Memphis and Hall County got its weekly rain in one large, slow dose and sweltered in humid 90-degree weather during the last seven days.

The rain came Monday night accompanied by a fourth of July style fireworks display of lightning and drum rolls of thunder.

The rains started at approximately 11:30 and came in a slow ground soaking fashion. When it stopped Tuesday, J. J. McMicken reported a total of 2.60 inches.

Hedley reported that it had received about two inches and Estelline reported about the same. The biggest amount of rainfall

Farmers Approve
'56 Wheat Control

The unofficial return of Saturday's Wheat Marketing Quota Referendum indicates that 95 per cent of Hall County wheat farmers who voted favor marketing quotas on their 1956 wheat crop, according to information released by L. L. McKown, local ASC office manager.

In the 1955 referendum the six communities in Hall County cast 139 votes for controls and 14 against, or 91 per cent favoring control.

This year in voting on the 1956 referendum the six communities cast 117 votes for the controls and 6 against government supervision.

McKown said that early reports indicate that on a national level, farmers voted over 77 per cent in favor of the quota. This is more than the 66 2-3 per cent required to approve the quota, the 1956 wheat crop will be controlled.

The guaranteed price for wheat will be not less than $1.81 per bushel on a national average under this control system.

Funeral Rites Held

Funeral services for Peter Ballard, 91, of Newlin, a pioneer resident of Hall County who lived on one farm for more than 50 years, were conducted Wednesday afternoon in the Estelline Methodist Church at 2:30.

The services were conducted by Rev. F. E. King, Rev. Jim Sharp, Rev. Charles R. Kelley, and Rev. Robert H. Knight.

Burial was in the Newlin cemetery with arrangements under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

He had been in poor health since suffering a stroke more than a year ago. He had been in a local hospital where he died Monday, for the past several weeks.

Ballard was born in Lancaster, Tenn., on April 16, 1864. He married Miss Jennie Maggart in 1882 at Smithville, Tenn., and that same night he and his wife joined the Presbyterian Church. He was a member and an elder in the Memphis Presbyterian Church at the time of his death.

He and his wife and three oldest boys moved to Texas in 1891, and lived in Childress County for one year before moving to Newlin in 1892.

When he and his family arrived to make their home two miles east of Newlin, there was a hotel in that town and Memphis, Salisbury and Newlin were fighting over which town would be the county seat. Estelline was just a supply house for the Mill Iron Ranch.

The family settled on a section of land two miles east of Newlin and that was his home until his death. He retired in 1928, and

Softball League
Slowed By Rain

A wet field and threatening weather has slowed the Summer Softball program to a walk with only four games having been completed in league play.

In Pee Wee league play last week, the Giants defeated the Yankees 14-10 as Toby Crooks led the scoring parade with three runs. Jones, Sturdevant and Moss had two runs and Helm, Posey, Petteman and Craig scored one each for the Giants.

Scoring for the losing Yankees was John Lemons and Robert Noah with two runs each. John Ferrel, Jack Stargel, Gary Simmons, Mike Simmons, Jay Dunbar and David May each scored one run.

In the junior league play the Eagles smashed the Rattlers 34-6. Eagle pitcher, Bunky Adecock, was in command all the way, and Perry Wright, Larry Craig, Kenneth Allison, Robert Moss and Don Watts each scored five times for the winners. The other Eagle runs were scored by Teddy Barnes, Bunky Adecock, Ronald Ables and Don Goffinett.

Scoring for the Rattlers were Don Gailley and Phil Howard with two runs each. Jimmy Hartman and Philip Duncan made one run.

Last Friday night the two losing teams of Tuesday night pulled themselves together and won the two games.

The Yankees upset the Giants by 16-5. Jay Dunbar and Randy Brown scored three runs for the winners. John Lemons, Jimmy Harrison, and John Ferrel had two runs, and David May, Mike Simmons, Gary Simmons and Jack Stargel each scored one run.

Host Jones led the losers with two runs and Bard Posey, Richard Ellis and Buster McQueen scored one run.

In junior league play the Eagles were coasting along with a 9-2 lead in the fifth inning and appeared to be on their way to another win. In the fifth the roof fell in on Eagle hurler Bunky Adecock and the Rattlers pushed across 7 runs to tie the score.

In the last of the seventh, Darrel Simmons walked behind Jimmy Hartman's single. With two men on base, Philip Duncan laced a hit to left field to bring home the winning runs.

Scoring for the Rattlers was Philip Duncan, Darrel Simmons, Phil Howard, Jimmy Fields, Donnie Spicer, Henry Foster, Don Gailley, Allyn Harrison and Jimmy Hartman.

For the losers the scoring was done by Perry Wright, Kenneth Allison, Danny Gunstream, Bunky Adecock, Don Watts, Don Goffinett, Jimmy Galloway and Larry Craig.

Softball Director Ted Myers has issued a call for more intermediate boys. He said that about 15 boys of that age, 13-15, have been going down to the park to play, but they need 20 to form two intermediate teams.

Five Memphis golfers took part in the Annual Shamrock Invitational tournament last weekend.

District Judge Luther Gribble
Sentenced Two Men to Terms in the Texas State Prison at Huntsville after hearing their pleas of guilty in District Court here Monday morning.

Both men waived their rights to trial by jury and pleaded guilty to charges on which they had been indicted by the grand jury.

Hugh Cleveland, 53, a Negro from Grand Prairie, pleaded guilty to a charge of swindling and was sentenced to two years in prison.

Cleveland was arrested June 7 of this year after being indicted by the grand jury for swindling G. H. Gardenhire of Estelline out of more than $100.

Last fall Cleveland contracted to bring in a harvest crew and pull Gardenhire's cotton. He told Gardenhire that he owed a man in East Texas $112.50 and he needed the money to pay him, before he could bring the crew out here. Gardenhire gave him the money and then bought him a bus ticket to Grand Prairie. The cotton pulling crew never did arrive to harvest the crop.

The second prison term was drawn by the much-wanted Carl Jessie Williams for passing a forged check. Judge Gribble sentenced the ex-convict to the maximum sentence of five years in prison.

Williams was arrested Monday of last week in Texola, Okla., by a deputy sheriff there and after Williams waived extradition, he was turned over to Hall County Sheriff Bill Baten for trial here.

Sheriff and police departments in 13 Texas and Oklahoma towns were looking for him on 17 charges of forgery, swindling, theft and (Continued on page 12)

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Declaration of Independence Protested "Government of Men"

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 179 years ago, set our their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; . . . For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"Take the big one, son, remember yore from Texas!"

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; . . ."

Some 5 years later, the first ten amendments to our constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Our courts day by day guard these rights for us.

Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners!

162 H.P. V6

180 H.P. V8

See that fine fat mountain yonder?

You can iron it out, flat as a flounder . . . and easy as whistling!

Just point one of Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners at it (either the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire") . . . and pull the trigger!

Barr-r-r-r-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o!

Mister, you got you a flat mountain!

At least it feels flat. For these Chevrolet V8's gobble up the toughest grades you can ladle out. And holler for more. They love to climb because that's just about the only time the throttle ever comes near the floorboard.

And that's a pity. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo . . . built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the shortest stroke in the industry, designed to gulp huge breaths of fresh air and transmute it into blazing acceleration.

So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, light and easy as a zephyr, purring out an effortless fraction of their strength.

An engineer instantly understands why these V8's are so hyper-efficient . . . how friction is held so low they need just four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more . . . how big valves let them "breathe" deeply for maximum power.

But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in, slip behind the wheel, and point the nose at the nearest hill. These V8's can do their own talking . . . and nobody argues with them!

August Draft Call Gets 550 Texans

AUSTIN.—A Texas draft induction call for 550 men for August was announced this week by Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy director of state Selective Service.

The call, Texas' share of a national call for 10,000 men, is identical with the quota for July. Quotas have maintained an almost constant level for several months. Local board quotas for August induction into the Army will be mailed about July 5 or 6.

There will be no physical-mental examinations of men for military service through the draft boards in August, except in isolated cases, Colonel Schwartz said. With the exception of volunteers, the August induction call will be filled only with men who on August 1 are at least 21 years of age, said the deputy state Selective Service director.

Miss Sue Miller Complimented With Lovely Pre-Nuptial Shower Monday

A lovely pre-nuptial shower complimenting Miss Sue Miller, bride-elect of Jimmy Morrison, was given Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Grover Roden.

Calling hours were between 8 and 9:30 p. m. Guests were greeted by the hostess, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Bill Miller and the mother of the groom-to-be, Mrs. E. S. Morrison.

Nancy Roden, lifelong friend of the bride, presided at the register to secure signatures of the guests.

The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were noted in the party rooms, which were decorated with garden flowers.

The dining table was laid with a white embroidered linen cloth and centered with a musical staff forming a trellis for greenery of American ivy. Miniature bridal bouquets of white carnations were banked on either end of the musical staff and were flanked by pink candle tapers in crystal holders made doubly attractive by mirrored reflections. Musical notes formed a score from the "Bridal Chorus Wedding March" from Lohengrin.

Dainty ribbon sandwiches and assorted nuts were served with punch.

Misses Peggy Evans, Yvonne Sturdevant and Shirley Miller alternated at the crystal punch service. Misses Carrol Ann Monzingo, Bettye Claude Hickey and Mrs. Johnnie Hutcherson directed the guests through the party rooms, where a lovely array of gifts were on display.

Miss Katherine Wright entertained with selected piano numbers throughout the evening.

Hostesses for the courtesy other than Mrs. Roden were Misses Joyce Webster, Claude DeBerry, Frank Goffinett, Otis Stilwell, F. H. Boswell, Gene Corley, John L. Burnett, J. J. McDaniel, M. C.

ings At The "Summit" thinking as to the advisability of the proposed "summit" is decidedly divided. There are those to the results that will be reached at such meeting is decidedly divided. In other words, there are distinct schools of thought. Some communists cannot be expected that it would be "simply" to enter into negotiations with a group. These argue experience shows that in past years with communists, the end was fixed in advance. The communists had no qualms about their quibbles about the they made because they wanted to keep them any purpose was to drive a bargain as possible, but their objectives regardless also to gather together propaganda material second school of thought is led to by people of this who are just as patriotic as the first group, but who believe that the best interest of peace would be served if we give the communists an opportunity to meet at a conference table and to frankly and searchingly examine the world picture to the end of achieving peace objectives of all nations.

second school of thought is to think in purpose and expediency. The thinking of Americans is dealing with each other and other countries on the basis of expediency and commitment can be made.

Personally, I am inclined to support the first school of thought unless and until I am firmly convinced that an international meeting at which all other communist parties are governed and controlled by effective and enforceable rules of conduct and discipline is not only desirable but also necessary. I am arriving at this conclusion, but as to the time when it will be arrived at in such a manner, I am not sure.

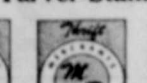

The Gas Bill

fight on the gas bill continued increased tempo. The vote (16 to 15) by which the bill cleared the committee to give new life to it of the opposition. Proposals immediately spread that the gas bill was dead for good. Some of the staunchest supporters against federal control of gas were caught off guard by this unfair propaganda and public statements to the effect that the gas bill was no longer a trouble. The truth is the gas bill is not in any more danger now than it was before. There are many Members of Congress for free enterprise and against federal bureaucracy as adversaries to be, the gas bill passes by an overwhelming margin is no better time to kill the bill to the Floor than now. The bill is in keeping with the recommendations of President Eisenhower's Advisory Council was appointed. The President to gather the truth and give him the truth of the whole problem. I feel that the President had confidence in these men or he would not have appointed them. Since they are appointed them and since they are moving forward with a recommendation, I think it behooves the people to come out specifically in support of the bill and stand behind his leadership. If he will do this, the

Mow Pastures Now For Weed Control

College Station—"Mow your pastures early for weed control while there is plenty of moisture in the soil."

That timely reminder comes from E. M. Trew, pasture specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Drought and overgrazing has thinned stands of grass in most permanent cultivated pastures. Trew explains that this condition coupled with recent rains is likely to make the control of weeds in pastures a bigger problem this summer.

Mowing will help eliminate weeds, sprouts and bushes and clears the way for more desirable plants. It also serves to keep existing grasses growing and succulent, making them more palatable and nutritious to grazing animals.

Start mowing when the worst weeds begin blooming, before they drop a seed crop. Some plants such as bitterweed and rosinweed may require more than a single cutting.

Don't mow too close, he cautions. Set the cutter bar just low enough to catch the weeds.

The specialist says that under certain conditions mowing is not advisable.

It won't pay, for example, on pastures too poor to support anything better than three-awn needlegrass and various weeds. If a stand of grass is not thick enough to shade the soil, mowing in hot weather may let the sun bake the soil, harming the grasses already present. Many of the native tall bunch grasses such as the bluestem not stand repeated

Trew adds.

Beautiful Lawns Take Time, Work

COLLEGE STATION — Attractive home lawns don't just happen—they are the result of considerable time and effort.

Establishing a new lawn requires the use of adapted grasses, proper watering, mowing, fertilization and drainage, E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says.

Texas home owners have a choice of two popular lawn grasses. Bermuda-grass is most widely adapted to growing conditions of the state. The other species, broad-leaved St. Augustinegrass, is recommended in the eastern and southern areas of the state. Buffalo, perennial ryegrass and Kentucky Bluegrass are varieties of lesser importance.

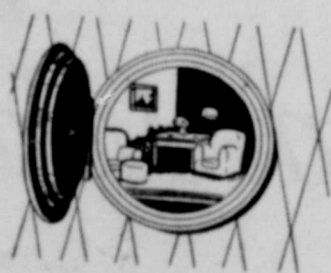

A sandy loam type soil high in organic matter forms an ideal foundation for lawns. Most soils need more organic matter. Its addition in the form of peat, compost or well decomposed gin trash, sawdust or leaf mold is suggested.

To insure proper drainage and smoothness, most lawns will require some grading or leveling. If the lawn is seeded, use high quality seed of a single grass, not a lawn mixture. Be sure and seed evenly. Sodding, laying grass in solid stripes, is expensive and time consuming but gives the desired grass quickly. If you sprig, the grass runners should be packed firmly into the soil.

Sprinkle lightly and frequently until the new grasses become established. As they take a foothold, water less often and increase the amount.

Mowing at a height of one and one-half to two inches will encourage spreading and will control invading weeds.

And, don't overlook fertilizers in the establishment of your new lawn. A soil test will determine which plant nutrients and in what quantities are needed. County agents can furnish complete information on sampling the soil, the specialist adds.

Birth Certificate Requests Should Be Made Early

Most people are partial to late summer and fall, but the State Health Department's birth record keepers say that the staff of Vital Statistics, Bureau of Vital Statistics, through October is the best time of the year. The reason: parents who know their children must have birth certificates before they can enter the first time but who make requests for certificates until the last minute. The bureau personnel process more than 40,000 requests in those three months. For the staff, that means hours and week-end work without pay. The bureau personnel shudder when they think of the estimated 227,000 who will be eligible to get the first grade in September. They have copies of records already and will have no problem. Others live in areas where local school boards require proof of age before admitting the child to the school. The majority don't have proof of age, despite the fact that they live in areas where officials insist on such proof. It's this category that gives bureau statisticians and clerks sleepless nights. Says Bureau Director W. D. Carroll: "We're ready to give immediate service to applications which come in before the fall rush." Carroll, a long-time veteran of vital statistics work, directs the affairs of the bureau where more than ten million births and death records—some dating back to early 1903—are on file. Several hundred parents have already taken advantage of the spring lull in bureau activities by requesting and receiving certified copies of birth records for their children, Carroll says. The first one came in on March 24 from Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. King of Port Lavaca. Their son is due to enter the first grade in September. They wanted to make sure they could prove he is six. "All we need is the child's name and date and place of birth, and the mother's maiden name and the name of the father," Carroll said. That information, together with the statutory fee of fifty cents, will buy anyone a copy of their birth certificate—provided the bureau has the certificate on file. There's just one more thing: if you don't want to write to Austin, check with your local registrar. Chances are he can supply the record for you. In either case, do it soon. That fall bind can get mighty tight.

County Bond Quota $280,000 In 1955

The 1955 U. S. Savings Bonds goal for Hall County is $280,000, according to O. L. Helm, Hall County Savings Bonds Chairman.

Leaders of the volunteer organization for Savings Bonds are taking steps in all communities to enlist more volunteers in various activities to increase participation and expand the program. The state, areas, counties and communities are being given their proportionate share of the national Savings Bonds goal of $5.5 billion for 1955. Texas' share for this year is $201.9 million.

"Buying bonds is important to every person and each community," Helm said. "This is one of the best and easiest ways to save and to build personal, business, and community reserves. More people should regularly buy Savings Bonds to help insure a stable economy and an effective sound money program."

The Savings Bonds program is designed primarily for the individual citizen and his community to benefit from the American custom of personal thrift and initiative, he pointed out.

rate and a low tax potential of four-tenths of one per cent, including the federal administrative portion.

Some 48 per cent of Texas employers now have this rating. The state-wide average is .75 of one of the lowest tax rates in the nation.

The Berry-authored legislation also cut the "experience period" from three and a half years to one and a half, making Texas employers eligible for lower tax rates two years earlier than under the old law.

Bindweed Control Requires Planning

College Station—Bindweed can be controlled on large acreages of cropland through competitive cropping, intensive cultivation and the use of 2,4-D.

These practices are recommended as a result of experiments conducted in the Texas Panhandle since 1949 by A. F. Weise, agronomist for the Amarillo Experiment Station, and H. E. Rea, agronomist for the Main Station at College Station.

Wheat was the best competitive crop used. Sorghum was not easily established during the summer when the weeds were growing vigorously.

A fallow-wheat system, using intensive cultivation during the fallow periods, eliminated 92 per cent of the weeds in three years.

The 2,4-D was applied in the fall before the wheat was planted or in the spring when the wheat was fully tillered.

Patches of bindweed up to half an acre in size were eradicated with applications of soil sterilants, such as sodium chlorate, Concentrated Borax, Athicide, Polybor chlorate and Karmex W at rates of 5, 10, 12 and three-eighths pounds, respectively, per square rod. One application of a soil sterilant seldom completely eliminated bindweed; retreatments usually were necessary for complete eradication.

Complete results of these studies are given in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's bulletin 802. Copies are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Small Businesses Save $8 Million Under Law Change

Austin—Amendments to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act passed by the 55th Legislature can save Texas small businesses as much as eight and a half million dollars.

Governor Allan Shivers, when signing the legislation, estimated this sum as the probable difference between taxes which would have been paid under a Federal statute effective January 1, 1956, and those which will be collected under state control.

The bill was authored by Representative George Berry of Lubbock, sponsored in the Senate by Senators Wardlaw Lane of Center and Otis Lock of Lufkin and favored by both business and labor organizations.

Need for the legislation came with amendment of the federal unemployment compensation tax act to include employers of four or more persons (instead of the present eight or more) effective in 1956. This act, however, provided that states could amend their unemployment tax laws to include these four-to-seven employers and make these new taxpayers eligible for "experience rates"—lower taxes based on each employer's record.

Thus the state will collect all except three-tenths of one per cent of the new tax (that amount is turned over to the federal government for administrative expenses). Under state jurisdiction a newly covered employer may become eligible for an experience

Look Back On July 4

One hundred and seventy-nine years ago a group of, what was then considered radicals, saw that this potentially great country was being held back and sapped dry by too much government from across the Atlantic. Therefore, they took it upon themselves to declare this nation free and independent.

This announcement was made to the world on July 4, 1776, from the steps of Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Here were 13 little disorganized colonies, with almost half of their population loyal to the English Crown, telling the most powerful country in the world, at that time, that we were no longer taking orders. We were free and independent and ready to fight to prove our point.

Revolutions were nothing new, for power hungry men had always been trying to stir up the masses and put themselves in control, but this revolution was new, for here were people striking not for power and control of a government, but simply for freedom from government and none of the leaders were trying to set themselves up as rulers. In fact the peoples' hatred of governmental control was so strong that the war was almost unsuccessful because there was no government to direct the overall effort of the war.

With the help of the French and sympathy from many of the English people, this country finally won their independence. Then it took them 13 years to get all the states to ratify the constitution because they didn't want to set up a strong central government after just finishing a war to get rid of too much government.

It has been less than two centuries, just a dot on the calendar of time, since this nation became free and offered the only place in the world where a man might hold up his head and do as he pleased, as long as he didn't infringe on the rights of others. Now, many of the people who are enjoying the fruits of a free country are willing to swap their personal freedoms for a little so-called security under government control.

This nation needs to take a look backwards into history to see just how much people have suffered in order to be free. We need to remember that for every inch of freedom we gave up so easily in return for a few guaranteed dollars of government hand-out, men originally paid for it in blood.

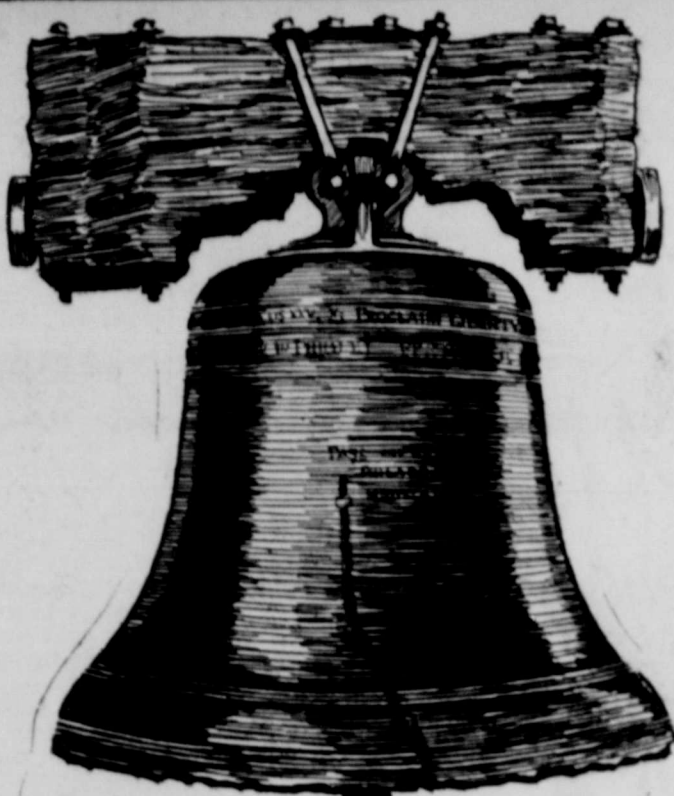

Building A Town

The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce enclosed the following poem with its membership card and it expresses the idea that hundreds of editorial writers have tried to put over in the past. It is quoted as follows:

If you want to live in the kind of a town
In the kind of a town you like
You needn't pack your cloths in a grip
And start on a long, long hike,
For you'd only find what you left behind
There's nothing that's really new
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town.
For it isn't your town it's you.
Real towns are not made by men afraid
That somebody gets ahead
For if everyone works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead
And if while you are making your personal stake
Your neighbor should make his too,
Then your town will be what you want it to be
For it isn't your town—it's you.

What is going to happen when politicians have all of big business under government control and there are no longer any rich to soak? It might be possible that the politicians would then soon be out of business.

Press Paragraphs—
QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Think of Bill Vukovich

Bill Vukovich, twice victorious in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis, died in a tragic accident on Memorial Day weekend trying for an unprecedented third win in a row.

The news of Vukovich's fatal crash on the speedway filled radio listeners with horror. They mourned a popular hero.

Several hours later came the news of 368 deaths in other fatal auto crashes on the highway. But the absence of drama in these accidents—and the anonymity of the victims—produced no comparable sense of loss to the nation as a whole.

Bill Vukovich took a calculated risk when he stepped into his high speed car. He was an expert driver and he knew the odds.

You and I might say he was foolish to take such chances. But just what chances did he take, as compared to those many so-called "pleasure" drivers take?

First, he was a fine driver. He had passed a rigorous examination of his skill and his physical condition before he was allowed on the track. His reflexes and coordination probably were far above average.

His car was tuned like a fine watch. Every mechanical part had been checked and rechecked. He would have changed tires twice had he finished the race.

The car was reinforced with rollover bars. He wore a crash helmet and safety belt.

His fellow drivers also were experts. They were all going one way. There was no cross traffic, no pedestrians, no narrow bridges, no turns, hills, no blinding lights and countless hazards met in almost every mile of ordinary roadway.

And a glancing crash into a retaining wall at 120 m. p. h. does not develop the lethal force that a head-on collision does of two cars traveling 60.

How many highway drivers know as well as Vukovich did the hazards they may encounter? How many are as well equipped to cope with them?

So when you drive your car on the Fourth of July, think of Vukovich—not as a fast driver, but as a man who knew what he was up against and took calculated risks. Make sure you know what you are up against on the highway this weekend—and drive accordingly.—Granger News.

Guaranteed Annual Wage
In previous editorials, we have supported the principle of collective bargaining, and have commented that it is indeed a fine thing that labor and management have been able to work out their differences with a minimum of interference from outside interests.

But if we conveyed the notion that we support the theory of a guaranteed annual wage (or something close to it), which was reached as a result of these bargainings, it was unintentional.

A guaranteed annual wage would be better defined as a system under which employees get paid for doing nothing, because in actuality, that is what amounts to.

If this philosophy of economics was sound, then it would be reasonable to expect that employers would have a guaranteed annual market. If they don't, then how could they be expected to pay for something they don't need when business is off?

The whole thing sounds crazy to us. But worse than that, it smacks of something contrary to the spirit of American free enterprise. It doesn't sound like a healthy move for either group.

Of course we don't want to see auto workers—or any other workers—laid off for long periods of time. But sometimes no one can control such adjustments.

What will happen now—in fact is already happening—in the steel industry—is that other labor groups will make similar demands, and probably be similarly rewarded.

This, in turn, will mean a whole new round of production cost increases, and naturally, a whole new round of price increases.

One might think that such problems are isolated from this area. Such is hardly the case. First, to be felt in this revolution of labor-industry relationship will be price increases. They'll come fast. But later, perhaps unnoticed, will come the philosophy behind GAW, and in one way or

Anderson, Clayton Employees' Annual Barbecue Saturday

An estimated 300 employees and guests attended the annual barbecue for the Memphis Paymaster gin district and Western Cottonoil Co. here Saturday night on the company grounds.

Ten employees were presented with Anderson, Clayton and Company service pins, and three mill employees won safety prizes in a special event.

Bill Johnson, repairman first class, in the mill, received a diamond set service pin and a Hamilton wrist watch for 31 years of service with the company.

Rufus Grisham received a 15-year pin which was set with a pearl.

Five-year service pins went to Mrs. Jimmie Nell Hays Tallon, Lewis Lester, Buck Copeland, Anna Margaret Collins, all of Memphis, and Lance Swift of the cotton department in Lubbock.

One-year service pins went to Paymaster gin managers Billy Hancock of Lakeview, J. W. Hatley of Lesley, and Elmer Prater of Paducah.

In the special event for the safety awards Eugene Hill won a television set, Roy Grimes won a clock radio, and Albert Mason a radio.

To become eligible for these prizes, each employee in the mill had to work a year without an accident. An accident disqualified the worker from the contest, Rufus Grisham said.

Grisham said that during the past year there had been only three men disqualified because of accidents and none of these were of a serious nature.

NEHRU IN MOSCOW . . . Indian Prime Minister Nehru (in white cap and trousers) visits Lenin-Stalin mausoleum in Red Square, as huge floral wreath is carried to tomb.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Rasco and daughter, Gail, of Dallas visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rasco over the weekend. E. R. is a nephew of Mr. Rasco. The Rasco family was en route to California to visit other relatives.

Students Attend Fellowship Meet

Three Memphis students and the Director of Youth Activities are among the 400 youth people attending the 39th annual Methodist Fellowship Assembly of the Northwest Texas Conference at McMurry College in Abilene June 27-July 2.

They are Wayne Tiner, Betty Lemons, Bobbie Lemons and Gene Tucker.

Tiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Tiner, a graduate of Memphis High, was senior class favorite, participated in football and was a member of the band. He has previously attended Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

The Lemons' girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lemons, are members of the First Methodist Church. Betty, a senior at Memphis High, is a member of FHA, Cyclone Band, was elected to Who's Who and editor of the annual. She is also president of the local NYF. Bobbie, a sophomore student in Memphis High, participated in basketball, was a member of FHA and the high school band, and was class secretary.

Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tucker of Andrews, is the director of youth activities at the local church. He is a member of the junior class at McMurry College where he is secretary of Ko Sar, men's social club, Circle K, Forum, and is a member of the "War Whoop." He is president of the Older Youth at St. Paul Methodist Church in Abilene.

Main speaker for the youth conference is the Rev. Howard W. Ellis, director of youth evangelism for the Methodist Church. He is preaching each day on the assembly theme, "To Do What Thou Wouldst Do."

Students at the assembly are housed in McMurry College dormitories and are taking their meals at the college dining hall.

Fire Burns Tires -

Station on South Front Street. The truck was hauling a power ditch digger and one of its tires had blown out about two miles southeast of town on U. S. Highway 287. The driver, John Fitch, took one tire off and came on into town.

He stopped at the station and called Amarillo, and then had a cup of coffee before the overheated tire began to smoulder.

Fire Chief Thomas Clayton said the tire which was carrying twice its normal load, was being cooled slightly by the wind as long as the vehicle was in motion. When the truck stopped, it began to burn.

The other two tires in the double wheel assembly were ruined also, the driver said.

The truck was owned by the Brodie Construction Co. of Amarillo.

der his direction. Davis said that both men come to the Memphis school system with high recommendations in regards to their professional training.

These two teachers cut the number of vacancies in the local school faculties down to two. A new high school principal is yet to be hired to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Weldon McCreary. The other vacancy is in the fifth grade.

The local schools now have three new teachers for the coming school year. The other new teacher is D. C. Andrews, who was selected head football coach and head track coach in May by the school board.

Andrews was line coach for the past year at Sweetwater High School and was an All-Border Conference end while playing for Hardin-Simmons University.

More Rain Falls -

was reported from J. N. Helm Sr., who lives 13 miles southeast of Memphis, and he said that he had received about seven inches on his place. He said that it washed in on his cotton but he thought he might save most of it. Other farmers from this part of the county thought they might have received very little damage except along terraces where the water caused some erosion.

Reports coming from Turkey gave the rainfall as varying between four and six inches. There were no reports as to how the crops withstood the downpour.

The water closed the Lakeview highway again as the ford on Indian Creek became impassable. People from west of the creek were coming into town by way of the Pliska road and the old Fairview road.

The high and low temperatures as recorded by McMicken for the past seven days are as follows: Friday, 92-66; Saturday 99-67; Sunday, 97-71; Monday, 95-70; Tuesday, 98-67; Wednesday, 97-57 and today, 90-69.

breaking and entering. The Federal Bureau of Investigation also has a warrant for his arrest on the charge of transporting a stolen vehicle across a state boundary.

Last fall Williams allegedly secured some blank Paymaster Gin checks at the Estelline gin and then passed four of them in Memphis by signing Hulen Clifton's name. Clifton is manager of the Estelline gin.

Williams was indicted on one charge by the September term of the grand jury.

In a third case brought before the District Court, the charge of forgery against Claude Pegram was dismissed after restitution was made for the check he forged here last December.

When his case was dismissed in District Court, Pegram was taken before County Judge Tracy Davis. After hearing the testimony of a doctor, the court had him admitted to the state mental hospital in Wichita Falls.

This morning Sheriff Baten left to take Pegram to the hospital, and Cleveland to the state prison in Huntsville. Williams was turned over to the Lubbock County sheriff's department yesterday afternoon to stand trial on charges against him in that county.

At 2 p. m. a water show will begin at the City pool in the park. This show will feature swimming races, comic and fancy diving and a penny scramble for different age groups of children, and a demonstration of lifesaving techniques.

Hubert Dennis, pool director, said one of the outstanding features of the lifesaving show will be the demonstration of a new style of floating. By using this style a person can float for hours even with his hands and feet tied.

After the water show, the pee wee and junior league softball teams will meet in two games, beginning at 4 p. m.

Smith said he hoped that everyone would bring a picnic lunch and spend the day in the park.
