A Sticky Problem

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — U. S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers will face a sticky problem when he arrives here Friday for a 46-hour visit; trying to explain the recent easing of U. S. restrictions on travel and trade with Communist China while reaffirming U. S. support for President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime.

Chiang's government has expressed serious concern about last week's announcement that Americans may purchase up to $100 worth of Chinese Communist goods and that U. S. citizens in six categories may have their passports validated automatically for travel to Communist China.

The Nationalists see the move as further erosion in their status in the community of nations. They have warned Washington that "the decision to accord such unilateral favors toward Communist China will produce ill results which are bound to affect free countries."

Rogers also is expected to talk with Nationalist officials about the problem of returning Okinawa to Japan. The Nationalists are concerned about Okinawa, which the United States captured from Japan in World War II, because they fear dismantling of the huge U. S. military base there might result in a weakening of allied defenses against Communist China.

U. S. and Japanese officials are now discussing the eventual reversion of Okinawa and the rest of the Ryukyu Islands to Japanese rule. A date for reversion is expected to be set when the U. S.-Japanese security treaty comes up for renewal next year.

Nationalist China and South Korea feel that the future of the Ryukyus should not be settled in bilateral negotiations between the United States and Japan, but by all allied nations that have an interest in Asian defense.

Another topic scheduled for discussion with Rogers is the Chinese - American resources exchange accord, which was signed in 1967 and expires at the end of this year. Under the accord, the United States agreed to provide Formosa $37.5 million worth of surplus farm products to help finance Formosan economic projects in developing nations.

House Gets Budget Bill

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — With a feeling of "we've been through all this before," House members received Monday a $5.7 billion general appropriations bill similar to the two-year measure they passed during the regular session.

Senators expected their own version of a budget bill to come out of committee today.

The representatives were given copies of the bill three hours before the House Appropriations Committee formally approved it.

While some provisions in the regular session bill that aroused angry debate have been removed, other thorny provisions were kept in it and might arouse tempers anew. The bill comes before the House for debate Thursday.

The measure calls for expenditure of $1.188 billion from general revenue, and this does not include another $30 million that must be added if the voters raise the public welfare ceiling Aug. 5.

Not counting the possible increase in welfare, the bill would require $286.2 million in new taxes.

The bill is $16 million larger in general revenue spending than the two-year bill the House approved this spring.

A joint House-Senate conference committee will work out the final bill and will have to plow some familiar ground if the House bill passes as written.

The conferees who wrote the regular session's one-year budget, which Gov. Preston Smith vetoed, provided money for 50 additional highway patrolmen. The House bill keeps the highway patrol's strength at its present 1,222 men.

Also in the DPS budget is a rider prohibitng the use of the department's helicopters for traffic law enforcement. The rider was attacked on the House floor last spring by traffic safety advocates, but the conference committee retained it in the final one-year bill.

Another item the conferees rejected but which the House committee again put in its bill is a rider, attached to the budgets of major state universities, requiring that full-time faculty members paid entirely from the "faculty salaries" item must teach at least 12 classroom hours (four courses) per week. Faculty members paid partly from other appropriations items such as administration or research, would have to teach a number of hours proportionate to their pay from the "faculty salaries" items.

The House bill includes a 6.8 per cent, or $14.6 million total, pay raise for state employes in the first year of the 1970-71 biennium but no increase in the second year.

Other major expenditure items in the bill include:

—$3.6 million for the new state meat inspection program.

—$8.5 million for the new medical school at Texas Tech.

—$12.5 million for the new University of Texas Medical school in Houston.

—$7.5 million for a new state dental school in Houston.

—$3 million for the new University of Texas of the Permian Basin between Midland and Odessa.

Nixon Will Visit South Vietnam

BANGKOK (AP) — President Nixon will visit South Vietnam Wednesday and confer with President Nguyen Van Thieu, responsible sources reported today.

Details of Nixon's visit to the war zone were shrouded in security precautions, and White House spokesmen would give no confirmation. But neither would they deny the report.

It was expected that the President would be in Vietnam only a few hours.

Meanwhile, Nixon's top military and diplomatic officials in Saigon flew to Bangkok today to review the situation in Vietnam with the President.

Amid conferences on Southeast Asian security with the leaders of Thailand, Nixon scheduled an up-to-the-minute review of the war with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Nixon has said these talks would influence his thinking on further withdrawals of U.S troops and his assessment of the significance of the battlefield lull in Vietnam, now in its sixth week.

Nixon's published schedule for Wednesday is blank until the evening, when Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn gives a dinner for the President and Mrs. Nixon.

White House spokesmen and American military sources remained silent on the possibility of a Vietnam trip during the day, but there were no denials of the rising speculation.

There was also a possibility that Nixon would drop in on one of the six big U.S. bases in Thailand to speak to the troops.

President Lyndon B. Johnson twice visited American bases in Thailand and Vietnam, stopping each time in Vietnam at the ultra-seeure American base at Cam Ranh Bay.

It was believed that Nixon would prefer some other stopping place, perhaps even Saigon. This would impose extra security precautions, but with the war in a lull, it was believed that a visit to the South Vietnamese capital was possible.

Deadline For Absentee Voting

Area voters were reminded today that Friday is the last day for casting absentee ballots for the election to be Aug. 5.

Only nine votes had been cast absentee as of this morning. Absentee balloting began July 16 on the first floor of the Scurry County Courthouse. Persons wishing to vote absentee many do so during regular office hours from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday.

Voters will determine the fate of nine proposed constitutional amendments. Beginning Wednesday, the Snyder Daily News will carry a resume of the amendments.

Government Has Budget Surplus

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, suddenly and perhaps with a bit of embarrassment, has surprisingly found the federal government had a $3.1 billion budget surplus last year.

The bonanza, which came after months of administration predictions that the surplus would be less then a billion dollars, resulted from income that was higher and outlays that were lower than the fledgling administration expected last January.

Preliminary figures, issued Monday by the Treasury Department and Bureau of the Budget, showed rounded-off receipts of $187.8 billion and outlays of $184.8 billion for fiscal year 1969, which ended June 30.

The surplus caused some Democrats in the Senate to comment that the administration's case for extending the income tax surcharge had been weakened.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a leading supporter of extension, said the administration is using a new budget basis which counts things as Social Security payments. Without the change, he said, there would have been a deficit.

The most puzzling element of the unexpectedly large surplus was why there was no advance notice. As late as last week, Undersecretary of the Treasury Charles E. Walker predicted a surplus of "a little more than a billion."

That was consistent with the forecast Budget Bureau Director Robert P. Mayo made last May: About $900 million. The Johnson administration predicted almost the same figure last December and the Nixon administration echoed it in January.

The surprising surplus came primarily because the government's income was higher than it expected. Most of the bonanza came from individual income taxes, which were $2.8 billion above estimates. Corporate taxes were $1.4 billion below.

Part of that, the report said, was traceable to lower-than-expected refunds for individuals and higher-than-expected refunds to corporations. Most was due to payments of final taxes on 1968 liabilities and declaration payments on 1969 incomes higher than expected.

The surplus, no matter what its size, was a dramatic reversal from eight red-ink years, led by last year's record deficit of $25.2 billion.

It was the first surplus since a meager $240 million was recorded in 1960, the last year of the Republican Eisenhower administration. And it was the largest since 1957, when the surplus was $3.2 billion—on total outlays of $76.7 billion, less than half the size of the 1969 budget.

Tropical Storm On Way

MIAMI (AP) — Tropical storm Anna swept westward across the Atlantic today with 60-mile-an-hour winds as forecasters predicted it would become the season's first hurricane.

"We don't really know what is out there," forecaster Raymond Kraft said at the National Hurricane Center.

"What information we've been able to get wasn't favorable for immediate intensification. But it's possible it is already a hurricane."

At 6 a.m. EDT the storm was about 1,500 miles east-southeast of Puerto Rico and about 2,500 miles from Miami.

The storm was moving west at about 14 miles per hour with little change in course or speed expected right away.

Gales extended 175 miles north and 125 miles south.

"Anna will probably continue to intensify and reach hurricane force late today," the Weather Bureau said.

Dr. Robert Simpson, director of the National Hurricane Center at Miami, said Anna could menace the Lesser Antilles Islands, at the eastern edge of the Caribbean, in the three days if the present course and movement were maintained.

"It looks like she will probably follow a low southerly latitude track and move a considerable distance west before she decides where she is going to end up," Simpson said.

Moon Rocks Study Begins

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Researchers begin treating 354 germ-free mice with moon dust today to find out whether lunar organisms exist which could threaten life on earth.

Meanwhile, scientists studying rocks gathered on the moon by the Apollo 11 astronauts say the evidence is overwhelming that the lunar plains were created by lava flows.

They also said mysterious black dust clinging to the outside of the rocks contains a high percentage of lustrous glass-like spheres that may have rained down on the moon after a meteor plowed into the surface.

The experiment with the mice called for scientists to inject moon dust into the animals' blood, spray it in the air they breathe and put it in their food.

If the mice come down with an illness which cannot be explained or controlled, between now and the time the astronauts' quarantine period is to end Aug. 11, the spacemen and 14 other people with them will have to remain untouchables for a longer time.

Similar studies will be made later using plants, insects, human tissue cultures and sea creatures.

Excitement among researchers examining moon dust and rocks was focused on preliminary findings of the material's physical properties, including a real scientific surprise—that up to one-third of the moon dust is composed of the glass-like spheres.

The tiny spheres—which range in color from dark brown to yellow—probably resulted from "condensation of a gas or vapor created by the impact of a meteor," said Dr. Clifford Frondell of Harvard University.

"The gas turned into droplets, condensed and rained down on the lunar surface," he suggested.

"The surprise," he added, "is not that the spheres are present, but their abundance."

Scientist have previously believed that cosmic dust plowing into the moon would smash most of any such spheres.

Perhaps the most important find was that most of the rocks returned by Apollo 11 appear to be hardened lava.

Preliminary studies have produced "overwhelming evidence that the mare (dry lunar seas) are built up by lava flows," said Dr. Eugene Shoemaker, geologist at the Californiia Institute of Technology.

Mars Is Snapped By Mariner 6

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 6 has clicked its cameras at Mars, snapping and storing for transmission to earth tonight the first 33 of a long series of pictures which may show whether life can exist on the red planet.

The space probe took its first photograph at 10:26 p.m. PDT Monday. Scientists said the camera was working well.

Mariner 6 was scheduled to start transmitting the pictures more than 58 million miles to earth at 6:35 p.m. today.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who as head of the President's Space Advisory Council advocates manned exploration of Mars, arranged to be at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory to watch the photographs come in.

The same radio commands which activated the cameras also started instruments designed to measure the surface temperature of Mars and to analyze the chemical make-up of its thin atmosphere.

The quality of the initial pictures will not be known until they reach earth. A spokesman said Monday night that signals from the spacecraft indicated the camera platform was properly aimed, that light was entering the lens, and that a picture was being recorded on tape.

Mariner 6 carries a small computer which converts the light and dark areas of a scene into numbers. The numbers, representing the dots on a television screen, are stored on tape for later transmission to the laboratory here, where a computer translates them into an image.

The first sequence of 33 pictures, taken at distances ranging from 771,500 to 453,350 miles from Mars, will show the full disc of the planet.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My best friend and her husband have two adopted children, a boy and a girl. The little girl is nearly five, and she is a very affectionate child who likes to hug, kiss, and climb all over the men who visit in the home.

The mother expressed great concern over this, and confided, "I know what her REAL mother was like, and that's what worries me." (The implication being that because most adopted children are products of unwed mothers, they will turn out "bad" like their mothers.) I am sure that many people feel that this is true but I, for one, do not believe it.

I feel so strongly about this, Abby, because I happen to be adopted, altho few of my frends are aware of it. I would like to see this letter printed with your comments. Thank you.

ADOPTED AND PROUD OF IT

DEAR ADOPTED: The causes of illegitimacy are not hereditary. Your friend is unbelievably ignorant, and I hope someone educates her before she communicates her foolish fears to her adopted children.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old girl, I am pretty and smart, have a good figure and a nice complexion, and people tell me I have a good personality.

My friend is fat, has pimply complexion and a terrible personality, but she gets all the boys. Can you help me?

NOT POPULAR

DEAR NOT: No, but I'll bet your fat friend with the pimply complexion and "terrible" personality can. Watch her and listen to her and find out why the boys find her so attractive. She may not be so great, but if she makes other people think THEY'RE great, she'll win a popularity contest.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: This isn't just an ordinary mother-in-law gripe. I really do love my mother-in-law, but she does something that gripes me no end.

Whenever I have something new on, she wants to know where I bought it, how much it costs, and would I mind terribly if she got one like it since "we don't go around in the same crowd?" (It's true, we don't go around in the same crowd, but we both go to a lot of the same places, and we know a lot of the same people.)

Abby, she's a darling woman, and we're the same size, and can wear the same styles, but what can I do? Of course I tell her I don't mind, but I don't enjoy going somewhere dressed like one of the Bobbsey twins. So what do you suggest?

ONE OF A KIND

DEAR ONE: I suggest you either level with her — and quit telling her you don't mind when you DO mind, or else continue as you are and suffer the consequences.

HEW Gives Third Report On Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Cigarette smoking continues to be confirmed as a serious health hazard to the people of this country, one which is the cause of much unnecessary disease and death."

That's how Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch introduced Monday the Public Health Service's third report on smoking.

The 135-page document cited new links with disease, summarized previous findings, and added "no substantial negative evidence has appeared which refutes these judgments."

New evidence was uncovered connecting cigarette smoking and heart attacks, cancer of the throat, emphysema, non-cancerous mouth disorders, pregnancy troubles.

Cigars and pipes continued to be generally absolved.

Charcoal filters, in the words of a doctor who worked on that section of the report are ineffective and "not worth a damn."

The report was required under a 1965 law which required the health warning on cigarette packages while banning further government regulation until July 1 this year.

The House voted last month to continue this ban for another six years while requiring a slightly stiffer warning. The vote was considered a victory for the tobacco industry. The Senate has yet to act on the measure.

Actor's Son Is Sentenced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — York McGavin, 18-year-old son of actor Darren McGavin, has been sentenced to an indeterminate federal prison term for possession for sale of more than 8,000 LSD tablets.

Young McGavin and a companion, Scott Anthony Weaver, 19, pleaded guilty June 24. Weaver was sentenced to five years probation Monday. McGavin's sentence was stayed until Aug. 11 so he could complete his high school education at a summer session.

A court spokesman said young McGavin' release from prison would depend on the judgment of parole officials, and that he might serve as long as five years.

Creighton Given Privilege

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells can forget about formality and leave his coat off in the Senate chamber, senators decided Monday.

They adopted a resolution giving Creighton that privilege because of burns on his left forearms, suffered in an accident at his farm Saturday night.

Creighton was burned, and his son, Kenny, suffered second and third-degree burns over 20 per cent of his body when a gas can spilled as they were refueling a pump, a spokesman said. They were attempting to drain a small lake on the farm.

Kenny was hospitalized in Mineral Wells, but the spokesman said he was expected to recover.

Creighton wore a short-sleeve dress shirt Monday, and his forearm was bandaged.

He requested the Senate to adopt a resolution permitting him to not wear his coat in the chamber.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes announced the unanimous vote as 16-15, and Creighton laughed at the smiling Barnes.

Plant Tour Booklet Is Available

AUSTIN — Texas hospitality in the form of more than 630 plant tour invitations has been extended by the state's industries through a brochure just released by the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department.

Largest industrial tour guide of any state, the 1969 publication lists 132 Texas cities with industries offering plant tours. Houston, as expected, leads the list with 51 firms; Dallas has 47, and Austin is a surprising third with 32.

Other cities with a substantial number of tours are San Antonio, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Arlington, Amarillo, Garland, Corpus Christi, Beaumont, Freeport and Hearne.

The listings include industries in smaller communities in addition to gaint industrial complexes. The plants offering tours are engaged in diverse processes ranging from aerospace equipment to sportswear and cowboy boot manufacture.

The brochure is available free upon request to the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P.O. Box 5064, Austin 78703.

Park Supt. Cites Rules

Jack Farren, Scurry County Park Superintendent, reminds local citizens of regulations concerning the use of the park system. He especially wants to point out the rules concerning golfing and horseback riding.

There is a county ordinance against golfing of any kind in any part of the park system. This was enacted as a safety measure for the protection of the many users of the various parks, and also for the protection of those who work in the park system, and for the protection of the grass itself.

Although riding of horses is allowed on the roads, it is against the rules to ride them anywhere on the grass, either in the picnic area or on the ball fields.

Mr. Farren wanted to express his appreciation for the cooperation given by the majority concerning the regulations enacted by the county. This cooperation helps the park department in its efforts to maintain a good park system for the use and enjoyment of the people of Scurry County.

Congratulations To All-American City

Congratulations are continuing to come to Snyder from various parts of the country for the All-American Award, according to the Chamber of Commerce Office here.

The latest of these was received Monday from George A. Covington, executive vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce in High Point, North Carolina, which received a similar award a few years ago. He expressed his congratulations, and added that the award would continue to be an asset to Snyder, as it has to High Point.

The Chamber of Commerce Office here still has available a number of windshield decals and a few bumper stickers advertising All-America Snyder. There is no charge on these, and they can be picked up at the chamber office.

3-Vehicle Wreck Causes Damage

Considerable damage resulted from a 3-vehicle smashup on Twenty-fifth Street at Avenue Q at 10:17 a.m. Monday.

Involved were the 1958 Model tractor trailer of Walton Clarence Lane, Abilene; the parked 1963 Model Chevrolet of Rosie Underwood, 4500 Avenue U; and the parked 1966 Model Plymouth of John A. Greene, Route 2. Damage to the Chevrolet was estimated at $500 and damage to the Plymouth was placed at $150. Damage to the other vehicle was negligible.

Misuse Of Codeine Is Spreading

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Missuse of codeine, a common ingredient in cough syrup, is spreading to teen-agers and should be called to the attention of the legislature, a top police official told Texas sheriffs today.

"We have reports that where riots have occurred in other states, those involved were great abusers of narcotics containing codeine along with whiskey and beer," said Col. Wilson E. Speir, Texas Department of Public Safety director.

"A number of pharmacists have reported that their lives had been threatened on refusal to sell exempt narcotics containing codeine," Speir added in his speech to the Sheriffs' Association of Texas.

Foundations May Be Hit Harder

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, pressing to complete a general tax reform bill for House action next week, has decided to rap foundations a bit harder.

The committee agreed Monday on a 7½ per cent levy on the presently tax-free investment income of the foundations —instead of 5 per cent as it originally proposed.

Other changes, some tightening and some easing restrictions earlier agreed on, were made as the committee approved final language for the foundation section of the big bill.

Meanwhile, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., told a newsman the committee will do everything possible to report out a comprehensive reform measure by Friday.

Speaker John W. McCormack, when asked whether a bill completed by then could be scheduled for House action next week, replied: "Not could be—will be."

House leaders, observing the Senate tangle over a surtax extension bill and counting days until the Aug. 13 congressional recess, reportedly were convinced that delaying a vote on the reform measure would give opposition time to build up its forces.

Astronauts View Moon Films

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 11 astronauts early today viewed spectacular films of their moon landing journey, including Neil A. Armstrong's first step on the surface and clear footprints in the lunar dust.

Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins stayed up after midnight in their quarantine quarters to look at 16mm movie and 70mm still photos.

Some of the film will be released to news media late today. It has been undergoing decontamination for three days to destroy possible lunar bacteria.

John McLeaish, space agency public affairs officer quarantined with the astronauts, reported the spacemen showed extreme interest in the pictures, which he described as excellent.

McLeaish said the first batch of film includes footage of the descent to the moon and lift off after Armstrong and Aldrin completed their historic exploration.

"During the descent," McLeaish said, "you can see the landmarks they flew over and the blowing dust kicked up. You see Neil proceeding down the ladder to the surface.

"The American flag they planted is very clear and gives the impression of waving in the wind," he added. "You can very definitely see footprints on the surface."

He said the color was very good, although at times the film gives a false impression that the surface has a greenish tint.

McLeaish said the astronauts made narrative comments as they watched the film, such things as "that's translation and docking" and "there's a certain rill or crater."

He said Monday night the spacemen passed time in their quarters by dining on smothered steak and rice, talking with their families through a glass partition, playing table tennis and watching a movie, "Goodbye Columbus."

Earlier, McLeaish reported the moonmen have been reflecting on the significance of their momentous mission and the place they will take in history.

"As you know, they are not outspoken people," he said. "But they feel the significance of what they have done."

Fourteen persons, including doctors, technicians and a cook, are quarantined with the astronauts.

Pylo 4-H Members To Enter Records Contest

Misses Rita and Susan Melton, members of the Pylo 4-H Club and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Melton of Hermleigh, will have records in the 4-H Safety Records Contest in Lubbock in August.

Rita will be a senior in the Hermleigh High School in September and has been a 4-H club member for six years. Susan has been a member of 4-H club since April 1966.

In 1965 Pylo Club was state winner in club safety projects. Since that time they have continued to carry safety as a club project.

Rita participated in the 1965 club safety project and has developed a consciousness of safety practices at home, on vacations and wherever she goes. Her 4-H safety record placed second at District Contests last year.

Susan is beginning her safety record and had done fewer things, but is participating in the club safety program and trying to apply the things she learns in everyday life.

This year the club has had three safety programs given by Mrs. Walter Stirl, club leader, based on 4-H safety leaflets. The programs included farm safety hazard hunt, safety in handling tools, and using insecticides safely.

Programs on safety by highway patrolmen, and the game warden, films, a tour of Snyder's Civil Defense Headquarters and a series of prepared talks by club members have been a part of the clubs continuing safety project.

Caution Messages Detected In Financial Men's Reports

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As the credit vise tightens and forecasts of business profits turn bearish, a faint and seemingly contradictory pulsation is emanating from some of the traditionally conservatiae large investors.

Their messages aren't coming through very strong as yet, for business faces many problems in coming months. And cautious recommendations are doing little to burn away the thick smog that has enveloped traders in recent months.

The messages can be detected, however, and they are based not so much on expectations of a business upturn six months ahead as they are on the realization that some of the blue chips are, simply, selling at very low prices.

Typical of the outlook by some conservative financial men is that of John Wright, a large investor and stock market adviser who deals only in blue chips.

"For seasoned and serious investors," Wright maintains, "the important thing now is not whether the Dow Jones industrial average has bottomed or if not, just where it will.

"Rather it is the unmistakable fact that today's stock market now offers a buying opportunity which normally occurs only at intervals of three to five years. . . ."

There is, says Wright, "every historic precedent for the assurance that today's purchases of high quality equities will by 1970-71 prove to have been highly rewarding."

Argus Research Corp., whose economic and stock market reports are widely used by brokerage houses and institutional investors, still advises caution but adds a phrase gradually becoming popular.

This caution, Argus states, "does not preclude the selective purchase of high quality growth stocks for long-term accumulation.

"While bonds and utility stocks may go lower yet, they are probably not too far from their cyclical lows and should rise nicely by next winter."

Neither of these advisers is a broker dependent upon stock market activity for commissions. They receive their fees regardless of the positions they take or the amount of trading that results from their advisories.

Some of the buying interest of conservative investors seems to be based partly on the theory of contrary opinion, the assumption being that when an attitude becomes a vogue, such as selling, the opposite course might be wise.

Some of the interest might be fueled also by the economic forecasts for the next year which indicate that, despite the present focus on negative news and the developing slowdown, the economy may begin to move ahead in 1970.

Junior Editors Quiz on COLORADO RIVER

QUESTION: How many states does the Colorado River flow through?

* * *

ANSWER: The Colorado is one of the most fabulous and interesting of American rivers. It originates in the Rockey Mountains, just west of the Continental Divide — that magic mountain sky line. There, streams on the east side dash down to become such rivers as the Missouri and Platte, and those on the west plunge westward, such as the Colorado, which after wandering for 1450 miles, empties ultimately into the Gulf of California. Actually, the Colorado only flows through, or crosses, parts of three states, Colorado, Utah and Arizona. But tributaries reach it which have originated in New Mexico and Nevada, and it flows along the boundary between Nevada and Arizona as well as that between Arizona and California — with the result that its waters touch the soil of six different states. The glory of the Colorado is the marvelous Grand Canyon, where the river has cut a gigantic gash down through the earth's surface, creating a spectacle more awe-inspiring than anything else on our planet. We show the historic boat trip by Major John Westly Powell in 1869, which first brought the wonders of the Grand Canyon to the attention of Americans.

Mrs. DuPea Is Oldest Actress

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tatzumbie DuPea's friends agree that she may not be the oldest woman in the United States but she's indisputably the oldest actress.

Monday, she told newsmen at her birthday party, "I am 112 years old."

"One hundred twenty years old," said her son Edwin, 67. "Yeah, I'm pretty old," she replied.

She doesn't lie about her age, her son said, but she forgets sometimes.

Records show that Mrs. DuPea, a Paiute Indian, was born July 26, 1849, in Lone Pine, Calif. Moviegoers saw her weathered face in many Western films.

President Nixon was among those sending greetings to her Saturday at a convalescent home in Los Angeles.

Pinson Paces Card Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vada Pinson and Billy Williams attended to their private business in plenty of time to become good company men when the chips were down.

Pinson ran his hitting streak to 19 games with a fourth inning single Monday night, then came up with the deciding hit and saving defensive play in the St. Louis Cardinals' 2-1 victory over San Diego.

Williams also singled in the fourth, for a 17-game hitting skein, before stroking the winning single in a two-run 10th inning rally that sent the Chicago Cubs past San Francisco 4-3 in the day's only other game.

The action picks up in both the National and American Leagues today, with 17 games listed on the schedule.

In the NL, Houston is at New York, Atlanta at Philadelphia and Los Angeles at Pittsburgh for twi-night doubleheaders, San Diego at St. Louis and Montreal at Cincinnati for single night games and San Francisco at Chicago in the afternoon.

New York visits Oakland, Boston is at California, Washington at Seattle and Baltimore at Kansas City in AL night games while Detroit plays a twi-night twin bill at Minnesota and Chicago visits Cleveland for another pair under lights.

Pinson matched the NL's season-high hitting streaks, shared by Pittsburgh's Matty Alou and Willie Stargell, with his fourth inning single, then doubled to score Julian Javier in the sixth and give St. Louis a 2-0 lead.

Cardinals' rookie Chuck Taylor blanked the Padres until the eighth, when they scored on an error by Javier, an infield hit by Ed Spiezio and a double by Roberto Pena.

An intentional walk filled the bases with one out, but Pinson gloved Nate Colbert's foul fly down the right field line and fired to the plate to nail pinch runner John Sipin, completing a rally-killing double play.

Javier cracked a leadoff homer off loser Dick Kelley in the first inning and singled ahead of Pinson's RBI double in the sixth, helping Taylor gain his third victory without a loss.

Juan Marichal walked pinch hitter Willie Smith with two out in the 10th, and Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Williams followed with singles, giving the Cubs their first Wrigley Field victory over the Giants' ace in five years.

The Giants overcame a 2-0 deficit on Willie McCovey's two-run homer off Bill Hands in the eighth and took a 3-2 lead in the top of the 10th on Willie Mays' run-scoring single.

Ron Santo drilled a two-run homer for the Cubs before McCovey's 31st circuit sent the game into overtime.

The victory increased the Cubs' East Division lead over second place New York to five games.

SAILS YACHT SOLO — Ryusuke Ushijima, 23, of Fukuoka, Japan, sits at tiller of his 24-foot yacht in which he crossed the Pacific in 80 days. He tied up at Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco where he was wakened by newsmen. Ushijima, who bears greetings from Fukuoka to its sister city Oakland, was scheduled to be welcomed there. Ushijima told of three severe storms enroute, but his craft looked in excellent shape after the long voyage. (AP Wirephoto)

LIPPY IN HOT WATER AGAIN?

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Leo Durocher, manager of the Chicago Cubs, is not above making mistakes. Sometimes he admits them and sometimes he doesn't.

"It wasn't Hands' fault," said Durocher Monday after the Clubs threw away certain victory and then snatched it back from Juan Marichal and the San Francisco Giants 4-3 in 10 innings.

"It was stupidity on my part," admitted Durocher when Bill Hands' sailing along with a 2-0 shutout, threw a home run pitch to Willie McCovey in the eighth to tie the game.

The Giants took the lead in the top of the 10th on Willie Mays' run-scoring single, but the Cubs pulled it out in the bottom of the 10th after two were out on a walk and singles by Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams.

Durocher confessed to stupidity in not ordering Hands to walk McCovey in the eighth with a man on second and first base open.

"I must be second guessing myself," he said. "I walked him in the first inning with a man on second and first base open. In fact, I long ago decided to handle him like I used to handle Stan Musial. Anytime Musial could tie me or beat me, I'd ordered him walked. That's all.

"But my boys took time off the hook," added Durocher, "they never quit or give up."

While the Cubs took Leo off the hook on the field, it remained to be seen what would happen this morning when he meets with club owner P.K. Wrigley about his disappearing act off the field.

Durocher left in the third inning of last Saturday's game, complaining of stomach pains. He also missed Sunday's game.

Later it was learned he appeared at Camp Ojibwa, Eagle River, Wis., Saturday night at a parents' reception. Mrs. Durocher's young son is attending the camp. Durocher and Lynne Walker Goldblatt were married last month.

When Wrigley learned what had happened, he said Durocher owed the players, the coaches and management an apology.

Durocher refused to comment when he came to the ball park Monday morning saying "It's a private matter and I don't discuss my private life with anyone. If I have anything to say, I'll tell it to Mr. Wrigley.

"Leo can do anything he wants," said Wrigley, "but the way he did it, it seems to have left everyone hanging. If he had told the club what it was, everything would have been fine. The players are busting a boiler to win. I don't like to see these upsetting things at this stage of the game."

Play Begins At Midland

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Sixty-four shotmakers qualified for today's opening round of match play in the Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament over the sun-baked Midland Country Club.

The best round Monday was a 72 posted by Carol Jean Sorenson of Racine, Wis.

The cutoff point was 86 for the 144 player field—one of the largest in the tournament's history.

Defending champion Mrs. Michael Skalla of Shingles Springs, Calif., shot a 79 to easily make the championship flight.

Jayne Bastencherry of Whittier, Calif., turned in another excellent round with a 76. She tied with Marsha Houghton of Modesto, Calif., in the special competition for low putt honors. Both used only 26 points in their 18 hole tour around the dry course. Miss Houghton shot an 81.

Junior medalist honors went to Nancy Hager of Dallas who had a 77. The senior medalist trophy went to Mrs. Paul Graham of El Dorado, Kan., with an 84.

School Physical Exam Slate Told

All male athletes who plan to participate in any sport at Snyder High School during the 1969-70 school year are urged to report to the field house at 7:30 a.m. Aug. 13 and Aug. 14 for physical examinations.

Wayne Tyrone, athletic director and head football coach, said the physical examinations must be completed before boys are permitted to participate in workouts.

Boys who miss these dates must make special appointments through their coach.

Football shoes will be issued to the high school boys Aug. 13. Workouts begin Aug. 18.

Physical examinations for all 7th grade athletes will be given Friday, Aug. 22, at the Travis gym. Eighth and 9th grade athletes will get their physicals Saturday, Aug. 23 at the Travis gym. All Junior High athletes, regardless of the sport in which they wish to participate, are urged to get their physicals during these times. All Junior High examinations will be offered at the Travis gym only, it was pointed out.

Pokes Add Linebacker

(AP) — The Dallas Cowboys have added insurance at middle linebacker by trading for tough Bill Saul, a nine-year-veteran with Pittsburgh.

"I'm glad to get him," said coach Tom Landry. "We're just trying to protect ourselves with experience."

Leroy Jordan is the Cowboy's No. 1 middle linebacker but reserve D. D. Lewis was called up by the Army, making Dallas thin at the position.

Landry said "Saul's been a starter for Pittsburgh. To us, he seemed to be a guy who was always hitting and moving toward the ball carrier."

Aaron Bests Snead In Montreal Playoff

MONTREAL (AP) — Tommy Aaron has joined golf's establishment.

He's finally shed the stigma of the perennial also-ran by winning a tournament.

The tall, 32-year-old from Callaway Gardens, Ga., made it to the winner's circle Monday after a nine-year wait, capturing the Canadian Open Championship by two strokes in an 18-hole playoff round with veteran Sam Snead—25 years his senior.

"I guess you won't talk about the fact I've never won one now," Aaron gently chided newsmen. "You'll probably quit writing about me because there's nothing unique about me now. I've become one of the guys. I've won one."

Aaron shot a two-under-par 70 over the Pinegrove Golf Club layout while Snead had to settle for a par 72.

His victory was a big one financially as well as psychologically. He won $25,000 to Snead's $14,300 and added $4,500 as his share of the gate.

Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., also picked up $4,500 additional money from gate receipts of $18,000 from the estimated 3,000-strong gallery. Fifty per cent of playoff gates are assigned to the golfers involved, with the Royal Canadian Golf Association and the host club equally splitting the other 50 per cent.

The pair had finished the regulation 72-hole route Sunday with identical 13-under-par 275 scores, with Aaron setting a course record with a eight-under 64 in the fourth round to catch Snead.

The veteran had held a six-stroke lead over Aaron entering Sunday's round.

Aaron had registered eight second-place finishes since turning pro in 1960, but had never been able to better those performances.

However, he did his first victory up in style. Leading by one stroke going into the 18th, Aaron guided in a 25-foot putt for an eagle 3, while Snead had his eagle attempt from 40 feet miss by less than an inch and slide four feet beyond the cup.

Snead birdied the hole, but only after the excitement caused by Aaron's efforts had died down.

Snead, who previously won the Canadian title in 1938, 1940 and 1941, got off to a poor start Monday when he went one-over for a 4 on the par-5 600-yard first hole. Aaron parred that one, but the second saw the situation reversed.

They traded birdies on the third and the veteran moved one stroke up on the fourth, only to have Aaron pull his 75-foot birdie putt on the fifth and then get another on the ninth to lead by one stroke at the halfway point.

Aaron was out in a two-under 34 and Snead 35.

However, the tide changed as Aaron was one-over-par on the next three holes and Snead went par-par and then one-over, to take a one-stroke lead.

Aaron evened it up on 14 and then went one up on the next hole when he birdied the short, par-3 15th. Both hit par on 16 and 17 to set the scene for Aaron's eagle finish.

Snead said it wasn't pleasant being beaten, but if he had to lose he was glad it was to a good golfer like Aaron. He had predicted early in the going that Aaron was the golfer to watch.

Dub Pans Frog Cage Recruiters

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Dub Malaise, head basketball coach at South Plains College, figures his team has been wrecked for next season by a raid from Texas Christian University.

Malaise was upset by the loss of Tim McClendon, a six-footer who averaged 18 points per game at the Levelland, Tex., college last winter.

Malaise said Monday "I had built plans around Tim and I think his loss will just about wreck our basketball team next season."

The South Plains coach told the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal that TCU coach Johnny Swaim was guilty of a breach of ethics in the recruiting of McClendon, a former high school player at Fort Worth Eastern Hills.

"Ethically, I think Swaim should have talked to me before contacting the boys although legally speaking Tim is eligible to transfer under the new rule," Malaise said. "I don't blame Tim for accepting the offer, but I do feel bad about Swaim contacting him without first discussing it with me."

Under Southwest Conference rules, amended this last spring, the junior college transfer rule allows any student athlete who has completed 24 hours of transferable junior college work with a B—average to be accepted and immediately eligible for competition.

Malaise said "I fully believe that if he (McClendon) had played his second year here he could have gone to any school he chose. And the thing that really ires me, is that Tim played his high school basketball in Fort Worth. If TCU wanted him so badly, why didn't they offer him a scholarship when he finished high school?"

Swaim told the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal "I'm sorry Dub feels that way. Perhaps I should have called Dub first. If I had thought about it I probably would have. But, really, I'm not sure what good it would have done.

Cliff To Compete

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Cliff Richey, the No. 4 ranking American tennis player from San Angelo, Tex., is among the entrants in the 89th annual U.S. Championships at the Longwood Cricket Club Aug. 16-24, it was announced Monday.

TOURNEYS BEGIN WEDNESDAY

Snyder Senior, Jr. Champs Eye Crowns

Play ball!

That happy refrain will signal the beginning of two baseball tournaments Wednesday involving Snyder teams.

The Senior Teenage League Clippers are hosts for a Senior Tournament that will be held in Towle Park Wednesday, July 30, through Saturday, Aug. 2. The Junior Teenage League Dodgers will be competing during the same time span in a Junior Tournament at Colorado City. Both are double elimination tournaments.

The Dodgers, managed by O. D. Brewer, will play first. They are scheduled to take on Haskell at 7 p.m. Wednesday. At 9 p.m. on the same night Sweetwater meets Colorado City. Anson drew a bye in the first round. The Dodgers are sponsored by Scurry Butane Company.

If they win, the Dodgers will not play again until 9 p.m. Friday. Their opponent will be determined by a 9 p.m. tilt Thursday between the winner of the Colorado City-Sweetwater game and Anson.

Also slated for action Thursday at 7 p.m. are the loser of the Snyder-Haskell tilt and the loser of the Sweetwater-Colorado City tussle.

Junior tilts also are slated at 7 p.m. Friday, 9:30 a.m. Saturday, and 11:30 a.m. Saturday. If necessary, another tilt will be played in the double elimination tournament.

Should the Dodgers take both of their first tilts, then they will meet the loser's bracket winner at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in the finals. A victory in this tilt would give them the title; otherwise; another tussle would have to be scheduled.

The Senior Teenage League Clippers are managed by Hulen Malone. Terry Holt is the coach, and the sponsor is Wilson Motor Company.

The Clippers drew a first round bye and are slated to meet the winner of the Ranger or Clyde-Sweetwater tussle at 7 p.m. Thursday. (Ranger or Clyde takes on Sweetwater at 9 p.m. Wednesday following the opener between San Angelo and Haskell at 7 p.m.).

Other senior tilts are set for 9 p.m. Thursday, 4:30 p.m. Friday, 6:30 p.m. Friday, 8:30 p.m. Friday, and 7 p.m. Saturday. If necessary, another game will be held at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Tournament officials include Speedy Moffett (director), Buck Logan (assistant director), Bob O'Day (umpire in chief) and Mutt Thompson (official scorer). The protest committee includes Milton Wall, Freddie Bullard and Dr. Bob Hargrove. The winner of the Senior Teenage League Tournament will compete in the State Tournament at Odessa Aug. 7-9.

The Clipper roster includes Randy Levens, Mike Levens, Joe Wilson, George Kay, Steve Holder, Wesley Bishop, Jim Patrick, Milton Gates, Bill Branson, Bruce Almond, Bruce Bell, Dwaine Pape, Leo Jackson, Ricky Freeman and Randy Keller.

Travelers Move Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Danny Napoleon had his All-Star game Monday night.

The hard-hitting Arkansas Traveler, who didn't make the Texas League All-Star lineup, clubbed a two-run homer to give Arkansas a 2-1 win over Albuquerque and move the Travelers within a half-game of the lead in the TL East.

In other action, El Paso clipped Shreveport 5-2, San Antonio nicked Dallas-Fort Worth 7-6, and Amarillo tripped Memphis 7-3.

Memphis and Shreveport are tied for the Eastern Division lead while Dallas-Fort Worth has a two and one-half game edge over Amarillo in the TL West.

All teams rest Tuesday night for the All-Star game in Memphis

Napoleon's homer backed the fine pitching of Dick McVay. It was Arkansas' seventh win in its last eight games.

Bill Parlier's single triggered a three-run seventh inning rally to give El Paso its victory. The win went to Tom Bradley, his fourth.

San Antonio pounded out 14 hits, including six doubles and a triple to shell Dallas-Fort Worth. Ray Newman was the winner.

It doesn't complicate your life.
Maverick is the simple machine—simple to own, simple to repair, simple to service, simple to drive.

It doesn't cost a lot.
With prices everywhere going sky-high, Maverick comes along with a down-to-earth price—$1995.*

It doesn't have a tiny trunk.
Maverick gives you 10.4 cu. ft. of trunk space—nearly twice as much as the leading import. Now the whole family's luggage can go along for the ride.

It doesn't squeeze you in.
Some big people live in this country. That's why we made Maverick bigger than the imports. Lots of legroom and shoulder room.

It doesn't squeeze you out.
It's great for parking, great for handling, great for zipping through traffic.

It doesn't cost a lot for maintenance.
You can do most maintenance jobs yourself, if you want. If your mechanic does it, he can do it in a lot less time. Great when time is money and the money is yours.

It doesn't need a lot of service.
Maverick oil changes and chassis lubrication come less often than in the leading import. (Isn't it time you started seeing less of your mechanic and more of your car?)

Cheaper by the doesn'ts.

It doesn't skimp on essentials.
Maverick gives you tough brakes, unitized body construction, rustproofing, and four coats of paint. Its 3-speed transmission is able to handle twice as much horsepower as the engine turns out.

It doesn't burn a lot of gas.
Maverick gives you the kind of mileage you'd expect from a little import—even with a powerful six-cylinder engine.

It doesn't hold back on power.
Turn on the engine and turn loose 105 horses—nearly twice as much as the leading import. This means highway power, passing power. The kind of power you need.

It doesn't handle like a kite.
The road might be wet and the wind strong but Maverick's tread is wider than the car is high—great for stability. (Most economy imports are higher than their tread is wide.)

It doesn't follow the herd.
Maverick's new, different. A bright idea with bold, new colors. See your Ford Dealer for the rest of the story. Find out why Maverick is the hottest selling new car to come along since Mustang.

Minor Incident Triggered Jamesburg's Racial Riots

JAMESBURG, N. J. (AP) — This rural community of 4,500 is having racial problems similar to big cities.

The disorders began July 14, a muggy day, just two years after one of the worst riots in the nation's history swept Newark, N.J. about 35 miles to the north.

Like the Newark disorders, the trouble in this sleepy, mile-square community was triggered by a relatively minor incident. In Newark, the arrest of Negro cabbie John W. Smith touched off five days of rioting that claimed 26 lives and ran property damage into the millions. In Jamesburg, an argument over a 26-cent ice cream cone touched off the disorders.

Police say the disorders have now subsided.

Charles DiBrizzi, an ex-convict who runs an ice cream stand, says he's been made a "patsy" in a racial situation that was bound to arise.

The trouble began when a fist-fight broke out at DiBrizzi's stand between his son and a Negro youth over who would pay for the ice cream cone of a 13-year-old girl. The girl, Sonia Denise Gordon, later was hospitalized six days with an injury allegedly suffered in the incident and DiBrizzi was charged with atrocious assault and battery.

As DiBrizzi, a 40-year-old Marine veteran decorated in Korea, tells it, he broke up the fight but did not touch the girl.

The incident triggered two nights of disorders which made the community acutely aware of the fact it has a racial problem.

Some of the 9 per cent Negro population lives in substandard housing. Much of the Negro population is composed of second and third generation migrant workers from the South.

Many of these Negroes are angry youths who feel the town has treated them harshly and that they can't win for losing.

During the disorders, 15 persons, some of them white youths, were arrested. Several stores and other businesses, including the mayor's machine shop, were fire-bombed but no looting was reported. Police Chief Peter Giacomozzi said there were no serious injuries during the disorders.

Mayor Walter Mychalchyk, who took office in November, said the trouble was a result of a "generation gap" between white and Negro parents and their children. He said most of those involved were teen-agers.

When the trouble started, the Negro town fathers tried to send their kids home," he said. "The white parents did the same thing. They were shocked to see how vicious their children could be."

Mychalchyk, who imposed an overnight curfew on the borough shortly after trouble began, said the disorders were planned.

"Plans for causing a disturbance were made a long time ago," he said. "They were just waiting for an incident to start it.

"There was some direction behind the whole thing. The police have discovered Molotov cocktails, chains, homemade knives and other weapons in various parts of town. They had them ready, and someone must have showed them how to use them."

DiBrizzi, who spent three years in prison in connection with the theft of a truckload of golf balls, said that during an angry confrontation at his ice cream stand, a militant Negro leader told him "Wait until Newark hears about this." A few hours later the trouble began.

DiBrizzi says that since the trouble started, Negroes have been boycotting his business. He also said the lives of himself and his family—a wife and four children—have been threatened.

"Jamesburg has never had a racial problem," DiBrizzi said. "The trouble at my stand was started by young hooligans. I was made a patsy, but I don't know the meaning of fear."

Charles Gray, head of the local antipoverty agency, says he feels DiBrizzi has been made a scapegoat. But he contends DiBrizzi and the rest of Jamesburg's white community has been guilty of an "omission of responsibility," resulting in the disorders.

Firearms Statistics

WASHINGTON (AP) — In urging restrictive licensing of the nation's pistols, the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence issued these statistics:

—In 1968 U.S. civilians owned 90 million guns: 35 million rifles, 31 million shotguns and 24 million handguns. Of the nation's 60 million households, at least half possess one gun or more.

—The total number of firearms in private hands increased by 5.3 million in 1968.

—Gunfire accounted for 63 per cent of the 12,100 homicides reported in 1968. In 1964 there were 9,250 murders, only 55 per cent of which were committed with firearms.

—In crimes committed with firearms in 1967, handguns were used in 92 per cent of the homicides, 86 per cent of the aggravated assaults and in 96 per cent of the robberies.

Water Amendment Looks To Future

AUSTIN — Adequate water will insure the economic development of the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congressional Districts.

The proposed Amendment No. 2 to be voted upon August 5 authorizes the Texas Water Development Board with the approval of two-thirds of the State Legislature to issue $3.5 billion in bonds to finance Texas' share of the water plan. The plan adopted by the Water Development Board is designed to provide adequate water to maintain the growth of Texas into the next century when it is estimated that we will have a population of 30.5 million people.

The Texas Water System proposes to deliver irrigation water to approximately 4 million acres in Districts 18 and 19 at full development. The local impact generated by this supply of irrigation water is estimated at $1.1 billion annually. The System will also deliver 80,000 acre-feet to Lubbock, 20,000 acre-feet to Snyder and 59,000 acre-feet to Midland annually at full development for municipal and industrial purposes. Recreational impact will exceed $0.4 million annually by 2020. The total construction cost of the reservoirs and other facilities is estimated at $1.7 billion.

Some of the proposed and potential reservoirs as well as some that are already under construction or completed under the Texas Water Plan are: Rita in Hartley and Meredith in Hutchinson, Moore, and Potter in the Canadian River Basin; Bivins in Randall and Buffalo; Greenbelt and Lelia Lake Creek in Donley; Lower McClellan Creek in Gray and Sweetwater Creek in Wheeler in the Red River Basin; J. B. Thomas in Borden in the Colorado River Basin; and White River in Crosby in the Brazos River Basin.

The Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congressional Districts must have an assured water supply to support their towns, cities and rural areas.

Be Prepared For Trouble On Trip

If you are planning a family vacation trip, stop and ask yourself what you would do if a medical emergency arose far from home.

For example, how would you get medical help if you became ill or were injured in an accident? Suppose your supply of needed medicines ran out or became lost or broken.

Anticipate such emergencies, says the Council on Family Health, and make proper preparations well in advance of the trip. The Council is a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry to promote home safety and family health.

Consult your own doctor about whom to contact if you become ill or injured away from home. If he cannot make a specific recommendation, you can contact the local hospital or medical society where you are visiting.

If the family is traveling in a foreign country and needs medical attention, obtain the name of a doctor from the hotel desk, the U. S. Embassy or Consulate, or a travel agency. If medication is prescribed, ask that the label direction be translated so that you fully understand the prescribed dosage and frequency.

Once you have decided where you are going, find out if certain special immunizations are required. Diseases that have been eliminated or controlled in the United States may still be fairly common in other parts of the world. Allow enough time in advance of your travels for all needed inoculations and booster shots.

Ask your doctor about taking a supply of essential medicines sufficient for the duration of the trip. For a prolonged journey he may suggest you take along typewritten prescriptions.

In packing medicines, put them into a carton or box separate from other items such as toiletries. Seal the tops of containers with transparent adhesive tape to prevent leakage. Wrap each container separately in sufficient layers to prevent breakage.

Keep your medicines in their original containers, and see that the labels are undamaged and easy to read. Do not mix several kinds of tablets or capsules in one container.

When traveling with the family by car, take a first aid kit along. And check it, before leaving on the rip, to make sure the kit is complete.

The Mariner 2 spacecraft sent data from the planet Venus across 36 million miles of space using only three watts of power — about the amount used for an ordinary flashlight bulb.

Ray Butler To Retire

AUSTIN (AP) — Capt. Ray Butler, 65, highway patrol commander in the Department of Public Safety's Midland District, will retire Sept. 1 after more than 38 years of service.

Butler, a native of Quinlan, joined the highway patrol in 1931.

Butler was promoted to captain in 1941 and is the department's senior Highway Patrol captain.

While serving as captain in San Angelo, Butler directed DPS activities following a devastating tornado which struck that city on May 11, 1953. He was transferred to Midland Sept. 1, 1957, when the DPS district officer for West Texas was moved to that city.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • •

Q — The exemption I claimed for my wife's sister is being disallowed. Is there anyone else at IRS I can talk to about this besides the agent that examined my return?

A — Notify the examiner that you do not agree with his disallowance of the exemption you claimed and request that a district conference be arranged. At this conference, your side of the story as well as the agent's will be reviewed on the basis of the facts and law involved.

If the tax in question does not exceed $2,500 for any year, no written protest is needed to obtain such a conference. The people who handle these conferences are specially trained and act independently of those examining your return. This helps assure an impartial review.

Q — I want to buy my son a shotgun so he can go hunting with me this fall. Is it against the law to give him the gun since he's 16?

A — Since your son is under 18, he is not old enough to buy a rifle or shotgun under the Federal gun statutes. However, you can buy the gun for him.

Q — When I sold my house I had to pay a penalty on my mortgage because it was paid off early. Is there any deduction for that?

A — The penalty for paying off a mortgage before the due date is considered on interest charge. Include it with your other interest payments if you itemize deductions.

Q — Why did you raise the rate on the highway use tax?

A — The rate on this tax has not been raised, it is still $3 per 1000 pounds for trucks with a taxable gross weight of over 26,000 pounds.

The weight schedule, however, was revised effective July 1, 1969 to reflect the fact that trucks are now larger and carry heavier loads than previously.

September 1 is the filing deadline for trucks being used on public highways during July. Form 2290 is used to file and pay the tax.

Q — I want to get rid of some old checks and bills. What ones should I keep for tax purposes?

A — Records that support items on an income tax return should be kept at least until the statute of limitations expires. Ordinarily this is 3 years from the date the return was due.

Other records such as those on property acquisitions, capital improvements and the like should be kept much longer. For example, if you sell a house you bought in the 1940's, you should have the records to establish what it cost when you acquired it, and the cost of any improvements you made.

Q — Where can I get forms and information on the Social Security tax on household help?

A — Contact your district IRS office and ask for Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Return for Household Employees.

Returns covering the second quarter (April, May, June) are due July 31.

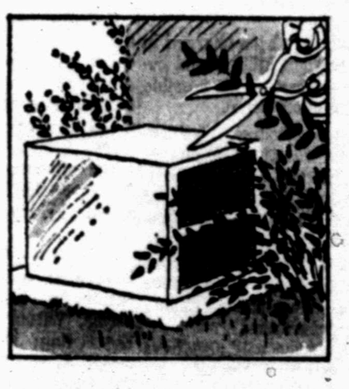
Suggestions to help you get more comfort from your air conditioning ...and save money

Check your thermostat setting

This can reduce your air conditioning costs substantially. Set the thermostat no lower than necessary for your comfort. The lower the temperature setting, the more electricity the unit uses.

Insure free air circulation

Keep weeds and shrubbery away from your outdoor unit, so that air circulation will be unimpeded. This will help maintain the efficiency of your unit and help reduce operating costs.



Keep filters clean

Clogged air filters restrict air flow, causing the unit to work harder and use more electricity. Clogged filters also cause the unit to "strain" which can result in breakdowns.

Shade your windows

Use blinds, shades or draw drapes to keep out direct sunlight and reduce the amount of heat entering your home. This lightens the load on your air conditioning and helps cut your operating costs.

Have your unit checked once a year

Like your car, your air conditioning unit will operate more efficiently and economically if it is properly maintained. Have it checked at least once a year by a qualified air conditioning serviceman.

Insulation helps cut cooling costs

Insulation is recommended, particularly in the ceiling. It keeps hot air out, cool air in. Insulation also keeps your home quieter and reduces the cost of winter heating as well as summer cooling.

Anti-Violence Commission Urges Domestic Arms Plan

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A domestic arms race has turned many homes into arsenals and created a situation so dangerous its elimination must be national policy, President Nixon has been told.

In a message that said 24 million pistols are now in private hands, the President's anti-violence commission called for the near-total removal of the concealable handgun from American life.

The President was urged to ask Congress for laws enabling states to license all owners of pistols, restricting their possession only to those who can prove they need them. Stiff penalties would be provided for illegal possession.

Under the plan, the federal government would move to license handgun owners if a state failed to act within four years after passage of the federal law. Licenses would be limited to police officers, security guards, small businesses in high crime areas and others with a special need for self-protection.

The federal government should earmark $500 million—about $20 a gun—to pay owners for the pistols turned in under the proposed law, the commission said.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, chairman of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, urged at a news conference the quick start of a federal crash program to develop an efficient nonlethal weapon to replace the pistol.

In its statement, the commission supported the essential findings of a staff report which said the quadrupling of handgun sales has edged the nation closer to mass violence.

"Civil disorders have stimulated gun buying and the growth of black and white extremist groups, leaving this country with a dangerous legacy: the highly explosive combination of fear and firearms," the staff report said.

The study report said most rightwing paramilitary groups have turned their attention from the fear of external Communist invasion to the fear of internal black maurauders. This has led to the proliferation of neighborhood protective associations, it said.

"Now arms are stockpiled in the home as well as in the hills," the staff report said.

The commission also noted 66 million rifles and shotguns are in private hands.

Four of the 13 commission members, two of them members of Congress, dissented from the majority view and said they believe states should be free to act—or not to act—as they choose in the gun-control field.

The American Rifle Association, which the commission singled out for a possible key role in a mass education program on the responsible use of firearms, disagreed with most of its conclusions and recommendations.

The commission said, however, "We can make substantial inroads on firearms violence without imposing major inconvenjences on hunters and skeet and trap shooters and without impeding other legitimate activities of millions of long gun owners."

Eisenhower pressed hard for development of a nondeadly weapon. 'You see," he said, "the importance of this is that an awful lot of people in this country are keeping handguns for self-defense.

"The gun is much more an incitement to murder than a protective device," he said.

His statement was echoed by the commission which indicated the belief that a gun in the home is a protection against intruders is a myth.

"The evidence is convincing," the commission said, "that the home robber most often has the advantage of surprise, and the armed segment of our population is paying a heavy price in accidents and in the shooting of family members, friends and acquaintances for whatever deterrent effect their possession of self-defense firearms may be providing."

Farm Economist Predicts Cost Of Beef To Drop

By DON ENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Nixon administration farm economist predicts consumers soon may be paying less for beef, but some industry spokesmen say the day of $1 per pound round steak is gone forever.

Dr. Don Paarlberg, chief economist for the Department of Agriculture, said he sees hope for a cooling of retail prices as the result of cattle prices dropping some from their early June peak which was an 18-year record.

"The price has come down at the farm level—and sometimes these things don't work as promptly as they should—but my anticipation would be that we'd see, and have seen, some reaction on the retail market," Paarlberg said in an interview.

Contrary forecasts came from an industry spokesman, declining to be identified, who said retailers will not drop prices significantly because of what he sees as small or short-term declines in live cattle prices.

"Really, I don't think anybody in this country can ever again expect to see $1 round steak again, and certainly not less than about $1.39 for sirloin," the industry man said.

Last December consumers paid an average of $1.20 a pound for choice sirloin steak. In June, after months of rising cattle prices, the same meat cost Mrs. Average Housewife $1.40.

Retail beef prices made their biggest jump during June when there was a 4.5 per cent gain in the cost of meats, poultry and fish. The government statistics showed a gain of six-tenths of one per cent in the cost of living during the month.

Why the big boost in beef prices?

Economists cite inflation and the rising demand among beef-hungry consumers who ate an average of 110-pounds per person last year, compared with 85 pounds in 1960.

Paarlberg discounts what some observers believe is the heart of the beef-price situation —the failure of cattlemen to turn out as much beef as needed.

A soon-to-be-published report is expected to show beef production for the first half of 1969 at or near the level of last year despite a larger population and demand.

"This has been a factor," Paarlberg said, "but it has not been a major factor. I think the major factor is the high purchasing power, the exhuberance of the economy, and the fact that a lot of people in the lower income brackets who haven't in the past been really part of the affluent society have experienced a considerable increase in income ... and they're now in the market to buy beef, which they formerly were not."

An industry spokesman said retailers had tried to hold the price line prior to the June hike but could not absorb higher costs any longer.

"All of a sudden the pressure got too great and they had to say 'Well, let's just find out how many people want to pay $1.79 for a sirloin steak'—and they sold it. So now they've got a whole new plateau."

Special Force Joins Manhunt

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A special task force of 25 detectives from five police agencies today mounted an intensified search for the killer or killers of seven young women slain over the past two years. Formation of the task force was the latest move in a manhunt which in recent days has included:

—An unsuccessful attempt to trap the killer of the latest victim by placing a department store dummy at the site where her body was found.

—Mounted posses scouring the woodlands around Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti in search of clues to the spot where the girl was killed.

—A computerized search for a mysterious young motorcyclist with whom the latest victim, Karen Sue Beineman, 18, an Eastern Michigan University freshman, was last seen.

Miss Beineman's nude and battered body was found Saturday night, more than three days after she disappeared.

She was the eighth young woman slain in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in the past two years and the seventh in a string of unsolved and possibly related killings.

A laborer has been charged in one of the eight killings and police have discounted his possible role in the other seven.

William F. Delhey, Washtenaw County prosecutor, in charge of coordinating the manhunt, said the task force consists of detectives from the police departments of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Eastern Michigan University, the Michigan State Police and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's department.

The detectives will also have 25 administrative workers assigned to help them.

Delhey said an attempt to trap Miss Beineman's killer Saturday by placing a department store mannequin where her body was found had been unsuccessful.

Police did not immediately announce the finding of the body and replaced it with the dummy in the hopes that the killer would return to the scene, he said.

Delhey said a man was seen walking along the road after midnight and was ordered to halt by police who had the site staked out.

"The guy was told to stop and instead ran," said Delhey. "As far as I know the guy did not actually lay eyes on it (the dummy)."

Delhey said it was possible the man was just a stroller who did not realize his challengers were police, since the officers were plainclothesmen in unmarked cars.

Using a computer printout of all the motorcycles registered at Eastern Michigan University, police checked off all that did not match the description of the one on which Miss Beineman was last seen.

"A few were left that matched," said a university spokesman. "They were checked out and cleared."

Burtons To Aid Polio Victim

LONDON (AP) — A crippled polio victim who is walking the length of Britain on crutches for charity will be met at the end of his walk next month by film star Elizabeth Taylor and her once-crippled adopted daughter, Maria, 9.

The actress and her husband, Richard Burton, decided to give 21-year-old David Rider some practical encouragement after reading he was disheartened at the lack of public interest in his venture.

David set out from John O'Groats, the northerly tip of Scotland, 39 days ago to walk the 900 miles to Lands End, the southwesterly tip of England.

Sponsors gave him $240 and he put in $480 of his own savings.

Now the Burtons have offered to pay all his expenses.

Widow Continues Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A pretty blonde mother of six children begins a fight today against what she calls her husbands killer—cigarettes.

She's Peggy Talman, 40, widow of William Talman who played the always defeated district attorney on the Perry Mason television show. Talman died of lung cancer this year.

"Since his death, the children and I have carried on his fight in any way we can," says Mrs. Talman.

Today she flies to Sacramento to urge passage of a pending bill outawing cigarette advertising in California. She wants to visit each member of the Assembly Committee on Commerce and Public Utilities, now considering the bill.

"I'm really an amateur at this," says Mrs. Talman. "I hope that I won't do or say the wrong thing." If she succeeds, she'll go to Washington to urge similar national legislation—if she can get a baby sitter. The Talman children range in age from 3 to 21.
