

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

Comes Thanksgiving again, and we're trying to get "the sheet" out on Wednesday this week, so we can be thankful on Thursday.

We can be thankful, anyway, but we can be more so if we don't have to hit the usual grind on Thursday. Just getting to sleep late on Thursday is something to really be thankful for.

But we've much more than that. We're thankful that our forefathers saw fit to set aside a day of thanksgiving—even if it did turn out to be Thursday—press day.

They didn't know, however, how that day would make us, here in 1948, have to put four days' work into three so we could take the holiday off.

Back in those days, it just happened to be that the pumpkin was ripe on the vine, the fodder was in shock, and our forefathers who'd escaped persecution in the old country and set out to find a new one, just set aside a day to give thanks for a bountiful harvest.

To this Thanksgiving, we're thankful that they did. We right here in Knox County can also give thanks for a bountiful harvest, for our harvest has been much more bountiful than in many spots, even in Texas.

We've much more to be thankful for, too. Personally, our harvest is coming in too, and we're thankful to all of you for a note-paying harvest.

You see, we got around to mailing our cards to those of you who needed to help us with the note.

We borrowed old "applenockers" look out and placed it on the card, telling to look on the other side at the date your subscription expired.

One of the first to respond was Gene Michels, who said "Gimme a check. I want to get rid of that look."

His response is being followed by many others, and we're plumb thankful for it. Even Mrs. A. J. V. Johnson made her annual visit and renewed all the papers she's sending to her children and kinspeople.

Jim Frost dropped in from over Seymour way, and we found that he'd paid us four bucks. Just didn't want to be bothered with it next year, we guess.

So we have all these to be thankful for, if we're just thankful from a selfish note-paying standpoint. Bue we're not.

As people of the community, we can be thankful for lots of things that have come our way in the past year.

We can be thankful our paving has been laid, and when it rains we can get out without too much fear of being mired down in the mud.

We, too, can be thankful for this year's harvest, because all of us are, more or less, dependent upon the harvest, if not actively engaged in agriculture.

We can be thankful that Munday's flood waters can be coaxed to leave town—whether we're all in favor of this enough to put over the bond election, come December 6th.

Whether it will be done is the $54 dollar question right at the moment, but we can be thankful that it can be done if we've a mind to do it.

Then, too, we can be thankful that our American privilege to vote either for or against the bond issue—as that thing called "conscience" directs us to vote.

But many are of the opinion that the bond issue will carry and that those things called "canals" will actually be constructed to carry our excess water away.

We can't be thankful for a street sweeper this year—but next year we can!

Drainage District Bond Issue To Come Up For Vote Here December 6

Plucky Munday, out of the "arid" West, paradoxically will vote Dec. 6 on whether to put a quietus to flash floods which have long inundated its streets and poured into its stores.

Resident qualified property tax-paying voters of Munday, which formed itself into the "Knox County Drainage District No. 1" on Aug. 9, this year, will decide at the polls whether to authorize the issuance of $61,500 in 5 per cent bonds to be payable over a period terminating in 1980, proceeds from which sale will be expended in construction of canals, laterals, ditches and other drainage structures in west, south and east Munday to hold off inflowing flood waters and divert them to Lake Creek southeast of the city.

The commissioners court ordered the election Nov. 8. Officials present at the session were county Judge W. M. Griffith; Commissioners O. L. Knight of Precinct No. 1, L. A. Parker of Precinct No. 2, C. A. Bullion of Precinct No. 3 and George Nix of Precinct No. 4, as well as M. T. Chamberlain, county clerk. The petition requesting the calling of the election was headed and followed by names of 56 other qualified Munday voters of the drainage district.

Two Voting Places
Two voting places in Munday were designated, election judges and clerks appointed to supervise. They are:

Masonic Hall, Munday—J. C. Borden, judge; J. C. Harpham and Weldon Smith, clerks.

The ballot will read: "For (Against) the Drainage District and issuance of bonds and the levying of tax in payment."

Only resident qualified property tax-paying voters of the district will be allowed to vote.

A two-thirds vote will be required for it to carry. County Judge W. M. Griffith said.

Notices of the elections have been posted at the courthouse door in Benjamin and in Munday at the following places: City Hall, Post Office, First National Bank, Farmers Union Gin. It also has been ordered published for two consecutive weeks—Nov. 11 and 18—in the Munday Times.

Prize Winners For Best Savings Bond Story

GIDDINGS, TEXAS — When the American Farm Bureau Federation, through its publication, asked the country's farmers to tell why they are investing part of their crop income in United States Savings Bonds, F. B.

Curry, shown above with his wife, Mary, and four-year-old daughter, Carolyn Sue, responded with a simple human interest narrative, there key theme of which was: "Don't feed inflation: Save your future by building a financial reserve in the form of U. S. Savings Bonds." His story won him the first award of $300 in savings bonds. Pride of the Curry family in their ownership of shares in their government is reflected in this scene on their farm as Papa Curry exhibits the $300 in bonds to Mama Curry and daughter.

Pep Squad Honors Munday Moguls At Annual Banquet Thursday Night

A gala occasion for the Munday community was the annual football banquet in which the pep squad honored the 1948 Moguls, and given last Friday evening at the school cafeteria.

Main speaker of the evening was Guy Scruggs of Abilene, former coach of the Moguls and for whom the local football field, Scruggs Field, was named. The speaker was introduced by Dr. R. L. Newsom.

The tables, decorated in the school color of purple and gold, were arranged to form a large "M" for the Moguls.

Plate favors were nut cups filled with candy mints, and flowers used for decorations were purple and gold chrysanthemums. Programs, shaped to resemble footballs with a large "M" on the front, were used.

Durwood Scott, Mogul star of the year, served as toastmaster and kept the program "clipping off yardage of entertainment" throughout.

Coach Billy Cloud presented the football awards for this year and introduced next year's captains of the Moguls. They were Scotty Ponder and Melburn Johnson. Cloud awarded the football jackets and made other awards.

Mrs. R. B. Bowden, sponsor of the pep squad, wore a large corsage of yellow roses tied with purple ribbons, a gift from the pep squad girls in appreciation for her work during the year.

3 Men Arrested Here For Stabbing At Wichita Falls

Officers L. G. Cook and Howard Shubert came to Munday to take the men to Wichita Falls. They were arrested here after police of that city sent out a pickup call for them.

Local officers learned after questioning the men that they were the ones wanted in Wichita Falls. One of the men wanted for investigation is 38 years old, a resident of El Paso; one is 24, a Munday resident, and the third 20, a Fort Worth resident; it was stated.

Santa Wants Letters From Knox Kiddies

Here comes a request from Santa Claus!

He wants to know what the kiddies of Knox county want for Christmas. And he wants those letters as early as possible, so he will have plenty of time to fill the orders and not disappoint anybody.

As usual, the Munday Times will publish all Santa Claus letters from Knox county children in the issue just before Christmas. In order to get them in the paper, we must receive them by Saturday, December 18.

That's just three weeks from next Saturday, so begin thinking about those letters, kiddies. We will publish them and get them on to Santa in plenty of time.

Shortage Of Dairy Cattle Cause Of Alarm Among Leaders Of Knox County

New Oil Test Rig Is Drilling Past 4,000 Feet

The new oil test, which has been drilling for some three weeks on what is known as the Whittemore place, five miles south of Munday, is drilling ahead, having passed the 4,000 foot mark.

The location, two and one-half miles north of Weinert, is the Geographical Chemical Survey, Incorporated, and Inter-Oil's No. 1 Mable Cornelius, a 6,000-foot wildcat.

It was below 3900 feet the latter part of last week, according to reports.

NEW WILCAT STARTED JUST NORTH OF GOREE

Goree is to have another try for oil, with another new shallow test well being started in the area.

This is the J. S. Brown No. 1 Coffman, 330 feet from the south and west lines of northquarter of section 82, black 45, H&TC survey, a new 1,950-foot wildcat one-quarter mile north of Goree in northeast Knox county, as reported in Tuesday's edition of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Not So Dumb

THOMAS ROY JONES

Rejecting the saying "it's all right to be dumb on occasion but there's no sense in making a career out of it," Thomas Roy Jones, a Kingman, Kans., boy who became one of the nation's leading industrialists (he's board chairman of American Type Founders, Daystrom Furniture, and other companies) once told an American Management Association conference:

"You are now looking at a man who has made a career of being dumb and thinks it does make sense. I have learned from experience that any answer which I may have for a problem is probably, at best, only half right, so I go to the best man I can find on that particular problem, and if I don't have all the answers when I come away it's because I haven't thought of all the questions. Then I take action on the other fellow's advice and get a reputation for being smart and am invited to come to conventions and make speeches to the fellows from whom I obtained the answers."

That Knox County is fast growing weaker as a producer of dairy products is a fact that is viewed with alarm by vocational agriculture teachers and county and community leaders of the county. Each year finds fewer and fewer dairy cattle in the county, with the fact that this important phase of diversification is waning each year.

Considerable discussion of the shortage of dairy cows was held Monday night at the regular meeting of directors of the Community Development Association, together with ways and means of encouraging an upward trend in the production of dairy products.

It was pointed out that many boys of school age over the county might be interested in beginning a dairy project, and vocational agriculture leaders are ready to help in carrying out such a program.

Ways and means of starting these dairy herds were discussed, with no definite conclusion decided upon. It was the belief of directors, however, that those interested would assist anyone in getting a start in this movement.

Anyone interested in such a program should contact the vocational agriculture teacher in his community or members of the Munday Community Development Association. If enough interest is shown, a move would be started to place good dairy cattle in the county.

Boyles Sparks Moguls To Win On Thursday

Amid the worst playing weather of the season, the Munday Moguls chalked up a 6 to 0 victory from the Roby Lions here last Thursday night.

High wind and sand, sleet and snow, caused the crowd to be very light, and the two teams played the fastest game of the season. Quarters were cut to five minutes each, with only a two minute rest period at the half.

Officials considered calling the game off entirely, because of weather, but this brought such a howl from both the Munday and Roby teams that the game went ahead as scheduled.

Red Boyles, Mogul quarterback and backfield star, led his team to victory. In the second play of the third period, Boyles broke around right end and scampered 65 yards for a touchdown. He received good blocking from his teammates through the secondary, then he was away for the counter.

This was a non-conference game for both teams.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Takes Issue With The City Paper Opposing Farmers Who Eat Out Of Tin Cans

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek, like most of the experts, is switching from politics to other subjects, his letter this week reveals. We don't blame him.

Dear editor:

I was sittin out here the other day tryin to figure out how the editor of The Dallas News, Time Magazine, the New York Times, you and me all could have been so confused about the election, and I am especially burned up, because my loud-mouthed neighbor from across the river offered to bet 15 to 1 Truman wouldn't win and I didn't have enough sense to call it, although what I would have done with fifteen bushels of onions is more than I can figure out, but I gave it up, the same as you, and picked up a copy of a newspaper and read a editorial where the editor was complaining because too many farmers is eatin out of tin cans.

Accordin to this city editor, farmers make a big mistake when they buy their food in tin cans. "The trouble with farmers has always been a cash-crop, eating from-the-can economy," the editor said.

As I understand this, tin cans is supposed to be reserved for city people, and farmers ought to stay out of grocery stores except for salt, grow their own food, and not be botherin themselves with cash.

Personally, I don't subscribe to this theory. If I have 15 cents and a choice between buyin some seed and growin my own food and buyin a can of turnip greens right now, I'll buy the turnip greens, the same as any thikin person. I ain't never seen nobody hunger satisfied in the fall by thoughts of a bumper turnip green crop next spring.

Of course I don't practice it, but farmin is a science, a big business, and it may be possible that growin turnip greens is in the same category that a car manufacturer finds makin batteries is. Some times he finds it's cheaper to buy the battery and put it in the new car than to produce it himself. If a farmer can spend his time more profitably raisin hogs for the cash market and buyin food out of tin cans, instead of a hand-to-mouth existence in his garden, that ought to be his business. Farmers ain't prejudiced against tin cans or cash either.

I tested it out one year out time it took me to break my land, buy the seed, plant it, plow it, hoe it, fight the Johnson grass, fight the insects, worry over the weather, gather the stuff, and put it in a can myself, and countin my time at 50 cents a hour, it

He runs a tobacco shop in San Antonio.

San Antonio really abounds in the picturesque. Its sidewalk "characters" are colorful. One has long, thick hair like Buffalo Bill; he even has a mustache and goat-ee. He plays a fiddle but, instead of using a bow, picks it as though it were a guitar.

And there is a pencil vendor who looks like an Old Testament prophet; his beard is long and flowing, and his hair reaches six inches below his shoulders.

Desdemona had a home coming a while back. When that Eastland County town was in the midst of a rich oil field, things were exciting, even baseball games.

One day, an umpire made a decision that aroused a group who had bet on the game, so out on the field they came in such a threatening way that he reversed his ruling.

The next game, the same umpire made the group sore again and out they came once more. The umpire yanked a six-shooter from his hip pocket, marched them back to the sideline, dusted off the home plate and yelled, "Play ball!"

There was no more trouble.

Incidentally, Desdemona, after years of inactivity, is seeing wells drilling in every direction. Seeking deeper sands than the one which produced the boom of 1919-21. Maybe the old town will see a comeback.

SUNDAY NIGHT

O, Lord, I thank thee for thy word,
That fills my soul with light;
I hear it preached on Sunday morn
But not on Sunday night.
Of thy word our singers sing,
Songs of pure delight;
On Sunday morn I help them sing
But not on Sunday night.
I love to hear our leaders pray.
Give thanks for thy love and light;
I say amen on Sunday morn
But not on Sunday night.
Help the church to grow in grace,
Strong in the power of thy might,
Count me in on Sunday morn
But not on Sunday night.
Come ye, and let us go up to the house of God . . . and he will teach us of his ways. (Isa. 2:3.)

FARM NEWS

from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

FARM ELECTION DATES SET

Community farmer committee elections will be held in Knox County December 14th through December 17th, Emmett Partridge, chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee announced today.

At these elections committees to administer the Agricultural Conservation Program and related programs for 1949 will be chosen. Since both the Agricultural Conservation Program and Price Supports are of vital concern to farmers of Knox County, it is to the best interest of each farmer to participate in this election.

This farm program with its elected farmer committees gives farmers an opportunity to administer their own program. It is truly a democratic method of administration.

Mr. Partridge said that any person who is participating in the 1948 Agricultural Conservation Program, Sugar Program, who is eligible for a commodity loan or other price support or who has a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is eligible to vote in the elections.

Details of how the elections will be held are as follows: Ballots have been mailed out for those that wish to vote by mail or bring to the office in Benjamin that will not be able to come to the community voting place.

The elections will be held as follows:

Munday	December 15
Sunday	December 15
Knox City	December 15
Goree	December 10
Vera	December 15
Rhineland	December 15
Truscott	December 17

Every farmer who is eligible to vote has a responsibility to cast his or her ballot, the chairman states. "We may well be at the crossroads this year. We may neglect our opportunity to administer our own program and let control of agriculture slip away from us. Or we may unite back of the farm program and build for a better and stronger agriculture in the future. It is our choice."

COVER CROP AND CONSERVATION

Farmers who have spread a green blanket of winter cover over their land are helping protect the Nation's food and fiber supply, says Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee. They are safe-guarding the Nation against poverty and famine, for by carrying out this soil conservation practice they are protecting the land against erosion and depletion. By holding the soil and building into it reserves for future production, cover crops help assure future abundant production.

As the chairman explains, winter rains do little damage to land that is protected by a good cover crop. Numerous experiments and practical experience have shown that in regions where soil erodes badly, a growing crop on the land during the season of heavy rainfall will prevent most washing away of the topsoil.

The leaves and stems of the cover plants—clover, vetch, ryegrass, lupines, winter peas and others—break the fall of the raindrops, preventing the bombardment and breaking up of the surface soil. The leaves and stems slow down the flow of excess water, checking the washing away of topsoil and the formation of gullies. The roots hold the soil together and help the land to absorb more of the moisture that falls.

When the cover crop is plowed under, the organic matter in the soil helps to hold the soil together. The plant food taken up in the cover crop is released for the growing of the cotton, corn or other field crops which may be grown on the land following the cover crop. Plant food that may have washed away or leached out without a cover crop is stored in the roots and leaves and stems of the cover crop for use of the crop that follows.

The chairman points out that the assistance provided to farmers on a share-the-cost basis under the Agricultural Conservation Program has done much to encourage farmers to provide this vital protection to the soil that assures continued abundant food supplies to the Nation.

Veterans' News

There are a number of important deadline dates on GI Bill benefits which World War II veterans should keep in mind. Veterans Administration officials point out.

GI education and training benefits have two deadlines, one to enter training and another to complete training. Education or training must be started within four years after discharge or by July 25, 1951, whichever is later.

As a general rule, education or training must be completed not later than July 25, 1956. The exceptions from the general rule are veterans who enlisted or re-enlisted before October 6, 1946. These men figure deadlines on GI Bill benefits from the date of their discharges and may start and complete their training later than other veterans.

Veterans may apply for guaranteed or insured GI loans for the use of buying or building homes, farms or business up until July 25, 1957.

Veterans who were discharged on or before July 25, 1947, can apply for readjustment allowances until two years after their date of discharge. However, no readjustment allowances are payable after July 25, 1952.

There is no deadline on the time a veteran has to apply for medical care or hospitalization. He may do this any time during his life. The same holds true for filing a claim for disability compensation or pension.

DRILL FOR SCENIC HIGHWAY

Drilling for oil and other minerals is an old story but it remains for New Hampshire to drill for dollars. Not that dollars will be found but the state hopes to attract tourists with a new scenic highway and from the visitors will come the money.

Cutting through the rugged hillsides calls for leveling and grading operations through solid rock and drilling is necessary. R. G. Watkins & Sons, Inc., contractors on the job, called engineers of the Timken Roller Bearing Company and found the right answer to the rock drilling problem. Using 5 pneumatic hammers and 3 wagon-drills equipped with Timken Rock Bits enabled the job to go ahead smoothly.

When the new highway is finished and the motoring tourists come rolling along the drilling for dollars will pay off.

cent of the treatments completed during the past fiscal year ending June 30, 1948, under the federal program to treat eligible veterans for service-connected dental conditions, VA reports.

More than 600,000 cases were treated by private dentists under the "home town" dental program and about 53,000 in VA claims. Private dentists examined 420,000 veterans and VA staff dentists 280,000.

Questions and Answers
Q. My brother, a World War II veteran, made valid application for an automobile under Public Law 663, 79th Congress, but he died before delivery of the car could be made. May it now be paid by the VA and delivered to his estate?

A. No. Payment for the car by VA is contingent upon its delivery to the veteran.

Q. I received a leg injury in an automobile accident recently which requires outpatient treatment. Will VA furnish the required treatment?

A. Outpatient treatment is available only for service-connected disabilities.

Q. I assigned my armed forces leave bond to pay premiums in advance on my National Service Life Insurance, but I need funds at this time. May I withdraw all or part of it?

A. Yes. Upon written request of the insured, all or part of the unearned premium may be refunded.

Q. I wrecked my automobile which was furnished by VA under provisions of Public Law 663, 79th Congress. Will VA give me another car to replace it?

A. No. There is no provision under the law to provide more than one automobile to an eligible veteran.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—With the advent of cold weather each year in this State, several deaths are usually reported, resulting from asphyxiation by gas fumes in improperly ventilated homes or sleeping quarters.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a warning in this respect, emphasizing that it is never safe to sleep in a tightly closed room with a gas fire burning. Even if there are no gas leaks, the air soon becomes vitiated and unfit to breathe.

"When occupying a room in which gas is burning, be sure always to have at least one window or door open, to admit fresh air", Dr. Cox said. "If the weather is too cold to permit leaving an open window in the room occupied, then play safe by opening a door into an adjoining room, where a window can be opened."

Dr. Cox said he was prompted to issue this warning early in the season because of the fact that thousands of new residents in the State have come from districts where they have been used to burning coal, wood or oil, and they do not know the dangers of gas fumes in improperly ventilated homes.

"Occupying a room heated by an open gas flame, and at the same time keeping the room tightly closed, may prove disastrous the very first time it is tried," Dr. Cox said. "It is better not to risk it even one time. Always be sure that your room has plenty of fresh air, but make doubly sure when you have a gas fire burning."

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pendleton and daughter, Jan, spent last Sunday in Fort Worth. They were accompanied home by Mrs. H. A. Pendleton, who spent last week there, attending the bedside of Mr. Pendleton, who was injured in an automobile accident.

Mrs. C. N. Benham of Abilene visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes last Sunday.

N. A. Chastain spent the week end in Spur, visiting his family and attending to business matters.

each year thereafter during years of 1950 to 1979, both inclusive, and $1,500 in the year 1980. Bonds will bear interest at the rate not exceeding 5 per cent per annum, payable semiannually.

Plans and specifications for the drainage system were prepared and submitted by Joe E. Ward, engineer, Wichita Falls. The canals to be constructed will intercept and carry off flood waters from the west, south and east. The two canals—one on the west and south, and the other on the east boundaries of Munday, will join southeast of the city.

Munday residents express the belief the election will carry by a huge vote. Most of them remember sadly and distinctly the major flood of 1930, and later less damaging flash floods which deeply silted streets, washed soil from residence lots and damaged buildings and merchantile stocks.

The word "canal" appears foreign to ears of West Texans who are constantly praying for rain, but nevertheless that is the only means to keep Munday's feet above the surging flood waters that sometimes develop in the Thorpe community and sweep over the low-lying environs of Munday, citizens declare.—Abilene Reporter-News.

Baptist Workers To Meet Tuesday At Goree Church

Tuesday, November 30th, the Baptist of Haskell association will gather at Goree for their monthly workers conference. The pastors from Rule, Haskell, Rochester and Knox City will appear on the program which begins at 10:00 a. m. and continues until 3:00 p. m. Dinner will be served at the church.

The program is built around the theme "Baptists and World—Missions", "Missions in the Plan of God", "Missions in the Need of the Nation", "Missions in the Growth and Development of a Church", and "Missions as an Inspiration of Christian Service".

County Supt. M. D. McGaughey of Benjamin was a business visitor here last Tuesday.

Kraker Krums—

We can all be thankful that our town is, in the main, inhabited by church-going people, and that these people are beginning to bring plans into fruition for future needs in church edifices.

Right now, there are moves on to construct three new churches in Munday. Some money has been raised on all of these, with the Baptist group being more active right at the time being.

Next year, these plans will go forward with even more enthusiasm, and soon Munday will be known as a town of good churches.

It's wonderful to live in a free country—outside the Iron Curtain—and even ignoring our material blessings, we've as yet much to be thankful for.

On this Thanksgiving Day, just ponder over your own individual situation, and see if you don't.

My favorite spouse and I get all excited about "firsts"—you know, first dinner guests, first darned sock, first purchase on the installment plan. As early as a month ago we began waxing enthusiastic about the prospect of our first December 25th together. I got so carried away that not long afterward I ordered a Christmas present which should send one Mr. Stuart running for the nearest mistletoe.

The idea for the prize package began when my would-be handyman started tinkering around with tools. Frankly, I'm not sure whether he knew a hammer from a carpet tack at first. But it wasn't long before he began dreaming of the things he could make and do if he had the proper equipment.

Then one day I overheard Dad mention a wonderful home workshop—five power tools all wrapped up in one machine. I jumped like a buzz saw. Dad explained that the Emrick workshop included a lathe, drill press, grinder, saw and sander all operating from one small motor, and quickly interchangeable. Dad's eyes took on a glow when he pointed out what even a beginner could do with the tools in wood, metals or plastic for home repair jobs, presents, furniture items and what have you.

I intended to rush out, hand a man $39.95 saved on hamburger-night dinners and have a workshop tied up in red and green ribbons. It seems, however, that the machine hasn't been marketed through retail channels as yet and is available only from the factory on money-back guarantee. Nothing daunted, I had the mailman start off with my order the next day to Emrick Inc., Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Yesterday it arrived—just ten days after my check and letter went out. Now I'm worried. The workshop looks so fascinating I may not be able to keep it a secret 'til Christmas; in that case, Santa Claus will find me scurrying around on the last second for an outlandish tie!

Knox City Banker Attends Conference On Dam Project

Bruce Campbell, Knox City banker and member of the Brazos River Development Association, spent several days last week in Oklahoma City, attending the National Reclamation Association convention.

Campbell said that everything was being done to get the Bob Baskin Dam project in the national eyes and bring about a realization of a project which would not only interest agricultural areas from the standpoint of irrigation, but also Stamford, Haskell and other cities in insuring abundant municipal water supplies.

Representatives from other towns in the area went to Oklahoma City to further the project, it was stated.

Knox County's Tax Rolls Are Boosted

Nearly a quarter of a million dollars has been added to the property tax rolls of Knox county since 1947, according to M. A. Bumpas, Jr., assessor and collector.

The rolls for 1948 show property valuations for taxation at $7,698,170, as compared with last year's total of $7,477,820.

The total taxation for 1948 has been computed at $136,387, of which the county will receive a total of $65,434.44. The county's tax rate is 85 cents per $100 valuation.
