner on the track record of its producer, Sheldon Leonard. Danny Thomas' partner in the Lebanese comedian's long-running series, Andy Griffith's and Dick Van Dyke's shows. The odds are slightly reduced because the new series is action-adventure, not comedy, which is Leonard's forte.

East's holding proved to be an embarrassment of riches for, not only was he outbid on the deal by South, but he allowed the latter to hoodwink him with a blatant false card and scamper home with a contract slam.

East opened the bidding with one diamond and South overcalled mildly with one heart. Altho his holding possessed considerable playing strength, he decided to bide his time — for there was very slight risk that the auction would die prematurely, and South did not wish to commit himself until he learned more about the distribution.

West's free bid of one spade cannot be indorsed on such skimpy high card values. North competed by raising his partner to two hearts, and East showed his impressive fit with West by jumping to four spades.

West must have had a reason for leading a diamond in preference to a spade, and South's play of the king should be interpreted by East as a desperate attempt to steer him away from that suit. If East continues with diamonds at trick two, West ruffs and a club return puts South down by two tricks.

Restlessness Mounts In Rebel Sector

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Restlessness appears to be mounting in the rebel sector of Santo Domingo as negotiations to end the crisis drag on with no agreement in sight.

Two members of the Organization of American States peace committee — Ellsworth Bunker of the United States and Ramon de Clarimont of El Salvador — were booed when they arrived at the rebel headquarters Thursday to meet with Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, the insurgent chief.

The day before shouting demonstrators prevented the OAS committee from leaving the rebel quarter until Caamano intervened. Shortly after Bunker and De Clarimont left Caamano Thursday, three shots rang out in front of rebel headquarters. By-standers said rebel soldiers were disarming a guard who was drunk and the guard's gun went off.

A rebel soldier was killed Wednesday night, setting off reports that a quarrel had broken out in the rebel camp. Col. Manuel Ramon Montes Arache, chief of the rebel armed forces, said the soldier was killed while trying to arrest a chicken thief. The incidents are considered signs of increasing unrest in the rebel sector, where extreme leftwingers are known to oppose the course negotiations with the OAS peace committee have taken.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, Aug. 13, 1965 3-A

Efficiency at the TSO Contact Lens Laboratory—What it means to you

At TSO, contact lenses are given special attention. We have a separate laboratory specifically designed for processing them. It was in this laboratory that our research program developed the famous TSO Micro-Sight contact lens with the exclusive multi-curve lens design and the special edge-beveling process. It is in this laboratory that each TSO lens undergoes eight (8) separate, precision inspections during processing. This almost fanatical attention to accuracy has contributed greatly to our excellent reputation in the field of contact lenses. To date, we have successfully fitted over 40,000 patients. You might ask what materials are used to make contact lenses. Just one, the finest optical-grade acrylic plastic. It is ideal for contact lenses because it is shatterproof and its processes and finishes exceptionally well—so well that we are able to say that a typical TSO patient readily achieves minimum adaptation time and maximum wearing comfort. Because of the efficiency of our processing techniques, we are able to offer our Micro-Sight contact lenses at unusually reasonable cost. Just $65 for single vision contact lenses, complete with examination and fittings. Bifocal lenses are also available at reasonable cost. Convenient credit at no extra cost. Visit TSO soon and find out for yourself, the facts about TSO Micro-Sight contact lenses.

Chapel Window

"... WHO GUARD THE PEACE" is the inscription on the stained-glass window recently installed in the chapel at Webb AFB. A special dedication ceremony will be held on Aug. 22.

Chapel Window To Be Dedicated

By ROY WILLIAMS

Two years and $3,000 ago, the chaplain at Webb Air Force Base, Lt. Col. Benjamin F. Meacham, accepted a contribution from student - pilot training Class 64-F, "in memory of one of us, 2nd Lt. Douglas Duncan Heyhoe, who died July 12, 1963."

The chaplain decided the money could be the start of a fund to purchase, for the base chapel, a stained-glass window, "as a lasting tribute to those who lost their lives while serving their country at this undergraduate pilot - training base."

Sunday, Aug. 22, the memorial window will be dedicated at a special ceremony and program, starting 3 p.m. The general public, both civilian and military, are invited.

"One of the heart-warming aspects of this window," said Chaplain Meacham, "is that donors to the fund came as often from Big Spring as from base personnel."

A streamer at the bottom of the window is inscribed "Who Guard the Peace." The design, selected from several submitted, was done by 2nd Lt. Lance C. Faust, then a student pilot in Class 66-D.

At a cost of $3,000, the window was manufactured and installed by Orco Inc., of San Antonio.

The present total in the window fund is $3,973.42. The amount above the cost will be applied to insurance. The total represents 94 separate unsolicited contributions, and some contributed more than once.

T. Sgt. Bobby J. Martin contributed 14 different times, $10 each time. Now stationed in the Philippines, it is unlikely that Sgt. Martin will attend the dedication. Nevertheless, he has been invited.

A great many of the contributions were in memory of Brig. Gen. Howard J. Withycombe, former wing commander at Webb who was killed Jan. 5, 1964. Mrs. Withycombe has been invited to attend the dedication.

The program will include an address by Col. George S. Wilson, Air Training Command chaplain; the dedication by Chaplain Meacham; acceptance of the window by Col. A. F. Taute, wing commander; and special music by Mrs. Miriam Russell, youth director.

Indications are that the First Baptist Church will occupy its new plant around the middle of October.

The general contractor is about 90 per cent complete on his job, and by the end of next week, the decorator and furnisher of sanctuary, L. L. Sams & Sons of Waco, will move in for this work. Meantime, J. W. Cooper, general contractor, will be completing the educational wing and auxiliary facilities.

The Highland Church of God will hold its first services Sunday, however, will feature music by out-of-town guests.

The first phase of the building consists of a sanctuary that will seat 160, five classrooms, a nursery, an office, central air and heating, also restrooms. A portion of the west wall has been finished with asbestos siding so that the second phase, which will include more classrooms, a fellowship hall and kitchen, may be undertaken at a minimum of cost.

Blue stained glass (only two of these have been delivered so far due to factory vacations) are used in the sanctuary, and this portion of the building also is carpeted. The new pews, pulpit and choir furniture is in

Rev. Craven Called To Trinity Baptist

Trinity Baptist Church has called Rev. Claude N. Craven to its pulpit, and he has moved his family to the city.

A native of Wellington, Rev. Craven attended public school there before attending Bible Baptist Seminary at Arlington. He served a congregation at Roanoke, before going to work with Grace Baptist Church, a small congregation of less than 50 at Fort Scott, Kan.

In the following 13 years, his congregation blossomed, and had grown to some 800 members when he accepted the call to the local church.

Rev. Craven also has found time for other church religious activities, including a daily and Sunday radio broadcast for 13 years; he is a director of the Bible Baptist Seminary in Arlington; and has served six years on the mission board of the World Baptist Fellowship, with headquarters in Arlington. He is a World War Two veteran, and served almost all his time overseas.

His Kansas church was quite active in the mission field, helping five other churches get started.

Rev. and Mrs. Craven have five children. Their eldest daughter, Mrs. Leonard Moody, was married last week. She and her husband are attending the seminary at Arlington.

Other youngsters in the family include Carolyn 18, who plans to attend Howard County Junior College; Patricia 17, high school senior; Dana 15, high school sophomore; and Richard 12, a junior high student.

"We are looking forward to our association here," Rev. Craven said, "and we are happy to be back in Texas."

House Passes Public Work, Economic Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a $3.25-billion public works and economic development bill after hearing proponents call it a boon and opponents call it a boondoggle.

The measure, designed to give a boost to areas whose economy is depressed, goes to the Senate, which has passed a slightly different version.

A continuation and enlargement of the expiring area redevelopment and public works acceleration programs, the bill carries a price tag $750 million higher than the one President Johnson tied to his original request.

During two days of debate preceding House passage Thursday night by roll-call vote of 245 to 138, sponsors said it would be a boon to areas of above-average unemployment and below-average income in every state.

It would do this, they contended, by providing $2 billion for federal grants and $850 million for long-term loans to public bodies and private business to build public facilities, streets and roads, parks, vocational schools and airports and to encourage industrial expansion that would provide long-term jobs.

The rest of the money would be used for technical aid and multicounty programs.

Most of the money, if Congress actually appropriates it in a separate bill, would be spent over a five-year period.

Republican opponents labeled the measure a boondoggle that would not accomplish the stated objective but would only run the federal government farther into debt.

To back this claim they cited overwhelming voice-vote approval of an amendment to guarantee that every state would share in the money if it wanted to. As presented to the House, the bill had in it nothing for Hawaii, New Hampshire, Vermont and Delaware because those states could not qualify as having economically depressed areas.

Senate backers of the bill which passed that body overwhelmingly June 1 indicated they would go along with most of the House changes except for one providing for a speed-up of the program and making more areas eligible to participate.

MEDICARE AND SOCIAL SECURITY: 11

You Can Still Earn And Draw Benefits

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

You don't have to quit working altogether to draw a Social Security retirement benefit.

Starting with 1966, you'll be able to collect your full benefit as long as you don't earn more than $1,500 a year (as compared to $1,200 now). Even if you earn more, you may be eligible for some Social Security checks.

And no matter how much you make in one year, you'll be entitled—effective 1966—to your regular Social Security check for any month in which you don't earn more than $125 (compared to $100 now).

SAME RULES
If you are self-employed, the same rules apply. However, you can't get a check for any month in which you perform "substantial services" even if your net earnings (profits) for that month fall to exceed the limit.

There is no hard-and-fast definition of "substantial services." Generally, it means devoting more than 45 hours to your business during one month.

The ceiling on earnings is lifted the month you reach age 72. Then, you forfeit no Social Security benefits regardless of how much you earn.

In figuring your earnings, you count only such things as wages, salaries, commissions, and what you net from self-employment.

NOT COUNTED
You do NOT count investment income (such as stock dividends), interest on bank deposits, rents you collect, private pensions, endowments on insurance policies, veterans' benefits, gifts, inheritances, capital gains, or royalties collected after age 65 from copyrights or patents you obtained before 65.

However, rental income is counted if you are a real estate dealer or if you rent out your own farm under an agreement permitting you to "participate materially" in "production or management of production." And dividends are counted if you deal in securities.

WIFE'S EARNINGS
A wife's earnings do not affect a retired worker's benefits. But they are counted against

HOW EARNINGS AFFECT SOCIAL SECURITY

(Effective 1966)

Here is a table showing how much you can collect in Social Security benefits even if you continue working. First, look at the column on the left for the amount closest to the monthly benefit which you are getting or which your family is drawing on your Social Security account. Then look under the figure closest to your estimated earnings for the year to get a rough idea of how much Social Security you may still draw.

her Social Security benefit if she is drawing one along with her husband.

On the other hand, earnings of a retired worker may count against any benefits his dependents are drawing—as well as against his own. The ceiling on earnings applies also to widows and children getting Social Security checks. But a widow's earnings don't count against her children's benefits—and her children's earnings don't count against her benefit.

During 1965, you may earn up to $1,200 without losing any Social Security benefits. If you make more, $1 is taken out of your total year's benefit for each additional $2 earned. After you earn $1,700, a dollar is subtracted for every additional dollar of earnings.

Effective 1966, this will be eased. You may earn up to $2,700 a year—instead of just $1,700—before the dollar-for-dollar rule sets in.

AFTER $1,500
Thus, from 1966 on: You may earn up to $1,500 without losing any benefits. After that, $1 is taken out of your annual benefit.

King Urges Negotiations On Viet Nam

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner, has urged opposing sides in the Viet Nam conflict to negotiate and end the struggle's cycle of "mistrust, violence and war."

In one of his first major statements on international affairs, King told his Southern Christian Leadership Conference convention that each side must take "a small first step" to show good faith.

He urged the United States to seriously consider cessation of bombings of North Viet Nam and said, "The employment of some of our forces in rebuilding some of the villages which have been destroyed immediately would be a solid indication to the people of Viet Nam that our interest is in the development of Viet Nam and not its destruction."

U.S. Sectors Mostly Hot

By The Associated Press
There were showers in scattered areas but clear to partly cloudy and warm weather prevailed in the major part of the nation today.

Thundershowers dampened areas in the Gulf states, the western mountains and the northern Appalachians. Earlier heavy rain soaked parts of Upstate New York and northern Vermont. Nearly two inches of rain doused Massena, N.Y., in a six-hour period. About one inch fell at Burlington, Vt.

A midsummer heat wave continued in the Midwest. Temperatures soared above 100 degrees Thursday as far north as Montana and the Dakotas and readings of 80 were reported early today in many areas.

Hot and humid weather was the outlook for most of the nation east of the Rockies and cooler from the Great Basin across Montana and the Pacific Northwest. Early morning temperatures ranged from 48 at Baker, Ore., to 97 at Blythe, Calif.

Missionary To Speak Sunday

A. L. Harbin, a missionary from Singapore who is in the United States raising money to buy a church building in Singapore, will be a special speaker at the Anderson Street Church of Christ at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The minister, David Tarbet, said that Harbin has been stationed in Singapore two years. He has had 40 years preaching experience.

He will tell of his experiences in the Orient and of his efforts to provide his congregation with a suitable house of worship.

Tarbet urged all members of the church and their friends to hear the interesting discussion.

In the long ago Isaiah admonished, "Come now, let us reason together, saith the Lord" (Isaiah 1:18). He further admonished Israel in these words: "Seek ye out of the book of the Lord and read" (Isaiah 34:16). These words not only apply to ancient Israel but suggest to us the need of reading the Lord's Word and reasoning thereupon. Paul urged Timothy: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth" (2 Timothy 2:15). Since the Bible is our infallible standard and the only accurate information that we have to guide us from time to eternity, how important it is that we carefully consider its contents.

Jesus declared that God is the object of our worship and that He must be worshipped in spirit and in truth (John 4:24). To worship Him in truth is to worship Him according to His revealed will, which is truth. (John 17:17). Is your worship acceptable unto the Lord? May we suggest some questions and scriptures for your careful study.

IS INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC ACCEPTABLE TO GOD IN CHRISTIAN WORSHIP?

When David presumed to introduce such music in the Old Testament (without divine authority), Jehovah declared that He would not listen to it! Hear it: "Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols" (Amos 5:23). In the New Testament no authority is found for the use of the instrument. Instead we have the simple command "Sing" (Ephesians 5:19; Colossians 3:16). Instrumental music is not an aid to singing. God made the human voice and has instructed us in the perfect plan of using it in worshipping Him (2 Timothy 3:16-17). Many of the best choruses in the land are a cappella. Instrumental music is an addition which the scriptures do not permit. "Whosoever goeth onward and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ hath not God" (2 John 9). If you use instrumental music in worship, ask your preacher for Bible authority for the practice.

DO YOU PROCLAIM CHRIST'S DEATH EACH LORD'S DAY?

Have you read the only example as to when the Supper was observed in Acts 20:7: "Upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread—"? Jesus arose from the dead upon the first day of the week. (Mark 16:9.) The Supper is observed as a memorial in memory of His death. Jesus commanded, "This do in remembrance of me" (1 Corinthians 11:24-25). Possibly you have heard and repeated the expression, "The Bible does not say every week." When Moses commanded Israel to "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy" (Exodus 20:8), which Sabbath did they keep? Which Sabbath did they omit? All know they kept every Sabbath (seventh day of the week). When Paul commanded Christians to give of their means for the Lord's work, we find, "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by in store, as God has prospered him—" The phrase "upon the first day of the week" is identical in 1 Corinthians 16:2 and in Acts 20:7. Why have the collection every first day of the week and omit the Lord's Supper? The authority for each is expressed in the same language as to time. There is no authority for a more frequent contribution than the observance of the Lord's Supper.

Since God is to be worshipped, we should be very careful that we worship HIM in such way as to meet His approval. Nadab and Abihu lost their lives when they offered "strange fire" unto the Lord in worshipping Him (Leviticus 10.) Cain was rejected of the Lord when he brought a vegetable offering to the Lord instead of a blood offering (Genesis 4). God has given explicit instruction concerning our worship unto Him in His Word. Will you not examine that Word carefully and follow it implicitly? Many believers in Christ will expect to enter heaven but will be rejected (Matthew 7:22-23).

A Devotional For The Day

After he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into the mountain apart to pray. (Matthew 14:23, ASV)

PRAYER: Eternal God, who art from everlasting to everlasting, grant that we may so use the leisure time we have that Thy purposes may be furthered among men. Help us to be willing to give more time to being better followers of Jesus Christ. To the glory of Thy holy name and for our Savior's sake. Amen.

Too Broad Language

Language of the federal suit seeking to ban the poll tax as a qualification for voting in Texas goes unnecessarily and dangerously beyond the objective.

The petition asks the court to enjoin Texas election officials from requiring the payment of a poll tax or "any other tax" as a requisite to voting and from "conducting any election . . . in which voting is conditioned on the payment of a poll tax or any other tax."

The Fort Worth Star Telegram points to a critical issue in raising the question of whether "this language . . . would do away with the right of the state to restrict voting in bond issue elections to those who pay ad valorem taxes on property. . . . The theory in Texas is that only those who will bear the tax for public improvements should have the power to authorize such improvements and vote taxes for their financing, though in practice the theory has been badly battered at times . . . And at least theoretically the non-owners of taxable property, if permitted to vote in bond elections, could authorize the creation of an obligation against property that would be confiscatory."

This would be neither wise nor fair. Moreover, the term "any tax" raises a question about a fee for registration. Gertrude Stein's "a rose is a rose is a rose" would apply here, for "a charge is a charge is a charge."

The petition also raises the issue of the tax weighing more heavily on the poor than on the rich, which is true, but no less true than an automobile license tax, the driver's license fee, the safety inspection fee, and many, many more.

One way or another (and we hope it is by solution of Texas voters) the poll tax is going to go, but the government's suit may have pleadings to broad and to far afield to bring this about.

Mighty Rich Bacon

Life is full of mysteries, not the least of which is troubling the family pocketbook these days.

Just what is the relationship of a price per pound of a pig on foot to a pound of bacon on the grocery shelf?

Obviously it takes a pound of pork to make a pound of bacon, but everyone will recognize a certain degree of shrinkage and waste in slaughtering and processing. Thus, the pound of pork for a pound of bacon really is substantially higher than the original price of pound on the hoof.

But will someone explain why 22-24 cent hog meat at the packer's door should top a dollar a pound when it became bacon on the shelf? That's a mighty wide spread, and somebody is getting a disproportionately bigger slice of pork than the producer.

Hasty Action On Voting Rights Bill

WASHINGTON—Plenty of publicity was given in the press and over radio and television to the signing of the new voting-rights bill by President Johnson. But it may come as a surprise to most people to discover that of the 432 members of the House of Representatives who voted on the measure, very few had enough time to study thoroughly the text of the bill on which they were voting.

HOW CAN democracy work effectively if members of the national legislature do not read the bills on which they have a duty to vote? The voting-rights bill was approved by a recorded vote of 328 yeas and 74 nays on Tuesday, August 3. Copies of the conference report of more than 8,000 words, containing the text of the bill—some sections of which had been rewritten, revised or changed—could hardly have been examined intensively or read thoroughly by many members of the house of representatives before the time copies reached them and the hour for voting.

The Senate-House conference committee, which had studied the different versions of the House and Senate bills, agreed upon its report on Thursday, July 29. Except, however, for some rephrasing of hitherto disputed points, the agreement was not then even in written form. Staff people of the Senate and House worked on the report over the week end.

ON MONDAY, August 2, the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee obtained permission from the presiding officer of the House to file the report for printing. He had until midnight on Monday, August 2, to prepare the report for the printers. It was inserted in "The Congressional Record," which, though dated Monday, August 2, was not available, as is the custom, to readers at the Capitol or elsewhere until the next day.

SO ON Tuesday morning, August 3, members of the House were given their copies of "The Record" which contained the conference report. The voting on the bill by the House took place in the early afternoon of that day. The House disposed of the bill that same day after only 53 minutes of actual debate, and the Senate put it through with less than a half hour of debate on Wednesday, August 4.

NOW, THE REAL question is: How many members of the House of Representatives or the Senate actually read the measure? The conference report included many important changes. There were sections which were contrary to decisions on constitutional questions in the past. But the measure was rushed through. If a confidential poll of the members of both houses could have been obtained, it would probably have shown that few members did read the final bill before they voted on the proposed law.

CONSTITUTIONAL government can certainly not be made effective if members of Congress do not read the laws they are passing. To be sure, some of the principles contained in the measure were previously the subject of debate, but the responsibility of each member of the House and Senate is to read the final text of every measure up for passage. The Senate-House conference committee used considerable latitude in rephrasing the language of the bill. Some of it is unprecedented. It is an extraordinarily complex measure, and the members should have been given more time for proper consideration of such an important law. But the record does not show that anybody objected to the hasty way the final conference report was handled.

Slow Theft

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A Chattanooga man is offering a $25 reward for information concerning the person who is stealing his car bit by bit.

Charles Satterfield says the 1950 auto has been parked in his garage since it was side-swiped some time ago. He says the gradual stripping began about six months ago.

"They started by knocking the rear window glass out and proceeded to take all the tires, wheels, brake drums and a few other things," Satterfield said.

The spoliators recently have removed the radiator, battery, carburetor and the contents of the trunk.

"Now they've started on the engine. There seems to be no stopping point," Satterfield said.

Police are checking several clues. Satterfield surmises that someone either is trying to rebuild another car or is starting from scratch.

Supreme Court Seen Upholding Voting Rights Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Predicting what the Supreme Court will do is an unhappy pastime but it seems a perfect bet the court will uphold the constitutionality of the 1965 voting rights law.

The law's purpose is to end the various devices used in the South to keep Negroes, because they're Negroes, from voting. It authorizes the government to do this by moving in on the states. The government has moved fast.

Is this new law constitutional? A court test is being pushed in Louisiana. Another is expected from South Carolina. This means the Supreme Court should get the case quickly for a decision.

THE INEVITABLE argument against a law like this, approved by Congress earlier this month, is that it infringes on the right of states to fix their own voter qualifications and rules.

But the government has pegged the 1965 law directly to the Constitution's 15th Amendment which says the right to vote "shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state" because of race or color.

It also says Congress "shall have the power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

THIS IS the government's position: Would-be Negro voters have been discriminated against because of their color, thus violating the 15th Amendment, and this amendment, Congress had the right to pass the 1965 law.

The attorney general, Nicholas Katzenbach, told Congress "the Supreme Court has never voided a statute limited to enforcement of the 15th Amendment's prohibition against discrimination in voting."

Last March the New York Times, in a nationwide check, interviewed some of this country's top constitutional law professors and most were confident the Supreme Court would uphold the new law.

THERE ARE other reasons for thinking the court will do just that:

Its previous rulings in this voting field and the fact that the present court has been a sturdy and consistent champion of civil rights and protection of the Negro's constitutional guarantees. Besides, the South's history of discrimination is against it. Most recently only a small percentage of Negroes, compared with whites, were registered to vote in the 1964 election.

The chief target of the act is election.

the voting test which can vary widely from requiring a would-be Negro voter to interpret the Constitution to proving he is of "good moral character." The literacy test is a prime example.

THE NEW law says literacy tests and similar voter qualification devices are automatically suspended in any state or county which used them last November if less than 50 per cent of the voting age residents were registered on that date or voted in the 1964 presidential election.

Wifely Hints For Secretary

SCARSALE, N.Y. (AP) — Aida Gardner could tell the new secretary of Health, Education and Welfare a few things — and probably will, in a gentle, wifely way that only means she's interested in his work.

Although the newest member of President Johnson's Cabinet, John Gardner, has done quite well for himself in education, and there's no doubt but that his health and welfare have been looked after most efficiently by the pretty head of his own Kitchen Cabinet.

Mrs. Gardner's domestic policy is uncluttered.

"I KEEP my family trim. I feed them healthy and simple food," she says. "I don't believe a wife should devote herself entirely to her husband, but his interests should come first."

One of the most attractive recent additions to top echelon Washington, Mrs. Gardner is small, slim, chic, with salt and pepper hair, brown eyes in a youthful face, a gracious manner that's made even more ladylike by a soft Spanish-inflected voice.

Born Aida Marroquin in Guatemala, she met Gardner while she was visiting a sister in Palo Alto, Calif., and he was an undergraduate at Stanford University.

"THEN I left for two years. We corresponded and when I came back we were married."

That was in 1934. For the next few years they lived in college towns while he got degrees and taught psychology.

By the time World War II got under way and Gardner went into the Marines and later the Office of Strategic Services, they were parents of two daughters. The girls now are both married, Francesca living in California, Stephanie in New York.

For almost 20 years the Gardners have lived in Scarisale, N.Y. — from which he has commuted to his Carnegie Corp. office in New York City.

HER HUSBAND may be her favorite subject but her approach is completely nonstuffy. For instance: "He is a very nice person. He always works hard, but he always has time for enjoying his family." She adds with a wink: "He'd better!"

One thing she particularly admires about him: "He always gets up so happy. He works late and gets up early and is pleasant. Now me, I would just as soon not talk very much until after coffee."

X-Ray Should Follow Positive TB Skin Test

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Some months ago my boy had a tuberculin skin test at school and the doctor told him he had contracted the TB germ. Then he had a chest X-ray and it was negative. I don't know which is more reliable. Now I want the rest of the family to take a test, but should it be X-ray or tuberculin? — L. M.

Both tests are reliable, but in different ways.

The tuberculin skin test shows just one thing: That the person has come in contact with the germ. That's all.

Now if a person has NOT come in contact with the germ, then he can't have tuberculosis. But if he HAS come in contact, then it is possible, although by no means certain, that he may develop an active case of TB. So that is why the X-ray test was given. And, as it turned out, he doesn't have an active case of TB.

Yes, it would be wise for the rest of the family to be tested. The skin test should be first. Any who have negative results can then forget about the matter until it is time for another test — and since TB is so widespread, being free of the disease this year does not guarantee that you will be free of it next year.

Anyone who shows a positive skin test (i.e., has encountered the germ) should have a chest X-ray. This is because an actual case of TB may be developing. Prompt confirmation not only protects him but prevents him from scattering germs to others, and thus creating more positive skin tests.

Once someone has a positive skin test, as in the case with your son, all future skin tests will be positive. Hence there is no point in taking any more of them. But there IS a point in having a chest X-ray once a year, to make sure that active tuberculosis does not develop.

To put it another way, once the TB germ invades the body, the blood develops small particles or antibodies to fight that particular germ. The skin test shows whether those antibodies are present.

The test does NOT show whether the antibodies were successful in subduing the TB germs. Sometimes they do. Again, if there has been massive exposure to the germs, the antibodies may not have succeeded in destroying the germs and then active tuberculosis can begin.

Dear Dr. Molner: May I add a suggestion to Debbie, who was concerned about hairy arms? Having this trouble myself, I have found that complete removal of all hair is as conspicuous as having too much. Therefore, I use a clipper with comb attachment. This leaves the hair about one-quarter inch long. It looks natural and can be kept at this length with infrequent clippings. — MRS. D. W.

This is a very sensible and practical solution.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Noticed in a San Francisco newspaper the other day that a group of people known as "Little People Inc." want to have extra, low doorknobs and elevator buttons installed so they can reach them, among other things. They have been stepped on, and are organizing in protest.

BORROWING FROM them, I have just now organized "Odd Men, Ltd.," a fellowship which I feel certain numberless people will join. Membership requirements are as follows: It must be impossible to fit the prospective member with shoes, shirts, suits, or anything else off the rack; also it helps if the prospective member is flat-footed, clumsy, and left-handed. We odd people have been mistreated terribly by the public in general and clothes in particular, and if the little people can organize, so can we.

Though I don't know the particular problems of you other oddies, I am sure you have had similar experiences — similar to what follows.

THROUGH NO fault of my own I wear a size 44 Long coat. I do not wear size 44 Long trousers. But the trousers from a size 42 Long fit me perfectly. I bought a suit from a local store, which shall remain mercifully unnamed, last week. The coat fit, the trousers didn't, and the salesman wouldn't switch pants from the one suit to the other. So the tailor had to take about four inches off the waist, tuck in everything else, and even move the belt loops around in order to fit.

AT THE SAME time I tried to purchase a pair of shoes. This was of course impossible. "We don't carry size 12 AAA," the man said. I asked could I order some. "No, but we're supposed to have 'A' widths in the catalog," he explained. I laughed, for I knew what his next statement would be: "No, they're not listed. I guess we've stopped carrying them."

Another thing. They don't make cars for people who stand over 5 feet 10 inches, and even shorties have trouble sitting up in them if they wear hats. We in the two-yard category must bear the headaches caused by hitting car roofs when we run over big bumps, such as microscopic gravel — unless we can afford Rolls-Royces. Can you afford a Rolls? Then you don't have any problems at all. Go buy your custom-made suits, shoes and automobile. I am going to cut a hole in the top of my car and call it a custom-made sun-roof.

AS FOR southpaws . . . well, there is no need going into such horrors as gearshifts, doorknobs, school desks, cameras, or the other billion things made for the fortunate right-handed. You have my left-handed sympathy. After all, how many of us are Whitey Fords?

Speaking of southpaws, did you know that the word "sinister" comes from the Latin word meaning "left"? It proves that this maltreatment of us oddies have been going on for a long time. President Johnson should have Congress appropriate a few pennies for re-education of the masses. How can you have a Great Society with that sort of thing going on?

The Disorderly Profession

WASHINGTON—In its long report on the assassination of President Kennedy, the Warren Commission properly condemned the cops of Dallas for their transgressions against the due process to which Lee Oswald and Jack Ruby were entitled—and did not get.

THE COMMISSION also chided news media for their contribution to the disgraceful events that followed the assassination. It is probably true that reporters did not know exactly how to comport themselves in the face of such a convulsion of history, but it is just as true on the record that neither did the Secret Service, the aforesaid Dallas Policemen or, indeed, the Warren Commission itself. An assassination is generally an untidy event, and few of the principals have the opportunity for rehearsal.

SAD TO SAY, however, the newspaper and news broadcasting industry has its full share of the sort of earnest stuffed shirts who are eager to set things to rights, and from the loins of this group sprang an organization which was called the Joint Media Committee on News Coverage Problems.

The committee has now disgorged a report, entitled orderly procedures for mass coverage of news events. It is an astonishing document, at best a joke and at worst a nightmare. Although it is not notable for clarity, the report seems to contend that orderly procedures are the prime mission of journalists assigned to a news event of sufficient magnitude to require mass coverage.

"TRAINED NEWSMEN behave as decent citizens and observe common-sense provisions for orderly, efficient and unobtrusive coverage. When a sensible system is set up for them to follow they abide by it," the committee report intoned.

The report displays shocking misunderstandings of how news (real news, and not artfully staged spectacle events such as press conferences) is covered. "Disorder or confusion in news coverage comes when a sizable number of reporters and photographers converge on a scene where those in charge have laid out no plans or procedures or systematic arrangements," the learned news executives wrote.

ONE COMMITTEE-ALLERGIC reporter can recall a wild, hell-raising night on the campus of the University of Mississippi, when one newsman was killed, and the basic journalistic technique for living through the event was to pretend to be one of the slack-jawed rednecks who were insurrection against civilization.

In discussing pool arrangements (a system for covering news events when space or other limitations prevent large numbers of reporters from attending), the committee again reveals a want of understanding about what really happens when a reporter undertakes the terribly complicated and frustrating task of covering a genuine news event.

"... THE DEVICE of pooling, although rarely welcome, is preferable to no system at all, or to recourse to a first-come, first-served method of coverage," the report said.

It takes no prodigies of journalistic insight to know what any of the five news executives who drafted the report would do (the American Newspaper Guild willing) with a reporter who first-come upon a major story, politely waited until a pool could be arranged.

"Son," any of the five would say, "news gathering is inherently the second-most disorderly profession in the world. You are plainly cut out for something a little more methodical. Get yourself a job clerking in a bank or writing committee reports, because if I ever have to look at you again I am going to get took with the apoplexy."

Losing The Space Battle

WASHINGTON — The United States has trussed itself up in a double knot in the matter of space defense.

The National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958, written by Senator Lyndon Johnson and made law under the Eisenhower administration, created NASA for peaceful exploration of space to the exclusion of military penetration.

THE NUCLEAR Test Ban Treaty of 1963, considered a landmark accomplishment of the Kennedy administration, forbids nuclear explosions in space.

Neither the law nor the treaty would have been possible without selling the American public on the twin ideas that scientific programs should be "shared" with the world and nuclear programs should be earthbound and limited.

A case involving these twin ideas, now coming back to haunt the administration, is the strange handling in the late 1950's and early 60's of a program to give us a nuclear-powered, man-carrying space cruiser.

PROJECT ORION began as a military experiment before the Russians beat us into space with their Sputniks. The Orion concept was born at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory and the early program was monitored by the Air Force Special Weapons Center. The prime contract was let to the Atomic Energy Division of the General Dynamics Corp. in San Diego, and supervised by a civilian team of scientific weapons. But since the project never achieved full status in the Defense Department as a nuclear weapon, the security was loose and the publicity was profuse. Stories and diagrams, based upon interviews with the scientific community, resulted in disclosures that must have cheered the Russian competition.

PROJECT ORION wandered back and forth between two worlds. The Air Force, despite desperate efforts by SAC Commander General Thomas Power, could not get development funds out of Secretary McNamara. The heads of NASA — as one of the Project Orion developers has written — felt that "their first duty to the space program was to keep it politically popular." In this instance NASA would not risk frightening the public with talk of atomic explosions, which is what the Orion propulsion system would entail. Once the Test Ban Treaty was signed, this space ship, with its high military potential, had to be beached.

AT THIS WRITING the Air Force is struggling to get a go-ahead signal for militarizing a much less efficient space vehicle — the Manned Orbiting Laboratory — that would be admissible in space under the Test Ban Treaty.

But the Russians, upon due notice, can take themselves out of the Treaty and could conceivably be in space with a dreaded weapon that commenced on American syndicate boards.

SAFE BROUGHT UP
... On second attempt

YMCA Safe Recovered From Big Spring Site

Diver Bob Chambers found the missing YMCA safe at 1:15 p.m. Thursday, 30 feet under water in the old "big spring." The safe was stolen from the YMCA late Monday night or early Tuesday morning, and until late Thursday morning police had no clue to the theft.

"I received a call late Thursday morning said Detective A. P. Hurley, from a boy who said he and some companions had been swimming in the spring and had spotted something that looked like a safe." The caller, Hurley said, did not identify himself.

Chambers, who is a SCUBA instructor at the Y, said Larry Seals, lifeguard at the Cosden Country Club swimming pool, said the safe was 30 feet under water, about 20 feet from the rock bluffs surrounding the spring, which is flooded by Cosden Club Lake. Chambers tied a chain around the safe, and an Independent Wrecker winch-truck lifted the 200-pound box from the spring.

Assistant Police Chief Leo Hull and Hurley said fresh marks on the rock bluff on the west of the spring indicated that the safe was rolled off from there. The recovered safe had no door and Hull guessed that trapped air in the safe had kept it afloat long enough for it to drift into deep water. The safe was found near the center of the hole, near the deepest, 40-foot part.

Chambers said the safe was hard to find, even in the small spring, because the water is dark and murky, and the bottom covered with beer cans, waterlogged wood, glass and deep mud. He found the safe in about 15 minutes, but putting the chain on it and dragging it out put off actual recovery until 1:55 p.m. On the first attempt, a rope was used to tie the safe on a chain, but the

UT To Make Alumnus Awards

AUSTIN — Two corporation executives, a federal judge and an independent oil operator have been named to receive 1965 Distinguished Alumnus Awards from the University of Texas at an Oct. 22 Homecoming banquet.

Selected for the honor bestowed annually by the UT Students' Association are C. W. (Tex) Cook of Larchmont, N.Y., General Foods Corporation president; Leonard F. Three Get ATC Awards

Three Webb AFB personnel were presented Air Training Command TOPS Performance Awards this week.

Presentation of the awards were made Tuesday by Col. A. F. Taute, wing commander, and the awards went to 2nd Lt. Gary Banks, who received the operations award; T. Sgt. William J. Plunkett who received the support award; and to Airman 3C Harvey J. Schirmer, who received the maintenance award.

Lt. Banks had an emergency while on a solo mission in a T-38 in June. The emergency involved three different systems of the aircraft but his knowledge and emergency procedures enabled him to land the craft safely.

Sgt. Plunkett, who is the non-commissioned officer in charge of the fire protection branch at the Colorado City Auxiliary Air Field, saved a T-37 solo student who veered off the traffic pattern. The student was practicing first stage landing series after initial solo.

Airman Schirmer maintained his aircraft with only three pilot write-ups. On June 3, a quality control inspection revealed Airman Schirmer's aircraft had only one minor discrepancy.

Ikeda Dead

U.S. Economy's Foundation Solid

NEW YORK (AP) — In the 20 years since the end of World War II the American people have produced goods and services valued at $8 trillion. And on the 20th anniversary of V-J Day Saturday few will question the solidness of the foundation on which the economy is now based, as dizzy as its height may seem.

The growth of the economy has been far faster than that of the population although that has gained 38 per cent—from 140 million persons in August 1945 to 195 million today.

But the Gross National Product, the value of all goods and services produced, has more than tripled in that time. GNP has gone from $214 billion at the end of the war to about $660 billion this year.

The financial status of the average American has changed just as remarkably. His possessions, debts, savings, spending and net worth, all have soared.

Individuals have spent $5.3 trillion since 1945 and personal consumption now runs at $423 billion a year.

HOME OWNERS

In the 20 years Americans took on mortgages totaling $475 billion, as the number of home owners rose 75 per cent to 35 million today. Consumer credit rose from $5.7 billion in 1945 to $78.7 billion today, with installment debt being the largest component at $61.7 billion.

But financial assets of individuals have climbed too, with the total now estimated at $1.37 trillion. These include checking and savings accounts, savings and loan shares, stocks, bonds, insurance and pension reserves. These assets top liabilities of individuals to produce a net worth of $1.11 trillion.

Americans have added to their worldly goods in startling fashion. In the 20 years, 113 million American-made cars have been sold. Dollar volume of autos and parts exceeded $620 billion. In the 20 years some $270 billion of installment credit was involved in car purchases.

Literally millions of washing machines, dishwashers, electric ranges, refrigerators, air conditions, television sets were purchased.

BIG STRIDES

Who takes credit for the striking growth in the American economy? Great strides in production efficiency has made it possible for U.S. manufacturers to produce the goods. The steady rise in personal incomes, making for a much larger middle-income group, furnished the markets to pay for the huge increase in goods and services.

And where the incomes didn't

New York Leads With Ice Cream

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State led the nation in production of ice cream in 1964 for the fourth straight year, the State Agriculture Department says. Last year's production of 77,657,000 gallons was a record for the state and exceeded the 1963 total by more than 1.5 million gallons, the department said.

Frank Sinatra Salt Water Odyssey Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Sinatra's salt water odyssey appeared at an end today, leaving unanswered where he would take his romance with teen-aged television star Mia Farrow.

The singer and Miss Farrow left his chartered yacht Thursday apparently for opposite shores of the Hudson River.

Sinatra, 49, reportedly took a launch from the Southern Breeze and headed for New Jersey. It was speculated he was going to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sinatra, who live at Fort Lee, N.J.

Miss Farrow, 19, came to Manhattan, where she met her mother, actress Maureen O'Sullivan, and her sister, Tisa, 14.

Training Explained

The multiple programs, under the general classification of vocational training available in the Big Spring school system, were reviewed Thursday for the Kiwanis Club.

Soc Walker, club member and principal of Goliad Junior High School, was program chairman in his role of chairman of the vocational guidance committee of the club. He spoke briefly on the history of the program in the school, which he said began in the depression days. He outlined the programs offered in the schools and the part that the schools, the state and federal governments play in them.

Harold Bentley, assistant high school principal, took up other vocational programs and told of their effectiveness and purposes. He cited the appeal of the auto mechanics training as a good example of how such work tended to stir interest of students in other class efforts and reduced the drop-out potential of the school.

Announcement was made that the Kiwanis Club net profits on the rodeo barbecue in June was $940.15. All bills have been paid and all receipts checked in.

Film Slated

The Billy Graham film, "World's Fair Encounter," will be shown at the First Baptist Church at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday, the Rev. R. F. Polk, pastor, announced. The film, made against the backdrop of the Billy Graham Pavilion at the Fair, will last one hour, and there will be an invitation to the conclusion. Everyone will be welcomed, said the Rev. Polk.

Dallas, Houston Are Unbeaten In Meet

By TOMMY HART
The commonwealth's two largest cities, Houston and Dallas, have the only teams left in the winners' bracket of the State Hi-Junior Teenage Baseball tournament.

but with still a good shot at the crown.
Houston's North Side Steve Bonin, mauled the Temple American Desk Club in a battle of unbeaten units last night, 6-2. The Dallas McIngvale Bears, bidding to succeed another Dallas team as the state titlist, used a two-on home run in the sixth by Bryan Pierce to scramble past the Pasadena Tigers, 7-4.

San Angelo's Jaycees had ousted the Big Spring Kiwanis Club, 7-6, and Denny Insurance of Denton had flexed its muscles in decking the Texarkana Mustangs, 14-6, in day games Thursday.

There'll be a 10 a.m. contest Saturday after which all action will cease until 7 p.m. The finals are booked for that hour only if one team is able to go through undefeated. If not, there will be more action at 9 p.m.

Position Change Helps Mike Shannon's Batting

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Since Mike Shannon was yanked out of the St. Louis out-year career Thursday and with his new view of life on a baseball field, rapped a seventh-inning homer and then singled in the winning run in the 13th inning as the Cardinals edged Milwaukee 5-4.

Shannon, who played himself out of a starting job in the outfield because of a .193 batting average before he turned catcher, now has four hits in eight trips to the plate as a receiver.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

A baseball tournament like the State Hi-Junior meet being staged here brings thousands of dollars to town.
Twenty adults followed one of the clubs to the city and other parents felt duty-bound to come here and watch their boys play. Last year the tournament was held at the same time a rodeo was going on here and one visitor said he lamented that he couldn't find a place to stay.

The town's economy is bound to feel the impact of the four-day event.

Nick Enke, who guided the Dallas Police Association team to the Hi-Junior championship last year, has graduated from TCU since that time and is now working in Houston.

The Big Spring Kiwanis Club, District 8 representative in the Teenage meet, hit only two home runs during the regular season.

The San Angelo representative in the tournament is playing in Hi-Junior circles for the first time because that community didn't have such a circuit last year.

However, all members of the club have been performing to gether four years, the first time as Little Leaguers.

Season ticket sales for AFL football games have already passed the $35,000 mark, which is more than the circuit drew the entire 1964 season.

Martin county's Melton McMorries, who never passes up the chance to watch boxers in matches or in training, says Odessa's Phil Parris may be this nation's so-called heavyweight "white hope."

It's being noised about that Amos Lincoln, who chilled Scorpion Johnson of the McMorries fight stable in Los Angeles recently, was paid $250 per week to go easy on Sonny Liston prior to Sonny's ill-starred title fight with Cassius Clay.

Jerry Millsaps, the Lamesa product who is now a coaching aide at Howard Payne College, won all-district honors in three sports while in high school.

Doak Walker, the former SMU football great, saw only one football game last fall.

That was the Big 33 game in Hershey, Pa., at which time he helped coach the Texas unit. Big Spring's Albert Fierro was a standout in the contest, although Texas lost.

Doak owns a car leasing business in Denver. His last season in pro ball was 1958. He's now 38 years of age.

Tom King will probably serve as head scout for the Big Spring High School Steers this fall. Among other chores, he'll be assigned to look in on Ysleta Bel Air, which gave the Steers so much trouble last year and which comes here Sept. 17 for a game.

Don Farley Tops Handball Ladder

Don Farley is at the top of the YMCA singles handball ladder at the present time. He has had tough competition from Ray Thomas, Frank Hardesty, and Billy Rudd.

With Tito Arencebia getting back into the swing after softball and baseball, Pete Cook coming back from vacation, and Martin Gehling recuperating from a back injury, the activity is due to increase.

Some have asked about instruction classes for beginning handballers. Anyone interested should notify Jim Gilbert at the YMCA. Classes will be scheduled if sufficient interest is developed.

District 2-AAAA Track Meet Scheduled Apr. 8

The District 2-AAAA track and field meet and other sessions of the spring sessions will be held at different times, the executive committee of the league decided at a Thursday meeting held at the Big Spring Country Club.

The track and field carnival is scheduled for April 8 in Abilene. Originally, the meet was to have been in Big Spring but Big Spring has a building program under way and asked to have the games transferred.

District tennis and golf, along with the literary events, will not be held until April 15-16 because facilities in Abilene will not be available until that time.

The eligibility of David Vanover of Abilene High was okayed. He'll live with friends during the season as his parents have moved to Amarillo.

His parents will contribute $50 a month toward his upkeep.

The coaches also voted to drop the fee that each school pays for trophies in championship conference games from $35 to $5, and raise the price of caducats to $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

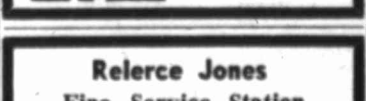

They also reaffirmed a policy in which schools will be allowed to scout opposing grid teams within the district twice, using no more than two scouts each time. It was passed by a 5-3 vote with the two Odessa schools and Midland Lee dissenting because they said it could not be enforced.

Big Spring was represented at the session by John Smith, high school principal, and Don Robbins, athletic director.

In all, 22 men attended the conclave, which was climaxed by a luncheon.

Mishap Stuns Palmer In Play At Ligonier

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Tommy Aaron led the field as today's second round of the Professional Golfers' Association Championship in these western Pennsylvania highlands held a distinct Dixie flavor.

But even with the drawing Georgian and fellow Southerners Mason Rudolph, Gardner Dickinson, Sam Snead and Ray Floyd spearheading the invasion, a large measure of attention focused on the controversial mishap that stunned the ill-starred idol of Laurel Valley, Arnold Palmer.

EIGHT BIRDIES
The 28-year-old Aaron scrambled over the Laurel Valley Club's rolling 7,090 yards in 66 Thursday, a five-under-par opening round that consisted of eight birdies, three bogeys and only seven pars.

Rudolph, the steady-shooting Tennessean, and Dickinson, rapier-thin Alabamian who is a protege of legendary Ben Hogan, stormed in among the late finishers one stroke off the pace at 67.

Right behind at 68 stood Snead, 54-year-old Virginian who has won three PGA titles; Floyd, 22, a member of a golfing family from North Carolina, and Bruce Devlin of Australia, only non-Dixie member of the pacesetter contingent.

Solidly favored Jack Nicklaus recovered from an over-par front nine and fired into good position with a 37-31-68.

Kirkland Poised To Guide West

CHILDRESS — The West All Stars, quarterbacked by Benny Kirkland of Big Spring and coached by Max Bumgardner of Angelo State College, face the East in the 16th annual Greenbelt Bowl football game at 8 o'clock here Saturday night.

Buddy Horne is Bumgardner's coaching aide while Grant Teaff of McMurry College is coach of the East.

The teams have been working out here since Monday. Kirkland's Queen nominee is Pam Vines of Big Spring. She was to arrive on the scene today. Registration for the beauty nominees began at 1 p.m. today in the Hotel Childress and was to be followed by a soft drink party at the Elks Lodge at 2:30 p.m., honoring the contestants and their parents.

The Greenbelt Bowl hospital picnic will begin at 6 p.m. in the Fair Park, complimentary to the players, their parents, queen nominees and their families.

The beauty pageant will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Elks Lodge, at which time the nominees will be formally crowned for their individual introduction and will receive their trophies.

District Judge Charles Reynolds will be master of ceremonies. An informal party in the lodge will follow the pageant in honor of the players, queen nominees and their parents.

The queens will be judged in swim suits during the parade at 3 p.m. Saturday. That night at 7:30 p.m. the queens, the football players, and coaches will be presented to the football fans by Dick Risenhoover, sports and news announcer of KGNU-TV and Radio of Amarillo.

Judges will have selected the queen before the half-time ceremonies when she and her two runners-up will be introduced. Miss Sammie Thompson, 1964 Greenbelt Bowl Queen will crown the new queen.

At the conclusion of the game ceremonies will be held with trophies awarded to the outstanding back and outstanding lineman playing in the game.

Pearl's spring water formula tells you fast: This is the beer to stay with! It probably happened to you, or to someone you know: You drank a bottle of Pearl to satisfy your curiosity, and it satisfied you so completely that you've stayed with Pearl ever since. That's why Pearl turns so many tryers into steady buyers. And Pearl holds its customers longer than any other brand. Result: Pearl drinkers know Pearl is better beer because it's brewed to the famous spring water formula from the Country of 1100 Springs.

A Discussion Of Judgment

An umpire's decision on the bases caused two members of the San Angelo Jaycee coaching fraternity to charge plate umpire John Terry in Thursday's Hi-Junior tournament game with Big Spring. The men are Ed Kirkham (center) and Harold Wood (right). San Angelo won the thriller, 7-6.

Bukich Standout In Bears' Win

By The Associated Press

Rudy Bukich led the Chicago Bears Thursday night in their National Football League exhibition opener, making an impressive debut in his battle with Billy Wade for the No. 1 quarterback post by completing 13 of 19 passes for 206 yards and three touchdowns in a 31-30 victory over Washington.

The game, which attracted a sellout crowd of 45,142 into Washington's D.C. Stadium, began a four-day schedule of exhibition play in which all 22 teams in the NFL and rival American League will see action.

Bukich, a 10-year veteran, got the Bears off rolling in the first quarter with a 14-yard scoring strike to Johnny Morris before hitting rookie Dick Gordon on a 75-yard play and Jim Marconi on a five-yard maneuver.

The pass to Gordon gave the Bears a 24-14 lead but the Redskins closed the gap on a 41-yard field goal by John Seeborg and a 44-yard scoring jaunt by Paul Krause with an interception. With a chance to tie, however, Seeborg's extra point attempt was blocked.

The AFL kicks off the busy weekend program tonight with $400,000 quarterback Joe Namath making his first start for the New York Jets against Boston at Allentown, Pa. Namath's $200,000 challenger, John Huarte, also is expected to see action for the first time.

Saturday's schedule shows four NFL games—Baltimore vs. St. Louis at New Orleans, Dallas at Los Angeles, New York at Green Bay and Minnesota vs. Pittsburgh at Atlanta—while the AFL has a two-game program—Houston at Buffalo and Denver vs. Oakland at Salt Lake City.

Official notice hereby is given that a public hearing on the proposed 1965-66 budget of Big Spring Independent School District will be held at the School Office, 100 East 10th Street, at 7:30 p.m. on August 17, 1965.

DEAR ABBY

Being Nosy!

DEAR ABBY: Help! I have been divorced for 12 years and have a 15-year-old daughter. I work with a very nosy woman who has tried for ages to pump me for the juicy details of my divorce. So far I haven't told her a thing. Well, last week, this busybody made it her business to go to the town where she thought my ex-husband lived, and she looked him up in the phone book. I don't know if she found him or not, but don't you think she had a lot of rotten nerve?

My ex and I didn't part on very friendly terms, and he hates me as much as I hate him, so I'm sure he wouldn't have anything good to say about me.

How can I stop this woman from trying to dig up my past? I'd get a different job, but I am uneducated and unskilled and it's not easy. Thank you.

FED UP
DEAR FED UP: You can't stop her from trying to dig up your past. You can, however, avoid having whatever she may "dig up" thrown in your face by having nothing to do with her. A person with her nerve isn't easy to shake, so keep looking for another job.

DEAR ABBY: "Bugged" could have been my husband. He complained that his wife called him all the time asking him to stop on the way home and pick up a loaf of bread, or to swing around at the cleaners and bring home the cleaning, or stop at the shoe repair shop and pick up her shoes.

I used to do that when we were first married and was my guy ever bugged! It did cure him of a few bad habits, however. They were (1) Not leaving enough gas in my car (after he had driven it) for me to get to a filling station.

(2) Not leaving me enough cash to buy all the items I needed at the grocery or drug store.

(3) Not telling me we were going out that evening in time for me to pick up the cleaning and to get my shoes from the repair shop.

Very truly yours,

CURED HIM

Spencer Named In 1st Drawing

Norman Spencer Jr. was the lucky fellow Thursday afternoon.

Judge Ralph Caton, asked by Elmo Henry, indicted for assault with intent to murder, to name an attorney to represent him, made initial use of a new plan adopted by the court.

This plan, the judge said, replaces the old custom of his honor of arbitrarily selecting an attorney to appear for indigent defendants. Spencer's name was the one drawn.

Caton has an envelope in which he has placed small slips of paper. On each slip of paper is the name of one Big Spring attorney.

When a defendant needs a lawyer, the judge draws a name from the envelope and that lawyer is "it."

The judge then puts the drawn name in a second envelope and that attorney will not be called upon again to help a pauper defendant until the entire list of bar members has been exhausted.

Judge Caton said that the new plan was adopted because attorneys complained so much at being named to serve in such cases.

"I told the lawyers to come up with a substitute plan," said the judge. "This was suggested and I am using it."

Death Stirs Demonstration

CHICAGO (AP)—A jeering, rock-throwing crowd of several hundred persons staged a noisy demonstration in front of a fire station in a West Side Negro neighborhood Thursday night and early today.

The crowd gathered shortly after an unidentified Negro woman who was standing on a street corner was killed in an accident involving a fire truck. More than 100 policemen were sent into the area of Wilcox Street and Pulaski Road. Rocks and bottles were hurled at passing cars and at the front of the fire station.

Scores of youths were in the crowd and many had thrown themselves in front of cars. Police, after a couple of hours, managed to disperse most of the crowd and arrested 16 persons on charges of disorderly conduct.

Two Blocked Silo Escape, Findings Hint

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert says two men trying desperately to escape in Monday's missile silo explosion at Searcy, Ark., may have blocked a narrow opening and prevented some of the 53 victims from getting out.

In a report to President Johnson, made public Thursday by the White House, Zuckert said: "A number of men had attempted to escape by the emergency ladder which apparently was blocked by two men who became jammed together in trying to pass simultaneously through a restricted area on the ladder, thus denying access to those on the ladder below them."

But the secretary, just back from a personal inspection of the Titan II missile complex at Searcy, emphasized that investigation of the disaster "is still in the preliminary stage."

"Cause of death was almost exclusively asphyxiation," he said.

Schenley Offers New 'Red Satin'

Introduction of a new Schenley Distillers brand Red Satin whisky, has recently been completed in this area.

Red Satin has been test marketed for over two years in the nation's largest control states, and the Texas introduction was helped up, said Don Ligon, state manager for Schenley, until his company was convinced that this was a superior and smoother whisky.

Ligon, in discussing promotion plans with West Texas representatives, said Red Satin was a genuinely popular-priced luxury item and that everything connected with Red Satin would be de luxe, including packaging, advertising, and point-of-sale promotion. Production of Red Satin utilized several new processes, including a secret micro-filtration technique.

Bob Carroll, Odessa branch manager for Penland who handled distribution and sales in Big Spring, said retailer acceptance has been good. An advertising campaign is due to start in September.
