Davis Trial Underway

HOUSTON (AP) - The target of an alleged murder-for-hire scheme was expected to lead off the state's case in the criminal solicitation trial of millionaire Cullen Davis.

Prosecutors indicated they would summon State District Judge Joe Eidson today to explain his role in the strange scenario that could send the Fort Worth industrialist to prison for life.

The state contends Davis, 45, instructed a one-time friend, David McCrory, to hire a gunman to kill Eidson, the presiding judge in the millionaire's protracted divorce case.

19 Dead In 2 Fires

By The Associated Press

Firefighters in Des Moines, Iowa, found 10 charred bodies in a burning department store after they were told everyone was out of the building. In Honesdale, Pa., a coroner said a fire that killed at least nine residents of a 120-year-old landmark hotel was deliberately started.

Elsewhere, a fiery auto crash Sunday on the Kansas Turnpike killed six persons reutrning from a funeral, and a mobile home fire today in eastern Ohio claimed the lives of a woman and five children.

In the Southeast, fires over the weekend consumed thousands of acres of woodland parched by drought. Some rain was forecast for the area, but weather officials said it might not be enough to end the fire danger.

The fires in Pennsylvania and Ohio destroyed the buildings in which the people died and left crews searching for more victims today. The Iowa fire in the Younkers department store may have claimed an 11th victim, officials say. Nine store employees are listed as missing and only eight bodies remain unidentified.

Times,NewsPublishing

NEW YORK (AP)-The Daily News, greeting readers with the front-page headline "HELLO THERE, REMEMBER US?" and The New York Times, looking as though it had never been away, hit the streets today for the first time in 89 days.

Presses at the two morning dailies began to roll after the last of an array of unions approved contract agreements, and the first copies were on newsstands by 3 a.m.

The News, which put out a relatively large edition of 176 pages, said it printed its normal press run of 2 million copies, the largest circulation in the country.

Death Sentence Stands

WASHINGTON (AP)-A condemned murderer today lost his bid to have the Supreme Court overturn his conviction in the 1974 slaying of a Dallas grocery store owner.

The justices turned down the appeal of Jessie Ray Jones, sentenced to death for the Jan. 15, 1974 death of William Cain.

Jones' appeal argued that his rights were violated by an illegal police search, a faulty search warrant and the admission of evidence that should have been ruled inadmissible.

Prosecutors said Jones shot Cain in the forehead from close range with a .38 caliber pistol. Jones stole money from Cain's cash register and took a radio and Cain's watch after killing the store owner, they said.

A beer can found on the counter by the cash register had Jones' fingerprints on it.

Six days after Cain's murder, Dallas grocery owner Al Binley was shot in a similar robbery. Binley survived and testified that Jones was his assailant.

Suspect Child Starved

DALLAS (AP)-Homicide investigators say they will await an autopsy report before questioning a mother further about the death Sunday of her 3-year-old son.

James McLean was dead and his twin sister, Christie, in serious condition when they arrived Sunday afternoon at the emergency room of an osteopathic hospital. Christie was transferred to Parkland Hospital.

Their bodies were said to be infested with lice and wasted by apparent malnutrition.

Police said the children probably weighed less than 25 pounds and their arms and legs "were about as big around as a quarter.

A medical investigator quoted Dr. Robert Sparks as saying the children appeared to be suffering from "malnourishment and dehydration."

Austrians Reject Plant

Candidates To Campaign Right Down To The Wire

By The Associated Press

Most major candidates are saying they will find the time for some last-minute campaigning even after casting their own ballots Tuesday.

Then comes the hard part, waiting for the returns.

Democrat John Hill, seeking the Texas governorship for the next four years, will vote about 7:30 a.m. Tuesday at his home precinct then fly to Houston, San Antonio and McAllen for one last chance to round up voters. Hill will be at the historic Driskill Hotel in Austin Tuesday night to wait results.

Republican Bill Clements will vote early at his home precinct box in Dallas then take his 90-year-old mother to vote at her ballot place in University Park about 9:30 a.m. Clements plans some informal handshaking and campaigning in downtown Dallas and shopping centers before flying to Austin. He will have his headquarters in the Sheraton Crest Hotel election night.

Republican John Tower, seeking re-election to the U.S. Senate, plans to make his last campaign appearance Monday night at a rally in El Paso, then he will fly home to Wichita Falls. Tower plans to be at the Trade Winds Hotel in Wichita Falls Monday and to wait for returns that night.

Arab Nations To Increase Oil Prices 10%

KUWAIT (AP)-Arab oil producers have agreed to increase prices 10 percent when the Organization of Petrolem Exporting Countries meets next month in Abu Dhabi, the Kuwaiti newspaper Al Seyassa reports.

Crude oil now sells for about $12.70 a barrel, and experts say for every increase of 5 percent motorists pay about a half-cent more per gallon at the pump.

Al Seyassa said Sunday the decision was made by representatives of oil-producing nations during the anti-Camp David summit in Baghdad. The report could not be independently confirmed.

Al Seyassa quoted a well-informed source in the Iraqi capital saying Arab oil ministers will soon be traveling to industrialized Western Nations to explain the increase, which reportedly was forced by the declining value of the dollar, OPEC's currency unit.

OPEC ministers decided at a June meeting to impose a price increase by the end of the year.

Cake Decorating Class Needs 4

The cake decorating class at Western Texas College needs four more students in order to be conducted. Anyone wishing to learn the art of cake decorating and would like to help fill the class should call 573-8511 extension 240.

Classes are to begin tomorrow at 3 p.m.

Scurry Polls To Open At 7 A.M.

Scurry County voters will go to the polls tomorrow along with other Texans to elect public officials ranging from governor and U.S. Senator to precinct offices and to make decisions on nine proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. in all voting precincts of the county.

Most Scurry County voters will cast their ballots at the same location they have used for a number of years. However, three voting boxes in Snyder have changed sites.

Box 15, South Snyder, which formerly used the Snyder School Administration Building, has moved to the Towle Park Barn. Box 18, Southwest Snyder, which formerly used the El Paso Ave. fire station, has moved to the School Administration building. Box 17, Northwest Snyder, which formerly used the Snyder City Hall, has moved to the Scurry County Library, which is just north of the city hall.

All voters who registered at least 30 days prior to the election and have the current yellow registration cards are eligible to vote.

A light turnout has been forecast state-wide and locally. Absentee voting here lagged considerably below figures for the primary election last May. The county clerk's office issued 240 absentee ballots, including those who voted in person at the courthouse and those who applied for ballots by mail. Some 212 of these were accounted for this morning and 28 remaining in the mail will be counted if they arrive tomorrow.

All voting boxes will be using the new punch-card type voting machines for the first time. This is expected to speed up the ballot counting process Tuesday night. A number of demonstrations on the new voting machines have been conducted and personnel at the voting boxes tomorrow will be prepared to give demonstrations.

Peace Negotiator To Get New Plans

By The Associated Press

The Israeli Cabinet ordered Defense Minister Ezer Weizman back to Washington today with fresh instructions on how to handle the snags that are holding up the signing of an Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty.

Meanwhile, a top Egyptian negotiator in Cairo said his country will submit "new points and proposals" to bridge the gap that is holding up the nearly-completed peace accord between the two countries.

"There are several issues on which there is no agreement" concerning the wider political problems covered in the treaty, said Deputy Premier Yigael Yadin in Jerusalem after the Cabinet finished its review of the peace negotiations. He refused to elaborate.

Yadin said only that the Cabinet "instructed our mission to continue the negotiations and indicated how to do it."

Deputy Premier Yigael Yadin said he would inform Prime Minister Menachem Begin, who is on an official visit to Canada, of the Israeli government's 11 hours of deliberations in the last two days.

Weizman is scheduled to return to Washington Tuesday with at least partial approval from the Cabinet on the draft section of the peace treaty that covers the terms of Israel's withdrawal from the Sinai Peninsula.

Yadin sidestepped questions on whether the Cabinet had asked Wiezman to seek revisions on some points in the draft that had already been agreed upon by the delegations in Washington.

The deputy priemier also refused to predict any date for signing the treaty.

In Cairo, Osama el-Baz, one of the two top diplomats at the Blair House negotiations, told reporters the ability to "bridge the gap" between the two countries will depend on what proposals the Israeli negotiators will being back to Washington.

But the diplomat said he didn't except either side to submit points that would bring about a substantial change in the treaty.

El-Baz said the signature of the accords "depends on what happens after we get back" to Washington and stressed that reports of a possible signature this weekend "are very premature."

El-Baz and fellow negotiator Butros Ghali flew to Cairo from Washington Saturday night. They met with a six-man committee appointed by President Anwar Sadat to review the draft accords.

Egypt has vowed that a peace accord with Israel must be linked to the progress of negotiations over the Israeli-held West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip, taking into consideration the legal situation of the Palestinians, who live in both areas.

Israel maintains the treaty that establishes diplomatic and cultural relations between the two countries should not be tied to the Palestinian question.

El-Baz said the committee is carefully reviewing "all issues" from the Washington talks and that more discussions were planned for later in today and Tuesday.

There are "still no plans" for their return trip to Washington, he said. The negotiating team had been expected to return Tuesday.

Presidential Papers To Be Public Property

WASHINGTON (AP)—The records of President Carter and Vice President Walter Mondale will be public property when they leave office, under terms of a new law signed by Carter over the weekend.

Ask Us

Q—Why hasn't the vacant building at Avenue Q and 26th St. been torn down? Doesn't it violate a city ordinance?

A—City officials say this building has not been condemned. It has been used, partially at least, for storage, but there has been evidence of recent deteroration, especially at the corner and this could get some attention soon.

Snyder Site Of Winnebago Rally In '80

Snyder is scheduled to host a state-wide rally of Winnebago Motor Home Clubs in the fall of 1980.

Bill Warner, Snyder Chamber of Commerce manager, invited the group here Saturday when he visited a rally being held in Grand Prairie. Both Snyder and Sweetwater extended inviations to the organization and both were accepted, with the 1979 rally to be held in Sweetwater and the 1980 rally to be held in Snyder.

Council Due To Get Petitions

The Snyder City Council is scheduled to receive some petitions tonight in opposition to reported plans for the opening of a discotheque in the Snyder Shopping Center.

Homer Godair requested a place on the agenda for the regular meeting beginning at 6:30 p.m. He advised city officials that a number of residents in the area had signed the petitions and that they wished to present them to the council as an expression of opposiiton to such a firm operating there.

The council also is scheduled to open bids on proposals to purchase some motor vehicles and other equipment and to consider requests for some zoning changes. Vehicles up for bids include five cars for the police and fire departments, a car for the city engineer, two pickup trucks and a one-ton truck. Also included in the bids due consideration tonight are some pumps for the water plant, a tractor and mower and a computer work station.

Zone changes up for public hearings and possible action include one requested by E.E. Shifflett to change Lots 1-4, Block 4 in Bootheland Addition from a residential zone to a commercial zone, and one from Leon Autry to change the zone on a tract of land in Sec. 178 from a residential zone to a commercial zone.

Appointments to some boards and a contract agreement with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for maintenance of traffic control devices also are on the agenda.

The council expects to hold an executive session to discuss personnel and legal matters.

UIL's Sports Camp Rule Trial Nov. 13

AUSTIN (AP)-The University Interscholastic League's legislative council has voted to ask member schools whether they favor summer sports camps.

The council also reaffirmed Sunday the league's transfer rule, which requires all transfers, except seniors, to sit out a year before they can play varsity sports at their new school.

A class-action lawsuit testing the rule is scheduled for a pre-trial hearing here Tuesday morning with the trial set for Nov. 13.

The 15-year-old rule prohibiting participation in summer camps has been heavily criticized in recent years, and a federal judge in Houston ruled this past summer that 6-foot-11 center Greg Kite of Houston Madison could attend basketball camp.

The April 1 referendum will ask schools if they favor summer camps and offer possible guidelines for consideration for those favoring attendance at the camps.

For example, schools may be asked whether attendance should be limited to 14 days per sport or whether students from the same school should be allowed to attend the same camp at the same time.

UIL Athletic Director Bill Farney said there is still some work to be done on guidelines.

focus on legislatures

Attention, as usual, has focused on Congress - the glamor races.

But this time around it's the state legislatures which may expect to see some of the most significant post-election action.

That is because in most states, the legislators selected Nov. 7 will be participating a few years hence in one of the most important rites of the American political system - redrawing boundaries of congressional and legislative districts to conform with population changes recorded by the 1980 census.

Determining congressional representation was, in fact, the original justification for the census, as set forth in Article I of the Constitution. The decennial headcounting has long since progressed to more engrossing national statistics, such as the numbers of bathtubs and mothers-in-law per capita. But for both political parties and thousands of individual politicians, it remains a periodic test by electoral fire, the consequences of which they often must live with for far longer than the decade between censuses.

Effects of redistricting can be cumulative in that districts frequently are structured so that one party can maintain congressional and legislative majorities despite population shifts.

For Republicans, the most recent redistricting was a costly case in point. With more than 40 percent of the vote in 1976, the party's candidates took only a third of the seats in the House of Representatives - from the GOP point of view, a classic case of gerrymandering.

One party's gerrymandering, however, is usually regarded as the other's smart politics. In practice, neither has a monopoly on redistricting for maximum partisan advantage. It's usually a case of a party, once in power, demonstrating that anything the other can do, it do even more effectively.

No wonder then the special attention this year to legislative races. According to a Washington Post report, the Republicans allocated a third of their $6 million campaign budget to the state races - "the highest priority we have," in National Chairman William Brock's view.

With good reason. Republicans have been losing ground in the legislatures since 1966, currently controlling both houses in only four - Colorado, Idaho, South Dakota and Wyoming. They control one house in eight others - Arizona, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota and Vermont.

It is not the best of legislative positions on the eve of a redistricting of the House of Representatives in which the GOP has held firmly to its minority status since 1953.

Particular attention is being paid a handful of populous states such as New York, Illinois, Michigan and Florida where shifts in legislative balances this year and in 1980 could be reflected significantly in a redistricted House.

What it adds up to is a reminder that one should never underestimate the influence of the nation's 7,500-some state legislators.

As politicians, they may be strictly grass roots. But their impact can be national.

WASHINGTON (NEA) - As any football coach will testify, there are times when the only safe move is to punt - which is precisely what President Carter has done with his latest anti-inflation program.

It's no great crowd-pleaser, but with a lucky bounce and a solid defense, a punt is a pretty good call. Carter will need plenty of both to get results from this plan.

Administration officials are the first to concede that luck will play as big a role as anything in the success or failure of the president's program.

Neither Jimmy Carter nor anyone else, for instance, can control the weather over the next few months, and the severity of this winter will largely determine whether food and heating bills stay within bounds or go through the roof.

Food and energy costs have been prime contributors to the current inflation; until they moderate, neither wage-price guidelines nor fiscal restraint by the government can make much headway.

Which is not to suggest that Carter's program is pointless. A wage-price spiral did not create the present inflation, but the start of one now with major union contracts coming up in 1979 could most certainly exacerbate the situation.

Economists disagree about the culpability of government spending and the federal deficit, but the business community and the general public are convinced that both are to blame for inflation.

The most dangerous element of inflation is psychological, the fear and belief that costs will continue to rise. If people think balancing the budget will make a difference, then shrinking the deficit obviously makes sense.

Carter is taking a considerable political risk in opting for the course he has charted. The Republicans have already found the weak spot in his fiscal restraint program, and they will be merciless in exploiting it.

There are two ways to balance any budget - cut costs or increase revenues. The Carter plan combines both approaches, but - as the Republicans quickly noted - relies most heavily on raising revenues.

The president has ruled out any additional tax relief beyond the reduction voted by Congress this year. That means every American family will be paying more taxes, not less, by 1980 as a result of previously approved Social Security tax boosts and the "bracket creep" that results when inflation shoves a wage-earner into higher income tax brackets.

Higher taxes will mean more revenue for the government, which in turn will make it easier to reduce the federal deficit. To speed the process along, Carter wants to limit the growth in federal spending - although he is not proposing actual reductions.

Modest though that objective sounds, it does eliminate the possibility of any new programs - especially such costly initiatives as welfare reform and national health insurance.

"There's not only no room in the budget for new social programs, there's no constituency for them as long as inflation continues at this pace," said Barry Bosworth, head of the Council on Wage and Price Stability.

Bosworth is probably right in terms of the public at large. But he is politically naive if he thinks the liberals and labor elements of the Democratic Party will take such an assessment lying down. And it is the Democratic left which poses the greatest threat to Carter's renomination in 1980.

Carter's political advisers understand the risk, even if the economy gurus don't. But the president feels he has no choice. Either double-digit inflation or a new recession would pretty much destroy his chances for a second term in any event, and either - or both - seems assured unless he acts now to bring the cost of living under control.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

Few columns over the past 14 years have gotten the reader response as the one called, "You don't love me!" -- that old chestnut kids lay on you when you say "No."

It struck a chord with millions of parents who take their jobs seriously -- parents who resist the luxury of laying back saying "Yes," when they should have the guts to say "No."

We've all been there. The slammed doors, eyes brimming with tears. The rejection. The threats. The secret phone calls. The hysterics. The nights when sleep would not come. The mornings of despair when you ached for just one sign of understanding.

Why do you do it? I've asked myself the same question. Came up with a few wonderful phrases like self-respect, integrity. But mostly, I guess, it's producing a human being who knows that love is caring.

What prompted this? A letter from Joyce Winchell of Waukesha, Wis., who was cleaning out a drawer recently and came across a parody on "You don't love me," written by her daughter, Susan, a student in St. Cloud, Minn., to her mother. It's a parody we'd all be proud to find.

"I loved you enough to forgive you when you punished me for something I didn't do.

"I loved you enough to go to church each Sunday because I would have disappointed you had I not.

"I loved you enough to respect your opinion.

"I loved you enough to listen to your 'old-fashioned' ideas in hopes of learning something from them.

"I loved you enough to spend too much money, for too short a time, to come home and see you.

"I loved you enough to understand that the things you did for me were in my best interest.

"I loved you enough to hold my tongue when I knew the words 'I hate you' might have slipped out.

"But most of all I loved you enough to leave you in an effort to be on my own. That was the hardest part of all."

Someday, I'd like to meet the mythical "everybody else's mother," that illusive, liberal, devil-may-care woman who is the first to sanction every madcap scheme, every party, evey overnight prom but who can never be found. Until I meet her, I'll keep handing our my middle-class wisdom: "Rather to die young from a thousand no's...than to live a lifetime with a parent who doesn't care."

letters to editor

To The Snyder Daily News:

I feel that it is my duty to respond to the letter in Thursday's paper which letter attacked Senator John Tower's record in a most erroneous way. I will reply to this attack point by point:

1. This is a typical distortion of the Kreuger Organization. Senator Tower supported a short term loan to New York City in 1975. The government made money off that loan. Senator Tower has ALWAYS opposed long term loans to New York City and has voted against them repeatedly, the last time being in June of this year.

2. In 1977, Senator Tower did not vote to bankrupt the Social Security System. He voted against tripling Social Security payroll taxes. Such taxes will be an intolerable burden on the American people. Your next Social Security tax increase will take place in January. Senator Tower has supported less costly measures to keep Social Security in operation.

3. On gun control Senator Tower has a much better record than Krueger. As proof of that, the National Rifle Association has endorsed Senator Tower this year.

4. Senator Tower and Representative Krueger Co-sponsored the Flexible Parity Act. Tower succeeded in getting that bill past the Senate while Krueger did nothing to prevent its failing in the house.

5. Senator Tower has a much stronger record on fiscal conservatism than Krueger. In 1975, 1976 and 1977 Tower voted to limit the growth of the national debt and bring federal spending into line. During these same years, Krueger voted to raise the ceiling on the national debt. Tower has received the endorsement of the National Taxpayers Union and The Americans for Constitutional Action, which group in 1977 gave the Senator a rating of 96 percent compared to 52 percent for Krueger.

Most Texans certainly approve of Senator Tower's rejection and disapproval of the ERA amendment and its extension.

In answer to the accusation that there is not a major piece of Legislation called the John Tower Bill; there are in fact over 100 pieces of Legislation sponsored by Senator Tower that have become law. Krueger introduced a de-regulation bill on energy. The bill failed. Meanwhile the de-regulation bill co-sponsored by Senator Tower passed the Senate on two occasions.

Krueger's colleagues did not vote him the most effective congressman. It was done by an obscure little tabloid published in Washington D.C., and circulated on Capitol Hill.

Recently Senator Tower was named one of the five most influential and outstanding members of the U.S. Senate by the prestigious magazine, U.S. News and World Report.

In 1978 Krueger showed up to vote only 32 percent of the time, while Tower voted 85 percent of the time. These facts are a matter of record.

Do we want to be represented in the Senate by a man who refused to shake the hand of an opponent who mailed a vicious article to a Karnes City Newspaper attacking the Senator and his family and finally blamed it on those running his campaign? Such opponent, after using campaign tactics never before seen in Texas politics, tried to force Senator Tower to shake hands with him in public? Who is so ungentlemanly that he does not know that in Texas a handshake between men is a mark of friendship and trust? Of course we want to be represented by a man who refused to shake hands with such an unprincipled opportunist. The Karnes City newspaper to which Krueger mailed his personal attack on Tower is now on public record supporting Tower for this reason.

Krueger sank so low as to insult every enlisted man who fought and died for his country in World War II by saying Tower's career in the military was "undistinguished" because he was an enlisted man and not an officer. Krueger did not serve his country in the Armed Services in World War II.

Hopefully, this important race will be decided by the record rather than what Krueger's distorted commercials on television show or on the recommendations of the Abilene Reporter News; which has endorsed the straight Democrat ticket. Snyder residents remember the amount of research done by the Abilene Reporter News before a long article was printed in that paper about an unjustified complaint against a Snyder school teacher.

To The Daily News:

According to the Americans for Constitutional Action, here are the records for 1975 and 1977:

1975

| ACA Consisteney Index | 92 percent | 64 percent |
| For sound money | 89 percent | 46 percent |
| For private Comp. Mkt. | 93 percent | 67 percent |
| For local Self Govt. | 98 percent | 67 percent |
| For private ownership | 81 percent | 67 percent |
| For Individual liberty | 98 percent | 100 percent |
| For Natl. Soveriegnty | 94 percent | 100 percent |

For 1977

| | Tower | Krueger |
|---|---|---|
| ACA Consistency Index | 92 percent | 55 percent |
| For sound money | 88 percent | 37 percent |
| For Pvt. Comp Mkt. | 93 percent | 63 percent |
| For local Self Govt. | 98 percent | 55 percent |
| For private ownership | 83 percent | 57 percent |
| For individual liberty | 98 percent | 75 percent |
| For national Soveriegnty | 95 percent | 83 percent |

In 1978, Mr. Tower voted no on the extension of ERA and on the Panama Canal give-away. Mr. Krueger voted yes on both.

They call it "internal revenue" because they get it from your heart's blood.

When you were 20, you'd dare anyone to knock that chip off your shoulder; after 40, you've become cunning enough to go into the chip-supplying business to young 'uns.

A 'Dear Abby' Needs Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1978 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: It's 2 o'clock in the morning and I've torn up three letters to you, but I'm mailing this one because I need help.

Over a year ago I met the finest man I've ever known. We became the best of friends. I don't know how it happened, but I fell in love with him, which is outrageous because he is happily married.

At first I tried to laugh it off. Then I tried avoiding him, but we work for the same company and I see him every day.

I'm single, and I tried dating several men, but my mind was always on him. I'm not a 17-year-old school girl. I'm old enough to know better. I'm known as a very intelligent, rational person. I'm often called the "Dear Abby" of the office because everyone comes to me for advice.

I have no one to talk to. If this man knew how I felt, he'd be shocked. And his wife would never believe it. She's a dear friend of mine. I never could come between a man and his wife. I wasn't raised that way, but I love him, Abby, and my only solution is to leave town.

I've lived here for years and I love my job and my friends. I don't want to leave. I know this sounds like a soap opera, but it's true. Please help me.

ACHING HEART

DEAR ACHING: You have built a strong physical attraction into a one-sided love affair through fantasizing. But what's been built can be dismantled. Don't run away. You'll only take your aching heart with you. Find a competent counselor (psychologist or psychiatrist) with whom you can talk freely about your feelings and the futility of loving another woman's husband.

Please take my advice, then write again in six months and tell me how you're doing. I care.

DEAR ABBY: About that woman who wanted to have a chastity belt made. A competent metalsmith should be able to make one without any problem. I don't happen to be one, but I would sure like to be at the airport when she goes through the scanner.

PHIL McNELLIS-DETROIT

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of an incident: After not having spoken to me in almost three years, my sister recently sent me a copy of an insurance policy she took out before she took an airplane trip, naming ME as the beneficiary.

Do you think she's trying to tell me something?

COOS BAY, ORE.

DEAR BAY: Yes. She still lacks the courage to start talking to you, but in the event of her death, she'd like her money to talk for her. In other words, she's not as mad at you as she used to be.

Have a question or comment for Abby? Address: Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply, include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Autopsy Refused

Opening lead: ♣10

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Oswald: "The bidding in the box is the correct way to bid today's hand in modern standard American. South lands in three notrump and has no trouble making four or more. That is, he has no trouble if he rises with dummy's ace of clubs at trick one and goes right after the diamond suit."

Alan: "Now let's look at North's bidding. The two-club response shows at least 10 points and promises a rebid unless opener merely rebids two of his own suit. Actually, North has 16 high-card points and wants to suggest slam possibilities without getting past game. His second bid of two spades is a further force and his third-round bid of three diamonds completes the message that he is interested in a slam."

Oswald: "South has opened a real minimum. He would like to pass at three diamonds, but North has initiated a game-forcing sequence so South continues to three notrump."

Alan: "At this stage North knows that South has a lot of his strength in hearts and no desire to get high. He passes at three notrump."

Oswald: "We will discuss lower-suit responses of two further this week."

Ask the Experts

A Venezuela reader asks what the undouble is.

It is a very complicated expert double of an adverse slam bid in competition where the doubler's side has been bidding defensively. It shows no defensive tricks and asks partner to bid on unless he can beat that contract by himself.

It is best left alone.

What Has Party Loyalty Accomplished?

★ Growing Welfare Rolls
★ Terrific Inflation Rate
★ An Energy Crisis
★ Loss of Worker Incentive
★ Widening Balance of Trade Deficit
★ Loss of Faith in U.S. Dollar
★ Choking Bureaucratic Regulations
★ Unstable Farm Prices

For most of our life, the U.S. Congress has been controlled by Democrats. Party loyalty has accomplished nothing. It's time we consider individual voting records. We must be Americans first and Democrats or Republicans second. It's time we vote for the man, not the party. For this reason we urge you to consider the qualifications of a conservative, Bill Fisher.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Enjoy those oranges

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband, 73, and I, 65, have been eating oranges or grapefruit for breakfast, right along. Now I hear we should not be eating citrus fruits because we both have osteoarthritis. Is it true and are there any foods that we have a rowing exercise and would like to know if it is all right to use when we have arthritis in the back, hips and knees. Could we be irritating the arthritis more? We got it in the winter when it was difficult for us to get out and walk much for exercise.

DEAR READER — That's wild. There is nothing in citrus fruits that will in any way be detrimental to your arthritis. In fact, if anything, they might help. Go ahead and enjoy your oranges and grapefruits and ignore anyone who tells you they are harmful for your arthritis because they certainly are not.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-10, Osteoarthritis: Degenerative or Wear and Tear Arthritis, to give you more information on your problem.

Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Address your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. This issue will also tell you a number of things you will need to know about exercise and arthritis.

I wouldn't like to say specifically that you can use any particular exercise machine in the presence of your arthritis, because I don't know how severe your arthritis is or what deformities it may have caused. Only your doctor, familiar with your own case, can tell you that.

There is a general misconception about exercise and arthritis. It isn't necessarily beneficial to your arthritis to do large amounts of exercise. The purpose of exercise, if you have arthritis, is to maintain the full range of mobility of all your joints and movement of your muscles.

Also, you hope to maintain a reasonable amount of your muscular strength. Otherwise, you really should rest the joints that are involved. A mild exercise routine that involves the full range of motion of all of your joints each day is useful. Excessive working of body parts may not be.

Swimming is good exercise for people with arthritis who can do it. The water helps to buoy the body and you don't have to bear the weight on the spine, hips and knees. It makes it easier for you to move your joints through a full range of motion. If you can't swim, you can do exercises in water which will also help you. Perhaps you can find a local indoor swimming pool that you can use during the winter months.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to know if not having enough potassium in your blood would make you have a heart attack? Can you give the foods that are high in potassium?

DEAR READER — A low potassium level in the heart cells may cause irregularities of the heart. Some of these are difficult to control. In severe cases, the irregularity can be fatal. Loss of potassium resulting from low carbohydrate diets is thought to be one of the factors in deaths associated with these fad diets.

If you eat a balanced diet, and are not taking medicines that would wash potassium out of your body, there isn't any reason that you should have a significant potassium deficit. Fruits and fruit juices are the most common good source of potassium in your diet.

There is a significant and useful amount of potassium in milk as well as sodium salt.

Hot Duo Tumble; This Week Will Take A Toll, Too

With Maryland and Navy suffering losses over the weekend, collegiate football's undefeated ranks number only two now. And those teams happen to be right at the top of the polling.

Penn State, ranked second, kept its victory string alive Saturday by thrashing No. 5 Maryland 27-3. Navy, No. 11, lost by a near-equal score of 27-7 to Notre Dame, ranked 15th. All rankings were subject to change early this week when the Associated Press Poll gets its usual jostling.

Ironically, Navy and Maryland were the only top twenty teams to fall in the most recent poll, though there were some squeakers. Southern Cal edged Stanford 13-7, UCLA nudged past Oregon 23-21 and Pittsburgh came from behind in the final minutes to nip Syracuse, 18-17.

But that was last week, and this time around at least four top twenty teams figure to lose, as ranked teams play ranked teams and two major battles highlight the action.

Oklahoma, on top in the rankings, will travel to meet a "coming-on" fourth-ranked Nebraska team in a game which amounts to the Big Eight championship. Oklahoma is 9-0-0 after whipping Colorado last week 28-7, while Nebraska stands, 8-1-0 after stomping Kansas 63-21.

The other premiere game on tap pits No. 10 Houston, 7-1-0 and a 63-6 victor over Texas Christian, against No. 7 ranked Texas, 6-1-0 and idle last week. Houston has won seven straight games. That contest, to be held in Austin, pitts the only two undefeated Southwest Conference teams as could well be for a Cotton Bowl berth.

By The Associated Press

How the Top 20 teams in The Associated Press college football poll fared this weekend:

1. Oklahoma (9-0-0) beat Colorado 28-7.
2. Penn State (9-0-0) beat Maryland 27-3.
3. Alabama (8-1-0) beat Mississippi State 35-14.
4. Nebraska (8-1-0) beat Kansas 63-21.
5. Maryland (8-1-0) lost to Penn State 27-3.
6. Southern Cal (7-1-0) beat Stanford 13-7.
7. Texas (6-1-0) did not play.
8. Michigan (7-1-0) beat Iowa 34-0.
9. UCLA (8-1-0) beat Oregon 23-21.
10. Houston (7-1-0) beat Texas Christian 63-6.
11. Navy (7-1-0) lost to Notre Dame 27-7.
12. Louisiana State (6-1-0) beat Mississippi 30-8.
13. Georgia (7-1-0) beat VMI 41-3.
14. Purdue (7-1-0) beat Northwestern 31-0.
15. Notre Dame (6-1-0) beat Navy 27-7.
16. Clemson (7-1-0) beat Wake Forest 51-6.
17. Arkansas (5-2-0) beat Rice 37-7.
18. Michigan State (5-3-0) beat Illinois 59-19.
19. Pittsburgh (6-2-0) beat Syracuse 18-17.
20. Washington (6-3-0) beat Arizona 31-21.

Staubach's 'Perplexed'; Miami's Not

By The Associated Press

What's wrong with the Dallas Cowboys?

The defending Super Bowl champions looked anything but super Sunday as they bowed to the Miami Dolphins 23-16.

"I'm perplexed," said Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach. "We've maintained a pretty consistent pattern of middle of the road football, a level of mediocrity."

The Cowboys' record after 10 weeks of the National Football League season is a decidedly unspectacular 6-4. They trail Washington by 1½ games in the National Conference's East Division, and the Redskins can stretch that to two full games with a victory over Baltimore in tonight's nationally televised game.

Miami's Bob Griese picked apart Dallas' flex defense, completing 12 of 18 passes for 185 yards and setting up 1-yard scoring runs by Norm Bulaich and Delvin Williams. The Cowboys contributed to their own downfall by committing five turnovers, two of which led to first-period touchdowns by Miami.

"We started out like we did against the Vikings, very flat-footed," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said, thinking back to Dallas' 21-10 loss to Minnesota 10 days ago. "We are way behind in turnovers. That's the thing that keeps plaguing us."

Meanwhile, Denver, the team Dallas beat in Super Bowl XII, didn't look very super, either. The New York Jets reeled off 24 straight points to upset the Broncos 31-28, dropping Denver's record to 6-4.

Elsewhere, the Oakland Raiders beat the Kansas City Chiefs 20-10, the Minnesota Vikings defeated the Detroit Lions 17-7, the Los Angeles Rams edged the Tampa Bay Buccaneers 26-23, the Philadelphia Eagles surprised the Green Bay Packers 10-3, the Atlanta Falcons topped the San Francisco 49ers 21-10, the Pittsburgh Steelers beat the New Orleans Saints 20-14, the Houston Oilers trimmed the Cleveland Browns 14-10, the New England Patriots got by the Buffalo Bills 14-10, the San Diego Chargers downed the Cincinnati Bengals 22-13, the Seattle Seahawks edged the Chicago Bears 31-29 and the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Giants 20-10.

Rams 26, Buccaneers 23

Rookie Frank Corral's fourth field goal of the game, a 27-yarder with three seconds remaining, gave Los Angeles its victory. The Bucs had tied the score with just 47 seconds left, Johnny McKay catching a 23-yard pass from Mike Rae.

Eagles 10, Packers 3

Philadelphia capitalized on a fumbled snap by punter David Beverly on a second-quarter punt play for the only touchdown in its victory over Green Bay.

Steelers 20, Saints 14

Pittsburgh raised its record to 9-1 on a 24-yard touchdown pass from Terry Bradshaw to Rocky Bleier.

Oilers 14, Browns 10

Dan Pastorini hooked up with Mike Barber on a 72-yard touchdown bomb and Rob Carpenter scored on a 2-yard run, but it was the Houston defense that was most responsible for the Oilers' victory.

Duster Effort Good; But Can't Find Basket

CANYON-- Western Texas College had trouble finding the bucket here Saturday night and fell in its first outing of the season, 46-45 to West Texas State University.

The Dusters, who led until the final 30 seconds, managed only 28 percent of their shots from the field, and failed to score a point in the final five minutes after gaining a 45-33 advantage.

Despite the loss, Coach Joe Cushing was able to praise the young squad, which returned only four sophomores from last year.

"We had only fifteen team turnovers which has been our best to this point," noted the coach, who compared the game to scrimmages earlier in the season. "We played real well on defense. We kept them (WTSU) to 46 points but we just couldn't score ourselves."

Hobbling the team somewhat was an injury to strong rebounder Joyce Plagens. A 5-8 freshman from Rankin, Plagens injured a toe prior to the contest and saw only limited action.

Sophomores Nodia Vaughn and Karen Williams led the Dusters with 11 and 8 points respectively. Delbra Ray had 6 and Brigette Hamilton and Katie Fisher noted 5 apiece. Vaughn and Williams also led in rebounding with 9 and 8, followed by Plagens, Hamilton and Liz Hooper with 5 each.

WTC hit 18 of 64 from the floor and 9 of 20 from the free throw line, causing Cushing to point out, "We are doing what we are doing well, we've just to to pull together and start hitting the bucket."

West Texas, which welcomed back seven from last year's team, showed poise in coming from behind in the final seconds. The hosts hit 16 field goals and 14 free throws.

The Dusters will travel to Weatherford on Tuesday for a 6 p.m. contest. The girls play their first home game Nov. 4 against McMurry.

Surprise Winners At Disney World

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP)—A five-year pro who had never won a tour event and a mini-tour player completing his first season on the PGA circuit are the new National Team gold champions.

Wayne Levi, 25, and Bob Mann, 26, won the title Sunday on Disney World's treacherous Magnolia Course to withstand a challenge by the brothers Wadkins, Lanny and Bob.

Levi, a Tampa, Fla., resident who plays out of Herkimer, N.Y., dumped in more than 90 percent of the 34 birdies the duo picked up over the four days to give them a three-stroke victory with a 254 total score. They played Sunday's final round in 9-under-par 63, as did the Wadkins brothers.

But their $20,000 split of the $40,000 first prize was "absolutely secondary" to getting their qualifying exemptions from each and every PGA event they enter in 1979, said the 5-foot-9, 165-pound Levi through an ear-to-ear smile.

"They beat a hell of a good effort. We got a bunch of birdies and didn't make a bogey all week and they beat us by three shots," Bob Wadkins, the younger of the brothers, said about Levi and Mann.

In third place, far off the pace at 27-under-par 261, were Keith Fergus and Phil Hancock, who had begun the day tied with the Wadkins brothers in second.

In fourth place at 262 were the teams of Joe Porter-Bob Zender, Forrest Fezzler-Larry Ziegler and Ed Sneed-Tom Weiskopf.

Defending champions Gibby Gilbert and Grier Jones finished in a three-way tie at 273 with Perry Leslie-Fuzzy Zoeller and Frank Conner-Orville Moody.

Harris Runs Over 7,000

PITTSBURGH (AP)- Franco Harris of the Pittsburgh Steelers has joined Jim Brown and O.J. Simpson as the only National Football League players to rush for over 7,000 yards in their first seven pro seasons.

With the 57 yards he gained Sunday in a win over New Orleans, Harris raised his career total to 7,027 yards.

Harris is on his way to his sixth season with over 1,000 yards rushing. Brown holds the all-time record of seven.

Westerners Win Again; Idle Until First Classic

EL PASO--Western Texas College Westerners concluded their on-the-road campaign here Saturday with a 98-69 victory over a Fort Bliss team. The Westerners, which will host the first annual WTC Classic in Scurry Colesium Nov. 16-18, are now 3-0 for the season.

The Westerners shot 65 percent from the floor Saturday to blow out in front of a solid Fort Bliss squad and take the victory. Six players landed in double figures, paced by Paul Pressey's 16. Bill Patterson hit on 12 points and Dwight Williams scored 11, while Joe Mendoza, Ronald Portee and Freddie Davis all managed 10 each.

"We just shot phenominal from the floor - about the same both halfs - and played tough, tough defense. We rebounded like a team with seven-foot players on it," commented Coach Nolan Richardson, whose tallest player is 6-8. "I was real pleased with the way we executed and the way we played with a lot of intensity. Now we get ready for the Classic here (Snyder)."

WTC fell behind the host team early in the game, but took the lead with 10 minutes left in the first half and went on to outscore Fort Bliss 53-37 in the first 20 minutes and 45-32 in the second.

Freddie Davis 4-2-10; Bill Paterson 6-0-12; Greg Stewart 4-0-8; John Gifford 1-0-2; Dwight Williams 5-1-11; Franklin Bennett 1-0-2; Ronald Portee 4-2-10; Michael Smith 2-0-4; Paul Pressey 8-0-16; Scott Russell 0-1-1; Joe Mendoza 5-0-10; Melvin Patridge 3-0-6; Jimmy Price 1-0-2. Totals 46- 6 of 8- 23 fouls - 98 points.

Davis Decisions Determined Davila

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)-It wasn't that scrappy Luis Davila didn't give a good fight. Howard Davis was just too fast, too spry, too confident and always too far away.

Davis, 22, the 1976 Olympic lightweight champion, easily outpointed Davila in a 10-round lightweight bout Saturday, the first major professional fight at the East Coast's first hotel-casino.

Davis, a 133-pounder from Glen Cove, N.Y., earned $100,000 for the nationally televised fight, his ninth successful professional outing. Davila, 23, a 134-pounder from Hartford, Conn., earned $5,000 for his fourth loss in 14 pro fights.

Referee Tony Perez scored it 6-3-1 and the two judges saw it 8-2 for Davis.

To hear Davis tell it, he could have danced all night.

"I never get tired. I'm in great shape at the time," Davis said.

It looked that way as Davis took control of the second half of the fight, skipping around the 20-foot ring and attacking Davila with furious left jabs as the Puerto Rican-born boxer stood in the center waiting to slug it out.

But Davis had learned his lesson early. Davila caught Davis with a furious flurry of punches and finally put Olympic champ to the canvas with a right uppercut in the third round.

Cats Begin Round 2

With the first-round title already in their pockets, Snyder's varsity volleyball team heads to Lamesa tomorrow night.

Tuesday's match with the Tors marks the beginning of round-two.

Matches are scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. with a freshman encounter, followed by a junior varsity and the varsity match.

O.J. Undergoes More X-rays

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)- San Francisco 49er superstar running back O.J. Simpson's damaged right shoulder was scheduled to be re-examined by team doctors here today.

Simpson separated his shoulder early in the second quarter of Sunday's game at Atlanta when he was tackled hard by several Falcons. X-rays taken there were inconclusive, necessitating further tests today, the 49ers said.

"When I got down, I heard something snap," said Simpson. "The doctors told me it was a third-degree separation. I'm not sure what that means but they did say it's worse than a first-degree."

Simpson, the NFL's second all-time leading ground gainer with 10,776 yards, has gained only 593 in 10 games this year.

Most newspapers pick Hill over Clements

"John Hill may be the best candidate for governor in decades. Judging from his record, he should win easily over his Republican opponent, whose chief qualification is money. Unlike his opponent, Hill is not given to outrageous promises, intemperate personal attack or underhanded tactics. He will work hard for the best interests of the state and its people."
— Austin American Statesman

"The more Mr. Clements has explained his blunt viewpoints — even those views we could agree with — the more he has raised doubt as to how effective a bulldozer could be in Texas government. Conversely, John Hill has grown in our evaluation as a man who not only is the best state attorney general in recent history, but also is a man with the intellience, savvy and ability to serve Texas well as governor."
— Abilene Reporter-News

"We believe Hill will bring vitality and leadership to state government. Hill is not an advocate of big government. Nor is he a free spender. He has pledged that no new taxes will be levied if he is elected. His anti-inflation program is the kind of fiscal conservatism Texans can accept gleefully."
— Corpus Christi Caller

Theft, Two Mishaps Here

A theft and two minor traffic accidents were investigated during the weekend by city police.

The theft complaint came from Guy Allen who said three citizens band radio antennas had been taken from his 409 East Highway shop. He estimated his loss at $100.

One of the traffic accidents occurred Saturday and the other Sunday.

The one Saturday took place in the 700 block of 33rd St. at 4:45 p.m. It involved a 1973 Ford driven by Balentin Carrisalez and a 1977 AMC driven by Johnny Larralde.

The one Sunday was at Skateworld at 2:55 p.m. Involved in it were a parked vehicle owned by Michael Ballard and a 1968 Chevrolet pickup driven by James Allen.

Secretariat, in 1973, was the first winner of the Marlboro Cup.
