

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

SATURDAY, DEC. 28

Your birthday tomorrow; your coming year could be termed "belated pioneering." Changes you might have begun years ago, now emerge with urgency. Your resources are just enough; you must get some retraining as well. Little help is available and few, if any, examples for your guidance. You must do it yourself.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Three days of tension finally dwindle. Go after people you can't reach during the week; make proposals for the coming year.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Consult today with doctors, dentists, dieticians, technical advisers. Search for transactions to put through before the end of the year. Use GREAT care in assessing obligations.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20):

Get busy on things to be squared away before the end of the year. Nothing is gained by worrying over friends and relatives. Focus on private problems.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Keeping busy is the most sensible course. Some body puts in a good word for you, unasked. Accept help where offered.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): There is support available, and some recognition for you in recent days. Press forward without doubts or misgivings.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): This is more a day to think and negotiate than doing. A stranger, without realizing it, may put you to an opportunity right in your own back yard! Take the initiative.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): While a serious mood prevails, bear up with undiminished energy and you come out into emotional sunshine. Your intuition arises to lead the way. (Listen carefully to what this evening...)

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your ideas find agreement in high places, resistance or hostility in low places. Avoid travel or go ahead or behind the critical periods.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Stay in home territory and put your main energy on getting routines properly settled. Do not sign contracts today! Think about health maintenance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your tact or creativity brings you great interests in surprising places; a matter of individuals happening to see and appreciate. Relatives and neighbors get in the way.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Disconcerting news must be taken into account. Leave off extra pleasure trips; finish what you are involved with now. Conditions are about to shift—

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Stay away from policy discussions. Tend regular routines. Take your share of neighborhood affairs. Settle up with relatives now.

In 1776 George Washington led his troops across the Delaware River to Trenton, N.J., for a surprise Christmas Day attack on the Hessians.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 68 years of age. I am not "married," but my wife is. She says there will be no men at my funeral, but the place will be crowded with weeping widows. She's right. I like the ladies and the ladies like me!

My problem: Having no men friends, I find I am short six pallbearers, so I'm wondering if it is proper to have women pallbearers? I'm sure they would not have any trouble getting women. If anything, it would probably cause a big fight because so many women would want the honor.

Abby, will you kindly take care of this matter for me as soon as possible as I have a feeling I'm living on borrowed time.

WILD BILL

DEAR BILL: I've never heard of women pallbearers, and don't expect your wife to be one. From your letter I'd say the old girl has carried a pretty heavy load during your lifetime.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem and you are the one who is causing it. I'm women's editor of The Times-Herald in Newport News, Va., and every few days I get calls from irate readers who say, "You left off Abby's answer again today!"

Now, Dear Abby, I see all your columns before they go into the paper, and I know that sometimes you do NOT answer a letter — it just stands by itself — since it is a comment on a previously published letter, or someone just letting off steam.

But my readers want to boil me in oil. I'm sure other editors around the country have the same problem. Defend yourself, Abby!

JOY GALLAGHER

DEAR JOY: It's not necessary. You've explained those "unanswered" letters, and also defended me very well. And I thank you.

DEAR ABBY: We are three college students who feel that you are completely unjustified in maintaining that "there is no such thing as a haunted house."

How can you classify yourself as an authority when many surveys have been taken and have proved that these things exist? Thank you for your attention.

JOY, MARION, AND CAROLYN

DEAR J., M., AND C.: That which is "haunted" (according to my Webster's Unabridged Dictionary) is "inhabited by ghosts." If one believes in ghosts, then I suppose there are haunted houses. But I think they should more accurately be called "reputedly haunted houses."

DEAR ABBY: I had to laugh when I read the letter from the mother whose daughter would send home her bills to be paid without even inclosing a note. The mother thought this was very rude, which it was.

But here's something that will really sly you. My brother is on the Battleship U.S.S. New Jersey in Vietnam.

Once a month their captain sends a "newsletter" home to all the men's families. My brother addresses the envelope and slips the mimeographed letter in without even signing his name to it! He feels this is sufficient.

My mother wrote back once and told him she thought he was ingenious to get his captain to write his letters for him. Now we don't even get the "newsletter" anymore.

HIS SISTER

Everybody has a problem. What is yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's Booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

You can get many new and different effects with antiquing kits by varying the way in you apply the toner, says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. A spatter finish can be achieved by using a stiff bristle brush—say an old tooth brush—to apply. Dip the end of the brush into the paint and spring the bristles with your finger to throw a fine spray of toner over the undercoating. Practice first on a piece of paper to check the desired effect. But be careful. Too much toner won't make spatters—just splashes.

Spley Cider

Add to holiday cheer with hot cherry cider. Combine in a sauce pan 1 (8-ounce) jar of red maraschino cherries and syrup, a quart of apple cider, 1 medium lemon, slice thinly, and 1 stick of cinnamon. Heat just to boiling point. Remove cinnamon and serve in mugs. Makes 6 servings.

Postage Rates For Second-Class Mail to Increase

Postal rates for newspapers and magazines and other material mailed at the second-class rate will be increased Jan. 1, Postmaster R. W. McPhillips reminded the public today.

The increase results from the postage rate law enacted in December, 1967, which raised most second-class rates in three annual steps. Postmaster McPhillips pointed out.

The Jan. 1, 1969, hike is the second phase of the increase. The first phase took effect Jan. 7, 1968, and the third step will go into effect Jan. 1, 1970.

The second-class rate increase affects general interest, nonprofit and classroom publications. Rates also will go up Jan. 1 for controlled circulation publications. These are primarily trade, technical and industrial journals which generally do not charge a subscription fee and aren't eligible for second-class rates.

The 1967 postal rate law called for a three-step raise for controlled circulation publications, to be effective the same dates as the second-class increases.

Except for home-county mailings, postal rates for newspapers and magazines mailed second-class are based on the weight of the publication, the amount of advertising it contains, and the distance it is mailed.

Effective Jan. 1, rates for editorial or non-advertising matter in commercial publications will be increased from 3 to 3.2 cents per pound. Rates for advertising content depend on the distance the publication is mailed.

These zone rates now range from 4.6 to 15 cents per pound of advertising content. The new advertising zone rate range will be 4.9 to 16 cents.

There are special lower second-class rates for classroom publications and publications of nonprofit organizations. These rates also will be increased Jan. 1.

Postmaster McPhillips said that second-class or controlled circulation mailers who need more detailed information on the new rates should contact the Post Office where their publications are mailed.

Udall

years, was back in town today to look out for his interests.

McCormack's count showed that more than a majority of the 243 Democratic members of the House in the 91st Congress already had promised him their support. He was confident as he approached the start of another term in the nation's second most powerful job.

McCormack has been speaker since 1962, and before that was House Democratic leader for almost two decades. He is a fixture on Capitol Hill. There is hardly a House member who is not, in some way in his debt. At the drop of an unkind word in the press, or anywhere else, the House will rise almost as a man to a round of glowing tribute to McCormack.

So Udall's announcement Thursday that he is out to bounce the veteran speaker shocked not only McCormack but all the "old bulls" in committee chairmanships and other positions of power.

Udall said he acted for no one but himself. But his plea for new, younger leadership echoed some of the complaints of many of the party's younger House members, some of whom hadn't been born when McCormack came to the House.

North Koreans were aided by any of the prisoners is nowhere in evidence.

Nevertheless, a court of inquiry usually is a prelude to a possible court martial, and the Navy judicial board presumably will be obliged to make some statement concerning the conduct of the prisoners.

The military "code of conduct" which was drawn up with much fanfare in 1955, after slightly more than two dozen prisoners had defected to the Communists during the Korean War, specifically forbids "oral or written confessions, true or false."

The code provides that "should I become a prisoner I am bound to give only name, rank, service number and date of birth. I will evade answering further questions to the best of my ability."

The document states in its forward that "the code of conduct applies to all U.S. military personnel at all times"—with the word "all" underlined in both cases.

Dobbin Appointed President Cabot Carbon in Canada

The appointment of R.E. Dobbin, former Pampa, as president of Cabot Carbon of Canada, Ltd., Sarnia, has been announced effective Jan. 2, 1969. He succeeds P.H. Delacour, who will retire as president of the Canadian company at the year end.

Dobbin is a graduate of Northeastern University, Boston. Since joining Cabot Corp. in 1940, he has held a number of senior positions with that company, including assistant director and director of Research and Development here in Pampa as well as associations with Technical Service and Quality Control.

Dobbin was manager of Cabot's U.S. carbon black plants until 1967 when he was appointed vice-president and general manager of Cabot Carbon of Canada, Ltd.

"Del" Delacour joined Cabot Carbon of Canada, Ltd. in 1953 as director and vice-president of sales. Prior to that he spent many years as a sales agent for Cabot products in Canada. In 1955, he became executive vice-president and general manager of the company's operations in Sarnia and in 1962 became president.

Holiday Mail Shows Boost

The Christmas holiday's parcel post was boosted to 20,200 packages this year in comparison to last year's 19,800 parcels, an increase of 400 parcels delivered.

At the same time, R. W. McPhillips, Pampa Postmaster, said this year's holiday letter delivery was 690,100, an increase of 27,900 over the 662,200 deliveries last year.

Also, McPhillips said that early mailing of parcels has made postal employees' jobs a lot easier in handling this year's mail.

Also, in behalf of all the postal employees, McPhillips wishes to extend their season's greetings to all Pampans.

As the choir sings, the band will march in formation, and will form a Christmas tree with balloons and lights to the "O Christmas Tree" song. As a New Year's addition, they plan to spell out 1969 and perform a fireworks display, Brinson said.

"I don't know if the pre-game show will be televised or not, but we've been cleared for a full-half time show in Shea Stadium of about 11 minutes. The pre-game show starts about 1 p.m. (EST) or noon here, with the half-time show about an hour or hour and half later," he said.

The band and choir's pre-game music will be the choir singing "The Star Spangled Banner," with the band as accompaniment.

Burglary, Theft In Police News

A burglary and a theft were reported to Pampa police yesterday.

The burglary occurred at Baroid Oil Service and was reported about 8:30 last night.

Police said entry had been gained by breaking out the glass of the rear door.

Buck Worley, owner of the building, said the burglary happened sometime over the Christmas holidays. He said only a roll of stamps and 80 cents in change appeared to have been taken.

The theft occurred Christmas day at a residence at 2212 Evergreen, according to police. Taken were an estimated $20 worth of Christmas decorations.

the heat-blacked spaceship after it hit the sea.

The landing came one hour and 19 minutes before dawn in the remote area of the mid-Pacific—some 550 miles from Christmas Island. It was the first time Americans had landed from a spaceflight in darkness.

The ship, however, was rigged for a night landing, and a flashing strobe light was sighted even before Apollo hit the water.

Because the astronauts were in satisfactory condition and their ship was "floating quite nicely," said a spokesman at the Houston control center, they would remain in the water until first light.

Christmas cease-fire to move closer to Saigon for the expected winter-spring offensive.

U.S. divebombers tore into Communist supply stores and troops in 672 sorties in South Vietnam Thursday, the first full day following the allied truce. Many of their raids aimed at relieving the pressure on Saigon.

Heaviest of the air raids cut into the network of Communist canals and bunkers south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta. U.S. helicopter gunships sank 16 sampans, killing 10 guerrillas, on a river 20 miles south of the capital.

A flight of Air Force A37 bombers tore into a base camp in South Vietnam's southernmost province and cut up 29 fortifications, 19 bunkers and seven sampans, military spokesmen said.

World Almanac

James Whistler died a celebrated painter in London in 1903, but it wasn't until some 30 years later, when a U.S. postage stamp reproduced the portrait "Whistler's Mother" to honor Mother's Day, that he was recognized in the land of his birth. The World Almanac notes. Although he thought highly of his mother, Whistler was most unenthusiastic in naming the colorless portrait of 1872 "Arrangement in Grey & Black, No. 1."

Hunters Warned On Regulations

The Gray County sheriff's office warned hunters today that trespassing or illegal hunting methods can result in heavy fines against offenders.

The warning follows several incidents on Gray County farms which have turned farmers and owners irate, the latest of which was an estimated $150 damage to a tractor southwest of Pampa by vandals.

Sheriff's officials pointed out that it was illegal to hunt with lights at night or to trespass on private property and violations might result in more unfortunate incidents than the filing of charges.

Oil Tools Stolen

An estimated $950 worth of tools and oil field equipment was stolen from two units of the Chase Oil Field Service Company, the sheriff's office reported today.

The thefts occurred sometime between noon Christmas eve and yesterday about five miles south of the city.

The oil rig servicing company has its office south of Pampa on the Bowers City road.

was meant "to give Israel a Christmas present, show the world we are continuing to fight and to punish the Israelis for not releasing any (Arab) commandos" after Algeria released an El Al jet hijacked in July.

In Jerusalem, Israeli Transport Minister Moshe Carmel issued a warning:

"We will not tolerate a situation where in Israeli people or objectives will be at the mercy of attacks by terrorists without exposing (Arab) objectives to similar hazards, compelling (the Arabs) to assume full responsibility for their deeds."

Carmel specifically blamed the Lebanese government for the Athens airport attack. The two terrorists had flown here from Beirut, Carmel said.

"There is no doubt the Beirut government is responsible for what happened."

In Cairo, aviation officials said United Arab Airlines planes flying to Greece were being placed under strict security at the local airport, apparently to avoid retaliation attack.

An Egyptian airline pilot said Greek police refused to let his crew get off their United Arab Airlines plane Thursday night except for one crewman to sign an internationally required flight plan.

In Jerusalem, Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said the attack in Athens faces all international aviation with a threat.

In Jerusalem, Israeli officials said Arab guerrillas blew up one wall of the Monastery of John the Baptist Thursday. It is the place Christians believe John baptized Jesus and is one of Christianity's most revered shrines.

One Israeli soldier was killed Thursday by a Jordanian sniper near the monastery, Israeli officials said.

In Jerusalem, Israel warned it might retaliate against the Arabs for the attack on an El Al Israeli jetliner at the Athens Airport Thursday.

The Coming Year Expected To Be Stormy For Religion

By LOUIS CASSELS UPI Religion Writer

The year ahead looks like a stormy one for religious bodies, and particularly for the Roman Catholic Church.

Resistance to Pope Paul's views on birth control seems likely to grow rather than diminish. Virtually every literate Catholic in the world must be aware by now that many leading Catholic theologians and a considerable number of priests and bishops have registered disagreement with the Pope.

Ray of Hope The one ray of hope now on the horizon is a growing realization among some Evangelical Protestants that conservatism in theology may go hand in hand with liberalism on the social issues.

The Rev. Dan B. Cameron, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday. At the 11 a.m. Worship he will speak from the subject, "A Political Woman," which is the last in a series on "Some Women I Know."

Harvesters Meet Hobbs In Semifinals Tonight

HOBBS, N.M.—Pampa and host Hobbs, who've given the Harvesters nothing but trouble for two straight years, meet at 8:15 tonight in the semifinals of the Hobbs Invitational.

Pampa had little trouble advancing to the second round of play by scoring an easy 65-51 win over Abilene Cooper Thursday night.

Cooper managed to do one thing to the Harvesters. They held leading scorer Jim Hollis to 18 points. This marked the first time Hollis has been held to under 20 points all season.

In other games in the tournament Hobbs ripped Duncan, Okla., 97-56; Farmington downed Midland, 88-57 and Odessa nipped El Paso Jefferson, 54-52. Hobbs and Farmington are expected to meet in Saturday night's finals.

Cooper fell to an 8-9 season mark while Pampa won its fourth straight game for a 7-2 season reading.

The Harvesters fell behind twice in the first period but tied the game at 7-7 for the last time and Hollis goalied for 9-7 lead, goalied again to make it 11-7 and Abilene could never get closer than the for points.

Besides Hollis, Billy Thomas added 14 points to the Pampa attack and Jim Gallman kept Pampa in the running early in the game and ended with 13 points.

Pampa led 17-11 after one period and by five, 30-25 at halftime. But the Harvesters outshot the Eagles 14-9 in the third period and had a 44-34 margin.

Joe Littlefield paced the Eagles attack with 26 points, 12 of them in the final quarter when the Pampa defense sagged just a bit.

Johnny Epperson paced the Pampa defense forcing Cooper to make eight turnovers in the Moultrie and Gallman pulled down rebound after rebound for Pampa.

The Harvesters held 14 point leads twice in the third period but got into foul trouble in the fourth quarter.

OCU, Duquesne Hit All-College Semifinals

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—The century mark barely survived opening play in the All-College basketball tournament Thursday night. It probably will not be as lucky tonight.

Nelson and Rich Travis hit consecutive baskets to put the game on ice.

Wallace led the Chiefs with 29 points, and Travis, last year's most valuable player in the All-College, scored 22. The Chiefs received strong rebounding effort by 6-foot-9 Willie Watson, who pulled down 18 caroms, most of them at critical points.

Terry Habig had 24 points, and Johnny Arthurs 23 for Tulane.

Oklahoma City will meet the winner of the LSU-Wyoming game at 9 p.m. Saturday in the championship semifinals. Duquesne collides with the winner of the Pacific-St. Bonaventure contest at 7 p.m. Saturday in the winners bracket.

Texas A&M meets the loser of the St. Bonaventure-Pacific game at 2 p.m. Saturday in the consolation semifinals. Tulane tackles the loser of the Wyoming-LSU clash at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Moe Barr tossed in 26 points for the Dukes, and received support from Jarrett Durham, with 18, and Garry Nelson, 15, as undefeated Duquesne racked up its eighth straight victory.

Chiefs Hot, Tulane Cold
Oklahoma City's Chiefs stamped to a 53-43 halftime edge before faltering as Tulane warmed up.

St. Bonaventure, leading the nation in field goal shooting with a 54.2 percentage, collides with University of Pacific at 7:00 p.m., and undefeated Wyoming meets LSU at 9:30 p.m. LSU is third nationally in team scoring, averaging 97.0 points per game. The Tigers are led by Maravich, whose average of 47.4 points per game is tops in the nation.

Dodds Holds High Percentage
Stan Dodds of Wyoming is second nationally in field goal shooting, with a 69.0 percentage, and Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure is fifth, with 65.7 per cent.

Maravich to lead Shooters

Both winners in the opening round games came close to the 100-point mark Thursday night. Defending champion Oklahoma City edged Tulane 94-86, and undefeated Duquesne downed Texas A&M 93-71.

Namath Named Best in AFL

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Namath, preparing to meet the biggest challenge of his colorful career, today was named the American Football League's Player of the Year for 1968 by United Press International.

A panel of 30 sports writers representing each of the league cities gave the New York Jets' quarterback 14 votes, almost three times the number received by runnerup Lance Alworth of the San Diego Chargers, who drew five votes.

Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins, Len Dawson of the Kansas City Chiefs and Ed Rutkowski of the Buffalo Bills drew two votes each while those mentioned on one ballot were Gerry Philbin, Don Maynard and George Sauer of the Jets, John Hadl of the Chargers and George Webster of the Houston Oilers.

Namath, who ranked third among AFL quarterbacks in statistics this year, provided the leadership that carried the Jets to the Eastern Division title, the first crown in their history. New York entertains the Oakland Raiders at Shea Stadium Sunday for the American League Championship, with the winner going on to the Super Bowl.

"It's an understatement to say it's a great honor," said the 6-2, 195-pound Namath when informed of the award. "I hope you understand I'm not trying to come across as the humble guy. But they (the people) should be aware that an honor like this—and it really is a tremendous one—is a team thing."

"One guy can't do anything. I don't remember anybody on a losing team getting to be named MVP. So it has to be a team thing."

Namath, who came to the Jets via Beaver Falls, Pa., and the University of Alabama for a reported $400,000 bonus, completed 187 of 300 pass attempts during the regular campaign for a 49.2 per cent. average. His aeriels were good for 3,147 yards and 15 touch-downs as the Jets rang up an 11-3 record.

Sauer, who like Namath was selected to the UPI All-Star team, was his quarterback's favorite target with 66 receptions, second in the league only to Alworth. Maynard, a second team all-star, was fifth in receptions with 57.

U.S. Wins Davis Cup Title

ADELAIDE, Australia (UPI)—The United States regained the Davis Cup for the first time in five years Friday when Californians Bob Lutz and Stan Smith thrashed Australia's John Alexander and Ray Ruffels, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2, in what maybe the last all-amateur format of this 68-year-old competition.

The Americans disposed of the inexperienced Australian team in one hour and seven minutes.

The straight-set triumph coupled with singles victories by Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Clark Graebner of New York gave the Yanks an insurmountable lead in the best three-out-of-five match series.

Ashe beat Ruffels and Graebner defeated Bill Bowrey in blustery weather Thursday making today's doubles match before a gallery of about 4,000 fans in the Memorial Drive stands a must for the Australians.

Two single matches remain Saturday—Graebner versus Ruffels and Ashe against Bowrey—but they will be little more than exhibition matches.

U.S. captain Donald Dell refused to celebrate the Cup victory Friday night and said he would like to make it a 5-0 sweep.

"We'd love to win five-nil because no American team has managed this since 1948," Dell said.

Harry Hopman, the wily longtime team manager of Australia, attempted to avert disaster by inserting the untested Alexander in his doubles lineup, replacing Bowrey.

Alexander, the junior Wimbledon champion, is only 17 years old, making him the youngest Australian ever to compete in the Challenge Round. However, he has one of the strongest serves in amateur tennis.

Ruffels had never played before with Alexander and the two were mismatched against Smith and Lutz, the University of Southern California teammates who are regarded as the best amateur doubles team in the world.

After taking the first two sets in relatively short order, the U.S. required only 17 minutes to complete the tout. Ruffels lost his serve on the first game of the third set and Lutz made it 2-0 before Alexander held.

Browns, Colts Plan No Surprises

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—The experts are working too hard. They're knocking themselves out needlessly says Bill Nelsen, the Cleveland quarterback.

He's talking about those experts who are bending all their energy and getting overheated trying to figure out what the Browns have up their sleeves for Sunday's NFL title game against the favored Baltimore Colts.

Nelsen, who ought to know because he's going to be calling Cleveland's signals, says anybody looking for a lot of surprises from the Browns ... or the Colts, for that matter ... will go home disappointed.

"Nobody is going to change simply because of the importance of the game," says Nelsen. "You go with what you've been successful with all year long. It gets down to who's ready to play the ball game a little more and who gets the big break."

That could be taken to mean the Browns will rely primarily on hard, straight football as they have most of the season, although it doesn't necessarily mean Nelsen will come into the game with any one set pattern in mind.

When the Browns talk about their "new" 27-year-old quarterback privately, they agree he's not as good a passer as Frank Ryan, the man he replaced this year, but that he's a better play selector. He mixed 'em up more than Ryan.

"Nelsen is a play-it-by-ear quarterback," offers another Cleveland player. "If he comes up to the line and gets a sudden idea the Statue of Liberty play would work, he'll call it. With him, anything is game. He has a tremendous amount of enthusiasm. He just wants to go all the time and has a way of firing you up. Reminds you of the old Bobby Layne."

Sub Makes Good
The out-going, boyish-looking 27-year-old Nelsen came to Cleveland from Pittsburgh in a deal last May and was ticketed principally for backup duty behind Ryan. But Blanton Collier, the Browns' coach, promoted him to the head chair after Cleveland won only one of its first three games and Nelsen blossomed into one of the most able operatives in the league.

What the other Cleveland players particularly like about him is his willingness to shoulder responsibility, his ability to adjust to any situation and his obvious respect for their ability.

"He'll never chew you out on the field," says one of the Browns' offensive linemen. "He may tell you something you did wrong on the sidelines but he'll do it constructively and quietly. You know they say 'Let he who is without sin cast the first stone' and you can see he thinks that way by the things he does and says. He'd be a winner in anything he did because he's a great competitor. That quality projects through the huddle."

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Even as the Apollo 8 astronauts were presenting their last live telecast of their Christmas moonflight Thursday, engineers on the ground were figuring out ways to fly a tiny color camera aboard future Apollos.

The present camera used inside the moonship is an electronic marvel, weighing less than five pounds, but it can transmit only black and white pictures.

Pictures from space, such as the view of earth's globe which Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders telecast in the last Yuletide feature, lose much of their impact without color.

The shot of earth from 111,634 miles out, for instance, showed clouds covering much of North and South America. But in black-and-white, the clouds and the land appeared as similar shades of gray despite the sharp image transmitted by the camera.

In color the land would have stood out in rich greens and browns surrounded by royal blue seas and topped by puffy white clouds.

Engineer Max Mesner of the Radio Corporation of America, the man who built the camera now used in Apollo, said a color camera would be possible before men land on the moon next summer.

"We think it could be made a little bit larger," he said. "This is just an idea right now, but an idea based on some very sound principles."

Weight is a big factor in Apollo, and squeezing a television camera down small enough to be carried in the moonship and to operate off its limited electrical current was a triumph of the new technology of miniaturization.

The Apollo camera is small enough to fit into the glove compartment of a car. It has

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—E. F. Hutton Co. Inc. sees signs that the recent declining phase is coming to an end because of a lack of urgency in selling during Monday's broad slide, and a lack of follow-through on Christmas Eve.

Walston Co. sees a spate of profit-taking ahead instead of a year-end rally. Although some issues may be depressed temporarily by tax-loss selling or profit-taking, the general market must remain mostly firm—and not drop precipitously—if there are to be any consequent special opportunities, the firm cautioned.

Dryfus Co. observes that investors can be expected to show psychological discomfort with institutions that depend directly on money to carry on operations because of tight money conditions. The firm said new commitments should await lower prices.

Black Coffee Keeps Some Drunks Awake

AUSTIN—Black coffee doesn't sober up drunks—it just keeps some of them awake, the Texas Safety Association noted while warning the state's drivers not to be misled by false notions about drinking and driving.

"Many drivers wrongly believe they can end an evening's drinking spree with a couple of cups of black coffee, get in their cars and drive home safely. This dependence upon the non-existent sobering effect of black coffee just puts wide awake drunks behind the wheel," Robert F. Miller, vice president for Traffic Safety, said.

"Contrary to popular belief, coffee will not overcome the effects of alcohol—only time and body processes can accomplish this."

The Safety Association official also dispels the notion that a full stomach helps sober folks up. It may tend to slow the rate at which alcohol is absorbed into the blood stream, but it doesn't keep the alcohol from reaching the brain—it only delays it.

The most important factors contributing to alcoholic influence are the amount of alcohol absorbed into the blood and the amount of time allowed for the elimination of this alcohol.

Miller emphasized that the Safety Association is not taking issue with the merits of coffee as a beverage, nor is it presumptuous enough to suggest that no adult driver can have one drink with his dinner and an hour later get behind the wheel of his car and drive safely.

"In fact, a research study reported by the Secretary of Transportation to Congress shows the driving ability of many normal adults is not often severely influenced by having two drinks in two hours."

Miller pointed out that a chart based on body weight has been published by the Baton Rouge Area Council—on Alcoholism t show levels of intoxication in relation to consumption. The chart indicates that the average adult driver in good health weighing 120 pounds may have three drinks in a four-hour period and rarely be under the influence of alcohol.

If he adds a fourth drink, he may possibly be affected; but with a fifth drink in that four-hour period, he is definitely intoxicated and his driving ability will be affected.

An adult weighing 160 pounds could have four drinks in a four-hour period and be legally sober in most states. If he adds another drink, he becomes possibly intoxicated. Two more, or a total of seven, drinks in that four-hour period and he becomes definitely intoxicated.

An adult driver weighing 200 pounds could have as many as five drinks in a four-hour period and rarely be under the influence of alcohol. If he adds a sixth drink, he is possibly influenced and with another two to three drinks, he is definitely intoxicated.

In the body weight charts, one drink is figured as one ounce of 100 proof liquor or 12 ounces of beer. A person is presumed to be intoxicated when the blood alcohol concentration reaches .10 or more.

While the body weight charts do show how much the average adult driver may drink before he is definitely intoxicated,

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Every other Christmas, on even-numbered years, someone gives me one of the new adult parlor games designed for intellectuals.

I assume they do that because they think I'm an intellectual. Actually, I'm a pseudo-intellectual because I have stooped shoulders and wear glasses.

And the reason I look that way is because I ruined my posture and eyesight trying to figure out how to play intellectual parlor games.

If you happened to have received one of these games for the first time this Christmas, I may be able to give you a few pointers that will help you avoid taking on an intellectual look.

Adult parlor games can best be mastered in three stages, which are set forth below:

Stage one—learning to play the game:

Set aside at least three full days for reading and comprehending the instructions. Do it now. If you put the game in top of the closet, intending to get it down after the post-Christmas chaos has subsided, you will never get back to it.

You need the momentum worked up during the Christmas season to help you over the difficult parts of the instructions.

During the three-day study period there may be distractions, such as children petitioning you to install bicycle speedometers. Ignore them.

Learning to play an adult parlor game requires unbroken concentration. Lock yourself up in a quiet room and have your wife bring you your meals on a tray.

Stage two—teaching others to play the game:

Once you have absorbed the rudiments, the next hurdle is persuading other adults to play the game with you. Take them by surprise.

Invite friends to your house on the pretext that you are going to spend the evening reading a volume of Edith Sitwell's poetry. Then spring the game on them. If they know in advance that you have a new parlor game, they won't come.

Allot at least five hours for the pre-game briefing. Be prepared to deal with insinuations that you have misread the instructions.

Stage three — playing the game:

It takes a minimum of four hours to complete the average adult parlor game. After one hour, the other players will start insisting they must leave. Let them quit while you are ahead.

Then put the game in the attic. To a pseudo-intellectual, adult games are childish.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Bethel Assembly of God Church
B. C. ELSWICK, PASTOR
LOOKING AHEAD

Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto things which are before. Phillipians 3:13.

Like the runner who will lose the prize if he mistakes any point short of the goal for the end, or if he wastes his time in looking back on the course travelled, the Christian must press forward with his face towards Christ, unrelenting until the great race is won.

Paul, an old man rich and ripe in many graces, far and away beyond the experience of most christians, still felt that he had not reached the great end of his efforts. How much less can inferior Christians allow themselves to be satisfied with what they have as yet acquired. The end is to be perfect as our Father in Heaven is perfect.

Some men stand with their faces to the west, regretting the lost radiance of the sun. Others turn their face on the east, eager to catch the first streak of dawn. Our faces look forward that we may see the path that we are about to tread instead of looking only on the path already trodden. We must forget past attainments. We must forget past failures. It is wrong to elude our future efforts by carrying the burden of past sin. If God has forgiven our sins, we should forget them.

We must stretch forward to the things which are before. If our hearts are not already in Heaven, our soul can not be traveling thither. Great effort is also necessary. The Christian must put forth all his energies. His life is a battle, a wrestling, a race.

Christ is the end of the race. He is the goal. We are to strive to obtain unto Him. The Christian course is marked out by the footprints of Christ. Every right step brings us nearer Christ, both in resemblance and in fellowship. Christ is also the prize. To possess Christ is worth the loss of all earthly possessions. (Phillipians 3:7) It is, however, in the end, to give us the inheritance of all things. (1 Corinthians 3:22-23).
