Queen To Be Named

Chamber Rodeo Opens At Riding Club Arena

If you haven't made plans to attend the American Junior Rodeo Association Rodeo in Colorado City, you still have the chance.

At Saturday night's performance, rodeo queen will be crowned, winners in the calf dressing contest will compete and contestants in the rodeo events will wrap up the show.

Sponsored by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, the AJRA Rodeo is the first of its kind to be held in Colorado City, according to Larry Winders, Chamber manager.

Wednesday night the rodeo opened performances with two local teams--one representing the Jaycees and the other from the Mitchell and Scurry County Entomology team--competing in the calf dressing contest.

Racing against the clock, a team of three contestants attempt to dress a calf in a pair of bloomers.

The team dressing the calf in the fastest time each evening will compete Saturday night for the grand prize.

Tonight (Thursday) the team of Bill Dockrey, Russell Hertenberger and Reddog (Mike) Ratliff will go up against a team comprised of Don Bennett, Stan Shawn and James Campbell. Both teams represent the Jaycees.

Also competing tonight will be Leah Grace Swann, Linda Goslin and Kathy Bowers, who are sponsored by Bill Woods and Bobby Bowers.

Friday night, local churches will compete in the contest. Two teams will be competing from First Christian Church, one team from Church of Christ, one team from Calvary Baptist Church and one team from First Baptist Church. A team from the Westbrook Lions Club will also be competing Friday night.

Besides the calf dressing contest--which should get underway at 8 p.m. each evening--AJRA entrants between the ages of 12-19 will compete in calf roping, barrel racing, break away roping, poles, tie down roping, bareback riding, ribbon roping and bull riding.

Some 320 entrants are competing in the rodeo, according to Mrs. L. L. McFadden, of Rankin, who is secretary of the rodeo.

After about a month of strenuous ticket selling, results will be revealed Saturday night when the rodeo queen is announced.

Five contestants are vying for the rodeo queen title.

Queen will be selected based 50 per cent on ticket sales, 10 per cent on appearance, 20 per cent on personality and 20 per cent for showmanship.

Judges for rodeo queen will be from out of town.

The rodeo queen contest is being sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Entered in the contest are Christi Swann, sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi; Jana Bruce, sponsored by the B&PW; Tracy Rees, sponsored by the Optimist Club; Jana Shackelford, sponsored by the Kiwanias and Marjori Maddox, sponsored by the Noon Day Lions.

Rodeo arena directors are Joe Anderson and Squirrely Northcutt. Bill McGuire and Northcutt are serving as judges for the various events.

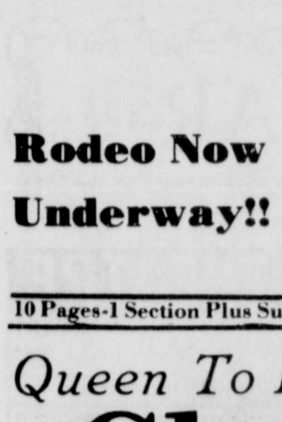

Flagman is Stan Hackfeld and barrier judge is Bimbo Stewart. Betty Wilson is timekeeper and announcer is Marv Pierce.

Tickets to the rodeo can be purchased at the gate of the arena, from any Chamber member, any rodeo queen contestant or at the Chamber office.

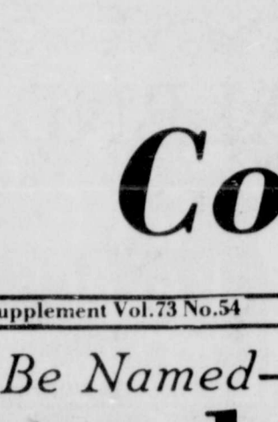

The rodeo begins performances at 7 p.m. at the Western Riding Club Arena on W. Hwy. 80 and concludes when the events have been run.

Larry Blassingame, a Chamber director, noted that the spectator rodeo should conclude by 10:30 or 11 p.m. each evening.

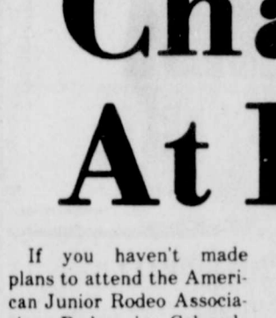

Cost of tickets is $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12 years old.

9,555 Visit State Park

Visitors to Lake Colorado City State Park over the July 4th holiday was down this year as compared to last year.

According to Tom Carlock, park ranger, 9,555 vehicles visited the park from Saturday until Monday. Last year, 10,555 went to the park, but there was not limited visitation as there is this year.

Car Plunges Over Rail

Eddy Dale Drost, 17, of Midland became the state's 28th holiday traffic fatality and Mitchell County's first for 1978 when the car he was driving plunged over a guardrail near mile marker 215 on Interstate 20 Sunday.

At about 4:16 p.m. Sunday, on his way home to Midland, the youth lost control of his 1976 Pontiac, overcompensated, and crashed to his death on the access road below.

He died instantly of massive head injuries and was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Mary Lee Moore.

The car, driven by the Midland High School student, was "totally demolished," according to investigating officer, Highway Patrolman Jimmy Burson. It landed--with Drost still inside--upside down 20 feet below on the north side of the road.

Burson and Highway Patrolman Marvin Keenan were assisted at the scene by local law enforcement authorities and members of the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department who controlled leaking gas at the site of the wreck.

Sgt. Jimmy Roundtree and Patrolmen Greg Patterson and Don Cheek of the Colorado City Police Department were dispatched to the scene to help direct traffic. Also assisting at the scene was Police Chief Fred McWhorter and Assistant Police Chief Jerry Cowin.

Deputy Sheriff Mike Stutts and Reserve Officer Bimbo Stewart assisted along with the following members of the Volunteer Fire Department: Jack Green, Carl Guelker, Walter Rayburn, Ernest Castillo, Dale Mathis, Kenneth Golden, John Morgan, Lon Robertson, Lane Beatty, Pat McKinney, David Myers, Wendell Bryant, Eddie Mitchell and Mike Mikle.

Funeral arrangements were made by Ellis Funeral Home of Midland.

Interviews Are Set For Saturday

Saturday members of the Colorado City Independent School Board will begin interviewing prospects to fill the superintendent of schools position to be vacated by Lloyd McKee.

McKee has accepted the position of Deputy Superintendent of the Ector County Independent District in Odessa.

Monday night school board members met in a special session to review applications for the position of superintendent.

After screening the applications, the board decided to conduct interviews Saturday.

According to McKee, the board has set July 20 as the deadline for filling the slot.

Town Talk

By Mac McKinnon

Weeds in the alley seem to be a problem in the city this summer.

A number of people apparently believe maintenance of alleys is the responsibility of the city. However, that is not true. It's up to local residents to keep their own alleys cleaned up.

The Chamber of Commerce has become concerned about the appearance of the town and the board in a recent meeting decided on a course of action.

Instead of tackling more than can be handled by declaring a clean-up situation for the whole town, it was decided that the Chamber would take on one project at a time, in addition to appealing to everyone to do their best to keep their property in neat order.

The one project decided on by the Chamber board is to try and do something about getting rid of the old Guitar Gin on the west side of town.

The gin hasn't been used in a number of years. Getting rid of it won't be easy however. In addition to taking care of the necessary legal problems such as clearing it with the owners, the problem of how to tear the building down is a problem in itself.

The building has thick concrete walls and the whole structure is nothing but a mass of concrete, probably one of the reasons nothing has already been done about it.

The Colorado City Industrial Team last week met with a representative of the Texas Industrial Commission. It is hoped that the meeting will lead to getting industrial prospects here.

One of the items Colorado City needs, the representative said, is to get options on land and buildings so that when an industrial prospect comes here, he can know what is available and the definite costs.

Efforts are to be made by the Industrial Team in the next few months to get this type of information together.

• • •

There has been much talk recently about cleaning up our town. Obviously, there are many things we can do to make our town more attractive.

However, it should be noted that Colorado City has come a long way in the past seven years toward putting up a better appearance and making it a better place to live and visit.

In addition to many new businesses and services available, consider the many old buildings that have been torn down or restored, the number of eyesores that have been done away with and the increase in new buildings here.

It is indeed a good place to live and things are continually getting better. Naturally there are problems, but progress doesn't come without headaches.

It would seem we're a step ahead of other towns this size.

Mrs. J. W. Randle last week called my attention to some more publicity that Colorado City has received, this time once again due to Jimmy Kelley's Cultured Catfish farm at Lake Colorado City.

In an article in Kiplinger's Changing Times magazine, it was reported that "Researchers have found that some fish thrive in the warm and unpolluted water discharged from fossil-fueled generating plants."

The article goes on to say that, "In Colorado City, Tex., a company called Cultured Catfish has found that catfish at the generating plant grow to market size in three to four months, compared with as much as 18 months elsewhere."

Chamber Fly-In Termed Success

Over 100 aircraft zoomed into the Annual Chamber of Commerce July 4th Fly-In Tuesday while some 1,500 spectators watched.

Despite a downpour of rain Monday night, activities carried on as scheduled, although the Fly-In did get a late start.

Traditionally, fly-ins were served breakfast free by the Chamber of Commerce at the new jet air strip. Some 169 fly-ins were served breakfast while 110 customers joined in the meal.

During the morning, Lou Sparks and his sky diving team of eight parachuted from the sky, entertaining the crowd on hand.

But, the dazzler came when the aerial acrobatics hit the sky, stunning spectators with artful tricks.

Three contests were held for visiting pilots during the day. Taking first in the spot landing contest was J. O. Dockrey, Jr. of Colorado City.

Mike Sharp of Big Spring netted first place in the balloon busting contest while Johannas Eike of Big Spring won the flour sack bombing contest when he only missed the target by four feet.

Carol Cooper Johnson of Little Rock Arkansas, formerly of Colorado City, received the prize for flying the longest distance.

A 1970 Lark, owned by Louis Grimes of Sweetwater, was pegged the most unusual plane. It is one of 18 models built.

A 1941 Taylorcraft was chalked up as the oldest airplane in attendance. It is owned by James Gesin of Sweetwater.

Roger Von Bramer, 69 years old, was named the oldest pilot. He flew in from Jal, N.M. Paul Kirk of Sweetwater was the youngest pilot at 18 years old.

More than 210 persons caught an overhead view of Mitchell County by taking advantage of the plane rides offered at the Fly-In.

Credited as a "tremendous success" by Chamber officials, plans are already underway for the 1979 July 4th Fly-In.

Jerry Putman, Chamber president, noted that the Chamber appreciated all the assistance offered in staging the Fly-In, "especially Lloyd Ledbetter and J. O. Dockrey Jr." who made the arrangements.

SOME CONFUSION resulted Monday morning when two stop signs were found by motorists at the corner of Hickory and 2nd Streets. According to reports, the street light at the intersection was not working and the Colorado City Police Department called Julian Mendoza, head of city maintenance, at 1:30 a.m. to erect stop signs at the intersection. Sometime during the early morning, someone repaired the street light--reports were not clear as to who made the repairs--but the stop signs were left standing, at least for awhile. In the meantime, motorists didn't know whether to abide by the street light or the stop sign, so most cautiously abided by both.

Business & Professional Women Conduct Candlelight Installation Ceremony For New Year's Officers

Club officers for the upcoming 1978-79 year of the Colorado City Business and Professional Women were installed in an impressive ceremony Thursday evening, June 29, in the Charles C. Thompson Room of the City National Bank.

Margaret Ann Conaway served as the Installing Officer. The officers to be installed were seated in a semi-circle with a 7-branch brass candelabrum placed in front of them. The tapers were in colors of green, purple, orange, red, blue and white, appropriate to their respective office. As each name was called she lit her candle after she was charged with the duties of her office.

The installing officer lit the yellow candle for the club. A large yellow bow of ribbon was tied on to the candelabrum. Pale yellow flowers with greenery were entwined around it.

At the conclusion, the Federation Pledge was recited in unison.

Officers installed were: Mildred Free, president; Jackie Dennis, 1st vice president; Virginia Dearen, 2nd vice president; Fern Thompson, corresponding secretary; Katy Byrd, recording secretary; and Nell Shackelford, treasurer.

Mrs. Margaret Oyler served as chairperson. Nelda Garrett gave the welcome and Erdine Morgan spoke the invocation. Judy Winkle led the pledge of allegiance.

Nell Shackelford presented a special vocal rendition of "One Day at a Time," accompanied by Mrs. Frances Ranne at the piano.

Refreshments of punch, cookies, mints, and nuts were served. An ecru tablecloth of lace over yellow was centered with an arrangement of yellow flowers.

Registration table was covered with a white cloth with lace trim. Yellow flowers were placed on the table in a white bud vase. Another table was draped with the green club cloth. The club scrapbook was placed on it for members to look through. This book won 2nd place at the State B&PW Convention in Galvestion last weekend.

Members present included Ida Miles, Mildred Boyd, Erdine Morgan, Mary Hickman, Judy Winkle, Ida Kirschbaum, Etta Jones, Sallie Rogers, Mary Womack, Nelda Garrett, Wilma Womack, Molly Bruce, Shirley DeLaney, Sue Womack, Velma Mosely, Pearl Watson, Margaret Oyler, Margaret Ann Conaway, Mildred Free, Jackie Dennis, Virginia Dearen, Katy Byrd, Fern Thompson and Nell Shackelford.

Double Wedding Ceremony Unites Rena Neutzler, John Hendricks And Judy Neutzler, James Cook

Miss Rena Gaye Neutzler and John William Hendricks, and Miss Judy Reanell Neutzler and James Gordon Cook were united in marriage in a double wedding ceremony on Saturday, June 10, 1978 at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe. The Rev. Larry Neutzler officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Neutzler of Maple and the nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bruce of Loraine. Hendricks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hendricks of Los Fresnos. Cook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cook of Muleshoe and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith of the Buford community.

The church was decorated with spiral candelabras featuring yellow tapers, leather leaf, pitisporum, plumosia and baby's breath. They were accented with yellow and apricot satin bows. The focal point was an arch, covered with leather leaf, plumosia, baby's breath, and accented with apricot and yellow bows and streamers.

Musical selections were presented by Organists, Rowland Nitcher, and Doyleen Terrell. "You're Beginning a Journey" and "Virtuous Woman" were sung by Rick Cox. "Follow Me" was sung by Zaphryn Thornton, and "You're a Gift" was sung by Vicki Neutzler.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, Miss Rena Neutzler wore a gown of white organza with a moulded bodice which featured a Queen Anne neckline. Venise valentine lace completely encircled the neckline and covered the center front bodice. Seed pearls were delicately sprinkled on the bodice. The Bishop sleeves had a Venise lace motif at the shoulders and were encircled with a row of valentine lace just below the motif. The wide ruffled cuff was also covered with the lace motif. The empire waist flowed to a natural waistline in back and formed a self fabric bow which swept to a chapel length train. A double row of the Venise lace formed a center panel down the front of the gown and encircled the skirt forming a flounce hemline. Her veil featured a camelot capulet crown covered in Venise lace motifs. The walking length veil was completely edged in scalloped valentine lace and was sprinkled with lace motifs.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, Miss Judy Neutzler wore a white sataglow gown with a moulded bodice featuring a high neckline with a cameo insert. Silk Venise lace outlined the neckline and English net yoke, and covered the center front of the gown. Seed pearls were sprinkled over the front bodice. The Bishop sleeves featured a silk Venise lace motif at the shoulder and elbow. The wide ruffled cuff was edged in silk Venise lace. The empire waistline was accented with silk lace motifs, and flowed to a natural waistline in back with self fabric bow which swept to a chapel length train. A silk Venise lace motif was placed in the center of the skirt with a single row of the lace scalloped across the front of the skirt, encircling it, making a flounce effect at the hemline. Her cathedral length veiling was caught to a Camelot capulet cap which was covered in silk Venise lace. The entire veil was edged in the lace with motifs being sprinkled over the veiling.

Both of the brides carried cascade bouquets of apricot tea mums, yellow freesia, apricot and yellow miniature daisies with baby's breath, accented with satin bows and streamers.

Miss Rena Neutzler was attended by Miss Ronda Whitfield, maid of honor of Levelland, Vicki Neutzler of Fort Worth and Kathy Wittner of Plainview. Flower girl was Robyn Nitcher. Miss Judy Neutzler was attended by Judy Lynn Morgan, maid of honor of Maple, Jan Rawden of Brownfield and Danita Adair of Wellman. Flower girl was Becky Bocham.

The bridesmaids wore floor length floral gowns of apricot and yellow. They carried nosegays of apricot poppies, yellow daisies, and baby's breath accented with apricot and yellow bows and streamers. The flower girls wore short yellow dresses with puffed sleeves and carried baskets trimmed in silk flowers with apricot and yellow love knots.

Serving Hendricks as best man was Jimmy Dale Hendricks of Los Fresnos, Texas. Groomsmen were Rick Cox and Roy Meadows, both of Fort Worth. Serving Cook as best man was Robby Young, of Muleshoe. Groomsmen were Russell Treider and Joe Don Prather, both of Muleshoe. Ushers were David Cook of Dallas, Wesley Cook of Muleshoe and Jerry Waltrip and Danny Young of Maple.

The mother of the brides wore a floor length yellow gown covered by a chiffon cape. Mrs. Cook wore a floor length blue gown and Mrs. Hendricks was attired in a floor length peach gown.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The serving table featured arrangements of yellow carnations, apricot and yellow daisies, apricot statice, eucalyptus, leather leaf, baby's breath and yellow tapers. These arrangements flanked each side of the crystal punch bowl. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow roses, and was topped by Satin Bells over two doves. The refreshment were served to the guests by Gerry Furgeson, Margie Davis, Nancy Wittner, Ruby Waltrip, and Pearl Williams. The guests were registered by Dagmar Poteet.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks took a honeymoon trip to South Padre Island after which their home will be in Fort Worth. For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., Mrs. Cook chose a rose pink street length dress. Mr. and Mrs. Cook will make their home at Lazbuddie upon their return.

Out of town guests included Cook's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith of Buford; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thompson and Jana of Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bruce and Leslie and Greg of Loraine.

Brackett, Mendenhall Exchange Double Ring Wedding Vows

The chapel of the First Presbyterian Church in Midland was the setting for the double ring wedding ceremony at 8 p.m. Friday for Becky Michel Brackett and Allen Lee Mendenhall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brackett of 1501 W. Illinois St., and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mendenhall of Cloverdale Rd., Midland.

Dr. Robert B. Smith, pastor, officiated. Richard Poer was organist.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peausetta with Alencon and Venise lace. The molded raised-waisted bodice was enhanced by a wedding band neckline and long tapered sleeves and held a full appliqued skirt with lace edging which swept into a chapel train. A Juliet cap with large florets of Venise lace held a walking-length veil.

The maid of honor was Pamela Brackett, sister of the bride. D'Dee Terrell and Karen Jane Newman were bridesmaids.

Richard Mathews was best man, and Curtis Routh and Skeet Mitchell were groomsmen. The ushers were Brett Brackett, brother of the bride and Toby Routh.

The recetion was held in the home of the bride's parents before the couple left on a trip to Cloudcroft, N.M. They will reside at 608 Watson St., Apartment D, Midland.

The groom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells of Loraine. The Wells with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Robinson and children of Aspermont attended the wedding.

World Hunger Studied

Baptist Women of the First Baptist Church, Loraine met at the church at 9:30 a.m. Monday for a lesson from Royal Service Magazine.

Mrs. Clifton Henderson directed the program which opened with group singing, Count Your Blessings.

Mrs. Charlie Harris discussed the subject "Into your garbage can." This story told of a woman who cleaned out her refrigerator throwing out several left overs of food, then dreams of the many hungry people in the world who came to her door asking for permission to get it from the garbage as they were starving.

Scriptures were read from Luke, Deuteronomy, Matthew and other places in the Bible dealing with God's message to Christian people to help those who are hungry and in need.

Mrs. Lynne Compton discussed the subject "Who's is Doing What." She told that the government was providing help for the hungry in our own nations and sending aid to foreign nations, and Mrs. Clara Butler talked on the subject "Where Do I Fit In."

She stated that we as Christians should learn about the needs, then give, and most of all to pray, and pray for the missionaries in those countries for God to give them wisdom, and for them to be led by the Holy Spirit for their work.

She also stressed that we must get the burden for others in the world and send our money and pray for help for these starving people of the world.

Mrs. Henderson read minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Charlie Harris gave the treasurer's report.

Present were Mmes. Henderson, Crutcher, H. C. Taylor, Harris, Bernice Hallmark, Frances Porter, Butler, Pauline Smiley, H. G. Denson, Compton and Baird.

BOY SCOUTS from Loraine Troop #124 recently attended a week-long camp at the Buffalo Scout Ranch located approximately 7 miles south of Toyahvale. They enjoyed hiking, living out in the open, exploring, swimming, and horseback riding at the camp as well as getting back to nature. The boys are, left to right: (standing) Sammy Castro, Ben Esquivel, Manuel Vasquez, Vernon Stutts, Dale Haltom, Shane Vallery and Scoutmaster Edgar Haltom; and (kneeling) Jimmy Collier, Richard Barnett, and Billy Don Jennings.

Scouts Return From Camp

Boy Scouts from Troop 124 in Loraine have just returned from a trip to the Davis Mountains. While there they camped in the open with trips backpacking, swimming, horseback riding, open fire cooking, singing and skits. Some rain came while they were there and drove them into their tents, but only for a short while.

Among the many things learned was no littering. If a boy was seen dropping litter anyone could pick up the litter and tag the boy dropping it and was entitled to a Coke courtesy of the boy guilty of dropping it.

On Friday night there was a ceremony where Scouts of proper rank were tapped into the Order of the Arrow. It was an impressive ceremony with Scouts attired in authentic Indian costumes. John McAdams was the only one from Loraine troop who achieved the Order of the Arrow.

Scouts attending the camp were Dell Haltom, Shane Vallery, Vernon Stutts, Jimmy Collier, Richard Barnett, Andra Rose, Billy Jennings, Sammy Castro, Manuel Vasquez, John McAdams and Ben Esquivel.

Scoutmaster, Edgar Haltom went with the group and all the scouts say they are anxious to return next year.

Look for this sign. It can help you save on energy costs in a big way.

Whether you're going to buy a new home or build one, you should know about E-OK. It means that the home has been thoroughly checked and certified as energy efficient by Texas Electric.

An E-OK home has more insulation, sealed windows, weatherstripped doors, and more efficient heating and cooling equipment. Living in an E-OK home means lower energy bills year round. And with the extra insulation, it's quieter, too.

Should you later decide to move, the lower energy bills from an E-OK home could help sell the home faster. Potential home buyers are increasingly concerned about what your bills have been.

Ask your builder about the added features of an E-OK home, or get your free E-OK booklet from Texas Electric. Just call us, or ask for the book on the comment section of your electric bill.

Honey Bees Boost Economy

Honey bees are economically important to man.

In the United States alone, about 5 million colonies annually produce about $100 million worth of honey and beeswax. In addition, bees also pollinate more than $2 billion worth of valuable agricultural crops.

Some of the crops that require, or at least benefit, from bee pollination are alfalfa, cotton, apple, cantaloupe, honeydew, watermelon, peach, pea, plum, cabbage, carrot, cucumber and onion.

Beekeepers often confront many problems such as waxmoths and American foulbroad, a bacterial disease of bees. These problems can be eliminated through proper management. However, the most serious problem in beekeeping is pesticides used in control of insect pests of agricultural crop.

Many pesticides are toxic to bees. Among the highly toxic and frequently used pesticides are Guthion, Carbaryl (Sevin), Malathion, Diazinon and Parathion.

However, with close cooperation between beekeepers and farmers, bee loss to pesticide poisoning can be minimized.

Farmers can help the beekeeper by applying his pesticides when bees are not working the plants being treated. Treat plants before or after flowering, at dusk or at a time of day when bees are not visiting the plants. Most important, the farmer should notify the beekeeper as soon as possible of his intentions. This will give the beekeeper an opportunity to protect his colonies.

The beekeeper can also take measures to protect his product. If possible, he should place his colonies away from fields routinely treated with pesticides.

Identify your hives by posting your name, address and phone number so farmers in your area can contact you in the event they apply pesticides.

If a field near your hives is to be treated with pesticide, certain precaution should be taken to reduce the loss of bees. Hives can be covered with wet burlap for a day or more and the bees will not suffer from a lack of air or water. When doing this, be sure to cover hives at night when most of the bees are in the hive and soak the burlap at least once every hour during the day.

Local Water Is 'Completely Safe'

Although some Colorado City residents may find local water a little distasteful, City Manager James Campbell assures that "it is completely safe."

Campbell explained that the Colorado City water system is "very technical."

Explaining that the water is tested regularly by the State Department of Health in Austin, Campbell said chemical content in the water is increasing.

Campbell said that the taste and odor in Colorado City water comes from the chemicals, but that it was not harmful. Samples of the water are sent monthly to the State Health Department in Austin for testing.

Results of a test administered by the State Health Department in January 1975 regarding chemical content in the water showed the following:

--Calcium content, 77 milligrams per liter.
--Sodium content, 142 milligrams per liter.
--Sulfate content, 272 milligrams per liter.
--Chloride content, 181 milligrams per liter.

Total hardness of the water tested at 337 milligrams per liter. Dissolved solids in the water was 840 milligrams per liter.

In November 1977, the health department conducted another test. The following figures were reported:

--Calcium content, 121 milligrams per liter.
--Sodium content, 344 milligrams per liter.
--Sulfate content, 637 milligrams per liter.
--Chloride content, 394 milligrams per liter.

The November test showed the hardness of the water at 602 milligrams per liter and dissolved solids were 1,640 milligrams per liter.

Campbell said that the main reason for the increase of chemical content in the water is the restrictions on the water shed, located in the northwest section of Mitchell County.

Because of conservation practices by farmers and ranchers, Campbell said that water run-off from the water shed is cut down.

Because Colorado City does not receive much rainfall, Campbell explained that there is "a lot of sedimentation in the lake."

Lake Colorado City was made in 1949, Campbell said, and "every year the lake decreases in depth."

Thus, with the decrease of lake level, the chemicals which have settled to the bottom of the lake become more evident in the water.

To remove some of the taste and odor in the water, activated carbon is added at the treatment plant.

Campbell said that the city has begun using the activated carbon this month. The carbon has been used in the past and is most necessary in the summer months.

During the summer, Campbell explained, three million gallons of water are used per day by customers in the Colorado City system.

An average flow is one million gallons per day, he added.

"Our water plant is a two million gallon plant but we've been trying to operate with three million," Campbell said. "It isn't treated as well as it should be."

But taste and odor aren't the only problems some find with Colorado City water.

Some have complained of solid particles which flow through facets.

Campbell explained that this problem comes from the pipes in the system.

In 1884, water pipes were installed in Colorado City and Campbell said that some of those same pipes are still being used.

"The solution is to replace the pipes," said Campbell.

But replacing the entire system is a lengthy and expensive process, he explained.

Within the past two months, the city has replaced between 3,000-4,000 feet of water lines.

"We help a lot of people each year, but we have a long waiting list," said Campbell.

Nine out of 10 calls received by Campbell regarding water problems are not because of the taste or the particals, he noted.

Rather, water pressure is the problem.

"When we can increase the lines with bigger pipes, water pressure will increase," he said.

Campbell said that the city will continue to work on the water problems in Colorado City--especially replacing pipes--but "it's a never ending process," he said.

Persons experiencing difficulties with the city water should contact Campbell at City Hall, he noted.

An Editorial

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The views expressed in this column are those of Billy Rutherford and do not necessarily reflect the feelings of this newspaper. Comments on "Comment" are welcome.)

Contrary to what little city fellows might think, cows don't give milk. A dairy farmer goes out to a barn twice a day and takes it. And grocery stores don't manufacture corn or green beans or any other vegetables. A farmer goes out into the field, works and tills the soil and if he is lucky enough to have decent weather, produces a crop. Then the consumer finds that crop in a can at the store.

But asks those city folks where hamburgers come from and they will be quick to answer you. We import it. In case you didn't know President Carter has increased the amount of foreign beef allowed into this country by 15 per cent or about 200 million additional pounds this year.

The President said the action will save the consumer $500 million this year and won't hurt American cattlemen. Most of the beef producers I know are having a hard time applying this presidential economic theory. They can't figure how we are going to import beef, decrease price, save the consumer money and not end up injured in the federal free for all.

I'm having trouble trying to figure the logic behind all of this myself. I've always heard that the only thing logical about the federal government is that it isn't very logical. And that certainly seems to be the case here. You see, there is no shortage of beef. It's just that for the first time in years there isn't a surplus. Anyone can buy a truck load of beef anytime he wants to. The problem is that the shoe has been placed on the other foot as far as the chain stores and packers are concerned. For the first time in four years, these people are being forced to pay a fair price for beef.

The President's own people in the Department of Agriculture said right after the import announcement that the additional foreign beef would reduce the price of hamburger to the consumer by about three cents a pound. Carter said that it would reduce the price by five or six cents a pound. Maybe someone was adding when he ought to have been subtracting.

One of my farming friends said this was a good sign that the Federal Government "just doesn't care" about what happens to the American farmer. "If they did," he said, "Then they would have done something in 1975 when our profits were in the red." That would have been the time to cut the importing of foreign beef. But I can't remember hearing a rattle out of the federal government or consumers or even the beef producers when prices were low.

A farmer is a capitalist that understands hard work and lean years. He knows that his system works on supply and demand. He is willing to accept the lean years with the faith that he can make a recovery during those better years.

And for all of that faith in free enterprise we have rewarded him with a grain embargo by Nixon, a ceiling price by Ford and now imports by Carter.

The price of beef has been surpressed for several years by surpluses, consumer boycotts and government controls. Herd reductions have finally raised the prices to the point where the producer can make a profit again. This is just good basic free enterprise working.

Many beef producers across this nation are saying that they are going to meet this new increased foreign competition by continued production cutbacks. This will result in escalating prices because down the line there will be less beef.

I don't understand why the federal government can't stay out of the farmers field. If those people can't do something to help farmers why do they insist on kicking them in the pants? Don't they understand that if you keep taking water out of a reservoir and cover it when it rains, it's going to run out of water sooner or later.

This country has depended on farmers since its inception over 200 years ago. Now farmers are beginning to ask if they can depend on this country. I hope they can because I feel that if we continue to drive farmers out of farming, eating is going to be the number one problem in this land.

Local Group Constructs Building In La Jitas

It's hard to believe that someone would look forward to coming to Colorado City to escape from the intense summer sun.

But, when you're spending your days in 115° sweltering heat, Colorado City might seem like an oasis.

At least that's the case of a group of nine Colorado City residents who went to La Jitas, Mexico, recently.

Rev. Jim Hill, Don Banta, Wilford Oyler, Donna McWhorter, Janice Wood, Connie and Stoney Stone and Gary and Shiela Redwine jaunted to La Jitas a couple of weeks ago, but it wasn't to bask in the sun.

Rather, it was to build a community building for the residents of La Jitas.

June 18, three of the nine travelers left Colorado City for La Jitas. Returning June 28, the other six members of the group visited La Jitas at various times.

Beginning as a project between a few local churches, the goodwill effort to construct a community building in La Jitas has grown to encompass all of Colorado City.

During the 10 day stay in La Jitas, the group managed to construct the community building, which will be used as a school in the fall.

"There was nothing done when we arrived," said Mrs. Wood, "but we left it nearly completed."

She noted that the people of La Jitas assisted in the work.

"They were cordial and so delighted to have a school building," she said.

While the men of the group worked on constructing the building, the women helped the children and women of the community, teaching hygiene practices.

And, according to Mrs. Wood, the people of La Jitas accepted the Colorado City travelers quite readily.

"The Mexican men came in droves to help," noted Mrs. Wood.

Did the group encounter any problems during the stay?

Only the heat proved bothersome, Mrs. Wood said.

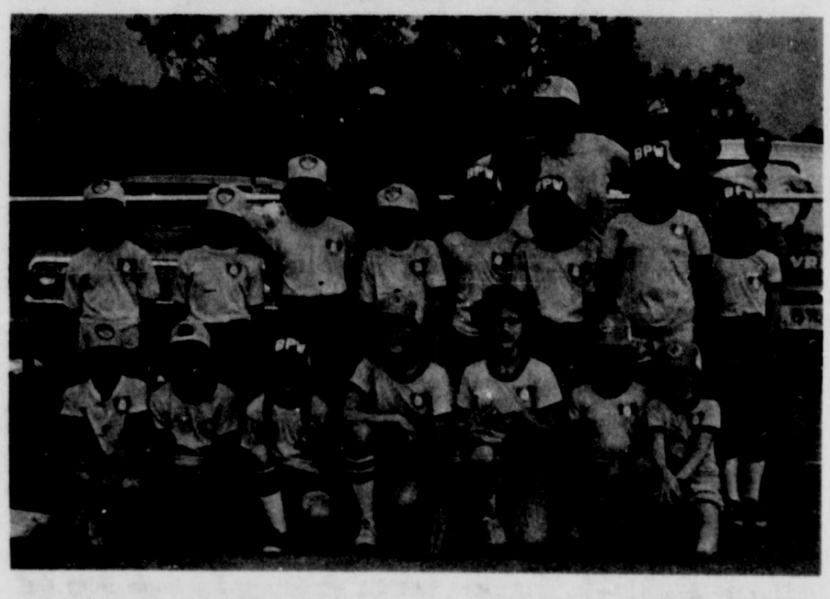

"Ice was our big problem...it cost 10c a pound and we had to drive 18 or 20 miles to get it," she said.

Before September rolls around and the school opens, another Colorado City group plans to troop to La Jitas to put finishing touches on the community building.

A teacher for the school will be supplied by the Mexican government, Mrs. Wood explained.

The community building has a concrete floor and foundation. The walls are made of adobe and the roof is sheet metal. There are eight windows and two doors.

With the building almost completed, the dream of some 20 children attending school for the first time will become reality.

Exhibit To Open Saturday

"Mini-World of Oil: Petroleum on Postage Stamps" is the theme of a special exhibit at the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Midland, that will open Saturday, July 8, for a two-month vacation time showing.

A noted private collection of almost 100 album pages shows representative postage stamps dealing with many aspects of the petroleum industry. More than 1,800 such stamps have been issued by some 130 member-nations of the Universal Postal Union.

The collection is owned by G. William Schall, St. Louis, M., a member of Petroleum Philatelic Society International; it has been loaned to the Midland museum as the Society's first member-sponsored exhibition.

PETROPHIL, whose members specialize in collecting oil-related stamps, was organized in 1974 and has some 300 members worldwide. Texas, with 29 members, has more than any other state.

The PETROPHIL stamps will be accompanied by background information on the countries represented and on the stamps themselves.

A special audio-visual presentation, developed by the museum, will point out things to look for on the stamps.

Persons interested in knowing more about collecting petroleum-related stamps can write to: PETROPHIL, 2808 Baylor Street, Bakersfield, California 93305.

Police News

Colorado City Police Department received a call June 28 that a car had been stolen.

About 2:53 a.m. officers located the car which was allegedly driven by a 16-year-old male from Corpus Christi.

He was taken into custody, placed in the juvenile cell of Mitchell County Jail and released to the custody of his parents. No charges will be filed.

Arrested for solicitation without a permit in Mitchell County were four encyclopedia sales representatives. The four women were booked about 10 p.m. June 28 and each posted $38.50 bond.

According to Police Chief Fred McWhorter anyone wishing to sell door-to-door in Mitchell County must obtain a permit from City Hall.

Loraine Downs Rate Increase

At Monday night's monthly meeting of the Loraine City Council, members voted to take no action on the proposed rate increase by Frontier Cable Television.

Dale Mathis, manager of Frontier, met with the council to propose a rate increase. The rate increase would amount to $1.50 over the present monthly rate.

A lengthy discussion preceded the decision of the council.

A piece of property called the "strip" was discussed by the council as to who owns the property.

Taxes have been paid annually for several years by an individual who holds no deed to the property.

The Council agreed to check further into the matter before making a decision as to the rightful owner of the property in question.

Delinquent water bills was another item of discussion. The Council voted to send out delinquent notices on all accounts now overdue. Water bills are due on the 10th of each month and delinquent notices will be sent out on the 15th.

If bills are not paid by the 20th of the month, water will be cut off, according to Mayor Vance Dickenson.

Other items on the agenda included payment of monthly bills, presentation of the financial statement and approval of Dr. Bruce Johnson as Health Officer.

Tennis Tourney Is Set July 15-16

How would you like to play in perhaps your first tennis tournament?

Ladies of Mitchell County will have an opportunity to compete in a singles and doubles tournament scheduled to unfold July 15-16, according to Dave Redwine, tennis coach at Colorado High School.

The ladies tournament will be the first of a series of weekend tournaments to be held the remainder of the summer and during part of the fall.

Other tournaments will include a mixed doubles tournament, a men only tournament, handicap doubles and a husband and wife tournament.

According to Redwine, the "emphasis is on getting everyone out for a good time and some friendly competition in tennis."

All ages are invited to enter the July 15-16 tournament, noted Redwine.

"Hopefully, there will be enough entries for a beginner division and an intermediate division," said Redwine, explaining there must be eight players for an event to form.

Entry fee is $4 per player for each event. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and consolation winners.

July 15 tournament play will begin at the Middle School tennis courts at 9 a.m. Finals will be played the afternoon of July 16.

Deadline for entry is July 12.

Interested persons should contact Redwine at 728-3978 or Kitten Arthur at 728-5013 or drop by the tennis courts any weekday morning.
