3 men convicted of killing Biehl

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A judge today convicted three black men of murdering American exchange student Amy Biehl, ending an 11-month trial that forced South Africa to confront the explosive bitterness of its racial divide.

High Court Judge Gerald Friedman called the crime a "vicious attack" as he handed down the decision before a packed courtroom, with supporters of the accused and friends of the victim, who was white, watching from the public gallery.

Vusumzi Ntamo, 23, Mongezi Manqina, 22, and Mzikhona Nofemela, 19, were found guilty of murder. Ntamo was convicted of the additional charge of public violence.

Nofemela shook his head, but there was no other reaction from the accused at the verdict.

"Each of the accused had the direct intention of killing the deceased," ruled Friedman, who took 81/2 hours over two days to read out his 190-page decision in the non-jury trial.

Ntamo was convicted on the basis of his confession that he struck Biehl with a brick on the head three times, the judge said.

Three young women from the Guguletu township, where Biehl was killed, had testified behind closed doors that they saw Nofemela and Manqina with knives stabbing Biehl. Friedman said it was not possible to prove which of the two had caused the fatal stab wound to the Biehl's heart.

"I'm relieved and I'm satisfied that justice has been seen to be done," said prosecutor Nollie Niehaus. Defense lawyers declined to comment.

Preparations continue for annual Fall Festival

Snyder elementary schools' annual Fall Festival debuts Saturday evening at Scurry County Coliseum, offering something for children of all ages.

Entertainment will get underway at 6 o'clock and continue until 9. Activities will include the perennial spook house and 32 game booths. There will be two concession stands, one mini-concession stand and four ticket booths.

All events will be set up inside the coliseum, not the annex as in years past.

Tickets at game booths will sell for 25 cents each on the night of the event. However, tickets may be purchased in advance at any elementary school for five for $1.

There will be no jack-o-lantern contest or costume parade this year; however, event organizers are urging everyone to dress up in costume.

Western Texas College will also sponsor a roping booth for children. Canyon Gun Club will sponsor a target shoot.

Some of the booths will include face painting by Snyder's cheerleaders, a basketball toss, a "soak the principal" booth, Nintendo, pie throwing, bean toss, putt-putt golf, tattooing and more.

Glow in-the-dark necklaces will also be for sale for $2 each at the concession stands.

The food booths will sell taco salads, hot dogs, Frito pies, drinks and barbecue sandwiches. The mini concession stand, located on the floor, will sell drinks, popcorn and nachos.

Proceeds will benefit Stanfield, Northeast, Central, East and West elementary schools.

Soggy Tuesday in Texas

From local, wire stories

Scurry County residents, like most Texans, endured a soggy morning today as a sluggish cold front pushed slowly across the state.

Overnight rainfall reports over North Texas varied from a trace at many points to nearly an inch at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport to 1.5 inches at Waco.

Heavy rain also fell in the San Antonio area early today, prompting an urban flood advisory.

Weak upper air disturbances should keep the threat of thunderstorms around through tomorrow in many parts of the state.

The cold front dropped temperatures 30 degrees here, as Monday's high of 78 fell to a low of 48 after nightfall. Today's low is expected to be around 45 degrees.

Rainfall amounts ranged from two-hundredths of an inch to one inch in Scurry County, accompanied by cloudy skies, gusting winds and cool temperatures.

The official rain report from the Snyder water pump and filter plant was .34 of an inch at 7 this morning, giving the city a total of 11.01 inches for the year.

Locally, forecasters are calling for a 50 percent chance of rain tonight and a 40 percent chance on Wednesday. Temperatures are to range from a high of about 60 to a low of 45 and skies will remain cloudy for about 48 hours at least.

Cloudy skies were what almost all Texans woke up to this morning. Only the far southern tip of the Rio Grande Valley and El Paso saw the sun.

The Panhandle and South Plains saw a blustery morning, with winds of 10-20 mph from the north to northeast, gusting to 30 mph at Guadalupe Pass.

Tonight should be cloudy in North Texas with a chance of rain in the Abilene area, scattered rain in the Dallas-Fort Worth Area and isolated thunderstorms in East Texas. Lows will range from 40 to 48.

South Texas should see scattered to numerous showers and thunderstorms, except for partly cloudy skies in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Lows tonight will range from the 50s in the Hill Country to the 70s along the coast.

West Texas should see cloudy skies tonight, except for partly cloudy skies across the Panhandle. There is a chance of rain regionwide.

Redman wins $250 in gridiron contest

"Two hundred and fifty dollars! Are you kidding?"

Micayla Redman expressed disbelief, then joy when she found out this morning she had won $250 in the Snyder Daily News Football Contest.

Redman, of 4100 Brick Plant Road, picked all 20 games correctly. Monday night's 21-6 victory by the Philadelphia Eagles over Houston capped the $250 performance.

The only thing Redman could have done better was to hit the exact point total of Friday's Snyder-Lamesa game. She picked 35 points and the actual score was Snyder 22, Lamesa 21, or 43 points. A perfect pick would have earned her $1,000.

Redman was chased by 14 entrants who missed only one game each. Most of them dropped the ball on either Lake View's 28-24 victory over Monahans or Denver's 20-15 win over San Diego.

Using the tie-breaking procedure to determine second and third place, Joe Price of 3111 Ave. A picked up $25 while Eddie Benitez of 1804 39th St. won $15.

Winners will be mailed their checks.

Another contest appears in this issue.

Lynn Hulsey of Panhandle sent us a copy of an obituary from the Amarillo Globe-News concerning a former resident who left his footprints in Scurry County.

Walter F. Cox, 95, died Oct. 16 in Borger. He had lived in the Borger area for 59 years, and was retired from Phillips Petroleum.

Mr. Cox had been a teacher-coach at Snyder High School in the 1930s, moving to the Plainview school as teacher and principal in 1938. The Plainview school was located just across the road from the current site of the Price Daniel Unit.

While in Snyder, Mr. Cox was active in scouting, and reportedly built the Boy Scout program to such an extent that it was necessary to establish a second troop.

Mr. Cox sponsored trips to the Boy Scout Regional Jamboree, and he was instrumental in sending Bill King to the Boy Scout National Jamboree. Bill is now retired from King Furniture and Appliance.

Mr. Cox also organized and directed the drive to make it possible for Snyder scouts to attend the Texas Centennial in Dallas in 1936.

G.A. Parks Jr. says he attended the Plainview School, but left in 1937 since his family moved to the northeast part of the county. There he enrolled in Whatley.

A county history book indicates there were at least 45 schools making up a common district in Scurry County, including Whatley and Plainview.

Worker compensation costs rising

WASHINGTON (AP) — Compensation received by American workers continued rising at a record slow pace in the three months ended in September, the government said today.

The Labor Department said worker compensation increased at an annual rate of 3.2 percent in the third quarter of the year, the same as in the 12-month periods ending March 30 and June 30. Those increases were the smallest on record. Economists said after the last report that inflationary pressures from the employment sector appeared in check.

The government created the index in 1982. It measures changes in wages, salaries and costs to the employer for worker benefits such as health insurance, vacations and sick leave. Analysts consider it one of the best gauges of wage inflation

The Labor Department said wages and salaries, which constitute 72 percent of total worker compensation, edged up 2.9 percent, even less that the modest 3 percent reported three months ago. Benefit costs were up 3.8 percent, the same as the previous figure.

SHS band ready to march

The 105-member band will perform for eight or nine minutes, said Walter Reneau, band director.

Songs to be performed by the band include "My Man," "Call Me," "Devil With a Blue Dress," "See You In September" and a Rachmaninoff portrait.

Bands are judged both on playing skills and marching performance.

Snyder High School colorguard will also perform with the band Wednesday.

How to prevent salmonella infection

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I raise my own chickens for eggs and consumption of the poultry. I wash the eggs that I gather daily in my kitchen sink. I've begun using a tablespoon of Clorox bleach in my dishwater, in an attempt to prevent salmonella, yet I wonder if this is adequate prevention. Am I at any more or less risk from this condition because I raise my own poultry?

DEAR READER: The bacteria called salmonella, a type of ubiquitous microorganism, are actually introduced into the interior of the egg during development and maturation, before it is laid. Therefore, washing the intact egg will only clean the outer shell; it won't affect any bacteria that may be present within the egg. The Clorox is not necessary.

Salmonella seems to be fairly uncommon in home-farm poultry. The major problem appears to exist in eggs obtained from large, commercial egg-producers.

Infection with salmonella, which causes diarrhea and high fever, can be easily prevented by cooking any eggs that are eaten. In other words, if you're concerned about salmonella, don't consume raw eggs, as in beef tartar or eggnogs.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I read your article about the man who ate 25 eggs a day for 15 years without raising his cholesterol level. A 1961 textbook stated that eggs contain both cholesterol and lecithin. Lecithin reduces LDL (the bad stuff) and increases HDL (the good kind). Thus, there is no evidence to tie eggs in with high cholesterol. Your comments?

DEAR READER: While it's true that lecithin helps lower cholesterol, there isn't enough in eggs to have much effect. Each egg yolk contains about 250 milligrams of cholesterol, which is considered to be the limit each of us should consume daily; even large amounts of dietary lecithin will not counteract this.

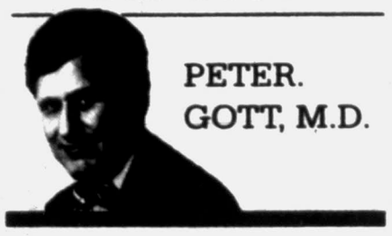

Most adult Americans have blood cholesterol levels above the 200 mg that is considered appropriate. High cholesterol levels are associated with heart disease and other ailments. To a large degree, high cholesterol is genetically determined. Nonetheless, most experts recommend lowering dietary cholesterol, through a prudent diet, because a person with genetically high cholesterol often can reduce his blood cholesterol in this manner. Thus, we should limit our consumption of high-cholesterol animal fat, such as is found in butterfat, egg yolks and meat.

Of course, this is the present recommendation. Future studies may exonerate eggs and other edibles, but — to date — people who want to lower their serum cholesterols should go easy on eggs — and egg products, such as Hollandaise sauce and custards.

To give you more information, I am sending you free copies of my Health Reports "Understanding Cholesterol" and "Eating Right for a Healthy Heart." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title(s).

U.S. Army cannot account for missing Stinger missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army can't account for 40 Stinger missiles but insists none are missing.

It's all a problem with bookkeeping, says the Department of Defense.

But Sen. John Glenn says the report on the missiles, prepared by the General Accounting Office, raises questions about U.S. ability to keep sophisticated weapons out of the hands of terrorists.

"It would be disastrous if a crate or truckload of these deadly missiles were to fall into the hands of a terrorist organization," said Glenn, D-Ohio, who chairs the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee. "Yet, because the DOD has not kept good track of these missiles, that is a very realistic scenario."

The report by GAO, Congress investigative arm, was released today by Glenn.

GAO auditors visited arsenals, looked at inventory, checked paperwork and concluded that 40 of the 6,373 Stingers that were shipped to the Persian Gulf in 1991 "were not returned to the depot, other Army locations or the other services."

"The Army does not know where these missiles are," GAO said.

The report also included anecdotes about lax security that might have let missiles fall into the wrong hands, had a terrorist been in the right place at the right time.

Some missiles were transported around the Persian Gulf region on unguarded trucks driven by third-country nationals, the report said.

To help quickly move troops home after the war, units were allowed to turn in equipment, ammunition and weapons without documentation. And enemy weapons and other unauthorized weapons were deposited in so-called amnesty boxes.

Among the items found in those boxes: Stinger missiles. And an undisclosed number of Stingers were found unguarded on the side of the road, the report said.

The Defense Department responded that "there have been no confirmed thefts or unexplained losses of Category I missiles." And it said it is trying to fix its bad bookkeeping.

"A 100 percent worldwide inventory of the assets by serial number will be accomplished by December 1994," promised James Klugh, Defense Department deputy undersecretary for logistics.

At issue are some of the best weapons in America's arsenal: Stingers and Redeyes, accurate enough and strong enough to knock a flying plane out of the sky, yet small enough to be fired from the shoulder of a single soldier; and Dragons, designed to pierce the armor of a tank.

Every missile has a serial number, but the Army hasn't used the numbers to keep track of the missiles as they've been moved from place to place, GAO said.

In its written reply, the Pentagon said "a lack of serial-number tracking is a significant problem needing correction but it does not mean accountability is lost or that the services do not know how many missiles they have."

Poll shows voters believe Bush, Richards ads

A majority of voters surveyed for The Texas Poll said they trust the televised political advertisements of Democratic Gov. Ann Richards and Republican George W. Bush.

"Television is the only means most people have today to give a candidate the proverbial once-over," said Candace Windel, director of The Texas Poll. "The power of the stump speech has given way to the power of the electronic tube."

The poll, published in several Texas newspapers, found 54 percent of respondents said they trust what they've seen and heard in a series of commercials by Richards and Bush.

Thirty-six percent said they mistrust Richards' ads, and 38 percent said they mistrust Bush's commercials.

The ads range in subject from crime and education to Bush's business background.

Texans are almost evenly divided on whether they trust media organizations' so-called "truth test" analyses of the candidates' commercials, the survey showed.

Dear Abby

Teetotalist Host Thinks Serving Whiskey Is Risky

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I prefer that my home be alcohol- and smoke-free; therefore, I do not serve alcohol or make cigarettes available for guests.

When I go to the homes of friends who drink, it doesn't bother me because it's "their" home.

My problem is that some of my guests, knowing that I never serve alcohol, bring their own bottles when they come to my home.

Am I being "off the wall" by preferring that they abide by my rules when they are in my home? I do not want any of my guests leaving this house with a "snoot full." If they were involved in an automobile accident, I would feel responsible.

STUMPED IN NEW JERSEY

DEAR STUMPED: You are not being "off the wall." It's your right to set the rules for drinking and smoking in your own home.

I congratulate you on your sensible attitude concerning guests who may drink more than they can handle.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman, age 35, who is still contemplating having a baby, even though my biological clock is winding down.

However, my biggest fear is the possibility of having a painful delivery.

I know that women vary greatly in their childbirth experiences, some of them having 20 to 30 hours of hard labor, while others barely make it to the hospital.

My question: Do doctors let you choose from the beginning to have a cesarean and not make you wait until you have gone through hours of agony before using it as a last resort?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: You are apparently considering cesarean section surgery in order to avoid the pain of childbirth. I suggest that you discuss this with your obstetrician.

For what it's worth, I have yet to hear a new mother say, as her newborn child is placed in her arms, "It wasn't worth it."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In a magazine I read recently, a woman gave a great suggestion for sending get-well cards to hospital patients. In the upper left-hand corner of the envelope, instead of writing your own address, write the patient's home address. Then, if the patient has already checked out of the hospital, the card will be forwarded to the patient's home.

Pretty nifty, I'd say.

MRS. ESPOSITO, BROOKLYN, N.Y.

DEAR MRS. ESPOSITO: Not only "nifty" — highly intelligent. Thanks for a helpful suggestion.

DEAR ABBY: Who said, "Buy old masters. They fetch a better price than old mistresses"?

D.J.S., CHICKASHA, OKLA.

DEAR D.J.S.: Lord Beaverbrook, who was born William Maxwell Aitken in 1879 in the small town of Maple, Ontario. As a young man, he moved to London, England, where he acquired a fortune in the newspaper business and became a political power. His London newspaper, The Daily Express, was one of the most lively and widely read daily papers in the world. He died at the age of 87, bequeathing his collection of old masters to the Lord Beaverbrook Art Gallery in Fredericton, New Brunswick, Canada — but no mention was made of what happened to his "old mistresses."

Honey Do's Texas Association of Family and Community Education Club met for its regular meeting on Oct. 20 in the home of Vivian Cochran.

Cruising at the table

The Generali Two Worlds Trophy, held at the Villaggio del Bridge in Italy last August, was as much a social success as a bridge success. The 16 players and 10 or so journalists brought along, as appropriate, their wives, children and girlfriends. There was a most enjoyable day out, the main attraction of which was a cruise up and down the beautiful coast of the Gulf of Policastro.

However, the festivities didn't seem to diminish the participants' determination to play well. Today's deal won the award for the best-played hand of the tournament. It was declared by Geir Helgemo, the young Norwegian who is being slated as the next superstar of bridge.

East's two-diamond opening purported to be a weak two-bid. Perhaps he did have too much wine (or sun) out on the high seas!

Against four hearts, West led the diamond king and switched to a trump. Helgemo won in hand and led his club, West grabbing his ace and returning another trump.

South seemed to have only nine tricks, but Helgemo found an ingenious way to develop a 10th. He won trick four in the dummy, cashed the club king, discarding a diamond, and ruffed a club in hand. He continued with the spade ace and a spade ruff in the dummy. Now came the club jack. When East produced the queen, declarer didn't ruff. Instead, he discarded his last diamond.

Declarer's 10 tricks were one spade, two hearts, one diamond, one club, two spade ruffs in the dummy and three minor-suit ruffs in hand.

S.I.L.K. program given by Sheriff Keith Collier

The Scurry Charter Chapter of American Business Women Association met recently at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Sheriff Keith Collier explaining S.I.L.K., a program which began locally in 1992.

Introduced by Jessie Scarbrough, Collier said the program, Snyder Independent Living Konnection, is beneficial to the elderly or handicapped because they are called at 7:30 every morning. If there is no answer, they are checked on by an officer, a neighbor or another connection. The program began with personal phone calls, but the number increased to nine and it is now done by computer.

During the meeting, Inez Teaff gave the vocational talk, stating that she is now retired and enjoys doing handwork and traveling. She worked at Thompson's Shoe Store for 24 years.

Members having September birthdays were recognized. They were Scarbrough, Jo Ann Prince, Betty Bynum and Margaret Easterwood.

Cowboys' Williams injured in early morning accident

IRVING (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys' charge to a third consecutive Super Bowl took a severe jolt Monday when Pro Bowl offensive lineman Erik Williams was injured in a car accident that likely will sideline him until next year.

"He'll have the opportunity to play again but I doubt it'll be this year," Dallas coach Barry Switzer said after visiting Williams in the hospital. "In my opinion he's going to need reconstruction of the right knee. Thank God he's alive."

Erik Williams

Williams sustained a sprained right knee in the early-morning accident, as well as a broken rib, torn ligaments in his left thumb and facial lacerations that required plastic surgery.

The only good news for the Cowboys following their 28-21 victory over the Arizona Cardinals was the status of Troy Aikman, who suffered a concussion in the first quarter.

"I'll play on Sunday against Cincinnati," said Aikman, who underwent an MRI that was negative. "This is one of the minor ones (concussion) that I've had."

Aikman, who has had four concussions with the Cowboys and six overall going back to his high school days in Oklahoma, will play behind a patchwork offensive line. Rookie Larry Allen will replace Williams at right tackle. It's a position Allen has never played. He started at left tackle earlier in the season.

Also nursing injuries on the offensive line are left tackle Mark Tuinei, center Mark Stepnoski, and Nate Newton. They are expected to play.

Tight end Jay Novacek will likely miss the game against the Bengals because of a possibly torn abdominal muscle, giving Aikman two less veterans in the offensive line.

"I'm playing, I don't care if we have five high school guys out there," said Aikman.

Coleman Bell will be activated from the practice squad to take Novacek's place if needed.

Williams, 6-foot-6 and 325 pounds, was spared further injury because of the air bag in his Mercedes.

"It was a sad morning for all of us," said scouting director Larry Lacewell. "We're fortunate the injury wasn't worse."

Cowboys running back Emmitt Smith arrived at the scene of the accident on the North Dallas Tollway shortly after it occurred about 3 a.m.

"He was still in the car when I got there," Smith said. "I helped get him out of the car. I was very shaky.

"I was just praying he was going to be OK. He's one of my best friends. He told me, 'I'm all right. I'm all right.' "

Williams, 26, was to spend the night at Parkland Memorial Hospital and doctors would decide Tuesday when he could go home.

"I have no firm answer when Erik will be able to play again," said Dallas trainer Kevin O'Neill. "There is no break in his leg. We'll just have to see what the MRI shows when the swelling goes down."

Williams' car hit a guardrail as he was heading onto the tollway from Interstate 635, Department of Public Safety officials said.

Eagles capitalize on Houston mistakes during 21-6 victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When Fred Barnett spotted Lynn Swann on the sidelines, he needed no additional motivation to reach the end zone.

The Philadelphia Eagles' wide receiver caught four passes for 133 yards before adding his fifth and final catch, a 54-yard touchdown reception that helped the Eagles pull away from the Houston Oilers on the way to a 21-6 victory Monday night.

After a brief celebration with his teammates, Barnett went over to the sidelines and handed the ball to Swann, a former Pro Bowl receiver with Pittsburgh who is now a part of ABC's Monday Night Football broadcast crew.

"I prayed for touchdowns because I saw him on the sideline and I planned on giving him the ball if I scored, and it happened," Barnett said.

Why Swann?

"Lynn Swann exemplified what you see today," Barnett said. "He set the standard for receivers."

Swann, who brought the ball in to have Barnett autograph it after the game, was touched.

"It was great to know players of today can remember me and have respect for what I did," Swann said.

Barnett certainly earned the respect of Swann with his performance. He already had considerable respect from his teammates after undergoing an exhaustive rehabilitation following reconstructive knee surgery.

Along with Randall Cunningham and Jeff Sydner, Barnett was lost for the season last year in Philadelphia's fourth game. Sandwiched between two players, he tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee.

The injury was serious, but Barnett was determined to come back.

"Once the doctor told me it was possible to come back 100 percent, that's all I needed to know," he said. "I made it a challenge."

Even though Barnett worked hard to get his knee back in shape, coach Rich Kotite was taking no chances. Barnett got little work during training camp and saw little action in the preseason.

He caught four passes for 61 yards in the season opener, but Barnett signaled the end of his recovery with an eight-catch, 102-yard performance in Philadelphia's 30-22 Monday night victory over Chicago on Sept. 12.

Lady Tigers' playoff fate rests on Lamesa-Estacado

After two months of grueling district and non-district play, the future of the Snyder Lady Tigers' volleyball season comes down to tonight's game between Lamesa and Lubbock Estacado.

If the Lamesa Lady Tors (4-3, 9-11 overall) are able to continue Estacado's current 20 game winless streak and improve to 5-3 in District 5-4A, they will force a district playoff game against Snyder sometime at the end of this week.

Levelland has already clinched the district championship with an undefeated 7-0 record going into tonight's game against Sweetwater.

Should the scenario unfold where Snyder and Lamesa play, the winner would represent the district as the runner-up to Levelland.

Levelland, as the District 5-4A champions, will play the District 6-4A runner-up, Cleburne.

The Lady Tigers' final regular season game is tonight, when they face off against non-district foe Andrews at 6:30 p.m. at Andrews.

Maddux wins third Cy Young

NEW YORK (AP) — Greg Maddux became the first pitcher to win three straight Cy Young Awards, unanimously sweeping the NL honor Monday with an overpowering year in a season dominated by hitting.

The Atlanta Braves ace was 16-6 with a 1.56 ERA, the third-lowest in 75 years. His ERA was more than 21/2 runs below the league average, the biggest differential in major league history.

Maddux, 28, won the Cy Young in 1992 with the Chicago Cubs. He has won it both years since signing with the Braves as a free agent.

Maddux's contract gives him a bonus of $750,000 for winning this award. Braves general manager John Schuerholz recently said he did not think individual awards should be presented in a season that stopped Aug. 12 because of the players' strike.

WTC golfers tied for ninth at Odessa

ODESSA — The Western Texas College golf team is tied for ninth place going into today's final round in the Odessa College Invitational at Mission Dorado.

Leading the way for the Westerners is Mark Smith, a freshman from Lubbock, who shot a 74-73 for a 36 hole total of 147.

As a team, WTC posted a 301-299 for a first day total of 600.

Midland College's Gold team is leading the two day event with a score of 575. Odessa College's Blue team and McClennan Junior College are tied for second with matching scores of 584. New Mexico Junior College is third with a 586.

Also scoring for the Westerners were Stan Scarborough (71-78-149), Cory Stone (77-74-151), Will Gray (79-74-153) and Mitch McCalib (82-80-162).

The Westerners are scheduled to play another 18 holes today.

Your Birthday

Wednesday, Oct. 26, 1994

In the year ahead you might disassociate from persons and conditions that have hampered your progress. Your desire for new people and better ways will be very strong.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be especially careful of verbal or written commitments today. They might be used against you later. Scorpio, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Skillful persuasion will be required today to get financial backing. Rejection is probable if your presentation is weak.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This might be a rather "iffy" day for you legally. Seek expert advice before signing any type of binding document.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Make an effort to keep everything you do out in the open today. Even with full disclosure, your motives may be questioned.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Usually you're attuned to what pleases the majority. However, today this gift might not be operative and you may needlessly alienate friends.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Keep persons without credentials or who don't have an official role out of critical career matters today. Their input could be counterproductive.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Instead of prolonging the agony, it might prove expedient today to dissolve a joint endeavor that has a slim chance of being successful anyway.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In a business deal today, try to stick to your original game plan, even though it might be difficult. Making too many short range adjustments could be ineffective.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Someone with whom you're involved might take it upon him/herself today to make a decision for you that you've been reluctant to make yourself. You may not like the results.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) There are several acquaintances you have now outgrown. Today you might find additional reasons to see less of them.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone might try to pit you against one of your close friends today. This manipulative person has done this to you before, so be warned; the maneuver could be very smooth.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) An objective you've established for yourself is within reach, but you might have to step on a friend's toes. If you're weighing this matter, let compassion be the deciding factor.

Massive security efforts launched

JERUSALEM (AP) — It's a Secret Serviceman's nightmare.

On Wednesday and Thursday, President Clinton plans to attend a peace treaty signing in a former minefield, address Israel's parliament and walk the violence-prone alleys of the Old City of Jerusalem.

Clinton's plans have prompted Israeli police to design one of the largest security operations ever, with 6,000 officers assigned for the Jerusalem stretch alone.

A senior police official, speaking on condition of anonymity, told The Associated Press that the Secret Service lobbied Clinton unsuccessfully to at least cancel the Old City portion.

"Clinton's visit in Jerusalem and the Old City is very sensitive," said Police Commissioner Assaf Hefetz, noting that its Arab population often demonstrates against Israel.

ROY IDOM
Commissioner, Precinct 2
In my 1990 platform I stated I would be dedicated to strengthening levels of efficiency in our County Government with principles of Sound Business Management. I have kept my platform pledges and am proud of the following business practices and achievements.
➲ Reducing costly benefits by hiring contract labor when possible
➲ Reducing fuel and replacement cost (Precinct 2) by keeping county vehicles in yard after working hours.
➲ Reducing cost by using county and state prisoners to do ground keeping work at the coliseum and parks and to paint county-owned buildings.
➲ Reducing cost by attrition (not replacing personnel who retired or quit) when possible.
➲ Reducing cost by giving a seldom used Precinct 2 motor grader to Precinct 3 (which would have had to purchase a new one-approximate cost $112,000).
➲ A new hiring policy and base pay structure.

I PLEDGE TO MAKE THE DISTRICT CLERKS' OFFICE AVAILABLE TO THE COMMUNITY THE FULL COURTHOUSE WORKDAY, TO OPERATE CONSERVATIVELY AND EFFICIENTLY, KEEPING EXPENSES DOWN AND SERVICES EXCELLENT.
I WOULD HAVE THIS OFFICE TO BE GUIDED BY THE VALUES OF THRIFT, WORK, ACCOUNTABILITY, HONESTY, AND LENDING A HELPING HAND.
I have 26 years of clerical, accounting and business management through Texaco, Inc., Wadleigh Construction, Inc., Tri-State Construction and I am currently the owner of The Mail Center Plus.
Education is in accounting and business skills through Snyder High School, Abilene Commercial College and other colleges.

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, Snyder Daily News, Box 949, Snyder, TX 79550, or bring it by the news office at 3600 College Ave. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 5:00 p.m. Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the total points of the score for that game and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second and third place winners. In the case of a perfect score, the formula would apply for the $250 cash prize. To win the $1,000 cash prize, all twenty games must be picked correctly, plus the exact score must be predicted on the tie-breaker.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all that person's entries. Entries must be on the official entry blank (No Copies Please). Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the winner's story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the SDN and their families are not eligible to enter.
