Report Says Whole Village
Died in Battle
1000 CASUALTIES
Details of Battle on Mount Bajo Near Jolo, P. I., Still Difficult to Obtain

By Associated Press.
MANILA, March 10.—Brigadier General Bliss made a reconnaissance toward Mount Bajo during the week previous to the attack of the American force upon the Moro stronghold there, but it had no effect on the hostile attitude of the outlaws. An official report says the families of the Moros remained in a village located in the center of the crater at the apex of the mountain and women and children mingled with the warriors during the battle to such an extent that it was impossible to discriminate and all were killed in the fierce onslaught. The major general is not available at present to confirm this report. Constabulary detachments are now engaged in the mountains of Northern Luzon, rounding up bands of savages and head hunters who are on the war path.

COFFEE TRUST PLANNED

Brazilians Said to Have Scheme for Raising Price
Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, March 10.—Word has reached the coffee exchange of a plan under way in Brazil to boost the price of coffee by what will be in effect the combining of the market by the Brazilian government.
Brokers were not sufficiently impressed with the imminence of the project to have it to the foreign market, but if it goes through the price of Brazilian coffee, which makes up four-fifths of the total importation, will, brokers say, rise sharply.
Overproduction has played havoc with the prosperity of Brazilian coffee growers for years and various schemes have been devised to raise prices, but none has ever been successfully carried through. The newest idea, which has been formulated by the government of the three coffee-growing states of Brazil, is to form a subsidized syndicate to buy all the coffee offered at a minimum price, which will be about 3 cents above the present market.
As the season's crop grows scarce, by reason of the syndicate's purchases, it is figured that the foreign demand will send the price for the rest of the crop up to the syndicate's minimum price and perhaps beyond. None of the syndicate's coffee will be allowed to go into the market below a price that will give a 10 per cent profit.
The purchasing syndicate, according to the story, is to be formed by the governments of the three coffee-producing states and will be financed by an issue of $50,000,000 of sterling bonds endorsed by the federal government. While the plan has not yet been approved by the Brazilian legislature, it is said that the foreign demand has been promised by European bankers. The syndicate expects to get its money back by charging an additional price of 50 cents a bag on coffee.

ISLE OF PINES CASE

Agreement for Representation Reached in Treaty
Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Senators Spooner and Bacon have reached an agreement covering an amendment to the Isle of Pines treaty, which is intended to protect American interests. It provides that the island shall be regarded as a separate province within the meaning of the Cuban constitution. This would give to the island local self-government and a representative in the Cuban congress when the population of the island warrants such representation.
As the Americans are in the majority on the island, it is understood the proposed amendment will be satisfactory to them. It will be first in the senate when the treaty is taken up in executive session.

CONSULAR REFORM

DELEGATES MANY

National Convention to Meet
Beginning Tuesday

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 10.—The call for a national consular reform convention to be held in Washington beginning Tuesday next, has met with favorable responses from more than 50 of the more prominent commercial bodies of the country, according to Secretary Frank S. Gardner of this city. Former Assistant Secretary of State Francis B. Loomis will be a delegate from the Cincinnati chamber of commerce, and will, it is said, advocate several changes. The various organizations intending to participate are requested to formulate and forward such specific propositions and suggestions relating to consular reform as are deemed important for the program of the convention, with the names of delegates desiring to make addresses, to Frank S. Gardner, secretary, 203 Broadway. When it is ascertained how many dissenting propositions have been presented the program will be arranged as far as practicable to accommodate all intending speakers within the time which can be reasonably assigned in advance to set addresses, leaving necessary time for general debate.

Denison Police Hot on Trail of School Teacher's Assassin
Special to The Telegram.
DENISON, Texas, March 10.—Some slight developments have taken place in the bold hold-up of Miss Winifred Doyle, the school teacher who was chloroformed and robbed Monday evening in a block from the main business street.
It has been learned that Mrs. J. J. Crofton, en route to Lenton services, saw a man run from the corner where the deed was committed, and that the man followed Mrs. Crofton some distance. At this time she was able to obtain a good idea of his appearance, which tallies with that which Miss Doyle gives of her assailant. Officers are still working diligently on the case.

TUCSON REJOICES

Defeat of Joint Statehood Learned With Great Enthusiasm
By Associated Press.
TUCSON, Ariz., May 10.—When news of the defeat of the joint statehood first arrived here whistles were blown, anvils and fire crackers exploded and crowds cheered on the streets. A procession, headed by Mayor Manning, paraded the streets for three hours. Riflemen fired blank cartridges in steady volleys from wagons as the procession progressed to the accompaniment of red lights, cheers, illuminated homes, ringing bells and the blowing of sirens.

FICKINGER IS OUT OF FRISCO

Vice President in Texas Resigns His Office

DAVIDSON IS HERE

President of System Arrives in Fort Worth—W. M. Drake to Be Elected

H. M. Fickinger, vice president and general superintendent of the Frisco, with headquarters in this city, has resigned.
W. B. Drake, formerly assistant to the general manager of the Frisco at St. Louis, will be elected to succeed Mr. Fickinger at Fort Worth.
The resignation of Mr. Fickinger will become effective immediately upon its acceptance and Mr. Drake is expected to arrive here to assume the duties of his position Saturday night or Sunday. Mr. Drake has been assistant to the general manager of the Frisco at St. Louis for a number of years. The resignation of Mr. Fickinger has not yet been announced.

DAVIDSON HERE

The election will only be a matter of form as the resignation of Mr. Fickinger has already been tendered to President A. J. Davidson, who is now in the city to attend the meeting of the directors of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande railroad, and his successor has been decided upon.
The resignation of Mr. Fickinger came as quite a surprise to the local railroad men. Mr. Fickinger has been with the Frisco system for twelve years. He has held the position of vice president and general superintendent of the St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas and the Fort Worth and Rio Grande railways with headquarters at Fort Worth, since November, 1903. Prior to that time he had been in the employ of the Frisco at Memphis, having held the office of division superintendent of the Kansas City and Fort Scott railroad, with headquarters at Memphis, for eight years prior to his promotion to the office of vice president and general superintendent at Fort Worth. The Kansas City and Fort Scott road is a branch of the Frisco.
Before coming to Memphis, Tenn., Mr. Fickinger had served in various capacities with the Colorado and Southern railroad. He has had a long experience in the railroad business and during the last few years has held high executive positions.

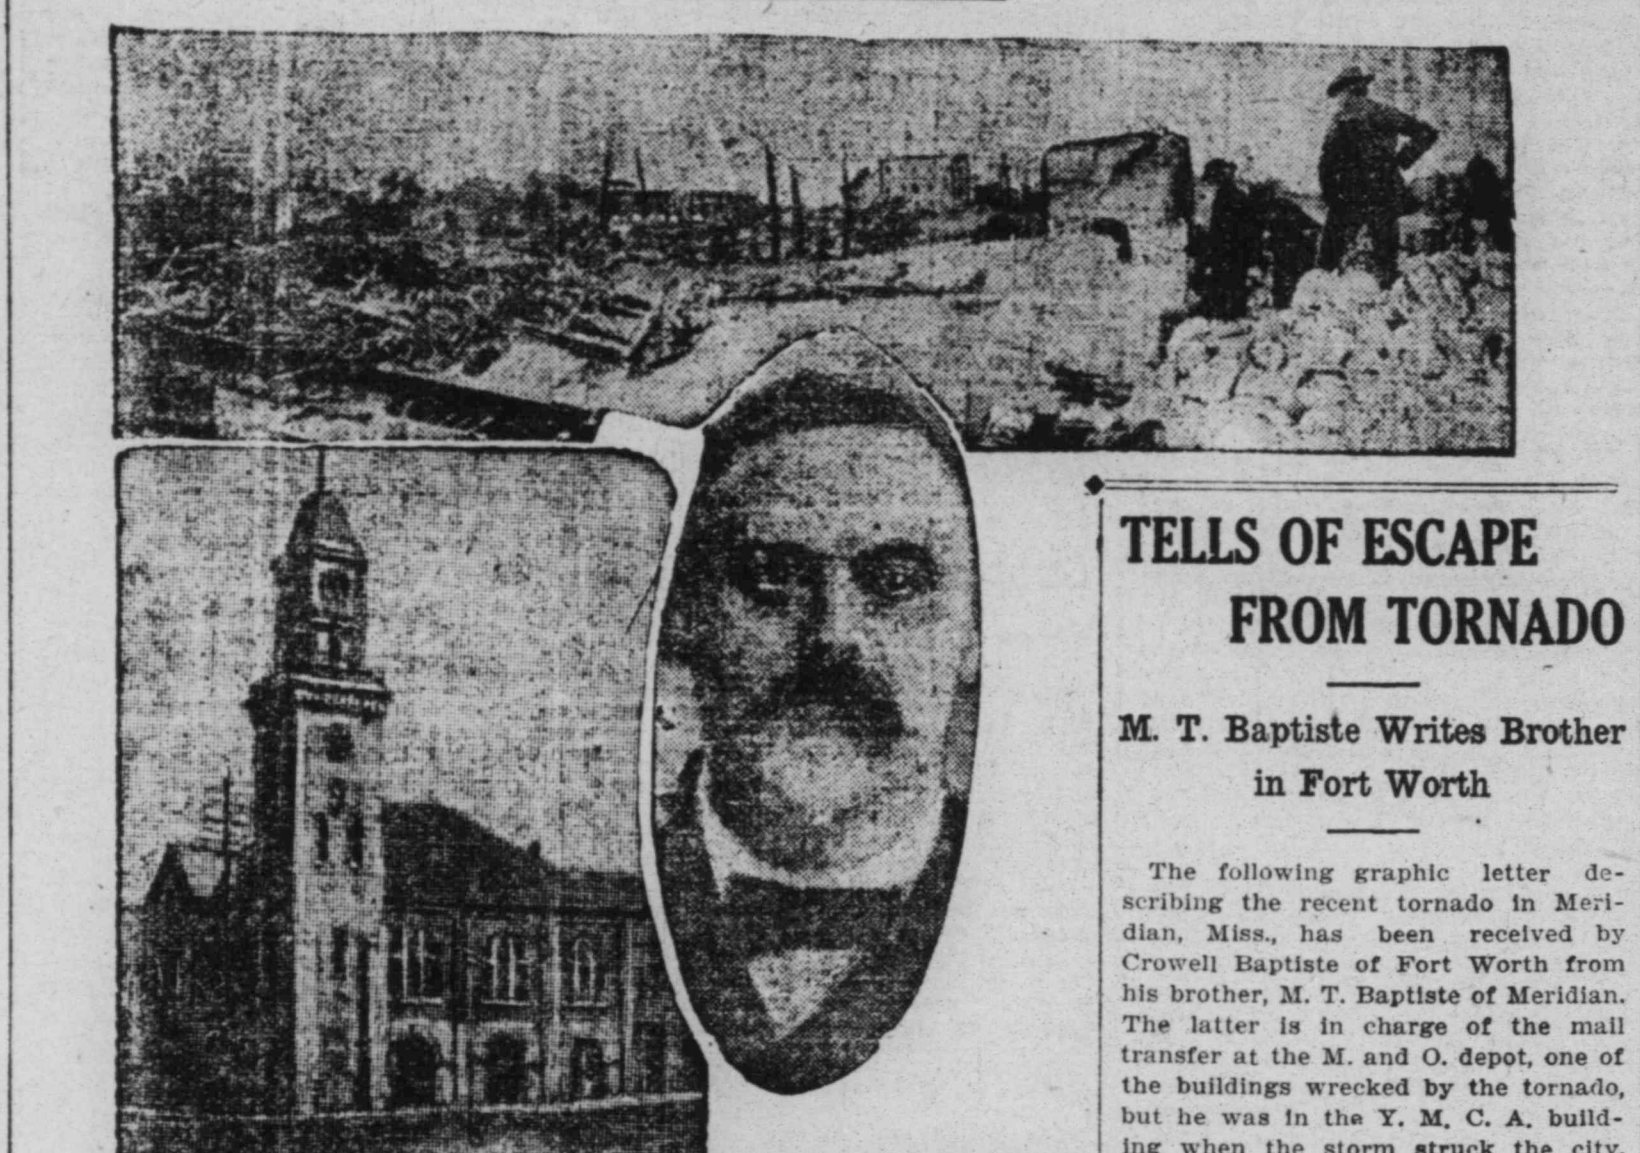

AUTO THIEVES CAUGHT

Lads Taken in Act of Taking Machine From Winter Garage
By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 10.—Three boys who were about to start for the west in a stolen automobile were arrested in a storage garage last night on information furnished by a woman who had seen them enter through a window several times. Two detectives went to the place and concealed themselves. They had selected a large touring car and provisioned it for a long journey, even putting in an extra set of tires. They planned to start last night and had the car away the machine would not have been missed until spring.

SENTENCE PRONOUNCED

Convicted Men Appeal to Supreme Court in Missouri Mutiny Case
By Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 10.—The condemned convicts, Harry Vaughan, George Ryan and Edward Raymond, were found guilty of having murdered Prison Guard John Clay, in the prison mutiny of Nov. 24, last, and sentenced in the circuit court here this morning by Judge Martin to be hanged on April 20. The judge overruled a motion for a new trial and then passed death sentences on the defendants. Appeals were then granted to the supreme court.

SAYS HOADLEY SOLD TO ALLIES

Interesting Story Now Going Rounds of Cotton Trade

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, March 10.—In connection with the bull campaign in cotton, which began last December, in which Joseph H. Hoadley and members of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association appeared prominently as the leaders, an interesting story is now going the rounds in the cotton trade. As the story is told, it appears that Mr. Hoadley, the cotton bull, sold most of his cotton to the members of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, while both were ostensibly working in harmony for higher prices.
Mr. Hoadley, who became a prominent figure in cotton speculation, was generally supposed to have accumulated a large line of cotton early last fall. A great bull movement was planned, and the assistance of the southern association of planters was obtained. The pledge was made that cotton would be held by the planters of the south until 15 cents a pound was obtained.
In the meantime there has been a steady decline in the price of cotton. Since the last of December there has been a decline of 2 cents a pound, or more than 200 points. The mysterious selling created no end of comment in view of the repeated assertions of the planters that the cotton would be held until 15 cents a pound. Later the limit was reduced to 13 cents.
According to the report current in cotton circles yesterday, the bulk of Mr. Hoadley's cotton was sold early in the present year when vigorous efforts were being made to conduct a bull movement against the shorts. Mr. Hoadley recently told his friends that he was out of the cotton market.

Interstate Commission to Probe Coal and Oil Rates

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 10.—In compliance with the joint resolution of congress, approved March 7, 1906, in the matter of the relation of common carriers to coal and oil and the transportation of same, the interstate commerce commission directed that proceedings in inquiry and investigation be instituted at once, and such proceedings be held at place and such persons as time required to appear and testify or produce books, documents and papers as the commission may hereafter direct. Further inquiry will be carried on in the meantime by such other means and methods as may be deemed appropriate.

TELLS OF ESCAPE FROM TORNADO

M. T. Baptiste Writes Brother in Fort Worth

The following graphic letter describing the recent tornado in Meridian, Miss., has been received by Crowell Baptiste of Fort Worth from his brother, M. T. Baptiste of Meridian. The latter is in charge of the mail transfer at the M. and O. depot, one of the buildings wrecked by the tornado, but he was in the Y. M. C. A. building when the storm struck the city. His letter is as follows:
Meridian, Miss., March 6, 1906.
Dear Crowell:
Your note came yesterday. I have just about recovered from the terrible ordeal of Friday night. Try as hard as I could, I was unable to throw off the awful impressions it made upon me. I was in the second story of the Y. M. C. A. building, had just gone up to avoid, I thought, a deluge of rain, and thought I would read awhile and go later to Lenton service. I entered the reading room and immediately the gas light began to flicker as though the pipes had water in them. I remarked it to a gentleman who sat reading and before he made any reply, out went the lights. The electric lights were burning in the office room adjoining, so I made my way in that direction, not contemplating any danger. I scarcely had entered the room when I heard the awful noise of the roaring without, then a mighty crash seemed to shake the foundation of the earth. Through the office I was making my way down the stairs, thinking I would take refuge in another room. The stairs descend from the back wall. As I reached the stairs the entire back wall was swept away from the third story to the ground, and I reached the exit door just as the entire third story came crashing to the street. The electricity was so intense I could see for several blocks and the heavens seemed a mass of debris. Building after building was crushed and twisted to the earth and all the wreck and destruction were over. I never felt more composed in my life, and I know not why. For it was an experience that would ordinarily shake the most stubborn nerves. A minute's calm and then the streets began to fill with people, wild and frantic. It was as dark as midnight. Cries of help soon rent the air. I held my moorings for I thought of the death dealing electric wires which had formed a complete network of the streets. A few minutes' rest was found in another calamity to add horror and distress. Fire! Yet it proved a blessing for it provided light for the rescuers to make their way to places where the cries of help attracted them. With the aid of the fire light I crept my way through the narrow passages of the street that were left open and soon found myself in the Grand Avenue hotel just diagonally across the street on the corner, but the corner had taken its flight with the elements. People were frantic. More like wild beasts than human. But it took only a few moments for them to realize that they were spared their lives and the task of rescuing less fortunate ones was upon them. All kinds of rumors flew as rapidly as the wind that had brought so much distress. It was not long, however, until those who had escaped the storm's fury began pouring in upon the scene. They were more calm and went to work as men do, to rescue their dying fellow creatures. Their work began to show in a few minutes, as stricken and dying men were being carried through the wreckage to places of refuge. Of the total death list one-third were killed within fifty yards of my perilous position. It would fill a large volume to tell the many freakish pranks of the storm and the thrilling escapes of hundreds who were in the midst of its destruction. The course of the storm was almost a perfect crescent, circumferencing one-half the town, following the suburban quarter along the line of the railroads, covering a distance of nearly two miles. The business district on the south side of Front street is completely wrecked. Then it jumped to the north side of the street and for several blocks leveled every house, mostly negro quarters. It crossed

ROOSEVELT TO ARCH-DEACON

Says He Was Misrepresented in Statistical Quotation

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 10.—Archdeacon J. Townsend Russell of Brooklyn made a speech at the dinner of the Hamilton Club on Feb. 19 last on the subject of how best to extend the activities of the Protestant Episcopal church in Brooklyn, says a morning paper. In speaking of the great number of people in Brooklyn, who not connected with any religious body, the archdeacon had something to say about Jews. He was quoted to this effect:
"They should be converted by us for our own protection. President Roosevelt, before he took up the matter of trying to ameliorate the conditions of the suffering Jews in Russia, looked up some statistics and found that 82 per cent of the prisoners in the penitentiaries for crimes against morality were Jews and that of seventy-two pickpockets, sixty-five were Hebrews."
The archdeacon's remarks as quoted came to President Roosevelt's attention a few days after and he wrote to Archdeacon Russell, asking him if he had made the statements attributed to him.
The archdeacon wrote back promptly and said that he had been misquoted, but that he had said something to this effect:
"It is reported that certain facts are in the possession of President Roosevelt, and then went on to give the facts as he had got them.
The President in Reply
Then the President sent this letter to the archdeacon:
"My Dear Mr. Russell: I have your letter of the 24th inst. I am sorry to say that it is not merely the case of your reference to me being misinterpreted, for it was in itself a misrepresentation. You stated that 'it is reported' that I have found 'that 82 per cent of criminals against morality and property are Jews,' but I never made any such investigation and never made any such statement. I should be obliged if you would tell me who made any such report."
"Meanwhile I do not know that there is anything you can do to correct the misrepresentation to which you give currency, save if the opportunity arises by stating that I never made such investigation or never made such statement as you allege. Sincerely yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."
"I have no desire to get into a controversy with the President of more currency, save if the opportunity arises by stating that I never made such investigation or never made such statement as you allege. Sincerely yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."
"I have no desire to get into a controversy with the President of more currency, save if the opportunity arises by stating that I never made such investigation or never made such statement as you allege. Sincerely yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Capping of Caney's Burning Well Seems Impossible
By Associated Press.
CANEY, Kan., March 10.—The attempt to cap the great well near Caney, which has been burning thousands of feet of gas daily since Feb. 23, was made yesterday and failed. When the immense steel hood run up to within twenty-five feet of the well, the truck carrying the crane needed to raise the hood left the rails. About the same time the steam pump used to force water on the men while they work, broke down. So intense was the heat near the crack, that men could not approach close enough to raise it.

The Webb prize of $500 was awarded to Edward W. Redfield for his painting, "The Delaware River."
Lydia Field Emmett won the John A. Shaw memorial prize of $300 with her painting, "Boy in White."

Part Relating to Arizona and New Mexico Stricken Out
FORAKER WINS
Amendment Leaving the Joint Statehood Question to Popular Vote Carried
Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—By a majority of thirteen the senate yesterday afternoon adopted the Foraker amendment to the statehood bill. Afterward, by a majority of one, it adopted an amendment offered by Senator Burrows, striking out all that part of the bill relating to Arizona and New Mexico. Then it passed the bill and thus consummated the discomfiture of Senator Beveridge and the administration.
This vote, taken only a few minutes before 6 o'clock, was the climax of a notable day in the senate. It began one hour earlier than the usual time of convening, to enable Mr. Beveridge to finish the speech that he had begun yesterday. After he had concluded the debate continued until 4 o'clock upon the ten-minute rule. A number of the best debaters in the senate took advantage of the opportunity, and the crowd which, beginning to gather at noon, began to fill the galleries until every foot of standing room was occupied, was repaid by such forensic displays and scenes of animation as do not often occur in the senate.
The Dubois amendment forbidding any Mormon from voting or holding office in either state was adopted without objection.
The Foraker amendment striking out all provisions of the bill relating to New Mexico and Arizona was defeated by a vote of 36 to 35.
A motion by letter allowing Oklahoma to select its own capital instead of fixing it at Guthrie until 1915 was adopted by a vote of 39 to 31.

LAW IS HELD GOOD
Railroads Will Now Seek Permanent Injunction and if Refused Will Appeal
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, March 10.—District Judge Brooks this morning refused the application on the part of the railroads for a temporary restraining order against the collection of the taxes under the provisions of the Williams intangible tax law.
The roads will now proceed to file suits for a permanent injunction and, when this is denied, they will appeal at once.
The court holds the law to be good all the way through, and denies the application, based principally on this part of his holding:
"I do not think it could be properly held that the law is void because it provides that the secretary of state and the state comptroller shall be members of the state tax board, even if it were true that such board was vested with legal power to assess property taxation. But, I am further of the opinion that the state tax board is not vested by the terms of the statute with the power to assess any property for the purpose of taxation, and that its functions are limited to collecting and distributing information to local tax assessors, who alone under the constitution can be legally vested with power to assess property for taxation."
Other grounds raised by the complainants are dismissed with equal force.

Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—By a majority of thirteen the senate yesterday afternoon adopted the Foraker amendment to the statehood bill. Afterward, by a majority of one, it adopted an amendment offered by Senator Burrows, striking out all that part of the bill relating to Arizona and New Mexico. Then it passed the bill and thus consummated the discomfiture of Senator Beveridge and the administration.
This vote, taken only a few minutes before 6 o'clock, was the climax of a notable day in the senate. It began one hour earlier than the usual time of convening, to enable Mr. Beveridge to finish the speech that he had begun yesterday. After he had concluded the debate continued until 4 o'clock upon the ten-minute rule. A number of the best debaters in the senate took advantage of the opportunity, and the crowd which, beginning to gather at noon, began to fill the galleries until every foot of standing room was occupied, was repaid by such forensic displays and scenes of animation as do not often occur in the senate.
The Dubois amendment forbidding any Mormon from voting or holding office in either state was adopted without objection.
The Foraker amendment striking out all provisions of the bill relating to New Mexico and Arizona was defeated by a vote of 36 to 35.
A motion by letter allowing Oklahoma to select its own capital instead of fixing it at Guthrie until 1915 was adopted by a vote of 39 to 31.

TELLS OF ESCAPE FROM TORNADO

M. T. Baptiste Writes Brother in Fort Worth
The following graphic letter describing the recent tornado in Meridian, Miss., has been received by Crowell Baptiste of Fort Worth from his brother, M. T. Baptiste of Meridian. The latter is in charge of the mail transfer at the M. and O. depot, one of the buildings wrecked by the tornado, but he was in the Y. M. C. A. building when the storm struck the city. His letter is as follows:
Meridian, Miss., March 6, 1906.
Dear Crowell:
Your note came yesterday. I have just about recovered from the terrible ordeal of Friday night. Try as hard as I could, I was unable to throw off the awful impressions it made upon me. I was in the second story of the Y. M. C. A. building, had just gone up to avoid, I thought, a deluge of rain, and thought I would read awhile and go later to Lenton service. I entered the reading room and immediately the gas light began to flicker as

AT THE MAJESTIC

Tonight at the Majestic theater
Jane Courthope and company appear in a strong double bill, including their new play, "It Might Have Been," and their former Majestic success, "A Fisherman's Luck." The remainder of this fine bill, one of the best that has been presented this season, includes the Swo Brothers, Le Mont's educated Australian cockatoos, Meyers and Rosa, the sensational disc twirlers;
the Brothers Damm, strong men; Herbert Mitchell, the story teller, and songster, and the remarkable series of Majestic pictures with sound effects, entitled, "The Train Wreckers."

Next week the bill will contain the Bellevue Brothers, modern Hercules;
Paulo and Marlow in "A French Frappe"; Dixon and Fields, the Roger Brothers of vaudeville; Simmons and Harris, in their black face comedy, "Get Into the Band Wagon"; Arlington and Helston, the soft shoe dancers, and Lavinia De Witt, the world's greatest woman cornetist. The Majestic will continue to show its fine series of pictures with sound effects.

BROWNS PLAY TODAY

Second Game Between St. Louis and Panthers Scheduled

The second game with the St. Louis Browns will be played at Haines park at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The line-up of the St. Louis team will be about the same as last Sunday, although there will be several new players. The Browns will arrive this morning from Dallas for the game.

The line-ups will be as follows:
Port Worth—Dupree, Slack and Wicker, pitchers; Ervin, catcher; Salm, first base; Whiteman, second base; Boles, short stop; Carlson, third base; Cavender, left field; Murphy, center field; Johnson, right field.
St. Louis—Jacobson or Swalm, pitcher; Spencer, catcher; Jones, first base; Kochler, second base; Petty, short stop; Howell, third base; Glade, left field; Cook, center field; Powell, right field.

Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak—the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs
the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease.
Nerve energy must be restored.
Dr. Miles' Nerve will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

"Several years ago I was all broken down. I was nervous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain.
I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began to feel better when I began to use Dr. Miles' Nerve. I bought a bottle, and used it eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now I feel like a new man."
H. C. CUNNINGHAM,
108 Ellsworth Ave., Allegheny, Pa.

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit it. If it fails, he will refund your money.

BUILDING READY FOR FOOD SHOW

Booths to Be Erected During Coming Week

MANY SPACES SECURED

Exhibition Opening March 19 Will Have Displays Covering Country.
Good Entertainment Features

Placing of booths for the Pure Food Show will begin at the building, Third and Throckmorton streets, Monday, and it is expected that all will be ready for the opening of the event by the end of the week, though official opening will not take place until March 19. The show will remain open until the close of the month.

Although a large number of exhibitors has already secured space, it is announced that there will be room for a few more. This space, however, is expected to be taken early in the week.

In addition to the pure food display proper, there will be interesting entertainment features in connection with the affair. The committee having negotiated now under way for suitable attractions.

List of Exhibitors
Partial list of exhibitors has already been issued, including: Gleason Grape Juice Company, Fredonia, N. Y.; The Freckleator Company, Dallas; the
Dr. Pepper Company, Dallas; Kuhlen
& Taylor, Dallas; A. E. W. and Co., Dallas; Swift & Co., Armour & Co.,
the Ratiff Chilli Manufacturing Company, the Farish broom factory, Heinz Pickling Company, Pittsburgh; Medlin Milling Company, Chase & Sanborn, Chicago; Gail Borden Condensed Milk Company, New York; Anchor Milling Company, National Coffee Company,
McCord-Collins Company, Franklin &
McVeigh, Chicago; the Burrus Milling Company, Carter-Hunt Grocers, Company, Fort Worth; Macaroni Company, J. A. Folger Coffee Company, San Francisco; Waples-Platter Grocer
Company and King Candy Company.

The list of booths already engaged shows that the exhibit will be national in character, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and also across the United States from the great lakes to the gulf.

TICKET BROKER SELLS STAND

First Case Called in Corporation Court

When the case of William Griswold, charged with violating the new ordinance regulating ticket brokerage, was called in the corporation court Saturday morning, the complaining officer announced that Mr. Griswold has sold out his business and quit, and under the circumstances the case was dismissed.

Mr. Griswold was one of the oldest ticket brokers in Fort Worth, having been engaged in the business over a quarter of a century. He stated in an interview in The Telegram on the day following the passing of the ordinance that it would be the deathblow to the ticket brokerage business in Fort Worth unless the ordinance was proven unconstitutional, as it would be impossible for ticket brokers to comply with its terms and continue to prosecute their business profitably.

The remaining seven cases were passed until March 14, to give the attorneys an opportunity to prepare for the trial. As has been mentioned in The Telegram, the counsel for the brokers has announced a determination of carrying the cases up to the supreme court if necessary and the fight will be made upon the constitutionality of the ordinance.

PANHANDLE BOOMING

Conditions Said to Be Better Than Ever in History

R. M. Warden, chief field deputy for United States Marshal Rogers, was in "Panhandle Saturday" from the Panhandle to his Dallas headquarters.
The Panhandle is in fine condition,"
he said, "and the conditions are good.
Farming operations are well advanced and are being extended and people are flocking in from the old states, bringing land and opening up new farms. I lived in Potter county for a number of years, but never in my life have I seen the Panhandle look better than it now does. That is the coming great section of Texas."

LEE CAMP PROGRAM

Exercises at Confederate Meeting Sunday Announced

The program for Sunday afternoon at United Confederate Veterans hall, at 3 o'clock, is as follows: Instrumental solo, Miss Charlotte Gregg; vocal solo, Mrs. Nettie E. Groom; reading, Miss Mattie Shaw; pantomime, Little Miss Jean Willis; reminiscence, veteran instrumental duet, Misses Ina and Marguerite Moodie.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

H. W. Wade of Hunt county, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, who spoke to a small crowd at the court house in Fort Worth last week, is not unknown in politics, though he has not figured prominently for a long time. In the 70s he was well known and prominent in the eastern part of the state and in 1875 was elected to the constitutional convention as a delegate from Hunt and Hopkins counties, defeating
R. M. Henderson of Hopkins county
by a large majority.

While he is running as a democrat,
he has embodied in his platform planks that are not in recent democratic platforms. He is in favor of a state insurance bureau in Texas that will issue in the name of the state policies of insurance; opposes trusts and combines and is also opposed to any saloon houses being issued in Texas. The liquor traffic being confined to cities of 10,000 population or over and to be conducted there under dispensary system similar to that in South Carolina. He favors an income tax, a franchise tax on corporations,

a larger school fund, better school teachers and better pay for them. Mr.
Wade says he will make a thorough canvass of the state.

C. D. Vasse, a retired merchant and capitalist of Huntsville, Randolph county, Missouri, is in Fort Worth on a pleasure trip. He states that the homesteaders' party, which is being sponsored by the board of Tarrant county to Texas are loaded down with their people coming out this way, but that there are also people constantly coming into Missouri from points further east and that the land values in his section of the state are rapidly increasing. "Land which could be bought for $25 per acre three years ago in Randolph county now sells for $50 per acre," stated Mr. Vasse. "It is well worth the trip to see the things we can raise corn, wheat, hogs and other products which make our farmers very independent. Our farmers are on their farms and are raising fine farm houses. Here I find that a great many of your farm owners live in the towns, as they do in California."

Mr. Vasse says that he has been intending to come to Texas all winter but had been waiting for it to get cold at home. "It has not gotten cold there yet," said Mr. Vasse, "but it is very muddy and I decided to come down and get out of the mud." Mr.
Vasse has noted the rapid growth of Fort Worth and in doing so he recalls
a remark he heard twenty-five years ago back in Missouri. This was made by Judge Hall of the circuit court, who said, "It looks to me as if Fort Worth will be a great city some day."
That was a long time ago, but the prediction of the judge is evidently coming true.

A. S. Lacy of the Green River Distilling Company of Owensboro, Ky., states that there are very few barrels of whisky in the United States which are as old as sixteen years. "The whisky made by the government at Santiam," stated Mr. Lacy, "show that whisky is as good when it is eight years old as it will ever get, and after that it ceases to be of any value. It is that it will deteriorate if it is not very carefully stored, instead of improve with greater age. The labels showing the age of the whisky are from very misleading, a great deal of whisky being labeled fourteen years old when it is really only about fourteen months old."

"The pure food law will bring about a great change in the whisky business," stated Mr. Lacy. "Under the provisions of the Hourm bill it will be necessary to label whisky, telling its age truthfully and also other matters concerning its manufacture, which will be of great benefit to the public. It will do away with the false labels and also cause the inferior and injurious goods to be banished in a great measure."

Captain Will Scott, at one time in command of a company of Texas rangers and who was desperately wounded in a fight with outlaws in east Texas in the 80s, was in Fort Worth Saturday morning, en route from Mineral Wells, where he is now located en route to San Antonio.

"Mineral Wells is improving more rapidly than any town of its size in Texas," he said, "and it is just now at the beginning of its coming greatness. Property is rapidly advancing and investors are flocking in from all quarters. I believe it is a conservative estimate to claim for Mineral Wells in five years a 20,000 population.
Over 100 residences are now being erected in the town, and whole blocks of brick business houses are going up on different streets."

E. J. Mumford of Midland, Texas, is a guest at the Hotel Worth. They are needed rain here and Midland now," said Mr. Mumford, "but if we can get rain in twenty days conditions will be all right in that section. The winter has been very mild and the cattle are in good condition, and I think that the spring movement this year will equal that of last year. The movement then will be very large. I expect to see a number of cattle in good condition and the same conditions will exist again this year. We have a little rain soon.
I see there was rain at Sweetwater and Big Springs Friday, but it did not get as far west as Midland."

"Midland was formerly called Midway, it being 308 miles west of Fort Worth and about midway between this city and El Paso."

SCHOOL TRUSTEE TERMS ENDING Four to Be Named by Coun- cil in April

There will be four vacancies in the city school board in April, terms of four of the six members expiring at that time. The successors to the present members will be chosen by the incoming city council.

Of the six members of the board,
William Capps and W. G. Newby are the only holdover members, the terms of the other four expiring this year.
Of these R. C. Armstrong cannot be re-elected, as he is democratic nominee for Tarrant county. The other three members of the board whose terms expire are K. M. Van Zandt, E. H. Sterling and Dr. F. D. Thompson.

One of these may be elected to succeed themselves by the meeting of the city council when the trustees are chosen. So far there has been no mention for the board outside of the present members. William Capps is chairman of the board for the year 1905-1906.

By Associated Press.

LAHORE, India, March 10.—An alarming earthquake occurred at Bashahr, one of the Simla tributary hill states of India. Considerable damage has been caused at Rama Pur,
the capital of Bashahr, and at Kakool.
Eight persons known to have been killed and twenty-six injured.

MANY ATTEND SCHOOL OPENING

Other Buildings Are Declared

Fully 300 people attended the opening of the De Zavala school in the Eighth ward Friday afternoon; those attending were nearly all women, mothers and relatives of the children attending the school.

Principal J. J. McGhee, Mayor T.
J. Powell, Clarence Outley, F. E. Dy-cus, Rev. R. C. Armstrong and Alexander Hogg, superintendent of schools, were the speakers. Praise was given many of the teachers, besides the getting in the new building, including
J. F. Zurn, alderman of the ward.

The high school orchestra, composed of students who have been organized and instructed by J. E. Gulsinger, furnished music for the occasion and proved to be the most pleasing feature of the program. Because there was no room large enough to accommodate all who attended and the music was the only thing on the program, besides the speeches, the speaker had to be heard by all.

After the exercises were over the visitors were shown all over the building, including the basement. The teachers were in their respective rooms.

In the basement are two sections, separate and distinct, one for the boys and one for the girls. Each section has two large lunch rooms, a hall, bathrooms and a kitchen. The building is a fine feature of the Eighth ward school that will not be found

PEEPERS FOUND AT RESIDENCE

Twice Discovered at the Matlock Home

Two peepers were discovered at the windows of the residence of Avery L. Matlock, 211 West Railroad avenue, Friday night. Mrs. Hirschfield, who resides near Mr. Matlock, saw two men looking into the windows of his residence and she telephoned to the police station and notified the officers. Captain Blanton and Officer McGlothlin responded to the call, but before their arrival Mrs. Hirschfield went to the Matlock residence and notified Mr. Matlock of her discovery. As his pistol was unloaded, Mr. Matlock lost some time getting it in shape and when he did get after the prowlers they had taken the alarm. One of them ran through an alley in one direction and the other took the opposite course. When the officers arrived they made a careful search of the neighborhood, but did not succeed in locating the men wanted. This is the second time recently that a man has been discovered on the premises of Mr. Matlock. Only a short time ago a man was seen at the window, and discovering that he was observed, he dropped to the ground and disappeared.

EIGHT CYCLONES KILL 215 PEOPLE

Windstorms Frequent in Past Twelve Months

In connection with the recent destructive cyclone at Meridian, Miss., it is strange to note the frequent recurrence of these death-dealing freaks of nature. Following is a list of the principal fatal tornadoes in the United States during the past year, 1905:

April 28—Laredo, Texas, twenty-one killed.
May 9—Marquette, Kan., twenty-eight killed.
May 10—Snyder, O. T., one hundred and twenty killed.
June 5—Saginaw Valley, Mich., seven killed.
June 27—Phillipsburg, Kan., six killed.
July 6—Nacoma, Texas, fifteen killed.
1906: Oct. 17—Sorrenton, Ill., eight killed.
March 2—Meridian, Miss., twenty killed.

Rosen Heights Committee to Take Action

North Fort Worth and Rosen Heights office of The Telegram is located at 117 Exchange avenue, old phone 3868, where news items, subscriptions, advertisements and complaints of delivery should be left.

A grievance committee of Rosen Heights citizens reports that it is now ready to prosecute all who are violating the stock law by permitting their cows and other stock to run at large. This committee has been working for some time, and has a list of the offenders prepared. These they intend to prosecute without further notice.

The cows, hogs, horses and other stock have caused great annoyance and have done considerable damage to property at Rosen Heights. There is a general movement in tree planting in the Heights, and the cows have caused great annoyance by eating off the young shoots, and in some cases trampling the trees so much that they have had to be replanted.

Not Superstitious

The Rosen Heights baseball team is now in good shape. Practice is being held at the grounds daily and the men are reported to be in good condition.

Manager J. J. Riden has thirteen men on the list of players. These thirteen are the ones picked out after a sifting down process which has been in operation for several weeks.

Sunday morning the team will play one of the City League teams at Prok, pest park. This will be a practice game, the last hard game before the opening of the season on Sunday, March 25. On that date the Rosen Heights team will play one of the City League teams the first game of the season in the league. This game will be played at White City park.

New School Opening

The new school building in North Fort Worth will be opened the coming week, unless something happens to delay the work of finishing the interior. The arrangements for the program have not yet been completed, but it is understood that there will be a number of addresses by representative men of North Fort Worth.

Rat Killing Contest

A rat killing contest was held at Marine Friday night in the presence of a big crowd. C. H. Ackerson's dog, Gyp, won first place by killing five rats in 17½ seconds. Oscar Galloway's dog, Rubber, won second place by killing five in 32 seconds. A. J. Maner's dog, Kiser, was third, taking 52 seconds to kill the five.

Notes and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Harrell of Dublin and Mrs. L. T. Page of Peoria, Texas, are guests of J. J. Riden, Twenty-fifth street and Market avenue, Mrs. Page and Mrs. Harrell are sisters of Mr. Riden.

There will be the usual morning and evening services at the Methodist church, the sermons by the pastors, Rev. E. N. Bell.

Many baseball teams will play games Sunday morning at the various places used for practicing during the week.

FT. WORTH BOY AMONG WOUNDED

Ben F. Gilmore Shot During Battle Near Jolo

During the recent fight near Jolo, in the Philippine islands, in which many United States soldiers were killed and wounded, there was a Fort Worth boy among the wounded, Ben F. Gilmore. The parents of young Gilmore reside at 1506 North Hampton street. The injured young man is a coxswain and has been in the service of the navy since September, 1903. Soon after his enlistment Gilmore thought to be a training ship at San Francisco, and from there he was sent to Japan on the battleship Oregon. He was on the gunboat Quinos when that ship went ashore while on an eastern cruise.

Since Gilmore has been in the navy he has had several promotions. His official position now is that in charge of small boats of the naval vessel.

Several weeks ago young Gilmore wrote to his relatives in this city while he was at the island of Luzon, telling of the conditions there, and mentioning that trouble was threatened at almost any time. The injuries the young man received are not thought to be dangerous. One elbow was injured, but aside from that nothing can be learned from the authorities at Washington. It will be several days before a full report of the injured is received by the department in Washington.

Coxswain Gilmore is considered to be a very promising young officer. Not long ago he gained distinction by winning a prize at target practice.

For some time Gilmore was a student at the high school here, 1902 being the last year he attended. He enlisted just before the opening of the 1903 term of school.

SHEEP CROSSED HALF CONTINENT

Drover Tells of First Pacific Trip Made

G. W. Taylor of Randolph county, Missouri, a guest at the Metropolitan, has had experiences which fall to the lot of but few men. He was a pioneer in the west and made the trip from Randolph county, Missouri, to Sacramento, Cal., in 1848. Then the trip was made to San Francisco, Cal., in 1858, taking 5,000 head of sheep. "The Indians began stealing the sheep," said Mr. Taylor, "as soon as we had gotten across the Missouri river."

"We have to drive them forty miles on one occasion without water and it took us eleven days to get them out of the water and across the Platte river. The sheep would run into the stream and stand there and when we finally did get them out they had been standing in the water so long that their feet had become so tender that there were not ten sheep in the herd that were not lame."

"Finally we drove the remainder into a sandy desert, which was hot and dry, and we left the sheep there two days for their hoofs to harden. This cured them and we proceeded. After we had gotten into the mountains of California the sheep began eating laurel and we lost several hundred after we had driven them half across the continent. We had about fifteen hundred less sheep when we arrived at Sacramento than we had when we left Randolph county, Missouri, but still we made a fair profit. We paid from $1.25 to $1.50 per head and we sold them for $14 per head."

Mr. Taylor was recently in Sacramento, Cal., where he looked for the house that he had built there fifty years ago. This he knew was gone, but he told his wife that he had dug a well and that he wanted to see that. He found the well was also filled up and will have a meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Shahan. At this meeting the ladies will receive a free will offering from the members of the society, the money to be used for carrying on the work of the society.

Rev. C. W. Daniel will read a paper at the meeting on "How to Get Women to Take More Interest in the Society." Mrs. M. Van Horn will read a paper on "How to Get Women to Attend the Society More Regularly."

GOLF EXPERT COMING

Guy A. Crooks, Professional, to Be in Charge of Work Here

The golf club of the Country Club will have a new professional in charge of the course after Wednesday of next week. H. M. Govan, who has been manager of the Country Club and also golf professional, has resigned and has gone to New York city where he will engage in business.

As the new course at the Country Club is now about to be opened the members of the golf club decided to have a professional in charge of that branch alone. Guy A. Crooks, who has been professional instructor at the Cheyenne Mountain Country Club at Colorado Springs, has been engaged and will arrive on Wednesday.

The golf team is engaged in playing a match with the Dallas Golf Club this afternoon.

The time of the arrival of Dr. Lasker in the city has not been received, nor any further word since the day was fixed for March 12. A letter was received by S. M. Furman from Dr. Lasker some time ago stating that he would be here March 12.

TEMPERATURES LOWER

Maximum at Fort Worth Friday Was 62 Degrees

Storms are in progress in the eastern and western parts of the country, with high barometric conditions in the north and central portions, causing clear, cold weather.

The freezing line has advanced northward and it is now barely touching the northern part of the state. The line averaging 60 degrees temperature extends across the country westward from Jacksonville, Fla., and as it approaches the Pacific coast it swings north to San Francisco.

The temperature for the last twenty-four hours has not been so high as that of the few days preceding. Phoenix, Ariz., reported 83 degrees, being the warmest place in the country. Texas temperatures were not nearly so high, San Antonio and Corpus Christi both reporting 76, Abilene 66, Fort Worth 62, and Amarillo 56 degrees.

Official statement is: "An area of low barometer continues over the northeast angle of the country, causing high winds in Minnesota, snow in New York, Illinois and rain in New England."

Police Shoot Mark

Officer Snow Makes Best Score in First Contest

The pistol practice of the police, scheduled for Thursday afternoon, was held Friday afternoon by the street car barrier at White River. The attendance of the officers was not as large as it will be later, but those present were very enthusiastic. While the official score was made at the Police Club, it is announced the best record was made by Officer Tom Snow. Officers Temes and Dillard tied for the second best score. Among those who participated in the shoot were Captain Day, Captain Blanton, Officers Snow, Temes and Dillard. Mr. Cook, John Anderson and John Hendricks also participated.

This is the initial shoot and the interest aroused at this practice has caused a clamor among the officers for another shoot in the near future. The shooting is being done with a revolver in one hand only. Two of the shots made by Officer Snow were made with two hands, but this was before the regulation about using one hand had been explained to him.

LINE ONE RAISED FROM THE DEAD

So Mrs. W. McCauley Says of Her Daughter, Who Was So Ill.

THE LARSON TREATMENT

Young Woman of North Fort Worth Tails of the Remarkable Cure Effected in Her Case

From Fort Worth Record.
"Like one raised from the dead."
So said Mrs. W. McCauley yesterday when a writer for the Record called at her home, corner of North Main and Twelfth streets in North Fort Worth yesterday and asked about her daughter.

The return of Dr. J. Austin Larson to this city after a couple of months in Houston is a reminder that in November last there was much said in the daily press of the remarkable cure made in the case of Miss Daisy McCauley, who had been bedridden for two years, who had been given treatment by general practitioners of medicine from time to time without relief, and who was fast nearing the end of a long struggle with an illness which appeared to baffle scientific men of the old school of medicine as well as those of the school of osteopathy. Dr. Larson took charge of the case at a time when the hopes of the family were at the lowest ebb. The young lady had been ill so long that she was completely helpless, and her mother and grandmother devoted all of their time to nursing. Dr. Larson began treating her with his Telefont method, and within a few days she began to show improvement and from that time to this the change in her condition has been remarkable. It was in November the writer saw her for the first time. She was then able to move about the house, but she showed the effect of the long confinement, and her emaciated form was just beginning to show a betterment. Weak then, she smiled and said she felt much improved and was sure she would get well and time has proved that her faith was not without its reward.

Yesterday when the writer called she came into the parlor showing brighter spirits than she had before. Her face had filled out and her strength had come back. She was lively as a cricket, and boasted that she now weighs 124 pounds and feels in every way the betterment which has come to her condition. She said: "I am well now and all I need is to get my full strength, which will come in time. I was sick so long, that it is necessary to build completely, but I know the cure has been effected and I was done by Dr. Larson. I am never do too much for him. He has brought me back from the grave."

"We are all grateful to Dr. Larson," said Mrs. McCauley, "he is like one raised from the dead, and he has been the cause of it. I had never expected to again see my daughter in the condition of health she is today, and in depressed spirits, as a last resort we called in Dr. Larson. He has effected a wonderful cure. All who know him say that it is remarkable that he has accomplished what he has, and there are callers here every day to see her and ask about it. Our telephone is ringing all the time."

There is much interest in this case, and hundreds have gone to the home to ask about the young woman. Those who knew her when she was so ill, realize the full effect of the work which has been done by Dr. Larson, and they talk of it.

Dr. Larson returned to the city Thursday, but has not yet called on his former patient although he has heard from her ever since the telephone and has learned of her present good condition of health. He has been busy since returning to Fort Worth as there are a large number who have been awaiting him, and who have consulted him at his apartments at the Delaware hotel in this city. Dr. Larson intends to spend a half of the week in this city and the other half in Dallas. He will be at the Delaware hotel, Fort Worth, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week and in Dallas Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Dr. Larson, however, will be at his Fort Worth apartments today, his opening in Dallas being next Thursday.

MADAMUS IS REFUSED

Court of Appeals Has Refused Application

JUDGE DEFENDANT

Trial of Exceptions in Texas. Cotton Products Case Was Asked Ordered

The case of the Amarillo Ice and Cold Storage Company et al. vs. Mike E. Smith, district judge of the Seventeenth judicial district of Texas, was passed upon by the civil court of appeals of the Second judicial district Saturday morning. The application of plaintiff was refused, the petition dismissed and the mandamus against Judge Smith denied.

This was an application by the Amarillo Ice and Cold Storage Company, et al. and Sam Davidson, intervenors in the case of the Texas Cotton Products Company against the San Jacinto Oil Company, tried in the Seventeenth district court, asking that a mandamus be issued by the civil court of appeals ordering Judge Smith to proceed to trial and try certain exceptions filed to the master in chancery's ruling by Judge Smith without a jury, the case having been docketed on Judge Smith's jury docket and set for trial at the next term of the Seventeenth district court. Other proceedings had been had. Motions overruled: Moore vs. Pearson, for rehearing; Amarillo Ice and Cold Storage Company et al. vs. Mike E. Smith, district judge, for leave to file petition for mandamus; Cleghorn vs. Barstow Irrigation Company, for rehearing; Chicago Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company et al. vs. Thompson, for rehearing; Brown vs. King, for rehearing; San Jacinto Oil Company et al. vs. Culbertson et al., to affirm on certificate; Peos and Northern Texas Railway Company et al. vs. Francis-Snyder-Buell Company, for rehearing; Chahay et al. vs. Thompson, county attorney, for rehearing and to certify; Peacock vs. Hunter, for rehearing; Green vs. Martin et al., for leave to file transcript. Motions granted: Holland et al. vs. Courts et al., to advance; this case set for March 17, 1936; San Jacinto Oil Company et al. vs. Culbertson et al., to dismiss writ of error and file transcript; Worsham et al. vs. Dyer et al., to advance; Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company et al. vs. Elliott, to postpone submission and additional transcript; this case postponed and set for submission March 17, 1936.

Affirmed: McDowell vs. M. T. Jones Lumber Company, from Potter county; Rogers vs. Moore et al., from Tarrant and Texas and Pacific Railway Company vs. Stokes, from Mitchell; Mahoney et al. vs. Burch, from Tarrant; Pittsburg Wall Paper Company vs. Texas Paint and Paper House, from Tarrant. VERDICT STRANGULATION

Charge of Murder Placed Against Ser-vice at Shreveport
Special to The Telegram.
SHREVEPORT, La., March 10.—The coroner's jury, after investigating the death of Mrs. John Nagle of Kansas City, Kan., found dead in the woods near this city, returned a verdict that she came to her death from strangulation at the hands of persons unknown. Circumstantial evidence against Charles Serfich, the suspect arrested, has developed, and a charge of murder was preferred against him. Governor Blanchard has offered a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

Proposition to Railroad Made Through Chief Surgeon

Fort Worth Medical College has tendered a proposition to Dr. E. F. Yancey, chief surgeon of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, who has been here with a view of selecting a location for a hospital for the company in Texas, in which the medical college agreed to build an additional story and add fifty wards to the hospital department, at the event the Katy desired to make use of that hospital as its Texas branch. Dr. Yancey was non-committal regarding what recommendation he would make to his company in the premises.

NO REHEARING

Republic Oil Officials Must Produce Books and Testify
By Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 10.—The supreme court on banc at noon today overruled the motion filed by counsel for the Republic Oil Company for the rehearing of Judge Fox' order requiring officers of the company to answer questions and produce stock books and papers in the oil hearing before Special Commissioner Anthony. The court by a 4-3 vote denied the motion of Attorney General Hadley, setting March 19 at the date of the next hearing at St. Louis, at which time officers of the Republic Oil Company will be placed on the witness stand.

BROWN FAILS TO GET NEW TRIAL

Poll Tax Case Application Has Been Refused

IS RELEASED ON BOND

Suit for Possession of Building Postponed and Jury Summoned. Divorce Is Asked

Judge Robert H. Milam heard the motion for a new trial in the case of the state of Texas against Bud Brown Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and overruled it. Defendant made exception and gave notice of appeal. His bond was fixed at $1,000 and he entered into personal recognizance with Walter Scott, W. P. McLean Jr., W. Harry McCart as sureties, and was released from custody.

Brown was convicted Thursday on a charge of violation of the election law by forwarding money with which to pay poll tax and his punishment assessed at $300 fine and 60 days at work on the county roads.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 10.—A small riot marked the Harvard and Columbia basketball game last night in the university gymnasium, precipitated by Quigley, one of the Harvard forwards. Towards the end of the second half of the game, after having been several times warned for rough play, Quigley, it is charged, landed a left hook on the jaw of Cathel of Columbia and stretched the blue and white player on the floor. In an instant several Columbia men were running toward the feuding player and only by the prompt interference of Manager Fisher and Captain Hurley of Columbia and the joint efforts of Columbia and Harvard players was he saved from rough handling. The Columbia students and the spectators were indignant, but the influence of some cool heads among them prevented their taking a hand in the melee.

TICKET BROKER STARTS FIGHT

Appeal for Release Follows Arrest

W. L. Gillentine, arrested by Chief of Police James H. Maddox Friday on a charge of illegally pursuing the occupation of ticket broker in Fort Worth, began habeas corpus proceedings Friday afternoon by filing an application with Judge Mike E. Smith of the Seventeenth district court, praying for a discharge. Judge Smith docked the case for hearing at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The application for the writ sets forth the allegation that the ordinance purporting to govern ticket brokerage in Fort Worth is null and void.

The ticket brokers were still doing business in Fort Worth Saturday and none of them have taken a license or furnished a bond, as provided in the city ordinance. They are adhering to their originally announced determination to fight the ordinance and expect confidence that they will win. The assertion that the Dallas ordinance, which was the cause of the ticket brokers abandoning that field, was never tested in the higher courts this one will be, and they entertain hopes that they will win the case in the lower courts without the necessity of an appeal.

MEN BUY KISSES

Though Sweet and Evanescent, Lips Had No Part in Making

Probably seventy-five people, of whom slightly more than half were of the sterner sex, attended the "Kiss Social" given Friday night by women members of the Christian chapel in South Main street. Kisses, 25 cents the pair, formed the last number of what proved to be a program of more than ordinary interest and pleasure. The electric bulbs burning steadily the while, and the pastor of the church, Rev. J. W. Bartholomew, supervised the dispensation of the labial delicacies, seeing that none escaped.

Those present, even of more mature years, having heard of the fact that the "kisses" were confections, prepared by a secret formula known only to Mrs. Bartholomew, enjoyed the last part of the program greatly, having had sufficient exercise at various games to produce an inward sense of vacancy. This latter was "amply filled," and everybody went away feeling that a church social is an ideal place to make friends.

DAY BURGLAR

WORKS BOLDLY

Two Residences Entered Friday Afternoon

Two bold daylight burglaries were reported Friday afternoon. One of these was the residence of Mrs. R. W. Griffith, 208 East Hattie street. Here the entrance was effected by breaking the lock on the back door. Mrs. Griffith was away from home at the time, but the house was carefully locked. The burglar evidently knew that the occupants of the house were gone and he boldly broke the lock and entered the house.

He secured a bank with a small amount of cash in it, but the other articles in the house were not taken.

The second daylight burglary was at the residence of Mrs. F. C. Brewer, corner of Daggett and Hemphill streets. The nerve displayed upon this occasion was even greater than that at the residence of Mrs. Griffith. There the entrance was through the back door, but at the residence of Mrs. Brewer the entrance was effected through the front window. As the front of the house is in plain view of two streets, it would have been easy for anyone passing to have observed the burglar at his work. A car line passes the house and people are constantly passing the dwelling. The Brewer family was away from home and it is presumed that the burglar was aware of this before he entered the house. The booty secured was a large supply of provisions and under garments.

AMUSEMENTS

"Brown's in Town"

"Brown's in Town," says the press agent, is one of the cleanest, brightest and funniest entertainments seen in a long time. The force is of just the build and texture that make multitudes of laughs and people would more readily be laughed out of money than they would be willing to have it enticed away by a frown or given up for a too serious drama. This farcical effusion comes to Greenwall's opera house tonight. "Brown's in Town" is about a young couple who are living in the country under an assumed name, so the father of the young man will not hear of the match. Incidentally, every one they know, the father, the wife's sister, a girl friend, and everybody who should be at home comes around and makes things interesting. Of course it takes a deal of prevarication to straighten things out and before the audience knows it the suitors of the wife is pretending to be her husband and she is obliged to maintain the supposed relationship. Prices 15c, 25c, 50c and 60c.

"The Maid and the Mummy"

In order to secure the thirty girls in the chorus of "The Maid and the Mummy," the press agent says the author, Richard Carle, rehearsed 100 candidates in New York and Chicago. This singing and dancing organization, as it will appear when "The Maid and the Mummy" plays at Greenwall's opera house Thursday matinee and night, March 15, is the most beautiful, the best drilled and the greatest in singing ability of any now before the American public. They will appear here only one night.

"The Heir to the Hoarah"

A good many local theatergoers who see the name of Guy Bates Post in conspicuous type as the "featured" leading man in "The Heir to the Hoarah," will remark upon the rapid rise of that young actor in his profession. Since last seen in "The Rose of Plymouth Town" Mr. Post has played half a dozen creative parts in New York, and each one of them added to his reputation as an intelligent, studious and clever actor. Kirk LaShelle gave him his best opportunity for character work as Steve in Owen Wister's play, "The Virginian," and on the strength of his brilliant interpretation of that character, jumped him across the continent from San Francisco to Philadelphia to create Joe Lacy in "The Heir to the Hoarah." The "feature" came afterward as the direct result of Mr. Post's sympathetic interpretation of that difficult character. "The Heir to the Hoarah" comes to Greenwall's opera house Friday matinee and night, March 16.

Use of that young actor in his profession. Since last seen in "The Rose of Plymouth Town" Mr. Post has played half a dozen creative parts in New York, and each one of them added to his reputation as an intelligent, studious and clever actor. Kirk LaShelle gave him his best opportunity for character work as Steve in Owen Wister's play, "The Virginian," and on the strength of his brilliant interpretation of that character, jumped him across the continent from San Francisco to Philadelphia to create Joe Lacy in "The Heir to the Hoarah." The "feature" came afterward as the direct result of Mr. Post's sympathetic interpretation of that difficult character. "The Heir to the Hoarah" comes to Greenwall's opera house Friday matinee and night, March 16.

Flowers and Ribbons Featured in Millinery

As to the Hats themselves they are made of horsehair or some new fiber that is in vogue. The new sailor, even in its plainest forms, has a peculiar tilt which immediately characterizes it as a high class product, lifting it out of the realms of the usual into the class of the extraordinary. It may be that the bandeau gives them this distinctive appearance, for the trimmings often only consist of simple band or wing.

New Hats Ready Tomorrow

Just a few—just the first suggestions—just to keep you in touch with this Millinery Department of ours. Enough to convince you that we are aiming at the highest mark in Millinery designing, still keeping in view the better for the lesser price.

Goods of Snow Whiteness for Every Want that Fashion May Suggest

Every day this popular counter receives new additions to its already complete assortment. Not a want that is created by Dame Fashion's whims but you can supply that want at this white goods counter.

THREE COUNTERS OF UNDERMUSLINS

Good—Correctly Made—Bargain Priced

THREE BIG COUNTERS are to be piled full of Gowns, Chemise, Corset Covers, Drawers and Skirts to demonstrate the wonderful bargain-giving power of this big store. That they are better values than you have ever had offered, we leave you to judge, as you can examine them thoroughly. Not a fault, not a blemish in these goods can you find. Three prices we select for this demonstration—25¢, 50¢, $1.00.

25c Counter

This counter contains Corset Covers, Chemise and Drawers. The materials of which they are made are nainsook and good muslin trimmed with lace elaborated with dainty tucks; quality that will surprise you for the price.

Chemise with short square embroidered yoke with lace in neck and sleeves. Drawers with ten small tucks, 2-inch hemstitched hem, in all sizes, both styles for 25¢

Corset Covers of fine nainsook with lace yoke back and front, one row of lace beading, at 25¢

50c Counter

This counter contains many styles. The assortment is good in Skirts, Gowns, Corset Covers and Drawers. Materials lace, embroideries, nainsooks and good grade of muslins. We only describe one garment from the many. Skirts with 9 rows of tucks with lace insertions and lace edge for 50¢

Gowns made long and full trimmed with pretty embroidery and small tucks low in neck for 50¢

Drawers trimmed in embroidery and others with lace insertion and edges; others with three large hemstitched tucks with ruffles, at 50¢

Corset Covers—Here we offer exceptional values, with embroidered yokes, laces in neck and sleeves and lace beadings.

$1.00 Counter

This line of garments is very large. The pride we take in this special price comes from our efforts to place the best garment at your disposal can be furnished. To attempt even a word description of these beautiful garments conveys to you but little idea of their beauty and value.

Gowns landscape, elaborately trimmed, of fine nainsooks trimmed in laces, fine tucked yokes, long sleeves, skirt made extra full and very long.

Chemise—The variety covers a wide field, made of generous materials and very long, finest quality of nainsooks, yokes of allover lace drawn at neck with dainty ribbons. You'll say good values at $1.50; for $1.00

Petticoats—Undoubtedly the values we offer will surprise you, for people wonder how the materials without the making can be furnished at this remarkable price.

600 Yds of 50c Black Dress Goods at 25c

LET US EXPLAIN!

A large concern had use for a lot of dress goods for a certain purpose. They bought it by the bolt. After the purchase the bolts were unwound and the cloth became wrinkled (which can easily be pressed out with an iron). They found they could not use it. We bought the lot as it was, and are going to give Crepe Panamas, 44 inches wide (all wool), 36-inch Albatross, Batiste, Henriettas and Serges, worth 50c, 60c and 75c the yard, for 25¢ the yard Monday.

On Tables in the Main Aisle

One-Seam-O Crepe de Chine, 40 inches wide, the only Crepe de Chine made of this width; the colors are delicate in tone; a quality that if you could get it in other stores would sell for $1.25; here at 98¢

$1.50 Panama, in navy blue, gray and black, in chiffon weight; Monday priced at $1.19

Dress Goods

Not a cloth in the new weaves, not a color is missing; grays in new effects, helio, white and cream, in Mohairs, Albatross and Serges. Such is the wide variety and selection we offer you at this dress goods counter of ours.

A handsome steel gray in 58-inch Panama is a new arrival, a good value, even if it were priced as some stores do at $1.39; here special priced at $1.10

42-inch light gray Panama, a beautiful $1.25 quality, for $1.00

42-inch silk and wool Crepe de Paris in gray, a 75c value, for 49¢

50-inch Mohairs, in the new oyster gray, at 50¢

$1.00 Shepherd Checks at only 75¢

Here and There; Bargains that Will Interest You

15c Madras for waists and shirt-wings; special price 10¢

NEW LINEN SUITS

Here we have the simpler styles to the more elaborate. The Suits are neat fitting, medium weight, tucked waists, full flared skirts, with the tailored collar and waist; a good $4.00 value for $2.50

Embroidered Suits, in white or blue linen, full flare new style skirt with a quiet smartness that will appeal to you; good values at $6.00; our price only $4.98

Plain tailor-made Suits, in pure white linen, trimmed in straps of same material. While they are plain they are very dressy from being so well made and stylishly cut; good values at $7.00; our price is only $5.98

Linen Skirts and Waists

To attempt to even convey to you an idea of the enormous assortments in this department would be a task indeed. Every day new arrivals keep the assortments freshened.

White Linen Skirts, come to us in large assortments, all cut in the newest wide flare style; the prices range in price from $2.50 to $3.98

Elaborately trimmed Wash Silk Waists, buttoned in back with fancy yoke, trimmed in embroidery medallions and groups of tucks, for $1.98

TEACHERS HEAR

DR. A. E. TURNER

President of Trinity University at Institute

The city school teachers' institute was held Saturday morning at the high school with a large attendance present. Principal address was made by Dr. A. E. Turner, president of Trinity University at Waxahachie, on "The Teaching Profession."

Among the other numbers on the program were an address by Miss Dawson on "Influence of School Buildings and Grounds on the Conduct of Children," a violin solo, Miss Lucille Rawlins, Miss Benita McElwee, accompanist; instrumental music, "La Fleurette," Miss Lockhead; "School Hygiene," The Kye and the Ear, Dr. Capps; song, Misses Dora and Rosa Eppstein.

Address of Dr. Turner

The address of Dr. A. E. Turner was in part as follows:

"In considering teaching from the standpoint of a profession it is necessary to emphasize the fact that a variety of opinions exists in reference to what constitutes professional advancement. In this, as in every other profession, it is essential that we have a clear conception of the point to be developed, for it is generally true that what one seeks he finds, whether it be in platform discussion or in the pursuit of public position or individual prestige. A sensitive man always finds somebody ready to wound his sensibilities and the individual who carries a chip on his shoulder is sure to find someone who will take a delight in knocking it off. There are some who say that professional advancement means going to the bottom of things. It is thus that specializing has come to be looked upon as more important than mere teaching and this I regard as a fundamental error. Again, there are those who assume that professional advancement may be gauged by commanding a large salary and thus the financial rating of a teacher becomes a consideration of first importance. Others regard the commanding of large influence as the goal of the profession. Such men seek to promote their own importance on important committees, or it may be to come into some official position in connection with state or local teachers' associations. Then, there is a larger class who profess to believe that professional advancement is measured by the cultivation of the teaching instinct. Perhaps this comes nearer the truth than either of the other courses proposed and yet, even here, one must note that one who would be a teacher must possess the instinct before it can be developed. If you ask me how one is to know whether he possesses the teaching instinct or not, I answer that there are three tests:

"First—One must love teaching for its own sake.

"Second—He must have an indomitable purpose, and last but not least, he should be able to see nothing more worthy to be done. To a true teacher, his work is not a pepping stone, but rather a 'capstone'.

Three Principles

"To teach well three fundamental principles need to be observed—knowledge of the subject, knowledge of the knowledge of truth in the inward part and knowledge of the science of teaching. The first condition involves the study of matter as well as method and means that the teacher must do better than merely to keep ahead of his class. To know truth in the inward part is to confess at times one's ignorance and involves the study of the thirty or fifty original volumes which are always before the teacher. A measure of insight into these volumes will be worth very much of pedagogy. Connected with this close-range study of the subject must be observation of the children and of their environment. No man can teach a good school who does not remain long enough in the community to know the home and parents of his pupils. To require a knowledge of the science of teaching is to suggest that many men and women seem never to

POLY DEFEATS

DECATUR 6-2

Local College Wins the Game Played Saturday

Polytechnic College won the game of baseball between that team and the Baptist College of Decatur Saturday by a score of 6 to 2. The college team went to Decatur in the morning and played the game early in the afternoon. The wind made fast ball out of the question.

Decatur could not hit P. Gaskill, pitcher for the college, while on the other hand, the college boys had little difficulty in finding Ferguson.

The lineup:

Decatur Baptist College—Gunn, third base; Hale, left field; Nash, shortstop; Christian, right field; St. Clair, first base; Horton, catcher; Ferguson, pitcher; Hunt, second base; Brown, center field.

Polytechnic—Runs, 6; hits, 8; errors, 5. Decatur—Runs, 2; hits, 3; errors, 8. Struck out—By Gaskill, 9; by Ferguson, 5.

COL. GREEN LIKES GREAT SOUTHWEST

Says Mining Development Is Still in Infancy

Colonel W. C. Green of New York city, the copper magnate, who was given a great deal of notoriety by Thomas W. Lawson in Everybody's Magazine, was in Fort Worth Saturday on his way to Arizona and northern Mexico, where he is interested in valuable copper mining properties. He went west on the Texas and Pacific Saturday afternoon, and was seen and talked to briefly by a Telegram reporter just before he left for the west.

Colonel Green talked freely of his copper interests in the southwest and in Mexico, and said that he believed persistent development in those fields would give good results.

"Copper mining and development in the southwest," he said, "is absolutely in its infancy. Its possibilities are among the unknown things of the great future. I have faith in the southwest as a mineral producer, especially copper production."

"Beg pardon, Mr. Reporter," said Colonel Green, "let me interrupt you. Don't you think as a newspaper man that Mr. Lawson has had about as much advertising as he should have, without me being called on to give him more? Mr. Lawson has handled my name in a manner, to say the least of it, reckless, and not very greatly to my credit, and I don't think that I should be called on to give him any degree of prominence by discussing him or what he has said in Everybody's Magazine or elsewhere. I am a friend of newspaper men, especially reporters who write the truth; therefore I know I am not asking you too much to excuse me from discussing Mr. Lawson."

"You have said that you are going to be greater than it is now and I enjoy a trip through it."

And then the conductor called out, "All aboard," and Colonel Green started out of Fort Worth for the west.

Cure Rheumatism

I searched the whole earth for a specific for Rheumatism—something that for any physician would be a prescription—something that we could count on, not only occasionally, but with reasonable certainty. For the Rheumatism of Rheumatism is everywhere and genuine relief is rare.

After twenty years of search and experiment, I learned of the German chemist I now employ. And I knew then that my search and my efforts were well rewarded. For this chemical, in combination with others, gave me the basis of a remedy which in the cure of Rheumatism is practically certain. In many, many tests and difficult cases this prescription has with regularity justified the confidence I had in it.

I don't mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Tablets can turn bony joints into flesh again and never fail—that is impossible. But they will with reasonable certainty drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then that is the end of the pain and swelling—the end of the suffering—the end of Rheumatism.

Any Rheumatic sufferer who writes may receive my little book on Rheumatism, including professional advice as to diet, etc., free. With the book I will also send without charge, my "Rheumatic Tablets," an intended passport to good health. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 1883, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases are sometimes reached by a single package—for sale by 40,000 Druggists.

STOCKMAN ALSO A RAILROAD MAN

J. R. Daughter Talks of Conditions in West Texas

It does not often occur that a well known stockman turns up as a big railroad man and especially in this so in Texas, but the unexpected often happens, and in this instance it turned up in the shape of J. R. Daughter of St. Louis.

"My ranch is in the south end of Nolan county, and extends down on both sides of the road from Sweetwater to Robert Lee in Coke county, for six miles to within two miles of the Coke county line. You having been down this way will locate it exactly when you are informed that my postoffice is Decker and that Olga is on my land. I have five sections, and it is every bit fine land both for stock and agricultural purposes. We have had practically no winter this past season, so the grass is good and the new and the weeds are growing fast. I have five running streams on the property, and therefore there is no lack of water, and my catties are fat. I understand the situation that confronts the cowmen now and the necessity for them to meet the inevitable result of the invasion of the cow ranges by the farmer with his plow, and I am preparing to meet it and profit by it. I have in cultivation 2,000 acres of land and have built already two houses on it and will begin to rent out and improve more and more all the time. In this way a ranchman can utilize his holdings and make them profitable and at the same time increase the value of the rest. The Orient railroad will build a property about where Olga is located and I propose to establish a town on that site and have a depot. The country is all good along the proposed line of that road and will soon be filled up with an excellent class of homesteaders and farmers, and then the values of property will be increased. It looks like a pity for such fine mesquite grass to be destroyed, but there is no use trying to resist fate and the advance of the farmer. When all that country is turned into stock farms, then you will see a country that the far famed Abilene cannot outclass. I can refer to every thing that they can and I believe have better water and more protection from the furious northerners of our country. I have been in Texas in the cow business for many years and thought I am from Missouri, you do not have to show me any of the good qualities of this state.

Talking of the Orient railroad, you will see from this card that I am vice president of the Kansas City, & Orient Railway company of Texas, and my headquarters now are located at Fort Worth Stock Yards, Fort Worth.

What Sulphur Does

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and moxses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health. Sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and moxses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers are undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins while experimenting with sulphur remedies soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples and even deep-seated skin diseases, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers are a proprietary article and sold by druggists and for that reason tabooed by many physicians, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles and especially in all forms of skin diseases as this remedy."

At any rate people who are tired of pills, cathartics, so-called "blood purifiers" will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.

Texas Girl Wins Honor in Eastern Conservatory

MISS LUCILLE ELLIOTT.

Miss Lucille Eads Elliott, a Fort Worth girl, will graduate from the National Conservatory of Dramatic Art in June and by her standing in the graduating class which is a large one has won first honors, and will deliver the valedictory at the commencement exercises of that institution.

Miss Elliott, being a student of the highest honors in her class has the distinction of being the youngest graduate by the National Conservatory of Dramatic Art. She is also a graduate of the Liberty, Mo., Ladies' College, and this is her second year at the National Conservatory. She was awarded teachers' certificate at the close of her first year there. Miss Elliott is a daughter of Conductor J. H. Elliott of the Frisco and is now in her 18th year.

long before Abilene was established and six years before the county seat was moved up to that place. At that time there was no farming of any consequence, only a few scratches here and there on the surface of the earth. It was a cow country pure and simple and there was no better place for the cattle could not get poor if they tried unless it was in an excessive dry time such as we had in 1896. There was more game than any man could imagine at this time ever existed and it consisted of all kinds of game. Texas, excepting of course the buffalo, which had passed in several years before. Changes, however, have been coming gradually, but surely, until today the character of the business of the country and its products have entirely changed and the manners and habits of the people seem to have undergone a revolution. Of course there are differences of opinion as to whether these changes are for the better or not, but it is no question but that the large majority of the inhabitants are in much better condition financially than ever before and the country is much richer than it was.

Walker-Routh

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mrs. A. H. Riden and Urban Walker will be married at the home of the bride, Twenty-fifth street and Market avenue, North Fort Worth. Mrs. Riden and Mr. Walker are both well known in the community. Mr. Walker is a business man in the drug business. Mr. Walker is a business man in the drug business.

Assault Charged

Information was filed Friday afternoon by R. T. Kelley of North Fort Worth in the office of the county attorney against J. J. Lydon, charging assault with a dangerous weapon. Mr. Lydon is at present alderman of the Fourth ward in the North Fort Worth city council. R. T. Kelley is candidate for election as representative of that ward in the council.

Baseball Challenge

The Rosen Heights-second baseball team has been organized for some time and the players are now in practice for games. The ages of members of the team averages 16 years. They announced through The Telegram that they seek games with any team of their class in the city.

Injured Man Recovers

Houston Echols returned home Saturday from St. Joseph's Infirmary, where he has been confined for the past three weeks on account of injuries sustained in a fall from a horse. Mr. Echols is a well known citizen of the city and is now able to move about.

Notes and Personal

M. H. Henry and family have arrived in North Fort Worth from Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Henry visited Texas some time ago and decided to move his family here.

Miss Effie Long is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. W. Henderson, of Rosen Heights. Miss Long is a teacher in the schools at Waxahatchie. She has been confined to her bed for some time because of poor health to take a vacation.

Ralph D. Smith of Rusk street was thrown from a horse Saturday morning and injured severely. His injuries are not serious.

Miss Mary Setwatt of Gould avenue has gone to Alabama to visit her sister, Mrs. G. Sargent.

States was must not forget that North Texas, including the Panhandle, is the best hog country in the world. There is no such thing known as a case of cholera originating up here and the hogs have fewer diseases and are always healthy. They require less feed than most any kind of animal and fatten faster.

"Of course, these are only my notions about these things, and some people may prove that I am wrong, but I believe and I am not from Missouri, either. Most of the farmers up our way are taking an interest in stock raising and will soon be as happy as it as they always have been for raising cotton."

RAIN NOT NEEDED

Colin County Man Well Supplied with Moisture

E. S. Swanson, who lives in Josephine, on the line of the Cotton Belt, has been very successful in raising cotton. He was in from home with stock for the market Tuesday and kindly gave some of his time to the reporter to answer questions relative to how they were at home. "We are not needing rain now, for we have a good season in the ground, and in our kind of land a little water goes a long way toward making things sticky and noncultivable."

NEW SCHOOL TO OPEN TUESDAY

North Fort Worth Has Fine Building

WEDDINGS ANNOUNCED

Challenge issued by Junior Baseball Team to Young Organizations.

Injured Man Recovers

North Fort Worth and Rosen Heights office of The Telegram is located at 117 Exchange avenue, old phone 2681, where news items, subscriptions, advertisements and complaints of delivery should be left.

North Fort Worth's new $30,000 school building will be occupied by pupils next Tuesday, giving the city school accommodations equalled by no other place of its size in the state. Work of placing seats and equipment in the building was begun Saturday, but was not completed. Superintendent H. H. Schreiner said there will be no school on Monday because the remainder of the seats and desks are to be moved into the building on that day. School is to be resumed on Tuesday. This, however, is not the formal opening, which will take place later.

The new building at Main, Rusk, Fourteenth and Twentieth streets is a two-story brick with full basement, having twelve rooms and an auditorium.

De Hay-Bishop

Friday morning Miss Imogene Bishop and Lee De Hay went to Dallas, where they were married in the presence of a few friends, who accompanied them. The parents of Mrs. De Hay, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bishop, were notified of the marriage by a telegram. The bride and groom were married at the home of the bride, Twenty-fifth street and Market avenue, North Fort Worth. Mrs. Bishop and Mr. De Hay are both well known in the community. Mr. De Hay is a business man in the drug business.

Good Rains Have Fallen and Weeds Are Flourishing

Captain Billy Meyers of Blue Grove Clay county, came in from his ranch Saturday with a smile and a welcome for his friends. "The weeds are coming in here this time," he said, "and we will soon be all right. I am feeding cattle meal and cotton seed, and have some 200 head in good fat condition now, but will not bring them in for some little time yet. We have had no rain yet, but about the hardest sandstorm hit us Thursday that we have had in years. As I came in to Henrietta I noticed that several places had been blown out and the wheat badly damaged. The rain on Thursday night only reached as far north as Bowie, but we have a very good season in the ground. Speaking of the salvation weed, some think that it is the same as the present talow weed, but they are mistaken. The salvation weed has white flour and bunched more than the talow weed, and the leaves were not so long. I remember that in 1881, the dryest year we ever had up with us, it never rained from early in the winter until the following September, and then it poured down for good. The people who had remained through the drought will remember that there was no bit of grass for stock, but the salvation weed came out for the first time and as the winter was extremely mild, we had very fat cattle all through the winter. What ever the true name or what variety they are called, there is no doubt in the world but that they are a salvation to the stockman when it is impossible to get grass for cattle."

At this time, grass is growing fast and begins to make a showing of green over the brown earth, that makes cattle and man happy. This has been a remarkable winter in most ways and it has been a good thing for the state. Back in the black land belt where the rain had during the whole year was much for them and they suffered more or less, but in the red sandy lands did not get hit a little bit, but have a fine season that will make the wheat and grass hump itself.

ARE NOW READY FOR THE SPRING

West Texas and New Mexico Cattle Buyers Busy

Special to The Telegram.

EL PASO, Texas, March 19.—Buyers are in the field and are closing deals for spring delivery. Few new sales have been announced, however, in the past week or two. Tom Love of Sierra Blanca, who was in the city the other day, says that $14 was offered for his yearlings and for others in the district.

Near Van Horn a number of sales for spring delivery were closed. John H. Hicks of the T. O. ranch is in the city making negotiations for the delivery of 1,500 yearlings for a ranch in which he is interested near Santa Rosa, N. M. He has not yet closed his deal.

Around Deming, N. M., $14 and $15 are being asked for yearlings, with few sales being brought to a head. Reports from Deming are optimistic. The stockmen say many of the calves are as good as a yearling and are already gaining pleasure from the anticipation of well lined pocketbooks.

J. C. Langston of Roswell, N. M., who was in the city this week, says that the losses in the Panhandle from the great prairie fire which was raging the fore

FREE BOOKLET ON BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND DIABETES.

We desire to place in the hands of those afflicted with Bright's Disease or Diabetes a 36-page pamphlet that is saving human lives. It is not an ordinary pamphlet, but is principally made up of reports of scientifically conducted tests in a large variety of cases, showing 87 per cent of recovery as the result of the treatment.

This booklet is for thoughtful people—people who can discriminate between common patent medicine literature and a carefully prepared report of a patient, serious and profoundly important investigation.

The specifics employed in these tests are known as the Fulton Compound and the results obtained prove conclusively that these dreaded diseases do not fatal have at all yielded to medical science. The pamphlet is free.

and they are not of much in point of grade. There is no grass for them to run on and the fields have been too muddy all winter, this and last, for stock to be allowed to run on them. In fact, our people do not take much interest in stock raising, but confine themselves to cotton and grain. The reason for this can be found in the fact that the majority of the land is held in large bodies by men who live away from it and lease it out to tenants. Of course no tenant takes any interest in the property other than what he can make out of it. He never knows when his landlord may take a notion to raise his rent or do something else that may militate against his interests, and he therefore does not care to expend much time or expense in making improvements that may be snatched from him in a limited time and whether he agrees to it or not. Moreover, landlords have a habit in this state of explicitly stating in the annual contract between themselves and a tenant, what shall and shall not be planted, that being a "sine qua non" to letting the party contracting to farm it, have the place. This condition of affairs makes it hard to make stock raising a success, and it is only the small minority who try to do anything along those lines. This condition relates to all kinds of stock, I own a hundred acres of more near town and I shall try my hand at the stock farming business. Alfalfa grows very finely with us, and will make as much per acre as any other section of Texas, but no one makes much effort to plant it owing to the condition I have mentioned above.

If this condition of landlord and tenant could be broken up and the lands be settled up as they are in Oklahoma, on every quarter section, there is hardly any end to the possibilities of the stock farming proposition in our quarter of the country.

I came to Collin county with my father from East Tennessee and settled near the north line twenty-six years ago, and then moved from there to where we now live six years afterward. Then there was no cultivated land of consequence, all grass, while now it is just the other way, all farms and no grass.

CLAY COUNTY CANDIDATES

part of this week were surprisingly small when definite account was taken of the financial damage done. Great quantities of range were burned, but while the loss was severe, Mr. Langston declares that the range will recover in a comparatively short time. The cattle losses will amount, he says, to less than 100 head, which brings the total damage to a small figure for a prairie fire racing over 2,000,000 acres of ground.

J. H. Nations sold 2,200 ewes Wednesday at Las Lunas, N. M., to T. B. Clements of Albuquerque. The ewes went at $4.50 a head.

Joseph H. Kibbey, governor of Arizona, has made the prediction that cattle raising will be an industry of the past in that territory within five years. Ostriches will deliver the death blow, he believes. The profits of ostrich raising are so enormous that he believes that ostriches will be located at the following places with following presiding judges:

First Ward—At first ward fire hall, with Joe Leshey presiding judge. Second Ward—At west basement of court house, with William Smith presiding judge. Third Ward—At 207 East Fifteenth street, with Carl Schilder as presiding judge. Fourth Ward—At city hall, with S. T. Bibb as presiding judge. Fifth Ward—At Tucker Hill fire hall, with John A. Mugg presiding judge. Sixth Ward—At Sixth ward fire hall, with M. W. Lewis as presiding judge. Seventh Ward—At P. O. O'Connell's store, South Main street, with Hugh Wood as presiding judge. Eighth Ward—Corner Magnolia and Hemphill street, with F. E. Dycus as presiding judge. Ninth Ward—At east basement of court house, with Theodore Mack as presiding judge.

Attest: T. J. POWELL, Mayor. JNO. T. MONTGOMERY, City Secretary.

Blood Humors

Coursing the veins cause such disfiguring and painful troubles as pimples, boils, carbuncles, abscesses, ulcers and other eruptions and sores, and also weakness, languor, general debility and great susceptibility to disease.

The best medicine to take is Hood's Sarsaparilla which thoroughly cleanses the blood, and effects radical and permanent cures by giving healthy functional activity to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and skin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood in its own peculiar and unequalled way, and this is the testimony of tens of thousands who have given this great medicine an opportunity to do them good. Accept no substitute for

"Scrofulous sores troubled me for years, after trying many medicines with no result except sores to grow worse. I was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, change for the better was soon noticeable; the sores disappeared and gradually disappeared, my general health improved wonderfully, and I am now in perfect health." SKYMOOR L. HORTCHINS, Wallington, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It is peculiar to itself. It makes people well and keeps them well.

SPECIAL.—To meet the wishes of those who prefer medicine in tablet form, we are now putting up Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate-coated tablets as well as in the usual liquid form. By reducing Hood's Sarsaparilla to a solid extract, we have retained in the tablets the curative properties of every medicinal ingredient except the alcohol. Sold by druggists; or, if your druggist does not have them we will send them by mail. 50 doses one dollar. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

part of this week were surprisingly small when definite account was taken of the financial damage done. Great quantities of range were burned, but while the loss was severe, Mr. Langston declares that the range will recover in a comparatively short time. The cattle losses will amount, he says, to less than 100 head, which brings the total damage to a small figure for a prairie fire racing over 2,000,000 acres of ground.

J. H. Nations sold 2,200 ewes Wednesday at Las Lunas, N. M., to T. B. Clements of Albuquerque. The ewes went at $4.50 a head.

Joseph H. Kibbey, governor of Arizona, has made the prediction that cattle raising will be an industry of the past in that territory within five years. Ostriches will deliver the death blow, he believes. The profits of ostrich raising are so enormous that he believes that ostriches will be located at the following places with following presiding judges:

First Ward—At first ward fire hall, with Joe Leshey presiding judge. Second Ward—At west basement of court house, with William Smith presiding judge. Third Ward—At 207 East Fifteenth street, with Carl Schilder as presiding judge. Fourth Ward—At city hall, with S. T. Bibb as presiding judge. Fifth Ward—At Tucker Hill fire hall, with John A. Mugg presiding judge. Sixth Ward—At Sixth ward fire hall, with M. W. Lewis as presiding judge. Seventh Ward—At P. O. O'Connell's store, South Main street, with Hugh Wood as presiding judge. Eighth Ward—Corner Magnolia and Hemphill street, with F. E. Dycus as presiding judge. Ninth Ward—At east basement of court house, with Theodore Mack as presiding judge.

Attest: T. J. POWELL, Mayor. JNO. T. MONTGOMERY, City Secretary.

Suits, Waists, Skirts

Times beyond number we have been told that no other establishment in Fort Worth or Texas city presents so varied a range of women's garments as is to be found in this store. There are two reasons. First, our direct connection with the world's greatest manufacturers; and, second, the practice of the specialists in bringing the new styles to Fort Worth as soon as they win approval. The pricing of these garments is comprehended under our system, and whether a woman desires a plain cotton waist, a handsome coat or an elaborate costume the saving assured by this store's system of pricing is of pronounced importance.

GOSSIP FROM STAGELAND

"The Maid and the Mummy"
Miss Janet Priest, whose Muggsy in "The Maid and the Mummy" is such a distinct character creation, says the press agent, used to be the dramatic critic of a Minneapolis newspaper. One day she had occasion to criticize severely the manner in which a stock company actress played a small part. This angered the manager of the company, who wrote Miss Priest that if she knew so much about the part she ought to play it herself. Miss Priest studied the part and the manager allowed her to play it. That was the start of her stage work. The next season she was in "The Little Outcast" company, and last year she created the role of Muggsy in "The Maid and the Mummy," which she is now playing for her second season at Greenwall's opera house Thursday matinee and night, March 15.

Miss Priest is one of the smallest women of the stage. She is only four feet, one inch tall, and she weighs about 90 pounds. The company contains a number of rather tall girls, and when Miss Priest is seen conversing with them behind the scenes she appears to be a mere child. She is a great favorite, everybody calling her "Muggsy." Miss Priest does considerable writing and, like every actor and actress, she is at work on a play. In this play she is to take the principal part.

The Galveston News said: "The Maid and the Mummy," seen last night and at matinee yesterday afternoon at the Grand, proved to be a conventional musical comedy. It was an enjoyable one, nevertheless, and the encores at one time became so extended in number that the leading comedian was prompted to add a stanza to one of his topical songs to the effect that the occupants of the gallery wanted too much for their 25c.

PURE FOOD EXPOSITION

Commencing Monday, March 19

AND continuing to and including March 31, 1906, AFTER-NOON AND NIGHT, at the corner of Third and Throckmorton streets, Fort Worth, Texas, we are making preparations for a grand display of FOODS, and an interesting and instructive exhibition of how to prepare the same for the table in the most palatable form.

Music and Other Pleasing Entertainment

All under the management of the Fort Worth Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association.

When it is said that "The Maid and the Mummy" is a conventional musical comedy, it is to say that it is outlined on the same general principles that nearly all of the musical comedies have been modeled for the past few years. This piece is conventional in that it has not and does not require a plot, and that it consequently relies for its success upon the tunefulness of its songs, the attractiveness of its scenery, the prettiness of its girls and the wit and humor of its comedians. In all of these last named qualities "The Maid and the Mummy" is up to the average. The songs were of the rollicky, laughing kind rather than possessed of the tender, graceful melody such as characterized the production of "The School Girl," for instance, and they proved possibly more popular. The prettier of the musical numbers, and the ones that linger longest in memory were "Flo" and "I Fell in Love With Polly." Mr. Stanley Murphy made a decided hit with his finely acted, "Oh, Gee, It's Great to Be Crazy," as did also Mr. Fred Warren, the Mummy, with his "I'm So Dizzy."

"The Heir to the Hoorah"
"The Heir to the Hoorah" will be given its first local presentation at Greenwall's opera house Friday matinee and night, March 16. The new piece is announced as an American comedy in four acts, by Paul Armstrong, a clever young newspaper man, who had previously written a fairly good farce called "The Superstitions of Sue," and a better melodrama which found some favor in the west under the title of "St. Anne's." "The Heir to the Hoorah," however, is neither farce nor melodrama, though it combines the qualities of each as they are understood in American dramatic nomenclature. It is a western play, and all four acts take place in interior scenes. The hero of the piece is Joe Lacy, a miner and typical rough diamond, one of a trio of chums who have seen hard days in their quest for gold, and who have finally been enriched by the Hoorah mine. Joe comes east, marries a society girl with a mamma, takes them both back west in a private car, and realizes a little that the comic papers are not so very far wrong in their descriptions of the much berated mother-in-law.

Joe has done a handsome thing by western widow, who, as the owner of the money and a disposition to share it with Kelly. The other little love story has to do with Bud Young, a crude westerner, partner of Joe Lacy in the Hoorah, who has been "strung" along by Joe and Dave Lacy about a certain maiden aunt, Madge Casey, until, as he says, before he sees Madge, that "whenever he has a nightmare, the maiden aunt is it." When, however, Miss Casey, svelte, youthful and beautiful, arrives fresh from Vassar, things are different, and she completes her revenge for the unfortunate Buds misjudgment by eventually marrying him. There is a quaint trio of typically western men, miners and cowboys, which adds much to the humor of the story.

The late Mr. LaShelle, according to New York opinion, exercised more than his usual accurate taste and judgment in casting the new comedy. He took Guy Bates Post, who will be remembered for his exquisite bit of work as Steve in "The Virginian," from that company to create the leading role of Joe Lacy, and took Miss Jane Peyton, last seen as Harriet Fordyce from the "Earl of Pawtucket" Company, to interpret the breezy western widow, Kate Brandon. Other important members of the company are Wilfred Lucas, Brinsley Shaw, Cassius Quimb, Ben Higgins, Louise Rutter, Harry Rich, T. Tanamoto, Frances Coventry, George Barr and Edith French.

Low Dockstader's Minstrels

This entertainment this year, says the press agent, consists entirely of glimpses among the colored folk of America, in its various phases and conditions. Mr. Dockstader appears in both the first part, where he sings two of his quaint songs, and again later in the evening, when he will be seen in a novelty entitled, "The Album of Minstrelsy," a most amusing skit called "The Rubberneck," and one of his brand new monologues. The surprising novelties which Mr. Dockstader has always introduced will again be very

His critics of manner and of speech afford the old lady abundant material for her purpose, and before long it is a case of "Betsy and I are out." After Joe and his wife have parted, an heir to the Hoorah mine is born, and through the baby, eventually, of course, the couple are brought together again. There are two subsidiary love stories which furnish amusement along high comedy and low comedy lines. One is an affair between Van Rensselaer Kelly, a Harvard man who has "gone back," and who seeks to better his fortunes as a foreman in the Hoorah mine, and Mrs. Kate Brandon, a breezy

WOMAN IN LAW DEPT. PLEASSED

Mrs. Etta Crim Lynch Likes Texas 'Varsity

STUDENTS POLITE

While the First of Her Sex to Attend the School, She Finds Welcome

AUSTIN, Texas, March 10.—Mrs. Etta Crim Lynch, the first woman to attend the law department of the University of Texas, after a brief month's experience in that department expresses herself as being highly delighted with her reception and treatment there. "The boys have been so cordial and have treated me so loyally that I have long since gotten over my feeling that I was intruding," she says. Mrs. Lynch came to the university a few weeks ago to familiarize herself with the peculiarities of the Texas laws. She was a practicing attorney in Ohio before coming to Texas, and hence felt completely at home in the law department, with the possible exception of being the first and only co-ed to attend that department.

Praises University
While Mrs. Lynch stated that this is the first law school she ever attended, she says:

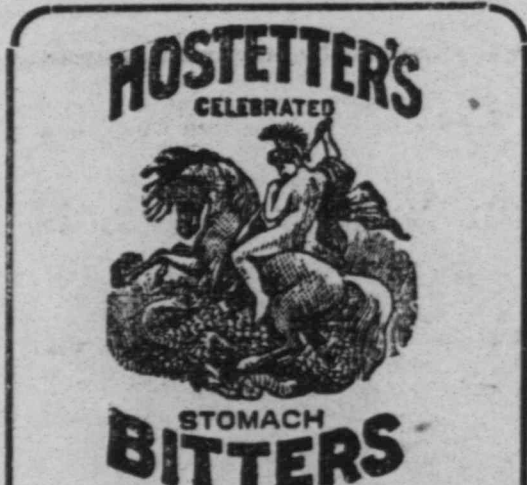

"I came to the University of Texas instead of taking up the work in a law office, because of its reputation of having the best teachers and the best method of teaching to be had. I knew that the training I would get at the university would be worth a great deal to me, whether I practiced in Texas, or for that matter, whether I practiced law at all or not."

She stated that her past experience in the study of law that she had studied in a law office in Ohio. The conditions there, she said, are very different from those in Texas, and that if one wishes to stand the state bar examination there they must have been registered with the clerk of the court three years before. Then they must read law for that time and come to the examination with a certificate from the academic department to form an opinion about that, but she intimated that if it kept pace with the law department she would be delighted with the university.

Students All Polite
When asked in regard to her impressions of the law department, she said: "I felt like an intruder at first, but they have been very kind and kind to me and I have since gotten over that feeling. The professors, the young men and all of them have been very kind. I was very much surprised that they were, as I should think one would imagine that a woman would care to read law in Texas, especially in the face of the laws against married women here. I thought they would wonder why a woman should want to read law in Texas, and would look upon her as being out of place. On the other hand, they were very kind, a good deal more than I had any right to expect, and made me feel completely at home and welcome. In the way of giving me information about the books, the classes and the work they treated me royally."

She was asked if she really expected to find any opposition or feeling against a woman in the law department. She replied: "Yes, I particularly expected it in the south, because women are not in the habit of entering the professions as they are in the north and west. I find, however, that they are ready to help me along. If the law department of the university represents the spirit of Texas as a whole, and I have no reason to think otherwise, I am sure Texas possesses that generous and chivalrous spirit so often ascribed to the south, and at the same time, can find room enough for the women in the law and other professions."

Likes Her Instructors
Mrs. Lynch is carrying the three topics, real property, commercial paper and Texas pleadings, and paid the instructor of each topic a high tribute. She said: "I am highly pleased with the teachers and the manner of teaching. I think that Judge Tarlton makes his subjects very clear and that one could get a good knowledge of the law of real property from listening to his lectures alone, even if they never followed the text afterwards. I admire Judge Tarlton equally with Judge Tarlton. He is so good-natured and makes every point so clear. He teaches in a way that makes the students think for themselves, and after attending his classes, I don't see how one can make a mistake in their pleadings. I like Dean Miller's method of teaching commercial paper. He makes the essential points so clear, and then he is cautious and makes the students work for themselves."

MONTA J. MOORE OUT TO FIGHT

New Gubernatorial Candidate Promises Some Excitement

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.
DALLAS, Texas, March 10.—What some have hoped for and others have dreaded has at last come to pass in Texas democratic politics. Some other distinct issue than prohibition has been injected into the state campaign.

Monta J. Moore has made good his threat to enter the race for the nomination for governor on a campaign that is unmistakably a crusade against the power of corporations. Mr. Moore has declared, time and again, during the last six months, that if some of the democratic candidates for the nomination for governor did not push this issue to the front he would, "at the proper time," enter the list of aspirants and push it himself. The "proper time" seems to have arrived, and Mr. Moore is in a fast schedule, for a man who has never held a public office higher than that of district prosecuting attorney, Mr. Moore is probably better known and wields more influence than any other man of that class in Texas. He is always present at conventions, has places important committees and is consulted and heard from in the deliberations. This has always kept him out of the list of obscurely known candidates, but now, saying the fact that his entry into the gubernatorial race will live up to the interest and precipitate discussion on something else than prohibition. Mr. Moore lives in Milan county, down in Central Texas, where democrats are numerous and intense. His friends declare that the managers of the corporations are responsible for the conspicuous place the prohibition issue has been given in the Texas campaign; that, far as the general public is concerned, it is a fictitious issue, pushed forward by the corporations as a screen to obfuscate their real aims.

The Awful Menace of Trusts
"Upon every promise of better times and a brighter future, the menace of trusts, withering and blighting as the deadly typhoid, the herculean task of dispatching this menace demands the combined strength of a united people, and it is no longer in the hands of the few, but in the hands of the many, that the strength at this time in contest among themselves is folly sublime."

To destroy the trusts and compel the corporations to obey the law is a simple thing, requiring mainly a brave spirit and an honest purpose. The state should be the creation of corporations, and the corporations are creatures of the state. The state has the right and ought to keep track of the business affairs of the corporations, as the national government does of the national banks—through examinations. As of first importance to Texas, it will advise the creation of a commission, with full power to investigate the business of corporations and to place in the hands of receivers those found to be insolvent or connected with trusts. This proposition and others will be elaborated in my opening address."

Mr. Moore has persisted in Texas, he has been making a campaign mainly on the demand that the corporations operating in Texas be placed under control of a commission, similar to the Texas railroad commission, with power to investigate operations, earnings and to take on some of the heaviest.

Referee Frank Gotch has not given up hope of becoming a prize fighter and will soon go into training to take on some of the heavies.

HEARING CHANGED

Railroad Commission Postpones Session Until March 27

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.
AUSTIN, Texas, March 10.—The railroad commission this afternoon issued an order changing the date of the March hearings from Tuesday, March 20, to Tuesday, March 27, one week later than the usual third Tuesday on which the public hearings are held.

Chairman Story of the commission said that the change was made because there was nothing of great importance to come up for consideration.

WHITE MAN ARRESTED

Middle Aged Farmer Charged With Attacking Woman Near Austin

AUSTIN, Texas, March 10.—P. A. Johnson, a white man, aged 45 years, was arrested by Sheriff Matthews today on a charge preferred by Miss Ollie Wells, aged 20 years. Miss Wells is the daughter of Mathison Wells, a farmer living near Dutch Water Hole, a small settlement about ten miles from the city. Johnson was held for action of the grand jury.

HOUSTON ZOO SOLD

Park Commission Disposes of Animals to Little Rock

HOUSTON, Texas, March 10.—Houston's principal park is void of a zoo, through a sale made Friday by the city commission selling the animals to the summer park of Little Rock, Ark. Deer, bears, wolves, alligators and coyotes were included in the sale. The commissioner says this was done to reduce the expenses of maintaining the park. The action occasioned great indignation.

INSURANCE CROWD A "BRACE GAME"

Demonstration Declared But a Cloak to Lobby

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.
ALBANY, N. Y., March 10.—The surprising declaration was made today that yesterday's great demonstration of insurance officials at the hearing on the Armstrong insurance bill was merely a cloak for a movement on the part of the lobbyists to bring about the defeat of the bill.

In legislative circles there seems to be a unanimous opinion that the showing made by the protesters against the bill was notably disappointing, the exception of points scored by Francis Lindabury of counsel for the Prudential Life not one of the speakers who opposed the bill presented an argument that claimed serious attention from the committee because the considerations set forth had already been exhaustively thrashed out both privately and in the public stances in this connection with the hearing and the showing which tend to confirm the widespread report that the men who control the big insurance companies cared nothing for the open hearing and arranged it merely as a blind to distract attention from the secret work of their henchmen in the legislature. It is pointed out in this connection that no serious effort was made to select trained debaters for the work of arguing against the bills. Instead of making an onslaught upon the committee with powerful protests delivered by eloquent lawyers, the managers of the insurance forces brought forward the new president of the "Big Three," one of whom is familiar with the details of the business, and the actuaries, who are naturally not versed in the art of public speaking.

PLOWS WITH COMPASS

Captain of Shamrock Proved to Farmers He Could Do Straight Furrow

Special Cable to The Telegram.
LONDON, March 10.—Captain Sycamore, skipper of Shamrock II, is the first man who ever ploughed a field, steering the plow with a compass. The skipper of the ship is an amateur farmer. Discussing ploughing with some farmers he was scoffed at. "You are a sailor and don't know anything about ploughing," the farmers said. "You can plough the sea but not a turnip field." Thereupon Captain Sycamore declared he could plough through more straight furrow than any farmer. A wager was made. The captain ploughed an acre field in record time. All his furrows were as straight as if ruled. The secret of his good work lay in the fact that the captain steered his plough straight by attaching a big compass to it and then laying his course.

BOYS FINED $25

Charge Was Stoning a Passenger Train at Palmer, Texas

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.
WAXAHACHIE, Texas, March 10.—Two white boys, Robert McMillan and Luke Ely, were fined $25 each in the county court this afternoon on pleas of guilty to rocking a passenger train. The boys were arrested at Palmer Wednesday, charged with stoning a Central train, as was told in The Telegram.

Piles Cured

Without Knife or Instrument

Sample Package Free So That We Can Prove It to You

"Every morning for over twenty years, I never went to the toilet without fear and trembling, and I never left it without having suffered agonizing tortures. Many days I did not dare go at all, so much did I dread
the terrible ordeal."

These are the exact words of a sufferer from piles, and we hear the same thing almost every day. It voices the sentiments of hundreds of thousands of others in this country today, for it is estimated that of every ten persons we meet in church, the street, or the theater, seven are affected with piles.
Martyrs and needless martyrs, too,
for since the discovery of the marvelous Pyramid Pile Cure no one need suffer one moment longer. There is now no excuse for having piles, and if you continue to suffer from them
you do not deserve a particle of sympathy, considering the chance we give you to prove it to your own satisfaction wholly free of cost to you.

Here is a typical case: Mr. Benjamin Shaw, postmaster, Bland, New Mexico. He had suffered from aggravated piles for years, and was upon the eve of a serious surgical operation, believing that he had reached the limit, and that the operation offered the only possible means of relief and cure. Let us quote his own words in his letter of Oct. 31, 1905:
"I was in great agony of mind and body. In the meantime, a gentleman, told me of the virtue of your Pyramid remedy. I fortunately found it at a drug store, and by the next morning I did not feel that an operation was necessary, and in three days I was able to return home, and a complete cure was accomplished to my great satisfaction and the surprise of the physician."

Send today to the Pyramid Drug Company, 1796 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich., and get a sample package by return mail, and then go to your druggist and get a box of the which is 50 cents, and get well without pain, trouble or cutting.

RUNAWAY HITS TEAMS

Horses Dash Over Jennings Avenue
Viaduct at High Speed

A serious runaway happened Saturday afternoon, when a two-horse lumber wagon standing on the corner of Twelfth and Throckmorton streets started running and ran down the narrow streets, which was filled with teams, and successfully turned the corner into Jennings avenue and dashed over the viaduct, and on the other side ran into a telephone, which stopped the team.

A vehicle belonging to G. C. Sharpe of Sagamore, which was hitched on Twelfth street, near Jennings, was completely demolished and scattered over the street for some distance. The horse escaped with minor injuries.
Three other rigs were injured to some extent, and one of the post supporting the awning at the rear of the drug store at Twelfth and Jennings was carried away by the lumber wagon. At the time the team ran into the telephone post at the end of its run it was wrecked.

The team was only prevented from running into the Majestic theater building by the plucky efforts of J. R.
Reeves, who tried to stop the horses.
He grabbed one of them by the bridle and diverted them from their course and turned them into Jennings avenue.

Why Our

Taste So Good

All the world loves good soda, and soon all the world will be drinking—we won't say good soda, because all soda is not good soda.
But that part of the world around here will have no trouble in getting good soda, and with the soft goodness goes the service goodness.

That is why our soda was so good last year. That is why our soda is going to be good this year. A little better this year, though, because we know more.

STILL DOUBTFUL

Woodmen's Delegate Returns to Fort Worth

MAY BE NO TRANSFER

Report Made by J. A. Todd Indicates That Nebraska May Retain Offices of National Organization

"I do not believe Texas or any other state will be able to secure the removal of national headquarters of the Woodmen of the World from Nebraska," was the report made by J. A.
Todd Saturday night, upon his return from Omaha.

Mr. Todd and O. S. Lattimore went to Omaha, Neb., where the supreme council of the Woodmen met, to present and urge the claims of Fort Worth for the headquarters, should it be decided to move them from Nebraska on account of burdensome taxes on the reserve fund there. Mr. Todd returned Saturday night.

"The supreme council," he said, "had not heard from the delegations from all the states that were after the national headquarters when I left, and on a charge of drunkenness. He was placed in the dungeon at the city prison following his refusal to work, but was later taken out. Chief Maddox says
other prisoners reported that the man
had later gone into the dungeon volun-
be alone."

800 EXHIBITS IN CATALOGUE
Fat Stock Show List Is Now Prepared

C. C. French, secretary of the Fat Stock Show, has been working night and day during the past week, preparing the catalogue which will contain the names, numbers and sires and dams of each animal exhibited at the coming show. The work has now been practically finished and the catalogue or booklet will contain the names of 800 head of cattle, together with other information regarding them. It has been a tedious task and has required practically the entire attention of Secretary French for the whole week. The booklet will be ready for the printer Monday.

As has been mentioned in The Telegram, the booklet is similar to that used at the national livestock exhibit at Chicago, and this will be the first time that such a publication has been issued in the south. Each of the animals will be numbered, the class number being attached to the forehead,
and the animal's number to its side.
By reference to the booklet prospective purchasers will be able to ascertain at once the name of the animal, its size and dam and the name and address of its owner.

The office of the secretary has been flooded with inquiries from people who are interested in the show and who intend to attend and exhibit. Mr.
French believes that the prospects for the attendance are far better than in former years, and he says there is every reason to believe that the show will be a successful one.

For handling the exhibit by the stock yards company have been extensive and the exhibit, which will be twice the size of that of last year, will be so displayed that the visitors will be enabled to inspect the stock with less inconvenience than in former years.

Every provision has also been made for the care of the stock while here and during the time intervening between this and the date of opening the show all of the details which have not yet been attended to will be worked out.

LIFE GUARDS.

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the king's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards.
The need of them is especially great during the greatest fogs of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements
as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip, and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone
to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.

Everything is gray this season. No other color has ever been so popular. An early inkling of this wonderful popularity of the new gray suitings led us to accept the offer of a well-known manufacturer, months ago, when he thought he was overstocked on fabrics that have turned out to be the vogue of the season. Monday we will offer a beautiful line of these gray suitings, sold elsewhere for 85c and 75c, for 50c.

day our prices will be 25c, 29c and up among them, it seems that the girls reached an agreement among themselves and decided that they would quit work at the body.

Their contention is not a matter of wages, but they object to certain work that they have been requested to do, and are dissatisfied with the time arrangement.

It is stated that some of the girls have agreed to return to work Monday.

CITY PRISONER

FOUND WOUNDED

Cuts and Stab May Prove Fatal

A city prisoner, about 36 years of age, registered on the department books as Antonio Genero, was found in the city prison Saturday night with a badly slashed throat, a severe stab in the abdomen and a cut in his right side. His condition was discovered by the officers shortly after 8 o'clock. He was removed to St. Joseph's infirmary, where physicians were still making an effort to save his life at 1 o'clock this morning.

Chief of Police Maddox stated Saturday night that the way in which he received his wounds was unknown. The man, who is supposed to be from Bridgeport, was arrested March 6 on a charge of drunkenness. He was placed in the dungeon at the city prison following his refusal to work, but was later taken out. Chief Maddox says
other prisoners reported that the man
had later gone into the dungeon voluntarily, declaring that he preferred to
be alone."

"In the deliberations of the supreme council the Waters-Pierce case in Texas was cited and it did us no good.
However, should there be a removal,
which I do not believe, and our laws don't conflict too much with the interests of the Woodmen, we stand just as good a chance to get the headquarters as any other state. The council was still working on the matter when I left, and will continue on it."

"The situation is about this: Some states have a law requiring fraternal orders to have a rate as high as the fraternal congress rate. The Woodmen instead of the fraternal congress rate have the accumulative certificate rate, which taken together with the rates we now have would make our rate equal to the fraternal congress rate, but would not come within the of the states referred to. If we should lapse our charter in Nebraska and take out a charter in some other state the Woodmen would be considered the same name; and as a new corporation it would be a question whether we could secure permits in the states having adopted fraternal congress rates."

"My belief is that the solution of the difficulty will be that the headquarters will remain in Nebraska, and that we will convert our municipal and school bonds into United States government bonds. This will reduce the rate of interest received by us to about the amount of the taxes imposed by the state of Nebraska; but this would cut Nebraska out from receiving any taxes on our securities which constitute our emergency fund."

At Greenwall's Opera House
"Brown's in Town," the familiar, funny farce, closed its engagement at Greenwall's opera house last night before a good-sized audience. The company this year is equal to those that have presented the attraction here heretofore.

BROWNS WIN FROM WARD'S PANTHERS

BOLES' WORK PLEASES

Fans Like Manner of Covering Short.

Will Also Improving in Ability to Find the Ball

Fort Worth's left hand slugger proved less efficient than the St. Louis right swingers, losing a loosely played game of ball to the Browns at Haines park Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 2.

Walter Boles was the bright star of the game from a Fort Worth standpoint, covering short in a way that reminded the fans of his middle of the season work and following his opening single of the game with good consistent work at the bat.

Willis, too, gave the fans a surprise, the one time league leader and suffered an off-year with the stick, connected with the twists and shoots in a way that shows his eye is on the ball.

Carlton at third made the best impression of the new men, his work on the whole being eminently satisfactory. Whiteness was erratic at second, and with bad backing in right, made the railroad side of the park a run getter for the Browns.

St. Louis played a straight ball and after making four runs in the sixth and taking the lead, they contented themselves with playing safe. Dupree and Strickland both played good ball, being undisturbed by big league bats.

Erwin played a steady game at bat, his hitting, however, being way off season form.

Cavender played his usual game, accepting all chances in left. Murphy in center also played a good game and altogether the fans many of whom picked the sun in the bleachers, leaving well satisfied with the season outcome.

Good team work for so early in practice was shown by the Browns, the aggregation facing the Panthers comprising a large part of the regulars.

The first team will play the Panthers at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Wicker and Slack will pitch for Fort Worth, the remainder of the line-up being as in Saturday's game.

Will Young's Dead Body Found with Note—Verdict Suicide

Special to The Telegram.

STEPHENVILLE, Texas, March 10.—Will Young, 47 years of age, brother to Judge Lee Young, was found dead from a pistol shot here today. The weapon was near the body and a note supposed to have been written by the dead man was found, which stated that he was "tired of life."

The coroner's verdict was that he came to his death by his own hands. Cause of the suicide is unknown. He was not a married man and previous to his death had resided on a ranch near the city.

YELLOW SUSPECT IS UNDER ARREST

Austin Negro Answers Description of Girl's Assailant

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 10.—Sheriff Matthews and his deputies this evening arrested a yellow negro suspected of being the one who attempted to attack Miss Matilda Martin.

The negro was brought up a side street in order to attract no attention. Sheriff Matthews was seen but declined to state whether the negro was the one wanted or not. The officers said the name of the negro arrested was John Moore and that he lives in this city.

He answers the description of the negro wanted. Before any charge is preferred against him, Sheriff Matthews will be taken before him and see if he can identify him.

On account of the great secrecy surrounding the arrest, not many people are aware that any arrest has been made.

ROUND BALE A SAVER

Reagan Company Says It Will Show Texas Farmers a Wonder

Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 10.—The Reagan Round Bale Company of San Antonio, which filed a charter at Austin today, expects to revolutionize the business of marketing the cotton crop, and save the farmers and ginners of Texas millions of dollars.

It is claimed that this can be accomplished by a labor saving compress invented by E. Reagan, which receives cotton direct from the gin saws, rolls it into perfect round lap bales of twice the density of any other compressed bales, and saves the cotton ginners and shippers as much cotton in this manner as in any other.

TO REBUILD DAM

Eastern Firm Proposes Reconstruction of Dam at Austin

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 10.—Judge W. P. Robertson, formerly of Austin, but now of New York, this afternoon gave out a statement outlining a proposition from a firm which he represents in the east, looking to the rebuilding of Austin's dam across the Colorado river.

According to Judge Robertson, this firm proposes to rebuild the dam and turn it over to the city, the city to repay the money expended in constructing the dam at so much per year, which would go as a rental to the city, having the benefit of the dam.

Mayor Shelley is favorably impressed with the proposition and says the city is likely to accept it.

$4 PER SHARE ON DENVER ROAD

Distribution Will Be Made on March 20

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, March 10.—The number of shares of stock sold today was 474,900, against 913,700 the same day last year.

The total par value of bonds sold today was $1,238,000, against $2,396,000 same day last year. A distribution of $4 a share will be made March 20 to the holders of the stock of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company, the funds for the same now being held by the Morton Trust Company.

"Washington has taken its profits in sugar," was the way a trader referred to the movement in the stock today, which is declared, was not only a violation of the state constitution of Colorado, but a violation of the federal constitution, thereby virtually suspending the right of habeas corpus, will be made at a meeting of Fort Worth Socialists in the business of the county court house Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The passenger agents of the various railroads were already working for the travel to many effectual cures. For sale by all druggists.

MANY LIVES LOST IN FRENCH MINE

All Hope of Rescue is Abandoned—Fire Raging

Special Cable to The Telegram.

PARIS, March 10.—One hundred and twenty miners, badly burned, have been taken from the mines at Courrières, near Catala in which 1,800 men were imprisoned by an explosion of fire.

Late news tonight from Courrières states that all hope of rescue work among the men in the mine, has been abandoned, as there has been a second cave-in, caused by another explosion in the shaft.

Courrières, where the accident occurred, is a coal mining region. The accident occurred just after 7 o'clock, when all the men had been lowered into the coal mine for the day's work. It was followed almost immediately by fire, which spread rapidly through all three of the galleries. The fire burned so fiercely that the flames reached the top of the shaft. The cages in which the miners are lowered to the mine were hurled from the shafts by the force of the explosion.

President Fallieres, on hearing of the disaster, at once gave orders to cancel the attendance at the ball which was to have been held tonight at the palace.

FRISCO TO BUILD INTO SANTONE

Davidson Confirms Rumors of Prompt Work

A. J. Davidson, president of the Frisco, with headquarters at St. Louis, gave out some news Saturday afternoon, which will be gratifying to land owners and residents along the section of the country between Brady, Texas and the terminus of the Frisco, and San Antonio.

"We are going to build the Frisco from Brady to San Antonio as soon as possible," said Mr. Davidson. "I do not know just now when we will begin the work, but we have taken the matter up and will get it as soon as we can. The Frisco is doing a great deal of building in various parts of the country and we have had so much work on hand that we have not been able to begin the extension at San Antonio."

"We realize the importance of building the road and are going to get it as soon as we can," said Mr. Davidson. "The Frisco intends to improve its road in Texas and try to make it better all the time. The Frisco has orders placed for 15,000 freight cars and between 225 and 275 locomotives."

Mr. Davidson would not even fix an approximate date regarding when the work on the Brady extension would be commenced. His statement is a confirmation of the rumors that have been current here for some time that the work would be begun in the near future.

THE HOME CIRCLE

Lingerie Making as a Lenten Occupation.

By Dorothy Dale.

The quiet lenten season often affords a great many busy women an opportunity for getting their wardrobes in order for spring, and the making of fine underwear is an especially attractive branch of home sewing. A great many who are not sufficiently experienced in the art of gown-making to make their own frocks are very skilful when it comes to fine hand-work, and as most undergarments are very simple of construction, anyone who can sew neatly should be able, with the help of a good pattern, to make any sort of underwear.

Really, unless one can afford to buy the more expensive grades shown in the shops, it will be found more economical as well as more satisfactory in every way to make these garments at home, as one can have a better cut and fit and use better materials than can be had in the cheap ready-made ones.

In the large illustration on this page and in one of the smaller cuts are sketched some of the new models in underwear, and it will be readily seen from a study of the drawings that ideas as to the correct cut have undergone a decided change.

The main idea at present is to do away with any superfluous material about the waist and hips, and among the new French pieces are shown combination garments of corset cover, short skirt and drawers, all fastening by a single opening down the front. The corset cover, which is of the seamless order, straight in the back and blue in front, is attached to the skirt by a beading in which ribbon is run, at the waist line. This skirt is made in circular style and has a fitted yoke about the hips. The drawers are attached to this yoke, so that a very slender hip line is given, as all extra material has been dispensed with in this way.

Combinations of petticoat and drawers are also in great favor, a sketch of one of these garments being shown in the lower right corner of the large plate.

The vogue of the princess gown is possibly largely responsible for this new underwear; in fact, these combinations are known as princess lingerie, but the idea of having as little bulk as possible about the waist and hips and of having one's underwear carefully fitted is to be strongly recommended, even after the fancy for the princess gown has died out.

It is really most important to have the correct lines in one's skirts, corset covers, etc., and many a woman would have a much better result in the drawing, with proper attention to these details.

To go back, however, to an explanation of my drawings—the larger figure in the oval frame shows a pretty and very simple style for a coming jacket of silk or linen, the model from which the sketch was taken being of white linen, with a dowered washable border in dainty colors. In silk these jackets, although not quite so practical, are also in great favor, washable silk being used.

The sketch just below this figure shows a design for a hand-made chemise, the low-cut neck and sleeve holes of which were scalloped by hand in white wash cotton. Little eyelet holes were buttoned in below these scallops for the ribbon to be run through and a graceful little design in drawn work squares and flower embroidery ornaments the front.

The figure at the upper right corner shows a good design for a night robe, the gown being in chemise style, slipping over the head, and having elbow length open sleeves. These sleeves were cut circular and were one of the most attractive features of the gown. The little seamless round yoke was outlined with valencienne lace insertion put on as shown in the drawing, small flower sprays also being embroidered here and there in the larger spaces left by the insertion.

The top of the yoke was finished by a frill of lace and a band of ribbon threaded heading, the sleeves also being lace trimmed. The next sketch shows a French model for a circular pair of drawers, made with a fitted yoke upper part. This garment is designed to take the place of a short petticoat, the full ruffles falling just below the knees. The little ruffling cape illustrated next is made of pale blue wash silk, inset with "baby" Irish lace, with wash ribbon embroidered swiss inset with valencienne or fine batiste or nainsook are also very good materials for making one of these little shoulder capes, and dowered dimity is also very pretty.

The second cut shows some designs for white petticoat founcies, the first one being drawn from a skirt with a double founce, the top founce being pointed and inset with two-inch-wide insertion. The edge of the founce was ruffled with wider lace, two founces on a lawn foundation ruffle finished with a gathered ribbon and finished with a bow. The third drawing shows another design for a petticoat founce, inset with fine embroidery and edged with an embroidery ruffle. The fourth drawing shows a corset pad of silk edged with a lace frill.

The fifth, sixth and seventh drawings show designs for ruffles for skirts, or drawers, German valencienne lace or fine torchon or Irish lace being used for the insertions and edges.

As to material for these home-made undergarments, the long skirts are usually made in fine cambric with a founce of lawn or nainsook, although a very elaborate lace or embroidery founce skirts English nainsook or French batiste is frequently chosen. Batiste or nainsook is generally used also for corset covers as well as night gowns and drawers, while Persian lawn is very pretty for the small ruffles on short petticoats, etc.

DOROTHY DALE.

Home Made Traveling Case.

The third plate shows two useful little traveling cases which can be very easily made by the home worker. The first sketch shows a case for a tooth brush, which was made of French cretonne, a strip of cretonne 17 1/2 inches long being used. Cretonne having a flowered stripe pattern, about 2 1/2 inches wide, should be used, the strip being lined with rubber. Bind the edges of the two strips together with half-inch wide satin ribbon stitched by machine, and finish by a row of feather stitching in colored silk to match the flower pattern.

A patent fastener is attached at the point of the strip, this point folding over and fastening as shown in the drawing. A bow of ribbon in two colors was placed on the outside of this point as an extra finish.

The next drawing shows a case made in the same way of cretonne lined with rubber, this case being designed for a wash cloth holder. The binding, however, instead of being of ribbon, was of wash tape with a white linen covered button placed over the fastener in the middle of the top.

Baked Apples.

To bake apples seems a very ordinary thing, and a recipe for so doing may seem almost superfluous, but here is a recipe which shows a little better way than is the ordinary method.

Many people bake apples just as they come, cores and all, simply placing them in a pan with a little sugar and water, but if these directions are followed the dish will be found to be much improved:

Baked Apples.—Wash and dry the apples carefully, then core them and place in a porcelain dish, filling the core one-half full of sugar. Squeeze a little lemon juice over each, and a little lemon peel or a small slice of lemon baked on the top of each apple is by many considered

Spring Refurnishings and Fixings.

By Beatrice Carey.

The season for the "spring housecleaning" is upon us, and the problem of freshening one's draperies, chair covers and such furnishings, cleaning rugs and curtains, repapering walls, at cetera, is causing many a housekeeper much anxiety. Really, unless a staff of servants is kept, it is almost impossible to keep a large house of using gasoline for cleaning that many householders refuse to have it at all about or in the house; nevertheless, with care and some common sense, there should not be the least danger, and as gasoline is about the only cleaning fluid that can be safely used on any material and fabric, it has much to recommend it. I always keep a gallon or so on hand, it being much cheaper to buy it in a quantity, keeping it in a tightly closed screw-top can outside the house. I also usually have a pint bottle tightly corked, which I keep on a window sill outside the window of an unused room in the third story, so that it can be easily reached if one is in a hurry and only a small quantity is needed for freshening a lace collar or cleaning a pair of white gloves.

For cleaning chair covers, sofa cushions, at cetera, it may be advisable to do the work, if possible, out of doors. If, however, as is so often the case with a city house, this would hardly be practical, it is perfectly safe to do the cleaning in the house, if ordinary precautions are taken.

A third-story room, or any small room rather off from the main part of the house, could be chosen for the work. Have the windows of the room open and be sure to close the transoms. If there is one, see that there are no lights or open fires burning near enough to be dangerous.

Four the gasoline in a basin, using a sponge or woolsen rag or cloth to rub the gasoline on the article to be cleaned. If one wishes to clean a chair covering which is upholstered on the chair itself, rub the gasoline on firmly, but rather quickly, as it is not advisable to have it soak in too much; then go over the cover with a clean cloth.

If a table cover or sofa cushion is to be cleaned use a table to work on, using a couple of old towels or cloths as a padding. Then lay the article on the table and rub hard with the gasoline, allowing it to soak through. If the covers are very much soiled two cleanings may be necessary, but it is surprising how this treatment will improve and freshen the colors.

A talk on spring refurnishings would hardly be complete without a few suggestions for repapering and redecorating rooms, there being several rules which must always be considered when taking up this subject.

One of the most important of these rules is to consider the light and the size of the room before deciding on the style of paper for covering the walls. A very bright, sunny room can often be safely papered in colors and patterns that would be disastrous on the walls of a room having a northern exposure or in a room that was not well lighted, while, on the other hand, a paper that would be charming in such a room would look too glaring and brilliant on the walls of a brightly lighted room.

The barely lighted rooms are, perhaps, a little more difficult to decide upon, however, in this respect, and a description of one or two such rooms, which are recently done over may be of help to some puzzled housekeeper.

One of these rooms was seen in an apartment, the room only having one window, which opened on an open court, so that it got very little sunlight.

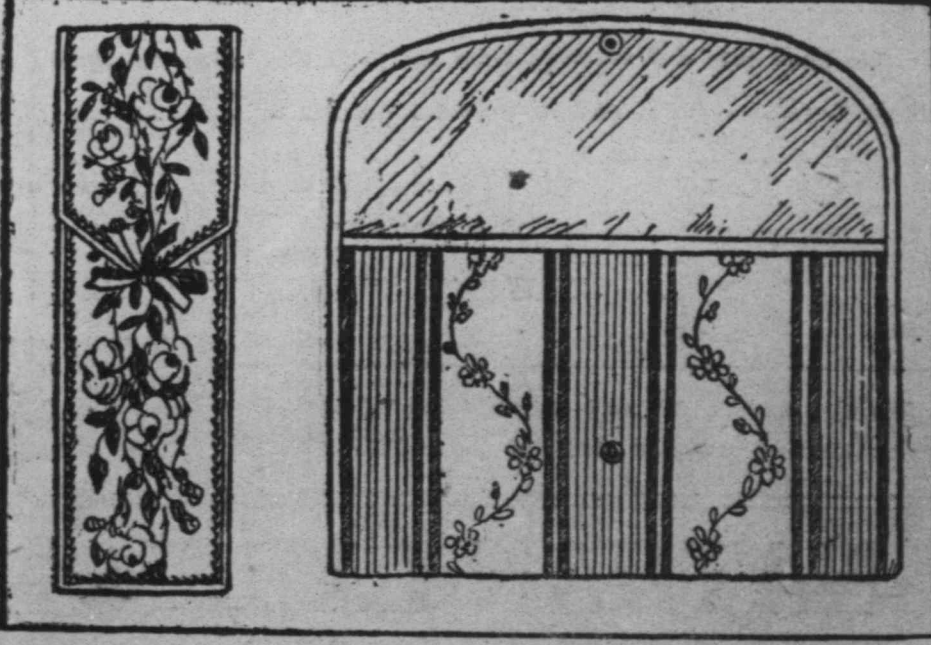

The room was rather narrow and long, the window being of good size, being built like a casement, with a wooden seat below. The woodwork was of black oak, in which all the living-rooms of the apartment were done, but ivory, white enameled woodwork, had it been possible, would have been even more desirable. The walls were hung with plain, heavy raglax paper, in a soft, bronze yellow, the woodwork of the room forming a wainscot to a height of about six and a half feet. The division between the top of the wainscot and the paper was finished by a plate rail, on which bits of delft and willowware and small brass pieces were decoratively placed. The ceiling was of a very pale creamy yellow, almost a cream white.

The window of the room was most effectively treated, being hung with cream-white fish-net curtains, over which yellow silk curtains were run on a brass rod. Little from the middle of the window and hung straight. There was also a gathered valance across the top of the window of the yellow silk. A handsome fern was set in the middle of this window on a stand, the bunch under the window being cushioned with linen satins in white damask pattern in yellow and brown. The doorways were also hung with this material.

The furniture was in mahogany. Another very successful apartment showed some very good suggestions for a room where the natural lighting facilities were not very good. This room was furnished as a living-room, the woodwork all being in white enamel. A red wall covering was chosen, the shades being a light, soft crimson in Japanese grass cloth. The room was not a very large one, and the walls were covered to within a foot or so from the top, the drop ceiling joining it at that distance under a white enamel picture molding. The ceiling was in a very deep cream tone. Bookcases were built into the wall, the woodwork of these being white, the glass sliding doors having lattice panes.

The floor was stained, varnished and waxed to give the effect of hardwood, the large rug in the center being a Kashmir, in dull red, blue and soft green. The window draperies and doorway hangings were linen damask in two shades, of red and white, set on a plain crimson ground. The inner window curtains were of cream linen with wide bands of heavy lace insertion.

The chairs, tables, desks at cetera were in dark wood, mostly mahogany, and there were several potted plants and pretty shaded lamps conspicuous among the furnishings. BEATRICE CAREY.

DALLAS WINS GOLF MATCH

Close Play Seen at Arlington Heights

Dallas and Fort Worth played one of the closest matches of golf at Arlington Heights Saturday that has ever been witnessed in the state. Eight matches were played at eighteen holes each, and of these four were all square at the end. Of the others, Dallas won three and Fort Worth one.

The final score of the match showed that the Dallas Golf Club won eight up for a total of 144 holes. Each of the eighth men on the side played eighteen holes match play with his opponent. The playing of the Fort Worth team was equal to that in the match against Waco two weeks ago. Most of the Dallas team arrived in the morning and played around the course so as to familiarize themselves with it. Play was started at 2 o'clock and two rounds of nine holes were played by each couple. The best work of the day was done by H. L. Edwards of Dallas, who equaled the record for the course on his first round, making it in 42 strokes. The second time around he made 47, or a total of 89, which is one of the best records that has ever been made on the course by an amateur. The best Fort Worth player was J. D. Collett, who made two rounds in 48 each, a total of 96.

Harry Wynne was the only member of the team who defeated a member of the visiting team, winning 4 up. W. T. Humble, Ed Collett, M. E. Berney and J. D. Collett all finished even up. J. B. Gray lost to his opponent, as did F. H. Sparrow and Sam Beck.

The members of the Dallas team were entertained at the club by the Fort Worth players at luncheon preceding the match and after the finish a polo game was played by members of the Fort Worth Polo Club. The polo game was one of the best that has been seen this season, eight goals being made in but three periods of fifteen minutes each.

After the polo match tea was served at the club house to the visitors by the women of the club. The following assisted serving tea: Mesdames D. T. Bomar, James Gray, L. Sloan Orcutt, James Collett, Richard Van Zandt, W. T. Humble, Bernie Anderson, Whittia, Burton, Morris Berney and Miss Bernie Newlin.

The result of the golf matches was as follows: Harry Wynne, Fort Worth, defeated A. Q. De Dallas, 4 up; H. B. McDonnell, Dallas, and W. Humble, Fort Worth, even up; Ed Collett, Fort Worth, and F. F. Sloney, Dallas, even up; M. E. Berney, Fort Worth, and F. J. Baker, Dallas, even up; J. D. Collett, Fort Worth, and J. Putterbaugh, Dallas, even up; H. S. Ralston, Dallas, defeated Sam Beck, Fort Worth, 1 up; H. L. Edwards, Dallas, defeated J. B. Gray, Fort Worth, 4 up, and J. C. Duke, Dallas, defeated F. H. Sparrow, Fort Worth, 7 up. Total score, Dallas 12, Fort Worth 4, making Dallas 8 up.

Polo Game

The polo game between teams of three members of the Polo Club was fast and furious.

The winning team was composed of Bernie Anderson, George Kaufman and J. D. Collett, and the losing three of H. Fritsch, W. Ward Jr., and F. Sterling.

The members of the polo club will work almost every day from now on until they leave for the series of matches with the New Orleans team at New Orleans, March 19, 21 and 23. The play at the Country Club during the past week has improved greatly and the members of the team are beginning to feel more confident of the result of the matches while away.

Business College Defeats Medical College at Baseball

Draughon's Business College defeated Fort Worth Medical College team in an interesting game at Prospect park Saturday afternoon by a score of 11 to 10. The game was close all the way through, and hits and errors were frequent on both sides.

Neither of the pitchers were in good form and both gave many bases on balls. About 200 people saw the game.

NEW OFFICIAL A YOUNG MAN

Frisco Vice President Aged Thirty-six Years

NO CHANGES EXPECTED

Resignation of H. M. Fickinger Accepted at Meeting of Directors of Fort Worth and Rio Grande

There was a meeting of the directors of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande railway at the office of former Vice President H. M. Fickinger at 8 o'clock Saturday night, called for the purpose of acting upon the resignation of Mr. Fickinger and electing W. B. Drake as his successor.

Mr. Fickinger held the office of vice president and general superintendent of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande and also that of vice president and general superintendent of the St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas, and Mr. Drake succeeds him in both of these offices.

Mr. Drake was elected to the office of vice president and general superintendent of the St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas at a meeting of the directors held at Sherman, and he was elected vice president and general superintendent of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande at the meeting held here Saturday night. Further than the election of Mr. Drake, there was nothing else given out regarding the directors' meeting. Mr. Davidson stating that it was merely formal, the changes ratified having already been decided upon by those interested.

Will Remain Here

Mr. Fickinger says that he intends to remain in Fort Worth for the present, but that his plans for the future have not been definitely decided upon. Mr. Fickinger spoke in the highest terms of his successor, Mr. Drake, and stated that he had a very high regard for the Frisco management.

Sketch of Drake

Mr. Drake, as has been announced, was formerly assistant to the general manager of the Frisco at St. Louis, a position he has held for a number of years. No successor was appointed to succeed Mr. Drake at St. Louis, and President Davidson states that there will simply be changes made in handling the work there. Just what these changes will be he said had not been thoroughly decided upon.

Mr. Drake was chief clerk under A. J. Davidson when the latter was general superintendent. President Davidson has therefore had opportunity to prove his merits and he recommends him to the people of Texas. Mr. Drake is 36 years of age and will be one of the youngest vice presidents of a railroad in Texas. He is expected to arrive here Sunday and will at once assume the duties of his new office.

No Other Changes

While there is some uneasiness felt in the Frisco offices by men who have served under Mr. Fickinger, the general impression prevails that there will be no further changes incident upon his resignation. Mr. Fickinger himself shares this opinion.

While Mr. Fickinger announces that his plans for the future have not been decided upon, his friends predict that he will shortly become identified with one of the new railroads of Texas. Mr. Fickinger is a railroad man of years of experience and can command considerable capital, and should he become identified with one of the Texas roads he would be quite an acquisition for the railroad company. As has been mentioned in the Telegram, Mr. Fickinger has held the office of vice president and general superintendent of the Frisco here since November, 1903, and prior to that time he had been for eight years superintendent of the Kansas City and Fort Scott branch of the Frisco, with headquarters at Emporia, Kan., during the service of the Frisco. Mr. Fickinger served several years with the Colorado and Southern.

NEEDLESS ALARM

Here's a poor man coughing away his lungs—at least so his relatives think.

It's cough, cough; hack, hack, hack; all day and sometimes all night.

"Must be consumption," think the alarmed ones.

But if they're wrong, because Dyspepsia is so much more common than Consumption.

And Dyspepsia causes chronic Cough, just like Consumption.

The dyspeptic cough, it is well to remember, can be quickly cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

No need to be alarmed about it unless you make up your mind to neglect it.

Then, indeed, you must look out for danger, for the Dyspeptic Cough often grows into a Consumptive Cough if neglected, by the constant lung irritation which it causes.

So the best way is to waste no time, but begin at once the use of these famous little tablets, the timely use of which has saved many a sick person from ending in a consumptive's grave.

Remember, however, if you please, that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will positively NOT cure Consumption, but prevent it.

Of course, they can always be depended on to cure all the other symptoms of indigestion.

They are a universal cure, for one universal disease.

They cure nothing else; but what they do, they do thoroughly and well.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the result of the most thorough investigation into the inside causes and the cure, of indigestion, that has ever been attempted.

They have solved a problem, the answer to which a hundred thousand physicians in America are today groping for in vain.

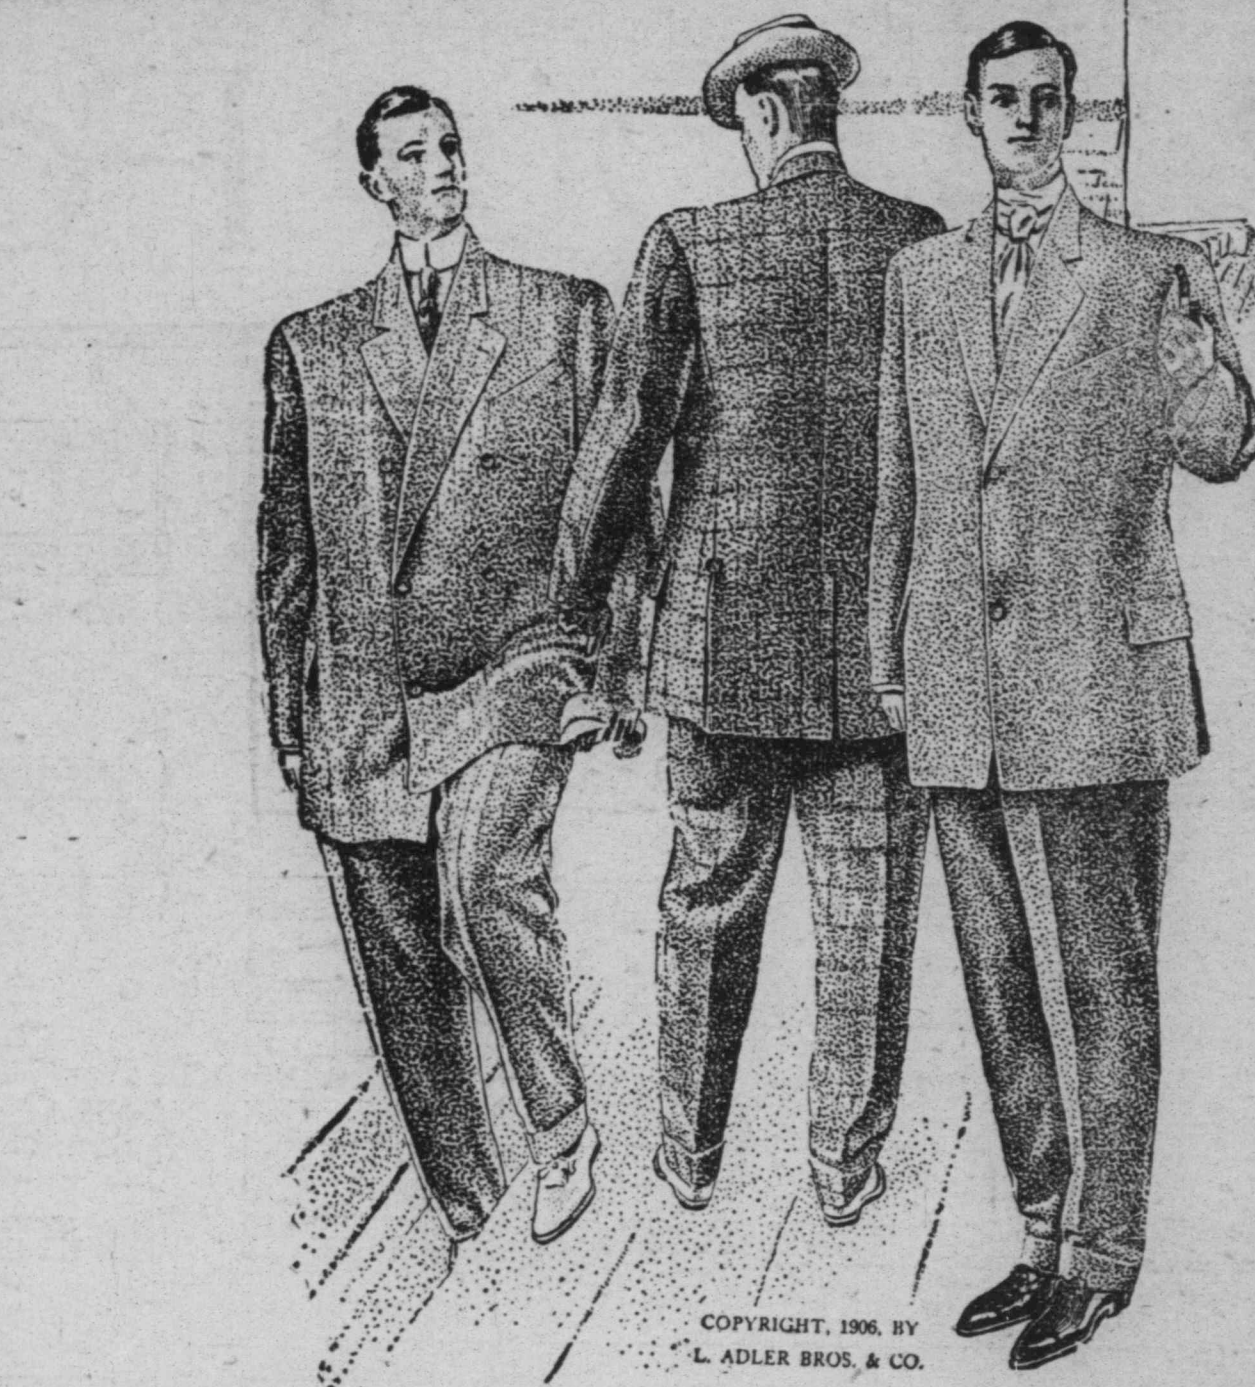

They cure the most severe, long-continued chronic, complicated cases of indigestion that can be found. They are far ahead of the most modern medicinal practice, because the most successful physicians of the day, in the cure of diseases of the digestive organs, are using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a basis for their success.

They stoop to Stuart's to conquer. And Stuart's lift them up, out of the mire.

If, therefore, you are a victim of this dread disease, which counts its victims by the millions, brace up and take new heart, for you cannot fail to cure your trouble, if you will only put your faith in this great remedy, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They are positively, frankly, truly, a sure and permanent relief.

Try them. Book on Dyspepsia free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Miss C. M. Talbott Named Saturday

Appointment of Miss C. M. Talbott of Dallas as sponsor for the Texas division at the coming reunion of Confederate Veterans at New Orleans was announced Saturday by Major General K. M. Van Zandt in the following general order:

"The major general commanding hereby announced that he has appointed Miss Cornie M. Talbott of Dallas, Texas, sponsor for the Texas division to the sixteen annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, to be held at New Orleans, La., April 25, 26 and 27, and takes great pleasure in confirming Miss Talbott's appointment of Miss Bertha Storey of Austin, Texas, maid of honor, and that they are entitled to and shall receive all honor, respect and courtesy due such positions from the chivalry of the Confederate soldier."

BANK ROOM MOVED

Farmers and Mechanics Temporarily in Basement of Hoxie Building

The Farmers and Mechanics' bank moved to the basement of the Hoxie building, in the room formerly occupied by the Board of Trade, Saturday night. Their quarters will be in this room for about sixty days while the improvements on the first floor are being completed. The bank will be ready for business in the temporary home Monday morning.

A Toothsome Tale

John loved Eliza, but alas, poor Eliza had teeth that might have got a prize for variegated styles and size. At any freak museum show. Ill-shaped, hairy, prone to ache. Eliza never dared to nibble cake or chocolate candy lest it make her nerves in spasms go.

When Eliza's mouth was wreathed in smiles, John's thoughts would run to cross-fires, fizzes, pickets and buzz-saws, harbor spies, so ragged was their brink.

Ah me, sighed John, I never can wed a girl with such teeth in her head. By less things, men I've known were led.

To down their woes in drink.

But, happy thought, to Eliza I'll send a card of Crenshaw's. He can mend her teeth and prove a friend, to me in need.

A little work on Eliza's jaws by painless methods soon can cause a wondrous change in all their flaws. A miracle, indeed.

Eliza got the card; to Crenshaw went; He, by his skill, soon beauty lent To every molar; smoothed each dent. And cured each ache.

John and Eliza soon will wed; Their cards are printed, now, 'tis said; And Crenshaw, at the marriage spread Will cut the cake.
