Industrial Prospects Hampered By Vandalism Of Old Schools Buildings

The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce is offering a $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of any person damaging or illegally entering either of the old school buildings formerly housing elementary and Jr. High students.

There has already been several hundred dollars damage inflicted on both buildings and some 350 windows alone have been broken in the Red Brick building.

Most recent damage has been in evidence at the Jr. High building where vandals have dumped and scattered old files and other materials that were stored in locked rooms into the hallways, poured disinfectant and coloring materials on the floors in the old cafeteria area and littered the building in general.

Upon entering the building, you would think of it as a dump ground more than the possible future home of some type of factory. The buildings had all been cleaned up for inspection of parties that might be interested in locating an industry here. It would take a number of days to clean up the building as they now appear and it would take weeks to replace the hundreds of window panes, door panels, etc., that have been destroyed for no other reason than entry to the buildings and amusement for the guilty vandals.

These buildings have been turned over to the Clarendon Industrial Foundation for Industrial purposes and are (or were) one of the biggest assets we could possess in encouraging an industry to come to Clarendon.

SHERIFF RE-HIRES DEPUTY AT HEDLEY

Sheriff Truett Behrens has announced that Roy Hunter has been re-hired as Deputy for the Hedley area effective as of July 15.

Behrens stated that Hunter would work on a part time and limited salary basis and under the present set-up would not be compensated for use of his personal car. With the fall season ahead, we felt that Hedley should have a Deputy in that community. Behrens stated, Hunter formerly served as Hedley Deputy prior to the change up of Sheriff Department vehicles by the County Commissioners court.

County Agent Warns Farmers About Insects

Donley County cotton farmers should keep a careful watch of their fields for insects says County Agent Flip Breedlove. Some farmers have already been spraying for boll weevil and boll worms. In some parts of the county where the infestation of these two insects has reached fifteen percent, farmers have started spray programs.

The main thing is to keep a very close watch for the insects and do not spray unless there is a need. Breedlove says that any time that an infestation of fifteen percent is reached then the spray program should get underway at once. In checking fields, be sure to check all parts of the field because often times insects start in spots and then spread from there to other parts of the field.

Cotton spray guides, Control of Cotton Insects L-218, is available at the county agent's office for all who do not already have one. This is certainly a critical time for insects and with recent showers all cotton farmers are warned to be on the watch for the cotton insects. Insecticides can be bought from your local dealers in Hedley and Clarendon. They have all types of sprays for cotton insects.

VACATION IN THE NORTHWEST AND ATTEND WORLD FAIR

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wallace and Frances and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wallace and Tony returned home July 13 after touring the northwest and attending the World Fair at Seattle.

The trip to Victoria was made by ferry from Port Angeles. A ferry trip was also made from Seattle to Bremerton. Two days were spent at the World Fair in Seattle, Washington.

Before returning home, the group visited Glacier Park, Alberta, Canada, then back through Yellowstone National Park. Two days were spent at Colorado Springs, then home. All reported a most pleasant trip.

Donley Animal Health Committee Pushes Brucellosis Program

The Animal Health Committee for Donley County met in the office of County Agent Flip Breedlove last Monday night, the 16th, at eight p.m. Spencer Sitter of McLean, Texas, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting. Breedlove discussed the progress of the screw-worm control program with the group and advised that Bob Head, treasurer, had sent $3,257.80 to the state office as Donley County's part in the program.

The brucellosis program was next on the agenda and all petitions were turned in by those handling them, so that they could go into the hands of other livestock men to cover other parts of the county. Mr. Sitter advised that the brucellosis law now pertains to livestock markets in Texas, and all cattle not for immediate slaughter, but for breeding purposes, that will return to the county after sale must be tested by an approved veterinarian before leaving the sales ring. This is not true of cattle coming from brucellosis free areas. Texas is now approximately three-fourths free of brucellosis by test-fourth counties and no livestock can move into any of these counties from counties that have not been tested unless they are tested by a veterinarian.

Ranchers in Donley County are now trying to get all things ready for testing in Donley County so that we can ship our cattle where we please without interference. There must be seventy-five percent of the livestock owners on the petitions representing fifty-one percent of the cattle before the law becomes in effect for the county. No charge is made to the livestock owner other than getting his cattle together for testing. Petitions are now in the hands of Earl Wheatley of Hedley; Joe McMurtry of Clarendon; Don Robinson of Clarendon; Jack Burr of McLean; H. A. Green of Clarendon; E. Lamb of Jericho and one petition is in the county agent's office. Mr. Sitter urges all who have not signed one of these petitions to see one of these men or call by the county agent's office.

The 26th of July was set as a date for all petitions to be completed. Sixteen members of the committee attended.

Dusters To Play Memphis Sunday

The Clarendon Dusters, managed by Kenny Schull, will play the Memphis Independent team here Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Hart-Moore Little League diamond. There will be no admission charge.

Little League News

By JOHN PAYNE

The Clarendon Little League picked their first annual All-Star Team with a selection of fourteen of the top boys. These youngsters are all playing grade "A" ball, and this is one of the top honors these young ball players can receive.

They include: Catcher — Ray Fields, Yankees. Ray is batting .333 and everyone that has seen Ray behind the bat realizes that as a receiver he is unsurpassed.

Pitchers — The top pitchers are Laurence Gardner of the Yanks and Mike Sloan of the Cubs. Gardner has seven victories and no defeats; whereas, Sloan has a four-two record. Both Sloan and Gardner are also top hitters and fielders.

First Base — Benny Reese, Yankees. Benny is only ten years old, but he is batting .382 and his fielding has been tough. Also Benny is a fine base runner.

Second Base — Jim Moore, Cubs. Another 10 year old who happens to be leading the league in batting with a healthy .522 mark. Jim is also a superb fielder and a top-notch base runner.

Third Base — Pat Perkins, Gold Sox. Pat, in the last few games, has really come into his own. One of the hardest hitters, he is also a top fielder. Pat's batting average is .357.

Short Stop — Mac McClellan, White Sox. A top glove man and a long ball threat, Mac is also a terrific base runner. Fast and quick, he and Jim Moore should form a good double play combination. Mac is hitting .412.

Left Field — Mike McCully, White Sox. Usually a first baseman, we placed Mike in the outfield where he has good speed and a fine throwing arm. Also a tough man in the clutch, Mike is hitting .200.

Center Field — Monte Land, White Sox. Monte, usually an infielder, was placed in the outfield because of his quickness and fielding ability as well as being a top hitter. Monte is batting .256.

Right Field — Jerry "Lightning" Melton, White Sox. Jerry is the catcher for the White Sox, but because of his hitting abilities, we had to have him on the all-star lineup. Jerry hits very good and with authority. Several balls he has hit would have been home runs by other boys, but (See Little League on Last Page)

It was planned to have this statement ready this week but some bills and concession money have not been received and the association would rather publish as near complete a financial statement as possible. It should be forthcoming by August 1st if not before.

Five Students And College Instructor Are Charged In False Swearing

Editors Note: With the exception of the last paragraph, the following article is a reprint from the Amarillo Daily News, dated Saturday morning, July 14.

The charges against the six persons mentioned below is an outcropping of a situation involving the re-election of Joe Tom Preston as a member of the Clarendon Junior College faculty.

In order to avoid adverse publicity for our school and causing undue hard feelings among our citizenry, the Leader has followed a policy of cooperating with local school officials and the school board, in not publicizing the problem that has confronted our schools and publishing sensational reading at the expense of individuals involved.

It is regrettable that these students have become entangled in court action.

Locals Attending State FFA Convention

Timmy Ray, member of the Clarendon Future Farmers of America Chapter is attending the State FFA Convention in Fort Worth July 18-20, according to Robin Green, president of the Chapter. The three-day meeting of representatives of over 900 FFA chapters throughout the state will include the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships and awards to outstanding members of the organization.

Members of the Clarendon chapter attending the convention are Timmy Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Ray, Tommy Waldrop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Waldrop, Ronnie McAnear, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McAnear, Doug Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bradshaw and Keith Barbee, Bob Baxter and Stanley Westbrook, vocational Ag. teachers, accompanied the group.

Timmy Ray has been elected by chapter members as delegate of the Clarendon chapter to the state convention. Tommy Waldrop will serve as alternate delegate.

Among the important business to be transacted at the convention will be the election of a state president from the ten state officer nominees, who have been elected by members in the ten areas of the state. Voting delegates to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City in October will be elected. In addition, delegates will elect a sweetheart from the ten candidates elected by the areas and will select the top talent team in the state.

Nearly 800 members from the 38,000 membership of the organization will receive the state's highest award, the Lone Star Farmer Degree. The membership will confer Honorary Degrees on adults who have contributed in an outstanding way to the accomplishments of the organization.

Charged by Dist. Atty. Frank Baughman with making a false statement are Joe Tom Preston, 39, an instructor at Clarendon Junior College, who lists his address as 609 I St., Childress; Phillip Carol Abel, 18; and William Eugene Smith, both students at the college.

The trio was arraigned before Potter County Justice of the Peace Cliff Roberts, who set bond at $5,000 on Preston and $1,000 each for Smith and Abel.

Preston's bond was later reduced to $2,000 by Judge Gene Jordan of the 47th District Court upon appeal by Amarillo attorney Harris Lofthus, who is representing the three. Lofthus had also sought a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus which he filed shortly before noon, but the hearing was nullified following the arraignment of the group on charges of false swearing.

Police said the alleged false statement was made July 1, 1962, by a McLean man reversing a statement he had made in 1958 concerning the reported theft of Preston's automobile.

The complaint lodged against Preston, Abel and Smith alleged that the trio, along with three other persons who are not presently in custody, "did then and there willfully, designedly and corruptly induce and procure (the 19-year-old McLean youth) to commit said false swearing in the manner herein before alleged against the said (McLean youth) by then and there paying the said (McLean youth) a sum of money, and by using force, threats and fraud to commit the offense."

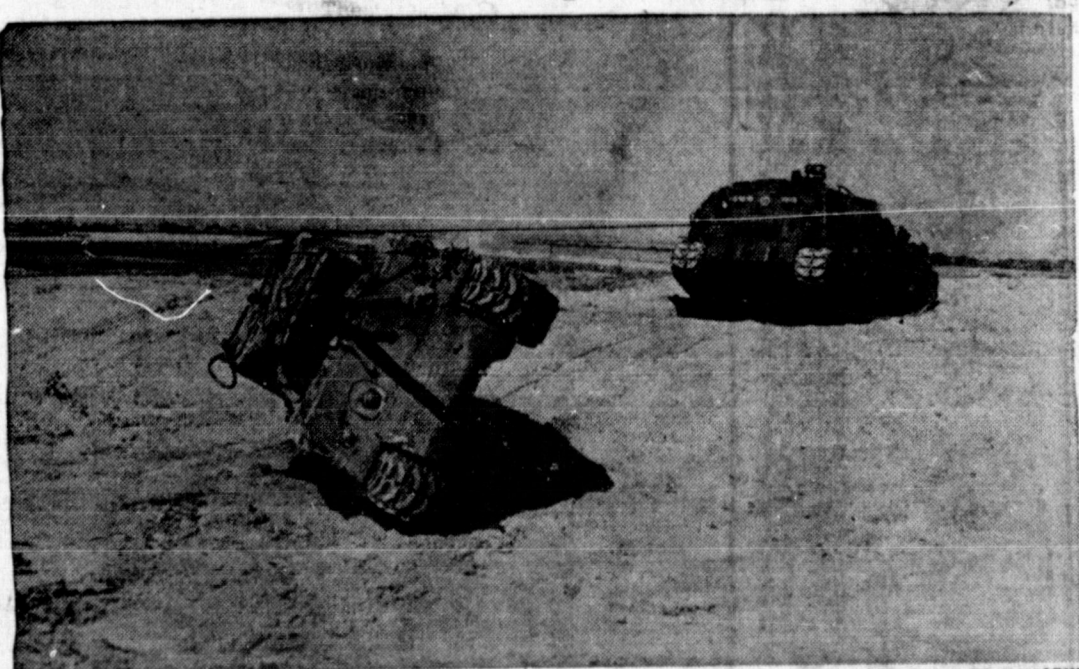

We understand that three other students were arraigned in the same Amarillo court Tuesday on the same charge and posted $1,000 bond each. The three appearing in the court Tuesday were Troy Harrison, Gary Adams and John Richerson. After posting bond the three were released.

Exterior woodwork pretreated with a good water repellent preservative may also be effectively painted, explains Smith. One try to work out some other plan for later adoption.

Most Texans will find that the abandonment of the merit rating plan will cost them money. This despite the fact that insured Texas car-owners taken as a whole will pay $10,000,000 less for car insurance in the coming year than they did this year.

However — two-thirds of the car owners — those who have been getting 20 per cent discounts because they have had no accidents or reported traffic convictions — will pay the full rates in the year ahead. The other one third — those who have been paying as much as 100 per cent extra because of bad driving records — will save substantially. They will pay the same rates as everyone else.

One factor in the decision to drop the plan was concern by members of the Board — and the insurance industry — over the increasing number of car owners who just were doing without insurance. Board members felt that to increase the penalties, which would have been necessary to maintain the 20 per cent discount for the "safe drivers", would drive even more people into un-insurance. This would have made the safe driving insurance plan even more out of balance statistically.

Because auto insurance rates are set by counties, and by types of cars and the age groups of drivers, it is not possible to say just what effect the rates will have. Local insurance agents soon will have the information.

SCHOOLS' ALLOTMENT CUT — State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert advised the Texas Board of Education that the Available School Fund's income for the 1962-63 school year should be $197,058,604. The revenue is reaped from ad valorem taxes, poll taxes, interest on securities the school fund owns, motor fuel taxes, omnibus taxes and other revenue.

Board deducted $8,737,536 to finance cost of purchasing and handling textbooks, and divided the balance between Texas' 2,387,234 children of school age.

So, the public schools will get $78.50 per child next year; $2 less for each than they were allotted in 1961.

While the 21-member board was on the subject of money, it passed a $459,877,843 education budget for 1963, and offered State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar a $4,000 annual raise through federal funds.

Edgar "declined the honor," saying he felt his three assistants are more entitled to supplements since they are directly concerned with administering federal programs.

So, raises from $11,000 to $13,500 were voted for L. R. Graham, assistant commissioner of administration; Lee J. Wilborn, assistant commissioner for instruction, and M. A. Browning, assistant commissioner for vocational education.

Then the board agreed to ask the 58th Legislature to raise Edgar's salary of $18,500 a year to $24,000 when it convenes in January.

CREAM OF THE CROP — A preliminary glance at the Texas Education Agency's survey of 80,000 teachers revealed that the state's public schools system is getting the "cream of the crop" of high school graduates. Study chairman R. W. Byram of Austin said that new teachers came from the top 25 per cent of their graduating classes.

But the distribution of education specialists seems to be uneven: All teaching colleges in the state graduated a total of only 80 language teachers last year, and only 12 per cent of those who took mathematics education degrees plan to teach, so schools will suffer shortages in those areas.

Or, the other hand, there's an estimated surfeit of English and history teachers . . . almost all the college graduates who majored in those two subjects plan to teach.

"EXPATRIOTS" ON WAY TO DAKOTAS — Spindletop V, Spindletop V and their children, Paysand and Gushie — a quartet of "geologists" prairie dogs — took a long trip to Bismarck, N.D., where they'll take up residence at the Dakota Zoo.

The prairie dogs were a gift of Acting Governor Culp Krueger, who decided "to uphold the honor of Texas prairie dogs" by sending four of the best he could find, after the zoo's president, Chris Dahl, asked for some.

Krueger assured the zoo that "these prize prairie dogs will feel at home and will dig right in and endeavor to be worthy of their Texas heritage," in a letter claiming the animals have built-in advanced seismographic training which should help in North Dakota oilfield explorations.

In the year ending August, 1961, they spent $223.67 apiece on 23,150 full-time student equivalents, but the per capita cost leaped $42.91 to an average of $266.58 for each of 26,075 student equivalents — a total of $6,951,000.

Although 37,175 full and part-time students are actually enrolled in the state schools, the legislature bases its appropriations on the total number of semester hours taken, divided by 15 (a full-time course load).

Biggest share of the current appropriation of almost $7,000,000 went to San Antonio Junior College, which got $775,750 for its $3,323 student equivalents. Clarendon Junior College, which has 113 student equivalents, was 32nd on the list with .58 per cent share of $40,600.

"TAINT" TRUE — Railroad Commission Chairman William J. Murray Jr. surprised Capitol newsmen this week by issuing a denial of rumors about the East Texas Oil Field scandal before he even was asked about them.

He introduced, and then denied, a rumor that the Railroad Commission has provided the major oil companies with damageable evidence against independent operators through inclination tests, but said Attorney General Will Wilson has "changed the rules" by accepting contributions for directional tests from the big oil firms, and providing information for them.

Murray also refuted rumors that some crooked-hole operators were under his protection. He admitted that he has friends among those under investigation, but stated he'd granted no favors: "I swear that I have treated them alike — independents and majors — and will continue to do so," he added. He further stated that he has not accepted money for campaign expenses in any of the political races he's run since his 1947 appointment to the commission.

Regarding a year-long delay in investigating illegal well deviation in East Texas, Murray

BUSINESS BETTER THAN EVER — The seasonally-adjusted index of Texas business activity rose to a new all-time high of 137.1% in May, reported Dr. Francis B. May, statistician for the University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research.

High score reflects a seven per cent increase over April this year and a 12 per cent increase over May, 1961, according to Dr. May. He considers the sharp rise a potent reminder that the recovery from the 1960 recession has not yet spent its force.

LEAVE YOUNG WILDLIFE WHERE YOU FIND IT

AUSTIN — Leave the wildlife young where you find it. This is the perennial warning of the Game and Fish Commission to persons who feel the urge to pick up young of the wilds, in an attempt to make pets. On game birds and animals it is illegal to hold them in captivity without a permit. It is also dangerous, because many times the animal reverts to nature and will bite the hand that feeds it.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

Red River, New Mexico

We follow almost a set pattern each time we cross Red River Pass and begin the descent into the valley. First, we take a look at Wheeler Peak to see how the winter snow is lasting. We judge the rainfall by the greenness of the aspens as their beautiful glistening leaves seem to beckon a welcome hand. Then, just as soon as possible we look for the first view of the valley and of the little town nestled along the river banks.

Arriving in town we feel the urge to drive the length and breadth of the business section to see the changes that have taken place since last year. To see the new buildings and businesses that have made their appearance. Then, we want to see our old friends who live there—the ones we have come to know through the almost ten years we have been coming this way. Last but not least we begin asking about those who might be vacationing here at the time. And so it happens that our activities become a regular habit, but one that we have enjoyed . . .

Among the first of our old friends from out of town to meet again this year was Dr. Clarence Sutton, the much loved Methodist pastor from Ft. Worth. His preaching in the little community church here in the valley has become a regular yearly habit also. Both Dr. Sutton and myself were disappointed that we just barely missed his Sunday to preach this year. His picture and some things about him appeared in our book about Red River.

Dr. Sutton passed the following along to us: "There are three stages of a man's hair, unparted, parted, and departed . . ."

For several years now we have spent the 4th of July in Red River. The same as back in Clarendon on this day the big thing is the parade. It is a beautiful sight as it proceeds up the valley alongside the river. One thing is missing in the whole area and that is fireworks. None are allowed on account of the danger to the forests . . . No one would argue with this law because just a few miles from town still lies the trunks of trees from a serious forest fire 100 years ago . . .

The parade was over by noon and just as one should settle down for the afternoon nap as is so often the case it rains. When one of these clouds accidentally bumps against a mountain the rain will come down in sheets. Rain in the mountains is such a great sight. There seems to be no effort on the part of nature at all. Even the raindrops have such a short distance to fall. The only place it would seem to rain easily would be in the Panhandle during one of our rainy spells like this last June. When everyone wants to be working in the fields the rains can develop so easily . . .

One reason we have made it up here about the 4th for the last few years is to see about the promotion of our little souvenir book about this area. Folks seem to buy more of them about this time of the year. Those who have read and bought a copy in other years buy still another to mail to a friend. This year we have been hog to sell out the original printing . . . We still toy with the idea of writing other books on vacation spots but we did find out that book publishing had its problems, all of which hinge around subject of selling enough to pay for expense.

We looked out our cabin window and saw a crowd gathering on the patio. Upon closer investigation we found that the members of Dr. Sutton's church in Ft. Worth were giving him a birthday party. Both the cake and coffee were delicious but the thing that impressed us was the fact that this group of Methodists from the Arlington Heights Church who were vacationing in Red River was larger than an ordinary Baptist prayer meeting group back home . . .

Speaking of preachers we got a kick out of the following joke: It seemed that the preacher and a couple of his laymen played golf together regularly. After the pastor had left they were talking about their games.

One remarked that in all their games together he had never heard the preacher swear even once.

"No," replied the other, "But I have noticed that when he turns his head to one side and spits that the grass dies where it hits."

While visiting with the birthday party we were given this little bit of verse on prayer; "Don't read a prayer — just say a prayer, It's far more certain to get there . . ."

One reason given was that some day we might be hanging from a cliff and just about to have to let go. The need for prayer would be great and it would take both hands to hold on and we couldn't hold the prayer book. There are so many good reasons why we think all prayers should come straight from the heart . . .

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Until the time comes when everybody realizes that unless a youngster not only reads fairly well but understands what he is reading he is not going to do very well in a lot of his school subjects. Folks are going to write, and hope it will be read and put into practice.

Most know that if a child has not been exposed to books and read to until after he starts to school, it is about five years late. Professor Eugene Slaughter, of Southeastern Oklahoma State College, in an article from the "Amarillo Daily News" entitled, "Yearning for Books Originated in Home," among other things has this to say: "Parents should insist their children read more or at least encourage them to do so."

"They must see that books are available. If books aren't available in the home, they can always be found in the library."

"There are too many parents who do not set a good reading example for their children."

"As a general rule," he said, "where parents read at home, children will read. Where parents watch too much television or play cards, the children will watch too much television or play cards."

"And there aren't enough par-

June Vows Exchanged In Borger Church

The Rev. Clyde E. Nichols read the double ring service to unite in marriage Miss Linda Ramona Updike and William Doyce Graham, Jr., at 7:30 p.m. in the First Christian Church, Borger. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Updike, 12 N. Oberfell, Phillips, and Mr. Graham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Doyce Graham, Sr., Ashtola.

The sanctuary was decorated with pedestal bouquets of white gladioli and huckleberry. Cathedral tapers burned in candelabra trimmed with smilax and satin bows. Pews were marked with leatherleaf fern and satin bows.

Mrs. Althea Weddington, organist, played traditional nuptial music and accompanied Mike Harris who sang "O Promise Me" and "Whither Thou Goest" before the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk bridal taffeta, with fitted bodice and skirt of re-embroidered Alencon lace emphasized with tiny seed pearls. The extremely full skirt ended in a chapel train. She wore a seed pearl crown with crystal tear drops falling from its points, and she carried a bridal lace covered prayer book topped with two white orchids and showered with stephenotis.

Mrs. Arthur A. Waight, Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a waltz length dress of strawberry pink silk organza styled with fitted bodice and full skirt. The neckline was rounded, and the sleeves elbow length. Her tulle hat of matching color had a rose on its crown.

She carried two pink cymbidium orchids on a white lace fan.

Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Jo Veazey, Midland, and Miss Helen Hartzog, Clarendon. Miss Elizabeth Ann Veazey, Midland, was junior bridesmaid. They wore gowns of shell pink organza and matching hats, styled identically to that of the honor attendant. Miss Carrie Lee Hughes, Panhandle, the flower girl, wore a dress of shell pink organza and carried a white lace basket of petals. Candlelighters were Miss Susan Veazey, Hoisington, Kansas, and Mike Graham, Ashtola. Miss Veazey's dress was shell pink organza.

Jimmy Graham, Ashtola, was his brother's best man. Ushers were Allen Estlack and Marion Garland, and David Mooring was junior groomsman. All are from Clarendon.

Mrs. Updike, mother of the bride, chose a toast chiffon dress, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Graham wore a toast shantung ensemble. Both wore toast-colored accessories, and corsages of pink elfie roses.

At the reception in the church parlor, Mrs. D. F. Alexander cut the four tiered wedding cake with its pale pink rose decoration. Miss Carol Comeaux served punch. Mrs. Joe B. Simpson presided at the guest book.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Graham wore a beige linen suit with pale bittersweet blouse, and the orchid corsage from her bouquet. The couple is at home at 1915 24th St., Lubbock, until mid-August when they will make their home in Lafayette, Indiana, where Mr. Graham, on a teaching fellowship, will complete work on his Master's Degree at Purdue University.

Many lovely courtesies were given honoring the bride prior

PLAYING WITH FIRE

There is a tendency in governmental circles to take deficit spending by government lightly and to believe that the solution is just a matter of raising the public debt limit.

This country has been so concerned with its own problems of finance that it has had little time to observe the trials and tribulations of Canada. Public financing and manipulation of the dollar by the Canadian government has caused Canada to face a monetary crisis of major proportions which in many ways dwarfs the financial troubles of the United States.

The financial crisis of Canada came to a head when the government chose to lower the value of its dollar by purchasing U.S. currency and expanding the nation's reserves on the theory that it would discourage imports and encourage capital and industrial growth. Apparently something was started by this devaluation of the Canadian dollar that couldn't be stopped. Canadians started transferring their savings out of the country and the Canadian dollar has devaluated to five cents below the American dollar from a former five cents

The deliberate devaluation of the Canadian dollar was really only a small portion of the pressures behind its decline. As Barron's Financial Weekly said, "the erosion of the Canadian dollar is less the cause of the cause of the country's woes than a symptom of an even more deep-seated malady... the easy-money, something-for-everyone technique that is all too familiar in the U.S." is given as the principle cause of Canada's troubles. Also overindulgence in deficit financing and the avoidance of any thought of balancing the budget. Barron's added, "Not content with an extensive welfare program, the government, for example, with a view to elections later this year, recently pushed through Commons legislation which will increase the annual outlay for pensions by some $133 million a year. Characteristically, no provision was made for raising compensating revenue."

On seeing Canada play with fire, Barron's says, "In any event, the U.S. would do well to check its own fire insurance."

Better Than A Stringer

Here's a good tip on what to do to replace that worn stringer. Old-time fishermen say it's even better than a stringer.

Take a loose-woven potato sack, weave 4-feet of 1/8-inch plastic cord to form a drawstring, then tie the sack to the gunwale and drop it over the side the same as you would a stringer, or a wire basket.

Raise bag whenever you make a catch, loosen the drawstring, then tie the sack to the gunwale and drop it over the side the same as you would a stringer, or a wire basket.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Bentley and son, George, of Amarillo spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lemons of Memphis visited Saturday night with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cross and Annette. They accompanied Mrs. Cross to Amarillo Sunday to visit their son, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Lemons and family.

20 YEARS ARMY AVIATION PROGRESS—New application of the Army's versatile IROQUOIS helicopter features amphibious landing gear kit. The kit was developed under a joint Army-Bell Helicopter Co. program and can be used on IROQUOIS HU-1A, HU-1B and HU-1D models. Each air-inflated float bag measures 20 feet long and 33 inches in diameter. The entire unit results in a net weight increase of only 236 pounds. The change from skid landing gear to floats can be accomplished in just 30 minutes by two men.

Antipathy Toward Welfarism

"Keep government out of education... Keep presidential power to a minimum... Get out of socialization!"

That sums up the view of an overwhelming majority of the editors of the nation's smaller newspapers, as revealed in a survey recently conducted by The American Press. Typical of the general antipathy of editors toward the whole idea of "welfarism" is perhaps best exemplified in the matter of proposals to increase social security payments to help provide for the hospital needs of people over 65 years of age. Seventy-eight percent of the editors were opposed to further government intervention. By contrast, 84 per cent of the editors expressed preference for a voluntary non-governmental plan to meet the medical needs of the aged — such as is now being completed by the Blue Shield, Blue Cross and the American Medical Association.

Judging by the comments of many of the editors as quoted by American Press expansion of government in the medical care field was opposed for the same reason that editors oppose government interference in other fields — a deep and abiding fear of big government and socialism. Editors are highly individualistic lot. The fact that they are near-unanimous in opposition to government medicine, is reason enough to taking another look at this particular bureaucratic pill before swallowing it.

It is a question today, whether sufficient resistance can be maintained by private enterprise and opponents of socialism to prevent it from engulfing our country in the coming generation as Khrushchev predicts.

"Once you've typed on an electric portable, you'll never type on a manual typewriter again!"

Electricity lets you underline a full row of words just by holding down the key, rat-tat-tat, just like that. The same is true for dashes, spaces, dots and the letter "X" for crossing out.

Electricity lets you type as fast as you want even if you're a speed champ. And there's no jumbled letters, no jumpy lines, no uneven spacing.

Electricity does the work for you. There's no pounding the keys. And you can adjust the touch from featherlight to the same as a manual's.

Electricity gives you an expert's even touch on the keys. All letters are typed with the same even blackness... your typing looks perfect.

You adjust a dial and can make up to ten carbon copies. More important, the tenth is just about as clear and readable as the first.

SMITH-CORONA CORONET—Crisp, modern styling. Four decorator colors. Full office keyboard. Choice of many type styles. Lightweight all-steel carrying case. ONLY $10 DOWN.

WHY I VOTED AGAINST FOREIGN AID

Immediately after World War II there came into being a program called the Marshall Plan. It was so named because it was proposed by George Catlett Marshall, who had served as Supreme Commander during World War II and was subsequently appointed Secretary of State.

The plan was designed to provide aid and assistance to those nations in Western Europe that had been prostrated by the toll of war in both the natural resources and the manpower. Its purpose was to prevent these weak and sick nations from falling prey to Communist domination, or to other political philosophy contrary to democratic principles and to the will of the majority of the people. Few have challenged the accepted fact that the Marshall Plan had a basic soundness of purpose and, as implemented, provided the nucleus of economic stability to Western Europe. Many felt that when the primary purposes had been accomplished, the program should be terminated. Undoubtedly, there must have been great controversy as to when and to what extent these purposes had been accomplished, or if they were ever accomplished. The program was not only terminated, but, like "Topsy," just grew. It grew in Western Europe by leaps and bounds, it spread into every other area of the globe and even behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains. It fact, it expanded in so many directions and in such proportions, that I seriously doubt there is any one or any group who could provide an accurate accounting of how much has been spent or how it has been spent. The debate produced a number of calculations as to the number of countries that have been recipients, the several amounts that have been received by those countries, and the overall totals that have been expended. One particular total reflected since World War II the American taxpayer has been called upon to furnish to foreign countries the sum of $84,090,800,000. Of this amount, it is estimated that more than $2 billion went to Yugoslavia, an admitted Communist country, although of a different hue of red. Another $509 million went to Poland, an admitted Communist Satellite.

Many people have asked: "Why foreign aid?" Without exception, the general answer has always been: "To fight Communism." Many have asked: "If it is for the purpose of fighting Communism, why give it to Communist countries?" The general answer to this question has been: "It is one of the means of fighting Communism." These answers do not satisfy me, and I don't believe they satisfy many others. In the first place, all of us are against Communism, or any other ideology that would destroy our way of life. In the second place, the people who are paying these bills are entitled to specific instances of effectiveness instead of tripe generalities. I think the record will reflect clearly that our effective blows against Communism have been through our Defense Department (a department in which the American taxpayer has spent $555 billion in the past 15 years), and not through the foreign aid program.

Another question seems to be as to why foreign aid is continued, even though it is admitted that if the matter was submitted to a referendum of the people in the United States, it would undoubtedly be defeated substantially. Many have asked me where this program gets its major support. They are usually astounded when I give them the answer.

The fact is that the foreign aid program from an economic standpoint amounts to a giant subsidy to both business and labor. It is generally conceded that four of every five dollars spent in the foreign aid program remains in this country. This means that the taxpayers are picking up the tab for goods, wares, and merchandise manufactured in this country, sold to the Government under the foreign aid program, and delivered free of charge to foreign countries. It explains why the support of most of the big business organizations, as well as the big labor unions. It has provided the means by which the countries of Western Europe have been able not only to stabilize their economy, but to expand it to the point that they are presently in serious competition with this country and can, by the implementation of the Common Market, create a much more serious competitive force with reference to our world markets. It can also serve as the explanation of why we can do such a big export business, yet cannot seem to stop the outflow of gold. The reason is that we are giving the money to foreign nations with which to buy their products, a case of trying to lift yourself by your own bootstrap.

In opposing this program, I have been completely out of step with both political parties. But unless information which has not yet been made available can be produced to justify this program, my opposition to both the authorization and the appropriation will be continued.

PORTAGE, PA., NANTY-GLO JOURNAL: "The idea is fast becoming popular in America that citizens no longer need to face the facts of life. Soon most young Americans will feel it is not necessary to take out health insurance policies to care for their old age when they know the government will do it for them. Health insurance companies will suffer, the medical profession will suffer, and the few Americans who have any pride left in their own abilities will suffer."

LITTLE LEAGUE . . .

"Lightning's" main handicap is speed. Still, he is hitting a lusty 389.

The other four all-stars are utility players.

They are:
Chuck Adkins, Gold Sox, Pitcher. Chuck is a fine pitcher, who after a slow start, has really come into his own. Chuck has thrown one no-hitter this year. Chuck is a lefty.

Steve Adams, Gold Sox, Utility Infielder. Steve is another 10 year old who can play anywhere. Although batting only .167, it is deceiving as he has been on base numerous times via walks.

Don Mooring, Cubs, Pitcher-Utility Infielder. Don is a fine all-around ball player. Although his hitting isn't as good as some, Donnie makes up for it in fielding and a good baseball savvy. Donnie is hitting .077.

Merel Lewis, Yanks, Utility Outfielder. Merel has a fine throwing arm and good speed. Although his average isn't very high, he hits the ball good, especially in the clutch. Merel is hitting .250.

This is your all-star team of 1962. We hope everyone is satisfied with it, and we're just sorry every boy playing couldn't be on it. However, next year will give all the players another shot at it. Also, next year we'll be able to participate in tourney play; therefore, our next year's team will be honored by playing in that big event.

We should also like to thank the managers and coaches for the fine job they have done this far this year, and in the short remaining time left for our Little League schedule, we wish to invite all you patrons down to see how really hard these Little Leaguers play top-notch baseball.

1963 WHEAT REFERENDUM

1962 COTTON & FEED GRAINS PERFORMANCE

Notices of measured acres are being mailed out as field work and office computations have been completed. If you receive a notice showing excess cotton, feed grains, and/or diverted acres, you have only fifteen days from the date of the notice to dispose of the excess and report to the office and pay a fee of $4.00 for the first plot, plus $2.00 for each additional plot. Please look over your notice closely and if there is anything you do not understand, please come to the office for a full explanation. The notices are rather complicated and is most important that you review it thoroughly.

To have a farm remeasured for error the fee will be $10.00 per farm, plus $4.00 for each plot over one.

PAYMENTS FOR ACP PRACTICES COMPLETED

ACP payments for 1962 practices completed will be made in the near future. Funds are still available for carrying out approved practices. We are of the opinion that every farm has some kind of conservation need and would like to have the opportunity to discuss with you the practices approved in the county and determine if your farm has a need for any of them.
