BRYAN SAYS MATERIAL CHANGE MADE AFTER HE DECIDED TO RESIGN

THE TENSION SLACKENED

More Optimistic Feeling at Washington That Germany Will Avoid a Breach

By Associated Press. Washington, June 12.—Official announcement of the delivery of the American note to the German government, reiterating insistence that submarine warfare conform to the lines of humanity and international law was received today from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin. The message came at the close of a day marked by more optimistic feeling in official quarters that the German answer would forestall any possibility of war between the nations and also avoid a breach of diplomatic relations.

Apparently there was a general relaxation of tension in the international situation. No answer to the American rejoinder is expected for ten days at least and there is a conviction here that the Berlin authorities will await the arrival there of Meyer Gerhard official representative of Ambassador Bernstorff, before the answer is framed.

Bryan Says Note Changed. Former Secretary of State Bryan who resigned his portfolio rather than sign the second note to Germany, issued another statement late today declaring that the note was materially revised following his resignation. The revision, Mr. Bryan asserted, amended the note, but was not sufficient to justify him in withdrawing his resignation.

"As Germany has suggested arbitration I felt that we could not do less than reply to this offer by professing a willingness to apply the principles of the peace treaties," he said. "Mr. Bryan refused to discuss the change in the note, as did also Secretary of State Lansing. Not inconsistent.

In his statement tonight Mr. Bryan replied to published charges of inconsistency because he signed the first note following the Lusitania incident and refused to sign the second.

"The note," he said, "must be considered in connection with the conditions under which they were sent. The first note presented the case of this government upon such evidence as we then had. It was like the plaintiff's statement in a case, his claim being based upon the facts as he represents them. I did not agree entirely with the language of the first note but the differences were not so material as to justify a refusal to sign it. Then, too, I was at that time hoping that certain things would be done which would make it easier for Germany to acquiesce in our demands. No one will be happier than I if the president's plan results in a peaceful settlement but no one was in a position to say what effect our note would have on Germany, or what would happen if she in anger broke off diplomatic relations and I was unwilling to assume the responsibility for the risk incurred—risks which no one could with any degree of accuracy measure—but that, having done all I could in the cabinet, it was my duty to undertake, outside the cabinet, the duty upon which I have entered. I have no doubt that the country will unanimously support the president, if so great a misfortune should overtake us, but I believe the chances of war will be lessened in proportion as the country expresses itself in favor of peace—not peace at any price—but peace in preference to a war waged for the redress of such grievances as we have against Germany—at least against war until we have given to Germany the opportunity which we are pledged to give Great Britain, France and Russia—to have every difference of every character submitted to an international tribunal.

The former secretary with Mrs. Bryan left tonight for Old Point Comfort to remain until Tuesday. Upon his return, Mr. Bryan expects to announce his plan for the immediate future.

INJUNCTION IS MADE PERMANENT BY JUDGE

Judge Calhoun Announces Decision on Famous Salad and Punch Items

Special to The Times. Austin, June 12.—Judge Calhoun of the 53rd district court this evening rendered his decision in the so-called "chicken salad and punch" injunction suit. The court perpetuated the temporary injunction granted on Feb. 12 as to the chicken salad and punch items which amounts to $250 enjoining the compiler from paying these items incurred at the governor's mansion under the Colquitt administration, but dissolved the injunction as to other items.

CROWDS GROWING AT TENT TABERNACLE

FRIDAY NIGHT REV. FRIAR DEALT SEVERELY WITH WORLDLINESS MEMBERS

OLD MAN BOOZE TONIGHT

Special Men's Service at 4 p. m. and "Booze" Sermon at Tonight's Service

Tonight at the tent tabernacle Rev. Friar will deliver one of his famous sermons on "Old Man Booze" and it is expected that the big tent will be filled. Provision will be made to seat part of the crowd outside the tent.

A special men's service will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. At 4:30 p. m. a great junior choir service is planned. All children above the age of ten are urged to be present.

Friday Night's Sermon. Dr. Friar in his sermon of Friday evening at the tent, corner of Eighth and Lamar, struck a telling blow at worldliness in the lives of church members. Quoting from Romans 12:2, he gave his text as, "I beseech you therefore brethren by the mercies of God that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

Dr. Friar characterized the religion of a class of so-called Christians as "a semi-annual spell." These spells would never convince the world that there was enough margin of difference between Christians and ungodly men to justify a change of life. Speaking of the ungodly man he said, "You have got to convince him and show him there's a difference between the life of a Christian and that of the world. In order to win this town for Jesus Christ you have to do away with this spasmodic kind of religion. God wants to guide the destinies of all and know that He is first in your life."

The speaker denounced in severe terms the man who once made a profession of religion and then went back on God. "The world is full of 'has-beens' or backsliders who once made a profession but drifted back into the world," he said. Dr. Friar's talk was filled with short, epigrammatic sayings which are quoted from at random as follows:

"Shabbath-keepers an open saloon outside the church than a drinking man on the inside. There is more danger from one traitor inside the ranks than a hundred enemies on the outside."

"Joshua admitted the Gibeonites spies and Israel was never aggressive afterwards."

"In order to live right you must swat the devil on every hand. Live a life of separation from the world; cut out the world and cut in Jesus Christ."

A severe criticism was made of the dress of some society women, Dr. Friar alluding to a class of women who advertise themselves by their dress, and making a comparison between the two.

Saturday Night's Sermon. Saturday night Rev. Friar took Sampson for his subject. He said that Sampson was a strong positive character who stood for the right; that he was a hated man and that his enemies conspired against him and they wanted to make him like other men.

"Do not get discouraged," he told his hearers, "because you are tempted." He cited the example of Sampson telling them that they must be different from the worldly ones.

ITALIAN FORCES ARE APPROACHING TRENTO

Their Forces Reported About To Occupy Points Within 15 Miles Of That City

By Associated Press. Verona, Italy, June 12, via Paris, June 12.—The Italian advance on Rovereto in Tyrol, fifteen miles southwest of Trento and Mori, eighteen miles southwest of Trento has pushed so close to both points that either they have already been taken or are about to be occupied, according to reports from the front.

GOV. FERGUSON INVESTIGATING CLAIMS CAREFULLY

Austin, Texas, June 12.—The miscellaneous appropriation bill which was to have been approved by Gov. Ferguson last Thursday is still pending until next week. It is said that the reason why the governor had not yet approved the bill is because he is making a close investigation of certain claims contained in the measure. The bill carries half a million dollars in claims.

ALLIED FORCES LOSE HEAVILY ON GALLIOLI PENINSULA

By Associated Press. Berlin, June 12.—A wireless received here today from Constantinople reports that the fighting at Avi Burnu on the Gallipoli peninsula during the night of June 11-12 cost the British and French forces more than 2,000 men killed. The losses of the Franco-British expedition last week were enormous.

PRESIDENTS NOTE WELL RECEIVED IN GERMANY---PAPERS THERE SEE NO CAUSE FOR BRYAN'S RESIGNATION

Leading Berlin Paper Sees No Threat to Break off Diplomatic Relations---Says Note Does Not Lack Warmth---Thinks Bryan's Move Was Political One

By Associated Press:

Berlin, June 12.—The Vossische Zeitung alone has published so far what purports to be a short summary of the latest American note. The newspaper comments on this communication in the following terms:

"The note happily contains nothing of that sharpness which, according to dispatches from London, it was to contain, nor is there even a threat to break off diplomatic relations. On the contrary the text does not lack a certain warmth and acknowledgement of the legality to be found on the German side. The line of thought and the tone of the note do not make it easily understandable that it brought about the break between President Wilson and Mr. Bryan. After the declaration made by Mr. Bryan, one expected a note which would increase the danger of a German-American crisis. Mr. Bryan who stands at the head of the American peace society and likes to hear the people call him the 'prince of peace' apparently desires to appear as the rescuer of the nation from this danger, for the sake of internal political reasons and to win for himself among the peace advocate, among the German-Americans, the Irish and the Hebrews, perhaps looking ahead to the next presidential election."

Austrians Receive Bryan's Resignation Coolly---Say Germany Wants Peace

By Associated Press:

Zurich, Switzerland, June 12.—The retirement of William Jennings Bryan has been taken very coolly in Austria, judging by the Austrian newspapers which have reached Zurich. They say that if President Wilson really desires peace, Germany certainly will do her best to aid him.

GEORGIA GOVERNOR NOW HEARING FRANK CASE

By Associated Press. Atlanta, Ga., June 12.—Argument for and against Leo M. Frank's application for commutation of his death sentence were made at a hearing before Governor Slater here today. Adjournment was taken until Monday to allow Solicitor General Torrey time to prepare a brief and to present his oral argument against the application. Frank's counsel also will be heard in reply. Joseph M. Brown, who was governor of Georgia when Frank was arrested for the murder of Mary Phagan was the principal speaker in opposition to clemency. He said:

"If your Excellency wishes to invoke lynch law—if you wish to weaken, if not destroy trial by jury in this State—you can do it by reversing the decision of all the courts in the case." William Howard in his opening argument for Frank said that the condemned man would rely on the record of the case to convince the governor of his innocence. Governor Slater put many questions to Mr. Howard. The governor said he wanted to ascertain the testimony of James Conley, a negro, one of the state's principal witnesses, harmonized with that of other witnesses of the state and defense.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL IN YANTIS CASE OVERRULED

A motion for a new trial in the case of G. R. Yantis vs. the Fort Worth & Denver for damages, in which a verdict was returned several weeks ago in the 75th district court for $20,000 was overruled yesterday by Judge Nicholson. J. H. Barwise Jr., of Fort Worth, general attorney for the Denver, presented the motion, setting up a number of grounds for retrying the case. Notice of appeal was given when Judge Nicholson overruled the motion for a new trial and the case will be carried to the higher courts.

NOT SINGLE ITEM WAS VETOED BY GOVERNOR

However, In Signing Bills Appropriating Nearly $5,000,000 Governor Asks Economy

Special to The Times. Austin, June 12.—While Gov. Ferguson signed the educational appropriation bill carrying upwards of $5,000,000 for the support of the University, A. & M. College and other educational institutions of higher learning for the next two fiscal years, without vetoing a single item, it was with the distinct understanding that the greatest economy should be practiced in the expenditures. In this connection the governor has decided to address a communication to the boards of regents of the University and A. & M. College and the central board of managers of the State normal asking them to co-operate with the executive in using their best endeavors to curtail expenses of these institutions as much as possible. This action does not necessarily signify that these appropriations are not to be used but the governor wants the heads of these institutions to share with him the responsibility for a higher tax rate which it is now conceded will have to be made to meet all of these appropriations.

BRYAN'S ACT ASTONISHES THE PRESS OF ENGLAND

Italian Newspaper Compares Bryan's Attitude With That of Former Premier Giolitti

By Associated Press. London, June 12.—The afternoon papers of London take much the same view of Secretary Bryan's resignation as this morning's newspapers, expressing inability to understand Mr. Bryan's action. The chief theme of the Westminster Gazette is that the American people, usually unbridled for their commercialism, have astonished the world by their altruistic stand for humanity.

COMPARES BRYAN'S ATTITUDE WITH THAT OF GIOLITTI

By Associated Press. Milan, Italy, June 11, via Paris, June 12.—The Corriere della Sera compares the attitude of Secretary Bryan to that of former Premier Giolitti, leader of the party which sought to prevent war with Austria. It said Mr. Bryan's action probably will have the same effect in America that Signor Giolitti's intervention had in Italy and that it will strengthen public opinion in favor of President Wilson.

BRYAN WILL TAKE REST AT OLD POINT, COMFORT

Washington, June 12.—Mr. Bryan announced today that he will devote the next two weeks to resting. He intends to visit Old Point Comfort for the week end and on his return, he said, would have his plans for June matured. In a statement announcing his movements, Mr. Bryan emphasized that none of his predecessors had served more hours at his desk or a greater number of days in the year, and added that Mrs. Bryan was also in need of a rest.

CARRANZA VICTORY IS NOT CONFIRMED

OFFICIAL REPORTS AT WASHINGTON SAY VILLA WON ADVANTAGE AT LEON

CAPTURED MANY SUPPLIES

Dispatches Indicate That Both Armies Gathering Strength For Another Grapple

By Associated Press. Washington, June 12.—First official news from American sources of the battle at Leon in which both Villa and Carranza forces alternately have claimed victory, received here today. Carranza's report of Villa's rout and say his army is at Libarra with large quantities of captured supplies and that the Carranza forces are too weak to advance.

The dispatch confirms Villa's claim of victory at Silao and adds that in the latter battle he has taken in the former fight. He retired from Leon to Libarra, the dispatch says, because a flank movement of Carranza troops made Leon untenable for occupation. Previous reports have described the serious fighting there in which Gen. Obregon the Carranza commander lost an arm; probably 10,000 men were lost on both sides. Today's dispatches indicate that both armies are gathering strength for another grapple.

ITALIANS REPULSE AN ATTACK BY AUSTRIANS

Force Of 7000 Teutons Routed In What They Intended To Be Surprise Attack

By Associated Press. Udine, Italy, June 12.—Details have just reached Udine of the driving back by Italian troops of an Austrian expedition which attempted to surprise an Italian position near Mont Nero on the Isonzo river. In the Austrian force were 7,000 men divided into three columns and supported by twelve mountain guns on mule back which had been taken for the fortifications at Travis. The Austrians were surprised by Italian Daisaglieri and Alpine troops while advancing through narrow passes. They fought bravely but were thrown into great disorder and compelled to withdraw. Some of the mules with mountain guns on their backs, as well as a number of men fell over a precipice. The losses of the Austrians are said to have been great.

Italian forces which are advancing from Mont Falcone in the direction of Trieste have two immediate objectives; one is to occupy the sea coast on the Gulf of Anzanos and the other to command the good roads which come down from the mountains at Nabresina which is half way between Mont Falcone and Trieste.

GALLANT DEFENSE BY AN ITALIAN REGIMENT

By Associated Press. Udine, Italy, June 12.—The twelfth regiment of Bersaglieri who virtually fought for four days continuously the Austrians defending Tolmino had the heaviest losses of any Italian detachment on the Gulf of Anzanos. Col. De Rossi was twice wounded but he refused to be removed from the fighting line he saw that all his men were safe. The second officer in command, Col. Negrotto, was killed, having suffered many wounds. Col. De Rossi said he was proud of his regiment. Although outnumbered; he told the king his men had succeeded in repulsing the Austrians and none were taken prisoner.

When King Victor Emmanuel visited him at the hospital to confer a medal, Col. De Rossi said he was proud of his regiment. Although outnumbered; he told the king his men had succeeded in repulsing the Austrians and none were taken prisoner.

TRAFFIC INTERRUPTED AT RED RIVER BRIDGE

Five Beats Of Northwestern Bridge Swing Loose And Stop Passage Of Trains

Traffic between Wichita Falls and points north of Red River on the Wichita Falls & Northwestern has again been interrupted by the destruction of the bridge over Red River. Late yesterday afternoon it was discovered that five beats of the bridge were swinging loose so that it was impossible for trains to run over the bridge. The train due here at 8:15 last night from Woodward was marked indefinitely late. It is probable that some arrangement will be made this morning for the transfer of passengers until the bridge can be repaired. A pile driver and work train which have been at work east of here were reported on their way to the bridge last night.

RUSSIA CONTRACTS FOR 250 LOCOMOTIVES HERE

Philadelphia, June 12.—Alva Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, said today he had received a cable message from the Russian government awarding a $6,000,000 contract to the company for 250 locomotives to be completed by the end of the present year.

DIG BATTLE IN GALICIA

AUSTRO-GERMANS AND RUSSIANS ARE STRIVING FOR DNEISTER

FIGHTING ON BALTIC

German Claim to Have Taken 5,000 Prisoners in Fighting in That Section

By Associated Press. London, June 12.—Another great battle is being fought along the line of the Dneister River in Galicia in which the forces of Russia are pitted against those of Austria and Germany. Those German troops which crossed the Dneister and Zavaia have been driven back and the Russians in Eastern Galicia and Bukovina also having been forced to withdraw to the river, the two armies now face one another across the wide and crooked stream, each army trusting in an effort to gain the initiative for an offensive.

The Austrians in their official report claim to have succeeded in crossing the river to the east of Harod-enka, a movement which in the view of their recent experience near Zarnawa might prove dangerous to the Austro-Germans, however, still have Lemberg as the objective and they are not likely to allow any reverse they have suffered near Zarnawa and east of Przemysl to put off, so that fighting as severe as any witnessed in recent weeks may be expected in the next few days.

Heavy fighting also continues in the Baltic provinces and on the East Prussian frontier in which both sides claim advantages. With the view of preventing the Russian from sending reinforcements to the rear of their wings the Germans yesterday delivered an attack along the Rawka river between Bolimow and Zochaczew, the scene of important battles last winter when the Germans tried to reach Warsaw by the direct route from the west. In yesterday's attack the Germans claim to have broken into the Russian position and to have taken 5,000 prisoners.

At various points between Rhelms and north of Arras the French continue their attack which they report to have been successful in driving the Germans on the other hand invariably state have been repulsed, although no big forward movement has been made. The fighting is almost continuous in Champagne and in the Woerwe. The British and Belgians, although they are not doing much attacking, are playing an important role in these operations, for to them comes the task of holding German forces on their front by threatening an offensive and thus preventing the Germans sending relief to those troops which the French are assailing.

The Italians have scored another success on the Isonzo by the capture of Gradisca and it is reported they are carrying out a strong offensive as far as Polimino, which they are endeavoring to outflank.

Unofficial reports state the allies are making steady progress on the Gallipoli front. The official information is lacking. Today's report of German submarine activities shows one steamer and three trawlers were sunk. Since Saturday last German submarines have sunk 54 vessels of which 34 were neutral. The other comprise two French, two Belgian, three Russian and forty British. Of the British vessels 32 were fishing craft. In addition two fishing-smacks were attacked by a Zepelin.

German opinion was reflected in the German newspapers by expressions from unofficial sources appears to have been favorably impressed with the latest American note, which it is believed in Berlin opened the way for further negotiations regarding the Lusitania and German submarine warfare generally.

JUNE TERM 30TH DISTRICT COURT BEGINS MONDAY

Large Number Civil Cases Docketed—Many Charged With Crime Await Grand Jury

Tomorrow the June term of the 30th district court will begin, with a large number of defendants in jail and out on bond awaiting the attention of the grand jury, and with a large civil docket. The grand jury will convene tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

It is expected that the first few weeks of the term will be given over as much as possible to non-jury cases as the harvest season is now in full blast and makes it inconvenient for farmers to serve on the juries.

It appeared for a time that there would be no murder cases for this grand jury, but less than a week before it was possible to non-jury cases and killed his wife here and he has been bound over on a murder charge. The grand jury consists of W. C. Myers, E. A. Dale, W. H. Gwinn, John Pice, George Reeves, J. C. Raalston, Lee Cooper, L. H. Lawler, J. O. Wheat, Sid Smith, J. L. Lee Jr., C. W. Charming Porto Rico

COLON PLAZA, SAN JUAN

IF THE patriotic American, who wears the rigors of his home climate in winter wishes to seek solace farther south, it is not necessary for him to abandon the protection of his own flag. Let him pick out Porto Rico for his holiday, and he will simply be transporting himself from one section of the republic to another. Four and one-half days' sail from New York will land him at the quaint old capital city of San Juan, girdled with ancient walls, and boasting a combination of Spanish-tropical and modern American civilization of surpassing interest.

Porto Rico has been called "square as a brick," and this is literally so. It is a parallelogram in shape, 100 miles long and 36 miles broad, and on its 3,600 square miles it supports a population of 1,000,000 souls, 600,000 of them whites of Spanish extraction, 400,000 negroes, and the remainder colored people. It is one of the most densely populated islands of the West Indies, and under American rule it has progressed noticeably, both commercially and socially.

To the traveler its chief attractions, of course, are its picturesque scenery, old world customs, and luxuriant tropical vegetation. From far out at sea the voyaging American sights the towering mass of El Yunque, or "The Avila," the crowning pinnacle of the rounded range of hills forming the island's backbone, which soars 3,600 feet above the sea. Then presently one perceives the bulk of old Morro—every fortified Spanish town in the Caribbees had its Morro, as one soon discovers—with the multi-colored house roofs of the city sheltering up behind it, tier on tier, and stretching away along the seaward face the craggy wall built by Spanish Conquistadors, which connects with the fortress of San Cristobal.

City of Enchantment.
San Juan is a city of infinite enchantment. Here one finds bewildering, but delectable, labyrinths of narrow, oakenlike streets, over which jut old world balconies, latticed and mysterious, through which jangle up-to-date American trolley cars, shouting aside the bullock carts of the natives. There is the great gray pile of the cathedral, which contains the ashes of Ponce de Leon, "first Adelantado of Florida, first Conquistador, and governor of this island of Juan," and many another famous den. There is the famous Casa Blanca, or Castle of Ponce de Leon, which he built for himself, hundreds of years ago, on a point projecting out into the ocean, still complete and every bit as medieval as when he left to venture on his last quest for the "Fountain of Youth." There is the vast mass of the Cuartel de la Ballaja, the barracks erected for the Spanish garrison, a ponderous pile of masonry, three stories in height, covering, with its patio, a space of 77,000 square meters, and now housing the Porto Rican regiment of our army.

It is hopeless to try to enumerate the out-of-the-way attractions of San Juan, a city which is utterly unlike anything the stay-at-home American has ever seen. It is Europe—and yet it possesses an abundance of charms that European cities lack. It is Spanish, Moorish, tropical, and, above all, Caribbean. Just fancy a city, for instance, which is inclosed by walls, and to enter which you must pass through massive gateways—and an American city at that. But there is a modern side of San Juan, a very modern side. It has all the facilities of business and comfort for which Americans are used. Here are fine banks, office buildings, hotels, restaurants and clubs. And after one has seen San Juan there is the rest of Porto Rico to discover, every mile of it containing fascinating memories, new and absorbing.

Forty Rivers in the Island.
All travelers, as a matter of course, follow the route of the splendid Military road, most conspicuous monument left by the Spaniards, a highway 84 miles in length over the central mountain range from San Juan on the northern coast to Ponce on the southern coast. A line of motor vehicles traverses this highway. The only railroad on the island makes two-thirds of its circuit, and some day will be completed so as to link all of the principal towns, which are situated on the coast. The fare for the motor ride is eight dollars, and it gives a first-rate opportunity of seeing the inland vegetation of Porto Rico.

There are forty rivers in Porto Rico, not counting smaller streams, and its well-watered soil is tremendously prolific. On every hand one sees sugar plantations, tobacco fields and coffee growing on a wholesale scale. Indeed, there is very little unoccupied land on the island. Even the poor people cling to their holdings, realizing the wealth and the benefits constantly accruing to them in the way of increased production from the educational efforts of the agriculture station at Mayaguez.

The United States government, however, has set aside 65,000 acres in the rugged mountainous region of the eastern section as a forest preserve. This tropical wilderness is densely clothed with verdure, bits of it having never been explored, it is said, and embraces in its extent the cloud-tipped cone of El Yunque, previously alluded to. Ascents of this mountain are more difficult, than might be supposed, owing to the virgin condition of its forests, but they are well worth while, especially if the day be clear. Upon such occasions one may view the entire island, and glimpse the neighboring islands of Culebra and Vieques. Another point of interest, famed for its magnificent view, is the Alibonito pass, the summit of mountains crossed by the Military road. One pauses here for a few moments to view through the narrow gap the Caribbean on one hand and the Atlantic on the other.

READY WITH AN EXPLANATION
Guide a Little Short on Ancient History, but Proved a Hard Man to Corner.
The unframed guide at an English provincial art gallery deeply impressed a party of excursionists by the ease with which he recited off the names of the bronze and marble busts.

This is Dante, and this is Lycurgus, and that one in the corner is Caligula," he explained. "The marble bust with the shaggy beard is Virgil."
"Pardon me," an elderly bystander interrupted, "but you are giving our friends from the country misleading information. The gentleman with the beard is not Virgil, but Homer. This other one is Virgil."

The guide recognized that his reputation was at stake, and turned on the daring bystander.
"See here, Mr. Clever, you think you know it all, but you've backed the wrong horse this time," he retorted. "I was here when the busts was made, and the sculptor—a clever man, but rather fond of his glass—got drunk one day, and chiseled 'Omer's whiskers on poor old Virgil's chin!'"
Then the bystanders gasped, and the guide went up with a bound in the general estimation.

Battle of Blenheim.
The Nibel river where it falls into the Danube is divided into several branches, with marshy ground between, and the French at the battle of Blenheim made it their left flank. The attack on the village had failed and Marlborough risked the crossing of this marshy stream, although the withering fire of the French artillery and the assaults mowed down his men like corn. But he not only succeeded in getting his own infantry and cavalry across, but routed the enemy when he had done so. It is recorded that the river literally ran blood.

Autos and Schools.
One farmer with a cheap automobile has more invested in that one piece of mechanism than the average rural community as a whole has in its school plant; and the owner of the auto frequently spends as much on the upkeep of his one car as the community spends for the total maintenance of the school, including the teacher's salary.—Exchange.

TETLEY'S TEA

THE IDEAL SUMMER BEVERAGE

WHEN ICED MAKES A MOST DELICIOUS, REFRESHING AND INVIGORATING DRINK FOR THE HOT WEATHER

DIRECTIONS:—In preparing iced tea, the tea is brewed the same as if it were to be served hot. Now, if it is desired to prepare iced tea for prompt use, the liquor should be poured direct from the tea pot into a tumbler of cracked ice. If, however, it is desired to prepare a quantity for use some hours later, the liquor should be poured off the leaves promptly and allowed to cool slowly. After it gets down to a moderate temperature, it should then be stored in a crock or other vessel, in a refrigerator. When it is desired to serve, the liquor can then be poured into a tumbler of cracked ice. Iced tea should, of course, be served with both lemon and sugar.

THE ESSENTIAL "E"

By WALTER JOSEPH DELANEY.

(Copyright, 1915, by W. G. Chapman.)

"I shall marry Laura Thurston just the same, uncle."

"Then take your chances!" cried William Ashe wrathfully. "I cannot hinder you, but I need not help you, and I won't! The father of that girl baffled me in a big deal. I've hated the family since."

"If you saw Laura you would cease to hate her, at least," declared Bartley Moore softly.

"You've got my ultimatum; young man—I shall disown you."

"If that means that you won't assist me financially or leave me a fortune and that," spoke Bartley bluntly, "I shan't complain. If it means the withdrawal of your clear advice and your friendship, then, uncle, I shall grieve."

But William Ashe shook his head like a rampant lion and departed. After that, whenever he came to Linden he passed by the neat little nest his nephew had built for Laura and himself with a fierce scowl on his face. He usually went on to the hotel where another nephew, Guy Wadham, put up in good style. Guy pretended to be a real estate broker. In reality he was dependent upon his uncle and his principal occupation was waiting for "that benevolent old relative to turn up his toes."

Regularly twice a year, namely, the first of May and the first of November, on his way to a stock farm further west which he owned, Mr. Ashe stopped over at Linden and stayed about two weeks. Hitherto he had been the guest of Bartley for one week and of Guy for the other. He always entered into their business plans, left each a goodly cash present and the event, at least to Bartley, was looked forward to as a very pleasant occasion.

Laura looked serious and sad when the first of May, just after their marriage, Bartley saw his uncle pass by his little home in an automobile without even looking at him. Stiff and prim the old man sat up in the rear seat of the machine, his stern angry eyes fixed persistently straight ahead of him. Bartley sighed. He had heard of the ill-timed boasts of Guy that "he had got on the soft side of the old money maker," and Bartley knew that Guy, with his covert sneers to graceless companions concerning his benefactor and his general dissolute career, made him unworthy of the favors Mr. Ashe bestowed upon him.

Now the second visit of Mr. Ashe was anticipated along the last days of October. Always when the time came around Laura looked sad and worried.

"It makes me feel as though I had been a hindrance to your prospects, Bartley," she said.

"What! with all this happiness and prosperity surrounding us?" challenged Bartley, proud of wife, garden and his modest salary as an architectural draftsman. "Why, my dear, the world is ours!"

At that same moment Guy Wadham was seated in his room at the town hotel. He looked bear-eyed and anxious as he bent over a heap of documents and account books. Guy was recovering from one of his periodic drinking bouts. A letter from his uncle had checked him up short. Mr. Ashe had written from a place called Beacon, saying that he would leave there Tuesday evening and after a brief stop at his home would come on to Linden. Therefore he might pop in on Guy at any moment.

What worried Guy was that he might not have time to doctor up his accounts, so as to present the usual plausible showing of profits with which he usually succeeded in "pulling the wool over the eyes of the credulous old fellow."

"He'll get here before I am in trim for a showdown," muttered Guy. "If he left Beacon last night, as he wrote, I may expect him here any hour. If he stayed over there, it means twenty-four hours more of a leeway for me."

Guy wired to the hotel at Beacon where he knew his uncle usually put up making the inquiry: "Has William Ashe left Beacon?"

It was five o'clock in the afternoon when he received the following reply:

"He died last night."
For a few minutes Guy Wadham was shocked. He knew his uncle had not been in very good health for several years. This, however, was dreadfully sudden. Selfish, heartless as he was, Guy was stunned mentally. Then he rushed down to the safe of the hotel. He had refrained from drink since morning, so that should his uncle arrive unexpectedly he would not trace any sign of liquor. Now all care went to the winds. Of course he must go at once to Beacon. However, no train left until seven o'clock the next morning. As he "fired up," a spirit of exultation possessed him. He knew that Mr. Ashe had named him in his will as a chief beneficiary. Huzza for opulence—good-by to twisting and turning to pay his debts!

Half seas over, Guy phoned half a dozen of his choicest friends. Birds of a feather, they speedily flocked together.

"We'll have one grand jubilee," declared Guy. "In a day or two, fellows, I'll be back here with the overflowing money bags of that accommodating old fossil uncle of mine, who kicked the bucket just at the right moment to lift me out of my money trouble!"

"Good for the old codger!" roared a strident chorus and Guy joined in the toast.

Just as their jollity was at its highest, a man poked his head in past the half-open door, unperceived. He saw and listened, appalled. His aged face grew ashen, stern and then furious. He left the corridor and then the hotel.

Bartley Moore and his wife were just locking up the house when there came a ring at the door bell. As they reached the threshold a quaver of voice articulated:

"Don't you know me, Bartley?"

"Why, it's Uncle William!" exclaimed his nephew. "Come in, come in."

Mr. Ashe staggered into the cozy parlor and sank to a chair apparently exhausted.

"Give me time," he panted. "I'm crushed! That Guy!" and amid anger and indignation he gave to Bartley an intelligible clue to the situation.

"This is—Laura," said Bartley.

Uncle William arose and extended a trembling hand. His eyes fell upon that fair face and he put out both hands—pleadingly, brokenly.

"I've come to find friends," he said. "Am I welcome?"

She kissed him in reply. She comforted him amid his troubles. Not a word against Guy Wadham—concerning him Mr. Ashe knew all.

Two days of quiet peace and harmony a stern arraignment of the ingratitude Guy, who now realized that the telegram had read "died" instead of "did." Uncle William settled down for life with the fond and loyal friends he had so misjudged.

Care of Watch at Night.

The care of the watch at night or when it is not in use is an important item, concerning which the bureau of standards states:

"At night, or when the watch is not in use, it is desirable to leave the watch in the same position as during the day and preferably in some place where it will not be subject to any great temperature change. It is desirable to leave the watch in a horizontal position during the night for the sake of compensating any considerable gaining or losing of the watch in the pendant-up position during the day, the same precaution to avoid marked temperature changes should be observed, and the regularity with which such a change of position is carried out may be as important as regularity of winding."

Fascinated by Model.

The weekly meeting of the Married Ladies' Society for the Better Control and Guidance of Husbands had just been called to order by the president.

"Members will now tell their troubles, one at a time," said the chair.

A meek-looking little woman stood up in a far corner of the room.

"My husband," she quavered, "is in love with his model."

The buzz of gossip suddenly ceased and all eyes were turned upon the speaker.

"But your husband is not an artist," argued the president. "He runs an iron foundry. Doesn't he?"

"Yes'm," said the meek lady, "but all the same he loves his model. You see, he's a self-made man."—London Standard.

IT WASN'T THE SAME WOMAN

Nevertheless, the British Soldier's Desire to Marry Lasted Through the Year of Probation.

There is a famous British general who hates to see his soldiers wed. One day a Tommy came to him and asked permission to marry.

The general, hoping to cool the man's ardor, told him to go away and come back again a year from that day, and if he was then in the same mind permission would be given him to marry. When the year had passed the soldier repeated his request.

"But do you really still wish to marry?" asked the general in surprise.

"Yes, sir, very much!" answered Tommy.

"Well, you may marry now," said the general. "I never believed there was so much constancy in man or woman."

The soldier saluted and prepared to leave the room, but when he got to the door he turned around and said: "Thank you, sir, but it isn't the same woman."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Needed Them.

Little Johnny was ill. Indeed, little Johnny had been desperately ill. But little Johnny neither had been nor was too ill to be vastly concerned over any chance to get something for nothing.

When the doctor came into the bedroom, the other morning, he placed his finger on Johnny's pulse and then smiled.

"Fine! Splendid!" he said to Johnny's mother. "His pulse dropped a quarter yesterday and a half today. Excellent!"

And after he made his departure, little Johnny lay in bed staring vacantly into space. It was quite evident that something was on his mind.

"Mamma," he said finally, "when the doc comes tomorrow will you ask him where that quarter and that half dropped to—I've got only six cents in my bank and I'd like to find 'em!"

WICHITA FALLS

The North American Review asks "Can Germany be beaten?" If left to us to answer, we would say we don't know, but we are perfectly willing for those who have undertaken that job to finish it up, or fight it out with us, or call on the United States for assistance.

From the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, published at Honolulu, a copy of which some friends have sent us, the Times learns that the sunken submarine, F-4 has been raised from a depth of 306 feet to forty-five feet. It may require several weeks yet before the submarine is brought to the top of the water and docked. The F-4 made her fated dive on March 25th, carrying down with her twenty-one men, members of her crew. At the present time she is lying almost up side down.

All the enemies of William Jennings Bryan, now that he has resigned, are taking advantage of the opportunity to say something mean about him, and for the most part these enemies of Bryan—those who cuss him the hardest, have been known to sing the praises of politicians who Bryan helped to shove. The grievance is great and why not let them vent their spleen. They can never get over it.

An exchange prints the following story which may be considered appropriate at this time: During the Dayton, Ohio, floods, two white women and a negro, were on a roof, watching the waters roll nearer and nearer. The white women began to pray earnestly, but the negro watched the water. One of the white women finally said: "Mandy can't you pray, too?" Mandy knelt and said: "O, Lord, you promised O' Noah they wouldn't be no more floods. Now look here, Lawd what do this 'flood mean?"

That Wichita Falls has continued to gain steadily in population despite the decline in oil-operations and in the face of other adverse conditions was indicated by the increase in poll tax receipts in January; and now the school census, just completed, bears out that belief. A gain of 376 in the Wichita Falls district over the 1914 figures, indicates very clearly that in the face of all sorts of discouraging conditions Wichita Falls has continued to forge ahead.

The fact that the acreage of cotton in Wichita and adjoining counties is much less this year than it was last year, and the further fact that the reduced acreage has been further reduced by the excessive rains and over-flowing of the low lands, means that unless these destroyed cotton crops are replanted the yield of cotton in this section of the state this year will be less than one-half what it was last year. The same conditions that confront the farmers in Wichita county exist in Baylor county, and the Baylor county farmers are taking steps to replant and for that purpose a committee was sent here to select a carload of cotton seed, to be selected from a large amount of seed at the Farmers' Union-Gin and Cotton Oil Mill. The Times learns from talking with farmers that cotton planted as late as the middle of June and even as late as July 1st, will mature and make a good yield. If better seed is desired, they also can be obtained, and at a price to those desiring them at less than cost.

The Times made mention of the fact that outside newspapers of the state were estimating the damage to crops in Wichita county by rain, high water and hail at as much as $1,500,000 and mentioned the Fort Worth Record as one of them. But it appears the Record's estimate is somewhat lower, it giving the damage to crops within a radius of 100 miles of Wichita Falls at $1,000,000. It was the Houston Post that placed the damage to the wheat crop alone in Wichita county at $1,500,000. Both estimates, however, are entirely too high. If the estimate of the Post was anything like correct it would mean that about 18 per cent of the wheat crop had been destroyed. The greatest estimate that anyone who is really posted, or is in a position to judge such matters, is that the total damage to crops in the county is not more than 20 per cent and most of them place it as low as 20 per cent.

Dr. Brooks has not yet accepted Congressman Henry's challenge for a joint debate on July 1st. Mr. Henry wants to open his campaign for the senatorship. The election to decide who shall be our next United States senator will not be held until July 1916, more than a year off. Doubtless Dr. Brooks realizes that a year is entirely too long in which to conduct a campaign, and looking at it that way he can well afford to decline the challenge for the present at least. The people of Texas are entitled to a rest from political agitation for awhile. And the candidates who persist in stirring up things politically so far in advance of the election is not likely to gain much advantage.

The cry has been made in Texas, and our governor joined in it, that Texas farmers were paying more interest for money borrowed than were the farmers of Oklahoma, which is a much younger state. Governor Ferguson submitted letters and telegrams to substantiate his statements. He was making a fight for the passage of the Gibson bill, which, if ever enacted will repeal the Robertson act and that will mean the loss to Texas to start with more than a million back taxes owed this state by the old line insurance companies that refused to obey the law and left the state seven years ago. But here are some figures that we get from the Bureau of Statistics in the Department of Agriculture. Of course, the Times cannot say whether they are correct or not, but generally speaking, statistics that are compiled and published under the supervision of the general government can be relied on. Here is what these figures show: "Interest rates paid by farmers in 1912: In Texas 10.3; in Oklahoma 12.10. In 1913, in Texas 9.97 per cent; in Oklahoma 10.55 per cent." Now, it is a well known fact that Oklahoma has no Robertson law, and that being the case, will some one who favors the Gibson bill please tell why the figures furnished by the National government show that farmers of Oklahoma in 1912-1913 were paying a greater interest rate than were the farmers of Texas.

What is needed now is a definite program which will represent the public demand and mean something. The time for milk and cider proposals has passed. The fee grabbers have grown insolent through success, and the cost of litigation is intolerable. Every feature of court procedure presents a distinct and outrageous imposture upon the litigant and the public. Let the watchdog now be that the whole system shall be reformed, and the man sense shall rule in the courtroom. Since the battle must be fought before the people, let it be a battle to a finish, and let the victor be worth the struggle. The friends of real court reform should get together and prepare a bill to be submitted to the next legislature. This should be done before other issues of less importance shall divert the public mind. Then let an advocate of reform be found in every county who will, as a public service, stump his county and pledge the people to give their votes only for candidates who will actively support these measures. In this way, the fee grabbers can be routed in one round in the next legislature. The man who joins with them in the contest before the people will find himself outside the breasted works very soon. Their only chance to win is through artifice and delay inside the legislature. The time has come for popular action. The people can get court reform at the hands of the next legislature if they will not get court reform in 100 years after it. Why delay the effort to make the court house an agency of exploitation of unconscionable lawyers? The people must make the fight if individual or aggregated capacity will not make it. The legislature refuses to make it. Let the people make it. Court procedure should conform to common sense and they can shape statutes which will give results.

Farm and Ranch pledges its support to a people's movement for court reform. It believes that the press of the State would give it united and hearty support. Let the people blaze the way.

PERSPECTIVE AND OTHERWISE.

The resignation of William J. Bryan has focused the eyes of the world on the administration at Washington. Were it not a momentous issue at stake, we might pass over the event as all in the days news; of more than significance, by reasons of the prominence of the President and Secretary of State; but not so starting as to awaken apprehension for the safety of the government. But, the importance of the issue raised by the United States and Germany, over which President Wilson and Secretary Bryan differ, is so grave, that war hangs in the balance. The firm policy of the president, dealing with the international question, involving the rights of American citizenship on the high member finds it easy to disclaim responsibility. Thus he is able to get by without flying in the face of public sentiment, and at the same time to offer solid comfort to the fee grabbers, who are the sole beneficiaries of the disgraceful conditions which now exist in the court houses.

Thus it goes. The members of the legislature always protest that they have not time to consider court reforms. They always give that excuse. The people should take heed at their word, and excuse them altogether from the task. To be entirely frank about it, they are, and always will be, wholly incompetent for the job. Court reform, such as the average legislature would yield would, of necessity, be a travesty upon the name of reform. The legislature reaches the high water mark of its ability in frankly proclaiming its own incapacity to deal with this subject. Why should any one take the trouble to deny what is an obvious fact?

The people of Texas should take the time to consider this subject. It should not be asked to consider it. The people should formulate the laws they want, and should proceed to elect men to the legislature who will take the time to vote for a bill or bills already approved by the people. The member who can not find time to do that should be kicked out of public life and kept out. The time has come to proclaim that no man can serve the fee grabbers and pretend to serve the people.

Jim Hogg argued the free pass question with the legislature. The legislature highly smiled and said that it didn't have time to consider the subject. The people should get out on the stump and presented the subject to the people, and asked them to pledge themselves to defeat every candidate for the legislature who couldn't find time to vote an anti-free pass bill. Candidates for the legislature soon found time to deal with the subject. Those who could not find the time for the most part, failed to land in the legislature.

Friar Evangelist Now Conducting A Revival Campaign In This City

also applies to all neutral nations of the world. Therefore, from any standpoint we can view it, the issue is momentous. Germany's submarine warfare has caused a critical situation, that if it remains unchallenged would abrogate international law, that guarantee the lives of passengers on unarmed merchantmen, before the vessels can be sunk; though they may be loaded with contraband of war. Without establishing an actual blockade, Germany has, in the language of Ex-Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, "piped off" the ocean into a war zone, and is proceeding to blow up every vessel that comes within range of her torpedoes, without giving passengers and crew warning; much less, time to disembark in boats to places of safety. The inhumanity of this kind is had enough when confined to belligerent nations at war with each other, but when practiced on neutral, friendly powers, is nothing short of cold blooded murder. This is the status of affairs that confronted President Wilson's administration calling forth the note to Germany, in a tone which was too strong for the Secretary of State. And while we wait in suspense to know just how it will be answered by the Imperial Government, we have time to speculate. Recent events have gone far to prove that Germany trusts entirely in militarism. In this case she considers her army a vast machine, built up with a view to making a perfect war machine, regardless of existing humane laws. In her submarines she has introduced the efficiency of mechanical destruction of human life. Therefore, whatever she does make her submarines do, it is all right. This spirit seems to dominate the Emperor and his advisers. But, our present objects to American ships sacrificed to German efficiency. This brings us to consider the possibility of war with a nation which is avowedly with each other, but which is not short of cold blooded murder. ONE WOMAN'S FAITH

By HAROLD CARTER.

Now that the moment for action had arrived Jim Corrigan felt his courage ebbing away. All he had to do was to take the packed suit case that lay underneath his desk, go out of the door, jump on a street car, and make his way to any railroad depot.

Yet during the three months in which he had lived in princely style at the Repington hotel, and spent his days in the mahogany-furnished offices, a sort of attachment to his environment had grown up in him.

Somehow he had begun to feel a sense of respectability. He hated to lose the esteem of these good people, who were already thanking him publicly for the good he had done the town, for the factory that he was going to start, who had openly broached his name for the mayor's office.

And there was Della—delicious, sweet, just the bride for a worthy man. Della, with her inherited hundred thousand dollars, which had not spoiled her, Della who unmistakably liked him, and had placed her whole capital in the Red Lion mine.

The man felt the sweat start out on his forehead. He opened the door and looked in at the stenographers' room. At once the young women began hammering harder; the bill-folders accentuated their speed; and worked self-consciously. The eye of their boss was upon them.

And all this was to be shattered like the crystal of a dream. For Jim Corrigan would be an outcast in twenty minutes. He had been tipped off that the federal authorities intended to raid his office that day. Thousands of worthless shares had been sold in a worthless gold mine, which was little more than a hole in the ground. And Della's

Chinese Astronomers Were Punished for Not Predicting One That Occurred 2127 B. C.

Messrs. Hirayama and Ogura have published in the Proceedings of the Tokyo Mathematical-Physical Society the results of their attempts to fix the dates of some early eclipses recorded in Chinese literature.

The earliest is mentioned in one of the books of the Shu Ching, where it is recorded that in the reign of Chung A'ang, the fourth emperor of the Hsia dynasty, there occurred an eclipse of the sun which had not been predicted by the astronomers, who were alleged to have been drunk and to have neglected their duties.

A later document makes it possible to fix the date of this event as October 13, 2127 B. C. (Julian calendar)—the earliest recorded eclipse in the world. Calculation shows that there actually was a solar eclipse on that date, but probably not in China, though the elements of the motions of the sun and moon are not accurate enough to indicate certainly the path of so remote an eclipse.

The officer read the telegram and laid it down. Jim picked it up and read: "Huge gold deposits discovered in Red Lion mine. State inspector notified. Is coming at once to re-examine Clancy."

The federal officer scratched his head. "My orders are to seal—" he began; and then a second man appeared at the door. He took in the situation instantly.

"Come off, Louis!" he said. "Mr. Corrigan, this is a mistake for which we owe you a good many apologies. We had information which led us to believe that—well, anyway, later news has come which shows us we were wrong. We had our orders, sir, and no doubt you'll receive apologies from the proper quarter. We know your company is beyond reproach. And I wish I had a few shares in it," he added.

They were gone. Della was standing at Jim's side and they had just exchanged their first kiss. "As if you could be dishonest, dear!" she said softly.

Jim looked at the packed suit case and winced. In another minute that, too, would have been examined. It would have been harder then. He knew that the inner shame he felt must be his punishment for many a year to come.

AUSTRIANS CLAIM FURTHER VICTORIES

REPORTS SAY THEIR FORCES HAVE GAINED THE DNEISTER

5,000 RUSSIANS ARE TAKEN

Russian Counter Attack Against Stanislau and Other Points Rejected

Vienna, June 12.—The official statement today says: "The official statement today says: 'Between the Dneister and the Fruth the army of Gen. Pfanzner again attacked several Russian positions. The villages of Jeseirzany and Niedzwiska north of the Dneister were stormed. Our victorious troops are advancing toward Czernelica have crossed the Dneister east of Horodenka. We captured Zale, Szczykly where the Russians yesterday and last night made desperate and unsuccessful attacks with very heavy losses. An attack by a Cossack regiment also collapsed under our fire.'

"In Bukowina, the Russians were forced to give up their last positions on the Fruth and retreat across the frontier. The Russians have suffered severe losses. The army of Gen. Pfanzner yesterday captured 5,000 men. South of the upper Dneister a Russian counter attack against Stanislau has been repulsed. Zurewka which was evacuated owing to the approach of Russian reinforcements was retaken yesterday by the allied troops.

"There have been isolated infantry and artillery engagements on the Isonzo river. The Italians have obtained footing on the east bank at Montefalcone and Careret (Capelietto) which, however, is in front of our battle lines. At dawn yesterday hostile forces climbed the eastern bank near Piva but were repulsed. On the Corintian frontier our troops repelled several attacks. An Italian attempt to recover Mont Tiano failed. The enemy is slowly sending forces to several frontier districts—Corintia, D'Arignano, Fiers, D'Prienino and Gorgo."

All Knights of Pythias are invited to attend lodge next Tuesday night. Lodges opens at 8 o'clock sharp. Come out and see our King and Senators. It will do you good and make a better man of you. Dr. Garrison, C. C. 26 1tc

FORGERS HARD TO REDEEM

Of All Wrong-Doers They Are the Most Likely to Slip Back Into Crime.

All who have had experience with criminals and their reformation say that the hardest to redeem are forgers. The forger is more often than not a man of intellect and pleasant address. He is not intrinsically more depraved than other regular offenders, but the downward pull seems to be exceptionally strong on him.

The most plausible reason advanced is twofold. Forgery is a crime in which the perpetrator seldom is caught "with the goods." The pick-pocket, safe blower or burglar runs a very real and immediate risk when he resorts to his "profession;" the forger's check is either accepted or rejected and at the time he is in little personal danger. True, he is leaving behind in most instances a plain trail and is sowing seeds of determined vindictiveness, since the victim of a forgery is more often than not a man of intellect and pleasant address. He is not intrinsically more depraved than other regular offenders, but the downward pull seems to be exceptionally strong on him.

Trees at Timber Line.

A few timber-line trees live a thousand years, but half this time is a ripe old age for most timber-line veterans. The age of these trees cannot be judged by their size, nor by general appearances. There may be centuries of difference in the ages of two arm-in-arm trees of similar size. I examined two trees that were growing within a few yards of each other in the shelter of a crag. One was fourteen feet high and sixteen inches in diameter, and had 337 annual rings. The other was seven feet high and five inches in diameter, and had lived 483 years!

One day by the sunny and sheltered side of a bowlder I found a tiny seed-bearer at an altitude of 11,800 feet. How splendidly unconscious it was of its size and its utterly wild surroundings! This brave pine bore a dainty cone, yet a drinking-glass would have completely housed both the tree and its fruit.

Needed improvements in line with the Civic League plan for "Wichita Falls, the City Beautiful" were discussed at this week's meeting of the League at the home of Mrs. A. H. Carrigan Tuesday afternoon. The condition of shade trees, parkways, hedges and vacant lots came up for the greater share of discussion at this meeting. It was decided to make an earnest appeal to all negligent property owners to see that shade trees are properly trimmed particularly those along sidewalks, the trees in some instances forming an objectional obstruction. Also some hedges have been allowed to spread over the sidewalks, looking unsightly and being a source of annoyance to passers-by. The League is satisfied that these conditions are the result of thoughtlessness and carelessness and not through any disregard for the public and lack of civic pride.

Some of the parkways resemble veritable weed patches and last but not least is the vacant lot proposition. Some lots in the very heart of the city are, to say the least, a discredit to the civic pride of some of the most prominent citizens. The League will urge that the owners of such lots will have the weeds cut and the trash removed at least occasionally. The recent improvements have been very gratifying especially those made in parkways and in homes by the establishment of flower beds and gardens and flower boxes and it is the desire of the League that the good work go on. Well kept streets, parkways and vacant lots are essentials of a good town and will prove a great aid, financially and otherwise. The League is a staunch advocate of the "Buy in Wichita" movement in spite of accusations to the contrary made to the contrary by some of the Merchants' Association in a recent meeting and the members will work together for the good of the town.

AT THE THEATERS

"THE GOVERNOR'S LADY" AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY

Monday's picture will be the Paramount feature, "The Governor's Lady."

The photodramatic production of "The Governor's Lady" offered by Jesse Lasky in association with David Belasco, with Edith Wynne Matison as the star, is being made the subject of many appreciative articles by the most conservative and authoritative critics. Mr. W. Stephen Bush of the Moving Picture World, said in part:

"Not only do we see a series of the finest types of American men and women, but we see them just exactly as they are in real life, and the illusion becomes perfect. There are, in practically every scene, delicate, intimate touches which cannot be enumerated and classified like chapters in the index of a book, but the effects of which are strongly felt and appreciated by every man and woman in the audience. All through the picture runs a suggestion of great powers of reserve. The settings and photography in this Lasky production are fully up to the standard set by "The Goose Girl" which surely is saying a good deal. Not enough praise can be given to the members of the star cast."

At the opening of the story Daniel Slade is working in a mine and though not positively in need, he and his wife live in comparative poverty. Slade is a man filled with ambition, but his wife is contented and absorbed in her love for her husband. By a fortunate accident he discovers a gold mine and, with his newly acquired wealth, immediately sets out to gain a position of influence for himself in the world. His aggressive personality and ability at once attract attention, these qualities being combined with wealth, and the possibilities of a political career are pointed out to him by Senator Strickland. Slade has no sooner established himself in his new surroundings than he comes to feel that his wife does not know how to take advantage of their altered circumstances. She is still the same simple, home loving person. In the course of time he becomes attracted to the senator's daughter, who, like himself, is of ambitious temperament. In fact, though she does not love him, she agrees to marry him if he obtains a divorce from his wife. The concluding episodes of the story show how the wife rescues her husband from his un pardonable folly and how, much chastened, he finally persuades her to come back to him. He has now become the chief executive of the State and Mary at last takes her place as the Governor's Lady.

"THE SECOND COMMANDMENT" AT GEM THEATRE MONDAY

Guy Coombs and Dorothy Bernard are featured in "The Second Commandment," a three part drama. A short synopsis is given:

Deserting his wife and daughter, Richard Stevens flees with Mirza, the wife of a sun worshiper. The latter had been killed by Mirza while fighting a duel with Richard. A year later, Richard's wife dies, after entrusting her daughter to the care of a friend. At the same time, a son is born to Mirza. Seventy years pass. Warren Stevens, the grandson of Richard and Mirza, meets Helen Royce, the granddaughter of Richard and Alice. Helen is intensely religious, while Warren is the leader of a cult of image worshippers. While Warren's followers meet in his room at the hotel, he leaves by a window and robs their rooms of valuables.

Warren falls in love with Helen. She refuses him because of his religion. Before renouncing it for Helen's sake, Warren is tempted to commit one more robbery. Fate causes him to enter the girl's room. Thus Helen becomes aware of Richard's character. Shortly afterward, Helen's father dies in spite of the best medical attention. The girl becomes interested in Clinton, a Christian Scientist. A paralytic stroke leaves Helen helpless. Burglars enter her apartment. In her extremity, the invalid concentrates her mind in prayer. Suddenly Helen's strength returns. She confronts the burglars, capturing one of them. He proves to be Warren. Again Helen allows him to go, but Warren is captured by the police shortly afterward. Her heart filled with gratitude toward the man who taught her the efficacy of prayer, Helen weds Clinton.

"THE CLEMENCEAU CASE" AT MAJESTIC TUESDAY

Tuesday the Majestic will offer the third of the Fox pictures featuring Theda Bara.

No more powerful sermon was ever preached than "The Clemenceau Case." No more vivid, pulsating drama was ever written than "The Clemenceau Case." These statements are made without reservation. Like a mighty river the story of the drama rushes strong and swift to its cataclysmic climax. Passions flare and wills clash throughout the production in a way that grips the spectator, holding him breathless in his chair till the last great scene is reached and the well nigh overwhelming story of "The Clemenceau Case" is brought to its tremendous end.

"The Clemenceau Case" is, as Du-mas himself said, "a work that thrashes society with a living whip." "In it," he continued, "I have tried to paint in the most vivid colors possible the lengths to which a woman of the pantherish nature of Iza will go when her instincts lead her. The character of Pierre Clemenceau is based upon real life. I have described in detail some scenes for which I have been unjustly criticized, but my reason for doing so was to disclose the three vices which were to ruin first Pierre and then Iza, namely, Im-moderate, Ingratitude and Sensuality. Iza, at the beginning of the book, is a woman who is unfaithful in mind only, but nevertheless she is unfaithful. Each one of the pages that I have penned and you have read has detached itself from me as if it were a particle of the events which I have narrated. I have tried to show that there is a divine Being who punishes indulgence and rewards the good and the true. If I have succeeded in pointing out his in "The Clemenceau Case" I shall have gained my end."

Possibly it's weak kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective. They're especially for weak or disordered kidneys.

Here's a Wichita Falls case. Mrs. R. T. Williams, 508 Burnett street, Wichita Falls, says: "Kidney complaint in my case came on after a severe sickness. They gradually strengthened my kidneys and practically cured me."

SERMONS ON BIBLE STUDY ATTRACT LARGE CROWDS

Evangelist Nelson Discussing Bible Book By Book and Sermons Excite Interest

About fifty more people heard the sermon by Evangelist J. B. Nelson Friday night at the corner of Tenth and Scott streets. The congregation of the Church of Christ is elated over the attendance.

Mr. Nelson preached his second sermon Friday night on "How To Read, Study and Understand the Bible." He told how the Old Testament was divided into two dispensations, the Patriarchal, which covers about 2500 years time and has one book for that time and the Book of Genesis. This is the dispensation where God addressed individuals and not nations. The second dispensation begins with Exodus and ends with Malchod and covers a period of time of about 1500 years, putting it in round numbers. This is known as the dispensation of Moses, in which he is the law giver and typifies Christ as the law giver of the New Testament. He told the people how the Israelites came out of Egypt and that the book of Exodus gets its name from the exit of the Jews from Egypt. He showed the duty of the tribe of Levi and that the book of Leviticus got its name, because the law is addressed to that tribe and tells all their duties as priest, etc.

Mr. Nelson stated that the law of Moses was addressed to the Jew and not to Gentile. "For when the Gentiles which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves." Rom. 2:14. See also Eph. 2:11-12 and Gen. 12:13 and Acts 13:39.

Mr. Nelson is discussing the Bible book by book and in the meantime calling attention to prophecies pointing to Christ. Don't fail to hear the rest of the series. Services Sunday at 11 a. m. There will be shade enough for all.

Questions And Suggestions To The Farmers of Texas

The A. and M. College and the U. S. department of agriculture have issued the following questions and suggestions to farmers: Are you a prosperous farmer, if not why? Is your farm improving in fertility, if not, why? Are you protecting your farm from constant washing off of the soil, if not, why? Do you raise feed for your stock and food for your family? Do you can your surplus fruits and vegetables? Do you have plenty of milk and butter for your family? Is your boy a member of the corn or animal husbandry club? Is your girl a member of the girls' club? Have you a yard full of chickens? Do you buy for cash? Do you sell your produce at an advantage? Prosperous farmers generally grow everything needed on their own farm to feed their stock and their family. This is a safe way to get it and a sure way to have it. Farmers who are rotating their crops, planting peas, peanuts or other soil building crops are making their farm richer each succeeding year. Are you following this practice? Terracing the farm lands which are rolling to prevent washing helps in more ways than one. It prevents the fertility from being carried off by the storm waters and prevents the run off from washing and covering up the mowing crop. When light rains fall in the summer it is carried off slowly and most of it is retained in the soil for the use of the crop. It prevents the farm from washing into gullies. Chickens pay a big dividend on the investment. If managed right and attention given them they will pay the grocery bill and sometimes more.

Don't overlook the small things on the farm. Farming without a good pasture is a poor business. Stock at rest, milk cows or young stock cannot do well without grass. You do not have to cultivate it often and never hoe it. It is the best paying crop on the farm if given thought and attention. If you are buying on time you know full well that you are paying about double the rate of interest you should for the favor. Get out of debt and stay out of debt. If you have the cash you can buy at an advantage, often at bargain sales. Farmers in debt cannot avail themselves of bargain sales. If you are not situated so that you can sell your farm products at an advantage, it is a clear loss to you. The farmers' co-operative demonstration work, U. S. department of agriculture and the extension service of the A. & M. College are anxious to render to each and every farmer valuable assistance which can be had for the asking. We give instructions in good farming free. We give instructions on soil building free.

We teach farmers how to terrace their lands free. We teach home economics free. We give instructions in milk and cow testing free. We give instructions and assistance in the controlling of hog cholera and diseases of other farm animals free. We give instructions in poultry management free. We advise the farmers the kind of pasture grass best for his section free. We advise you to diversify your crops, growing all home supplies, feed and food crops. It will soon get you on a cash basis. If you will follow instructions given by this department it will lead you to independence. Do you want our help. J. W. CAMPBELL, Agent, Wichita County.

ITALY'S KING CHEERS TROOPS BY PRESENCE

His Visits to Men On Fighting Lines Are Having Tremendous Moral Effect. Rome, June 12.—The presence of King Victor Emmanuel is having a tremendous moral effect upon the Italian soldiers, according to reports reaching the capital from all sections of the long battle line. His Majesty has visited every zone where fighting is in progress at the expiration of a great amount of energy on his part, as the line of advance of the Italian forces is exceedingly irregular, and he frequently has climbed to fortresses situated on the lofty heights along the frontier. Much of his traveling has been done on horse back because there are no roads. Queen Helena is giving up all her time to philanthropic and relief work. She is supervising personally the making of supplies for hospitals. The little princesses are said to devote their energy to making masks for neutralizing the effects of gases.

BONDS FOR STREET CARS IS PROPOSED

ORDINANCE FOR REGULATION OF TRAFFIC ON DOWNTOWN STREETS INTRODUCED

LICENSE FOR AUTOMOBILES

Proposed Ordinance Similar To Those in Effect in Larger Cities Introduced

Regulation of downtown traffic along the lines adopted in the larger municipalities of the country will be the result of a new traffic ordinance prepared by City Attorney Nutt and introduced in the city council Friday night, becomes part of the city's laws. The council did not take any definite action on the ordinance at its meeting Friday, but copies were furnished each councilman to study.

A feature of the traffic ordinance is that it puts the street car company on the same basis as the trolley with reference to giving bond, the bond being in the same amount, with a maximum of $10,000 damages from any one accident.

Strict observance of the "keep to the right" rule" provision for registering cars with the city as well as the county, levying of a one dollar license for automobiles and 25 cents for bicycles, silencing of mufflers and prohibition of "jay walking" are some of the features of the ordinance.

Registration Proposed.

The measure provides that when an automobile is registered with the county clerk, as the State laws provide, the same number must be filed with the city clerk and a one dollar license fee paid; for bicycles, numbers are also required; with a 25-cent fee. Automobiles are required by the ordinance to keep to the right, whether going straight or making the curb, facing in the direction of the traffic on that side of the street. There is no provision for signalling system in use as in some large cities nor is any limit set upon the length of time a car may remain in one location. Unnecessary use of horns or bells and the opening of mufflers are prohibited.

The sections relating to the street car company require it to maintain a fifteen hour schedule and to make the near-side stop on all paved streets. General provisions of the ordinance give the fire department right of way over all classes of vehicles and providing for suspension of traffic to permit the equipment to pass.

"Jay walking," that is, cutting diagonally across the street, is forbidden at the principal downtown corners.

The ordinance omits many provisions of traffic regulations in vogue in Dallas and other larger cities, but goes considerably further than the present rules here. The council has not indicated what its final action upon the measure will be.

DAMAGE TO WHEAT HAS BEEN HEAVY

Many Fields Damaged 20 to 35 Per Cent By Hail and Beating Rains

Although latest reports on the wheat crop damage from hail and rain indicate that the damage was less than first estimates, it is certain that wheat, particularly in the northern part of this county and the northwestern part of Clay county, has suffered severely. A number of adjusters for hail insurance companies are here at present, some of them having as many as 30 towns to visit, and from the results of their inspections of the fields some idea of the damage may be obtained.

In the Burk Burnett section, the fields examined showed from 20 to 35 per cent damage, while in the Charlie and Thornberry section in Clay county, some fields showed an even higher ratio of loss. This does not mean, however, that such a percentage represents the condition of the county as a whole. In many fields in the sections mentioned, there was no damage at all.

The damage to wheat from hail is estimated by staking off a small part of the field, a few feet long, and counting the broken straws inside the stake; the total number of stalks is then counted and the percentage of broken ones calculated. Some allowance is made for the fact that even where it is broken, the wheat will ripen, although it will not mature and fall out as it should.

SUPT. SULLIVAN IS REPORTED IMPROVING

His Friends Now More Hopeful—Will Soon Be Moved to Dallas Hospital

Superintendent R. J. Sullivan of the Wichita Falls lines was reported as much improved yesterday, and there is now every reason to believe he will ultimately recover. His friends, who have been much worried since the accident, are now quite hopeful and it is thought Mr. Sullivan's iron constitution will pull him through safely from the effects of the accident. It is planned to remove him to Dallas on Tuesday or Wednesday.

D. Sullivan of Fort St. Jo, Florida, himself a railroad superintendent, arrived late Friday to be at his brother's bedside.

KING CONSTANTINE REPORTED IMPROVING

By Associated Press. Washington, June 12.—King Constantine is improving, according to dispatches to the Greek legation today which state that His Majesty's health is returning. He is yet unable to sit up.

SUBSTANTIAL GAIN IN SCHOLASTICS IS SHOWN

3,036 Enumerated This Year—A Gain of Nearly 400 Over Last Year

In spite of conditions which made it seem likely that a falling off in the school census would be the result of this year's enumeration, Wichita Falls independent district, not only equalled the 1914 figures, but registered a gain of 376 children of scholastic age, an increase of twelve per cent.

The total number is 3,036, as compared with 2,660 last year. The census was taken by Miss Imogene Brown who apparently covered the district very thoroughly.

The State laws figure population on a basis of six inhabitants for each child of scholastic age and on this ratio, the school district would have a total population of over 18,000. There is a part of the school district outside of the corporate limits, but the school census indicates that fully 15,000 people reside within the corporation.

TRAIN SCHEDULES ARE BEING RESUMED AGAIN

Trains Now Moving On All Lines Except On the Wichita Falls & Southern

It was something like old times in railroad circles Saturday. With the exception of the Wichita Falls & Southern, there was fairly regular service on all lines into this city, and while many trains were late, the schedules were fairly well maintained.

The Katy used the Fort Worth & Denver bridge over the little Wichita at Henrietta until late yesterday when its own bridge was repaired. There will be ample work for the section gangs and extra gangs for some time, it is expected, making permanent repairs upon the damage of the past week.

Friday a number of travelling men who had been tied up here unable to get out to neighboring towns, were able to resume their itineraries.

U. S. TO ASK CHANGES IN TREATIES AFFECTING SEAMEN

By Associated Press. Washington, June 12.—The United States has instructed its diplomats abroad to ask for the annulment of those paragraphs of commercial treaties which conflict with the new seamen's law.

The Wichita State Bank. The Guaranty Fund Bank.

SOLICITS YOUR BUSINESS AND OFFERS SAFETY FIRST.

SAFETY FIRST is our principle and the GUARANTY FUND LAW your protection—it means that your money deposited in this bank is absolutely safeguarded.

It is one of the best things we have to offer together with COURTEOUS TREATMENT and every accommodation consistent with conservative banking.

Below is a newspaper clipping showing how this GUARANTY FUND LAW WORKS and how you are protected.

We will soon be the only bank in town operating under this Guaranty Fund Law.

Newspaper comment:

The Wichita Daily Times says:
A few days ago there was a bank failure at Amarillo. It was a state guarantee bank, however, and the depositors will not lose one cent. The state guaranty fund has in it $961,000 and the closing of the Amarillo bank will take from it the sum of $89,000 with which to pay the protected depositors. The more we see of this law the better we like it. Every depositor who trusts his hard-earned money to a bank should be protected to the limit, and that is what has been done in every instance where a bank operating under this law has failed or closed its doors.

And the El Paso Times says:
According to a statement made by Receiver Arnold, depositors of the defunct Arizona Bank and Trust Company will receive 75 per cent when its affairs are finally wound up. The first dividend of 50 per cent will be paid on May 4, it is said.

The patrons of the Texas bank will get their money promptly. The patrons of the Arizona bank will only get 75 per cent and will have to wait for that.

BINDERS WILL RUN IN MANY FIELDS TODAY

FARMERS NOW IN MIDST OF HARVEST WHICH PROMISES BETTER THAN HOPED

SEND LABOR TO OKLAHOMA

Special Labor Agent Here Directing Dispatch of Harvest Hands in Oklahoma

More than 250 harvest hands have been recruited here and sent to points in Oklahoma by W. F. Williams, special agent of the Oklahoma department of labor, who is here, this city being a concentration point for harvest hands. Large numbers of farm hands from over the State are here waiting for Mr. Williams to send them out, but he is sending only those for whom he knows there is work.

Farmers in this county are not having much trouble in securing help, on account of the number of men here. The harvest was delayed by the wet weather and in many fields the straw is still too damp for the binders to run. Many binders were going Saturday, however, following four days of dry weather and although today is Sunday, it is likely that many binders will be going, as farmers feel that this is no time to take chances. It was thought at first that headers would be required for the harvest, but farmers who started cutting since the rain declare that binders are proving satisfactory.

Although the yield in this county has been considerably reduced by bad weather, the department of agriculture at Washington estimates that Texas will thresh 20,700,000 bushels of wheat this year, as compared with the 14,060,000 bushels which were harvested in 1914. Last year's crop sold at an average of 89 cents a bushel, totaling $12,518,740, while this year's yield, at the current quotation of $1.23 is worth $25,703,000, more than twice as much, according to the department's figures.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS APPEAR AT FREDERICK

Urge Harvest Hands to Stand Pat For $2.50 Per Day—Warned By Officers

(Frederick Leader)
Emissaries from the Industrial Workers of the World appeared in Frederick Tuesday and began to circulate among the men here seeking employment as harvest hands. Two men who had agreed to work for a farmer for $1.50 per day and board, and had got in his wagon to go home with him, were persuaded by the I. W. W. men to get out of the wagon and stand pat for $2 a day. Later in the day they were reported to have raised the scale to $2.50. One of the men was warned by Officer Reed to cease his agitating. Harvesting is opening up slowly, owing to excessively wet weather of last week, but some of the anxious job seekers finding places. Some have registered with J. F. McWilliams, representative of the Oklahoma labor bureau who has his office with B. A. Hubbard. It is likely that the city officials will require all idle strangers to do this, and those who refuse to do so will be subject to arrest as vagrants.

Modern Parables

(By F. F. Walters)
The Kingdom of Satan, whereunto shall it be likened? It is like a grain of tobacco seed, which, though exceedingly small, being cast into the earth, grows and becomes a great plant, spreading its leaves rank and broad, so that vile green worms made a habitation thereon.
In course of time, it came to pass that the sons of men looked upon it, in whose sight it seemed beautiful, and the stench thereof was very pleasant to the nose and altogether greatly to be desired to make lads look big and manly. So, putting forth the hand, they chewed thereof, making some sick and others to vomit exceedingly.
It also came to pass that all who chewed it became weak and unmanly and were seized with violent spitting, inasmuch that they did spit even in parlors, in halls of public gatherings, in churches and the precious juice thereof run down, oozing from their mouth corners, onto their chins even upon their shirt fronts.
Again we may liken the Kingdom of Satan unto a woman, who, although she would in no wise chew tobacco, swabs with it her teeth and snuffs it into her nose so that she is suddenly taken with fits to sneeze, inasmuch that her eyes are filled with tears and she looks exceedingly silly. Her breath, like that of the man's, produces a fragrance as offensive as that from a pig sty or the alley side of an unkept barn.

GOVERNMENTS ADVICE SOUGHT BY CITY

U. S. ENGINEERS AND R. R. OFFICIALS INVITED TO CONFER WITH CITY OFFICERS

CONCERNING OVERFLOWS

City Will Provide Disinfectants Where Residents Unable to Buy Them

The advice of government engineers and the co-operation of Fort Worth & Denver officials will be sought by the city council in solving this city's overflow problems; this was decided at Friday night's session of the city council, which decided to invite D. B. Keeler, vice president and general manager of the Denver here to confer with the councilmen, also to have a government engineer come here to study the problems that were brought up by the flood of the past week.

McConkey's Statement.
These decisions were reached following an extended discussion of the holiday creek situation. J. L. McConkey of the Farmers' Union Company brought the matter up, telling of the damage that had been done in the vicinity of the union property. Mr. McConkey said that after the Denver embankment had been cut holiday creek soon began to recede, even though the river continued to rise and he said that the swiftness of the holiday creek current made it appear that the question was not one of back water. After going into the matter into some detail and hearing the views of City Engineer L. C. Hinckley on the subject, the council decided to ask Mr. Keeler here for a conference with particular reference to the Denver's embankment. The government engineer will be asked to look the entire situation over with a view to determining what steps are necessary as a permanent remedy.

To Provide Disinfectant.
The council decided to provide free lime, oil and other disinfectants to those persons in the flooded districts who are unable to provide these things for themselves, it being felt that no chances should be taken with the situation.

The city engineer was instructed to make a survey of Brook Bluff and Sixth streets to determine the drainage needs of that section with reference to the river. Mayor Britain reported that the money for the paving bonds, $45,000 was in the bank and the council will pass an order establishing twenty feet as the curb line on Lamar street from Tenth to Sixth.

WICHITA FALLS WINS FIRST FROM SOLDIERS

Locals Take Big End of Score From Fort Sill Team in Five Inning Game

The Wichita Falls team defeated the Fort Sill baseball nine Saturday afternoon, 4 to 3 in a five inning game at the City Park. The soldiers had not had any dinner and only a short game was possible, the locals garnering four tallies off the soldier pitcher when he was wild in the first inning. Andrews pitched a pretty game for the locals.

The same teams are scheduled to play this afternoon at the Lake Park starting at 3:30.
The soldiers had been on the train since early Saturday, en route to this city and had no opportunity to get dinner, so they were hardly in condition for putting up a good game. Larue was in good form after the first inning. The locals line-up includes: Standfield, c; Andrews, p; Huff, 1b; Aufrecht, 2b; Lowery, 3b; Booth, ss; Gorsline, lf; Yeager, cf; Dickson, rf.

Sold Horse Then Reported It Had Been Stolen

After stealing a horse and selling it a man here last week called upon the officers claiming that a horse had been stolen from him and asking their help in recovering the animal. The horse belonged to a Mrs. Parker living in the country. The man had been working for her. One day he rode the horse to town and sold it to a local dealer for $50, being given a check for that amount. A few hours later pretty well loaded with booze he appeared at the sheriff's office reporting that his horse had been stolen. Deputy Sheriff Carnes and Frank Burns went out with him to search for the thief. Becoming convinced that everything was not as the

VILLA IS ANXIOUS TO RESTORE PEACE

SENDS NOTE TO PRESIDENT EXPRESSING DESIRE FOR UNITY IN MEXICO

HIS LETTER FRIENDLY ONE

Favors New Union to Settle Agrarian and Educational Problems in Mexico

By Associated Press.
El Paso, Texas, June 12.—General Villa in a note to President Wilson expresses willingness "to invite a new union of all Mexicans to work together to insure the triumph of the revolutionary principles, especially the agrarian problems and the extension of instruction among the poorer classes."

The note which is a reply to the recent communication sent to General Villa and other leaders in Mexico is expected to be presented to the state department by Enrique C. Lorente, representative in Washington of the Villa-Zapata faction. The Villa reply to President Wilson's communication is friendly in its terms. It explains that General Villa makes the statement in his own name believing that he can "affirm it" in the name of all factions whose tendencies are represented by the conventional government and supported by his armies under his command. Another note signed by Francisco Villa has been dispatched to General Venustiano Carranza asking the latter to agree to a conference of leaders in Mexico "to unite and reorganize." The note states that propositions are being placed before Emiliano Zapata and Roque Gonzales Garza.

No explanation from General Villa in this connection is had of the reported ousting of Garza from the capital at Mexico City. Garza was chosen provisional president by the Aguas Calientes convention of Mexican chiefs several months ago. The communications were formulated at a meeting of Villa and his staff at Aguas Calientes. General Villa in his invitation for a conference points two reasons for this action—first, that unless the constitutionalists reorganize the government, the Cientificos (Diaz party) will again get control under the guise of another name; second, unless conditions in Mexico improve, the United States will intervene. The invitation requests an early reply, that preliminaries for the conference, if agreed to, may be arranged. No place for holding the meeting is suggested.

General Villa declared he was impelled to reply to President Wilson's declaration of policy regarding Mexico because of Mr. Wilson's high spirit of justice and "the consideration and respect in which he is held both inside and outside his own country, especially by the middle class and poor people of Mexico, a consideration and respect which I also hold for him." Villa then reviews the assassination of President Madero and Vice President Suarez and the effort of the constitutionalists to overthrow the regime of Victoriano Huerta. He refers to the "moral aid given by the people of the United States" in these circumstances, for which he expresses the gratitude of the Mexican people. "I am pleased to know," says the Villa note further, "that President Wilson recognized that the American people and the American government have no right to take any part in the settlement of our internal affairs." Villa characterized as "disgraceful" the division among constitutionalist leaders after the triumph against Huerta, which he attributes in part to "personal ambitions of some persons" but declares that certain principles were involved for which "we are still fighting."

CARRANZA BIDS FOR U. S. RECOGNITION

ISSUES PROCLAMATION CALLING ON OTHER FACTIONS TO JOIN HIM

DECLARES HIS PRINCIPLES

Propose It is Believed, is to Learn How Washington Gov't Views Them

By Associated Press. Washington, June 12.—General Carranza issued a proclamation at Vera Cruz making a bid for recognition by the United States. American Consul Silliman telegraphed its text to the state department today. What effect, if any, it will have on President Wilson's Mexican policy, can only be conjectured. A statement by General Villa already received in Washington is expected to be laid before the president before Monday. Carranza's proclamation calls on the other factions to affiliate with his government and claims that he now controls nine-tenths of the population and seven-eighths of the territory of Mexico. "One of the greatest difficulties in the matter of foreign policy," Carranza says, "has been lack of understanding of other governments, particularly the United States." In his proclamation Carranza lays down the following principles, obviously to learn how the Washington government regards them: To guarantee to foreigners of the rights to which they are entitled under laws of Mexico, as to life, liberty and property; indemnity for property damaged during the revolution on a just and fair basis; restoration of peace and order; in settlement of agrarian problems there should be no confiscation; there should be an equitable distribution of the lands the government now possesses; property illegally possessed should be restored to rightful owners. The department of public education should be extended to all parts of the country; a national congress should be called to provide for the elevation of a president; the first chief of the constitutionalists will deliver over executive authority to whomsoever shall be elected.

W. B. WORSHAM DROPS DEAD AT HENRIETTA HOME

W. B. Worsham, pioneer Northwest Texas ranchman and banker, dropped dead at his home at Henrietta Friday afternoon. Mr. Worsham was 73 years old last February and had been a resident of Clay county for the last thirty-eight years. He was president of the bank of W. B. Worsham & Co., of Henrietta, a director in the American Exchange National Bank and the Dallas Brewery of Dallas, also the Cassidy Southwestern Commission Company of Fort Worth, Kansas City and St. Louis. Mr. Worsham came to Clay county worth $3,000. Now his ranch interests in Clay county, amounting to 25,000 acres and other ranch property in Wilbarger county and financial investments made since that time makes his estate at this time worth $3,000,000. Mr. Worsham had been confined to his home for the past three years and while his condition has been serious at times, his sudden death was unlooked for at this time. He is survived by a wife, one son, Carl M. Worsham and one daughter, Mrs. K. N. Haggood of Henrietta.

BIG STRIP OF COUNTRY DEVASTATED IN OKLAHOMA

A strip of country, ranging in width from two to four miles and probably 30 miles in length, was laid waste by a hail storm which swept across it late Friday afternoon. The hail storm was of but short duration, lasting from five to seven minutes, but it was a hard one, and the damage it wrought was fearful on hundreds of farms. The hail was accompanied by a hard wind which wrought much damage. The storm traveled southeast, starting at a point about nine miles west and two miles south of Frederick, near Red River on the farm of John Murr. Here the first serious damage seems to have occurred. The storm from this place went south and then east, containing a streak of destruction across Tillman county and into Cotton county, almost as far as Red River, reaching to Devol. The town of Grandfield was in its path and is reported to have suffered some. The storm came just at a time when an immense wheat crop was ripening, ready for the harvest. In some fields the harvest had already begun. Wheat fields which before the storm were golden with promise were in a few minutes turned into scenes of ruin. In some the destruction was so great that the ground was almost bare. In others the wheat was beaten flat, the grain threshed out and the whole left in a hopeless mass.—Frederick Leader.

GOVERNOR FERGUSON NAMES ACCOUNTING BOARD

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, June 12.—Governor Ferguson today announced the appointment of the state board of public accountants which was created by an act of the regular session of the 34th legislature. The personnel of the board follows: R. C. Robertson, Amarillo; Milton Morris, Austin; E. J. Archard, Fort Worth; E. F. Hunter, San Antonio and W. P. Peter, Dallas. This law became effective on March 22, 1915 but has been inoperative because the governor had not appointed the board as it provided that the governor should name the board thirty days after the passage of the act. The purpose of this act is to provide for the examination and issuance of a certificate of the degree "certified public accountant" and the use of the initials "C. P. A." as indicative of the holder's certificate to serve as a public accountant.

KAISER'S EMMISARY SAILS FOR GERMANY

DR. DERNBERG, UNOFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF EMPEROR ENDS STAY IN U. S.

FEELS KINDLY FOR THE U. S.

Says With Exception of One Occasion Was Treated Indiscriminately

By Associated Press. New York, June 12.—Dr. Bernhard Dernberg, former colonial secretary of the German empire who has been termed Emperor William's unofficial representative in this country, sailed for home today aboard the Norwegian steamer, Bergensfjord. He seemed to be in excellent good humor, chatted amiably with friends who came to the pier to wish him good voyage, posed for photographers, talked with newspaper men for a few moments aboard the steamer which had been turned into a bower of roses by his admirers, with the hope, he said, that the war would soon end with honor for all engaged. For America and his treatment here Dr. Dernberg expressed kindly sentiment. "My feelings for this country are absolutely unchanged," he said. "I have been treated with indiscriminate nicety, except on one occasion which I do not care to discuss." "What occasion was that?" asked a reporter. "The Lusitania matter," he replied. On his way across the ocean Dr. Dernberg will occupy what is known as the "king's suite," the finest on the steamer, a suite which every Norwegian liner is required to maintain for the possible use of the King of Norway.

TROOPS MAY BE SENT ACROSS MEXICAN LINE

War Department Keeps Troops Near Until Food Supplies Are Distributed

By Associated Press. Washington, June 12.—Possible interference by Mexicans to the attempt of the American Red Cross to distribute food supplies to Mexicans through the American consular offices is the reason for orders from the war department today to delay the departure of three regiments from the border. The United States troops cannot cross the border without instructions from Washington but today's orders indicate that such instructions would be given if it became necessary. The regiments affected are the 27th Infantry now at Galveston, the 15th cavalry at Fort Bliss and the 9th Infantry at Douglas, Ariz. These regiments had been ordered to the Philippines.
