FIREMEN TO TAKE CHARGE OF BURKBURNETT NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Edna Smith, Injured In June Cyclone, Died Tuesday At Wichita

Woman Dies Result of Injuries Received in Storm

Funeral Services Held At Wichita Falls Wed.
Afternoon

Damage Heavy

Death Only Fatality
Wind That Swept
Through County

Edna Smith, 32, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Smith of Burk Burnett, died at the general hospital in Wichita Falls last night after four months of paralysis resulting from injuries received in the cyclone of June 6, this year.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Hines Mortuary in Wichita Falls, where the body was in the Rosemont cemetery.

Smith was the only victim of the storm which swept through the county last June, taking the property of this family more than one quarter million dollars.

Alone in Storm

Smith was alone in the house at the time the twister struck. When she heard it coming, she fled to the cellar in the yard of the house. The wind was so heavy she could not open the door.

As she opened the door, the wind came in, and a portion of the wall and roof fell on her, killing her.

Neighbors found Miss Smith and carried her to the hospital in Wichita Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were visiting relatives in Oklahoma when the storm started. At first it was thought Miss Smith would be recovered, but gradually the doctors lost hope of her recovering.

Lived in Wichita

Smith had lived in Wichita before coming to Burk Burnett. She was graduated from the high school and lived in Burk Burnett two years. The family had farmed at home near here.

Local Damage

Local damage by the storm was estimated at about $50,000 by insurance agents and city officials. One of the most important places destroyed by the storm was the water works plant. Emergency service was secured by the city without communication with the outside world several hours after the storm.

Burkburnett Men

Lead Odd Fellow

District Meeting

H. Cecil of Burk Burnett was president of the district meeting of the IOOF held in Vernon, Texas last Monday night and C. H. Miller also of the local organization, was vice president. The officers are leading members of the Burk Burnett lodge, and they were given the recognition for the excellent lodge work in the district organization.

The next meeting will be under the direction of Mr. Cecil and will be at Chillicothe Nov. 19. Very interesting business and entertainment will be presented at the meeting.

A TRIBUTE TO BRAVE MEN

Burkburnett is paying a tribute to a group of its bravest and most unselfish men this week. In a community this size it is impossible to maintain a full-time fire department, and it is necessary that the work ordinarily done by such departments be the task of a group of especially civic-minded men and women.

For several years now, when the city and country was in the middle of a depression that made employment of full-time men impossible, these men have served us to their own great personal inconvenience and many times their own sacrifice.

Day and night, winter and summer, they have been at your call. They have trained diligently. Spent many hours perfecting methods by acute study of the local problems. This has been evident in concrete results. So to the firemen we pay this tribute of recognition for bravery and unselfishness.

Burkburnett To Join Iowa Park In Fair Oct. 29

County Free Fair to be Bigger and Better Than Ever Before

New Buildings Ready

Burkburnett will take one of the largest delegations in history to the annual fall free fair in Iowa Park on Burk Burnett-Electra day, Thursday, Oct. 29. The date originally set for the Burk Burnett citizen's honor day was moved up one day in order to prevent conflict with the Burk Burnett-Crowell game to be played here Friday night.

A formal stage program will be presented by Burk Burnett and Electra on the stage in the Educational building starting at 7:00 o'clock Thursday night.

The Burk Burnett Cowboy band will open the event with a serenade, and other special program features will be presented under the direction of Herman Brown of the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce.

Remodeled Grounds

The new building at the fair and the landscaping makes it possible for the organization to present the best fair in the history of the county meeting. The educational, stock, and commercial buildings rank as the best in Northwest Texas, and the fair has become one of the most creditable enterprises that any community in this area ever attempted.

Throughout the week some special event will be scheduled for the entertainment of the visitors. The grand climax will be the home coming of the pioneers of Wichita county that will be held Saturday all day.

Every department of community activity will be exhibited during the four days. Wichita Falls, Burk Burnett and Electra will send delegates during the first three days.

Advertising Parade

Friday, Oct. 23, a caravan of cars will leave Wichita Falls to tour the county in an advertising parade through the entire county. These cars will be visiting the schools and communities of the district to invite the people to the annual festival.

One of the events of the week will be a battle between the Iowa and Burk Burnett teams.

Three Arrested In Clean Up of Local Series Of Thefts

Wichita Falls and Burk Burnett
Police Cooperate In Investigation

Goods Recovered

Two men and one woman were arrested in Burk Burnett Wednesday afternoon to clear up a series of alleged thefts in a wide spread territory. W. C. Bruner and his wife and Uel Bruner all of Burk Burnett, were placed under arrest by local police officials when they raided a farm home seven miles northwest of the city to recover the contraband.

The articles recovered were a trailer alleged to have been stolen in Anson, Texas, valued at several hundred dollars, tobacco, alleged to have been part of the loot stolen from E. K. Bond in Wichita Falls, a bulldog, and about 40 or 50 dollars worth of groceries. Numerous articles were seized by the officers, but they were not definitely identified as stolen material.

The Burk Burnett deputy, Roy Blanchet, Chief of Police Bill Stapp and members of the department, N. H. Harris and Jim Turner, rounded the three up in a series of raids. O. A. Roberson of the Sheriff's department, and Dowdy, chief of the Wichita Falls detective police department, assisted.

The three were placed under arrest in Burk Burnett and then transferred to the Wichita county jail where they will await more complete investigation on the charge.

Odd Fellows Hold Open House Here

Members of several clubs in the Burk Burnett district and local visitors were guests of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs at an open house last Tuesday. Members represented Iowa Park, Electra, Vernon, Wichita Falls, and Grandfield and Glickman of Wichita Falls. The Gore quartet sang several selections. Refreshments were served by the Rebekahs.

Bulldogs Getting Ready for Crowell During Idle Week

Team Working Hard for Annual Battle With Chief Conference Foes

Condition Excellent

There is grim determination in the Bulldog camp this week that the tradition of many years will be broken when the Crowell Cats invade the Westerfield stadium for the next game, October 30. The game for next Friday night with the Mineral Wells B squad has been cancelled at the request of the Mineral Wells team, and the fast stepping Canines are devoting all their energy in getting ready for the chief source of their humiliation for several of the past years—the Crowell Cats.

On the last trip that Crowell made to Burk Burnett, they had with them a young fellow named Todd, and the 52 points that he amassed with slight aid from 10 other fellows, is a memory that is still very bitter gall for local fans and players.

The brilliant record of the Bulldogs this year indicates that they might be able to achieve a lifetime ambition and win for the first time in the history of athletic relationship between the two schools. There isn't the slightest doubt that Crowell is looking past the game they have with Throckmorton this week to the Burk Burnett test the following weekend. The two teams should reach a peak in the contest. One thing is certain—all but the blind and physically disable will be on hand that night in Burk Burnett, because there is a feeling of confidence among the fans.

Finch Shines

In the three consecutive victories in conference competition, most of the credit has been given to Tolly McKown. That elusive back has been the major ground gainer of the team, but one of the most important parts of Burk Burnett's highly geared machine has been Avis Finch, 127 pound quarter-back. Finch has called three perfect games. During these games he has even had Coach Volney Hill sitting on the sideline wondering what would happen next. The mixture of plays which have functioned in every game have exactly fitted the defense of the opposition. In addition, Finch has been rated as the best blocker and tackler in the backfield. In spite of his size, the quarter back has opened the paths for McKown to march goalward on every touchdown play. Five of McKown's touchdowns have been on laterals from Finch. Coaches and newspaper critics who have watched him, class him as Burk Burnett's best bet for all-district rating.

Extra Points

After each touchdown Burk Burnett fans start wondering when the streak of extra points will stop. The local lads have not missed a single extra point since the Iowa Park game. For 13 consecutive times the Bulldogs have achieved the one point more after the goal. That point has not been needed in any game yet, but in closer games that are to follow, it may decide important issues.

Various changes are being tried in the Burk Burnett lineup. Carl Cook has been one of the most valuable men on the team at left tackle both on defense and offense. His blocking and tackling have been watched with interest, but his drive on tackle attracted the attention of the coaches. Cook has been transferred to the backfield on the offense to aid in power plays. He is the heaviest man on the squad.

The center of the Bulldog line was considered the most doubtful place on the team at the start of the season. Hageman, Elliot and Whitton covered that spot well so far. Not one important gain has been made through the territory by the opposition since the first game at Electra.

McFarlane Speaks For Demo Ticket

Congressman W. D. McFarlane received word last week that the National Democratic Committee would appreciate his speaking for the national ticket in Oklahoma. The speaking tour was started last Saturday, and will last for ten days. Oklahoma is one of the doubtful states and has received the attention of the candidates of both of the major parties. The electoral votes in that state may possibly be vital to the winning party.

Congressman McFarlane received the invitation to speak from Honorable Sam Rayburn, chairman of the Democratic Committee's speaking bureau. The representatives from this district received wide attention in his recent race for re-election on the basis of full endorsement of the policies of the national administration.

Amendments Are Studied By Rotary Members Tuesday

Wichita Lawyer and Local Teacher Present Arguments
For Laws

Voting Urged

Bert King, one of Wichita Falls' outstanding attorneys, and Miss Ella Billingslea discussed the 5th and 2nd amendment before the members of the Burk Burnett Rotary club at noon Tuesday. The amendments discussed are two of those upon which a vote will be taken at the general election in November.

Mr. King gave a brief analysis of the salary amendment which among other provisions will increase the salary of the governor as to $12,000 per year. He urged the members seriously to vote November 3.

Miss Billingslea stated that the establishment of a public school system is one of the most important things that can be done for the state.

Bulldogs Repeat 42-0 Score With Throckmorton

Perfect Offensive Functions In Last Three Quarters To Smash Opponents

Line Holds Hounds

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs made it a habit Friday night and rolled up a 42 to 0 score for the second successive game with the Throckmorton Greyhounds at victims. Led by McKown, the balanced backfield of Teal, Finch and Cook piled up six touchdowns and six extra points. The Greyhounds fought a brilliant defensive game for the first 20 minutes, but were submerged under a passing and running attack that clicked perfectly after that point.

Passes Numerous

Both sides threw passes all over the field with numerous interception and a total of 26 incomplete passes for the game. The first quarter ended even with each team registering only one first down and neither getting near scoring position. Thomas and Odell, Throckmorton, played superb defensive ball to hold the Bulldogs that period.

The Bulldogs scored in the second quarter when Blair, Burk end, recovered Thomas' fumble on Throckmorton's 24-yard line. McKown carried the ball over on a lateral from Finch, and then passed to Finch for the extra point. Five plays later Burk started on their own 39-yard line and in a series of forwards and laterals, scored when McKown passed to Spray, end, over the goal line. McKown kicked the point.

60-Yard March

In the opening of the second half Burk marched 60 yards for a touchdown featuring Finch's 20-yard pass to McKown. McKown carried the ball over on a short plunge at center. McKown passed to Finch for the point. Throckmorton then made their first threat, driving to the Burk two-yard line in a passing attack. McKown then took the ball a few plays later and scored on a 21-yard run, then kicked the point.

McKown carried the next touchdown over from the six-yard line after a steady march of 38 yards featuring Teal and Finch on line plunges. The final score came after McKown's interception of Thomas' pass on Throckmorton's 45-yard line. Teal carried it over the line 14 yards to the one-yard marker, and Finch carried it over on a short plunge. McKown scored the point on a run around the left end.

Burkburnett made 13 first downs to Throckmorton's eight; completed four passes for 69 yards; Burk Burnett 233 yards at scrimmage; Throckmorton's 118. Burk intercepted four passes, and Throckmorton intercepted one pass.

Welding Shop Business Opened In Burk Burnett

Nichols has opened a shop in Burk Burnett, on the street from the Kemp Supply Co.

New business will be known as Welding Shop and will do acetylene and electric welding. He will also have a portable welding outfit for field work. Nichols has been a resident of Burk Burnett for the past 12 years and has been connected with Texas Machine & Welding company for the past ten years.

Part is no good as a side attraction, because it can't get going. Sometimes it gets going, but with a guarantee on the wrong side, spelling out wild men.—Kenneth circus barker, whose car is on his right side.

Annual Jubilee To Be Celebrated For Local Volunteers

Carnival and Special Entertainment to be Featured
In Special Events

Contests to be Held

Main Street to be Roped Off
Friday as Department
Starts Celebration

The firemen of Burk Burnett will take charge of the city Friday and Saturday while they present their annual Jubilee of fun and frolic. With all the merriment and frolic that characterize the annual events, the members of the department will be hosts of the citizens of this area in the big events.

The grand climax of the evening will be Friday night at 8:30 when a trades day event will be programs throughout the two cooperating with the firemen as the hosts at that hour of the entertainment.

Band and Peppers

The Burk Burnett civic band and the members of the pep squad of the Burk Burnett high school will assist in the presentation of the programs.

Main street will be roped off from Ave. C to Ave. B and a street carnival will be presented in that block with all the intricate entertainment booths and concessions under the direction of the firemen and members of the band and peppers.

The band will play at various programs throughout the two days of the event. They will present a special concert at the trades day event Friday night at 8:30. The concert, under the direction of E. L. Nichols, will be the chief event of the program.

Saturday Big Day

The fair program will be renewed Saturday afternoon. The carnival will be resumed on Main street. The streets will be again blocked.

The committees that are working on the project include: publicity, R. L. Mattingly, J. H. Brumley, Wylie Browning and Fred Brookman; lumber, Curtis Matthews, Robert Dunn and G. C. Posey; lights, D. B. Farar, Henry Stewart, Robert Laney; flags, J. G. Allison, Jobie Dunn, D. H. Gregory; traffic Bill Stapp and W. A. Roberts.

Annual Mission Festival At Clara Lutheran Church

Noted Speaker to Attend As Teacher of Meeting

The Clara Lutheran church will celebrate its annual mission festival next Sunday with special services conducted in the morning, afternoon and night. The Rev. A. J. Meyer, of Houston, has been engaged for the morning and afternoon services and the Rev. G. Heinemeier, of San Angelo, will be the speaker in the evening service. The morning service will begin at 11:00 a. m., the afternoon service at 3:00 p. m., and the night service at 7:30 p. m. The children's chorus will render a selection for the morning service and choir will offer appropriate anthems for the afternoon and night services.

The purpose of this special mission day is to stimulate and increase interest in the world-wide missionary endeavors of the local church and to gather special offerings for the support of these missions. Many visitors from the surrounding congregations and neighborhood attend these services and enjoy the fellowship of the festive gathering. The public is invited to attend.

DRINKING AT FOOTBALL GAMES

There is a problem that schools all over the state are having this year. Probably every school in the United States would like to solve definitely the proposition as to what the fans who insist on drinking at football contests. It isn't any crime or sin for a man to take a drink where and when he wishes; but when he insists on making a nuisance of himself at a public place, the act becomes both a sin and a crime.

The school officials in Burkburnett are vexed with the problem. The problem is connected with another equally understandable proposition. Open betting on high school contests. This year the Texas interscholastic league adopted resolutions definitely discouraging such practices.

There isn't much that the schools can do about either practice. They can only appeal to the sportsmanship of the fans. Of course swift legal punishment could be meted out and those who are so inconsiderate and boorish as to continue either or both of the practices could be arrested and fined. But, the school does not wish to undertake the decisive action.

There isn't the slightest excuse for drinking at or just before going to a game. And it would be a very mild matter to handle if it were only the youth that imbibed too heavily. But strangely enough, it is the "leading citizens" that are making fools of themselves, and making everybody else, including the school authorities, uncomfortable.

Why some of the so-called personalities of the city can't enjoy getting into a crowd or at a public gathering without making themselves conspicuously ridiculous, is more than I can understand. If "they must drink, and if they must bet on a game before enjoying it, they at least ought to have the sense to do it with the finesse of good breeding and sportsmanship.

SCHOOL TAX PAYMENTS

Butler Westerfield announced this week that the response to the appeal for the payment of delinquent school taxes has been "very gratifying" during the past few weeks. The report of the office indicates that more than 100 people have been to the school tax offices to bring their payments up to date. The civic-mindedness of these people should not pass unnoticed by the public. Those who benefit by the school administration should praise the ready response of this group.

The school authorities announced that they have prepared several cases for test in the courts. It is a blot on the civic pride that court pressure should be necessary in any case for the payment. There ought to be some method whereby adjustment could be made without the general results that follow court action. However, it has become necessary. The school has been very patient in the matter, and the entrance into court has been forced upon them by the people themselves. While expressing appreciation at the response of the public in some cases, the officials expressed regret in others that legal processes must follow.

VOTE ON AMENDMENTS

During the last few elections that have been held for the purpose of adopting further amendments to the state constitution, many voters have neglected even to read the propositions, much less vote on them. The voters will select the officials and overlook the amendments as unimportant. Of course, a re-writing of the constitution is necessary, but in the mean time an intelligent consideration of each of the proposals is an essential.

Briefly the six amendments include the following six proposals: (1.) to establish state control of retail of liquor and establish local option laws. (2.) Creation of teacher retirement fund by teachers themselves. (3.) Workmen's compensation and insurance laws. (4.) Creation of board of pardoning strictly restricting the governor's power. (5.) Increasing of the governor's salary to $12,000 per year with a general increase of other state salaries. (6.) Limitation of the representation in the large centers of population.

Of all these amendments the one that is receiving the greatest amount of attention is the second one which provides for the teachers compensation and retirement set-up. The propaganda has been spread that the state will have to bear part of the expense in the set-up for the law. However, that propaganda is false. The law merely allows the teacher to organize for their own benefit a fund to which each shall contribute a portion of his salary toward retirement in the future.

The state laws prohibit the possibility of such an organization at the present time. There is nothing that the public has to lose in this matter, and very much to gain in added efficiency of the teachers and school system. The other amendments are just as vital, but at the present the second one has gained the spotlight.

HEADLINES

News of the Week

The Texas old age pension law received more than its share of attention during the last campaign for governor in Texas, and now when the Texas legislature meets for the purpose of passing revenue measures, it is only natural that the subject should receive special investigation and attention. One of the subjects that was most often mentioned during the campaign was that the state law was the most liberal in the United States, and that no other state administered it with such wide-spread attention to all the old aged. That special knowledge brought criticism from the federal government and the threat that the federal aid would be withdrawn unless the rules of the federal government were followed. The federal society security act stated that the allotment of the pension should be by actual need.

Stricter Law

Now that the legislative body has assembled, the passage of a stricter law seems to be inevitable. There is a possibility that this assembly can not amend the law, since it is outside of the subject of the governor's call. Any way, the governor has definitely made it known that he is at least publicly opposed to any claims of the law as it now stands. It appears to the average observer that it isn't change of the law that is necessary as much as a change of the method of administration for a more equitable adjustment. In Burkburnett the editor knows of half a dozen that receive the money who are in no way entitled to the pension. On the other hand he has been personally interested during the past week in an attempt to interest the pension administration in five cases which have been obviously slighted by the commission—every one of these cases are needy.

County Officers

Why can't the county officials administer the funds. In the Burkburnett precinct there isn't anyone that knows as much about who is needy as F. R. Knauth. For five years he has been taking care of these people through relief organizations. Their actual needs are known to him. Possibly it is the same way in every other precinct in Texas. There ought to be some way that a person who has known the people for many years could assist in the process for the selection of those deserving.

Real Poll News

Possibly the most interesting of all the presidential polls that have been conducted in the United States is the one conducted by the English paper, Reuters. This paper is impartial so far as American politics is concerned, and the results of the race do not make the slightest difference to the London daily. They sent 17 men here to investigate and hold a poll. The result is that they state that Mr. Roosevelt will carry the United States by 314 electoral votes in 35 states. That is well over the required majority of 261 electoral votes. The other polls that have been conducted by organizations here in the United States, are possibly prejudiced by the opinions of those conducting them but they are at least as inaccurate as a slight degree of unconscious arrangement can make them. However, the English Reuters have nothing to lose or gain in American politics, so we accept their poll as the most authentic.

Double Government

For about the first time in the history of our nation, it is possible that we will have representatives from two district governments of the same nation in Washington. The Spanish government will continue to hold its ambassador at Washington, and the Rebel government has expressed a desire to send its representative to the capitol of the United States. The department of state will maintain absolute impartiality in reception of each of the government's representatives. There will be two Spanish ambassadors here. That will place Washington in much the same position as the hostess who was entertaining a man and his wife and his divorced wife. It will also mean just as strong a possibility of conflict and trouble—at least complications.

Power Grant Tests

The supreme court handed down a negative decision that will mean a lot more of the cases actually tried by the "nine old men." In refusing to hear the case asking for a review of the PWA grants in Texas and in the SEC cases from New York, the court as much as stated in positive terms that it would not interfere in either of these cases. Thus the policies of the government receive a negative affirmation from the court—if such a thing is possible. At least the supreme court will not step in and stop the grant of loans for the purpose of building municipal electric plants or even larger electric units.

Italy-Germany

The secretary of foreign affairs (incidentally he is Il Duce's son-in-law) left Italy Tuesday for Germany where he will confer with Hitler for the purpose of perfecting agreements that will strengthen the alliance between the two countries against the enlargement of the communists in the various governments in Europe. The treaties probably will mean that the Austrian government will be brought into the tightly drawn circle around the French nation and that Russia will be the object of special attention.

Devol Church In Service to Honor Pastor and Wife

Rev. W. O. Bucy and his wife were honored by more than 300 friends from Texas and Oklahoma Sunday on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary at the Devol Methodist church. The pastor and his wife, who have become the most beloved couple in the community during the year they have worked at the church. They received numerous tokens of appreciation in the form of silver sets from the three churches of the district and individual silver pieces from many persons.

In addition, the special ceremonies that expressed the appreciation of the congregation, the quarterly conference of the charge was held under the direction of Rev. W. L. Broome, presiding elder of the Lawton district. The completion of the past year's work indicated the most successful year in the history of the church. The conference voted to recommend the return of the pastor for another year at a generous increase in salary.

The meeting was held throughout the day Sunday. At the morning services Rev. W. L. Broome spoke. At noon the group assembled for a picnic style lunch on the church lawn. Representatives from the Devol, Chattanooga and Stanford churches were present with numerous visitors from Burkburnett, Texas, and various Oklahoma churches out of the district.

The wedding cake, cooked by Rev. Pery McArthur, was an 18-pound pyramid confection. It was presented as part of the ceremony which reminded the couple of the vows they assumed in Dallas, Texas in 1911. The minister and his wife were married by Rev. W. F. Clark at the parsonage of the First Methodist church of Dallas. Since that time they have served in various churches in Texas and Oklahoma.

Out of town relatives present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hill of Burkburnett; Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Gatteys of Greenville, mother and father of the minister's wife; Milo Bucy of Hardin Simmons University, son.

Rev. and Mrs. Bucy left Tuesday for Dallas, Texas, where they will attend the Texas Centennial. Their honeymoon trip after their wedding in 1911 was to the Dallas fair. Thus they will follow again the route of their first trip.

FEATURING FRIDAY EVENING ----- 8:30 O'CLOCK
FEATURING SATURDAY AFTERNOON -- 4:30 O'CLOCK

Burkburnett will honor the firemen of the city next Friday and Saturday in the most important entertainment event of the year. Gathered on Main street between Avenues C and B, there will be presented the annual Jubilee and carnival of the department. This purely volunteer organization has pledged unique entertainment for all visitors.

The firemen have been joined by the band and the pep squad in the event. These two organizations will have charge of the features of the fair that will be directed by the department.

The pep girls have made elaborate preparations for the stand at which concessions of hot dogs, sandwiches, drinks and all other eatables will be sold. The rapidly growing high school organization under the direction of Miss Peggy Gideon and Miss Mildred Corley, will be on the scene in the center of the fair block.

The biggest event of the two nights will be the trades day event at 8:30 Friday night. The most attractive program of the week will be presented at that time with doubly attractive features for the evening.

On the street such entertainment as stands for games, fortune telling, boxing special booth entertainments, and features of the regular carnival sort will be presented. These games will be under the direction of the fire department.

All the members have been working this week to have a top form of entertainment to present at the events. They will be ready to act as courteous host of the guests from this city and the other places in the area.

ENTIRELY NEW BODIES - The bodies of the new 1937 Dodges and Plymouths are entirely new and are of all-steel construction. New wind-stream effect.

FULL-HYDRAULIC BRAKES - The brakes are of the genuine hydraulic type, and act on air-cooled brake drums.

SAFETY IS KEYNOTE - The instrument panels of the new cars are remarkable for their safety features. The instrument panel is directly in front of the driver. Switches, control knobs, ash tray handles and ignition key are sunk into the surface of the instrument panel.

ECONOMY HIGH - The engineers are emphatic in the statement that the operating economy of these cars is superior to the economy of the cars of the past.

Seniors Attend Texas Centennial Saturday

One of the dreams of the class of Fairview High has been realized and that was to attend the Texas Centennial Saturday morning, Oct. 20. The group of 150 students, accompanied by their teachers, left at the unearthly hour of 4:30 a. m. for the Centennial grounds in Dallas. The group was met by a large number of people and the group was taken to the Centennial grounds. The group was met by a large number of people and the group was taken to the Centennial grounds.

They did.

The group journeyed to Denton by 1:30 and there they found nice, soft beds awaiting them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Wilks. Most everyone already had their shoes off, so they just limped in the house and fell in bed and not a sound was heard until 8 o'clock the next morning, not even a snore.

After a sumptuous breakfast at the Eagle Cafe, about 10 o'clock, for only 15 cents, the gang decided to walk around a little to limber up, their stiffened muscles. They then sat on the Wilks' front porch and just relaxed until about 11 o'clock, when the call came for "all out for Fairview." (Iva Jim gathered up her shoes and limped to the car behind the others.)

The trip home was all uneventful except Lenore Podberger just could not sleep in the Watkins' car, and at Bowie the citizens were ringing the dinner bell for the class. (James Brown had been so busy seeing things at the Centennial that he had missed all of his meals and he started catching up with them at Bowie—when he left, Mae West's Cafe hung up a sign, "No more meals served here today, out.")

Upon arriving in Wichita Falls, the Senior girls, Mrs. Watkins, and James Brown heard "Ramona" calling them, so they stayed to see that and reported that it was a beautiful picture. Everyone was at home and happy by 5:30 and was reporting the grand time to the home folks.

Those making up the party were

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Podberger and daughter, Joan, Mrs. Della Ramming, Mr. and Mrs. Randle Watkins, Margaret Lee Boggy, Dorothy Siber, Mildred Morrison, Lenore Podberger, Iva Jim Banning, Scotty McCall, James Brown, Arvell Morris, Albert Zink, Fred Ken and J. L. Podberger.

Report on Sophomores

Mrs. Wright gave the Sophomores a tacky party Friday night, and everyone had a grand time. Prizes were awarded to Don Peed and Wilma Whigham. It was too bad Dean's girl preferred ball games to going to a party with him.

It seems as though Odessa and Martha like to play games as we did Friday night. Lillian Pearl Zink, our president, was not present. We wish she could have been with us.

The Sophomores are going to manage the shuffle-board at the Halowe'en Carnival. Come one, come all, and support the Bears. How's your skill this year?

SPORT NEWS

Wednesday night, Oct. 14, the Fairview girls and boys played the Harrold teams. Our boys won their game with the scores reading 32-11. This is the second conference we have won. Our volleyball girls won two games in succession. Come on girls, let's have some more victories!

There will be another game between Clara and Fairview some night this week in our gym. Be sure to be there everyone.

Friday night, 7:30. Clara versus Fairview at Fairview.

P-T. A. Halowe'en Carnival

If you faint would go to a carnival, come to the Fairview school Oct. 30, at six o'clock.

Ah, such hubbub—it will be a time such as when Fortunando was lured through the dampness and night by the promise of Amantillado.

You may meet the person you are going to marry, or at least gather ten dollars worth of impressions (of some kind) in a minute. For this will be the atmosphere, while the fragrance of pop-corn hovers about, one may see stockless girls in filmy dresses keeping contest stands and hear a man yelling about a wild woman. Nevertheless, popcorn, wares and impressions will help mak up the P-T. A. Carnival, which will furnish a good place to play detective, amuse yourself, or get into mischief.

Come! Fortunando became too intoxicated by the carnival season.

Fairview P-T. A. Meeting

Monday, Oct. 19, the Fairview P-T. A. met.

Honesty was the thesis idea advanced throughout the program Plays and Songs—third grade, sponsored by Miss Toby Baird. Trio—Mary Frances Goins, Mildred Morrison, Dreda Miller, sponsored by Mrs. Thelma Joe Lockhart.

Devotional—Miss Lillie Mae

Armstrong. Talk—"Honesty" by Eld. L. N. Moody.

At the end of the program a state birthday offering was taken. The next P-T. A. meeting will be Monday, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p. m.

Home Builders

Class In Meet

Members of the Home Builders class entertained in a luncheon at the basement of the First Methodist church last Wednesday noon. Several friends were present to enjoy the occasion with the class. Musical numbers featured the brief program. J. M. Thomas and W. D. Bent, accompanied by Mrs. L. G. Hagard, sang. Mrs. Hagard contributed several piano solos. Those present included Mesdames L. G. Hagard, M. W. Majors, Fred Boden, Dishing, Roades, Schribes, Bush and Merris. W. T. Vance, J. M. Thomas and W. D. Bent. The group adjourned the meeting with the song "God Be With You."

Girls Confident of Victory

The Coyotes of the feminine gender, coached again by Loleet Stinson, who, in her coaching career has taken the district for two years, Bi-District twice, as well as big pasture conference and county.

Thirteen girls make up the scramble for berths on the first team. These include: Cates, Pannell, Dotson, Short and Watson as forwards; Hinkle, Miller, and Cosby for center; Arnold, Taylor, Hutson, Wright and Porter for guards.

All are showing up well, the girls are making their first start with Randlett Friday night, and

Basketball as it now is (our way)

This year the Devol squad starts with less men, perhaps, than before. There are but two or three boys touching the 6 ft. mark, but there are some around it and we hope with what Coach Scott has in him, he can make a successful year of it, as most of the boys and outsiders think he can.

There are approximately six or eight coming out for the forward position and equally as many for the guards, two or three of whom play center. In all, there are some fifteen or twenty out for basketball. From these the first and second teams will be chosen by the coach.

There are three or four new ones out this year and they are doing good work. From the Senior class are Robert Boston and Jim Frye. Then from the Freshmen comes Martel Buey to take part in the center jumping, which is probably the part that was the worse off.

He towers up about six feet and one inch in the air and can unlimber his legs and pump when he wants to. So can Charles Woodley of the Juniors — the class that is hopes to take the class tournament, that is to take place some time next week.

Quiet Week

This week will be quiet so far as the Bulldogs are concerned in actual games. The Mineral Wells game has been cancelled at the request of the Mineral Wells team and the major part of energy this week will be devoted by Burk Burnett to the celebration of the Firemen's Jubilee. It will give the fans of Burk Burnett an opportunity to see some of the conference teams in action that Burk Burnett must meet later. The game at Crowell with Throckmorton will attract a crowd of Burk fans. The Iowa Park-Symour game at Iowa Park will have even a larger crowd of Burk Burnett people present. Some will even go to Olney to see the Coyotes and Cubs of Class A fight it out for championship advancement. That lull was needed. The local team had just about exhausted the emotions of the Burk Burnett fans by their excellent playing during the last two weeks.

Finch is the Reason

Some of the Burk Burnett fans have been wondering why the Burk offensive caught the opponents flat-footed every play. The reason is in about 127 pounds of dynamite named Avis Finch. This boy that started playing for Burk Burnett as a substitute at center when Howard Bentley was playing that position for the first string. Last year in a desperate position the coach transferred him to the quarterback job. That transfer has been one of the luckiest things that ever happened to the Burk Burnett football team. Since then Finch has improved rapidly, and now I would come mighty near ranking him as the most valuable player on the team.

Well Planned

Finch has been more than a good quarterback. His plays have been well planned. There is one thing that the average fan doesn't understand. When a play fails to gain, it is not because something failed to happen. That play may be the first in a series of well planned plays that will later end in a long ground gaining play. For instance a couple of incomplete passes may loosen the line up so that an off-tackle and spinner through center can work. Or a couple of plunges at the line may suck in the backs so that a short pass in the flat or a lateral can go to town. But planning that sort of thing takes heavy work under very difficult conditions. That is why I get nearly poetic as I think about Finch.

Blocking and Tackling

There isn't a man on the team that blocks better and tackles harder than Finch has during the last two games. He will make some coaches selecting all-district quarter-backs look at his name very seriously before the year is over.

In the Dark!—Woe is Me!

In an intense speech before a packed assembly at Archer City high school last week, the Archer City cats' superintendent and coach promise them a lighted field the day that they beat Burk Burnett. Archer City and Chillicothe have the only unlighted fields in the district. Now if the Cats at Archer City have to wait until they defeat the Burk Burnett Bulldogs, they will be in the dark for at least one more year—maybe several.

13 Extra Points

The Burk Burnett team seems determined to run up a record of extra points. Starting with the last touchdown in the Iowa Park game, the Bulldogs have run up a string of 13 extra points in a row. That isn't a record, but it's mighty good for a high school team. The record is 104 consecutive points by any one team. That sort of score doesn't mean so much in the run-away games that we have had during the last two or three weeks, but against Seymour or Crowell it might mean the difference between winning and losing.

Poetry

This scribe isn't often afflicted with the urge to write poetry, but every game he watches Tolly play, he has to suppress that desire to break forth in song. That boy is improving rapidly. Last Friday night he even ran over his own interference when it had loomed and got in his way.

Statistics

Passing: Burk Burnett completed 4 for 98 yards, 10 incomplete, one intercepted; Throckmorton completed 6 for 69 yards, 16 incomplete, 4 intercepted. Scrimmage, Burk Burnett 236 yards and Throckmorton 118 yards. Punts, Burk 236 yards in nine tries for a 29-yard average; Throckmorton 230 in 10 tries for 23 yards average. First downs, Burk, 13; Throckmorton 8. Burk's individual scrimmage gain: McKown 164, Teal 33, Finch 19 and Cook 17.

Chevrolet's Annual Press Party And New Car Preview

More than 300 newspapermen and magazine representatives had their first pre-announcement look at the new 1937 Chevrolet Oct. 12 at the General Motors proving grounds near Milford, Mich.

Special busses took them to the demonstration grounds from the Statin Hotel in downtown Detroit. There, they heard brief talks by C. P. Fiske, Chevrolet's advertising manager, and R. H. Crocker, executive vice president of the Campbell-Ewald company, before seeing the new car.

M. E. Coyle, president of Chevrolet, and W. E. Holler, general sales manager, addressed the men briefly, thanking them for their cooperation during 1936.

E. A. Nimnicht, director of retail sales for Chevrolet, explained the new features which cost the company $26,000,000 in manufacturing equipment to install in the 1937 line. Two automobile reporters acted as unofficial "watch dogs" in a novel demonstration of the improved power plant under the Chevrolet hood. Chris Sinsbaugh, of Automotive Daily News, and Bert Pierce, of the New York Herald Tribune, rode with two proving ground drivers to see that each kept his foot planted on the accelerator during the demonstration.

The 1937 car left a 1936 model in the middle of an 11.6 per cent grade as it pulled over the summit. Both had started from scratch in high gear at 15 miles an hour. Both were new cars.

The steering stability of Chevrolet's knee action models was demonstrated when a driver blew out his left front tire at 50 miles an hour, by means of dynamite caps, and brought his machine to a stop without wavering of weaving.

The newspaper men were given an opportunity to drive the new cars on proving ground tests before returning to Detroit for a banquet and entertainment in the evening.

A two-hour entertainment program was climaxed with a repeat performance of the musical and pictorial representation of Chevrolet's greatest year as shown to field sales executives in convention here last week.

The achievements of 1936 were emblazoned on banners unfurled along the walls as a group of musicians from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and nine pianists, played Ravel's Bolero.

Claude Rains Uses Mind Make-up Box

A Warner Bros. make-up artist was talking. He is an old timer and a bit blasé. He decided long ago that there was nothing new to be known about make-up.

But he was fooled by Claude Rains, playing in the production of "Anthony Adverse," which comes to the Palace theatre next Sunday and Monday.

"I've been in this business for 16 years," said the make-up man. "I've made up men and women of all types and ages, stars, bits and extras. This chap, Rains, is my first surprise.

"The first time I ever saw him, he sat down at a dressing table to prepare for the test of Don Luis, the old reprobate in 'Anthony Adverse.' He looked at himself for a moment and suddenly his face changed. As he turned toward me, I gasped.

"Without touching his face, he had aged 30 years.

"I looked carefully and saw lines where there had been none before. The edges of his mouth drooped as an old man's does, crow's feet appeared at the corners of his eyes.

"He saw my astonishment and smiled.

"Then he explained that an actor must first have a picture in his mind of the character he is to play. He said that if it is clear enough in his mind, he could project it on his face.

"It sounds all right, but I never saw any other actor who could do it.

"Making him up for the many changes in 'Anthony Adverse,' all I have to do is to emphasize for the camera the lines and expressions he creates for himself.

"Talk about a 'master of make-up,' why Rains actually makes up with his brain."

Big Rabbit Creek

Oct. 18, 1936.

The Death Angel again visited the Rabbit Creek neighborhood last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calop Farrington at about 2 p. m. and took away the beloved husband and father, Mr. Farrington. He was among the oldest pioneers of the Big Pasture and was loved by everyone who knew him. He made a fine neighbor and was a man that attended to his own business and expected his fellow-men to do likewise. Calup Scott Farrington was born Jan. 1st 1872 at Raleigh, N. C. He was converted and joined the Baptist church at the age of 16, and remained a faithful Christian until his death on October 17, 1936. He was 64 years and nine months and 16 days old. He was married to Miss Norah McWhorter, May 7, 1892. He is survived by three sons, Grady of Portland, Oregon; Carl of Texico, N. M. and Virgil of Burk Burnett; 10 grandchildren, one great-grand child, two brothers, and three sisters. Rev. Hays, the Baptist minister of Burk Burnett, officiated, delivering one of the finest sermons that has been delivered in the Baptist church for many years. He is one of the most able speakers in our Good Book. A large congregation assembled, and Oklahoma was well represented by friends of the deceased. The Thomas Funeral home conducted the funeral.

The many fine wreaths that were placed around the casket were just beautiful. Mr. Farrington was laid to rest in the Burk Burnett cemetery, one of the prettiest cities of the dead in North-west Texas. His host of friends join the writer in sending to the bereaved family in the great loss of the devoted husband and father, their great sympathy. It is the writer's wish that God will be in their homes to comfort and console them in this time of need.

We loved you, yes we loved you, But Jesus loved you more. And he has taken you To yonder Shining Shore. The golden gates were opened, A Gentle Voice said, "Come!" And with farewells unspoken, You quietly entered Home.

Rubber Stamps—Star Office

The fine weather that has been prevailing for the past week has been fine for pulling cotton in our vicinity. About all of the farmers just about have their cotton gone over for the first time down here in the Red River and Rabbit Creek bottoms.

Mrs. Fred LaBarre and her son, Edward, called on the Owens family Sunday evening.

Hawkeye, his brother John, and W. H. Martin attended the funeral of Mr. Farrington, who suddenly dropped dead about 2:30 Saturday afternoon out in his barn lot. His funeral was preached at the First Baptist church in Burk Burnett Sunday evening.

Hawkeye has been informed that over at the deep oil well which is being drilled on the W. H. Warren farm, is down to a depth of 2400 feet at this writing.

All wheat, oats and barley that was sowed just after the big rains stopped falling, is up fine and is making good pastures.

Hawkeye and his brother John are pulling bales for a Mr. W. H. Martin, helping him get his cotton out up on his north place.

HAWKEYE

GUEST COLUMN

By Bob Burns

Dear Fred:

I ain't forgot the kind things you wrote about me in your column, back there in the days before I got here in Hollywood, setting in a big plush chair in a dressin' room between Miss Carole Lombard's and Bing Crosby's. Mr. Crosby is a good friend of mine nowadays, since he helped me make my first picture, "Rhythm on the Range."

That picture's what I'm writin' to you about. I understand it's coming to your Palace theatre and I thought I'd tip you off a little about how a radio man like me feels in his first big movie job. It ain't that I'm wantin' to push myself forward, you understand, but just that I thought you people back there on the Star would like to know.

I put on my slickest yellow shoes and put my bazooka in a brand new hide case when I went up to Paramount to start workin' on "Rhythm on the Range." I never saw such a place in all my life. They got big gates like a jail and a gateman who makes you prove who you really are before he lets you in. If it hadn't been for Bing, I don't think I'd ever have got in, but Bing showed him my bazooka and explained that I was going to be an important movie actor.

Honestly though, I don't feel quite right about that picture. They call it a Bing Crosby picture, but I got fifty-five minutes of talkin' and bazooka-playin' in it, and that don't leave much for Bing, when you count off what's used up by music and Miss Frances Farmer and the bull, and all the singin' and playin' and the comedy actors like my girl friend, (in the picture) Miss Martha Raye.

They wasn't a harsh word said when I made my bazooka. We was hoein' down a little, one night in Hayman's plumbin' shop the year I was 15. My brother Farrar had a trombone and I was makin' base notes with a broomstick that I covered with resin and rubbed across a table edge.

Then I picked up a couple of pieces of gas pipe and stuck one inside the other. Well, sir, it made beautiful music, I want to tell you. Frank Clark's Van Buren Queen City Silver Tone band was enthralled, you might say. Of course it didn't have the clear, clarion tones of my present bazooka. That had to come by a slow process of evolution and refinement. I finally put a whiskey funnel on the end, and now it makes the kind of music you'd expect from two gas pipes and a whiskey funnel.

Can anyone play the bazooka? No. When I was in France during the war I let General Pershing try it and he couldn't even raise a wheeze from it. It takes a lot of wind to play it but the boys in the army liked to hear me. One night I felt sorry for the poor Germans so I crawled out into no man's land and serenaded the two opposin' armies. That was the night of November 10, and the next day the Armistice was signed.

After the Armistice, I went all over France playin' the bazooka.

Once I played a concert for the King of Spain. He shook hands with me and there were tears in his eyes. "I never heard anything like it," the king told me. Then I let him try to play the bazooka, and he hadn't any more luck than General Pershing.

I ain't got time to write no more now, but you'll be hearin' me on your radio still, if a radio editor ever listens in on the radio. I would like you to come and look at my picture though, and see how handsome I look in all those Wild West clothes. They hardly got me broke in for city clothes before they put me back in this get-up.

Look for me in the "Big Broadcast of 1937," too, because I'm hopin' to be in that one. And don't go criticizin' my first picture, or sayin' I ain't funny. And tell all the folks in Burk to keep listenin' in on the radio and keep comin' to my pictures, if they want to keep up with Van Buren.

Your Friend,
Bob Burns.

'My Man Godfrey' At Palace Tues.

"Have the following on the set tomorrow morning, nine o'clock: one nanny goat with kid, 10,000 tin cans, one police call box, one horse radish mill, one 1880 bustle, one cuckoo clock and one 'forgotten man'—(Signed) Gregory La Cava."

These are just a few of the conglomerated properties that the prop man had to supply for Universal's "My Man Godfrey," that opens at the Palace theatre for next Tuesday and Wednesday, and starring William Powell and Carole Lombard.

The above mentioned oddments and remainders are needed for the Scavenger Hunt in the picture which begins at the palatial Waldorf hotel and sweeps out to the city dump and back again.

Of tremendous contrast are these two settings that mark the opening sequences of the production. The hotel ball room, where one of the film's most humorous and exciting episodes takes place, has composite walls which look like marble, but absorb sound. Echoes are thus prevented, since they would jumble the spoken lines. The sweeping beauty of the

The Sophomores are looking forward to their next class meeting, at which time they will select their class colors and class motto.

The Sophomores realize that they are a part of the student body as well as the Seniors, Juniors and Freshmen, and they hope their membership will be one hundred percent in the various school activities.

Announcement

Among the new arrivals in the library is a large picture of Sam Houston. It is beautifully framed and hangs over one of the dictionaries.

Acknowledgement

We are very grateful to D. R. Peevey for the pamphlet material and for the book which he has contributed to the library for the use of the student body. The two pamphlets are government publications. One is called "Outstanding Events in United States Naval History" and the other is "Science Serving Agriculture." The book is "A World Divided is a World Lost," written by Hendrik Willem Van Loon and illustrated by the author's own drawings.

Dramatic Club

The High School Dramatic club is being organized this week under the sponsorship of Miss Margaret Tanner. Meetings will be held twice a week, although it has not been decided on what days to meet. A group of students interested in the club met Monday and others who care about being in such an organization should see Miss Tanner some time this week. The first play to be presented by the Dramatic club will be given in Assembly, October 29. The name of the play is "Love is Like That." It is the story of a girl who loves a young poet. Her mother is determined for her to marry a wealthy man, but the girl, Daphne, is an equally determined not to. Daphne's grandmother takes her side, and together they triumph over the self-centered mother. The part of the grandmother is taken by Pauline Browning, the mother's part by Dorothy Hagard, and the role of the young girl by Barbara Crissey.

Volley Ball

The volley ball team started practicing September 21. There were about 25 girls out for the team this fall. The team shows improvement and is expecting to win the district this season.

They have the material and a coach that will really put over a big team in Wichita county. The team has six letterer players back from last year, they are: Marjorie Bowden, Mildred Milford, Norma Jane Pace, Juanita Guthrie, Doris Bowden, Mary Lou Clements Della Ashman, Juanita Shuffler, Bonnie Dell Smith, Rosa Mae Gobble, Wilma Fuls, Dixie Dillingham, Mary Ruth Cooper, Pauline Rankin, Marcella Foster, Melba Wheelus, Margaret McKown, Marcella Logan, Lillian Rained, Mary Lou Hathan, Marion Sophor, Gwendolyn Stevens, and Helen Faye Bennett.

There will be a Good Will Tournament held in Mankins, Texas, November 20 and 21. The tournament will have the same rules as are used for conference games.

After the grades have been checked, we will then elect a captain. The team will be selected from the following girls: Marjorie Bowden, Mildred Milford, Norma Jane Pace, Juanita Guthrie, Doris Bowden, Mary Lou Clements Della Ashman, Juanita Shuffler, Bonnie Dell Smith, Rosa Mae Gobble, Wilma Fuls, Dixie Dillingham, Mary Ruth Cooper, Pauline Rankin, Marcella Foster, Melba Wheelus, Margaret McKown, Marcella Logan, Lillian Rained, Mary Lou Hathan, Marion Sophor, Gwendolyn Stevens, and Helen Faye Bennett.

making serious threats on the goal line of the other side. It was a moment of tense excitement. All the spectators were standing and cheering their favorite team. Our side had the ball; it spun through the air in a beautiful forward pass. One of our players got into position to receive it and two couples slipped out of sight behind the Snuggle Buggy, a bedecorated car belonging to one of our students. The field lights filtered through the discolored glasses in the car and dimly lit the faces of the fugitives, two girls from our pep squad and two boys from the other town. They glanced anxiously in the direction from which they had come and talked in hurried and low tones. Just as they were completing their next move, your reporter nonchalantly appeared on the scene — And they lived happily ever after.

Junior Jottings

Melba Clark, the class treasurer reports a satisfactory profit from the Throckmorton ticket sales.

The Seniors were sweet to yell for us in Friday's assembly. They like us a lot anyway. However, it might be just a lot of nice tolerance on their part because they are so dignified, and they go so far as to tell us that we are not taking things as seriously as we should.

History lesson: LaNelle and Fred Brown used to be 'that way' about each other.

Kathryn and Richard seem to enjoy each other more than the football games on Friday nights. Chilluns, this romance will bear watching — Barbara Crissey is to visit the Centennial this week-end — All those desiring to join the Pacific Socialist Union see Mr. Farrar, James Walling or Mary Emma Hodges within two weeks.

Life at it's worst: Being at a football game and not able to speak above a whisper.

Thumbnail descriptions: Mildred Kemp—the prettiest baloon you ever saw. Richard McClen-don—the original problem child ten years later. Melba Clark—some one must have spilled vinegar in the fudge. June Gore—the nice little mouse that bit. Barbara Crissey—tamales that same one soaked in honey.

Notes on the Dear, Dead Past: (third grade) Pauline Browning and Emmitt Sairus have a very nice way of saying things to each other. Billy Walker and Vivienne Johnson are seem together too much to escape the notice of the snoop. Kathryn Houser has just returned from St. Louis, where her father was in flying school. Vivienne Johnson and Jenny Robinson seem to have a corner on the good grades. Rike Peevey has lots of fun pulling Mary Emma's long curls. This year for the first time we have geography and arithmetic books. Miss Wetzel, our teacher, has started a contest in arithmetic. We will celebrate Hallowe'en by wearing our costumes to school and telling ghost stories.

Ordette Cope was born in 1920 at Texarkana, Arkansas. She went to school at Fairview until she was in the fifth grade, but please don't hold that against her. She was her mother's oldest girl. She is the captain of the best side in the Senior class contest even though it did lose. She likes to eat and her favorite food is chocolate cake. Ordette has brown eyes and brown hair, and is five feet, six inches tall. She owes her success to constant studying. Her best friend is Dorothy Hagard, her hobby is singing. She likes to go to school because she thinks it is fun, and she expects to go to college after she finishes high school.

BILLY BRYANT ASHLOCK

Billy was born in Altus, Oklahoma, 17 years ago, this month, somewhere around Hallowe'en. He got a Senior ring last week, as you probably have seen and is very proud of it. Billy is another bathtub singer and his favorite song is as follows: "I love me, do you love me? If you don't why don't you? etc." He sang it for us at the party and it was very good. He has beautiful dark eyes, brown hair, and is about five feet and six inches tall. His favorite teacher was Mr. Reaves, but since he has left us, Billy can't decide just who his favorite teacher is. His favorite pal is Tommy Harms, and the two together remind us of two pals we have read about. Could it be Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry?

When Billy finishes school, if he ever finishes, he plans to go to Junior College at Wichita Falls then to Baylor, then try to serve an internship in some good hospital.

Poetry Corner

This week we have the product of Connie Marie Morgan, who used to go to school here, but lives now in Graham, Okla.

Geometry

One proposition
An exercise too.
This geometry is the hardest work I will ever have to do.

First comes the "given"
Then the figures and 'to prove'.
But the hardest of them all
Is the last thing I have to do.

Hunt, hunt, hunt.
Trying to find something
To prove it congruent.

But the height of all my joys
Is — O glory be!
As I write it down I sing it out,
That good old Q.E.D.

Personal Mention

Miss Alice Morgan visited her sister, Mrs. R. L. Perry, at Lehigh, Okla., this week-end. Most of you would remember Mrs. Perry as Miss Nanny Lou Morgan.

Mr. M. P. Kimbrew visited in Vernon, he said it was business, was it the girls back home?

Miss Kathryn Wynn visited in Denton, Dallas and Ft. Worth. How is Sally Rand, Miss Wynn?

Miss Helen January visited her parents in Denton, and also went to see the Casa Manana. Sally Rand had lots of company from Burk this week-end.

Mr. John Farrar went to Denton on business. What! no Casa Manana?

Miss Grace Preston was ill over the week-end, but is now able to come to school. Too much football game, Gracie.

Dr. Crutsinger Speaks

At the beginning of the assembly the Juniors gave a yell for themselves; this manner of patting yourself on the back was not followed by the rest of the classes in the auditorium, which considerably embarrassed them; they were also susceptible to a reprimand by the Junior sponsor, Miss Billingslea.

The assembly was then led in songs by Miss Wynn, and accompanied by Miss Gideon on the piano. They sang three songs: There's a Long, Long Trail A'Winding, "My Wild Irish Rose," and "Down by the Old Mill Stream." These songs were greatly enjoyed by the entire group, and it must have been good, because Mr. Westerfield said he might call on a quartet to sing. However, the student body could not hear Mr. Westerfield, even though he was singing. Perhaps he did not want to 'make a fool of himself.'

Mr. Westerfield then called on Rev. L. G. Hagard who gave the devotional, he took his scripture from Peter II. We are always glad to have Rev. Hagard because of his interesting talks and his jovial nature.

Mr. Westerfield then introduced the speaker, Dr. Crutsinger, Dean of Hardin Junior College, Wichita Falls, Texas. He spoke on "What Comes After High School," which was a very impressive speech. He held the attention of the student body by his witty sayings. They are always glad to have a good speaker like Mr. Crutsinger. He clearly defined the ease with which we get an education.

You Know 'Em — Or Do You?

Tollie McKown — Captain
Age 17 years, third year on the team; weight 150 pounds. Tolly has a chance to make all-district this fall. He is a nice, clean athlete - he trains faithfully and loves this game and what's more would like to love all the girls (any of them.) Also our favorite mud-slinger.

John Blair — Captain
Age 17 years; second year on team; weight 126 pounds. He has improved in his defense play in the last week and shows he is one of the smartest ends in the district. John's outstanding quality is his love for his kin folks—(cousins preferred.)

Avis Finch — Quarterback
Age 17 years; third and last year on the team; weight 127 pounds. Avis is the "social standard-keeper upper" of that very great organization known as the Bulldogs. (Could as we stood it?)

Carl Cook
Age 17 years; second year on team; weight 155 pounds. He is the power horse of the backfield is his defensive work improves at tackle, he has a nice chance at the all-district berth. Our California friend loves pep rallies and orange juice (from the sunny state) and has to have both to play football.

Marshall Teal
Age 17 years; second year on team; weight 128 pounds. Teal is one of the best open field blockers ever to play for the Burkburnett Bulldogs—He can carry the "mail" nicely. His quality is that he is as wise as old King Solomon.

Harry Elliot
"Fuzzy" is 16 years old, weighs 150 pounds, and is playing his second year. He is the greatest improved player and says he doesn't want to hurt them because "they ain't done nothing to him."

Pappy Whitton
Age 16 years; weighs 140 lbs. and this is his second year. He is one of the smartest defensive players on the team, is a great fellow and commonly known as "Coach's Baby."

Dorace 'Pretty Boy' Hageman
16 years of age; weighs 127 lbs., and this year is his first. Dorace looks as if he is going to be the best first-year center ever to play for the Bulldogs. He is a smart boy and wants the girls to know it. Gets like Maney at times.

Tom Spray
Age 17 years, weighs 122, and this is his first year. He used to be our rough and tough player but he's getting soft. He needs to improve and to take a little more pride in that blocking. He is known as —

Richard Johnson
Age 16, and weight 152. He is a good first year player and could be one of the best line blockers in the district. Richard lacks confidence and drive. When he gets those, he will be on "the top"

Woodrow "Monk" Montgomery
He is 17 years old, weighs 150, and this is his first year to try football. He's a swell blocker and a good defensive player, but he does not reason. (think to you) He loves the girls and leaves the game!

Ocie 'Big Blue Eyes' Reed
(also our hero)
He is 18 years old and weighs 138, and this is his first and last year. He could be the greatest back in the district. He is rather weak on blocking and defense, but no one carries the pigskin longer or farther. He's a ladies' man at heart but oh! so bashful (uh-huh!!) How you doin, heed?

Joy to the 'Seniors'

Last week the Senior rings arrived and the Seniors went wild. Mr. Taylor, who brought the rings just couldn't put them out fast enough for the Seniors as they held out their hands with those itching palms, hungry for those beautiful rings trimmed in green gold.

With each ring ordered last June a belt buckle was given to the boys and a scrap book was given to the girls.

The rings are about 5-8 in. long and about 1-2 in. wide with a small bulldog in the space at the top and Burkburnett written in the form of an arch and H.S. under Burkburnett in the arch. This is engraved in the ring, so that after many years of wear the writing will still be visible as it now is.

Everybody is very proud of his ring. All the Senior boys can have a break now since all the girls will be wanting to wear their rings. Boys, Beware!

Freshman Flashes

James Walling

Time: Friday at 12:45 p. m.
Characters: James Thomas and Mr. Williamson.

James T.: "Mr. Williamson, what three birds represent America?"

Mr. W.: "Let me think."

James T.: "Don't you know?"

Mr. W.: "Is it Richard Byrd?"

James T.: "No. The three birds that represent America are the Eagle, the turkey and the stool pigeon."

We wonder who that handsome (?) boy was that Mary Margaret had beside her at the football game Thursday evening.

We wonder where Mr. Williamson picked up that rose he had in his shirt pocket Friday. Your reporter thinks it was a "prize offering" from Howard Clement.

Did you see the look on Mr. Farar's face as he gazed into the certain dark eyes of a Miss —? We wonder if it was love or the moonlight?

You See All, Hear All

What Do I Know?

We saw Coach Robinson in the Superintendent's office asking for a raise. Say's he needs (and deserves) more money. But Mr. Westerfield wasn't there. Must be rehearsing — Miss Wynn - ditto.

Also we saw three of coaches little football boys cruising around Sunday afternoon with three of the local beauties. Apparently, two of them (the boys of course) couldn't take it for they went home. But the other one—Can he take it! (?) Being a blonde — yeah.

"Model Football Player's Lament"
To flirt is very wrong;
I don't.
Wild youths chase women, wine and song;
I don't.
I kiss no girls, not even one;
I don't know even how it's done.
You wouldn't think I have much fun.
I don't.

Afterthought— I do get to eat spinach and drink cod-liver oil, so that makes it all O.K.—if you like cod-liver oil and spinach.

One last "Knock-Knock!"
Knock-Knock!
Who's there?
Hewitt!
Hewitt who?
Hewitt all the beans?
(I'll admit it could have been worse.)

One 'elgent' football game last Friday wasn't it? We got cross-eyed watching Tolly wiggle all through and around the Greyhound lines. Avis played a swell game too. Not being "Little Lord Fauntleroy's," the Greyhounds did not wear velvet suits, but they just couldn't chase down the Bulldogs, the local gladiators (remember?).

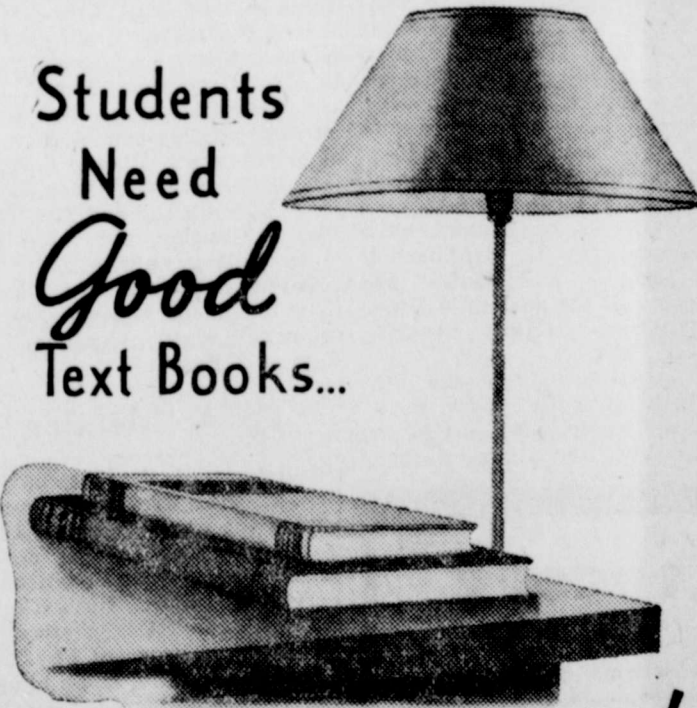

We don't think there is enough said about the boys who sit on the bench. What do you think?

"Monk" Montgomery is our idea of nothing going nowhere, not to happen.

People must be interested in good grades. Only yesterday Carl Cook said that he was giving a pig to the boy in Vocational Agriculture who made the best six weeks grades.

The Everett school district will furnish the school bus for the use of the Agriculture boys this year. They are happy to have this bus for their field trips.

Students Need
Good
Text Books...

and GOOD LIGHTING!

Good textbooks are of little value to a student unless conditions are favorable for studying. This means a room where the student is free from interruptions and where he has a GOOD LIGHT.

With school starting again, you owe it to your children to provide the right kind of light to make studying easier. The new I. E. S. Better Sight Lamps are scientifically designed to give a soft, glareless light which safeguards young eyes. These lamps are on display at our store and at your electric dealer's.
