Says Capone Case Thrilling Climax To U. S. Hypocrisy

U. S. COLLECTS MONEY, LEADS TO JAIL AT SAME TIME, CLAIM

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Events leading up to the arrest of Al Capone for violations of the income tax and prohibition laws were characterized by Henry H. Curran, president of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment, as "a thrilling climax in administrative hypocrisy."

Curran asserted that never before had a situation existed as "now we see it in the papers every day" where the government was "trying to lock a man up for his (prohibition) felonies with one hand and with the other hand trying to collect a good income tax out of the fruits of his felonies.

"While Mr. Mitchell edges him (Capone) up to the jail," Curran said, "Mr. Mellon halts him at the door to make a thrifty touch for the Capone liquor income tax.

"However, this administrative hypocrisy is no different from the judicial hypocrisy which sets aside bargain days for small fines on big bootleggers, just because there are not enough jurors to try a tenth of all the bootleggers, big and little, who abound in these hard times of national prohibition and national economic depression."

MEXICAN DIES IN CHAIR

ALLEGED ACCOMPLICE ABSOLVED TODAY BY OFILIO HERRERA

HUNTSVILLE, June 19. — A Mexican, absolving his alleged accomplice in the last statement he made, was put to death early today in the state prison electric chair for the murder of Sheriff A. T. Murray of Mason county.

Ofilio Herrera, 35, who had gone twice to the court of criminal appeals in an effort to set aside the judgment, died at 12:20 a. m. just after he had said in broken English: "Antonio Chaves is an innocent man."

Under Indictment

Chavez was indicted with Herrera, but there has been no disposition, prison officials said, of his case.

As the door in the chamber swung open to admit him, Herrera was seen walking down death row, grasping the hands of each man there, and calling out to them: "Goodbye and good luck."

He entered then, waved, and said: "Goodbye," to the spectators. A second later, he added: "Goodnight."

The straps were adjusted, and a priest stood in front of the chair, holding a crucifix. Herrera gazed at it as long as he lived.

Claimed "Frameup"

Herrera, in an interview with newspaper men, about two hours before, had refused to discuss the killing except to declare he was "framed all the way through."

He died alone, though two other Mexicans—Nicandro Munoz, and Victor Rodriguez, convicted of the murder of customs officer Bert Ellison at Weslaco, had been scheduled to go with him. They were granted reprieves yesterday afternoon by Governor Sterling.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

"Miss Belgium," 17-year-old Netta Duchateau, (left) finally was selected as "Miss Universe." "Miss United States," who came to the pageant as "Miss Northern Kentucky," was ranked second. She is blonde, blue-eyed, 18-year-old Anne Lee Patterson (right).

"The Immune" Torrio To Succeed Alphonse Capone

SUIT MAY ECHO BEAUTY PAGEANT

DALLAS, June 19 (AP)—Court action over the awarding of the title of "Miss United States" to Miss Northern Kentucky loomed today following announcement by Colonel William E. Easterwood jr., Dallas millionaire, that he had secured legal counsel to contest action of the judges.

Easterwood said one of the first telegrams he opened upon arrival here yesterday came from a Dallas woman who charged friends of the beauty pageant judges gave out the information there should be no awards made to Texas girls for fear Galveston would lose the annual beauty contest.

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 19.—Today's Herald and Examiner said Johnny "The Immune" Torrio has succeeded Alphonse Capone.

The proclamation that Torrio had invested himself with the ducal robes of gangland leadership, the newspaper said, was posted last night in the haunts of the halfworld.

Rumors Are Heard

Rumors have been persistent for weeks that the protege of "Big Jim" Colosimo had abandoned his western ranch to intervene once more in underworld activities.

Bullets from George "Bugs" Moran gang guns hastened Torrio's decision several years ago to quit Chicago's gang warfare. Twice before attempts on his life were unsuccessful. Thus he gained the sobriquet of "The Immune."

It was Torrio who brought Capone west from Brooklyn a decade ago to manage Colosimo's twenty-second street vice district. And when Torrio abdicated, Capone climbed onto the throne.

The newspaper said it was Torrio who ordered Capone to "take the rap" against him and plead guilty to the government's indictments charging liquor law and income tax violations.

On this plea, Capone will be sentenced June 30.

BUD BARFIELD UNDER BOND IN MURDER

FORMER UPTON COUNTY OFFICER CHARGED IN ROBBERY SLAYING

(By The Associated Press)

RANKIN, June 19.—J. O. Barfield, former sheriff of Upton county, Texas, Clarence Shannon and Hugh Gillespie, former deputies under Barfield in Upton county, were indicted late yesterday on charges of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of two men here in January, 1928, during an attempted bank robbery.

The three men were named in four bills returned by the Upton county grand jury after a lengthy investigation by Ranger Captain Frank Hamer. The four indictments charged the trio with murder for the slaying of W. M. Miller, alias "Blackie," and of another man whose identity was never fully established.

Barfield was released last night under $10,000 bond.

Shannon and Gillespie had not been served. Gillespie resides in McCamey and Shannon is now a deputy sheriff at Lovington, N. M.

Led by the Reverend Daniel A. Poling, head of the world Christian Endeavor movement, and Dr. Oliver W. Stewart, president of the flying squadron, the allied forces mapped plans for a series of 1,500 nonchurch meetings throughout the country, in a drive to obtain 2,000,000 pledges.

Thus far, 35 members have been chosen for the board. Among those so far named are: Thomas B. Love, a leader of the anti-Smith Democrats in Texas; the Rev. A. C. Millar, editor of "The Arkansas Methodist," and Bishop James M. Moore, Dallas, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

ARGUMENTS IN LITIGATION END TODAY

PLAINTIFF, DEFENSE ATTORNEYS MAKE FINAL PLEAS

After a morning of pleadings to the jury on the part of E. L. Klett for the defense and G. E. Lockhart for the plaintiff, the $200,000 libel suit of Fred Spikes against J. Evetts Haley and trustees of the Capital Reservation Lands company was given to the jury at 11:37 o'clock this morning.

Immediately afterwards, the jurors went into deliberation on the case.

G. E. Lockhart, making a stirring two-hour appeal for the plaintiff, closed the arguments by charging that the defense had failed to prove statements in Haley's book, "The XIT Ranch In Texas" were not libelous and damaging to Mr. Spikes' reputation. E. L. Klett closed argument for the defense, preceding Mr. Lockhart in this morning's session.

Seeks Damages

Mr. Spikes, a Lubbock real estate operator, is seeking the damages as the result of publication of the book, a chapter of which refers to the "Spikes gang" in connection with cattle rustling and outlawry.

Trial of the suit has been one of the longest and also largest civil hearings in the annals of West Texas.

Hearing of testimony consumed 22 days, with two days and a half for argument and pleadings and two days in which to secure a jury of 12 men to hear the case.

243 Testify

There were 243 witnesses for both sides, 159 for the plaintiff and 84 for the defendant, including depositions as well as oral testimony. Records show that there were 143 oral witnesses and 100 depositions.

POLICE PROBE HANGING

BAFFLING CASE FACED BY DALLAS OFFICERS IN INVESTIGATION

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, June 19—Police continued today to delve into the facts surrounding the attempted hanging yesterday by four masked men of B. P. Brown, supply pastor, from a chandelier in his own church.

Officers found it a baffling case. No arrests had been made, but meanwhile tumult reigned in the congregation of the church.

Brown was found dangling by a rope from a chandelier. He told rescuing officers he had been hanging in that manner for more than three hours.

Authors of several threat letters were being sought for a possible clue to the identity of the young pastor's assailants.

SCHEDULED OPENING DAY OF PROPOSED PANHANDLE LEAGUE JUST ANOTHER DAY

(By Associated Press)

AMARILLO, June 19.—Today, scheduled as the opening day of the Panhandle baseball league, rolled around with old sol besting down from his high throne with an expectant gleam on his face.

How could the sun know the Panhandle league had died the unnatural death of passing out of existence before being completely born? How could it know that for the past week the feeble efforts to get the league started were growing feebler each day, until today, as a perfect opening day came about there was not left even a ripple of the big splash of a few weeks ago.

John J. McCloskey, most active in the work to put over the loop, declared the failure of the league to start was due to the lateness in beginning the plan. The first hitch occurred when Clovis, New Mexico, failed to put up the $1,000 forfeit last week. The next came in an announcement from Lubbock that that town would transfer interests to semi-pro baseball.

Pampa and Amarillo had teams ready to go, and had made arrangements to light their baseball fields for night play.

NEGROES OF LUBBOCK ARE OBSERVING JUNETEENTH IN GRAND STYLE TODAY

Lubbock negroes today were observing annual Junteenth in commemoration of the day when members of their race were freed in the United States.

Although a parade through the negro section was scheduled to begin at 10 a. m., it had not been held an hour later because a baseball club scheduled to meet the Lubbock Black Sluggers had not arrived.

The Lubbock team and the Midland Mexicans are slated to play the first of a three-game series, beginning at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Barbecue and refreshments were to be served negroes at Merrill park at noon.

A New Orleans negro orchestra, The Six Aces, will play at a negro dance tonight at Johnson's hall on Avenue A.

Southeast of Lubbock at Johnston's ranch, an all-negro rodeo, a dance, boxing matches, and a barbecue were on the emancipation day program.

J. P. Oliver, negro physician directing local arrangements, last night said he hoped the white folks will let their negro servants have time to celebrate."

The schedule of broncho riding, calf roping, and other western sports events this afternoon at Johnston's ranch was believed to be the first in which only negroes would compete.

FIRE CHIEF TWITTY GIVES WARNING AGAINST SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION

Spontaneous combustion will cause a large percentage of fires occurring in Lubbock in the next 60 to 90 days, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty warned today.

Oily rags are left where they are not affected by ventilation in 99 per cent of Lubbock residences, the fire chief estimated in stamping the practise as most often responsible for spontaneous combustion.

The heaviest toll by fires originating by spontaneous combustion is expected in the next two months. In a corresponding period last year seven consecutive fires were attributed to it, Fire Chief Twitty said.

Weather conditions now are highly conducive to such blazes, he said. Articles do not always become ignited when the temperature is the highest, he pointed out, fire breaking out when "the atmosphere is right."

Fire occurred under a wharf at quarters of William Cameron & Co., inc., dealer in building materials, at 910 Avenue P early this morning. Damage was negligible.

RARE COFFEE WINS COUNTLESS NEW USERS BY FLAVOR

Amazing Popularity of Hills Bros. Coffee Tribute to Roasting Process

Years of experiment by Hills Bros. have resulted in the origination and perfection of the only Controlled Roasting process in use today.

By Hills Bros.' patented process, the degree of roast is positively controlled. The quantity of coffee passing into the roaster—about three pounds at a time—does not vary. The speed of the flow and the temperature remain the same, with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform. This roasting method is to a large degree responsible for the frequent question, "Why is Hills Bros. Coffee always the same?"

Comparisons show that Hills Bros. Coffee has a flavor no other coffee has. The ordinary method of roasting in bulk cannot insure a uniform roast because there is a lack of control.

The vacuum can, in which Hills Bros. Coffee is packed, keeps the coffee fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is completely removed from the can and kept out. Coffee does not stay fresh in ordinary cans, even if air-tight. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

To Erect Beacons For Night Flying

SAN ANTONIO, June 19 (AP)—Bids will be received in San Antonio June 22 for installing 15 beacon lights between Kingsville and Houston to permit night flying on the Houston-Brownsville air lines. Bids were advertised by Charles E. Darling, inspector for the department of commerce with offices in the federal building.

The beacons will be located on plots of ground 30 feet by 70 feet, painted and installed according to standard specifications, and fenced with a seven foot iron fence. They will be located near the following towns: Bishop, Driscoll, Robstown, Odem, Woodsboro, Refugio, McFadden, Inez, Edna, Louise, El Campo, Wharton, Needville, Dewalt and Almeda.

Even a man of the world doesn't always know how the land lies.

Pictures Attempts To Split Democrats

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 19 (AP)—Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former Democratic governor of Wyoming, told the Tennessee legislature yesterday that Republican leaders are attempting to divide Democratic forces over the question of prohibition.

She accused the Republicans of "throwing up a smoke screen to hide the great economic issues upon which the next national campaign must be sought.'

"These are the issues that are looming before this country," she said.

Mrs. Ross added, however, "There is no use for the intelligent people of this country to hide behind their hands and say there is no prohibition problems."

At the Republican president convention in 1884, the reform wing of the party "bolted" and proudly assumed the name "Mugwumps," which was given them in derision.

Periodical Pains Relieved In 3 Minutes

Month after month some women still suffer needless pain, but those who know simply go to a drug store or soda fount, get a package or dose of "B-C" and get perfect relief in 3 minutes, continuing their duties in pain-free, easy comfort.

"B-C" is the formula of two North Carolina druggists, contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of headache, neuralgia and periodical pains, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 1 to 3 hours.

"B-C" stops the pain, quiets the nerves, is perfectly harmless. No other preparation like it. Nothing else gives such profound relief. Ask your druggist, he knows. (Adv).

DEVELOPMENT IN SCIENCE OF BULLET AND FIREARM IDENTIFICATION TOLD BY PROFESSOR OF POLICE SCIENCE

Police officers have been going to school at Northwestern university to learn, among other things, about forensic ballistics—the science, or art, of bullet and firearm identification. Lieut. Col. Calvin Goddard, the ballistics expert, who was called to Chicago to help in the solution of the St. Valentine's day massacre, tells of developments in his field in the following article—one of a series on "What's Going On In The World Today."

BY CALVIN GODDARD,
Professor of Police Science, Northwestern University School of Law, and Director of the Scientific Crime Detection Laboratory
(Copyright, 1931, By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 19 (AP)—During the last few years, much attention has been attracted to developments in the field of firearm identification; or, to use a more comprehensive definition, the identification of the particular weapon which has fired a given bullet, shell, wad, or charge of buckshot.

The proper technical term to be applied to investigations of this type is "forensic ballistics," or "legal ballistics."

More Of Art

Forensic ballistics, or the application of ballistic knowledge to questions in dispute at law, is, in its most important applications, much more of an art than a science. Its value rests upon the readily established fact that no two similar things, whether large or small, man-made or naturally created, are identical down to their last microscopic details. If this holds for firearms, as it does, and provided every weapon transmits certain markings to bullets or shells which it fires, which it does these markings should be characteristic of that particular arm and differ slightly, or materially, from those imparted by any other arm, whether of the same or different makes.

But knowledge that this fact exists is far from being sufficient to make us experts in the field. We must know what markings are left on bullets as they pass through a barrel, and why; how and why these differ from markings left by other barrels of the same and unlike makes; and how and why even two bullets fired in succession through the same barrel will manifest certain variations one from the other, ordinarily slight, but sometimes quite marked.

Must Study Making

To acquire this knowledge we must be famaliar with the technique of firearm and cartridge manufacture as employed in the different factories throughout the United States and abroad. We must have at hand thousands of unfired bullets, loaded cartridges, empty shells, in every current caliber, make, and sub-classification, as well as in any obsolete type that may be available, not to speak of samples of every kind of modern and obsolete powder obtainable.

With this reference library as a foundation, we must next acquire the necessary instruments of precision, microscopes, micrometers, scales, photographic apparatus, etc., before we are ready to start our work of firearm identification.

When I say that this work is more of an art than a science, I mean that in the last analysis we reach our conclusions not so much through the application of some of the basic sciences as through the comparison, beneath a microscope especially designed for the purpose, of two objects for the similarities or dissimilarities, which they may exhibit.

The police departments of many of our larger cities already have become alive to the importance of scientific firearm identification, and several have already installed, or plan to install, bureaus for this purpose.

She Couldn't EAT or SLEEP

"I feel like a new Woman"

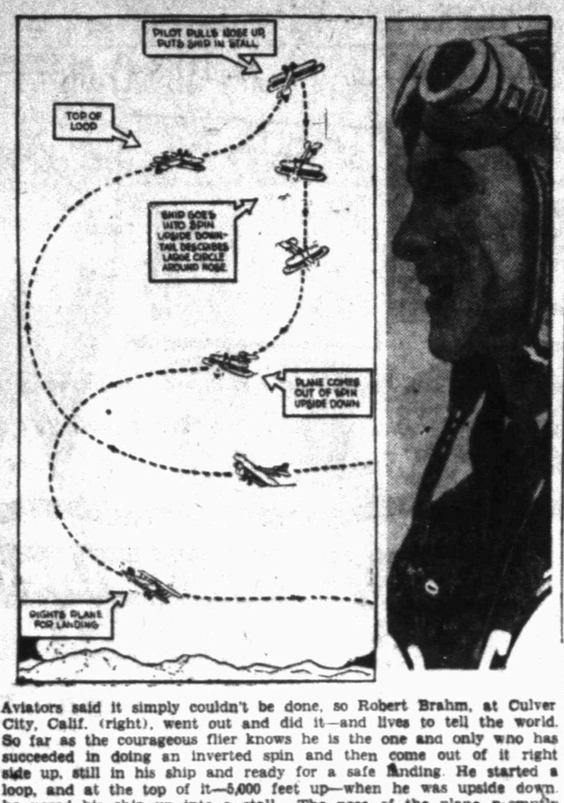

"ABOUT six months ago I was a run-down and a friend of mine told me about your medicine.

"I got a bottle and started taking it. I was so weak and nervous, my appetite wasn't good at all, I couldn't eat and of course I lost my strength. In fact I have never been healthy.

"After I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my nerves were lots better. I can sleep well and I have a real good appetite. I feel like a new woman."
—Effie Oliver, Antler, Okla.

Lydia E. Pinkham's VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Does "Impossible"—Lives

Aviators said it simply couldn't be done, so Robert Brahm, at Culver City, Calif. (right), went out and did it—and lives to tell the world. So far as the courageous flier knows he is the one and only who has succeeded in doing an inverted spin and then come out of it right side up, still in his ship and ready for a safe landing. He started a loop, and at the top of it—5,000 feet up—when he was upside down, he nosed his ship up into a stall. The nose of the plane promptly dropped and the ship began to spin, the tail describing circles in the air. Still upside down at 2,000 feet, Brahm pulled the ship out of the spin, flew on his back for a while and then did a vertical halfcircle to get back to normal. Sketch shows how it was done.

JOHN BARRYMORE THINKS THAT HE IS CALLED ECCENTRIC BECAUSE HE LIKES ODD PETS; HAS VARIED COLLECTION

BY HUBBARD KEAVY,
(Copyright, 1931, By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 19 (AP)—John Barrymore thinks he is called eccentric because he likes odd pets. He may be right; he owns Hollywood's largest and varied private collection of bird, fish and animal life.

Dolores Ethel Mae, infant daughter of John and Dolores Costello, never will lack for pets and her father hopes she will inherit his like for them. The baby is growing up surrounded by cats and dogs, chickens and rare birds, gold fish and rabbits. To this list of ordinary pets Barrymore sometimes adds extraordinary newcomers like Clementine, the japanese, a tame opposum, or a South American kinkajou, which he has ordered by cable from its native habitat.

Vulture Special Pet

Maloney, a black vulture from South America, is the star's special pet just now.

Barrymore has a tremendous amount of money invested in his collections, which include first editions, venetian glass, ivory, firearms, old prints and antique church vestments. None of his books are catalogued. Once he invited a friend up to see his copy of Caxton the first English printed book, but he couldn't find it.

Furnishes Road Map

His home, high up on a mountain ridge, is so difficult to find that he has prepared a road map which he sends with invitations to guests who never before have visited him. He is interested in astrology and sometimes plans his work and even his life in accordance with the readings of the stars.

He owns the only dinosaur egg outside of the museums, a gift from his friend Roy Chapman Andrews. Barrymore says the world's oldest egg is a very appropriate gift for an actor.

It was while in search of a rare bird, the quezal, that Barrymore contracted jungle fever in Guatamala last November, from which he is not yet entirely free. When queried on his return for making the nearly fatal trip, he said:

"It sounds foolish, of course, looking for a rare bird, considering the number of them right here in Hollywood."

There is a specie of ant which carries an umbrella of petals or leaves, when it rains.

GEORGE ALLAN ENGLAND TO GIVE UP WRITING AND START CHICKEN FARM

CONCORD, N. H., June 19 (AP)—George Allan England is going to give up writing and start a chicken farm because "there simply isn't a living in the writing game any more."

His advice to young authors is "learn the grocery business or practice to be a radio announcer. The newcomer to the "fiction racket" hasn't a chance today. It's hard enough for the old timers to keep the wolf from the door."

Much of England's work has been done at his summer home at Lake Massasecum, about 20 miles west of Concord, and, according to his own figures, he "bats out" an average of half a million words of copy yearly. He's been hitting that pace for about 30 years in the popular magazines and now he thinks "the golden era of authoring is done and finished."

In his own words, he's going to "put the cover on the typewriter, draw upon the dwindling bank balance, and buy myself and wife a tidy little poultry ranch in the vicinity of Key West."

OFTEN SUFFERED AFTER MEALS

Food Seemed to Disagree—How Black-Draught Helped Bring Relief.

"Ten years ago, I began to suffer with spells of constipation," says Mrs. E. J. Wright, of Leicester, N. C. "I would get up in the morning feeling dull and depressed. I had a bad taste in my mouth, and my tongue was coated.

"Everything I ate seemed to disagree with me, and I frequently had gas on the stomach. I suffered constantly with indigestion. I got so I could hardly eat a meal without suffering afterwards.

"I was bilious, and my skin got yellow and sallow.

"I tried several things that were recommended to me, but nothing did me any good until one day I read about Black-Draught. I got a box at once and began taking a pinch after each meal. I soon began to feel better.

"When constipation was relieved, I got all right. I continued to take Black-Draught for several months, and it did me a great deal of good. Since then, I have kept Black-Draught in my home most of the time, as I find it is the best sort of medicine to use for constipation and biliousness." NS-226

Divorce Is Made Possible In India

BARODA, India, June 19 (AP)—Divorce, hitherto scarcely known in Hindu India, was written today into the statute books in the state of Baroda at the instance of the Maharajah Paekwar.

Hereafter any married man or woman may seek annulment if either party is able to prove that his or her partner was, at the time of the marriage, a deaf mute, blind, mad, or suffering from a fell disease or was converted to another faith or initiated into asceticism, or was under age or was tricked into the marriage.

Divorce also will be granted if either party can prove the other has been missing seven years or is guilty of cruelty or desertion.

HIGH AMBITION

When the hundreds of ex-service men convene in Lubbock Saturday and Sunday our memory will remind us that they are the same fellows who made the supreme sacrifice for us eleven years ago . . . the men who fought, bled and made the financial sacrifice at the most important part of their lives.

We owe these "Buddies" a great debt, and this hotel joins with all of Lubbock in welcoming them to their convention. Nothing will be left undone here to make the two day convention a happy one for every individual attending it. DR. BRINKLEY IN KANSAS

PLANS TO REOPEN HIS MILFORD HOSPITAL NEXT SEPTEMBER

MILFORD, Kas., June 19 (AP)—After a six weeks absence, Dr. John R. Brinkley is back in Kansas with the announcement he will reopen his hospital here in September.

Brinkley, third man in the Kansas governorship race which he entered last fall after revocation of his state medical license, arrived here from Mexico City in his airplane.

To Employ Staff

He said he would employ a staff of assistants and that he personally would not do any surgical work. Brinkley has pending in United States district court a suit to set aside the order of the Kansas board of medical registration and examination revoking his license after the board had found him guilty of charges of gross immorality and unprofessional conduct involving his goat gland transplantation operations.

Closing of the hospital, Brinkley said, was customary during the summer months. It has been closed since May 1, he said.

Brinkley said a 100,000 watt radio station, "the largest in the world," was being constructed at Villa Acuna, Mexico, across the border from Del Rio, Texas. He said it was not his "personal" venture but that of a Mexican corporation.

"I will speak over the station if they will let me," he said. Arrangements could be made, he explained, so he could speak from Milford by remote control. He said the station probably would be ready for operation around September 15 or October 1.

The federal radio commission last year refused to renew the license for the Milford station formerly operated in connection with the Brinkley hospital. The station now is operated by a new owner.

Brinkley entered the governorship race last fall as an independent candidate too late to have his name printed on the ballots. His name was written in by 183,278 voters, 33,642 less than the number who voted for Governor Harry Woodring.

DOUBLE PROGRAM AT MICKEY MOUSE CONFAB SATURDAY

Boys and girls of the Mickey Mouse club will not soon forget two events which will take place at their meeting Saturday morning at the Palace theater.

One is the election of the king and the queen of Lubbock's largest children's club.

The other is the showing on the screen of a talking picture version of "Skippy," the lovable little cartoon-boy, in which Jackie Cooper plays the part of "Skippy."

Mickey Mouse, patron saint of the club, will appear in the usual animated cartoon picture, and another comedy attraction is on the program.

Funeral Rites For Davis Set Saturday

Funeral services for Guy U. Davis, Lubbock real estate operator who died early Wednesday as a result of a wound investigators decided was self-inflicted, probably will be conducted Saturday at Nacogdoches. Burial will be there.

Davis was found dead in his room at 1511 Main street Wednesday morning. A bullet hole was in the head and a pistol clasped in the right hand.

The widow and two sisters came to Lubbock on being notified of the death. Relatives attributed Davis' act to ill health and business reverses.

Bynum-Morgan Funeral home last night sent the body to Nacogdoches.

WOMEN REFORM BODY FORMED

FORM TEXAS GROUP OF PROHIBITION REFORM ORGANIZATION

DALLAS, June 19 (AP).—A Texas division of the women's organization for national prohibition reform was organized here Thursday at a meeting which was addressed by Very Rev. George Rodgers Wood, dean of the fashionable St. Matthews Episcopal cathedral as the chief speaker.

Mrs. Florence Rodgers of Dallas was made temporary chairman and others chosen for the state executive committee included Mrs. Harold J. Abrams, Mrs. Frank Cullinan, Mrs. Sam A. Leake, Mrs. Eliza Calvert Obenchain, Mrs. John C. Saner, and Mrs. Leonard W. Volk, all of Dallas; Mrs. I. H. Kempner of Galveston; Mrs. A. J. Wray and Mrs. George V. Rotan of Houston, and Mrs. Futzon Borglum and Mrs. Louis Meverick of San Antonio.

The Rev. Mr. Wood told the group of about 100 women that he was not speaking as a churchman, nor for his congregation, and pointed out that he was not expressing their sentiments. He said he appeared as a privatte citizen. He declared he had observed the change that had come over the youth since advent of prohibition under the 18th amendment.

"In the days before the amendment was authorized the youth of the land was taught temperance as a matter of self respect," the Rev. Mr. Wood said.

Germany has issued 3,500,000 licenses to owners of radio sets.

RABBIT BREEDERS MEET LAST NIGHT

Rabbit breeders of Lubbock met last night in the county courtroom for the second June meeting of the South Plains Rabbit Breeders association. Hubert Lowrey, secretary, presided in the absence of the president, Frank L. Jones. Gaylord Hankins is vice-president.

The association is composed of about 25 or 30 Lubbock breeders and others living near the city. Plans were discussed for the display of rabbits at the next South Plains fair, to be held here the latter part of September.

Recently the organization was revived. It was begun more than a year ago but had become inactive. There are, Secretary Lowery said, between 100 and 125 breeders in Lubbock and vicinity, with between 1,200 and 1,500 rabbits. Next regular meeting is July 2, the group meeting the first and third Thursday nights in each month.

MEN HOSTS TO BOYS HERE

J. D. HASSELL TALKS AT LUNCHEON OF KIWANIS CLUB

Boys were guests of their fathers and men friends at a Kiwanis club luncheon Thursday at the Lubbock hotel. The boys were introduced at the beginning of the program.

"What It Means to be a Father", was the subject treated by J. D. Hassell, the principal speaker.

When a man becomes a father, he begins to appreciate fully the qualities of his own father, Hassell said.

Challenge Cited

"It's a challenge, a game—a God-given opportunity to make good in the eyes of that boy or girl," he said of fatherhood.

"The present age offers difficulties and complexities for youth," Mr. Hassell said as he cited problems facing fathers.

"The father has the inside track or edge over any other influence on the boy," Mr Hassell continued. ". . . and there's no reason why the boy's life can't be shaped so that both he and his father will be proud. There are four stages in which a boy passes in life. The first one is from the time he's born until he is about fourteen when he thinks that his father is everything and he puts him up as his ideal. Then there's the age when he begins to feel that maybe his dad's not so hot, after all. That's when his father begins to fall short in his athletic achievements, such as playing tennis, running or, maybe he has taken up golf. The next period is from about 21 years until he's thirty and this is when he feels that dad is just too slow for words, he's an old fogie and backward in his thoughts and ideas. Then comes the period, say from thirty on, when he begins to realize, after he himself has probably become a father, that after all dad wasn't such a bad fellow after all and looks upon him as he should be thought of."

"A parent should have four objectives for his child," he continued, "and if these objectives are molded into the career of the youngster, there is nothing to fear. He should have love without weakness; respect without fear; pride without snobbishness and ambition without ruthlessness."

Following Mr Hassell's talk, George Dupree, jr., made a few remarks on "What Father Means To Me." He expressed his father as being "a leader, a teacher, a character guide, a playmate and a real pal."

President Jack M. Lewis announced an "On To Oklahoma City" committee to arouse interest in the annual Texas-Oklahoma district to be held in Oklahoma City in September. Charles Whitacre was named chairman and Dr. O. W. English and L. E. Grimes, members.

Yale And Harvard Will Meet Tonight

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 19 (AP)—Today, for the first time in years, the partisan and colorful crowd that floods this little seafaring town on Harvard-Yale regatta days appeared assured of a thrill in the shape of a real boat race.

Although Harvard hopes soared high over the prospects of its undefeated varsity crew, the only such college aggregation in the country, the Elis and admirers of Ed Leader, great Yale coach, were confident that today would end, as similar days have done for the past four years, with victory crowning the blue-tipped oars.

Tonight's four-mile sweep up the Thames from the railroad bridge to Bartlett's Cove promised to be a thrilling spectacle as well as a gripping duel between two great strokes, the dominant figures in each varsity shell.

IN TENNIS FINALS

CHICAGO, June 19 (AP)—Herbert L. Bowman of New York, whose collection of eastern tennis titles number 13, and Marcel Rainville of Montreal, ace of Canada's racquet swingers, will meet tomorrow in the top bracket semi-final of the western singles championship fight, and Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, Ia., and George Jennings, jr., of Chicago, will tangle in the lower set.

MEDALIST MATCHED

KERRVILLE June 19 (AP)—B. A. Schriever of San Antonio, medalist with a 71 in the qualifying round yesterday, was paired with Clyde Cunningham of Houston today in the second round of play of the Kerrville Country club's invitation tournament.

IS DELIVERED GROCERIES HE DIDN'T ORDER

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 19 (AP)—L. M. Irwin is tired of getting groceries he didn't order.

Every time he's walked out on the front or back porch in the last two days, he's found a ham, a gallon of ice cream, a case of canned cherries or something else. In the two days he has received two dozen orders of groceries and 14 gallons of ice cream.

Chief of Detectives John Wolsey promised today to find the joker—if the groceries hold out.

Irwin was nearly frantic this morning after an unordered taxi had called, two cleaning and pressing men had sought clothes and 14 bales of hay and five sacks of bran had been delivered.

WOULD RECALL MAYOR KEY

CITIZENS ARE IRED BY STATEMENT ON PROHIBITION

ATLANTA, June 19 (AP) — The Atlanta Constitution says petitions are being circulated seeking the recall of Mayor James L. Key as the result of his recent statement made abroad that the prohibition law "is a failure."

George G. Finch, attorney, is quoted as saying that one fourth of the 250,000 registered voters must sign the petition and that he will have the necessary number of names when Mr. Key arrives from France where he has been with the party of American mayors.

Police protection for Mayor Key when he lands in New York, was sought in a letter from Luke Arnold, the mayor's executive secretary to Mayor James J. Walker of New York.

Arnold said his action followed threats against Key's life as a result of the mayor's statement.

LUBBOCK COUNTY FOUR-H MEMBER HEARD ON RADIO

James Potts, Lubbock county four-H club member, spoke yesterday from Washington, D. C., on a nation-wide radio hookup. The youth was one of two Texas boys awarded trips to a national encampment at Washington.

Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, of the school of agriculture at Texas Technological college where Potts is a student, listened in on station WFAA, of Dallas Thursday noon and heard the local youth.

"James told about his starting in the club work eight years ago with one hog," Dr. Ellsworth said last night. "He said that for the past three years he had averaged over $800 a year profit from his club work. I could hear him well. He was one of three or four boys who spoke .I think there was a boy from Alabama and another from Illinois and I think one or two others."

Young Potts was awarded one of the two trips in the state because of his club work record the past year. D. F. Eaton, county agent, with M. T. Payne, state club leader, made the trip by automobile. The encampment opened Wednesday and is to close next Tuesday. All expenses of the trip for the club boy were paid.

Reach Semi-Finals In Women's Tourney

ST. LOUIS, June 19 (AP)—It's Kansas City and Tulsa against St. Louis in the semi-finals of the fifth annual women's trans-Mississippi golf tournament here today, mostly Kansas City.

Mrs. C. S. Hill, from the western Missouri metropolis ,was matched with Mrs. Mahlon B. Wallace, jr., St. Louis Country club star, in the semi-final match and Mrs. J. Walter Beyer of Tulsa, Oklahoma, champion, meets Mrs. I S. Hynes, St. Louis in the other.

The Kansas City woman, who has gone to the semi-final round without being pressed to win, had the better of par by one stroke in the quarter-finals yesterday, equalling her qualifying round medal of 76, one over the course record made by Glenna Collett.

Peru is the oldest petroleum producing country in South America and petroleum is its most important mineral product.

District Court To Finish Long Term

Seventy-second district court next week will end 24 consecutive weeks of work, Judge Homer L. Pharr said in announcing close of the Lubbock county term, Saturday, June 27.

"We have had 24 consecutive weeks of court for this year," Judge Pharr said. "There were two terms in Lubbock county, two in Crosby county and one each in Hockley and Cochran."

Playing cards were invented about the year 1390 in order to amuse Charles VI, then King of France, who was subject to fits of melancholy.

MATCHED PLAY STARTS TODAY IN CITY OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

TEAMS BOLSTERED AS SPLIT SEASON LOOMS

COUNTRY CLUB IS SCENE OF PLAY TODAY

FORTY-SEVEN QUALIFY IN LAST TWO DAYS FOR CITY MATCH

With only 47 entries, hardly representative of the golfing element of Lubbock so far as numbers are concerned, match play in the annual city golf championship tournament got under way this morning at the Lubbock Country club course. Three flights of 16 players in each teed off on the first rounds before 9 o'clock this morning.

Medalist honors in the qualifying round went to Mendall Hughett, Tech senior and Meadowbrook player, and Gibson Payne, business man and Lubbock Country club member. Both shot scores of 68 on Wednesday last survived through the two days of qualifying play.

Mark Crowded

The medalist mark was crowded yesterday, however, when J. K. Bradshaw, another Country club player and formerly a caddy at the club, fired a 69, one under par, for second place. Bradshaw's work was considered as sensational as either Hughett's or Payne's, both of whom are experienced golfers, one a veteran anywhere and the other a student familiar with the course. Bradshaw shot a par 72 on the Country club course to qualify for the West Texas Golf association tournament but was ruled from match play because he had not been graduated from the caddy ranks long enough.

Playing with John Bell, whose 77 was hardly good enough for first flight, and Lawrence Doherty, a high school player, Bradshaw shot a par 35 going out and one under coming in on the stiff back nine. Doherty, who with brother Edgar, and John Bell compose three-fourths of the regular Lubbock High school golf team, shot a 73 yesterday. Edgar had registered a 75 Wednesday.

Tie For Third

Jo Dick Slaughter, James Alldredge and E. T. Daniels tied for third place in the qualifying with 72s, and were closely followed by Lyle Holmes, V. O. Jennings and Lawrence Doherty with their 73s. John Jarrott and W. E. Davis tied with 74s and Ross McWhorter, Larry Hines, D. A. Dowell and Ed Doherty shot 75s. The next lowest scores were Buster Fluke's 76 and Bell's 77. A 76 was required for first flight.

All preliminary and semi-final rounds are scheduled to be completed Saturday, with 36-hole final matches in all flights carded for Sunday. Eighteen holes will be played in the morning and 18 in the afternoon.

Texas Tech professors and students will dig for mastodon remains on a Cottle county farm where a bone believed to be a mammoth knee joint was found.

We fear an injustice has been done. We are reminded by a letter from a Slaton fan that insufficient lineage in the sporting columns of this and the Morning Avalanche has been given a baseball game that was played in Slaton Wednesday afternoon.

* * *

Evidently the fact that there was to be a ball game between baseball forces of Lubbock and Slaton was kept a deep, dark secret and not until the game had been played did we know about it. Even now we are not certain of the final score, but we think it was 5 to 4, favoring Slaton. Our operative at Slaton was not on his job and nobody in Lubbock bothered to see about publicity. But we understand that it was not the official Hubber team that played at Slaton.

* * *

Slaton had a pitcher Wednesday that was something of a wow, according to reports, fragile though they are, here. He struck out eleven men and awarded a minimum of hits. With the bases loaded with Lubbock players in the ninth and two out, the Slaton hurler promptly struck out Ed Hambright and the game was over. As stated above, the Lubbock delegation did not fly Hubber colors at Slaton. O. B. Conley, manager of the Legion-Lions City league team, took the club to Slaton and it was made up of various City league players. At any rate, we regret the apparent neglect on the part of your newspaper and the cause of the ironic letter from the Slaton fan.

* * *

Professor M. H. Duncan's one-year transfer rule failed to get across and high school football players moving from one town to another may continue to play without waiting a year to become eligible. One of our local operatives reports that the latest rumor, since the downfall of the Lubbock High school head's proposed rule, that Duncan is about to get behind a move for the organization of an S. R. F. P. (Society for the Recruiting of Football Players) body. But here's a new light on the subsidization platform.

* * *

Duncan's work did not go for naught. He spent much time, some money and lots of effort, gained a statewide publicity and bettered the athletic cause. The Texas Interscholastic league has heeded and the rules have been tightened. Recruiting of players has been outlawed with emphasis on the outlaw. The central executive committee of the T. I. L. has authorized the district committee to disqualify "any high school whose officials or 'fans' are believed to be recruiting players."

* * *

Huh!! ". . . whose officials OR fans are BELIEVED to be recruiting. . ." Does that sink in? Maybe so you don't have to prove anything. Just believe that a school is importing athletes, convince your district committee of that and your troubles are over. Maybe you've won the district championship—in a committee room. But committee rooms are gradually becoming scenes of championship decisions. Might we even suggest that bleachers or extra chairs be added to the furniture, or, better still, build special committee rooms.

* * *

Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the league, said the rule was adopted to "uphold the principle that high school football is worthwhile as an educational force when properly controlled."

* * *

Under the old rules, the district committee had no authority to suspend a school until subsidization of one of its athletes had been proven. Now a school may be suspended from league play when the committee in the district decides that "Dr. Jones, prominent citizen, invited Henry Peavine of Hog Hollow to come play football with Alezoop High and offered to give Henry odd jobs around the family mansion in order to provide for school expenses." Alezoop High may be counted out of the race an dthe appeal cannot be taken to the higher courts.

* * *

What do we think of the new ruling? Well, we told Jerry Malin over the phone the other day we thought it was o. k. Given time to think it over, we're not so sure we like it. There will be too many squabbles, and if there's anything we heartily despise it is to hear and see grown men, supposedly out of rompers and high school, tear their hair and each others in committee rooms over a thing so small as a high school football game.

* * *

The cure for so-called recruiting is more recruiting. Let everybody recruit, subsidize, inveigle, lure, persuade, buy beg or borrow and see some good football games. Let the eligibility rules be two, thus: the player shall be a full fledged member of the student body which he is representing; the player must pass at least enough classroom work to justify promotion at the end of the scholastic year. If a school is good enough to attend it is good enough for a good athletic team, and then it should be good enough to attend. If a lad can attend a better high school by playing on a better football team, his opportunity should not be curtailed.

Beaumont Holds Loop Leadership

EXPORTERS DOWN CATS TO HOLD MARGIN OVER HOUSTON

(By The Associated Press)

The Beaumont Exporters demonstrated one good reason why they are leading the Texas league pennant chase Thursday night when they put across a run in the last of the ninth inning to beat Fort Worth, 5 to 4. It was the Exporters first win over the Cats this season, but it could not have arrived at a more opportune time. The Exporters, only a half game in front of Houston, had to win to stay on top since the Buffaloes also won Thursday.

Houston insisted on staying within a step of the league pinnacle, and in order to remain there, the Buffaloes dropped Wichita Falls Thursday night, 4 to 2. George Washington Payne, although he allowed 14 hits, won his tenth game this season for the Buffaloes.

Pitcher Miller of Shreveport enjoyed a big night against the Galveston Buccaneers. He got three hits and pitched shutout ball against Galveston, 8 to 0. Plus all this, Miller held his foes to seven hits.

Hap Morse and his Dallas Steers opened their short series at San Antonio Thursday night with a 9 to 5 decision. Lou Garland, husky right hander, pitched seven innings of runless baseball for the Steers, but weakened in the eighth and let five runs across the plate. Murray went to the rescue and pulled the Steers across.

WALTER HAGEN LEADS FIELD

THE HAIG RETURNS TO FORM WITH 68 IN WESTERN OPEN

DAYTON, O., June 19. (AP)—The Haig is back!

Sir Walter Hagen, the master shot of a few years ago, but uncrowned in the past two season, came back yesterday in the first round of the Western Open championship to shoot a sizzling 68 leading the field of more than 100 at the end of the first day's play.

It was in this same tournament 16 years ago that Hagen flashed upon the golfing world with the then sensational score of 286. Three more years the western crown rested on the brow of the Detroit shot maker, and on two other occasions he was listed as runner up.

Has Bad Start

Yesterday the old master attracted his usual gallery and started out on the first nine in erratic fashion, hitting a galleryite at the first tee and was away to a bad five, but he finished the first nine in 36, one over par.

But at the tenth hole Sir Walter started to display his old time form, burning up the Mimia valley fairways and greens to come home with a dazzling 32, four strokes under par.

Hagen's score allowed him to hold a one stroke lead over E. Dudley, Williamton, Del., who slipped in with a 69 late in the afternoon.

Two other par shattering rounds were turned in during the first round. Charles Garringe of Indianapolis and Olin Dutra of Long Beach, Cal., were tied for third place with cards of 70, one under perfect figures.

Gene Sarazen, defending champion, was forced to share the next place with Lew Waldron, Celina, Ohio, and Gene Marchi, Dayton each carding par.

ADVERTISERS TO MEET UTILITIES

The Texas Utilities and Advertisers will play their regular scheduled City league game at Rainbow Park this afternoon, beginning at 6 o'clock, because Merrill Park will be occupied by other teams.

In yesterday's City league contests, the Avalanche-Journal defeated the Wholesalers, Ed Hambright pitching neat baseball to shut out the salesmen, 8 to 0. At the same time the Rainbow club was defeating the Legion-Lions, 2 to 0, at Merrill Park.

The Lubbock Black Sluggers meet the Midland Mexicans in the first of a series of three games at Merrill Park this afternoon as a part of "Juneteenth" celebrations.

TEXAS LEAGUE CLUBS GIVEN NEW TALENT

SECOND HALF TO OPEN ON JULY 1 IS THE CHANGE IS MADE

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, June 19 — If a split season is voted in the Texas league this year, the second half will start July 1, and since anything can occur in baseball with a split about the easiest thing of all, several Texas league clubs are not going to be found wanting when Mr. Opportunity knocks for the second time since April 15.

Even Beaumont and Houston, copace setters, are cementing their pennant foundation with a sprinkle of new talent. A right hand pitcher is to enter the Exporter fold. He is George Hollerson from the Hollywood club of the Pacific coast circuit. Last year he won 13 and lost ten games.

Start Remodeling

The Buffaloes, trying desperately to win the first half, have started remodeling for the predicted second half. President Fred Ankeman is willing to talk terms with an A-1 short stop. Joe Sprinz, veteran catcher, has been acquired from St. Louis.

Art Phelan at Fort Worth spiked a few games for the old win column from now on when the Philadelphia Nationals returned Lil Stoner, a man who has always been a big winner in the Texas league. If there is a second half, don't feel shocked if the Cats open with another pitcher beside Stoner, and another catcher.

Providing he can get several injured players into condition, Manager Carl Williams probably will let his team remain intact. The Spudders, slow starting, are packing one of the biggest wallops in the league today even with Euller, Badgro and Gullic out of the lineup with injuries and sickness.

No Changes Planned

"None that I know of," were the words from Manager Claude Robertson of the San Antonio Indians when quizzed concerning new players for the remainder of the season. "My boys have hit their stride, and so long as they play hustling baseball and get their share of wins, we will stay intact."

As for the Dallas Steers, they have started rebuilding their infield. Manager Hap Morse is through with pennant depression if new players will remedy the situation. Thursday, the Steers purchased Joe Benes from the St. Louis Cardinals. Benes will play shortstop, a position that has been weak where Dallas is concerned.

Jake Atz, at the helm of the Shreveport Sports, has finally put a team on the field that is almost a hundred per cent stronger than the one that opened the season, and Jake, discussing the second half, said he probably would open with the same club now in seventh place.

Galveston, through Manager Del Pratt, is after players galore. Lefty Martin, first baseman, is due to join the Buccaneers within a day or two. Gene Bailey, veteran outfielder and former manager of the Houston Buffaloes, joined the Buccaneers this week, replacing Gene Rye who has retired with an injured wrist.

Pratt is also after a third baseman.

STARS OF GAMES ON YESTERDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Dazzy Vance, Robins—Struck out eleven batters in beating the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 5.

Pat Malone, Cubs—Shut Brooklyn out with five scattered hits in second game of doubleheader.

Don Hurst, Phillies—His homerun and two singles drove in four runs to help beat the Reds, 5 to 4.

Carl Hubbell, Giants—Held Pittsburgh to six scattered hits and was invincible the last eight innings.

Chick Hafey, Cardinals — His homerun in the eighth gave the leaders a 5 to 4 victory over Boston.

ST. LOUIS CARDS DEVELOP FACULTY OF WINNING GAMES WITH MINIMUM OF EFFORT; TAKE ADVANTAGE OF BREAKS

BY GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Gabby Streets St. Louis Cardinals have developed an extraordinary faculty for winning ball games with a minimum of effort. Their ability to take advantage of every break, rather than their batting punch, has them three games in front of the National league field today.

For example, the league champions collected only five hits off two Boston pitchers yesterday while their own curving corps was being nicked for eleven, yet they took the Braves into camp, 5 to 4, in opening their latest eastern tour.

Giants Win Again

The Giants, meantime, continued to win behind great pitching, but they couldn't gain an inch on the flying leaders. Carl Hubbell gave them their sixth successive win at the expense of Pittsburgh, 3 to 1, allowing only six hits and striking out five.

Chicago lost ground, getting no better than an even break with the Brooklyn Robins. Dazzy Vance, the veteran speedballer, was his old self in the first game as he turned back the Hornsby clan, 7 to 5.

Pat Malone took charge of things in the nightcap, letting the Robins down with five scattered hits and blanking them 8 to 0.

Big Bat Figures

Don Hurst's big bat and the wildness of Cincinnati's pitchers were prime factors in the Phillies' 5 to 4 victory over Col. Dan Howley's pupils. Hurst drove in four runs with a homer and single to tie the score. Four successive walks by these Cincinnati pitchers shoved the winning run across in the ninth.

The day's festivities were confined to the National league as the four eastern clubs of the American league traveled west.

The state of Georgia spent $50,100 for forest fire protection during 1930.

HUBBERS TO PLAY LAMESA ON SUNDAY

Skipper Dirty Waller will take his Lubbock Hubbers to Lamesa for a scheduled contest with the Lamesa Loboes Sunday. The game will start at 3:30.

The game Sunday marks the fifth meeting of the year for the clubs. The tally is tied, two games each, and Sunday will see one team go in the lead. Lubbock has defeated the Lamesa club twice at Merrill Park, losing one here and one at Lamesa.

Although he has not indicated a lineup, it is probable that Willis Knight will be on the mound for Lubbock and Manager Waller Sunday. The rest of the lineup will remain as usual.

Wheat Harvesting Is In Full Swing

Wheat harvesting around Crosbyton is in full swing and farmers are finding their yields of wheat larger than they had anticipated they would be due to recent storms, W. P .Walker, former Crosbyton resident and now an attorney at Levelland, said while here yesterday.

"The wheat is testing well above 60 pounds in most cases", Mr. Walker said. "Farmers say the yield is better than they thought they would get. Harvest is going on and combines are out in the field."

General conditions of crops growing in both Crosby and Hockley counties are good, Mr. Walker added.

Thought For Today

And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks.—Isaiah 2:4.

* * *

Peace gives food to the husbandman, even in the midst of rocks; war brings misery to him, even in the most fertile plains.

Conservatism

It is a fairly safe bet that some of the most radical speaking and planning of the coming decade is going to be indulged in by the country's most fervent conservatives.

This may not sound like good sense but it is entirely logical. A little consideration of the problems of the day makes it clear.

Governor Ritchie of Maryland, for instance, remarks that 'you cannot have from five to eight million people wanting work and unable to get it without knowing that this constitutes a challenge to our social order and that it is the strongest argument for communism unless it is solved."

And Dean Wallace B. Donham of the Harvard School of Business Administration says bluntly:

"Capitalism is on trial and upon this trial may depend the whole future of western civilization. The justification of capitalism is efficiency. Our present situation is a major breakdown."

Two prominent men thus state the issue. What is going to happen?

Obviously, it is the iron-ribbed conservative who has the greatest stake in the existing social and economic order. It is he who can be counted on to take the strongest measures to prevent a change in the direction of communism or socialism.

How is he going to do it? Not, in the long run by chanting over and over again the wearisome refrain that "conditions are fundamentally sound." Not by calling out the police to club the heads of dissatisfied men who can't get the jobs they want. Not by insisting that business always has and always must run in cycles.

He will do it, eventually by making such changes in the machinery of production and distribution as will ensure to the ordinary men a chance to have steady work at good pay throughout his lifetime. He will do that way because there is no other way on earth of doing it.

To do that will take some very radical measures. The intelligent conservative will not shrink from them. He will adopt them because he will realize that there is no other way of saving the form of society that he wants to preserve.

He will become a radical, as a matter of fact to preserve and justify his conservatism. If he doesn't the things he is so anxious to conserve are very apt to get knocked out from under him.

A Little Mixed

It is something of a commentary on the kind of civilization in which we live, that a big New York musical revue recently put into effect a minimum wage of $100 a week for its chorus girls.

Not, of course that anybody ought to begrudge a chorus girl a nice fat pay envelope. If she can get her hundred a week, more power to her. She's lucky.

But, while this was happening, every city was filled with skilled workers at useful trades who could not get jobs at all. Every industry was full of trained men who had had to take sharp reductions in their pay. Every town, from the largest to the smallest, had plenty of men who were glad to get half-time or quarter-time work.

It is a queer country, isn't it, that offers $100 a week to chorus girls while it can't pay some four or five million useful workers anything at all?

Scores of artists wept, it is reported, when a collection of paintings burned in Munich. Had this happened a few months later it might have inspired another painting "September Mourn."

A congressman suggests larger slices of ham as a depression cure. This is rather a change from the baloney of other experts on the subject.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says you can't blame a woman for losing her sunny disposition when her husband keeps her in the dark.

* * *

Don't worry if your children want to play guessing games all the time. Maybe they'll grow up to be weather forecasters—or newspapermen.

DON'T FORGET DAD!

Sunday is Father's Day and the last chance you'll have to pick up a little gift for him will be tomorrow.

Don't forget Dad! He didn't forget you!

WHEN judges in Reno grant 20 divorces in three hours, when a millionaire of national reputation files sensational charges against his wife who was a one time socialite debutante, there is a big hullaballoo made in the newspapers. The events of course, are interesting to a great many people.

And because such events are given widespread publicity, it is very natural for most of us to think that marriage isn't what it used to be.

* * *

But there are still many, many couples who carry their marriage vows to the grave—who go through life's joys and sorrows side by side and like it. We don't often stop to realize it, but the world is full of faithful men and women, to whom 'love, honor and obey' and 'until death do us part' are vital, God-given rules.

* * *

TUCKED away on an inside page of a recent edition of The Morning Avalanche was a short story, reading as follows:

"TAHOKA, June 17.—Mr. and Mrs. John B. King, the former a veteran of the Civil war, recently celebrated their sixty-second wedding anniversary at their home near here. Five children, nineteen grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren were present for the festivities, which included a big dinner, a forty-two' party and amusements of various kinds. Mr. King is 87 and Mrs. King is 81."

* * *

The Plainsman has never had the pleasure of meeting either Mr. or Mrs. John B. King. He knows no members of their family.

But reading between the lines of this reassuring, inspiring little item, the writer visualizes a happy, contented couple, nearing the end of life's trail with the happy and serene knowledge of a life well lived.

Probably they have had hardships—the post-Civil war years were not easy—and rearing a family from the land a half century ago was no slight task. But hammering breaks glass and hardens steel. There's a fine example of living to be gleaned from the record of this South Plains couple.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says men gossip as much as women—only they call it business.

* * *

WELL, sir, it has finally come—it has finally come. The Plainsman and Mayor Clements have got all crossed up and whenever a newspaperman and a politician fall out the reading public can look for a lot of fireworks.

* * *

All innocent of the fact that Hizzoner was making a speech to the visiting mayors and city managers on how Lubbock was adding population in spite of the good year 1931, The Plainsman made bold to opine the other day that Lubbock had probably lost some population, along with the rest of the towns in West Texas.

Hence the Mayor was quoted in one part of the paper as saying the city is adding customers—and in this department The Plainsman was venturing that there probably weren't as many here as when the census was taken!

* * *

THE HONORABLE MAYOR, it may be said to his credit, has figures to support his statement. According to the city water department, Lubbock had 3,772 water consumers at the conclusion of March, 1930; at the end of March this year 3,845 water consumers were listed—thus showing a gain of 73 meters. Based on the meter increase, Lubbock had in the neighborhood of 225 more people on March 31, 1931 than on March 31, 1930. All of which is very cheering.

* * *

The Plainsman's opinion is based upon his limited knowledge of the number of vacant houses and apartments, and upon his acquaintanceship with a few folks who have left here, seeking other climes. Frankly he hopes Mayor Clements is right—certainly the Mayor has more figures on which to base his opinion.

But the fact remains that Hizzoner and The Plainsman have fallen out something terrible and are thinking very seriously about getting out on the Tech football field to settle their difficulties with hatchets.

In the meantime, you can use your own judgement about which of us knows the most—if anything at all!

Modern business credo: If you would not be submerged—merge.

Wickersham Commission Will Continue To Be News After Leaving Office This Month; Eleven More Reports Coming

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The Wickersham commission passes out of existence at the end of June, but nearly 30 other "Hoover commissions" will continue to function more or less actively.

DUTCHER

Meanwhile, we are by no means through hearing from the Wickersham group because its report on the prosecution of criminals left it with 11 reports still to come. Publication of these is expected to continue for a while after the commission goes out of office.

None of the forthcoming publications will arouse anywhere near the widespread excitement which centered on the prohibition report issued in January, but some of them are anticipated with great interest by persons inclined to give any thought to the problems of crime and law enforcement.

Lawlessness in law enforcement is the subject of one of them and there is probability that the commission will therein discuss some of the alleged high-handed methods used in prohibition enforcement as well as a chance that it will take up the Mooney-Billings case in California.

Deportation Report

Another report likely to draw attention is that on deportation laws. One of the commission's experts wrote critically of the Department of Labor's methods in handling deportable aliens and Secretary of Labor Doak, given an opportunity to read the expert's findings, became so indignant that he wrote the commission in a 57-page letter about it.

Other reports will cover the cost of crime to the nation, crime and the foreign-born, juvenile delinquency, federal courts, causes of crime, criminal court procedure, police force administration, penal institutions, probation and parole and a final statement of business and finances which will tell what the commission has done with the $500,000 appropriated for it by Congress.

In the report on the causes of crime special attention will be given to such factors as economic conditions — including unemployment and housing—and the influence of city life. As for the report on finances, it has been pointed out that more than 200 investigators were employed by the commission. Some served with pay and others did not. The 11 members of the commission received no compensation other than for expenses of transportation.

Costly Commission

The Wickersham commission is the only "Hoover commission" that has cost the country any particular money. More than $2,000,000 is said to have been privately donated for the expenses of such groups and it has been the creation of the more or less private advisory or fact-finding commissions, dealing with broad social and economic problems, that has focused so much publicity and aroused so much comment about Hoover's commission methods.

A recent check shows that of the 33 so-called "Hoover commissions" the president created only 17 of them on his own initiative, the rest having been authorized by Congress. Hoover appointed them, but even in cases where the idea was his some probably would have been appointed in any event. Only five of the 33 are regarded as permanent including such organizations as the Federal Farm Board and the reorganized Federal Power Commissions.

The real "Hoover commissions" in the usual sense of that expression may be considered to include the National Committee on Law Observance and Enforcement (Wickersham), Conference on Child Health and Protection, Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, Committee on the Conservation and Administration of the Public Domain, National Business Survey Conference, Research Committee on Social Trends, Conference on Home Building and Ownership, Advisory Committee on Employment Statistics, National Drought Committee for Employment and the National Timber Conservation Board.

Diet and Health

The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene" "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." EYE STRAIN

Reflex headaches mean those which are caused by the strain or disease of some part of the body—the strain being reflected in the form of headache, not by pain or distress of the organ actually abnormal.

Dr. Clendening

The commonest of these are headaches from eye strain. They usually appear first in youth and often early in school life, when any strain which is put on the eyes first makes itself known, because then for the first time close work is begun. The characteristic thing about eye-strain headaches is that they appear in the afternoon or evening. In the morning the patient wakes up without discomfort. This is exactly the opposite from another form of reflex headache—that due to disease of the sinuses of the nose—which is likely to be worse in the morning after a night of congestion in the nose and lack of drainage.

The treatment of eye-strain headaches is to fit the patient to perfectly adapted glasses. Since eye-strain headaches are caused by very slight deviations of the lens of the eye — astigmatism and moderate degrees of short and long sightedness—it is almost impossible to fit glasses for such a patient properly without putting drops in the eyes to relax the muscles.

The reflex headache due to disease of the nose has just been mentioned. The pain of such a headache may be exactly over the sinus which is diseased or it may be general over the whole head. The frontal sinus is one of the easiest to be stopped up because the hole through which it drains is very small. The frontal sinuses are just over the orbits of the eyes, and severe pain in this place can usually be attributed to infection of one or the other of the sinuses. Immediate relief is obtained when the sinus is opened and the contained secretion emptied.

A form of headache due to lumps and scar tissue in the neck has been described. The lumps and hardnesses are not evident to casual inspection or even feeling, but can be made out in the neck muscles if carefully felt for. Massage and hot applications to the neck are the means of cure.

Another form of reflex headache has been ascribed to impacted unerupted molar teeth, particularly a third molar or wisdom tooth. Personally, I have had no successful experience with such a condition, but mention it because men of ability have described it.

Malposition of the uterus and other organs are by some physicians thought to be the cause of chronic headaches. Here again my own experience is in the negative, but success from proper treatment of such defects has often been reported.

Questions From Readers

C. P., North Salem, Ind.: "I wish to know what pyelitis is?"

Answer: Pyelitis is an inflammation of the pelvis of the kidney. The usual form of infection is by the same germ that is in the large bowel, and for that reason it is generally assumed the condition has some relation to constipation.

* * *

Mrs. H. Y., Yonkers, N. Y.: "I am 55 years old and the mother of seven children. I would like to ask you the cause of a constant leakage from the bladder which necessitates my having to wear napkins."

Answer: This condition, called "cystocele," is the result of tearing of tissues at the time of childbirth. It can be relieved in most instances by a surgical operation. The operation is not dangerous, but necessitates a period of several weeks in bed.

Urge Newspapers To Ban Radio Programs

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 19 (AP)—Newspapers were urged to discontinue the publication of radio programs in an address by Louis Hoffman of the St. Louis Star to the annual convention of the International Circulation Managers' association.

Mr. Hoffman said, however, that the papers must cooperate if they take a step because, in his opinion, it would be "unfair" for some to carry the programs while their competitors omitted them.

"Radio is now recognized as one of the chief competitors of the newspaper," he said, "and although a large amount of advertising revenue has been transferred from the newspapers to the radio, circulation departments have not yet felt the full force of the competition."

County Surveyor Is Injured On Thursday

Falling from a truck, A. L. Harris, county surveyor, of 1720 Thirteenth street, late Thursday suffered a fractured knee.

He was helping load the truck near Abernathy in the northern part of the county when the accident occurred. Harris was received at Lubbock sanitarium.

SWAN

In New York With Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, June 19—Forty-sixth street will never be the same without the N. V. A. clubhouse. Here would gather the great army of transient dealers in entertainment—the hand balancers and the jugglers, the tap team act and the sister act, the acrobats and the banjo trio: the dog trainers and the lion tamers, the hoofers and the adagio dancers, the ballet leaders and the hoop rollers, the clowns and tragedians.

Some 8000 vaudevillians would drift in and out, as they reached the big town after "the road."

A huge bulletin board would bear dozens of notices for the eyes of the jobless vaudevillian. One placard would tell of "10 weeks' time open" on a Jersey circuit . . . a band would suddenly need a "saxophone artist who can double in quartet and clown" . . . a revue would need "soubrettes who can tap and sing blues . . . also harmony" . . . another act would need "character man for sketch, who also can work in one."

But of late months a great pall has fallen over the trouper's trade. Some blamed the talkies, some blamed the times, some blamed this and some blamed that; some said that there was discord in the ranks of the National Variety Artists' membership; some whispered of "inside politics"—at any rate, something like $150,000 in debts faced the organization. Until he died, E. F. Albee, the vaudeville magnate, had carried most of the club's losses so that the variety folk could have a Broadway gathering place, and so that he could keep performers friendly to his vaudeville circuit.

Some say that a way will yet be found to pull the organization together: others that the clubhouse will become a hotel.

Just before his new biography of O. Henry appeared, Robert (Bob) Davis, the editor who has helped haul many a young writer to the peaks, was spinning yarns of the "caliph of Bagdad."

Davis, so went the stories told over the dinner table, could have had a great fortune in his hands today had he saved any of the O. Henry manuscripts. But editor-like, these invaluable originals went into the wastebasket like any other copy and eventually were burned by the janitor. The value of such originals today would be about $150,000.

"But how was I to know?" asks Davis. "He was a talented writer and we bought a great deal of his work. When it came to writing his biography, I found I had kept no notes and had to spend months trying to recall various conversations."

Scores of documents which one day attain great value have been tossed away as carelessly and forever destroyed.

It's Walter O'Keefe, the gagster of "The Little Show," who says that "California may be God's country, but Amy Semple McPherson is the cashier."

Walter also opines that, since the Theater Guild is going to have a Eugene O'Neill play that runs for three nights, the tickets should be handed down from father to son and held in perpetuity. If the father dies before the first play has ended, his heirs can attend the later shows, with court proceedings held in the meantime.

VICTIM OF HORSE TRAGEDY BURIED

LAMESA, June 19.—(Special)—Last rites were read for James O'Neal, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy O'Neal of Higginbotham community, here Thursday afternoon.

The boy died early Wednesday night while en route to a hospital after a horse he was riding had stumbled and fallen on him. Higginbotham community is twenty miles west of here.

Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. J. W. Webb, Baptist pastor of the Higginbotham community, conducted the services. Burial was in a local cemetery. The boys parents and an eight year old sister survive.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The mountain pathway wound around and soon the band of Tinies found that Mister Travel Man was right. The climb was quite a task. Poor Clowny finally stopped and cried, "I have a stitch in my side. Please let me sit right down and rest a while. That's all I ask."

The Travel Man just smiled. Said he, "Well, lad you look worn out to me. Or else, perhaps you're lazy, but we'll join you in a rest. There is no rush in our ascent and, after all, we're pleasure bent. We'll loaf here in the sunshine for half an hour. It's best."

Then, when the half hour was o'er they started on their way once more. For hours they slowly hiked along, 'course halting now and then. At last the mountain top was reached and Scouty very loudly screached, "The scenery is wonderful! Let's roll right down again."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Coppy, "You expect that we'd do that and all be wrecked? Oh, no! I much prefer to walk, when everyone is set." When all there was to see was spied, they went back down the mountain side. Said Clowny, "Going down's a cinch. This is the best part, yet."

That afternoon they took a train for Tokio and once again the Tinies found a lovely town. "I like this place," said one. "The slanting house roofs spread around are quite the quaintest we have found. I have a hunch, before we leave, we'll have a lot of fun."

Then merry voices filled the air and Carpy shouted, "Well, look there. Those little Jap boys play baseball just like we do at home. Right now I'm more than glad we came. Perhaps they'll let us in the game. It seems that baseball's popular, no matter where we roam."

(The Tinymites have some more fun with Jap youngsters in the next story.)

GRAVES' APPEAL PAPERS SIGNED

Judge Homer L. Pharr, before whom Alvis T. Graves was sentenced in seventy-second district court to ninety-nine years in the state penitentiary for murder, Thursday signed papers in Graves' appeal from the sentence.

Charles B. Metcalfe, district court clerk, was preparing papers in the case to be sent to the state court of criminal appeals at Austin. It is expected all of the papers will be in the hands of Austin officials by the last of the week.

Graves was found guilty of murder by a jury at the last term of Seventy-second district court.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 3 points higher in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables.

Offerings were light. There was some trade buying and covering after the decline of yesterday which sent prices about 4 to 6 points net higher by the end of the first half hour with July selling at 8.51 and December at 9.15. The weather map on the whole was considered favorable and the heaviness of the stock market may have had a tendency to restrict buying, but there were comparatively few selling orders in evidence during the early trading, on the bulge.

Liverpool cables said liquidation and some selling on favorable weather reports had been absorbed by trade calling. Egyptian futures in Alexandria closed 5 to 14 lower and the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool was 8 points lower.

Trading was quiet later in the morning, but offerings were comparatively light and the market worked gradually upward on some further trade buying and covering. July advanced to 8.55 and December to 9.17 with the midday market steady around these quotations, or about 7 to 8 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 19 (AP)—Cotton had a quiet but steady opening today. Liverpool cables were better than due and first trades here showed gains of two to five points. The market soon turned easier, however, on a renewal of long liquidation and in sympathy with an easier opening in stocks. July traded down to 8.48, October to 8.87 and December to 9.10, or 3 to 4 points down from the opening and about unchanged from yesterday's close.

The market ruled rather quiet all morning but prices rallied slightly on some trade buying and covering by shorts for over the weekend. July advancing to 8.54, October to 8.95 and December to 9.16, or 6 to 8 points up from the early lows.

Near mid-session the market eased off slightly on disappointment at the weekly statistics, particularly mill takings which showed a falling off from last week, and price levels lost 2 to 4 points from the highs.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: July 8.46; Oct. 8.87, Dec. 9.11; Jan. 9.22; March 9.41; May 9.63.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

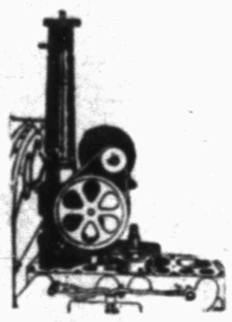

NEW ORLEANS, June 19 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: July 8.52; Oct. 8.90; Dec. 9.12; Jan. 9.22-bid; March 9.42-bid; May 9.62-bid.

Bigamy Charges Are Filed At Floydada

FLOYDADA, June 19 (AP)—Charges of bigamy were filed yesterday against John R. Morgan by District Attorney A. J. Polley, in the court of Justice J. S. Solomon. The case was believed the first brought under the new Texas law regarding bigamy, which became effective February 13.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—The stock market was narrowly irregular today with the turnover continuing around recent levels.

Strength of numerous oil stocks on the announcement of price increases in California also extended to the New York City tractions and a few specialties. Standard of California rose more than 3 and there were advances of about a point in Standard of New Jersey, Mexican Seaboard, Houston, and Union Oil of California. Westinghouse, Case, Alaska and Worthington Pump rallied moderately.

National Biscuit was a soft spot, losing more than 2. Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central, Pennsylvania, American Telephone, and Allied Chemical, among others, were off a point or more at the lowest levels of the earlier dealings, but better support was evident in the industrials. U. S. Steel made up most of a one point loss.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 19 (AP)—Influenced by Canadian reports of all night downpours at some places in drouth territory, wheat today underwent fresh breaks to new low price records since 1896. Word of terrific dust storms continuing elsewhere ended, however, to check setbacks. Opening unchanged to 3-8 cents lower, wheat afterward sagged all around. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 off and subsequently showed a general decline.

BIRTH CONTROL GROUP MEETS

PRESENT LAWS HELD BENIGHTED, ABSURD, AND ILLOGICAL

MINNEAPOLIS, June 19 (AP)—George Packard, Chicago attorney, told the American Birth Control league here today that "it will be a long time before legislation is enacted authorizing your program."

Present laws on the subject are "benighted, illogical and absurd," he said, "contending that in the humanitarian relations between physician and patient "the physician has the right to prescribe contraception for the needs of his patient."

Dean E. F. Lyon, of the University of Minnesota medical school, said that birth control should be studied at a conference of experts as a factor related to heridity as the environmental side of racial betterment has been studied in connection with child welfare.

Rev. David Bryn-Jones, Minneapolis Baptist clergyman, declared that human progress is a continuous interference with nature and that birth control holds great possibilities of human progress. He said that it is morally justified.

DOLE HUNDRED YEARS OLD

UNEMPLOYMENT PLAN OF ENGLAND TAKEN UP IN ARTICLE

(EDITORS NOTE: Current agitation for changes in its "dole" system, focuses international attention on England's unemployment insurance problem. Edward Stanley, Associated Press staff writer traces the history of the system in the following article.)

BY EDWARD STANLEY

LONDON, June 19 (AP)—The full history of England's unemployment insurance reaches back almost 100 years ago to 1834.

The term wasn't used in 1834 as a symbol for a social trouble. Unemployment was regarded as an attitude of the individual. The poor law of that year, however, took it into account by reasoning that all that was needed to end unemployment was to provide tests severe enough to drive men back to work before relief was granted.

The theory hardly seems socially alert in these days, but, more or less, with such alterations a changing national temper and social fabric produced, that was the century's gesture toward the problem of the workless.

The important years have been in this century, particularly the last 20.

Study Made

In 1905, a royal commission made the first study into means other than poor laws "for meeting the distress arising from want of employment, particularly during periods of severe industrial depression." Its findings started the ball rolling toward an organized scheme of unemployment insurance.

The first national compulsory unemployment insurance act was passed in 1911. It was the first of its magnitude in the world, and other attempts had not been significantly successful.

Each year since 1911 has seen a new model of the plan, but the basic design has remained the same. Largely the changes have been extensions to cover more industries.

Now all persons, either sex, employed contract in Great Britain are required to be insured, except farm workers and domestic servants and certain other white-collar classes. There are approximately 12,000,000 persons so insured.

In 1920 the act was recast and since then has been subjected to constant strains through the depression which has clung to England until even the ministry of labor believes that they "threaten danger to the whole structure."

BARGE CO-RESPONDENT

LOS ANGELES—"If Johanna Smith helped break up your home, why don't you name her as co-respondent?" Superior Judge Walter Guerin asked Mrs. Maud Adams. "Your honor, explained Mrs. Adams' attorney, "this Johanna Smith isn't a woman, she's a gambling ship." Mrs. Adams was granted a divorce from her husband after she told how he spent his money on the boat.

HIGHER RATES ARE OPPOSED

PROPOSED INCREASE OF FIFTEEN PER CENT IS CONDEMNED

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Opposition to the proposed fifteen per cent increase in freight rates has developed in letters to President Hoover and the interstate commerce commission.

Several communications urging quick, favorable action on the petition of the roads, also were received.

Representative Evans, Democrat, Montana, Senator Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, Carl Williams, cotton member of the Federal Farm board, the North Dakota railroad commission and the Wyoming Stock Dealers association protested. From merchants, manufacturers, securities dealers and private citizens came further opposition.

Rates Held High

Many of the protests asserted that rates, especially on farm products, were already too high. Some predicted disaster both to business and generally and the railroads if the commission grants the increase.

Williams, speaking as an individual, said any increase in freight rates on farm products would be most "unpopular." The farmer believes rates too high now, he continued, adding that there was justification for this attitude.

Representative Evans expressed the opinion an increase would be destructive to shippers, suicide for the railroads and plunge the whole country into greater distress.

"A general increase in railroad rates at any time is an attack on the income of commerce and agriculture," wrote Senator Shipstead. He suggested that the commission tell the railroads to "be patient" and "in the meantime take their losses with the rest of us."

Suggestions for betterment of the railroad situation took several forms. Some protestants wanted railroad wages reduced. The United States Fisheries association suggested that instead of a rate raise railroad taxes be reduced and assessed against motor trucks. Others thought the commission and the railroads should find means of reducing railroad overhead expense.

JURY DEADLOCKED AND DISMISSED; RETRIAL SET FOR JULY 13

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 19 (AP)—The trial of Alexander Pantages, multi-millionaire showman, and three others on conspiracy and morals charges ended Thursday in a disagreement of the jurors after 24 hours deliberation. A date for retrial was set tentatively for July 13.

Pantages and Jesse H. Shreve, wealthy San Diego business man, were charged with conspiring with the alleged operators of a Hollywood "girl market," Olive Clark Day and William Jobelmann to bring Lydia Nitto, a minor, here from Los Angeles for immoral purposes, the trial began May 25 and was placed in the hands of a jury of nine men and three women at noon yesterday.

Edward Summers, jury foreman, told Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine eleven ballots had been taken and there had been no change in the voting since midnight.

Summers and W. F. Ahrens, another juror, said the vote had stood 9 to 3 for acquittal on every ballot today, although it had swung from 8 to 4, to 10 to 2 during the deliberations yesterday.

The jurors said the three women voted for acquittal throughout. Those favoring acquittal, he said, were convinced that Miss Nitto was not a minor.

LIBEL SUIT

B. Metcalfe, who estimated that the total costs for handling these depositions, including fees, court costs, filing fees, etc., was nearly $4,000.

Cost of the jury, judge and court stenographer for the time spent in securing a jury and in hearing evidence and arguments, was in excess of $1,800.

Should an appeal in the case be taken, the added cost is expected to be in the neighborhood of $2,000 for transcript, besides court costs.

Filed Last July

The case was filed last July by Mr. Spikes through his attorneys, Lockhart, Garrard and Brown. Since the first of January there have been a number of sessions between attorneys for both plaintiffs and defendants with Judge Clark M. Mullican, who heard the case, when depositions were gone over and objections to questions and answers of both sides, were made and agreed upon. Just how many days were thus spent is not exactly known, but the better part of three weeks was thus occupied. This work was necessary in order to save time and expense during the actual hearing of evidence.

Months were spent in the securing of depositions and witnesses for both sides. Trips had to be made to distant points in order to secure statements from persons who were in a position to know what were believed to be the facts in the case.

Early History Cited

The events described in the book, over which the libel action resulted, occured more than 29 years ago. In fact, it was 28 and one half years from the time of the shooting of John and Dick Spikes and the wounding of Fred Spikes until the suit was filed. This occured January 21, 1902.

More than 100 persons who were living in either the Mesa Redonda community or the "Tucumcari country" or had business there and were in a position to know conditions, testified either orally or by depositions. One deposition came from Old Mexico. Others were from California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Chicago and other places.

It is reported that the defense spent approximately four months in securing trace of one man from whom they secured a deposition. Another man was located after more than two months and a woman was found after three and a half months and her deposition secured.

Attorneys for Mr. Spikes were: G. E. Lockhart, Tom Garrard and D. Brown. For the defense, George H. Bean and S. L. Klett represented the trustees of the Capitol Reservation Lands and W. H. Bledsoe, C. C. Cranshaw and George W. Dupree, J. Evetts Haley.

In addition Sam H. Roberts, Dalhart, general land commissioner for the trusteer in Texas and Henry Tinney, Chicago, attorney for John V. Farwell, were present and assisted in the defense. Mr. Haley was the only defendant present. Fred, Jeff and Ernest Spikes also were present in court.

Possemen Testify

To illustrate the wealth of testimony secured 29 years after the incidents referred to, four alleged members of the posse that shot and killed the Spikes boys, testified by deposition. They were: Vincent Ciasel, now 87 years old, the deputy sheriff; Sam Gholson, son of Old Sam Gholson; Cabe Adams and Emmett Ricks all of whom testified for the defense. R. M. Bates, a brother of Lee Bates, who was credited with being a member of the posse, testified orally and his brother testified by deposition.

Charles Bohannan, an alleged member of the posse, testified for the plaintiff by deposition. There were four Spikes brothers who testified, Sam by deposition and Jeff, Fred and Ernest on the stand. Mrs. Fred Spikes, the former Mrs. John Spikes, likewise testified.

Defense witnesses included: Frank Bond, an Italian neighbor of the brothers who testified for the defendants and Dick Cousineau, his employe, who testified for the plaintiff; George Cook and George Massagee, alleged members o fthe Henry Hawkins gang and both of whom served time for the robbery of the Fort Sumner postoffice; Witt Neel, another members who appeared here for the defense; Robert Lee Greear, brother of Hawkins' wife, who testified by deposition as did his sister, for the defense; James E. Johnson and James Ivey, ranchers; Charles B. King, bartender in the Monarch saloon, George Kilgore and Alex Street, members of a possee that shot it out with Hawkins the same day of the killing; E. Van Lee, son of Bud Lee, a posse member and Brooks Lee, Bud's brother; Mrs. L. A. Pirtle, formerly Mrs. Louis Nance, wife of a posse member; Fred and Sim McFarland, former deputies or cattle inspectors; Eugene Logan, also a former inspector and Cleofas Romero, former sheriff who arrested four alleged members of the Hawkins gang.

World Participation In Olympics Assured

LOS ANGELES, June 19 (AP)—With the Olympic games a year hence, complete world representation has been made a virtual certainty with assurance from thirty-five nations that they will send teams to the cosmopolitan classic here July 30 to August 14 1932.

Even Siberia, Bavaria and other small countries have caught the spirit of the international contests and will enter teams for the first time.

Reduced steamship and railroad rates, which will permit athletes from foreign countries to attend the games at average expenses below $500 each, and increased enthusiasm in amateur sports all over the world are the reasons given for the promises even at this early a date that large teams will be sent here.

BEER BARON IS UNDER ARREST

BIG SHOT GANGSTER HELD IN NEW YORK ON THREE COUNTS

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Arthur Flegenheimer known in gangland where he is recognized as a big shot in the beer business, as "Dutch Schultz" learned today that what he termed a mistake was destined to cause him much trouble and inconvenience.

Schultz, arrested outside his spacious Fifth avenue apartment where he had been living under assumed respectability, was a prisoner in the West side jail, unable to furnish $150,000 bail fixed by Magistrate Burke as the price of his temporary freedom.

Faces Charges

He is held on three charges—acting in concert in felonious assault, and two counts of violating the Sullivan anti-firearms law. He was carrying a 38-calibre automatic pistol when arrested.

The gangster said a case of mistaken identity led to his present plight and the shooting of one of his hoodlum followers, Daniel Amacio, who died last night in a hospital. Amacio was shot as he drew his revolver when he Schultz, and three other gangsters, were approached by two detectives as they stood outside the beer runner's apartment. He mistook them for enemy gangsters.

Police questioned Schultz, but was unable to ascertain the identity of the three gangsters who escaped by leaping over a low wall of Central park.

NEED HONESTY IN GANG WAR

MITCHELL SAYS GANG LEADERS CAN BE ELIMINATED

WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—Attorney Gen. Mitchell believes the government's success in its campaign against Al Capone shows that gang leaders can be eliminated "if you have honest men on the job and a real purpose."

Mitchell said the justice department intended to "hit out at the gangsters problem wherever it becomes particularly obnoxious" but that his branch of the government was not now planning any nation-wide drive throughout the larger cities.

From other government agencies word has come during the past week that gangster activities would be investigated not only in New York but also in such cities as Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis.

"There are certain things that federal agents can and will do regularly," Mitchell said, "but in the last analysis it is a local problem. It is true, however, that by such work as was done in Chicago we hope to inspire local authorities."

The attorney general was reluctant to comment upon the federal anti-gangster drive now in progress in New York beyond saying that justice department agents were at work there.

VALUATIONS IN COUNTY DROP

SLIGHT DECREASE IS SHOWN IN FIGURES FOR THIS YEAR

A loss of less than one per cent in county property valuation totals of 1931 as compared to those of 1930 is shown in a tentative compilation of valuations, A. B. Ellis, county tax assessor, said Thursday.

"Based on figures in this office, the valuation for the county for 1931 is $24,910,670," Mr. Ellis said. "This figure is about $220,000 below the total for 1930."

Little Change Seen

"It probably will be several months before we complete our rolls and make our final announcements. I do not anticipate much of a change."

Cause of the decrease is attributed by Mr. Ellis to several factors. The principal ones are: decreased valuations on real estate; smaller stocks of merchandise held by local stores in 1931 from the 1930 stocks and lowered valuation of livestock.
