TOO MUCH STRAIN

Eden Ordered To Take Rest

LONDON (AP)—A. A. Butler, No. 2 man in the British government, presided over a Cabinet meeting today in place of ailing Prime Minister Eden. Eden's doctors have ordered him to rest because of "severe overstrain."

The mere fact that Eden was ordered to take it easy at a time when Britain faced some of the hardest questions to come out of the prolonged Middle East crisis led to speculation—without any official foundation—that his time as prime minister is nearing an end.

Eden has been under heavy fire ever since his decision to join with France in invading Egypt two weeks ago. The opposition Labor party has vigorously called for his resignation.

Despite all the controversy which has been stirred at home by Eden's Middle East policies, it has never been considered likely here that he would be overthrown as prime minister in a frontal attack.

The Conservative government has a 63-vote majority in the 625-seat House of Commons. It was elected in 1955 to serve until 1960 and has comfortably beaten off all no-confidence moves by the Labor party.

No. 10 Downing St. issued this statement:

"The Prime Minister is suffering from the effects of severe overstrain. On the advice of his doctors he has canceled his immediate public engagements."

Eden, 59, has been working almost around the clock since last July 26, when Egyptian President Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal began causing concern that England's main artery of trade might be cut.

In the past three weeks the Prime Minister has been under fire from the Labor party and even some of his own Conservatives for his decision to send troops into Egypt. But the decision has been supported by votes of confidence in Parliament, and recently public sentiment seems to have swung in Eden's favor.

The Eden family physician, Sir Horace Evans, and other doctors have been trying to get the Prime Minister to take a rest.

Evans attended him at No. 10 Downing last night, a few minutes after Eden discussed the Middle East situation with senior Cabinet members. The doctor persuaded him to call off immediate public engagements, including a scheduled appearance in Parlament today to report on the Middle East.

There was no indication how long Eden would have to rest.

Butler, former chancellor of the exchequer, has been mentioned as a possible successor when Eden retires. In Eden's absence he will preside over Cabinet meetings.

Always a hard worker, Eden has been working as much as 18 hours a day since the Suez Crisis. His last vacation was in August 1955.

FOR FREEDOM'S SAKE—A 12-by-20-foot Hungarian National flag flies from the torch held by the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor, apparently placed there by Hungarian partisans. An American flag is also attached to the torch. Sightseers arriving on Liberty Island, formerly Bedloe's Island, noticed the flags which were later removed by employes at the statue.

Light Snow Hits Panhandle Today

By The Associated Press

Snow fell Tuesday across the middle and upper Panhandle as a static cold front resumed its push into North and Central Texas.

The Weather Bureau said the cold front would be the most severe of the season.

Light snow fell at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle Tuesday in 23 degree cold. Amarillo had 28 degrees with snow fluttering down intermittently.

Rain was reported at Mineral Wells, Fort Worth and Dallas.

The cold front moved into the Panhandle Monday, bogged down for awhile, but resumed a steady push across the state Tuesday.

The front extended along a line from Ardmore, Okla., to Mineral Wells at midmorning, down to Abilene and to the Rio Grande below El Paso. The frigid air was nearing San Angelo.

The freezing belt was expected to extend over most of West Texas, except the Del Rio-Eagle Pass area. Near freezing temperatures were forecast for Tuesday night at points as far east as Dallas and Fort Worth.

Snowfalls up to 5 inches were forecast for the Panhandle as a cold front whipped through the state. Thundershowers were expected in East Texas.

Temperatures dropped to 22 degrees at Dalhart. The freezing belt extended southward to below Lubbock. Bitter cold was forecast for the upper Panhandle Tuesday night, with temperatures possibly as low as 10 degrees.

The cold front moved into the state from Colorado Monday, but it was slow. Tuesday it stretched from a point just east of Wichita Falls southwestward to a point below Abilene and on to the Grande.

Skies were clear in extreme West and South Texas and partly cloudy to cloudy elsewhere.

The forecast called for temperatures 10 to 20 degrees in the Panhandle and upper South Plains Tuesday night, and 20 to 32 degrees elsewhere in West Texas except in the Del Rio-Eagle Pass cast for that section.

Freezing temperatures between 25 and 35 degrees were expected in North Central Texas by daybreak Wednesday. The Weather Bureau said it may get as low as 30 degrees in the upper portions of Central Texas and in the interior of East Texas.

Texarkana got the heaviest amount of rain in the 24-hour period ended at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday, .90 of an inch. Showers also flitted around Lufkin, College Station, Waco, San Antonio, Longview, Austin and Dallas.

Overnight minimum temperatures ranged from 22 degrees at Dalhart to 71 at Brownsville.

Western Gulf Port Meeting Is Planned

GALVESTON (AP)—A federal mediator said today he will meet separately with union and management men in an effort to settle the five-day longshoremen's strike at western gulf ports.

Commissioner James Hubbard said in Houston a meeting scheduled originally for 4 p.m. today could not be held but that he expects to confer with the representatives tomorrow.

Hubbard said he expects first to meet with Ralph Massey, president of the South Atantic and Gulf Division of the International Longshoremen's Assn., and the union negotiating committee. Hubbard said he then plans to go and see the employer group, the Galveston-Houston Maritime Assn.

The meeting with the union officials will be at the Galveston hiring hall. The management meeting will be held at the Galveston Cotton Exchange Building.

Ralph Massey, president of the South Atlantic and Gulf Division of the International Longshoremen's Assn., said from New York he would not be back in Texas until late tonight.

Massey told the Galveston News-Tribune however, that he would keep in touch with federal mediator James Hubbard, who called the meeting yesterday.

Massey said his union have received no instructions to unload perishable fruit at Gulf Coast ports.

A waterfront source in Galveston said members of the International Brotherhood of Longshoremen, an AFL-CIO organization, were unloading fruit at Texas ports.

A banana boat from Ecuador, the Crystal, was unloaded here yesterday and a cargo of oranges was being unloaded in Brownsville. The ship at Brownsville was the German freighter "Pirause."

Some 60,000 members of the ILA are on strike from Maine to Texas. One issue is whether negotiations in New York should include all Atlantic and Gulf ports.

Massey said he considered the Gulf Coast and South Atlantic Division a part of the East Coast Longshoremen's Assn.

"A nationwide contract is not so silly as you remember we're an international," he said.

Massey said the five-day-old strike has not gone on long enough to hurt his union members economically.

"But, of course," he said, "we would like to see it over with as soon as possible. It hurts us just like it hurts anyone else."

But he said he has seen "nothing to indicate an early end to the strike."

Massey said he would reach Houston tonight.

The walkout has tied up shipments for five days and has paralyzed Texas cotton shipments.

The Assn. of American Railroads ordered a general embargo on freight shipments to struck ports yesterday to avoid congestion and to keep freight cars from standing idle.

At Orange, 50 freight cars loaded with rice and milled grain stood on the tracks. One ship, the Shirley Lykes, was tied up at the docks waiting to load structural steel at the nearby American Bridge Division.

No picket lines were at Orange.

Court Votes For Purchase Of Warrants

The commissioners court here yesterday afternoon voted to purchase $100,000 worth of road machinery warrants issued in 1949 and 1950.

The warrants, which were due out from 1966 to 1979, were issued at a four per cent interest rate. The purchase of them by the county will effect a savings of about $50,000 in interest, according to Charley Smith of Abilene of the First Southwest Co., representing the county in the transaction.

Funds for the purchase of these warrants came from securities the county owned and from surplus tax collections. The county is calling in $77,000 worth of securties from school districts at Dimmitt, Houston, Fluvanna, Hale County, Ralls, and the City of Abilene. The remainder came from collections of taxes above the 90 per cent estimate of collections. The county must base its budget on a 90 per cent collection estimate on taxes, but in this county there is 98 to 99 per cent of the assessed taxes paid annually.

There is only $91,000 debt remaining in the road and bridge accounts, Smith said, and $50,000 of that is due in January and the county now has funds to pay that. The remainder is due out from 1957 to 1961. The county owns all but $12,000 of those bonds.

The longest bonds outstanding in any account is $39,000 in park bonds issued in 1950 and due out by 1962.

The county now owns every outstanding courthouse bond, after they were repurchased a few months ago, and it owns a large amount of other bonds in its various accounts.

Smith said the county's bonded indebtedness last Feb. 1 was $2,510,000, but it is now down to about $1,800,000 and will be decreased even more after the first of the year.

Two Injured By Explosion In Arkansas

DANVILLE, Ark (AP)—A powerful explosion destroyed the Danville State Bank today, injured two men and caused extensive damage throughout this town of some 800 persons.

The blast apparently occurred when cashier Bill Gatlin attempted to light a gas stove, Bob Fisher of the Danville Record said. Gatlin, about 45, and Joe Nunn, about 60, the only two persons in the bank, were hospitalized with serious burns.

Fister said the explosion blew the front of the brick structure "onto the sidewalk," collapsed the roof, set fire to an adjacent building and knocked out windows in other buildings in every direction.

"It looks like every window in town was knocked out," he said.

The explosion occurred about 7 a.m.

Fisher said that everything in the bank except "what was in the vault" apparently was destroyed.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

British To Ration Gasoline And Oil

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced today it will start rationing gasoline and oil beginning Dec. 17.

There will be a basic ration for all motorists with a limited supplementary allowance for essential purposes.

The step was taken to meet the shortages caused by the blockade of the Suez Canal. The main supply route for British oil.

Dag May Support Egyptian Demand

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt was reported today to have the general support of U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold in its demand that the U.N. police force leave the Suez Canal zone after a British-French withdrawal.

With Britain, France and Israel standing firm in their opposition, U.N. diplomats were said to be seriously concerned over the delay in finding a formula to resolve the deadlock.

Hammarskjold's view of the function of the police force, based on his interpretation of resolutions adopted by the General Assembly, was reported to include possible security duty during the clearing of the blocked waterway. A U.N. spokesman said such "security arrangements" would be subject to negotiation.

The secretary general, who returned yesterday from a trouble-shooting trip to Egypt, planned to submit two reports to the Assembly today. A U.N. spokesman said one centered on the operation to clear the canal, in which Hammarskjold agreed the U.N. would help, and the other on the U.N. police force.

Egypt has demanded that Britain, France and Israel immediately withdraw their troops from Egyptian territory seized in their pffensive. Britain and France have insisted they will pull their forces out of the northern third of the canal zone only if the positions are taken over by U.N. police troops. Israel has indicated it will try to hang on to the Gaza Strip and so far has not moved to withdraw from Egypt's Sinai Peninsula.

The U.N. spokesman said clearance of the canal, blocked by the wreckage of two bridges and 47 sunken ships, would be undertaken as authorized by the U.N., with the organization arranging with "a number of firms" to do the work. He added, "The negotiations for the undertaking might also have to cover security arrangements."

"The U.N. emergency force will carry out the functions assigned to it by the General Assembly for the supervision of the cease-fire and the withdrawal of the British-French and Israeli forces," the spokesman continued.

Shipment Of Crude Slated For Europe

HOUSTON (AP)—Upward of three million barrels of crude were to be loaded from Houston area tanker docks alone during the rest of November for delivery to Western Europe where oil needs are multiplying rapidly. The full impact of the slowdown of its Mideast supply was showing up on the Continent.

A dozen and possibly more tankers will be loaded out this week from Houston to Baytown. At least eight more tankers will take on cargoes in the last week of the month, if the present marine schedules stand.

The Caltex Co. began loading its first cargo at Houston Monday as a result of the Middle East disturbance that has virtually halted the flow of 3.5 million barrels of crude through the Suez Canal and pipelines. The Caltex London, with a capacity of 130,000 barrels sails today for France. Eight other Caltex tankers or charter vessels are to load crude for Europe at the Tevas Co.'s docks this month.

Five tankers are due to load crude and products at Eastern States Petroleum Co.'s docks before Dec. 1.

Three tankers are to take on crude at the Sinclair docks this month. More tankers are due in Houston area.

Egypt Plan Strikes Snag

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—A British-French plan to put the Egyptian population of Port Said under military rule — probably with a provision for requisition of labor—ran into a high-level snag today.

After two days of consultations among commanders, the proposal for what was described officially as "a modified form of military control" was referred to British and French home offices for approval.

The proposed plan would take this occupied area out of Egyptian civil control by procalamation.

It would be aimed to counter a wave of intimidation by which the British and French say Egyptian strong arm men are forcing the population into passive resistance.

Hungary Refugees Head For America

VIENNA (AP) — Sixty refugees from Soviet terror in Hungary were on their way to homes in the United States today as American officials worked to speed up to 5,000 across the Atlantic.

The flow of fugitives from Russian suppression of the Hungarian rebellion also continued to other West European countries. More than 6,000 already have found haven in eight countries. Austrian police said 43,08 had crossed into Austria from Hungary since the Russians turned their tanks and guns on the rebels.

A silver, blue and red DC4, chartered by the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration, left Vienna's Scwechat Airport early this morning with the first 41 refugees bound for the United States. It collected another 19 Hungarians in Munich and was due at McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., near Camp Kilmer, tomorrow.

Another plane was expected to take off today from Linz for the United States. ICEM officials said the airlift would be speeded up sharply this week.

The first group from Vienna included 15 men, 11 women, 13 children under 14 years old and 2 infants. Most appeared calm and thoughtful. Before taking off, they gathered about the plane and sang their national anthem, "God Help Hungary."

Eisenhower offered refuge to 5,000 Hungarians. The State Department said it already has received offers from Americans to help 3,000 of these get homes and jobs.

Most other countries offering homes to the refugees were taking them far faster than the United States.

Ike Cancels His News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower today canceled his weekly news conference, set a Cabinet meeting for tomorrow and gave out word there may be some special kind of White House conference on Friday.

Eisenhower plans to spend the holiday weekend in Washington. He arranged for a round of golf this afternoon at Burning Tree Club in nearby Maryland.

On Thanksgiving Day, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend 11 a.m. EST services at National Presbyterian Church.

Hungarian Revolt Continuing Today

VIENNA (AP)—More Hungarian workers returned to their jobs today, Radio Budapest said. But the revolt against Russian subjection which exploded four weeks ago still lived.

Nep Szabadsag, official newspaper of Premier Janos Kadar's government, recognized the popular demand for independence. It expressed the hope the Soviet Union would "respect the oft-expressed wish of the Hungarian people to live independently and according to its own will."

Radio Budapest said that four textile works had started production. Several others were idle because of the lack of power or chemicals.

In the Dorog mines, northwest of Budappest, 1,000 miners went into the pits today compared with 600 the previous day, the station said. In the Salgotarjan mines 2,370 workers were reported mining coal. Yesterday 1,540 tons of sorely needed coal were mined compared with 10,000 tons daily in normal times, it was reported.

Radio Budapest said 10 streetcar lines were running. It predicted that all main lines would be running within two or three days. An earlier broadcast said that attempts to restore streetcar traffic on one line yesterday was met with threats and attacks on employes.

Electricity was the main problem because of the shortage of coal. Brick factories have stopped production, because of the coal shortage. There was said to be enough window glass to replace thousands of panes shatfered during the fighting.

Reliable reports from Budapest said many workers continued to refuse to work while the Russians remained in the city and former Premier Imre Nagy remained a refugee in the Yugoslav Embassy.

Nep Szabadsag expressed some misgivings about the Polish-Soviet agreement to maintain Russian troops in Poland. The paper said this development could be "disturbing" since it could "give rise to the fear that the Soviet Union might insist on similar conditions in our case."

United Fund Board Meeting Scheduled

An important meeting of the Scurry County United Fund board of directors has been scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday in fellowship hall of the First Methodist Church.

The UF board will discuss the organization's annual campaign for finances and other business matters. All board members are being urged to attend the session, said Herbert Feather, president.

Road Projects

AUSTIN (AP) — Proposed road projects will be studied at a hearing tomorrow before the Highway Commission.

Norway To Send Units

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Col. C. F. Moe of Norway, deputy U.N. police force commander, said a company of Norwegian troops under U.N. command was preparing to move into Port Said tomorrow "to prevent friction between the Egyptian population and British-French troops."

Moe said the movement had no relation to British-French withdrawal from the city. The move would be the first action by U.N. troops since they began arriving at Abu Suweir in the Suez Canal zone last week.

The Norwegian commander said the Egyptian government had agreed to the move by 175 men and 15 officers in talks with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. The men will be armed and will take seven days supplies with them.

Tension in Port Said is reported to have increased in the past few days.

Riots Erupt In Poland While Premier Is On Russian Visit

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Polish newspaper says demonstrations and riots erupted in Poland while Poland's Communist party chief was in Moscow negotiating on future Polish-Soviet relations.

The newspaper Express Wieszorne received here today said disorders occurred Sunday at Bromberg. It said students and young workers set fire to the city's radio station and then fought off police and fire brigades.

This account of trouble contrasted with dispatches from Warsaw which said the Polish Communist chief, Wladyslaw Gomulka was greeted by cheering crowds on his journey from Moscow back to Warsaw.

Political observers here said, however, there was no doubt that riots broke out after the announcement that the new agreement between Gomulka and the Kremlin leadership did not include provisions for the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Poland.

The independent Vienna newspaper Neuer Kurier reported "tension and disturbances" throughout Poland due to what it termed Gomulka's "taking the Moscow line."

Another Polish paper, the Glos Olsztynski, told of an anti-Soviet demonstration by students at Olsztyn (Allenstein), in former German East Prussia.

Gomulka, who was restored to the Central Committee of the Polish United Workers (Communist) party last month in a Polish move toward an independent form of communism, returned to Warsaw last night. He told cheering crowds in the Polish capital, "All those things which stood between the friendship of Poland and the Soviet Union have been settled."

"The difference between actions and words, which in the past often made our relations difficult, have been liquidated," he declared.

He asked his countrymen to build good neighborly relations with the Soviets.

VOLS DROP TO 2ND

Sooners Regain No. 1 Rating

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

For the second time this season, Oklahoma's angry Sooners have climbed back to the top of the national football rankings with one terrific display of power after spending a week in second place.

Earlier in the season, Michigan State took over the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters for one week. Oklahoma cut loose with a crushing 40-0 victory over Notre Dame and regained the lead. Last week Tennessee had a bare two-point edge over the Sooners in the voting. The result was a 67-14 rout of hapless Missouri by Oklahoma.

Today the Sooners were back in front with a 132-point margin over Tennessee's Volunteers. It wasn't because anything happened to the Vols either. They come through Saturday with their eighth straight victory — 27-7 over defensively strong Mississippi.

Oklahoma had 111 first-place votes and 1,794 points while Tennessee drew 69 firsts and 1,662 points. The po9nt scoring was on the basis of 10 for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc., down to 1 for tenth.

Iowa, knocking off Ohio State 6-0 in its big game and clinching the Rose Bowl invitation, moved into third place in another keen battle of ballots as the whole top 10 lineup shifted around. Iowa drew 1,287 points, Texas A&M and Georgia Tech 1,223.

Iowa was ranked seventh a week ago, the Texas Aggies fifth and Georgia Tech fourth.

Michigan State, rated third last week, barely held 10th place after a 14-13 loss to Minnesota, which moved up from the second 10 into seventh place. Miami of Florida advanced from eighth to sixth after knocking Clemson out of the unbeaten ranks and Syracuse moved up from ninth to eighth on its rout of Colgate. Michigan also went up a notch to ninth while Ohio State dropped out of the top bracket.

The leaders, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Oklahoma (111) 1,794
2. Tennessee (69) 1,662
3. Iowa 1,287
4. Texas A & M 1,271
5. Georgia Tech (1) 1,223
6. Miami (Fla.) (5) 748

Big Explosion Will Be Set Off At Lake

LAKESIDE, Utah (AP)—The nation's third largest explosion — atomic devices excepted — is designed to tear one million tons of rock loose from a cliff on the shores of the Great Salt Lake today.

Teams of scientists from Stanford, the University of California, Utah State Agricultural College and the University of Utah were at the scene with complex instruments to record the exact instant 600,000 pounds of explosive were set off. They hope to get it down to the last one-thousandth of a second.

"By knowing the exact time, location and magnitude of the explosion," said Dr. Dan Tocher of the University of California, "we may be able to learn a little more about the thickness of the earth's crust."

Dr. Tocher said he would give better than even odds the blast would be detected by instruments on the West Coast, 700 miles away. He said seismographs, devices which record movement of earth, would be certain to pick up the explosion in Utah and Nevada.

The Southern Pacific railroad planned the blast to get rock for its 49-million-dollar causeway across the Great Salt Lake. The causeway will replace a 12-mile-long wooden trestle.

Only two nonatomic blasts set off in the United States have been larger. Both were detonated during TVA construction of the South Holston Dam at Bristol, Tenn.

Geologists now believe the crust of the earth runs down about 18½ miles. They reached that conclusion by tracing waves from past explosions. They seek confirmation from this explosion.

Thanksgiving Supper Planned At Fluvanna

Negotiator Blasts Dock Strike Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal mediator has scolded union and management negotiators with a warning to "stop fiddling around" and settle the East-Gulf coast dock strike.

But the paralyzing walkout by 60,000 dock workers moved into its fifth day today with no sign of settlement. From 150 to 200 ships remained idle at deserted piers from Maine to Texas.

Negotiators for the International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn. resume contract talks today.

After a fruitless session yesterday, Robert H. Moore, federal mediator, said he had told both sides they "might as well stop fiddling around."

He said he informed the negotiators he didn't think there would be any immediate government intervention to stop the strike under the Taft-Hartley law.

"I told them there is no government machinery that can do more than delay the inevitable, that they were going to have to reach an agreement sooner or later."

The White House also appealed to both sides to settle their differences.

Meanwhile, on the West Coast Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union started polling its members to determine their stand on the East-Gulf coast strike. Results are to be announced tomorrow.

The union has already refused to handle ships coming from or sailing for strikebound ports. And yesterday the West Coast longshoremen started a 24-hour walkout to discuss the strike. Waterfront activity on the Pacific Coast dropped to about 25 per cent of normal.

But the West Coast action brought only a scowl from ILA President William V. Bradley in New York.

He sent a sharply worded telegram to Bridges and told him, in effect, to keep his nose out of the ILA strike. Bradley said the ILA "resents the interference of you and your officers."

"These activities don't help us; they embarrass us," Bradley added.

As the contract talks continued the economic pinch caused by the strike grew more painful.

The nation's railroads ordered a halt to rail shipment of almost all export freight to all strikebound ports. The order was aimed at blocking a massive tieup of freight cars at ports.

The strike was already costing the nation's economy millions of dollars a day.

The union struck last Thursday midnight when its old contract ran out. Main issues in the dispute are union demands for a single contract to cover all East and Gulf ports, a full day's pay for any man called to the piers, no cut in the present 20-man work gangs and a limit on the amount of cargo loaded in slings.

The New York employers' group which represents 170 shipping and stevedoring firms, insists that it does not have authority to negotiate for other Atlantic and Gulf ports.

Records In School Case Are Missing

HOUSTON (AP)—A postal inspector testified in the George Parr mail fraud trial today he had been unable to find any trace of a number of persons who were on record as having been paid for work for the Benavides School District.

W. D. Main also testified that D. C. Chapa, former tax-assessor-collector for the district, refused to show him records.

Parr and Chapa, along with other co-defendants are charged with using the mails and conspiring to use the mails while diverting school district funds to personal use.

Federal Judge Allan Hannay overruled a defense objection by Percy Foreman.

Foreman attempted to have Main disqualified, saying he had discussed testimony with another witness. Main said his discussion had not involved testimony.

Several witnesses testified last week that although their names appeared on school district checks they had never worked for the district nor supplied it with equipment and materials.

Main testified that Chapa, in refusing to show him the school records, had said he was not familiar with the records in that they were in the custody of a clerk. He said Chapa also told him on Jan. 24, 1954, that he did not know whether he was an appointed or elected official of the school district.

A. G. Hayes, vice president of the First National Bank of Hebbronville testified yesterday 53 checks written on the school district were deposited to the account of Octavio Saenz, former president of the school board and also defendants.

Famous American designer Ceil Chapman created this dress for women whose lives require them to play a dual role . . . . they work and they keep house. Sometimes they must also go direct from office to parties with no time for a change-over at home. For such occasions a scarf could be worn with the dress during office hours. Ceil Chapman continues to delight and surprise fashion-minded women with her ultra feminine creations for she is expert at draping the figure to enhance its eye appeal. You'll be pleased with the way this design hugs you in the right places. The original was made in wool crepe but it is excellent in wool or silk jersey, printed silks, shantung or soft novelty cottons.

Parents Create Big Problem For Our Young People Today

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Parents are problems in the young people's world of today, says Ruth Stafford Peale, wife and partner of the famous Protestant minister, Norman Vincent Peale.

"One third of all the mail we receive," says she, "is from young people between the ages of 11 and 20, asking in various ways, 'What are we going to do about our parents?' "

Mrs. Peale, a charming, youthful-looking woman, modern to her fingertips, speaks with authority as the mother of two daughters and a son, and as co-author with her husband of a regular magazine feature inviting readers to discuss their problems.

"There's no doubt that a great many of today's young people are troubled and confused," she says. "The problems of almost all who write to us boil down to one complaint—'Our parents don't understand us.'

"Sometimes they feel the household is too strict, sometimes that parents are too busy or indifferent. Some say there is too stern a religious attitude in the home, others says there isn't enough attention to religion.

"From observation I have found that a great many of today's problems with the younger generation stem from the fact that parents think if they provide a good home and good schools for their children, the youngsters should feel secure. There is too much stress on material things.

"They want to know what their parents are thinking about. They need to feel confidence in the integrity and ultimate fairness of their parents, and they must have a safe, warm and welcoming haven in a home."

The Peales have a daughter just one out of college, a son in college and a 14-year-old daughter in high school.

Holiday Supper Is Scheduled Tonight

A Thanksgiving supper to be held tonight in the Exhibition Barn at Towle Memorial Park will be the first social to be held by the newly organized '53 Club. The supper will begin at 6 for all members and their families.

The club was organized by members of the 1953 graduation class of Snyder High School. Several projects have been outlined; one of the first being the helping of underprivileged families; and socials will be held regularly by the group.

President of the club is Mrs. Jimmy Layne, Vice-Pres. Mrs. Jerry Groves, Sec-Treas. Mrs. Jackie Grimmett, and Reporter, Mrs. Jack Norris. Other members include Mrs. Shirley Nobles, Mrs. Curtis Tate, Mrs. Charlie Kemp, Mrs. J. W. Dinwiddie, Mrs. James Sawyer, Mrs. C. W. Dorman and Mrs. Billy Bob Keen.

A cluster of seedless grapes, a fresh pear halve or some wedges of red-skinned apple help to make a luncheon sandwich look and taste good. The fruit will be delicious with a filling of ham, chicken or cheese.

Nylons Are Needed By Every Girl

AP Newsfeatures

ANY PROSPECTIVE SANTA with young girls on his list and problems on his mind can find a simple solution to the gift dilemma: Give 'em all nylons.

Those belles of junior high who run around all day in Bermuda shorts and knee-high socks are among the country's heaviest buyers of sheer stockings, a recent survey shows. For when these young hoydens get dressed up for dates, off come the shorts and socks and on go the fluffiest dresses and the sheerest stockings they can find. The survey further revealed that 95 per cent of schoolgirls over 12 buy two pairs of nylons a month and own a wardrobe of six pairs.

For school, hikes and other casual daytime activities, socks are the thing. But for dances and dates, nylons are a must. Girls who like the bare-legged look in summer, even with dance slippers, find in winter that when their tan fades legs look better veiled in nylon.

Hosiery manufacturers, catering to the younger generation, are making more sheer stretch stockings this winter. They're also turning out more sheer knee-high stockings in both plain nylon and stretch varieties. These are for younger girls who don't wear garter belts or girdles.

The girls prefer seamless stockings, as sheer as possible, with little or no toe and heel reinforcements. These give them a bare-legged look with more glamor.

Gift buyers who aren't fully informed on sizes will do well to buy the stretch stockings which come in only three sizes — small, medium and large. They fit all leg lengths and proportions and make gift purchases a breeze.

Make Your Yule Cards This Year

AP Newsfeatures

Make your own Christmas cards — for all your friends or just for those special few. It's lots of fun, and if you get started early you can vary the theme of a basic card as you go along.

It's a good idea to make a card that may lead a double life — both a greeting and a Christmas tree decoration. Put a loop on it — ribbon, thread or wire will do the trick.

A little angel may be made of three triangles cut from paper or felt with pinking shears: One triangle may form the dress, two others may be taped to her back for wings. The head may be a circle of pink paper. Copper curls are borrowed from a scouring pad. Her arms and legs are red cellophane tape. Write your Christmas greetings on a piece of folded paper, forming a booklet, and tape it to each hand.

Another simple card may be made in the form of a Christmas house. One triangle and four narrow strips of paper may be held together along each side with holiday tape. The greeting is printed — a few words to each strip. The greeting may be written in white ink on red or green strips of construction paper or green ink on red paper or red ink on green paper.

Other simple designs may be made that are just as effective — stars and pine trees in irregular shapes decorated with the bright gift wrap tapes, bits of yarn, toothpicks, pine cleaners or other appropriate odds and ends that reflect the personalities of the sender.

The idea for these cards may be utilized, too, for party invitations. A very simple one may be made by cutting heavy colored paper in the shape of a Christmas ornament and then decorating it with colored inks in contrasting colors to resemble one. If you aren't great shakes at drawing, limit your decoration to a couple of colorful bands across the ornament. The party invitation message may be sandwiched in between these bands of red, green, gold or what have you.

DATE DATA

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Dear Miss Brandow:

I know it is neither good manners nor good strategy to keep a boy sitting in the living room while you finish dressing for a date, but what can you do when a boy insists on arriving early?

Janie

Since you know his habit, make allowances for it and begin getting ready for your date earlier. If there is not enough time, set the date hour later so that when he arrives early the time will be just around right.

In any event put a couple of men's magazines on the coffee table and have a jig saw puzzle started on the dining room table. He should be able to keep amused for a few minutes.

Dear Miss Brandow:

I invited Charlene to go with me to the Thanksgiving dance at school. She accepted.

Then I began taking dance lessons, but as yet I am not very good. It is formal and all our friends will be there and I guess I have stage fright.

The more I think about it, the more I don't want to go. Charlene is a wonderful girl and I don't want to break my date with her, but wouldn't it be alright to ask her to go to a movie or something else instead that night?

Paul

Paul, you have my sympathy and my complete understanding, but I doubt if you would have Charlene's if you presented such a proposal to her.

Girls day dream for weeks about formal dances. They spend hours in preparation and try on their formals and swish before the mirror dozens of times before party night.

Such a party is a major event in a girl's life. Dancing is only a small part of the fun. A girl wants all her friends to see her there and know she was popular enough to be invited.

She wants the chance to wear her best finery and be envied by the girls and admired by the boys.

Yoy asked her for a date to the party. She accepted your invitation to the party. Now you can't spring a movie on her.

When she said yes to you, she closed the door to invitations from other boys.

Don't give her cause to wish she had accepted them instead. Bear down on your dancing lessons. Tell Charlene your dancing could be improved and ask her if you may come over and practice with her before the night of the party.

She'll be pleased and flattered and, with her help, you'll dance well enough to get through the evening gracefully.

The fun is in meeting your friends and entering into the party spirit.

Swallow your fear, face it like a man, and by George, I'll bet you have fun!

EDITORIALS

Edict Is Handed Down

Word has been forwarded to this newspaper office that the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society has "reaffirmed its policy of 'no new participation'" in the United Fund or Community Chest type of appeals for its county units in Texas.

In making the announcement, we are informed, Travis T. Wallace of Dallas, chairman of the Texas Division board of directors, said the executive committee felt that participation in United Funds and Community chests "has a tendency to submerge the interests of the Society in their educational effort directed toward saving lives during our traditional April Crusade."

This is a quaint line of reasoning, it appears to us. In the first place, we thought the Cancer Society's efforts toward saving lives was a year-round program. Moreover, if a certain period is to be singled out for special emphasis, wouldn't October or November serve as well as April?

There is no reason to question the merits of the Cancer Society's program, of course, but its position on the United Fund-Community Chest activities certainly is open to question, not only by citizens themselves, but by other equally worthy agencies who participate in United Fund and Community Chest campaigns.

Most agencies that do participate are happy to be rid of the expense and the bother of raising funds, especially those that prefer to concentrate on their respective programs of service rather than to divide their strength to maintain their own fund raising machinery.

Some agencies have a policy of participating in United Funds and Community Chests wherever such organizations exist. Others leave the decision to their local units. The Cancer Society does neither. The local units have no voice in the matter, according to this latest announcement, which comes in the form of a simple edict:

"No unit of the Texas Division not now participating in federated fund raising under an approved arrangement may enter into any such arrangement."

Thus, the voice of the community is drowned, just as it is in much of our government bureacracy.

No Solution, Yet

The die was cast, as it was said of Caesar when he crossed the Rubicon, and the international army flying the flag of the United Nations touched down on the hot sands lining the banks of the Suez Canal.

The first contingents landed apparently without incident, and more were to follow until some 4,000 to 5,000 men have taken up positions along the waterway.

As a military force it doesn't amount to much. As a symbol of the determination of the United Nations to preserve peace and order it packs a moral weight of the utmost significance. For it is conceivable that this tiny army is there to stay indefinitely. It isn't likely to be withdrawn upon demand by Egypt, or by Egypt and her allies, or by the Soviet Union. It may be negotiated out of its position, but it can't be driven out of it—without touching off a global conflict. It might even be overwhelmed and obliterated, but not for long; the good name and the pledged word of nearly all of the 70 nations in the U.N. are at stake, and to retreat would be unthinkable.

As the U.N. contingents began to arrive in the canal zone, there were signs of a softening on the part of both Egypt and the Soviet Union. Egypt denied she had asked for Russian and Red Chinese "volunteers" thus letting Moscow and Peiping off the hook.

But momentarily at least Egypt was demanding that the French and British forces be withdrawn from the canal, and that Israel get out of Gaza. Not until the U.N. army had gained control of the canal said France and Britain. And there was every reason to suppose that Egypt's demand that the U.N. force occupy the old armistice line of 1949, thus abandoning the canal, would not be met.

All this could and possibly will lead to long negotiations; but there need not be a resumption of hostilities. Having had a good close look at the ugly visage of modern war, both sides may simmer down for a season.

But the Suez issue and the whole Middle East situation are no nearer a solution than before.

Businessmen, Consumers Facing Up To Prospects Of Tighter Squeeze On Credit

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Businessmen and consumers faced up this week to the prospect of a tighter squeeze on credit.

Indicative of the seemingly inexhaustible capital requirements of the nation's fast-growing economy was the massive 1957 expansion program announced by Frederick R. Kappel, president of the giant American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Next year, he said, ATT&T's sprawling Bell System will spend a record 2½ billion dollars on new facilities—300 millions more than in 1956.

Another straw in the wind was the announcement that the huge Sears, Roebuck & Co., retail chain was forming a new subsidiary, Sears Roebuck Acceptance Corp., to finance its growing volume of credit sales. Chief aim of the new subsidiary would be to provide new capital in addition to that obtained by Sears from several hundred banks. The company said present arrangements for financing easy payment sales through banks would be continued.

Also in the credit market in a big way were the nation's home builders, long pinched by a scarcity of mortgage funds. This week, official notice of their plight was taken by the government's top Housing boss, federal housing administrator Albert Cole.

Where would the money come from? The Federal Reserve Board could artificially increase the nation's credit supply by raising the lending authority of the nation's banks. This would bring about an immediate increase in the supply of so-called "check book money." That's how it used to be done in recent years. This week, however, financial leaders seemed agreed on one significant point: The days of easy money, through inflation of the nation's credit supply, were over.

That left only one other source: The savings of the American people. And there were indications that these savings might soon be on the rise. A nationally prominent mortgage banker predicted that mortgage money will be more plentiful next year, not because of an inflated credit supply, but because of a greater flow of savings into banks, insurance companies and other lending institutions.

New evidence came to light this week that the economy is quite capable of breaking records even at a time of tight money, a minor home building slump, and a shutdown of steel production. The government reported that gross national product—the nation's total output of goods and services — climbed to an annual rate of nearly 414 billion dollars in the third quarter of this year. That was the quarter that saw the steel industry hobbled by a five-week strike.

Biggest spur to the economy in the third quarter was the record pace of spending by consumers. Wage rates and total personal income hit new peaks; retail sales were the highest ever.

This week there were signs that the big consumer buying binge might be losing some of its zip. The Federal Reserve Board reported that department store sales had fallen behind the high levels of last year for the second week in a row. In the week end Nov. 10, sales for the nation as a whole were down 3 per cent from a year ago. Declines were reported for ever Federal Reserve district except Atlanta, Chicago and Kansas City. For the four weeks ended Nov. 10 sales were off 2 per cent from last year. Merchants, loaded to the hilt with Christmas merchandise, wondered when their well-heeled customers would loosen up. Some blamed the November slump on abnormally warm weather.

Briefly over the business scene:

U. S. automobile production this week, estimated at more than 144,000 passenger cars, was the highest for any week since January . . . Texas raised its allowable oil production for December to a record high as European users, cut off from Middle East supplies, stepped up their buying of U. S. crude . . . The nation's industrial production in October set a record at 150 per cent of the 1947-49 average . . . Coffee prices were cut 2 to 4 cents a pound by three large supermarket chains.

Human Hand Worthless In '56 Presidential Campaign

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press New Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — No two men ever tried harder than Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver to climb hand over hand to high office. But the human hand never looked more useless than it did in the 1956 presidential campaign.

They put on perhaps the big-political history — thanks to all the ways they had for getting around — and both wound up losing the election, their own states and even their own counties.

If they had never shaked a hand they could hardly have made out worse.

Maybe nothing could have offset the public satisfaction with President Eisenhower, who spent practically no time shaking hands with individuals but concentrated on talking in a few speeches to the biggest crowds that could be assembled.

Eisenhower had demonstrated in the New Hampshire Republican primary of 1952, when he beat the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, that a candidate doesn't have to make a single speech or shake hands with one voter if his popularity and prestige are big enough.

He was in Europe during the New Hampshire primary campaign, while Taft trouped the state.

Perhaps next time the Democrats will put less value on personal meetings between candidates and individual voters and more on getting across complete ideas in far fewer speeches to far bigger groups of voters.

It was the Minnesota primary last March—when Kefauver whipped Stevenson — which may have set the Democrats on the course they followed.

A lot of reasons were given for Kefauver's victory in Minnesota. They included his incessant handshaking and that he got around more than Stevenson.

Stevenson, who had to overtake Kefauver to remain in the running for the nomination, adopted much of the Kefauver technique: the handshaking, the meetings with small groups, and some of the Kefauver folksiness.

He won the remaining primaries. Then the two men followed essentially the same pattern in the national presidential campaign.

But it doesn't follow that what works in a primary within the limited area of one state is the medicine for a national campaign. Stevenson and Kefauver made an exhausting campaign. Kefauver's part may be remembered less for what he said than for his handshaking. Stevenson made as many speeches a day to as many groups as he could.

While doing so, he was making pretty much the same speech over and over. He spent much of his time rephrasing to make the same speech sound better the next time.

If he had made no more than one speech a day and had gone into details on his criticisms and programs, he might have done better. Instead, he talked mostly in generalities.

U.N. Should Take Some Decisive Step To Eliminate Cause Of Mid-East Crisis

By WALTER LIPPMANN

For the U.N., which finds itself attempting to deal with the two great crises in Hungary and in the Middle East, the critical fact is this: the United States is acting wholly within the legal system of the United Nations whereas the Soviet Union is in the main acting outside that system. The heart of the difference is that the Kremlin is using military force as the instrument of Soviet national policy. The United States, on the other hand, has gone further than any great power has ever gone before to renounce the use of military force except as it might be called for and authorized by a majority of the United Nations.

I both crises the course of events is being shaped by this novel, this wholly unprecedented difference in the military philosophies of the two dominant military powers.

• • •

Thus, the United Nations, or at least a substantial majority of them, have called upon the Soviet Union to desist in Hungary. But as it was certain that they would not oppose the Red Army, the Kremlin has used the Red Army to achieve the Soviet objective. The Red Army, we have seen, is not subject to any of the limitations which the U.N. has wished to impose.

In the Middle East the United Nations have called upon Britain, France, and Israel to desist. They are desisting and they are acknowledging the authority of the U.N. But here again the Soviet is using its military power outside the U. N. It is making threats of military intervention which have never been considered, much less authorized, by the U.N, and it is, unless the available reports are wrong, building up a military bridgehead of its own in the Middle East. The U.N. is being passed by.

• • •

The first conclusion to be drawn from all this is not that the United States should decide for a free hand, should in its turn cast off the United Nations, and proceed in its own way to use the influence which its military power can exert. Our first business is to explain to the United Nations this fundamental probalem — the problem of the Soviet Union's unilateral use of force as the instrument of its national policy. This should be done, if necessary to give it proper emphasis, by the President in person. For if this problem is not understood by the governments of the world, and its grave potentialities taken to heart, we may all find ourselves on a slippery slope where events are out of control.

In adhering to a United Nations policy, we must realize clearly that there are two very differnt ways of acting on such a policy. One is the way the Administration first took, then modified somewhat, but has never seriously reconstructed. This was in essence to treat Britain, France, and Israel as aggressors, to treat Egypt as the innocent victim, and to commit the whole United States influence to the single issue of the withdrawal of military forces.

The other way, which in view of Nasser's record should have been the original way, is to commit our influence in the U.N. insistently and decisively to a solution of the problems which caused the explosion. The U.N. is now being put to its severest test. It is being tested at its weakest point. Its inherent weakness is that it is not, or at least that it has never been, an agency for making peace. It has been only an agency for the making and keeping of truces.

In the Middle East another truce will not be good enough now that the Soviet Union is by way of establishing itself as a primary military power. We should not leave it to Britain and to France, or to Israel, to argue this crucial issue. We should argue it ourselves, remaining within the limitations of the U.N. but refusing to accept and to compound its characteristic impotence to deal with the solution of great conflicts.

It must be said that for a task of this kind the American representation at the U.N. needs to be strengthened by the addition of an advocate of the highest ability — by someone who is the realm of advocacy can take the place of Secretary Dulles.

Patrick Henry's Famous Words Cannot Be Stifled

By INEZ ROBB

And so it came to pass in the year 1948, even as George Orwell had predicted, that Communism ruled the world with a steel fist. From Moscow, Big Brother determined the destinies of men.

In the once-free West, old men who had believed in 1956 that the United States was the mightiest nation in the world — invicible in moral and military might — dully pondered the purely academic question: Where and at what point had the West, with is bright hope of freedom and liberty for all men, hesitated and lost all?

His name had long since been expunged from the Communist-dictated history books, but the elders still remembered Patrick Henry and guardedly passed on to youngsters his revolutionary watchword, "Give me liberty or give me death!"

The younger generation had had no experience of freedom. But it was electrified when an old man, just before his execution as a counter-revolutionary, cried in the face of the firing squad, "It is better to die on one's feet than to live on one's knees!"

The entire firing squad, which had heard this treasonous utterance, was summarily executed, least it repeat the old man's words. But despite Big Brother's precaution, the words were repeated and spread like wild fire.

They seeped into Canada, and the first flicker of rebellion flared there. Students at McGill University started the brief, bitter anti-Communist revolt when they toppled a statue of General Zhukov, hero of the Soviet world who, after conquering the Arab countries, had gone on to conquer the globe.

When Soviet troops did not immediately execute the whole student body of McGill, hope flared through Canada. Communist headquarters in Montreal and Quebec were stormed by furious mobs and a dozen Red gauletiers hanged. The Western provinces rose to a man, and in the United States hope simmered.

It remained for the students at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., where Winston Churchill had made his once-famous "Iron Curtain" speech, to ignite hope by pulling down the American flag and ripping from its center the hated red star of Russian Communism.

That was the signal for a general uprising. With bare hands, men, women and children tried to destroy the launching sites for atomic rockets in a hundred different communities. With rocks, they attacked atomic cannons in thousands of localities.

On the fifth day, a rebel victory throughout Canada and the United States seemed certain. But on the sixth day, Big Brother loosed on the continent his hydrogen-headed rockets, and in 12 hours, millions were dead and millions more dying. The physical destruction was incalculable. The continent lay as if cursed and sown to salt.

Eventually, sealed freight planes bearing their cargo of what heroic youth survived, flew north to the slave labor camps just below the Arctic Circle.

Out of the chaos and the horror, little of value survived save an old man who could still remember Patrick Henry and what he had said, and who was convinced that it was better to die on one's feet than to live on one's knees. And one day, before he died, he whispered the words to a child.

Woman Will Attempt To Sell Milk To Thailand

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Encouraging the young and old of Thailand to eat ice cream and drink chocolate milk seems an easy enough assignment to Dorothy McCann, a representative of this country's dairy industry. She is heading for Bangkok for an 18-month stay.

This, however, is only a part of a long-range project to increase Thai's milk supply and improve the diet of the people while helping create a new foreign market for United States dairy products, especially those used in the milk-recombining process. Recombined milk is made of nonfat dry milk, butterfat and purified water. It contains all the ingredients and is comparable to fresh whole milk.

Mrs. McCann, new executive director for the dairy project, is working as industry cooperator with the Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service.

Thailand, with American assistance, has built a milk-recombining plant which will turn out thousands of gallons of milk and ice-cream daily as well as whole milk. Part of Mrs. McCann's job is to show the Thais how to take advantage of these products. To launch the project, the dairies and the United States Department of Commerce will have a dairy exhibit at Bangkok's Constitution Fair in December.

Samples of milk and ice cream will be passed out to all visitors. The labels will read: "From the People of American to the People of Thailand."

"The main source of Thai milk has been from the water buffalo," Mrs. McCann, a native Chicagoan, told me. "These give a rich milk, often in greater quantity than the cow, but without facilities for transportation from the fertile valleys to the heavily populated cities, little of it reaches the urban market. Seasonal pasture failures result also in temporary shortages."

Mrs. McCann says she has no qualms about the popularity of the milk products to be promoted in the international field. "There's little difference between the children of Thai and those clustered around the ice cream truck on America's Main Street corners," she says. "They all love milk and they all love ice cream and chocolate milk."

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

SON OF DUST. By H. F. M. Prescott. Macmillan.

The invasion of England in 1066 is still a decade off. And, on the borders of the power wielded by William of Normandy—Duke Guillelm—Fulcun, Geroy, and the other sons and grandsons of old Geroy blinded by his enemy Talvas, live through this absorbing story.

Geroy is married to Alianor, yet takes the peasant girl Custance whom his older brother Fulcun wanted. But Fulcun quickly forgets her when at Guillelm's court he falls in love at first sight with Alde. All goes well till Fulcun, thinking he has slain Alde's lord Mauger, runs away with her. They live in delirious happiness till Guillelm orders Alde's return, they learn Mauger is alive, and the Duke besieges their castle of Montgaudri.

This is sin, the priest warns Fulcun. But he and Aldi don't need to be reminded. This is the ancient romantic pattern of star-crossed love, it is the Norman Ablard and Eloise, the Tristan and Isolde. Fulcun and Mauger will fight again, but there is always the question whether in these God-fearing nobles, victory over the husband, instead of giving the lover rights over the spouse, does not separate him from her forever.

You will like this not only for the touching story but also for the richly tapestried setting—the rough and savage manners of the knights, the hunting and hawking, the clash of sword and shield, the excommunication and pardon, the veiled leper and his bell, the horn of wine, the whittled arrows. Written 25 years ago, by the English author of "The Man on a Donkey," it is now published here for the first time.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time there was a girl who had something that millions of girls wanted. She was a Hollywood "star," with all the fame and fortune that goes with it.

But she found that being a "star" is not all that it's reputed to be. She wanted to earn the title through her accomplishments as a dramatic actress — and she found that Hollywood was not giving her the chance. So—except for one picture a year—she gave up her lucrative contract and began seeking other things.

Her name is Piper Laurie, a pretty, red-haired young woman who was born in Detroit and became known for barefoot roles in movie sagebrush sagras.

Next Sunday night she takes on her first starring television role in CBS-TV's "The Road That Led Afar." She — and several professional actors — are pretty excited with what she does with the role.

"Although I've been called a 'star,'" she said the other day, "I'm not the most experienced actress in the world. I would like to be, and I found more attention given to my acting on 'The Road That Led Afar' than in most of the pictures I've played.

"See, I have to thank the people at the studio for all they've done for me. But they took me when I was young and said, 'You are a star,' and cast me in certain types of pictures. And the people whose judgments I respect heard I was a star, but they saw the junk I was making—or they didn't bother to see it at all.

"I want to do something in which I can take pride. After seven years in pictures people say about me, 'Isn't she cute? Doesn't she look just lovely?' That's not what I want. I want people to respect me as an actress a little bit. I don't want to make apretentious debut as a dramatic actress. I want things to be just right.

"I think that television offers me the best experience possible at this time. In this role the directors have given me a sense of freedom in acting for the first time in my life."

In "The Road That Led Afar" Miss Laurie plays a woman who marries a man (Dan Duryea) with four young children and faces the problem of winning their confidence and affection.

TROOPERS KILLED

Holiday Plans End Tragically

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Two young wives made funeral plans today for their slain husbands, marking a tragic end to what was to have been a week of Thanksgiving celebration and happy events.

A berserk gunman, handling a deer rifle with deadly accuracy, shot and killed state troopers George E. Lappi, 28, and Bert Pozza, 27, who were called to a rural home yesterday to quell a family row.

Lappi died on the day after his 8th wedding anniversary. His wife is expecting another child in a few days. Pozza died on his wife's birthday. Both have two young children.

The families had planned a joint celebration.

"We were all going out together," Mrs. Pozza said. "But now . . ."

Another state trooper, Cpl. Robert Vesey, was wounded in the ankle during a 45-minute siege before Harry G. Richards, 63, was driven from his home by bullets and tear gas fired by 75 policemen.

Richards, a retired Flint postal clerk, is a police prisoner at a hospital. He was treated for tear gas effects. Police said he was too incoherent to tell what happened but they quoted his friends as saying he had been deteriorating mentally since suffering a stroke in 1948. His wife said he had been under psychiatric treatment.

Mrs. Richards said her husband became enraged during an argument over "a mere nothing" and struck her in the face with a small coal shovel. She called the troopers.

Richards barricaded himself in the house. He ran from window to window firing his rifle to hold off the troopers.

LITTLE GIRL, BIG SNOW—Little Gayle Dickerson tackled a man-sized job when she armed herself with a big shovel to clear snow-covered walks in front of her home at Denver, Colo. A pre-Thanksgiving Day storm deposited six inches of snow on the level and strong winds whipped up two-foot drifts in some streets.

Great Plains Hit By Big Snowstorm

DENVER (AP)—Drought-breaking snow swept eastward across the Great Plains today after dumping as much as 18 inches on Colorado's eastern farmlands.

Fading out in Colorado and Wyoming, the two-day-old storm was developing a new punch to lash Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa with freezing rain and snow.

Highway traffic and school schedules were snarled in eastern Colorado, western Nebraska, southeastern Wyoming and northwestern Kansas.

Moisture-starved wheatlands in northeastern Colorado received the heaviest fall from the Pacific-born storm that struck that area. Fort Morgan reported 16 inches. Akron 12, Hugo and Sterling 6.

Lander, in central Wyoming, reported a 9-inch fall, heaviest in that state.

Cold air extended over wide areas of the western part of the country. The leading edge extended to Lake Michigan southwestward through southern Iowa, central Kansas and to New Mexico. Temperatures in the cold air ranged from near 30 in the northwestern Great Lakes region to near zero in mountain areas and in the 40s in the far Southwest.

Ahead of the cold air, southerly winds brought a general warming trend to extend eastward to near the Atlantic Coast. Skies were partly cloudy along most of the East Coast.

Showers sprinkled areas from the middle Mississippi Valley southward through eastern Texas and Mississippi.

The temperature was down to 20 below zero at West Yellowstone in the big national park near the Wyoming-Montana line, by midnight.

Elsewhere in Wyoming Big Piney recorded 17 below zero, Casper —7, Douglas —6, Lander —5, Rawlins —3 and Laramie —1.

The lowest reported temperature in Colorado was 9 below at Leadville.

The Weather Bureau in Denver reported warming northwest winds already were blowing off the mountains in Wyoming, and rising temperatures were promised by afternoon. In Colorado, however, observers said it couldn't be expected to warm much before tomorrow.

Loss Of Expensive Bracelet Reported

AUSTIN (AP)—Loss of a $1,000 diamond bracelet was reported to police by Nancylee Davis, newly-named "Moonlight Girl" at the University of Texas.

Miss Davis, of Waco, wore the bracelet to the moonlight ball Saturday night where she was named to the honor by Phi Sigma Kappa.

She told police she remembered she was wearing the bracelet when she returned to her sorority house after the ball. The bracelet has a platinum base, encrusted with 40 diamonds.

Former Big League Player Is Injured

AUSTIN (AP)—Henry Oana was one of four persons inured in an auto accident west of here last night.

Oana, former big league player and manager of the Austin Pioneers in the Big State League several years ago, recently has been operator of a fishing resort on Lake Travis.

Higher Gas, Oil Prices Are Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Suez Canal blockage may bring higher gasoline and fuel oil prices, officials acknowledged today while repeating that it will not necessitate rationing in the United States.

The Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) renewed this no-rationing assurance as most of Western Europe curtailed motor travel and faced the prospect or actuality of gasoline rationing.

In this country, where petroleum output is restricted to a rate below the industry's potential, stocks in storage are high and plans are ready for a big boost in oil production if necessary.

Some industry sources estimated that strain on the American industry might be sufficient to shove fuel oil prices up one cent a gallon above present levels.

International tension has stirred some speculation on whether the Eisenhower administration might ask Congress for standby authority to impose price, wage, rationing and consumer credit controls.

Responsible officials have discounted such speculation. One official said today: "There is no indication that any such request may be made to the new Congress."

The government decided last week not to activate its emergency plans to supply Western Hemisphere oil to Europe until the United Nations police force has established itself in Egypt and British and French troops have been withdrawn.

These plans, worked out with a petroleum industry committee after Egyptian President Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal, envisage a huge increase in Western Hemisphere crude oil production and exports.

It would be possible to ship up to 1,100,000 barrels of crude oil daily to Europe, the ODM has said, without creating any shortage in this country.

The government has rejected an informal request by 16 European countries to put the emergency plans into effect now.

Any governmental action now to send oil to Britain and France might embarrass the peace efforts of the U.N., officials said, by appearing to range the United States in support of Britain and France and against the Arab states.

Individual oil companies have received orders from Europe through regular commercial channels, and there is nothing to prevent them from shipping oil without government approval or hindrance. Several tanker loads are expected to leave the Gulf this week, and this private movement could assume large proportion.

Any substantial step-up in production and trans-Atlantic tanker hauls would increase the industry's costs considerably. Steamship charter rates already have soared and oil and gasoline prices in Europe have climbed steeply.

3 Children Are Killed

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Three children were killed early today in an explosion and fire in their two-room frame home near here. Five other persons, including the parents of the children, were burned seriously.

At St. Elizabeth Hospital in Covington, the survivors were listed as Charles Graziana, 28; his wife, Della Mae, 25; a son, about a year old; Graziana's brother, Jerry, 15; and the 50-year-old mother of Charles and Jerry Graziana.

W. L. McBeeb, a member of the volunteer fire department, said the explosion and fire apparently started when Mrs. Graziana used kerosene to start a fire in a coal stove.

To Hale Center

Mrs. Katy Votaw was transfered to her home in Hale Center from a local doctor's office this morning at 12:30 a.m. by Bolger ambulance.

Protests On Raises Filed

MCALLEN (AP)—More than 41 petitions protesting proposed raises for elected county officials, circulated yesterday, were presented at a public hearing in Edinburg today.

The manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Paul Vickers, said the chamber held a citizens meeting last week to discuss the proposed raises. He said 41 petitions have been given out from his office then.

Salaries of all elected officials would be raised to the maximum allowed under state law. Most would be raised from their present $7,400 to $11,000 a year.

Salaries of the county treasurer and the commissioners would be more than doubled, from $5,400 to $11,000 for the treasurer and from $4,500 to $9,116 for the commissioners.

HOW $239,457 TELEPHONE PAYROLL HELPS KEEP BUSINESS ROLLING IN SNYDER

What the telephone company means to Snyder

EMPLOYER . . . provides good jobs for 64 of your neighbors who earn $239,457 a year—and spend most of it here in Snyder.

TAXPAYER . . . pays $11,722 in local taxes alone — enough to cover the cost of educating 47 Texas grade school children for a year.

BUYER . . . buys thousands of dollars worth of supplies and services from Snyder firms.

In just ten years, the number of telephone employees in Snyder has gone up from 13 to 64 — and greatly increased all our contributions to Snyder's welfare and prosperity.

TRUMAN BLACK, Manager

Add all the paychecks of all the 64 Snyder telephone people together and they will total $239,457 a year. Directly or indirectly, that represents an important contribution to the prosperity of everyone in town.

Nearly all of those telephone payroll dollars are spent here in town. For example, about one-fourth goes for food and beverages, about 14% for the family car, about one-tenth for clothing. And even the 2% spent for personal care adds up to $4,789 for Snyder's beauty parlors and barber shops.

There are other ways Snyder benefits from telephone company activity. Local taxes alone add up to $11,722 a year, or enough to pay the costs of educating 47 Texas grade school children for a year. Most important, however, Snyder benefits from good, dependable telephone service — and our efforts to keep your service growing in value. This has called for hundreds of thousands of dollars for new construction in the past ten years and has put 6,022 telephones in Snyder homes and businesses within reach of your telephone — more than seven times as many as ten years ago.

Progress like this is a good example of the importance of a sound and healthy telephone company to the entire community . . . a good example of how we can plan and build for the future when we can be confident of earning a fair profit.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

ALL LOCAL SCHOOLBOY football teams have now finished their season with exception, of course, the Tigers who will wind up their regular slate at Lamesa Friday night.

And the local teams once again compiled a very outstanding record for the season. Snyder's five football teams, from the 7th grade through the high school varsity, have combined for 36 wins against seven losses and three ties for a respectable .815 percentage.

Oddly enough, that is exactly the same percentage the local teams finished with last year that included the Tigers' bi-district loss to Garland.

In 1955, the locals won 37, lost eight and tied one for .815.

The Tigers now have a chance to better last year's record. They can do it by defeating Lamesa Friday night.

The Tiger "B" team is the only underclassman team here that went undefeated. Jim Stehley, making his debut on the Tiger staff, and V. V. Shearburn did a fine job with the Tiger B teamers, guiding them through seven wins and one tie over an 8-game schedule.

The lone blemish, a 14-14 deadlock with Midland B, was later revenged. In a second meeting, Tiger B defeated Midland B, 32-13.

Junior Highs Have Good Seasons

Both Junior High teams here had very fine seasons. The 7th graders, coached by Bill Hartsfield and Jimmy Stewart, posted a 9-1 record with the only loss coming in the season finale last week.

The 8th graders, tutored by Ace Amos and Charlie Sparks, registered seven wins against one loss and one tie. The tie game, with Sweetwater, 14-14, was later revenged, 20-14, but Blue Devil 8th graders didn't get a chance to revenge the loss. They only met South Junior of Abilene once and dropped a 13-12 decision for their only 1956 loss.

Coach J. P. Ward's Freshmen was hard hit by various and sundry ill luck through the season and came out with only a 4-5-1 record. The Freshman, although few in number, gave a good account of themselves through the season despite their record.

They defeated two of the teams they lost to, Lamesa and Big Spring, and tied a very good outfit in South Junior of Abilene, 14-14. Lady Luck frowned on the Tiger Frosh in the South Abilene game as the Tiger Yearlings drove to Abilene's three yard line and a first down with a minute to go only to lose the ball on a fumble.

South Junior, incidentally, won the junior high title in Abilene.

Courageous Athlete

The most courageous story of the year involves a member of the Tiger freshman team. We're referring to Barry Walker.

Walker's football career appeared to be doomed last winter when he broke his neck on a trampoline at the junior high after he had been a vital cog on the 8th grade football team's undefeated season the previous fall.

Walker, we understand, was advised to give up any attentions of playing football again, at least for the time being.

So Barry did the next best thing in being connected with football—that of serving as the student manager for the freshman team.

But even this didn't really "hit the spot" with young Walker. As the season wore on, Barry's untimely injury last winter kept getting better and realizing he was getting better he courageously asked and got permission from his physician and his parents to don a uniform for the Freshman's final game last week.

Walker was in the lineup last Thursday night and his presence may well have been the difference as the Tiger Yearlings defeated Big Spring, 20-13. Barry, an end, help set up one of the Tiger Frosh touchdowns with a pass reception that covered 44 yards. Walker ran about 25 yards after catching the pass, shaking loose from a coupla tacklers before being overtaken on the Big Spring one. The Tiger Yearlings scored on the ensuing play.

With this kind of courage, the future looks bright for Barry Walker.

Heated Scrap For 2nd Features SWC

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference coaches reported their teams generally in top condition as the race went into its final weeks with the fight for second drawing the most attention.

With Texas A&M ineligible, the runner-up gets the Cotton Bowl. The Aggies clinched half the title last week and play weak Texas Nov. 29.

Should Texas keep the Memorial Stadium jinx alive—the Aggies have never won at Austin—TCU would tie for first.

The Frogs, who slaughtered Texas Saturday, held a light drill without pads Monday. Quarterback Chuck Curtis flipped a few passes and the Horned Frogs ran a couple of plays in preparation for Rice.

Coach Abe Martin said injuries were at a minimum.

The Rice varsity took it easy in sweat clothes while the other units scrimmaged. The Owls watched films of the Aggie game last week and listened to a TCU scouting report.

Coaches said Rice should be in good physical condition.

A&M, open Saturday, held a for Texas. Coaches said movies of the Rice game showed Lloyd Hale was the outstanding lineman and John Crow and Lloyd Taylor the top backs.

Texas took a day off. Coach Ed Price said the players would rest through Wednesday. Tackle Charles Baker, guard Lou Delhomme and end Bob Bryant received knee injuries against TCU.

SMU took a light workout and started studying offensive tactics for use against Baylor. Coaches said Tom Koenig, sophomore left guard, was injured and might not be ready.

Chief Scout McAdoo Keaton said of Baylor: "They're the biggest team in the conference, and I believe they have more depth than any other team."

Baylor ran through a brief drill with emphasis on kicking, play timing and running. The Bears saw films of their victory over Nebraska and heard scouting reports on SMU.

Coaches said the Bruins received no new injuries.

Arkansas meets LSU Saturday at Shreveport to wind up the season. Coach Jack Mitchell let the Razorbacks skip practice Monday, but scheduled a workout Tuesday.

Effigy Inspired Frog Footballers

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — For coaches who may be looking fearfully for effigies: It isn't always so bad.

One may have won a football game and put a team back on the trail to its fondest dream.

At least Joe Williams, captain of Texas Christian University's team, says when somebody hung an affigy to the coach, Abe Martin, "It made us angry. We knew it wasn't his fault because we lost those games. It may have had something to do with our beating Texas Saturday."

Texas Christian had come from the depths of despair to smash Texas 46-0.

This was the TCU team that was one of the heaviest favorites in Southwest Conference history when the season started.

It lost to Texas A&M 7-6. The Horned Frogs were beaten 14-0 by Miami, barely managed to edge Baylor, then were humiliated 21-7 by Texas Tech, an outfit that had lost to A&M 40-7 and to Baylor 27-0.

It was the night of Tech game the effigy was strung up near the campus.

Now Texas Christian is on the trail to the Coton Bowl. If it beats Rice Saturday and Southern Methodist loses to Baylor it will be in the Jan. 1 game. If SMU should beat Baylor then TCU would have to defeat Southern Methodist to get into the bowl.

Williams said there were several factors contributing to the flop of the team — injuries, the letdown after the A&M loss, the feeling of the boys they were a great team and should go through undefeated.

Monday they had a meeting. The big guard said they were disgusted with their play and agreed that they could and would do better.

"We are going to give everything we have to come back to the Cotton Bowl," said Williams. "And we want to win it, too. We still feel badly about losing the one last year."

The Frogs lost to Mississippi 14-13 Jan. 1.

Martin had a wisecrack to relieve the tension. "The effegy didn't even look like me," he said. he said. "I'm much more handsome than that."

Claassen Says TCU, Baylor Will Triumph

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NANDI, Fii Islands (AP) — Football pickers normally are confused. But it gets worse as you travel toward Australia and cross the date line with today automatically becoming tomorrow. And to make it worse, the police in this tropical outpost wear skirts — that's right, skirts.

With those handicaps, here's the week's football winners:

Ohio State a tie for the Big Ten title.

Oklahoma over Nebraska: This is getting monotonous.

Colgate over Brown: The annual turkey day attraction for New Englanders. But it shouldn't be a 25-0 runaway for Colgate as it was a year ago.

Yale over Harvard: Dennis McGill to give the Harvards a very disagreeable Saturday afternoon.

Georgia Tech over Florida: A Saturday bruiser. Tech gets the edge in belief the Engineers will devise a way to stop Jackie Simpson.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

THURSDAY

Penn over Cornell, Davidson over Furman, Maryland over North Carolina State, William & Mary over Richmond, Virginia Tech over Virginia Military, South Carolina over Wake Forest, Washington University over Washington and Lee, Denver over Colorado A & M, Idaho over Montana, Oregon State over Oregon.

FRIDAY

Miami over West Virginia.

SATURDAY

EAST: Boston College over Brandeis, Villanova over Iowa State, Princeton over Dartmouth, Columbia over Rutgers, Pittsburgh over Penn State.

MIDWEST: Iowa over Notre Dame, Michigan State over Kansas State, Illinois over Northwestern, Minnesota over Wisconsin, Purdue over Indiana, Tulsa over Wichita.

SOUTH: Mississippi Southern over Alabama, Auburn over Florida State, Clemson over Virginia, Arkansas over LSU, Duke over North Carolina, Tennessee over Kentucky.

SOUTHWEST: Texas Christian over Rice, Houston over Texas Tech, Baylor over Southern Methodist.

FARWEST: Air Force Academy over Brigham Young, Southern California over UCLA, Washington over Washington State.

Patty Francis paced the Coahoma girls with 37 points while Baleria Eubanks had 36 and Peggy Taylor 32 to pace Ira's sextette.

The Ira teams will host Highland tonight.

West Texas State Picked For Tangerine

Florida State and Mississippi Southern are considered for the other spot.

Colts' Halfback Hurt

BALTIMORE (AP) — L. G. Dupe, Baltimore Colts' halfback, will miss next Sunday's game against the Los Angeles Rams here because of a sprained ankle suffered in the game with the Detroit Lions.

The other two moved up are Quarterback Richard Mahan and center Harley Merritt. (Lee Watson photographs).

4th Tiger Passes 200 Rushing Mark

Mickey McGrew became the fourth Tiger to pass the 200-yard mark in rushing and Powell Berry neared the 1,000-yard mark in total offense following last week's game with Colorado City, according to the Daily News statistical figures.

McGrew, sophomore fullback, powered his way for 71 yards against C-City to bring his season rushing mark to 234 yards.

Berry picked up 15 yards rushing in four carries and passed for 143 more to give him a total offense of 968 yards for the season. Berry retained his lead in rushing despite his low of the season against Colorado City. The senior quarterback has now gained 438 net yards in 79 carries for a 5.5 average.

Tommy Prichard, who missed the Colorado City game with an injury except for about 20 seconds, dropped from second to third in the rushing department with fullback Bill Fowler moving up to the No. 2 slot.

Fowler has gained 341 yards in 62 rushes while Prichard has netted 333 in 63. McGrew is fourth among the rushers.

Ronnie Smith continued with the best percentage among the passers with 10 or more attempts but Berry is well ahead in yards gained passing. Berry has passed for 530 yards.

Smith has hit nine of 17 for .529. Ronnie had had his first pass of the season to be intercepted in the Colorado City game. Smith's nine completions have gained 178 yards.

End Milton Ham snared six passes for 99 yards against Colorado City to boost his lead in pass receiving with 22 catches for 412 yards and nine touchdowns.

Three of Ham's receptions in the Colorado City game went for touchdowns that upped his scoring total for the year to 57 points, tops in the Tiger ranks.

Two more Tigers joined the scoring ranks in the C-City contest bringing the total number of Tigers to score to 14. Tackle Wiley Denson and end Tom Falls were the newcomers to the Tiger scoring column.

Following is a complete run-down of the Tiger individual statistics:

Committee Vetos Brundage's Plan

By TED SMITS

MELBOURNE (AP) — The International Olympic Committee on the eve of the opening of the 1956 games rebuffed its president, Avery Brundage, and voted down his proposal to include in the oath a promise by athletes that they intend to remain amateurs.

The action at the secret meeting in Melbourne town hall was disclosed by committee members who declined use of their names. It affirmed a previous decision of the executive committee. Brundage, a champion of amateurism in its purest form, frowns on athletes who capitalize on their Olympic fame by turning professional.

Workmen are still toiling frantically to get the Melbourne cricket grounds in shape for the opening ceremonies Thursday. Painting remains to be done and much debris must be cleaned out.

Best piece of news was a weather bureau forecast that Thursday would be warm and sunny.

The controversy over the Olympic oath has been boiling all year. For a time it appeared many American athletes might refuse to participate because they could not sign the pledge with a clear conscience. As originally promulgated the oath required athletes to state, "On my honor I am an amateur and I intend to remain an amateur." The committee action today struck out "intend to remain."

In other action the committee censured the seven nations that withdrew from these games for political reasons.

As matters shape up now, the United States is expected to dominate men's track and field, win the basketball championship, and score well in swimming, weightlifting, boxing, and rowing. Russia should win its first gold medal or two in men's track, clean up in women's track, dominae gymnastics, and show well in weightlifting, wrestling, rowing, shooting and some of the lesser known events.

Hoover Backs Up Earlier Decision

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover says he has "no regrets" for a stand he took in 1941 opposing United States involvement in World War II.

Hoover spoke last night at a dinner in connection with the dedication of a new boys' club for Gen. Robert E. Wood, retired chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co. and president of the Chicago Boys Clubs.

Hoover, now 82, recalled 40 years of friendship with Wood, 77, since they worked together on food problems in World War I.

"We came out of that experience with a profound and justifiable distaste of war and all its aftermaths," he said. "When World War II began to loom up, both of us simultaneously and without any previous collaboration opposed every step of America being involved in that war."

The former President said Wood gave "warm approval" to his speech of June 29, 1941, saying that Britain was "now safe from German invasion due to Hitler's diversion to his attack upon Russia."

"I said the gargantuan jest of all history would be if we should give aid to Stalin in the war," Hoover said. "I said the result would be to spread communism over the world.

"I urged that we stand aside while these two monsters exhausted each other; that if we stood aside the time would come when we could, by our strength, bring lasting peace to the world.

"That was our gospel, and we have no regrets. I know the general, like myself, has slept better for having made the fight against it."

Some 1,000 Cicagoans sponsoring 1,000 boys for membership in the Chicago Boys Club attended the $50-a-plate dinner.

Party Letter Is Sent By US Commies

NEW YORK (AP) — The national committee of the American Communist party says "we do not seek to justify the use of Soviet troops in Hungary's internal crisis on Nov. 4."

A letter to party members from the committee adds, however: "Neither do we join in the condemnation of this action. Were there no alternatives? Was it a grim necessity? There are no ready answers and we are in no position to give final judgment on the Soviet action."

The committee's 2,500-word letter to members was made public here last night.

In a long discussion of events in Hungary, the letter said:

"The Oct. 24 decision of the Geroe government to call upon Soviet troops stationed in Hungary to put down the initial popular demonstrations inflamed the situation to a grave crisis.

"This was a tragic error for which the Soviet Union must also take responsibility. It disclosed the failure of a policy which was not based securely upon the national needs and sentiments of the working class and popular masses in Hungary.

"The great prestige that the Soviet Union had won amongst the Hungarian working class by its role in liberating the country from the Nazis and the hated Horthy regime was thereby seriously damaged. . ."

Board To Consider Project In Newton

AUSTIN (AP)— The State Water Board considered today a controversial project to build a dam and reservoir in Newton County. Both sides admit there is no need now for the water.

In a hearing yesterday, the Newton County Water Supply District asked for permission to appropriate 10,000 acre feet of water a year from the Little Cow Creek, a tributary of the Sabine River. Some 500 acre feet will be used for city purposes and 9,500 acre feet for industry.

Only two witnesses were presented by the district's attorney, Victor Bouldin of Houston. No witnesses were called by the opponents, represented by R. D. Richards of Houston, and B. F. Whitworth of Jasper, for Southern Pine Lumber Co., and the Champion Paper and Fiber Co.

"The evidence presented in this hearing will demonstrate within a shadow of a doubt that it will be detrimental to the public welfare," Richards said. "No one has requested any of the water—all that has been expressed is a hint and a fond hope that it will act as an attractive magnet to draw industries to the county."

Bouldin admitted there was no present need for the water but he said "The people of Newton County have planned ahead and attempted to carry out the policy of our state to conserve our public water and help themselves in the process."

"If a substantial water supply is found in Texas . . . there will be a very useful need put to that water," Bouldin told the board. He added that it served the public welfare "by storing water that otherwise would be lost to the sea."

Newton County voters had approved spending 2½ millions for two dams on the Little Cow and Big Cow creeks.

W. H. Talley of Burkeville, about three miles from the proposed site, said the voters thought of both projects as a package deal. He said the slogan used to promote the project was "two good dams for one dam vote."

The board approved establishment of Galveston County Water Control and Improvement District 16 at La Marque, and the Concho County Water Control and Improvement District 1 at Paint Rock. Neither were opposed. Temporary directors of the Galveston district are C. W. Warren, Alex Huffman, J. H. Cate, A. M. Mings and Julius Crisler of La Marque.

Daniel Gets New Demand To Resign

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. Price Daniel faced today a new demand that he resign at once with no strings attached.

State Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston said more Texans would be able to vote if a special election to fill the post can be held from this year's heavy poll-tax lists.

If the election is delayed beyond Jan. 31, 1957, when off-year poll tax payments are in effect, there will be fewer voters, Bracewell said.

Bracewell made the request in a letter to Gov.-elect Daniel. Bracewell hopes to succeed Daniel in the Senate and is running on a pro-Eisenhower platform. He is a Democrat.

Daniel telegraphed Gov. Shivers, asking that he furnish a legal brief in support of his views that Daniel's "advance" resignation will not stand up under the law.

Republican Committeeman Jack Porter of Houston called on Shivers, but brushed off questions as to whether they talked about the Senate.

Daniel has resigned as junior senator effective Jan. 15 or sooner if a successor qualifies. Shivers says he does not think such a future resignation is legal and has also called on Daniel to resubmit a resignation effective at once.

Daniel has said he would be in Washington Jan. 3 when Congress convenes if a successor has not been elected by then, to help Democrats hold their 49-47 edge in the Senate.

Car Creates Rumpus In New Rumpus Room

BELLFLOWOE, CRalif. (AP) — An out-of-control car created quite a rumpus in John Baker's recently completed rumpus room.

The car, driven by Joyce Edward Dalrymple of Downey, roared up the steps to Baker's home and crashed completely into the room, highway patrol officers reported.

No one was injured but Baker's wife was treated for shock, officers said.

Trade Ban Sought

DALLAS (AP)—Some 75 church representatives and grocery store employes said yesterday they would petition Dallas ministers to instruct their congregations not to trade with stores that stay open on Sunday.

Farm Income Is Up Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today net income of farm operators this year is up slightly from 1955, the first increase since 1951. Another gain is likely in 1957.

The key to the income outlook for 1957 as the department sees it: Strong demand from consumers, increasing shipments of farm products abroad, the soil bank designed to cut planted acreage, and reduced hog marketing.

The department said economic activity is expected to continue to expend into 1957.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has made it plain he intends to rely primarily on existing farm laws in seeking to increase farm income. He said last week he expected to recommend no major farm law changes.

The department gave no specific net income estimates for the year.

Consumers next year are likely to boost food expenditures at about the same are as their income increases, the department said. But, it added, costs of marketing are likely to continue high and only part of the increased food expenditures will go to farmers.

Prospects are estimated as good for a strong foreign market for American farm goods. Farm exports have increased steadily for four years.

The department said 40 to 45 million acres might go into the soil bank in 1957 and thus be taken out of production in return for federal subsidy payments.

Meanwhile, the department said, farmers will have plenty to sell. Farm production this year set a new record and stocks of wheat, cotton, corn and rice were at new highs as the 1957 crop year began.

Reduced hog production this fall is expected to cut meat production in 1957, halting a five-year increase. Beef production probably will stay near the 1956 volume while output of dairy and poultry products is likely to set records.

Farm costs are expected to continue slowly upward. The department said with fewer acres being farmed, total production expenses of farmers probably will be about the same as in 1956.

Cattle production is stable and prices may average slightly higher next year. A sharp rise in exports is expected to reduce the cotton carryover during 1956-57 for the first time since 1950-51.

Little Girl Loses Her Eye To Cancer

BOSTON (AP) — Little Carol Ann Molinaro has lost her right eye to the surgeon's scalpel in an effort to check the spread of cancer to her brain.

The 3½-year-old girl's cancerous right eye was removed yesterday in what doctors at Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary called a successful operation. They said there is no indication of a similar growth in the left eye.

Ahead for Carol Ann lies lengthy pathological tests of the optic nerve to determine whether the disease has been contained.

Mrs. Brock underwent surgery in the Abilene hospital on Nov. 10, and is reported to be doing well. Friends here said she probably would remain with relatives in Abilene for several days after she leaves the hospital.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A Christmas party was held last night for the youngsters at the Dr. Patrick I. O'Rourke Children's Center under the sponsorship of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary. An auxiliary spokesman said so many Cristmas parties are planned this year that a pre-Thanksgiving start was necessary.

Unscheduled Swim Taken By Motorist

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Gene Dills, 38, of Ashland, took a nap in his car at the top of a hill leading to the bank of the Ohio River.

The next thing he knew, he was swimming. The emergency brake apparently slipped and the car rolled 100 feet down the bank into about 15 feet of water.

Dills climbed out an open window and swam to shore.

Actor Gets Court Order

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Ernest Borgnine, who won an Academy Award for his role of "Marty" on the screen, claims his studio bosses harassed him by offering him a "walk on" role in a new film.

Borgnine won a restraining order in Superior Court yesterday against Hecht-Lancaster Productions. He had asked that they be forced to suspend "any harassing action pending trial" of his suit to break their contract.

Brgnine claimed he received only $35,000 for two loan-out roles, while Hecht-Lancaster got $150,000, and said the part they offered him in "Sweet Svell of Success" was a small one.

Producer Harold Hecht said the part, "although not a large one, is a very good one x x x."

Sued For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Frank Loesser, prolific lyricist who wrote the Academy Award-winning song "Baby, It's Cold Outside," has been sued for divorce by Mary Alice Loesser. She charged extreme physical cruelty and asked $5,000 a month temporary support for herself and their two children, Susan, 12, and John, 6.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES HOLIDAY TURKEY — President Eisenhower—in private life at Gettysburg, Pa., farmer—gives a critical inspection to a 40-pound bronze tom presented to him at the White House by the National Turkey Growers Association. In the background are Leslie S. Hubbard of Lancaster, Pa., president of the Poultry and Egg National Board, and Mrs. Ezra T. Benson, wife of the secretary of agriculture.

French Deny Claim Made By British

LONDON (AP) — The Manchester Guardian asserted today that "French aircraft flown by French pilots in French uniform" took part in Israel's invasion of Egypt.

A dispatch from a correspondent who recently went from Tel Aviv to Nicosia to escape Israeli censorship said the French airmen "played an important, possibly even a decisive" part in the Israeli drive through the Sinai Desert.

The correspondent, James Morris, added:

"The Israeli censorship has stifled this startling fact, and Gen. Moshe Dayan, the Israeli chief of staff, flatly denied it when questioned at a recent press conference.

"There is, however, no doubt at all that French fighter pilots took part in the battle, and it is suggested that the accuracy of their napalm bombing was one of the most important factors in the rout of the Egyptian army."

Morris said he had interviewed one French flier in uniform who "talked to me very freely about his part in the campaign."

A French Defense Ministry spokesman in Paris "most emphatically" denied the Guardian's report.

"This is absolutely untrue," he said. "Not a single French pilot, whether in uniform or not, did take part in the Israeli offensive or did fly planes from Israeli bases."

A spokesman for the French Air Ministry said it was possible former French pilots who chose to live in Israel years ago now belong to the Israeli air force.

Utah Woman Observes Her 101st Birthday

ROY, Utah (AP)—A five-foot, 80-pound woman who baked her own birthday cake and still keeps abreast of world events marked her 101st birthday yesterday.

Mrs. Liza Drake McManus' husband died 40 years ago, but she didn't decide to move in with relatives until a year ago. Up to then, she preferred to live alone.

She pooh-poohs her advanced age.

"I saw a fellow in the newspaper who is 103," she said. "Well, I think I can make it if he can."

Los Angeles Calling All Its Millionaires

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles City Council is ready to take applications of millionaires who may wish to give parks to the city.

The council's receptive mood followed a suggestion that the city sell 27 tax-deeded lots it owns in West San Fernando Valley and earmark the proceeds for parks.

If millionaires were reminded that the city needed such benefactions, said Councilman Harold Henry, "there might be a considerable response."

Former Slave Dies In Jefferson County

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Winnie Wilson, 111, a former slave in Jefferson County in southeast Texas, died last night.

The mother of 17 children, she had lived in Dallas the past 60 years.

The Rev. J. Von Borwn, pastor of the Light Church of Prayer, said Mrs. Wilson had been an active member for the past 10 years despite her age.

'Under Observation'

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dalton Rayford, 22, of Tyler was placed "under observation" yesterday. He told police he killed a man with his bare hands after hitching a ride. Officers said Rayford told them he killed a man who made indecent suggestions, then ran the man's car into a roadside bayou last week.

Brush Fire Spreads Over Large Area

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Treacherous winds pushed a spreading brush fire through the foothills of the San Bernardino Mountains today, sending the flames dangerously close to citrus groves and ranch houses.

Five homes scattered through the brush have been reported destroyed by the fire in its erratic course over 4,000 acres of hilly terrain. Four fire fighters have been burned, one critically.

On one of its flanks, the fire is only half a mile from the black scar left in the mountains by the devastating Lake Arrowhead fire of last September.

The fire started yesterday near the community of Highland and was t ttturned almost instantly into a rampaging blaze by the fierne winds that scoured southern California all day. A gust of 100 m.p.h. was clocked on a mountain top, and winds up to 65 m.p.h. kicked up blinding sand and dust storms along desert roads.

No communities are believed to be endangered by the flames, but extensive damage has been reported from heat and smoke in the lush orange groves terraced along the lower edge of the foothills.

Singer Must Pay Children Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Billy Eckstine must pay $750 a month support for two children born to Carolle Drake, former Atlanta disc jockey and model with whom he admitted living as man and wife for three years.

Eckstine acknowledged in court yesterday that he was the father of her two infant sons, but he did not promise to take the suggestion of Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle, who said: "You ought to get married for the benefit of the children."

Miss Drake said the singer promised to marry her after his wife's divorce became final last May.

Internal Revenue Report Is Given

DALLAS (AP)—Texans contributed $2,406,585 to the Internal Revenue for the fiscal year 1956, it was announced yesterday.

Commissioner Russell Harrington gave the figure in a report for the fiscal year ended June 30.

He said it includes all payments received during that period, including taxes, penalties, interest, costs, court fines, judgments, offers in compromise, proceeds from seizures, and others.

Flower Shop Moves To Another Address

Mrs. E. P. Ketner has announced the move of the Friendly Flower Shop from 604 East Highway to 507 East Highway.

The shop had been located at the old address for four years.

The new address is the building formerly occupied by Gordon's Dairy Maid. It is near Bell Funeral Home and Battenfield-Jones Hospital.

The telephone number, 3-3851, will remain the same, Mrs. Ketner said.

Man Doesn't Stay Long In Apartment

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Michael Interlandi moved into a new apartment Saturday night.

A few hours later he was carried out by firefighters overcome by smoke from a fire discovered early yesterday.

His condition was not considered serious.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

All Because Of A Kitten

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Antonio Ventura, 81, and Mrs. Lucille Kickirillo drove to a neighbor's to give a kitten to some children yesterday.

Mrs. Kickirillo parked the car in a driveway and got out to get the kitten out of the back. Mrs. Ventura attempted to help from the front seat.

Accident investigator M. C. Flowers said Mrs. Ventura accidentally put the car in gear and stepped on the gas at the same time.

It shot out of the drive, crossed the street, crashed through a garage, crossed a vacant lot, crossed a street and ran into a tree.

Mrs. Ventura was in serious condition with a broken leg and other injuries.

She Has Cold House Because Of Thieves

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Nancy Robinson had a cold house, because of some slick thieves.

A few days ago Miss Robinson had a new furnace installed. Yesterday two men came, said they were from the furnace dealer and would have to remove the furnace—the wrong model had been installed.

"They looked like furnace men and seemed to know their business," Miss Robinson told police. She said she became dubious when the men didn't return with a substitute model. Her worst fears had been confirmed by her dealer who said he'd installed the right furnace in the first place.

Boy, 5, Is Shot To Death Accidentally

AURORA, Colo. (AP)—The accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of his 7-year-old sister killed William Gary Gibson, 5, police chief Spencer Garrett reported.

Garrett said the boy took the weapon from under a pillow on his father's bed and the girl, Carolynn Elaine, was trying to replace it when the revolver fired. The bullet passed through the boy's head.

The boy's father, Sgt. Arlen T. Gibson, was on duty at Lowry Air Force Base and his mother was visiting a neighbor, Garrett said.

Thieves Keep Their Promise To Owner

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A promise is a promise — even among thieves.

When two gunmen held up supermarket owner Ross Cobbs as he left with the day's receipts of about $400, Cobbs asked if he could at least keep the checks.

The men refused, but promised to mail them to him.

Yesterday Cobbs was called to a rural home and the owner gave him the checks. He had found them in his mailbox.

Drive Slated On Education

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A two - year national advertising campaign costing 12 million dollars will begin next spring to educate people on the value of education, it was announced here last night.

Dr. Wilson M. Compton, president of the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc., New York, told the annual Presbyterian College Public Relations Conference about the plan.

He said a national advertising agency and the Advertising Council of America will handle the campaign through newspapeers, magazines, radio and television.

The aim, Dr. Compton said, is to show the need for money "to raise and maintain the quality of education and not the physical plant."

Bandits Lose Loot

SEATTLE (AP) — A paper bag stuffed with $34,000 broke open as two gunmen made their getaway from a bank holdup yesterday. Bills totaling $10,300 fluttered to the street, the FBI said. Onlookers picked them up and returned them to the bank, but the bandits got away with the rest.

Local Restaurant Owned By Barrett

Delicious steaks and the best Mexican food in town are the specialties of the Beacon Lodge Restaurant, located on the East Highway at the traffic circle.

The restaurant is under the new ownership of Carl Barrett, who was formerly employed as a cook by Dan Kaffka, owner of the Beacon Lodge and former owner of the restaurant there.

Barrett had been at the Beacon several months after having been a cook for the Hilander nine months and Gordon's Grill seven months. As a cook, Barrett has had a large following in Snyder. This was partly due to Barrett's carefulness in not making such foods as steaks and Mexican dishes too greasy. Barrett has been in the restaurant business more than 20 years.

He still insists on such at the Beacon Lodge Restaurant and invites all Snyder residents out to try them.

The Beacon Lodge Restaurant is open for two mealtimes daily. Breakfast is served from 6 to 9:30 a.m., and the evening hours are from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Although the restaurant is not open during the lunch hours, Barrett said he will take special parties upon reservation for the noon hours. The restaurant can be reserved by calling 3-3571. It is especially suited for noon meetings because it is away from the noise of the city, and meetings can be held in privacy.

The Beacon is the only lodge or court in Snyder which has a restaurant in conjunction. It has a capacity of 40, and it has among its features courteous service by waitress Laura Townsend.

Because it uses water from a private well, the Beacon Lodge Restaurant can serve the best coffee in Snyder.

Since Thanksgiving is Thursday Barrett has made plans for serving turkey and all the trimmings to those who wish to dine during the evening hours.

Steaks, fried chicken, Mexican foods, sea foods, chops, and many other dishes are on the varied menu at the Beacon Lodge restaurant. There is also a full breakfast menu. While hot rolls are served during the evening hours, Barrett likes to include bisquits on the breakfast menu.

Particular about the way he prepares dishes, Barrett said 20 years of cooking has taught him such. Margerines and the proper cooking oils in the case of cooking such things as eggs or in deep frying are included on his list of "musts."

New Company Will Seek World Market

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Glenn L. Martin Co. has formed a subsidiary company to explore and develop world markets for nuclear-powered electrical generating systems.

Te new company, entirely owned by the aircraft company, is called Martin International. George B. Shaw, vice president in charge of procurement for the parent firm, was named president of the subsidiary.

The company announced that preliminary discussions have been held with both private and government sources in the Dominican Republic, Cuba and Brazil.

Deer Injures Hunter

COLUMBUS, Oio (AP) — On the first day of Ohio's small game season, a deer "ran over" an unidentified, elderly hunter in a public hunting area north of Delaware, causing the man some injuries.

Service Center Opened By Sears

The Sears Roebuck Co. store in Snyder has just opened and put in a new service for their customers here.

It is the Sears Service Center, located on Twenty-fifth Street just east of Scurry Butane Co. in east Snyder.

All types of appliances will be serviced by the service specialists in the service center.

Bill Cantwell, head of the service center, said that complete repair and service will be offered on any and all appliances, both major appliances and small appliances.

"We will stock a complete line of parts for almost all types of appliances, and will be able to give quick service on all repairs or services offered," Cantwell said.

The new Sears Service Center is not a new idea for Sears Roebuck stores, although it is new for Snyder. Sears Roebuck Co. has service centers in most towns where it has stores.

In addition to service on all appliances the service center will offer a pickup and delivery service for convenience of its customers.

Cantwell said that all television, radio, record player, ranges, refrigerators, washers, dryers, power lawn mowers, and small appliances would be serviced.

The new Service Center department will also handle installation of appliances sold by Sears Roebuck Co. here.

Wilburn Eaton will be the appliance specialist with the new Sears Service Center. He has had several years experience in the repair and service of appliances, and has attended a special Sears factory refrigerator school at Dallas.

Cantwell has had 20 years experience as a radio and television specialist. He attended Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill. and served in the Navy. He worked in the National Broadcasting Co. experimental laboratory at Denver, Colo. for six years.

"We have all the latest types of testing and adjusting equipment for television service," Cantwell said.
