Tiny Rabbits Befriended

Peter Rabbit gets lots of tender loving care. Prissy Rabbit gets the same adoring attention. The two tiny rabbits are the latest pets to be adopted by Diane Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Davis.

"Diane loves all stray, homeless animals," her mother says. The eleven-year-old longs to provide a home and love for each little homeless kitten or pup she finds.

The two little cotton tail rabbits were brought home from a visit to a cousin's farm near Amherst. Uncovered by a shredder, there were originally three of the wee animals, so young they had to be fed with a doll bottle. The third, Fuzzy, belonged to ten-year-old Debra, and was tortured to death when the girls left it in a box in the family's yard.

Peter and Prissy started their life at the Davis household in a large box in the girls' bedroom. Filled with grass to give them a "homey atmosphere, the two little animals would keep the girls awake at night by scratching on the box so their house was moved to the kitchen.

Milk for the tiny rabbits is warmed and meal time comes around three times a day. The small rabbits are also given water from the bottle and have begun to eat bits of green vegetables.

Just what will become of Peter and Prissy when they grow up is something Diane doesn't want to face yet. "I'd like to keep them but -" and she shrugs her shoulders over the uncertainty.

If tender loving care does pay off for Peter and Prissy, it's a decision that Diane will be facing sooner than she's ready.

"CHOW TIME" comes around three times a day for Peter and Prissy, tiny orphaned rabbits which were adopted by Diane Davis. See accompanying story.

THE FIRST DAY'S OVER - a group of elementary students prepare to board their school bus at the close of Monday's classes and the first day of the 1975-76 school year.

Football Contest Begins Next Week

Pigskin predicting time is at hand. The weekly football guessing game will begin in next week's edition of The Hart Beat.

The contest is fun and costs nothing to enter. Entire families may compete against each other; friends may challenge each other to see who is the best predictor. And you can win weekly cash prizes or perhaps be the season winner and claim the grand prize for picking the most correct games.

Grand prize this year for most correct answers at the close of the contest will be $50 cash.

Each week there will be three winners. Best guesser of the week will receive $5; second, $3 and third, $2. Those winners will be determined by the persons who guess the most games correctly.

As in the past, only one entry is allowed per person.

Local merchants make the contest possible by advertising during the football season. Their ads each week will carry the area games which make up the contest. Let those businesses know that you appreciate their making the contest possible.

Bible Film Strips To Be Shown Here

A picture visualized survey of the Bible and church history on filmstrip will be presented at 8 p.m. each Wednesday evening at the Church of Christ. Slated to be held over a five-week period, the series will begin Aug. 27 and conclude Sept. 24. Everyone is invited.

Aug. 27 the lesson is based on "The Patriarchal Age." Other sessions include, "The Mosaic Age," "The Christian Age," "God's Plan for Redeeming Man" and "History of the Lord's Church."

"The lessons are prepared to give people of all ages a fuller understanding of God's word and history of His church" says Richard Gray, new minister of the church.

A booklet, a copy of the lesson, will be given following each lesson to those persons who wish copies for their own personal study.

The Editor retorted, "Big Deal!" meaning that she thought he always gave her "a bad time" when it came to ads. So here is your picture Bobby and inside are the ads. (Photo by Sue Cannon)

SHOOT OUT AND BANK HOLDUP by some mean looking Hombres during Hart Day resulted in the "shooting" of one.

WATCHING THE HORSES is one of the little outlaws.

TO THE RESCUE came Doc Holiday, but alas it was too late and the sheriff was carted off in the "wagon" located behind Holiday. Poor little Miss Kitty cries as she slowly walks away.

ELECTRICALLY DRIVEN
More dependable. Not dependent on weather conditions. Does not rob water from the sprinkling system. Can be run to different position in field without having well in operation.

RUGGEDLY BUILT
Most systems were developed under ideal conditions (ie: sandy, level land). The Zimmatic was developed under some of the most adverse conditions (ie: heavy soil, hilly land).

ENCLOSED DRIVE
Worm gears that drive the machine are completely enclosed in oil. Timken bearings are used throughout the system. No chains to rust and break. No soft steel ratchets to wear out. Double gears prevent the system from coasting downhill.

UNI-KNUCKLE JOINT GIVES UNLIMITED FLEXIBILITY ON HILLSIDE

PAT. No. 3738687

The exclusive Uni-Knuckle allows the pipe line to go up and down sharp hills without having any pesky hoses to stretch out of shape.

FLOATING TOWERS
Pat. Pending

The Zimmatic features a floating drive-towers are attached to the pipe by means of a sleeve. This allows the towers to rotate. One tower can climb a steep incline while the next tower is traveling downhill without putting any stress on the pipe.

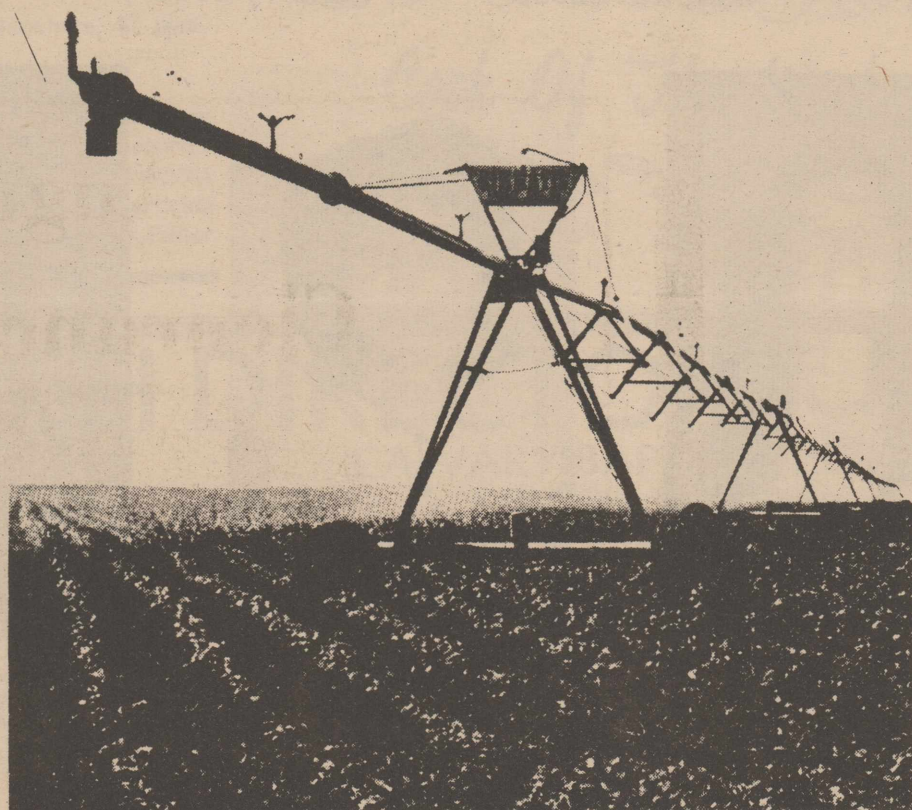

COMPLETELY REVERSIBLE

The Zimmatic can reverse itself automatically or with a push of a button. On most reversible systems you have to go to each tower and make adjustments before you can make the machine travel the other direction. Reversibility is a must in self-propelled irrigation.

EXTRA LONG WHEELBASE

The 14' wheelbase on the towers combined with the rotating sleeve drive units and Uni-Knuckle gives the Zimmatic flexibility that no other machine can match. This allows the machine to operate on land that no other would dare try. Some are too top-heavy, while others have trouble with pipe breakage due to pipe twisting.

"Built By Lindsay!"
You Can't Buy Better

STURDY UNDER-TRUSS DESIGN

The under-truss design adds strength to the system. Some under-truss machines have problems with rod shifting. Zimmatic's braced truss legs will not allow this to happen. Systems that have cable suspension have trouble with stretching and sagging.
