Cisco Negro Given Five Year Term

JURORS OUT TWO HOURS IN ATTACK CASE

Testimony of Mary Kertezs Is One of State's Mainstays In The Trial.

Frank Allen, Cisco negro, was convicted late Tuesday afternoon in 91st district court of attempted attack on Mary Kertesz, transient girl from Hammond, Ind., near Cisco Jan. 25, and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Jurors were given the case at approximately 2:45 after arguments of District Criminal Attorney Grady Owen and Defense Counsel Milton Lawrence. They reported at about 4:45 p. m.

Testimony presented by the state the two days was highlighted by that of Mary Kertesz, the transient girl. Her brother, Joe, and companion, Dewel Ball, testified of the negro's holding the trio at pistol point for six hours near the railroad yards in Cisco, Friday, Jan. 25.

Although Mary Kertesz and her brother, Joe, possessed together about $14, they admitted it had not been taken from them.

Testimony of Kertesz, Ball and the transient boy revealed they did not know whether Allen attempted to attack the girl. During testimony of Joe Kertesz he admitted that if he thought anything of that nature happened he would have rushed in on the negro while he and his sister were behind brush, notwithstanding the negro's possession of a gun.

Allen testified Tuesday Mary Kertesz told him she "would do anything he wanted if he would give her the gun," adding that he did not know what she meant.

Joe Kertesz, her brother, testified under interrogation of Milton Lawrence, attorney for the defendant, he did not hear his sister tell Allen, "a man's a man in the north—regardless of color."

OLDEST PAPER CELEBRATES

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Feb. 20.—The Alexandria Gazette, claiming to be the oldest daily newspaper in the United States, celebrated its 151st anniversary this month.

OUTLINES SIX MAJOR POINTS HE DESIRES

Says Fundamental Principles of Act Have Been Found Sound.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. — President Roosevelt today called upon congress to clarify obscure provisions of the NRA and extend the recovery act for two years.

He asked that the right of employes to bargain collectively be "fully protected," called for maintenance of the government right to establish minimum standards of wages, hours and fair competition and asked for more adequate application of anti-trust laws.

The president asked congress to eliminate jail penalties for code violations.

"The fundamental principles and purposes of the act are sound," the president said. "To abandon them is unthinkable. It would spell the return of industrial and labor chaos."

Mr. Roosevelt asked that congress be guided by the lessons and mistakes of NRA in continuing the law.

"I recommend that the policy and standards for the administration of the act," he said, "should be further defined in order to clarify the legislative purpose and to guide the execution of the law."

The president recommended retention of:

1. Voluntary submission of codes.
2. Government power to fix minimum standards of fair competition.
3. Government power to fix adequate standards in labor relations.
4. Elimination of child labor.
5. Minimum wages and maximum hours features.
6. Right of employes to bargain collectively.

"The fundamental principles of the anti-trust laws should be more adequately applied," he said. "Monopolies and private price fixing within industries must not be allowed."

When ground it was found to be in excellent condition.

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

Deductions for Professional Expenses

A professional man may deduct all necessary expenses incurred in the pursuit of his profession. These include the cost of supplies used in his practice, office rent, cost of light, water, fuel, and telephone in his office, the hire of office assistants, and expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile, based upon the proportion of time it is used in making professional calls or for other professional purposes.

Many physicians use their residences both as their offices and their homes. In such instance the physician may deduct as a business expense the rental value of the rooms occupied for office purposes if he actually pays rent, and also the cost of light and heat furnished these rooms. Also, he may deduct a portion of the wages paid domestic servants whose time is partly occupied in caring for these rooms. Membership dues in professional societies are deductible. Physicians and dentists who keep in their waiting rooms current magazines and newspapers for the benefit of their patients may deduct this item as a business expense. The cost of professional journals for the taxpayer's own use is also a deductible item.

The cost of technical books is not a deductible item, being a capital expenditure, but a proportionate amount for each year's depreciation of the books may be deducted. Depreciation may also be taken on office furniture and equipment. Insurance premiums on office or other professional equipment and liability insurance may be deducted. Automobile liability insurance may be deducted only when the automobile is used wholly in pursuit of the taxpayer's profession, and the cost of he entire upkeep may legitimately be claimed as a professional expense.

When to Report Income From Salaries, Wages, etc.

Of the millions of income-tax returns that are filed annually, the vast majority are from salaried persons and wage earners whose income is derived from personal services.

Ingeneral, compensation for personal services should be reported for taxation purposes in the year it is received or unqualifiedly made subject to demand. Compensation credited to the account of or set apart for a taxpayer, without any substantial limitation or restriction, and which may be drawn upon by him at any time, is subject to tax for the year during which so credited or set apart, although not then actually reduced to possession. If the services were rendered during the year 1933, or even prior thereto, but the compensation was not received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, by the taxpayer until the year 1934, the entire amount is taxable in the year received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, when the taxpayer is reporting on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, which is the basis used by most persons in reporting net income.

All of the various types of compensation, unless specifically exempt by statute or exempt by fundamental law, should be included in the taxpayer's return of gross income, such as salaries, wages, fees, commissions, bonuses, tips, honorariums, prizes, awards, pensions in recognition of past services, etc. Where services are paid for in whole or in part with something other than money, the fair market value of the thing taken in payment must be included as income. Other items subject to tax are fees received by ministers of the gospel for funerals, baptisms, masses, and like servicese; executors' fees; directors' fees; federal jury fees; and prizes received in contests of various kinds.

The salaries of federal officers and employees are subject to tax, including the salary of the President of the United States and judges of courts of the United States taking office after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932, which was June 6, 1932. The salary of the Vice President of the United States, and the salaries of members of the House of Representatives and the members of the United States senate are also subject to income tax.

Exemption Allowed State Employees

The compensation of officers and employees of a State or any political subdivision thereof, if the services of such officers or employees are rendered in connection with activities which constitute the discharge of an essential governmental functions, as distinguished from a proprietary function, is exempt from federal income tax. The compensation of such officers and employees is subject to federal income tax if their services were rendered in connection with the exercise of a proprietary function. For example, the compensation of the governor of a state, mayor of a city, councilmen, board of aldermen, public-school teachers, firemen, and policemen is not subject to federal income tax. Compensation received by employees of a municipally owned waterworks or street railway or electric-light plant is subject to federal income tax, as such activities are proprietary rather than governmental in character.

Fees for special services to a state are taxable, as, for example, compensation paid architects and builders for planning and erecting a state capitol or other state or municipal building. An officer or an employee of a state, for the purpose of the income-tax law, is one whose services are continuous and not occasional or temporary.

CLAIMS TO BE 135 YEARS OLD

MOSCOW.—One of the oldest ment in t he world recently was located by Soviet officials in a remote province of the Far East. His name is Leonti Postnov and he was born in 1779, before the Napoleonic wars. Despite his 135 years, he, according to report, still works on his farm.

Better Living is Provided in New Work Relief Plan

AUSTIN.—Better homes, better living conditions and better citizens were provided in the $13,000,000 work relief funds spent in Texas last year.

Texas relief officials estimated 3,000 projects were completed between April and December 31, by 158,940 persons paid for work relief. At the end of 1934, 6,229 projects were being operated.

Texas' nine work relief districts were benefitted with improvements of lasting importance, State Relief Director Adam R. Johnson said.

Northeast Texas saw 83 bridges rebuilt in Shelby county, rural homes rehabilitated and sanitary conditions improved in others. Southwest Texas concentrated on malaria control and relief workers drained stagnant pools.

Abilene, in the Central West Texas district, saw aid on the municipal airport and repairs to Lake Abilene dam paid out of relief funds. Street improvements and building repairs were made in other counties. Lateral road improvement headed Northwest Texas work, but other projects were included, varying from building low-water dams to airport construction.

Outstanding projects listed by Johnson included beautification of the Fort Worth school grounds; drainage and flood control projects at Waxahachie and Ennis; widening Washington boulevard in Beaumont and increasing city water pressure.

Skilled and unskilled labor of almost every kind was used and trades such as canning and mattress-making were taugth to thousands of tradeless Texans.

SOVIET TEACHES SKIING

MOSCOW.—One of the few schools in the world for teaching skiing and other winter sports is to be established by the Soviet government in Abkhasia, a mountainous region on the coast of the Black Sea. On a spot more than 3,000 feet above sea level there have been found a series of sloping, snow-covered plateaus which will furnish an ideal place for the school. It will be under the direction of the Alpinist, B. Erkov.

Farm News of Interest to the Farmers of This Secti

Half of Acreage Under Control Is Planted In Feed

COLLEGE STATION—Of the 6,283,548 acres of Texas land under crop adjustment contracts in 1934, 3,558,564 were planted in feed crops for home use according to the annual reports of county agents assembled here. Only 1,178,854 acres were allowed to remain idle, and the drouth last year was a factor which H. H. Williamson, state agent and vice director of the extension service, estimates had a great deal to do with that, as nearly half a million acres of the total was wheat land lying in the region of least rainfall.

Food for home use claimed 295,917 acres; soil improvement crops were planted on 221,358 acres; while with pasture crops for home use, 617,296 acres headed toward the goal of more grassland to replace that so disastrously put to the plow in the past 25 years. The remaining acreage was in temporary pastures and miscellaneous crops for home use.

"Emphasis is often publicly placed on the emergency and temporary nature of some of the work of the county agents during the past 18 months," Williamson pointed out, "but if there can be a greater permanent improvement on Texas farms and ranches than will come from the use of these acres released by the government from corn and cotton and wheat to be used for food and feed crops, I do not know what it is.

"That vast new acreage of pasture and feed crops for home use means more meat of a better quality on the family table and a nearer approach to the amount of milk the children need to make them strong and well than Texas has ever before provided. And moreover they saved the situation, in so far as it was saved, when the drouth cut the normal feed crops.

"Those acres planted to soil improvement crops, taken with the enormously increased interest in terracing, represent a turning of rural public opinion in Texas to soil conservation from which the State will be benefitting more years than I dare to prophesy," Williamson said.

Farmers Turning To Milk Production

SHERMAN, Texas.—In spite of an unprecedented feed shortage in this section farmers are turning in increasing numbers to milk production, it was revealed here.

Virgil Baker, manager of the Milk Products plant here, said 81 new members had been added to the company rolls in a six-weeks period.

Reason for the increase, Mr. Baker believes, is the high price paid for butterfat, which is more than double the price prevailing last year.

Mark Williamson Is Awarded Judgment Of $1,347 In Suit

Mark Williams was awarded judgment of $1,347.69 in 88th district court Thursday in his suit vs. J. H. Sudderth. Lien held by plaintiff on land of defendant was also ordered foreclosed by the court.

SOVIET DOGS TO BE SHOWN

MOSCOW.—Dogs of peculiar Soviet breed will make their first official appearance in foreign circles at the International Exposition to be held soon in Frankfort, Germany. They will be sent by the Soviet Society for Aviation and Chemical Defense (Osoviakhim) whichexpects to exchange Arctic Laikas, Turkmanian sheep dogs and Caucasian breeds for dogs native to other European countries.

The elder Dionnes should be feted and advertised every now and then, if only to remind people that the quintuplets have parents.

The government is going to teach the Navajo Indians their own language. They learned ours a little too quickly for their own good.

The man who re-married his former wife, so he'll have her as a partner at bridge, must have had an awful time digging up alibis while she was gone.

Indigestion, Sour Stomach

WHEN you feel rundown, or your stomach gives trouble with gas or "sour risings," try that well-known tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Read what Mrs. A. N. Alston of Route 5, Box 364 B, Muskogee, Okla., said: "I have been a sufferer from indigestion for some time. At times I would choke up with gas. I suffered from heartburn also. At times my food seemed to sour in my stomach and there was such a bad taste in my mouth, but after using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I found that I could eat almost anything—had very little distress."

ON TEXAS FARMS

Looking toward more home orchards in Runnels county the county agricultural council appointed an orchard committee to secure bids from nurserymen and ask each community agricultural association to canvass and list the persons wanting fruit trees and vines. More than 700 trees were ordered.

Mrs. Ora Montgomery, yard improvement demonstrator of Collin county, has a rule that no shrub is to be planted in ground that has not been especially prepared for it. If the ground is tight and waxy it has to be loosened up by working in barnyard manure and cotton waste from the gin before this home beautifier will approve risking the life of one of her plants.

Cold weather in Llano county was the signal for more pecan budding work there. On the ranch of F. H. Westerman, farmers, ranchmen and 4-H club boys gathered to take part in the pecan budding demonstration when Clen Patton, R. H. Nelson and D. D. Steele, farm demonstration agent, "showed 'em how." Westerman plans to increase the number of top worked trees on his ranch gradually until he has the banks of the San Fernando bordered with fine pecans.

Hardy shrubs proved their worth in the recent freeze according to the report of Miss Effie McClane, home demonstration agent, on the yard improvement work being carried on by rural women in Kleberg county. Plans that were acclimated by nature stood the cold as they stand the long dry spells, while tender though beloved shrubs lost out completely. These probably will be replaced by more hardy varieties to insure no future loss, Miss McClane says.

GREENVILLE—As part of her work as farm food supply demonstrator for her home demonstration club, Mrs. J. F. Greenwade of Hunt county planted 42 different varieties of vegetables in her spring garden, 17 varieties in her fall garden, and canned 1,395 pints of 89 different varieties, according to Miss Bonnie Apple, home demonstration agent. In addition, she helped make 150 gallons of syrup for home use, and planted 25 fruit trees and grape vines during the year.

To aid her neighbors, Mrs. Greenwade canned 300 cans of food for them and helped can 100 more, helped make 100 gallons of syrup, and gave one meat canning demonstration.

LUBBOCK—At a total cost of 15 cents spent for thread and snaps and for having three bottons covered, Mrs. S. V. Johnson, Lubbock county wardrobe demonstrator, has an attractive dress made by her foundation pattern, according to Miss Hazel Bratley, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Johnson used four white cotton crash feed sacks in making the dress, one of which she dyed blue. The collar and the covered buttons were made from this blue material.

PARIS—From a one and one-half acre garden planted to 21 varieties, Mary Preston of the Midway 4-H club in Lamar county, sold $47.50 worth of vegetables, canned $51.96 worth, used $34.35 worth fresh, and stored $7.20 worth, according to Miss Beulah Blackwell, home demonstration agent. Her whole expense consisted of $2.45 worth of seed she bought and 35 cents worth grown at home.

Her family of 13 was supplied with vegetables throughout the year, and she and her mother canned 114 quarts of vegetables in the spring and 162 quarts of tomatoes in the fall. She also canned 76 quarts of fruit valued at $11.40.

FORT WORTH—A net profit of $300.64 was made this year no a swine demonstration conducted by Lee Lillard, Tarrant county 4-H club boy, according to M. C. Counts, farm demonstration agent. Lee started with six Hampshire barrows weighing 190 pounds, valued at $12, and later bought six more barrows and two gilts. During the year he exhibited in four stock shows and his show money amounter to $224. His total expenses were $190.83 and his total receipts $491.37, making his profit $300.64. He kept one duroc and one hampshire gilt, selling the others.

PALESTINE—Ten acres of Elberta peache trees planted in 1928 have yielded more than $100 net profit per acre for the past four years for Jack Cely of the Pert community in Anderson county according to Mack McConnell, farm demonstration agent. In 1934 Mr. Cely sold his fruit at the farm and cleared $1,000 on his 10 acres. He follows methods advocated by the Texas extension service in cultivating his orchard. As a result of the demonstration carried on by Mr. Cely, John Tom Davis of Anderson county has planted 20 acres in Elberta trees this year.

HEREFORD—A section of land chiseled last summer to prepare the soil to receive whatever rains might fall and to throw up clods to help prevent the soil from blowing has held enough moisture to keep the wheat growing on the farm of DuBois Walker of Deaf Smith county despite the continued drouth, according to Dewey Reed, farm demonstration agent. Other land just across the road which was cultivated in the manner common to wheat growing sections did not hold enough moisture to produce a good stand of wheat, and what came up has been destroyed because of the blowing of the soil.

Mr. Walker used chisels to make furrows from 10 to 18 inches deep and 42 inches apart, breaking the hard soil underneath the finely pulverized top soil. This subsoil was cracked from furrow to furrow thus enabling the soil to hold the moisture.

Bill to Designate Potatoes as Basic Commodity Urged

WASHINGTON.—Representatives of potato growers in 22 states, considering with interested members of congress a bill to designate potatoes a basic agricultural commodity, today struck out provisions for the sale of tax-exemption stamps to finance administration of production control. As the draft of the proposed bill now stands, costs of administration would be met by an appropriation from the treasury and the proposed tax on sales of potatoes in excess of allotments.

The meeting amended its first draft of the proposed control bill by changing from one to two per cent the maximum tolerance to be allowed by the secertary of agriculture in adjustment of state allotments of tax empt sales quotas to states in accordance with the bill's definite provisions. Upon motion by Representative Boileau of Wisconsin, the growers voted in favor of fixing the national and state production allotments on the basis of production and sales records any three of the years from 1927 to 1933, inclusive. A motion was carried that the method of fixing allotments within states be left to the secretary of agriculture.

A motion to reduce the maximum tax on sales in excess of allotments from three quarters of a cent per pound to one half cent was rejected. This tax is the essence of the control plan, which provides neither processing taxes nor benefit payments.

States from which growers voted in favor of the draft of the bill were Alabama, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Representatives of Connecticut, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania voted against the bill. Michigan, New York and Nebraska representatives voted present. Florida and Louisiana went on record as not voting; and Maryland and California as absent.

The purpose of the control measure was described as limiting the quantity that producers would sell. Under the terms of the proposed bill quotas that could be sold tax free will be established. Committees working in cooperation with the secretary of agriculture would break state quotas into allotments to individual producers. The state quotas would be based on the three highest acreages and the three highest yields per acre of any state selected from the years 1927 to 1933, inclusive. The years selected for yield need not be the same as selected for acreage. The average production figure obtained in this manner would be the base, for the adjustment program which has as its goal the parity price that obtained in the years 1919 to 1929, inclusive

B. Drummand Ayres, of Accomac, Va., presided at the meeting, which was held in Washington, in the Department of Agriculture building.

Roosevelt to Ask Extension of NRA

Mr. Roosevelt originally intended sending the message Monday, but conferences necessitated by the gold decision compelled him to postpone work on it.

Car Registrations Show An Increase

AUSTIN.—New passenger car registrations in Texas during January increased sharply both over the previous month and over January, 1934, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Reports from 15 representative Texas counties gave a total of 4,497 registrations, an increase of 119 per cent over December and 148 per cent over January last year. Sales in the lower price brackets made the best comparative showing, but the increase in the highest price groups was also substantial, the Bureau's report said.

ROMANTIC NEW FILM COMEDY STARS COLBERT

"The Gilded Lily," the new Claudette Colbert starring vehicle which comes Monday to the Lyric Theatre, is a romantic and frothy comedy that boasts a totally new and unconventional approach on the romantic angle.

Assisted by Fred MacMurray and Ray Milland in the principal supporting roles, Miss Colbert is cast as a pretty stenographer who is dead set against marrying a millionaire. Her idea of connubial bliss is a husband who is poor and struggling, someone whose hardships she can share.

Among the highspots of the picture is Miss Colbert's singing of a new song by Arthur Johnston and Sam Coslow, "Something About Romance."

So Dizzy Dean signed up after all, showing that he can be dizzy in the way of everything but money.

New Standard Six Arrival Announced By Jack Muirhead

Jack Muirhead, Eastland Pontiac dealer, has announced new Pontiac standard six models have arrived and are on the floor at his place.

The new standards are being shown publicly for the first time in addition to the de luxe and improved straight eight announced earlier in the year.

With the same distinctive front end treatment which has made the higher priced Pontiacs among the most popular of the industry's 1935 offerings, the standard six line boasts the characteristic lines of its bigger brothers and provides economy of operation comparable to the lowest priced cars on the market.

Such typical developments of the 1935 season as the solid-steel turret top body by Fisher, synchronized and stabilized front end springing, triple-sealed hydraulic brakes and many other achievements of the engineering laboratory and the stylist-studio are to be found on the latest newcomer to the Pontiac line. It is powered by the same six-cylinder engine as the de luxe line, developing 81 horsepower at 65 miles an hour and capable of speeds well over eighty miles an hour.

Silver-alley bearings developed and pioneered by Pontiac engineers and found in no other passenger cars in America today, are standard equipment. Except for the front fender indicator lamps, the standard six presents the identical exterior appearance of the de luxe six, and except for the new synchronized and stabilized front end springing, the chassis of both cars likewise are identical.

The new type of spring suspension allows for a "softer" ride, in that stiffness has been reduced from 300 pounds to only 200 pounds. This equalizes spring stiffness both in the front and rear, eliminates the forward pitch of the conventional type of suspension, it is claimed, and provides one of the most comfortable and restful types of springing available at any price.

Standard six models have the same completely sealed chassis of the higher priced de luxe six, which keeps all water, dust and grit from every working part. Luggage space is provided in the rear of all sedan and coupe models.

All of the well known engineering features of Pontiac motors such as the cross flow radiator, gusher type cooling and metered-flow lubrication are found in identical fashion in the standard six models.

The flight is completed safely, but only through Grant's last-minute heroic efforts, during which he confesses his love.

Methodist Pastor Continues Series World, Religion

A Faith for the World, was the subject of the third sermon in the series on The World and Religion, preached by Rev. Rosemond Stanford at the Methodist church. He said in part:

"The religion of Jesus is the best answer to the religious problems of the race. He reveals God, He is the Good Life, He teaches by his life how to attain the good life.

"1. According to Jesus faith is active. It is acting upon one's conviction. Luther said, 'Faith is living, active, powerful.'

"2. According to Jesus, faith is belief. It goes beyond action to an expression of conviction. A creed represents the systematic statement of an experience.

"3. Jesus represnts faith as trust; a trust or purpose of mind in God. The gospel of Jesus is a personal relationship. 'My heart trusted in Him and I am helped.'

"What we believe about God matters most. God is Christ-like.

"His name according to Jesus is Father. He is loving, just and righteous. He that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God."

NEW FEDERAL BUILDING IS NOW LIKELY

A telegram was received Saturday afternoon from Thomas L. Blanton, in which he expressed hopes that a federal building might be obtained soon for both Eastland and Ranger.

The telegram, which is self-explanatory, reads as follows:

"Have spent almost the entire day in conference with Admiral Peoples' office, procurement division, and with the fourth assistant postmaster general, Purdum, and his assistants in the post office department and believe I have removed all obstacles that have been causing delay and both Eastland and Ranger will be placed in the list of emergency federal buildings that are next to be designated for construction and as former appropriations for same have been used for relief purposes, funds for them will be provided in the president's construction measure. Order will be issued Monday for inspector to re-survey both Eastland and Ranger, hence have the chambers of commerce contact the inspector when he reaches there and explain why postal receipts have annually diminished. Signed: Thomas L. Blanton."

EDITORIAL

By EL MERLE

Someone has said that man cannot live to himself alone. How true this is! We often do not realize the extent to which we depend upon our fellowmen.

In this age of specialization we have come to depend on others more than ever. Each person specializes in one particular occupation or study and depends on others to supply his other needs.

Man depends on his fellows for clothing, food, shelter, recreation, and last, but not least, love. Perhaps we do not realize the importance of the love expressed by man for his fellowmen, but it is what makes life worth living. It is as necessary to man as air; it is the thing that makes the "world go 'round"; without it man would be rather pitiful, struggling along trying to be sufficient unto himself.

We have seen cases of people with a warped idea which caused them to believe that they could live alone, away from the rest of the world. Hermits, as we call them, but do they seem happy? No, indeed! They seem so pitifully alone that it touches our hearts to see them.

Let's try to learn that the more we live for others, the fuller and finer our own lives will be. Just so much as we give ourselves in trying to make others happy will we ourselves. We cannot give of love and cheer without being repaid in full.

George Davisson Explains His Unemployment Insurance Measure

By BERNARD BRISTER
(In the Daily Texan)

Far-reaching and distinctly liberal is the pioneer plan of unemployment insurance for Texas which a student in the School of Law has offered to the forty-fourth legislature.

Providing for an unemployment insurance fund controlled by a commission and growing out of payments compulsory to industrial employers, House Bill 409 prepared by Representative George A. Davisson of Eastland, is offered as a remedy to the industrial emergency existing in Texas at the present, and as a distinct unit of the unemployment relief plan that President Roosevelt is now working out for the nation.

Though registered in the School of Law, the short, 26-year-old solon admits that he hasn't thought much about school since the present session of the legislature, his first, opened. Bills have kept him busy. He has to do much research work in preparing the unemployment insurance bill, and he has submitted a second bill dealing with ad valorem tax levies for cities and towns.

Davisson has spent four years, intermittently, in the university. He stayed out two years and taught school at New Mexico Military Institute; he stayed out at shorter intervals to make money to continue his legal education. Now in the throes of his fifth week in the Legislature he sees his way for the future clearly, and he has great hopes for the fate of his bills.

"I am certain that the bill will get through the house without change," Davisson said. "It is in a sub-committee now and none of the house members have found objection to it."

Of the senate's action he is not so positive. "The turn of national affairs has greatly impressed every one with the importance of the crucial situation now existing in industry, especially the insecurity and poverty of industrial workers. All of the members of the senate with whom I have talked, have wanted to steer the bill, and that isn't a bad indication at all."

Explaining the necessity for unemployment relief and the nature of the burden, the youthful legislator said that taxes have become burdensome and private charity funds inadequate, that farmers and rural communities are unjustly burdened, that increased taxation for the support of salaried workers has come at the very time when agricultural incomes are reduced by the lack of purchasing power in the urban markets.

He sees in the absence of voluntary contributions on the part of the employer to support his employes in the event of their unemployment the burden become unfair and the employers relieved of a just responsibility.

In the introduction to his bill, he explains his failure to meet responsibility as the direct cause of the emergency in which families have been broken up and scattered, endless soup and bread lines formed, and a lack of sufficient clothing and shelter which in turn are largely responsible for the social unrest bubbling in the senate at the present time.

The bill provides for a state unemployment fund to be placed in the custody of the state treasurer and an administrative unit consisting of a commission of three members to set up a machinery to put the act into effect and to determine its policy.

No objection has been voiced regarding the fund, Davisson said, but Governor Allred has raised an objection to the creation of a new commission. This is because the formation of several new commissions by the present legislature would interfere with his plan of integration in the administrative side of the state government. Davisson explained that this objection presented no real obstacle to the success of his plan since an "ex-officio" commission or some similar administrative machinery might serve.

Under the provisions of the bill the members of the commission are to be appointed by the governor who is at the same time empowered to remove them and to fill the vacancies. Commissioners are to receive an annual salary of $6,000 payable out of the administration fund. Not more than one of the members may be classed as an employe or as an employer or be from the same section of the state. Their powers are similar to other state commissions. Th power to create and operate employment offices and to make a reasonable classification of businesses and industry is inherent to it.

The unemployment reserve, as planned by Davisson, will grow out of compulsory payments made annually by all private businesses, partnerships, and corporations hiring more than 10 employes and doing business in Texas. In every type of industry the premiums paid by the employer are to be 2 per cent of the gross profits, except in the public service enterprises which are required to pay 2 per cent of their gross receipts.

Unlike the unemployment insurance plans of Ohio and Wisconsin which Davisson used as a model, House Bill 409 gives a wider interpretation to what constitutes unemployment. A wage cut entitles an employe to a limited benefit under the plan offered here. It offers him this additional protection which a slackening in the production of an industry might bring.

Payments are made on the basis of 70 per cent of the remuneration lost, but a maximum of not more than $175 per month forms a limitation for those of the high salary brackets. No person totally employed shall receive less than $50 per month. Davisson defined the unemployed and procedure through which they obtained benefit from the unemployment reserve. Everyone is eligible who is employed by any of the enterprises from which the state draws annual premiums, if he has been with the employer for one year or is employed by such an employer at the time of the passage of the act.

The employe is not emenable to benefit if he has lost his job because of misconduct so adjudged by the commission or because of voluntary quitting, or because of a trade dispute. Men who have been self-employed and can return to selfe-mployment find no provision in the program. Benefits are payable on account each case of total unemp

AGA approved gas appliances... ASSURANCE for SAFETY ..... QUALITY ..... EFFICIENCY

Few industries maintain a laboratory for research and testing such as the American Gas Association Testing Laboratory. In this laboratory every kind of gas appliance is tested by trained engineers. For instance, a gas range is subjected to about 250 separate tests. These tests are grouped under such headings as: lighters, leakage, burner operating characteristics, combustion, fire hazard, thermostats, oven heat distribution and capacity, and many classifications pertaining to construction and strength. In every detail, a gas appliance, before A. G. A. approval is given, is made to comply with nationally indorsed standards for safe operation, durable construction and satisfactory performance. When buying gas appliances look for this seal.

METHODIST BANQUET IS BIG SUCCESS

The Methodist men of the Cisco District met for a banquet and pep meeting at Eastland Friday night, a regular feature at the end of each quarter, and one greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

Coming together at 7 o'clock the crowd of Methodist ministers and laymen had grown to nearly 150 by 7:30 when the ladies of the Eastland church announced everything in readiness for the banquet in the basement which was lovely with the colorful tables lighted by rows of candles.

After the invocation by Reverend Kenneth Pope, now of Georgetown but for the last several years of Breckenridge, the meal was served. Following the banquet the meeting was given in charge of Presiding Elder Rev. J. B. Curry, who called for a short report from each of the pastors concerning their work and their church during the past quarter. The reports were very interesting and were brightened in places by the wit of several in making their talks.

At the close of his report Rev. J. M. Bond, pastor of the Ranger Methodist church challenged any of the towns represented to show as large an attendance present as that of Ranger. A count of hands in a roll call after all pastors had been heard proved that he knew his men in making the challenge, for Ranger had 20 present against 14 from the next largest group.

When all business had been finished Judge Hickman, toastmaster for the evening, took charge of the meeting in what he termed the Laymen's half. A quartet that was to have been on the program had sent word that they could not be there so in their stead Judge Hickman gave a highly entertaining account of one term of school he attended at Southwestern University at Georgetown. He then presented Mrs. Grady Pipkin who sang "I Have Heard of a Beautiful City," accompanied by Mrs. Bert McGlamery.

The president of Southwestern University, Mr. King Vivion, was next introduced as the principal speaker of the evening. President Vivion, a comparatively young man for so important a post, is not only an interesting speaker but a man whose whole dynamic being is put into whatever he is doing and saying and his message will long be remembered by all who heard him.

Ranger men who attended the banquet were: Rev. J. M. Bond, pastor; S. P. Boon, A. N. Larson, R. V. Galloway, E. P. Weaver, J. H Weaver, W W. Paschall, Bob Smith, W. B. Crossley, B. H. Peacock, Mrs. B. H. Peacock, E. K. Smith, Bob Balch, Stanley McAnelly, C. P. Ashcraft, P. O. Hatley, A. J. Ratliff, B. A. Tunnell, C. D. Woods, L. H. Flewellen.

Figures from the office of Secretary of State show a total capitalization of $3,028,000, a gain of 17.3 per cent over January last year although 30 per cent less than that of the previous month, the bureau's report said. The number of charters granted totaled 186, a gain of 27 per cent over that of January last year and 52.4 per cent above that of the previous month. The principal gains were in the oil, manufacturing, and merchandising groups.

Two Boys Win a Trip to National 4-H Club Congress

COLLEGE STATION.—Sammie Hoerster of Art, in Mason county, and Clarence Thieme of San Benito, in Cameron county, are winners of the 1935 trips to the National 4-H Club congress held each year in Washington, D. C., according to the announcement made here by E. C. Martin, extension boys' club agent. The award is based on all of their club work, which for young Hoerster was valued at $2,109.96, and for Clarence Thieme amounted to a value of $3,650.06.

Hoerster, working under the supervision of Farm Demonstration Agent R. B. Tate, has followed his natural interest in livestock until he has become one of the most successful managers of baby beef feeding in the state. In 1931 his beef feeding won him national recognition in the form of a free trip to the International Livestock show at Chicago. From the profits he mode on this demonstration he built a 22 by 30 foot feed shed, surrounded by a chicken-proof fence and supplied with a concrete watering trough with running water. In 1933 he fed out six calves that were shown at livestock shows at Mason, San Angelo, Houston and Fort Worth. In 1934 Hoerster decided that his beef must "live at home" to be produced at a good profit so he planted seven acres of yellow dent corn and two acres of cane. This year he is feeding six choice Hereford calves and has continued the practice of raising some of the feed he uses.

Thieme, working under the guidance of H. L. Alsmeyer, farm demonstration agent in Cameron county, is a believer in diversification and the handsome total of profits which he has piled up on his club work was made: $1,124.70 in cotton demonstrations; $430.14 in corn demonstrations; $874.60 in potato demonstrations; $15.39 in swine demonstrations; $303.59 in dairy demonstrations, and $901.64 in poultry demonstrations.

Thieme was the first poultry flock owner in Cameron county to trim his sails to the head winds of low prices by changing his feeding ration from mash and grain to grain, milk and green feed to reduce the cost of production. Results of his demonstration have shown the way to other poultrymen in that region.

Producers Plan Higher Prices for Cotton in Texas

TEMPLE, Texas.—A movement by producers to force cotton buyers to pay higher prices for cotton of recognized superior quality has met with marked success here.

More than 700 cotton farmers, members of Farmers Inc., have pledged their land, totaling more than 150,000 acres, and normally raising all kinds of crops, to the pool system. Last year this land produced more than 17,500 bales of cotton which were disposed of by the organization.

In the past, members of the organization said, local cotton buyers have not paid farmers raising cotton of high quality any premium for their product. Instead they have paid a uniform price per bale for all cotton regardless of the varying quotations on the world market for different grades of cotton.

Cotton farmers of Bell, Williamson and Milam counties, where the organization is strongest, declare that they annually produce cotton of better than average staple and charge that the prevailing method of paying for the product penalizes them for raising a better grade of cotton.

Williamson county farmers in 1933—the year the organization was started—by pooling their crops secured a price on the average of 80 points above that they otherwise would have been able to get.

Last year they again pooled their products and secured a price 35 points above the local quotations.

Next year, W. F. Blum, Temple, vice president of the organization believes, they will be strong enough to demand that they receive the full world market price for their crop at the time it is sold.

The organization has asked the government to establish a cotton classer's office in that section to aid in grading their product.

The organization has also benefitted members by securing three cents more per pound for turkeys sold through the pool, by saving members 25 per cent on potato seed purchased in large lots, and by enabling members to get standard cotton seed at reasonable prices.
