PRISONERS ATTEMPT TO PROCURE TOOLS WITH WHICH TO EFFECT JAIL DELIVERY—PLANS NIPPED IN TIME

Deputy Sheriff John McCulloch nipped in the bud a scheme to escape of some of the prisoners in the Lubbock County jail, a few days ago. Sheriff Holcomb is absent from the city for a few days on a vacation trip and a visit with relatives in other sections of the state, and during his absence the prisoners were in care of Deputy Sheriff John McCulloch, who is occupying the lower part of the jail building. For several days, Mr. McCulloch stated that he had noticed the peculiar maneuvers of the prisoners, and became suspicious that they were up to some sort of devilment, and decided to watch them closely and see if he could "catch on." Thursday afternoon he decided to put out a bait for them, which they took hook and all. He and his wife got in his car, where the prisoners could see them, and pretended to leave town, but instead of doing that they drove around a few blocks and came in on the opposite side of the jail, where they could get an advantageous view of the jail grounds and stood watch for a while. After watching for a time, they saw a Mexican approach the jail, and stop directly under the window near the cell where Sam Cates and Smith were confined, and two letters were thrown out and the Mexican evidently instructed to "beat it" to the mail with them, which he attempted to do, but Mr. McCulloch was too quick for him, and stopped him and took the letters away from him, and learned the contents of them, which revealed the fact that they were trying to get in touch with some of their friends and to secure some means of escape from the Lubbock county jail.

The letters thrown from the window are now in safe keeping by Mr. McCulloch for future reference. One was written by Smith, to his sweetheart in Oklahoma, telling how happy they would be in a few weeks, and for her to save all her "loving" for him, and various other expressions too soft to handle.

Cates wrote the other, according to Mr. McCulloch, and it was addressed to Clyde Anderson, Dallas. We below print a copy of the Gates letter, which is self-explanatory: Tuesday Night. "Dear Old Clyde: "Haven't had a letter from you since you went away. We are all well and happy. Coleman got eight years. The Mexicans will go to trial the 15th. Charlie and family have gone visiting—will be away until the 14th. Lister, Clyde, in great need of some "hack saws." You get a half dozen, and pack them in a box of candy. You know how to pack them so this "would-be Sheriff" won't find them. Do this as quick as possible. Address the candy to Hughlett Smith, your brother. Have it to return to a fake name, you will know how to do that old stuff. "Mary was just up here, she is ok. I said tell you hello. You may see us in Kal, Zoo someday, ha ha! Hope you and your sweet little old angel are ok, and also Jimmie. Yes, how is Jimmie anyway? Give him and his sweet angel our best regards. Clyde you write me, and if you get this, and send the saws, put a large "X" up in the right hand corner of your letter, so I will know. "Hope this finds you in good health and happiness, with love from your old pals.

SAM and SMITH. After Mr. McCulloch had caught the Mexican and secured the letters he went back into the jail and hid himself where he could hear the conversation the two prisoners carried on after watching the Deputy take the letters from the Mexican. McCulloch said in the conversation, after the prisoners knew their game was all off, Cates asked Smith to take all the blame, as he thought he had enough hanging over him as it was. This, Smith agreed to do, and the next morning Smith told Mr. McCulloch that it was all his game and Cates had nothing to do with it, but this was too thin for John to believe, as "I had heard Cates ask Smith to take all the blame, and furthermore, they talked of making their get-away the next morning by overpowering the jailer when he brought them their breakfast.

CONGRESSMAN MARVIN JONES LAYS BLAME OF TAX BURDEN AT THE FEET OF REPUBLICAN PARTY

Following are excerpts from a speech delivered by Congressman Marvin Jones in the House of Representatives on August 4th: "Tax revision is the all-absorbing topic of the day. On the street corner, in the busy marts of trade, in the field, the factory and on the farm is the constantly recurring cry, 'When is Congress going to revise the revenue laws?'"

"We are still doing business under practically the same revenue laws that were enacted in the stress of the war times. From every community in America strong young men with eager eyes were hastened to a conflict three thousand miles away. It took billions to properly equip and supply them. It mattered little that business was interfered with. Business could be revived at a later date, but the Armies of Freedom were compelled to act at once and with driving power or everything including business would be lost."

"The War Revenue Measure passed the House of Representatives on May 23, 1917, just 47 days after the declaration of War, by a practically unanimous vote, Democrats and Republicans alike, voting for the measure in these stirring times. No party can claim the credit. Whatever of demerit the bill had and whatever glory came from it must be shared by all parties."

"On September 20, 1918, the second war time revenue measure passed the House by an unanimous vote. "Thanks to co-operation the war was won."

"Just before the signing of the armistice the Republicans gained control of both branches of Congress."

"With the coming of peace everyone realized that the one big problem in this country was to readjust the war revenue laws to suit peace time conditions. No one law this more clearly than the Democratic President, and in his first measure to the new Republican Congress on May 20, 1919, he urgently requested an immediate revision of the war time tax laws. He stated in that message, 'I hope that Congress will find it possible to undertake an early reconsideration of the Federal tax laws. The taxation shall rest as lightly as possible on the productive resources of the country,' etc."

"During the nearly three years that have elapsed the Republicans have been in complete control and yet they have ignored the President's message and the desires of the American people."

"Whatever blame is to be had for the failure to revise the taxation laws of this country must rest where it belongs—at the feet of the Republican party. That party has been in complete control, and yet throughout the long weary months that have widened into years, the American people have been crying for relief and all that has been heard is the empty echo of that fruitless cry, for the Republican leaders have sat supinely by and watched the American people wear the yoke. They have watched business almost go to the wall; they have seen what was a prosperous and flourishing country under Democratic control crash into what amounts almost to a panic under a Republican rule."

"Even at this session instead of taking up the revision of the revenue laws, the Republicans, grown rusty with tradition, began to tinker with the tariff. The American people asked for bread and they gave them a stone; they asked for tax revision and they gave them a tariff law. True to the historic traditions of the old party they have fed the American people on promises. The Elephant has always been a slow moving animal but this time the leaders have kept him chained to a 'stob.'"

"The people of the United States have been long-suffering and kind to the Republican party, but when they realize the true facts I predict they will rise in their anger, and sweep that party from power."

Act of Congress May Put Millions To Work Soon

Washington, August 9.—Jobs for one million idle men will be provided if Congress passes the administration's railroad credits bill, Eugene Meyer, head of the War Finance Corporation, declared today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee in opening hearings on the bill.

It would put 200,000 men immediately to work making railroad equipment he said, and by creating a great demand for fuel and other materials, would gradually result in opening mines at present closed.

Interviewed with the bill's effect on unemployment would be, Meyer said:

1. Improvement of the market for farm products.

2. Releasing of frozen credit, in great amounts for the help of general business.

3. Advancing of the time when railroad rates can be reduced.

4. Increases in Government revenues by reason of an increase in general business.

M. E. Clark, of Mineral Wells, was in Lubbock the first of this week.

Lubbock Schools Will Begin on September 5th

All schools in the Lubbock Independent School District will open Monday, September 5th. All pupils between the ages of seven and fourteen are required to attend at least the first five months under the State Compulsory law. All pupils who have moved into the district from other schools please see about getting your report-card-and-book card from your last school. We can not issue books to pupils who do not have book cards, so do not fail to attend to this now, so you will not be compelled to buy all your books. All pupils transferred to the Lubbock Independent School District, must go to the County Superintendent and get a transfer card, showing the amount of money transferred to this district. All pupils having books from the library must return them next Tuesday and get book card. Do not ask the librarian to attend to this some other time, and do not wait until just time for school to begin to return them, as we must disinfect all books for at least two weeks before school is to open. If you do not return these books now they can not be taken back and used next year. M. M. DUPRE, Supt.

REAL ESTATE MEN OF LUBBOCK COUNTY ORGANIZE IN MEETING AT COURTHOUSE TUESDAY EVENING

At a very enthusiastic and interesting meeting held Tuesday night the real estate men of Lubbock County perfected an organization to be known as "The Lubbock County Real Estate Board." A constitution, by-laws and "Code of Ethics" were adopted and permanent directors or an Executive Committee elected. This committee is to meet later for the purpose of electing from its number the officers of the organization, consisting of a president, vice-president and a secretary-treasurer.

The purposes of this organization as outlined in the constitution adopted by the new organization are as follows: To establish and standardize the business of real estate brokerage; to maintain the dignity and responsibility of its members in their duty to the public; to provide and organization for centralized effort and co-operation in enhancing the welfare and development of our country; to make the desirable property to which our many advantages entitles us, may be attracted and protected; to institute rules and enforce them for uniform commissions, and uniform listing of properties; to cultivate and enforce fair dealing and good fellowship among its members; to adopt and promulgate a suitable code of ethics for the conduct of the real estate business upon a high plane of business integrity which will, by its effect, merit and command the respect, business and influence of the public to the extent that, through its moral effect and influence on all agents or brokers dealing in real estate. Whether members of this organization or non-members, the buying and selling public may be protected against unethical, improper, unfair, and fraudulent dealings and practices by irresponsible, and unprincipled agents or brokers.

The by-laws of the organization provide for a uniform commission to be charged on all cash or part cash sales of 5 per cent of the total consideration, and 2-1/2 per cent of the consideration on both properties in an exchange.

The by-laws also provide that the members of the organization shall practice the exclusive listing of properties, so that the agent selling same may be protected and so that the owner of the property will receive a better service. It is pointed out that where an agent has the listing of any property exclusively he can afford to spend more time and money in pushing and advertising the property and thereby come nearer making a sale for the owner, whereas, if property is listed with all agents none of them can afford to give it close attention.

The organization is designed for the purpose of protecting its members and the public from unscrupulous, unprincipled and irresponsible agents, commonly called curb-stoners, and each member pledges himself not to divide commissions with any person who is not actively engaged in the real estate business.

Only persons, firms or corporations actively engaged in the business of selling, buying, renting, managing, or loaning money on real estate are eligible for membership in the organization, and must maintain an office in Lubbock County in which such business is transacted.

The Code of Ethics adopted by the organization is unique in that it lays down rules and regulations founded on the golden rule—"Do unto others as you would that they do unto you," and places the membership on an honor basis in the transaction of their business, treatment of the public and fair dealing with fellow members. The code of ethics is based on the

Legislators to Consider Making a State Park

Austin, August 8.—The feasibility of making a State park out of the Davis mountains will be considered by a committee composed of the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the House and three members of the Senate, provided for in a concurrent resolution adopted by the Legislature today. The resolution was introduced in the House by Stewart of Reeves, and others, and was sponsored in the Senate by Senator R. M. Dudley. The Sunday Star-Telegram carrying a full page of scenes in the mountains in the rotographure section, was shown to many members of the House and Senate this morning by Representative Stewart and Senator Dudley, who attribute the practical unanimity with which the resolution was adopted to the publicity which has been given the Davis mountains. One of the provisions of the resolution points out that in "the proposed Davis mountain State Park area," is the "last refuge of the big-game animals with which the State of Texas was once well supplied," and it is desirable that it be "taken under State control in order that deer, bear, mountain sheep, wild turkey, blue pigeons and other game animals and birds be preserved from ruthless slaughter and ultimate extinction."

BURGLAR ENTERS PEEK HOME TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. C. H. Peek called the sheriff Wednesday morning to come to their home in the northwest part of the city, to see if any clues could be found leading to the whereabouts of an unknown man that entered the Peek home Tuesday night.

In the early part of the night some of the Peek family were aroused by someone walking through the house. On getting up to investigate Mrs. Peek said they got in a few feet of the man who was carrying a flashlight. The burglar fled from the house when the family was aroused. His tracks were very plain leading from the yard in the direction he had run, according to Mrs. Peek, and the sheriff went to the house Wednesday morning with hopes of finding some clue leading up to his capture.

HOUSE ENGROSSES REPRESENTATIVE REDISTRICTING BILL—THE SENATE PASSES IT, REVENUE BILLS DEFEATED

Austin, Texas, Aug. 9.—Late today the House engrossed the representative redistricting bill and the Senate engrossed and passed finally the Senatorial redistricting bill. Provision for the rural schools for the next two years was made by the Senate today when a bill by Senator Floyd carrying an appropriation of $1,000,000 for each of the next two years was engrossed and passed finally. The House as yet has taken no action on this matter.

A recommendation of the penitentiary investigating committee was also carried out in the Senate when the bill by Senator Williams, chairman of that committee, proposing a definite method of ousting prison commissioners was engrossed and passed finally. The bill provides that trials for such purposes shall be held either in Walker or Travis county.

The Senate on motion of Senator Dudley refused to concur in the House amendments to the eleemosynary institution bill and the following free conference committee was appointed to work out a compromise: Senators Dudley, Bledsoe, Hertzberg, Richards and Woods.

On the point of personal privileges Senator Doyle said that if there was anything in his speech yesterday proposing the national guard appropriation act that reflected on the American soldier that he apologized for it. He said that he referred to General Pershing, who he called the "head of Night session was opened by A. Judd, acting president. The Rebecca opening ode was sung by all present, after which invocation by Brother A. H. Bennett, of Pride Lodge, who is past eighty years of age. The hall was then cleared for drill work by the drill team, and their work was most creditably performed. After the drill work a supper was served to about three hundred Lubbockites and visitors. Music for the occasion was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Dyess. After the supper the session adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock Wednesday.

Wednesday's session was called to order by vice president A. Judd. A number of committees were appointed and the meeting adjourned till 1:30 o'clock.

The Lubbock Rebecca Degree team and the Slaton Degree team competed for a prize, which was awarded the Lubbock lodge, but both teams did splendid work.

Reports of the committees were heard and the election of officers was entered into, which resulted in the following officers for next year: J. L. Hoffman, Slaton, President; A. Judd, Lubbock, First Vice President; Lydia Whipple, Slaton, Second Vice President; R. L. Hagler, Slaton, Secretary-Treasurer; Rev. J. B. Cole, Crosbyton, (re-elected) Chaplain.

Crosbyton was selected as the next meeting place for the Association, which will be some time in June of next year.

Wednesday evening Slaton Degree team put on the first degree work, which was much enjoyed by all present.

The Christian Revival Closed Monday Night

The big tent meeting on Broadway, under the leadership of the Edwards-Pollock team, came to a successful close on Sunday night. There were 23 additions to the church during the meeting and we hope others will follow soon. Bro. Edwards did some mighty fine preaching, and Mr. Pollock as a singer, cheered the hearts of those who heard him. Our church was greatly strengthened as a result, and we hope the whole town was benefited thereby. On Monday night we came back to the church building for a reception to the new members. This was indeed a very pleasant occasion. There will be the usual services at the church next Sunday, and the public is cordially invited.

WOULD STOP BRUTAL TREATMENT AT PRISON

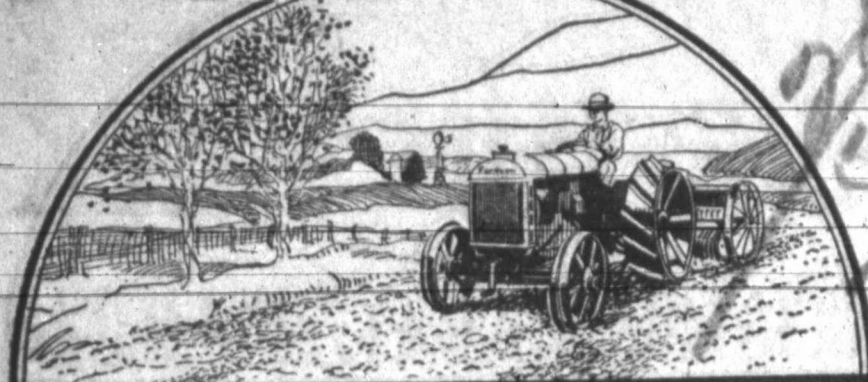

Austin, Aug. 2.—A bill to stop brutal and inhuman treatment of convicts was introduced in the Senate by Senator Harry Hertzberg, Bexar County.

All increases in taxes or proposed new taxes in House bills were killed by the House committee on revenue and taxation this morning, when the committee sitting with full membership voted to postpone indefinitely consideration of any bills now before it. Among the bills thus killed are the Severance tax bill, the amusement tax bill and the one-cent per gallon on gasoline.

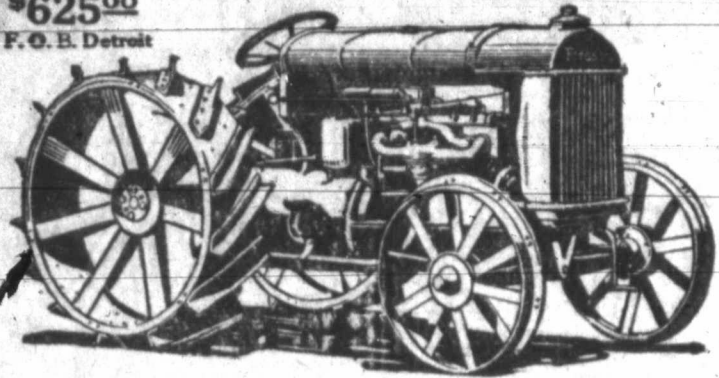

The House passed to third reading the Rogers Senate bill, authorizing the board of control to lease the Kerrville tubercular hospital to the federal government; also engrossed the Veatch House bill abolishing the marketing and warehouse department, and the board of weights and measures, placing the duties of each on the department of agriculture. The House late today again voted to get the appropriations bills out of the way, when a motion by Chairman Satterwhite of the appropriations committee that the suspension calendar be replaced by the departmental appropriation bill carried by a 72-to-9 vote. Consideration of the bill department by department began. Amendment by Pope of Nueces, that all moneys shall be expended only as appropriated, was adopted.

An amendment by Borham of Bexar, reducing the salaries of two stenographers in the governor's office from $1,500 to $1,200, was defeated.

Hon. W. H. Bledsoe, Member of the Senate,
Hon. R. A. Baldwin, Member of the House,

TEXAS IS FIRST IN SMALL GRAIN CROPS

Washington, Aug. 5.—Texas ranked first among all the states in the acreage of kaffir, sorghum and similar crops raised for forage in 1919, according to figures announced today by the United States Census Bureau. Only five states reported more than 400,000 tons of these crops as follows: Texas, 2,468,092 tons; Kansas, 1,928,698 tons; Oklahoma, 1,264,090 tons; Nebraska, 596,455 tons, and Colorado 440,282 tons. The total production of these forage crops in 1919 was 7,906,554 tons, of which it will be seen that Texas alone produced almost one-third.

Texas does not rank high in the production of hay and silage crops. The acreage in Texas of hay and forage for 1919 was 2,338,491, out of a total of 96,163,056 for the United States. The tons produced in Texas were 3,809,827 out of a total of 146,470,689 in the United States.

In hay alone, Texas had 745,221 acres yielding 1,066,040 tons, while in silage crops Texas had 34,217 acres, yielding 194,524 tons, and in coarse forage it had 690,577 acres yielding 688,274 tons.

NO TAX REVISION BEFORE DECEMBER

Washington, Aug. 6.—The work of revising the Federal tax laws cannot be completed by Congress before Dec. 1, Republican leaders of the Senate and House admitted today. This was given as another reason why no taxes, including the excess profits and the high surtaxes, can be repealed before January 1, next.

The House Ways and Means Committee has been informed by the Commission of Internal Revenue's tax experts that if the bill is not passed until December, it will virtually be impossible to prepare regulations so that the first payments of the new income and profits taxes can be made by March 15.

The new law should be on the statute books now, if any change in income and profit taxes to be made in the returns due next March, the experts say. Republican members of the committee have virtually decided that no taxes shall be repealed until next January. If this is done, business and wealthy individuals will pay the excess profits tax and high surtaxes during 1922 just as they have during 1921.

Sheriff of Lubbock County, Texas.

M. N. Norris, of Wichita, Kansas, was in Lubbock Saturday of last week looking over the Sudan features in this part of the country. Mr. Norris says he will come back in two or three weeks and commence contracting for seed. He did not state what he would contract for, but left the impression that he would raise other bidders several cents.

Some of the guests at the Sanders Hotel the first of this week were carrying two skunks as mascots. The baby skunks were real playful, but did not make much hit with the on-lookers.

BE INDEPENDENT—OWN YOUR STORAGE

"Why trust to luck that there will be plenty of cars or that the price will be right when you thrash? Lumber is cheap now. That granary cost me a few cents a bushel capacity, and it's good for many years."

Recent experience taught farmers a costly lesson—that farm storage must be provided if they are to have anything to say about the price they receive for grain.

We will be glad to show you granary plans, and how little it costs to provide storage with lumber—and LUMBER PRODUCES IDEAL GRAIN STORAGE.

SUCCESSFUL AUCTION SALE ON BOERNER DUROC FARM MONDAY

More than three hundred people attended the Pure Bred Duroc-Jersey sale put on by Fred Boerner, one mile west of Lubbock, Monday of this week. A fine barbecue, four speeches, several exhibits of fine hogs were carried out before the sale began. Mr. Boerner had arranged for this occasion by building a pavilion which comfortably seated and furnished shade for all the people and show pens.

Col. J. W. McCreary introduced the speakers, the first being R. E. Prewitt of Plainview. Mr. Prewitt is president of the Texas Duroc Breeders' Association, and is posted to the extent in this line of hogs as well as many others. Mr. Prewitt spoke principally on the progress of hog raising on the South Plains, bringing up the history of the Boerner herd, and how it grew from eleven head of graded hogs to one of the finest in this state. If more farmers would practice raising good stock and discard some of the runts that will eat just as much corn and probably more and not put on more than half the fat, they would be better off.

H. S. Hilburn, of Plainview, was the next man to give his idea on hog raising and why there is more money to be made in hogs in the next few years. "There is more than eleven million less hogs this year than in 1919," says Mr. Hilburn, "and it is the same old law of demand and supply that will keep the price of hogs up for several years—and Lubbock should certainly stand behind Mr. Boerner for the wonderful things he is doing, and has done in the hog business. As good as can be found, can be found right here at home."

Col. Louis H. Gould, in a very short talk, made only one assertion, but that one meant a great deal for Lubbock county and its hog raisers. "I cover several states in my line of business," he said, "and Mr. Boerner has the best bunch of hogs as a whole that I have ever seen."

County Agent, J. W. Jennings made the closing speech in which he brought out many points that should induce every farmer to raise enough hogs to eat his surplus feed and not sell it to fatten some other farmer's hog, and let him make the profit. "The Panhandle has proven to be the greatest hog raising and feeding country in the world," says Mr. Jennings, "and one by one the farmer is learning that he can raise feed and feed it to a hog, and make fifty per cent more on his crop than to sell the raw grain. Another thing that might be well to mention in the hog industry, and that is when a hog is fat you have got a ready market for him at a standard price. It isn't like waiting for wheat to ripen, or corn and maize to be gathered. If you have got a hog you can figure, and your banker will do the same, that you have got ready money."

Much enthusiasm was shown during the whole sale, and bidding was fast with hogs selling from fifty to five hundred dollars. The twenty-two grown hogs that sold first brought a total of $2,262.50, or an average of $102.85. The pigs sold, being five in number, brought an average of $50.00 per head. Mr. Boerner said he was well pleased with the prices he received for his hogs, though he took more than thirty dollars less on them this year than last. While there are many reasons for sales being lower this year than last, Mr. Boerner said he had figured about $190 a head this year.

OFFICER HUFSTEDLER HAS ALTERCATION WITH VANCE

Guy Hufstедler and H. V. Vance, after a few words passed between them came to blows Monday afternoon. Some time last week Vance was arrested for alleged possession of whiskey, and was granted bond awaiting his trial, further reports are that Mr. Vance had told friends that he was abused by the officers while under arrest, and to this latter report Officer Hufstедler took exception, and when Mr. Vance came to town Saturday, Mr. Hufstедler accosted him with the remarks that such reports must stop. Vance did not reply but once struck Hufstедler, and several blows were exchanged resulting in bruised faces of both men. The Avalanche knows nothing of the circumstances on either side, more than has been told, and regret that these things come about.

BAKERS AT CANYON SERIOUSLY BURNED

Canyon, Texas, Aug. 5.—T. I. Poor and Wesley Carraway, bakers, were seriously but not fatally burned on their faces and arms this morning when gas in their oven exploded. The fuel used is gas generated from kerosene, and it is thought that by some means an excess of the gas got into the oven, and when they attempted to light the fire the explosion occurred. No damage was done to the oven or the building.

MAN FALLS FROM LOCO. MOTIVE; IS BADLY HURT

Dodgen slipped and fell from a train when they had stopped to take coal at Plainview. After examination by local doctors he was allowed to return home on the midnight train. The fall paralyzed his left leg, and according to physicians, nothing but time would heal the wound and medical attention was not necessary.

ONE OF LUBBOCK COUNAY'S PRACTICAL FARMERS SAYS BLUE WEEDS CAN BE PERMANENTLY DESTROYED

For the benefit of Avalanche readers and farmers in general, and the request of some, I am writing this article in time for those who will help to ascertain the exact time or times, when timber sprouts and weeds may be easily and effectively killed. It is a certainty that there is a time in May and in August when this may be effectively done. Some claim it is on the full moon in May and August, and others say it is when the sign is in the heart in May and August, and it might be when both the moon is full and the sign in the heart. So the object is to watch both moon and sign and test and experiment the day before, or some claim on the day and the day after the full moon, especially the day of the full moon, and also when the sign is in the heart in May and August.

effect is hardly noticeable. How much would you who have them give to get rid of them? How many dollars would it be worth to you? Well, just a little bit of experimenting and a little work put in at the right time, none of which need to be lost anyway, for it can be made beneficial and it may save you much future labor, greatly increase your crops and the value of your farms and be of much financial benefit to you and others if you should ascertain the correct time. Why this matter has long ago been determined and settled by scientists and experimental department, is exceedingly strange. If this can be accomplished, and the sure and correct time could be found it would be worth many millions of dollars to the farmers, if persistently practiced. I have statements from several parties on this timely subject but they do not exactly agree. All who have them should try this test on the blue weeds. Don't say they are here to stay and go on cultivating them as you have been doing, but experiment, fight and keep on experimenting and fighting until the blue weeds are conquered and exterminated from our beautiful Plains country, and that terrible eye sore to some removed, and the sooner the better. Not much of our farm lands are badly affected and these can be destroyed, but land owners need not expect renters to do this for nothing. But, if the land owners will do their part in helping the renter, both may benefit largely by the operation.

T. J. ESTES.

An Important Notice to All Ex-Service Men

On Friday and Saturday, August 19th and 20th, a clean-up squad from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance will be in Lubbock to meet every disabled ex-service man in order to see that his claims are settled. The squad will consist of:
1. A representative of the Bureau who will be an authority on compensation and insurance claims.
2. An examining doctor who advises the man concerning his physical condition, and to make arrangements for him to get immediately to the hospital, if this is necessary.
3. A representative of the Federal Board to adjust any training matters.
Any man who is in need of hospital care; who is entitled to more money than he is getting from the government; or to training under the Federal Board for Vocational Education; or who has any other claims is urged to be on hand on August 19 or 20, to present his claim. If you think for any reason that it will be impossible for you to be in Lubbock on the days mentioned, get together all data pertaining to your claim and hand it to Mrs. Fulton, executive secretary of Lubbock County Red Cross Chapter, who will see that your claim is presented for adjustment. Where the headquarters of this squad will be while in Lubbock is not yet known, but if you will communicate with the Red Cross, you will be advised as soon as it is learned. This notice is not only for the ex-service men of Lubbock County, but also the adjoining counties, as Lubbock is the only city between Amarillo and Sweetwater in which these meetings are being held.

Weather and Crop Conditions Here and There

Stratford, Aug. 8.—Farmer Lavake of this place, has just completed threshing his wheat, planted this spring. The wheat averaged 15 bushels per acre, testing sixty-one, and selling for $1.02 a bushel. The land was bought last year for $25 an acre. The combined receipts of the two elevators here average from 10,000 to 12,000 bushels of grain daily. It has a large territory to draw from. The acreage to be planted this Fall will probably be double what it was last year. This county is the last on the Rock Island from Kansas City through the Kansas wheat belt to Dallas County, Texas, to change from a grazing center to a wheat center.
Quannah, Aug. 8.—Harvest of the maize crop in Hardeman county will begin this week. Early maize is exceptionally good. There is a large acreage of late feed, which will be ready for harvest in about three weeks. A bountiful feeding crop is assured. The conditions financially in this section of the State are greatly improved by the movement of a good wheat crop. Yields of from ten to thirty bushels per acre were reported, the average being about sixteen bushels. Movement of the wheat has been facilitated by a plentiful supply of grain cars.
Whitesboro, Aug. 8.—Farmers are marketing wheat and oats in large quantities. The money derived from this source, taken in connection with the revenue obtained from the sale of melons, truck and cream, is mitigating to considerable extent the business depression in this community.
The corn crop is the best raised in this section in ten years. Cotton is looking good and fruiting nicely, although the boll weevil is still present. They are not working any great havoc to the crop at the present time. Optimists think there will be a fair crop of cotton produced in this territory.
Lockney, Aug. 8.—The wheat harvest is nearly over and farmers are busy with the row crops. If they don't get a rain in a few days the feed will be cut short this Fall, as the crops are beginning to show the effects of the drought.
Colorado, Aug. 8.—Good rain have fallen throughout the Colorado territory, assuring a big feed crop, of which the farmers of Mitchell county have a large acreage this year. Cotton, though in some localities late, is doing well and no pests of any kind have yet appeared. The rain at Colorado totaled 1.02. At Westbrook, ten miles west of Colorado, the rainfall was more than 3 inches. Cattlemen were benefitted by the rains, for in some localities water was low.
Stephenville, Aug. 8.—Little rain fell in Erath county during July and the late corn was badly damaged. Many of the earlier of the late plantings were already ruined. The weather is dry and very warm.

PROFITS BY WHAT HER MOTHER DID

Little Rock Woman Induced To Take Tanlac Through Parent's Restoration.

"Tanlac restored my mother's health so perfectly that I began taking it too, and just two bottles have helped me wonderfully," said Mrs. Goldia Bird, 310 1-2 East Markham St., Little Rock, Arkansas.
"A short time ago I seemed to have a general breakdown," she continued. "My stomach became so disordered that nothing tasted good and I just didn't want to eat a thing. I fell off in weight and became weak and run-down. My complexion was pale and sallowness, my back ached, so I could hardly lift my little baby. I took little or no interest in anything and was going from bad to worse."
"But I think Tanlac is just wonderful to have helped me in such a short time. I have only finished my second bottle but already I feel like a different person. I enjoy what I eat and am gaining in weight. The pains have about all gone from my back and I have been built up so that I feel better and stronger in every way. I have nothing but the highest praise for Tanlac."
Tanlac is sold in all leading drug stores.

The latest thing in show windows is the Cole-Myrick hardware Co. selling an electric knife by the barrel. However, scissors and razors are being sold in smaller quantities—they sell by the keg.

The average of the sales was not made public, but according to Mr. Jennings, both farms were satisfied with their sales.

Mrs. J. T. Bullock, who spent several days in Lubbock, visiting with friends, left Saturday for Amarillo, where she will spend a few weeks with her daughter and two sons, who reside in that city, before going to El Paso, where Mrs. Bullock has been since April and where they will make their home, in the future.

WEEK AROUND GAIL

Whizenant and Sorrell, of Sweetwater, were here last week and bought cattle from the following parties: J. C. Dorward, one car of cows; A. M. Clayton, one car of calves; Martin Taylor, one car of calves. These cattle were shipped from Dermont Monday.

Tom Hudson has been going on crutches for several days on account of a badly bruised leg, which was caused by his horse falling on him Saturday, while driving a cow.

Sunday afternoon another good rain fell in Gail and reached as far south as the Beal ranch, south of the river. On Monday afternoon another rain fell in Borden county, but did not cover as much country as the rain of Sunday. Tuesday afternoon a good rain fell along the river, and reached north of Gail but was light here. These rains will be of great benefit to crops where they fell and in some localities insure good feed crops.

As Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dorward were returning from Snyder Monday, an axle of their car broke about five miles east of Gail, and they started to town on foot to get help but was picked up by a passing car and brought in. Mr. Dorward got his car in Tuesday.

J. B. Moore and wife, and R. P. Daniels and family, returned Tuesday from a fishing and outing trip to Brown county, and report having a very pleasant trip, but were glad to get home, and say that Borden county looks mighty good to them—that crops are better here than any place they visited while away.

The residence of R. N. Miller was destroyed by fire early Monday morning. Nothing was saved, the family barely having time to make their escape after the fire was discovered. The origin of the fire is unknown as the ceiling was falling in when the family awoke.

PLAINVIEW NEWS FRIDAY

Of course we don't know much about railroading, but the freight rate on wheat seems excessive. We are informed by grain dealers that it costs $300 freight to ship a carload of wheat from Plainview to Galveston. Many trains are composed of forty cars, hence the total revenue received by the railroad for a train load of wheat is $12,000—and all it does is to haul the train for the consignor loads the car and consignee unloads it. The farmer has to foot the bill, for the local price paid for wheat is based on delivery in Galveston.

Mrs. I. D. Gamble, a very prominent woman of Floydada, died Wednesday of last week. It seems that during the night she awoke in a choking condition and succumbed before aid could be given her. Her husband is a hardware dealer of that city. The remains were buried in the Floydada Cemetery.

Prof. M. E. Witt, for the past two years science teacher in Wayland College, will become science teacher in the Lubbock high school.

The city council at its meeting on Monday night awarded to R. M. Irick & Son a contract for the construction of an extension of the water main out West Thirteenth street, the contract calling for 5,700 feet or thereabouts, the cost to be $14,000.

E. W. O'Riley, a local mechanic, was attacked Wednesday night by an unknown party, who struck him across the breast with some heavy object, likely a base ball bat, as he was passing along Nash street near the bill board just north of the Green Machinery Co. building. The party stepped out from beside the bill board and struck O'Riley, who was enroute to the depot to take the train for Texarkana, to attend the funeral of a brother. O'Riley was knocked down and very seriously injured, and when found was unconscious, but attending physicians revived him. He will recover.

CITY POST OF LAST WEEK

Double U Company have received 40 head of registered black bulls, purchased from John M. Shulkin, of Amarillo. Mr. Hartford looked over the herd before they were purchased.

Several days ago a Dallas News representative visited the farm of J. W. Jackson and Sons, where the black polled steers are being fed on home grown products for market and devoted almost a column to the visit. This is recognition well deserved, for the cattle on the Jackson farm are showing a daily gain in weight of three pounds and will be ready for market within the next forty or fifty days, and they are fed only on our own home grown products that are raised on the Jackson farm, which is ample proof to all our farmers and ranchmen that they can feed at home at a big saving. We are anxious to see more of our farmers and ranchmen try the Jackson plan. Why not?

While enroute to Snyder last Friday, Mrs. Jake Taylor was painfully hurt about the fact and head when the car in which she was riding ran over a bad culvert, throwing her against the top of the car. She had to return to Post.

The congregation of the First Baptist Church have called Rev. J. M. Grizzell of Wills Point, to their pastorate and he has accepted and will move his family to Post in the near future. We welcome them.

Last Friday night Winifred Maupin and Frank Aucett, while driving on the road between here and Rag Town had the misfortune to run over a dog, turning the car over and injuring Maupin, who seems to be hurt inwardly, while Aucett was not even scratched.

Governor Submits Final Messages To Legislature

Austin, Texas, Aug. 6.—Seventeen additional subjects of legislation were submitted to the Legislature today by Governor Neff. In a special message submitting the matters, the Governor said: "It is with reluctance that I submit to you additional subjects for legislation." He said the subjects were submitted at the urgent request of various members of the legislature, and "are presented to you for whatever legislation you may deem wise. I make no recommendations whatever concerning these matters. In this connection I desire to say that it is not my intention to submit any other legislative matter to you during this session, local or general." The Governor added: "I trust that none of the matters herein or heretofore submitted will interfere in any way with the consideration of any of the appropriation bills." Subjects submitted are: Amend present poll tax law, providing for what poll tax receipt and exemption certificate shall contain, and the form of such poll tax receipt and exemption certificate, and prescribing the data to be obtained and recorded on poll tax receipt.

This vital force, as it surges through and through the fabric, has the same effect on woolen fibres that life-giving oxygen has on the human system—it rejuvenates, renews life and youth, and at the same time it sterilizes.

Things cannot go wrong with the American Steam Garment Press which we use in pressing your garments—there's no possibility of scorching—there's no iron surface to rust, no hard rubbing to roughen the fleecy woolen fibres and leave seams and pockets shiny.

Keep your garments wholesome and looking fit—you'll find it an investment in personal pride that's profitable.

LDALOU NEWS ITEMS OF THE PAST WEEK

We are having some nice weather. The days are moderately warm and the nights are lovely.

The Baptist meeting began Friday night, with Brother Tennyson, the regular pastor, holding the first service, and Mr. Nichols of Eastland, has been conducting the singing. Bro. Taylor, also of Eastland, arrived Saturday morning and has been holding morning and evening services since with much success.

Miss Bessie English, of Stillwater, has been the guest of Lillian Turner for about a week.

Miss Triby Keaton is visiting in Lubbock this week.

Mr. Teal and family, were away last week on a fishing trip below Sterling City. They report having caught many fine fish, and they all look good which shows that they had something extra to eat.

Bud Lambert, who has been in Hereford most all summer, returned home Saturday. Uncle Bud says, "Lots of pretty girls there but could not stay away from these here."

Miss Forest Lynn, from California, visited her aunt, Mrs. Joe Harrison last week, and is now visiting relatives in Ball.

Mr. Brashear, of Plainview, is here visiting his sister, Mrs. Ingram, and looking after his farm.

Carl McDaniel and Lennie Hamlen made a tour into New Mexico last week. Carl was accused of going to get married but he returned without a woman, so we have come to the conclusion that his bachelor days are not yet over.

Tuesday evening a very severe accident occurred when Mrs. Vanderville and her daughter Lucille, and Miss Claire Summit were driving a Ford touring car on the public road east of the Lasater house, and as the steering wheel was loose Miss Summit lost control of the car turning it completely over pinning the occupants underneath. The accident was witnessed by the Lasater family, who rendered first aid. Mrs. Vanderville's only injury was her lower limbs, which were badly bruised. All were carried to their homes and medical aid was secured at once. It was a very narrow escape and their many friends are joining in wishing all that is possible for their recovery.

E. W. Vannatta, of Houston, is here this week, in the interest of a Johnson grass exterminator, which he is offering for the investigation of the farmers of this country, who may be troubled with Johnson grass, blue weeds, etc.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off of itself the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL ENCOURAGE OWNERSHIP OF TEXAS FARMS—FEW SUGGESTIONS

Reports compiled by the Texas Chamber of Commerce indicate there has been a decided increase in the number of tenant farmers in Texas during the last decade. In order to bring about a change in this situation officials of the chamber have planned a campaign along the commercial organizations of the State, urging them to co-operate in a movement to increase the number of farm owners. "Deserving tenants, particularly those who show promise of becoming farm owners, should be put in touch with landlords who recognize the benefits of having a more permanent agricultural society," said James Z. George, general manager of the chamber in discussing the subject yesterday.

Cotton Mill Projects.
In a bulletin issued by the chamber yesterday, information was given relative to cotton textile mill projects in Texas as follows:

"For the past two years there has been manifested a very keen interest on the part of Texas business men and community organizations, in the possibilities of the cotton textile mill industry in this state. This organization has recently issued a very concise, comprehensive report summarizing the information that we have obtained in regard to this industry. "Until recently it seemed that the present price of mill machinery and equipment was prohibitive but believing that possibly the machinery manufacturers could be induced to give our people some concession when the yunderstood that the development in this State was being delayed, as a result of present prices, we undertook a campaign among the more responsible dealers and machinery people to determine just what their attitude would be toward a request for early cuts.

"Without exception every manufacturer advised us that machinery will be substantially lower in price this fall than it is at present. In every instance the suggestion that communities and individuals interested in mill projects should begin now on organization plans was made."

Hog Raising Urged.
In connection with the crop diversification, increased attention to the raising of feeder and stocked hogs is advocated by the chamber. In this connection the bulletin says:

"In co-operation with the A. and M. College Extension Service, the Ft. Worth Stock Yards Company and other agencies, the Texas Chamber of Commerce is now making plans for an extensive campaign among the business men and commercial organizations of the State, to bring to their attention the opportunities the agricultural interests of Texas now have in the production of hogs. It is believed that inasmuch as Texas farmers will have produced, this year, an unusually large crop of feed stuffs, it will be necessary for them to create a market for at least a part of these products. They will, of course, need the assistance of the business men to obtain the credits necessary for the purchase of a large part of the stock. There is little question that the live stock industry in Texas will be stimulated to an unusual degree during the next few years, as Texas farmers are now paying more attention to diversification than they have heretofore."

Much Interest in Texas.
Regarding requests from out of the State for information relative to conditions in Texas, the bulletin says:

"We are receiving an increasingly large number of requests from out of State points asking for authentic reports and information relative to agricultural, business and industrial opportunities in this State. We be-

Quality Goes Clear Through

Doubtless no year has thrown a clearer light upon the Dort and its high standing in the esteem of the American public than this year.

Enthusiasm towards the car and appreciation of its remarkable performance ability and operative thrift have grown and extended further and further, day after day, and month after month.

The regular Dort clientele that inevitably replaces one Dort with another has augmented with a rapidity that has outstripped our closest calculations.

And the only conclusion that can be drawn is that more and more people who in past years have sought other cars are now turning to the Dort as the most desirable automobile investment they could make.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS FROM LAST WEEK'S RALLS BANNER

Monday afternoon the elements assumed a threatening appearance, and for a time looked dangerous, there was hail and rain and a puff of wind, a little more furious than usually comes to this country. It struck the grandstand at the ball park and turned it almost completely around, passing on the neighborhood of the Christian church a huge was turned over. No other damage is reported from the miniature cyclone.

After services at the Crystal Theatre Sunday, conducted by Rev. Julian of the Progressive Christian Church, of Lubbock, a business meeting was held, and a committee consisting of Dr. Lattimore, W. A. Davison, Chas. Cowley, Mr. Mitchell, Miss Amy Reed and Mrs. G. C. Pass, was appointed to select a site for a church house. We understand that for the present only a small building will be constructed, which will later be used as a parsonage.

We understand that steps are being taken to convert the ball park into a tabernacle to be used by all churches, for the purpose of holding public meetings.

LAX MORALS HURTFUL

Morals and ethics are among the new studies to be added to the curricula of Chicago's public schools. Superintendent Mortenson made the announcement and said he had been in conference several weeks with his staff, deciding on new subjects. "We do not intend to go deeply into philosophy in our course of ethics," Mortenson said. "Teachers will take the most admirable characters from the schoolbooks and hold them up as examples for the pupils. Teaching morals by example is as far as we care to go. No course in morals or conduct, as such, will be offered, but special emphasis will be placed on right living."

There are no two ways about it. Laxity in moral teaching is plunging the world into the depth of the coarsest kind of conduct, among the people in this day and time. Many people have come to not consider their conversation of any importance in matters of refinement. The average man and woman today uses a wonderful amount of slang, in fact so much is this being done, that by common usage the language of this country has lost its former refinement, and we talk in sentences and phrases composed largely of slang, and coarse words. This is often heard from the lecture platform, and we dare say from some of the pulpits. The mother in the home is not careful about the use of words before their children that are not as refining as they might be, and the husband and father uses language before his family that would shock the proverbial sailor. The school ma'am, many of them, in the use of such language on the school grounds and in the school room lacks the refinement that tends to build character and stimulate morality, to such extent that many pupils lose respect for them, they are not respected and treated with courtesy that the teachers of yore were. Why? Because they, themselves conduct themselves in a way that the pupils feel that they are not entitled to respect. This is true throughout the land. We believe the school teachers to be above the average, the average morally and in matters of refinement, but there is a tendency to drift into the paths of the world and the example set before the pupils is not one that is calculated to elevate the minds of the pupils. The strictest morals should be taught in the home, in the schools, and a great improvement might be noticed in the way the younger folks conduct themselves, one toward the other. If the Chicago school succeeds in improving the morals of the children, they certainly should be commended for their efforts, and be backed up by the parents in all things that tend to the betterment of the atmosphere surrounding the school children of the land.

The time for a halt is certainly at hand, in matters of recovering the lost refinement of the land. The home we believe is the place, the schools next, and general society must follow if the old world is put through the general process of refining that is necessary, if we continue to prosper and retain our standing as the leader of Christian Nations.

WHAT SHALL THE HARVEST BE?

The breaking of the law results finally in punishment. We may get by with it for a while, but there comes a time when the law breaker is caught. No matter how daring the highwayman, there has never lived one yet that was not finally brought to justice by his own hands or the hands of the law or the hands of justice. The same is true of the moral laws, the laws given to Moses and the commands of the God of Heaven. There will come a time when justice will be meted out, and there will be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth. Sin is rampant in the land. The wholesale desecration of the Sabbath, and disregard for the sanctuary are two of the leading sins of the land, closely followed upon this is the divorce evil, adultery, lying, swindling, gambling publicly and in the homes. The people of America are pleasure wild, and let nothing stand in the way of pleasure, not even to the extent of sacrificing, virtue and common decency.

Verily, verily, harvest time is coming and there will be reaping of the seed that is being sown. "What shall the harvest be?"

THE LITTLE-THUMB PAPER

One fellow called The Reporter a little thumb paper while another one of our friends was kind and economical enough to say he could strike one match and read the paper before the match burned out. Of course neither remark ruffled our feelings in the least. We are used to knocks of this kind, and to be honest, we appreciate them. A good advertisement, you know. We know The Reporter is small and doesn't amount to much but did you know we think just as much of it as you do your big forty or fifty thousand dollar business, and it will continue to be printed as of yore, and some day it may grow to be a regular Dallas News. It is worth just as much to Sweetwater in its humble way as the News is to Dallas, and when one of our subscribers happens to miss a copy they are raising quite a disturbance. So remember that while The Reporter is small and doesn't amount to much, it does just as much good for the town as most any one else, especially those who are the loudest in their criticism. Quit criticizing the city's business enterprises and the people who are trying to do something and get busy and "stir up" something that will prove you a worthy citizen.—Sweetwater Reporter.

Few people realize just what it takes to get out a paper anyway. Ninety-eight per cent of the people have never seen inside of a printing plant. They do not know what effort is required of a force of men to produce a newspaper. They know nothing of the amount of work required. They seem to think that all a fellow has to do is press the button and a newspaper is produced in a few minutes, while as a matter of fact it takes hard and constant work to publish a newspaper of four pages every day, which is the size of the Sweetwater Reporter as referred to. The paper though small it may appear is probably bigger than the town can support. It takes a barrel of money to operate a Daily Paper, and a printing company should not be expected to operate at a loss, while some of the larger daily papers are taking a loss. The burden of support is upon the business people and that burden is too heavy in small towns the size of Sweetwater. People often force a newspaper into the Daily field before the town is able to support it without becoming a burden on the business men, and of course as a result the paper cannot be bigger than the patronage will justify, and hence is sometimes referred to as a thumb paper or slightly spoken of as above is a fair example. Even after all of this we venture to say that the Sweetwater Reporter is doing more every day for the development of the city of Sweetwater, the schools and country surrounding Sweetwater than these same two fellows ever have done or ever will do; yet they sit around and knock. Wise newspaper men never attempt to start a daily paper until there is good prospects of its success, and if the people of Lubbock who are continually ding-donging at the Avalanche for a daily will take time to inform themselves on the expense attached to printing a real daily they will soon see that it would be folly in Lubbock and we are not in the thumb paper class, Lubbock is not that kind, and we never want to start anything without being able to put it over good and strong. We pass the buck, to the business men, and when they are ready to spend almost as much every day for advertising as they are now spending in a week, Lubbock can have a daily paper that will be a good one, one that would be a credit to a city of several times the size of Lubbock, as Avalanche (pardon this personal reference—platform oratory) is to the town of Lubbock at this time. Before criticizing it is well to know for sure if you could do better or are doing better than the fellow you are talking about.

PUBLICITY

Fear of publicity is the greatest preventive of wrongdoing the world has ever known. It is the greatest agency for the protection of the public that has ever been invented. It is worth more than all the courts and juries that exist in the world today.

Many a man has been kept in the straight and narrow path through fear that his wrongdoing might become known.

The Avalanche got a just bawling out since last week, one that we deserved. The complaint against us was that we referred to a certain thing that happened in a certain place, when we should have said so and so happened at so and so such a street number and on such an Avenue. We stand corrected. The lady was right. Let's forget about tin can alley and south First and North Second and Hickory and Postoffice Street and the old red wind mill and call the places by correct number, street and avenue. We will never know the town till we do.

It costs no more to smile, and you look better.

MISTAKES OF TEXAS PEOPLE

Not saying anything about the mistakes in many other lines here are a few of the blunders that Texas folks make in lines of production: Texas annually imports many millions of pounds of pork products, while 127,000 Texas farms have no hogs. Texas annually imports 4,000,000 pounds of canned beans, when they could easily be produced here. Texas annually imports $6,000,000 worth of tomatoes. Texas annually imports 20,000,000 pounds of butter. Texas annually imports $8,000,000 worth of molasses. Texas annually imports millions of eggs, while 100,000 Texas farms raise no chickens. It is estimated that 13,000 Texas farms have no gardens. Such conditions as above can easily be eliminated, and every farmer and business man in the state should lend a hand in the work. No state in the Union is better adapted to living at home than is Texas, and that such conditions as above noted exist is a sorry commentary on our thrift.

The above is quite a reflection on the business interests of Texas. The farmers are not only making it hard on themselves but every other class of people in the state, by not producing enough of the things mentioned in the statement above. We recognize the fact that they are handicapped in many ways and the blame is not all chargeable to them. The organized efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, from the State organization down, should take this matter in hand and see if it cannot be corrected. Texas farmers and stock raisers might be men of wealth where poverty prevails if the maximum production of these items could be reached and a market created for them, and with the shortage that seems to exist, we see no reason why they could not dispose of every bit that they have to sell and supply themselves with plenty too.

In another part of this issue of the Avalanche will be found an article dealing with the coal situation. The Avalanche is not interested in the coal business, more than to get the people to lay in a supply for winter use, while there is plenty of it to be had. We cannot tell whether the price will be cheaper or not, but if we were going to guess about it, we would say that it will be no cheaper, but from every indication it will be much scarcer, and when it is scarce, it is pretty safe to say that the price will be higher. Read the article, and judge for yourself what the outcome of the matter will be. We had hoped that the freight rates might be reduced in time to affect the coal market, but it seems now that they will not, and the situation is such that we are not going to take any chances, and will lay in our winter supply at prevailing prices and play safety first against a possible coal famine. Take this information for what it is worth, and if you take advantage of the situation and profit by it, you are welcome to it. If you wait and get cold this winter don't fall out with us about it. It is pretty hard to tell just what is best, but if you have room enough for storing coal, we would advise you to buy your full supply or the greater part of it at least.

Speaking of drouths and hot weather and the many other things that people want to use to discredit West Texas. Just read the letter in this week's paper from Arkansas, written by a man who was a citizen of the Plains country for a number of years. He seems to have found a hotter place and a dryer place than the South Plains of Texas. That is not hard to do however. Fact of the business the South Plains of Texas is the garden spot of the State. Come to Lubbock, the Hub of the Plains.

An independent ice company formed recently at Ballinger, brought the price of ice down from sixty-five cents per hundred to thirty cents last week. And Lubbock pays eighty cents and then can't get it delivered when you want it.

Get acquainted.

Keep smiling.

LAW ABIDING CITIZENS SHOULD BACK THE OFFICERS

Not necessarily referring to the trouble that arose in the city the past week between one of the officers and another party, the Avalanche is sure that the law abiding citizens must stand by the peace officers in the enforcement of the laws of the town, county and State, if they expect the laws to be enforced. An officer who does not delve into the reports of violations of laws, is not the officer that he should be, and when complaints are filed and arrests are made he has only performed his duty, for which he is entrusted the duty of office. The people of the community can have the laws enforced if they want to, and if not, they will not, in many cases.

Officers are either chosen by the people or they are appointed by men elected by the people, and usually the majority of the people who elect the officers are either for the enforcement of the law, or else they prefer that much laxness be practiced by the officials. We believe that the majority of the people of Lubbock county want the officers to enforce the laws, and this being the case they should stand firm for the enforcement of it. We can help the officers by reporting violations to them. An officer is nothing more than a human being, and cannot see everything that is going on, and citizens of the community often fail to report things that should be looked after. We are not advocating violence in any case, but if the officers do not have the moral support of the people of the community they lack a very important element, of assurance that the people who believe in law enforcement is with them. If the people encourage the officers in the enforcement of law in the proper way, we are sure that they will feel much more like stepping out boldly and bringing to justice those who violate the law in any way.

Congress at Washington and the legislators at Austin are having a time devising ways and means whereby they can keep down expenses of the government but they are having just as good luck as the average business man. Some things are necessary in conducting ones business and items of expense are bound to come regardless of whether the revenues of whether the revenue is coming or not, and this is true regarding the Government, if the wheels are kept going the money must be forthcoming. The expense of running the Government is tremendous, and we would not presume to know what to say in suggesting a plan for raising the dough. The Republicans made many campaign promises along this line, but we have not noticed that they have made much progress. They have looked hopelessly about for some place to cut the expense, and reduce the tax, which was one of their campaign cries, but they found after all, that the Democrats were doing just about as good a job as could be done under the circumstances.

Announcement has been made that the Sweetwater Reporter has been sold by the Terrell Publishing Company to Porter A. Whaley of Stamford and W. M. Woodall of Austin. It is understood that Whaley will be managing editor while Woodall will be business manager. Both men are well known in commercial circles in West Texas and it is expected that the Reporter will be made an important factor in all progressive moves for this section.

The whiskey fellows seem to be hard indeed to conceive that the United States is dry, and is to remain so. They spend much time and money lobbying and trying to get legislation through that they may place their stuff on the market again. Thanks to congress they have failed so far in putting anything by, and outside of the extreme cases the United States is very dry.

It takes men with a strong determination to live right these days. There are so many people compromising with questionable things that one sometimes wonders if he is really a crank, when he does not join in with the multitudes.

3. The territory which shall comprise a District for the District Futurity show will be determined by the Futurity Committee of the National Duroc-Jersey Record Association. (In this case consists of 15 Southplains counties).

4. Twenty herds to be nominated in a Futurity at $5.00 each, and these nominations must be made by breeders of the District in which the Futurity is held. Herd nominations close April 1, 1924.
5. A second or final payment of $1.00 per pig will fall due and must be paid 30 days before the opening of the show for each pig from litters kept good for the show that it is desired to exhibit. No litter payment charged as in former years.

6. All payments are due in cash on or before dates specified. Failure to make any payment when due forfeits all sums previously paid in and shall automatically declare any entry void and out of the Futurity.
7. All dollar payments when duly made on individual pigs shall qualify such pig or pigs for exhibition in the Futurity Show. A nominator makes only as many payments as he deems advisable. There shall be no refund after an entry has been accepted as in the stakes, but nominators incur no future liability by making any payments and all nominations may be dropped at will.

8. All payments in this Futurity must be made direct to the National Duroc-Jersey Association, Peoria, Ill. These make Futurity payments.
9. If less than twenty herd are nominated, the junior pig Futurity will be promoted but the junior pig Futurity will stand and awards made if ten or more herds are nominated. If only a junior pig Futurity is promoted the liability of the Fair Association is reduced to $100.
10. Any money received by the National Duroc-Jersey Record Association in the form of herd nominations and final pig payments, exceeding their liability, will be added as additional premiums.

11. Pigs nominated in this Futurity shall have the right to compete in all the regular classes to which they are eligible at the Fair where the Futurity is held.

12. Judges, as far as possible, will be those selected to act at the Fair at which the Futurity is held, but the Futurity premiums should be awarded by an active Duroc-Jersey Breeder, and in all instances must be acceptable to the committee in charge of the Futurity; otherwise, the committee reserves the right to place their judge in charge and make the awards in the Futurity Show. Right is reserved by the National Duroc-Jersey Record Association to declare off this Futurity by reason of insufficient nomination of herds, to alter, or amend, or interpret these rules and conditions as it may see fit, and to make such other and further rules and regulations as may be necessary to the successful prosecution of this enterprise. In case of an insufficient entry received and the stake being declared off in consequence, nominators will so be notified within ten days of the date of closing and nomination fees will be returned as received.

For any other further information regarding the Futurity, write the National Duroc-Jersey Record Association, Peoria, Illinois.—Joe Haaga, W. H. Van Meter and J. R. Pfander, Committee.

PUBLIC ADVISED TO BUY WINTER SUPPLY OF COAL NOW—A SHORT-AGE IS GENERALLY PREDICTED

Washington, July 18.—Secretary Hoover has advised the Public Utility Companies throughout the country to buy their winter coal supply instead of waiting for possible lower prices. "I am convinced," said Mr. Hoover's letter, made public today, "that, due to the general depression, the prices of bituminous coal at the mines is not too high at the present time. "If there should be a recovery of business activities in the Autumn, taken in conjunction with the large increase in percentage of disabled cars and the inability of the railways to finance their maintenance, there are possibilities of developments of a most serious situation as regards coal movement. "I cannot but feel that the Interstate Commerce Commission, in the face of warnings they have sent out in this connection, would not be disposed to give any priority in such an event."—New York Times.

Facts About The Coal Famine. It is a trifle warm to get excited about a coal famine now—but getting excited about it next December won't thaw out any radiators or keep any chimneys going. Mr. Theodore Price has predicted a shortage of fuel supply for next winter. If he is right he may get some satisfaction out of his warning, and so may such other citizens that have by that time profited by it. But his success as a prognosticator will scarcely afford equal satisfaction to the heedless individual who now snorts at the idea of looking after his coal bin this early in the season. Perhaps those who pay no heed to predictions may be interested in some facts certified to be facts:

through dissemination by the United States Geological Survey. According to this authority, the amount of soft coal which has thus far been mined in the United States this year is more than 60,000,000 tons short of what it was last year, 20,000,000 tons behind what it was in 1919—which was a coal famine year for many Texas towns—and about 65,000,000 tons behind the amount for the same date for the average preceding four years. Texas mines are reported as producing about half capacity (46.7 per cent), with the per cent of loss in production attributed to lack of transportation at zero and the proportion of capacity production not realized thru lack of market at 53.3 per cent. The bituminous coal mines of the United States were on July 2, 1921, turning out 42.6 per cent of their full-time capacity. Of the balance which they could have turned out, 57.4 per cent, there was accredited to transportation disability 0.9 per cent, to labor shortage 1.8 per cent, to strikes 0.5 per cent, to mine disabilities 3.3 per cent and to "no market" 50.5 per cent, with other causes 0.4 per cent. Comparison with 1920 is enlightening. Production up to July 3 of that year was 55 per cent of the capacity, with the shortage ratios divided as follows: Transportation disability 35.3, labor shortage 4 per cent, strikes 2 per cent, mine disability 2.4 per cent, "no market" 0.1 per cent and other causes 1.2 per cent. The lesson of these figures is simple. With easier transportation than in 1920, with less labor troubles and a larger labor supply, the mines are producing very much less coal. They are producing less coal because they can't find customers to ship it to. But the customers will be on hand when cold weather comes to make freight operations more difficult—and the price of such coal that is available more costly. There'll be more customers than coal. There may be long queues of customers with baby buggies and wheelbarrows and bran sacks to carry home the trifling ration which necessity will impose. Customers who can't obtain even that slight satisfaction will suffer, as others have suffered before them. Of course this may not happen. It may not get cold next winter. We may have to keep the fan turned on all next January. But it would be advisable for all who are a little skeptical of that possibility to provide themselves with a winter's supply of fuel right away.—Dallas News, July 25.

Danger of Coal Shortage Increasing. Wise people who know they must buy coal between now and next winter will buy it as soon as practicable. Foolish people who know they will have to buy coal will postpone buying it and probably pay dearly for doing so. If there is any considerable increase of manufacturing and other forms of industrial activity there will be a coal shortage, and a serious one, unless buying for business and domestic purposes soon increases very largely.

The normal increase in consumption of coal in the United States for a long time has been from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 tons a year. The year 1914, like the year 1921, was a year of depression. Nevertheless, in the first six months of 1921 the amount of coal produced and shipped actually was 9,000,000 tons less than in the same months of 1914, seven years ago, and, in fact, less than the first six months of any of the last eight years except 1915. It was 30,000,000 tons less in the first six months of 1921 than in 1913; 50,000,000 tons less than in 1915; 77,000,000

Will they dare the deadly parallel?

Sergei Rachmaninoff, Esq.,

New York City.

My dear Mr. Rachmaninoff:
Under a contract between yourself and Thomas A. Edison, Inc., dated the 24th of April, 1919, it is provided, in effect, that the royalties payable to you on various selections, which you have recorded for us, shall continue, only so long as you do not make phonographic recordings of such selections for anyone else. I shall be very glad to give you permission to record these selections for others, without the loss of royalties under the aforesaid agreement. This will give you the opportunity to record your "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" and other important works, which you have already recorded for us.

Yours very truly,
Thomas A. Edison

READ Mr. Edison's letter to Rachmaninoff, the famous Russian pianist. In reality, it is an invitation to talking-machine manufacturers to record Rachmaninoff in the selections that he has recorded for the New Edison.

We fear that they will not dare this deadly parallel,—but, since Rachmaninoff has recorded other selections for talking-machines, you can draw your own parallels. Simply come here and

Hear Rachmaninoff on the NEW EDISON

You will hear Rachmaninoff exactly as he plays. Then listen to him as he sounds on a talking-machine.

The New Edison is so different from all talking-machines that Mr. Edison has offered $3 cash prizes, totaling $10,000, for phrases that will best distinguish the New Edison from talking-machines. Ask for folder, giving full particulars.

If you do not own a New Edison, fill out and mail, or bring, the coupon and we will loan you an instrument on these days free trial. Having a New Edison will give you ideas for phrases to submit in the contest. Act quickly—contest closes September 2nd.

tons less than in 1917; 86,000,000 tons less than 1918, and 62,000,000 tons less than in 1920. At the present rate of output the total production of 1921 would be less than 400,000,000 tons. The last year in which less than this amount of coal was consumed was 1909—twelve years ago.

There is every reason why consumers that can buy and store coal provide for future needs should do it now. The railways today have a surplus of 163,000 coal cars. In addition they have over 130,000 coal cars in bad order, many of which could soon be put into service if there was a demand for them. This makes a total of almost 300,000 coal cars for which there is no demand now, but past experience shows that a large increase of coal traffic in the fall and winter would soon wipe out this car surplusage and create a shortage.

It is as certain as any future thing can be that there will be no substantial reduction in freight rates on coal this year. The railways themselves are paying the coal prices per ton which, according to the latest statistics available, average $4.40 per ton, or about 180 per cent higher than in 1916. The advances in rates on coal have averaged no where near this much, and the railways cannot afford to reduce the rates on coal when they are having to pay such high prices for it. Furthermore, there seems no prospect of any considerable reductions in prices of coal, because the mine operators are still paying the mine workers the highest wages in history and will have to continue to do so until April, 1922.

All past warnings regarding the increasing danger of coal troubles next fall and winter have been disregarded by the public. It is to be hoped that the warnings now being given will receive more attention.—Railway Age.

Theodore H. Price Predicts Coal Shortage.

The dull markets of midsummer seem to show a subconscious appreciation of the reconstructive stagemanship that is now in the ascendant. The fear that a bonus bill might make a new bond issue necessary has been temporary allayed by the President's outspoken opposition to the measure and business is becoming almost normal as the crops approach maturity.

There are, however, two industries that are exceptions to this statement. In both, the hopes of lower prices restrains buying. One is the steel industry; the other is coal. In so far as steel is concerned, procrastination is unlikely to do much harm. The manufacturers are used to extremes of activity and dullness and can adjust their affairs accordingly.

But the winter shortage of coal that is to be expected unless consumers commence buying is not to be so complacently contemplated. Last autumn when the country was almost panicky in its fear of a winter coal famine and people were being stampeded into paying outrageous prices, I repeatedly pointed out in these letters that there would be enough coal to go round. But this year the position is different. We entered the spring with comparatively light stocks, the production of bituminous and anthracite since January 1st is 62 million tons behind last year, and if winter should be severe and industrial activity revives, as is likely, there may be a fuel shortage that will cause great distress and loss. Making due allowance for high freights and labor, soft coal is now relatively low and those who would be wise in time will in my judgment do well to have a substantial portion of their requirements at once.—Theo. H. Price, in Commerce and Finance.

Bills Amounting $11,433,083 Are Passed in House

Austin, Texas, Aug. 8.—Determination to speed up final action on the appropriations bills apparent in the Legislature since final action on the educational bill in the House, took definite form today when the appropriations for two departments of the State were passed finally today in the House and in the Senate.

The suspension calendar which is the regular order of business every Monday, was replaced in the House by consideration of eleemosynary institutions appropriations bill carrying a total of $5,784,888 for two years. It was passed finally under suspension of the constitutional rule. An amendment by Pope, of Nueces, providing that all funds in the bill shall be expended only as appropriated will be adopted. The Senate has already passed this bill.

The Senate engrossed and passed finally the departmental budget for the next two years, carrying a total of $5,684,748. Out of this amount $320,000 was eliminated when an amendment reducing the appropriation for reorganization of the national guard was adopted.

During the debate of this amendment Senator Doyle, speaking in behalf of the amendment, referred to the guardsmen as "tin soldiers" and to General Pershing as the "head of the military aristocracy." Senator Page gained the floor and rebuked Senator Doyle for his remarks, saying that he was surprised at the attitude of the Senator from Freestone as he is the only ex-Confederate member of the Senate.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many a Lubbock Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Ask your neighbor. People in this vicinity testify to their worth.

John Brown, Snyder, Tex., says: "I was troubled with too much uric acid in my system about some time ago. I had a frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions, which were scanty and caused a lot of pain. I felt pretty bad off until I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I took and I am glad to say I received wonderful relief. Doan's regulated the kidney action and made me feel better in every way."

BEEF COMES OVER TRAIL; HIGH RATES FORCE BOYCOTT

Another "bunch of cattle" is coming in over the trail. This time there are over 200 beef critters in the drive to Denver and the retinue a la chuck wagon, horse wrangling and wayside lodgings is as elaborate as any ever assembled in ye olden days when trailing was as common as freight travel is today. Grand county cattlemen propose to reach market without giving all their proceeds to the railroad, just as A. E. Sager did with his 66 steers from Steamboat Springs two or three weeks ago. They have already started this way from Kremmling—the Jones Cattle company, the Hinman brothers, Will J. Yust, William Henry and one or two other outfits all combined in one. There are upwards of 225 steers in the drive. The party expects to reach Denver in about ten days.

Mark Hinman, Dick Jones, Arthur Hudson and several others are riding with the herd, states the Kremmling

News. No creaking prairie schooner serves as the cowboys' traveling boarding house these days, for the chuck wagon on this trip is a gas-driven truck. It is understood that all the camping equipment is of the same modern type.

The high freight rates on the Moffat Road caused one of the Routt county cattlemen a month ago to try driving his steers to Denver instead of shipping them. The journey was a success in every way, the trip from Steamboat, occupying only a little more than two weeks, and the animals showing far less shrink than they would have experienced in four days buffeting in cattle cars.

The Moffat Road receiver recently denied a petition to reduce freight rates on that line in conformity with the move of the Rio Grande. Whether this attitude influenced the cattlemen in deciding on a drive to Denver is not known. The fact remains that it is apparently cheaper in the summertime to trail cattle a couple of hundred miles into Denver from the northwest than to haul them by train. —Denver Stockman.

INDIGESTION

Theford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine herb liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught Liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's.

TEXAS FARMERS MUST INCREASE LIVE STOCK

Stamford, Aug. 5.—Due to the light shipments of hogs that are being made into the Fort Worth market it will be necessary for farmers who increase their stock this fall to purchase same either from Texas breeders or in the north, according to the Livestock bureau of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce who have started their annual livestock campaign for increased dairy, hog and poultry production.

J. W. Ridgeway, chairman of the Livestock Committee, is now in the Northern states and will arrange to secure well bred dairy stock for West Texas farmers, while C. C. French, of the Fort Worth Stockyards Company, who has charge of the hog division of the campaign is now making a tour in Missouri. These members of the campaign party will return about the 20th of this month, and a speaking tour through West Texas will probably be started early in September.

T. O. Walton, director of Extension Work at A. & M. College, has promised a man to take charge of poultry work. In his letter relative to the campaign Walton said: "You may depend upon the complete co-operation of this department in the efforts that your organization is putting forth to better live stock conditions in the Western part of the state."

"TENDERFOOT" HAS BECOME "ROUGHSHOD" IN ARKANSAS

To the Avalanche: Well, we are all well in Arkansas. Like the country fine. We are all in the best of health. Fruits of all kinds killed by late frosts; never known before. Heavy and continued rains in spring and early summer; never heard of before. Now, we are in the "driest drouth" ever known by the oldest settlers; "hard times" on every hand; the hardest that Arkansas has ever known.

Lots of West Texas people over here, but most of the people are natives, been here since before that "Arkansas Traveler" came through. It has been very warm over here this summer, in fact the hottest heat ever felt before. It makes the "old man" sweat and perspire too, but altogether it is a beautiful country and indeed very healthy, provided, of course, you don't stare to death. This is a very picturesque country and you can feast every day on scenery. Of course, this is good for the stomach. Just now I am in the same fix I was for seven years in Lubbock County—praying for rain. The greatest difference I see in this county and Lubbock County is we have about twelve "Fool Editors" to Lubbock County's one. Now I know you are saying he is coming back—I will if I want to. There is nothing to keep me from leaving here, or coming back there.

I am very glad indeed that your people have their "everlasting gorge" of Gov. Neff, but excuse me, I might stir up something. We still love the people of Lubbock County, editors and all, and the time spent there will always be a pleasant memory. I have changed my name. It is no longer "tenderfoot," for everybody over

BRIGGS ROBERTSON AND PARTY RETURN FROM TRIP

Briggs Robertson returned to Abilene Friday from a fifteen days automobile trip into Mexico and New Mexico. He was accompanied by his nephew, Wade Robertson of Stanton, Buster Haley, the negro helper, went along and did the cooking and all report a fine trip, despite the fact that Buster was thrown from the trailer, in which he was riding, twice. The trailer just couldn't make the time and roll as easy as the Cole Aero Eight, behind which it was being drawn.

While on the trip the party visited Cloudcroft, Roswell, Jaurez, El Paso, Mescaleria and other points. The campers also visited the Lincoln National Forest. They report the roads in that section of the country in splendid condition, they having encountered only one puncture on the car on the trip. They covered 1367 miles in all. The trip from Roswell to Abilene, 370 miles, was made in fifteen hours and a half, with a 1300-pound trailer to contend with.—Abilene Reporter.

NEGRO BOY DROWNED IN LAKE AT SWEETWATER

Fred Lee Lockett, a 12-year-old negro boy was drowned in City Lake yesterday afternoon, while playing with a crowd of little boys. This is the first drowning to occur at City Lake since Judge H. C. Hord's son, Horace, was drowned there about 20 years ago. In company with Charlie Neely,

Billy Enslin, Fred Wimberly and his cousin Buster Wimberly, the little negro was paddling about in the water and trying to swim by holding on to a piece of plank, as he saw the other boys doing and got out into water beyond his depth. In some way the little fellow lost hold on his plank and being unable to swim, went down in eight feet of water.—Sweetwater Reporter.

It Stood the Test

An analysis of reserve percentages of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks during 1920 reveals some interesting figures.

While depressing business conditions affected some more than others, the total reserves of all combined fluctuated only between the narrow limits of 45.8 and 41.4 per cent.

Acting as a great, single reservoir of credit, the Federal Reserve System maintained throughout 1920 a better degree of financial stability in time of stress than this country ever before experienced.

OPPORTUNITY!

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO GET A HOME

The undersigned is cutting up a 6000-acre ranch into farms and is putting it on the market so that the poor man can buy and have a home.

LOCATION—The land is located in Hockley County, Texas, one of the best farming counties on the Plains of Texas.

Is 14 miles from railroad at Littlefield, a station on the Santa Fe on the Slaton-Lubbock-Texico line, and about 10 miles northwest of Elwood, the County Site of newly organized County of Hockley.

DESCRIPTION—The land is practically level and 99 per cent tillable.

The soil is a dark red loam, very rich. Works easy.

Owing to its nature it will stand drouth. We consider the quality of the soil the best on the Plains, peculiarly adapted to the climate of the Plains country.

Water can be had in abundance. The first vein being at about 62 feet, with two veins under it, the deepest one at 162 feet and when reached the water level comes up to the first vein. The land has scattered cat claw over it with some small mesquite bushes and the grass is of the mesquite variety, an indication of the best land.

The surface is nearly free from lakes or depressions and where they exist are shallow and very small.

The average rainfall for the country is estimated at about 22 inches.

CROPS—The land is peculiarly adapted to the growing of cotton, kaffir, milo, fetaria, Sudan grass, cane and corn, while wheat and oats can be grown.

PRICES—The land was offered and a part of it sold last year at an average of $25 per acre, while lands adjoining were sold at $30 per acre. The quality is as good or better than the lands referred to.

Owing to the depression we are offering this land at marked down prices, $21 per acre and the terms are as follows: Cash $2.00 per acre. Purchaser to assume the payment of a county debt of $11.22 per acre, due in 1957 with optional payment, and 5 per cent interest, payable in advance. The balance of the consideration payable in six annual installments as follows:

|---|-------------------------------|
| Total price on 147.6 acres at $21 | $3,099.60 |
| Amount you assume to Haskell County, 11.22 per acre | 1,656.07 |
| Amount you pay cash, $2.00 per acre | 295.20 |
| Balance to be paid | 1,148.33 |
| | $3,099.60 3,099.60 |

The above balance of $1,148.33 to be paid in six notes at 7 per cent as follows:

| | Payment | Interest | Total |
|---|---------|----------|----------|
| Note No. 1, due in 1 year, $1.00 per acre | 147.60 | $163.18 | $310.78 |
| Note No. 2, due in 2 years, $1.00 per acre | 147.60 | 152.85 | 300.45 |
| Note No. 3, due in 3 years, $1.28 per acre | 188.93 | 142.52 | 331.45 |
| Note No. 4, due in 4 years, $1.50 per acre | 221.40 | 129.29 | 350.70 |
| Note No. 5, due in 5 years, $1.50 per acre | 221.40 | 113.80 | 335.20 |
| Note No. 6, due in 6 years, $1.50 per acre | 221.40 | 98.30 | 319.70 |

To the purchaser who moves onto the land, builds buildings, puts down a well and puts the land in cultivation the payments will all be automatically extended by the payment of the interest one year.

If you are not interested perhaps you have a friend that desires a location and would like to investigate this proposition.

We specialize in colonization. If you have a large tract of land in West Texas or Eastern New Mexico and want it divided up and sold for farming purposes, it will pay you to get in touch with us.

Mrs. W. G. Murray Entertains.

Last Wednesday morning Mrs. H. W. Stanton's Sunday School class of girls received an invitation to come to the Murray ranch, about seven miles west of Abernathy. The class readily accepted the invitation and found no trouble in getting a few of the boys of like age to accompany them. About twelve o'clock three cars left for the Murray ranch. The drive seemed to have made everyone very hungry, but they soon got over that by eating a fine dinner, which was enjoyed by all. After dinner the horses were saddled and the girls rode around in the pasture for a while. All during the afternoon the party enjoyed various games. About six o'clock the crowd enjoyed a lunch which was prepared by Mrs. Murray, very much, and left the ranch about eight o'clock for their home in Lub-

Miss Blanton
Makes Report on
Corpus Christi

Austin, Texas, Aug. 6.—Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, today made what she declared was her final report on the Corpus Christi Scholastic matter. Her statement in part was to the effect that:

The census enumerators of the State Department of Education had completed their work in Nueces County and made a report as to the scholastic enumeration of the entire county, the figures of which were given out by the State Superintendent today. In the common school districts and independent school districts of Nueces county, exclusive of Corpus Christi and Robstown, a difference of only ten children was found in the total enumeration for the county between the enumeration taken in March and the one taken by the Department census enumerators in July. There were small variations of figures in the different districts, but no indications were found of any attempt whatever at fraud.

Miss Blanton said that the total amount of the State apportionment for the year 1920-21 to the city of Corpus Christi, based upon a scholastic enumeration of 5,755 pupils, amounted to $83,447.50; of this $77,692.50 has been paid, a $1 apportionment yet remaining to be paid. The total amount which Corpus Christi paid in teachers' salaries for the session of 1920-21, as shown by the annual report of the superintendent, was $67,614.65; therefore the State has actually paid to Corpus Christi $10,077.85 more than the total amount of the salaries of all its teachers during the present session.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE LAMESA REPORTER

Last Friday, while the family were away from home the house and contents of Bob Billingsly, at New Sparburg, was totally destroyed by fire.

On last Sunday evening something approaching a miracle occurred two miles north of Lamesa. Miss Jewell Looney was driving her father's automobile and Miss Lela Watson accompanying her, and the car turned completely over breaking the top to pieces and smashing one wheel off and ruining the steering wheel, and really breaking the car to pieces generally, and the only injury received by either young lady was a cut finger for Miss Looney. Miss Watson was out at church, as usual, a few hours after the accident. Just how the car could turn completely over and smash off the top going at a high rate of speed, and these two young ladies get out alive seems a miracle. We are glad to report that they are all right.

We are informed that the new school building will have the brick work completed this week. Then the carpenters and painters will have their turn and soon the rising generation will have the best building they perhaps ever attended school in. There are very few better school buildings in West Texas.

George Neely is this week packing his household goods to move to Oklahoma. Wilkinson Brothers have bought his crop, tools and stock and will put a man on the place as soon as he vacates. Mr. Neely is a good old man and we hate to see him leave Dawson County.

Harvey Swain, who was operated on for appendicitis as stated in our last issue, died at Lubbock last Friday night, and his remains were buried there. He leaves a wife and two small children. The operation was too late and the doctors feared so when they operated.

At the County Judge's office of Lamesa, Judge J. R. Lowrie, on Monday, at 10:30 a. m. married Frank Morris and Miss Alma Wood. Mr. Morris' parents lives near town and the same of Miss Wood. She is a daughter of Holly Wood. They left on the mail car for Fort Worth, where they will reside in the future. We wish them all the joys that come to the matrimonial life.

A MODERN SAMPSON GETS OUT OF SWEETWATER JAIL

A Sweetwater boy, who was serving a three months term in the Nolan County jail at Sweetwater, escaped from the prison last week by bending the heavy bars with his hands and effecting his escape. It was stated by other prisoners in the jail at the time that he used nothing but his hands to bend the bars and get out. He was the only one that escaped, the others prisoners refusing to go with him.

POLICE DEPARTMENT CHANGES HANDS RECENTLY

In the last few days the Police Department has changed around considerably and we have a few bunch. Mr. Charles Middleton resigned, and I have been appointed by the city as Chief of Police. My headquarters are with Mr. C. A. Pappas, back of the Lubbock State Bank and my Telephone Number is 398.

From now on we are going to enforce the laws of the city. For the past three months we have been trying to reach the public what the law is and from now on every person who violates it will be fined. We will show no partiality, and fine them all alike.

G. C. HUFSTEDLER,
Chief of Police.

J. J. Allen, of Waco, was in Lubbock this week looking over the country. We are informed that he is much pleased with the appearance in general.

Jowell Wright, of the Flying "W" Ranch, spent Friday, Saturday, and Sunday in Lubbock, last week.

G. W. Lasater, of the Idalou community, spent Friday of last week visiting and shopping in Lubbock.

EXPECTATIONS

Because a man's ambition is judged by what he expects and intends to do, one should expect and look forward to making more money, saving more money and thus receiving more happiness and the blessings of contentment. Money is not, by any means, the only source of happiness and contentment, but it surely is a nice thing to have 'round the place.

Say, the savings department of this bank is what you should use—it's the only kind like it in this section. The strength of this bank lies not only in our enormous resources, but in addition there's men here whose ability makes for far more strength and safety of entrusted funds, than ordinary banking safeties. This is the kind of bank to do business with—isn't it?

JURY GIVES BEATTY POSSESSION OF RENT HOUSE

Judge Geo. L. Beatty was given possession of a rent house, which has been occupied by Mr. Pond, in a suit filed by Beatty and tried in the Justice Court of Lubbock Monday. This is the same case that was tried some weeks ago, during which time the defendant was struck with an "earthquake" by the plaintiff, and the jury decided in favor of the defendant on account of having sickness in the home. The trial Monday went smoothly along, and a verdict rendered as stated above. We are informed that the defendant will appeal the case.

ENAMELED WARES

What is meant by enameled ware? A coating of glass on steel. A thin sheet of glass on a thin sheet of steel is a poor combination. If the steel bends the glass will break.

If the steel is firm and there are several coats of tough enamel a piece of enameled ware will last almost indefinitely if properly used and cared for.

Our "Thistle Brand enameled ware is fired at a very high temperature and the two heavy coats of enamel are firmly united to the heavy, firm metal. The coloring of this ware is beautiful, too. It is a combination of violet colors and the inside is pure white.

The enamel is acid proof, just like a glass dish. Does not form poisonous acids with foods left in the utensils.

Enamels in both of the above brands of enamel—Our "Sage Brand" enameled ware is a high grade of beautiful grey color, and moderately priced.

We have a complete stock of kitchen utensils in both of the above brands of enameled ware.

Let us equip your kitchen and make your work a pleasure.

CHILD TRAINING AT HOME

By Mabel R. Young.

Rainy Day Pastimes

A rainy day in the kindergarten is always just a little freer, a little brighter and happier than the ordinary day.

Why should a rainy day at home be long and dull? Here are a few suggestions for making the next one a red letter day for your little folks.

First, let the children make scrap-books from all the pieces of saved wrapping paper; let them cut the paper the right size, then fold and sew the sheets into book form. Have one book for crayon drawing, one for free-cutting pictures, and another for clippings from magazines, papers and seed catalogues. Provide a pan or basket for the snips. This occupation will keep the children amused for an hour or more, at the same time developing accuracy and originality.

Another period can be happily spent making potato animals. Burned matches fasten heads and bodies together and make splendid legs, elephant trunks and necks for giraffes. A potato circus in full parade is a sight to make even the cross-st grown-up smile in spite of himself. If potatoes cannot be used, small animal crackers from the grocery store make a good substitute. With the help of building blocks, the children can make a farm and barnyard, and the animals and blocks will provide a play, "Noah's Ark."

Save all the clean burned matches, lollypop sticks and meat skewers in a box, as they provide a never-failing source of amusement. The stick pictures that can be made: Houses and barns, fences and ladders, beds, chairs and tables can be formed by the little hands. Even a park can be laid out, with trees, benches and flower-beds; or a camp with rows of tents and soldiers marching in line.

There are many games adaptable for indoors. Ball, tennis and bean bags are always good.

Stories and nursery rhymes can be dramatized and sense games played. For instance, the "Bell-ringer," in which one child, blindfolded, tries to catch another, who rings a bell as he moves about. Another good game is the "Mystery Man," who can be impersonated by one of the children. All kinds of articles are placed by him in the hands of the "blind-man," who must guess what they are. Then the play of tasting and smelling makes the time pass profitably and pleasantly.

With a few helpful suggestions, children can work out and adapt for themselves all of these games and spend the hours indoors happily busy, while a favorite story retold by the mother gives a perfect ending to a joyous rainy day.

WHEAT HAS PRACTICALLY ALL BEEN MARKETED

The 1921 wheat crop of Floyd County has practically been marketed. This has been one of the longest harvest seasons the country has known, and it has been the most strenuous. We have no figures as to the combined yield, but judge that it will amount to several million bushels. The average acre yield ran around ten bushels to the acre.

The farmers are now busy preparing their wheat land for another crop. Row crops are being given attention, and while the acreage sown to feed is small compared to former years, there is a good yield promised. There is a very small acreage planted to cotton, and the prevailing opinion now is that one gin will be able to easily handle the crop this fall.

The Beacon cannot afford to miss this opportunity to warn the people against too liberal sowing of wheat this fall. Our section would be better off this year if we had more feed planted, and in planting your next year's crops the feed situation should be given careful consideration. If we continue to plant all to wheat we will come to the mortgage system.—Lockney Beacon.

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER HOSPITAL AT KERRVILLE

Washington, Aug. 6.—The War Risk Bureau expects to close a contract for the use of the hospital at Kerrville, Texas, for the care of war risk patients, according to information received by Representative Briggs. The facilities at Kerrville were completed by an appropriation by the State Legislature and inquiry was made by Mr. Briggs for ex-service men in Texas as to whether the Government proposed to utilize the institution.

Director Forbes advised that the contract was before officials of the bureau and probably would be completed in a few days, after which it would be available for care of beneficiaries of the Bureau suffering with tuberculosis.

RURAL SCHOOL APPROPRIATION BILL REPORTED

Austin, Aug. 2.—The bill by Representative R. M. Chitwood, for an appropriation of $3,000,000 for the rural schools of Texas was favorably reported this morning by the committee on education. There was no adverse minority report.

Under the terms of the Chitwood bill the rural schools of Texas will receive $2,000,000 the first year and $1,000,000 the next year. Simple methods of distribution of the fund, eliminating much red tape, are provided by Chitwood.

Chitwood lives at Sweetwater. He is a former educator. He is a consistent supporter of the committee bills for the maintenance of the educational institutions of Texas.

SNYDER WILL NEED MANY HARVEST HANDS

Snyder, Aug. 4.—Farmers throughout this section are commencing to make arrangements for all classes of help to gather crops. Maize and kafir corn harvesting will be under full swing about the middle of August, and by the time that these crops have been gathered, cotton will be in readiness.

Prices for day labor will be considerably lower than paid last year.

COOL COLORADO IS HOT, SAYS LOCAL BARBER

Edd Allen, of the Sanitary Barber Shop, who with his family returned home Sunday from Colorado, reports a splendid trip but was disappointed in the climate. Mr. Allen says there were few nights while they were in Denver that they could sleep under cover, as so many had told them. Out of ten days spent in Denver visiting Mrs. Allen's sister, Mr. Allen says seven of those nights were sultry hot, and the mosquitoes were also bad. The Allen family returned by the way of Clayton, New Mexico, being gone three weeks.

HARD TO DRIVE FORD AND SLEEP AT THE SAME TIME

B. B. Bessent, an employee of the Moore Brothers Furniture Company, wrecked a Ford and a lamp post last Sunday night about midnight when he was returning home, and driving on the south side of the square. Deputy Sheriff McCulloch heard the noise and thinking it was the prisoners breaking jail rushed out in great suspense, but was greatly relieved when Mr. Bessent called him over to help straighten out the wreck. Mr. McCulloch said the boy explained the wreck by saying that he must have been asleep. The car was badly torn up and the lamp post was mowed to the ground.

HORNLESS HEREFORDS FIND WAY TO AUSTRALIA

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 6.—Word has been received recently of the safe arrival of Polled Herefords exported to Australia. The cattle withstood the inoculation for redwater and have arrived at the ranch of the purchaser, G. H. Horns of Queensland, where they are attracting much favorable attention.

Mr. Horns writes that with the return of better times in the cattle industry in Australia, there will no doubt develop a good export trade in Polled Herefords.

From Healthy Cows

When you pay for milk you should know that it is pure, from healthy cows, milk that tastes of the care it should receive.

The price of milk where cleanliness and purity are secondary is higher, nevertheless the price, than milk that has received scientific and cautious care.

And Will Have Opening Celebration at Flour Mill Will be Ready for Business Abernathy All Day Tomorrow (Friday)

E. H. Miller, manager of the Union Milling Company, at Abernathy, was in Lubbock this morning and stated that the work on the new flour mill at Abernathy was just about completed and would be in running order by tomorrow (Friday), the day set for the celebration of its opening.

The proposition was first started by Mr. Miller, who was connected with the Marble Fall Milling Company. The cost of the plant was about ten thousand dollars. The proposition was taken up by a number of the farmers who composed the Farmers Union at that place and five thousand dollars of it was sold to individuals throughout this section, Mr. Miller retaining the half interest in the business and the management of the plant. Mr. Miller stated that the new mill is of the American (midget) Marvel type, of a twenty-five barrel capacity per day. Mr. Miller says: "This mill and its process of flour making are most interesting. It is entirely sold contained and makes flour in one minute after the wheat enters the mill. There is a total absence of the usual maze of elevators, conveyors and miscellaneous machinery of the old process which one expects to encounter."

In discussing the new plant further Mr. Miller said: "The features of the Marvel system of milling are its shortness of duration and extreme gentleness. These points are absolutely essential for the production of really good flour. They preserve the shape of the starch and gluten cells of the wheat berry and on that account, the bread will rise better, retains the moisture, is more digestible and displays the most delicious and palatable nature—flavor. This is not possible in flour made by any other method."

"Our mill will be open at all times for our friends and customers, whom we cordially invite to come in and inspect the plant. We want especially every visitor to the celebration tomorrow to see the machinery in operation."

"We have been real busy from the time the contract was signed for the erection of the plant, getting ready for this date and we are greatly encouraged by the interest the people of this community have shown in their desire to patronize this institution. The erection of this mill will mean more prosperity for this community and it will enable us to buy and sell at home. The money we spend will be resented at home, and will be distributed throughout the South Plains in wages, in real estate, better roads, finer schools, and as people throughout the entire South Plains have stock in the new institution, we are confident that it will be a success from the start. It will encourage more wheat raising and less cotton, as a market for the wheat will be created right at your door, and the great expense of shipping the raw material out will be eliminated."

Mr. Miller is a practical mill man, and knows the business thoroughly, and is very sure that the Union Milling company will enjoy a very fine business, and is anxious that the people throughout this country test out their product and see for themselves that just as good flour can be produced here as anywhere in the world.

The trip will be made overland. A fishing and camping outfit will be carried along in case they have a breakdown near some of the mountain streams that are noted for their trout fishing. We feel sure that this will be a very enjoyable trip as they have planned a good route, and the country where they will spend their vacation is noted for its wonderful scenery.

CLOVER LEAF CREAMERY HAS FEAST TUESDAY EVE

Seventy-five gallons of ice cream was given away Tuesday evening between six and ten o'clock at the Clover Leaf Creamery. More than three thousand people attended the feast, at which cream or sherbet was served to them.

The feast was put on for the purpose of advertising the product put out by these people. Mr. Holmhouse says they are shipping cream to every town between Plainview and Snyder, with the territory growing every day. We are indeed glad to see these people doing so well, for they are in every sense of the word boosters and are putting out something that appeals to the public.

These people say this is not the last feast that will be put on here, and they expect to keep the plant just as sanitary as the public found it Tuesday evening. They will be pleased to show anyone through the plant at any time, and explain just how their product is made.
