American Casualties Mounting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Twenty-eight U.S. servicemen were killed in action in Viet Nam last week, a U.S. military spokesman announced today.

Another 100 American were wounded and seven were listed as missing or captured, the spokesman said.

The casualties were among the heaviest suffered by U.S. personnel in a single week of the Vietnamese war.

VIET CASUALTIES
Military officials said South Vietnamese forces suffered 735 casualties during the week, including 240 killed, 340 wounded and 155 missing or captured.

Viet Cong losses were 419 killed and 28 captured, the officials said.

The United States kept up its air war against North Viet Nam today while scattered action was reported on the ground in South Viet Nam.

One U.S. Air Force plane crashed at sea 100 miles southwest of Saigon after being hit by gunfire but the pilot was picked up unharmed, a spokesman reported.

GUERRILLAS KILLED
The spokesman said 150 Communist guerrillas were killed in the Viet Cong attack Tuesday on the Vietnamese special forces camp at Bu Dop, 80 miles north of Saigon. The figure was based on Vietnamese body counts, he said.

Vietnamese and American casualties in the camp previous were reported heavy. The camp came under small arms fire again Tuesday night but no casualties were reported.

Heavy air strikes inside South Viet Nam were reported late

Part Of Loan Act Nullified By Decision

AUSTIN (AP)—The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals ruled today that small loan companies dealing in bonds and securities are subject to inspection by the State Banking Department.

The ruling nullified part of the Texas Regulatory Loan Act. Forty-four Allied Finance Companies brought suit against the banking department, contending they were exempt from examination.

FILE STATEMENTS
District Judge Herman Jones of Austin agreed with the 40 Allied companies operating in Texas but decided that four companies of the Texas organization operating in Louisiana must file periodic statements of condition with the banking department.

The appeals court agreed that the body of the Texas Regulatory Loan Act exempts firms licensed under the act from examination by the banking department, but added that the body disagrees with the title or caption of the act.

"We believe that the public was entitled to notice plainly stated in the title of this act that it authorized corporations dealing in securities and bonds and making loans in excess of $1,500 to completely escape inspection and regulation by a state agency by the simple expedient of acquiring a license under the regulatory loan act if the legislature so intended," the court's opinion said.

"STATED OPPOSITE"
"The title to this act did not so state; in fact, it stated very close to the opposite. It is our opinion that the variance between the title to the regulatory loan act and the act (itself) of funds our Constitution, and to the extent indicated, the act is void."

The small loan companies attacked the examination requirement for corporations organized for lending money and dealing in bonds and securities without banking and discounting privileges.

The court affirmed Jones' judgment against the four Louisiana companies, but reversed his rulings in favor of Allied. Jones was instructed to reopen the case to fix penalties against the firms.

Bishop Named For Valley's New Diocese

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Roman Catholic Diocese of Brownsville, Tex., was created today with Bishop Adolph Marks transferred from the post of auxiliary at Corpus Christi to be its first bishop.

At the same time Pope Paul VI named Bishop Thomas J. Drury of San Angelo, Tex., to take over the Corpus Christi see. The office of bishop at Corpus Christi has been vacant since the death of Bishop Mariano S. Garriga on Feb. 21, 1965.

LOWER VALLEY

The new Diocese of Brownsville consists of the Lower Rio Grande Valley counties of Starr, Hidalgo, Willacy and Cameron, detached from the Corpus Christi see. The area has a population of 371,348 of whom 234,700 are listed as Catholics. The cathedral is the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Brownsville.

Detachment of the four counties leaves the Corpus Christi Diocese with a population of 483,577, of whom the church claims 242,825.

Bishop Marks was born in Cologne, Germany, Feb. 18, 1915; made his college and seminary studies at St. Mary's University, La Porte, Texas, and was ordained in Corpus Christi May 2, 1940. He made graduate studies in canon law at the Catholic University of America here. He became chancellor of the Diocese of Corpus Christi in 1948, and was named titular bishop of Citrus and auxiliary bishop of Corpus Christi in 1956.

IRELAND NATIVE
Bishop Drury was born in County Sligo, Ireland, on Jan. 4, 1908; attended college at St. Benedict's in Atchison, Kan., made his studies for the priesthood at Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis, and was ordained at Amarillo, Tex., June 2, 1935. He served as a chaplain in the U.S. Air Force from 1945 to 1947 and again from 1950 to 1955. He was founding editor of the Texas Panhandle Register, Amarillo diocesan newspaper, now the West Texas Register.

On Nov. 3, 1961, Pope John XXIII created the new Diocese of Brownsville and named Msgr. Drury, then pastor of the Church of Christ the King in Lubbock, Tex., as the first bishop.

Trio Nabbed In Shooting

EL PASO (AP)—A Wisconsin sheriff says it will be Thursday before he can return home with three migrant workers charged in the fatal shooting of a farmer.

Sheriff Arden Atkinson said statements about the shooting Friday of Peter Stewart, 20, near Montello, Wis., had been signed by Edward Sava, 23, of El Paso; Rogelio Buhat, 29, of Phoenix, Ariz.; and Ricardo Pastor, 20, of San Francisco.

The three migrants were arrested here Monday. An extradition hearing was scheduled today.

Five other migrant workers were arrested Tuesday and jailed at Mason, Mich., in the same case.

M'Namara Says Viet Strength Falls Short

Conferees Reach Agreement On Medical Care Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees agreed today on a historic bill to establish a comprehensive medical care program for older Americans.

The agreement was nailed down at a sixth meeting of the conferees to resolve differences between the bills passed by the House April 8 and by the Senate July 9.

$6,600 TAXABLE
One of the last decisions reached, said Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., was to make the first $6,600 in income taxable to support the broad expansion of Social Security in 30 years.

By next week, when technical experts are through dotting the i's and crossing the t's, the measure will be ready for final action in the House and Senate.

The $6,600 tax base is the Senate figure to cover benefits totaling $7 billion a year. The House had voted for a $5,600 tax base with $6 billion in benefits.

The most immediate item is a 7 per cent increase in cash payments under old age, survivors and disability insurance.

KEY DECISION
Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, announced the major decisions reached by the conference committee. Among them are:

— 60 days of hospitalization under the bill's basic health insurance plan for persons over 65. The patient would pay the first $40 of the hospital costs. For each day above 60 but up to a 90-day limit, the patient would pay $10.

— 100 days of post hospital care in a nursing home, with the patient paying $5 for each day above 20.

— 100 home visits by nurses or technicians.

Psychiatric hospital care up to a 90-day lifetime limit would be provided in the basic hospital insurance program. Extended stay in a facility primarily for the care and treatment of mental diseases or tuberculosis would not be covered.

SUPPLEMENT PLAN
— The fees of specialists in anesthesiology, radiology, physical therapy and pathology would be excluded from the basic plan but could be paid for under a supplemental voluntary plan.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said the conference report will be taken up by the House next Tuesday. Approval by the House and then the Senate will send the bill to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

USE PROPOSED OF VOLUNTEERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Guard officials have proposed using volunteers to meet increased troop and cargo air transport needs growing out of any major buildup in Viet Nam, it was learned today.

Authorities said they believe enough Guard pilots and air crews would volunteer to do the job.

AIR GUARD
The proposal would reduce the need to order Air Guard transport outfits into active federal service, sources said.

The Air Force has told the Defense Department it may need as many as 20,000 Air Guardsmen and reservists in transport units, if a decision is made to call up such forces.

The mission of the Guard pilots would be to fly soldiers and military cargo to the Far East, or to take over some of the other routes flown by the Military Air Transport Service so it could devote more of its planes to the airlift to Viet Nam.

TRANSPORT UNITS
The Air Guard has 25 heavy transport squadrons numbering some 200 planes.

As part of their training, Air Guard transport crews have been flying overseas for years. About four months ago, these missions increased from about 90 to about 130 a month, and have been maintained at that level since.

Many of these flights have taken Guard planes to Okinawa, the Philippines and elsewhere in the Far East.

REAL NEED
Guard planners believe the real need for their transports would come in any buildup phase, when troops and cargo would go to Viet Nam in numbers and bulk.

After the U.S. force was built up, the planners say, the job of sustaining them, although considerably higher than before — could be handled by the regular MATS air fleet.

MISS UNIVERSE TITLE BECKONS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — It was the eve of the Miss Universe semifinals: Miss Mexico's age was questioned, Miss Israel changed her name, Miss Argentina was home in Buenos Aires and false eyelashes were selling like hotcakes.

Fifteen of the 57 girls chosen tonight as semifinalists will compete Saturday for the crown worn by Corinna Tsopei of Athens, Greece.

IS SHE 18?
Pageant officials huddled over whether Juana Acosta of Mexico City was 18 as she says. In Mexico City Tuesday the chief of the Office of Civil Registration said she was 16.

Teary-eyed from a cold, Juana said the age question "is loco. I don't know what to say. It is silly."

The dark-eyed brunette, daughter of actor Rudolfo Acosta, says she has always dreamed of being a Miss Universe and wouldn't lie to do it.

Pageant officials said her passport indicated she was 18.

BIRTH CERTIFICATE
But the Mexican official said her parents had taken out a birth certificate in 1949 saying she was born June 29, '49. That would make her 16.

On July 13, 1965, the official said, Miss Acosta's mother applied for a second certificate showing she was born in 1947. The legal issue may have to be decided in court.

Miss Israel, meanwhile, announced she wanted to be introduced on stage as "Alisa Sadeh." She is registered as Alisa Panfil.

Sadeh, she said, is the Hebrew word for "field" and she was named Sadeh in Israel after her crowning.

Alisa, green-eyed and red-haired, is a soldier in Israel. She works in a cooperative farm camp near Egypt.

Argentina's Mabel Azucena Caffarone was forced to return home ill. A replacement was expected tonight.

Defense Boss In Huddle With Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara sat down today for a full-dress conference on Viet Nam, surrounded by top administration officials.

McNamara returned today from Viet Nam, and told newsmen the ratio of Viet Cong to government forces is "totally unacceptable." He appeared ready to recommend an increase in U.S. strength in South Viet Nam to offset the ratio.

But the White House said today's meeting was not a decision-making session but one of deliberations.

MAY BE DAYS

Press Secretary Bill B. Moyers said it may be some time, perhaps a matter of days, before the deliberations and discussions are finished and any announcements of results can be made.

For the time being the question of increased U.S. military reinforcements in Viet Nam and the possible expansion of the draft and calling up of Reserves were left in suspension.

CONG STRENGTH

McNamara told newsmen that the Viet Cong guerrillas now total about 165,000 and that this compares with about 500,000 South Vietnamese government forces.

Officials have said in the past that a ratio of at least 10 to 1 is necessary to offset the hit-and-run tactics of the guerrillas.

McNamara was asked about his Saigon statement that he had seen a deterioration in the situation since his last visit 15 months ago.

His reply centered on the intensified attacks by the guerrillas, especially in the increase of terror activities against the civilian population.

Then, he added that the situation is not all black.

He said that "the Viet Cong themselves are suffering very high casualties."

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds prices were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds were slightly lower.

Troop Buildup Posing Problem For President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Perhaps the most critical question the Vietnamese conflict poses to President Johnson today is how to send about 100,000 more U.S. troops into South Viet Nam in the next several months without taking over the anti-Communist war.

For years the official U.S. stance in the Southeast Asian conflict has been one of advising and assisting the South Vietnamese forces in the defense of their own land.

"POLICY" DWARFED
As American forces have grown in number and have moved into attack operations against the Viet Cong guerrillas, this formal policy position has appeared to some officials to become increasingly inadequate.

The problem seems certain to grow more difficult as the numbers and actions of U.S. forces increase.

One specific issue which arises in this connection is the issue of command, as the United States assumes larger and larger responsibilities for the conduct of the war. Some kind of joint structure would appear to be a logical necessity. The roles of U.S. and Vietnamese forces would appear to be increasingly those of allies. In a joint command system the United States, with its greater ultimate resources of arms and men, would surely have to assume primary responsibility.

Top administration policy makers, however, are reported extremely reluctant to take any such step. The aim of the United States in fighting in South Viet Nam is to preserve that country's opportunities for freedom and independence from Communist domination.

Stocks Mixed As Recovery Trend Starts

NEW YORK (AP) — A recovery trend continued early this afternoon but the stock market was still a little lower on average.

The stock list was a mixture of gains and losses running mostly from fractions to about a point.

The market was at its worst in early trading when there was some follow-through to Tuesday's brisk shakeout as news worsened about the Viet Nam situation.

A rebound got under way almost immediately among selected issues and as the session wore on more stocks erased losses and posted plus signs.

Nonferrous metals, drugs, rubbers and rails continued lower on balance while the trend was edging to the upside among chemicals, aerospace issues and office equipments.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .6 at 319.8 with industrials off 1.1, rails off .2 and utilities off .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .54 at 368.25.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds prices were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds were slightly lower.

State Lists Appointments

AUSTIN (AP)—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith announced appointments Tuesday to the Texas Legislative Council, the Senate Investigating Committee and the Legislative Study Committee on Multiple Use and Pollution of Texas Waters.

Named to the council, which Smith heads, were Sens. Neville Colson of Navasota, Louis Crump of San Saba, George Parkhouse of Dallas, Murray Watson of Mart and J. P. Word of Meridian.

Smith appointed Sens. Jim Bates of Edinburg, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi to the investigating committee.

First Sentry Goes On Duty

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The first of two Sentry satellites designed to detect nuclear blasts has gone on duty.

The Air Force said it entered a 69,000-mile, near-circular orbit at 11:35 p.m. Tuesday.

Its twin is expected to be positioned sometime Thursday.

The two — plus a tiny hitchhiker satellite — were launched from Cape Kennedy early Tuesday.

The 12-pound Pygmy also is on the job making elliptical orbits which range from 132 miles to more than 69,000 miles from the earth. Its mission is to measure natural radiation in space.

The 524-pound Sentries are equipped to detect nuclear explosions anywhere from the earth's surface to 200-million miles in space. Four others, launched in 1963 and 1964, were equipped only for space detection.

Burns Fatal To Texan In Blast

FORT WORTH (AP) — Noble Barber, 40, died Tuesday night of burns suffered in a North-east Fort Worth tank plant blast.

He was injured Monday while painting the inside of a big steel tank at Gorbet Brothers Tank Co. Paint fumes were blamed for the explosion.

LBJ To Shatter Precedent In Filling High Court Seat?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who delights in surprise appointments, has an opportunity to shatter precedent by putting a Negro or a woman on the Supreme Court.

No one concerned professed to have any inkling of Johnson's intentions in filling the vacancy created by the appointment of Justice Arthur J. Goldberg as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

SPECTACULAR MOVE
The feeling was strong in Congress, however, that the President will make a spectacular move. This could involve his selection of the first Negro or the first woman to serve on the high court.

Johnson's surprise designation of Goldberg to fill the U.N. vacancy created by the death of Adlai E. Stevenson stirred immediate speculation that he might withdraw the nomination of Judge Thurgood Marshall, a Negro, to be solicitor general and name him to the Supreme Court bench.

Marshall, whose nomination is pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee, discounted these reports.

"NOT IN CARDS"
"That's just you fellows (the press) talking," he told reporters. "It just isn't in the cards."

The name of Clarence C. Ferguson, Negro dean of Howard University Law school, also cropped up.

The President has placed stress in the past on the elevation of women to high government posts. He set out in 1964 to find places for 50 outstanding women.

In this connection, the names of prominent women attorneys drew some attention. They include U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah Hughes, who administered the oath of office to Johnson after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

If Johnson were disposed to take a Negro woman, Majorie Lawson, former District of Columbia juvenile court judge, has come to his attention. The President recently appointed her as vice chairman of the District of Columbia Crime Commission.

Others mentioned were Judge Lorna Lockwood, Democratic chief justice of the Arizona Supreme Court, and Rep. Patsy T. Mink, D-Hawaii.

There would be less surprise, of course, if Johnson named one of the advisers who have been close to him. Attorneys Abe Fortas, Clark Clifford and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson are in this classification. Johnson's surprise designation of Goldberg to fill the U.N. vacancy created by the death of Adlai E. Stevenson stirred immediate speculation that he

Father Of Five Admits Stealing Goya Painting

LONDON (AP) — An unemployed truck driver who turned himself in was released on nominal bail of 350 pounds ($980) today after a detective told a magistrate's court the driver had admitted pulling Britain's most publicized art steal, the theft of a Goya portrait of the Duke of Wellington.

The defendant, Kempton Bunton, 61, of Newcastle was ordered to appear for another hearing on Aug. 22. He entered no plea but told the magistrate the court would have to appoint a lawyer for him because he didn't have the money to hire one.

Bunton, father of five children, walked into a London police station Monday night and gave himself up. Detective Ferguson Walker told the magistrate he handed over a written statement admitting the theft.

The Goya portrait was taken from its frame in the National Gallery on Aug. 22, 1961. After nearly four years, the thief apparently decided he couldn't ransom it, checked it in the baggage room of the Birmingham railroad station last May and sent the check to the London Sunday Mirror.

Navy Announces New Open Rates

The Navy Department recently announced that a new list of "open rates" in which enlistment-re-enlistment may be effected had been allowed to the Navy Recruiting Service. These open rates consist of specialties in which shortages presently exist throughout the Navy, and the list includes some of the specialties in most of the major groupings of Navy occupations. Persons may qualify by virtue of having served in one of these open rates, by having gained experience in another of the Armed Forces, or by civilian experience.

Interested persons should contact the Navy Recruiter in Post Office Building, AM 3-3851.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠
 If South had tried to draw trumps immediately in today's hand, his four spade contract would have gone on the rocks—for all of the missing key cards were badly placed for him. By leaving the queen of spades outstanding, while he stripped out the side suits, he was able to maneuver East, the possessor of that card, into a corner from which he could not escape.

The first round of bidding was routine; however, North was confronted with a problem on his rebid, since there was no completely satisfactory call. We approve of his decision to give South a jump raise in spades for, although North lacks the required four card trump support, his heavy concentration of high card strength offers an adequate measure of compensation. South carried on to four spades.

West opened the jack of hearts, East put up the ace and returned the four. South was in with the queen. He led over to the king of trumps and then cashed the ace and king of diamonds. A diamond was ruffed in the closed hand. The king of hearts was played next on which North's remaining diamond was discarded.

With the red suits completely stripped out of both hands, South led a small club and put in the eight from dummy. East won the trick with the queen; however, he was now end played. He could not afford to lead a trump without sacrificing his trick in that suit. To return either a diamond or a heart would present South with a sluff and a discard. East finally exited with a small club in the hope that West had the jack, but his efforts were in vain.

South won the club in dummy and cashed the ace of spades. The queen did not drop; however, declarer cheerfully conceded a trump trick to the opposition and claimed the balance. His losses on the deal consisted of one spade, one heart and one club.

Texas Heartland Notable For Major Dam Projects

By The Associated Press

The most extensive river development in Texas is in the great central heartland between West Texas and the Coastal Plain.

This diverse, heavily populated region receives from 20 to 40 inches of rainfall a year, more than West Texas but less than the true abundance of the Piney Woods to the east.

In this heartland are the oldest and best-known river projects in Texas — Possum Kingdom, Whitney, Buchanan, Granite Shoals, Marble Falls.

(Third in Series)

Travis, Eagle Mountain, Texas, Tawakoni, Waco, Belton, Garza-Little Elm, Brownwood, Kemp and Medina.

River development in the central portion affords a general historical picture that could be considered representative for all Texas.

FIRST DAMS

The first dams were built by cities or electric companies around the turn of the century, either for flood control, irrigation, municipal supply or power generation.

As projects became larger and more expensive, river authorities and improvement districts were formed for financial and administrative reasons.

The third step came in the 1930s, with the federal government (the Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation) building massive complexes. The ownership of these large dams and reservoirs either reverts to local agencies or stays in federal hands.

A look at several projects gives the general picture:

AUSTIN DAM

— Tom Miller Dam, at Austin, on the Colorado River. Built by Austin for municipal use, flood control, power generation. Finished in 1933, and was first major dam built in Texas. Subsequently washed away several times by floods. Constructed in present form by the Lower Colorado River Authority in 1939.

— Wichita Dam, six miles southwest of Wichita Falls in Red River Basin, built 1961. Has been used for irrigation, municipal and in connection with power generation. Now owned by Wichita Falls.

— Randall Dam, four miles northwest of Denton in Red River basin, built 1909 by Denton for municipal use.

— White Rock Dam, Dallas, Trinity River Basin, built 1911 by Dallas for municipal and recreation use.

— Lake Worth Dam, Fort Worth, Trinity River Basin, built 1914 by Fort Worth for municipal use.

— Olmos Dam, San Antonio,

San Antonio River, built in 1926 by the City of San Antonio for flood control.

— Brownwood Dam, eight miles north of Brownwood in Colorado River Basin, built in 1933 by Brown County Water Improvement Dist. 1 for municipal and industrial use.

— Buchanan Dam, 11 miles west of Burnet on Colorado River, built 1938 by the LCRA for municipal, irrigation and power generation.

— Mansfield Dam (Lake Travis), 12 miles northwest of Austin on Colorado River, built 1939 by the Bureau of Reclamation for municipal, irrigation, recreation and power generation. Now owned and operated by the LCRA.

— Morris Sheppard Dam (Possum Kingdom Reservoir), 18 miles northwest of Mineral Wells on Brazos River, built 1941 by Brazos River Authority for municipal, irrigation, recreation and power generation.

— Denison Dam (Lake Texoma), five miles north of Denton on Red River, built 1943 by Corps of Engineers for flood control and power generation. This was the first major dam project undertaken in Texas by the Corps of Engineers.

Most of the river projects completed or planned for the Texas heartland since the end of World War II are under the control of the Corps of Engineers. These include Canyon Reservoir, Stillhouse Hollow, Whitney, Navarro Mills, Belton, Proctor, Benbrook, Garza-Little Elm and Grapevine.

A notable exception is Iron Bridge Dam (Lake Tawakoni), built by the Sabine River Authority in 1960.

Youth-Hiring Set In Towns

AUSTIN (AP)—Denton, Snyder and Aspermont will hire 400 youths in Neighborhood Youth Corps projects approved by Gov. John Connally.

The Labor Department in Washington approved the projects to employ youths at $1.25 an hour.

The City of Denton will put up $17,620 to the federal government's $104,410 grant, to hire 180 youths.

A federal grant of $64,580 to Snyder will be bolstered by $9,810 in local funds for services to 150 youths.

Stonewall County commissioners will add $12,260 to an $88,870 grant for hiring 160 Aspermont youths.

Arraignments Due Trio In Shooting Of Airmen

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Three enrollees from the Gary Job Corps Center at San Marcos awaited arraignment today on charges in the shooting of two Lockheed Air Force Base airmen.

Two others were arraigned Tuesday on assault to murder charges stemming from the affair Saturday in downtown San Antonio. They are James Neely, 18, and Claudell Hughes, 17.

BONDS SET

Justice of the Peace A. A. Seaman set bond for the pair at $7,500 each on one count and $5,000 each on a second count.

Charges of conspiracy to commit robbery were filed against Jerry Hester, 19, William Cross, 19, and David Barton, 17.

All five remained in jail. They have denied any part in the shooting which wounded Airmen J. C. Robin Pettengill, 19, of San Bernardino, Calif., and Frank Marsello Jr., 18, of Elizabeth, N.J.

Both men are in Brooke Army Medical Center. Pettengill is listed in serious condition. Marsello told police the shooting started after two of the boys approached him and Pettengill.

Judge Dismisses Sixteen Cases
 The 118th District Court Docket is 16 cases smaller today. Judge Ralph Caton, on his own motion, dismissed that many pending reciprocal child support cases Tuesday. He said some of these cases have been on the docket for as long as eight years.

"In these older cases," observed the judge, "some of the children who were involved in the original action are now adults and may have children of their own."

Reciprocal child support cases are rarely ever heard in Texas courts. They are legal devices intended to force fathers of children in other states to contribute to their offspring's support. The system is so complex that seldom is it possible to compel the erring parent to pay up.

and asked for a dime. He gave a dime to one, he said; and one of the boys then placed a pistol against Pettengill and said:

"Better give me your wallet or I'll kill your buddy."

A scuffle and the shooting followed.

Texas Would Welcome Rain

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas farmers and ranchers would welcome a good, statewide rain, the U.S. Agriculture Department reports, to nobody's great surprise.

Last week's light showers didn't bring much relief to areas where hot temperatures are sapping soil moisture, it said.

"Dryland crops are showing moisture stress although not at the critical stage," the department's weekly crop and weather report stated. It gave these other details:

Growth of range and pasture grass is at a standstill but livestock remains in good condition. Stomach worms are causing some problems with sheep and goats.

Cotton prospects declined as the moisture deteriorated while sorghum harvest moved ahead to 18 per cent completion, ahead of the 1964 schedule.

Corn prospects remain good as the hot, dry weather hastens maturity. Harvest of spring peanuts, rice and broomcorn is in progress.

U.S. Consumers Spending Freely

NEW YORK (AP) — The American consumer is bringing a golden flood of sales and profits to most of the companies catering to his many needs and desires.

Benefiting in the second quarter of this year from the steadily increasing total of consumer spending were such industries as food, clothing, paper, drugs, retail chains and suppliers of the gadgets which are the status symbols of prosperity.

Free-spending shoppers have brought increased profits to many retail chains, with some conspicuous exceptions.

In the first three months of the year retail firms scored a 21 per cent gain over the like period of 1964. In the second quarter of 1965 the profit upswing continued at much the same rate.

PROFIT GAINERS
 Profit gainers in the 1965 second quarter over the same quarter of 1964 include Sears, Roebuck with $45 million net earnings against $43 million a year ago; and May Department Stores, $5.5 million against $5 million. But slipping a little was Federated Department Stores, $11.5 million this year against $11.7 million last. Operating in the red were: E. J. Korvette, Arnold Constable, and Russells.

In the food store field, A&P was ahead this year $11.7 million from $11.6 million; Jewel Tea, $2.6 million from $2.4 million; and Grand Union $2.4 million from $1.9 million. But Safeway Stores slipped to $9.8 million from $10.4 million in 1964's second quarter.

Food producers, on average, scored a 15 per cent gain in profits in the first three months of 1965 over the year-ago period. Many continued the trend in the second quarter.

National Biscuit reported $8.6 million profits in its second quarter against $8.4 million the year before; Campbell Soup, $11.5 million against $10 million; and Corn Products, $13.8 million.

War On Crime Is Regenerated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach says the government fight against organized crime faltered for several months but has regained its momentum and should yield impressive results soon.

He regards the effort against crime of all kinds as his most important task in the Department of Justice.

He is convinced that the commitment of J. Edgar Hoover and the Federal Bureau of Investigation in combating the organized underworld is "beyond question."

BAD SLIDE

He feels that the most serious threat posed by recent disclosures of unauthorized wiretapping is that it could kill the morale of Internal Revenue Service agents, who have been responsible for 60 per cent of organized crime prosecutions.

Katzenbach, attorney general since February but head of the department since the resignation of Robert F. Kennedy last September, discussed the crime picture in an interview with The Associated Press.

Sitting in on the interview were Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr., chief of the department's criminal division, and William G. Hundley, head of that division's organized crime and racketeering section. "There was some slowdown in the pace of organized crime work for about six months beginning last September," Katzenbach said. "It was a period of transition. Agents were wondering whether I had the same status and outlook as Bobby Kennedy, whether Sheldon Cohen over at IRS would be the same as Mortimer Caplin, whether Joe Fowler would take the same line at Treasury as Douglas Dillon."

PICKED UP

"My crime experts told me it would be impossible not to experience some sort of letup. But it's picked up now, and we're getting someplace. I don't see how you can say there's been any deterioration in the effort."

The second quarter net earnings of Chas. Pfizer & Co. were $12.6 million, up from $10.1 million in the like 1964 period; Upjohn, $8 million up from $6 million; Parke, Davis, $6.4 million from $5.1 million; Abbott Laboratories, $4.6 million from $4.2 million; McKesson & Robbins, $2.6 million from $2.4 million; and Miles Laboratories $1.5 million this year from $1.1 million last.

Katzenbach said the pace of prosecutions has been maintained in the New York City area. He predicted impressive results in the fight against Chicago's deep-rooted crime syndicate.

"We're already getting some results in Chicago," he said, "and that's highly encouraging. You've got Sam Giancana in jail, and I think you can look for a steady stream of new cases in the next 18 months."

During the winter transition, he recalled, "I met with all of our organized crime people to see that the momentum wasn't lost. I talked to President Johnson at length on the subject, and he gave me carte blanche to push the program, even while I was only acting attorney general."

DEAR ABBY

Ignore The Talk

DEAR ABBY: Shortly before school let out for the summer vacation we took our daughter (she is 16) out of school so she could attend a wedding out of town with us. Arrangements were made for her to take her examinations, get her grades, etc. We made a vacation trip of it and returned three weeks later. The first inkling I had that something was wrong was when several of my friends telephoned to ask, "Did your daughter come back with you?" I could not understand why they would think she wouldn't.

Finally, a dear friend told me that it was all over town that we had taken our daughter out of school to place her in a home for unwed mothers! When she returned, the rumor had changed to, "She must have either lost the baby or had an abortion!" Our daughter has a nice circle of friends and none of them has ever been in any trouble. How can respectable, innocent people combat a rumor of this kind?

HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Unless you can track down the instigator and charge him with slander (which is about as easy as putting toothpaste back in the tube), you can do nothing but hold your head high and ignore the talk.

DEAR ABBY: I know this letter will not get in the column but I want my say about "Second Place." The husband who resented his wife's closeness to her parents. You said the wife needed a psychiatrist. Abby, I think YOU need one. I am married and I see my parents every day. I wouldn't think of buying anything or making an important decision without their okay. And my husband doesn't resent this closeness. I love my parents deeply and they won't be here forever so I am making the most of everything now.

SANDY IN PENN.

DEAR SANDY: I am all for maintaining a close relationship with parents after marriage. But "Second Place" complained because he was in second place after his wife's parents. Wise parents teach their children that their mates must always come first. True, parents are not here forever — but neither are mates.

DEAR ABBY: I will be a September bride and all our plans are made for the wedding. My future mother-in-law has warned me that if I serve alcoholic beverages at the wedding, dinner, she will be held in our church, and the wedding dinner will be held at a fashionable hotel. I planned to serve wine at the dinner. We do not have any rowdy friends. My parents feel that since they are paying for everything, my fiancée's mother should not interfere. My fiancée feels badly about this, but says she is his mother and that's the way she is. But he wouldn't blame me for having wine. My parents say that I should not change my plans to suit this narrow-minded mother. I want to do the right thing. Can you advise me?

Luce To Receive Magazine Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry R. Luce, editorial chairman of Time, Inc., will receive the Henry Johnson Fisher award for outstanding achievement in magazine publishing, the Magazine Publishers Association announced in New York.

Crops Subject To Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even if Congress fails to enact new farm legislation at this session, most of the affected crops will still be subject to government farm stabilization programs.

The proposed legislation would revise and extend, for the most part, short term programs enacted for a period ending with this year's crops.

Cotton, the commodity that has presented the greatest difficulty in getting agreement on new legislation, would be subject to acreage allotments and marketing quotas approved by a grower referendum. There would be no change in laws relating to the release and re-portionment of unused allotments.

Cotton would be supported at rates between 65 and 90 per cent of the parity price goal of farm programs, or probably about 28 cents a pound for the 1966 crop, which is one cent less than this year.

Export subsidies would be used to make cotton competitive abroad. The plan would provide considerably lower cotton prices but would use government payments to sustain grower incomes.

For feed grains there would be no allotments of quotas. Corn would be supported at rates between 50 and 90 per cent of parity, or around 80 cents a bushel compared with $1.10 now.

The rice program in effect this year would be continued. The Johnson administration seeks to set up a new program modeled after the certificate plan being used under the expiring wheat program but the House Agriculture Committee has rejected this proposal.

The dairy program also would continue as it now stands.

Bard Scooped Early Medics

WASHINGTON (AP) — For sooth! Was William Shakespeare practicing medicine without a license?

Whether proof of that question is to be or not to be, a Washington doctor — focusing a professional eye on Shakespeare's plays — today came up with this diagnosis:

That the Bard of Avon had enough knowledge of medicine to rate hanging out his shingle as an Elizabethan M.D.

Verily, quoth Dr. Samuel M. Dodek, the great Shakespeare was years — nay, even centuries — ahead of the practicing medics in his seeming knowledge of some aspects of human physiology.

Take the great discovery of the circulation of the blood — generally credited to Sir William Harvey who first spoke of it in 1619.

In effect, Shakespeare scooped Harvey on this one by having one of his characters say in the first act of "Hamlet," written 16 years previously:

"... holds such an enmity with blood of man
That swift as quicksilver it courses through
The natural gates and alleys of the body."

$2 Million Loot May Be A Zero

NEW YORK (AP) — Gerald Mulcahy, 18, a Wall Street messenger, told police he was waylaid by two men who robbed him of more than $2 million in negotiable stock certificates.

But the bandits, who took Mulcahy's empty wallet and the stock he was carrying in a manila envelope, may have a big zero for their lunchtime robbery Tuesday.

The securities were owned by Goodbody & Co., a brokerage house, which immediately sent out a "stop" order to block sale of the stocks.

A New York Stock Exchange spokesman said: "Technically, they are negotiable but I don't see how they would be of use to anybody."

The stocks were being taken by Mulcahy, of Hoboken, N.J., to the Bank of Nova Scotia as collateral for a margin loan.

Rights Rally Set Tonight In Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Another civil rights rally is scheduled tonight in a fourth day of demonstrations which leaders say are aimed at opening all Huntsville businesses to Negroes.

Three hundred demonstrators attended a similar rally Tuesday night at the Greater Zion Baptist Church then paraded around the Walker County courthouse.

Leaders say their group, the Huntsville Action for Youth, is affiliated with Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Leadership Conference.

They asked Gov. John Connally by telegram Tuesday to send state troopers "due to the complete breakdown of (law) enforcement and threats of police brutality."

The message was turned over to Homer Garrison, head of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Garrison said he was keeping an eye on the situation but there was no indication local authorities needed his help.

News photographer Kim McMurray of Huntsville filed a charge of simple assault Tuesday against Buster Moore, a rancher. McMurray alleged that Moore slugged him Monday when he tried to take the rancher's picture while Moore was exposing film in another photographer's camera.

Turtle Dove Home's Pet

DALLAS (AP)—It was nearly 10 years ago that Lisa Craig, now 20 and a fashion model, spied Mr. Coe perched in a bush outside her window.

She opened a screen and set food and water on the sill. Mr. Coe, a ring-necked turtle dove, moved in.

By now he's a little fatter and he sleeps later—and he literally rules the roost at the Robert Craig home.

Mr. Coe bustles onto the mantel, puffs up and prances with admiring coos at his image. Lisa's sister Charlotte, 15, coos right back.

When Lisa takes her hair down, Mr. Coe performs a favorite chore. He puts the hairpins back in the box for her.

A favorite story with the Craigs concerns the time a friend borrowed their pet dove for a Sunday school play. It came time for the actor playing Noah to release a dove from the ark.

At that point Mr. Coe, as if on cue, gurgled loudly.

Dynamite-Loaded Truck Hits Bank

EDGEWOOD, Tex. (AP)—A driverless truck loaded with dynamite slammed into the side of the Edgewood State Bank this week, causing a few skipped heartbeats but no explosion.

The pickup, carrying about 600 pounds of explosives, broke loose from the truck which was towing it.

Bill Pickins, president of the East Texas community's bank, said he was "too scared to think" when he saw the truck coming.

A Pay Raise That Is Due

Despite a general public aversion to spending more tax money, there is a strong surmise that the nation will go along with House action in Washington Tuesday in approving a substantial increase in military pay.

The congressmen, thanks to strong leadership from Rep. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, have adopted a bill that called for much higher pay than the administration (through Defense Secretary Robert McNamara) had proposed. The House proposal must get Senate approval, and also the endorsement of the President.

While the legislation as so far enacted goes further than President Johnson's plans, it can be hoped that an ultimate version will be fair to those in the lower grades.

They are due an increase of about 13 per cent, which still keeps them at a very low figure, compared to civilian pay. When a young man who has not made much of a record for himself is put in something like an Opportunity program, and then paid more than a valiant man fighting in the jungles of Southeast Asia, that is discrimination. It is the kind of inequity that ought to be corrected.

The low-ranked enlisted personnel in the armed forces haven't had a pay raise since 1952. Very few other people — including the vast army of government workers — have been kept in such position.

The Army, the Air Force, the Navy and Marines, if this country is to be kept secure, must have well-trained personnel. They cannot keep their best men at present pay levels. The military pay boost is due, and it ought to be as much as the government can accommodate. The total of 10.7 per cent is not too much.

Ban On Wiretapping

President Johnson, in forbidding wiretapping in the federal government, except where the national security is at stake, has taken a long step in protecting the rights and privacy of all Americans.

From now on, the President has announced, exceptions in wiretap cases must be approved by the attorney general. A message has been sent by the President to Cabinet officers and agency chiefs underscoring his determination to wipe out the widespread use of wiretap devices in government.

In announcing the ban, Bill Moyers, the presidential secretary, said the President believes wiretapping may be needed to protect the national security in some cases, but "it must not be condoned or tolerated under any other circumstances and never, never without the approval of the attorney general."

The President's order is beyond value.

By so acting, Mr. Johnson has shown clearly that the right of each American to privacy in his home, his conversations and his personal dealings should be inviolate.

His order is clear-cut, and slashes through the haze that has cloaked this area for years.

He has said that wiretapping with one great exception, the national security, is out.

The President has set a good example for America at all levels: Federal, state, local, private.

We hope it will prompt similar action in other areas.

This is not a nation of snoopers.

Commercials—Loud Or Political

WASHINGTON — Television "commercials" are "too loud" and should be toned down — at least this is the ruling just decreed by the Federal Communications Commission. Authority for this action presumably has been derived from an interpretation of the communications law which bestows on the commission the right to issue or withhold licenses of television and radio stations on the basis of "public interest, convenience and necessity."

Billy Graham

I have a son who seems so disinterested in life. He is a good boy but he just mopes around, does not care for sports, and takes little interest in church. I am concerned about him. What can I do to bring him out of the moodiness of adolescence?

E. H.

Most teenagers are moody. It is what we might call intellectual growing pains. When we grow older, we remember only the happy incidents of childhood, and we say, "Young people are not as happy as they were when I was young."

However, in counselling many young people, I find that what they want most of all is to be loved, understood and believed in. One of the sound techniques that Jesus employed was to show belief and confidence in people. What could bolster up a failure like Peter more than Christ saying: "Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church." Or, what could take away the sting of remorse in the heart of the adulteress more than to hear: "Neither do I condemn thee; go thy way and sin no more." Perhaps it was not so much the faith that people had in Jesus that changed their lives, as it was His faith in them. Of course it was both, and both are important.

Try strengthening your son's self-confidence by letting him know you believe in him. Back of every successful person is someone who believes in him, expects great things of him, and is boosting him.

Real Reasons Goldberg Was Chosen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, in picking Supreme Court Arthur J. Goldberg to be U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, chose an expert like himself in getting people to agree.

This was the practical side of Johnson's action in naming the 56-year-old former lawyer to succeed the late Adlai E. Stevenson, since the ability to negotiate and conciliate is a talent acutely needed in the United Nations.

But there were other considerations in Johnson's decision which is another example of how he is not going to follow the usual in selecting men for high office or special assignments.

JUST RECENTLY he selected a Negro, Thurgood Marshall, a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals, to be solicitor general of the United States and third-ranking official in the Justice Department.

In naming Goldberg, a Jew, to be the No. 1 American ambassador, Johnson was also thinking of the human side and what it meant in and to this country and in the eyes of the world.

He was very conscious of the fact that Goldberg will be dealing with the economic, political and social problems of all the nations, some of them in poverty and just emerging.

Johnson remembered that while Stevenson came from one of the first families of America, Goldberg's parents were poor immigrants from Russia, came from one of the latest.

THE PARENTS settled in Chicago where Goldberg had to work his way through school and as a boy drove through the streets with his father on their fruit-peddler's wagon drawn by a blind horse.

After Johnson asked him Tuesday morning to take Stevenson's place, Goldberg uttered a memorable phrase:

When a Southerner (Johnson) can sit in the White House, and a Negro (Marshall) as solicitor general can argue the government's cases before the Supreme Court, and a Jew can sit in the United Nations and represent the United States before the world — that's what America is.

Johnson feels that Goldberg is not only experienced in working with men of other nations for years (in various tasks he undertook) but is socially conscious.

JOHNSON THEN vice president, and Goldberg, then labor secretary, were chairman and vice chairman of the committee on Equal Employment Opportunity which President Kennedy created in 1961.

Synthetic 20-20 Vision

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — When I say I have contacts, I'm not bragging. I'm just announcing that I'm now looking at the world, not through rose-colored specs, but through tiny specks of plastic.

You don't just go out and buy contact lenses like a new hat. It takes more than money. It takes determination, patience, fortitude, a steady hand and the ability to look yourself straight in the eye — in a mirror.

EVEN THOUGH I was happy to be able to see without glasses, the first time I had my lenses in I cried. In fact, tears streamed down my face for weeks while I was adjusting to them.

My whole way of life was dictated by those little discs, no bigger than an aspirin, while I was increasing my daily wearing time. All appointments and luncheon dates had to be made with the fact in mind that I would have to remove the lenses when time was up.

In the early days this necessitated more concentration and equipment than any restaurant afforded. While I wouldn't turn into a pumpkin when the witching hour struck, I did want to be at home with my table, mirror, water bowl, lens case and other paraphernalia. Nowadays I can pop 'em out in a wink with a blink. But at first, getting them both in and out were major productions.

MY FIRST venture into the social world with my synthetic 20-20 vision was something less than successful. We were dining with another couple at a pretty fancy spot and I decided to live up to the glamorous surroundings, even though I still wasn't up to the lenses.

By the time the fruit cup appeared my eyes were red and puffy and by the soup course I realized that my tears were not adding to the gaiety of the occasion.

With the other woman in our party as a guiding hand, I retired to the ladies' room to remove my lenses. Carefully we stuffed the sink with towels and just as carefully I leaned over it. Out popped the lens — straight onto the floor.

Cautioning everyone in the room to be careful where they stepped, my friend and I started the search. One by one, the sympathetic onlookers sank gently to their knees and joined the hunt until the floor was covered with elegantly gowned women crawling over the tiles. Finally someone found the treasure in a corner.

Thyroid Gland A Balance Wheel For Activity

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 64 and am very tense and nervous. My P.B.I. test was 8.4. Is this high enough to cause my condition, and what can be done about it? — MRS. T. G.

A P.B.I. (meaning protein-bound iodine) test is a laboratory method of discovering whether the thyroid gland is normal, overactive, or underactive. It serves about the same purpose as the familiar B.M.R., or "basal metabolism rate" test, but is being used more frequently. It is a blood test.

But let's ignore the technicalities, and get down to the sort of problem that bothers a great many of us. The thyroid gland is more or less a balance wheel for our activity. If it is sluggish, we slow down. If it is overactive, tension and jitters are likely.

But remember that the thyroid doesn't necessarily tell the whole story. Obviously one's emotional outlook on life can have its effect. So can pressures, if any, under which you happen to be living.

The 8.4 P.B.I. level is slightly above normal, and could indicate a mild degree of thyroid overactivity. Subtle hyperthyroidism is this nature is not unusual in women of your age bracket.

This usually is readily compensated for by medication — a mild sedative, or sometimes one of the tranquilizers. (In very severe cases, sterner measures may be required, but that is another story.)

The mild or borderline cases are frequent and often not readily suspected.

I do think it wise to be suspicious of this possibility. But I also think it's a good idea not to put total dependence on a pill. Try to take a good look at your own emotional situation, too. Are you worried? Bored? Annoyed at things which perhaps don't merit much emotional energy? Are you "chewing" at your own nerves" because you haven't got yourself wrapped up in some work, project, or other activity which absorbs you?

It's all fine and good to think fondly of the placid years of maturity, but the fact is that just sitting around and being calm and placid can get to be a bore. And boredom is the state in which nerves start to build up.

Dear Dr. Molner: Some friends have delegated me to ask why most of us feel languid and lack ambition to do anything until late in the day. By about 9 p.m. we have energy to clean house or do a washing, and by midnight have energy to spare. It seems logical to me that our energy ought to be highest after a good night's rest and a protein breakfast. None of us smokes. — E. L. S.

I'm glad none of you smokes, but I don't think that has anything to do with it. There is scientific evidence that some people tend to be more active and energetic at different times of day. But we have no explanation for it.

My thought concerning your problem, E. L. S., is that it's almost entirely a matter of habit. That and the well-known human trait of putting off until later anything that we don't especially want to do.

"Don't Quit Because of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Around The Rim

No Fun In Theorizing About Mars

Now that everyone knows that the moon and Mars both look like tennis balls, another area of journalistic speculation and fun is gone forever.

Back in the 1850's, a New York reporter scooped the world on the greatest moon story of all time. Writing under a byline that identified him as a special correspondent of the London Times, whose copy supposedly came over by ship from South Africa, the New Yorker broke the story in an inconspicuous way on the back pages of his paper. You could do that sort of thing then, when reporting meant nothing more than opinion or speculation.

THE FAKE correspondent's story was that he was with a certain famous astronomer who was studying the moon from Africa through a special telescope of revolutionary design. He had, he said, persuaded the astronomer to release his findings exclusively through him, the British writer.

At first, the New Yorker taunted the public with vague references to the remarkable optical qualities of the scientist's marvelous telescope, saying that the moon appeared as close as a quarter-mile away. People began to demand that the New York paper give more coverage to the story.

THE EDITOR, completely taken in, tried to find out the source of the story, but the reporter told him the source was confidential, and pocketed all copy to him only. So the editor, happy with his exclusive moon story, allowed the reporter to keep the story going every time he got copy from his secret source. The secret source was the reporter's own imagination, of course.

As the paper began to pick up circulation rapidly, the reporter began to give more and more detail to his fairy-tale. He peopled the moon with animals, including a unicorn, and quoted the astronomer as saying that he was confident of finding human-like beings there at any time.

EVERYONE FELL for it. But the reporter was worried. He knew he would eventually be found out. So he started making the running story as outlandish and fantastic as he could, hoping the public would understand it as a joke.

The people lapped it up. Desperate, the reporter finally reached the apex of the ridiculous when he "discovered" that the moon was indeed inhabited by human-like beings. Not only were they civilized, with cities, but they had reddish fur, were about four feet tall, and had bat-like wings, with which they fluttered about the airless moon. The people demanded more. Beaten, the "correspondent" kept the story going.

IT HAD TO HAPPEN. European newspapers became interested in the tale, and began to buy the exclusive from the New York paper. Finally, the London Times found out about it, and having no correspondent assigned to such a story, inquired of the South Africa-based astronomer. He, of course, had never heard of such a correspondent, and had, in fact, not been studying the moon, but the stars.

The whole thing blew up in our hero's face.

THE POINT is that when the mystery is gone from a thing, it is no longer enjoyable. Who cares, now that Mars appears to be nothing but a used tennis ball, whether it's populated or not? If the science-boys will leave me alone, and not show me any more pictures, I'll just go back to my science-fiction books.

The Big Stick In The Woodshed

WASHINGTON — With all of Secretary McNamara's efficiency as a budgetmaster, the question still hangs: How to win a war on a no-win policy?

The persuasive and personable Secretary opened his recent press conference by telling us that savings of $4.6 billion had been "realized" in fiscal 1965. But he ended the same conference by reciting the tiresome negatives of the no-win catechism.

WE WERE "NOT," he said, fighting to destroy the North Viet Nam government, "not" seeking bases in Southeast Asia, "not" trying to form an alliance with South Viet Nam. Our military purpose in South Viet Nam is merely to give the people there control of their own "destiny," said the American minister of war, without mention of the American destiny.

His recital moves the previous question: Is the no-win policy good enough? Our expeditionary force in Viet Nam is approaching 100,000 American troops. Our spending there runs above $3 millions a day. There is little doubt here at the mid-season of the monsoon weather that General Westmoreland's men have spoiled the enemy's game of staging a big inning while the heavens weep.

"OVER THERE" the leathernecks, the GI's and the flyboys are slaughtering Reds by the hundreds. But "Over Here" we have draped the maps of the war rooms with more mists than enshroud the rice paddies. Not fighting to defeat Ho Chi Minh? Not fighting American lives to gain an American fortress, like Guantanamo Bay in the Caribbean, to block off the enemy for years to come? Not shooting it out for the logical purpose of forming a lasting alliance, as we have on Formosa with Nationalist China, to thwart the huge Communist design of conquest?

IT OUGHT TO be thankfully said of Bob McNamara that he has efficiently whittled a Big Stick. The Secretary is a wizard of the slide rule. In his 1961-65 tenure at the Pentagon he has managed the big house so well as to make his predecessors look like punks. His cost reductions have been waste reductions. His build-up of the Armed Forces deserves the nation's hurrah.

There have certainly been in Viet Nam, in the off-record words of one of McNamara's most ardent and best-informed admirers, some "logistical snafus." These may very well account in part for the now-acknowledged fact that the ARVN (Army of the Republic of Viet Nam), equipped by us, has been out-fought by the Viet Cong, equipped by the Communist bloc. But taking McNamara's budget figures in good faith, as we should, the American worldwide readiness for war has stupendously improved in the past four years.

COMBAT-READY Army divisions are up 45 per cent. Air Force tactical squadrons are up 51 per cent, counter-insurgency forces are up 1000 per cent. Both strategic and tactical nuclear weapons have been multiplied in numbers and megatonnage.

Still, the Big Stick in the woodshed is no substitute for the will to win. IT IS A doctrine, one must assume, that has been hatched in the nightmare of our nuclear psychosis. The idea that nobody can win a nuclear war seems to have spawned the paralyzed conviction that nobody can win a modern conventional war, obsessed with "seceding" from the 20th century that they act as if our century had seceded from history.

Nowhere in history did a nation win its wars without a primary determination to do so.

Drouth In The Flower Boxes

By INEZ ROBB

(For Richard Starnes, who is on vacation.)

Mary, Mary, quite contrary. How does your garden grow With city soot at branch and root?

And a lack of H2O? If I may speak for Mary, New York is full of thwarted gardeners for whom this summer of our drouth and discontent is sheer hell.

Water, water everywhere in the rivers that surround Manhattan and not a drop for the single geranium in a window sill, or the costly expanse of a penthouse terrace or the withering gardens that perch behind the innumerable brownstones that still dot this city.

UNDER THE threat of a real water famine and the stern admonition of officials to use water — and then cut the amount in half — for only the most essential purposes, New York is not so much a Summer Festival as a dust bowl to its many gardeners. There is even a move on foot to petition LBJ to declare at least the penthouse sector a disaster area.

It is true that millions of Americans have come to New York in the past 150 years to get away from the farm. (In fact, I have a friend who, 15 years ago, joined the Urban League in the sincere belief that it was an association of men and women who hated the country.)

BUT THE OLD cliché is equally true that you take the boy out of the country but you can't take the country boy, etc., etc. The result is intensive gardening in window boxes, on terraces and in back yards where the sun may seldom shine but the soil falls alike on petunias, furniture and gardeners. Soot is very democratic.

Heaven knows what my lungs look like from breathing filthy air, but I do know that the flowers I once grew on a terrace had to be dusted daily and washed thoroughly before being taken into the apartment.

IT REQUIRES an aching back, years of patience and no small expenditure of money to get a terrace or back-yard garden started and to keep it green. The anguish of city gardeners who see their plants, time, labor and money perishing in the drouth is understandable.

At parties one hears pitiful tales of city gardeners saving their bath water, scrub water and wash water to carry to dying flora. There is a widespread belief, particularly rampant among penthouse people, that ice cubes don't count as water. Many make ice cubes all day long, only to sneak them out after dark and scatter lovingly around the perennials.

THAT FABLED character of the West, the man who went without food to buy fodder for his horse, may have an equally storied companion out of the Eastern Establishment by the time this summer ends — the man who went without water that his rhododendrons might live.

I met him at a party recently. He asked for a Scotch and soda. "Actually, I prefer Scotch and water," he explained. "But this way I feel that all the water I save I am justified in putting on the rhododendrons in my back yard."

Surgery Doesn't Bother Man, 101

CHICAGO (AP) — James Mancuso, an Italian immigrant, underwent surgery in Columbus Hospital Tuesday and two hours later he ate a hearty meal and talked about going back to work.

Mancuso is 101.

"He's the most normal human being I've ever seen," said Dr. J. Lester Wilkey, who performed a prostatectomy — routine surgery to remove glandular tissue blocking the urinary tract.

HAS STAMINA

Doctors and nurses who assisted with the operation said they were amazed by Mancuso's stamina, and said he would be released in about a week. Dr. Wilkey said Mancuso is the oldest patient he ever had and that he had little hardening of the arteries.

Since retiring as a maintenance man 10 years ago, Mancuso has spent his time cultivating tomato plants in the backyard of the West Side home where he lives with his twin daughters, Dolores Mancuso and Carmella Catalano, 37. Four days before Mancuso entered Columbus Hospital he walked his granddaughter, Pieta Cuccinelli, 21, down the aisle of Our Lady of the Angels church and gave her away in marriage.

IN CALABRIA

Mancuso, born in Pedivillano in the Province of Calabria, Italy, came to the United States when he was 36. He has seven daughters and three sons — the youngest 36 and the oldest 56 — 15 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren.

When asked the secret of his longevity, he replies: "Thanks to God."

New Faculty Members Hired

Seventeen new faculty members were employed by the Big Spring School board at Tuesday night's meeting. The new personnel will be assigned to various positions in the city's schools.

Those employed were: Tom E. Adams, social studies at Goliad Junior High; Melva Joyce Burton, elementary teacher; Mrs. Judith Ann Carson, elementary teacher; Susan Kay Cupp, choral director, Goliad Junior High; Mrs. Edith B. Gossett, elementary teacher; Aubrey F. Helbert, senior high English; Ben Wayne Neel, social studies, Goliad Junior High; Editha Joy Redman, English, Goliad Junior High; Mrs. Janice Rosson, senior high English; Keith D. Swim, to be assigned;

Mrs. Vonna Jean Swim, business, senior high; Mrs. Claudia Turner, English, Goliad Junior High; Don Turner, band director, Rannels Junior High; Mrs. Connie Williamson, special education, orthopedic; Helen Willard, senior high homemaking; John Talmadge, counselor, senior high; Marjorie B. Talmadge, English, Rannels Junior High.

Trustees Give Approval To Salary Boost List

The salary section of the budget, for other than teachers, for Big Spring schools was approved at Tuesday night's meeting of school trustees. The total budget, with suggested revisions, will be reviewed at the next meeting Aug. 10, and tentative public hearing set for Aug. 17.

Changes in the final budget will reflect tax roll value and balances at the end of the present fiscal year, along with entries and adjustments in both receipts and expenditures concerning some of the new programs where federal funds are involved.

REVISED

Salary schedules, concerning the legislative salary increase for professional personnel, had to be revised and a definite relation to positions, duties, and responsibilities arranged before the board could act on these adjustments. The present minimum foundation schedule under the state program provided for comparative positions and length of service.

Most salary increases for clerical, secretarial, custodial, maintenance and other auxiliary help was approved at five per cent of the lowest base salary of $250 per month, or $12.50. Teacher increments are $13 per month.

First action taken by the board was on salaries of elementary principals, who are employed following not less than three years of experience and preferably five years, with a master's degree.

The base salary, under the state foundation program, for an elementary principal, with five years' experience, is $8,120. The maximum salary under the foundation program is $9,577, both without local increment.

INCREMENT

The board, in formal action, set $650 local increment for each elementary principal, based on an 11-month contract, with possible merit increments to be worked out later. Principals with 18 or more years of experience would receive a total of $10,207 per year, with no more raises provided under the foundation program.

All Safe In Crash-Landing

NEWINGTON, N.H. (AP) — A six-engine Air Force jet bomber crash-landed safely on a foam-covered runway at Pease Air Force Base today after circling the field for nearly five hours with a jammed landing gear.

The B-47, with four men aboard, radioed its emergency when it started to come in for a landing after an 11-hour training flight out of Pease.

The four men walked out of the plane unaided after it skidded along for 250 yards.

Ruse For Warning Drivers Backfires

COLUMBUS, Ind. (AP) — An unoccupied, old model state police patrol car parked along US 31 to fool motorists, into slowing down has backfired.

Vandals stripped the car of its $200-siren, license plate and official markings.

Deadline Set Completion

The area vocational-technical shop section of the additions to Big Spring high school must be completed before June 30, 1966, according to stipulations set down by the Vocational Division of Texas Education Agency. Under a breakdown of figures submitted by the contractor, J. W. Cooper Co. of Odessa, the district will receive $16,098 more than originally estimated by the architect.

These are federal funds allocated for reimbursable items under grants for vocational-technical buildings.

Total cost of site grading and land preparation, general construction costs, architectural and engineering costs, and conventional furniture, ran to $467,716, as compared to the original estimate of $435,520. One-half of this figure is reimbursable under the grant.

The breakdown, as approved, shows (with original estimates in parenthesis): Site grading and land preparation ($18,923) $20,100; general construction costs (bid of $392,000 plus proportionate part of utilities located beyond the geographic limits of the vocational spaces, such as air conditioning units and heating systems etc. $26,200), ($388,001) $418,200; architectural and engineering costs ($21,096) $21,915; conventional furniture ($7,500) $7,501; totals ($435,520) $467,716.

U.S., Germany Plan Launching

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. and German scientists will team up to launch a scientific satellite into the earth's radiation belt in 1968.

Under an agreement between the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Federal German Ministry for Scientific Research, German scientists will design and build the satellite and it will be put into orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Fugitive For Many Years To Stay Free

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Charles Kemp, who fled from a Georgia prison 26 years ago, is back to raising his two grandchildren and "trying to live a good Christian life."

"Hallelujah," the 62-year-old Negro said Tuesday when he learned that the governors of Georgia and Florida had worked out an agreement to save him from finishing a life term on a murder conviction.

"Thank you, Jesus! Thank you, Jesus!" Kemp said. "God knows I'm happy it's all over. I feel better now than I've felt in 27 years."

Gov. Haydon Burns announced that Georgia's extradition request would be held in abeyance as long as Kemp remained a good citizen.

In 1939, Kemp, then known as Pubert Bentley, shot to death another man at Macon, Ga., and was sentenced to life imprisonment. He claimed the shooting was in self defense. He escaped and hitchhiked to Fort Myers. Fort Myers knew him as a store operator, a family man and a pillar of his church. His identity was discovered through a routine fingerprint check after a car accident.

Detective Tells Of FBI School

Big Spring Optimists heard Police Detective Wayne Tollett tell of his experiences at the FBI training school. Members at the Wednesday breakfast meeting were told of the speaker's meeting with FBI director, J. Edgar Hoover, and problems discussed dealing with delinquency and other crime.

Four guests present were Jack Armstrong, Walter Goodwin, Wayne Pate and T. A. Proctor.

Members were advised of the Optimist International Zone meeting to be held at Cosden Country Club Aug. 7.

Tunic Costumes Take Fancy Of Designers

By LOUISE HICKMAN
AP Fashion Writer

ROME (AP) — Forquet and Biki had a layered look in common today as they showed separately at the Rome fall and winter fashion presentations. Forquet showed fingertip coats over tunic costumes, with the layers in alternating colors.

There were more layers at Biki, but no contrast. All were in the same fabric. She showed back-jutting waist-length oversuits covering smoothly fitted hi-length jackets. Skirts of these costumes were sometimes tunic-layered.

The all-bias look was shown by Princess Irene. She featured bias-cut fabrics, bias waists, bias detail, and even some bias-striped stockings in her collection.

The clothes she showed in her Rome salon Monday night were contemporary, not futuristic. Galitzine's only concessions to the space age were a few domed helmet caps similar to but smaller than those shown by Pucci in Florence.

The Galitzine look was undorned almost to the point of starkness. But her soft handling of thick gabardines and matelasses made it lighter and softer than anything seen in the Italian collections to date.

There were no buttons. Collars just wide enough to fold over ringed the collarbone.

New Colors Help Bathroom Motif

Stripes and dots—so big in the fashion world these days—will create a world of fashion in the bath, suggests the National Cotton Council.

Use red and white striped cotton terry cloth for a cheerful, practical shower curtain. Add a ruffled valance of the same absorbent terry to a window near the shower, and display red and white polka dot towels as the perfect foil for the peppermint terry curtains.

ESA Sorority Units Hold Area Meeting

A district meeting of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority was held at the Ramada Inn Sunday at noon. The local Alpha Chi and Mu Kappa Chapters were hostesses for the meeting. Mrs. Glyn Mitchell gave the welcoming speech to members of the 14 chapters from eight towns represented at the luncheon.

The program was based on a "Scenic Land U.S.A." theme. The room was decorated with posters depicting scenes from the oil industries. The main centerpiece was a flower arrange-

Cuffs on round, slender-shouldered kimono sleeves were puffy bands. Galitzine made skirts soft and swinging, but not full. Bias seamings on the bias fabrics were almost the only detail on coats and suit jackets. Galitzine showed several swinging smock dresses, close at the shoulders and curved over the bosom.

FOR PATIENTS

Rebekahs Will Make Cookies For Hospital

Plans were made to furnish cookies to the patients at the state hospital during the Tuesday evening meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153. Mrs. LaVerne Rogers, noble grand, presided.

Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, lodge representative for volunteer service, presented a report on the Thursday evening meeting of

Baptists Hold Ice Cream Party In City Park

A family ice cream and cake party was held in City Park Monday evening, hosted by the Golden Circle class of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church. Thirty-six attended.

Mrs. Paul Russell, president, welcomed the group, and the Rev. John Bullock worded the devotion. Prayer was by Cecil Mason and Ray Parker.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bullock and children, Mr. and Mrs. Parker and son, Mrs. Bill Cootes and children and Claude Mendenhall.

Mrs. James Petty will be hostess for the Aug. 16 meeting in the fellowship hall of the church.

ment of bluebonnets surrounding a small Texas map. The other tables were high-lighted with figurines of oil derricks, drilling bits, jet planes, cattle and tractors. Visitors names were printed on miniature blue maps of Texas.

Mrs. Richard Bartlett, Midland, district president, conducted the business session. A report on the international convention was given by Mrs. Cecil Clark, Andrews, state president. Mrs. Joe Bates, Midland, closed the meeting with a reading of the poem, "A Friend."

Galitzine's boutique collection included backless lycra swimsuits with fluttery bermudas or long slashed skirts that clung to the hips, in matching prints. Wide-legged wool jersey pants were worn with ring-collared pullover tops. Diagonal patterns distinguished these. She also showed pants suits in thick plaid gabardines, cut on the bias.

the volunteer council held at the Allred Building.

It was announced that the first two Wednesdays in August, the lodge would take cookies to the state hospital. Tentative plans were also made for another joint entertainment meeting of the lodge and the Big Spring Odd Fellow Lodge No. 117 in the near future.

Mrs. T. A. Sparks, Dill City, Okla. was a guest. Reports of deaths, sickness and visits to the sick were made by the 20 members present.

Judo Reduced To Purse Alarms

Unfortunately every woman does not have a working knowledge of the art of self-defense—the bodily twist of judo or the thrust of a karate movement—so that she may adequately defend herself in times of attack. But what she can do is carry her very own personal purse alarm. It's a heart-shaped case with a string attached. Pull the string and buzz-buzz-buzz. Soon the police should be running toward the victim and the masher should be galloping the other way.

Reynolds Family Sees Six Flags

Mrs. Curtis Reynolds, 1300 Nolan, and son, Carl, accompanied by their guest, Mark Milosevich, 2801 Apache, have returned from a weekend trip to visit Mrs. Reynolds' mother, Mrs. J. R. Loyd, Wimsboro. They also visited Six Flags Over Texas.

Are Easy To Grow

Single or double flowered portulacas will provide brilliance in that hot, dry place where nothing else will grow. They furnish a carpet of color that is hard to beat. All it takes is a packet of seeds at planting. They are pretty much on their own after that.

Speaker Recommends Best Island Tours

The most economical way to tour Hawaii was detailed by Airman I.C. Jack L. Clouis of Webb AFB when he was guest speaker Monday evening for the Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association. The women met for a salad supper and patio party in the home of Mrs. A. C. Moore, 1907 Main, with Mrs. Joore welcoming 20 members and four guests.

Mrs. D. G. Price, program chairman, introduced the speaker who described military life in Hawaii during the tour of duty he spent there. He recommended interesting places for sight-seeing, the best restaurants, and ways to save money while traveling. Airman Clouis showed slides he made while living in Hawaii.

The speaker was chosen because three chapter members will be touring the islands following the national convention in San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 17-19. Those planning the tour are Mrs. Moore, Mrs. C. L. Rowe and Mrs. Marjorie Jordan.

During the business session, Mrs. Carl Tippie, ways and means chairman, reported that Sept. 10 is the date tentatively set for a lasting tea to which the public will be invited. The Flame Room affair will provide funds to be applied to the nursing scholarship at Odessa Junior College.

The supper was served from a buffet on the patio where guests were seated at quartet tables lighted with hurricane lamps, and the serving table held an arrangement of summer flowers.

The Aug. 16 meeting will be in the Wagon Wheel Restaurant at 7:30 p.m.

But another of the queen's dressmakers, Norman Hartnell, held the hem at the knee for daytime clothes. Commenting on the skirt's ascension, Jean Rook, fashion editor of the Sun said: "I predict the shortest skirts women have worn since Eve. The hemline will be one, two, three, four inches above the knee."

London, Rome and Florence are having their big shows this week. Antonelli has shown hems about an inch above the knee. Galitzine and Porquet in Rome skimmed the knee. In Florence, Pucci and Fabiani exposed the knee.

Next week the couturiers of Paris unveil.

Will Paris join the great uplift of 1965?

"I say they (Paris couturiers) will give us the biggest leg show outside the Folies Bergere," said Miss Rook, who is often ahead of the pack and correct with her predictions. The jet age's flight of skirts started with Andre Courreges in France last year.

Some London dollies already are wearing dresses three and four inches above their knees.

Delegates Named For Convention

Delegates were selected to attend the El Paso state convention at the Monday evening meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Howard County Unit 353. The group met at the legion hut with Mrs. H. J. Morrison presiding.

Mrs. Bryon Hill and Mrs. Leonard Barlow will represent the auxiliary at the July 22-25 convention. It was also announced that the membership chairman had received 39 dues for the 1966 year, and that the sale of the cook books was still under way.

Flanking the arrangement were silver candelabra holding white candles. Silver tea and coffee services were used with silver trays.

Col. and Mrs. Sherwood came to Webb AFB from Lackland AFB in San Antonio.

Hostesses for the complimentary affair were wives of the Air Base Group, and calling hours were from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Thirty-two members of the group and six guests attended.

The guests were Mrs. A. F. Taute, Mrs. Edwin J. White Jr., Mrs. George Franks, Mrs. M. E. Frantz, Mrs. M. W. Shareck Jr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Dahneke.

As she was introduced, Mrs. Sherwood was attired in a two-piece blue silk dress worn with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. John H. Larson registered guests, and other hostesses alternated at the tea table where the Army-Navy cloth was complemented with a polished cotton skirt and centered with a silver oval container holding pink and white carnations.

Families Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Brooks, 1015 Sycamore, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Griffith, 703 Willa, have returned from a 5,000 mile trip covering 11 states and two provinces in Canada. The vacation was saddened by the death of Mrs. Brooks' mother, Mrs. Ella Spaw, of Dripping Springs, who the group had stopped by to visit.

OES Unit Approves Petitions

A report on the Junior Past Matrons was presented during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star, Big Spring Chapter 67. Mrs. Carlton J. Chapman, worthy matron, presided.

During a further business session, a report was heard from the line officers concerning their round-up meetings in the San Antonio area, and three memberships petitions were presented for approval.

Mrs. Ernestine Snyder from Pennsylvania was a guest. Refreshments were served to the 27 members by Mrs. C. V. Rordan, Mrs. J. C. Pickle, Mrs. Isla Davis and Miss Priscilla Rordan.

Following the meeting, the members were invited to the home of Mrs. J. T. Allen, 114 Lincoln, for a short visit.

Green Centerpiece

A green centerpiece can be made from grapefruit seeds. Just plant the seeds thickly about a half-inch deep and keep well watered. Seeds will sprout in about two weeks.

Miss Gary Is Party Honoree

A "Spice and Rice" party was held Monday morning in honor of Miss Mary Margaret Gary, bride-elect of Charles Dunagan. The couple plans to be married Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. J. C. Pickle, 415 Hillside, was hostess for the affair, and Mrs. S. M. Smith was cohostess.

Ten guests were served from an antique polished table in the den where the centerpiece was of yellow roses in a footed container of crystal and gold. The bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and white were used in an arrangement of daisies on a side table, and napkins were of yellow. Single daisies were tied to Cokes.

The honoree received gifts for the kitchen including a spice rack and containers from the hostesses. Rice bags were prepared of yellow tulle and ribbons during the social hour.

The club is open for membership and those interested are requested to call Mrs. Goodwin, AM 3-2204, or Mrs. E. C. Evans, AM 4-5926.

The next meeting will be July 27 at the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

'Sudden Death' Playoff Decided Tourney Team

A 'sudden death' playoff will determine the fourth team in the upcoming American Softball league tournament. The playoff, involving three clubs, will get under way at the City Park at 7 o'clock Monday night.

Pioneer Natural Gas drew the bye. Seaboard Finance and Coahoma clash in the opening game Monday for the right to face Pioneer in the 8:30 joust.

Tournament play will get under way Thursday, July 29. Winner of that meet will be decided in a double-elimination style tournament.

The three teams which have already clinched places in the tournament are Skateland, first place winner during the regular season, the 3560th Squadron of Webb AFB and Pepsi-Cola.

The 'sudden death' playoff and the tournament itself will be under the supervision of Russell Tidwell, league commissioner.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Probably the best high school coaching setup in the state is at Nederland High, where ex-Big Spring mentor Emmett McKenzie is superintendent of schools and Gene Henderson, former Odessa aide, is head coach and athletic director.

The Nederland people have seen to it that the athletic department has the finest facilities available, from dressing rooms to playing arenas. The school is located in a football hotbed and doesn't have to send its teams very far for games.

Coaches there don't have to go to the administration or to the school board for every little item they need—Henderson is empowered to make such purchases if he thinks they are needed.

Incidentally, two other former 2-AAAA coaches are affiliated with the Nederland system. They are Bradley Mills, former head coach at Odessa High; and Dutch Ohlendorf, the one-time Midland aide.

Bum Phillips, the one-time Amarillo coach who fulfilled a speaking engagement here a few years ago, had every justification to hope that he would land the head coaching job at Texas A&M University before Gene Stallings was piped on board.

There are those who insist that the Aggies didn't solve their problems by hiring Stallings, would have done better by bringing in the astute Phillips. Time will tell whether they are wrong.

It is generally accepted that Stallings wouldn't have been named had not Bear Bryant given him the strongest recommendation possible.

This is for sure: A&M is going all out to boost its football program and make it easier for Stallings. If an increased budget will do it, Stallings will improve the Aggie fortunes.

Undoubtedly the best of the Texas Football magazines, the publication which like the goddess Athena sprang fully grown from the mind of an individual (in this instance, Waco's Dave Campbell), is now on the newsstands.

Its price as well as its stature has grown—the 1965 edition retails for $1. The football buffs probably won't mind, since the magazine is quite thorough in covering all levels of football. Its buyers can use it for reference material throughout the upcoming campaign.

Texas Football's research on District 2-AAAA obviously wasn't too exhaustive—for instance, the publication projected Odessa High as the league's No. One team, whereas a poll of district coaches conducted by the author of this column put the Bronchos no higher than fifth.

If you hunger for a little of the autumnal madness, however, the periodical will, no doubt, whet your appetite until the real thing comes along.

Observers close to the scene like the zeal of coach Bill Yeoman and his University of Houston staff.

Where some Southwest Conference coaches can usually be found whiling away their time on the golf courses, Yeoman and his aides are staying close to the job for which they were hired—running and re-running game film, checking out plays, etc.

Their summer's efforts will, no doubt, pay dividends in the fall's campaign.

The former Stanton mentor, Melvin Robertson, is a member of Yeoman's staff, by the way.

The Houston staff is more discriminating about the players it is taking than it ever has been in the past, too.

The TCU ex, James Crouch, hired recently as a coach at Fort Stockton, has resigned that position to become a B team football mentor and head baseball coach at Odessa Permian High School.

Crouch was one of Johnny Hickman's assistants at Levelland last fall.

Giants' Ace Credits Dad With Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bob Shaw admits father knows best and the San Francisco Giants might credit their first division standing in the National League to the law laid down by his dad.

Shaw blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0 and narrowly missed a no-hitter for his ninth pitching victory Tuesday. The first hit came in the eighth inning.

Shaw told of his father's trip to Florida last spring to help him get into shape for this season.

John Shaw, 62, a former physical education instructor in Long Island City, N.Y., demanded that I work like the very dickens. And I did," Shaw said.

As a reliever last season, Shaw pitched well the first half of the campaign and poorly the second. The Giants proposed a salary cut from $38,000 to about $30,000. They finally compromised on $34,000 and he suggested he might be of more help as a starter.

He had started during most of his career in the American League and helped the Chicago White Sox to a pennant in 1959.

The Giants still thought of him as a reliever and it was from the bullpen that he made his first nine appearances of 1965.

On May 16 he got the starting shot he wanted following 5-1-3 innings of credible relief against the Los Angeles Dodgers the week before. He beat Houston 4-3 and had his wish, a spot on the rotation.

Shaw beat Houston 2-1 on July 16 and through 23 1-3 innings had allowed just four earned runs before facing the Cubs. He lowered that with the Chicago shutout, the only full route whitewash job this year by a San Francisco pitcher, other than Juan Marichal.

Gonzales Foresees Win For U.S. At Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dennis Ralston is going to be okay and Pancho Gonzales is predicting that the United States will trim Mexico in the Davis Cup Zone finals here next week.

Ralston, ace of the Davis Cup team, was able to work out some Tuesday as his pulled thigh muscle rounded into shape through use of the whirlpool bath, and even the weather seemed to be cooperating.

Gonzales, coach of the team, said the severely hot weather here would probably help erase Ralston's pulled muscle.

Gonzales launched the U.S. squad on a 10-day training grid with the comment that all six members were in excellent condition.

"It is very hot but it's dry heat that is not tiring," said the lean king of the pros, who is coaching his third Davis Cup squad. "When you don't have humidity this is the best kind of weather to play in."

He said he thought the United States would win the zone finals because Mexico only had two players — Rafael Osuna, and Antonio Palafox — to depend on while he could call on at least four capable of beating them.

He didn't think the current squad was as strong on paper as last year's team that included the polished Chuck McKinley.

"Not at this point are we as good but I have 10 days in which to reach last year's strength," said Gonzales. "Ralston, of course, was on last year's team but our No. 2 man now is Arthur Ashe, a fine player but who lacks consistency because he is not experienced. I hope to give him that consistency in the training period."

He listed Ralston, Ashe, Ham Richardson and Marty Riessen as capable of beating the Mexicans. Richardson, former Davis Cup player but now a Dallas business man, had shown up well in recent tournaments.

AFL Is Due To Move Into Miami Shortly

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Football League, thwarted in its first steps to expand, is expected to move into the Southeastern area by tapping Miami, Fla., for a 1966 franchise at a meeting beginning today.

Rebuffed in an attempt to invade the South via Atlanta, the AFL has cleared the way for an anticipated move to Miami by reaching general agreement on the use of the 76,000-seat Orange Bowl stadium and will start screening applicants preparatory to reaching a final decision.

"We have indicated we want to go there," Milt Woodward, the assistant AFL commissioner, said today. "But the move would be contingent upon the new franchise-holder contracting with the city of Miami for the Orange Bowl. If they will negotiate a fair lease, we will go to Miami."

The path south apparently was cleared last Thursday when AFL Commissioner Joe Foss met with city officials and worked out verbally a long term agreement for the use of the Orange Bowl. But the final contract must be drawn up with the new franchise holder.

Besides reaching formal agreement on a contract for use of the stadium, the group awarded the franchise will have to pay the league in the neighborhood of $7.5 million.

It is known, however, that there still is opposition in some AFL quarters toward the projected move to Miami and Woodward pointed out that "there is nothing assured. It still takes a three-quarters vote of the owners to do anything."

"But unless complications arise," Woodward continued, "I think the expansion committee will be able to decide by Thursday and then contact the other owners for a vote."

A move to Miami would be the initial step in AFL expansion to 10 teams for the 1966 season. Other cities prominently mentioned are Chicago, New Orleans, Washington, Milwaukee, Philadelphia and the Los Angeles-Anaheim, Calif., area.

Four Local Fems Share In Awards

Despite withering heat, Tuesday's Permian Play Day at the Big Spring Country Club, a one-day meet for women passed around among area golf courses, attracted 34 players.

Of that group, nine represented the local club while six were from the Odessa Country Club, ten from Odessa Sunset, three from Andrews and five from Midland Ranchland Hills.

Jean Abbott, Odessa CC, posted the low gross in the A flight with a sparkling 82. Frances Ciekler of Odessa Sunset had the low net in that flight, a 69. Carrie Magee, Big Spring, took the least number of putts over the 18 holes — 29 in all. Each received an award.

Winners in other flights:

B FLIGHT—Peggy Marshall, Big Spring, low gross; Margaret Vann, Odessa Country Club, and Jen Brinker, Odessa Sunset, tied for low net; Vonelle Morris, Odessa Country Club, low number of putts.

C FLIGHT—Ernestine Smith, Big Spring, low gross; Edith Ramsey, Big Spring, low net; Pat Rutherford, Andrews, low number of putts.

NINE-HOLE FLIGHT—Doris Blythe, Odessa Country Club, low gross; Sarah Cannon, Odessa Sunset, low net; Dorothy Cruse, Odessa Sunset, low number of putts.

Next round of Permian Day activity will take place at Ranchland Hills, Midland, Aug. 17.

Arnold Appears At Astro Show

HOUSTON—The Houston Astros have scheduled two special pre-game shows during their weekend series with the All-Star studded Cincinnati Reds on Saturday and Sunday, July 24th and 25th in the Astrodome.

Eddy Arnold, the popular singing star who has sold over 37,000,000 records, will perform Saturday, July 24, prior to the Astros vs. Reds night game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. The Arnold show is slated to start at about 7:10 p.m. The Astros and Reds also meet Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

Sharkey Bonano and his Kings of Dixieland, who are presently featured at the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans, will fly into Houston Sunday, July 25 for a pre-game show starting at 1:00 p.m. Sunday and will also play between innings.

Good seats are still available for the weekend series with the Reds and for the entire nine game homestand that opens Wednesday night, July 21 against the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards play again Thursday night before the Reds open a four game series Friday night. The Milwaukee Braves close out the short homestand with night games, July 26-28.

Take it for a test drive.
See if you pass.

The real test in a Volkswagen is to see if you know what driving really is. If you think you're driving in other cars, then what you do in a VW is something else.

Most cars give you all the lively moving sensation of sitting on your living room couch. But the VW isn't sprung like other cars. Its 4-wheel torsion bar suspension (the kind they have in racers) gives you the feel of the road. You always know what's going on because you know what your car's going on.

And you know what's coming, because you'll see more road than you ever saw before. (Our sloping hood doesn't cut off your view.)

When you twist the steering wheel a little, you can feel the front wheels turn a little. So you know the car's doing just what you told it to. (Doesn't that sound satisfying?)

We can tell you that the VW parks shorter than other cars, and maneuvers more easily.

But we can't tell you how it feels to drive one. So take the test. Maybe you can tell us.

Judge May Be Quizzed On Ruby Book

DALLAS (AP) — Counsel for Jack Ruby will attempt Thursday to question Dist. Judge Joe Brown about his proposed book on the Ruby trial.

Lawyer Phil Burleson asked Tuesday that Brown, his sister and Dallas News columnist Paul Crume be called as witnesses. The sister, Mrs. Bard Paul, is a book reviewer.

Courthouse sources said Burleson will seek also to subpoena telephone company records showing long distance calls from Brown's office the past year.

FULL HEARING
Defense lawyers will ask Dist. Judge Louis Holland of Montague, who replaced Brown in the Ruby case, for a full hearing on a motion to disqualify Brown.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade is expected to oppose the motion. If he does, no witnesses will be called.

Wade said he considers the question moot since Brown resigned from the case. Burleson said questions asked in his motion were not answered by the resignation.

Holland already has scheduled an Oct. 13 sanity trial for Ruby, the condemned slayer of presidential assassin Lee Oswald.

BRING RECORDS
Brown and Crume, who is helping write the jurist's book, were asked to bring all records pertaining to the volume, titled "Dallas, Ruby and the Law."

MRS. GOLDBERG

Need Prayers, Says Wife Of Envoy To U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur J. Goldberg, a justice with his suits and his certiorari all packed for a working vacation in the Virgin Islands, unpacked today and prepared to step into his new assignment as ambassador to the United Nations.

"I'd rather the President hadn't asked me," said the jurist named to succeed Adlai E. Stevenson, "but I will do my best."

The dynamic, up-from-poverty Supreme Court justice, former labor lawyer and whirlwind secretary of labor, held a news conference Tuesday to explain why he heeded the summons from President Johnson.

"I responded to the call of duty," he said simply.

But it was his wife, black-haired Dorothy, an abstract painter of professional standing, who put the situation in more poignant words. "Say all the Jewish prayers, say all the Hall Marys, say all the Protestant prayers for us," she implored reporters.

"NEED PRAYERS"
"We will need them all. I am mourning for Adlai. We are going into something new. I don't know the first thing about this, but I am sure Arthur will know."

When Goldberg was named to the Supreme Court three years ago by President John F. Kennedy, Goldberg's wife exclaimed in joyful joy: "It's an American dream come true."

Tuesday she was more articulate than the usually articulate Goldberg in voicing their joint regret at leaving the Supreme Court.

"The law is holy," she said. "Those marble halls were not just a high tribunal. They were a sanctuary."

CALLED OFF
It was Mrs. Goldberg who disclosed that the Goldbergs had called off, at least temporarily, their vacation in St. Thomas, the Virgin Islands. He had packed to take along all his working papers, including applications for writs of certiorari, which if granted mean bringing cases of national importance before the Supreme Court.

As for Goldberg himself, he simply pledged that he would pursue his U.N. duties in strictly nonpartisan fashion, aiming always for world peace.

To most commentators, President Johnson's selection of Goldberg to succeed Stevenson came as a surprise. The common explanation today was that Goldberg established a reputation, in labor negotiations, as a man with unerring instinct for finding "areas of accommodation" without surrendering principle.

River Still On Rampage In Missouri

By The Associated Press

Forecasters promised a sunny day at last and thus, a respite from cloudbursts Sunday and Monday that triggered devastating floods, leaving five dead and damages in the millions in northwest Missouri.

Still raging today was the stem of the Platte River, which rises about 120 miles due north near the Iowa line and bends across the northwest edge of the Kansas City metropolitan area into the Missouri River.

RECORD CREST
The Platte hit a record crest 16 feet above flood stage early today at Agency, Mo., 50 miles above its mouth.

A northeasterly branch, the Little Platte, receded after climbing 15 feet above flood stage at Smithville, a town of 2,000 on the north outskirts of Kansas City.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes asked the White House for all possible emergency assistance. The Small Business Administration declared it a disaster area.

RESIDENTS ROUTED
At the flood's height, 90 per cent of Smithville's residents had been evacuated — some unwillingly and from second-floor windows and porch roofs. On down the Platte, the 200 residents of Tracy were evacuated as water rose into most of the houses.

At Fairley, near the river's mouth, dikes failed and 120 residents fled as the Platte suddenly was a mile wide.

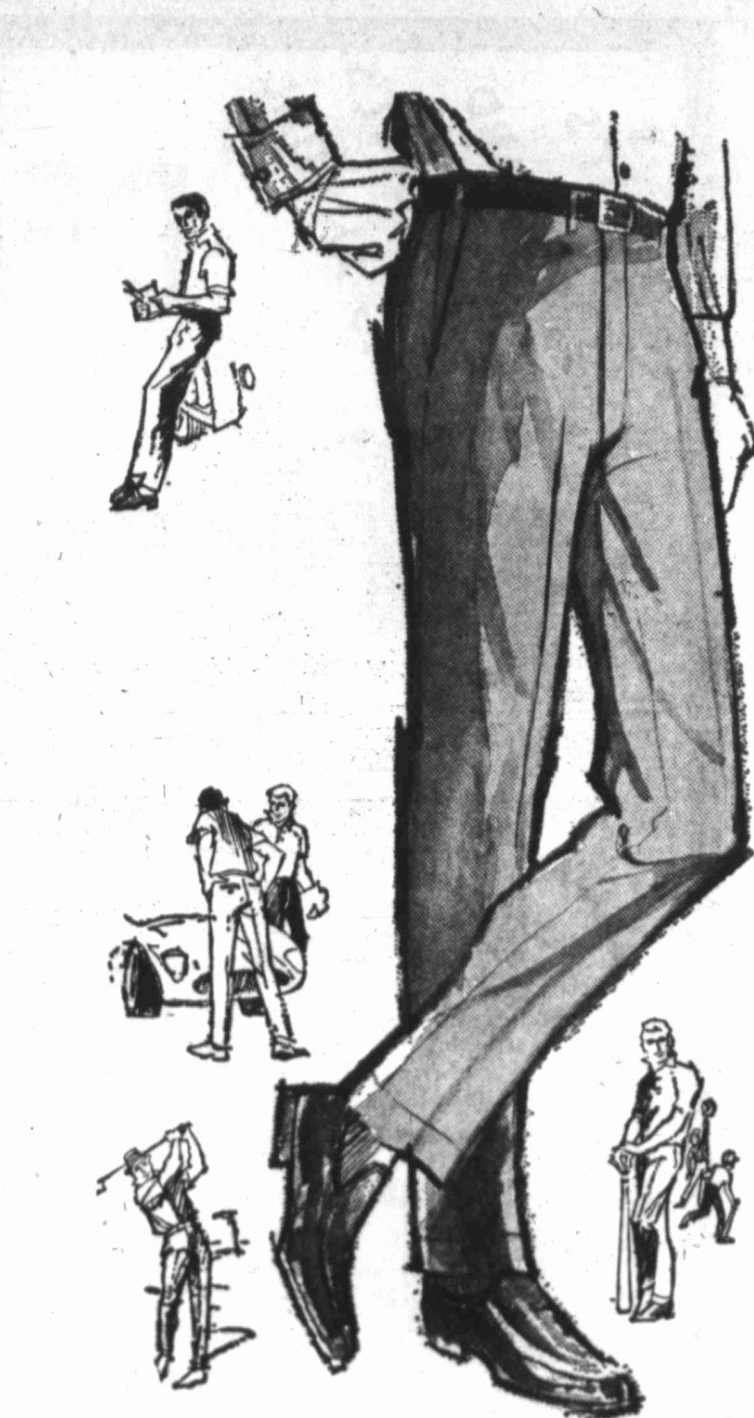

At Kansas City, the Missouri rose four feet but still was at the bottom of the high levees which protect the city.

Down the Missouri to the east, the Fishing River threatened the town of Orrick with the runoff from flash floods which early Tuesday inundated the Mosby community and inflicted heavy damage at Excelsior Springs, a resort town just northeast of Kansas City.

THREAT POSED
Other tributaries in the heavy rain belt east of Kansas City threatened Hardin and Norborne today.

Interstate 29, US 69, US 169 and all other highways north out of Kansas City were blocked, as were roads throughout the area north and west of the Iowa and Nebraska lines. Railroads also were blocked and many trains derailed over other routes.

CAP WEEPS
Lawson, 37, is recovering

Demonstration HeldIt's A Happy One

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — More than 50 elementary school children demonstrated — happily — Tuesday in front of the home of policeman Edward Lawson.

They marched more than 4 1/2 miles after school let out to sing "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow" and present their favorite policeman with a television set purchased with pennies they had saved.

CAP WEEPS
Lawson, 37, is recovering from a concussion which left him unconscious for two weeks last month. He wept as the children serenaded him.

"Hi, Mr. Ed!" the children, aged 5 to 12, chorused. "How do you feel now, Ed?"

The policeman sat on the balcony and smiled from ear to ear.

"Fine, thanks," he told them. "Better now."

MISSED HIM
Lawson was critically injured when he fell from his horse while chasing three bicycle thieves in Golden Gate Park.

The children, used to his blue-coated form at the crosswalk near Argonne School, missed their protector. He had ushered them to safety three times a day for 14 years.

Their parents helped them collect $180. They got a special price on a remote control television set from a dealer. Two other mounted policemen set up the march.

PRESENTS GIFT
John Ray, 12, climbed the stairs to the balcony Tuesday and presented the gift.

"This is from all the kids," the boy told the policeman.

Mrs. Lawson, who had kept the march a secret from her husband, passed out lemonade to the children in the street. Kathy Urruela, 7, boasted, "I didn't even get tired."

The policeman found his voice only as the party began to break up.

"What a bunch of kids," he choked. "They're fantastic."

Sealed Indictment Returned In Killing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A grand jury investigating the slaying of a Texas millionaire returned a sealed indictment Tuesday.

Florida law requires that indictments be sealed if they name any person not under arrest.

Melvin Powers, 23, has been in jail for more than a year in connection with the case. At a preliminary hearing last week, the state charged he stabbed Jacques Mossler, 69, to death to prolong an affair with Mossler's wife Candace, 46.

Mrs. Mossler was not called to testify before the grand jury, which questioned a score of persons before returning the indictment. She remained in Rochester, Minn., where she has said she is under treatment at the Mayo Clinic.

Mossler was stabbed and beaten at his Key Biscayne apartment June 30, 1964. Powers was arrested in Texas and fought extradition for a year.

A peace justice bound Powers over to the grand jury on a first degree murder charge after last week's hearing.

Pasture Rally Set By Klan

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan, target of a Justice Department suit aimed at halting its harassment of civil rights workers in Bogalusa, holds its second rally within five days tonight near this troubled town.

Robert M. Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, said he planned to speak at the rally.

The Klan function will be held in a cowpasture in Mississippi, just across the Pearl River from Bogalusa.

Announcement of the Klan rally came as Bogalusa police instituted a "get tough" policy in the wake of a federal government move to have top police officials cited for contempt.

It was learned that the Council for a Better Louisiana will recommend that Gov. John McKeithen name a biracial committee to deal with the state's racial problems.

Greek King Adds Strength

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — King Constantine's position in the Greek throne crisis grew stronger today as five more members of ex-Premier George Papandreu's party bolted and joined the new government.

The 25-year-old monarch swore in the five new ministers Tuesday night, completing the 20-member Cabinet of his hand-picked premier, George Athanasias Novas. All 20 were members of the Center Union party who went over to the King's side despite Papandreu's warning that anyone joining the new government was a traitor.

Papandreu's party holds 170 of the 300 seats in Parliament. Athanasias Novas said he was confident he would win the vote of confidence he must seek from Parliament by Aug. 1.

The crisis broke July 15 when the king fired Papandreu after refusing the 77-year-old premier's demand that Defense Minister Peter Garoufalas be dismissed for refusing to purge the army of politically active officers.

State Evicts Screaming Woman, 78, From Home

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Sheriff's officers took partly blind Mrs. Maude Wilcox, 78, kicking and screaming from her two-story home Tuesday.

The house blocks an expressway interchange now under construction. Mrs. Wilcox had said she would have to be carried "in a pine box" from the home where she lived 57 years.

CRASH DOORS
Sheriff's men surprised her, breaking down two doors of the dwelling, and led her barefooted across a street to a vacant lot.

A van backed to the front door and loaded her personal effects. As three matrons pulled her across the street, Mrs. Wilcox shouted: "Swine, swine, swine!"

For nearly two hours she sat in a chair outside the house, razed and the material sold.

Ground Water Report Ready

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Water Commission has published a new report on ground water resources along the Rio Grande.

The study, made in cooperation with the U.S. Geological Survey, covers about 49,000 miles from El Paso to Brownsville and as far north as Winkler County.

"Practically all of the geologic formations in this area yield some water, but few yield sufficient quantities of useable water to be considered as principal aquifers, or underground reservoirs," the commission said.

Dallas Boy, 13, Drowns On Trip

GALVESTON (AP) — Luther Roberts, 13, of Dallas drowned at Stewart Beach soon after arriving here Tuesday.

He was one of 29 Dallas Times Herald carriers who had won a four-day trip to Galveston. A witness said young Roberts "just went down suddenly and never came back up."
