Buildup In South Korea Is Planned

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command today voided the Korean armistice ban on new weapons to match the Communist buildup in North Korea.

Murray Snyder, U.S. assistant secretary of defense, said in Washington that the new arms would include jet aircraft which can carry atomic arms, but "at this time no atomic weapons are being given to ground forces." He refused to say whether atomic ammuntion would be stored at Korean bases for use against an attack.

The U.N. side declared it would continue to observe "fully" the case-fire provision and all other points in the 1953 armistice agreement.

The Communist command promptly charged the U.N. with "attempting to make South Korea an atomic base and prepare for a new war."

North Korean Maj. Gen. Chung Kook Rook declared impassively: "We are vehemently opposed to equipping U.N. forces with new types of weapons, wrecking the armistice agreement and perpetuating the U.N. occupation of South Korea."

U.S. Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzenberg, senior member of the U.N. Command, notified the North Korean and Chinese Communists of the U.N. decision at a meeting in the truce hut in the demilitarized zone. Litzenberg said the Red reply was "milder than I expected."

"I did not interpret it as a Red threat to resume the fighting that ended with the July 27, 1953, truce," he said.

Chung, spokesman for the 40 North Korean and Chinese Communists attending the meeting of the Korean Joint Armistice Commission, reserved the right to reply later to the U.N. charges of truce violations. He asserted the U.N. Command was airing the charges to "cover up" Allied violations.

Litzenberg told reporters "modern and effective weapons" will be flown into Korea soon, but said he knew of no final decision on types, quantity or a timetable for bringing them in.

The U.N. Command's statement again accused the Communists of "flagrant, repeated and willful violations" of the armistice agreement and said the U.N. action was being taken because of the Reds' "complete disregard" of the arms ban.

Litzenberg declared the U.N. Command considered it is entitled to be relieved of obligations under the armistice provision covering replacement of weapons "until such time as the relative military balance has been restored and your side, by its action, has demonstrated its willingness to comply."

Son Of Ex Dist. Atty. Is Charged

HOUSTON (AP)—Louis Davis, 34, son of former Dist. Atty. Sam Davis, surrendered today and was charged with murder in the beating death last night of Mrs. Mary Reddell.

Davis refused to comment about the death of the shapely, brunette divorcee, 26.

"I am an attorney, and my father is an attorney, you know how it is," Davis told Lt. Harry Cole.

"We'll find out ourselves then," said Lt. Cole.

Davis was seen leaving Mrs. Reddell's apartment moments before Mrs. Reddell, who owned the apartment building, was found by two downstairs tenants.

Residents told police that they heard a scuffle shortly before this, and heard Mrs. Reddell cry out: "Don't hit me, Lou. . .please don't!"

After her death in a hospital, an autopsy was performed which showed Mrs. Reddell died of a ruptured liver and internal hemorrhages. She had seven broken ribs.

Police said her injuries were obviously caused by a beating. She had bruises on her neck, face and eye.

Summer Is Here Today —Officially

If the thermometer soars, just consider it a normal occurrence now, because summer begins officially today.

According to the calendar, spring was to give way to summer at about 10:21 a.m. and tomorrow will be the longest day of the year. The sun now is at its farthest point north of the equator. Within a few days it will begin moving back southward and the daylight hours will shrink gradually until the first day of winter in December.

The Weather Bureau reports that West Texans can expect "near normal" teamperatures during the next few days, with some precipitation possible in isolated thunderstorms.

Indications were that the Snyder area would usher in summer with rather moderate temperatures for this stage of the season. The high reading in Snyder yesterday was 94 degrees, while the minimum last night was a cool 59 degrees. Forecasts called for a high reading in the mid-90s here today.

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms rumbled along the Texas Gulf Coast Friday. The Weather Bureau said a cold front inching down from Colorado would set off isolated thunderstorms in the Panhandle Friday night.

Heavy but scattered rains soaked portions of South and Southeast Texas. The scattered rainfall continued in isolated areas Friday morning. Kingsville received a moderate rainshower and thunderstorms were reported at Beeville, Corpus Christi and throughout the Coastal Bend area.

Most of the rains were local along the middle Gulf Coast, but some low cloudiness extended as far north as San Antonio and Austin.

A few patches of ground fog were reported in the southeast part of the state. Elsewhere it was mostly fair.

The Weather Bureau forecast widely scattered thundershowers for most of the state through Saturday. A cold front located in Colorado Friday morning was expected to push across the Oklahoma Panhandle into Texas by Friday night, setting off isolated thunderstorms.

Nearly 2 inches of rain fell Thursday afternoon in the Huntsville area. Pettus, near Beeville, also recorded a rainfall of 2 inches, Kingsville had 1.17 inches and Redgate in the Lower Rio Grande Valley received 2.05 inches.

High temperatures Thursday ranged from 101 at Presidio to 83 at Corpus Christi, Beeville, Alice and Kingsville.

Predawn temperatures Friday ranged from 81 at Galveston to 67 at Salt Flat.

Father Kills His 2 Sons, Then Himself

KERRVILLE (AP)—A Houston father shot and killed his two sons, then fired a bullet into his own brain yesterday at a summer camp near Kerrville.

The victims were Falvius Balliet, 39, a railroad brakeman, and his sons, Robert, 15, and Donald, 12. The boys lived with their mother, Mrs. Virginia Osborne Balliet. Their parents were divorced.

Justice of Peace Virgil Storms ruled double murder and suicide.

The slayings were at an archery range 10 miles south of Kerrville.

Sheriff Oliver Moore said Robert's body was ripped by six .45-caliber slugs. The younger brother was shot five times.

The brothers apparently threw up their hands in a defensive gesture when their father opened fire. Bullet wounds were on their hands and fingers.

The sheriff said the wounds on their bodies indicated their father fired after they fell wounded.

Two empty .45 clips were found. Each clip holds eight bullets. The sheriff estimated Balliet fired 17 shots before killing himself.

His body was found 20 feet away from his sons. His right hand was gripping the .45 pistol resting across his chest.

North Dakota Twister Kills Ten Persons

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—A tornado, striking from a cloud towering more than 10 miles high, smashed through 100 blocks of a Fargo residential area last night, killing 10 persons—six of them children in one family.

At least 85 persons were injured, some critically.

The massive, black funnel lashed a swath of devastation 20 blocks long and five wide.

Mayor Herschel Lashkowitz estimates damage at at least 15 million dollars.

He said 500 homes, a high school and four churches were destroyed and that many other buildings and vehicles were damaged.

The mayor said he was asking federal aid to provide housing for 2,000 persons made homeless by the storm.

The dead included six children of the Gerald Munson family. They ranged in age from a year to 16. The mother was hospitalized with shock.

One of the Munson children, Lois Ann, 2, died of injuries early this morning. The body of a young girl, unidentified, was found later by searchers probing ruins of a home.

The other dead were three adults—two men and a woman. At least three persons, two of them children, were listed as missing.

One of the adult dead was identified as Don Titgen, 26. Titgen's two adopted children, about 8 and 9 years old, were reported missing.

Confusion arose over identification of two others. The coroner listed one victim as Mrs. Max Kankelfitz, about 56, and the body of a man, tentatively, as that of her husband, also about 56.

However, relatives of Max Kankelfitz in Minneapolis, maintained they had talked with him by telephone last night and that he reported all members of the family safe. The coroner said identification was made by a relative. Some bodies were mutilated.

The other dead were three adults—two men and a woman. At least three persons, two of them children, were listed as missing.

Hank Bauer Is Charged In Lawsuit

NEW YORK (AP)—A $250,000 damage suit was added today to the legal troubles of Hank Bauer, New York Yankee outfielder, stemming from his visit to the Copacabana Night Club.

The 34-year-old athlete appeared in felony court on a charge by Edwin Jones, 42, a delicatessen store operator, that Bauer feloniously assaulted him in the club. Bauer has insisted he did not hit the man.

Bauer waived a hearing before Magistrate Frederick L. Strong and elected to place the case before a grand jury, which is expected to hear evidence next week with Bauer's teammates among the witnesses.

As Bauer was leaving the courthouse, Jones' attorney, Anthony Zingales served him with a summons seeking $250,000 from Bauer and the Copacabana for "damages." The summons gave no particulars.

The famed wee hour "Copa" incident revolved about a birthday party for Billy Martin, Yankee infielder since traded to the Kansas City Athletics.

Attending with Bauer were Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford and Johnny Kucks, with their wives.

The Yankee management fined the players $5,500.

Official Says Japan Would 'Never Never' Go Communist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japan's outspoken Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi said emphatically today his country will never never go Communist or neutralist.

But it wants increased trade with Communist China in a way that will not weaken free world security, he said.

In a speech to a National Press Club luncheon, Kishi said Japan has no intention of recognizing Communist China at present and will not take action in that direction except through the United Nations.

The 60-year-old Conservative party leader talked plainly and forcefully in Japanese, shortly after a final meeting with President Eisenhower at the White House.

He said his three days of talks with highest American authorities "succeeded in widening the area of agreement between us" and served the useful purpose of opening the door to a new era in Japanese-American relations.

Kishi bluntly called for adjustment of the existing security agreement between Japan and the United States. He also called for a speedy solution to the future of the U. S. garrison island of Okinawa and the Ryukyu Islands which Japan once returned.

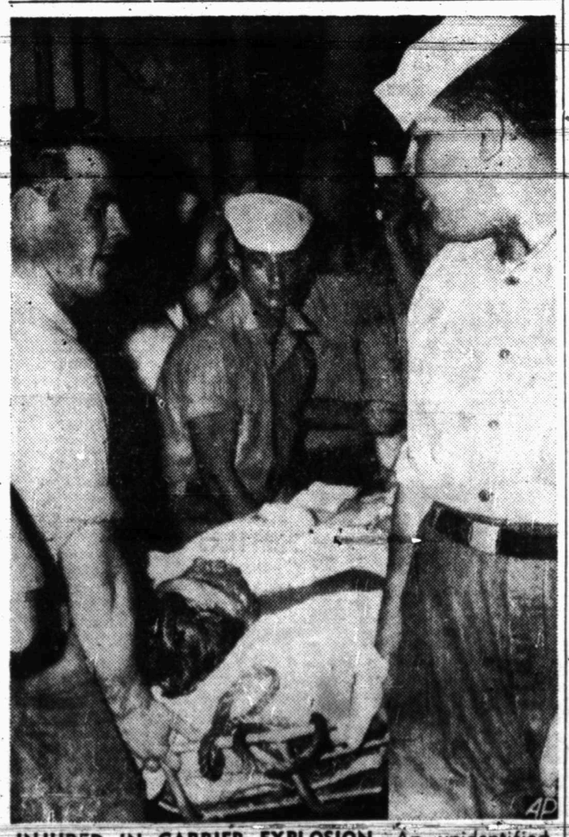

In raising the question of Okinawa, Kishi said Japan also is "determined to press her legitimate demands" with the Soviet Union for return of the South Kuriles and Habomai-Shikotan group of islands which Russian forces seized after World War II.

Kishi made these other points:

1. If the United States wants to help keep Asia free from communism, it is imperative that it recognize fervent nationalism and the impatience of people to rid themselves of poverty quickly.

2. Reports that Japanese-American relations are deteriorating or that anti-Americanism is growing need not be taken too seriously but cannot be ignored.

3. The security of the free world depends upon Japan remaining free and firm in the Far East and in order for Japan to keep strong close cooperation with the United States is "absolutely essential."

This compared with 35,664 bales a year ago, and 32,319 for April.

Consumption in May was 672,756 bales compared with 807,979 in April and 713,289 a year ago.

Consumption of line for 10 months ending June 1 totaled 7,449,125 bales and of linters 1,264,312 bales. This compared with 7,783,718 and 1,156,819 a year ago.

Cotton on hand June 1 included: In consuming establishments 1,405,340 bales of lint compared with 1,421,514 a year ago.

Signatures Are Checked

HOUSTON (AP)—An FBI handwriting expert testified in the fourth George Parr mail fraud trial today that Parr's signatures on legitimate Benavides School District checks and on checks the government contends are fictitious were written by the same person.

Earl Williams of Washington said characteristics of Parr's signature on the two sets of checks are the same.

"I have reached the conclusion that the signatures on government exhibits 17A through 17P (the alleged fictitious checks) were prepared by the same individual who prepared the known or authenticated signatures," Williams said.

"Do you mean written by the same person?" Federal Judge Joe Ingraham asked.

"Yes, sir."

Parr's signatures on the checks alleged to be fictitious were compared by Williams with signatures Percy Foreman, chief defense counsel for Parr and 10 other defendants had stipulated were authentic.

Acreage Controls On Wheat Okayed

Scurry County wheat farmers who participated in the referendum yesterday gave overwhelming approval of continued rigid acreage controls.

Fifty - two votes were cast in the county, which was regarded as a fair turnout, considering the fact that most area farmers are in their busiest season in the fields. Fifty of the Scurry County votes favored the controls, while only two were opposed to controls.

In the referendum, eligible wheat farmers could either approve or disapprove rigid controls on wheat acreage. Approval of rigid controls, which was voted over the nation's wheat belt, means that wheat prices will be supported by at least 75 per cent of parity. Without the acreage controls, the support would have been only 50 per cent of parity.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers voted yesterday to continue federal marketing quotas on next year's wheat crop.

The count from 36 states gave 143,333 for and 28,833 against the Agriculture Department's control program.

That was a favorable majority of 83.3 per cent—far in excess of the necessary two-thirds. It compared with a majority of 87.5 per cent given quotas a year ago.

The department had said that if quotas were approved, it would support the 1958 crop at an average of $1.78 a bushel, but would drop this to about $1.19 if quotas were rejected.

With granaries carrying a full year's supply from previous crops, growers thought market prices would drop to the lower support level if controls were abandoned.

In approving controls for the fifth consecutive year, farmers will limit sales to the amount grown on a 55 million acre allotment—the same as on the past four crops.

Other crops being grown under quotas this year—and likely to be subjected to them again next major types of tobacco. Surpluses exist in all of them.

IN CIVIL RIGHTS FUSS

President Still Has Hope

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House expressed hope today for action at this session of Congress on the civil rights bill which was forced onto the Senate calendar last night through a parliamentary maneuver.

Asked about White House reaction to the move, James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, smiled and said:

"Well, that's our bill."

Then Hagerty added, "we sincerely hope there will be action on the bill in this session of the Congress."

Earlier, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said the maneuver had "enhanced" the outlook for civil rights legislation. But he stopped short of predicting passage at this session.

Knowland, Senate GOP leader, engineered a victory over Southern foes of the House-passed bill last night, but it was only a preliminary skirmish in what promises to be a prolonged battle.

By a 45-39 roll call vote, the Senate put the measure on its legislative calendar without referring it to the Judiciary Committee, where a similar civil rights bill has been bottled up for months.

Thirty-four Republicans and 11 Democrats voted to put the bill on the calendar and keep it out of the hands of the Judiciary Committee, which is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), an avowed opponent of the measure.

Thirty-four Democrats, including Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and five Republicans voted in favor of sending the bill to the Judiciary Committee.

Knowland, jubilant over the outcome, said "it cuts out one prospective filibuster" against the bill, a key part of the legislative program urged by President Eisenhower. The bill is aimed generally at protecting voting and other civil rights.

Had the bill gone to committee, a motion to take it away from the committee and put it on the Senate calendar would have been subject to a filibuster by Southern opponents.

As it is, however, two prospective filibusters still lie in the path of the bill—one on a motion to take it up for debate and another on its passage.

To break a filibuster takes the votes of 64 senators, or two thirds of the entire membership. Past attempts to muster the necessary votes have met with defeat.

Ike Not Bothered By Cut In Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was pictured today as "not too disturbed at what Congress has done in reducing his budget."

Rep. Jensen of Iowa made that report on Eisenhower's attitude after Jensen and 39 other House Republicans had breakfast with the President at the White House.

The meeting with this latest group came on the heels of a GOP rally last night at which Eisenhower was the speaker. At the party session Eisenhower steered away from specific legislative problems but urged his audience to "carry on the good fight for America."

In last night's speech Eisenhower defined Republicanism as "never-failing concern" for every American, "no matter what his religion or the color of his skin."

Eisenhower has had some rough going in Congress in trying to win approval of the administration's $71,800,000,000 budget. The House and Senate already have voted some deep cuts, and the President on more than one occasion has spoken out in opposition to such reductions.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts reported there was no discussion of business whatsoever at his table. As at the two previous breakfasts, Eisenhower moved around the dining room and chatted with House members seated at four different tables.

Several of the GOP lawmakers reported that Eisenhower was in a jovial mood at today's breakfast. One—Rep. Michel of Illinois—remarked that the President was "light of heart enough to appreciate rock 'n' roll" music.

That was an allusion to rock 'n' roll numbers Eisenhower heard at the Republican rally last night Michel also was present at the rally.

The Eisenhower definition of Republicanism came in informal remarks at that meeting, before a cheering audience of about 1,500 at the 10th annual convention of the Young Republican National Federation in Constitution Hall.

Urging the party faithful to "carry on the good fight for America," he said: "And through your dedication . . . you will, by your example even more than by your words, attract additional thousands, hundreds of thousands, millions to the party that represents soundness in all governmental dealings, with never-failing concern for every last human being in America, no matter what his religion or the color of his skin.

"That, as I see it, is Republicanism."

He made no specific mention of the hot fight in Congress over his civil rights program. But he clearly was putting forth the Republican party as a champion of civil rights.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower obviously enjoyed a 90-minute "Tribute to Ike" the Young Republicans put on in advance of his speech.

The First Lady had checked out of Walter Reed Army Hospital during the afternoon after a three-day "head-to-toe" physical examination which the White House had called "just routine." Her doctor reported "everything is fine."

The program gave the President and his wife what was likely their first "live" exposure to red hot rock 'n' roll rhythm, played by a Negro band whose members gyrated all over the stage. There were hillbilly songs too.

The President was introduced by 34-year-old GOP Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia. The governor read a resolution, unanimously adopted by the convention, expressing to Eisenhower "our appreciation for the dedicated leadership you have given to this nation."

The President got a big ovation and the crowd chanted, "We like Ike."

"Thank you," he responded with a broad grin. "I assure you that you've got me."

Eisenhower said the resolution praising him "brought tears to my eyes." And he added that he, the First Lady and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon—who sat with the Eisenhowers — had been having "a wonderful time." Vice President Nixon was unable to attend because of a late senate session.

In his talk, the President urged his audience to fight for the Republican cause "with a smile on your faces." He said, "No pessimist general ever won a battle."

The objective, he said, is "a world of peace in a land of justice and of plenty."

5 House Probers Facing Lawsuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A House Un-American Activities subcommittee today resumes televised hearings on Communist cell operations in California professions with five committee and staff members under subpoena in a $500,000 damage suit.

Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio) called an "empty gesture" the damage action filed for the widow and four children of William K. Sherwood, 41. Sherwood, a Stanford research biochemist, left a note blaming his suicide Sunday on a summons to testify before the committee.

Scherer said members of Congress were immune from civil suits arising out of their actions on official business. He declared, "I am going to ignore the subpoena."

The suit subpoenas called on three committee members, their counsel, and an investigator to give depositions Saturday in the Oakland office of Bertram Edises, attorney for Mrs. Barbara Sherwood.

Edises declared the damage suit was based on the premise that the committee acted outside its constitutional powers. He was under committee subpoena to testify today as the hearing focused on asserted Red cell operations among attorneys and newsmen in the Bay area.

The Sherwood suit named Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa), Rep. Robert J. McIntosh (R-Mich), Scherer, committee counsel Frank Tavenner and William A. Wheeler, committee investigator.

The suit, filed in San Francisco Superior Court, declared the defendants "knew that on other occasions similar activities" of congressional committees "had caused death by suicide or heart attack of Canadian Ambassador E. Herbert Norman, Harry Dexter White" and others, including actor John Garfield.

Chairman Walter declared the suit was an "exploitation" by lawyers of Sherwood's action. He said "possible reasons" for Sherwood's suicide "will be fully examined."

Chairman Walter refused to halt regional televising of the hearings despite House Speaker Rayburn's blunt declaration in Washington that: "There will not be any more House committee hearings or subcommittee hearings, in Washington or anywhere else, televised or broadcast by radio."

Elmer P. Delany, attorney for one of five doctor and dentist witnesses called late yesterday, renewed repeated witness protests against the televising.

Insurance Board Speedup Planned

AUSTIN (AP)—Judge Penn Jackson of Cleburne was sworn in today as chairman of the new Board of Insurance.

This was a step aimed at speeding the selection of a commissioner of insurance.

Without the commissioner the board cannot legally function, the attorney general has ruled.

Gov. Daniel said he would accept the resignations at once of present chairman John Osorio and Commissioner Mark Wentz. The third member, J. P. Gibbs, was appointed by Daniel and retained. Gibbs and Jackson apparently will select a commissioner soon. The third member, David Irons, of Fort Worth and Washington, will take office July 1.

Daniel had accepted the resignations effective July 1 but decided on a new course less than an hour after Osorio and Wentz made public a letter to him urging him to take "any action in order for this department to operate."

They suggested he accept their resignations now and allow the new board to appoint the commissioner or to have either Daniel or the new board members submit a choice for commissioner so they could make the nomination.

The new law went into effect June 12 and required that the Board of Insurance name a commissioner. No salary will be available for the position until Sept. 1.

In their letter to the governor, Osorio and Wentz, both appointed by former Gov. Allan Shivers, said:

"We do not feel that it would be proper for the outgoing members of the board to participate in the selection of a commissioner inasmuch as your announced purpose in sponsoring the reorganization act was to place the future affairs of the Board of Insurance in the hands of your appointees."

Two Naval Planes Crash

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP)—Two Navy planes collided yesterday while coming in for a landnig at nearby Moffett Field. The two pilots were killed and wreckage falling from one plane caused a cement trailer truck and the automobile to collide.

The spectacular low-level collision occurred over the Mountain View-Alviso highway, just off the U. S. Highway 101 Bayshore Freeway, 50 miles south of San Francisco.

Killed were the only occupants of the planes, Ens. Burt H. Barclay, 23, Los Altos, Calif., flying an FJ3 Fury jet, and Lt. N. H. Maurer, 35, husband of Katherine Marie Maurer, Monterey, Calif. Maurer was flying a propeller-driven Skyraider dive bomber.

The impact swerved the truck into the path of a car driven by J. B. Lancaster, 40, Sunnyvale, who screeched his car to a halt between the two trailers. The rig dragged his car off the highway.

It was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Greene, 1205 Twenty-eighth Street. The incident occurred at about 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The fire was put out by disconnecting the air conditioner from the electric current.

ON VACATION

Hair Takes A Beating From Fun In The Sun

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

If it is romance you are looking for on that big vacation, don't underestimate the power of a hair style.

"Many men have been swept off their feet by a glamorous coiffure" says New York hairdresser James Caeser. "It can happen again, so it is a good idea to make sure that your tresses have that come-hither sweep."

The first step is to choose a hairdo that will hold its shape throughout weeks of swimming, sunning and traveling. It should look chic for evening parties even though you have been having a gay time all day.

"A showpiece coiffure that needs the constant attention of a hair stylist is out of place on a summer vacation," says Caeser. "That does not mean that you can't have a dramatic hairdo, for which it will be easy to care. Use some of your vacation funds for a good shaping, styling and set, before you take off. A simple casual style should be a good investment, particularly if the lines are adaptable to a more formal evening coiffure."

Once you get that perfect style for yourself (and don't be intimidated by the hairdresser. It is your hair, so get the style you like) then observe these five rules for vacation hair care, suggested by Caeser.

1. It's a good idea to get a few permanenet wave curls to give the hair a little body and prevent it from going limp. Avoid too many curls which may give your head a frizzy look particularly if you vacation around the water.

2. Your hair should not be left unprotected in the sunlight, particularly if it is bleached. But whether it is untouched or bleached, too much sun will dry the hair.

3. Wash your hair immediately after having been in salt water, as salt neutralizes vital hair oils and may make the hair brittle.

4. Use a cream shampoo or cream rinse for extra sheen especially of you wear hats frequently.

5. Use a special brightening shampoo for additional glamorous highlights during vacation days.

It's a good idea for every vacation-bound girl to remember too, to take with her a hair net, good-bristle hair bursh, shampoo and enough pins to curl her hair at night.

Try to dry your hair completely before going to the beach. One way to mar an otherwise perfect appearance is to lounge out in public with your hair up in curlers. The sun may be a perfect hair dryer, but the effect achieved in taking advantage of it, is not one that is likely to promote romance.

Gold Coins Unearthed

NEW DELHI (AP) — Gold coins bearing the figures of Roman Queen Faustina were unearthed recently at Nagarjunakonda in Andhra State of India. They were seen as additional evidence that the Latin and the Sanskrit civilizations existed side by side 2,000 years ago.

Indian historians writing in newspapers here said that Andhra State in South India and the Kushan Empire in North India had trade relations with the Roman Empire during the periods of Julius Caesar, Emperor Augustus, and Emperor Tiberius.

They said these gold coins were relics of payments made by Rome for pearls, ivory, silk, perfumes and even peacocks and monkeys imported from the Andhra Empire in South India.

Art Invades The Kitchen

AP Newsfeatures

HOW KITCHENS have changed since the days when Grandma was a girl!

Color and design have invaded the modern kitchen, changing it from a strictly utilitaritn work shop to the most cheerful room in the house. Gone are the dingy, dull pots and pans of a generation ago. Gone are the antiseptic white walls and appliances of the kitchenette era. Today's kitchens are designed with an eye to color as well as convenience. Walls may be mellow knotty pine. Appliances may be any color of the rainbow. And pots and pans can be works of art.

Kithcen utensils are kept on display these days, as part of the decorating scheme. Some homemakers like the warm gleam of copper pans on the wall. Other like the new decorated porcelain enamels, which now come in a wide range of colors sporting gay designs such as game birds, fruit and flowers.

Today's housewife may select porcelain enameled pots and pans to match her range, refrigerator and other appliances — pink, blue, aqua, yellow or even bright red. She can plan her own kitchen color scheme, and find all the utensils and appliances she needs in the tones of her choice. No wonder today's kitchen is the favorite gathering spot for all the family, as well as the guests.

Women Hope To Run Town

BUFFALO, W. Va., (AP) —Buffalo housewives aided by some — not all — of their husbands are on the warpath with a full slate of female nominees against perennial male officeholders.

"The weeds are over our heads, sidewalks all broken — things are terrible," says Mrs. Norma Warner, who heads the slate of nominees opposing the administration of Mayor Vernon D. Pigg.

"All we want to do is make Buffalo a better place to live," Mrs. Warner said.

"Last time there was supposed to be an election," said Mrs. Warner, "they just got together and appointed each other."

Among the five women for council is Miss Caroline Frazier, a retired school teacher confined to a wheelchair.

She names among planks in the women's platform better fire protection, natural gas service, extension of telephone service and reduced water rates.

"Faust," adopted by Gounod from Goethe's play, has been performed more times than any other opera.

Dame Ethel Plays Part Of Hostess

That's the kind of a dame Ethel Merman is.

Having portrayed "The Hostess with the Mostest" a few years ago in the Broadway hit "Call Me Madam," she feels a sense of responsibility to live up to the role in which she scored such a sensational success.

"This is real hostess most, honey," she said, settling back in a comfortable chair in the tiny but air-cinditioned living room of her dressing room suite backstage at the Majestic Theater in New York, where nightly she's whooping it up in the hit musical "Happy Huntin'." "Believe me, I love this town, and if they want me to head up their receiving line I'm going to give it everything I've got."

La Merman, you see, will be official hostess for New York City's Summer Festival this year. As such she will dedicate buildings, make television appearances, give the glad hand to summer visitors and otherwise comport herself in true "mostest hostess" style.

"I'm committed to stay with this show until 1958," said Merman, "so I'll be right here, singing my head off every night and twice on Wednesdays. The management of the show already has spent 10 grand on promotion to benefit all Broadway shows this summer. I tell everybody, 'Be sure to come to New York this summer and drop in and see me at the Majestic'."

The session ended Wednesday.

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Meddling is one of the worst vices I can think of. You can't be electrocuted or even imprisoned for it, but goodness only knows the results often are more devastating than theft or drunkeness.

The meddling, gossiping, trouble-maker reaps havoc wherever she goes and her maliciousness cannot be confined to one or two persons selected as a target.

A meddling nature is a corrupt one and gossip is a poisonous venum that withers lives and dreams, hopes and happiness; it is a venum for which there is no antidote.

Habits are acquired from parents. What a responsibility to live purely th our teen-agers w mature into lovable fair minded, just people!

What a priceless virtue to be able to keep one's own counsel, staying quietly on the sidelines in matters that do not concern us!

For some people, the world concerns them. Minding everyone else's business is their responsibility they feel because they are certain they know best.

What a fallacy. God gave life to each person, and a soul to each After adulthood is reached that life and that soul are the responsibility of each individual, himself.

It is natural to hold opinions, but it is unjust to force them down the throats of another. Each person is entitled to do his own thinking and make his own decisions, and see matters from his own viewpoint.

Meddling, in many ways is as bad as murder because it takes an astounding toll in the wrecking of people's lives. No one is an all-seeing junior God who alone "knows best."

Teenagers should be taught by example to see that their own lives are well handled. When this is the case, there is little time to mix up the affairs of others.

Advice is about the only thing that is given away free, and usually it is worth exactly what you pay for it. Stop handing it out unasked for, and keep the love and respect of friends and relatives.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

..THE ONLY MAJOR COACHING change in District 3-AAA for next year that we know of is at Colorado City where a new basketball mentor has been hired.

Homer Jefferson, 29-year Sul Ross ex, is the new Colorado City sage coach.

Jefferson takes over from Ronald Servies who was fired after last season's play.

Jefferson has been at Caldwell High School the past three years. Caldwell, under Jefferson, won two District 2-AA championships.

The remainder of the head coachin- ranks in 3-AAA next year apparently will be the same as last year.

Time Well Spent

Milton Ham, the all - around Tiger athlete the past three years, believes his duties with the football team was time well spent.

Ham, as you know, has signed a "Letter of Intent" to attend TCU on a football scholarship.

The scholarship, which calls for tuition, room and board, and $10 per month for laundry for four years, is worth more than many might think.

Ham completed six years of schoolboy football here last fall which began in the seventh grade.

Milton, holding the TCU letter in his hand, said, "the way I have it figured out, the time I've spent in practices and in games, this scholarship is worth $1.75 per hour for those six years."

Something To Shoot For

This is something you young athletes here might well keep in mind. These kind of dividends can come your way not only in football but other sports as well if you work at it hard enough.

The going may get rough at times but those who stick it out are the ones who "reap the harvest."

More and more Tigers are now getting college scholarships through their athletic abilities and this should encourage our youngsters coming up to follow in their footsteps.

We might call your attention to the very important City League game tomorrow night involving Hermleigh and Sun Oil.

These two clubs play very good baseball and the pressure will be on both teams tomorrow night. Neither can afford to lose and remain in the fight for the first half pennant.

Texas Minors Down At Gate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Early season attendance at minor league baseball games is ahead of the 1956 figure, George M. Trautman said today.

The president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues said a survey of 26 of the 28 loops under his jurisdiction showed 14 had boosted attendance and 12 had declined for the period through May 31.

A year ago the "gate" up to May 31 was 4,078,469, as compared with 4,180,426, an increase of 101,957 for the current campaign. Most spectacular gain was in the Mexican League, where the attendance of 542,441 is 179,250 over the corresponding period of last season.

Leagues showing gains include the Sooner State. Decreases were shown by the Texas, Western, Big State and Southwestern loops.

Sizzling Cards Take NL Lead

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals finally have the National League lead in hand.

With a .750 winning percentage over the last month, they've risen all the way from sixth place while the rest of the contenders were playing musical chairs with first-division berths.

They were 8½ games off the pace when they started to move. Since then they've won 21 of 28 games.

Murry Dickson, a 40-year-old right-hander, held Pittsburgh in check yesterday on seven hits before tiring and giving way to relief help in the eighth while the Cards built a 7-4 victory.

New York's Giants opened the door for the Cardinals, ending Milwaukee's seven-day stay in first place with a 12-inning, 4-3 victory for the Braves' fourth defeat in the last five games.

Cincinnati regained third place, 1½ games back, by belting Brooklyn 6-1. Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-2.

In the American League, New York's second-place Yankees look to be on the threshold of first place, running their winning streak to seven games with a 3-1 victory over Detroit while Baltimore trimmed Chicago's first place lead to 1½ games with a 4-1 decision. The White Sox open a four-game series in New York tonight.

Boston defeated Cleveland 9-7 and Washington beat Kansas City 9-4.

The Cardinals, swinging for nine hits and getting two RBIs from Al Dark, scored three in the third against ex-mate Luis Arroyo on singles by Dark and Ken Boyer and a double play. They scored the two that clinched it in the fifth without a hit — on a walk and two errors. Stan Musial doubled to extend his hitting streak to 20 games.

Johnny Antonelli, Danny O'Connell and Bobby Thomson, all ex-Braves, each drove in a run as the sixth-place Giants, who have won seven of their last nine, took the series 2-1. Ray Crone won the opener. Antonelli's sacrifice fly beat Taylor Phillips in the rubber game.

The Redlegs clumped five runs in the fourth inning to beat the Brooks and Roger Craig. Gus Bell homered to open the big frame and Wally Post socked a grand-slammer to cap it. Brooks Lawrence won his sixth.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix won his fifth for the Phils, driving in two runs. He struck out seven, walked only one. Gran Hamner hit a bases-loaded triple in a clinching four-run sixth inning.

Singles by Bob Boyd, Al Pilarcik and Jim Busby counted two first-inning runs for the Orioles, who added two more in the secind against loser Bill Fischer. Billy Loes won his seventh.

The Yankees, who had won only two of eight from Detroit before the three-game series, handed Frank Lary his eighth defeat, scoring the clincher in the sixth on Bill Skowron's double and Gil McDougald's single. Bob Turley won his third.

Dave Sisler made his lifetime record 6-1 against Cleveland as Boston's Billy Klaus, Jackie Jenson and Sammy White backed him up with two runs batted in each. Early Wynn lost his eighth.

Aggies Lose Four Players On Grades

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Texas A&M lost four football players because of scholastic difficulties.

Harold Price of Comanche, letterman guard; Dick Goff of Houston, 1956 squadman, and halfback James Frost of San Diego and guard James Farmer of Dallas, both freshmen, were the players failing to pass the necessary hours in their school work during the second semester.

Dee Fondy's Eye Is 'Clearing Up'

FOR FIRST HALF

Dodgers Finish Unbeaten In Pony

The Scurry Butane Dodgers blanked the Line and Line Yankees of Ira, 11-0, to finish unbeaten in the first half of play in the Pony League last night at Towle Park.

In the other half of the twinbill, the Court House Tigers ran into unexpected trouble but managed to emerge with a 10-7 victory over the Hermleigh Cardinals.

The Tigers had to come from behind twice to capture their fifth decision in seven starts.

The Cardinals scored three runs in the first inning to lead the Tigers until the fourth inning. The Tigers cut the difference to one run in the third with a two-run rally, 3-2, and then took the lead, 6-3, with a four-run uprising in the fourth.

But Hermleigh retailiated in the fifth to score four of its own to regain the lead, 7-6.

The Tigers, however, were not to be denied as they came right back in top of the sixth to score four more runs to take the lead never to be headed.

Mike Morris, who finished up on the mound for the Tigers, got two hits to lead the Tigers at the plate. Morris, the third Tiger pitcher, came on with two on and nobody out in the seventh and he respond d by retiring the side with no further damage.

Ken Bell was the top Hermleigh hitter with two hits in four trips.

Larry Patterson hurled a three-hitter to lead the unbeaten Dodgers past the Yankees.

After being held scoreless by Eddie loyd for two innings, the Dodgers opened their attack in the third with a four run spree and then added three in the fourth and four more in the fifth to turn the game into a rout.

John Weaver drove in three Dodger runs in the fifth with a homerun. Weaver also got a got a double in the fourth.

In tonight's game, the Tigers and Lions Club Phillies clash at 7 with the Red Sox and Cardinals to follow.

Tonight's games will wind up the first half. The Dodgers have already clinched the first half title. Tonight's two games will help settle the No. 2 position in the standings with the Tigers and Red Sox involved in the battle for the runnerup spot.

The Tigers currently are in second place with a 5-2 record while the Red Sox are 3-2. A Tiger loss tonight and a Red Sox win would move t e latter into second place.

Coe Moves Into Q-Finals

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Charley Coe, the Walker Cup captain who's after his fifth Trans-Mississippi golf championship, marches against one of eight collegians left in the field today as he clashes with confident young Jim Hiskey.

The Oklahoma City former National Amateur king may run into more than he can handle against Hiskey, the Pocatello, Idaho, 20-year-old who is one of the top men of University of Houston's National Collegiate champions.

In the feature match of the lower bracket, Rex Baxter Jr. of Amarillo, Tex., a member of the Walker Cup team, takes on a former collegian—George Toms of Durham, N. C. Baxter is another University of Houston star.

Coe moved into the third round yesterday with a 2-up victory over tenacious Frank Redman of El Paso, Tex., shooting a one-over-par 72 to do it. Baxter scored a 3 and 2 triumph over John Farquhar, also of Amarillo.

Hiskey was turning in one of the best rounds of the day as he carded a 69 in taking out veteran Herb Durham of Dallas 2 and 1.

Get Some Teeth Yanked Out

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you lonely? Is it difficult for you to make friends: When at a party, do you find it hard to strike up a conversation?

If your answer to these questions is "yes," by all means go to your dentist, have him pull some of your teeth and put in a denture.

When word of this gets around, you will be amazed at the change in your life. Overnight you will find you have acquired a new and more winning personality. People who overlooked you before will look up to you now. After all, now you are a man with a denture. You're a somebody!

A man whose hair falls out usually is rewarded with jibes and jeers and small sympathy. But a man who loses his teeth — for some reason I still can't figure out—is regarded as a kind of hero, a wounded veteran in the battle of life. The world is suddenly on his side.

When I had four front teeth week, I feared that when I showed up at the office with my new false choppers I'd be a figure of public ridicule.

Well, sir, it was just the other way. I couldn't have got a more heart-warming reception.

It seems the greatest secret society in the world is the society of people who wear false teeth. Once you join this elect group you can never be lonely again. You are henceforth and forever a member of the elite. You belong. You leave the lowly steak mob and join the chicken a la king set —a group apart from the gum-chewing herd.

The password of this elect society is, "You show me your denture, and I'll show you mine."

In the last several days at least 50 dignified men have come up to me, inspected my new teeth, murmured "Hmmm, not bad," then clawed at their face, pulled out their own dental hardware, and said, "What do you think of mine?"

Lifelong enemies, after we have compared dentures, have suddenly announced, "Pal, if you're too strapped to pay your dentist, I'll be glad to lend you any amount you need. I have been through it myself."

Several girls, overcome by my new dazzling porcelain smile, have confided that anytime I want to run away from home they will drop their present jobs and beaux and gallop off with me.

Of course, there are minor drawbacks. At first you feel like you have a mouthful of marbles and you develop a lisp. The lisp then gives way to an unexpected whistle.

Take a tip from me. If you want to know real adventure, get yourself a denture. Have your teeth pulled now. My only regret is I didn't have my own pulled out at 21.

Cotton Week Is Observed

HARLINGEN (AP) — The Cotton Week celebration came off today after being rained out two days in a row.

Members of the Harlingen Chamber of Commerce cotton committee watched the rain 30 minutes yesterday before calling off the three scheduled events.

The parade, a cotton style show and auctioning of the first bale of cotton grown in the United States this year, originally were scheduled Wednesday.

But Vernon Murphy, chairman of the committee, promised the style show and auction would come off today rain or shine. He said if it rained again he'd cancel the parade and move the other two events inside.

Cotton Week started June 11 with arrival of the first bale, grown by Luther Pullin of McAllen. Pullin will be presented with a check for $1,500 and has been guaranteed at least $1,000 for the bale in the auction.

Humphrey Is Stopped In Speed Zone

CLEVELAND (AP)—A traffic policeman who stopped Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey in a radar speed zone kept him waiting for 20 minutes while he ticketed other cars without knowing who the secretary was, it was learned last night.

Sgt. Sam Dinardo of the Cleveland Heights Police Department, checking the speed zone earlier this week, had stopped two offenders when a call came from a radar car that a limousine with Washington license plates was clocked at 35 miles an hour in the 25-mile zone.

The sergeant stopped the big car and then proceeded to ticket the first two cars. Twenty minutes later he walked over to the limousine and asked the distinguished man behind the wheel for his driver's license. The man explained that in changing trousers at his home in nearby Mentor the night before he had left his wallet with the license in the other trousers. He then identified himself as the Secretary of the Treasury.

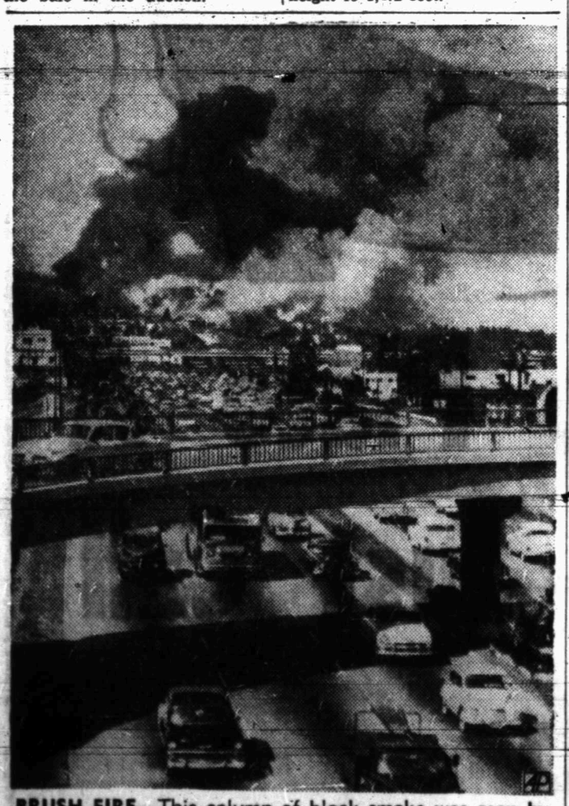

Humphrey's chauffeur confirmed the story and explained the secretary was hurrying to catch a plane. Sgt. Dinardo let Humphrey drive on.

"I guess I was overawed," the sergeant explained last night. "I know I'll catch the devil from motorists I've ticketed. I just hope they understand."

Talks Are Resumed

DALLAS (AP)— Talks aimed at settling a week-old walkout at the Ford Motor Co. assembly plant were resumed today. The union contends certain workers were given too heavy a work load.

Only five miles from the center of Johannesburg, South Africa is one of the deepest gold mines in the world — 9,785 feet as compared to the Empire State Building's height fo 1,472 feet.

BRUSH FIRE—This column of black smoke was seen by Los Angeles motorists on the Harbor Freeway during 100-degree plus weather. The brush fire was one of several brush and grass fires which broke out during the current heat wave. This one was burning in Chavez Ravine, the projected site of the ball park the city intends to build for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Program Tonight To End Bible School

A special program for parents and families of children enrolled in the joint vacation Bible school of the Grace Lutheran and St. John's Episcopal churches will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The program will be at St. John's, where the sessions have been held.

A total of 36 children from three to 12 years old will participate in the program of songs and skits which they have learned in the school. There will also be on display activity projects of the children in the educational building.

The program will be preceded by devotionals by both pastors, the Rev. Walter L. Lentz of Grace Lutheran and the Rev. Donald N. Hungerford of St. John's. A social hour for members of both churches will follow the program.

Group To Attend National Meeting

Six members of the Northside Baptist Church left today to attend the meeting of the American Baptist Association in Fresno, Cal.

They are the Rev. Jack Dean, pastor, Mrs. Dean, Jackie Dean, Charlsey Lingle, Eldon Fowler, and Frankie Younger. Rev. and Mrs. Dean and Fowler are messangers from the church here.

The American Baptist Association is the national association of more than 3,000 Missionary Baptist churches.

Graham May Take Regular TV Spot

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham may be thinking of a regular television pulpit, once his New York crusade is over.

Although the evangelist hasn't said so, there have been hints in that direction. And he says he has been deeply impressed by the results of his current weekly TV appearances.

A weekly flood of 50,000 letters from across the country has followed the three Saturday night crusade meetings televised so far. Many are from persons saying that hearing him won them to Christian faith.

"The possibilities are tremendous," he said last night.

Graham has said he has other plans in this area after the crusade closes July 21, but isn't ready to make them public. A crusade official, asked last night if Graham might continue his TV preaching beyond the crusade, said: "It's liable to be. You can't tell. There's a terrific interest in this thing."

As for the Madison Square Garden crusade, attendance for the past week has been down an average of more than 1,000 below the near-capacity level of the previous four weeks, but officials said it's a customary—but temporary —midway dip.

"It's a normal lull," said Willis G. Haymaker, a Graham team executive. He said a small drop about halfway through crusades has been a characteristic pattern, then the numbers shoot up again.

Even with the slackening off the nightly audiences still are huge ones—16,000 last night—and the record for attendance and "decisions for Christ" surpasses anything yet in Graham's career of evangelism.

"We've seen twice as many give their lives to Christ in these five weeks as in any whole crusade we've ever conducted in the United States," he said.

Largest previous number was 9,000 in six weeks in Portland, Ore., compared with the 20,611 here in five weeks, 559 of them last night. The total also exceeds that for a six-week period of Graham's London crusade, where he often held several meetings a day instead of only one.

In his sermon, based on Daniel 5 and Gallatians 6:7, Graham said that many people feel that "somehow God will overlook" their sins.

In self-pride, he said, "you think that you're a pretty good guy, and that God's judgment will fall on the other man, but not on you.

"But God says, Be sure your sin will find you out.

"You can go on sinning and think that at the last moment God will forgive you. But if you have opportunity after opportunity to come to Christ, and refuse time after time, the chances of finally receiving him on your deathbed are remote.

"How many of you are headed to judgment and destruction and hell because of your refusal to come to God!"

"How many men—strong men—have laughed at the idea of Christ. Then when they lay dying, they cringe, cry like babies and scream 'Have mercy, oh God'!"

MacArthur Invited

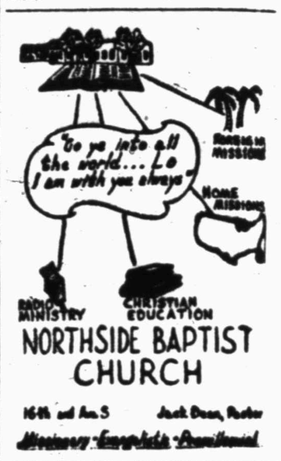

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has been invited to attend the unveiling of his statue in the port city of Inchon Sept. 15.

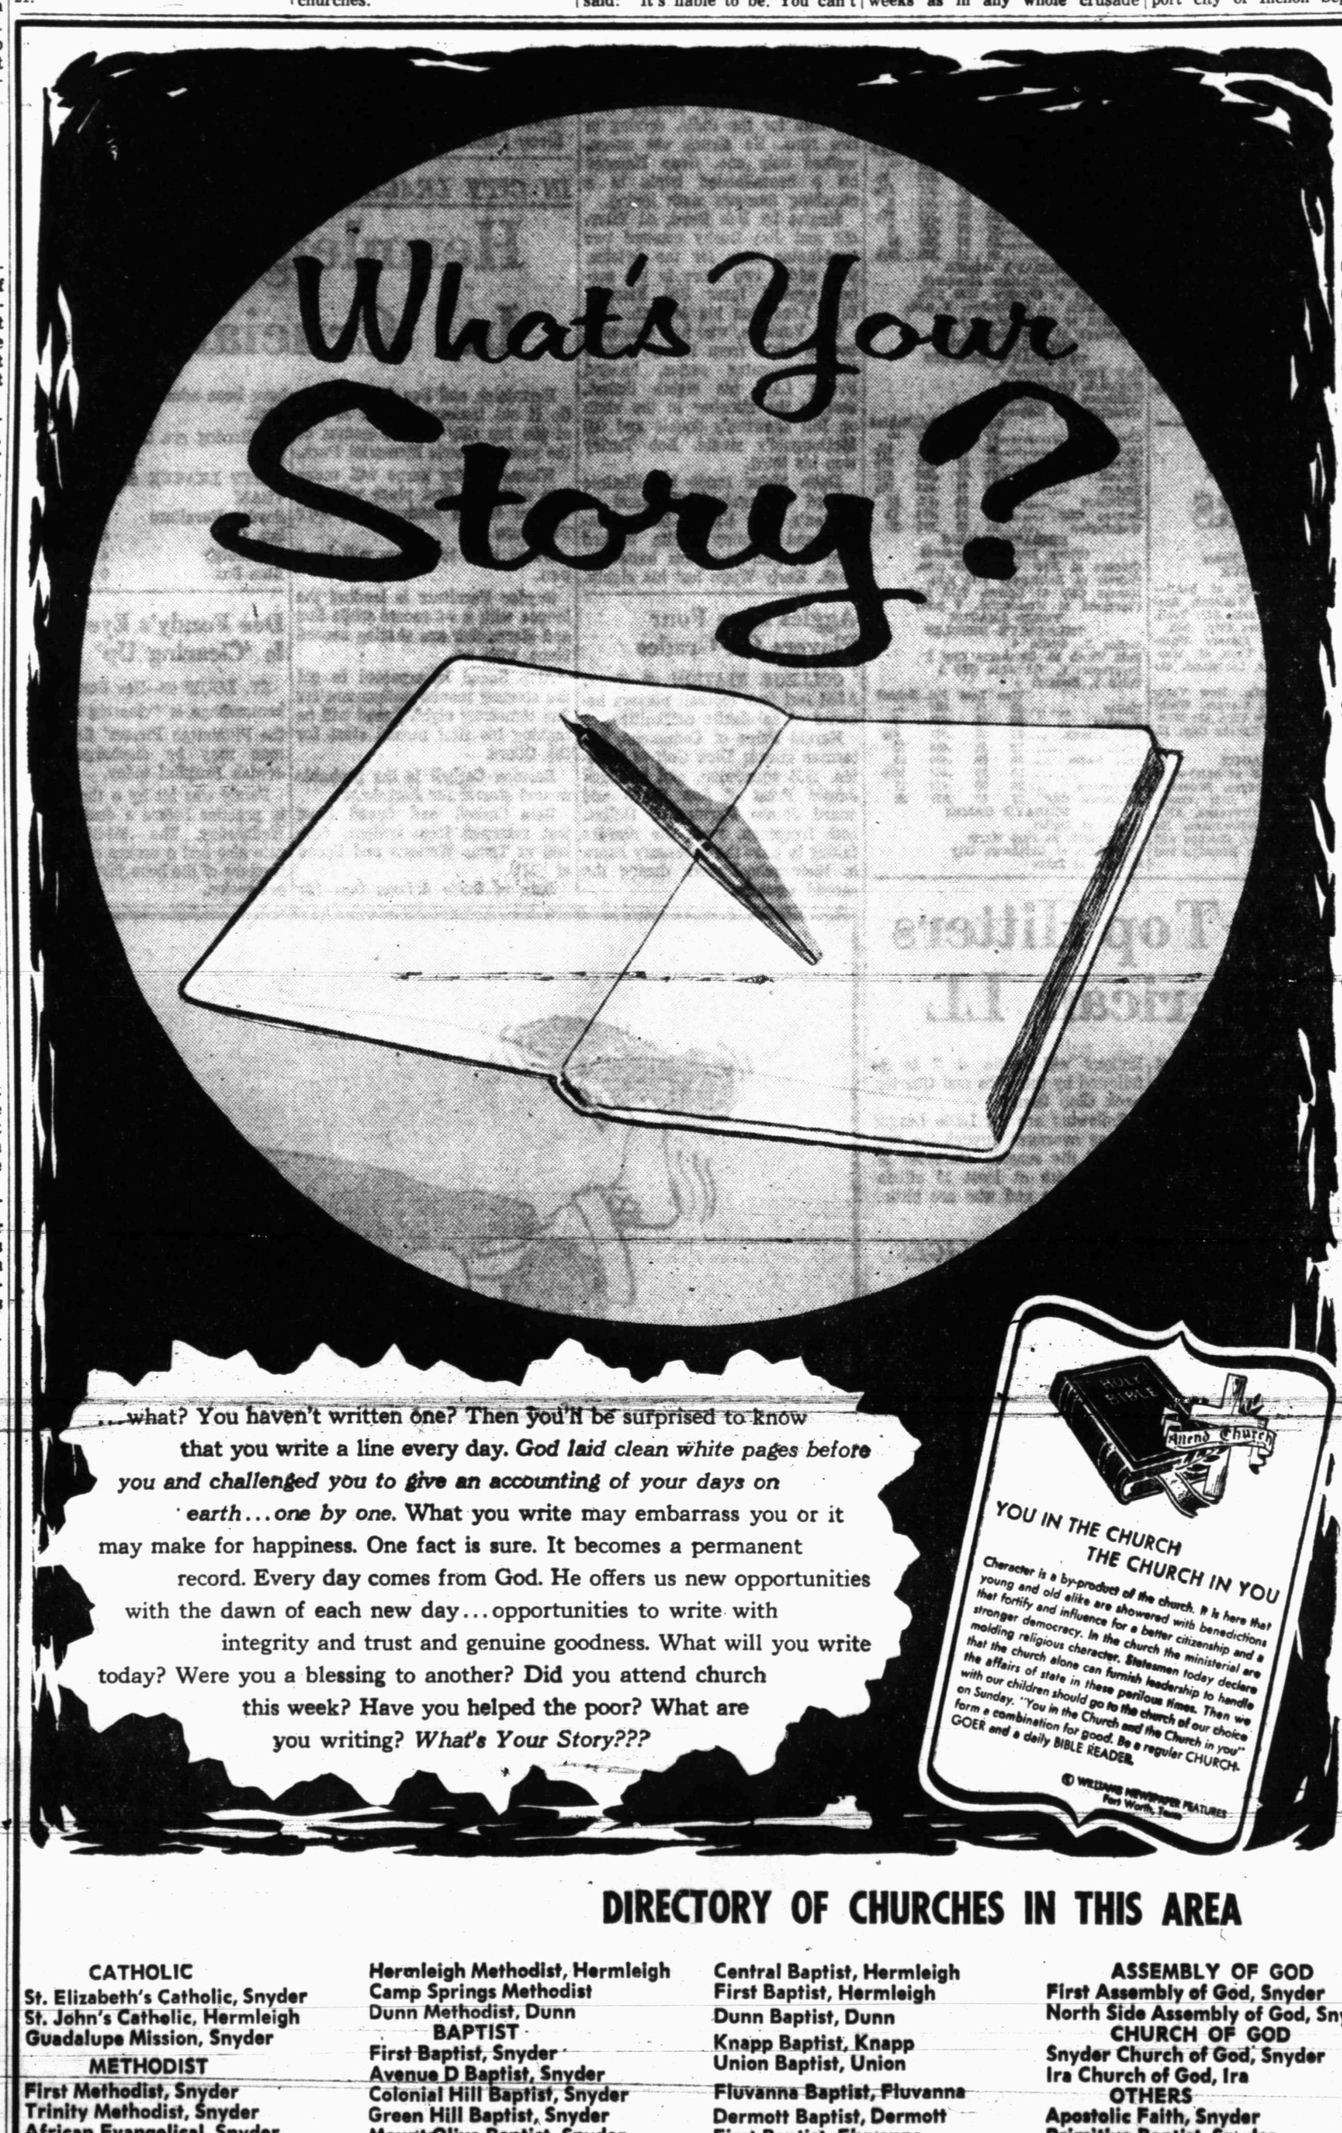

Australian Tour By Graham Is Welcomed

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Leading Protestant churchmen have welcomed a proposal for an Australian tour by American evangelist Billy Graham.

Bishop H. G. Hilliard, Church of England bishop of Sydney, said today he will pray for the success of Graham's visit. "We will be most happy to welcome him," the bishop said.

Jerry Beavan, a close friend of Graham, is expected to arrive in Australia in July to discuss plans for a crusade with leading churchmen.

...what? You haven't written one? Then you'll be surprised to know that you write a line every day. God laid clean white pages before you and challenged you to give an accounting of your days on earth...one by one. What you write may embarrass you or it may make for happiness. One fact is sure. It becomes a permanent record. Every day comes from God. He offers us new opportunities with the dawn of each new day...opportunities to write with integrity and trust and genuine goodness. What will you write today? Were you a blessing to another? Did you attend church this week? Have you helped the poor? What are you writing? What's Your Story???

Humble Celebrates Its 40th Birthday

Humble Oil and Refining Co. is celebrating its 40th birthday.

The firm came into corporate existence 40 years ago this month, the pooled properties and experience of a group of poineer Texas oilmen who believed in themselves, each other and the future.

Without a charter of a single signature the company began its operation on March 1, 1917, under a gentlemen's agreement among the principals. For three months and three weeks, until the charter was received on June 21, exactly 40 years ago today, oral promises and individual integrity preserved a merger that involved $8-million in properties and a net daily production of some 8,800 barrels of oil.

The original incorporators were W. S. Farish, who was one day to become chairman of the board of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey; R. L. Blaffer, a railroad man who soon found himself in the oil business instead, and W. W. Fondren, who started in the oil business at Corsicana with a drilling rig purchased from money saved when he worked there as a roustabout. The Sterling family, Ross S. Sterling, Frank P. Sterling and Miss Florence Sterling, organized the old Humble Oil Co. from which the present organization took its name.

The company started out with one "washpot" refinery at Humble, Tex., which processed 300 gallons of gasoline a day from oil out of a single well. The marketing division, a model T truck, picked up each day's product at the refinery and hauled it into Houston for sale to "filling stations."

Two years later, the big refinery at Baytown was started. It started operation in 1920 with a rated capacity of 10,000 barrels, but by 1927 it was up to 100,000 barrels. In 1926 the sales volume passed the 2½-million gallons per month mark.

After some retrenchment during the depression, Humble production reached a high of 308,000 barrels per day in 1944, as the company rose to the challenge of war time demands. In the war period, Humble's refining capacity increased from 169,000 to 224,000 barrels per day.

In 1943, Humble achieved a position it has held ever since — America's largest domestic producer of crude oil. Also, since World War II, Humble has moved into first place in gasoline sales in Texas, a position it has held since 1951.

Debate Of Hells Canyon Goes On

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The Idaho Power Co., in all its 40 years of existence, never heard a protest against the 11 major hydro-electric dams it built . . . not until Hells Canyon.

But since it applied to build three dams, Brownlee, Oxbow and Hells Canyon, in that stretch of the Snake River bordering Idaho and Oregon, its soft-spoken, 57-year-old president, Thomas E. Roach, feels like a Boise-to-Washington commuter.

"It seems I've spent most of my time this past six years in Washington," he said in an interview. He said he hadn't "the remotest idea" how many times he testified before various government agencies.

The Senate is debating a bill to authorize construction of a federal dam in Hells Canyon, the deepest canyon in the continent. The federal dam would flood out Brownlee, Oxbow and Hells Canyon dams. Brownlee Dam is half finished.

Idaho Power got tax amortization certificates entitling it to write off in five years, as depreciation for income tax purposes, a portion of the cost of Brownlee and Oxbow. Public power advocates called this an interest-free loan to Idaho Power.

Last night Roach wired the Office of Defense Mobiliz tion director, Gordon Gray, who granted the certificates, that his company was rejecting the certificates and would go ahead without them so as to "eliminate further beclouding of real issues" in the Hells Canyon debate.

In an interview before he acted to return the certificates, Roach said: "We face an extremely acute power situation in our area, and it will be catastrophic by next summer if anything happens to our plans for Brownlee.

"In all the Pacific Northwest, the area served by Idaho Power Co. is the only one that has never had a power shortage . . . Left to our own devices we have managed by hook for crook to maintain that proud boast."

Until recently, Idaho Power depended on the state's rivers alone for the power to serve its 125,000 widely scattered customers. But two years ago it started buying steam-generated power from the Utah Power and Light Co. as a temporary measure. The contract expires this summer and Utah Power needs that generating capacity.

Roach, a Midwesterner, was in the electric power business in New York, Oregon and Washington before becoming president of Idaho Power in 1948.

Since that time the company has quadrupled its generating capacity from less than 100,000 to 375,000 kilowatts.

And it claims the three Hells Canyon dams would nearly double this output.

Idaho Power Co. was formed in 1916 from the wreckage of five smaller companies which were either in receivership or on the rocks financially.

Today, it serves an area stretching 400 miles from west to east and taking in most of southern Idaho plus a good chunk of eastern Oregon and a few ranches in northern Nevada.

The company's board of directors is made up of 14 southern Idaho and eastern Oregon men, headed by Boise department store magnate C. C. Anderson.

Transfer Of Groups To Dyess Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force plans to send the 11th Bomb Wing from Carswell Air Force Base to Altus, Okla., AFB and transfer the 96th Bomb Wing from Altus to Dyess AFB at Abilene.

The Air Force said yesterday it plans to transfer the 11th, equipped with B52s from Carswell to Altus after Dec. 1. Involved will be 244 officers and 1,600 airmen.

The 96th Bomb Wing, equipped with B47s, will move to the Abilene base at the "earliest practicable date" after Sept. 1. Involved will be 325 officers and 1,330 airmen.

No reason was given for the transfers.

Man Is Killed In Boating Accident

DALLAS (AP)—A boat accident at Mountain Creek Lake last night took the life of Harvey Swanson, 32, of Grand Prairie. He was operating a boat pulling his brother, Verlin, 18, on water skis.

Officers said Verlin fell off the skis and when Harvey Swanson turned the boat, it went out of control and he was thrown overboard, drowning.

Work Of Solons Summed Up Here

THE RECENTLY-COMPLETED session of the Texas Legislature was a constructive one, opined Robert R. Patterson of Snyder, state representative for this district, in a talk at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club yesterday.

Patterson gave the group a summary of activities of the Legislature in its session.

During the session, the Legislature appropriated over $2 billion for operation of the state for the next two years, about a one-fourth increase over the past budget. About one-third of this will go to operation of schools, another third to the highway department for maintenance and building, the rest to other state operations.

• • •

THE LEGISLATIVE GROUP passed about 528 out of more than 1,500 bill considered.

The increase in appropriations, Patterson said, came as a natural result of the growth of the state. The state has a growing population and economy, and with this it takes more money to operate the state. The state recently passed the nine million mark in population, and it is estimated that it will reach 14 million within the next few years. At that figure, it will be at the average density of the U.S.

Patterson said he believed the state has a very good system of taxation, taxing its natural resources and having sales taxes in addition to property taxes. One small raise in taxes will be a slinge increase in the auto registration fee next year, with the extra money to go into a highway right-of-way fund.

• • •

Constitutional amendments coming up for the vote of Texans include one on a $100 million bond issue for funds to be used on small dams in Texas, raising the state old age pension, and one proposing annual sessions for the Legislature and pay of $7,500 annually to legislators. Patterson, who served on the constitutional amendments committee, said the annyal session feature is more important than the money, but he added that legislators on annual salaries could much better represent their districts.

• • •

Under present conditions, the Legislature has problems like that of the session just past. The session ran the statutory 120 days, for which legislators were paid, and then three more weeks, for which they were not paid.

During the session, Patterson sponsored the bill on raising judiciary pay, which was passed. That included raising the pay of district judges from $9,000 to $12,000. The pay of some other state employes was raised during the session. The minimum pay for teachers was raised $399 annually. Many state department heads got pay raises. Other state employes, however, got only token raises and still need to be raised, Patterson said.

Changes in the election code were made to eliminate the small block on the ballot. Under the code being used, the voter has the choice of using the scratch method of voting or checking in the block beside the name. That cause much confusion, and the change in the code brought back the scratch method only.

• • •

There will be no more congress-House of Representatives from Texas. The Legislature made changes in congressional districts, providing for growing populations. Scurry County was moved from the congressional district represented by George Mahon to that represented by Omar Burleson. That came about because of the rapid growth in population in Mahon's district.

• • •

On the question of segregation, the body passed two out of 12 bills submitted by East Texans. Both of those passed were directed to the local option idea brought about in the state.

The Legislature established a long-needed system of probation and parole, the representative said, providing for a paid officer for every senatorial district, with those paroled from prison to report to the officer, who helps them find jobs and works with them in other ways. The body also established a commision on alcoholism.

Revisions were made in juvenile laws, including making provisions for parents being held liable for up to $300 in damages by youths. Minors are also held responsible for traffic violations. Changes were made in the drivers license laws for youths.

Haul From Raid Will Be Dumped

GALVESTON (AP)— Texas Rangers stowed gambling equipment seized in a closed night club into barges to be dumped into the Gulf today.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, in town for a few hours as his campaign against Galveston area vice proceeded, watched three loads of slot machines and other paraphernalia readied for disposal. He left this morning.

Rangers seized nearly 2,000 slot machines Wednesday night in the old Hollywood Club, shut down by court order nearly 20 years ago. Some were old and apparently unused since the place closed. Others were new and modern.

The officers started hauling the devices away and burning them at the city dump yesterday. After learning bonfires after midnight were prohibited by city ordinance, they switched to the barges.

Rangers said at least some newer slot machines probably were among those spirited away from night spots in advance of a wide-scale raid planned and then cancelled as word of the impending vice crackdown got around two weeks ago. It was estimated the seized stuff was worth up to one million dollars.

Court Has Problem On Drunk Driving

CHICAGO (AP)—A young lady has posed an interesting court problem: Can she be accused of drunk driving if a companion was steering her weaving automobile while she operated the gas pedal?

This circumstance came out in Traffic Court yesterday when Judge Eugene L. Wachowski ordered a July 18 hearing for Priscilla Bowman, 20.

She was arrested on the South Side May 23. The arresting officer's report stated: "Driving vehicle with passenger steering same." The passenger was not identified.

The officer said Miss Bowman stated that it's dangerous for a person who's been drinking to drive.

Nerves Soothed After Wife Has First Child

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Things started happening for W. B. Beavers at 8:30 a.m. yesterday. His wife gave birth then to a son, their first child.

Soothing his nerves, Beavers played a round of golf. His tee shot on the 274-yard par four, 12th hole rolled in for a hole-in-one.

His playing partners were excited too. Lewis King got an eagle two, J. D. White, Earl Hanes and club pro Ernie Edwards had birdies.

Cracker To Go Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cracker, a tan and white cat who is the sometime house pet of the Rep. Chamberlain" (R-Mich) family, returns to Washington today.

The reunion of Cracker and the three Chamberlain children won't be the first one.

The family said the footloose feline left the Chamberlain home in nearby Arlington, Va., last January, and later turned up at Chamberlain's home in East Lansing, Mich.

Last week, Cracker was traveling in the Chamberlain station wagon on the way to Washington after a brief visit in Michigan.

The cat started roaming again, leaving the car during a stopover on the Ohio Turnpike.

After arriving in Washington, Chamberlain wrote Ohio Turnpike authorities and gave Cracker's description. The errant cat was located, and is being shipped back by air.

Actress And Hubby Are Not Separated

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Terry Moore's husband says that he and the young actress—who sued him for divorce Monday—aren't separated.

There "has been no separation of the parties," claimed Charles Eugene McGrath, 35, in filing his answer to Miss Moore's suit.

The actress admitted to a newsman yesterday that sl. didn't know "what will happen" in her divorce suit, which accused the wealthy Panamanian businessman of gambling and "illicit relations" with women.

State Demo Factions Getting Ready For Bitter '58 Battle

AUSTIN (AP)—The two embittered factions of the Democratic Party in Texas are stockpiling ammunition for another bloody battle in 1958.

The State Democratic Executive Committee, made up mostly of conservatives, let it be known officially that J. J. (Jake) Pickle, an expert on strategy and organization, has gone to work full time lining up the voters for next year's contests.

Right now one of the hottest appears to be the usual struggle for convention control between conservative and liberal factions from the precinct level up. And there has been a lot of speculation that Gov. Price Daniel would face stern opposition in his second-term bid for the governorship.

Pickle also was active behind the efforts of Johnson, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Daniel to win control of the September state convention in 1956. By profession, Pickle also was active behind the scenes in the combined efforts of Johnson, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Daniel to win control of the September state convention in 1956. By profession, Pickle is a public relations man.

While it has been generally known that he has been working closely with State Chairman Jim Lindsey in state party headquarters here for months, the Democratic newsletter distributed yesterday gave the first news that he was on a fulltime basis.

Pickle's title is statewide director of organization. The newsletter, official party bulletin, noted that he has worked actively in Democratic national fund-raising campaigns.

"The State Democratic Executive Committee is moving forward vigorously in its efforts to establish and maintain an effective party organization," the bulletin said.

Meetings and rallies will be held during the next few months in each state senatorial district. Sessions thus far have been to talk over preliminary plans for organiation in each precinct and county.

The newsletter also took a series of sharp digs at the rival liberal-loyalist organization, "Democrats of Texas," which is headed by National Committeewoman Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston.

She is in open conflict with the state committee, made up chiefly of Daniel's backers.

The DOT charges that the state committee was handpicked to favor conservative Daniel backers. The executive committee retorts that its majority was selected by district caucuses at the state convention last September.

The newsletter said the DOT is a "labor-dominated" group already torn by dissension and that it will not cooperate with the established state organization.

The only time in recent years that Texas liberals and conservatives have shown any semblance of pulling together was when Sen. Johnson achieved a truce long enough to give him control of the Texas delegation to the national convention in Chicago a year ago.

Traffic Accidents

HOUSTON (AP)—Two traffic accidents yesterday killed a Baytown woman and a Houston man. Mrs. Corrine Strickland, 20, died in a two-car collision. Elijah Laster, 30, was killed when his car hit a culvert.

Road Deaths Cut Sharply

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—"Wolf pack" police patrols have almost wiped out auto deaths on a perfectly engineered road that once was called "El Camino de la Muerte" — the Highway of Death.

The 65-mile stretch from Tucson to the Mexican border claimed 30 lives in the 12 months before last June 21. Since the Arizona highway patrol began its "emphasis patrol" a year ago today, only three persons have been killed.

Accidents with injuries have been cut in half.

This experiment in traffic safety, which uses roadblocks and extra patrolmen, is the brainchild of Lt. B. D. Velasco, who has been assigned to the Tucson-Nogales highway since it was modernized in 1951.

At that time the old two-lane highway was replaced with a four-lane strip. There is not a sharp turn, a blind curve or a steep hill anywhere on it.

Traffic deaths immediately began to rise. From 5 in 1949 and 4 in 1950 on the old road, they went up to 15 in 1951, then 13 in 1952, 15 in 1953, 16 in 1954 and a record-breaking 22 in 1955. Most of the crashes occurred in the hours after midnight and before dawn.

"It was like this," Velasco recalled. "Some fellows would start boozing it up in Tucson, the bars would close and someone would say: 'Let's go finish the party in Nogales.' The bars never close on the Mexican side.

"On the way back they'd all go to sleep except the drivers, and pretty soon he would go to sleep and go off the road. Someone would get killed."

The figures back him up. In 1955 twelve of the 18 fatal crashes were one-car accidents in which a tired or drunk driver "just went off the road." Some killed more than just the driver.

Velasco set up three-man roadblocks at each end of the highway on weekends from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m. No matter what hour it is, three patrolmen are always driving back and forth along 20-mile sections. On holidays, Velasco starts roadblocks in the mornings "for psychological reasons, so they know what to expect coming back."

The State Highway Commission gave him the extra patrolmen. The Tucson newspapers, the afternoon Citizen and the morning Star, ran regular stories to explain the program.

In the first year 739 drunk drivers were hauled off the road "to cool off" as Velasco says. About 6,700 citations were written and 3,477 warnings issued. More than 40,000 drivers were checked as they drove through the roadblocks.

Velasco said that many drivers tell the officers at the roadblocks that they have been stopped three or four times, "but I don't mind, keep it up."

As for the general application of his plan to the steadily mounting toll on the highways, Velasco is doubtful. It takes more than a dozen patrolmen around the clock for 65 miles, and he figures that is too much except in an emergency situation.

"But it proves that when it's the driver who's killing himself," he said, "patrols and public education will help keep him alive."

BRIDGETON, N. J. (AP) — When Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williamson heard a plane repeatedly circling low just above their roof, they ran out to see what the trouble was. They saw a fire in the chimney. They told police the pilot had apparently buzzed the house to warn them. Fire fighters quickly extinguished the blaze.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The Phoenix Gazette printed this letter from 10-year-old Barbara Blake: "I think the ice cream man goes too fast. By the time I go get my money, he has passed my house. What I would do is have the ice cream man go slower, so we can have more time to get our money."

DAUGHTER RETURNS WITH MOTHER—Christina Wennerstrom, 16, poses with her mother Mrs. Stig Wennerstrom, wife of a Swedish Air Force Attache, after Christina was found by State Police after she ran away with Huw K. Williams, a Capital page-boy and were the object of an intense search. Williams and the girl were found when he was arrested for speeding near Williamsport, Pa.

AFTER RUNNING AWAY

Swedish Girl May Return

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pretty Swedish girl—just back from a Canadian trip with a Senate page—may return to Sweden. "If she goes, I'm dead," said the boy, who has lost his page's job.

The young couple Huw Williams, 18, and Christina Wennerstrom, 16, turned up yesterday without the marriage license their families had expected. They had run away from home June 2.

Since they had been dating steadily before the disappearance, both families assumed the couple had eloped.

Early yesterday, the youngsters were picked up for speeding near Montoursville, Pa. They said they were returning home after a trip to Canada.

After first maintaining they were married, the teen-agers finally confessed they were not.

"I am glad we were caught," Christina told reporters shortly after they were picked up, "and I'm not sorry about any of it."

Christina's mother Mrs. Stig Wennerstrom flew to Pennsylvania to get her daughter, and flew the girl back here. Christina arrived clutching a teddy bear, but saying nothing. Young Williams drove back in the 1951 automobile he and Christina used on their trip.

Huw said he went by Christina's last night before going on to his own house, and that he found the girl resigned to returning to Sweden.

"When her mother called us up there (after their arrest in Pennsylvania)," Huw said, "she said she'd fix everything so we'd be happy. I knew she'd goof it."

Christina's father, a Swedish colonel, had to return to Sweden for another assignment.

Lloyd Gets Divorce

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was granted a divorce today from his young wife on the grounds of adultery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd did not contest the suit. He is 52 and she is 30.

House Telecasting Sets Off Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Continued telecasting of hearings contrary to a ruling by House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) raised the question today of whether the House Committee on Un-American Activities was in contempt of the House.

And it brought a demand for a change in House rules, which Rayburn twice has interpreted as not permitting the broadcasting or telecasting of House committee hearings in Washington or elsewhere.

An Un-American Activities subcommittee headed by Chairman Walter (D-Pa) has been conducting hearings in San Francisco this week and they have been televised. At news conferences Wednesday and again yesterday; Rayburn said this was a violation of House rules.

But the committee continued the televised hearings, Walter asserting he had received no official orders to stop the telecasts. Walter also said he had nothing to do with the television. Permission to televise, he said, was granted by "whoever runs the building."

Rayburn's position was that no official orders were needed because he said the rule against television was clearly spelled out in 1952 and again in 1955 in the records of the House.

Asked what he would do if the committee continued to ignore his ruling, Rayburn wouldn't comment other than to say: "There will not be any more House committee hearings or subcommittee hearings, in Washington or anywhere else, televised or broadcast by radio."

He obviously was provoked.

Small Dams Saves Water

MCALLEN (AP)—A small, tidewater dam below Brownsville recently rebuilt by Mexico is saving water which normally would waste into the Gulf of Mexico.

Deputy water master John Clare of McAllen said most of the 325 cubic feet per second flowing past Brownsville yesterday would be stored behind the small dam.

The earth and rock dam was washed out about two months ago when rains swelled the flow of the lower Rio Grande below Falcon Dam.

Rains in the Lower Valley the past few days put more water into the lower river. Restrictions on diversion of water were suspended Wednesday in an effort to get diverters to use more of the water.

All releases of water from Falcon Dam have been off since early Wednesday and total storage at the dam rose to 1,945,000 acre feet yesterday.

The latest figure on the U.S. share was 1,185,700 acre feet as of June 16, when total storge was 1,925,600 acre feet.

Overturning Auto

WAELDER, Tex. (AP)—An overturning car killed a San Antonio man and injured his companion early today just west of Waelder on Highway 90.

Constable Lester Ham said the driver, Jesse De La Rosa, about 30, apparently dozed. He was hurled 75 feet from the car and killed. Gonzalvo Villareal, about 20, escaped with minor injuries.

July Fourth Traffic Count Is Estimated

CHICAGO (AP) — Fourth of July highway smashups could litter the nation's 3,400,090 miles of streets and highways at the rate of one wrecked or damaged car each 20 miles.

The National Safety Council gave that estimate today of the number of smashups that could occur during the four-day holiday period unless extra caution is observed.

The council estimated there will be 45 million motor vehicles on the streets and highways during the period—an average of about 13 vehicles a mile if they all were on the road at the same time.

The council, supported by 158 national organizations, is conducting a nationwide campaign for a safe Independence Day celebration.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said: "There are two ways to hold down deaths during a holiday period such as the Fourth. One is for police to be especially alert and vigorous in enforcement, and crack down on those who refuse to listen. The other is for all of us to recognize that holidays are danger days and walk and drive in a prudent manner."

Oil Prices To Go Up

HOUSTON (AP)—Continental Oil Co. said yesterday its wholesale gasoline prices, kerosene and fuel oil prices will be increased.

Harr Kennedy, vice president, said the wholesale gasoline prices will be raised 0.2 cent per gallon, with hikes of 0.3 cent in some areas. Heavy fuel oils will be boosted five cents a gallon. The increases will be effective Monday.

Sinclair Refining made a similar increase Wednesday.

Service station operators indicated the price hikes will be passed on to consumers in increases of one-half to one cent a gallon.

"These advances in prices are brought about by recent increases in wages and salaries and other accumulated increased costs,"

Report On Paper Cover Books Given

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearly a quarter of a billion books with paper covers were sold in the United States last year.

Dan Lacy, managing director of the American Book Publishers Council, told a national meeting of librarians yesterday this is one reason the demand for fiction in libraries has fallen off.

He likened the trend to paper cover books to the advent of frozen foods in the food industry. Many people prefer paying the higher costs of buying such books to the inconvenience of procuring and returning books at a library, he said.

The Mayflower II, replica of the Pilgrims' ship, will be berthed all summer at 41st Street, New York City.

Parents Of Benny Hooper Stunned By Large Doctor Bill

MANORVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Five weeks ago the Benny Hooper story was one of unity and heroism—neighbors joining in tireless labor to free a small child from an earthen prison. Today it was a tale of division, dissension and worry.

The parents of 7-year-old Benny told newspapermen yesterday they were "stunned" to receive a bill for $1,500 from Dr. Joseph Kris, the physician who attended their son while he was trapped in a well for nearly 24 hours May 16 and 17.

The man who supervised rescue operations, Mike Stiriz, said there is bitterness over the heroic role assigned to Sam Woodson, a Negro employe of his construction firm who brought the boy out of the well. Stiriz said other men actually did more but were overlooked.

Rumors have circulated in this rural community on eastern Long Island that the Hoopers have profiteered from the sensational rescue of their son, and that all the publicity has made them snooty.

The Hoopers say the rumors are untrue, they aren't snooty, they haven't received much money, and mainly they're just worried because the near-tragedy caused them financial trouble.

"We haven't got the money, that's what's worrying us," said the father, Benjamin K. Hooper, in commenting on the doctor's bill. He takes home $62 a week as a highway work foreman. His wife makes an after-taxes $43 a week as a telephone operator, but has taken a month off to take care of Benny and rest up after her ordeal.

The Hoopers said they received thousands of letters from well-wishers, but a cash total of less than $400 in the letters.

Benny received $1,000 each for two television appearances. The Hoopers gave one check to the Manorville Fire Department, which played a big part in the rescue, and put the other in a trust fund for Benny's education.

"We're going over to see Dr. Kris. He must have been misled somewhere along the line that we received a lot of money," Hooper said.

He emphasized that he was grateful for the doctor's efforts, but said he can just about make ends meet now.

Dr. Kris, an anesthesiologist, maintained constant and apparently tireless watch over the 24-foot hole in which Benny was trapped, and supervised the successful efforts to keep the child supplied with oxygen. He attended Benny at nearby Bayview Hospital after the rescue.

He said his colleagues had told him he would be foolish not to submit a bill.

"The time I put in was eight full days and close to 100 hours," he said. "My time is worth $30 an hour. I think the bill is a fair amount to charge."

He called the bill "about one half of the amount to which I am entitled."

"I don't practice medicine for money," the gray-haired specialist said. "I practice because I love medicine. . . . If they have the money they should pay their honest bill.

"A man from Brooklyn telephoned me and offered to send a check and settle the bill. I said no. It's not a question of money, its a question of principle."

If the Hoopers felt the bill was too high, he said, "they should have gone to the grievance board of the county medical society. What they did instead was go to the newspapers."

Kris said he did not volunteer his services, but was called in by police.

Dr. Frank Calabro, head of Bayview Hospital, said, "There's no question of any bill from us."

Stiriz said he felt the doctor's bill was justified. "Just because I don't want to get paid doesn't mean the doctor shouldn't," he said. He also said he didn't think the Hoopers were "very appreciative."

The construction company head said Woodson arrived on the scene late in the rescue operation and disobeyed orders by entering the shaft to get the boy.

He said other volunteers more familiar with the situation had been selected to go in. Woodson could have imperiled the whole operation, he charged.

No immediate comment from Woodson was available.

In addition to the medical bill, the Hoopers say they have other financial woes too. Mrs. Hooper said these included: Their newly-sodded lawn and garden were wrecked by the crowds and equipment on the rescue scene; their insurance rates have been raised because so many sightseers come around; and they haven't yet recovered financially from the loss of wages in the aftermath of the ordeal.

Actor's Son Sued For Loss Of Eye

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Edward G. Robinson Jr. has been sued for $50,000 by a friend who lost an eye when Robinson's car plowed into a string of parked cars a year ago.

The 24-year-old son of the actor was convicted of drunk driving and sentenced to 60 days in jail as a result of the accident.

The damage suit was filed yesterday by Martin Barth, 36, who was a passenger in the car. He charged that Robinson drove at "a wanton and reckless rate of speed" and that he was under the influence of alcohol.

IN SMUGGLING PROBE

Archaeologist Is Arrested

CAIRO (AP)—An American archaeologist who uncovered a 40-century-old royal tomb was held by Egyptian police today after customs officials accused him of trying to smuggle four bags of antiquities out of the country.

Charles A. Muses, 38, of Indian Hills, Colo., was arrested at the Cairo International Airport last night as local newspapers published reports of his American team discoveries.

U.S. Consul Larry Roeder, present while police questioned Muses, said the case hinges on whether the archaeologist was guilty of criminal intent or just ignorant of the Egyptian law requiring a special license to export relics found in Egypt.

Roeder said the embassy was not planning any protest or intervention at present.

The law makes all antiquities the property of the state. Every find is carefully registered and put under control. Conviction of smuggling such relics could bring a penalty of two to three years in prison.

An Egyptian official said the most important items in Muses' bags were covers from four jars found in the tomb.

Police said a search of Muses' home turned up other relics, an unlicensed pistol and $4,000 which had not been declared as required by currency regulations.

Muses was being held in a compound at the Cairo police station. He is editor-publisher of the Falcon Wing Press, a firm he organized three years ago in Indian Hills to publish technical and religious books.

Cairo papers reported that the expedition he heads had discovered a 150-foot-square pyramid base at Dashour and beneath it the sarcophagus of King Ameni Amu, a hitherto unknown ruler of the 13th Dynasty, about 20 centuries before Christ.

It Would Have Been Better To Miss Game

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—It would have been better for William D. Fitch, star shortstop for the Battle Creek Elks baseball team, if the game with the Emmerson Truck and Storage nine had been rained out.

Fitch, 27, is in jail today awaiting trial on a nonsupport charge.

Police had been seeking Fitch when he appeared for the Emmerson game Wednesday.

Fitch looked at the Emmerson squad. He thought he recognized the player. The Emmerson team, composed of state and local police, recognized Fitch.

Before taking the shortstop to jail, police allowed him to complete the game, a scoreless tie, after Fitch's teammates protested his arrest would leave them with only eight players.

Not Fast Enough

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Firemen answered a call in one minute but they were too late to be of service. Elaine Young telephoned an alarm to the fire house next door when she saw venetian blinds ablaze in her kitchen. Before firemen arrived, she and the owner of the house had doused the flames with a couple of glasses of water.

IN AMERICA

Tax Collector Escapes Injury

By INEZ ROBB

Whatever became of that old-fashioned American villain of song and story, the door-to-door tax collector?

Did he ever really exist, or is he a figment of fiction? At one time in our history, did the tax collector actually go from house to house, demanding cash on the barrel head and threatening to whistle up the sheriff for action against any poor wretch in arrears?

It occurred to me the other day when I wrote a check for the June tax installment owed Uncle Sam that to my generation, now hollering up a storm about taxation, a tax collector is just a disembodied vacuum cleaner going through its pockets and not even scorning the lint.

There is a real tax rebellion in depth stirring in this country. Yet there has been no overt act to date save a tepid restaging of the Boston Tea Party. So far there has been no report of hostile or beligerent acts committed against the person of any tax collector. In short, not a single one has been roughed up.

I can't figure out whether this meek and lawful record is traceable to the fact that no American taxpayer ever sees or gets his hands on a tax collector or whether the old American spirit has been broken by ever - increasing taxation. Or it could be that the three - cent postage stamp (going, going to four) is the greatest safety invention in history for the continued health and well - being of tax collectors?

At the height of the Poujade tax rebellion in France about 18 months ago, the Poujadists often took out their resentments over assessments on the person of the poor tax collector, who was only doing what the sovereign state had hired him to do.

When the Poujade movement was at its peak, the French tax collector was frequently man-handled by mobs and run out of town. Not that I advocate tar and feathers for this servant of the state—perish forbid! But at this distance in time and space, it is interesting to contemplate whether we are a more law-abiding people than the French or merely lacking in opportunity.

No fiery leader has emerged to head an anti-tax rebellion here, as happened in France, and no segment of the population has refused to ante up the tab, whether Federal, state or local. This is all to the good. The last thing we need is a demagogue. Senator Harry F. Byrd, leading the current economy crusade, is a good, solid man with a fact, but it is hard to imagine the Virginian setting fire to a tax collector.

It is probably just as well that American taxpayers mail their payment to city, county, state and Federal collectors. It is doubtless wise to keep the matter on a impersonal basis, with the post office standing between the protagonists. Thus the frustrated taxpayer does not have to keep eternally in mind the possibility that the tax collector is somebody's father or, in these times, somebody's mother.

Death and taxes are the fate of all of us, and the chief reason you can't take it with you when the former calls is because the latter has already got it.

Water Baptism And Salvation

SALVATION IS IN CHRIST. "Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus . . . " (2Tim.2:10). On this all agree. This agreement comes when consideration is given as to "how" one enters Christ. In the face of scripture which say, "baptized into Christ," there are those who flatly deny that baptism has anything to do with entrance into Christ, "in whom" man has forgiveness (Eph.1:7).

THERE IS BUT ONE BAPTISM. A number of baptisms are mentioned in the scriptures, i.e., suffering, Holy Spirit, fire, John's, and water. Jesus fulfilled the first when He suffered on the cross; He fulfilled the second upon pentecost and at the household of Cornelius; He will fulfill the third at the judgement (Matt.3:5-12); John fulfilled his during his ministry. Hence, the Holy Spirit says, "There is . . . one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, . . . " (Eph.4:4-6). This epistle was written about 62 or 63 A.D. By that date the Holy Spirit says there are just as many baptisms as there are Lords, faiths, and Gods—just one; the only one that man can administer. That is baptism in water.

BAPTISM IS ESSENTIAL TO SALVATION. "Then Philip . . . preached unto him Jesus . . . and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?" (Acts 8:35,36). When Philip preached "Jesus" evidently he must have referred to what Jesus said about baptism: "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believth not shall b damned." (Mk. 16:15,16). There was but one thing that hindered the eunuch from being baptized—unbelief; but he said, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God." Then Philip baptized him and the eunuch went on his way rejoicing! (Acts 8:37-39).

SALVATION IS BY GRACE THROUGH FAITH (EPH.2:8). Baptism does not nullify this truth; yea, verily, it establishes it! Truth harmonizes in every instance; it is man who contradicts the Holy Spirit in the scriptures! "Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus . . . " (Rom. 3:24). And the Bible says that one is baptized "into" Christ! See Rom.6:3,4. Walking in the "new" life comes after being baptized. Also see Gal.3:26,27; Col.2:12. Man says baptism has nothing to do with his salvation; the Holy Spirit says it does! "The like figure ("eight souls were saved by water") whereunto even baptism doth also now save us . . . " (1Pet.3:20,21). The Holy Spirit says that "even baptism doth also now save us"; man says that baptism is merely a figure and has nothing to do with salvation! The Holy Spirit says, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, . . . " (Acts 2:38). Man says that one should be baptized "because his sins are already remitted"! It is noteworthy that whatever repentance is "for", baptism is "for" the same thing—it is "for the remission of sins." (Ibid). This does not nullify "salvation by grace through faith," for a penitent believer is "baptized into Christ" where justification by grace is (Rom.3:24). God's grace is manifested in Christ; man's faith is manifested in his doing what God says to do to enter Christ—"baptized into Christ". This is salvation by grace through faith! He is wise who believes and teaches "all" that the Holy Spirit says about salvation!
