R. A. Pickens vs. J. W. Garrett et al, on promissory notes, judgments favor plaintiff.

Mrs. Ella Holland, administratrix of the estate of Asa Pullen, deceased, vs. G. W. Farmer. Dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

Other civil cases continued. The Grand Jury found five bills as follows:

Swindling by acquiring property of less value than $50.

Unlawfully carrying on or about him a pistol.

Disturbing the peace.

Two bills for cursing a person under circumstances calculated to provoke a breach of the peace.

Be a live wire and you won't get stepped on. It is only the dead ones that are used for door mats.—The Caxon.

Mark Twain's Spider.

When Mark Twain in his early days was editor of a Missouri paper a superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The humorist wrote this in answer and printed it.

Old subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward.—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

TEXAS GREATEST LOSS.

According to certain studies made of the earnings of the educated and of uneducated individuals, the average earnings of persons who had remained in school till 18 years of age and received 12 years of schooling of 180 days each, are approximately $1,000 a year; the average for uneducated, $450 a year. The life expectancy of persons of 18 years of age is placed by life insurance companies at a little over 43 years. The average life time of individuals for production after 18 is, therefore, 25 years. In this time the educated person would earn $25,000; the uneducated, $11,250. The educated individual would earn $13,750 more than his uneducated brother. His 2160 days of schooling have been worth $6.36 per day for each day he attended school.

In Texas in 1910-11 there were 966,269 children within school-age (7-17). The average school term for that year was 135 days. The possible number of days of school attendance for all these children during the 135 days would be 129,716,315 days; while actual attendance was only 73,942,853 days. The absence from public school attendance, therefore, would be 46,773,462 days. There are, however, approximately 10,000 of these children enrolled in private schools. Granting full attendance for them and making the deduction, there would remain a net absence from school attendance of 42,423,462 days.

Taking the value of each day of schooling to be worth $6.36 in addition to the earning power of each individual there would be a total loss of $287,003,218.32. Granting that our schools should have run 180 days instead of 135 total loss would be $565,021,806.12.

In this calculation no deduction has been made for these children who will probably die before reaching the age of 18 years.

Calculating the probable deaths by standard mortality tables, 940,293 of the 966,269 children will live to be 18 years of age. On the other hand, however, there were approximately 79-

500 children 17 years of age not enumerated. Of these the mortality tables would show that approximately 78,100 would live to be 18 years of age. Only a small per cent of these children attend school, and the loss sustained in this would more than offset the error in failing to deduct the probable deaths of approximately 28,000 children between the ages of 7 and 17.

The value of the cotton crop of 1910 was $265,955,944; while the grand total value of all the principal crops in Texas for 1910, including corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, spelt, kaffir corn, milo maize, peanuts, and other grains and seeds, potatoes, sweet potatoes, and yams, sugar cane, tobacco, cotton, cotton seed, and truck, was $476,711,944.

In money value, then, Texas is losing more each year by the non-attendance of her children upon her schools than her entire cotton crop is worth; and by short term of school and non-attendance of children more than the total value of all her crops.

Is this worth saving? What would this amount of money do? The average cost of building sand-clay road in Texas is given at $5.98 per mile; gravel, $1.708; macadam, $2.160. According to these averages, $565,021,806 would build 952,819 miles of sand-clay road; of gravel, 330,809 miles; or of macadam, 261,584 miles. In other words, the loss by non-attendance of our children in school during one year would build from one to three miles of good road on every square mile of land in the entire state.—Conference for Education

VERGARA'S BODY RECOVERED FROM MEXICO; DELIVERED TO TEXAS RANGERS

Bryan to Investigate Rangers' Act; Fall Demands U. S. Intervention; Colquitt hits 'Nambly Pamby' Policy

HAD BEEN SHOT AND SKULL WAS CRUSHED

Corpses of Hanchaman Identified by Son and Some of His Friends.

LAREDO, TEX., March 16.—Some news brought to the American side by the mutilated body of Clemente Vergara, Texas ranchman, was established beyond all question the fact of his execution after being seized by Mexican Federalists.

Nature of Vergara's Wounds. Vergara had been shot twice through the head and once through the neck. His skull was crushed by a blow from the left, and the charred fingers of the left hand indicated that he had been tortured before being put to death.

Identification. It was made by the dead man's son and by friends. The body was not badly decomposed, despite its three weeks' burial, and in addition to recognizing its features, young Vergara took a bit of cloth from the trousers which clothed body and matched it to the coat which his father had left on the day he crossed the Rio Grande.

The body was brought into the United States at a point forty-five miles up the river, opposite Hidalgo and near the Vergara ranch. American Consul Garrett of Nuevo Laredo, Deputy Sheriffs and other authorities were waiting to receive it, and pending the arrival of an undertaker from Laredo, an armed force stood guard over the body.

Grave Easily Located. Location of the grave where Vergara was supposed to be buried, an easy task for the men in charge of excavation and wonder since it appeared, newly made, after a swinging body had been cut down from the place of execution where the hue and cry over Vergara's disappearance started an investigation. The body had been rudely interred, with little effort to protect it from the earth.

History of Vergara Case. Vergara left his ranch, near Baffin, Texas, Friday, February 15, and crossed the river into Mexico on a message from Capt. Apolinario Rodriguez, of the Hidalgo Federal garrison, that he wished to settle for eleven horses taken from Vergara's inland pasture in the Rio Grande. Mrs. Vergara pleaded with her husband not to risk his life by crossing the river, but disregarding her warnings, he crossed the river in company with his young nephew, Jose Vergara, who was told to stay behind her husband, and after being knocked unconscious, carried off. Vergara's nephew managed to escape and hid in the brush until he could re-cross the river.

On the following day Mrs. Vergara went in search of her husband and found him in the Hidalgo jail. He was known there, was no charge against him. He had been cruelly beaten. She dressed the wounds on his head, she said, and nursed him until he could be taken to his home. This was the last she saw of him alive, for early next morning he was taken from the jail, supposedly to be transferred to Medina, Nueces, and disappeared.

Start of Investigation. When a search was begun for the missing American it was limited, after a week had been spent, to the body buried in a cave outside of Hidalgo early Sunday morning, Feb. 15, and the body left without for several days. Soon after American Consul Garrett of Nuevo Laredo started the investigation this body was removed and a fresh grave was opened in the old Hidalgo cemetery. It was found that the body was that of Vergara, and that the believed he was buried in the new grave, and was finally notified that he had been executed.

Posterior Detail. A report made by the Mexican Federalist, however, and prior to this, Gen. Alvarez, commanding the Hidalgo garrison, had assured the American Consul that Vergara would be released, and that he would be returned to his home. This alleged release, however, was not made until the body was recovered, and the body was returned to the United States.

Alvarez, commanding the Hidalgo garrison, had assured the American Consul that Vergara would be released, and that he would be returned to his home. BLAZE IN WACO CONSUMES 5,500 BALES OF COTTON

Katy Railroad Also Loses Seven Boxcars by Fire at a Compress.

THE TOTAL LOSS IS $500,000

WACO, TEX., March 16.—The Exporters and Traders' Compress and Warehouse Company's compress burned here and with it 5,500 bales of cotton. The loss is estimated at $500,000. The Katy Railroad lost seven empty boxcars which were standing beside the compress and one car containing cotton. All losses are covered by insurance. The compress company owns another plant here, which will be utilized to compress any orders received during the remainder of the season. The plant will be rebuilt before the next season opens.

Fanned by a high wind, the flames were at all times beyond the control of the entire city's fighting force. So rapidly did the flames spread that employees of the business office were forced to flee their desks. Many of them lost personal belongings. The records of the company, together with all books, were saved by a thoughtful employee, who swung the heavy vault closed while rushing from the building.

The fire originated behind the engineer, whether from a spark from a passing engine or from a carelessly thrown match is not known. Officers of the company, however, believe the former was the cause.

The alarm was turned in at 1:40 o'clock.

Dr. Eliot for Strong Navy as Aid to Peace

Nations Safe When Protected From War, He Tells Harvard Boys.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 16.—"Strong armies and navies are the greatest forces for discouraging international wars," said President (emeritus) Charles W. Eliot of Harvard, in an address before the undergraduate organization tonight.

Broadly speaking, he said, there are seven roads to peace. They are: the establishment of commissions competent to prevent wrongs and miseries in every country, publicity in commercial and governmental transactions, less economy in manufacturing processes, more public spirit among individuals, encouragement of elementary education, maintenance of a strong army and navy for defense and the protection of commerce.

Lawyer Collapses on Platform at Medical Jurisprudence Meeting.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Andrew DeLoach, a lawyer of No. 119 Broadway, was reading a paper before the New York Society of Medical Jurisprudence, on some proposed changes in the laws governing insanity, when he suddenly collapsed and fell from the platform.

Dr. Reynolds W. Wilcox, who was in the audience, attended Mr. DeLoach. He was taken into one of the smaller rooms in the Academy building, but as his illness appeared to be serious, Dr. Wilcox decided to take Mr. DeLoach to his home, No. 250 West Ninety-eighth street.

It was said there by a member of the family late last night, that Mr. DeLoach's condition was not regarded as grave, but that no definite information as to his illness could be given. As the Academy of Medicine it was reported that Mr. DeLoach was suffering from an apoplectic stroke.

WANTS SUBMISSION PLACED ON BALLOT

Col. R. M. Johnston Says Prohibition Question is Real Issue in Texas.

TO BE THREE-CORNERED FIGHT.

(By Clarence Dubose.) Although the "constructive Democrats" split the Dallas anti-Saturday night disclaim the entitlement of "anti's," Col. R. M. Johnston, before leaving for his home in Houston last night, made the significant assertion that the prohibition question was the real issue and that it would be such until it is settled.

The prohibitionists have made it the overpowering issue by their action at Fort Worth, said Col. Johnston. "We are accused of following their methods. Well, perhaps we are. In a way, but we are not following their movement, and we are doing it as Democrats. However, there is no sense in equivocation or dissimulation. I am in favor of meeting the issue squarely, fighting it out and settling it. The anti's have 50,000 more poll taxes paid this year than they ever had before. If we can't win this year we can never win."

Col. Johnston believed that the Fort Worth convention, April 14, will nominate a man whose name is not before the people as a candidate, and he thinks it likely that man will be Charles Quinceley Johnston, "Col. Ball is my personal friend," said Col. Johnston, "but, of course, nominated as he was, and standing for what he does, I can not support him."

Col. Johnston considers it not at all improbable that the faction in control of the State Democratic convention in August will split. He said that there may be a withdrawal from the party.

"I do consider it actually probable that the party will split," he said. "I'll answer that question by Senator Culberson's reply to his friend, who asked him, just after the battle of Manila, if he believed the United States was actually entering upon a policy of expansion. Senator Culberson's reply was that it looked to him like we had already expanded. Now you can draw your own conclusions."

Gov. O. B. Colquitt, Col. Jake Walters, Jonathan Lane and most of the leaders who were here for Saturday morning, left Dallas yesterday morning. Col. Johnston, Senator Quintus U. Watson and Col. Sheb Williams remained over yesterday. All express satisfaction with the outcome of Saturday's meeting and confidence that a candidate will be named at Fort Worth April 14 who will be able to defeat Col. Ball. It is admitted, however, that the president of the anti's—beg pardon, Constructive Democrats—is made more difficult by the inexorable attitude of James E. Ferguson, who is expected to disregard this meeting and remain a candidate for Governor.

Furthermore, he appealed to his friends to "maintain their political integrity" by remaining away from the "Mugwump convention" and having nothing to do with the "Mugwump convention."

Mr. Ferguson—"Federal League." By this statement, Mr. Ferguson burns his bridges behind him, so far as accepting possible nomination by the anti's or constructive Democrats is concerned. After such a declaration he could not consistently accept the nomination of the "Mugwump." Mr. Ferguson was favored by some of the anti-leaders here Saturday. Some of them still hope that he will be chosen, but they are not sure that Controller Lane was equally odious, but was finally "eliminated" by the pros.

In the "ball game" now on, Mr. Ferguson is the unyielding and unshakable Federal League. The other sides—call 'em what you will, pro and anti or Progressive and Constructive Democrats or anything else you like—the two "Big Leagues," old and long recognized, and Ferguson won't sign up—that's the thorn in the flesh of the managers of the anti or constructive side of this "ball game." But the pros are rather stolidly disposed to the Federal League. They hope to see him grow larger and recruit much good material into the anti ranks. The theory of the pro managers here, of course, that he will not invade their parish extensively, but will develop much strength in anti territory.

And since baseball lingo is being employed to present the political situation, it should be stated that State Senator C. McNealus, "the original Tom Ball man," thinks the real trouble is that the anti's are "not up on the new rules of the game." Since Senator McNealus once advocated a "baseball team" when "playing ball" a year before the elimination plan was even conceived he ought to be an authority.

Three Kinds of Democrats. It is suggestive in an explanation of the apparently unorganized and haphazard condition of the anti team, that the players are still trying to win under the old rules. Whereas the game has been changed materially in recent years. "They've played a regular corner lot game, so far," said Senator McNealus, "they had five team work under the old rules, but they aren't quite on to the new plays. They don't seem to have any pinch hitters or emergency pitchers—although the team is abundant with pinch hitters and managers. In fact they're just in the semi-pro class." For the information of any who are unfamiliar with baseball technicalities it might be explained that this means semi-professional, and not semi-prohibition!

Anyhow, as a result of Saturday's meeting, there are three varieties of Democrats presented to the people. First, the prohibition eliminators, who hoisted the Tom Ball banner at Fort Worth, and who defiantly assert the Democratic brand. Next, the anti's—no. Constructive Democrats, who met in Dallas Saturday, and who declare unqualifiedly that they are the only genuine, bona fide Democrats, eighteen-carat, Simons-pure, thirty-third degree, all wool and a yard wide Democrats, and who while making this pronouncement practically read the eliminators out of the party.

But in and behold! along comes Candidate James E. Ferguson, who declined to attend the Dallas meeting and says both of 'em are Undemocratic and that the prospective anti convention is a "mugwump" affair.

Which he counsels his friends to stay away from. Mr. Ferguson agrees with the anti's or Constructive Democrats of mugwumps or what the name should be, that the question is, will the Democratic party survive? But he doesn't agree with their idea of saving the party. The Ferguson plan is for all Democrats to rally around Ferguson.

'Eugenic' Baby Born on Crowded Sidewalk

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., March 16.—Mrs. Anthony Lazask, accompanied by her husband, had alighted from a trolley car in the center of this town when she was suddenly taken ill. Women nearby formed a screen on the sidewalk and greeted the lusty baby.

Dr. M. J. Dowd, who was passing, attended Mrs. Lazask and declared the fresh air baby was a fine example of eugenic infants.

AT THE MAJESTIC

San Antonio
Week of March 22nd

In "A Bowery Camille," at the Majestic next week, Miss Valerie Bergerl demonstrates consummate skill as an actress in the part of KJ Kennedy, the artist's model. She has fallen in love with "Edward West," an artist, and he has reciprocated her affection. The artist's mother appears and wants to take him back home. The model agrees to give him up. She is the typical slinky girl of the Bowery, but her acting is so realistic that, in spite of her slang, she touches deeply the hearts of her audiences. The supporting company is good, but it is Miss Bergerl that makes the playlet one of the best that has been seen on this circuit this season.

The bill opens with Ross and Tinsman in what is termed "One of the World's Foremost Bump Acts." The way the two men bump and tumble each other around brought much laughter from yesterday afternoon's audience. They fell on, and around each other in a most bewildering manner and incidentally did some excellent tumbling.

Dick Knowles and Mae White appear in a mixture of songs and stories. Some of the stories are new and they are all well told. The singing of the two is hardly above the average.

Edward Blondell and Company, the company consisting of one rather good looking woman, present "The Lost Boy," which is just simply a good, clean farce, nothing else. Blondell takes the part of the farmer boy who is lost. As he expresses it, the folks moved while he was away, and when he got home—home was not there. The woman is a city dweller, who is going to send him back to his parents. A comical love-making scene ensues, with a belle near-tragedy thrown in, and an unexpected moment is an entirely unexpected moment in the curtain is almost down before the listeners realize that the act is over.

As "The Personality Girl," Nan Halperin makes a decided hit. One of her songs is of the up-to-date girl on her wedding day, who wishes the wedding march played in ragtime. She then imitates a soprano and a would-be prima donna in excellent style. She has a good voice, knows how to use it and is a clever little actress.

The Chung-Hwa Comedy Four is said to be the only Chinese male quartette on the American stage. The names of the four rare James Ah-Chung, Lee Lung Li, Don To Yaw and H. K. Ling. They appear in Mandarin costume, they sing some Chinese love songs, inviting the audience to join in the chorus. Next donning regulation dress suits, they render a number of the latest songs, their pronunciation being a little queer in places, but their melodic demonstrates consummate skill only excellent. They end by putting on Scottish kilts, singing one of Harry Lauder's songs "I Loved a Lassie," and by dancing the Highland fling.

The program closes with Miss Lietzel, assisted by Jeannette, in a novel aerial act. Miss Lietzel is a dainty little lady and wears a fetching costume of white with black trimmings. Jeannette wears the usual blue costume of a trapeze performer. The two do some unique rope climbing, and Miss Lietzel performs on two suspended rings, while her assistant takes the trapeze. Their work is very pleasing throughout.

BRYAN IS ADVOCATE OF POSTAL BALLOT

THEN WE COULD VOTE BY MAIL.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 16.—Secretary William J. Bryan, speaking here today before the Maryland Legislature, declared he hoped that only would the United States borrow the initiative and referendum as it had borrowed the Australian ballot, but that in time it would adopt the postal vote. An initiative and referendum bill is pending before the Maryland Legislature.

The postal vote of New Zealand allows a citizen, through away from home, to cast his vote on an election and have it counted.

Secretary Bryan said he believed there is more virtue in the people than ever finds expression in their political action. A Representative should not violate his conscience either in public or private matters, and when he feels that he can not do his constituents conservatively want him to do he should return his commission, he said.

"I believe the crime of misrepresentation is greater than perjury was when you get misrepresentation your office holder can laugh at you while he is drawing a salary and doing as he pleases.

"You need not be afraid to change your opinion on the question of initiative and referendum," the Secretary continued. President Wilson changed his opinion, and was not ashamed. He said he had been teaching the students at Princeton that the initiative and referendum was wrong, but when he found he was wrong he was not ashamed to say so.

ATTRACTIONS AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE

PLAYS THAT HAVE HAD LONG AND SUCCESSFUL RUNS IN NEW YORK, TO BE SEEN HERE DURING THE COMING WEEK.

At the Grand in San Antonio on New York organization could fill March 21 and April 1. Otto Skinner will be seen in Edward Knoblauch's brilliant and colorful oriental drama "Kismet." In the role of Hajj the Beggar, who experiences as many adventures in a day as did Sindbad would run for at least another 12 months there was nothing else to do but meet the demand.

Mr. Morosco has personally selected the members of the company and rehearsed them himself to be post-theatrical history as Edwin Booth's Hamlet or Joseph Jefferson's Rip Van Winkle. Klaw and Erlanger performance and production equal in every respect to that given there.

"LITTLE LOST SISTER." Another White Slave Play Coming to San Antonio.

"THE LOST SISTER"—Three Days—Three Matinees, March 24, 25, 26

JOHN DREW AS HE IS. How to appraise the theatre-goer reliably of the new play he wants—that is the problem. Most theatrical men are as deeply in the dark as to solve it today as they ever were.

Yet this year several theatrical men have taken the leap. Those are the fellows who have acted with a little more brains and producers' rank (most in this line) are Robert E. Rickson and Frank Gazzo. These men are the producers of "Little Lost Sister," a play by Miss Virginia Brooks, remarkable in many ways.

The play has met with unusual success. Perhaps the one big reason for this is the fact that the story is true and the presentation is accurate. Both the writer of the book and the dramatist have studied hard, diligently and faithfully the conditions, which cause young girls to go astray. And they have written a wonderful play.

The actors and actresses must have the situation in order to an effective "box hit," he emphasized. And he had his way.

The company was carefully selected, and were sent to view the situation. Light shined in the world's most successful street Chicago. That is why "Little Lost Sister" is so frequently endorsed by persons interested in the present spirit reform.

"The Little Lost Sister" comes to the Grand on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and matinee on all three days at popular prices.

SENATE BARS SMOKING AT TILLMAN'S BEHEST. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 15.—Smoking in executive session of the senate and at other times was barred today when the Senate adopted a resolution championed by Senator Tillman forbidding Senators to smoke in the Senate. They must not bring lighted cigars into the Senate chamber.

TO ESTABLISH GRADES OF GRAIN AND COTTON

Representative Lever Introduces Bills Intended to Help Farmers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 16.—Bills to authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate handling, grading and transportation of grain and cotton, and to establish standards of grade, quality and condition were introduced today by Chairman Lever of the House Agricultural Committee. They would prohibit interstate shipment of grain or cotton unless its sale grade is fixed by the secretary. Agriculture would conform to standards he prescribes, but variations from official standards may be permitted under his rules.

The bills would forbid shipment of grain or cotton under misleading descriptions, would make subject to the Agricultural Department's inspection any grain entering into interstate commerce which has been represented to conform to a given standard and would authorize the Secretary to settle any disputes as to proper grading of shipments. Violations would be punishable by fines of from $250 to $1,000.

The bills, which carry appropriations of $300,000 for the first year, have the approval of the Department of Agriculture and representatives of farmers' organizations who attended the recent hearings on the investigation of grain exchanges.

"Of course," said Representative Lever, "these bills are only tentative and are introduced merely to provoke discussion that as representing a finality of judgment. There is no doubt that cotton and grain growers are suffering losses in the value of their cotton and grain that will run into the hundreds of millions of dollars because they have no way of knowing the value of grades.

"The cotton grower, I know, is practically at the mercy of the buyer, and some machinery must be created to enable the farmer to get the value of the exact grade offered up on the market. I am fully convinced that the time has come when the farmer should be enabled to have a voice in fixing the price of his own property."

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED NOW WITHOUT FOOD

SUPPLY IS CUT OFF AND FORCES BEGIN TO SCATTER.

Rural District of Yolo County, California, Overrun by Hundreds of Hungry Men.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 16.—"Gen." Kelley's army, temporarily detained on its march toward Washington, went to bed supperless tonight in the shacks that form its camp in Yolo County, Sacramento County not officially shut off the food supply which had been concentrated by the county, but issued an order forbidding any person carrying supplies across the bridge beyond which the Industrial Workers are camped.

This move was ordered by the city and county authorities in the belief that it would cause disintegration of the army. But some one disobeyed and twice a day food in large quantities was sent to the camp. It was explained today what the source of the army's supply was discovered that the order for a single meal, given by a citizens' committee, had been understood to mean "supply until further notice."

The result of shutting off food became apparent immediately. Men began leaving the camp singly and in groups. They sought the army, which had numbered 1,500 Monday and dwindled to 1,000 yesterday, further had been reduced to about 600 men. Leaders were finding it difficult to hold these in hand.

The rural districts of Yolo County are now overrun by hundreds of hungry men, who appear at orchard houses and entreat, with their hands held out, for food. Perhaps half the male population of the county tonight was guarding homes and property.

While the shutting off of food is in a measure solving the problem, the situation with regard to the several hundred irrevocables bent on marching on the National capital regardless of all obstacles is desperately involved. Sacramento will not permit them to pass through. A half-dozen surrounding counties have served official notices that they will meet with armed force any attempt to send them across their lines.

Plans to ship the men in small groups in various directions, scattering them beyond all hope of reorganization, fell flat today when the railroad companies refused to carry them. There is a state law forbidding the transportation of undesirable persons.

Gen. Hiram Johnson, addressing the Ad Club here today, praised the Sacramento officials for their stern suppression of "Gen." Kelley and his army.

The Governor declared the problem was one of men involuntarily out of employment, but of men who preferred vagrancy and would not work.

Japan Reduces Navy Cost $20,000,000 More
Premier Pretest in Yain; Makes $35,000,000 Reduction in Budget.

TOKYO, March 16.—A recommendation to reduce the Japanese naval estimates by the sum of $20,000,000 was carried by the Budget Committee of the Upper House of the Japanese Parliament today.

"This was done in spite of the protest of the Frencan, who expressed the opinion that such a diminution would seriously hamper the national defense.

Today's reduction was in addition to the contribution of the government by $12,000,000 already passed by the lower house.

Heart Disease Calls George Westinghouse

Inventor of the Airbrake and Many Other Engineering Marvels, Dies at His New York Home at the Age of 68.

NEW YORK, March 16.—George Westinghouse, a foremost figure in the engineering world and inventor of the airbrake that bears his name, died today at his residence in this city. Heart disease manifested itself about fifteen months ago, and the end came a few hours after it became publicly known that Mr. Westinghouse was seriously ill. He was in his sixty-eighth year. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

Westinghouse became an inventor at the age of 15, when his progressive ideas led him to construct a device for replacing derailed steam cars. Then, when 21 years old, he sought the financial backing of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt for his now famous airbrake, perfected after three years of labor.

Asst. Sheriff Vanderbil, "Do you mean to tell me you can stop a railroad train by wind?" demanded the commodore.

"Well, yes, inasmuch as air is what I suppose you mean, is right," said the commodore, thus abruptly terminating the interview.

Westinghouse sought and found capital elsewhere, manufactured his invention and made high speed possible on railroads. He revolutionized traffic systems and inaugurated a notable era of railway development.

Mr. Westinghouse did not confine his genius to railroading. For half a century he was engaged in inventions and improvements had to do with railway signaling and power devices for safety and for economical conveying natural gas over long distances and using it for industrial and domestic fuel; air springs for motor vehicles and air lifts; and a novel turbine system for the propulsion of ships, developed in collaboration with the late Admiral George D. Babbalanza, U. S. N., and John McAllister.

In return for his many achievements, the highest honors in the gift of technical societies and institutions in France, Austria and Germany were bestowed upon Mr. Westinghouse. European sovereigns conferring distinguished orders. As recently as last December he received from the principal states of Germany the celebrated Grafshof gold medal.

Founded Many Companies.
Mr. Westinghouse founded many companies, including the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in this country and abroad, including great plants at East Pittsburgh, Wilmerding, Swiswale and Trafford City, Pa., and others in Montreal, Canada; Manchester and London, England; Havre, France; Hanover, Germany; St. Petersburg, Russia; Vienna, Austria, and Valo, Italy. In these industries some 50,000 persons are employed, and many companies have a capitalization aggregating $200,000,000.

Mr. Westinghouse and his various ventures suffered severely in the panic of 1907. In October of that year the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company went into bankruptcy, from which it was released a year later after creditors had accepted a plan of reorganization. Following that episode the control of the Westinghouse company and some of its subsidiaries rested with a group of New York, Boston and Philadelphia banking interests.

Mr. Westinghouse's company, which had paid 10 per cent yearly from 1904 to 1907, suspended dividends altogether from the latter part of 1907 until 1912, when they were resumed on a 2 per cent basis and last year 4 per cent was paid. According to some of his business associates, Mr. Westinghouse never recovered from the shock he received when control of his numerous enterprises were taken out of his hands.

The reorganization plan was conceived by Mr. Westinghouse, who was a member of the committee of plans submitted by eminent financiers. The inventor insisted his idea was the best and, according to his associates, it proved to be an achievement in constructive finance.

George Westinghouse was born in the village of Central Bridge, near Schenectady, N. Y., October 6, 1845, and as a lad attended the public schools in Schenectady. He entered Union College, but left in 1863 to serve in the war between the States. His love for engineering led to his study of electrical engineering, where he became attached to the Potomac engineer, acting as third assistant fitter.

August 1, 1867, Mr. Westinghouse married Miss Marguerite Erskine Walker, who survives him, together with their one child, George Jr., who lives near Lenox, Mass. The son married Miss Elizabeth Lehank, a daughter of Sir Thomas and Lady Brackelbank of Irton Hall, Cumberland, England.

IDENTITIES 4 OF SIX WHO ATTACKED HER

PENALTY FOR CRIME IS DEATH.

KANSAS CITY, Kas., March 16.—Mrs. Gertrude Shidler, a nurse, late today identified four men who she asserted, lured her into a room at Twelfth street and Grand avenue yesterday and committed a vicious assault upon her.

The police are searching for the other two. The penalty is death. Seven men detained, Mrs. Shidler, pointing to three of them, declared they were her assailants.

Then her eyes turned to a fourth man, who had a long, jagged scar across his cheek.

"There he is," she shrieked and faintly.

Mrs. Shidler said the man with the scar had placed the muzzle of a revolver at her head during the assault and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry.

The room where the assault occurred, had been raided by the police several times as a gambling den. The men under arrest are alleged to have lived in the place.

"I am sure," said Mrs. Shidler to the police, "that these men were 'white slavers.' They cursed continually and beat me terribly. I'm sure man a girl has been caught and held there, never to return to her home life."

MORE POTATOES MUST BE PRODUCED IN THE U. S.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 16.—Warning that the United States hereafter must produce enough potatoes to supply the home consumption on account of most sources of foreign imports being closed by a plant disease quarantine, was issued by the Department of Agriculture today, in a statement it pointed out that Germany has solved the problem of supplying its own needs with this important foodstuff at a reasonable price regardless of annual variations in yield, and that the United States might well look that country in its efforts to better its potato industry.

"Without great resources," says the department, "it should be entirely unnecessary for us to import potatoes, but unless the production is increased and maintained, years of shortage may recur and a serious condition arise."

The potato in Germany, it is said, occupies a more important place than in the United States. The area there planted in potatoes is 8,157,000 acres, against 3,556,000 acres here. The average total yield is 1,653,403,000 bushels, or 202.5 bushels per acre, against 343,587,000 bushels or 96.2 bushels per acre in the United States.

"If the States of Maine, New York, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota could produce 12.5 per cent of their arable land in potatoes as Germany does and secure an equivalent yield" it is stated, "the product would amount to 1,558,944,000 bushels, four and one-half times our present production from the entire country. At the present rate of consumption of potatoes in the United States, which is considerably less than three bushels per capita, the needs of the entire country could be supplied from any one of the States of New York, Michigan or Minnesota and leave a surplus unused whereas all the States combined have several times failed to produce enough potatoes to supply the domestic consumption, and in such years large quantities of potatoes have been imported from foreign countries."

"How much?" inquired Mr. Cassius Hoch, wearily.

"I do not quite follow you."

The cotton grower, I know, is practically at the mercy of the buyer, and some machinery must be created to enable the farmer to get the value of the exact grade offered up on the market. I am fully convinced that the time has come when the farmer should be enabled to have a voice in fixing the price of his own property.

Planter Shot; Negro Is Lynched Near Franklin

HEARNE, Tex., March 16.—Advices tonight from Robertson County tell of the shooting of J. R. Robertson, manager of one of the C. G. Woods' plantations, and the lynching of Bill Williams, a negro accused of the crime.

Other details of the two incidents are missing. Williams is said to have had a grievance against Robertson, who was manager of one of C. G. Woods' plantations in the river country, about twenty miles from Franklin, the county seat of Robertson County.

Long distance telephone messages from Franklin say that Williams, according to another negro, went to the Woods' plantation and after a quarrel with the manager of the place, one of the blacks shot him. Friends in Hearne heard tonight that Robertson was not dangerously injured, while still other advices from Franklin were that he was probably fatally wounded.

It is known that Sheriff Will Rushan and Constable C. C. McMillan were advised this afternoon of the shooting. The constable in the neighborhood where the shooting occurred telephoned the officers at Franklin to make haste and help him protect Williams, since friends of Robertson had announced their intention to shoot him.

However, the constable decided to make haste to go to the scene, but just as he was about to start a second message advised him the negro already had been hanged and the body buried with bullets to the neck.

The negro who accompanied Williams to the plantation escaped and advices late tonight were that a posse was seeking him in the bottoms.

THE GIFT OF MRS. EXALL AND HENRY EXALL JR.
The $10,000 prize award of the Texas Industrial Congress for best net profits in farming divided among six prize winning contestants in 1913 was the gift of Mrs. May D. Exall and Henry Exall, Jr., widow and son of the late Colonel Henry Exall. Following his death the executive committee met in Dallas to take action toward raising for all the obligations of the Congress, and assumed the total outstanding obligations and prepared to raise the money.

However, a statement came before the committee that Mrs. Exall wished to pay the prize awards as a tribute to her husband's memory. The committee was adverse to having any part of the expense borne by the family, since Colonel Exall had already given more money to the work of the Congress than any other contributor, and in addition to stand in the way of the committee. A committee of length A committee was sent to call on Mrs. Exall and consult her. If she proposed to pay the prize awards as discharged obligations that Colonel Exall had incurred, members of the executive committee were unanimously of the opinion that the Congress should raise the money if possible. And they know that that is all this matter is in progress.

Mr. Robbins is the field agent of the Southern Methodist University being built at Dallas. He had lunch with Henry Exall yesterday and transferred considerable business during his stay.

It is expected a San Antonio man be one of the campaigners in the coming campaign. D. J. Robbins is mentioned, as is W. A. Silvers. Another San Antonio, an anti-prohibitionist, is said to be slated for membership on the persuasive campaign committee Mr. Ball will name later.

LETTER FROM REV. B. W. N. SIMMS.

Herndon Virginia; and Some North Virginia Towns, Suburbs of Washington D. C.

Herndon, Vienna, Falls Church (East and West), Fairfax Court House and Siesburg are all close to Washington, D. C. and suburbs thereof, almost. These are all thrifty growing towns, located in a beautiful historic portion of Old Virginia. Fairfax C. House though containing only about 450 inhabitants, is solidly built on hills; upon the crest of the chief of which stands the old brick Court House, builded in 1809, renowned in history and in romance, the glory of many gallant and knightly sons. In front of the door of the Court House, (guarded by two brass cannon mounted on wheels), is erected a solid granite shaft in commemoration of Captain John O. Marr, Captain of Warrenton Rifles, Va., who was the first soldier to fall in the war between the states, (on June 1st, 1861) who was killed 800 ft. South, 46 degrees west of this spot. The population of Fairfax County is about 22,000. The town is not connected with the outside world except with Washington via Vienna Electric Car Line. The "Old Dominion Rail Road" runs both three and a half miles south of the town; which road runs from Alexandria to Siesburg, and Blue Mont.

The town seems to enjoy the quietude of age, with here and there a gleam of youth upon its brow—a new residence. The Court House, though antiquated, is comfortable, and really beautiful adorned inside with the portraits of some of Virginia's Noblest Sons whose clean open countenances seem to lure on the youth of the land to nobleness and to manhood. The two acres enclosed as "The Court House Yard" is adorned with native trees, Evergreen Cedar, Arborvitae, Spruce, Pine etc., with many taller forest trees overtopping. It is a pretty old town whose glory can never fade, because she is so renowned in the history of the Old Dominion. Washington City and Georgetown (the older of the two) really are one and the same now, though "Georgetown Cars" run from the City up the River, four miles to the bridge.

This bridge spans the Potomac at the upper end of Georgetown, and over this, electric cars run to a dozen or more smaller places enroute to and from the forward larger towns. The fact is, from Washington to Siesburg, via Falls Church, Vienna, Herndon, etc., is but a growing suburb of Washington, D. C. over on the Virginia side. Hundreds of handsome residences—many of them "Summer residences"—nestle upon the hills in the woods on both sides of the car line clear up, almost to Siesburg. The picture they make for the city people who come to the country for a few days of Spring and Summer outing" is constantly "snapped with the Kodak." Herndon is the largest of these "Washington-suburb-towns," on this side. It has a population of 1,200, or more, and is beautifully located, possessing many very pretty homes. The Baptist Church is decidedly the prettiest and most commodious of the four (Congregational, M. E. Church (North), and The Episcopal). There is no Southern Methodist church in Herndon, which we regret; as we like them—they generally have religion—The Congregational, is the second in size and strength to the Baptist. It is one of the "four only" that denomination in all Virginia. The Baptist Church is of granite with tower and belfry, and has small Sunday School rooms adjoining. Estimates and plans for a $4,000 addition, have been received by the church; and it will be builded at once.

We have a delightful two story parsonage but two blocks from the church, into which the new pastor has just moved; having found the rooms all furnished with carpets, beds, sofas, chairs, tables, shades, lights, etc. The house has eight rooms and has outside blinds and screens etc. It is almost delightful in appearance, and the pastor hopes to do the best work of his life in Herndon, Virginia. B. W. N. Simms.
