CLINT SMALL DENOUNCES FDR'S COURT PLAN

As Sitdowner Waited For Girl To Say, 'Yes'

Faced with a deadlock in negotiations for a marriage contract, Harold Hulen, 30, chained himself to the radiator in his fiancee's Excelsior Springs, Mo., apartment, in a sitdown strike. To the object of his affections, Florence Hurlbut, shown with him at left, the project was just "silly business" until she finally said "Yes" over the radio yesterday She was especially scornful of the rubber pillow Hulen brought to sit on. At right, Hulen played his best cards, but it was only a game of solitaire while he waited for Miss Hurlbut to accept him.

County's Suit Against Barnes Set For Trial

Gray county's lawsuit against T. W. Barnes of Pampa, former county tax collector, to recover upwards of $5,800 allegedly due the county in excess fees collected during Barnes' administration between Jan. 1 and Aug 2, 1934, was scheduled to get under way in district court here this afternoon.

The case was called for trial this morning but potential jurors for the week were dismissed until 1:30 p. m. to permit attorneys in the case to discuss preliminary matters and iron out existing legal obstructions.

Indications of a possible agreement also were made by attorneys for both sides when the case was called this forenoon. Just how far the litigants would get in that direction was a matter of conjecture.

History of the case, according to the original plaintiff's petition, goes back to 1934 when it is claimed Barnes allegedly failed to turn in excess fees of office collected for the eight-month period beginning Jan. 1 of that year.

The amount named in the lawsuit now pending is approximately $11,000, but it is agreed by the plaintiff that approximately $5,000 of that amount was due to Barnes for salary at the rate of $250 per month.

Co-defendant with Barnes in the lawsuit is The American Surety Co. under whom the former tax collector was bonded while in office.

Plaintiffs claim that when the alleged fee shortage appeared in 1934, the surety company filed application to withdraw the bond and that Barnes subsequently resigned his office on Aug. 2.

The case has been pending in the courts for more than two years with the defendants last June denying all allegations in the plaintiffs petition.

The supplemental petition of the plaintiff was ready this morning for filing in answer to the defendant's most recent denial of claims set up in the original petition.

LEFORS BOYS TO ENTERTAIN API MEMBERS

'GOOD DEED DADDIES' ON PROGRAM FOR TOMORROW

The opening 1937 meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute tomorow night at 8 o'clock in city auditorium will be a masterpiece arranged by Walter Biery and his program committee.

There will be entertainment, moving pictures, an interesting address and a brief business meeting. The program will open with the "Good Deed Daddies" of LeFors in action. The boys are members of the LeFors Boy Scout troop, J. H. Duncan, scoutmaster. They have made several stage appearances with their wash board, harmonica and clarinet. One of their pet performances is a take-off on the Hoosier Hot Shots.

The speaker of the evening will be C. O. Parsons of Duncan, Okla., vice-president of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing company. Mr. Parsons will fly to Pampa tomorrow morning.

Mr. Parsons will give an illustrated lecture on cementing off of bottom hole water, "Squeege jobs" and other phases of oil well cementing. He will present motion pictures of blow outs in the high pressure Gulf coast field, extinguishing of fires, pictures of operations in the Panhandle and other oilfields, etc.

C. E. Sturdevant, newly elected chairman, will preside at the meeting, the first of the year. He invites every oilfield worker in the Panhandle, whether a member of the API or not, to attend the meeting.

"It is not compulsory to become a member of the chapter to attend the meetings," Mr. Sturdevant said today. "We will welcome members of other businesses as well as oilfield workers. Dues to the chapter are only $1 a year and anyone desiring to join will be given an opportunity at tomorrow night's meeting."

MEN ASKED TO TAKE BOYS TO BANQUET HERE

Men who would like to take a boy to the father and son banquet tonight are urged to get in touch with Scout headquarters in the city hall, where a list of boys who would attend if they had an adult to take them are on file, W. Postma, committee chairman, announced.

The banquet will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the red building on the high school campus. Dr. S. H. Condron of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, will deliver the principal address. Bob Clark of Wheeler will perform magicians' tricks.

The banquet is city-wide, and will be opened to all fathers and sons, although Boy Scouts are particularly urged to attend No single group is sponsoring the affair. There are numerous boys in the city who would attend if men would volunteer to take them, it was said.

The banquet is being sponsored as a feature of Scout Week.

SOONERS TO AUSTIN

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—Oklahoma's seven-man legislative delegation to a Texas "peace conference" on Red River fishing rights left the capitol today for Dallas. From the Senate went J. A. Rinehart, El Reno, Joe B. Thompson, Ardmore; John A. MacDonald, Durant, and Bower Broaddus, Muskogee, the latter acting as legal advisor. The House sent William Coe, Oklahoma City, Aubrey Kerr, Ada, and Lucien Spear, Hugo.

McTAGGART TO DIRECT SCOUT DRIVE IN CITY

PAMPA ASKED TO GIVE $3,500 FUND TO COUNCIL

Guy McTaggart has been named chairman of the local Boy Scout finance drive which will get under way here next Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. McTaggart will spend this week perfecting his organization according to C. H. Walker, president of the Adobe Walls council.

The quota for the council has been set at $6,500. Of that amount, Pampa, will be asked to contribute $3,500. President Walker and Mr. McTaggart hope to raise the amount in a four-day drive.

Anyone desiring to give in advance of the drive may take or mail their checks to Boy Scout headquarters in city hall where receipts have been made available.

BLAZING PIECES OF WOOD CHASED AT FIRE

Firemen yesterday afternoon battled the elements and danger of spreading fire when they answered a call to 113 South Hobart street about 3:30 o'clock.

The fire fighters discovered trash and material from an old barn which had partially burned last year on fire. The high wind whipped burning shingles, small pieces of wood and trash away from the building and many footraces were run across vacant lots after the burning pieces.

Water soon had the blaze under control and damage was slight.

Prominent Miami Stockman Is Dead

C. F. Christopher, 63, prominent stockman of the Miami community, died last night in a Dallas hospital. He had been in failing health for some time.

Mr. Christopher moved to Miami from Cook county in 1902, settling with his family on a ranch near Miami. He later acquired large herds of cattle.

Surviving Mr. Christopher are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Harvey Landrum of Miami and Mrs. Clyde Looper of Vernon, a son, Orville Christopher of Miami, two sisters, Mrs. Mary Carter and Mrs. Myra Key, both of Las Crescenta, Calif., three brothers, Willie Christopher and Lester Christopher, both of Miami, and Dannie Christopher of Hamilton, Ky.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Miami Methodist church. Burial will be in Miami cemetery in charge of Pampa Mortuary, whose hearse left early this morning for Dallas to return the body.

THOMPSON TO ADDRESS C-C

ADVANCE PURCHASE OF TICKETS URGED BY COLLINS

Col Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad commission will be guest speaker at the monthly membership luncheon of the Pampa chamber of commerce tomorrow noon in the basement of First Methodist church. Tickets are still available at BCD headquarters in city hall at 50 cents each.

President Jim Collins urges that tickets be purchased in advance. He anticipates an overflow crowd to hear Col. Thompson who will discuss matters of great importance to Pampa and the community.

In order that Col. Thompson will have an opportunity to discuss at length his topic, business will be transacted as quickly as possible.

Residents of several Panhandle cities will be here for the meeting.

HIRAM JOHNSON NOW OPPOSES COURT PLAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Sen. Hiram Johnson of California returned to the capital today and immediately took a leading position in the battle to defeat President Roosevelt's court reorganiaztion program.

In a formal statement, Johnson said:

"The issue, stripped of its verbiage, seems to be plain: Shall the Congress make the Supreme Court subservient to the presidency?"

He thus aligned himself with Senator Borah (R., Idaho) and others who are preparing to take the President's program to the nation.

Johnson is one of the little band of Republicans who supported Roosevelt for the presidency in 1932. He did not, however, take any part in the President's re-election campaign.

The Californian issued his statement just before Chairman Ashurst (D., Ariz.) and (Sumners (D., Tex.) of the Senate and House judiciary committees went to the White House for a luncheon conference with the President to discuss the court reorganization proposals.

"The implications of this are so grave and far-reaching," Johnson said, "I can do but one thing, and that is, to the limit of my capacity, oppose this extraordinary legislation."

OLD TIME DANCE TO BE HELD THURSDAY NIGHT

All the old time dances will be available when the Panhandle Centennial committee holds its square dance in the high school auditorium Thursday night, beginning at 7 o'clock. Admission will be 40 cents per person.

Homer Ratliff and his boys from Miami are practicing on a bunch of new songs for the Polka, Schottische, New Shoes, Paul Jones, Pop-goes-the-Weasel, two-step, one-step, waltz and other old time dances.

No invitations have been mailed and everyone who enjoys the old time dances, even as spectators, will be welcomed at the gymnasium when A. A. Tiemann yells, "let's go."

More than 400 persons attended the last square dance. They came from every point of the Panhandle and stayed until the last waltz.

Proceeds of the dance will go to the Panhandle Centennial fund which shows a deficit following the 1936 celebration.

TEXAS SENATE DIVIDED OVER JUDGE ISSUE

DALLAS SOLON READY TO GO ALONG WITH PRESIDENT

AUSTIN, Feb. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt's proposal to reform the Supreme Court evoked caustic criticism by resolution and debate in the Texas Senate today.

Action on the resolution, which was introduced by Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, white-haired dean of the wholly Democratic upper legislative chamber, was temporarily deferred to permit a joint session with the House of Representatives on another matter.

Holbrook was joined in denouncing the presidential proposal by Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo, another senate veteran and former candidate for governor.

Declaring the Senate should express itself on a matter of such importance to the nation, Senator Small asserted "this is the beginning of actual destruction of our government."

"The Supreme Court is one thing left in this country in which the people can take a great deal of pride," he said. "It is efficient and courageous, well up on its work and there is no necessity for more members. I cannot think of a single reason for increasing the membership. It is one of the greatest tribunals the country ever has had."

Senator Will D. Pace of Tyler, declaring there was no reason for "this tempest in a teapot," said people "80 years old are not physically able to pass on important points of government" but concluded he was not for the court revision.

Some other Senators counselled further study of the proposition while Senator Claud Westerfeld of Dallas said he was "ready to go along with the President."

Senator Weaver Moore of Houston offered a substitute resolution for that by Holbrook toning down the language but recommending to Texas members of Congress that they use their best efforts against the presidential request for additions to the Supreme Court personnel.

The Galveston Senator was author of the resolution which implored Texas members of Congress and others to weigh the President's message carefully before adopting its recommendations.

"We do not believe the plan expressed by the President at this moment will best serve the purpose of the American people," the resolution said, "and that it would be far better that no changes be made in the Supreme Court or inferior courts at this time."

The resolution said further there had not heretofore in the whole history of the country been such a revolutionary message suggested and the plan threatened to "completely destroy the check and balances upon which this government was founded."

"We look upon such precedure with great misgivings and sincerely believe the bill which the President has directed to Congress, if enacted at the present time might instead of changing our basic institutions destroy them," if continued.

"We recognize the President's power and at the same time believe the great power vested in him under the constitution should not be used for any purpose than preserving at least its orginal framework."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP) — President Roosevelt invited Chairman Ashurst (D., Ariz.) and Sumners (D., Tex.) of the Senate and House judiciary committees to a White House luncheon conference today to discuss his court reorganization proposals.

High officials interpreted submission of the question to Congress at this time as due to a desire on the part of the President to achieve what he described as judicial reform before recommending legislation on wages and hours and farm production control.

These authorities argued it would be unwise and poor strategy to attempt revival of the principles of the NRA and AAA—held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court—before Congress acts on the judicial reorganization proposals.

DEATH TAKES OLDEST TWIN

NEWSPAPERMAN DIES AT AGE OF 94 AT PLAINVIEW

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 8 (AP)—Death claimed J. M. Shafer, 94, veteran newspaperman, today, and separated a couple believed to be the oldest living twins in the United States.

Shafer's twin was Mrs. Lydia V. Whitlock of Los Angeles, Cal. They were born Dec. 12, 1842, in Mahoning county, Ohio.

Shafer came here in 1890. He traded a team of horses and a wagon for a printing establishment and later hauled brick from Amarillo to build Plainview's first brick building in which he started the Hale County Herald, forerunner of the Plainview Evening Herald.

The pioneer began newspaper work on the Genesee Republic, Rock Island, Ill., when a small boy. At the age of 14 he aided in printing the first copy of the Denver Post. He later moved to Stephenville, Tex., where he published the city's first paper, the Stephenville Empire.

There he married Miss Lydia Dupuy.

Shafer founded the Cisco Telegram and published the paper for several years. He sold his Plainview paper in 1911 to B. O. Brown who later sold it to its present owners.

Shafer died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. O. Oswald. Other survivors are a son, Tom Shafer of Wasco, Calif., and two other daughters, Mrs. S. E. Moore, Bellflower, Calif., and Mrs. H. A. Counts, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Funeral plans had not been completed.

Rebels Close In On Malaga; City Is Cowed

GIBRALTAR, Feb. 8 (AP)—The southern coastal city of Malaga is under "complete control" of Spanish Fascists, the insurgent radio station at Salamanca announced today. Part of the insurgent fleet already is in the harbor, the announcement said.

WITH THE FASCISTS ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF MALAGA, Spain (2:20 a. m. Spanish time, delayed in transmission), Feb. 8. (AP)—A thousand armed anarchists and communists cowed Malaga with "the rule of the gun" early today, refugees reported, as Fascist insurgent troops closed in methodically on the city proper.

Two hours after midnight the Malaga front was a semicircle with both ends at the sea, with the besieged port as its center and a radius of less than two mile.

(The Italian cable station at Malaga reported to Rome that Fascist troops marched into the city's streets at 1 p. m. local time—8 a. m. EST.)

All sides of Malaga were blocked off long before dawn by the Fascist columns, a modern unifed army of Spanish regulars, Foreign Legionnaires, Fascist volunteers and Carlists.

Eastern and western columns had driven, with almost no resistance, along the coast to the doorsteps of the port. Through the night, the searchlights of the cruiser Almirante Cervera and several Fascist gunboats played on the shoreline to halt any attempt by the government defenders to escape by sea.

Rightist refugees who slipped through the Fascist lines from within Malaga said Malaga was a city "gone mad."

Wild radicals poured into the town with the collapse of the outlying defense, they said, and made their own law—the law of the pistol.

GUYMON DUST VICTIMS ARE STILL OPTIMISTIC

GUYMON, Okla., Feb. 8 (AP)—Farm wives' brooms brushed aside today layers of the earliest dust storm ever to harrass the loose-soiled Oklahoma Panhandle They don't like it but they are getting used to it

"I'm going to weather it through," declared George Wiggins on the doorstep of his weather-stripped farm house five miles southeast of Guymon

Confident yesterday's thick duster had not killed the wheat on his 800 acres, Wiggins observed:

"We farmers are taking the dust storms better this year"

Kenneth Powell, a farmer proudest of his three-months-old baby, believed at least half of his wheat would pull through

The storms, said Herb Gavitt, supervisor of the Pony Creek Farm conservation project near here, were beginning earlier this year. Light dusters began last November.

Gavitt declared the storm will convince "farmers here of the need of planting some kind of a row crop to hold the soil in the fall."

The dust blew left Henry Bartels, farmer ten miles northeast of here, pessimistic.

"It looks like we'll have to move out," he said. "Dirt is piled up inside my house."

TEXAS GIVEN CONSENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The Supreme Court consented today to hear arguments March 8 on the right of Texas to start litigation designed to determine the legal residence of Col. Edward H. R. Green—son of the famously wealthy Hetty Green—at the time of his death last June.

First Duster Brings A Cold Wave To Area

Pampa and the Texas Panhandle today were shaking off the dust of the year's first "duster," nipped by rain late last night and followed by a drop in temperatures that transformed a spring-like Sunday into a sub-freezing Monday.

The dust and sand, blown in on the wings of a high wind early Sunday, threw a haze over the city and surrounding areas and fogged the air, generally.

Householders returned to the practice of sealing their homes with dampened cloths around window sills and doors to keep out the dust.

The Associated Press reported today that the "duster" swept into the Panhandle from eastern New Mexico and western Deaf Smith and Oldham counties in Texas. Rain over a wide area after nightfall helped to lay the dust. Pampa received only a slight half-hour rainfall which began about 11:30 o'clock last night.

The "duster" was reported much heavier in other sections than in Pampa. The Daily NEWS government thermometer here reached a high of 72 for Sunday when the dust storm was at its height. The mercury reading last sunset was 67. At 6 this morning it had dropped to 22 degrees but at noon had climbed back to 27 degrees.

Amarillo thermometers sank to 26, at drop of 43 degrees from the unseasonal warmth yesterday when mercuries rose to 69.

Damage to crops in the Panhandle was minimized by H. H. Finnell, regional head of the soil conservation service.

"The dust originated a considerable distance from Amarillo," Finnell said, "at least along the Texas-New Mexico line and probably further west."

Finnell toured the Panhandle Friday and Saturday, and reported he observed little exposed land except in limited drouthy areas.

The "norther" swept into Vernon at 5:30 a. m. and in two hours had forced a temperature drop of 20 degrees. El Paso reported 36 degrees and snow this morning after a maximum yesterday of 68.

Other points to the south and east are still warm. Paris had a reading this morning of 80 degrees.

Yesterday San Antonio's maximum was 83 and Corsicana's 77. Del Rio had the summer temperature of 94.

The wind howled from dawn to dusk in Borger yesterday bringing a blanket of silt from the south but residents said the blow was "far from a duster."

Evidence of the fact that the dust was much worse in other sections than at Pampa, was brought back by Postmaster C. H. Walker who reported that visibility was so poor between Dalhart and Hartley yesterday evening that it took him an hour to drive the distance of 14 miles.

TEX'S TOPICS AND PEOPLE YOU KNOW MOVED TO EDITORIAL PAGE

Two features, which in the past have been found on the first page of the Pampa News, today have been moved inside to the editorial page and will be found there in the future.

They are "Tex's Topics" and "People You Know."

The change has been made to make possible more space for news of the day on the front page.

The editorial page "dress" of the paper also is changed with today's issue. "Tex's Topics" will have a regular place daily in the editorial column, and "People You Know" will appear regularly on the same page.

With these changes in make-up, the management of the Daily News believes that it now has one of the most complete and interesting editorial pages in the state.

Its scope takes in local and national editorial features equal to any carried in the newspapers of the largest cities.

Watch the News editorial page daily for Tex's Topics, People You Know, editorial cartoon, Pampa of Yesteryear, Man About Manhattan, Health Column, Talks to Parents, Haskin's Questions and Answers, Hollywood Column, Washington Letter, This, That and Everything, and other interesting features.

PARTY COMPLIMENTS MRS. GENE FATHEREE

A bride who arrived in Pampa last week to make her home, Mrs. Gene Fatheree, was complimented when Mrs. C. P. Buckler and her daughters, Mrs. Russel G. Allen and Miss Marjorie Buckler, entertained at the Buckler home Saturday afternoon with a linen shower.

Guests were received by Mrs. Buckler and presented to the honoree, her aunt, Mrs. Crowe of California, and Mrs. Clyde Fatheree. Mrs. E. H. Turner was at the guest book, where about 100 registered during the afternoon.

Mrs. Gene Green and Mrs. Arthur Swanson poured tea. Red and white flowers and red candles decorated the table. Red heart-shaped sandwiches, red and white cake and mints were served with the tea.

A huge heart stood before the mantel, with a floor basket of red and white flowers in front of it. When the heart was removed, packages heaped in the fireplace were revealed and presented to Mrs. Fatheree, who opened them to find lovely gifts of linens for her home.

The bride, who came here after a honeymoon trip to New Orleans and other Gulf cities, was the former Miss Norma Miller of Austin. She had visited in Pampa and had a number of friends here before her marriage.

It's Good Form To 'Camouflage' Introductions

BY JOAN DURHAM,
AP Feature Service Writer.

Four problems bother most of us when we are introduced.

We fumble over the question of who should be introduced to whom. We don't know when to shake hands. We hesitate about standing up. And we are often stumped over what to say after we've been introduced.

Except in unusual cases it's a good idea to camouflage as much as possible the fact that one person is being introduced to another. A younger person is presented to an older. A man is presented to a woman—unless he's extremely important. And, if there is a marked difference, a less distinguished person is presented to the more distinguished one.

Form of Introduction.

On a formal occasion you may say, "Mrs. Topnotch, may I introduce (or very formally "present") Mrs. Overhill?" You'll find, however, that most people will fall into conversation more easily if you say simply, "Mrs. Topnotch, Mrs. Overhill." (The first name, strictly speaking, is that of the person to whom the introduction is being made.)

A woman never stands when a man is introduced—unless he's very old or very distinguished. Most younger women stand when they're being introduced to older women, ordinarily, however, women do not stand if they're at all near the same age and social status. Young men always stand.

On Shaking Hands.

Handshaking is much more common between men and women today than it once was. In days gone by a woman rarely shook hands with a man. Now she frequently proffers her hand—since it's really her place to offer to shake hands.

The proper thing to say after an introduction has been made is, "How do you do." It is perfectly correct to say, "How do you do, Mrs. Topnotch," however. In fact, repeating the name often helps it to stick in your memory.

REVIVAL ENDS LAST EVENING

Many Hear Masters In The Final Services

With crowds filling the auditorium at every service yesterday, and ten more uniting with the church last night, the evangelistic meeting which has been conducted for the past two weeks at the First Christian church by Marshall Masters, came to a close. Mr. Masters returned to his work at Greenville.

Plans are being made for a reception Wednesday night for the new members. This will be in charge of a committee headed by Ive E. Duncan and a program is being arranged. The reception is for all members of the church, new members being the guests of honor. All the friends of the church or those in any way interested are also cordially invited. The program is planned to begin at 7:30.

The final sermon by Evangelist Masters was "The Inevitable Closing of the Door." "This is a very serious matter to consider," the speaker stated. "It concerns the time when the last invitation will be given to accept Christ; the last song shall be sung. A man might just as well jump out of a window and defy the laws of gravity, as to think he can defy the laws of God and live. It can't be done. God tells us how to live in accordance with His law and warns us that if we live contrary to this law we will die. What makes a wise man wise and a foolish man foolish? Jesus gave us the answer. He said "He that heareth these words of mine and doeth them, is wise."

"If a man expects to get to heaven, he must prepare for that place. The great bulk of people in Pampa are not in the churches tonight. They are not preparing themselves for the place God is preparing that they might have. People who fail to identify themselves with the church here are not preparing themselves for the life that is to come."

VARIED TOPICS ARE DISCUSSED BY H. D. CLUBS

Recent Interesting Programs Are Reported

"Probate records of 47 average Texas counties showed L. P. Gabbard of the Agricultural Experiment station that real estate constitutes 50.6 per cent of the wealth, chattels 3.5 per cent, and intangibles 45.9 per cent," declared Mrs. C. A. Tignor in discussing Taxation on Intangible Property to Priscilla Home Demonstration club when it met Friday with Mrs. Roy Tinsley.

She continued that Mr. Gabbard found few of these intangibles — notes, bonds, stocks, cash, etc.—on the assessment rolls. Tangibles—real estate and chattels—constitute 97.1 per cent of the property assessed for taxes in Texas.

Mrs. Ira Spearman led a round table discussion on Safety in Home Care of Foods, with members offering suggestions. Mrs. Joe Lewis suggested that radishes be kept fresh by cleaning and enclosing in a glass jar in the refrigerator; Mrs. Guy Farrington recommended the same treatment for lemons, and Mrs. J. M. Daugherty added cut onions to the list. Mrs. Spearman suggested dropping pieces of onion in the pickle jar to preserve them.

Mrs. Norman Walberg presided at a business session when Mrs. Roy Tinsley gave the county council report. Little Ninetta Spearman entertained with a reading.

Sandwiches, hors d'ouvres, cherry pie, coffee, and mints were served to Mrs. Alex Smith, Mrs. Leo Smith, and Miss Marie Farrington, visitors, and 11 members.

POSTERS SHOW GOOD AND BAD POSTURE

Good posture not only affects the appearance; it also affects health, Mrs. Lawton Hoffer reminded Laketon Home Demonstration club members at a meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Mart Cunningham Jr.

Posters were shown to demonstrate correct and incorrect postures. Mothers were warned not to nag children about posture, but to appeal to the pride of their daughters to cultivate a graceful carriage.

Delicious refreshments were served to seven members.

KITCHEN BACKGROUNDS IS KINGSMILL TOPIC

White paint and paper in a poorly lighted kitchen will help make a better working light in the room, Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, home demonstration agent, pointed out in discussing kitchen backgrounds with Kingsmill club members at Mrs. N. B. Cude's home Tuesday.

Calcimine provides the cheapest wall finish for a kitchen, she said, but it must be applied often, and textiles or a good paint are advisable for a more permanent covering.

Mrs. Bruce Cobb was a club guest. Seventeen members were present.

$25,000 In Jewels Taken In Holdup

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Holding up six persons returning from a hotel party in a taxicab early today, three robbers snatched a estimated $25,000 in jewelry from two women. They escaped in a car.

Mrs. Maxwell Shapiro and Mrs. Harold Herman in front of whose home in West 81st street the cab was stopped, reported loss of the gams to police.

With their husbands and Dr. M. Eichborn Lang and a woman companion they had attended a party at a hotel given for Harry Hirshfield, the cartoonist.

Mrs. Shapiro said she lost two diamond clips, three rings, and a bracelet. From Mrs. Herman the bandits took two bracelets, a wrist watch and a ring.

They made no attempt to rob the third woman in the cab or the men.

In recent months robbers have been preying on women wearing valuable jewels to night clubs and he robberies led Police Commissioner Lewis Valentine to put a special squad of detectives on duty.

HOLIDAYS OF FEBRUARY ARE DRAMATIZED BY McLEAN CLUB

By Mrs. Jim Back

McLEAN, Feb. 8 — A program made interesting by its clever presentation was heard by the Pioneer study club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thurman Adkins. Mrs. C. B. Batson was leader and made an interesting talk explaining the origin and various customs of St. Valentine's Day, and other special days of the month.

Under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Bogan, living pictures of American history were shown. Guests were seated in the living room as in a theater, looking into the dining room which was converted into a stage. As Mrs. Bogan removed the screen the picture of George Washington and Martha Washington was revealed. As these characters came to life, they found themselves in a room with all modern conveniences. Their experiments with and conversation on this new-found world was not only humorous but showed the sharp contrast of living conditions which existed in America 150 years ago and now. Mrs. Roger Powers portrayed George Washington and Mrs. Bob Black, Martha Washington.

Mrs. C. A. Cryer in top hat and frock coat formed a picture of Lincoln and spoke as the great American might have done had he been living today.

Mrs. J. W. Butler was pictured as Mrs. Lincon, and sang " 'Tis the Last day dress of Miss Mary Ann Daugherty who, as a bride of the father of G. W. Sullivan of McLean was married in 1860. The dress, a lovely pink creation with long full skirt, round shoulders, puff sleeves, and low cut neck, is a prized possession of Mrs. Allen Wilson of McLean, a grand-daughter of this Civil War bride. Mrs. Bogan, questioning "Mrs. Lincoln" in Major Bowes' style, brought out the unusual and little known side of the once- first lady of the land.

Mrs. Cecil G. Goff was pictured as the much loved Jenny Lind who sang in the White House as guest of Mrs. Lincoln, and sng " 'Tis the Last Rose of Summer," with Mrs. Willie Boyette at the piano.

Mrs. Butler served from a lace covered table to those on program, two guests, Mrs. W. W. Boyd and Mrs. Raymond Glass, and the members.

Bridge Parties Given

The Friday bridge club met in the home of Mrs. Homer Shoemaker this week. After several hours of bridge the salad course was served to the following guests: Mrs. John Butler, Mrs. Allen Wilson, Mrs. Harvey Rippey, and members.

Bridge furnished the entertainment for a small party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Back Saturday evening. Valentine motif was carried out in the refreshments which were served to Mr. and Mrs. Kid McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Glass, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fullbright, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Back, Ruth Thacker, Mabel Back, Clyde Dwight and Kid Jr. McCoy.

Valentine Party

The Good Citizenship club, composed of the fifth grade, was entertained with a Valentine party by their sponsor, Miss Helen Heath.

Children were divided into six groups of "insects" and contests were held in each group. Many interesting games were played. To get partners paper hearts were put together that had been cut into jigsaw style.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cocoa, and candy hearts were served to about 50 guests. Special guests were: Martin Murdock, Sam Branch, Mrs. J. R. Glass, Mrs. N. W. Foster, Mrs. W. W. Boyd, Mrs. W. L. Campbell, and Miss Ina Nelle Still, who assisted Miss Heath.

TRAINING FOR GIRL SCOUTING TO BE OFFERED

Classes To Be Open To All At The Scout House

Not only representatives from women's clubs and Parent-Teacher associations who have been designated to attend the Girl Scout training school Wednesday, but anyone who is interested in Girl Scouting is invited to the classes.

Miss Elizabeth Sampson, Girl Scout director in Amarillo, will be in charge. The school will be conducted at the Little House of the Girl Scouts, in the 700 block on E. Kingsmill. Classes will be from 9 to 11 a. m. and from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.

Planned to train women for leadership of Girl Scouts, the one-day school is expected to be of interest also the parents of girls and those who work with girls. Attendance is not limited to those who expect to lead Girl Scout troops.

The meeting follows an open program and covered dish supper of last week, when Girl Scout leaders from Amarillo spoke on the program and answered questions regarding a local organization.

Beware The Cough
From a common cold
That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

WASHINGTON A.P. BUREAU (Associated Press Photo)

1937 in Washington

MOST AMERICANS rely on The Associated Press for Washington news. They can count on this supply of reliable and accurate information in 1937 because:

1. The A.P. tradition demands complete facts, and that goes for Washington as for any spot on earth.
2. The A.P. has the largest staff of news men in the capital, trained to hunt facts on a wide front, to cover every angle of every story.
3. Years of reporting Washington news has given this staff a background of experience, and has taught them that guessing is not reporting.

1937 will be another big year in Washington. The Associated Press will cover Washington in 1937 as it has in the past—completely and reliably.

CHAOS REIGNS AS DEFENDERS QUIT MALAGA

400,000 BOTTLED UP IN MEDITERRANEAN PORT

WITH FASCISTS OUTSIDE MALAGA, Feb. 8 (AP)—A double threat of death struck terror today into Malaga's 400,000 inhabitants, bottled up by a Fascist army hammering at the city's gates.

Insurgent observers on the hilltops overlooking the Mediterranean port described the situation in the provincial capital as "complete chaos."

The population, with all land and sea exits blocked so escape appeared impossible, was panic stricken.

Bands of anarchists ruled the city, left virtually unprotected by the sudden crumbling of its defenses, and the blazing fire from Fascist guns, the observers declared, formed an equal menace to civilan inhabitants.

The strategic shipping center's defense collapsed yesterday before a sweeping drive of the insurgent southern army.

Coordinated columns from the north and east, aided by concentrated fire from the insurgent fleet, drove into the suburbs, capturing position after position that had been abandoned by the Socialist defenders in their flight.

(The southern army commander, Gen. Gonzalo Quiepo de Llano, broadcasting from his headquarters at Seville, announced two of his columns had established posts in the outskirts, after capturing suburban buildings and houses.)

Crack regular army troops smashed feeble defenses and isolated barricades in houses and barns as the Socialist army seemed to melt before the onslaught of the Fascist war machine.

Reports at headquarters indicated hard fought battles were lacking along the semi-circular front.

The number killed in the advance was estimated by Fascist officers as only a few hundred as most of the towns and villages the insurgents occupied had been completely abandoned.

(The "big push," reports from Gibraltar said, was aided by 15,000 Italian troops which had been landed at Cadiz within the past three days and rushed to the Malaga front.

(The Italian government repeatedly has denied any troops have been sent to Spain.)

FRANCE AND ENGLAND MENACED BY FLOODS

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Torrential rains deluged France and England today and spread menacing floods over large areas.

The threat centered in southern England where more rain fell in the past seven days than normally during the whole month of February.

Coming on the heels of earlier gales and blizzards, the downpour sent rivers on a new rampage. In Dorset, on the English channel, hundreds of persons fled villages and farm lands.

Rail, automobile and air travel was suspended in many sections. Shipping schedules were disorganized.

Besides Dorset, the hardest hit counties were Kent and Essex, neighboring London. The Thames river flooded the famed playing fields of Eton and the private grounds of Windsor castle.

The Thames was steadily rising.

The rain-swollen Moselle river in France overflowed at Metz, cutting off numerous roads and transit lines, while the week-end rains, winds and floods continued unabated. Despite night-long efforts of firemen to clear Saint-Jans Cappel, near Hazebrouck, of water which reached the second floors of houses, the floods continued to pour in.

A fisher protection cruiser battled heavy seas to carry supplies to 60 inhabitants of lonely Foula island in the Orkneys, stormbound since Christmas.

A "wild cat oil well" is one which is drilled without much knowledge of what is under the ground.

QUINS GO COASTING, SNOW OR NO SNOW

(Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

If your long-planned ski party let you down this winter because of lack of snow, don't think you're the only one. The Dionne quintuplets, too, have been faced by a very unusual lack of snow even so far north as Callander. So the best they could do with their toboggan was prop it up on boxes and "just pretend." Yvonne, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Annette, left to right, are doing just that, and enjoying it, too, as you can see.

IT'S SUMMER-WINTER BALANCE FOR QUINS

(Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

Every cloud has its silver lining, and if there's no snow for winter sports, then at least you can go back to summer sports. Here the quins show that snow-suits and heavy galoshes just add to the fun of a teeter-totter. That's Yvonne at left, hanging on for dear life, and Emilie and Marie in the center, almost rubbing noses, with joyful grins. Cecile and Annette on the right end are more serious about maintaining a balance.

AIMS, METHODS, ACTIVITIES OF SALVATION ARMY INTERPRETED

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles, written by Capt. Herman G. Lambrecht, head of the Pampa Salvation Army post, interpreting aims, methods, and activities of the organization.)

"O Lord, Thou art our Father; we are the clay, and Thou our potter; and we all are the work of Thy hand."—Isaiah.

Every step, from the beginning in the streets of London, entailed hardships of the bitterest kind. Everywhere the uniformed preachers, with their unusual methods, astonishing aggressiveness and spirit of adventure, were greeted with ridicule, impatience and misgiving. But their zeal, their singleness of purpose, and their deeds of charity, by which they demonstrated the practicability of the doctrine they taught, carried them forward in the face of all obstacles. How quickly the organiaztion overcame prejudice and opposition in Europe, and became recognized as an influence to be accepted and reckoned with, is best attested by the fact that in 1904 General Booth was received at Buckingham palace by King Edward VII, and in 1907 by their majesties the Kings of Denmark and Norway and the Queen of Sweden.

In the meantime the pioneering party in the United States had made rapid progress. Three years after their arrival they had established the organization in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and St. Louis.

In 1885 the first party invaded Chicago which was later to become the headquarters for the work in the Central States. By this time corps had been opened also in a score of smaller places, and the organization as a whole, although suffering from want, financial limitations and popular misunderstanding, was already beginning to impress itself upon the people as a permanent force in the religious and social life of the country.

In 1886 the forthcoming recognition of the organization by several of the courts of Europe was anticipated at the executive mansion in Washington. Only six years after the memorable landing and the open air meeting at the Battery, in New York City, the President of the United States, Grover Cleveland, received a delegation of officers at the White House and gave them his official and personal endorsement. Thus Mr. Cleveland was the first President to recognize the Salvation Army as a national force. Similar endorsements have been given by every President since.

In 1904, Evangeline Booth, daughter of the founder and present general of the world-wide organization, was placed in command of the United States, which post she held for 30 years. Her personality, her talents as a platform speaker and her aggressive, militant policies did an inestimable degree of good in still further cementing the national solidity of the Army and in impressing its message and its purposes still more convincingly and profoundly upon the minds of the people.

The organization throughout the world was stunned on August 12, 1912, when news of the death of General William Booth, the founder, was flashed to the furthermost parts of the world where his followers were at work. He was succeeded by his son, Bramwell, who was in command till 1929. At his death he was succeeded by General Edward J. Higgins who retired in 1934. The present general, Evangeline Booth, was chosen to succeed General Higgins.

"The work which the Salvation Army has done during half a century commands the love and respect of all our people."—Franklin D. Roosevelt, President.

"The Salvation Army has proved itself worthy of every task it has undertaken. It is up to us to prove that we are worthy of the Army."—Hon. George H. Dern, Secretary of War, U. S. A.

MARDI GRAS OBSERVED IN MERRY CELEBRATION

GALVESTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Galveston today cast dull care aside and gave her undivided attention to the celebration of Mardi Gras as King Frivilous XX arrived to begin his brief but merry reign over the treasure island.

Frivolous was given a noisy greeting by thousands of loyal subjects this morning. He moved through the streets in an impressive military procession to the new federal building where he was welcomed by Mayor Adrian F. Levy and other officials.

Tonight the genial potentate will review a specacular street parade composed of many elaborately decorated floats.

A street frolic in the business section is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday night the identity of King Frivolous and his beautiful queen will be revealed at the coronation ceremonies and masquerade ball at the city auditorium. Scores of lovely young girls from all parts of the southwest will appear in the royal court at which the splendors of imperial Rome will be duplicated.

FIRST DUSTER OF YEAR BLOWS OVER PANHANDLE

(By The Associated Press)

The first dust clouds of the season, buffeted by a strong southwest wind, subsided in the Texas Panhandle today as a light rain fell and cooler weather replaced unseasonably high temperatures.

Dense clouds of dust blew into Amarillo early yesterday as the temperature climbed to 69 degrees. Late in the day the storm abated and after nightfall rain fell to clear the air. Wind velocity ranged from 38 to 50 miles an hour.

The storm followed a year of slightly sub-normal rainfall. Precipitation during 1936 averaged 14 to 16 inches over the Panhandle where normal is about 20 inches a year.

Commercial airliners cancelled stops at Amarillo, making the trip over the storm with limited loads west from Wichita to Albuquerque but with full loads eastbound.

The wind carried a trace of dust as far as Wichita Falls. High temperatures were general over the state. Fort Worth, with 82 degrees, reported the highest reading. The temperature at Dallas was 79, Brownsville 76 and Houston 75.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—A shifting wind thinned swiring dust clouds over the Oklahoma Panhandle early today.

The dust cut visibility at Boise City, in the Panhandle, to five feet, spreading eastward over the state. visibility at Oklahoma City was cut to one and half miles but the haze gradually was lifting.

Guymon reported the dust was clearing early today, with the southwestern wind which carried the silt, shifting to the north.

SEE THE GULLS? THEY ARE JUST 'BIGGEST BUMS'

Why Don't They Fly South—He Likes Sparrows

By DALE HARRISON

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Maybe it isn't fair to take up your time with this story of the birds.

The only thing is that men stand there and watch the birds for hours, fascinated; stand there along the East river, down where the bridges go over to Brooklyn.

"Them gulls," said the man in the frayed black overcoat, "are the biggest bums I ever see."

The birds are bums.

"Look at 'em. See the wash from that car ferry as it rolls in? It bobbs 'em around, but nothin' seems to stir 'em up.

"See the gulls flyin' high up, circulin'? Just a few, ain't they? Just a few flyin'—workin'—while hundreds are just squattin' down on the water. Lazy birds. Big, fat lazy birds. Biggest bums I ever see.

"If I had wings like them birds, I'd fly away, you can betcha. I'd fly where it was summer, where it was warm, and green. Then I'd rest . . .

"Of course, there's trains running, and I guess I could hook a ride; but somehow I ain't got much stomach for travel any more. It's easier stayin' here in New York. A guy can always get a feed and a flop.

"But if I had wings . . . look at 'em! Just floating on the tide; lazy. Biggest bums I ever see."

Behind him in the leafless bushes that bordered a public playgroung, an outlandish jabbering was heard. The sparrows, hundreds of them, were catering.

The man turned.

"Lots of people don't like sparrows," he said. "They ain't pretty, they're scavengers, and they don't sing good. They just jibber-jabber. They just hop around.

"The robins and the ducks and the meadow larks fly down south for the winter. The poor things can't stand the cold weather!

"But the sparrows, who ain't pretty and ain't got no voices much, have to stay here. When it gets cold they pull themselves into a puff and make the best of it.

"They're the poor people of the birds. They can't take no Bermuda cruises. They gotta stay up here with seven million human beings, and no trees to speak of, and stick it out.

"See how close they'll let yuh get? Sparrows aren't always that way. But down here they know nobody'll hurt 'em. You gotta watch the foreigners when robins are around. They make pie outta them. But not outta sparrows. They're too poor, even for the poor."

The man began to rub his hands together briskly to renew the circulation, for it was cold.

"They stay at home and jibber-jabber, probably gossipin' about the ritzy robins. And the gulls just float around on the tide. Don't do nothin'.

" . . . Biggest bums I ever see."

TOO MUCH DOG

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Councilman Louis Mascari intends to be a zealous guardian of the welfare of buffalo hot-dog consumers.

TELEPHONE MEN STILL WORKING TO REPAIR ICE-WRECKED LINES

January Storm Does More Than $1,500,000 Damage to Telephone System of Southwest.

Telephone men, still at work repairing the damage from the $1,500,000 sleet which swept from the Iowa border to the Gulf in January, can remember no worse ice storm.

Yet they found, as they set about replacing 26,000 poles and 18,000 miles of wire leveled by the blast, that this year's disaster actually did less damage than the smaller 1924 ice storm. The reasons:

Sturdier Poles

First—Most telephone poles today are creosoted yellow pine. They stand under ice that would snap poles used years ago. Fewer broken poles mean that linemen repairing fallen lines can make faster progress at restoring service.

Second—Constructed at heavy cost several years ago, an underground long distance cable through the heart of the storm belt "carried on." It formed a backbone of communication from which emergency lines could quickly be "patched through" to almost 100 isolated towns.

10 Years of Effort

These things . . . improvements of the last 10 years . . . are a part of the Bell System's constant effort to make its lines proof against storm and disaster.

Constantly, too, the Bell System must be ready to go into action when disaster does strike. One advantage of its far-flung organization is that the men, the materials and the financial resources are always available for prompt and adequate repair of the damage.

To those customers who were without service because of the storm, perhaps for several days, the company expresses its appreciation for their patience during a trying period.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company

Repair crews, rushed into January sleet storm area, found miles of telephone line flattened by ice.

This lineman is patching through an emergency telephone line to an isolated town.

TOO LITTLE LEGISLATION OFTEN BETTER THAN TOO MUCH

Recent news reports stated that the Nebraska one-house legislature has erected many safeguards against pell-mell action on bills.

We think that if this were the only accomplishment of the system—which has served as a laobratory in political science for the nation—it is a good one.

Perhaps one of the greatest legislative evils of any state in the union is over-legislation. So many laws are enacted at each session of the legislature in most states each year that it is either impossible to enforce them, or that it takes a year's battle in the courts to learn if the new law is constitutional, or to learn which law supersedes which.

We have known personally of many astute members of the legal profession who have sweat over tomes of legislative endeavors in a futile effort to gain a clear understanding and interpretation of various examples of apparently well-meaning efforts on the part of the law-makers.

The word that tells us about the Nebraska legislature, adds that it has adopted measures which members believe will prevent passage of hastily and ill-considered legislation. Under rules perfected during the first two weeks of the session, 17 days is the minimum time for consideration of any proposed measure unless the rules are suspended.

It might be wise for all Texans to tuck away also in their minds that fact that the unicameral legislature is expected to effect a large saving to the taxpayers of Nebraska insofar as its own expense is concerned. Taxpayers and voters of every other state in the union are keeping a watchful eye on this situation: The total cost of the last regular two-house session in Nebraska was $202,593.49.

It is estimated that the present session will cost not more than $150,000 and probably much less than that.

Of course, we realize that the item of cost is not the only thing to be considered when it comes to a thorough discussion of new legislative set-ups, but we do think that it is an item which is becoming of greater importance each day, especially to the overburdened taxpayer in the United States.

Nebraska's legislature may be described as a partial departure from the historic American system of "checks and balances," but certainly it has its merits—many of which would be worth of consideration right here "in our own back yard."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—Some people always have been known to expect quite a lot for a nickel, and it is perhaps just a coincidence that some of those who crab most incessantly at performances of the government are always happy when they can help see to it that this or that federal branch is forced to go hopping along on one leg.

One of the items in the president's reorganization program which is stirring up the most opposition in Congress calls for the hiring of a half dozen capable executive assistants at the White House to help the president administer his man-killing job. This might cost $60,000 or $75,000 a year.

Right now, in Washington, there is a perceptible temporary breakdown in leadership. Those close enough to the creaking machinery to analyze what's happening insist that this is due primarily to the inefficiency of a one-man system of government, in which the "one man" has at his side no able aides to serve as conduits for incoming information and outgoing exercise of executive power.

★ ★ ★

On at least a couple of occasions, Roosevelt was up nearly all night handling or inquiring into flood problems. He has had to keep constantly in touch with developments in the General Motors strike.

Either of these two jobs would be enough for a man in whom ultimate power resided. Roosevelt, however, also is trying to supervise promotion of a new and far-reaching program for minimum wages and maximum hours, mulling over possible plans for a constitutional amendment or other method of curbing the supreme court, and working out details of his reorganization program, while wondering how to get congressional approval for that program's framework.

At the same time, he is grappling with neutrality legislation and the intricate financial and other aspects of foreign affairs, doping out the budget and relief expenditures, and attending to a thousand other details with which he cannot now avoid contact while running the biggest business in the world.

It isn't hard to sympathize with the president when he says, as he said recently:

"I just don't get time to think."

★ ★ ★

The well-organized capacity of members of Congress to sympathize with themselves may make it easier to put the whole New Deal under civil service than is commonly expected.

Congressmen will always be avid for patronage as long as there is patronage to be had, but officials of long experience in dealing with them about jobs say the chief thing the average congressman fears is that some other congressman will get more gravy than he.

Most of the sounder, more useful members are tired of serving as personal employment agencies. They do it because anyone who tries to attend to business to the neglect of patronage is almost sure to get licked. That has been especially true of Democratic congressmen in the last four years.

General civil service would mean a considerable saving for the taxpayers, who now support thousands of useless political job-holders. But many congressmen are especially concerned about their own pocketbooks. It costs money, they explain, to stake job-seekers to money for board and room in Washington while they wait around hopefully for a job.

Good Evening! . . . No doubt you have noticed that this has been moving day and here we are "all set" in our new abode . . . Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK.—In "High Tor," a romantic fable of the Dutch crew that roams the Hudson highlands for three centuries, waiting for their ship to return, the second act curtain rises on a bowling contest.

The audience, returning from their cigarettes in the lounge, are mildly astonished at seeing these 16th century tars drinking gin and bowling merrily in a glade.

"See," jeered one lady to her spouse, "you needn't have been so nasty about escorting me to the theater tonight. Judging by the present position of your team in the league, you might pick up some pointers from these boys."

Plunging into the midst of a riot in Union Square, a policeman broke his stick over the head of an annoyer.

Another roisterer exclaimed indignantly: "They don't care what happens to their clubs. It doesn't come out of their salaries!"

Now that Eugene O'Neill is some $40,000 richer by virtue of his Nobel award, I am reminded of Paul Normand's unflattering appraisal of the playwright in his book, "New York."

"As a thinker, he is quite elemental," is the way Morand sums him up.

However, this was written several years ago, and Morand may have revised his opinion of O'Neill.

The crowds swarming into Grand Central Palace are admiring a new 425-pound bob sled, advertising winter sports. . . . However, outside in Lexington avenue the pedestrians are having all the winter sport they can handle, plodding through snow and warding off icy blasts.

★ ★ ★

I have often thought an attractive brochure could be written about New York by merely listing its most romantic streets and the things for which each stands.

For instance, there are no brooms on Broome street except those owned by servants and housewives, nor are there native fruits in Mulberry street, but there are plenty of maidens on Maiden Lane. . . . It received its name because of the pretty Dutch girls who used to beat their linen there.

Rose street its remembered principally because 100 yeears ago it was the scene of a sensational murder. . . . Center street is the heart of the police system. . . . Canal and Winchester offer grim frontages of iron works, such as dynamos, pulleys, saws, wires, chains, and cranes. . . . Third avenue is where professional mourners may be hired for $8 a day. . . .In Ridge street you can buy pigeons ranging in value from 25 cents to $25.

And of course South street, although now modernized beyond redemption, was once the last stronghold of full-bosomed clipper and whaling ships. . . . next to Fleet street in London, Park Row was the world's most famous newspaper street, but now there aren't any papers there. . . The big dailies have scattered all over town.

So it goes. . . . Each street has its romance and its history, although to get them all would requie several O'Henrys and a Lafcadio Hearn.

Talks to parents

By Brooke Peters Church

FRET AND WORRY

Mrs. Brown was a habitual worrier. She looked for worries. If her husband and children were all safely under one roof she worried about her neighbors or the pets or tomorrow's events.

If one of the children was out in the car, she had no peace of mind. She thought of a hundred things that might happen and fretted until he came home. She worried about money matters, about household affairs, about her own and her husband's health.

To be sure, the family was sick very often, there were numerous small motor accidents in which some member of the family was involved, money crises were frequent, for Mr. Brown never seemed to get ahead in business. It looked as though Mrs. Brown were justified in fearing trouble.

But it is quite possible that her worrying was in itself responsible for much of the misfortune that dogged the family. The children were in a constant state of nervous tension when they drove the car. If their mother was with them, she resorted to back-seat driving, which confuses and upsets any driver. If she were not there, the memory of her warnings and crepe-hanging still haunted the driver and shook his confidence.

The same was true of her husband's work. Instead of receiving support and encouragement from his wife, he was kept in a constant state of anxiety which showed itself in his business.

Nothing affects health like worry. Anxiety lowers resistance and makes the system liable to any infection.

In the long run, nothing has been gained by worry and much may have been lost. It can be overcome. Laughter, fresh air and plenty of occupation for mind and body are a splendid antidote to corrosive care.

DIABETES PHILOSOPHY

At least 1,400,000 persons suffer from diabetes in the United States, according to conservative estimates. This gives a rate of one diabetic person out of every 100.

This figure, however, is slightly misleading, for diabetes is not "evenly distributed." It is more prevalent among the older age groups, appearing most prominently in the fourth and later decades of life. Furthermore, diabetics are members of family groups, and the sufferer's altered regimen unavoidably involves those close to him. The problem must therefore be envisaged in terms not alone of the patients, but of the entire community.

The diabetic, to live his life well, requires not only dietetic regulation and insulin but also, as Dr. Blair Holcomb points out, a suitable philosophy of life.

By way of illustration, we may consider the well meant but destructive show of simpathy and pity frequently manifested by well persons toward the diabetic. Such thoughtless remarks as "Oh, must you always weigh your food?" "Is it necessary to take insulin as long as you live?" and "Don't you dread those terrible insulin reactions?" tend to put the patient on the defensive and to break down his morale. And morale is what the diabetic needs most.

Dr. Holcomb has well said that "excepting those individuals who have arteriosclerosis or its complications, a diabetic who accepts the diabetic philosophy may be promised a normal measure of strength and weight, ability to resume his former economic and social position and a normal (life) expectancy. On the other hand, if he rejects it he may just as certainly be assured of invalidism, impaired economic efficiency and a shortened life."

In substance this philosophy of the diabetic life calls for an understanding of the nature of the disease, and for a full appreciation of the necessity to live within the restrictions imposed. The latter means "dietetic arithmetic," the careful measuring of the foods eaten, and their proper admixture in terms of carbohydrates, proteins and fats. It also means training in the use of insulin and in the regulation of the dosage.

Most of all, it means the power and willingness to adhere to prescribed regimen, in the full conviction that "a diabetic is a potentially normal individual except for the fact that he has a decreased insulin production."

Lindys Hop Off In Squally Weather

ROME, Feb. 8 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off from Littorio field today in their touring monoplane in weather described by an airport official as unfit for a light plane.

The sky was overcast and there was a brisk wind blowing when they took off on the next leg of their reported flight to Egypt.

An airport official said emphatically:

"No light plane should fly in today's weather."

Their first destination was given as either Brindisi or Catania.

(Brindisi is on the southeastern coast of the peninsula on an overland route, White Catania, on the east coast of the island of Sicily, would mean a considerable part of their flight might lie over open sea.)

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

FREDERIC J. HASKINS

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily NEWS Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What are the real names of Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire, the movie stars? H. N.

A. Ginger Rogers' real name is Virginia Katherine McMath while Fred Astaire was named Frederick Austerlitz.

Q. How many windows are there in the Empire State building, New York City? W. F.

A. The Empire State building has 6,400 windows.

Q. Who started the National Congress of Parents and Teachers? R. F.

A. It had its inception in the meeting called by Phoebe Apperson Hearst and Alice McLellan Birney in Washington, D. C., in 1897. It was then known as the National Congress of Mothers.

Q. When was the sentence "Union and Liberty, now and forever, one and inseparable" uttered? T. M.

A. This is the conclusion of Webster's Reply to Hayne, delivered in the United States Senate in January, 1830.

Q. Does a stag live without water in the winter time? D. R.

A. In winter or spring, the stag rarely drinks water, depending on dew and tender herbage for moisture. In the summer time, the stag frequents brooks and springs, and takes refreshing baths in deeper water when possible.

Q. Where is the Isle of Dogs? W. M.

A. This is a peninsula of London extending into the Thames opposite Greenwich. It contains large shipbuilding yards and docks. The name is derived from the fact that the king's hounds were formerly kept there.

Q. Does the Benedictine Order occupy itself with teaching, or is nursing included? H. N.

A. In the country, the Benedictines have been mainly engaged in teaching, but in the Middle West, particularly, have established hospitals and schools of nursing.

Q. What is meant by Recent Period in geology? C. B.

A. It is usually applied to the time included since the appearance of man on the globe. It is also called the Human Epoch.

Q. What is the standard system for printing for English-reading blind in this country? L. H.

A. He is 67. This traveler and lecturer is an American. He was born in Chicago, Jan. 8, 1870.

Q. Why were the pyramids of Egypt built in this form? S. F.

A. It is believed that the Egyptians considered the pyramid a symbol of human life. The broad base was significant of the beginning of life, and the point its termnination in this plane of existence.

Our Neighbor—South America

North and South America are neighbors of the nearest and friendliest type. They are close together geographically and diplomatically. They share the same name, and enjoy in common the benefits of the Panama canal. In recent years radio and airplane have brought them nearer to each other.

But what do we of North America know about our southern friends? Are we familiar with their positions, their climates and resources, their principal cities, their rivers and mountains?

The Pampa Daily News offers a fine map of South America that will give a clearer knowledge of our southern neighbors. It is in colors, 21 x 28 inches in size, and its reverse side is a condensed atlas replete with vital geographical and commercial statistics.

This map is invaluable to teachers and students, and is a convenient size for the home and office.

This, That and Everything

By JESS KELLEY

Speaking about hobbies—I heard of a new one the other day. While listening to a small group of men discuss their particular hobbies, I heard a certain judge say that he once had a hobby of gathering egg-shells. Through the co-operation of his many friends he was able to collect hundreds of shells representing most every kind of bird in the entire country. He said that people sent him egg-shells from various parts of the United States. It seems that when we get into the realm of hobbies, it is difficult to discover anything new. About the time we think we have become original in some peculiar pastime, we discover that some fellow has beaten us to it. This hobby I told you about may not be a new one for you but it is to me. I have heard of hobbies all my life but this business of collecting egg-shells strikes me as being most energetic.

Having a hobby is an excellent way for a persons to become well informed along some line of special interest. Amateurs amusing themselves in various fields of research have been known to make valuable discoveries. When a man has a hobby, he studies the object of his hobby simply because of his love for it. Such spontaneous concentration on a subject is the most effective attitude of mind for any one who wishes to know his subject well. Who would doubt that the egg-shell collector knew as much about the classification of egg-shells as the average professor of zoology?

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Screen and radio, those supposed natural enemies, are lying down together, lion and lamb fashion, and the dog-eat-dog prospect appears less forbidding.

But this is something the movie powers had better investigate: three tourists came to town last week, and each separately sneered at the idea of visiting a movie studio. What he wanted, each said, was to attend a Jack Benny broadcast . . . .

Many a personal pang was felt at the passing of Richard Boleslawski aside from Hollywood's industrial regret at the loss of a talented director.

"Boley" was such a genial, happy, down-to-earth fellow, like a good-natured boy with his expansive grin that one seldom thought back to his days of Hollywood anguish . . . Not even to that particular day, when, in poverty's extremity, he returned inconspicuiusly to the studio where he had been a power and asked for work, any kind of work—and didn't get it, not even a job as a gardener's helper . . . .

When he landed again, he was kept so busy making pictures that he had no time for vacations . . . But he still had time for the "little people" of the lots, the workers who "don't matter." . . . Way for a Lancer!

Rat Trainer

Curley Twiford trains rats, and has 150 other animals—trained—at his command.

On the "Seventh Heaven" set, however, it was Twiford's rats, three in number, that held the center of the stage, which to them was James Stewart's face.

Stewart was doing those trench sequences. All the rats had to do to earn their $10 a day each was to scurry over Stewart's face, thence to a crude table to gorge on stale cheese.

How Stewart felt about the procedure I did not ascertain, but it was obvious that Curley had an artistic interest in the rats' behavior. He admitted that he has had anxious moments with them. Although the rats are trained, primitive instincts are not easily forgotten that they would disdain to nibble at an expensive film actor's cheek.

Curley always guards against this reversion to type by providing a more tempting bait, such as the cheese above noted. He figures that cheese, in this contingency, makes the world safe for actors—doubtless because of the traditional preference of rodents for cheese to ham.

War Film Flopped

Such little things can defeat a screen writer's hopes. Two youngsters wrote a filmusical, and for no especial reason placed it in a war-time setting. They didn't know that their producer had made a flop of his last film about that particular war—but that was his cue to throw out their script.

General W. B. Hazen is generally credited with promoting adoption of a standard time system for the United States. A native of West Hartford, Vt., he died in 1887.

CRIPPLED PAMPANS TO PLAY STRONG PANTHER TEAM TOMORROW NIGHT

FOUR ON FIRST STRING SUFFER FROM INJURIES

AMARILLO, FLOYDADA TO PLAY HERE IN WEEK-END

The Pampa Harvesters will wind up the 1937 basketball season, excepting for participation in the district tournament, this week when they meet three of their strongest opponents.

Tomorrow night the Mitchellmen will clash with the Panthers of Coach Pat Gerald in the local gymnasium. The second "strings" will take the floor at 7:15 o'clock with the Panthers and Harvesters meeting about 8 o'clock. Admission to both tussels will be 10 cents for students and 25 cents for adults.

Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm, a gentle zephyr so far on the hardwood floor, will blow into Pampa Friday night for a return game. The Harvesters beat Amarillo on their home floor two weeks ago.

Closing the season, the Floydada Whirlwinds will be here on Saturday night. On a recent road trip, the Harvesters lost a heart-breaking game with the Whirlwinds.

Coach Mitchell and his boys returned Saturday night from a trip to Lubbock and Plainview where they lost games. Coach Mitchell had four ailing players but despite the handicap, the boys played stellar ball. Norman Cox displayed his best form of the year.

James Dewey, fast-stepping forward, was unable to play at Lubbock and was in less than three-quarters of the Plainview game because of a knee injury. Toppy Reynolds, guard, played with a toenail almost off and Albert Ayer had not recovered from blood poisoning in his arm. Cox, despite a sore ankle, played good ball. Claude Heiskell was the only "whole" Harvester on the team.

Lubbock and Plainview both played outstanding ball, especially in the final stanzas.

SAM SNEAD WINS BING CROSBY'S TOURNAMENT

DEL MAR, Calif., Feb. 8 (AP)—Touring golfers of the nation said goodbye to California's winter tournament trail today and headed for Texas with youthful Sam Snead in the lead as the latest money winner.

Snead, 24-year old pro from White Sulphur Springs, West Va., chalked up his second tournament victory of the Golden State campaign when he captured the $3,000 meet staged here by Movie Star Bing Crosby yesterday. Ten days ago he won the $3,000 Oakland open.

Clipping four strokes off par with 68, Snead finished ahead of George Von Elm of Hollywood with 72 to taken $500 first prize and $262.50 for a tie in the pro-amateur best ball competition.

Von Elm, former national open champion, collected $350 for the second lowest gross score.

Rain shortened the two-day 36-hole program to one day and 18 holes but there were 135 starters yesterday despite chilly weather and soggy fairways.

With Snead the only player to break par and Von Elm the only one to equal it, four pros trailed with 73's and won $181.25 apiece. They were Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa.; James Fogerty, Boston; Fay Coleman, Culver City, Calif., and Leonard Dodson, Springfield, Mo.

Next stop on the golf tourists' itinerary is Houston, Tex., where an open tournament will be held this weekend.

SANTA ANITA HANDICAP TO BE RUN ON FEB. 27

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Pacific Coast turf followers doubtless will acclaim a new champion after the running of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap on Feb. 27.

Fred M. Algar Jr.'s Azucar, winner of the rich stake's inaugural in 1935,, is being pointed for the $50,000 Widener challenge cup in Florida, and A. A. Baroni's Top Row, victor in last year's rough-riding California classic, has been thrown out of training.

Defaults of these former winners leaves Mrs. F. A. Carreaud's Time Supply the logical successor. Time Supply was third in 1935, second in 7936, and needs only to run back to his race last year, when he was bumped in the stretch, to capture the major portion of the '37 stake.

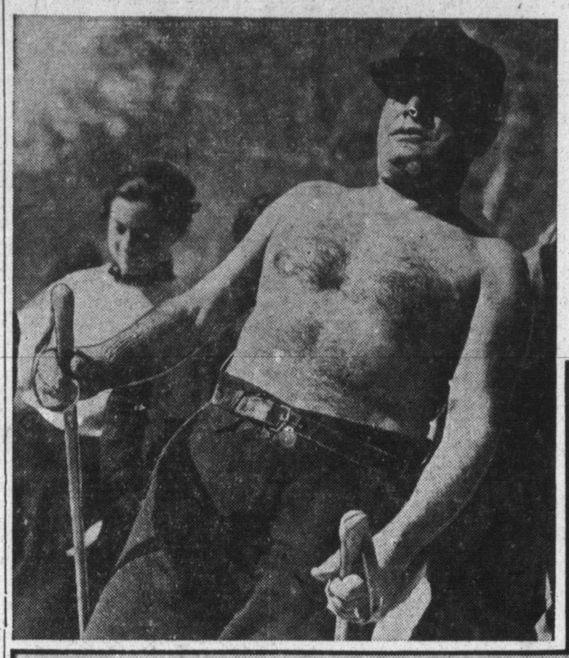

Principal threats to Time Supply's supremacy are William du Pont Jr.'s Rosemont, third last year; Elwood Sachsenmaier's Roman Soldier, winner of several stakes last fall despite faulty under-pinnings, and John Hay Whiteney's Mr. Bones, which gave Granville, 1936 three-year-old champion, a tough battle for honors last summer.

YOUTH ON TEAM

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 8 (AP)—His sensational play in the recent Australian championships today earned a place for 17-year old Jack Bromwich on Australia's 1937 Davis Cup tennis team.

Bromwich was named to the team along with Jack Crawford, Adrian Quist and Vivian McGrath. He replaces Don Turnbull.

Mussolini Dictates New Vogue for Winter Sportswear

Maybe Premier Mussolini was just trying to prove he was as much a he-man as Romulus and Remus, fabled founders of Rome famed for their amazing survival of exposure. Whatever the motive, he started a new vogue in Italian winter sports, for when he doffed his shirt (black), hundreds of others at Terminillo, the "Mountain of Rome", followed suit. He breasts the chill winter breezes without a shiver, above as ski-er, below "on the skids" of a sled.

Basketball Over The Panahandle

LUBBOCK, Feb. 8 — The firing starts at 9 o'clock Friday morning in the annual District Three interscholastic league basketball tournament, in which sixteen teams are expected to participate.

The complete first round schedule, with the names of counties substituted for schools' follows:

9 a. m.—Abernathy vs Garza.
10—Terry vs Plainview High.
11—Dawson vs Lamb.
12 noon—Crosby vs Dickens.
1 p. m.—Baily vs Floyd.
2—Cochran vs Hockley.
3—Lynn vs Lubbock High.
4—Lubbock county vs Yoakum.

IDALOU, Feb. 8 — Coach Jim Neeley's Slaton High school Tigers copped the Lubbock county interscholastic basketball tournament and qualified for the district tournament at Lubbock next week by nosing out a stubborn Idalou High school quintet, 14-13, in the final game of the three-day tournament here.

LAMESA, Feb. 8 — The Lamesa High school Golden Tornadoes repeated as Dawson county basketball champions by defeating Klondike, 34 to 8, in tournament final here.

The Tornadoes, runners up in the district tournament last year, are to meet the Lamb county champions in the first round of the district tournament at Lubbock next Friday.

LEVELLAND, Feb. 8 — The Hockley county interscholastic basketball tournament, played on a round robin basis, ended in a deadlock for first place between Ropesville and Whitharral here.

The teams will clash early next week to determine the county champion and this county's delegate to the district tournament.

DANIEL BAKER AND McMURRY TO CLASH IN TITLE BATTLE

SHERMAN, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Daniel Baker-McMurry skirmish Thursday at Abilene for undisputed possession of the leadership holds the interest of Texas conference cage followers this week.

McMurry's Indians clung to the top rung in play last week by twice trouncing St. Edward's 29 to 22 and 38 to 22 but failed to gain on the Daniel Baker aggregation. The Billies dimmed the hopes of Austin with two triumphs at Brownwood Friday and Saturday, 37 to 25 and 46 to 24.

Howard Payne, 1936 titlists, made their conference debut by dividing a pair with the cellar-abiding St. Edward's Tigers. The Yellow Jackets won the first, 30 to 12, but dropped the second, 34 to 30.

Southwestern had a busy week with three games. The Pirates took one, a 34 to 27 win over Trinity, but dropped a pair to Abilene Christian, 30 to 28 and 33 to 25.

Texas Wesleyan took the measure of two loop members in non-conference games. The Rams sank Trinity and Southwestern. Austin College drubbed Southeastern of Oklahoma in a third tilt.

Texas conference standings:

	W	L	Pct.
McMurry	4	0	1.000
Daniel Baker	4	0	1.000
A. C. C.	3	2	.600
Howard Payne	1	1	.500
Austin	1	2	.333
Southwestern	2	4	.333
Trinity	1	3	.250
St. Edward's	1	4	.200

This week's game:

Monday: St. Edward's vs A. C. C. at Abilene.

Tuesday: St. Edward's vs A. C. C. at Abilene; Howard Payne vs Trinity at Waxahachie.

Wednesday: Howard Payne vs Austin at Sherman.

Thursday: Howard Payne vs Austin at Sherman; Daniel Baker vs McMurry at Abilene.

WORM FISHING DEFENDED BY ARTIFICIAL BAIT EXPONENT

WACO, Tex., Feb. 8 (AP)—A tall, slowly-speaking young printer who has won every distance fly-casting event in Texas since 1930 came out in measured phrases today to defend the lowly worm-fisherman.

Jack (McFish) Soarks, one of the southwest's leading exponents of artificial bait fishing, stopped whipping 130 feet of line long enough to drawl out the pronouncement that it takes more skill to present live bait properly to a hungry or indifferent fish than it does to entice the game with a cunningly-made imitation bug or minnow.

"The use of artificials must have been a lazy man's contribution to the art of fishing," Sparks said.

"He did not want to bother with catching live bait so he made himself a fraud and caught fish on it. Nowadays artificial bait resembles anything from a cucumber to a banana, and it gives a fellow a lot of satisfaction to fool the wisest old bass with a clever immitation, or irritate him into striking at something that lands in the water over his head.

"Today some anglers frown on the fellow who uses minnows, worms and the like on game fish. They call it a lowly practice. But it actually takes more real skill to catch them with live bait than it does with any artificial bait ever conceived."

Despite this startling thesis from such a confirmed scientific angler, he does not intend to desert his fly rod and casting rod. Instead, he is going out after the national championship.

"McFish," a youngster just out of knee-pants in 1933, hitch-hiked to Chicago to a national tournament to watch the experts in action. What he saw there brought him to Milwaukee in 1935, when he placed second with a heave of 130 feet, four inches. Prior to that, he had set a new world's record in Dallas with a cast of 131 feet, seven inches. In practice, he has cast 171 feet and plans to enter the next national tournament with the idea of setting a new mark.

Sparks, who is not above going out in a boat with a bucket of minnows after bass and crappie, fishes thruout the winter and on days when the weather or closed season will not permit fishing, he ties his own flies. He makes a minnow that actually has gill covers and fins, and his dragon flies have transparent wings on the theory that the more natural the bait, the more likely game fish are to grab for it.

"I get a big kick out of making them," he observed, "but the real thrill is filling a stringer with fish I've landed with them."

BORGER BEATS PHILLIPS BLACK HAWKS 32 TO 15

BORGER, Feb. 8 (Special)—Borger and Phillips cage teams opened a series of games, Friday night, to determine the Hutchinson County representative at the district tournament to be held at Pampa February 18-20.

Borger Bulldogs won the game by a decisive score of 32 to 15.

The Phillips girls team defeated the Borger Red Birds Thursday night 31 to 14. Until the middle of the third quarter the game was nip and tuck but the Phillipettes ran away with the game in the closing minutes.

Soldier Field Is Objective Of Chicago Forces

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Chicago forces seeking to bring a world's heavyweight title battle here next June began their "big push" today toward their current major objective—Soldier Field.

Acquisition of the huge stadium on the Lake Michigan shore, with a rental rate reduction, as a site for the 15-round battle June 15 between Champion James J. Braddock and Challenger Joe Louis was seen as a final clincher in solving the dizzy heavyweight battle puzzle. Officials were confident they would have the stadium rented within three or four days.

A letter from Sheldon Clark, wealthy Chicago sportsman who offered Braddock $500,000 to meet Louis, was in the hands of the Chicago park board, the Soldier Field governing body. Clark asked the board, which meets Tuesday, to arrange a conference to discuss rental terms.

Joe Foley, matchmaker, said Joe Gould, Braddock's manager "still is in the signing mood and I expect him to come here Feb. 15 to sign articles with Louis."

Friona Defeats Canyon 45 to 26

FRIONA, Feb. 8—Coach Jack Davis' Friona Chiefs beat the fast-flying Canyon Eagles Friday night, 43 to 26, to get revenge for a couple of early season losses to the Eagles.

Brookfield led the Chief's offense with 15 points while Houlette and Todd stood out defensively. The entire team broke fast, passed accurately and shot goals from all angles in smothering the Eagles.

Friona has lost only three games this season. The team has run up 734 points to 448 for their opponents in 18 games. Thas is an offensive average of 41 points per game. Brookfield has been the scoring ace with 360 points or an average of 20 points per game.

The Chiefs were district champions last year but were knocked out of the regional race by the Pampa Harvesters who in turn bowed to Cary, state finalists.

GUERILLAS LOSE TO PANHANDLE 13 TO 10

The Guerillas lost a 13 to 0 cage battle at Panhandle Friday night. The Panhandle starters were junior high students, but substitutions were made until the Panther second string filled every position on the team, The second string played most of the game. Omer Harrell was injured, and had to leave the game. The score at the half was 3 to 3. The lineup for Pampa included Williams and Harrell, forwards; Paul Harrell, center; Esslinger and Foster, guards. Harry McMahan substituted.

The Guerillas will play LeFors on Wednesday night here.

Lester Kappelman, Kansas cager, is a sophomore brother of Francis Kappelman, former regular guard at Kansas and now assistant basketball coach.

All Set to Fight Except for Foe

If they don't hurry up and go through with one of the bouts that have been talked of for Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock, his sons will be big enough to serve him as seconds when he does get a chance to risk his title. The boys are getting experience for that eventuality, too, acting as his seconds in training camp. Jay administers the water and Howard rubs dad down during a workout in New York City.

SPORT SLANTS by Pap

(By The Associated Press)

Annually Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees has Jack Dempsey's chef broil several hundred pounds of beefsteak and then sounds the dinner gong. All baseball writers in and around New York City come running. Unofficially, this party closes the hot stove league and marks the beginning of the actual baseball season for right on its heels, the lads start gathering in the south to condition themselves for the campaign.

A year ago the Yankees' owner, Col. Jake Ruppert, told Joe McCarthy and everyone present that he was tired of having his team finish second. He asked the manager just what he intended to do about it.

McCarthy said he agreed with the Colonel that the business of finishing in the runner-up spot was boring him, too. So much so, in fact, that he wanted to go on record as predicting the Yankees would win the pennant by 20 games, then go on to triumph in the World Series in four straight. To say the statement seemed rash is putting it mildly. I doubt that McCarthy believed it.

'McCarthy Fails'

A year later, when the last beefsteak had been devoured, Col. Ruppert stood up to address the overstuffed gathering. McCarthy, he said, had failed. After promising to win the American league pennant by a margin of 20 games, the best the Yankees could do was 19 1-2. And they didn't win the Series in four games, either. It took six to polish off the Giants.

The Colonel then ventured that he would give his manager another chance. McCarthy replied that he would endeavor to make good on his prediction this season.

Beset By Worries

In a more serious moment, McCarthy thought the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers were likely to cause trouble. He looked for the Boston Red Sox to improve. He conceded that Washington and Chicago would prove tough. The only teams Joe was not inclined to worry about were the Browns and the Athletics.

Jack Dempsey did not permit his duties as host to weigh heavily upon him. The former heavyweight champion had the time of his life harrassing the guests by applying the good old hot-foot wherever and whenever he could.

Tommy Deckard Wins Millrose

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—While the mile still is the "classic" distance in American foot-racing, each major meet brings further indications Indiana Don Lash started something when he raced to a two-mile record of 8:58.4 at Princeton last spring.

Up to that time, Paavo Nurmi's indoor standard of 8:58.2 was considered almost unapproachable, and 9:15 or thereabouts was fast running for an American. Ray Sears held the native American record of 9.074.

Now, since Lash has demonstrated a home-bred runner can travel eight furlongs in less than nine minutes, a new crop of athletes steadily is approaching that mark and taking some of the edge off the mile, despite the feats of durable Glenn Cunningham.

In the sugar bowl meet at New Orleans Wayne Rideout of North Texas Teachers college, virtually an "unknown" then, turned in the second-fastest two miles ever run by an American, 9:03.5, to defeat Lash.

Saturday night in the Millrose meet another Hoosier, Tommy Deckard, won in 9:07.6 while Lash jockeyed with the Rideout twins.

Cunningham's decisive victory, his third in four years in the Wanamaker mile, left no doubt of his supremacy despite the comparatively slow time of 4:14.4.

57,000 Watch Ski Jumping Matches

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 (AP)—Chicago's huge soldier field, scene of the largest crowd ever to see a boxing match, held another attendance record today.

With a heavy wind whipping in from Lake Michigan, 57,000 spectators watched the central U. S. ski jumping championships yesterday, the largest gathering ever to witness a ski event in this country. The field was jammed with 146,000 fans the night of the second Dempsey-Tunney fight in 1927.

Sverre Fredheim of Mineapolis, with leaps of 125 and 128 feet for 153 points, won the class A championship.

Warren Wright, Chicago sportsman, owns two outstanding candidates for the 19379 Kentucky Derby: Priviliged and Dustwhirl.

RUTH MAY BE RESTORED TO BIG LEAGUES

900 SCRIBES HONOR BABE AT ANNUAL DINNER

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—It appeared today, in the wake of the New York baseball writers' annual frolic, that fresh impetus had been given to the idea, at least, of restoring Babe Ruth to a spot in major league baseball.

Whether the club owners develop any new thoughts on the subject remains to be seen. Their attitude is doubtful but they hardly can have any doubts about the Babe's continued popularity, after observing the spontaneous tribute to the one-time home run king last night by a record gathering of 900 at the scribes' 14th annual dinner.

Ruth, celebrating his 42nd birthday with the aid of the writers, virtually stole the show. The Babe gave a 20-minute speech that indicated his longing to re-enter the baseball picture he left nearly two years ago, and, with a characteristic touch of Ruthian oratory, summed as follows:

"I gave the best years of my life, 22 of them, to the big leagues, but just when it seemed to me I was at the top, why, I was dumped out.

"I've got to admit baseball has been fair to me and Colonel Ruppert, in particular, has always been my best friend."

Tributes to Ruth's achievements and place in the game's history came from Postmaster General Farley, former Mayor James J. Walker and others.

Ruth shared the evening's honors with two other veteran players, Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees and Trazis Jackson, who closed his career with the Giants last season. Lazzeri was awarded the New York chapter's "player of the year" trophy. Jackson received another award, for meritorious service over a period of years.

Dinner dots and dashes: Joe Cook, the comedian, brought down the house with a monologue about playing at the old Polo Grounds with Babe Ruth's grandfather and Connie Mack as batboy . . . Before the Babe took the microphone, the lights were dimmed, and a four-decker birth cake was ceremoniously produced for the big fellow's benefit . . . Jimmy Walker prefaced his remarks with a greeting to "fellow has-bens." . . . The former mayor added: "There's a great distinction among has-beens. Some are self-made, while others have it forced on them."

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

FINANCING.

Plans are being prepared whereby Paramount Pictures will offer $20,000,000 in convertible debentures. It will be a 30-year issue carrying a 3½ per cent coupon. The proceeds will be used to refund the outstanding 6 per cent debentures due 1955.

An informed source expects that the convertible feature will give the buyer the right to convert into common stock at $40 a share. In order to make the bonds attractive directors are expected to place the common shares on a $2 annual dividend basis.

RUBBER.

Long-pull commodity traders are not disturbed by the labor difficulties in the Goodrich and General Motors plants. They say that while the strikes continue the price of crude rubber will blow hot and cold. But they see a large backlog of business being built up. When the twin strikes are froned out it will release a flood of buying orders. This is expected to touch off a sharp rally in crude rubber prices.

It is also pointed out that the International Rubber Regulations Committee's ruling late last month to increase production might relieve the tight situation for a spell. "But nothing can be done to augment the dwindling world stocks of rubber."

LISTING.

Glenn L. Martin's 1936 net is reliably estimated at 88 cents per share. Current bookings are about 50 per cent greater than those at this time last year. But since 90 per cent of the backlog is foreign business—on which the profit margins aren't restricted—the company's showings this year will run much higher than that of last year. The company plans to make application for listing of its shares on the Big Board. This will be done late this month or early in March.

CLEAR AWAY.

According to an indenture of the Holly Sugar $7 preferred stock the common shares can receive no more than $2 a year in dividends. The clause recites that this must be so unless the preferred shares are redeemed or funds have been set aside for redemption purposes. Since a $2 dividend is to be paid to common stockholders on Feb. 1 they can't expect any more for the balance of the year.

But there's hope. Your correspondent has learned that something is to be done about that preferred clause. A refunding operation is expected. New preferred will be sold without such a clause included. And—the new shares will carry a lower interest rate. This will leave the field clear for additional dividend payments to common shareholders. The move is expected to be completed in either June or July.

WHEAT.

Statistically informed grain circles say that indications throughout the world point to a general increase in wheat acreage this year. Looking ahead they say the weather will have to be much more unfavorable this year than last to reduce the output. Germany and Italy are believed to have taken about all they can for the present. In all, the best of grain interests are of the opinion that world price influencing factors point to further declines in wheat values—unless a European war breaks out this summer.

CANS.

Weakness of American Can, Continental Can and McKeesport Tinplate isn't surprising to Financial Whirligig readers. Several times your correspondent has warned of not only probable price cutting but the possibilities of labor difficulties. Current liquidation of the shares of the can manufacturing companies has been traced to investment trusts.

REPORTS ARE THAT:

Flood reconstruction activity will benefit paint, cement, lumber and sanitary equipment manufacutrers . . . United States Rubber management planning to retire present non-callable preferred with a new preferred issue carrying a lower interest rate . . . Most every speculative quarter knows something bullish about Nash-Kelvinator . . . Westvaco Chlorine convertible preferred held for income and appreciation possibilities . . . Canadian Pacific's revenue prospects aided by increased business activity throughout Canada . . . American Smelting and Refining to offer stockholders of record rights to subscribe to new common stock at $70 a share—rights will be one new for each five held . . . For fiscal year ending Feb. 27 Collins & Aikman will show over $7 a share—dividend extra to be announced.

Increased typewriter sales attributed to growing popularity of portable machines . . . With National Dairy Products nor Borden's offering speculative appeal the shares are being avoided—former held for income . . . Detroit circles see Hudson Motors liquidating its RFC loan . . . Kennecott Copper running a poor second to Climax Molybdenum in molybdenum output . . . American Tel & Tel will cover its annual dividend this year with $1 a share to spare . . . Lily-Tulip Cup's dividend reasonably secure . . . Manhattan Shirt to increase prices on its fall lines . . . Portfolio managers like long-term outlook for Armstrong Cork . . . And, that Standard Oil of New Jersey's 1936 net will make best reading since 1929—insiders estimate 1937 net at close to $5 a share.

MORROWED MOUNTAINS

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Chamber of Commerce officials viewed a newsreel purportedly put out by the Miami Beach, Fla., publicity department showing four girls riding aquaplanes. They stared—incredulous—then rushed to a telegraph office.

To Mayor Louis F. Snedigar of Miami Beach went this wire: "We are glad to share our beautiful girls, our sun-kissed Pacific ocean . . . but don't you agree that our lovely mountain- girded shoreline as a background for a Florida picture is surprising if not actually startling."

Iowa in 1936 had the hottest and driest summer on record.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Where and when was Soule University established and how long was it continued?

A. Soule University, a Methodist school, was established at Chapel Hill, Washington county, in 1856, an effort of the Methodist church to replace Rutersville college, which was merged that year with the Texas Monument and Military Institute at Bastrop.

Q. Why did Americans come to Texas and take land away from the Mexicans when they had more at home than they could use?

A. There were many reasons, chief of these being: most of the early settlers had lost their homes and resources in the panic of 1819 and sought to retrieve their losses in a country where land was given away; they had the adventuring, pioneering spirit of their forefathers; Mexico was unable to induce Mexicans to settle and develop Texas and welcomed foreigners under certain restrictions; opportunities for acquiring homes and making money seemed better in Texas.

Q. When and by whom were the first town lots surveyed in Houston?

A. In November, 1936, by Moses Lapham a native of Ohio and a hero of San Jacinto.

Q. For what is Aransas Pass most noted?

A. As a game fishing resort, especially for tarpon, one of the gamest fish in the gulf of Mexico; it is also the largest crude oil shipping point in the world.

Q. What was the total travel and hotel bill of Texas officials and employes for the last fiscal year and how was it distributed?

A. For the fiscal year, which ended Aug. 31, 1936, the total travel expenses was $1,057,867 as follows: oil and gasoline $122,408; operation of individually owned cars at 5 cents a mile, $492,441; railroad and bus fares $46,832; hotels and rooms, $178,601; meals, $202,403; miscellaneous expense items, $15,182.

GALE FORCES LINDY COUPLE TO LAND SHIP

PALERMO, Sicilily, Feb. 8 (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Palermo at 3:10 p. m. today (8:10 a. m., C. S. T.) after fighting a 65-mile-an-hour gale in their flight from Rome.

Their flight from the capital took slightly less than five hours, with an average speed of only 60 miles an hour because of the heavy wind blowing near the island of Utica.

Shortly before their orange and black monoplane was sighted over Bocca di Falco airport, officials ordered emergency landing fields to be on the alert for the American fliers, whose ultimate destination was believed to be Cairo, Egypt.

Regional air squadrons had been ordered to be ready to give assistance to the Lindberghs if they were forced down.

United States Vice Consul W. E. Scotten and a group of Italian air officials breathed deep sighs of relief when the plane finally flashed down to a landing.

They had been waiting for three hours, in increasing anxiety.

Colonel Lindbergh, swinging his long legs out of the cockpit, told them he ran into the storm almost as soon as he left Rome.

Then, he said, he gave up the idea of flying a bee-line across the Tyrrhenian sea to this Sicilian city and, instead, followed the coastline down to the tip of the Italian "boot" before crossing to the island.

The Lindberghs went to the Hotel Delle Palme after greeting the officials. They were expected to leave in a day or two for Tripoli.

BLUNDERING CHARGED IN RIVER WATER FIGHT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 8 (AP)—Record flood crests apparently tamed by the river's sturdy levees pushed slowly down the Mississippi today while a civic group charged "official blundering" in the valley's high water battle.

The Greenville (Miss.) Rotary club deplored "the reckless manner in which unwarranted predictions of disaster have been made by a few of those charged with the duty of our protection and resolved "to fix later on the responsibility therefor to the end that it shall not happen again." It said "panic" created by high water predictions "has now happily been mostly allayed" in Washington county.

Specific reference was made to a Washington order calling for the army high command to mobilize for the evacuation of as many as 500,000 residents within 50 miles of the Mississippi river from Cairo to New Orleans, if it became necessary.

"We especially deplore the blunder in Washington about enforced evacuation of the Yazoo basin among other areas," the club said. "That a feeble attempt at correction later was made does not minimize the original error."

Root Dies

Elihu Root

A "very bad cold" which confined him to his New York home was fatal to Elihu Root, above, 92-year-old statesman and jurist. Root, secretary of war under McKinley, secretary of state under Theodore Rosevelt, and former member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague, retired from public life only a few years ago.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Elihu Root is gone from the stage of world events where he starred for more than half a century as lawyer, statesman and diplomat.

Scores of the nation's prominent, mourning his death yesterday at 91, hailed him for his accomplishments in many fields.

Simple funeral services will be held tomorrow on the campus of his alma matter, Hamilton College, at Clinton, N. Y., where he was born and grew to manhood. Burial will be at Clinton. His career carried him to international prominence in the cabinets of William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt and later during the years following the world war.

He became ill of bronchial pneumonia several days ago.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IN 1902, records obtained from sounding-balloons released from the Observatory of Trappes, near Paris, disclosed for the first time the existence of the stratosphere . . . a region of air several miles above the earth, where temperature ceases to fall with increase of altitude.

LIEUTENANT SCHWAB INFORMATION RELAYED TO OFFICER KETTERING, CONTINUED.

Only information available at the moment regarding Mr. Carlton Rocksavage and his daughter:

MR. ROCKSAVAGE. From "Who's Who," 1936.

ROCKSAVAGE, Carlton Henry b. Detroit, 17 Dec., 1876; 3rd s. of late Theodore Henry and late Rose Emma; m. 1912, Antoinette Gloria (d. 1928) o. c. of late Julius C. Pritchard of Bridgeport, Conn.; one d. Educ. Rudd College and Technical Schools. Spears Cunliff Coy, 1898, Standard Oil, 1904, Director Bloomberg & Frien, 1907, Managing Director, 1909. President Bloomberg Rocksavage, 1912. Chairman and Managing Director Grandol Soaps, 1915. President Denton Bros. in 1916. Formed Sen Toilet Preps., 1918. Founder and President Rocksavage, Inc., 1922. Rocksavage, Con., 1933. Recreations: yachting, golf. Address: 1482 Riverside Drive, N. Y. C.; Lake House. Wading River, Long Island. T. RV. 4827; WAD. 362. Clubs: Union, Grolier, New York Yacht, Hython, Corinthian Yacht, Bevor Dam Sports; London, American; Paris, Travelers.

Further to the above we have no police record, but the following details are based on general information:

Carlton Rocksavage came of a respectable middle-class family but, as a younger son, had to make his own way. On finishing his education he entered the soap firm of Spears Cunliff and, six years later, transferred to Standard Oil, in both of which he gained considerable general experience. He left the latter to become a director, again in soap, of Bloomberg Frien, a small company of which he soon became the moving spirit.

His rise to eminence as a financier dates, however, from his marriage with Antoinette Pritchard in 1912. Her father put up the necessary capital and the firm was reorganized as Bloomberg Rocksavage in the autumn of that year, with Rocksavage as president.

The company secured large contracts from the Allies for supplies in the early stages of the war and it was in order to take advantage of war contracts that Rocksavage assumed the chairmanship of Grandol Soaps, which had their headquarters in Paris, in 1915.

The following year he also became president of Denton Bros., Inc., and by that time his financial interest was spreading in every direction.

Early in 1918 he formed Sen Toilet Preparations to handle other lines allied to the soap industry and at the conclusion of the war he was reputed to be worth a very considerable fortune. His companies suffered somewhat in the after-slump but various retrenchments were effected and his business continued to develop in all parts of the world, until the depression set in. 1932, however, found him in very serious difficulties and it was rumored then that he might go under.

His original partner, Mostyn Bloomberg, died in November of that year. The cause of his death was never cleared up quite satisfactorily. He was found dead in his office chair one afternoon and poison of a subtle variety, which which would leave little trace, was suspected.

It is believed, however, that, if this was the case, the poison was self-administered as Bloomberg, in addition to having a large and expensive family, had lived with the utmost extravagance for many years, and had come to the end of his financial resources. No suspicion attaches to Rocksavage in this matter, although he was present in the same block of offices at the time.

After his partner's death he reorganized as Rocksavage Consolidated in January, 1933, and then succeded in bringing his companies through the depression.

He has, however, never regained his financial strength and last year has shown a steady decline in the shares of those concerns in which he is interested. This is largely due to a price cutting war which he has been waging with the British soap group, controlled by Bolitho Blane.

MISS FERRI ROCKSAVAGE

Only child of the above. Born 10-5-13. Educated Heath Hurst School, Long Island, Munich and Paris. Prominent socialite and member of the young New York smart set.

On her return from Europe four years ago she at once became a press personality. Is fond of amateur acting and has appeared at nearly all smart charity shows in recent years. Much photographed and credited with numerous love affairs.

There are grounds to suppose that the Wendel-Norton marriage was broken up on her account, although she was not cited as co-respondent.

Last fall she was constantly in company with well-known film star, Jack Houghton, and there were rumors of her engagement to him at the time, but nothing came of this.

She often accompanies her father upon his yachting trips and does hostess at the big private entertainments which he gives in his New York and Long Island homes. She is often absent at house parties, however, and lives the independent life of a modern young woman.

DESCENDANT OF TEXAS GOVERNOR SUCCUMBS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Kate Throckmorton, 76, niece of J. W. Throckmorton, governor of Texas in 1886, died at the home of a daughter here today.

Mrs. Throckmorton was the widow of W. E. Throckmorton, retired Okmulkee farmer and Civil War veteran.

Survivors include a son, James Throckmorton of Okmulgee, two sisters, Mrs. Bea Rosson of Plainview, Tex., and Mrs. Josie Hamilton of Lovington, N. M., and a brother, Bud Melton, of Mountainair, N. M.

Funeral services were set tentatively for Okmulgee tomorrow with burial at Pilot Point, Tex.

Weather Is Mixing Bowl For Mid-West

(By The Associated Press)

The western half of the United States was a mixing bowl for every variety of mean weather over the week-end—dust storms, cloud bursts, blizzards, floods and temperatures ranging from the high 70's to 18 below zero.

First dust storms of the year settled Monday throughout western Oklahoma, Kansas and the Texas Panhandle, due chiefly to light rains over the area and subsiding winds. During the height of the dust blow Sunday, Boise City on the western Oklahoma border reported visibility of only 5 feet. Oklahomans and Texans were warm as well as dusty. At Fort Worth the high was 82 degrees and at Oklahoma City, 72.

Heavy snows re-blanketed Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Idaho. Thirty persons were stranded in two buses on a southern Idaho highway Sunday night but rescue crews expected to reach them today. The lowest temeparture recorded Sunday was 18 below zero at Havre, Mont.

Four known deaths were attributed to storms and a fifth person, missing, was feared dead. During a 30-hour downpour that soaked southern California an automobile was swept from a bridge, drowning W. K. Hubert, coroner carpenter. Louise Dessler drowned in a San Jacinto mountain stream and Walter P. Anderson died of exposure on a canyon road near San Diego.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Stocks barged inot new high recovery ground in today's market, trailing U. S. Steel which smashed through the $100-line for the first time since the depression.

While extreme gains of fractions to around 3 points were reduced in some instances near the close, trends generally pointed substantially upward. Fast trading, flurrine were interspersed with slow intervals and transfers approximated 3,000,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—An upturn to within about two cents of the season's top price record distinguished wheat trading today.

Active profit taking, though, on the part of recent buyers caused numerous setbacks from the day's high points. Dust storms southwes and 2,262,000 bushels decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total were incentives for new purchases.

At the close, wheat was ½-1¼ above Saturday's finish, May 1.35-1.35½, July 1.17⅜-½, corn 1⅝-2⅜ up. May 1.09⅝-¾, July 1.03½-⅝, oats ¼-½ advanced and provisions showing 2 cents to 7 cents gain.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 8. (AP)—The jagged price appearance persisted during the first half of trading with the nears showing small losses while the more distant positions held gains of 1 to 6 points.

Irregularity in outside markets was thought to have exerted some influence on the trend of cotton prices. Liverpool reported some buying by local interests on reports that a proposal was being considered to sell 1,000,000 bales of untenderable cotton for flood relief purposes.

At New Orleans liquidation by long interests and transfer of holdings from nearby to distant options by the trade was the main business of the day.

Cotton cloth markets registered some improvement with the total volume of sales fairly large and prices holding steady.

J. J. MORAN DIES

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 8 (AP)—Funeral services were held at 9 o'clock this morning for J. J. Moran, 65, one of Texas' most prominent oil operators who died Friday from a heart attack. Among the survivors are the widow, one daughter, and seven sons, four of whom live in Wichita Falls. The others are John Moran of Dallas; Cecil Moran of Abilene; and Clarence Moran of Olney.

NAVAL FLIERS KILLED

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP)—Two United States navy fliers were killed today while making flights to obtain information for the weather bureau. The victims were Carl August Lind, 29, pilot and mechenist mate at the naval air station here, and William Adam Schnooberger, 39, of South Haven, Mich., chief aerographer for the station's weather bureau. The plane crashed near the country club north of the city.

In fourteen years, from 1916 to 1930, black stem rust cost farmers in the Upper Mississippi Valley an estimated $600,000,000 by destroying 422,000,000 bushels of wheat and other grain.

Modern Menus

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Service Staff Writer.

Grilling is a form of discipline; it is also a red hot way to improve a chop.

For Sunday's family get-together, try a London Grill. It has nothing to do with the coronation but it will crown your dinner with success.

London Grill.
(Six persons.)

Six loin lamb chops, one inch thick, skewered around half a lamb kidney and bound with a strip of bacon skewered in place, parboiled parsnips, three firm tomatoes, cut in half.

The broiler compartment of your stove is pre-heated for 10 minutes by turning the heat control dial to the highest temperature, or else by turning the gas cock on full.

Place the chops, with kidney and bacon, on heated broiler pan or rack, and place two inches below the red hot flame. Broil for ten minutes, then turn and add the vegetables at this time.

To prepare parsnips, parboil until almost done. Then cut in quarters in strips. Dip in melted butter, then roll lightly in cracker crumbs. Season. Arrange on grill with the half cooked chops.

Tomatoes should be cut in half, dusted with salt and pepper and a little brown sugar. Place a small square of bacon on each. Arrange on grill with chops and parsnips.

Broil all these for at least five minutes more under the hot flame. Remove to hot platter, dot chops with butter and serve all together immediately.

A Russian variation of the grill combines cubes of lamb and thick pieces of tomato and mushrooms. Arrange these alternately on steel skewers, then marinate for 20 minutes in French dressing. Drain, then broil under hot flame, turning frequently for evening grilling.

Sunday's Menu.

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit halves with marmalade, dry cereal, rice muffins, broiled link sausage, currant jelly, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Vegetable hors d'oeuvres, lamb chop mixed grill, mashed potatoes, broccoli with Hollandaise sauce.

SUPPER: Chopped green salad, eggs poached in cream, baking powder biscuits, cherry jam, tea, milk.

SORE Throat due to colds relieved by one easy swallow of pure, reliable THOXINE. No gargling. Only 35¢. THOXINE Money-back guarantee.

FINES TOTAL $409

WACO, Feb. 8 (AP)—Thirty-one persons arrested by Rangers in a raid on a night club five miles northwest of Waco paid fines yesterday totaling $409. Pleas of guilty were entered by one of the proprietors and 30 guests, Justice Wayne Lee said.

cable station at Malaga advised its home office today that Fascist troops marched into the coastal city at 1 p. m. (8 a. m. EST).

The entrance of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's soldiers was signaled by loud blasts from sirens in the port, the cable office said.

Another message at 2 p. m. declared the insurgent columns were taking over the railroad station as headquarters for the municipal garrison.

MADRID, Feb. 8 (AP)—Furious attacks, seeking to clear passsage across the Manzanares and Karama rivers, were repulsed today by Socialist defenders protecting the approach to the vital Valencia highway.

Tanks, artillery and man-power were mobilized at the confluence of the rivers, about eight miles southeast of Madrid, as Fascists continued what was believed another major offensive with its first object cutting of the capital's life-line—the road to Valencia.

The Socialist command declared efforts to surround and starve out the capital were doomed to failure because the Valencia highway, only remaining major link with the capital, could be cut in parts but still not completely isolate Madrid.

Socialist leaders said the insurgents faced the same stone-wall defense they confronted after pushing to Madrid's gates Nov. 7.

MADRID, Feb. 8 (AP)—Megaphones and loud speakers are becoming weapons in the warfare on the outskirts of this beleaguered capital as its defenders learn to mix words with bullets.

Through the amplifiers, peasants call to peasants to "come on over" and prisoners of war urge their former comrades to desert to the Socialist side.

Start of Flint Riot Quelled by National Guard

At least 15 persons were injured, one seriously, as new violence flared at Flint, Mich., in the battle between General Motors and United Automobile Workers of America over union recognition. As this picture was taken, rioting started inside Chevrolet plant No. 9, spread to the outside and workers and sympathizers swung into action as shown here, smashing windows with clubs. One woman, member of the "EB." Emergency Brigade, may be seen bashing in a window near center. Flint police were re-enforced by National Guardsmen who took over all activities in the strike-torn area.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds have a contract to train in Puerto Rico. Actually, they will train in Tampa, Fla., but may have some trouble before they do . . . They were offered a flat cash guarantee to train in Puerto Rico last year and accepted it . . . Larry McPhail, former general manager of the club, signed a contract to train down there again . . . MacPhail's successor, Warren Giles, doesn't want to take the team there.

Ralph McGill down on the Atlanta Constitution was talking to a gent who lines up athletes for one of the large universities, and the gent says the high school lads are really getting tough . . . One demanded the scout guarantee he'd play in the Rose Bowl . . . Another wanted the school to pay his way, take his family along and get them on relief . . . and another asked for a scholarship for himself and one for her sister, too . . . Ripper Collins, Cubs' first baseman in town for the baseball writers' dinner, says they had a raffle to help the flood sufferers the other night, and two of his loud shirts brought $11 each.
