Sweeping European Security Pact Suggested By England

New Year Gift Of England Is Given Acclaim

Proposal Described As Best Contribution In Interests Of Peace Since World War Was Terminated

Five Powers Near Austria Are Proposed Nucleus To Front For Preventing War; More Would Be Asked

By HAROLD P. BRAMAN
Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON, Dec. 28. — A general European security pact welding all continental powers into one common front against war will be Great Britain's New Year contribution to the cause of peace, it was learned authoritatively today.

The proposal, to be advanced soon after the Saar plebiscite January 13, was considered another major development in Britain's newly-acquired role as umpire and pacifier in the continents quarrel.

Success Foreseen

Diplomatic circles, which revealed the government's plans, expressed the belief the move stood an excellent chance of success.

It would be the biggest step toward guaranteeing peace since the World war, they asserted, involving as it probably would satisfactory solution of the old Franco-German hostility and settlement of the Yugoslav - Hungarian controversy over terrorism.

While there was no official comment on the plan available in British quarters, it was learned Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald discussed it some weeks ago with various diplomats in London.

Austria Considered

A major consideration of the scheme, it was stated, is to assure continuance of Austria's independence.

The five countries surrounding that tiny central European power—Hungary, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Italy and Germany—would be the first asked to sign the convention, along with France and England, it was said.

While diplomatic quarters were inclined to believe Soviet Russia might not be interested particularly in the question of Austria's independence, they said she might come into special sections of the pact if invited.

General Security Planned

These special sections, it was understood, would pertain to regional or general European security. Later Rumania and the other Balkan nations, as well as Poland, would be invited to participate in general of particular parts of the pact.

France and Italy, it was said, would cooperate directly with Great Britain in putting forward the pro-

Industrialists Told By U. S. Coordinator Relief Load Is Lighter And Warned Against Dole Adoption

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28.—Donald R. Richberg, executive director of the National Emergency council today prophesied that business will continue to improve during 1935.

"I don't usually indulge in forecasts," said Richberg, "and I don't want to be too optimistic, but I feel safe in saying I expect there will be a continuous upturn in industry in 1935."

The Richberg address before a large audience of Cleveland industrialists was preliminary to the opening of an industrial exposition.

Criticizes Dole Suggestion

"Contrary to common misunderstanding, the federal relief load this winter is now and maybe expected to remain about 2,000,000 cases less than last winer," he said.

Criticising what he termed "a short sightedness of business men who now favor the dole because it will cost them less than to give men work," he said:

"Perhaps it might be cheaper for us in a money sense to find work for these idle hands to do than to support the armies necessary to hold them back if once these millions of reading fingers were turned into threatening claws."

Anne Asked To Be One Of Witnesses

Betty Gow To Testify In Hauptmann Trial; Curtis' Offer Likely To Be Rejected

(By The Associated Press)

FLEMINGTON, N. J. Dec. 28. — Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh was listed as a state witness today against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, charged with slaying her first-born son, as the climax of swiftly moving developments in preparations for the Bronx carpenter's trial in Hunterdon county courthouse next Wednesday.

While New Jersey's battery of prosecutors worked briskly, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh went to his former Sourland mountains home and with high officials reenacted his part in events on the night of March 1, 1932, when his son was kidnaped and subsequently slain.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz, chief of the prosecution staff, Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, jr., of Hunterdon county, Assistant Attorney General Robert Peacock and former Judge George K. Large, a special assistant, were in the party that met the famous flier for a first hand inspection of the crime scene.

The nursery in which Betty Gow placed the infant in his crib and the window through which the abductor entered received special scrutiny, as did the spot where the kidnap note was left.

From Norfolk, Va., also came word that John Hughes Curtis, convicted hoaxer in the kidnaping investigation, has notified New Jersey authorities of his willingness to testify for the state. Attorney General Wilentz at Trenton indicated the offer would be rejectd.

Curtis, his counsel, W. C. Pender said, is prepared to swear he had direct personal contact with Hauptmann and that Hauptmann, at one of several meetings Curtis had with the Carpenter, showed him some of the Lindbergh ransom money. This was between the time Dr. John F. Condon, the Lindbergh ransom emissary, paid the money and the date of the finding of the baby's body.

It also was revealed today, by a prosecuting official, that the state will charge at Hauptmann's trial that he has had in his possession in the last two years $49,600 more than his admitted source of income provided.

The official said this money would be identified by the state as the bulk of the $50,000 ransom money paid by Dr. Condon on April 2, 1932.

Christmas Cost To Family High

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 28. (AP) — They had to burn the furniture to keep warm, sell little Emanuel's beloved dog and eat Eddie's pet chickens, but the poverty-stricken Quindt family had a Christmas.

The health department heard the story today when Mrs. Catherine Quindt, 40, and three of her eight children were overcome by fumes seeping from a defective coke stove. Nine-year-old Emanuel brought home a pretty little tree, bought with the 50 cents he got for his dog.

Relief is promised.

Enlarged CCC Plans Studied

Proposal To Be Considered By President With View To Making Room For Million Tree Army Recruits

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—A plan to more than double the size of the civilian conservation corps tonight was under serious consideration by President Roosevelt as part of a broad winter work relief program.

There were simultaneous indications, however, that his program is not yet complete. Singly and in groups, the president summoned cabinet officers and advisors to go over the plans.

Adoption Likely

The civilian conservation corps proposal was described by officials in non-quotable fashion as likely of adoption by the president. A figure of 1,000,000 men was the one mentioned most frequently. The CCC now has upward of 350,000 enrolled

Several other changes also were described as likely in the corps, such as changing the ages of enrollment to allow a broader range of relief benefits to flow from it. Under the present law, the corps would expire on March 1.

Grade Crossings Planned

A closer tie up of all the work giving agencies of the government also was described as contemplated through a central employment agency.

In the field of work relief and public works, one of the types of work said to have been virtually decided upon was grade crossing elimination.

Mechanical Preparation For Thursday Opening Made But Only General Conversation Comes From President

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Democratic leaders forecast today a long and probably momentous session of congress, but conceded that, like the Republicans, they, too, still were mystified as to the essential features of the administration's program.

Word reached them that the president planned to couch his annual message, to be delivered personally next Friday, in general terms, and then, following his established custom, make specific recommendations in individual messages on the various issues now foremost.

Reticence Resented

To date, the chief executive has held no general conference with his congressional chieftains to discuss his program. Some of the Democratic leaders said privately today they resented the situation and did not know which way to turn to follow the party chieftains.

Arrangements for the president's appearance before a joint session of the senate and house on the second day of the new congress were completed today by Representative Byrns of Tennessee, who is to be the next speaker.

Late Adjournment Seen

Byrns conferred with Mr. Roosevelt yesterday on the mechanics of opening congress next Thursday and the best time for him to deliver his message. Only in general terms were the administration's legislative problems discussed, the Tennesseean said.

This led Byrns to the conjecture, however, that the program would be so large that "we will be lucky if

Yesterday Mrs. Pavia made a plea from the witness stand that Tinti be hanged for killing her husband, citing the "eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" Biblical passage.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP) — Even the president has joined in teasing Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt about her oft-applied title of "the best dressed woman in the United States."

"And have I been teased by the children," she laughed today when asked about this new title.

"Yes and by the president," she replied to questions, adding that she had always been "sternly looked after and taken to task" on the subject of dress by a family which considered that she did not give much thought to the subject.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. — A report barbed with condemnation of "deplorable" lobbying in the war department and a renewed demand for the removal of Major General Benjamin D. Foulois as chief of the army air corps was submitted to the house today by its military affairs committee.

The committee did not accuse Foulois of any connection with lobbying. It said, however, the war department inspector general was studying other accusations against the air corps chief.

The committee held "it is undeniable that corrupt business agents have sought and obtained special consideration and information from dishonest and weak government officials."

Abrogation Of Pact Definite

Formal Declaration Of Jap Emperor On Way And United States Will Notify Other Great Powers

BY LLOYD A. LEHRBAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—A two-year period of international uncertainty and diplomatic effort to reconstruct the shattered framework of naval limitation appeared tonight certain to result from Japan's formal denunciation of the Washington treaty.

Hirosi Saito, the Japanese ambassador, tomorrow at noon will deliver to Secretary Hull his emperor's written notification of intention to abrogate the pact.

U. S. Diplomatic Undertaker

Warships—actual and blueprint—were scrapped under provisions of the treaty in 1922 and Japan's declaration tomorrow will scrap the pact that scrapped the warships.

The United States, as custodian of the treaty, soon must carry out its treaty-ordained duty of informing Great Britain, France, and Italy of Japan's action. This notification will certify that Japan's action was taken as of December 31 and—as specified in the agreement—end the naval limitation treaty on December 31, 1936.

Officials here emphasized today Japan's denunciation will furnish the actual death blow to the limitation pact and that the United States will act merely in the capacity of diplomatic undertaker in notifying the other signatories.

Labor Against USCC's Plan

Charge Made That Revision Of NRA As Suggested Would Cut Out Participation Of Labor In Code Making

BY JOSEPH L. MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—American Federation of Labor chieftains led in dessent today to the program for drastic NRA revision advanced by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The proposal to mute the voices of labor and government in code making, the chamber's omission to propose that labor be given a part in code administration, and the denunciation of majority rule in determining collective bargaining representation—these met the federation's principal objections.

Proposal Flayed

"The program of the Chamber of Commerce is wholly in line with the selfish and arrogant policy reflected by this business group since the New Deal re-charged their dying batteries," said John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America and one of the most active voices in the federation.

"It is a ghastly paradox that these so-called leaders who, by the stupidity of mis-management, plunged the nation into economic collapse unequalled in modern history, should now proclaim their desire, alone and unaided, to evolve a plan for national recovery."

Result Of Referendum

The Chamber announced its program after a referendum of its members on how they felt the vital spots in the industrial recovery program should be changed. It suggested that the rules be made by industry and that the government be given the right to approve or disapprove, but not modify, these rules.

The federation was not alone, in

Three Old Age Pension Plans Recommended, Two Of Which Would Be Contributed To By Employer, Employe

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—A demand for immediate enactment of old age pension legislation echoed today from the administration's announcement that the job of earing for old and unemployable persons would be returned to the states by the federal government.

The call came as President Roosevelt shaped with his cabinet plans for a broad scale work relief unit, designed to set the "employables" now on relief rolls to doing jobs that would result in permanent public improvements.

Borah Is Champion

Senator Borah, Idaho's Republican independent, was the first to raise the argument that the return of the care of "unemployables" to the states would make necessary the prompt passage of old age pension legislation.

Pensions advocates have been contending for such a measure with renewed vigor during the last few weeks. The president already has promised to recommend passage of unemployment insurance measures and has set his economic security council to studying whether this was the proper time for old age pensions.

Old Age Pensions Asked

The council recommended three old age pension plans, either one or all of which might be employed. Under two of them, to which both employer and employe would contribute, the federal government would give grants to states whose pension plans conformed to standards laid down by congress.

Little doubt existed that a definite plan for the winter's relief program had been virtually completed.

Estimates Differ

In the minds of some officials, who declined to be quoted, the opinion was firmly held that the plan would call for giving work to all of the employables on the relief rolls.

How much money will be allotted for this work has been left largely to speculation, however, with few of the estimates falling below $4,000,000,000 and most of them holding to the $5,000,000,000 groove.

Long-Pending Divorce Between Mary And Doug Takes Turn Toward Court

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28—Loyd Wright, attorney for Mary Pickford, movie actress, said today he had been instructed to go ahead immediately after the first of the year with her long pending divorce suit against Douglas Fairbanks.

Wright made the statement in response to questions after he filed in superior court an affidavit showing that service on Fairbanks in the suit had been completed by mail. This completes the last legal step necessary to the setting of a date for trial.

Although Miss Pickford never has expressed any indication she might drop the suit, it has been pending for more than a year—much longer than the average Hollywood divorce case awaits trial.

I have been instructed to go ahead with the divorce immediately after the first of the year," Wright said.

A few months ago in London Lord Ashley obtained a divorce from his wife, after trial of a suit in which Fairbanks was named as co-respondent. Testimony was that Fairbanks and Lady Ashley had been seen together in many places on the continent and in the British Isles.

Meanwhile, Fairbanks had returned to Hollywood with his friend and business associate, Joseph Schenck. The latter put out statements expressing a hope that Fairbanks and his wife

Treatment Given Car Victim Here

Ben Williams, about 50, of Post, after receiving first aid treatment in Sweetwater, was brought to West Texas hospital Thursday afternoon.

The driver of a car in which Williams was riding near Sweetwater was said to have fallen asleep while driving about 2 o'clock Thursday morning and the car ran into a concrete culvert. The driver, who suffered a broken nose, remained in Sweetwater for treatment.

Mr. Williams is being treated for a fractured pelvis, badly lacerated face, concussion of the brain, broken bones of the right forearm and numerous contusions over the entire body, an attending physician said.

Cusack Papers Not Presented

California Sheriff Refuses To Cooperate As He Thinks Papers Would Not Be Legal In State Of Texas

CUERO, Dec. 28. (AP)—A California officer failed today to serve Mrs. Ann Hamilton Cusack with a writ charging contempt of court for removing her three children from Los Angeles county.

Sheriff G. A. Markowsky of Dewitt county refused to cooperate with the Los Angeles county deputy sheriff, Williard Killion, telling him he did not believe the papers were legal in Texas.

Two Complaints

The attempt to serve the writ was the latest development in Mrs. Cusack's controversy with her estranged husband, Charles Cusack, over custody of their three small boys.

Cusack, Beverly Hills broker and member of a wealthy Chicago family, followed his wife to Texas from the Pacific coast and sought to bring about her arrest for alleged violation of a Los Angeles county court order purportedly restraining her from taking the children from that county.

He also accused her of grand theft and swore out a warrant charging her with taking silver from his Beverly Hills home. She denied the allegation.

Besides Mrs. Copeland, other officers are: Mrs. E. F. Alford, Home Makers club, vice-president; Mrs. Bennett Lane, Home Makers, secretary-treasurer.

Tech Cagers Lose To Oklahomans; Sandies And Bucs Ready For Title Game

Matador Hoopsters Promise To Make It Tougher Tonight In Series Final; 8 O'Clock

Basketeers From Sooner State Outcome Red Squad Tech Season Opener By 34 To 22 Tally

Maybe it was strain and excitement brought on by their first public appearance this season, or maybe they wanted to be hospitable to their visitors and guests of the past week.

At any rate, the Texas Tech hoopsters couldn't find the basket last night and their basketball season when went to Southwestern State Teachers college Bulldogs of Weatherford, Okla., 34 to 22.

The teams meet again tonight to end up the series, and judging from their potentialities expressed last night, the Matadors should be in a more joyful mood after tonight's setto.

They got more chances, more shots at the backboard, than the Bulldogs from Oklahoma, but for some reason the Red Raiders could not make the sphere drop into the net. They showed a fair passing game, and were fast on their feet, knocking down and intercepting the other team's passes rather frequently, but unable to get going in a scoring streak.

Odds Favor Visitors

The experience gained from playing seven previous games gave the Bulldogs the necessary edge last night. They handled the ball and themselves a little nicer, showed a more deceptive passing form and had better eyes for the hoops.

Tech's basketeers showed plenty of promise, although they might have looked bad last night to the casual visitor. They are due to improve with each practice session and each game. They should be considerably improved by 8 o'clock tonight.

Coach Virgil Ballard's debut as varsity basketball mentor had to be marred by defeat, but he has little reason to be discouraged this early in the season. Even as last night's game proceeded, the Matadors got better. They scored only six points in the first half, but more than doubled that number in the last 13 minutes of the game.

Priddy Loops Long One

Co-Captain Larry Priddy's long field goal seven minutes after the second half got underway made the score 23 to 9 for Tech, and after that Leroy Crews caged a bucket from a distant point, Lem Weaver shot another and then another, and with 8 minutes to go the score was 16 to 27, in Southwestern's favor.

Wilson Gilmore and Crews poured two more in, and Curly Wilkinson, former Lubbock High player, making his college varsity debut, tossed a free goal to wind up Tech's scoring.

Point honors went to Southwestern's tall center, Nickle, a freshman. Nickle scored three field goals in each half and rung up a gratis toss in the second half for a total of 13 points. He also led the personal foul scoring, being eliminated from the game toward the end with his fourth mistake.

It was Nickle who broke the scoring ice in the first half after each side had missed shots for five minutes, with a field goal.

Rice Is Second

Rice, Bulldog guard, hit the basket for three field goals and three free shots for nine points and second place in the scoring.

Co-Captains Larry Priddy and Wilson Gilmore led the Tech scoring with five points each. Gilmore hit a field goal in each half, and scored on a free ticket in the last half. Priddy's long field goal in the second half was augmented by three shots that counted.

Tech showed a weakness in free goal shooting, however, making only eight out of fifteen count. The Bulldogs missed four out of ten attempts.

Sophs Show Up

The playing of Hugh Snodgrass, sophomore, and Judge Garrett, also in his first varsity year, was pleasing last night. Neither scored from the floor, but their ball handling and ability to move around was noted. Lem Weaver, who batted for Gilmore part of the time, sunk two field goals that helped in the second half, and earned serious consideration for a starting place. Snodgrass started in his place last night. Garrett, lanky New Mexico athlete, appears to have the makings of a ball player. Wilkinson, replacing Wester at center, showed rough edges, but should make a very valuable performer when polish is added to his form. He possesses the necessary height, and his work under the basket prevented many Bulldog shots last night.

Captain Francis Young and Cecil Folks, forwards, were Coach Rankin Williams' best looking floormen, although Rice and Everett are colorful ball passers.

Kingfish Goes Out In Second

Champion Max Baer Hangs Kayo Punch To Levinsky's Jaw As Second Round Opens, Ending Exhibition

CHICAGO, Dec. 28. (AP) — Max Baer, heavyweight champion of the world, ended a scheduled four round bout with Kingfish Levinsky tonight with a knockout early in the second round.

About 16,000 spectators were stunned by the sudden finish of the battle which was scheduled as an exhibition. Baer weighed 211 pounds and Levinsky 201.

Fighting with six ounce gloves instead of the regulation eight ounce mitts, the fighters had met under an agreement providing for no decision except by a knockout.

Baer Cuts Loose

In the short-lived second round Baer waited in his corner for Levinsky to come after him. But the Kingfish motioned for him to come first. They fought furiously in the center of the ring for a few moments. Then Baer with a snarl tore into Levinsky, driving him into the ropes under a murderous attack.

Levinsky sagged under this punishment. As he attempted to go into midring, Baer nailed him with a terrific right to the jaw, knocking Levinsky flat on his back where he was counted out. The time was 53 seconds.

Stanford Gridders Slip One Over On Fans And Take Morning Workout; Grayson Recovers

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 28. (AP)—Stanford university, preparing for the New Year's football game with the University of Alabama, is all for laying its cards on the table with its secret practice sessions, but it did the next best thing this morning.

Coach Tiny Thornhill summoned his big Indians out to Brookside Park for an unscheduled forenoon workout when few of the boys were up and around.

This afternoon the boys from Palo Alto worked again, making the first double-header practice periods since last autumn. There was much throwing of footballs, forward, backward and sideways.

Bobby Grayson has completely recovered from his injuries and any football fans think he will be called upon to carry the ball about four times out of five.

Alabama was satisfied with one light workout today.

There were footballs in the air all over the practice field as 'Bama worked. Dixie Howell continued to kick the ball high and far.

Coach St. Clair Afraid His Ponies Not Ready For Texas

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (AP) — Coach Jimmy St. Clair eyed his Southern Methodist Mustang basketeers today after a practice session and expressed the fear they would not be ready to open the season on January 5 with the University of Texas Longhorns. "I've got a bunch of fine boys. They're working hard and doing their best, but most of them reported two weeks late because of football duties and simply haven't had time to get in condition for a hard game," he said.

Whitey Baccus and Zachery will start at the forwards, Haren at center and Briggs and possibly Spain at the guard posts.

East And West Stars Drill For New Year's Charity Go

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28. (AP) — All-star football squads of the East and West reached the peak today in their practice programs for the New Year's charity game here.

The Easterners, under Coaches Andy Kerr and Dick Hanley, pounded through two strenuous hours at Berkeley. Scrimmage, originally planned, was called off. Injury of Duane Purvis, Purdue halfback, prompted Kerr and Hanley to drop this routine.

At Palo Alto, Western players climaxed a long drill with a rousing scrimmage. The squad was divided into two teams and the boys charged into each other for the better part of an hour. Coaches Percy Locey and Orin Hollingbery tried out several backfield combinations.

Officer Shot By Fugitive Is Dead

MARSHALL, Dec. 28. (AP)—The fugitive negro who shot Constable Allen Moore eluded officers today while Moore died of his wound.

The Karnack constable was shot Wednesday night when he went to a country schoolhouse in search of a negro named Mitchell, who was wanted in Houston for a slaying. A negro dashed out of the school as Moore approached and, after firing at the officer, ran into nearby woods.

His trail was lost in the underbrush of the Caddo lake area. Officers said their problem of tracking him down was complicated by the fact that they were unsure of the negro's identity. The search today centered in the Cypress bayou region.

Texas Longhorns Win Over Hardin-Simmons Cage Team

ABILENE, Dec. 28. (AP) — Marty Karow's University of Texas Longhorns defeated Hardin-Simmons here last night 34-25 in the first of a three game series with the Cowboys.

Although the game was rough and slow at times, the Steers showed flashes of fine passing and accurate shooting to pile an early lead and hold it throughout the game.

Jack Gray, Southwest conference scoring ace, garnered seven field goals and four free throws to take high point honors with 18. Most of his baskets were with one hand shots from back of the foul line.

Coaches Protest Against Drinking And Betting At Games; Ban Suggested

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (AP)—Warning that the "continued welfare" of college football coaches depends upon curbing "the increase in excessive drinking in the stands" and that the welfare of the game also is menaced by increased "betting on the results," was sounded by Charles E. (Gus) Dorais of the University of Detroit today before the American Football Coaches' association.

CHAS. E. (GUS) DORAIS.

The convention accepted a majority report on rules, showing 80 per cent of the coaches to be in favor of keeping the existing code fundamentally intact. Bernie Bierman of Minnesota was elected president, succeeding Dana X. Bible of Nebraska.

"It is not alone our duty to educate but we must also protect the public while they are our guests," said Dorais. "Continued welfare of the coaches depends upon our ability to do something about curbing the increase in excessive drinking in our stands. This committee recommends that strenuous effort be made to curtail this practice at football games, refusing admittance to any one plainly under the influence of liquor and ejection from the stands of those who annoy their neighbors should be a universal practice at college games.

"The welfare of the game also is menaced by the ever-increasing betting on results. This committee has no constructive suggestion to offer in curbing this evil but calls it to your attention for serious consideration. It might be a step in the right direction if the coaches would discontinue the practice of picking the probable winners for the press.

"This committee believes that public regard for members of our profession could be deepened materially if coaches would refrain from alibi-ing a defeat by casting aspersions on the practices of the rival coach."

Grid Rules Makers Sacrifice Spectacular For Boys Safety

No Radical Changes In Sight Says Okeson; Present Rules Permit Open Game And Protect Players, Is Report

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—So far as the National Rules committee is concerned, collegiate football will continue to sacrifice the spectacular for the safety of the player.

Walter R. Okeson, chairman, made that plain today in submitting his report to the National Collegiate Athletic association.

While Okeson reflected the committee's belief that radical changes are not imperative, he hinted some minor tinkering may come out of the pressure, largely from the outside, that the game be made more colorful and spectacular.

It is expected that any changes will have to do with liberalizing the lateral pass as an offensive weapon. Okeson said.

"Still Old Fashioned"

"The pressure increases each year to give more weight to the spectators' satisfaction. . . . If our prime object is larger gate receipts then much of their advice is good, but your committees is still old-fashioned enough to feel that the safety of the player comes first."

To back up this point, the committee pointed to the exciting games of the past season as well as to sharp reduction in injuries.

"Your committee feels," the report said, "that it is quite possible to keep the game, open, interesting and even spectacular without adding risks which, while not too great for mature men of many years playing experience, are far too heavy to load on boys of college age."

Punting Is Better

Expressing gratification with the way the rules worked, Okeson cited records showing an increase in scoring in major games and a decrease in the games. Punting was at a higher level than usual, he said, despite fears expressed at the start of the season that the thinner ball would handicap kickers.

Okeson said the most important problem now confronting the rules committee was whether or not further encouragement should be given to the use of the lateral pass.

About The Lateral

"The use of this weapon," he said, "is growing and raises several pertinent questions: One is, shall an attempted lateral which results in an accidental forward pass continue to be penalized by the loss of a down? A second is, shall the rule declaring the ball dead if the runner is so held that his forward progress is stopped be modified to permit lateral and legal forward passing up to the time the passer strikes the ground after a tackle?"

Okeson indicated that both these suggested changes would be studied by the committee.

Coaches Draw Up Nine-Point Code For Subsidizing

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (AP)—A nine point code for the guidance of college and universities struggling with subsidization of athletes—but binding on no one—was adopted today by the national collegiate athletic association. The 29th annual convention ended as it started, still wrestling draws with its most vexing problem.

For a moment in the discussions of the report which Z. G. Clevenger, of Indiana, and his committee have been working on for a year, it seemed as if the N. C. A. A. might take the most drastic step it ever has considered in that direction, incorporation of the code into the laws of the association. Violation, then, would mean expulsion from the N. C. A. A., ostracism among colleges.

Professor Herman Diederichs, of Cornell, suggested this to the convention, but did not go so far as to put it in the form of a motion and press for a vote when the response was unenthusiastic.

May Make Speeches

The code approved only two means of encouraging athletes— work for the university at the same wage paid any other student, and permission for athletic authorities to point out in speeches or in response to direct queries "what they believe to be the educational advantags of the institutions they represent."

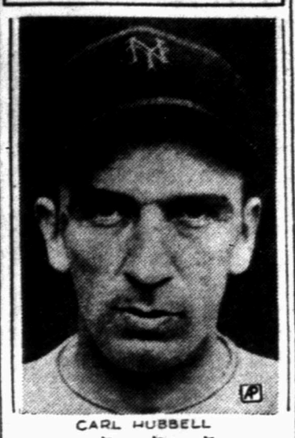

Seven paragraphs were devoted to "unjustifiable" practices. These included flat subsidies for athletes, pay for work at higher wages than other students receive; employment before matriculation or payment in advance for work to be done; loaning money for remitting fees because a boy is an athlete; arranging interviews or corresponding with prospective athletes; promising employment, loans, scholarships and such other than those available to any student; luring athletes into transfering from other colleges, and the giving of financial aid by alumni, club or fraternity groups.

Seven Polo Teams To Play In Southwestern Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 28. (AP) — Seven polo teams, including Cecil Smith and his 23-goal Austin team, will compete in the Southwestern circuit cup championship tournament here starting Sunday. The event is nationally recognized and will be followed by the intra-circuit cup event, also nationally sanctioned.

Teams to compete in the first tournament, an open handicap affair, are El Ranchito, defending champions from Arlington; the 23-goal Austin team; the University of Texas team from Austin and Second Division, Highlanders, San Antonio Blues and San Antonio Yellows, the last four from San Antonio.

No. 1 Pitcher

CARL HUBBELL

Dizzy Dean Just Runner-Up; Carl Has Best Average

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (AP) — Although Dizzy Dean's feat of pitching the Cardinals into the National League pennant and the world champion almost single handed made him the baseball man of the season in 1934, Carl Owen Hubbell, the great southpaw of the New York Giants, again was ranked No. 1 when the circuit's official pitching records were made public today.

Hubbell didn't approach Dizzy's record of 30 victories nor his total of 195 strikeouts but the averages of earned runs per nine inning games were 2.30 for Carl and 2.65 for Dean, who was second. Curt Davis, the Phillies' brilliant freshman right hander, was the only other one of the first section of hurlers who allowed fewer than three earned runs per game. His average was 2.96.

Waite Hoyt, whose comeback with the Pirates was one of the season's sensations, made a 2.92 mark but he hurled fewer than 10 complete games and wasn't classified with the main group. Hubbell's average was far behind his 1933 figure of 1.66, which was the best in many years, but it was about even with the other league leading marks of the past few seasons.

The year also saw a no-hit, no-run game, the first since Hubbell's in 1929. As might be expected, it was one of the Deans, Paul (the not so Daffy one) who did it, setting the Dodgers down hitless and runless on Sept. 21.

Ernie Sutter Defeats And Ties Allison At Tourney

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 28. (AP) — Ernie Sutter, of New Orleans, provided the upset in the singles of the Sugar Bowl invitation tennis tournament here today by winning one set from Wilmer Allison, of Austin, one of the nation's greatest net stars, 9-7, and tying another, 6-6, before it was halted by darkness.

The tied match will be played out tomorrow.

Young Sutter played magnificent tennis, particularly in shooting the ball past Allison at the net. Allison was slightly off form.

Another of the Sutters, Eddie, furnished the day's other upset when he defeated Dr. Eugene McCauliff, of New York, 6-3, 7-5.

Other first round singles results: Berkeley Bell, Austin, Tex., defeated Doug Watters, New Orleans, 6-1, 6-1.

Martin Buxby, Austin, defeated Warren Doyle, New Orleans, 6-0, 6-1.

Wilbur Hess, Houston, defeated Maurice Bayon, New Orleans, 6-2, 6-1.

District 1 Champions Slight Favorites On Eve Of Battle; Corpus Team Well Supported

Crowd Of 20,000 Expected If Weather Is Fair; Sandies In Good Physical Condition For Championship Game

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 28.—The 15th annual Texas Interscholastic League football championship will be determined here tomorrow in a game between Amarillo and Corpus Christi. The game is scheduled for the Fair Park stadium at 2:30 o'clock.

P. C. Cobb, local high school athletic director, said tonight that if ideal weather prevailed he was confident the crowd would number approximately 20,000 persons.

The state finalists are due here tomorrow. The Amarillo Sandies will come from Greenville where they practiced yesterday and today. The Corpus Christi Buccaneers will come from Corsicana after stopping at Houston for a light drill.

Undefeated And Untied

The teams boast full strength lineups. Both are undefeated and untied. It is Corpus Christi's first time in the championship finals. Amarillo swept to the 1930 finals and lost the crown to Tyler, 25 to 13.

An individual touchdown battle between Charlie Haas, Corpus Christi halfback, and John Harlow, Amarillo fullback, is assured. Haas is the league's leading scorer. He eliminated the 1933 champion Greenville Lions last week when he scored four touchdowns. Harlow, a 170-pound sensation, has not been completely stopped this season. Both are outstanding candidates for the all-state team.

Bufkin Is Ready

Coach Blair Cherry of Amarillo announced tonight that Bufkin, right halfback who has been out of the lineup several weeks, will start tomorrow. Stidger at quarterback and Waggoner at left halfback gives Cherry the strongest ball carrying quarter he can put on the field.

Rackley at quarterback, Wallace at left halfback and Carey at fullback will aid Haas in competing against Amarillo's powerful attack.

Amarillo ruled a slight favorite tonight with Sandie followers finding plenty of Corpus Christi backers. In case of a scoreless tie, the team registering the greatest number of 20-yard penetrations will be declared the champion. The 1932 championship was determined on this basis when Corsicana and Masonic Home played a scoreless game. Corsicana won on penetrations, 5 to 0.

Probable starting lineups:

Amarillo	Pos.	Corpus Christi
Cochran	LE	Lawrence
Fitz	LT	Bledsoe
Underwood	LG	Hinnant
Sullivan	C	Gresham
Matthews	RG	Fuller
Ricketts	RT	Brennan
Peterson	RE	Edwards
Stidger	QB	Rackley
Waggoner	LH	Wallace
Bufkin	RH	Haas
Harlow	FB	Carey

Referee: Meyer (Texas Christian). Umpire: Viner (Missouri). Head linesman: Curtis (Texas). Field judge: Littlefield (Texas).

More than 20,000 dead persons are cremated in this country annually.

Frnka Predicts Great Grid Battle Today

CORSICANA, Dec. 28. (AP)—Coach Henry Frnka of the Greenville Lions, 1933 champions of the Texas schoolboy football league, predicts a great battle in Dallas Saturday between Amarillo and Corpus Christi for the title but declined to predict a winner.

"I've seen both clubs and they are perhaps the two best in the country," Frnka stated here last night en route to Greenville after a several days Christmas trip.

Discussing the Corsicana victory jinx in which each club winner over Corsicana during the past five seasons lost the following tilt, Frnka said that each club which won over his team during recent years has eventually won the championship. Frnka's club lost on penetrations in 1931 and 1932 to Abilene and Corsicana, and won the title in 1933. Corpus Christi won over the defending state champions last week in Houston, 34-14.

Twenty-Five Local Fans Ride Special

About 25 Lubbock fans boarded the football special train last night for Dallas where the Amarillo Golden Sandies meet Corpus Christi's Buccaneers this afternoon.

Lubbock fans were offered the same rate which applied to fans riding the special from Amarillo. Several hundred Amarillo and North Plains rooters were on the train when it stopped here at 11 o'clock last night.

The special leaves Dallas tonight at 10 o'clock, and is scheduled to arrive here early tomorrow morning.

Pop Warner Won't Mind If It's Rainy On New Year's

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 28. (AP) —"Pop" Warner and his Temple Owls won't mind so much if New Year's Day in New Orleans, when the Owls meet Tulane in the inaugural Sugar Bowl football game, dawns damp and rainy.

Though a slow field naturally handicaps Warner's intricate "spinning attack, the Owls played three of their games this season on wet gridirons and preserved their undefeated record.

Temple has been dogged by bad weather for most of the training period since coming from Philadelphia and is getting accustomed to football in the rain.

Tulane, on the other hand, has played in fair weather in nearly every regular game this season and there have been few unfavorable days in New Orleans for practice sessions while the Wave has been preparing for Temple.

Then again the local weather bureau figures that only one rainfall has doused New Orleans on New Year's Day in some 25 years. So you can't tell!

Social Security

PRELIMINARY announcements of the social security plan to go before congress next month indicate that it will include unemployment insurance and old-age pensions. Apparently both these contemplate state administration, with federal supervision and participation, the latter only when state plans are in consonance with federal requirements.

While details are lacking it appears that unemployment insurance will be based on levies on the employer alone and that old-age pensions will in effect be bought by the employe recipients through payments made for that purpose and sustained in part by charges levied upon employers, supplemented by federal subsidies. This form of old-age pension, it will be noted, differs widely from those now receiving such enthusiastic support from the many who are willing to receive much when they have contributed nothing.

The plan to have the employer contribute the full amount of unemployment insurance has been favored both by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and by Secretary Perkins. The argument is advanced that since the workers made up about 75 per cent of the consuming public, if they contribute directly to unemployment insurance they will have to wear a double share of the burden. This is based on the contention that the employers will pass the cost of the insurance along to the consumer in the form of increased prices.

In this last thought rests an important fact which doubtless has not been properly brought to general public attention: the consuming public will ultimately pay for social security. Perhaps the consuming public should pay. But when it demands these things, it should not be permitted to fool itself into believing that costs permanently rest where they are laid.

ITALY'S BARK REASSURING

Italy grows more and more warlike—or at least she is giving the world that impression.

Not long ago Mussolini announced that the military spirit would be instilled into Italian youth beginning almost at diaper time. Now the news comes that the program will carry forward right up through the diploma period. Compulsory military courses are to be taught in all Italian colleges and universities. No degree will be given unless the student has attended the lectures "with proift."

Should you go to Italy you would feel that you were in an armed camp. At the border you would see stocky little men in hats adorned with cock feathers, swaggering about in long military cloaks—bersaglieri. On the streets of the towns you would see soldiers galore, black shirted Fascisti, to say nothing of the gentry in guadily trimmed black uniforms, cocked hats, and epaulets, whose swords seem to give them the impression that it is beneath their dignity to answer questions.

And Mussolini's drive for bigger families has pushed Italy's population ahead of France. Moreover, Italian aims are not concealed—the country would make the Adriatic and Italian sea, for one thing, and it would like more territory in Africa.

It is disturbing to those who love peace. Italy at least is getting ready for a possible war. Jugoslavia has been concerned for a long time. France has not shut her eyes to the Italian threat.

However, Mussolini has rattled the sword before. He has made blustering speeches on more than one occasion. Meanwhile he has walked among the nations quietly and discreetly, treading on few sore toes. His bark has been much worse than his bite.

Given a favorable opportunity, the biting might begin. Internal difficulties in France, coupled with the Saar trouble, could provide that opportunity. But it seems to us that France, backed by England, supported by the Little Entente, would still be too strong to suit the Italian stomach.

We expect to hear Mussolini's bark for some time to come.

The most awesome sea serpent yet sighted is reported by a Pacific freighter. Gen. Bill Mitchell would like to know if it flew the Japanese flag.

The Japanese ambassador says the Japanese are proud. And once there were proud Spanish Dons and proud Prussians.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

A NASTY fight is raging within the ranks of organized labor. For obvious reasons all concerned are refraining from advertising the fact to the general public but it is just as bitter a family row as the American Federation of Labor ever experienced.

As predicted in this column November 23, it developed in the Building Trades department. Now it has spread to the Metal Trades department. Differences have passed the stage of mere principle. The numerous leaders involved are indulging in vicious personalities that must leave lasting scars.

Unless all signs fail President William Green and the faction he is supporting will soon be challenged in court.

Green has cast his lot with the carpenters, bricklayers and electrical workers who returned to the A. F. of L. fold after an absence of some years and took over the Building Trades department. A dozen numerically smaller unions, headed by the plumbers, sheet metal workers and elevator constructors, are standing solidly back of Michael J. McDonough, who has long been president of the Building Trades department.

Matters came to a head the other day when an attorney served formal notice on McDonough and Secretary William C. O'Neil to surrender all books and records of the department.

At the same time, Frank Morrison, veteran Secretary of the A. F. of L., demanded that McDonough and O'Neil vacate their offices in the A. F. of L. building here. Morrison signed the eviction notice as a building trustee, of which there are several, rather than as federation secretary.

WAR: Both demands have been ignored. It is understood lieutenants of McDonough are sleeping in the offices. As for the books and records, word has been sent back that "Houdini couldn't produce them."

Green and Morrison have cast the die. If they follow through court orders will be necessary to toss the McDonough faction out.

And if they do that the A. F. of L. will be split wide open.

A culminating act occurred about the same time. John P. Frey, as president called a meeting of the Metal Trades department, which has an interlocking membership with the Building trades. Frey did not invite McDonough to the meeting.

John Coefield promptly withdrew the militant plumbers from the Metal trades department. The sheet metal workers and others are lining up to follow suit.

Coefield went further. He served notice on Green, Frey and the others it was war to the finish.

MOVEMENT: Our transportation facilities—land, air and water—expect to be consolidated under a single directing agency of the federal government at the coming session of Congress.

All they are waiting for is President Roosevelt's annual message to learn whether a new cabinet department is to be set up or whether it will be an independent, quasi-judicial agency similar to the Interstate Commerce Commission but broader in scope. Chances are it will be the latter in view of the cries against bureaucracy.

Secretary of Commerce Dan Roper is very much behind the idea of placing control of all forms of transportation in the hands of a single body. In fact, it's his one special baby so far as action at the coming session is concerned. Railroad Coordinator Eastman has similar ideas.

SAFETY: The American Telephone & Telegraph company has one thing to be thankful for at this holiday season, if nothing else.

Congressional investigations and disclosures during the last year have reminded big business executives once more of that cardinal principle of personal safety—don't put anything in writing unless it is perfectly innocuous or absolutely necessary.

If you could take a peep at the phone company's private records you would find that long-distance business has boomed out of proportion even to the new and cheaper facilities. Corporations aren't writing letters at the moment which may bob up later in the hands of an industrious Congressional investigator to confound them. It's expensive but less embarrassing in the long run.

When things are particularly hot, calls are made from pay phone to pay phone. This avoids any possible wire-tapping and associated headaches.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORK insiders say that Uncle Sam will not succeed in his effort to retire from the real estate business by the simple expedient of shutting off applications for home owners' loans. They predict to the contrary he will find himself in it up to the ears before he gets through.

Home Owners' Loan corporation officials know what grief means. The high proportion of defaults—due largely to amortization requirements—has put them on a thankless spot. Their mission being to save homes they obviously can't go in for foreclosures. Their only alternative is to hold the bag financially for a growing number of delinquent properties. It's a case of having a panther by the tail and not being able to let go. This was an important factor in the curtailment of H. O. L. C. activities.

The present situation leaves nobody happy. Hard-pressed home owners find the relief they were supposed to get illusory. In some cases inefficient administration of local agencies has actually permitted foreclosure of theoretically protected properties for state or municipal taxes. The banks are not interested in taking over—and the government is stuck for heavy losses that may never be repaid.

BANKS: The final answer to this involved riddle isn't yet in sight. There are signs that home owner sentiment is gradually organizing to press for a more effective easing of their burdens. Some informed sources believe the government will eventually be forced to go much further into the field of refinancing private mortgages—but not on any 5 per cent amortization basis. There are experts who figure the interest rate must be carved to 2 1-2 per cent at least 40 years allowed for retirement of principal—if the administration is in earnest about saving homes. Distressed debtors find the New York state mortgage moratorium is a rather painful joke on them. They can't be foreclosed for non-payment of principal but they can be—and are—for default of interest and taxes. That's about as much help to the average property owner in trouble as a pearl tiara to a guinea pig. The state legisalture will hear plenty about this at its next session. Banking interests will vehemently oppose further concessions. Many of them have done rather well on the present basis.

RULES: The Securities and Exchange commission's new rules for corporate registration will probably have a curious by-product. Insiders look for a decided jump in the number of companies listed on the New York Stock exchange.

Hitherto a good many medium-sized corporations have shunned the Big Board in favor of smaller exchanges whose listing requirements were less onerous. This factor no longer operates because regulations will be uniform for all security markets—and the prestige of acceptance by the Daddy of all exchanges will be an attractive lure.

Experts agree that the commission has definitely succeeded in protecting the investing public in one important respect. The publicity spotlight on the stockholdings and tradings of corporate officers and directors is rated the best possible barrier to manipulation based on inside knowledge of a company's affairs. Big interests will find it hard to cash in at the public's expense when they have to perform in a goldfish bowl.

COTTON: Now that cotton farmers have approved the Bankhead bill, New York observers are watching closely to see which way the AAA will jump.

DOLL'S HAIR THAT GREW

When Mrs. Edward Schima gave her 5-year-old daughter, Evelyn, a doll many years ago it had the ordinary short hair that is common for dolls, but the hair was human. After a few years she found the hair had grown slightly and bobbed it. Thereafter the doll was cast aside and put in the attic where it remained for 12 years. Recently when it was removed the hair was found to have grown four inches in that time.

Tests Of A Christian

Text: I John 5:1-12

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Dec. 30
By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of Advance

FROM the Christmas story of the coming of Jesus into the world, we turn to the picture of Christ as King and Conqueror.

The topic of our lesson is "Victory Through Christ."

"Be of good cheer," said Jesus to his disciples, "I have overcome the world." Our lesson is a commentary on these words. In His overcoming of the world, Christ gives victory to individual men in their effort to overcome sin and selfishness.

We are living in a world that offers constant incentives to selfishness where it does not tempt men to the grosser sins. Selfishness is an reality the deepest of all sins and is at the root of all sins, but it appears to us clothed in disguised and sometimes attractive forms.

A man may be very unselfish toward his own family or his own group or his own country, but at the same time ruthless in actions as they affect other people and other countries. A man may clothe under the guise of ambition, success, and what is called "enlightened self-interest," a course of life that is utterly out of harmony with Christmas service and the principles of love and brotherhood.

TO overcome the world in our own hearts and in our own lives is no cheap or easy victory. We cannot accomplish it unless we live on a high plane where we have the constant inspiration of communion with those who have lived nobly and who have left us a good example.

The height of all such communion with the most inspiring example that it offers, and the power of a Savior to help us, is in our relation to Jesus. To find God revealed in Him, to live so near to Him that his power upholds us and guides us, is to win the victory of faith.

Deep and wide in all our life today is the need of victorious Christian living. We are in a world in which we are talking of new deals and reconstructions, and no sensible man will disparage the need of applying courageous intelligence in the effort to discover better methods of organizing and conducting our social life.

WHEN man finds a better instrument or tool for his purpose than the one he is using, he does not need to be urged to use the new one and discard the old one. And there is a sense, therefore, in which, as we discover a better way of society and men become convinced that it is a better way, we shall enter that way very much as we adopt new inventions and better methods in the physical world.

But underlying all our external life is a persistent problem of man's relationship to his fellow man. No matter how much we improve outward conditions, or social organization, there will still be tragedy in human life where sin and selfishness continue.

When the social engineers have done all in their power to plan and better society, we shall be far short of its achievement unless men have the will and purpose to live in right relationships with one another. Meanness and sordidness and selfishness will find a means of defeating the highest purposes, unless they themselves are conquered and driven out by love and goodness.

To overcome evil with good is the method and goal of the great struggle in which all good men and women are engaged. This was the supreme purpose of Jesus in coming into the world, and it is the victory through Him we may achieve.

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION, No. 6

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

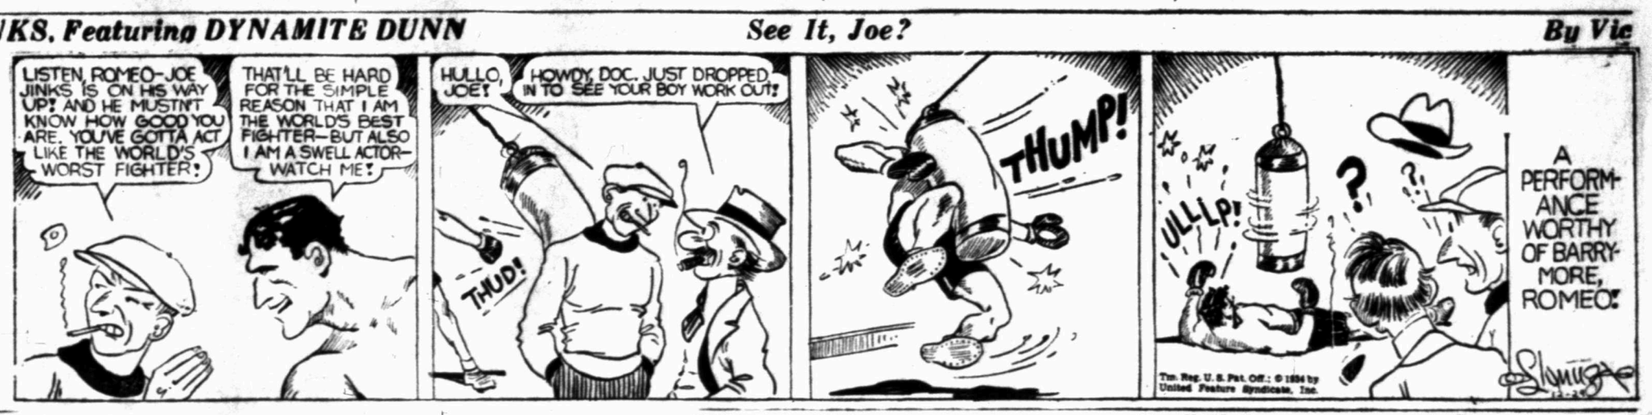

Many were the hours each day that Tarzan spent in training and educating the little, spotted bail—all playfulness now, but who one day would grow into a great savage beast of prey. When meat was added to the Golden Lion's diet, the ape-man fed it in a way that brought grim smiles to his Waziri warrior. For Tarzan had fashioned a dummy in the semblance of a man. The lion's meat was always fastened at the throat of this dummy. At a word from the ape-man, the lion would crouch. Tarzan would then point at the dummy and whisper the single word "kill!"

However hungry the lion would be, he learned never to move toward the meat until that single word was uttered by his master. Then with a rush and a savage growl he drove straight for the flesh. When he was little, Jad-bal-ja had difficulty at first in clambering up the dummy. As he grew older and larger, a single leap would carry him to his goal. Down would go the dummy upon its back with the lion tearing at its throat. Months it took to teach him to find an indicated object and bring it unharmed to Tarzan at the single word "fetch." Lady Greystoke was often an interested onlooker at the education of the Golden Lion. She had many misgivings at the wisdom of the ape-man's program.

"What can you do with such a brute after he is full grown?" she asked one day. "He bids fair to become a mighty Numa. Now he will be utterly fearless of men. Will he not then be doubly dangerous?" Tarzan smiled confidently. "He will never feed upon man or woman, either," he added teasingly. "That I know." Then came the time when Jad-bal-ja was taken into the jungle to test the ape-man's theories.

One afternoon they set off across the plains, Jad-bal-ja following the heels of Tarzan's horse. There were Jane, Korak, Tarzan and the Golden Lion. Four jungle hunters. And of the four Jad-bal-ja, the lion, was the least accomplished. At length they dismounted near a swale in which antelope were usually to be found. Warily they crawled through the brush. Scarce a leaf rustled to their passage. Below, they saw a grazing herd. Nearest them was an old buck. Tarzan pointed him out in some mysterious manner to Jad-bad-ja. "Fetch him," the ape-man whispered.

Captain Kidd Memories Come To Fore As Skeleton Found

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., Dec. 28. (AP)—Two small boys stirred up a deep mystery today in this 250-year-old village when they dug up a skeleton in an iron cage from a vacant lot in the center of town.

The theory was advanced that perhaps the boys had found the remains of a pirate who had been tortured to death. It might even be one of Captain Kidd's men, some said, as legend has persisted in reporting the presence of that freebooter.

The cage, badly rusted, fitted the form of a man's body and apparently had been welded together.

Simon, MacDonald Draft Plan

It was understood Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, and Prime Minister MacDonald conceived the pact, to which Germany already has indicated she will adhere. Simon's present European junket is for the purpose of arranging preliminary steps, it was said, and France and Italy have promised their aid.

The United States, the informant said, was not included in the proposal, which was regarded as an exclusively European proposition.

WALL STREET REPORT

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Readily absorbing year-end tax selling, the stock market thrusts its way upward in the late trading today with a vigor reminiscent of some of the rallies in final sessions of other years.

Substantial buying in old-line industrial leaders lifted the market out of the bounds of its recent narrow range and piled up numerous gains of 1 to 4 points.

The advance gathered headway in the final half-hour of trading and closing prices were about the best of the day. It swept the Standard Statistics Co. average for 90 selected stocks up 2.6 points to 74.7, the largest rise in the averages in one session since June 8.

Turnover was smaller than in the previous session, however, mainly ascribed to a diminution in year-end selling, although hundreds of cash sales on the ticker tape attested to a continuation of such liquidation for the purpose of registering profits or losses against tax payments. Volume totaled 1,270,051 shares compared with 1,041,685 yesterday.

As Wall Street veterans recalled, year-end rallies in the security markets have become something of a tradition.

Brokers pointed out the display of new year spirit in the broad upswing of share prices had some tangible backing this year in extraseasonal gains in steel, motor car and electric production, and other business barometers lately.

American Can jumped 4 1-4 points to a new 1934 peak at 114. American Sugar advanced nearly 3 to 63. Du Pont 2 1-4 to 96. Chrysler about 2 points to 41 3-4, and Spiegel-May-Stern 3 1-4 to a new top around 25.

The hard-pressed utilities rallied with the rest of the list. Consolidated Gas preferred recovered nearly 4 points of its losses earlier in the week. Santa Fe, New York Central and other rails were up a point or more.

Bonds felt the surge of year-end optimism, with treasury issues making further moderate gains. So did commodities. Corn and wheat showed gains ranging up to 1 1-2 cents a bushel in futures trading at Chicago. Cotton futures in New York advanced 40 to 70 cents a bale.

Christmas retail trade, according to Dun and Bradstreet, recorded gains in most sections ranging from 25 to 40 per cent greater than a year ago.

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 28. (AP)—Flurried buying late today gave a brisk rally to corn and wheat prices following a hog market jump to the highest point since last September.

Sudden bulges of corn and wheat values resulted largely from recognition that enlarged feeding demand for grains appeared probable owing to the spectacular rise of hog prices. In turn, the action of the hog market was ascribed to rapid broadening of demand for dressed pork and to severe curtailment of pig supplies.

Corn, which led the advance of grains, closed strong at the day's peak, 1-2 to 1 1-2 cents above yesterday's finish. May 90 1-2@90 5-8, wheat firm unchanged to 1 cent up, May $1.00 1-2@1.00 1-4, advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15 cents.

Preceding the late abrupt switch to the buying side grain futures averaged lower in price, corn dipping about a cent a bushel, and dragging wheat down.

Oats and rye as well as wheat trailed upward after corn and hogs.

Provisions were responsive to action of hog prices.

FORT WORTH REPORT

Mary's Divorce

would soon be reconciled.

When Fairbanks came back he promptly went up to their one-time "dream house" called Pickfair, to see Mary. They were often seen together after that, on long drives and at dinner parties.

But neither would affirm or deny conciliation rumors that floated about. They kept mum.

Only, it seems, Mary had been talking with her attorney from time to time, and today gave final instructions to press her suit for divorce.

Wright said he would go into court next week and asked that the divorce trial be called on the calendar. With two or three weeks it should be called for trial.

Unless something intervenes, Wright indicated, the interlocutory decree of divorce should be in his hands within the month.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 28. (AP)—There was an improved tone and more activity in the cotton market today and prices scored a fair advance of more than half a dollar a bale. Good cables, very bullish advices from Bombay and fair trade buying and price fixing, coupled with advances in stocks and wheat caused the gains.

After opening 4 to 5 points up on the strength of the cables prices gradually improved until the active old crop months showed gains of 11 to 12 points. The close was very steady and at or near the top with old crop months showing net gains for the day of 10-12 points. New crop October closed only 5 net up.

The market became quite firm during the afternoon with fair trade buying and price fixing and covering by shorts. The advance was helped by firmer stocks and a good bulge in wheat and by continued talk of the sharp upturn in Bombay. Prices made new highs in the late trading with March at 12.68, May at 12.76 and July at 12.79. The close was at or near the top with active old crop months showing net gains for the day of 11 points on March, 10 on May and 12 on July, October closed at 12.60, or only 5 net up.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (AP)—Cotton was higher today on trade buying and covering prompted by reports of firm markets abroad. The upturn trend in the stock and the grain markets was another factor in the moderate strength. The market closed steady at net advances of 8 to 14 points.

Very little hedging made its appearance either against operations in producers pertaining to cotton or other sources, and contracts became comparatively scarce following the reactions of the past two days.

Near months were relatively firm on the advance which carried January up to 12.39 and October to 12.61. Closing quotations were at or within a point of the best.

The buying here through houses with foreign connections following advances in the Liverpool and Bombay markets, led to talk of prospects for an improved export demand.

There was some further price fixing by the domestic trade and recent selling had evidently left the market in a healthy technical position.

Exports today 11,748 making 2,439,311 so far this season. Port receipts 17,695. U. S. port stocks 3,115,033.

fluence is actually exerted in relatively few cases."

Irregularities Charged

One "high official in the office of the judge advocate general of the army" was accused, however, of having "sought and obtained fees from private corporations in matters which related to his official duties and to have injected himself into numerous government transactions in other government departments, whereby he was able to favor claimants against the United States."

Activities of one army officer, the committee contended, further, "may have caused the government to maintain an unwarranted loss on one class of claims, of approximately $7,000,000."

Recalling its recommendation last May that Foulois be ousted, today's report said the "recommendation stands for what it is worth." It summarized the previous report as finding:

"1. Major General Foulois wilfully and deliberately violated existing law in the purchase of military airplanes and aircraft material.

"2. He accused superior officers of wilfully attempting to deceive this committee.

"3. He testified falsely before the sub-committee as to his opportunity and authority in presenting air corps needs to the director of the budget.

"4. He advised the second assistant postmaster general that the air corps was prepared to fly the air mail when the record shows that he as chief of the air corps should have known differently."

Byrns indicated the administration expected possibly heated consideration of the NRA, particularly the controversial section 7-A, unemployment insurance, relief, old age pensions, the bonus, extension of $460,000,000 in annual nuisance taxes, the world court and the St. Lawrence waterway.

However, he made it clear he had received no information on the essential phases of the program or what the administration would recommend. He expressed the opinion, however, that old age pension and unemployment insurance legislation should be handled separately.

Meanwhile, Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house agriculture committee said he planned extension of crop loans to farmers for another year because of the drouth in the middle west.

Great Telescope To Be Constructed For Testing Einstein's Curve Idea

PITTSBURGH Dec. 28 (AP)—Professor Albert Einstein, author of the famous idea that space is curved in some mysterious manner said today that the new 200-inch telescope which will be erected in California may solve this riddle.

He suggested the telescope would see enough space to measure any curvature that may exist.

The noted German expressed this opinion in an interview a few hours before his scheduled address before 400 of the nation's leading scientists this afternoon.

"When you see," he said, "only a little piece of a curved line you can always say it is straight but when you see a large piece you can say that it is curved."

But he does not think the big telescope will disclose enough space to show whether it is curved like a ball, so that light coming from a star in the west also will be seen from the east coming around curved space like a traveler circumnavigating the globe.

Asked what progress he had made toward discovering the relations between gravitation and electricity, called the unised field theory, he said:

"I have only hopes, nothing sure."

Einstein said he believed in what scientists called determinism.

This means that he is an optimist rather than a pessimist about the prospect of science in solving the very mysterious and intricate nature of man's physical world.

The interview was held at the home of Nathaniel Spear, Pittsburgh merchant, and was stage-managed by several scientists.

His host, who was confined to a room upstairs with a slight indisposition, sent down word asking Einstein to pose for the news cameraman by standing alongside a large bust of Socrates, in the living room.

"Ach, nein," Einstein exclaimed.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It is a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments.

But most important of all it is designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads—"a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

This ease of riding is achieved by the use of three basic principles never before combined in a low-price car.

1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches.

2. New location of seats, with rear seat moved forward, toward the center of the car—away from the rear axle and away from the bumps.

3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the spring-base to 123 inches.

The result is Center-Poise—which not only gives you a new riding comfort but adds to the stability of the car and its ease of handling. You can take curves with greater safety.

There are many new features in the Ford V-8 for 1935 which make the car still easier to drive.

INTRODUCED TODAY

A New Ford V-8 That Brings New Beauty, New Safety, and a New Kind of Riding Comfort Within Reach of Millions of People

New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal. A new easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 retains the V-8 engine which has demonstrated its dependability and economy in the service of more than a million owners. There are refinements—including crankcase ventilation, cast alloy steel crankshaft and copper-lead floating connecting-rod bearings—but no change in basic design. You buy premium performance when you buy this Ford V-8—full 85 horsepower and capable of 80 miles an hour.

Other 1935 Ford features are Safety Glass throughout in all body types at no extra cost. New welded all-steel bodies. New wider rear doors. (Front doors hinged forward.) New lower double-channel X-type frame. (Makes it easier to get in and out of the car.)

Rich, modern body colors, including a new gun-metal finish of striking beauty on De Luxe body types. Luxurious new upholstery and appointments.

New, wider pillowed seats and softer seat cushions. (Front seats are 4 to 5½ inches wider.) Clear-Vision Ventilation, with adjustable cowl ventilator and a windshield that opens. Combination fuel and oil gage and heat indicator on new, modern instrument board of the De Luxe body types.

The spring leaves are tapered for quiet as well as flexibility. Larger tires have a new, wider tread, specially designed for safety and comfort. Bodies are insulated for quiet and temperature.

We invite you to see this New Ford V-8 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. You will want to ride in it—to drive it yourself. You will find it a new experience in motoring.
