BOSTON DIVINE ELECTED TO BRITISH CONGRESS

Unprecedented Result of Elections in England

FROM LONDON DISTRICT

"You Can't Keep an American Down," King Edward Reported to Have Said

Special to The Telegram.

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 18.—Rev. H. Stopford Brooke, former Unitarian minister of Boston, Mass., was overwhelmingly elected to house of commons on liberal ticket from Tower Hamlet, a part of London.

Special to The Telegram.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—An American minister has been elected to a seat in the British house of commons, according to the late returns from yesterday's election in the counties, which are flooding in today. Rev. Stopford Brooke, formerly a Unitarian preacher of Boston, Mass., has captured the Bow and Bromley division of the Tower hamlets, a large division of London, in behalf of the liberal party.

This is absolutely unprecedented. English-born settlers in America have held many offices under the American republic, but for a native-born American to reverse the tables and be triumphantly elected to a seat in the governing body of the empire of Great Britain is entirely without parallel.

It is characterized humorously as another phase of the "American Invasion." "You can't keep an American down," the king is reported to have said, when informed that a Boston man would represent a large section of London.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The liberal tide is rising faster than ever today, as the flood of returns comes in from yesterday's elections in the counties. Fourteen more conservative seats have been captured, while the unionists can only record a victory in one division, which is more than counterbalanced by labor gains in Sunderland and Warwickshire.

Well-known unionists like William St. John Broderick, former secretary of state for India; William Guilford, division of Surrey; Henry Chaplin, former president of the local government board in Sleaford, division of Lincolnshire, and Ailwyne Fellowes, former president of the board of agriculture in the Ramney or northern division of Huntingdonshire, having been overwhelmed by the liberal avalanche.

Among the new members interesting to Americans is Dr. Stopford W. Brooke, a former Unitarian minister of Boston, Mass., who captured Bow and Bromley division of Tower hamlets (London) in behalf of the liberals. The result to date is as follows: Liberals, 189; unionists, 79; Irish nationalists, 56; laborites, 33.

DISTRICT CLERK DIES; WIFE TAKES HIS JOB

New Departure Made in Appointment of Successor to County Official in Paris

Special to The Telegram.

BONHAM, Texas, Jan. 18.—A new departure in the appointment of county officials, but one which meets the evident approval of every citizen in Fannin county, has been made here by District Judge Ben Denton of Paris, Texas, when he assigned Mrs. John S. Cope to fill out the unexpired term of her husband, the late John S. Cope, as district clerk for this county.

For some time before his death Mr. Cope's physical condition was such that the deputies in his office attended to his duties. Mrs. Cope has signified her intention to retain the same force of deputies in the office during the remainder of the term.

Following the death of Mr. Cope here last week, a number of applications were made to Judge Denton for appointment to the place, but following the deathbed request of Mr. Cope that his wife be appointed to fill out the term, Judge Denton named Mrs. Cope to the pleasure of a large number of leading business and professional men of this city, who had presented a petition to that effect.

W. S. IKARD GOES INTO BANKRUPTCY

Liabilities Placed at $745,238, Assets $2,205

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the federal court of this city Wednesday night by William S. Ikard of Henrietta for the sum total of liabilities of $745,238.81. He has assets of $2,205.43, all of which are exempt.

The liabilities are almost entirely those of judgments that were obtained against him during the years 1887 and 1888, or shortly after the failure of the company which included himself and brother in Northwest Texas.

Prior to 1887 E. F. and W. S. Ikard were among the largest cattlemen of the state, and they owned large herds and tracts of land in Northwest Texas. They had purchased over 100,000 acres of land. Prior to this, in 1884 and 1885, they had also purchased large numbers of cattle at the high prices then prevailing. Cattle depreciated tremendously about that time, and cattle that had formerly brought $20 a head dropped to $6. Following this came the drouths of 1886 and 1887, which ruined their cattle business. That was before the time of feeding and the grass was totally destroyed. Payments fell due on the land that they had bought, and they were unable to raise the money on account of the continued run of disasters. The firm failed, as did the large firm of Curtis & Atkinson, and their creditors brought suit. Judgments were entered against everything except the homesteads. There was so little left over that the creditors allowed the claims to be barred by limitation.

E. F. Ikard filed his petition in bankruptcy some years ago, and this petition is filed in order to clear W. S. Ikard of the debts which have already been outlawed.

The Assets

His list of assets is as follows:

Two judgments secured in 1887	$1,325.43
Household goods and furniture	250.00
Family pictures and book	200.00
One mare	75.00
Real estate, one lot in Henrietta cemetery	15.00
Total	$2,205.43

The Liabilities

In the list of liabilities there are twelve notes that were due after the time of the failure of the company and which have had judgments filed against them aggregating $160,123.09, held by banks and companies in this city. Some of the creditors are out of business.

Manager Bonner of the Kirby Company testified as to the number of mules and other supplies his company intended to purchase from farms in North Texas. Officials of other roads testified as to the amount their companies would lose in the event the new rate is put into effect.

Awful Tragedy in Little New Hampshire Town—Authorities Investigating

By Associated Press.

PEMBROKE, N. H., Jan. 18.—The authorities of Merrick county and Pembroke today resumed investigation of the tragedy in which seven persons were victims and the eighth took his own life yesterday.

After daylight many of the townspeople visited the ruins of the farmhouse at North Pembroke which has for three years been occupied by Charles F. Ayre, his immediate family and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Isaac Lakeman.

Mrs. Ayre and her five children, the latter in the farm buildings, were burned and their bodies incinerated.

Before the fire was discovered by neighbors, Ayre left home for the residence of his sister, Mrs. George Bailey, in the town of Chichester, six miles distant, where he shot himself when informed of the destruction of his property.

Ayre died last night without making any statement which would assist in ascertaining the exact manner in which his seven relatives met death.

Brooding Over Financial Wrongs

For three months Ayre had been brooding over a fancied financial wrong in connection with the settlement of the estate of his wife's father, Isaac Lakeman, who died three years ago. His widow was named as executrix. No final settlement of the estate has been made, however. In November last Mrs. Lakeman put up the farm at auction, and it was bought by one of her sons, Fayette Lakeman.

He made arrangements for Ayre and his wife to remain on the place, having their rent free, in return for boarding Mrs. Lakeman, paying taxes and making repairs.

Ayre insisted, however, that his wife should receive the share of the purchase money that would be hers, as heir, before she signed deeds to the place.

To this her brother refused to consent. Ayre was angry, but his wife finally signed the deeds.

A search of the ruins resulted in finding all five of the remaining bodies during the forenoon. All were burned horribly, and it is practically impossible to tell one from another, save that a difference in the size indicated that of the mother.

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 18.—An effort is to be made to have the next legislature make an appropriation for the employment of a clerk whose duty it shall be to attend to the indexing and arranging of many of the old archives of the state of Texas which are now buried in the basement of the state house. NEW CAR LINE IN THIRD WARD

Referendum Election Is to Be Asked at Once

AGREEMENT IS SECURED

Northern Texas Traction Company Will Traverse East Side Streets

Application for a referendum election to secure a franchise for a street car line through the Third ward will be made by the Northen Texas Traction company at the next regular meeting of that body, unless a special session is called earlier for the purpose. The new line will connect with the present tracks of the company in East Front street, the Jones street franchise abandoned by the company having no part in it.

An agreement to build the line if the franchise was granted was secured by Judge W. R. Parker, alderman of the Third ward, from the company Wednesday night, and circulation of the petition calling for the referendum begun at once. Judge Parker is confident that the franchise will be readily granted, in view of the demand for a car line in the ward.

Route of Line

The new line will begin at Front and Crump streets, run north on Crump street to Thirteenth street; east on Thirteenth street to Harding street, north on Harding street to Eleventh street, and east on Eleventh street to Stedman street.

Is to Be built Rapidly

Under the provision of the ordinance to be offered the traction company is to build and have in operation the line withing four months from the granting of the franchise.

In speaking of the matter Thursday morning, Judge Parker said that as soon as the determination of the traction company to abandon the Jones street franchise, in view of the action of the city council, became known, he began to arrange for the building of the line now proposed, consent upon the part of the company being received late Wednesday.

The coming referendum election will be the fourth to be held under the revised charter of the city. Two franchises have been granted and one refused.

Need of LIne

Various efforts have been made in the past to secure street car facilities in the Third ward, in order that the residents may have easy access to the packing houses and other industries. A large part of the population of the ward is composed of working men, and much complaint has been made that they have been forced to walk to and from their employment.

The third ward line first proposed was to use the old Jones street franchise and cross Seventeenth street through the railroad yards.

WANTS TO REDUCE SOUTH IN CONGRESS

Gen. J. W. Keifer of Ohio Preparing a Bill to Introduce in Present Session

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—General J. Warren Keifer of Springfield, Ohio, expects to introduce his bill proposing a reduction of representation of the southern states in the house some time this month. He has been occupied since he came to Washington in December collecting data on the subject, and will soon begin drafting the measure. There is just one important point upon which he is undecided, and that is whether to treat each southern state which has disfranchised the negro separately or include all of them in one general provision.

The general has planned to stir up public sentiment on the proposition to curtail the size of the delegations of all states that do not permit the negro to vote. He has mapped out a novel campaign, the feature of which is to hold public meetings in some of the big cities of the North. The first meeting will probably be held in Cooper Union, New York, where many reform movements have been projected in recent years. The ex-speaker has been in communication with several civic organizations in the East, which will lend him their moral and material aid in securing enactment of the legislation he has in mind.

CHICAGO MOURNS MARSHALL FIELD

Board of Trade, Banks and Stores Were Closed

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Chicago went into mourning yesterday for the death of Marshall Field. From the Board of Trade, most of the banks, and practically all of the big wholesale and retail stores, flags were flown at half mast, while the Field stores remained silent behind closed doors and drawn shades.

While almost every organization devoted to the interest of the development of Chicago adopted resolutions honoring the memory of Mr. Field, the State street merchants met and agreed to close their stores tomorrow from 12 to 1 o'clock while the funeral was in progress.

The Board of Trade, of which Mr. Field was a member, will stop trading for the day at 12:30 o'clock, and the Crerar Library, of which he was a director under the will of John Crerar, will be closed after 11 a. m. The Chicago Live Stock Exchange will close at 12:30.

In connection with the announcement of funeral arrangements, there came out late last night plans for a peculiarly touching tribute, which will suggest the respect and affection felt for the dead merchant by all associated with him in business. This tribute will take the form of a memorial meeting of employes of the Field stores, which will be held in the auditorium at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, just after the funeral and burial. The meeting will be addressed by a number of the department heads, officials of the company and by old employes, who knew Mr. Field personally.

Inasmuch as the Auditorium will not seat half of the 10,000 employes of Field & Co. in the city, the memorial meeting will be especially for the older employes.

Police Dumfounded to Discover Dead Man Lying in State on Poker Table

Special to The Telegram.

PARSONS, Kan., Jan. 18.—Lying in state on the gaming table in the center of one of the best known gambling houses in Parsons, the police were astounded to find the body of a dead man. There was no evidence to show how he came by his death.

Two other alleged gambling houses had been raided by the police last night with some success. In both places a crowd of players were found. They proceeded to the Eagles hall. After several efforts the doors were broken down.

Entering, the were dumfounded to see everything still and orderly. The lights were burning, but the place was deserted with the exception of one man, who seemed to be asleep on one of the tables. Approaching, they found that he was dead.

The mystery is as far from solution this morning as it was yesterday. There is absolutely no clue to the problem of how the dead man came there, nor what killed him.

Big Springs Pioneer to Operate Novel Stage Line

ROUTE IS FIFTY MILES LONG

Company Has Three Machines Running and Will Install Them on Star Line

The Telegram's special staff correspondent, who is traveling in West Texas, sends in the second letter of his series. He has found a wealth of material at Big Springs, and a number of installments from that busy and growing city are yet to come.

Staff Correspondence.

BIG SPRINGS, Texas, Jan. 18.—Honk! honk!

Shades of Daniel Boone, an automobile!

The visitor from the East was startled. Probably more so than if a clay-streaked face of a Comanche Indian had suddenly appeared from behind a gypsum boulder on the hill he was climbing for a view of the town.

It's a mirage, he finally decided after recovering himself a little and gazing steadily at the yellow-bodied devil wagon scooting silently along the plain.

Then the fresh morning breeze brought a pungent whiff of carburetted gasoline, and the man from the East decided that if the automobile was a mirage it was the most odorous optical illusion he'd ever encountered.

Then he asked a native.

"That's one of Holloway's automobiles goin' to Lubbock," was the answer he got in so matter of fact a tone that he pinched himself to make sure he wasn't dreaming.

Autos Carry Mail

Then he started to investigate, found he was awake, and that the native was telling him the ordinary truth.

Arthur Holloway is a pioneer. He also owns the stage lines between Big Springs and Lamesa, fifty miles to the north. Besides the stage line, he has the star route contract for carrying the mail. Recently he decided that the old fashioned West Texas stage, while picturesque, wasn't half fast enough in this modern day, so he began investigating automobiles. Before he had finished his investigations he had purchased two. Now he has under way what will be the first automobile mail-carrying stage line in Texas, and probably one of the longest in the United States.

Holloway's two automobiles came here several months ago. He tried them climbing the foothills about Big Springs, and found they went up as easily as a cayuse, while on the level plains a cayuse had no more show with one of the automobiles than a horned toad racing a jack rabbit. Thirty-five miles an hour made the prairie go by so fast Holloway was delighted.

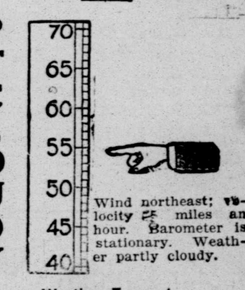

Route Through Pastures

He formed a company, which now has three more automobiles on the way to Big Springs for use over his present stage route. But in addition Holloway arranged for an automobile right of way to Lubbock, 110 miles distant. He readily got permission to go through the big pastures, and wherever his route intersects a wire fence, cattle guards have been erected, much like those used on railroads, to keep the cattle inside their proper range, and yet leave the route open. At places along the route where it is necessary to improve the roads, Holloway has a force of men and teams with scrapers putting it into condition. He expects to be running regularly to Lubbock within a few months. One of his associates in the venture is Horace McCaffrey, who is already an accomplished chaffeur. McCaffrey now, when he has leisure time, uses one of the automobiles for duck hunting expeditions, which take him to the lakes where the water fowl are feeding in time to get a good bag and get back to town again in time for breakfast.

It is planned when the automobile stage is in full operation, to run one auto each way daily between Lubbock and Big Springs. The fare for the trip will be $5 each way. Later, if business

TEST TAX CASE NOW CONSIDERED

Street Improvement to Be Discussed Tuesday

A meeting of the joint committee of the Board of Trade and the Factory Club will be held on Tuesday night, unless there is objection to that date. The committee will then take up the matter of the information gained from the meeting of last Tuesday night and will discuss it thoroughly.

Elmon Armstrong, chairman, this morning stated that a test case would be undoubtedly be made of the law which says that the limit of the taxing power shall be 2½ per cent. He said that the case would be brought before the supreme court within sixty or ninety days and then if the court decides that more can be raised for the improvement districts he said that he hoped to have the committee able to go ahead and raise $300,000 or $400,000 on bonds and go ahead and put the city in first-class shape as to streets and sidewalks. He stated that this could be done next summer or even in the spring if the decision was made soon enough, and that the city could be put into fine shape immediately instead of a little here and there now.

Mr. Armstrong said this morning that he had talked the matter of a test case over with some of his friends and that they had decided that the case should be brought and that the steps will be taken soon.

At the meeting of the committee on Tuesday it is likely that the members will decide to report back to their respective organizations advocating the awaiting of the outcome of the test case.

Chairman Armstrong stated this morning that by the persuasion plan it is almost an impossibilty to do much good.

"The $10,000 proposed by Mayor Powell would be merely a drop in the bucket. What we need is a sum for the entire work, and power to go ahead. If the test case is made, I hope that the committee will be given some authority by the city council to go ahead and superintend the work of improvement under special bonds and then I think that the members of the committee will be willing to work night and day."

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18.—Another battle between the states of Louisiana and Mississippi has resulted in victory for the armed fleet of Louisiana, when it yesterday pursued and captured four Mississippi oyster boats, which were trespassing on Louisiana waters. The "warships" were the patrol boats of the Louisiana oyster commission, and were under the command of Chief Inspector Harry Cage, as admiral.

The battle was bloodless, as was the previous one during the yellow fever quarantine, when the naval reserve of Louisiana captured the Mississippi patrol boat Tipsy without a shot being fired.

Feeling runs high, both on the Louisiana and Mississippi sides of Lake Borgne, where the encounter took place.

War over the oyster beds has lasted for fifty years, more or less, and has been carried to the supreme court.

All the captains of the four Mississippi ships are under arrest, and will be tried in the criminal courts of St. Bernard parish, which has jurisdiction over Lake Borgne waters.

There is but one other case in the history of the United States where interstate quarrels have reached such a pitch. This was between Maryland and Virginia over a somewhat similar quarrel.

MOTHER SEES CHILD KILLED

Charles Robertson Struck by Electric Car

North Fort Worth and Rosen Heights office of The Telegram is located at 117 Exchange avenue, old phone 3959, where news items, subscriptions, advertisements and complaints of delivery should be left.

Standing in the porch of her home, Mrs. Joseph Robertson witnessed a fatal accident to her little child, who was struck by a Rosen Heights street car shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. The mother was the first to reach the child after the accident. Death of the child followed about 11:30 o'clock.

The child, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robertson, who moved to 1203 Main street, North Fort Worth, a short time ago from Decatur, was playing in front of the house just before the accident occurred.

In striking the child, the car threw it to one side, not passing over the body. Dr. Harper of Fort Worth was a passenger on the car. The child was at once taken into its home, where an examination of the injuries showed its skull to be fractured and thigh broken.

A. J. Madden was motorman in charge of the car, which was going north at a low rate of speed.

The child had been playing in the yard, when the gate was opened by a grocer. The grocery wagon was standing in the street, and it is reported the child stepped from behind the wagon in front of the car.

Puddy finally stopped the horse and in so doing injured one of his hands. No damage was done to horse or wagon.

ARLINGTON'S SHERIFF

Sim Rodgers and Bud Douglas to Make the Race

Arlington precinct is divided on the sheriff's race and will go into the primaries with two candidates for that office, both of them popular men in their sections and well known all over the county. Recently in a review of the field in this race The Telegram gave a list of the candidates for sheriff as known at that time. Bud Douglas, constable in the Arlington precinct was the only man from that precinct. Since then another Richmond has appeared in the person of Sim Rodgers, also of Arlington, one of the best known men in that section of Tarrant county.

"I am a candidate for sheriff," he said to a Telegram man, "and I am in the race to the finish; and, on the quiet, I am going to mix it with my friend Douglas in the Arlington precinct."

Another candidate for justice of the peace in precinct No. 1 has also made known his ambition to dispense justice in Fort Worth, and he is not unknown in political circles, William Lessing, Associated Press operator in the Record office, who has made one race for this office, said to a Telegram man that he was going to make another try for it, win or lose. Mr. Lessing is a young man, well known in the city, and has a good following, especially among the young voters.

HAZING SIGNS ILLUSTRATED

Reproduction of Pantomime Is Made in Court

Special to The Telegram.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 18.—The trial of Midshipman Meriwether Jr. of Louisiana, on the charge of hazing, was continued at the sitting of the court-martial here today.

Meriwether had handed in his resignation and still expresses hopes of having it received, in order that he may leave the navy with a clear record. Midshipman Meriwether says that his object in not pleading guilty was merely that, in his opinion, the evidence to be brought out during the court-martial will show beyond a shadow of a doubt that, notwithstanding he engaged in hazing, it was in a good-humored way and without brutality.

Counsel for Meriwether says he is particularly anxious for an understanding of the fact that all the offenses charged at the present court-martial are alleged to have been committed before the time of the encounter with Midshipman Branch, in which the latter received fatal injuries.

Hazing Illustrated

During the hazing cases that have been heard by court-martial here, explanations of different forms of hazing have been illustrated by witnesses in answer to questions by counsel and the signs used were reproduced for the edification of the judge advocate. Some of these were:

"What is your name?"
"Stand on your head!"
"Where are you from?"

Explanation of the sign, if any there be, for the order "Do 16," cannot be learned, although much discussion of the other various actions and exercises was had during the proceedings.

The next case to be taken up is that of Chester A. Bloebaum.

The committee went into executive session to determine what course should be taken.

Then he reiterated his published descriptions of sanitary conditions in Panama.

The executive session continued for an hour, when adjournment was taken until 2:30 p. m. No decision was reached as to what action should be taken concerning Bigelow's contumacy.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN

Hyomei Inhaler That Is Guaranteed by R. A. Anderson to Cure Catarrh

Thousands who have been cured by Hyomei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit "The little pocket physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

Prior to the discovery of Hyomei, statistics showed that at least 97 out of every 100 persons in this state were suffering from catarrh in some form. The remarkable results following the use of Hyomei are shown by the smaller percentage today of people suffering from catarrh.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hyomei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubts about its value, R. A. Anderson will let you have a complete outfit with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.

A complete Hyomei outfit consists of "the little pocket physician," a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs only $1, while additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50 cents, making it the most economical, as well as the most reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

Do not delay longer the use of Hyomei if you have catarrh. This is a purely local disease, and Hyomei goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

TEST TAX CASE NOW CONSIDERED

Street Improvement to Be Discussed Tuesday

A meeting of the joint committee of the Board of Trade and the Factory Club will be held on Tuesday night, unless there is objection to that date. The committee will then take up the matter of the information gained from the meeting of last Tuesday night and will discuss it thoroughly.

Elmon Armstrong, chairman, this morning stated that a test case would be undoubtedly be made of the law which says that the limit of the taxing power shall be 2½ per cent. He said that the case would be brought before the supreme court within sixty or ninety days and then if the court decides that more can be raised for the improvement districts he said that he hoped to have the committee able to go ahead and raise $300,000 or $400,000 on bonds and go ahead and put the city in first-class shape as to streets and sidewalks. He stated that this could be done next summer or even in the spring if the decision was made soon enough, and that the city could be put into fine shape immediately instead of a little here and there now.

Mr. Armstrong said this morning that he had talked the matter of a test case over with some of his friends and that they had decided that the case should be brought and that the steps will be taken soon.

At the meeting of the committee on Tuesday it is likely that the members will decide to report back to their respective organizations advocating the awaiting of the outcome of the test case.

Chairman Armstrong stated this morning that by the persuasion plan it is almost an impossibilty to do much good.

"The $10,000 proposed by Mayor Powell would be merely a drop in the bucket. What we need is a sum for the entire work, and power to go ahead. If the test case is made, I hope that the committee will be given some authority by the city council to go ahead and superintend the work of improvement under special bonds and then I think that the members of the committee will be willing to work night and day."

OYSTER STATES AGAIN AT WAR

Louisiana Fleet Captures Four Poachers on Lake Borgne

Special to The Telegram.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18.—Another battle between the states of Louisiana and Mississippi has resulted in victory for the armed fleet of Louisiana, when it yesterday pursued and captured four Mississippi oyster boats, which were trespassing on Louisiana waters. The "warships" were the patrol boats of the Louisiana oyster commission, and were under the command of Chief Inspector Harry Cage, as admiral.

The battle was bloodless, as was the previous one during the yellow fever quarantine, when the naval reserve of Louisiana captured the Mississippi patrol boat Tipsy without a shot being fired.

Feeling runs high, both on the Louisiana and Mississippi sides of Lake Borgne, where the encounter took place.

War over the oyster beds has lasted for fifty years, more or less, and has been carried to the supreme court.

All the captains of the four Mississippi ships are under arrest, and will be tried in the criminal courts of St. Bernard parish, which has jurisdiction over Lake Borgne waters.

There is but one other case in the history of the United States where interstate quarrels have reached such a pitch. This was between Maryland and Virginia over a somewhat similar quarrel.

Standing in the porch of her home, Mrs. Joseph Robertson witnessed a fatal accident to her little child, who was struck by a Rosen Heights street car shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. The mother was the first to reach the child after the accident. Death of the child followed about 11:30 o'clock.

The child, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robertson, who moved to 1203 Main street, North Fort Worth, a short time ago from Decatur, was playing in front of the house just before the accident occurred.

In striking the child, the car threw it to one side, not passing over the body. Dr. Harper of Fort Worth was a passenger on the car. The child was at once taken into its home, where an examination of the injuries showed its skull to be fractured and thigh broken.

A. J. Madden was motorman in charge of the car, which was going north at a low rate of speed.

ARLINGTON'S SHERIFF

Sim Rodgers and Bud Douglas to Make the Race

Arlington precinct is divided on the sheriff's race and will go into the primaries with two candidates for that office, both of them popular men in their sections and well known all over the county. Recently in a review of the field in this race The Telegram gave a list of the candidates for sheriff as known at that time. Bud Douglas, constable in the Arlington precinct was the only man from that precinct. Since then another Richmond has appeared in the person of Sim Rodgers, also of Arlington, one of the best known men in that section of Tarrant county.

"I am a candidate for sheriff," he said to a Telegram man, "and I am in the race to the finish; and, on the quiet, I am going to mix it with my friend Douglas in the Arlington precinct."

Another candidate for justice of the peace in precinct No. 1 has also made known his ambition to dispense justice in Fort Worth, and he is not unknown in political circles, William Lessing, Associated Press operator in the Record office, who has made one race for this office, said to a Telegram man that he was going to make another try for it, win or lose. Mr. Lessing is a young man, well known in the city, and has a good following, especially among the young voters.

HAZING SIGNS ILLUSTRATED

Reproduction of Pantomime Is Made in Court

Special to The Telegram.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 18.—The trial of Midshipman Meriwether Jr. of Louisiana, on the charge of hazing, was continued at the sitting of the court-martial here today.

Meriwether had handed in his resignation and still expresses hopes of having it received, in order that he may leave the navy with a clear record. Midshipman Meriwether says that his object in not pleading guilty was merely that, in his opinion, the evidence to be brought out during the court-martial will show beyond a shadow of a doubt that, notwithstanding he engaged in hazing, it was in a good-humored way and without brutality.

Counsel for Meriwether says he is particularly anxious for an understanding of the fact that all the offenses charged at the present court-martial are alleged to have been committed before the time of the encounter with Midshipman Branch, in which the latter received fatal injuries.

Hazing Illustrated

During the hazing cases that have been heard by court-martial here, explanations of different forms of hazing have been illustrated by witnesses in answer to questions by counsel and the signs used were reproduced for the edification of the judge advocate. Some of these were:

"What is your name?"
"Stand on your head!"
"Where are you from?"

Explanation of the sign, if any there be, for the order "Do 16," cannot be learned, although much discussion of, the other various actions and exercises was had during the proceedings.

The next case to be taken up is that of Chester A. Bloebaum.

CAPITOL SYNDICATE SELLING LANDS

Farwell Interests Open Office at Hereford to Dispose of Famous Tract

C. W. Farwell and F. W. Wilsey of Chicago, representing the John V. Farwell interests, have opened an office at Hereford, Texas, for the sale of the remaining part of the capitol syndicate lands, which they say will be offered in small tracts to actual settlers at such prices as will soon close the tract out.

The Farwell syndicate was granted 3,000,000 acres of land in the Panhandle for the construction of the Texas capitol building, and the land has been devoted to ranching purposes until a demand for its settlement compelled its sale to stock farmers.

The land was valued at $1 per acre when exchanged for the capitol building and much of it has been sold at $6 and $8 an acre.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN

Hyomei Inhaler That Is Guaranteed by R. A. Anderson to Cure Catarrh

Thousands who have been cured by Hyomei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit "The little pocket physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

Prior to the discovery of Hyomei. statistics showed that at least 97 out of every 100 persons in this state were suffering from catarrh in some form. The remarkable results following the use of Hyomei are shown by the smaller percentage today of people suffering from catarrh.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hyomei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubts about its value, R. A. Anderson will let you have a complete outfit with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.

A complete Hyomei outfit consists of "the little pocket physician," a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs only $1, while additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50 cents, making it the most economical, as well as the most reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

Do not delay longer the use of Hyomei if you have catarrh. This is a purely local disease, and Hyomei goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

PUPILS WITH LUNG TROUBLE MUST GO

Principals to Report Suspects to Superintendent of Public Schools in City of Chicago

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 18.—The first decisive step toward excluding victims of pulmonary tuberculosis from the public schools was taken by the board of education last night, when that body instructed all the principals and teachers to report the names of "suspects" to Superintendent Cooley. The board called upon Superintendent Cooley to notify the parents or guardians of the children suspected and also to direct the child study department to examine each such child.

The child study department, in turn, was ordered to report the result of the examination in each case to the committee on school management. It is left with the committee whether or not to exclude the pupil from the regular public school classes. A large number of the board members believe means should be provided to give the victims of the disease educational opportunities equal to those enjoyed by the healthy children. As a result a recommendation calling for segregation will be made as soon as data has been collected regarding the number afflicted.

CHARGED WITH MAKING CHRISTIANS OF JEWS

Brooklyn Teacher Rigidly Examined on Methods of Instruction in Public School

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—For four hours last night Frank F. Harding, principal of public school No. 141 in Brooklyn, was put through a rigid examination on a charge of "systematically Christianizing his pupils," 75 per cent of whom are said to be Hebrews.

The excitement reached such a pitch that the chairman threatened to call the police to clear the room of every person but those directly concerned.

The charge was made in writing and is signed by the heads of sixty families, all Hebrews. It was said that Principal Harding read the Bible, spoke of Christ and had holy pictures on the walls. One little girl testified that the principal said every person but a hypocrite believed in Christ. The principal admitted part of the charges, but denied the rest. He said he read quotations from the scriptures, but not from the Bible, the quotations being a small book entitled "Gems of Wisdom."

He did not deny that there might be a few holy pictures on the walls.

"Did you read the Lord's Prayer to the children?" the attorney for those making the charges asked.

"No," the principal answered, with enthusiasm. "I know the Lord's Prayer and I recited it to the children."

The hearing is to be continued today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Following is the resolution which Senator Tillman has prepared to introduce in the senate:

"Resolved, That the president of the senate be authorized to appoint a committee of five senators, to investigate the recent unfortunate incident at the White House, resulting in the expulsion from the executive offices of Mrs. Minor Morris, and to report to the senate."

Conference in Senate

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Friends of the Presidet in senate held a conference this morning to determine their course on the Tillman resolution, to be introduced today, asking the appointment of a committee to investigate the Mrs. Morris incident.

The resolution is regarded as an insult to President Roosevelt by many. Senator Tillman says he would not have introduced it if he had not been goaded by Senator Hale.

HOMESEEKERS HERE TO SECURE FARMS

Party of Fifteen Arrives From Tennessee Prepared to Investigate Texas Opportunities

Fifteen homeseekers from Sumner county, Tenn., arrived in Fort Worth Wednesday night. The party consisted of Henry Ward, farmer; George Bates, farmer; William H. Johnson, farmer; Thomas P. Lane, farmer; Henry C. Dickenson, farmer; George Finch, farmer; Porter Hopkins, farmer; Millard Watson, farmer; John T. Cash, farmer; Humphrey Tansey, physician; Lewis C. Johnson, merchant; George Edwards, lawyer; Thomas Cole, carpenter; Mercer Cade, bookkeeper, and Wilson Mason, blacksmith.

The entire party are well-to-do people in their different lines of business, and have money with which to establish themselves in Texas if they find locations that suit them. The fifteen came to Fort Worth together, but separated here some going up the Fort Worth and Denver Thursday morning. Others will go west on the Texas and Pacific and southwest on the Frisco to the Brady country.

Wm. H. Johnson, a practical stock farmer, appeared to be spokesman for the party, and said to a Telegram reporter that the men of his party were all men of family and that if they found locations to suit them, would bring their families here in the early spring.

"Every one," he said, "is able to pay cash and equip a farm of 150 acres, and have enough money left to run him beyond the first crop gathering. I have been engaged in stock farming in Tennessee ever since I was a boy and I propose to follow the same business in Texas. Tennesseeans are very partial to Texas and there is a continual stream of emigration to Texas from that state, especially among the young set; not that Tennessee is not a good state, but that Texas offers better opportunities in almost every line of business."

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR THE FRISCO COMING

Delivery Expected to Be Made During July and August on Large Orders

The Frisco is to have a large amount of new equipment during the next few months, including locomotives of the large and most improved types and freight cars, also of the large capacity. Orders for the new equipment for the Texas division of the system have been placed from St. Louis along with orders for other branches of the system and it is not known here just how much will fall to the Texas branch, but it will be sufficient to handle the rapidly growing commerce of this road.

[illegible]

traffic during the past year has been very heavy and the progress in car building has been so rapid that it has been found necessary to replace a great many of the smaller cars by cars of larger capacity. Cars of eighty-ton capacity and cars of thirty-ton capacity do not work well together on the same train. The heavier cars crush against the smaller ones with such great weight that the latter soon get in bad order and this necessitates the gradual retirement of the smaller cars from the service.

Asked when the deliveries were probable upon the order for new equipment, Mr. Fickinger stated that he understood that the factories were behind with their orders and that deliveries might not be made until some time in July and August.

G. C. Smith and J. S. Shelton are at the head of the company.

BASEBALL MAGNATES ARRANGING FOR DATES

Officials of American and National Leagues Hold Conference in New York

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, arrived in town yesterday and today will have a conference with President Pulliam of the National League regarding the playing dates of next season. As matters now stand, the National and American Leagues will begin their championships five days apart, the Nationals on April 12 and the Americans on April 17. This would seem as if there would be many conflicting dates between the two leagues and it is to avoid such a contingency that President Johnson has come to New York to go over the schedules of the National League leaders.

So far as the Greater New York club is concerned, President Johnson says that the Philadelphia Athletes will probably open the season with Griffiths' team at American League Park on April 17.

President Johnson also announced that "Jimmy" Collins had signed a contract to manage the Boston team again. The very serious differences between President Taylor and the manager led many persons to believe that the rupture could not be healed, but the signing of Collins evidently means that all trouble in the club has ben eradicated.

HONEA RUNS AGAIN

Sheriff of Tarrant County Wants Re-election to Office

John T. Honea, present sheriff of Tarrant county, in this issue of The Telegram, announces himself as a candidate for re-election, and asks the people to give him the office for a third term. He refers the voters to his record as sheriff for the four years in which he has been in office as an indication of what his course will be in the event that the people vote him a third term. He is a straight-out democrat, has lived for years in Tarrant county, and his friends claim for him that he has enforced the law faithfully and fairly, discriminating against no man or class; that his record as sheriff will bear the closest investigation, and there can be found in it nothing to his discredit.

Mr. Honea says that he makes his announcement this early in the campaign for the reason that it has been reported that he will not be a candidate, and being busy with official duties and not able to go out into the country, takes this method of notifying the public that he is a candidate for re-election.

DR. OSLER BLAMED

Theory Said Responsible for Many Suicides in Cleveland

Special to The Telegram.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 18.—On Dr. Osler, noted for his "old age suicide" theory, is placed the blame for fifty suicides in Cleveland last year. Out of eighty-three cases of self-destruction in this city during 1905, fifty of those who killed themselves were past the age of 40 years.

In commenting upon this fact, shown by the annual report of the health department for 1905, Health Officer Friedrich expressed the opinion today that the agitation resulting from the announcement of the Osler theory was responsible for this condition.

"Many of these, on reading the opinion of Dr. Osler concerning the age when men passed the period of usefulness and his theory regarding their being put out of the way when the period of usefulness was over, become despondent," said he today.

MILITARY CADETS STRIKE IN ILLINOIS

Rock River Students Charge Major Floyd with Cruelty and Demand Action

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 18.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Dixon, Ill., says:

Thirty cadets of the Rock River Military Academy went on a strike here yesterday. The boys charge Major Floyd, the commandant, with severe and cruel treatment. The trouble began two or three days ago, when Major Floyd struck a young cadet, it is claimed. All the cadets resented such discipline on the part of their commandant and refused to be satisfied unless a meeting of the trustees was called and some action taken.

At a meeting of the trustees the latter upheld Major Floyd and the boys packed their trunks and left the academy.

Dr. James F. Eaton, head master, is said to be with the cadets in the stand they have taken.

MURDERED BY INDIANS

Dr. Emil H. Klueber of St. Louis Horribly Mutilated by Indians When on Errand of Mercy

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—An account of the murder of Dr. Emil H. Klueber, formerly a prominent German physician of St. Louis, by Indians near his home at Topolobampo, Mexico, is contained in a letter written by Dr. Klueber's son-in-law to St. Louis friends.

It states that on Dec. 23 Dr. Klueber was called to the bedside of a sick Indian, and on the next day his dead body, horribly mutilated, was found on a cot in a hut in the Indian village.

Dr. Klueber was born in Germany and was a graduate of the University of Heidelberg. He came to St. Louis shortly before the civil war and served during the four years it lasted as regimental surgeon in an Illinois regiment.

Later, about twenty years ago, Dr. Klueber went to Mexico.

"My visit to the Philippines has been very interesting and instructive, and I appreciate the facilities afforded me by the civil and military authorities for a thorough investigation of the Filipinos. This has enabled me to collect much knowledge which I hope to use for the benefit of both the American people and the Filipinos. The promise given by the rising generation of natives to use the English language surpasses my expectations more than anything else. My views regarding the independence of the islands have not changed."

BROOKS AND COLQUITT SHOULD RESIGN

The Fort Worth Telegram "me toos" the proposition that Commissioner Colquitt and Judge Brooks should resign while making the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, and the Telegram goes further than the journalistic brethren who have started the chase after these two gentlemen, or rather after the jobs they now hold. The Telegram accuses the gentlemen mentioned of "drawing fat salaries from the people while running for another office." It also declares that "the people elect men to office expecting them to give all their time to the discharge of the duties of the office." Has either Judge Brooks or Mr. Colquitt failed in the smallest way to perform the duties of the offices which they hold? Have they neglected the public service in the smallest way? If they haven't what are you crying about? If they have, state particulars. The Telegram has been regarded as a fair-minded newspaper. It ought to retract its charges, or make full and complete statement of particulars wherein either man has neglected the duties of the office he holds. The Telegram wants the railroad commissioners' office "taken out of politics altogether." If you "take it out of politics" where will you put it—in the hands of the railroads?—Sherman Register.

The Telegram said that according to Democratic precedent in this state both Colquitt and Brooks were justified in the course they are pursuing, but according to the strict proprieties of the occasion they should resign. And The Telegram has no apologies to offer for the suggestion. If the gentlemen are not drawing fat salaries from a depleted state treasury, will the esteemed Register please explain who is getting the money they are entitled to? Certainly, the people of Texas elect men to office in this state expecting that they give all their time to the duties of their official positions, and when they fail to do so they are false to their obligations to the people. The Telegram has not charged these gentlemen with neglecting the duties of their respective offices, but it respectfully submits that as active candidates for the position of governor of this state, it will be impossible for them to maintain their candidacy and at the same time give the people of Texas the benefit of the service they are paid to perform.

The Telegram would take the railroad commission of Texas out of politics by making the ofice appointive and rendering its members ineligible for election to any other official position until one or two years had passed after the completion of their term. It would not place the commission in the hands of the railways, but it would take it out of the hands of the designing politician who would use it for the furtherance of his own political ambition. The Waco Times-Herald, in discussing the same matter, says:

The Fort Worth Telegram discusses at length the suggestion made by the Times-Herald that inasmuch as Commissioner Colquitt and Judge Brooks are candidates for the gubernatorial office they should resign their respective positions. The Telegram agrees with the Times-Herald, "yet as a matter of fact," it says, "such procedure would violate all Texas precedent." It cites the candidacy of Hogg for governor while attorney general; of Reagan for governor while commissioner, and of Culberson for governor while attorney general. The Telegram declares that "the man who is elected to fill one office should be compelled to serve out the time for which he was elected before he seeks another."

We do not find ourselves in entire agreement with our Fort Worth contemporary. It is perfectly competent, as we see it, for a member of the lower house to aspire to a place in the upper branch of the congress. We can see no impropriety in the attorney general of the state seeking the governor's office. The one place is simply a bit higher than the other in the same department of government.

What we object to is the mixing—is that the word?—of the judicial and the executive departments of the government. Judge Brooks holds a judicial position; Commissioner Colquitt holds a quasi-judicial position; neither should offer for an executive place until after he has resigned his present position. We would not for one moment impeach the good intentions of the beloved Reagan, but we can not bring ourselves to believe that the precedent he set is a good one to follow.

Collateral with the objection already stated is the further fact that either Judge Brooks or Commissioner Colquitt in making anything by the candidacy. When Mr. Hogg ran for governor he was footing up an attorney general, and so with Mr. Culberson; but neither Judge Brooks nor Commissioner Colquitt relinquishes anything if defeated for the gubernatorial nomination—each holds till 1908 and can therefore be a candidate in 1906 for re-election. This might involve us in some curious complications. For instance, the railway corporations might be desirous of getting rid of Mr. Colquitt as a commissioner; we do not say that they are, but they might be. Would they not give their influence, in their quiet way, to Mr. Colquitt's candidacy for governor? Again, the friends of Judge Brooks tell us that he has antagonized in an especial manner the liquor interests; might they not prefer to see him governor?

The proprieties suggest that both Judge Brooks and Commissioner Colquitt hand their resignations to Governor Lanham.

The Telegram adheres to its original declaration: "The man who is elected to fill one office should be compelled to fill out the term for which he was elected before he seeks another." The people of Texas should not be forced to pay the campaign expenses of any man, or furnish him the means of conducting a campaign at public expense while ostensibly filling some high and important office. It is all right for men to entertain political ambition and offer themselves as a willing sacrifice upon the political altar of their country, but the people should not be compelled to pay the freight. The remarks of the Waco paper upon the propriety of the two gentlemen in question seeking the place they want to occupy while holding their present positions, is also quite germane. The proprieties of the occasion should prompt the resignation of both gentlemen, but there are few who really think either will measure up to the requirements of the situation.

The Telegram does not say these things to the disparagment of Judge Brooks and Commissioner Colquitt, for in pursuing their present policy they are but carrying out Democratic precedent. The trouble with the situation is that precedent is wrong, and by following this wrong precedent, wrong is being done the people of this state. What is needed is some sensible legislation along these lines that will serve to relieve the candidates of their sense of wronging the people, as well as to relieve the people of their appreciation of the fact that they are being wronged.

The people of Texas have a right to demand that their public servants shall give them the full time they are being paid for.

Get a copy of the next Sunday Telegram, and you will be pleased with the investment. The Telegram never fails to measure up.

When Col. Cecil Lyon, the Republican boss of Texas, shakes his plum tree in Washington, the fruit falls in Texas just exactly upon the spot he has designated. There can now be no doubting the potency of the Lyon machine. It has demonstrated its ability to make good.

The report now comes from a member of the state legislature that the proposed extra session will probably be called about March 15, but there is no intimation as to whether or not it will be a pay session. The presumption is that the governor will quietly ignore the agreement on the part of a quorum of members from both houses to serve without pay.

AMONG THE EXCHANGES

The recent trial of a negro fiend at Beaumont and verdict of fifty years in the penitentiary by the jury, the father of the little girl arming himself and going to the courthouse to mete out justice to the brute, his death at the hands of an officer while trying to get at the rapist is the latest tragedy in that line.—Abilene News.

The culprit convicted at Beaumont was not a negro—a fact made amply evident by his penitentiary sentence and the attendant tragedy. There seems to be a double code of ethics in Texas for criminals of this class, and it is very unfair.

Twelve months ago the legislature appropriated $15,000 for the prosecution of trusts doing business in Texas. Although lumber has been advanced several times during the year under orders from the Southern Lumbermen's Association and the Waters-Pierce Oil Company is still pursuing its old tactics of killing competition, none of that $15,000 has been used. True, the $15,000 is not in the treasury, but in its stead a cavity that will take a million and a quarter to fill, but still there are plenty of good lawyers who would be willing to credit the state, and there are plenty of warrant shavers in the shadow of the capitol who would be willing to discount their fees.—Beeville Bee.

It is reported from Austin that the attorney general's office is preparing to get busy in the matter of proceeding against alleged trusts in this state, and the average citizen indulges in the hope it is true. But it will take something more than long range opinions to do the desired work.

Two boys in Fort Worth and one in Dallas have died since Christmas as a result of blood poisoning resulting from the discharge of Christmas fireworks. It seems that the firecrackers and torpedoes sold in the holidays are deadly poison and tetanus is almost a certain result of the slightest wound with them.—Graham Leader.

Three boys have died in this city since the holidays from injuries received from toy pistols, and there is a strong sentiment that these implements of death must be knocked out in the future by proper legislation.

Don't entertain the erroneous idea that by forfeiting your right to vote you have saved the payment of poll tax. You owe your poll tax just the same and may be called upon to work it out on the public thoroughfares.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The man who loses his right to vote in this manner, and in addition thereto is compelled to work out the amount of his poll tax on the public thoroughfares, is to be pitied, but he has himself to blame. Pay your poll tax without further delay.

Texas now has very nearly 12,000 miles of railroad, the exact figures being 11,931 miles. In 1855 Texas had forty miles of railroad; in 1865 she had 465 miles; in 1875, 1,658 miles; in 1885, 6,687 miles; in 1895, 9,442 miles. Texas leads all the states in the amount of railroad mileage, Illinois being second.—Waco Times-Herald.

And still there are a few Texas papers, including the Austin Statesman, indulging in the declaration that no more railways will be built until we "Turn Texas loose."

The many friends of Hon. Horace Chilton will be glad to learn that he has purchased a home in Dallas and will move to this city within the next few weeks. Ex-Senator Chilton is one of the leading lawyers and statesmen of Texas and a man of universal popularity. The Record is glad he is coming to Dallas.—Dallas County Record.

Senator Chilton's coming to North Texas may mean that he has an idea of again entering the political arena. He has devoted himself to the practice of his profession since his retirement from the United States senate, but when a man has once tasted of the glamours of political life, it is hard for him to be content outside of such an engagement.

LITTLE TALES WELL TOLD

COULD NOT MAKE IT

"Billy Jenkins with steam hoisting are all very well," said Charles Felton Pidgin, the statistician of Boston, "but when it comes to Christmas games they are a little lacking.

"A friend of mine heard a loud, rasping noise in his parlor last Christmas eve very late.

"In great alarm he got up and hastened down to the delicate and pale parlor with its colorings of white and pink and gold, to find there, all black with soot smears, his little white-robed son, whom he had thought was fast asleep in bed.

"'Why, why,' he cried, 'what does this mean, Willie?'

"The poor little fellow, lifting a cake of soot out of his fair hair, pointed ruefully to the ornamental fireplace, wherein there was room for about three logs the size of lead pencils.

"'I'm playin' Santa Claus,' he said, 'and I—I can't get up the chimney.'"

TRUE MAIDENLY MODESTY

A group of traffic managers and auditors of the convention of street railway men in Philadelphia was telling stories of street railroading. Irwin Fuller of Detroit said:

"A pretty Irish girl, fresh from the old country, sat in a trolley car looking at the strange American country with modest interest.

"She had soft gray eyes, a face like roses and lilies, beautiful hair and white teeth.

"'Your fare, miss,' said the conductor, pausing before her.

She blushed and bit her lip.

"'Your fare, miss,' he repeated.

"'Sure,' said the girl, 'an' what if I be? You must not be repeatin' it like that before folks.'"

OLD THINGS ARE BEST

An American at Gibraltar entertained Charles Dana Gibson at dinner in the late fall at the Bristol. When Mr. Gibson rose to reply to a toast, he was a little embarrassed.

"I have not the gift of oratory," he began, "and that is awkward. Indeed, to be deficient in anything is awkward, isn't it? It is especially awkward to be deaf.

"At a dinner at Dark Harbor last summer a deaf old man sat beside a young and beautiful girl.

"'Do you like bananas?' this girl said to the old man during the first course, in a loud, sweet voice.

"He, however, misunderstood her in his deafness. He thought she had said 'pajamas.' And he replied:

"'No, I like the old-fashioned night shirts best.'"

A MATTER FOR INVESTIGATION

Anyone who has ever traveled by rail between Baltimore and Annapolis will be likely to remember the little narrow gauge railroad which furnishes so much amusement, as well as exasperation, to those who have to employ it.

Oliver Herford came rushing into the station inquiring for a fast express to Annapolis.

When the train was half an hour on its way the conductor was aroused by a cry of "Man overboard!" Running out to the rear platform he discovered Herford standing on the track peering under the train.

"Here, what's the matter with you?" yelled the conductor.

Herford gazed up at him sadly. "You told me that this was the fast express, and I just thought I'd get out and see what she was fast to."

A QUICK RECOVERY

P. F. Rothermel, counsel for the Lake Superior corporation, as the reorganized Consolidated Lake Superior is called, was complimented the other day on the excellent year that the concern has had.

Mr. Rothermel smiled and answered:

"Yes, the company has gotten quickly on its feet. It has recovered quickly. It was not badly hurt, after all. And thus it resembles a widow of whom I heard recently.

"This lady's husband died, and a day or two after the funeral a neighbor called to extend her condolences.

"She expected to find the widow frantic with grief. She found her at the piano, singing a gay song. And, astonished at so quick a recovery, the visitor said:

"'Well, well, I expected to see you in the deepest distress.'

"'Ah,' said the widow, pathetically, 'you should have seen me yesterday.'"

ON THE DESERT AIR

At a stockholders' meeting in a big office building a gentleman insisted on making a long speech. When he had concluded the chairman quietly asked the verbose orator whether he had quite done.

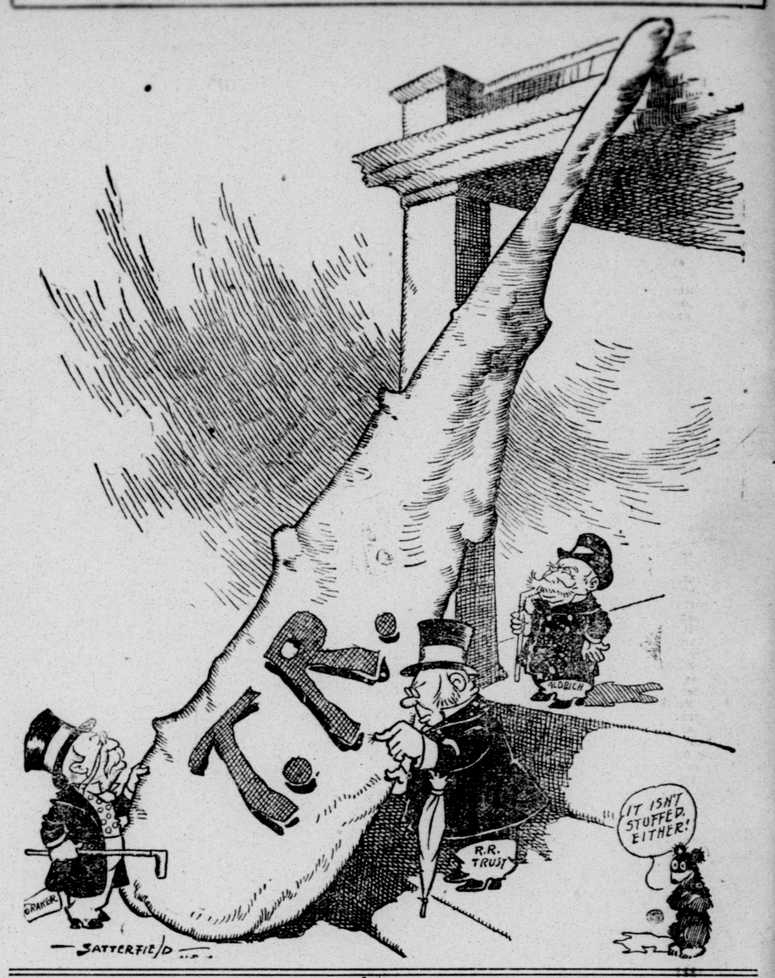

"Yes, sir; quite!" was the indignant reply.

"You will, consequently, permit me to answer you, sir?"

"Oh, certainly, if you can; but I defy you to do that."

"Well, then," said the chairman, calmly, and with measured voice, "I have to inform you that you are in the wrong room and addressing the wrong company. The speech you have just made should have been delivered in No. 66, first floor."

IT'S JUST AS BIG AS IT LOOKS

THE BROKEN RESOLUTIONS

BY CHAS. GRANT MILLER

And so, after a week or two, have your New Year resolutions withered and gone?

Have you already neglected the nice, new diary? Have you gone back to smoking, or drinking, or saying spiteful things, after a few days of martyrdom?

Well, well; you are not the only one.

He or she who fails to carry out all high resolutions has the comfort of lots of company.

There are people who say that good resolutions are bad because failure in them reveals to one his own weakness and slavery to habit; that having once failed he is less likely ever to try again with the hope and confidence so necessary to success.

But isn't it better for us to know our weaknesses than to be blind to them? Isn't it better to have tried once and failed than never to have tried at all? Strength comes of effort.

Isn't it better for a man to have had a week, or a day even, of sobriety for himself and of happiness and hope for his wife and children, to have had a clear-brained look at himself and the world about him, and to have known for a little while at least how it feels to be a man and master of himself?

One battle does not always decide a campaign. One failure, one reverse, or a dozen of them, need not mean defeat.

There is no need of waiting till next New Year to try again. A good resolution and good efforts are as good one day as another. They are best of all when made every day.

Years are big spaces. We live by days. Every morning when we wake a new world begins; every night when we drop to sleep the old world ends. Years, centuries, ages, are nothing to us but names; it is the days, hours, minutes, seconds, that are ours.

The best time to try to get up is when you realize that you have fallen.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Even tainted money makes a tidy sum.

The nearer a man gets to fame the smaller it looks.

Our idea of a miserable man is a miser who is in love.

Truth is stranger than fiction to the average married woman.

Time is money, but it is better to be in a hurry than broke.

Only one kind of women do not care for pretty clothes—dead ones.

Man hopes for the best, but woman insists on having something better.

A woman is never satisfied until her husband is rated in the society blue book.

Some people imagine that they are never talked about because they never hear it.

It is just like a shower bath to have one of your children ask you why one of your neighbors is so much more successful than you.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

Some girls would never flirt with any man they did not meet.

A loud noise is a sign that the man making it thinks he is a good arguer.

The woman that raises children to respect her does it without any theories.

It's awful clever the way a girl can look as if she didn't understand what you had done when it was to kiss her.

It is funny how a girl of sixteen always wants to look like one of twenty-six and one of twenty-six like one of sixteen.—New York Press.

WE WON'T

Sir Oliver Lodge, scientist, says the sun will be cold in 20,000,000 years; but don't let that worry you.—New York Herald.

MINERAL WATER WAS TEDIOUS

Captain Ryan, the new British naval attache, said at a dinner in Washington:

"The strength of the heads of some of our old school farmers is quite incredible.

"At a harvest supper, a feast similar in its way to your Thanksgiving dinner, there was an old farmer who drank a good deal of champagne. The moment his glass was filled he would toss it off, and then, of course, it would be filled again.

"But the old fellow grew quieter and quieter the more champagne he drank. A frown settled on his forehead. His eyes flashed angrily under his heavy gray brows.

"Finally, when the waiter filled his glass with wine for the twelfth or thirteenth time, he shook his head and said:

"'James, when are you going to put the whisky on the table? These minerals are getting tedious.'"

VERSES THAT RING

JUSTICE

If things don't seem just square, my boy,
In this strange old world today,
Don't worry a mite, for they'll all be right
In God's own time and way.

There's a saying old I will tell you;
"God's mills grind slow, grind slow:
But they grind, they grind exceedingly fine,
And the mills forever go."

The mills, my boy, are laws of God,
Immutable, yet wondrous fair,
And out of the chaos of seeming wrong
Full justice will come, somewhere.

Yea, justice will come to one and all,
Never doubt or fear, my boy;
The measure you mete will come again,
Purest gold or base alloy.

Then if you measure only the gold,
The gold will return one day;
Don't worry a mite, all will yet be right,
In God's good time and way.

MERCHANTS HOT AT SIDEWALK TAX

Proposed Henderson Ordinance Characterized as Absurd

"Outrageous!" "Absurd!" and "Impossible!" are some of the adjectives used by merchants to characterize the ordinance proposed by Alderman Henderson at the last council meeting, imposing a tax on all buildings which project over or under the sidewalk more than eighteen inches. Show windows and cellars are aimed at.

"What, another?" said E. H. Lowe of the Parker-Lowe Co. "We merchants are already taxed more than any other class in existence. We are made to contribute heavily to all these charity concerns, to every new movement of whatever kind; we are taxed on every new scheme or proposition that comes up. A show window, tastefully arranged, is one of the greatest benefits a street car have. It improves the value of adjoining property tenfold. The little space they take off the sidewalk will not be missed by anybody, and the very great difference they make in the appearance of the streets more than repays this. Besides, I hardly think any thing of that kind can go through. Every city in the country allows show cases to project. A movement was started in Chicago some years ago with this very object in view, and it fell through lamentably. They can't run in any such measure as that. It won't go."

W. G. Burton of Burton-Peel Dry Goods Company said: "Absurd. Totally absurd. It won't stand for a minute. Merchants are taxed more heavily than any other class of people on the earth. We pay an occupation tax, charity taxes, every kind of tax. We are laid under levy by everybody. The increase in values in Fort Worth, as in all modern cities, compels us to build down and up. We cannot build out, as land is too valuable. We've got to rise on high and delve down deep, and the city council has no right, that I can see, to tax us for digging in the ground below, which belongs to us. While the council is hunting for something to tax, what's the matter with taxing the show cases that are put out on the sidewalks, the grocery displays, which take up half the leeway, and the other obstructions to the sidewalk that nobody thinks of hitting at?"

Alphonse August of A. & L. August merely shook his head, shrugged his shoulders and waved his palms in the air. "We don't own th's building," he replied to the questioner.

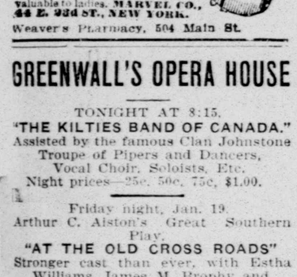

W. H. Tidball of Fakes & Co. ran his fingers thoughtfully through his beard. "It's about us all this fight arose," he said, "and I'd prefer not to discuss it until I have seen that council resolution and found what it really means. I don't know what they want from reading the talk of Alderman Henderson."

COWBOY SADDLE BEING DISPLACED

Flat English Type Coming Into General Use

Inquiries among the saddle and harness dealers now in Fort Worth for their convention show that the little English saddle is rapidly displacing the big cowboy saddle of the southwest in the cities, though, of course, not meeting with sale in the plains country. It is predicted that it will be many generations, however, before the comfortable all-day saddle of the cattle country will find its way into museums and collections.

In the cities the English or flat saddle is growing in popularity. Local dealers estimate that the use of these saddles has increased at least 50 per cent in the last four years. However, this increased demand for the English saddle is due mostly to those who ride for pleasure only; few, if any of these saddles are sold outside cities and resorts.

With the growth of agriculture the demand for saddles in the country has diminished. Neighborhoods that formerly used saddles exclusively are now using vehicles.

Through all the years saddles have been getting better, until now, the dealers declare, they are as near perfection as science and material can make them. The price varies principally with that of leather.

Side Saddles Going

Side saddles were first used by a deformed English queen. Since then it has been a fashion, which is declared to have done injury to those who have followed it. Most women now ride cross saddle and a regular women's saddle of this sort is being marketed. Dealers say it is rapidly gaining favor and that undoubtedly the days of the deforming side saddle are numbered.

Saddles have grown in favor and use in the cities of the west and south during the past few years. People who are compelled to do much going about in the cities are finding the saddle horse the cheapest and most convenient method of getting from place to place. This in many cases combines pleasure and exercise with business errands.

LEAGUE SCHEDULE IS MADE PUBLIC

Season in Fort Worth to Open April 28

A meeting of the Texas Baseball League was held Wednesday afternoon at the White Elephant, at which the scedule of games for the coming season was arranged. There will be some readjustments necessary, but the general outline was perfected. It is the intention to open the season April 25, and each city will play thirteen games in every other city included in the league. As will be seen by reference to the schedule, some changes must be made to bring about the required number of games in the respective cities. President Doak Roberts has taken the schedule in hand for revision and will make such changes.

It is the intention to give holiday games in the largest cities, so that the league may reap the greatest amount of revenue.

There are nineteen Sunday games in the season. Of these Fort Worth, according to the present arrangements will get April 29, at home with Cleburne; May 6, at home with Temple; May 13, at home with Greenville; May 27, at home with Greenville; June 3, at home with Temple; June 10,at home with Cleburne; June 24, at home with Waco; July 1, at home with Greenville; July 8, at home with Temple, July 22 at home with Temple; Aug. 5, at home with Greenville; Sept. 2, at home with Cleburne.

Fort Worth will play at home July 4, with Cleburne, and will close the season with Cleburne Labor Day.

This gives thirteen of the nineteen Sunday games at home and the two holidays.

Dallas will have eleven Sunday games at home, according to the present schedule. The Sundays which occur during the season are: April 29, May 6, 13, 20 and 27; June 3, 10, 17 and 25; July 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29; Aug. 5, 12, 19 and 26 and Sept. 2.

The Spaulding ball was adopted for the season and the schedule as arranged provides for games until Labor Day.

Those present at the meeting were J. W. Gardner, Dallas; W. H. Ward, Fort Worth; F. P. Bailey, Greeville; T. W. Simpson, Waco; J. D. Roberts, Cleburne; J. E. Edens, Temple, and D. C. Feegles, Fort Worth.

Messrs. Gardner, Simpson, Ward and Edens were elected directors.

The question of umpires was left to President Roberts.

A resolution of thanks to Ted Sullivan and C. D. White for getting the Texas League in class C was adopted.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth, and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

HOG RECEIPTS SHOW INCREASE

Large Number of Cars in the Railroad Yards

The heavy receipts of hogs in this market is making itself apparent in the railroad yards. Forty cars were received here Wednesday during the forenoon, averaging about eighty hogs to the car and the receipts thus far this week are averaging between 5,000 and 6,000 hogs per day. The hogs are all for the packeries here and there is a demand for more.

It has always been difficult to get a sufficient amount of hogs for the packeries and officers of the packing companies have frequently urged the Texas farmers to raise hogs of the best grade, as it has been necessary to ship hogs here from the Indian Territory and other points in order to get enough to supply the demand.

Naturally the shipments cause an additional expense and if the hog raisers of Texas could supply this demand they would be able to compete advantageously against outside hog raisers. The hogs now being received are coming largely from Texas territory and it indicates that some of the suggestions which have been made relative to the profits in hog raising in this state are bringing results.

$50 FINE FOR THEATER CASE

Houghton Gives Notice of Appeal to County Court

Dave Houghton, charged with violation of the new city ordinance relative to the sale of intoxicating drinks where theatrical or dramatic entertainments are given, was convicted in the corporation court Thursday morning and fined $50. Houghton gave notice of appeal to the county court in order that he may further test his rights in the premises.

Two witnesses were introduced by the defense and Mr. Houghton himself also took the stand. L. B. Ramsey, who constructed the buildings, was questioned relative to whether or not there were two separate buildings, his testimony being that he had built them for two different buildings and so regarded them. Roy Jones was also put on the stand to testify concerning the ownership of the Star theater, but the testimony was ruled out, because it was not charged that Houghton owned any part of the theater.

Houghton testified that he had made the sale at the place complained of, but that it was impossible to see the entertainment from the rooms mentioned or any of the audience from the place where the sale was made. He admitted the existence of connecting doors and that anyone in the room could come to this doorway and see into the theater hall.

The case was then submitted without argument and Judge Prewett fined the defendant $50, explaining that as it was the first offense and that as it might not have been the intention of the defendant to violate the law, he would assess but a light fine in this instance. He stated that, while the testimony was to the effect that the sale was made in a separate building, the buildings were connected by doors and had been apparently so arranged for the purpose of evading the law.

Judge Prewett later explained to a Telegram representative that he had nothing to do with the making of the ordinance and did not pretend to say whether it was a good or a bad one, but that it was his intention to co-operate with City Prosecutor Parker and Chief Maddox in seeing it enforced and that he proposed in the future to assess fines heavy enough to put the variety theaters out of business.

City Prosecutor Parker had filed two new cases for violation of the ordinance and states that he now intends to proceed against women found with beer in their possession, it being unnecessary to prove that it had been purchased in order to secure a conviction. One of the new cases filed Thursday was against Evaline Blanchard, charged as an employe of the theater of carrying beer into a room adjoining thereto. The other new case was against Dave Houghton, charging him with the sale of intoxicating drinks in violation of the ordinance relating to the sale of said drinks where theatrical entertainments are given.

City Prosecutor Parker states that the second case against Houghton is based upon observations which he has made since the first complaint was made. The cases against Frank De Beque were passed for a few days.

WIRE SYSTEM CHANGED

Messages to Go Direct from Branch Offices

Following the visit of Western Union officials to this city a change has been made in the handling of messages from the Fort Worth offices. Direct wires have been placed in service from the stock yards and down town offices, service being given in this way rather than by relay through the main office. The Brownwood wire, formerly relayed here, has also been made direct to Dallas.

H. B. Cerveny, manager of the local office, declares that the change will result in a saving of from five to ten minutes time on each message. Services of two local operators are also saved.

CHESS CHAMPION IS COMING HERE

Emanuel Lasker to Play With Local Experts

Emanuel Lasker, chess champion of the world, will make a tour of Texas from Feb. 10 to 15, and will spend one day in Fort Worth as the guest of the local organization. Mr. Lasker moved to the United States about three years ago from Germany, and is now residing in New York, where he edits Lasker's Chess Magazine.

He spends part of his time in traveling about the country in the interest of the game of chess. This will be his first visit to Texas, and as soon as the local club heard that he was intending to come they wrote to him, asking him to visit Fort Worth. He originally intended to visit the state this fall, but was compelled to change his plans. A letter was received from Mr. Lasker this morning, stating that he would be here some time during the days mentioned.

He will give a short lecture on some chess topic and will then play a match of simultaneous games. Mr. Lasker will also give an exhibition of blindfold chess, playing only one board, however, as it has been proven that playing so many boards blindfolded at one time is too much of a strain upon the mind.

5238—Fancy Waist, 32 to 40 Bust.

Fancy Waist for Evening or Day Wear
5238

To Be Made With Low or High Neck, Short or Elbow Sleeves.

This square-neck evening waist makes a feature and a novelty of the season and is very generally becoming and attractive. Illustrated is one of the best possible models that includes sleeves of the very latest sort and which is adapted to the entire range of soft and crushable fabrics of fashion. In the illustration pale pink messaline crepe is trimmed with ecru lace, but colors as well as materials are exceedingly varied this year and trimmings are almost numberless. Lace is always pretty and attractive, but embroidered bandings can be utilized if better liked. In addition to all these advantages the waist allows of making with the yoke and long sleeves, so becoming adapted to daytime wear. The sleeves with the short puffs and fitted under portions are among the latest designs noted on imported models and are to be much commended. In this instance there are frills which add largely to the effect.

The waist is made with a fitted lining and itself consists of fronts, center front and backs. The fronts are tucked and joined to the plain center, while the closing is made invisibly at the back. The trimming that finishes the neck is arranged on indicated lines and effectually conceals the edges of the frills, which are arranged over the sleeves and waist. When high neck and long sleeves are used the plain portions of the sleeves can be made to match the yoke or of the material of the gown, trimmed as liked.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 2¾ yards 21, 2½ yards 27 or 1¼ yards 44 inches wide, with 1¾ yards of lace and 4½ yards of applique to trim as illustrated, 1¼ yards of all-over lace when high neck and long sleeves are used.

The pattern 5238 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40-inch bust measure.

IN MANY GUISES

A Story of an Exciting Dash for a Fortune by an Actor-Adventurer

Copyright, 1905, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

SYNOPSIS

Agar Hume, a young, impoverished actor, takes employment as valet to Sir William Dagmar, who is member of a secret society of consumptives. Serving a banquet at one of the regular monthly meetings of the club Brown, as Sir William has decided to call his valet, tells his master, in answer to a question, that he cannot understand French. The conversation being in French, Brown learns that the society sustains a hospital where, later, disguised as Sir William, he sees a wonderful surgical operated performed in which the blood of an ape is substituted for that of a man. The operation being the nineteenth and a failure, one of the members of the society present kills himself.

"What do you know of rule three?" he asked in lifeless tones after a long intense pause.

I knew so little that it seemed necessary to lie. "Enough to hang you," I murmured, smiling pleasantly. "I should tell you perhaps, my dear Sir Charles, that I have impersonated Sir William Dagmar more often than I have fingers and toes—during the past twelve months. Ha! you start!" I laughed wickedly.

He bit his lips and eyed me sternly. "I shall need better proof than your word," he said.

I nodded, got to my feet and strode to the door. I threw it open and with an elaborate bow pointed to the passage.

"You shall have it," I cried, "but only in the police court!"

"Bluff!" he sneered. "Bluff!" He did not move from his chair.

"Oh!" said I. "But you are wrong!" I walked to the electric bell and pressed the button.

Sir Charles Venner's impassivity disappeared like magic. His face turned scarlet and he sprang instantly afoot.

"Five thousand!" he hissed.

I yawned.

"Seven then, though it will ruin us!" he cried distractedly.

I took out a cigarette and struck a light. Then a servant appeared in the doorway.

"You rang, sir?" he inquired.

"Yes!" I looked at the fellow approvingly. He was a much stouter man and perhaps an inch taller than I, and he had large feet. He was attired in the hotel uniform. He wore a dragoon's mustache and he looked like an old soldier. "I wish you to be good enough to show my dear friend, Sir Charles Venner, to the street." I turned to Sir Charles, and immediately perceived that my adversary had become my victim.

"When and where shall we meet again?" he muttered hoarsely.

"Ten?" said I. He was gray, gray to his lips. His eyes shone like stars.

"Yes, ten;" he replied.

"I'll drop you a line!" I said with a smile.

I looked steadily into his eyes and held out one hand. "Well, good night to you, old boy—sleep well—and be good till we meet again!"

I fancy Sir Charles Venner had never been submitted to a more intolerable piece of degradation. To be commanded to shake hands with one's blackmailer! His eyes were simply murderous, but he obeyed. It was only a form of course, for our fingers barely touched, but his involuntary shiver of repulsion was communicated to my frame even in that swift contact.

Five minutes after he had gone I left my room and strolled to the head of the stairs. As I had expected, a gentleman was seated upon the lounge that faced the door of the elevator. His face was concealed behind a newspaper. But I marked one incongruous circumstance in his apparel. He wore evening dress and ordinary street boots of black leather. I am afraid I was so vulgar as to permit myself the indulgence of a wink. I passed him and leisurely descended the first flight of stairs. Of I sudden I stopped, and turning about ran upstairs again at the top of my speed, taking three steps at a time. My gentleman had already begun to descend the stairs. I passed him without a glance, swearing in a low but audible key at my forgetfulness. In another moment I was back in my room pressing the electric button. "So!" thought I, "they have employed a detective to shadow me. Well, we shall see!"

Presently a knock sounded on the door and the waiter entered who had shown Sir Charles out.

"Shut it," I said. He obeyed.

"Look here," said I, "my old friend Sir Charles Venner has just bet me a hundred pounds that I cannot succeed in getting out of this hotel in some disguise without his suspecting me, during the next half hour. Now he is waiting in the vestibule, is he not?"

The waiter grinned. "No, sir, just inside the coffee room door. I was wondering what he wanted. He gave me half a crown, sir."

"Half a crown!" I sneered. "Look here, Martin—" I selected two brand new five-pound notes. "When I was a young man, before I made a fortune out of mining, I was on the stage. With your help, my man, I'll do Sir Charles up, do him brown—and these notes will be yours for helping me."

Martin's eyes almost burst out of their sockets. "All right, sir!" he cried excitedly. "What do you want me to do?"

"Exchange clothes with me for ten minutes. All I'll have to do to win my bet is to slip out of the house and return. Hurry up."

But he had already begun to slip off his coat. The bank notes were tightly clutched between his teeth, so he could not reply. I induced him to remove even his boots and in five minutes I was to all appearances a hotel waiter.

I then strode down the corridor and turned the corner with the brisk step and manner of a waiter going on an urgent message. My gentleman spy was again seated on the lounge that faced the elevator and once more intrenched behind a newspaper.

He threw at me one quick glance over the edge of the journal and his face vanished. Running down the stairs I reached the vestibule, which to my delight was thronged with guests. A moment later, having given the coffee room a wide berth, I passed through the open hall door and gained the street. A gentleman was standing on the footpath paying off a cab from which he had just alighted. I sprang into the vehicle and drove to Piccadilly circus. A second took me to Marble arch and a third to Bruton street. Feeling assured that I had not been followed, I slipped upstairs and into my room.

An hour later Brown, Sir William Dagmar's discreet valet, stepped out of an omnibus before the general post-office, letter in hand, addressed to Sir Charles Venner. The letter, in printed characters, contained these words:

"Tomorrow afternoon, at 4:30, inquire at Bollingbroke hotel, Piccadilly, for Dr. Rudolf Garschagen. Bank of England notes alone acceptable.

"DAGMAR II."

I slept that night at Bruton street.

(To Be Continued.)

AMUSEMENTS

"Kilties Band"

It will be of interest, perhaps, to know that the famous Kilties Band of Canada, who are announced to give one more concert at Greenwall's opera house tonight, are recruited from the five crack regiments of the Dominion of Canada. The band, beyond any doubt, is the greatest Scotch band in the world, and it is very doubtful if it is not the greatest musical organization of its kind in America. It is a peerless organization and uniquely and strikingly costumed.

"At the Old Cross Roads"

The coming of Arthur C. Alston's New York company in "At the Old Cross Roads" will mark one of the climaxes of interest in the local dramatic season. It is on event which the theater-going public has been looking forward to ever since they first heard of its phenomenal triumph at the Grand opera house, New York City, and in fact in every city visited by the play, the past three seasons.

It will be seen here at Greenwall's opera house on Friday, Jan. 19, and will in all probability be greeted by one of the largest audiences of the present season.

Receptions for Artists

A number of interesting receptions are being planned by local society friends of the English grand opera song birds who are to be with us again on Saturday, Jan. 20, matinee and night. The last appearance here of the Savage Opera Company was a complete social and artistic triumph. The artists made a host of local friends who are looking forward to renewing acquaintance with the favorite singers and also hope to have the pleasure of meeting the new prima donnas.

Miss Gertrude Rennyson, the superb dramatic soprano; Miss Rita Newman, the dramatic contralto; Mme. Serena, who was Jean de Reszke's star pupil; Miss Claude Albright, the handsome daughter of an Albuquerque editor, Miss Margaret Crawford and Miss Florence Easton.

An opportunity to meet these talented prima donnas will be afforded during their visit here, helping to make their stay in the city one to be remembered in society circles, as well as in the music clubs.

The opera to be sung Saturday matinee, Verdi's "Rigoletto," and Saturday night Wagner's "Lohengrin."

West & Vokes

Margaret Daly Vokes is gain prominent among the many features of the West & Vokes big company in "A Pair of Pinks," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Monday and Tuesday nights and matinee Tuesday, Jan. 22 and 23. This lady is always a welcome visitor. She has a number of new singing and dancing travesties, besides the role of Mag Netic, the society scrub lady in "Percy" and "Harold" private millionaire jail. One of the decided hits of the piece is a waltz done by Mrs. Vokes and Mr. Stewart, "Iky Lock," in which will be readily recalled the grotesque dancing of her brother, the late Dan Daly.

Karson on Dress

Kit Karson, the young man who hangs by his toes from a slack wire and shoots at moving targets at The Majestic this week, has discarded full dress, the insignia of the effete east, and has taken up cowboy dress, which he thinks is the insignia of the lusty west.

"I think it more appropriate," said the young athlete-marksman today, "and I think people will prefer to see the modern Kit Karson in garb somewhat resembling that worn by the original Kit Carson. Fancy the original Kit in full dress! There are thousands of small boys who would rise up to scalp him if they were told of such a thing.

"I have been asked whether I was a slack rope performer before I was a marksman, or vice versa. It was vice versa. My memory does not go back of the time when I could shoot a rifle, and I remember most of the thirty-two years since I was born in Liepsic, Germany. I was shooting in public when I was yet a small boy, and traveled over a large part of Europe."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Colonel A. M. Brittain, formerly of this city, but now engaged in the oil business at Beaumont and contiguous territory, is of the opinion that all development in the Southwest is still in its infancy.

"Texas, Louisana, Indian Territory and Oklahoma," he said to Man About Town, "will, in my opinion, be the great oil producing field on this continent, and I would not be surprised if the output should prove greater than the great Russian field at Baku. Spindle Top, in the suburbs of Beaumont, is giving evidence of new life, but no gushers are struck there now such as were brought in during the early days of that field. The district, however, is being extended by the bringing in of new wells of small output. It would not surprise me, however, if another gusher field would be discovered in that part of Texas.

The Jennings, La., field is holding out well, and the total output of that field yet runs up into the thousands of barrels daily. It is quite probable that new territory northeast of Jennings will be discovered. Men have made fortunes in this field, and but few operators have lost.

Oil development in Texas is now in the hands of expert men who have graduated in the business, and development is carried on with more system than it was in the early days of excitement, when everybody who could raise the price of a rig went into the oil business, many to their sorrow. There is a great deal of "wild catting" going on yet, but the pioneers in the new fields "wild cat" intelligently.

The oil business in the Southwest has come to stay for many years, and I believe it will increase for years."

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Public Exercises Held by Alexander Lodge, Knights of Pythias

Alexander Lodge, Knights of Pythias, publicly installed the following officers at the temple, corner Third and Main streets, Wednesday night:

Grand chancellor, E. J. Brock Jr.; vice chancellor, Professor J. A. Brantley; prelate, J. E. Stinson; master at arms, U. M. Simon; master of work, W. P. Boaz; inner guard, J. E. Granger; outer guard, W. E. Elliott; keeper of records and seal, J. S. Bond; master of finance, Joe S. Myer; Master of exchequer, H. Gernsbacher; representative to grand lodge, J. S. Bond; trustee, W. C. Guffey.

The installing officers were: Acting Deputy Grand Chancellor C. M. Carb, Acting Grand Vice Chancellor Donovan, Acting Deputy Grand Prelate C. P. Brewer, Acting Grand Master of Work Joseph Jasin, Acting Grand Master at Arms W. C. Guffey.

An entertaining program was also given, M. A. Leser furnishing some phonograph music that made a decided hit.

The Indian never liked work but he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible so that she could do the work and let him hunt, therefore he dug papoose root for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses.

Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription" skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective and protect the stomach from functional disturbance.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION is not nor ever was a "patent medicine," but it is the carefully wrought out and thoroughly tested root prescription of a root physician in a root practice.

Dr. Pierce's unparalleled success with this remedy was such that more wanted to use it than any one doctor could attend to in a private practice. This induced him to manufacture it on a sufficiently liberal scale to meet the demand.

By his own special processes, he extracts, combines and preserves the medicinal qualities of the several ingredients without the use of alcohol (using chemically pure glycerine instead), thus rendering it absolutely safe for any woman of any age and in any condition to use freely. The names of the ingredients are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root.

Miss May Rohrback, No. 73 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City, Treasurer of the Woman's Progressive Union, writes:

"I had headache, backache, and was very nervous; scarcely able to sleep more than two hours at a time. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and was delighted with the result. Within a week I was sleeping splendidly. Continued using the 'Favorite Prescription' for eight weeks, and then stopped, for I was perfectly well. Ever since then your medicine has been my 'Favorite Prescription,' too. I recommend it to every one."

Constipation although a little ill, begets big ones if neglected. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacement, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Periods, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Deranged organs, causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system.

It quickly removes that bearing-down feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and headache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs, which this medicine surely cures. Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound cures.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

Little Detectives With "Eyes of Argus"

It has been said that "a Want Advertisement has a thousand eyes."

Sherlock Holmes had but two, although they were uncommonly good ones.

However, Holmes could not have found for you, over night, the one man in the city who wanted to buy your house, or your store, or your horse, or your yacht, or your library, or your securities, or our automobile, or your old desk, or your piano; or the one man in the city who would be the best partner for you, or the best clerk, or coachman, or handy-man; or the one woman in the city who would be the most valuable stenographer for you, or cook, or housekeeper.

But the thousand-eyed little Want Advertisement finds these people for you—and finds them quickly, presenting no bill for "extras" or "disbursements," as Sherlock Holmes would have been apt to do.

When you Want Anything is it not Better to Set a Thousand Eyes Looking for it than Two?

Democrats Likely to Nominate Herrick in New York

Special to The Telegram.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Much interest is felt here in the various moves which are being made in New York and elsewhere in preparation for the democratic campaign next fall. It is generally believed in Albany that D. Cady Herrick will be a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, and there is a possibility that J. N. Adam of Buffalo, the new democratic mayor of that city, will be added to the list, which already includes Edward M. Grout and William R. Hearst.

Mayor Adam is giving Buffalo a vigorous administration, and it is known that he is consulting with democrats all over the state, including Mayor McClellan, in the hope of bringing about a party reorganization which will enable democrats to make a strong fight in the coming campaign.

It is no secret that the republicans are counting upon the independent candidacy of Mr. Hearst to divide the democratic forces so that their candidate may be elected. With the split in their own ranks they have little hope of carrying the state next fall, unless it is through a division of the opposition. It is generally conceded that Mr. Herrick would have been elected two years ago had not the popularity of President Roosevelt overwhelmed him. Governor Higgins has not yet indicated whether he intends to be a candidate for re-election, but the feeling among republicans is that it will be difficult for him to win unless the reorganization of the republican party is made more thorough and effective than now seems likely.

FOOD—NOT MEDICINE.

It all the treatments for consumption were put in book form it would make a pretty big library. But after all there has been little improvement over the old treatment of rest, fresh air, sunshine, plain, wholesome food and Scott's Emulsion. The latter supplies nourishment that cannot be secured in any other way, and after all, nourishment is what the consumptive needs first.

A gain in weight, however slight, is a long step toward improvement. If there is the least thing to build on Scott's Emulsion will enable the patient to make that gain. People have gained a pound in weight from a bottle of Scott's Emulsion—it's an exception when they don't.

We have seen Scott's Emulsion take hold of a patient and bring about a change for the better inside of a week. It always helps even the most stubborn cases.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nervine which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

"For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nervine and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep; had no appetite; indigestion very bad, and had such awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nervine, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health."

MRS. S. L. YOUNG, 324 Pittsburg St., New Castle, Pa.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

justifies, two of the other autos will be put in commission and two trips daily will be made, one auto leaving in the morning and the other at night.

Profits Also Appeal

The possibilities of skimming over the Texas prairies on a moonlight summer night at a thirty-mile gait for a hundred and ten miles at a stretch are enough to appeal to even a poet's imagination. Holloway admits what appeals to him most is the profitable mail-carrying contract and the revenue from passenger traffic.

The automobile route runs through a territory as yet uncrossed by railroad. The stage is now the only means of conveyance. Less than thirty years ago part of the path the automobile route will take, was the trail followed by thousands of buffaloes, when, forced to leave the dried up lakes of the plains, they sought water at the Big Springs water hole.

The buffaloes are now gone, without even a horn or a skeleton left on the plain to mark their path. From the bison to the benzine buggy is a long gap, but things move rapidly in West Texas, and before next summer opens the gap will already have been bridged and the auto stage line across the plains only an every day incident.

Big Springs School System Compares Favorably With Larger Places

By a Staff Correspondent.

BIG SPRINGS, Texas, Jan. 18.—"The class in geometry is dismissed," said Superintendent S. E. Thompson of the Big Springs schools, and then turning to his visitor, added in explanation, "some of our pupils out here may want later to go to college and we try to have them well equipped before they leave home."

Something in way of explanation did seem necessary. It was hardly to be expected to find a class of bright young people demonstrating Wentworth among the foothills of Howard county, with as much ease and self-possession as could be found in any high school class of one of the larger cities of the state.

Superintendent Thompson's explanation, "We try to have them well equipped before they leave home," is the key note for the Big Springs school system, probably one of the best of its kind in the entire state.

Has Independent District

Big Springs as a town is not incorporated. Incorporation for the purpose of organizing an independent school district, however, was effected some years ago. The district now extends two and one-half miles in every direction from the Howard county court house. There are more than 500 pupils enrolled and eight teachers beside the superintendent are busy caring for them. Next year the force of teachers will still further be increased.

The course covers eleven grades and ranges from the primer to the second book of Virgil and the study of dactylic hexameter. Superintendent Thompson is an experienced educator and the course he has prepared is one of the town's sources of pride.

Twenty Thousand School Building

The school building is two stories in height, of brick, well lighted, and cost $20,000. It is paid for, and the school district in addition holds over $12,000 in Howard county bonds.

The business of the district is transacted by seven trustees who form a non-partisan body. Politics has nothing to do with the school system and the county officials have nothing to say regarding its affairs.

So popular has the Big Springs school become that its pupils threaten to soon outnumber even the capacity of the new building.

"Every Monday morning we start out with eight or nine new pupils," said Superintendent Thompson, "and no sooner have they been provided for than another week comes with an additional group of new scholars."

WOMAN ARRESTED ON HER DEATHBED

Charged With Suicide as She Lay Dying

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Coroner Brewer of Brooklyn received a summons just before last midnight to hasten to the home of Otto F. Bothfeldt, a wealthy commission merchant living in the exclusive section of Bay Ridge, and investigate the shooting of Mrs. Bothfeldt, who was dying of a bullet wound in her head.

Though the police had received no notice of the tragedy, Dr. Brewer was informed that the shooting had taken place early yesterday. A misunderstanding was responsible for the failure of the family to notify the authorities. The coroner's presence was desired to take Mrs. Bothfeldt's antemortem statement. A policeman was dispatched to the home of the Bothfeldts, and after inquiry he placed the dying woman under formal arrest on a charge of attempted suicide. At the time of the shooting there were present in the house Mr. Bothfeldt's two sons, Ralph O. and Harry J., a married daughter, Mrs. Arthur D. Constant, and the servants.

The family, who have been alarmed for two months because of the highly nervous conditions of Mrs. Bothfeldt, were aroused early in the morning by a pistol shot, followed by the sound of a body falling. The children hastened to the room occupied by their parents, and found Mr. Bothfeldt bending over the body of his wife. He said she had left the bed so carefully as not to disturb him and reached a bureau in a drawer of which he kept a loaded pistol. Mr. Bothfeldt said his wife had apparently pressed the weapon to her left temple and pulled the trigger. She fell beside the bureau unconscious. Coroner Brewer and the police will conduct an investigation. Mr. Bothfeldt is a commission merchant with offices at 54 Broad street, this city, is a member of the Ridge Club of Bay Ridge, and Mrs. Bothfeldt was a leader in society in Bay Ridge.

Worry is the mother of sick, nervous and troubled mentality, upsets the entire physical system. The body is a network of nerves. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea soothes and rebuilds the entire system. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

SENATORS FOLLOW PRESIDENT'S LEAD

"He Sets Example of Independence, We Follow," Says Republican Senator

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—"The President of the United States has set the example of demanding the most careful investigation of the work of every official, of insisting on the most rigid examination of their acts, and the senate believes it ought to follow his illustrious example," said a noted republican senator today. "Consequently we propose to make a most searching examination and inquiry into the affairs of the Panama canal and of the acts of Secretary Taft, in the orders that have been given. We have informed the President that we believe this is best for Secretary Taft and all around.

"The President has set a pace to all the country for holding officials squarely up to their duty in every respect, and in demanding that the light be turned on anybody and everybody, that is commendable. We are glad to follow in his footsteps," and the senator smiled as he walked away.

BUILDING TRADES FIRST WANT PEACE

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 18.—The first move of the building trades unions in 1906 was for peace. The steamfitters yesterday joined their employes in arranging a friendly basis of wages and conditions during three years. Other building trades unions, it is expected, will be influenced by the attitude assumed by the steamfitters. The carpenters are asking for an increase in wages and the iron workers are seeking new conditions.

Conciliation was exercised on both sides in the new agreement signed by the union and the Master Steamfitters' Association. The men will receive slightly higher wages, but will submit to their employers' rules without change. The new scale provides that the pay of journeymen steamfitters shall be increased 10 cents a day beginning Aug. 1 and an additional 10 cents on April 1, 1907.

A close examination revealed a faint flush in the cheeks, indicating life. A doctor was summoned, but it was hours before he arrived. He failed to revive her.

FAKERS SLANDER BANKS BY 'PHONE

Would-Be Practical Jokers Tell Depositors to Withdraw Deposits Quickly to Avoid Loss

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Complaint has been made at several banks that depositors are being called by telephone and advised by persons, whose identity is not known, to withdraw their deposits from the institution. The depositor is told with much evidence of concern that he had better get his money out of that particular institution in which he happens to have it lodged. Depositors in three of the richest banks in this city have been given this unsolicited advice. John J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust & Savings bank, said yesterday:

"This business is to me inexplicable. There is absolutely no occasion for alarm and the persons telephoning or advising depositors to take their money out of the banks are either foolish or malicious. We have been trying to run down the source of these stories.

"Three banks have had the experience with their depositors. There should be some way to put an end to these unwarranted efforts to frighten timid persons."

Amalgamated Copper Declares 7 Per Cent Dividend—Effects Temporary Advance

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The stock market opened firm and trading was active during the first hour, with the trend of prices upward. Reading attracted the greater share of attention by reason of the continual exhibition of strength. The stock opened almost a point above yesterday's final price and immediately following the call there was good buying, one firm taking 5,000 shares. The price advanced rapidly, soon reaching a net gain of 8¼ points and incidentally establishing a new high record.

The movement was not unexpected, as brokers and commission men have been advising the purchase of this stock for several days and it has been freely predicted that there would be a substantial advance. Colorado Fuel and Iron continues to be one of the leaders. In the early trading the stock sold at 76, a net gain of 2½ points from yesterday's closing price and a point above the best of yesterday. There was also fair activity in Amalgamated Copper, but the feeling was a little nervous over the expected dividend action to be taken this afternoon.

However, when it was announced that the company would declare an annual dividend of 6 per cent the stock immediately began to move upward and there was a rush of buying orders, effecting an immediate advance of about 3½ points, but this was only maintained for a few minutes, as there was considerable profit-taking on the advance, causing a recession, and the close was near yesterday's final figures. Aside from the interest which was attached to the movement of this stock the afternoon session was comparatively quiet and featureless. Reading touched 139 before the close of the session, but the final price was fractionally under the best. Missouri Pacific also showed a substantial gain at one time. The closing tone was easy. Call money was easy at 4 per cent. Sales to noon were 709,200 shares.

Alleged Blackmail Sheet Borrowed Money from Insurance Company

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Further revelations regarding insurance affairs were unexpectedly brought out this afternoon at the trial of the suit for criminal libel brought by Justice Deuel against Norman Hapgood, editor of Collier's Weekly, in the supreme court, when the complainant on the witness stand admitted that the Town Topics company had borrowed $165,000 from the Equitable Life Assurance society.

Mr. Osborne then followed up this line of questioning with a query as to whether James Hazen Hyde had received "pleasing notices" in Town Topics after the loan had been made, but Justice Deuel said he could not recall that anything had been printed about the former vice president of the Equitable.

Later Mr. Osborne read some excerpts calculated to tickle Mr. Hyde's vanity.

Methuselah was all right, you bet,
For a good old soul was he,
They say he would be living yet,
Had he taken Rocky Mountain Tea.

SADDLERS HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

Sessions of Association Come to a Close

The final session of the Southwestern Retail Saddlery and Harness Makers' Association was held Thursday morning, the meeting adjourning at 1:30 in the afternoon to meet in San Antonio on the third Tuesday in January, 1907. The most important business transacted Thursday was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President, C. S. Boyles, Baird, Texas.

Vice president, Lewis Walters, Lagrange, Texas.

Secretary and treasurer, D. S. Kauffman, Abilene, Texas.

Territorial vice presidents, J. C. Puddy, Ardmore, I. T.; O. J. Schneider, Clayton, N. M.; R. P. Morton, Shreveport, La.

After adjournment the delegates repaired to the Texas brewery as the guests of the company.

The meeting of this association this year has been the best attended, the most harmonious and has resulted in the members getting closer together than ever before. The membership has increased and the outlook for the future is declared better than ever.

A smoker was held Wednesday night at the Board of Trade for the members of the Southwestern Retail Saddle and Harness Makers' Association, which is meeting in this city in annual convention. William James of this city presided over the meeting and the rooms were well filled with visitors.

The principal speaker of the evening was Captain B. B. Paddock, who spoke on "What It Takes to Make a City." Captain Paddock reviewed briefly the history of the city and gave an interesting account of the upbuilding. He spoke of the difficulties which the city had overcome in building itself to the point where it now is, and said that everything had been overcome by the pluck, enterprise and public spirit of the citizens.

At the conclusion of his speech Captin Paddock was presented with a box of cigars by Percy Willis of Waco, a member of the association.

In speaking of the growth of the city, Captain Paddock dwelt for some time on the building of the railroads here, and said that freight can be carried from Fort Worth to other parts of the state from 2 to 14 cents cheaper than from other parts of the state, because the city has eleven trunk lines.

Other speakers were J. R. Tennison of Dallas, J. C. F. Jackson of St. Louis, President H. J. Heye of Hallettsville, Mr. Eggers of Cincinnati and Mr. Fleming of St. Louis.

The meeting of the association will be closed Thursday night with a banquet at the Delaware hotel at 9:30 o'clock. William James will act as toastmaster.

COTTON

Sudden Revival of Bullish Enthusiasm Causes Sharp Advance in Prices. Bear Leader Active Purchaser

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The cotton market opened steady with near positions from 1 point off to 1 point up.

Freer offerings from the South and heavy selling during the initial trading were depressing influences, and prices soon eased off to a net loss of 5 to 6 points.

Around the bottom some of yesterday's shorts took profits and there was a reaction, carrying prices back to a level with last night's finals.

There was a period of almost total inactivity which lasted until shortly before midday, when the talent suddenly awoke from their lethargy, and one broker began to bid for 20,000 bales of May. Within ten minutes the price of May had advanced from 11.72c to 11.82c, and one operator who had previously sold 5,000 bales at 11.79c, turned and bid 11.82c for 10,000 bales.

The market seemed to be completely sold out, and everywhere the sentiment was strongly bullish the bear leader issued a circular in which he acknowledged that he had covered the bulk of his short commitments, and expected that the next ginners' report would favor the bull side.

This was like adding fuel to the fire, and prices advanced rapidly. The last hour of trading was the most active of the day, and the close was firm with prices near the best, showing a net gain of 19 points. Spots were quiet and 15 points higher, at 12.25c for the middling grade.

Futures ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Jan.	11.45	11.62	11.42	11.62
March	11.61	11.82	11.58	11.81

New Orleans Cotton

Special to The Telegram.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18.—The market opened easy with prices unchanged 7 points lower.

Liverpool opening prices were about as expected.

There were a great many notices issued here, and this had an adverse influence, with the result that the market assumed a weak undertone during the early trading, and near positions sold off to a net loss of 5 to 6 points.

There was a revival of bullish sentiment in the afternoon and prices advanced sharply.

The close was steady at a net advance of 14 to 16 points.

Spots were steady and 1-16c higher, at 11¾c. Sales were 2,050 bales, with 950 bales f. o. b.

Futures ranged as follows:

Liverpool Cotton Cable

Special to The Telegram.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 18.—The cotton market opened steady with contracts 6 to 7 points below yesterday's final prices.

Importers were liberal sellers during the day and continental operators sold for the new crop delivery. This caused a further decline, and closing prices were at a net loss of 9 to 11 points.

Spots were easier at a decline of 7 points to 6.21d for American middling. Sales were 10,000 bales. Receipts, 15,000 bales.

Thursday's Review and Sales

Receipts of cattle up to noon and estimated for the balance of the day reached 2,600 head, a very moderate run.

Steers

Beef steers consisted of two loads of partly fed and three loads of grass cattle, none of which were weighed up to the noon hour. Packers seemed to give steers the go-by on the early market. Indications were that trading if any were done would be on an easier basis. Sales:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.
23...	978	$3.55

Cows and Heifers

But few good butcher cows were among the receipts, and these sold fully steady. Packers showed the same disinclination to support the market on medium cows that they displayed yesterday. A good many canners were in the pens, but trading on these was light, and chiefly confined to jack pot sales—the cow receipts being on the mixed load orders. Sales of cows:

Bulls

Bulls were fairly numerous, the bulk coming from east Texas, and these were thins and indifferent scrubs. The market was generally steady, ranging from $1.50 for thin and ill-bred bulls to $2.25 for good butcher bulls 66666

Calves

A good run of calves was in the pens—all of medium to heavy weights. Only a few scattering light veals were to be seen. Market on these steady, but inclined to be spotted on all other calves. Sales:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.

Hogs

Again the hog run reached the 3,000 mark, and again it was chiefly made up of thin mast and east Texas range hogs. The few good hogs from the territory and from points in Texas where corn abounds sold steady, tops being $4.47½, but mast hogs and undesirable pigs sold lower, the loss on these reaching 15c to 25c. Thin range pigs are no longer wanted on this market. Sales:

TRADE NOTES

A healthy, growthy condition of the system is shown by a bright oily condition of the fleece.

The large roomy ewes prove to be better lamb raisers than the short dumpy ones.

The more gentle and quiet you can keep colts from the time they are foaled up to the time they are old enough to work, the better for them and for you.

There is no other animal kept in the stables in winter that will make more or richer manure for the live weight of them or for the feed consumed than the sheep.

If the young pigs do not thrive it is because the mother does not furnish enough milk. If she does not, it is either because she is not a good mother or because she does not have enough feed.

What will mutton and wool sell at next year? is the common question coming to our office. We can't tell, but it looks as if they will go higher than this year.

It is estimated that the actual money loss each year to cattlemen of the United States from the horns on cattle amounts to $25,000,000. In view of this fact it is needless to add the argument that cattle should be dehorned.

ARRESTED IN THE JURY-BOX

Juryman in Civil Suit Charged With Theft

Special to The Telegram.

DALLAS, Texas, Jan. 18.—Because one of the jurymen in a civil suit before Judge Morgan was arrested, charged with theft from the person of a Tarrant county man, just as the district judge was ready to deliver the charge in the case, it was expected that the case would have to be retried.

The juryman is R. E. Chumley of West Dallas. The complaint was made through the office of the county attorney, the allegation being made by J. M. Leeper of Dallas that Chumley commited the crime of theft from the person of J. W. Bowlin, who lives near Arlington, Tarrant county, Texas.

Chumley was taken before Justice Cullen and waived examination. His bond was fixed at $500.

Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon the civil case went to the jury of the remaining jurymen by agreement.

"BANK DRUMMER" MAKES VISIT HERE

Representative of Largest Financial Institution in New York in Fort Worth

It was not until recently that the large banks of the East have paid any attention to the fact that there were banks in this part of the country. Recently the state of affairs has changed, and now the banks of New York are sending representatives through this section to visit the bankers at their banks.

These men are sometimes humorously called "bank drummers."

Arthur D. Robinson, a representtive of the City National bank of New York a bank generally known as a "Standard Oil" institution," is in the city today making personal visits on many of the bankers. The City National bank is reputed to be the largest bank in the country. It has a capital of $25,000,000, with a surplus of $18,000,000, and total deposits of between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000.

FIREMAN ASSAULTED

Negro Tramps Hurl Rocks at Trainman, Producing Serious Injury

Special to The Telegram.

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Jan. 18.—A fireman on the southbound Katy Flyer was assaulted at Lancaster last night by two negro tramps whom he found riding on the tender. The assault occurred at a water tank, where the train had stopped to take water.

The fireman ordered the negroes from the tender. One hurled a rock at him, which struck his head, producing a serious injury.

The crew and passengers attempted to capture the assailants, but they escaped in the darkness.

The injured fireman was taken home to Denison this morning.

By watching Liners one finds "opportunity." It would be hard to find a dozen Liner ads. in which no real opportunity is advertised.

"Looking for a room" in the "Liner ad. way" is as simple as shopping.

One of these days a Liner advertiser will offer for sale something you have long looked for—but you will be none the wiser if you overlook the ad.

REALTY DEALS SHOW ADVANCE

Transfer of Business Property Effected With Profit

Three real estate deals of considerable importance were closed Wednesday evening. James Moore sold to E. D. Farmer the northwest corner of Tenth and Houston streets for $25,000. The property is 50x125 feet and has on it a one-story brick building. It was purchased about a year ago by Mr. Moore for $16,000 and he spent $1,000 in improvements upon it, clearing about $8,000 for the year.

Mr. Farmer also purchased from W. J. Bailey the southeast corner of Thirteenth street and Jennings avenue for $15,500. This property was purchased four years ago for $11,000. Since that time, however, Mr. Bailey disposed of part of it for $3,500 to the city.

Another piece of property that was sold Wednesday was the corner of Calhoun and Fifteenth streets, occupied by the Mohawk hotel, which was purchased by George Simson and O. B. Holt from James Moore for $22,750. The property is 62x100 feet in extent and is improved with a three-story brick building.

A number of deeds for valuable property were filed Wednesday with the county clerk. George Simson transfers to Mrs. C. A. Wargoner lots 3 and 4, block B6, for $14,327, and lot 5, same block, to Mrs. M. J. Brown, for $17,163. These lots are located in Throckmorton street between Tenth and Eleventh streets, between the building of the Fort Worth Telephone Company and the new building which the Southwestern Telephone Company is erecting.

A deed was also filed for the purchase of lot 3 and part of lot 2, block 36, city, by George Simson from Mrs. L. E. Reynolds et al, for $8,500.

Another deed was filed for the same lots, showing Mrs. Reynolds had previously purchased them from Ed Otto and wife for $10,000. These lots are on the east side of Main street, between First and Second streets, adjacent to the Masonic Temple.

W. K. Bell's First Job in Texas Was With Mr. Daggett

W. K. Bell, a son of "Bonnie Scotland," and one of the old time cowmen, and who has lived in Palo Pinto county for thirty-four years, came to town yesterday to see his friends.

"I was born," he said, "in Kirkcudbrightshire, Scotland, and came to Texas a lad thirty-four years ago, when the Texas and Pacific railroad terminated at Hallville, the first station this side of Marshall. All travel from there was by horse or stage. I went first to Corsicana, and from there to Fort Worth, and the first job I got was plowing corn for Daggett, just back of where the hotel Worth is now. From mthere I went to Palo Pinto county and settled on Dodson's Prairie, a well known spot to all old cowmen, as it was about the only spot in that part of the country level enough to round up a herd on. I read the interview with Clabe Merchant, and remembered his trips, for he passed my place when he was moving from Palo Pinto to Callahan county to settle at Belle Plain. I have ranched there ever since, ut a few years ago I sold out most of my holdings and have now only some Galloway black cattle, and am getting into the hog business. Palo Pinto county has wonderful resources, developed and undeveloped—coal, natural gas, shale and various mineral waters and petroleum, besides others that I cannot think of just now. A well was sunk near Palo Pinto and three stratas of gas were passed through, and at the depth of 1,600 feet the prospectors suddenly plugged the hole and left.

"Mineral Wells is a coming town, and all us old settlers of the county feel proud of her. Yes, grass is better than it ever was, and cattle are fat. Lands are high and farmers are taking the country. As the Good Book says, 'Old things are passing away,' and a new era, new methods and new people are taking the place of the old.

"After I sold out my ranch I went back to Scotland on a visit, but returned to Texas and am satisfied that nowhere in civilization is there a country equal to Texas since she began to develop her resources.

"I have been in Texas when the Indians roamed where now are cities and have seen many changes, but they have all been for the best, and the old Texans of the past era dying, may well feel proud of the inheritance they wrested from the "wild," and have handed down to their posterity a heritage forever."

Reports Good Range

George W. Porter of Brown county, and a resident of the thriving city of Brownwood, was at the stock yards yesterday, telling all about his section and the good things and people that were there.

"Yes," he said, "times are very good down in Brown county, and the winter grass is green and flourishing. Cattle are in very fine fix and lands are bringing high prices, although not many of our large ranch owners are placing their land on the market, as they are all well fixed and not required to sell unless they so desire. Grass has suffered some in the south portion of the county from drouth, but nothing to speak of. The county has been always blessed with a banker who in times of stress always came to the front and helped with his means every one who was honest and needed help During the dry year of 1886, when there was nothing raised in our county and nothing green was to be found for stock to feed on, and it looked as if every one would have to walk out, there was one man who came to the front and loaned the people $10,000 without interest, and with no security but their simple note of hand, and to the credit of our people, not more than $300 was unpaid. This man was Henry Ford, and through him and his liberality is due to a great extent the prosperity of many people who would have gone to the wall but for his helping hand. It is a pity that there are not more such men."

Dallas County Feeder

J. W. Oliphant of Carrollton, Dallas county, was a visitor to the Fort Worth Live Stock Exchange and incidentally called to see his old-time friend Marion Sansom, whom he had not seen for twenty-five years.

Mr. Oliphant is feeding a string of steers, and has a stock farm.

Everything was going along all right in his section, he says; the winter has not been very severe as yet, although a great deal of rain has fallen. He says feed is high, which, to some extent, limits the number of cattle being fed for market.

Injured the Range

Sterling P. Clark has just returned from Wichita Falls, and he says that the wet weather had hurt the range to some extent up that way.

"The value of land is getting so high in that section that ranchers will soon be out of date, and some cattlemen fear that the price is too high already for profitable cattle business."

Bosquet County Range

A. W. Cooper of Clifton, Bosque county, was a visitor on the market Wednesday. Mr. Cooper was seen at the office of the Interstate Commission Company. He brought in a load of good stuff, for which he got satisfactory prices.

Range and cattle down his way, he says, are in fairly good condition, especially for the winter time, and in fact conditions are better than usual.

Range Is Excellent

E. G. P. Killum of Valley Mills was rounded up in the office of the Evans-Mentague Commission Company, and being fresh from the range in Bosque county, was able to give the latest news:

"The range is excellent," he said. "Although we have had so much wet weather and the grass in our country, notwithstanding the fact that it is partly sap, has stood the weather remarkably well. People are feeding just enough to keep the cattle up. Two pounds of meal is the usual allowance on the range, and that, with the grass, is found to be ample to keep everything in fine condition. However, when this amount proves not sufficient, two pounds of cotton seed or four pounds of hulls are added to the ration.

"I am feeding a string for this market. Stock farming is being adopted very extensively in Bosque county, which section has been found to be peculiarly adapted to this character of stock raising. We raise corn, hay, cotton, sorghum and have tried milo maize, but the latter cereal does not seem to do well, probably for the reason of the amount of rainfall. You know it is a dry weather plant. We have a good grade of stock, including short horns and ball-faced cattle, and can show up with any county in the general character of our stock."

Buying East Texas Steers

Z. T. Miller of the 101 ranch, located in Oklahoma, is still in the city. When seen today he said he was going into East Texas to buy steers, as he had seen several lots from that section of Texas sell on this market for $11.

Mr. Miller said if he could find a quantity of them at that price and take them up to his ranch he though he could give them shape and weight.

"What about that dude scheme I told you I had gone into?" he asked.

"You are from Missouri, are you? Well, that is all right, but I will show you some time that I meant what I said."

SLUGGISH DEPRESSION

Proper Food Removes It

"Before using Postum Food Coffee my wife and I were prejudiced against it," writes an Iowa man, "but now we would not be induced to give it up.

"My wife was suffering from various nervous ailments and was especially afflicted with black spots before the eyes, with an accompaning feeling of faintness. These spells grew in frequency and at last we came to suspect that possibly coffee was the cause of them.

"We therefore determined to give up the old coffee and use Postum for awhile, to see if it would help her. The result was more than satisfactory. In a very short time, only long enough to get the coffee poison out of her system, and give the Postum a chance to build up her strength, she began and continued to improve rapidly. Several weeks have elapsed since she has had an attack of blind spells or faintness, and her other nervous troubles have disappeared.

"I had been greatly troubled from a sluggish feeling of depression that made me very miserable, and when I saw how Postum had helped the wife, I determined to see what it would do for me. So I quit the old kind of coffee and began the use of Postum, and from that day to this have been entirely free from the old depression, sluggishness and despondency.

"Our little 8-year-old daughter had grown quite cross and peevish, and we put her also on the Postum diet. It has made such a change in her that the teacher of the school when she attends remarked upon it without knowing the cause till we told her.

"We have all been made brighter and stronger, mentally and physically, and life seems actually more worth living, since we quit coffee and began to drink Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
