Nationwide Rail Strike Threatened

South Plains Airmail Test Volume Tops 10,000 Pieces

Postoffices Of 28 Towns Are Represented

Every State In Union With Several Foreign Countries To Receive Lubbock Mail

MORE than 10,000 pieces of mail —10,080 to be exact—weighing a total of 168 pounds was the contribution of Lubbock and towns of the area to the airmail pickup test here Thursday afternoon in connection with participation in national airmail week observance.

This was the computation of John R. Green, superintendent of mails at Lubbock postoffice.

Many Towns Represented

Represented among the covers were the postmarks of at least 28 postoffices of the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico.

Their destinations include every state in the Union, Mexico, Canada, several South American and European countries, the Hawaiian islands and Australia.

The record was well in excess of expectations, according to Postmaster Amos Howard, chairman of the chamber of commerce airmail committee, and C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the chamber's aviation group.

72 Pounds From Lubbock

Lubbock's contribution, swelled by a belated mailing rush, totaled 72 pounds and 4,320 individual pieces of mail. The number of covers here was about the same as in a test last fall. On that occasion, however, the volume was swelled by approximately 1,700 missives which had been held at the chamber of commerce several years. Those pieces had been sent here when a stamp-collector's magazine carried the erroneous announcement several years ago that a "first flight" was scheduled out of Lubbock.

"First flight" covers, it was explained, are highly prized among collectors.

Poundage from various towns as gathered in feeder planes from Lubbock included: Petersburg, 9 pounds; Floydada, 4 pounds, 10 ounces;

Chinese Lines Are Shattered

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, May 20. (Friday)—Japanese announced today their troops had completed occupation of Suchow, key to Chinese defenses on the central front.

Reported occupation of the walled town, which had been the base of a Chinese army of nearly half a million, came after severe artillery and air attacks and assaults on defenses by converging Japanese columns.

Target Of Operations

Suchow, junction point of the Tientsin-Pukow and Lunghai railways, had been the target of Japanese military operations since the fall of Nanking Dec. 13.

From Suchow, Japanese could push westward along the Lunghai to the Peiping-Hankow railway and then south toward Hankow, temporary capital of China.

Earlier today Japanese had declared Suchow was a burning, doomed city, with hordes of bedraggled Chinese soldiers and civilians in flight.

Claim Full Occupation

Japanese officials did not claim full occupation of the city until after 9 a. m.

Two tremendous fires, apparently started in munitions storehouses, blotted the city out from the air under a blanket of smoke and shot

Profit-Sharing Is Proposed To Reduce Taxes

Incentive Tax Reductions To Be Investigated; Aid To Industrial Peace Sought

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19. — Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said today a senate committee authorized to investigate systems of sharing profits between employers and labor would explore the possibilities of "incentive tax reductions."

Federal tax exemptions might be made on the dividends paid employes under a voluntary profit-sharing plan, he said in an interview. These exemptions, Vandenberg added, could be the government's contribution toward establishing a system which he said he believed would do much toward bringing industrial peace.

Suggestion Approved

Senator Herring (D-Iowa), chairman of the finance subcommittee which will conduct the profit-sharing inquiry, approved Vandenberg's suggestion. Herring said the committee members, including Senators Johnson (D-Colo.) and Vandenberg, would begin work at once.

The committee will meet next week to employ a small staff of experts and outline its program, Herring said. Representatives of labor and employers will be called to testify at hearings next fall, and a report is scheduled to be made to congress in January.

Offset By Stimulation

Any tax reductions made to encourage establishment of profit-sharing systems probably would be offset by the increased government revenue resulting from the stimulation of business, Vandenberg predicted.

"If a realistic partnership arrangement for profit-sharing encourages industrial peace through the creation of industrial equity, the benefits of the country and the government will offset a hundred fold any incidental loss of revenue through exemptions and awards," he declared.

U. S. To Retain Market Place

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 19—The United States, some grain traders observed tonight has prospects of maintaining a good position in the world wheat export market, at least until the harvest of new crops in Argentina and Canada.

These traders believe this because wheat prices are the lowest in four years and have been declining with prices in other exporting countries.

Supplies Are Reduced

Wheat has been going out of domestic ports steadily since last summer with exporters taking advantage of the fact that supplies in both Argentina and Canada are reduced and the world stocks have been low.

Canada and Argentina, together with Australia, are the major competitors of the United States for export trade. Continental demand in Europe has been slack recently due largely, traders said, to prospects of a huge crop in this country.

Seek Lowest Price

Most importing nations were believed to be holding off in an effort to make their purchases in the world market at the lowest price possible. However, some of the grain now moving out of American ports was contracted for some time ago.

Most of the grain being exported from this country was believed here to have gone to ports in the United Kingdom and the Netherlands from which its ultimate destination is unknown.

Great Britain has been a big buy-

Investigation disclosed the two boys had stationed themselves midway with a sign that read:

"Speed trap ahead."

Vote In Oregon Again To Test CIO's Power

(By The Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 19—The position of John L. Lewis, CIO chairman, and the unofficial participation of a New Deal cabinet member and a senator will receive a test tomorrow in the Oregon primary election.

More than half a million Republicans and Democrats will select candidates for governor, short and regular terms in the United States senate, and three congressmen.

The Feature Race

The Democratic contest for governor between stocky, white-haired Governor Charles H. Martin, former congressman and retired major general, and Henry Hess, former state senator from La Grande, eclipsed all other races.

The governor, criticized by Interior Secretary Harold Ickes and Senator George W. Norris (Ind-Neb.), closed his campaign by reaffirming his loyalty to the administration. He attacked bitterly Ickes' statement to Hess that he (Martin) was at heart "no New Dealer." He was equally resentful of Norris' remark that he was "disappointed" in the governor and urged Oregon farmers to vote for Hess.

Proof Of Position

Martin, spearhead of a law and order campaign to curb labor violence, described Hess' endorsement by the Oregon Commonwealth federation as proof that he was a Lewis candidate.

President Roosevelt and Postmaster General James A. Farley, chairman of the national Democratic committee, both said there would be no interference in the campaign. Stephen Early, presidential secre-

Steel Leader Says If FDR Will Alter His Policies U. S. Will See Recovery

(By The Associated Press)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 19. — Ernest T. Weir, steel magnate, advocating a seven-point recovery program tonight, predicted "men wanted" signs again would hang on factory gates if the Roosevelt administration changed its policies "to aid and encourage private enterprises."

The outspoken chairman of the National Steel corporation suggested to the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce this program for recovery.

"Restore confidence by an unqualified pledge to retain unaltered the principles and structure of the American systems of business and of government.

"Declare a permanent policy with regard to basic economic control.

"Amend tax laws to eliminate punitive and crippling provisions.

Il Duce Gets Warning From France And Great Britain

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, May 19. — France and Great Britain warned Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy today they stood shoulder to shoulder despite efforts to separate them.

Il Duce's latest demands for signing the Italo-French friendship agreement were rejected and the byword in official quarters in Paris tonight was: "now it is up to Mussolini; he knows our answers."

War Clouds Appear Again

The deadlock in efforts to reach an accord paralleling the Anglo-Italian pact of April 16 was believed in many quarters here to have put southern Europe back under the same war clouds that hung over it in the early part of the year.

Premier Edouard Daladier himself made a statement referring to the reinforced Anglo-French bloc.

Daladier's reference to Anglo-French solidarity came in a surprise statement in which he declared France alone could defend her frontiers against "all attempts at violence."

"The London conversations (of April 28-29)," he said, "reinforced the Franco-British entente—an entente which threatens nobody, which on the contrary is a means

Power Deadlock Ended At Last

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 19—The long deadlock between TVA and utility systems in the Tennessee valley, over disposition of private properties in the face of government competition, was broken on a major scale for the first time today when directors of National Power & Light company voted to sell out their interests in the Knoxville area.

They recommended to stockholders the acceptance of an offer of $7,900,000, made by Knoxville and the TVA, for properties of a subsidiary, Tennessee Public Service company.

Offer Given Boost

The directors' decision came after the TVA and Knoxville authorities boosted by $400,000 their offer of $7,500,000 made a week ago —and which, at the time, they characterized as "final."

National Power & Light officials said the higher offer was made in Washington yesterday when P. B. Sawyer, president of the utility company, conferred with representatives of the purchasers. Sawyer, however, failed to get the Knoxville authorities to agree to the purchase of the street railway system owned by Tennessee public service. Private interests, however, are reportedly seeking to buy the trans-

Highways Blocked And Railway Bridges Wrecked By Floods

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19. (AP)—Swollen western Oklahoma streams poured their flood waters into some lowlands tonight after wrecking several bridges and blocking highways.

The Cimarron, in northwest Oklahoma, was receding at Fairview, after washing out several stretches of railway track. A Frisco railway bridge over the Cimarron near Ames was weakened. Two spans of a Santa Fe bridge were out.

Near Canton, on the North Canadian river, water spread out over lowlands and some damage was reported to crops. Six hundred feet of Santa Fe track was washed out.

Surplus Wheat Loans Are To Be Available

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A presidential letter to congress disclosed today that the administration intends to lend wheat producers $120,000,000 to $172,000,000 on their surplus grain this year.

Officials said the purpose of the loans would be to keep surplus wheat off the market and thus prevent demoralization of prices.

Funds Are Requested

Mr. Roosevelt sent a request to Speaker Bankhead for $80,000 to finance government licensing and supervising of additional facilities for storage of the grain. He asked congress to include this fund in a supplementary appropriation of $1,030,000 for the agriculture department, $950,000 of which would be used to control insect pests and plant diseases.

The president sent along, with his approval, a letter to himself from Daniel W. Bell, acting budget director. In it Bell said Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had advised him that the 1938 wheat crop as of July 1 was estimated at 950,000,000 bushels, and that domestic consumption and exports of the grain during the marketing year starting on that date were expected to total 750,000,000 bushels.

Loan To Be Necessary

"He advises," Bell said, "that under these conditions a loan to producers of wheat on the 1938 surplus of some 200,000,000 bushels will be necessary."

Other officials said the new crop control law authorizes the agriculture department to make the loans

Patrol Boat Keeping Vigil After Ammunition Is Lost

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19. (AP) — A coastguard patrol boat maintained constant vigil around a mud flat in San Francisco bay tonight after a powered ammunition scow suddenly listed port side, lost a portion of its cargo, partially righted itself, and then floated ashore with the tide.

Captain Ed Warren and his crew of three aboard the scow Herman A. Blum took to a lifeboat. The captain said the craft apparently struck a submerged object.

The scow was carrying about 2,000 cases of small arms ammunition. Scores of cases were thrown into the bay.

Under Florida law, when no mercy is recommended a sentence of death in the electric chair is mandatory.

Although Bunge also was charged with the deaths of his two daughters, the trial today was specifically on the slaying of his wife.

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 19. (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas today expressed confidence he had eliminated the possibility of revolt by General Saturnino Cedillo's agrarian army.

Unions Serving Notice Against Wage Slashes

Workers' Opposition To Plan For 15 Per Cent Cuts Gets Strong Congress Backing

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19. — Railroad labor unions served notice today that a nationwide strike would be the "only ultimate result" if the roads carried out intentions to cut wages.

The workers' opposition to the projected 15 percent pay cut won powerful support in congress, where a movement developed to withhold emergency financial aid from the carriers unless they agreed to maintain existing wage levels.

Legislation Sent Back

At the request of Chairman Wagner (D-NY) of the banking committee, the senate sent back to the committee legislation which would provide federal loans for the roads. Wagner said several members of the committee wanted to change the bill to prohibit federal loans to carriers that forced wage cuts.

The Wagner group previously had approved the bill in its present form but the New Yorker said the action was taken before the wage issue entered the picture.

The unions' strike threat was contained in a statement by the Railway Labor Executives' association.

Double-Cross Charged

Charging that railroad management had "double-crossed" its organized employes, the statement declared:

"If the railroad managements insist on going through with their attempt to cut employes wages 15 per cent, the only ultimate result will be a nation-wide strike.

"The railroad workers of America, already grossly underpaid, simply will not accept a wage reduction of any kind. They have already been heavy sufferers from the railroads' policy of putting the payment of interest to wealthy bondholders above decent living standards for their employes."

The labor executives said they

Early Recovery Seen For U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, May 19.—Harold B. Butler, director of the international labor office, tonight predicted early business recovery in the United States, but warned that war is blocking world social progress and theatens to precipitate a "total collapse."

In his annual report, the British chief of the labor bureau, a League of Nations organization, reported favorably on basic economic conditions but declared "war is already invading the social field."

Total Collapse Certain

"It has already blocked some of the main avenues of advance," Butler reported, "and may soon begin to sap the social edifice which this generation has raised. Should another general war break out, a total collapse is practically certain."

The report, released by the labor office, will be submitted to the international labor conference here next month.

His report showed 1937 world industrial production rose above the 1929 level, unemployment declined steadily from 1933 to 1937 and world trade volume approached the

MANFRED AND ETHICS

That a little boy breaks his leg is certainly not front page news, but because Bruno Richard Hauptmann's son is injured the event became national news. His father's crime was mentioned in the account. Will this tendency follow the boy all through his life or will newspapers and people feel that the sins of the father do not always have to follow to blight the life of a child.

Will this grisly reminder of the father harass this son forever—at his graduation, at his first job, at his marriage and perhaps at the birth of a son? Or will people be kind? We wonder.

ON PLAYING BRIDGE

DO YOU play bridge? Well, we play a sort of compulsory game. Play? What do they mean PLAY? It's work to us. Our hands get cold and clammy, our eyes are glazed.

If you do play bridge perhaps you'll know what we're talking about. If you don't play, may we offer congratulations?

GRADUATES AND WORK

THIS month and next hundreds of young people will be graduated from universities, colleges and secondary schools. Many of them will seek employment. For some reason, unknown to us, there seems a tendency for many to wisecrack about the ambitious young folk looking for work. We have no such thought. We hope they find something to do. If not what they are educated for, at least something to occupy them until the right job is available.

Evening Shower Is Given Bride-Elect

A party and shower honoring Miss June Wheelock was given Wednesday night at the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Jarrott, 1641 Broadway. Mesdames Fred Higbee and Ted Tipps were assistant hostesses. Miss Wheelock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wheelock, will be married June 1 to Sterling B. Jones of Los Angeles, Calif.

Garden flowers were decorations. The bride-elect wore a black and periwinkle Gibson girl model with black accessories.

The entertainment featured a musical romance with Mrs. Frank Barclay at the piano.

Miss Louise Jarrett, cousin of the honoree, presided at the bride's book where relatives and close friends of the family registered.

Sponge Cake Demonstration Interests HD Club Women

Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent, baked a sponge cake and lectured on cake mixture at a meeting of the City Line club Wednesday afternoon at the Slaton club house. The agent also decorated birthday cakes baked by Mesdames W. H. Crosby and E. E. Wilson. Mrs. Carter Shaw gave a reading.

The club planned participation in a Slaton Fourth of July celebration.

Others attending were the hostess, Mrs. A. R. Keys, and Mesdames R. C. Hall, C. E. Lillie, A. W. Montgomery, Annie Reed, A. B. Dozier, P. K. Martin, H. P. Piwonka, R. T. Williams, P. M. Wheatley, D. Hendrix, Lucile McEver, Cleta Young, W. H. Long, and a guest, Mrs. John Miller.

Cotton Is "Very Ultra Ultra" Now For Practical Wear From Dawn 'Til Dawn

By OPAL McMAHON
Avalanche Staff Writer

From tricky new bathing suits to frilly evening dresses, the well dressed woman may now fill her wardrobe with cotton apparel—and perhaps even feel better dressed than her silk-clad friends.

The approaching Texas Technological college Cotton carnival and National Cotton week serves as a reminder of the possibilities of cotton and glance through the cotton-laden racks, shelves and display windows of Lubbock stores.

"Cotton is to summer what wool is to winter", said a Lubbock saleslady, and take it from no less an authority than the head of the woman's department of a large Lubbock store, that West Texas women are becoming cotton conscious.

What could be more appropriate in Lubbock, the seat of a county that ranked fourth in the United States and first in Texas in cotton production last season and the hub of an area that produced more than a million bales?

From dawn 'til dawn, well dressed women may wear cotton, said a saleslady, and she proceeded to prove her statement.

Statement Proved

First, she showed racks of housecoats appropriate for early morning. There were colors ranging from pastel shades to brightly colored prints, and materials including pique, seersuckers, a print with a mercerized sheen offering a lacy effect, chintz, toweling, waffle cloth, lace, point d'esprit, Swiss, laces, waffle cloth, and just plain print.

Then there were house dresses in numerous colors, materials, and styles. But those were available even in the yesterday before cotton became a dress-up material, so she proceeded to more dressy styles.

For the working girl, cotton dresses have all the qualities of practicability desirable, including economy, washability, fresh appearance, and coolness. Also for the working girl, piques, seersuckers, muslin, dotted Swisses, printed and one-color voiles, cotton broadcloth, and even chambray, that material popular many years ago that has been revived in many tailored and becoming styles.

Cotton For Afternoon

For the afternoon tea, cotton does not fail one. If the pocketbook is no hindrance, cotton dresses may be obtained in the price range of $20 to $30. One cotton crease-resisting dress resembled chiffon. Hand-finished organdies with lingerie touches, sheer imported French batistes, and other creations may be bought for dressy occasions.

For golf, swimming, tennis, and almost every sport practical cotton clothing may be found. The choice of sports clothing is almost unlimited. Play suits in many novel materials and designs may be seen. Novel print bathing suits, resembling crushed waffles, that appeared small for a one-year-old were seen. When the twenty-year-old dons one the elastic threads stretch and the suit is a perfect fit.

For Formal, Too

Cotton will not fail even the women who prides herself upon her appearance upon formal occasions. The colorful prints on both dark and light backgrounds are shown in striking evening dresses. Some show entire scenes, including palm trees. Dark evening dresses with white rick-rack braid and other contrasting trimming also are shown. The dainty, frilly, pastel shades are not lacking. Evening dresses may be obtained in pique, waffle cloth, organdie, Swiss, cotton crepe, seersuckers, cotton, laces and nets and various other cotton materials.

Then for bedtime, prints and solid colors may be obtained in numerous cool and washable materials.

As the saleslady said, cotton is "very ultra, ultra" now. You have to have cotton to be well dressed.

Sport, afternoon, evening and street cotton apparel will be modeled at the annual Cotton carnival to be conducted in Senior High school auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday night under auspices of the Texas Technological college chapter of Phi Psi, national textile fraternity.

National Cotton week opens May 29.

Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble!
If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.
If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains "bulk" plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1.
Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and see if your old sparkle doesn't come back! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Great Problem Faces Nation

SALT LAKE CITY, May 19. (AP)—The National Congress of Parents and Teachers, nearing adjournment after a week's intensive consideration of home and school problems, studied today a broad survey of public health as presented by an executive of the American Medical association.

"The greatest problem in public health today is the lack of adequarterly-trained personnel," Dr. W. W. Bauer of Chicago, director of the A.M.A.'s bureau of health and public instruction and associated editor of Hygeia magazine, told the convention in a prepared address.

Lack Of Personnel

"In an era of paradox," he said, "there is none greater than widespread unemployment and at the same time a lack of qualified personnel for jobs waiting to be filled.

"If every county in the United States were to establish a full-time health unit tomorrow, there would not be enough qualified public health officers to direct them."

Dr. Bauer, presenting a detailed study of public health activities, said in summary:

"While the public authorities can throw many safeguards around the individual citizen, it is necessary for him to be on the alert and to cooperate in his daily practice of marketing and consuming food.

Safeguards Told

"Consistent refusal to use water of unknown purity; definite insistence upon pasteurized milk unless certified milk is purchased; demand for inspected meat and meat food products; marketing for fruits and vegetables with an eye to possible dangers; purchase only of certified seafood products — these are the means by which the citizen may avail himself of health safeguards in his community.

"If these safeguards do not exist, then the citizen can make his demand for them felt by organizing for action at the polls or by refusal to buy unsatisfactory good products."

Seventeen Scouts Of Troop 5 Get Awards

Seventeen members of Boy Scout troop No. 5, sponsored by First Christian church, will receive $1 each toward summer camp expenses as result of having made the best record in the nail pickup Saturday in conjunction with the cleanup-paintup campaign, according to announcement at the chamber of commerce Thursday. Osco N. Cole is scoutmaster.

The boys gathered a total of 2,783 pounds of junk from the streets and alleys of the city, an average of 163 pounds per boy, the prize committee reported.

Second award of 50 cents toward camp expenses went to each of eight members of troop No. 3, sponsored by First Baptist church and with E. V. Hicks as scoutmaster. They gathered 1,139 pounds, an average of 142 pounds.

Three members of troop 6, sponsored by Cumberland Presbyterian church with Douglas Adams as scoutmaster, will receive 25 cents each toward camp costs for having gathered 387 pounds, an average of 129 pounds per scout.

Chickens Go To Roost Early In Morning As Clouds Appear

PITTSBURGH, May 19. (AP)—Chickens went to roost at midmorning today as thunderclouds swept over the Pittsburgh district, plunging it into midnight darkness.

Lights flashed from skyscrapers and Weatherman W. S. Brotzman explained: "The clouds were right down along the ground."

One poultry keeper said he turned on lights in his chicken house to keep the hens awake.

Woman Talks In Narcotics Case

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Katherine Phillips, of Galveston, Tex., testified in federal court today she lived with Sam Maceo, whom she described as a political boss, as his common law wife for several months in 1923.

The Phillips woman, appearing as a government witness in the trial of 18 alleged members of a narcotics ring, has already pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to violate the narcotics laws.

She was called to the stand by H. E. Kahn, Houston attorney representing Vincent Vallone, Houston night club operator under indictment with Maceo. The latter, described by the government as head of the alleged ring, is fighting extradition proceedings in New Orleans.

Kahn questioned Miss Phillips regarding her testimony in removal proceedings at Galveston last October. He asked her if at that time she testified she did not know Maceo well enough to identify him. She answered she did not recall such testimony.

Under cross-examination by Joseph P. Matrin, assistant United States attorney, she said she had lived with Maceo. She also asserted she had conducted narcotics dealings with Joe Massa of Galveston, another defendant who has pleaded guilty.

MAKE PERFECT CUSTARD PIE THIS EASY WAY

Filling delicately firm, crust so tender and flaky

Here's the new way to make custard pie that gives success every time. Just remember two things. First, bake your pie in a very hot oven (450°). Then your filling won't soak into the crust and make it soggy. Second, use Spry, the new, purer ALL-vegetable shortening to get extra flaky, tender crust.

Triple-creamed Spry gives flakier pastry, lighter cakes in half the mixing time. Cooking experts for 281 home-making schools say it's the creamiest shortening they ever used. Better for frying, too. Try Spry—make this pie today!

Custard Pie

3 eggs and 2 egg yolks or 4 eggs, slightly beaten
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 Spry Pie Shell
Nutmeg

Beat eggs slightly and add sugar and salt. Add milk and vanilla. Strain custard mixture into unbaked pie shell and sprinkle with nutmeg. Bake in very hot oven (450° F.) 30 to 40 minutes, or until knife inserted comes out clean.

Spry Pie Shell

1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup Spry
3 tablespoons cold water (about)

Sift flour and salt together. Add ⅓ of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as corn meal. Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of a navy bean. (Notice how easily triple-creamed Spry cuts into your flour.) Sprinkle water, 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture. With a fork, work lightly together until a dough is formed. Roll dough ⅛-inch thick. Place dough in pie plate and let relax 5 minutes. Pat with ball of dough. Trim pastry ½-inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim.

(All measurements in these recipes are level)

Try Spry for lighter cakes, crisper fried foods, too.

Franco-Italian Plans Fail To Go Far Without Some Sparks Flying

Strong Reasons Are Advanced

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 19.—As was to be expected, the Franco-Italian negotiations for a pact of amity haven't proceeded far before sparks have begun to fly.

The reasons for the existing hostility between these two big neighbors are so many and the situation is so complicated that on is reminded of Thomas Brown's famous lines:

I do not love thee, Doctor Fell,
The reason why I cannot tell;
But this alone I know full well,
I do not love thee, Doctor Fell.

Have Concrete Reasons

Still, it isn't necessary to depend on such whimsicality for explanation of the mutual animosity and distrust between Paris and Rome. There are enough concrete reasons to cover the fingers of both hands.

The latest shot in the feud came from Mussolini the other day at Genoa, where he delivered one of his nothing-if-not-blunt speeches. He said it wasn't known whether the Franco-Italian negotiations would reach a conclusion, "because in the present circumstances, concerning the war in Spain, we are on opposite sides of the barricades."

On top of that heat-producing remark came word that the parley had deadlocked over two demands by the Italian dictator: (1) that France recognise insurgent chieftain Francisco Franco as master of all Spain, and (2) that France assure Italy equal governing rights in the Tunisian protectorate in northern Africa.

Enough To Break Parley

Either one of these questions is enough to make a peace conference break up into duels at daybreak. The way of it is this:

Tunisia: This French protectorate has been a source of conflict for years. Italy has some 91,000 settlers in Tunisia—about the same number as France. Rome long has demanded a voice in government, but this has been refused by Paris.

However, the thing cuts much deeper than that. France charges that Italy is getting ready to try to annex French territory in northern Africa, and advances as part substantiation that Mussolini has been stirring the natives in French territory to revolt.

Fresh evidence of the seriousness of this situation has just been provided. France is increasing her native troops in Africa by 60,000. Italy's North African troops are to conduct maneuvers in the western part of Italian Libya, near Tunisia.

'Sonny Jim' Is 'Eagle Child'

As a sort of assistant president, James Roosevelt has been at the same time a "Great White Father Number Two" to the Indians. So when members of the Blackfeet Indian tribe visited the White House the other day they made "Sonny Jim" one of the tribe and gave him the somewhat significant name of "Eagle Child." Here's the tribal neophyte with two of his new brothers, Harry Oldperson, left, who is only 5 years old, and Joe Butterfly, 7.

Texas Leads All Other States In Number Of Local Units

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP) — Headquarters of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers today announced Texas with 1,983 local associations leads all other states.

It ranked fourth, however, in total membership with 131,006. California, Ohio and Illinois outranked Texas. The Texas congress gained 22,196 members last year.

Average Of $80 Per Day Is Shown In Parking Meters

Collections from parking meters for a four-day period through Tuesday showed an average of $80 a day, reports from the city hall said.

The average is somewhat below the $87 per day record maintained since the holidays. Officials, however, attributed the drop, which they had predicted, to seasonal conditions and to the fact that large scale planting has been started by farmers.

Officials insisted that recent local controversies centering about the meters has had no effect on the revenues, police reporting that the number of "tickets" for violation of the parking meter ordinance has not been above average.

Science Placed In A Nutshell

PITTSBURGH, May 19. (AP) — Chemistry is playing with toys to solve some of its biggest problems.

In the microchemical laboratory of Dr. E. Bruce Ashcraft all the test tubes, beakers and flasks are scaled to Lilliputian size.

Fellow scientists in the Westinghouse laboratories turn their problems over to Dr. Ashcraft, a 30-year-old chemist who has just taken his doctor's degree at Cornell, when standard laboratory equipment proves to be too cumbersome.

Millionth Of A Gram

Dr. Ashcraft works with inch-long test tubes—one-seventh the ordinary size. He puts his material for analysis into one-inch porcelain containers that look like toy boats. Instead of heating the crucibles in a big electric furnace, he slides the "boats" into slender glass tubes, then places them in a dwarf-like heater.

The heart of Dr. Ashcraft's technique is the micro-balance, so sensitive it can weigh a millionth of a gram—about 100,000 times lighter than an ordinary pin. A drop of water weighs about one-hundredth of a gram.

Air Conditioned

This balance that it is kept in is a chamber in which the air is cleaned of all dust particles by an electrostatic device. One particle of dust falling on a weighing pan could throw the machine out of balance.

The machine itself is inclosed in a glass cabinet with doors at each end. When putting material on the balance, Dr. Ashcraft must put a hand through each door at the same time. The heat from one hand would throw the instrument off balance.

Five microscopes are used because no single microscope has been built which will do everything required in this pocket laboratory.

All the instruments are equipped to use polarized light. While ordinary light vibrates in all planes, polarized light has all but one plane of vibrations blocked out and it can be better controlled.

It is estimated that at the present demand, America's coal supply will last about 2000 years.

Tech Graduates Get Positions

Maintaining a record established by the first graduating class of the textile engineering department of Texas Technological college, all nine members of the 1938 class have been employed in textile mills over the South. The boys are to report for duty at the various mills soon after their graduation in June.

"Not only have the boys been employed by the various mills but several of them received more than one offer for positions and were fortunate enough to be able to choose their jobs," M. E. Heard, head of the department said Thursday. "We feel greatly elated that mills continue to show, year after year, a desire to hire every graduate we send out from our department."

Many Are Employed

Of the approximately 38 graduates in the history of the department, 30 of them are employed in the industry. The first class in the department was graduated in 1929, four years after the college opened.

Dwight Epperson of Cleburne has been employed by the Avondale Mills, Sylacauga, Ala.; Frank Edins of Marlin is to go to the Love Field mill of the Texas Textile Mill Co., Dallas.

Three boys, W. C. Zerwer of Clovis, N. M., Darral Branton of Ralls and Woodrow Davidson of Portales will go to the Bibb Manufacturing company at Columbus, Ga.

Kendall Onstott of Lubbock has a position with the Wm. H. Jones company of Dallas while Milton Hallmark of Loraine will be with the New Braunfels Textile Mills at New Braunfels.

Charles Wilson of Tulia and Jack Towery of Plainview will be stationed at the Muscogee Manufacturing company at Columbus, Ga.

Holden Is To Speak Before Graduates

Dr. W. C. Holden, dean of archaeological, anthropological, and historical research at Texas Technological college, will deliver a commencement address at 8:30 o'clock tonight at graduation exercises of Brownfield High school. He will speak on "The Heritage of a West Texan."

Fifty-three seniors will receive diplomas in the final exercise. Baccalaureate service was May 15.

Graduates are Albert Ames, Oriena Ball, Homer Barnwell, Clyde Bonnette, Guy Bonnette, W. H. Brown, Shirley Burnett, Sue Bynum, Harold Carpenter, Clifton Decker, Oleta Dubose, Eugene Ellis, Josephine Eudey, Melba Ferguson, Richard Ferguson, Raymond Fore, Terrell Fowler, Rose Jeanne Gandy, Charlotte Gibson, Doris Lee Gore, Rudolph Gracey, Mary Evelyn Green, Keller Greenfield, Christine Hamilton, Artye Lee Henderson, Kenneth Hill, Foster Hinson, Faye Hogue, Don Hudgens, Dorothy Jones, Geraldine Jones, Hardin Joyce, jr., Archie B. Cooperation Between Schools Of Higher Learning Urged

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 19. (AP) Regional cooperation among institutions of higher learning was advocated today by President J. C. Futrell of the University of Arkansas in an address before the National University Extension association's convention here.

Referring to agricultural research and teaching carried on in the Universities of Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana and Texas, Dr. Futrell said:

"It would be a wise thing if the land grant colleges of these four states could come to an agreement that, on certain problems common to all four states, the institution in one state would pay particular attention to work in certain fields, the institution in the second state would pay particular attention to work in certain other fields, and so on."

BODY IS FOUND

KILGORE, May 19. (AP)—The body of J. N. Waller, about 25, of Big Sandy, was found near the wreckage of his automobile on a lateral highway near the Sabine river today.

Harrell Funeral Rites Will Be Read Friday Afternoon

RALLS, May 19.—Final rites will be read at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon for M. T. Harrell, 73, retired farmer and business man who died early today of a heart attack at his residence here.

He had lived in Ralls 18 years.

Services will be read at the First Methodist church by Rev. J. Edmond Kirby, pastor, and burial will be at Ralls under direction of Marr Funeral home.

Mr. Harrell, members of the family reported, apparently was in good health until the moment of death. He had taken his bath and eaten breakfast when he collapsed while walking about the house.

Surviving are the widow; three daughters, Miss Deloise Francis of Ralls, Mrs. Valera Milam of Spur and Mrs. Eunice Fay Ely of Olton; two sons, Condie and Roy Harrell of Ralls; one brother, one sister and seven grandchildren.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Triple Killer

His face grimly sardonic, his manner confident, 19-year-old Norman Smith is shown above after his arrest at Edinburg, O., where police said he had confessed to the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baumeister and Mr. Baumeister's aged father at their farm home near North Lima, last Jan. 4. Captured after a three-month nation-wide hunt, Smith said, "I'm glad they caught me before I done any more." Smith was an employe of the Baumeisters.

Parents Of Two Boys Condemn Court Order As Uncivilized

FITCHBURG, Mass., May 19. (AP)—The parents of two boys, sentenced yesterday to a horsewhipping at the hands of their fathers for stealing, today condemned the court order as "uncivilized" and declined to enforce it.

The fathers and mothers of William Allen, 15, and Harold Woodworth, 16, were directed to punish the boys publicly in the police station cellar within the next three weeks by Judge Thomas F. Gallagher. The boys were convicted of stealing wire from a railroad signal system.

Big Attendance Being Planned

Plans are being made by the 19th district of the American Legion and auxiliary here for the largest attendance at any convention in the history of the district, Saturday and Sunday, said A. C. Jackson, commander of Allen Bros. post, which will be host.

There is a strong probability, reports continued, that the attendance, in proportion of number of Legion and auxiliary members, will be among the largest of any district in the history of Texas department.

Plan Large Delegations

Among the reports was one from Chas. Whitacre, chairman of the invitations committee, following a visit to Lamesa, Tahoka and O'Donnell. Each plans a large delegation to Lubbock, Whitacre was advised.

Another communication to Jackson advised that Daniel J. Doherty of Massachusetts, national commander, Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, state commander, and Fred Young, state adjutant, will arrive here about 5 p. m. from Amarillo.

A committee headed by George Berry of Lubbock, member of the state committee for the reception of distinguished visitors, will greet them at Amarillo and escort them here.

Doherty is to be principal speaker at a public meeting at Allen Bros. hall at 8:30 p. m. Saturday. A chow line Sunday noon, at which J. M. Hall is to provide a musical program, and business session Sunday afternoon will be other features.

The newly organized drum and bugle corps of Sons of the Legion will participate in the welcoming here for the visitors and will participate in the convention program.

Five Additional Permits Are Issued In City Thursday

Well beyond the building permit total for May of last year went the aggregate for the first 19 days of this May with issuance Thursday of five permits for construction to cost $8,060.

The month's figure rested at $163,215.25 as compared with the $150,988 for the corresponding month of last year. This May became the fifth consecutive month this year to exceed the totals for corresponding months of 1937, pointed out Jim Reid, city building inspector.

The week's mark climbed to $49,858 and the year's to $924,470.97.

Among the larger permits Thursday were: Kuykendall Packing company, owner and contractor, to construct a one-story frame cold storage vault at 1505 Avenue A, $3,500; and E. L. Willis, owner, and Keaster and Gann, contractor, to construct a one-story frame and asbestos siding residence at 2209 Ninth street, $3,450.

Smell In Gas Is Taken Out

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

TULSA, May 19. — A bad smell, one quart of which could choke everyone in a city the size of Chicago, is extracted from gasoline by a new process described today at the International Petroleum exposition.

The smell is a highly concentrated garlic. It is caused by the same forms of sulphur that grow in garlic. In oil wells there is a little of this sulphur, and it is sufficient to half stifle the users of gasoline if not guarded against.

Fortunes Are Made

Fortunes have been made in the oil industry out of chemicals which "mask" gasoline garlic. These do not remove the sulphur, but convert them into something which has no smell.

The new process for the first time takes the "garlic" completely out of gasoline. It was described by Dr. C. W. Ripple of the Allied Chemical and Dye Co.

The extraction, he said, shows there is about one quart of this smell in 1,000 barrels of gasoline. This is about the amount of gasoline that 3,000 cars would burn in less than a day's run.

Sulphur Is Removed

The sulphur is removed from the gasoline by "washing" with lye. A small amount of lye, dissolved in gasoline, Dr. Ripple said, picks up all the sulphur-garlic smell. After the gasoline stands a short time the lye settles to the bottom.

The gasoline then is drawn off completely freed of its sulphur. Next the lye is heated. Thereupon all the sulphur comes out of the lye in the form of the world's worst smelling gas. In this way the same lye is used over and over. The new process, Dr. Ripple said, is probably the cheapest yet devised for sweetening gasoline.

Even the smell is not wasted. The sulphurous gas makes a good fuel and one of the companies using the process is burning it in the power plant.

If anybody could use a terrific smell for war or defense, the gas could be trapped and liquefied.

In addition to the smell, untreated sulphurs in gasoline have been the cause of engine troubles. Too much sulphur changes into a substance that resembles varnish and covers the insides of an engine.

Curb On Writing Of Fishbein Sought

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 19. (AP) — The medical society of New Jersey resolved today to seek a curb on the writings of Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical association.

With few dissenting votes the society instructed its delegates to the American Medical association's annual convention in San Francisco a month hence to attempt to confine Dr. Fishbein's writings to the Journal and stop the syndication of newspaper articles and publication of family medical books.

Dr. Wells P. Eagleton of Newark, former president of several medical societies challenged the society to fight for reform in the A. M. A.

"Unless we or organize medicine put a stop to certain abuses in no uncertain terms," said Dr. Eagleton, "then medicine is doomed. It is already in disrepute because of these abuses."

He said the organization of the A.M.A. was "out of date" and that "I hope the time is rapidly coming when it will be democratized."

DIES OF INJURIES

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—T. B Robinson, 68, of Bartlett, died of injuries received today when his automobile struck a coach of an eastbound M. K. and T. passenger train near Garland.

Lord Byron, famous poet, wore curl papers on his hair while in bed.

Tidwell Shows Will Open Here Monday

Replete with approximately 30 shows and amusement riding devices, T. J. Tidwell shows and carnival will set up Sunday for six nights beginning Monday, just south of the fair grounds.

A free act termed "sensational" by newspapers who have reviewed it and several features not included when the show was here last year will be exhibited. Sis Cook, Lubbock woman who does without arms what a great percentage of women would have difficulty doing with them, will be with the show. Monkey twins, said probably the only onces on this continent, will be seen. Variety of the show has been assured, said an advance man.

Peaceful Scene Is Misleading

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 19. (AP)—Flowers bloomed in the front yard and the very air was sweet with the perfume of the roses. In the backyard, vegetables basked in the warmth of a bright sun.

Officers, investigating on a residential street, paused to drink in this picture of peace and contentment, before entering the home.

Man Is Wounded

They found Arvie C. Hood, 47, an employe of the city health department, lying among the roses, a bullet wound in his abdomen and another in his right arm.

They removed J. D. White, 54, a WPA worker, from a row of tulips and took him to headquarters where he was held for questioning.

"It was those flowers," said Don Owen of the police homicide bureau. "You'd think everything would be peaceful around that place. It seems that the trouble started when Mrs. Hood picked flowers for a neighbor's sick baby Tuesday night and she and Mrs. White had it 'round and 'round.' Mrs. White came out of it with a broken rib and Mrs. Hood with a black eye.

Husbands Get Into It

"Then the husbands got into it last night. It seems one family owned one part of the flower garden and the other owned another part and every once in a while, they argued over which family owned which.

"They take their flowers seriously out there."

Sure enough, the flowers are pretty. Roses blooming around the door make a home look peaceful and happy.

Freedom Of Air Is Paramount

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—Freedom of broadcasting was described today by Major Lenox Lohr, president of the National Broadcasting company, as of "paramount importance in a democracy".

Major Lohr addressed a session of the national convention of the federation of sales executives. His speech was broadcast.

"It is of paramount importance in a democracy that broadcasting must never be throttled," Lohr said.

Given Equal Opportunity

"It has demonstrated, under the established American system with the advertiser, not taxes, paying the bill, that an equal opportunity can be given to all sides of important controversial public issues to express their views and not the censored or one-sided views forced on listeners by dictatorial governments.

"Thus has freedom of the air been established to take its place with freedom of speech and freedom of the press. Any move curtailing one of them, will inevitably lead to restrictions on the other two, resulting in the ultimate destruction of all three and the American form of government."

Experienced advertising men, Lohr said, "know that it is good business in the long run to insist upon high ethical standards in advertising."

The standing of any nationally-advertised brand is dependent upon the faith which it has established with the public.

200 ARE KILLED

HONGKONG, May 19. (AP)—The China news agency reports more than 200 were killed on Monday in a train collision at Milokang on the Canton-Hankow railway.

The Caribbean sea covers an area of about 7,500 square miles.

Wink Increases Lead To Game And A Half With Victory Over Hubbers, 6 To 5

Gramly Is Wild To Give Spuds 10-Inning Go

(Special To The Avalanche)

WINK, May 19.—Manager Jodie Tate's Wink Spudders manufactured a run off Malcolm Stevens' error on Jubela's ground ball and Fullenwider's double in the tenth inning here tonight to beat the Hubbers, 6 to 5, and increased their lead to one and a half games.

Two brief periods of wildness on the part of Marvin Gramly, slight Lubbock hurler, cost him a victory in regulation time. Two free passes and three singles in the second inning produced three runs for the Spuds.

Roberts In Trouble

Then again in the fourth a brace of walks and a two-bagger gave Wink two markers. After that and in the first and third innings Gramly was in complete command.

Roberts, on the other hand, was in hot water all night, giving up 13 hits, but snappy fielding saved his face. After two runs had scored in the eighth a fast double play, Spangler to Barnhill to Jubela, helped the Spudder chunker along.

Hubbers Fill Sacks

In the first, second and sixth frames, the Hubbers filled the bases but were unable to punch a run across. Manager Hack Miller's single and Stevens' triple in the fourth gave Lubbock a run.

In the seventh, Joe Gedzius doubled, Carr beat out an infield hit, and Johnny Taylor was safe on a fielder's choice. Pope Mize singled through the box to score Gedzius and Miller put Carr and Taylor over with a two-bagger.

Gramly Bats One In

Stevens drew a pass to open the eighth and took third on Boyd Watkins' double. Mosel ground out to Jubela then Gramly counted Stevens with a single. Jack Cheeves fumbled the ball in right field to let Watkins score. Gedzius hit to Happy Spangler, who started the double play that ended the threat.

Taylor singled in the ninth after Carr went out, and Mize and Miller went out. In the tenth Stevens, Watkins and Mosel were out in order.

Gramly struck out 10 men and issued 7 walks.

Hobbs Overcomes Four-Run Lead To Beat Midland

Clovis Wallops Three Baron Hurlers For 16-To-6 Win

CLOVIS, N. M., May 19. (Special) Climbing aboard three Big Spring pitchers for 18 hits, including eight extra-base blows, the Clovis Pioneers walloped the Barons, 16 to 6, today to end their three-game streak of games won or lost by one run.

Lefty Nelson, Clovis chunker, limited Big Spring to ten hits, keeping them pretty well scattered except for a four-hit four-run burst in the fourth. The Barons fell apart afield, making three errors and looking bad on several other plays.

Two new Clovis outfielders, Stuart and Pitts, did some heavy hitting, but Red Wyss, regular center fielder, carried off batting honors by hitting five for six and clubbing in four runs.

Stuart got three hits in five trips including a homer, and Pitts hit safely three times, including a pair of doubles, in four attempts.

Trojans Favored For IC4-A Title

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Together the best track and field men of Columbia, Yale and Princeton would be too little talent to keep the University of Southern California's powerful squad from winning the Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. championship June 3-4.

Taken from Carl Merner, Columbia coach for twenty years, that opinion also pretty well represents the feelings of all eastern track coaches. Now that the Trojans are back in the field after a two-year absence, eastern colleges merely will be out to do the best they can.

Rates Bears Second

Merner, former Kansan, feels their best won't even give the east second place. He is handing runner-up position to California, with Pittsburgh, winner last year, his own Columbians, nosed out then by half a point, and Princeton fighting for the honor of being top-scoring eastern team.

"All you have to do is look at the records," says Merner.

"Take the high jump and pole vault, as two very good examples. In the vault they have two men—Loring Day and Ken Dills—who have done 14 feet 7 and 14 feet 4. In the high jump they have Delos Thurber, 6-6 1-4, and Clarke Mallery, just two inches under that."

Gives Lions Three Firsts

But the Columbia coach still feels his own stars should do well individually.

Most notable of these is Ben Johnson, whom Merner quietly calls the "best sprinter in the country." He looks to Ben for a double in the 100 and 220, and to Francis Ryan for first place in the shot put.

Cubs Triumph As Bill Lee Holds Giant Batters

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Chicago Cubs, taking advantage of a momentary break in the enemy's pitching defenses, cut the Giants' National league lead to 4 1-2 games today with a ten-inning 1 to 0 victory in a tight flinging duel that saw Bill Lee go the route for the first time this season.

The win gave Charley Grimm's outfit the current series, two games to one.

For nine frames, Lee and Harry Gumbert, usually a Cub jinx, hooked up in a hurling duel as close as your next breath. The Giants were unable to get a man past second base, and only two got that far. The Cubs got only two around to third.

In the first of the tenth, however, Gumbert's control deserted him and he walked Lee and Stan Hack in order, with one out. Billy Herman came through in the "clutch" in that spot with a line single to left that sent Lee across the plate with the one and only run of the game.

Club Directors Meet Tonight

Lubbock Country club directors, the pressure considerably "off," will assemble this evening to review the accomplishments of the past few months and listen to reports of committees assigned to the work of making preparations for the West Texas Golf Association championship tournament.

The feeling among directors, workers and club members is that the board will heave a sigh of relief and vote a unanimous "well done" regarding the improvements which have made a new and different place at the club.

Pro Akey Is Pleased

General Manager - Professional Charles Akey is especially pleased with the progress of the improvement campaign and with the condition of the golf course. With the exception of one or two greens, the putting areas are in fine shape for this time of year, and fairways are putting on the best summer dress ever marked here. Recent rainfal proved highly beneficial to the course, which should be in tip-top condition by June 2 when the club plays host to the West Texas association.

Response to tournament invitations is quite satisfactory, officials say, and a record-breaking field is expected. Practically every member club of the association has indicated representation.

Valuable Awards Listed

Committees on prizes, entertainment and Calcutta are expected to offer satisfactory reports at tonight's meeting, scheduled for Hotel Lubbock at 8 o'clock. One of the most imposing arrays of prizes ever offered flight winners in West Texas has been indicated, with practical trophies of equal value going to winners of each flight. Merchants and supporters of the club have responded nobly, Akey said.

The entertainment committee has made no definite announcement, but the supposition is that there'll be plenty of fun for all comers.

Tickets for the Calcutta, being sold on a different basis this year, are moving along. This event will be conducted at the conclusion of qualifying play on Thursday, June 2.

Calcutta Will Be Held

Regarding the Calcutta, officials urged that golf fans be advised that the Calcutta party WILL be conducted, as usual, for the West Texas. A plan is underway whereby the Calcutta will be eliminated from the annual Lubbock Country club invitation tournament, but this does not apply to the West Texas.

Installation of lockers in the newly enlarged men's locker room, remodeling of the shower room, interior and exterior decorating of the clubhouse itself is still under way, although most of the work has been completed. Both men's and women's lounges have been enlarged, the latter by reason of construction of a new profesisonal shop away from the clubhouse, near the No. 1 tee. This building, which houses the refreshment stands, the display room, the club racks and the pro's office, has been completed, and has been in use for several days.

New equipment in the form of mowing machines for greens, fairways and roughs, has been purchased and put into use. The new five-gang fairway mower is capable of giving all fairways on the course a clean trimming in about 8 hours time.

Cleveland Takes Over American League Lead

CHISOX DRUB BOSTON

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP)—Big John Whitehead, making his first start in more than three weeks, shut out the Boston Red Sox with three singles in a game held to seven innings by rain today and the White Sox triumphed in the lone contest of the curtailed series, 4 to 0.

The defeat ended the Red Sox' winning streak at eight games, and dropped them from the league leadership they held since Saturday.

Jim Wilson, whose previous two starts had been shutout victories, had little support from teammates and bore the brunt of Chicago's eight single attack that drove him from the mound in the fourth.

Success Of Initial Westerner Tourney Seen By Barnett

Success of the first invitation high school golf tournament here Saturday is foreseen by E. M. Barnett, Lubbock High school instructor and tournament director.

Invitations mailed to practically all high schools in West Texas have resulted in sufficient replies to indicate a large field and a fast one, Barnett said. Meadowbrook Golf club will be the scene of action.

Team Prizes Offered

There still is time for high school golfers who have not filed entries to do so. The tournament begins at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning; it is a one-day, 18-hole medal play affair, open to all high school athletes eligible to represent their schools under Texas Interscholastic league requirements.

Team as well as individual prizes will be awarded. The four-man team turning in the best composite score will receive the Westerner team trophy, valued at $20. Individual trophies, consisting of golf equipment, will be awarded low scorers.

All Schools Invited

Barnett said that all schools which did not receive invitations were requested to send their representatives. Bids went to schools known to sponsor golf teams, but some may have been omitted from the mailing list. These are invited to have their delegates here early Saturday.

No entry fee is required. Players are requested to bring a letter from their school superintendents or principals certifying they are eligible to compete under interscholastic league rules.

Henry Armstrong Is Being Mishandled For His Bout With Ross, Says Talbot

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 19. — So many daffy things are going on out at Henry Armstrong's training compound that this savant, for one, begs to change his mind and not care a nickel's worth for Henry's chances against smart Barney Ross a week from tonight.

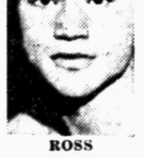

The furious little featherweight champion is bewildered by the sylvan surroundings at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and is over-trained.

Furthermore, his advisers are trying to teach Henry how to out-smart Barney Ross, instead of simply whipping him, and that is the funniest thing to happen in a long time. The current odds, 8 to 5 in Ross's favor, are about right.

ARMSTRONG

They made a big mistake in taking Armstrong out to a genuine training camp, where there were trees and flowers and chickens. Previously, in some eight years of campaigning, the hustling Henry had done all the training he felt was necessary in mid-town gymnasiums where there was cigar smoke in the air and blobs of chewing gum on the floor.

ROSS

All the greenery and fresh air at Pompton Lakes got him going, and the little man worked entirely too hard. There wasn't anything else to do. So now, with a week still to go, he finds himself ready to step into the ring and so irritable he's talking about quitting the game anytime.

Henry Is Disagreeable

In the last two days he boxed only two easy rounds, and his handlers don't want him to draw on the gloves again before Saturday. His two rounds of semi-boxing with Frankie Genovese of Toronto yesterday, followed by several portions of shadow-boxing and skipping, didn't make his skin glisten, much less work up a real sweat. That's supposed to be a mighty bad sign.

The camp is gloomy and the usually amiable Armstrong acts like a man who had been done a mean trick. His feelings possibly are not helped any by news from the city that the advance sale is suffering from the Louis-Schmeling fight. Promoter Mike Jacobs says the advance is around $40,000, but nobody believes him.

Mighty Casey Is Better Now Than In '87

By HERBERT O'KEEF
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, May 19.—The Mighty Casey of Mudville—"I never was a home-run king"—stepped from the fables of the eager eighties tonight to prove he couldn't hit then—and proved he can hit now.

Just as eager—maybe a little more—as he was that hot August day of 1887 when his three mighty swings shattered only the air with the bases loaded and made him the hero of "Casey at the Bat," Dan Casey, 76 and bent today, went to bat for the Baltimore Orioles on "Casey Night."

"Yeah, Casey," the crowd of 2,000 roared as Mudville's hero missed the first toss from Rogers "The Rajah" Hornsby by a foot.

"Put in Hornsby," they shouted as the second pitch escaped injury. (Hornsby struck out with the bases loaded his first time up as pinch hitter for the Orioles).

Casey pounded "with cruel violence his bat upon the plate," and now the pitcher "holds the ball, and now he lets it go . . ."

The myth of the 80's was shattered in a twinkling—Casey singled to left!

"You got to get a little used to these lights if you're going to hit," Casey explained away those two strikes. "But, I'll have to admit Hornsby didn't have as much on the ball as Tim Keefe did that time I struck out and the giants beat the Phillies 4-3."

Casey, now living in Silver Spring, Md., came here in time before the Oriole-Jersey City game to be guest at dinner and to receive the key to the city from Mayor Howard W. Jackson.

No matches were played in the championship flight of the Meadowbrook championship tournament Thursday afternoon, though two swingers went into consolation semi-finals.

Hugh Anderson defeated Bill Hackett, 3 and 2, and John Bell was eliminated by R. Marshall by the same count in consolation play. Anderson was beaten by J. K. Bradshaw and Marshall bowed to J. D. Hinson in the opening round. Two other matches are to be played in the consolation flight.

In the first flight, P. H. Polk beat N. L. Ball, 5 and 4, and J. Galland defeated F. Nichols, 4 and 3, in a second flight match. Polk joined C. Fox, Gus Freeland, and J. Hollenburger in first flight semi-finals.

Alfred Holton, medalist, and Hinson have advanced to championship semi-finals.

Don Schumacher, Johnny Dawson In Semi-Finals

TULSA, Okla., May 19. (AP)—Two visitors, Chicago's Johnny Dawson and Dallas' Don Schumacher, and two Tulsans, Joy Cole and Earle Berryhill, today reached the semi-finals of the championship flight of the International Petroleum Exposition golf tournament.

Berryhill, who lives at neighboring Sapulpa but plays for a Tulsa club, had the most difficult time. He was forced to birdie the 18th hole to take a one-up decision from Eddie Moss, Tulsa.

Dawson took an early lead, made the turn with a two-up edge over Wally Taft, Kilgore, Tex., darkhouse, and then saw it whittled away as they went to the 17th tee all square. The Chicagoan cracked out a pair of pars while Taft went one over on each hole, Dawson winning two-up.

Cole put Dick Mason, jr., another Tulsan, out of the running, three and two.

Schumacher swamped Earl Thompson, Tulsa, five and three.

In the semi-finals, Dawson will meet Berryhill, and Schumacher is matched against Cole.

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—Southern Methodist university's football Mustangs will play Pittsburgh, Auburn and U. C. L. A. in 1940, James H. Stewart, athletic director, said today.

The Auburn game will be played here Oct. 19. The Mustangs will travel to Birmingham, Ala. for another game with Auburn Oct. 18, 1941, Stewart said.

He withheld dates of the contests with Pittsburgh and U. C. L. A. pending completion of the schedule. The games will be played at Pittsburgh and Los Angeles.

'Land Sakes! . . . is that Palm Beach?"

"They say Palm Beach comes in dark colors, too. Well, guess I'll get along and fit myself out for summer. Them Palm Beaches I got back in 1912 are beginnin' to show their wear."

Others To Come Later

Announcement of awards in the annuals division will be made later.

Placing second, third and fourth respectively, in the mimeograph division were the Avalanche of George M. Hunt school of Lubbock; the Lariat of K. Carter school of Lubbock; and the Wolverine of Spring Lake school.

Announcement of awards was made after many weeks of grading and checking by Tech advanced journalism students and by instructors. The awards are the first offered in the press clinic, which was organized last year. Newspapers indicative of the entire year's work were graded. Based partially upon improvement during the year, the grading rules made it possible for small papers to win.

Aggies' Title Hopes Slender, Face Steers Twice This Week

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP)—Still nursing slender hope of tying for the Southwest conference baseball championship, the Texas Aggies come to town tomorrow for a two-game series with the pennant bound University of Texas.

Victory in both games is needed to keep the Aggies, defending champions, in the pennant scrap but also from being shoved down into third place by Baylor.

tary, last Saturday denied Martin's assertion that President Roosevelt, on a visit to Oregon last fall, had said to him "you and I make a good pair."

Labor Issue Arises

The labor issue became predominant in Oregon last fall during a CIO-AFL fight for jurisdiction in the lumber industry. Governor Martin said the national labor relations board was "impotent" to act and called Secretary of Labor Perkins "that miserable secretary of labor." The campaign against vandalism resulted in scores of arrests and already more than 30 men have been sentenced to jail or prison.

Hess, who served two terms in the state legislature, claimed the support of labor organizations when he was an unsuccessful candidate for a federal judgeship last year.

One other candidate, O. Henry Oleen of St. Helens, sought the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Several To Choose From

Democrats will choose between Willis Mahoney of Klamath Falls, who lost to Republican Senator Charles McNary at the general elections, and Carl Donaugh, United States attorney, for United States senator. Rufus C. Holman, state treasurer, and Robert N. Stanfield, former senator, are the Republican candidates. Each party will nominate a candidate to succeed Senator Evan Reames, Democrat, to fill an unexpired term until January 3.

The short senate term will extend from the general elections in November until January 3. The winner will replace Senator Reames, appointed when Senator Frederick Steiwer (R) resigned. Three Republicans, Alex G. Barry, Portland, Reade M. Ireland, Clackmas county, and T. McNary Weed, Washington county, seek the nomination. Robert A. Miller of Portland is the unopposed Democratic choice.

This, however, is being taken over by American Gas & Electric which, like National Power & Light, is an affiliate of the Electric Bond & Share system.

Inasmuch as around 47 per cent of the common stock of National Power & Light is owned by Electric Bond & Share—amounting to working control—utility circles expected prompt approval of the director's action at a special stockholders meeting. Benjamin Franklin Is Honored At Dedication Of Memorial

PHILADELPHIA, May 19. (AP)—More than 270 of the world's leading scientific organizations, universities, governments, states and engineering and political societies sent official delegates to Philadelphia today to honor Benjamin Franklin at the dedication of a memorial to him.

Two cabinet members, Secretary Roper and Postmaster-General Farley and James Roosevelt, secretary to the president, headed the delegates at the ceremonies which preceded the unveiling of a statue of the colonial statesman at the Franklin institute. The statue completes the Franklin memorial on which Philadelphia and others have been working for more than 100 years.

Hopkins Says Government Must Supply More Relief Jobs

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—The federal government must provide more work relief jobs in all the big industrial cities to help meet "a serious relief-problem" in the near future, Harry L. Hopkins said today.

The W.P.A. administrator told reporters that federal work relief lists, on which 2,600,000 persons are now enrolled, would increase shortly to 2,800,000 and might reach a peak of 3,000,000.

Increases might apply, he said, to Chicago and Cleveland, where state relief funds have been exhausted.

"We are going to have a serious relief problem in the near future," Hopkins declared.

Decision On Motion For An Instructed Verdict Delayed

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP)—Records of the personal bank account of Miss Edgar Ellen Wilson, assistant state school superintendent, were introduced as evidence by the prosecution today in her trial on a charge of misapplication of public funds amounting to $580.

After the state had completed presentation of its direct testimony, District Judge James P. Hart gave long attention to a defense motion for an instructed verdict of acquittal. He postponed a decision until tomorrow.

Rural Schools Get Attention

SALT LAKE CITY, May 19. (AP)—A new deal for the neglected stepchild of the American educational setup, the rural school, is on its way, one of the speakers at the National Congress of Parents and Teachers here asserted today.

More funds are being made available for education in rural districts, said Dr. William McKinley Robinson of Cincinnati, chairman of rural service for the parent-teacher association.

Long Trend Is Halted

And government surveys, he added, disclose that the long trend away from the farm and into the city has halted.

"Recent studies show that farm youth not only is remaining on the farm these days, but the population from which rural schools are supplied is outstripping city population in growth. The rural birth rate, far ahead of that in cities, is beginning to show its effect in school enrollments.

"With the turnabout from a falling-off enrollment to an increase, and with the prospect of progressively greater financial aid from state and federal governments, the rural schools now must turn to self-improvement."

Wheat Loans

which, under present conditions, could range from 60 to 85 cents a bushel.

Rate Is Not Set

AAA officials have been urging wheat growers to accept what they call a "reasonable" loan rate. They have not intimated what the rate might be, for fear of affecting the market.

Difficulty in fixing the rate lies in the fact that a minimum loan of 60 cents might bring protests from farmers, experts said, while a substantially higher loan might peg the domestic wheat price above the world level and stop exports.

More Than 100 Are Present At Rotary Club Program

More than 100 Rotarians and Rotaryanns attended the Lubbock club's party in the Hilton hotel last night, with a program of music and games to entertain the guests.

W. O. Daniels was master of ceremonies. President James I. Kilpatrick presided and during the serving of the meal "Highpockets" Overton and his boys from Yeso, N. M., gave a floor show of Ozark music from Arkansas.

Mrs. James L. Quicksall took the place of her husband in announcing the guest of the evening, Mrs. Pearle McLaughlin of Ralls, wife of the district governor, who spoke briefly. She paid tribute to the Rotarians of the district and especially the Lubbock club and their support of district work the past year. Later Governor J. Edd McLaughlin appeared, having made a special trip from Fort Worth to attend.

Early Recovery

1929 level—partly stimulated by rearmament.

Factors For Recession

But in the latter half of 1937, Butler said, the economic tide turned with stock market declines and breaks in raw material prices. He said the major disturbance centered in the United States.

He attributed the American recession to three factors:

1. A reduction in government borrowing.

2. A decline in new orders by over-stocked business houses.

3. The stock market collapse.

"After five years' progress, interrupted by occasional pauses," he said, "it is not surprising that a set-back should occur.

"Economists seem generally to agree that a major decline is unlikely for the present. The very rapidity of the movement in the United States makes an early resumption (of activity) the more probable."

He Beats Death In Three Tries

MOLINE, Ill., May 19. (AP)—After three escapes from death under water most men would stay on dry land. But not Sam Myer of Moline. Sam's out of the hospital and ready to dive again.

He's a professional who has been on the inactive list because of partial paralysis suffered at the bottom of the Salt Springs Valley reservoir, 45 minutes from Stockton, Calif.

Pinned Against Wall

Sam had gone down to close an intake pipe. He slipped. The suction slapped him against a wall and pinned him there eight hours.

All his crew could do was pump air to him and call for help. Divers rushed from San Francisco, 140 miles away, and after three attempts managed to pry Sam off the wall. As a result Sam spent seven months in the hospital, four more months convalescing.

This wasn't the last time Sam cheated Davy Jones. Working for the navy off Tampa, Fla., he was trying to pass a line around a sunken boat when the vessel settled and buried him. Other divers washed him out with a pressure hose.

Caught Under Timber

Another time Sam was caught under sunken timber off Alexandria, Va. He was there six hours before rescuers freed him.

Says Sam: "These things are nothing you make a fuss over. They're experiences any diver is likely to meet. All you have to figure is that the guys up above will get you out."

CHOICE dairy heifers $8.00. Registered bulls. Shawnee Dairy Cattle Co., San Antonio, Texas.

SELL or trade milk cows, work mule and feeder pigs. S. H. Robinson, 3½ S. W. Shallowater.

Closing of this week found us with numerous order buyers, but not enough good butcher cattle were included in this week's offerings to supply their needs.

The trade interests are generally agreeable on the one point that values are 25 to 50c higher for the week.

With prices advancing sharply, as they are now doing, we are expecting you to bring us in good butcher cattle so that we can fill our buyers' orders.

With our sales—both Tuesday and Friday—beginning at 10:00 a. m. it enables you to get your stock sold and collected for at much earlier hour than was the case in the past when the sales started at 1:00 p. m.

We have the buyers—you bring us the cattle, and we feel sure you will be pleased with the returns your cattle will bring you.

INSPIRATION IS SCARCE
NEW YORK, May 29. (AP) — Buying inspiration was scarce in today's stock market and leading issues backed down fractions to around 2 points.
While selling pressure was light throughout, steels, motors, coppers and specialties were offered in sufficient quantity to keep the list on the losing side after a feeble attempt had been made at the opening to extend yesterday's diminutive rally.
The news was no worse than recently but brokers found traders discouraged over a lack of pick-up signs in business and apparently negative developments at Washington.
Transfers totalled 490,960 shares against 398,370 the day before. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .7 of a point at 39.6.
Prospects of contra-seasonally slackening automobile sales during the remainder of this month didn't do the motors any good. General Motors yielded ⅞ at 29½ and Chrysler was down 1¼ at 42.
Tending to depress coppers was a revival of talk regarding a nearby price shading of the domestic metal. After the close a cut was announced from 10 cents to 9 cents a pound, a new low mark since 1935. Anaconda slipped 1⅜ at 26 and Kennecott fell 2 at 32. The reduction was foreshadowed by an earlier downturn in scrap and export copper rates.
Except for Santa Fe, which tipped over 1⅝ at 26½, rails held their declines to minor fractions.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, May 19. (AP) — Cotton was mildly reactionary today in sympathy with easier stocks and more favorable crop weather in the growing region. The close was steady at net declines of 9 points on all active months.
Last prices were at or near the bottom with July at 8.71, Oct. at 8.77, Dec. at 8.79, Jan. at 8.80, March at 8.86 and May at 8.91.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Cotton was depressed today by foreign selling, principally from Bombay. October declined from 8.71@8.63 and closed at 8.65, with final prices 6 to 7 points net lower.
The market opened 2 to 3 points lower in response to lower markets abroad and under moderate selling from these sources. Aside from the foreign offerings, however, the selling was light.

AVERAGE PRICE
NEW ORLEANS, May 19. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.63 cents a pound, average for the past thirty market days 8.78 cents a pound.

Counterfeiting Ring Is Believed Broken

NEWARK, N. J., May 19. (AP)—Treasury agents announced today the arrest of three men in what Supervising Agent James J. Maloney of the New Jersey-Delaware district called "the most important roundup of conterfeiters by the secret service in the past ten years."
Maloney said the trio, charged with possession and sale of $4,000 of counterfeit $10 notes Tuesday night, were "the outstanding distributors in the country" of spurious bills. He estimated $500,000 had been passed in recent months, and said between 250 and 300 sub-passers had been arrested throughout the country.
The three, held in the city jail for arraignment before United States Commissioner Joseph F. Holland, were named by Maloney as David Krakauer, 34, of Palisades, N. J.; Charles Blum, 30, of the Bronx, N. Y., and Irving Nitzberg, 28, also of the Bronx.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—Rallies at the last in Chicago wheat futures today virtually overcame 1⅜ cents a bushel sudden tumble to low price records unmatched in four years.
Fear of rust damage to the crop southwest because of excessive rain did much to bring about the late rallies. One point in Kansas reported five inches downpour.
Crop experts said if warmer temperatures ensued black stem rust would be given impetus.
Wheat prices here closed exactly unchanged to ⅛ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, May 78⅜@78½, July 76⅜@76½, corn ⅛ to ⅜ up, May 57⅜@57¾, July 58@59⅛, oats ¼ to ⅜ advanced, rye unchanged to ¾ bulge, and provisions varying from 17 cents setback to 12 cents climb.
Major fractional advances preceded today's temporary drop in wheat values. The advances accompanied cables asserting crop failures would force Europe to import abnormally, and that Italy this season would purchase from other countries 75,000,000 bushels. Big imports by France and The Netherlands, it was stated, had already been authorized.
Contributing to rallies was an Enid, Oklahoma, dispatch from a leading Chicago authority saying he had found black rust in every field examined as far north as Hutchinson, Kansas, with severe damage reported around McGregor, Texas.

Lubbock . .

The prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry—Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock. Grain—S. E. Cone Grain and Seed company. Following prices being bid by Lubbock grain dealers. Cotton—Blocker Cotton company. All prices subject to change during day.

The complaint against Lewis was sworn to by Cox before Robert J. Allen, county attorney.

In addition were covers bearing the postmarks of Hobbs and Clovis, N. M., each of which contributed a small bundle of mail, and those of postoffices in communities not on the route of feeder ships.

Operation On Schedule
Operation of the pickup held to the planned schedule. Planes operated by Clent Breedlove, manager of Municipal airport, Art Chase, J. H. York and A. F. Holt traveled feeder routes to pickup mail from towns of the area. The mail they gathered and that from Lubbock were among three planes connecting with established airlines at Amarillo, Big Spring and San Antonio.
Mrs. Joan Fay Shankle of San Antonio, one of the few women possessing an unlimited transport license, was at the controls of the Amarillo-San Antonio flight, which traveled the route of a line for which official designation is being sought. She picked up 45 pounds of mail here.

Another From Amarillo
Another plane sponsored by Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and piloted by C. J. Boyd, manager of Municipal airport there, carried 71 pounds to connect with TWA there.
A third ship sponsored by Big Spring Chamber with R. F. Schermerhorn at the controls left here with 40 pounds. Accompanying Schermerhorn were his wife and H. L. Moon from station KBST at Big Spring whose running short wave account of the flight was broadcast over that station.
A brief program over a public address system at the airport preceded the departure of the planes. Speakers included Postmaster Howard Green, H. C. Pender, acting head of the government department at Texas Technological college, W. B. Irvin, superintendent of schools, and Breedlove.

Floydada Has Band
Pilots of feeder planes reported that, without exception, committees and in some cases, large delegations waited them along their routes. Floydada High school band was at the field there, York said.
Waiting at Levelland for the plane was Postmaster Truett Mauldin of Pettit with 36 airmail letters, almost one for every inhabitant of the village. He had ordered a special cachet for the Pettit mail which described that place as being "a small town with vast opportunities, located in West Texas' finest farming belt." He came to Lubbock in Breedlove's plane.

Rail Strike

would observe the railway labor act, which provides machinery for adjusting disputes, before they resorted to a strike, but added:
"If the railroads cannot be convinced that a wage reduction is not only unjustified, but is absolutely dangerous to the economic structure of this nation, it will be necessary for the railroad employes to use their economic strength to save the railroad industry from committing social suicide and dragging other industries along with it."

Oppose Financial Support
The statement indicated the unions would oppose the federal financial support, which they previously had united with management in asking, unless the wage cut proposal were abandoned.
"Railroad labor wants to cooperate with management in solving the industry's problem," the statement asserted. "But the workers will not stand for being the goat. Railroad labor was engaged in such cooperative movement at the time the railroads served their official notices of the proposed wage cut.
"In doing this, the railroads acted in bad faith. They double-crossed labor when they served this wage reduction notice because railway management and workers had reached an understanding that no such notice would be served while the workers were cooperating with management in seeking financial relief through other sources."

Make Some Amendments
In asking the senate to send the railroad bill back to committee, Wagner said it would be necessary to make some amendments "if it is reported again."
To reporters Wagner commented, "here we are trying to increase purchasing power so that the people may buy the goods produced by industry, and the industry seeks a wage cut."
The labor executives' statement estimated that a 15 per cent pay cut would take $250,000,000 a year from workers' pay envelopes.

Synthetic Chemical May Add Strength

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

NEW YORK, May 19.—A new synthetic chemical that might make circus strong women out of ordinary members of the feminine sex has been tested at Cornell university medical college here.

The chemical is testosterone, the male sex hormone. It is manufactured synthetically, in test tubes, from ordinary chemicals that are not obtained from living beings.

This substance was injected into the blood stream of guinea pigs by George N. Papanicolaou and Emil A. Falk. Prolonged injection strengthened the muscles in pigs of both sexes. In particular, the jaw muscles became larger.

This chemical is believed to explain the difference in muscular strength of men and women. Although it is a natural male product, women also have a little. Extra production of it would go far to explain the occasional feminine muscular prodigy.

The Cornell experiments are aimed at using the chemical for muscular deficiency. General muscular weakness is a symptom in more than one disease. The artificial male chemical may be the right medicine.

No investigation has been made of giving it to healthy persons to build greater strength. In general, drugs do not add to the abilities of healthy persons.

It is not the intention to cast reflection upon the character of anyone knowingly and if through error we should the management will appreciate having our attention called to same and will gladly correct any erroneous statement made.

Dr. Babson's Predictions

COMMENT by Roger Babson, the famous economist, that the present recession is "merely a pocket in the general forward movement" would be received with greater re-assurance if he hadn't sawed himself off on so many limbs during the depression.

When he professes to see brighter things head, one is too apt to recall one of his predictions made via newsreel, radio and printed page in about 1931 that there was no depression, that the nation merely was experiencing an "adjustment" of inflated conditions and, as he and others repeated on numerous subsequent occasions, the famous "corner" had been turned.

Although everyone will hope that Dr. Babson is right this time and despite the fact that most people will admit he is one of the nation's best qualified prognosticators of business trends, they still belong in the classifications of the Missourians who have to be shown.

The Blue-And-Gray

IF it must happen that the reunion June 29 to July 4 is to be the last of the Blue and the Gray, no fitter scene for the event could be possible than the Battlefield of Gettysburg.

It is true that this greatest battle of the War Between the States resulted in a victory for the Blue, sealing the fate of the Confederacy. But on that field was demonstrated to greater degree perhaps, than on any other that insofar as valor was concerned, there was nothing to choose between the Blue and the Gray. The issue of the battle rested with the side possessing the most men and cannon.

However, it is to be hoped that the reunion will not be the last. Of course, if it should be the wish of the veterans that they shall assemble no more, that wish must be law. But if it happens that they want to continue their reunions, it should be the duty and privilege of those who are younger to see that it is done.

The Business Of Modeling

THE stories of recurrent appearance in newspapers relating to beautiful young models who have taken their own lives may, on first thought, be difficult of understanding. Without exception, they are young women of extra ordinary physical attractions. They are engaged in what appeals to most girls as a glamorous work. Seemingly they are at the threshold to careers. It would appear that they have everything for which to live.

Yet some of the puzzlement fades when one allows common sense to rip away the glamor with which the average apparently successful model seems to be surrounded. It reveals they are engaged in one of the most competitive of all vocations; that they are surrounded by constant temptation; and that although the compensation may be generous when they are employed, the lean days far outnumber the lush.

Then there is another point to remember. Their work brings them in intimate contact with the luxuries they usually cannot, with honor, possess for themselves. They parade in the costliest garments in the most luxurious surroundings for the camera, and then drop back into a routine of existence which has become monotonous to them.

Having touched luxury, they feel all the more keenly the fact that those things are not for them in reality. Such condition might tend to provoke a feeling of "what's the use." Their premise is a false one, of course, but in many cases their viewpoints are limited by temperament and perhaps by other causes.

All in all, the glare which the occasional tragedies focus upon the profession of modeling merely emphasizes that the average young woman in what appears to her a humdrum existence of life still is a most fortunate young lady.

What was branded as immoral seizure of Ethiopia in '36 is now condoned by Il Duce's new found pals. We have parole boards like that.

"Dr. Dafoe says Papa Dionne always has a swell new car." Well, you never know when he'll have to go after a doctor again in the night.

The One-Minute Sermon

He that covereth a transgression seeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter separateth very friends.

A reproof entereth more into a wise man than a hundred stripes into a fool.

An evil man seeketh only rebellion; therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.—Proverbs 17: 9-11.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JACKIE DUNN — heroine; she wanted to fly.

ROGER BRECKNER — hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere.

BERYL MELROSE — wealthy widow; she wanted Roger.

EVELYN LA FARGE — Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

Yesterday: Roger's ship goes down when his oxygen supply leaks and there is no further report from him while Jackie waits tense, in agony.

CHAPTER XIV

Jackie spent most of that day at the airport, waiting in vain for some news of Roger and his silver ship. But there not only was no word from him, but no news from any source about him.

"He's blanked out," Mac admitted finally, after trying over and over to raise some response to his persistent signals. He took one look at Jackie's white face, and tacked on quickly, "Though maybe it's only his radio that went haywire."

"You know it's more than that," Jackie said. "Oh, Mac, do you suppose he can possibly make a landing under such conditions, with his motor dead, no ceiling or visibility—has he got any chance at all? Give me the truth. I can take it." She would have to "take it"; she would have to keep standing by, as she had promised Roger, so long as there was the slimmest hope to which to cling.

"He'll have a job on his hands," Mac returned reluctantly, his thin lips twitching; Jackie had no idea how stricken, how fearful her lovely eyes looked, their golden fires dimmed. "If anyone can squash that crate down in that rough country Roger will do it. If not, he'll have sence enough to bail out."

"You mean he'll jump?"

Mac nodded. "He's probably sitting in a treetop somewhere right now," he said. But he knew his attempt at humor fell pretty short. "See here, Jackie, there's nothing you can do around here—why don't you run along home and take it easy for a spell? I give you my word, I'll let you know the second I get any dope."

"All right," Jackie said dully. It was true; there was nothing she could do. That was what made it so hard.

She felt numb all over, almost as though the life had gone out of her body; her heart was beating slowly and painfully, as though it were a heavy weight within her breast. Her mind did not seem to register any outside impressions; it was burdened down with but one thought — what had happened to Roger?

In that last message from him, he had estimated his position as the west leg of the Bellefonte beam; Jackie knew, without being told, that that particular stretch was the most hazardous in the Alleghenies. It would be a miracle to achieve a landing, flying practically blind, with the motor dead, and after that tremendous dive from 35,000 feet. To think that Roger had flown the silver ship, taking off from Burbank, clearing the mighty Rockies, skimming over all that vast territory between, only to come at his hour of triumph to this sudden and perhaps tragic end.

But no, she would not—she could not — allow herself to think that. Roger was such a wonderful pilot; he would come through somehow, if it were humanly possible. Yet, Jackie realized how fragile the human element may be against such strong forces as fog and wind and mountain tops.

On her way home from the field she heard the newsboys calling the first extra. She jammed on her brakes to purchase one. There, looking at her from the front page, was Roger, wearing his broad, confident grin. He was standing, with Beryl Melrose, beside the silver ship, ready for the takeoff from Burbank. There was no news except what Jackie already knew, an account of the stratosphere flight, giving the bulletins received en route, and then Roger's last message—and the silence that had followed.

Volunteers were scouring that section of the country where it was believed the plane—or what was left of it—would be found; farmers, townspeople, even the National Guard had turned out, besides a number of planes carrying on the search from the air. Without doubt, the paper stated, there would be some discovery before nightfall.

It was almost dinner time when Jackie reached home. She hurried up the stairs to her own room; she felt she simply could not face Evelyn, and all her questions and the fuss she would make, now of all times. She felt she could not face anyone. Not until she knew what had happened to Roger.

Mac had promised he would let her know the moment he learned anything new. She knew she could depend on him. But oh, this terrible agony of waiting, this gnawing uncertainty! If she had thought those hours, waiting for Roger's call letters to come through to the little tower room, had dragged with leaden feet, what would these next hours be, how could she get through them?

"Are you home, darling?" Evelyn's voice outside the door, her hand rattling the knob. "Why, Jacqueline, you've locked your door! What on earth is the matter, child? Open it—it's mother, darling."

"Please, Mother . . . I have a headache," Jackie mumbled from the bed where she had thrown herself, face down, full length, finding that she was almost physically exhausted. She was glad she had thought to turn the key in the lock. Let Evelyn rattle it as much as she wised, Jackie would not admit anyone.

"A headache . . . dear me! I'll get you something . . ."

"I don't want anything! Just let me alone." Thank heaven, her mother apparently had not heard about Roger yet. She would not know what had happened until she read the regular evening edition of the paper.

"But, darling, you must let me do something for you!"

"Please, Mother!" Jackie threw all the pleading of which she was capable into her voice. "If you'll just go away and let me alone . . ."

She heard Evelyn murmur something that sounded like, ". . . dear me . . . I can't understand . . ." and then her footsteps resounding down the hall.

Jackie lay still as long as she could. Then she got up and crept down the stairs once more. She knew Evelyn would be dressing for dinner now. Jackie could get the evening paper before anyone else saw it. Back in her room, the door securely bolted once more, she pulled the sheets apart with feverish fingers. There was the same telephoto of Roger and Beryl beside the silver plane—it gave Jackie's heart the same piteous wrench. This edition had been printed several hours later but it held no new news, nor much more hope. The search was still going on but so far not a single trace had been discovered of the ship or of its pilot.

Jackie felt she could not endure this waiting much longer; it was this uncertainty that was so unbearable. It would be easier to know that Roger had cracked up, that there was no hope at all, than to have to go on not knowing what had happened, what to expect.

She would not wait any longer for Mac to call. She would phone him. If she could not reach him, she would get in her car and drive back out to the field.

When she gave her name the operator at the field, who knew her, cried hurriedly aside, "It's Miss Dunn . . . I can't talk to her . . . You'll have to tell her, Mac . . ." And then, after an eternity Mac's voice came over the wire.

"Hello . . . is that you, Jackie?"

"Oh, Mac . . . I had to call you!" What had the operator meant? "Have you heard anything? Isn't there anything new?"

"Yes . . . I was just going to call you, Jackie." Mac's voice sounded gruff, unnatural. He had heard something then!

"They found the ship," Mac was saying, still in that same odd voice. "Near Kylertown. Pretty badly cracked up—one wing torn off, motor smashed in . . ."

"But Roger . . .?" She had to know, to get it over with, whatever the news.

"They found the ship, all right," Mac said again. "But they haven't found Roger, Jackie."

Presbyterian Church Has Been Organized

A new Presbyterian church was organized at Seagraves Wednesday night with 36 charter members and a long list of prospective members, Dr. Jack M. Lewis, of the First Presbyterian church here, said on his return yesterday.

D. H. Alexander and Ben P. White were elected elders and D. V. Oberholtzer, Joe Simmons and B. D. Cooksey were named deacons.

Dr. Lewis and Rev. Clyde Barton, Clovis pastor, held meetings in the new building at Seagraves. They also visited a number of Presbyterian families there. Reverend Barton preached Sunday night and Dr. Lewis the other three nights.

Seagraves formerly had a church of that denomination but the building was sold several years ago and the congregation disbanded. Many new families have since moved into the town. A church building was moved there from Ralls recently.

CONFESSES RAPINGS

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP) — Louis Serraille, 42, an ex-convict who was arrested as a suspect in the hammer beating of two women Sunday, confessed, Police Capt. Ray Crane said today, having raped 50 girls and women in Chicago during the past four years.

Although the manufacture of electric light bulbs in Argentina started only six years ago, three Buenos Aires companies are now producing 5,000,000 bulbs yearly for about one-third of the country's total needs.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE dizzy behavior of utility stocks and bonds simultaneously with New Deal dickering for a truce over T. V. A. and the "death sentence" on holding companies has attracted unpublished attention at the Capital. It may have the makings of a senatorial sensation from cloakroom rumblings about possible "leaks."

Although the S. E. C. kept secret for five days the private power committee's letter regarding a holding company get-together (and only the principals were supposed to know of it), the price of bonds of affected utility corporations leaped twenty points overnight. Somebody apparently was wise to the fact that something good for the utilities was in the air. Then they were sold short for a while, only to regain the losses in a few days. A similar movement occurred several years ago on the eve of David Lilienthal's announcement of "yardstick" rates. Securities of corporations in the shadow of T.V.A. were sold short, supposedly by a Chicago brokerage house.

The S.E.C. was given power to stop that sort of thing, but the wise boys are now asking: "How long has this been going on?" Similar bullish or bearish raids were staged with respect to silver before the famous purchase announcement, and also in connection with the F. C. C.'s report on its A. T. & T. investigation. Somebody who knew something bought or sold in accord with what they knew.

PRIMPING: The new pump priming prospects don't look so high-waterish to economic experts with special knowledge of similar efforts in the past. Although the president recently sidestepped the low-down problem, unabsorbed inventories measure the failure of former lend-and-spend experiments and hint at another misfire.

Current inventories, as Whirligig exclusively reported, total 21 billion dollars, as against a 1932 low of 12 billion. But the discovery astonishing even the economic planners is that the total leaped from 16 to 21 billion dollars' worth in the period 1935-1938. It was during this era that P. W. A.-W. P. A. and other outpourings of government money were supposed to have brought the economic recovery that cracked up last August. Production and re-employment reached peaks untouched since 1929.

But what appears to have happened then is that factories and middlemen and retailers simply used the federal funds to burden their shelves and warehouses with unmovable goods. The purchasing power primed by government expenditures moved a portion, but it could not keep pace with production. It may have been due to faulty planning by both parties—government and industry. That's only a surmise—nobody knows the answer, but the frank fellows don't think it's another pump. They call it "pump-primping."

ISOLATION: Several Represenatives recently canvassed their home states to discover whether there was any demand for them to run for the senate against sitting members up for reelection. Their decision supplies the lowdown to President Roosevelt's popularity with the common folks.

Two of the pulse-fingerers had private information that they need look for no White House assistance if they decided to start a primary fight against fairly wellbehaved upper classmen. F.D.R. didn't warn the anxious boys that he would oppose them; they were simply asked to bide their time by seeking reelection to the house. So what they really wanted to discover on their canvass was whether they could win in the face of presidential indifference. Now, these men don't kid themselves—or their buddies—under such circumstances, so you lay bets on their answers.

None will disregard Mr. Roosevelt's advice. They ain't gonna run for the Senate. And what they're whispering to their colleagues for whatever use the latter want to make of the feedbox stuff is: "Boys, the president hasn't got a soul on his side—except the voters!"

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE American Federation of Labor is on something of a spot with regard to the administration's wage-hour bill. Federation officials are privately not at all enthusiastic about the measure. But they can't afford to ignore or oppose it, and thus allow the C.I.O. to grab whatever glory may attach to it. They have gone on record publicly as favoring the bill, but may tip off their Congressional friends that this is a tongue-in-cheek performance.

Southern opponents of federal wage-hour legislation will have strong though mostly silent support from the farm belt. Even the bill does not apply to agricultural labor, farmers are nervous about establishing a legislative precedent that might return to plague them later.

Informed New Yorkers predict that the bill, if it passes at all, will be so drastically toned down that it will amount to nothing more than a gesture to save the President's face.

FRIENDLY: Committee appointments announced by William McC. Martin, jr., new chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, indicate that the new regime is on the level about cooperating with the S.E.C.

The personnel of the public relations committee named by Martin guarantees a complete new deal in that important field. Paul V. Shields has long been a leader of the Exchange's reform element. He is on cordial personal terms with S.E.C. Chairman William O. Douglas and has consistently advocated better relations between Washington and Wall Street. Sidney J. Weinberg is popular in Washington and a welcome guest when he calls at the White House. Lawrence Oakley played a dominant role in ousting Richard Whitney as president of the Stock Exchange in 1935. E. Burd Grubb was highly successful in public relations contacts when he was president of the Curb Exchange. These four should be able to figure out how to sell the Exchange to the public if anyone can—and it's a cinch that there will be no more sniping at the administration and the S.E.C. by Exchange officials.

Charles B. Harding, vice chairman of the board of governors, is a former partner of John W. Hanes, who is headed for a high Washington job because of his energetic efforts to promote better feeling between government and business. Plainly the Exchange's new bosses aim to please.

AUTOS: One reason sales of 1938 model automobiles are lagging is because there has been so much word-of-mouth ballyhoo about the wonderful new cars coming up for '39 that many potential purchasers are waiting for them.

Those who wait will be disappointed if they anticipate startling improvements. Manufacturers are economizing on tools and dies. 1939 editions will have fewer gadgets and will be priced lower. Body styles may be altered for "eye appeal"; but few, if any, important changes are in prospect.

DUAL: Here's an odd labor wrangle. A Detroit dance hall is being picketed by members of the A. F. of L. They charge that the management is unfair to organized labor, despite the fact that the four musicians playing in the orchestra are all union members.

The trouble is that the musicians belong to a union only by day, not by night. They work in Detroit auto plants and are duly enrolled in the C.I.O.'s United Automobile Workers. But they don't belong to the A. F. of L.'s musicians' union.

Looks like a case of dual personality added to labor's other problems.

Texas Topics---By Howard Marshall

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP)—State police may purchase a "drink-o-meter" to determine whether suspected motorists are drunk and the degree of intoxication.

A device invented by Dr. R. F. Harger of Indiana university, the "drink-o-meter" has been used extensively in Texas by Dr. P. M. Nesbit, physician of Arlington who has cooperated with police there.

Of 246 tests made at Arlington, 75 per cent of the drivers were reported to have been found intoxicated and all to have been convicted.

Here's How It Werks

The machine works something like this. The driver blows his breath into a toy balloon. The breath so captured then is released into the machine and passes through a chemical mixture which turns from purple to amber in color if sufficient alcohol, a volatile substance, is present.

Another gadget indicates just how drunk the driver is, or by a method of calculation how intoxicated he was at certain times before the test.

According to Nesbit, all other things being equal, a 200-pound man can drink twice as much as a 100-pounder without getting any drunker. The reason is the larger man has more fat on his stomach, which retards absorption of alcohol.

By the same reasoning, a man who wanted to drink his companions under the table possibly could do so by imbibing a pint of cream before taking on liquor. The cream would have the same effect as fat on the stomach.

Politics Is Suspected

After the Railroad commission announced Texas' oil fields would be closed Saturdays as well as Sundays there was speculation that the added restriction probably would be removed early in the summer.

It was suggested that with two members of the commission running for office—Chairman C. V. Terrell and Ernest O. Thompson, for re-election and for governor, repectively—the lid on production would be lifted at the earliest practicable moment.

In fact, there was opinion Saturday shutdowns were imposed for the purpose of expediting the clearance of surplus gasoline so that production could be opened up in advance of the heavy campaigning period and first primary July 23.

Early Texas Amusements

NEED of the people of Texas for amusements such as a hanging and a monkey show is declared in an article printed in Pomeroy's Democrat Oct. 12, 1870.

A copy of the newspaper, published in New York City, recently was sent Gov. James V. Allred by Howard Day of Texarkana.

Headed "Amusements in Texas," the article satirically criticized the reconstruction governor, E. J. Davis, for failure to provide diversions for Texans, who, it was said, needed a great many to be "happy and enlightened."

It purported to cite a letter from a citizen to Davis describing the "destitute" conditions of the people of Wood county and appealing for relief. The letter said:

"Our people are in a most destitute condition—not destitute for the want of provisions, for we have plenty of meat and bread—but destitute from the total want of all rational amusement.

"This county of Wood has been organized about 18 years, and yet in all that time there has never been a hanging or a monkey-show in the county.

"Children Are Ignorant"

"Our children are growing up in total ignorance. There are younger men in this county nearly grown who have never seen a man hung and never seen a monkey-show.

"The only amusement we have now is pitching half-dollars and running mule-eared rabbits on the prairie; and you know that kind of amusement is not of a very elevating character.

". . . you might take the responsibility of ordering a very small man hung, which would answer for the present, and would only be a small infraction of the law, if any."

The article quoted Davis as replying in strong language that he didn't care if the people of Wood county never saw a hanging or a monkey.

TARZAN UNDER FIRE No. 11 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Moving like lightning, Tarzan had already vanished by the time the native soldiers raised their rifles to pour a volley into the forest. Captain d'Albert stopped them, for fear of killing the boys. Then he commanded a quick maneuver to overhaul the fugitive.

It was a useless move, for who could apprehend the cunning apeman in his jungle habitat? At last the commander abandoned the search. He was certain that the mystery man, fearing arrest, would leave the district. So the patrol marched homeward by easy stages.

But what an awful shock greeted the captain's return! He was forewarned of tragedy when he saw a hushed crowd assembled around his bungalow. Then his wife came running out to him, screaming: "Yvonne—our little Yvonne—our child—she's gone!"

Hysterically she sobbed out her pitiful story. The child, absorbed in play, had wandered into the jungle, and disappeared. A terrifying suspicion flashed into the mind of Captain d'Alberi. Yvonne, too, had been kidnapped by the mystery man of the forest!

Pennsylvania Is Seen As Major Battleground In November By Party Chiefs

New Deal Will Be Big Issue

PHILADELPHIA, May 19. (AP) — Manifest concern in Pennsylvania's primary election developments by the high commands of both major parties marked the state tonight as a prospective major battleground in November with the New Deal a clear-cut issue.

President Roosevelt, James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman and John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, were quick to note the outcome of Tuesday's record-breaking vote.

Count Is Announced

The virtually complete count in important contests showed:

Democratic:

For governor (8,039 of 8,075 districts):

Charles A. Jones, Pittsburgh lawyer, endorsed by the state committee, 585,760.

Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy, supported by CIO Leader John L. Lewis, Senator Joseph Guffey, and recommended by Farley, 519,806.

Charles J. Margiotti, former state attorney general, dismissed by Governor Earle, 171,564.

For U. S. senator (8,023 districts):

Governor Earle, state committee candidate recommended by Farley, 768,602.

S. Davis Wilson, mayor of Philadelphia, Guffey-Lewis candidate, 329,975.

Republican:

For governor (8,048 districts):

Judge Arthur H. James of state superior court, backed by most Republican organization leaders, 932,563.

Gifford Pinchot, twice governor, 441,104.

For U. S. senator (7,979 districts):

Senator James J. Davis, 792,214.

G. Mason Owlett, national committeeman and state senator, 440,393.

Compromise Talk Wanes

Although losers in the Democratic row were slow to commit themselves on their November positions, talk of a possible compromise slate — through withdrawals and substitutions—waned in view of expressions from national leaders.

President Roosevelt, who said his friends at grips in the primary and was reminded of Dante's "Inferno," telegraphed State Chairman David L. Lawrence wishing "every success to my friends, George Earle and Charles Jones." Farley, whose pre-primary recommendation was to sacrifice one major candidate of each faction, later asked all to abide by the results.

Republicans, too, looked to November with a claim of "certain victory" by Chairman Hamilton. Farley disputed the prophecy as "idiotic."

Pinchot has promised to support Republican nominees.

Senator Guffey returned to his Washington office today, declining to comment.

Kennedy, seeing a "moral victory" in his vote, said "I want a little time to catch my breath."

Eli Oliver, director of labor's Non-Partisan league, political arm of the CIO, said "labor" was not "disheartened."

INCREASE IS VOTED

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—The senate voted today to increase from $25,000,000,000 to $30,000,000,000 the total amount of long term bonds the government may have outstanding at one time.

Lubbock's Milk Above Average

Few, possibly only three or four, of the 52 Lubbock dairies will be "degraded" on basis of grade A raw milk, said G. G. Hunter, dairy inspector, after having visited approximately 20 dairies.

He said dairies, in the main, had observed carefully laws guarding against distribution of milk improperly handled and that with too high a bacteria count.

Licenses Are Granted

All but four had been granted licenses for 1938, he said late Thursday.

Hunter said more milking machines are being installed, as are new type coolers. Coolers either are being operated electrically or by gasoline motors, he said.

He inspects dairies once a month and makes grade checks every two months, picking up four samples. An average of not more than 50,000 bacteria for each cubic centimeter of milk allows milk to maintain its grade.

Cattle Are Checked

Once a year there is a tuberculosis check of dairy cattle, and an occasional mastitis inspection is given. Approximately 1,500 cows are inspected yearly by Hunter, all of which supply grade A raw milk for distribution directly to consumers or to those who retail milk to customers.

Approximately 12 dairies use milking machines, the remainder milking by hand. Care in cleanliness of milking barns, lots, stalls and in storing and handling of milk is stressed, and "dairymen have been unusually cooperative in most instances," said Hunter. He said Lubbock is "above average in Texas" for quality of its milk.

Kiwanis Official Is Visitor In Lubbock

High praise for the membership and attendance record of the Lubbock Kiwanis club was given yesterday at the luncheon in the Lubbock hotel by William A. Williams, Vega, district lieutenant governor, on his official visit to the club. With an assigned quota of 108 members, a gain of four for the year, the club has added 11 above its quota, Williams said. Attendance so far has been 77.8 per week, with a quota of 78.

President O. W. English presented the district official and called a meeting of directors and committee chairmen to meet him for a conference after the meeting.

Robert J. Allen and Achilles Corcanges were co-chairmen, the former presiding. Misses Ina Bacon and Virginia Knapp of Lubbock and Merle Haynes of Hobbs, N. M., sang two numbers. Miss Geraldine Crow of Albany, to represent the club at tonight's cotton carnival, was introduced.

J. A. Dowdle, postal employe who spoke for Postmaster Amos Howard briefly outlined Lubbock's air service and also the special mail pickup yesterday afternoon. He told of schedules that will put letters mailed here, in larger centers the following day.

S. C. Wilson supplemented the talk with his personal experiences with prompt air mail service, getting an order for Los Angeles delivered here the fourth morning after mailing a letter to the coast city.

District Governor Williams presented new membership pins to Jennings T. Lewis and Dr. Karl E. Ashburn, members 118 and 119 respectively. First of the year's membership was 104 and the club was given a quota of four new ones for the year.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Gly-Cas Did Not Fail As Many Other Remedies Failed

Night Risings, Upset Stomach And Constipation Made Life Miserable; Then Laxative-Tonic Amazes

"I can highly recommend Gly-Cas as the MASTER MEDICINE," said Mr. J. B. Sullivan, 414 N. 17th St., McAllen, Texas. "For the past 20 years my life had been a drudgery.

MR. J. B. SULLIVAN

My stomach simply would not digest my food properly, foods would sour and I felt like I could vomit. I suffered continual headaches, constipation and was sluggish and worn-out all the time. Then my kidneys became disordered. It was not at all uncommon for me to rise as many as six times each night because of their too frequent action. My back pained almost impossible to do my work. I seemed to be getting worse each day. Then Gly-Cas was brought to my attention and my health troubles were soon corrected after giving it a trial."

"Gly-Cas went to the source of my trouble in a gentle but quick way and begun to root out that which was causing me so much suffering," continued Mr. Sullivan. "In no time at all my bowels and kidneys were regulated and that dreadfully sluggish feeling is gone. I get good sound sleep each night and my stomach gives me no distress. My food digests in a normal manner and I certainly do praise Gly-Cas for giving me back my health."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.
