Scandal Marked By New Charges

ALLEGED SWINDLER IS CLAIMED VICTIM OF SECRET SERVICE

PARIS, Jan. 9—Open charges that Serge Stavisky, founder of the fallen Bayonne municipal pawnshop, was slain by secret service agents because he knew too much involving high police officials, were published today in the socialist Populaire and the communist Humanite.

Other opposition papers questioned the truth of the statement by authorities that Stavisky shot himself in the head when surrounded late yesterday near Chamonix.

Demonstration Called

The newspaper Action Francaise, calling for a huge demonstration before the chamber of deputies tonight said:

"Down with thieves—down with assassins."

Premier Chautemps lost no time in revamping his endangered cabinet as a result of the midnight resignation of Colonial Minister Albert Dalimier, accused by police of indirect implication in the Bayonne scandal.

He named Lucien Lamoreux, minister of labor, to replace Dalimier, Merchant Marine Minister Eugene Frot going to labor and Undersecretary William Bertrand of the ministry of the interior moving into Frot's position.

Thus, with Stavisky dead and Dalimier out of the cabinet with a "certificate of good conduct," Chautemps hoped parliamentary and public indignation would subside.

Quits Under Fire

Dalimier, said by investigators to have been quoted by Stavisky as advising insurance companies they could legally invest in concerns such as the Bayorne pawnshop, quit to enable Chautemps to face the chamber with clean hands.

Meanwhile, the reorganized cabinet was pressing measures to investigate the whole affair and punish the guilty.

Stavisky's death in a hospital at Chamonix early today complicated the investigation of the scandal growing out of the collapse of the bank and the resulting loss to investors of approximately $40,000,000.

Authorities believed that he was perhaps the only person who could have told all of the secrets of the far-reaching affair.

Lewis Douglas Not To Quit His Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Lewis Douglas, director of the budget, made clear today he intends to remain in his present office despite rumors that budgetary differences with President Roosevelt and a recent curtailment of his authorities might cause him to resign.

The president yesterday trimmed powers only recently handed to Douglas for checking on emergency expenditures. He modified a previous order, making budget estimates a prerequisite for emergency spending, to require in the future only weekly reports to the budget director.

FLYNN SUCCESSOR NAMED

AUSTIN, Jan. 9 (AP)—Charles H. Poe of Houston has been named state labor commissioner to succeed Jack Flynn, claimed by death. Poe was deputy commissioner under Flynn.

"Poultry Farm" On Byrd Ship No More

ABOARD ADMIRAL BYRD'S FLAGSHIP EN ROUTE TO LITTLE AMERICA, Jan. 9—(Via Mackay Radio) (AP)—The first Antarctic "poultry farm," stocked aboard the flagship of the Byrd expedition, is no more.

The death of Knake Pete, a red rooster, yesterday, was the end of an original flock of six hens and two roosters. All had disappeared by the time the ship reached Easter island—either because they were slain by dogs or because they left ship at the island.

Only the three cows and Iceberg, a bull calf born on ship, survived of the expedition's livestock as the vessel moved toward its destination through heavy fog today.

NON-STOP HOP IS PLANNED

SIX GIANT NAVAL SEA PLANES WILL HEAD FOR HONOLULU

(By The Associated Press)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 9—Off for a hop to San Francisco and then a non-stop mass flight to Honolulu, six giant navy sea planes leave here today with the commander-in-chief of the United States fleet as a passenger.

Admiral David F. Sellers will accompany the squadron only to San Francisco, aboard the plane of Lieut. Commander Kneffler McGinnis, in charge of the flight. The start of the hop was set for 8 a. m. (P. S. T.).

Flight Set Thursday

Commander McGinnis said the 2,400-mile flight from San Francisco to Honolulu, the first by any aircraft in winter and the longest hop attempted by a seaplane squadron, may start Thursday.

At San Francisco, Lieut. E. W. Stephens, navy meteorologist, declared that, considering present observations, "the sooner they get off the better." He said observations indicated favorable flying conditions for the next three days.

Six navy vessels, spaced at 300-mile intervals have been ordered to position along the route. Each plane will carry a food supply sufficient for several days and will be equipped with a collapsible rubber boat.

Aboard the planes for the long hop will be six officers, and 22 men.

Ickes Appeals For Low Interest Rates

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Secretary Ickes, oil administrator, appealed today to banks and loan companies in the East Texas oil field area to exact "reasonable interest charges."

The appeal was made, Ickes said, as the result of information received by him and which he is having investigated, that "exorbitant rates of interest" charged by loan companies and banks in the area were forcing violations of oil production curtailment orders in preventing the financing of improvements which would afford much employment.

Shannon Ready To Serve His Sentence

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 9. (AP)—R. G. "Boss" Shannon, 54-year-old Paradise, Texas, farmer who was convicted last year in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping case, presented himself at the United States Marshal's office here today. He has been free on bond under a life sentence.

Without bitterness, the grizzled Texan said he was ready to be taken to Leavenworth penitentiary, where Harvey Bailey, Albert Bates and George Kelly, also convicted in the case, are imprisoned.

LOW SCALE IS TO CONTINUE SIX MONTHS

EXECUTIVE ORDER OF PRESIDENT IS BASED ON LIVING COSTS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Roosevelt today by executive order continued the 15 per cent reduction of pay of federal employes for another six months.

In his budget message, the president asked that the authority to cut be changed from 15 to 10 per cent, thus—congress willing—assuring restoration of one-third of the pay cut beginning July 1, the start of the fiscal year.

Living Costs Studied

The president acted today upon the findings of the department of labor on the local cost of living, as provided by law.

Two sets of findings were given. The first, based on the cost of living for families of wage earners and lower salaried workers in 32 cities, showed the average cost of living for this group in the last half of 1923 was 21.1 below the average of the base period of December, 1927, to June, 1928.

The second set of findings, based on a special study of the cost of living of government employes in Washington, showed a decline in the cost of living during the past three months of 1.6 per cent.

"In view of the above," said a White House statement, "and because the law provides for index figures covering all parts of the country, it is necessary to continue the present scale until June 30, 1934."

NATIONALISTS SAY FOOCHOW DOOMED

NANKING, China, Jan. 9 (AP)—National government forces, in a sweeping advance over Fukien province rebels, fought their way today within 25 miles of Foochow, capital of the province, Nanking military leaders claimed.

All of the rebel chiefs were in flight, it was said, with the exception of General Tsai Ting-Kai, commander of the 19th route army and chairman of the Fukien military council.

Thus, Nanking sources reported the general was left alone to direct the defense of the capital.

On the basis of these reported developments national government leaders predicted the early overthrow of the revolutionary movement centered in Foochow.

Mexico Population Set At 16,552,722

MEXICO, D. F., Jan. 9. (AP)—The population of Mexico is 16,552,722, the department of national economy announced today in reporting final revised figures of the 1930 census.

Women slightly outnumber men by 8,433,718 to 8,119,004.

PERPETUATION OF McGUFFEY'S HOME SOUGHT BY FORD

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 9 (AP)—Henry Ford is interested in perpetuating the memory of the birthplace of William Holmes McGuffey, author of the McGuffey readers of public school fame.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Blayney, the latter a second cousin of McGuffey's, disclosed last night that Ford visited the old Holmes homestead in West Finley township, 16 miles west of Washington, last Friday, and now has an option on the place. The Blayneys own, and live on, the farm.

The automobile king has many manuscripts and first editions of the McGuffey readers.

The house in which the author was born is now crumbling in ruins, but most of its timbers remain intact and the place could easily be reconstructed in its original form, observers say.

CATTLEMEN TO HOLD CONFAB

VARIED PROBLEMS TO BE TAKEN UP AT ALBUQUERQUE

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 9.—Approximately 1,500 livestock men from over the west and southwest are expected here for the American National Livestock association meeting which will open officially Thursday morning and close Friday afternoon. The executive committee and special committee of five will meet Wednesday afternoon and night.

Among the many questions to be discussed by the stockmen will be a processing tax on cattle and sheep, return of the public domain to the 11 western states, a tariff on beef imported from South America and creation of some system whereby the cattle industry might be controlled to obtain better prices.

Bitter Fight Looms

A bitter fight is expected over the processing tax on cattle with many delegations led by Wyoming, definitely opposed to the plan. Opponents of the tax point to the effect of the tax on hogs and declare it has not helped there and say it will not help the cattle and sheep industries.

The public lands problems, involving Secretary of Interior, Harold Ickes fence removal order, and the

Each member will be given a musket bearing the name of a soldier who fell in the war.

ONCE UPON A TIME A PRINCESS HAD A PURSE SO DEEP THERE WAS NO BOTTOM

BY KATHERINE BEEBE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Once upon a time a golden-haired princess, with blue eyes and long black lashes, had a purse so deep there was no bottom, and could buy all the beautiful dresses she wanted.

Though it sounds like a fairy tale, to Barbara Hutton Mdivani it is reality of a pretty prosaic nature.

The Princess Mdivani, who says she travels with "fewer than ten trunks," is particular about her wardrobe. She "has her own ideas," her friends say, and sometimes they clash a bit with those of the famous coutouriers whose labels mark the dresses.

Feminine eyes follow her eagerly here, as she flits a butterfly course of social engagements before she sails on her interrupted Honeymoon world cruise on Thursday, with or without Prince Alexis, as the case may be. A few have had peeps into her wardrobe closets.

When she arrived, Princess Mdivani wore a dark beige traveling dress, not too long, with green spots about the size of 25-cent pieces. There was a green belt, a green felt beret, peaked, with initials on the side to match those on her green bag, a luxurious mink coat, and there were brown crocodile oxfords.

At tea, with a San Francisco friend, Barbara Carpenter, she was in blue, with a velvet suit,

POLICE GUARD CONSIGNMENT AT CHICAGO

SHORTAGE HELD ACUTE IN METROPOLIS AS STRIKE CONTINUES

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Regular shipments of milk into Chicago by airplane were started today as the fourth day of the city's milk blockade brought an acute shortage to the metropolis.

The first shipment, 1,000 quarts, was consigned to the Wagner Dairy company. Officials announced additional consignment would arrive hourly. The Wagner company is one of the largest independent dealers in the city.

Police Guard Supply

Police were summoned to the Municipal airport to guard the milk en route to the company's plant.

Company officials declined to name the source of the milk, saying they wished to guard against violence which they said had brought about dumping of hundreds of thousands of gallons of milk, destruction of delivery trucks, halting of trains, sluggings and attacks on dairies.

Only small amounts of milk reached the city today, and the shortage had developed to such an extent that thousands of families were without any, and some hotels and restaurants were serving only small amounts of it.

Coffee Cream Scarce

Patrons of some restaurants received less than a half ounce of cream with their morning coffee. Hospitals and families with small children continued to receive emergency deliveries from the large dairies.

Charge of milk profiteering by brokers were made today by A. M. Krahl, public relations director of the Pure Milk association, organization of farmers that called the strike.

Texas Commission Gets Highway Bids

AUSTIN, Jan. 9 (AP)—Bids for additional emergency state highway construction were received by the Texas highway commission today, the cost to be borne from funds provided by the National Recovery act. Bids aggregating $1,146,939, were submitted yesterday, subject to approval of the federal government.

Counties sharing in work that would be authorized under yesterday's proposals are Jones, Fort Bend, Fisher, Kaufman Smith, Duval, Henderson, Harrison, Franklin, Hemphill, Randall, Bee, Nueces, Travis, Bandera, Jefferson, Montgomery, Lee, Baylor, Upshur, Bexar, Harris, Matagorda, Leon, Waller, Galveston, Chambers, Angelina, Real and Hutchinson.

Jury Being Chosen In Caldwell Trial

WAXAHACHIE, Jan. 9 (AP)—Selection of a jury was under way today in the trial of Currie Caldwell, accused of assault while masked or in disguise, in connection with the kidnaping of Robert Cerf, son of a Corsicana bank president, on Dec. 9, 1930.

The defense failed in efforts to prevent the trial. District Judge Tom Ball overruling a motion for a continuance on the ground that certain witnesses were absent, and another motion seeking to quash the indictment on the contention that the law under which Caldwell was charged was unconstitutional and that there had been duplicity.

Moratorium Law Of Minnesota Upheld

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Administration officials today hailed privately as a constitutional victory for the national recovery legislation a close but decisive supreme court decision upholding the validity of the Minnesota mortgage moratorium law.

By a vote of 5 to 4 the high tribunal ruled in favor of the first emergency statute passed either in the state or nation, defending in broad principle the right of a state to suspend contracts in an emergency.

Direct Relief Is Allotted Counties

APPROXIMATELY $1,000,000 MADE AVAILABLE IN STATE; LUBBOCK COUNTY WILL GET $3,000

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 9—Approximately $1,000,000 was available today for direct unemployment relief in the state, after the Fort Worth National bank, acting as fiscal agent for a committee of bankers charged with sale of state bonds, authorized for that purpose, had deposited to the credit of the state treasurer money realized from the securities.

The bankers have undertaken the sale of $2,750,000 in four per cent bonds authorized by the legislature. The federal government, promising to match each of Texas' dollars, advanced approximately $3,000,000 against the bond issue and before it can be expected to put up any more funds Texas will have to balance that amount.

Prior to authorization of Texas voters for the issuance of state bonds, not to exceed $20,000,000, the federal government had advanced all the money used by this state for relief.

Lubbock Gets $3,000

A cash allotment of $3,000 will be made to Lubbock county for direct unemployment relief, the Associated Press at Austin reported last night.

Although W. E. Inmon, county relief administrator, at noon today had not been informed through what channels the money would be distributed, it was believed generally that the Lubbock county board of welfare would have charge of the relief activities, as it did when federal money was used.

After Texas voted to issue bonds for relief purposes, the federal government withdrew its cash advances until the state would match federal dollars.

The county relief administrator at Fort Worth announced Monday that welfare workers would begin issuing grocery orders and the distribution of direct relief today immediately after official authorization was received.

CLAIMS FILES WERE BURNED

POSTAL EMPLOYE SAYS BROWN'S LETTERS WERE DESTROYED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A post-office employe told a senate investigating committee today that some of former Postmaster General Walter Brown's files, both official and personal, were burned a day or two before the Democratic administration came into office last March.

This testimony was offered upon resumption of the inquiry into air and ocean mail contracts by the committee headed by Senator Black (D-Ala).

"Ordered By Secretary"

James Maher, stenographer to Brown and half a dozen other postmasters general, asserted he had burned the correspondence a day or two before inauguration day at the direction of Brown's secretary.

Correspondence of preceding postmasters general was stored in the department, he said, but all of Brown's was burned except what he took with him.

Maher was the second witness at the opening of the inquiry into mail contract awards under the Hoover administration.

The first, James J. Dunn, a postal inspector, said an investigation of postoffice files had disclosed no correspondence to or from Brown

PATMAN FLAYS TAX SECRECY

PUBLICITY OF INCOME TAX RETURNS URGED BY TEXAS SOLON

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—Terming tax secrecy "a badge of fraud," Representative Patman (D-Tex) advocated publicity of income tax returns as the house ways and means committee resumed hearings today on the $270,000,000 tax bill.

Patman said billions of dollars would have saved the government had Charles E. Mitchell, Albert H. Wiggin and J. P. Morgan known their returns would have been available for public scrutiny.

Opposes Protection

"I think the government has lost billions of dollars because of the secret income tax system," Patman said. "I am oposed to protection of those who evade taxes. If we had publicity the losses would have been discovered three years earlier.

"The secret system will break any country in the world."

Hearings are to be concluded tomorrow. Chairman Doughton said he hoped the measure might be reported to the house by the end of next week.

The bill proposes a 4 per cent tax on all net income instead of the present 8 per cent above $4,000, increases surtax rates and imposes heavy taxes against personal holding companies.

Patman said he did not advocate blanket routine publicity of refunds, but that certainly they should be open to government officials and others desiring to see them.

DIES OF EXPOSURE

HOUSTON, Jan. 9. (AP)—Frank Clay, 48, negro, was found dead in his shack here today. Justice Campbell Overstreet returned an inquest verdict of "death due to exposure."

DR. TRUETT DECLARES USEFULNESS PARAMOUNT IN LIVES OF MEN TODAY

A life of service, of usefulness, is paramount today moreso than ever before because the world is now like one big neighborhood and has little use for small, petty men, Dr. Geo. W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, told members of Lubbock's four civic clubs in a joint meeting at the Hilton hotel today noon. Two hundred and fifty-five persons attended the luncheon.

"Civilization is a dismal failure if it loses sight of the truth that human life is the chiefest, highest asset of them all," the gray-haired, noted preacher said. "For no purpose is a country great when its men are small, petty and narrow. Justice, love and brotherhood stand out above all things . . . The big meaning of life is service . . . For 'By their fruits ye shall know them' . . . By service, men vindicate their faith . . . Great believers are great doers.

"A man can be a miser with life. . . He can hoard his talents to himself and refuse to let other people benefit by them or he may be a spendthrift and burn his life's properties up. . . Every man is a trustee, a debtor, an administrator.

"It is a crime for man to be small now. . . The whole world is one big neighborhood . . . Woe to any country when its leaders are little men. . . . These days call for big men . . . men who live their best every day and hour . . . The need all the

DEBATE ENDED UNTIL ORDER FROM FDR

NEW INSTRUCTIONS ON MAJOR LEGISLATION ARE AWAITED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Democratic congressional chieftains today relaxed after wielding their majority to shut off further debate critical of the administration pending the early delivery by President Roosevelt of fresh instructions on major legislation.

The senate was held in recess following the session's first attack from the floor upon the administration. The house was centered upon a liquor control bill to extend repeal to the national capital.

Messages Awaited

Leaders were informed the chief executive would transmit tomorrow special messages giving his views upon the debate-provoking St. Lawrence waterway treaty and proposing a new federal corporation, capitalized at $200,000,000 and with power to issue $2,000,000,000 in bonds. Designed to provide a government guarantee for farm credit bonds, these new agricultural refinancing issues would replace existing bonds.

A lull in senate activities yesterday, when no major measures were ready for consideration, provided opportunity for a series of Republican moves and leaders acted quickly to prevent another session of mere debate today.

Almost as an aftermath of an attack by Senator Robinson (R-Ind) accusing the president of being "culpable and not frank" in his budget message, and a quick defense by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, the Republican national committee renewed its criticism of the administration.

Economy Is Urged

TEXAS COLONIES ARE TO BE BUILT

FORT WORTH, Jan. 9. (AP)—Texas Rural Communities, inc., which obtained a state charter Saturday in Austin, will be organized Thursday in Austin to use $1,500,000 of CWA materials and labor in constructing several subsistence homestead colonies in Texas, Bertram E. Giesecke, vice chairman of the Texas Relief commission, announced today.

The idea is for colonies to be built near as many as six Texas cities. The newly-formed corporation will build the houses, which will be sold to persons who can give some assurance of being able to pay them out over a long period of years at a reasonable rate of interest.

First Shipment Of Canned Meats Made

First shipment of canned meats put up by the local unit of the federal meat canning work, was made late Monday, W. E. Inmon, administrator, said today. The shipment, 1,600 cans, went to Plainview.

Production of the local plant has been assigned to 25 counties in this area, Mr. Inmon said, on a basis of the number of people on relief rolls. Each relief committee has been notified of its quota. The Hale county organization was the first to call for its share.

New Colors, Style Appear In Dresses

BY MARY E. PLUMMER

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Tea gowns that will set the masculine heart a-whirl are being created in New York.

One designer, Jessie Franklin Turner, showed in her spring collection today several that are a feast for the lover of beautiful clothes. They are ultra-feminine, swishy and timeless.

One, a froth of chiffon, has a three-layer skirt of flesh, chartreuse and pale blue. It has flowing sleeves, a train, a silver lace bertha with a chartreuse taffeta bow at the front and a belt of magenta velvet.

Another has three chiffon layers throughout—orchid, pale pink and saffron yellow. The three colors show in narrow folds outlining the neck and in a triple ruffle on the trailing skirt. The gown has a ruffled vest of cream-colored lace.

A third tea-gown, one in the regal manner, is of dull crepe in east India red. Although one piece, it wraps around, and the sleeves are draped from the shoulder and then tight to the wrist.

Pins For Accent

Two pearl and gold pins give accent—one worn at the shoulder and one at the back. The gown has a panel train.

This designer pays no attention to fashion, except as the economic and social order inevitably affect the mode. She designs as she pleases—cutting, pinning and draping the fabric, with no previous drawing.

She creates her own tints in water color, and her dyers then reproduce them. One of her greens is from Botticellis paintings, and her blue from Lake Maggiori. Some of her hues were taken from wild flowers.

Her evening gowns, known for their elegance, are molded to the figure with intricate seaming. One is of eggplant chiffon—a dull purple shade with the sheen of gunmetal. With it goes a long coat of Persian brocade lined with pearl satin.

Her brocades she copied from Persian Maharajahs' coats — embroideries she found in the Far East. A Shamrock green chiffon gown with a cascaded skirt "waterfall" has a short Persian coat lined with red.

This designer's 1934 rule—and it will be the same each year—is, follow the lines of the figure.

CHIEF DEPUTY NAMED HERE

BEDFORD F. CARPENTER OKEHED FOR POST IN SHERIFF'S DEPT.

Realignment of personnel of the sheriff's department and an application for employment of an additional experienced deputy in the county clerk's office were approved by County Commissioners court Monday.

Bedford F. Carpenter, formerly of Slaton, was made chief deputy sheriff at salary of $175. Cap Moore and Baxter Honey, with salaries of $150 each per month, and Parum Posey at $125 per month, are other deputies in the local office. Moore served as chief deputy during 1933.

Paid From Fees

Deputies' salaries are paid out of fees of the office, as in other principal county offices. Sheriff Tom Abel said that his department had earned enough to pay him $5,500 during 1933 and that in addition he would return between $3,500 and $4,000 to the county in excess fees.

Mrs. Floe Swenson, who has had part time employment in County Clerk Ed D. Allen's office, will become a full-time deputy at a salary of $150 per month. Other deputy clerks are Louie Moore and Mrs. Edith Tipps.

Will Return Some

Mr. Allen said last night his office would return some money in excess fees to the county from the 1933 income.

Effective January 1, salaries of the sheriff, county attorney, county judge, tax collector, tax assessor, county clerk, and district court clerk were reduced $1,250 annually, by an act of the legislature. Previously the maximum salary allowed was $5,500.

The officeholder now can keep all fees, in excess of expenses and deputy hire, up to $3,500. After he has received that amount, he retains one-third of fees collected and the county receives two-thirds, until the maximum of $4,250 has been received.

WIFE WITH TOO MANY HUSBANDS IN A QUANDARY

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 9 (AP)—A young and attractive woman walked into the office of M. S. Simms, assistant county attorney, and asked to be sent to jail.

"I've got one too many husbands," she said. When she married No. 2 she had never divorced No. 1, she added, and her family wouldn't let her live with No. 2 and she didn't want to live with No. 1.

"I'm not very happy and I'd just as soon go to jail," she said.

"I don't have any charges against you," said Simms.

"I'll file them myself," the woman offered.

"You can't do that," Simms retorted.

"But if those two ever find out what happened there will be trouble," she countered.

"Go get yourself a divorce or something, but don't bother about going to jail, they are crowded already," Simms told her and sent her home to her parents.

BLACKSMITH PRACTICES CRAFTMANSHIP WITH FIDELITY OF ANCIENT GUILDS

ALANREED, Jan. 9 (AP)—The fidelity with which Jim Bryant practices his craftsmanship is reminiscent of the guilds of the middle ages.

Bryant, 63, is a maker of knives, plain and fancy, but all hand-tooled. The fact that he cannot fill all the orders which come his way causes him little concern. He has no intention of starting a factory, or even employing anyone to help him. Instead, he chooses, like the craftsmasters of old, that every item bearing his stamp, shall be made by his own hands.

Also Village Smithy

Primarily, Bryant is the village blacksmith and the making of knives is an avocation. Not because he does blacksmithing better, but because he started the tooling of knives at odd moments when he was not busy hammering plowshares and shoeing horses, his knife-making is still a diversion.

Like the man for whom fame was prophesied if he made an improved mouse trap, Bryant is far from industrial centers. He has an advantage over the mousetrap maker, however, in that U. S. highway 66, advertised as "The Main Street of America," passes the door of his fourteenth-century-type workshop.

The highway brings Bryant a type of business he appreciates. Deer hunters often stop in the little "caprock" village in the hills and wait for Bryant to hammer out their needs. Once a professional knife-thrower stopped for two days while Bryant made heavy dirks to meet the showman's specifications.

"Ranchers Most Particular"

The bulk of his business comes from hotels and butcher shops, and from ranchers who, according to Bryant, are the most particular of all about their knives. He sometimes barters with the cattlemen, exchanging knives for baskets of horns which he uses for handles.

Bryant believes that a tempering compound, which he makes himself, shares with his craftsmanship in his success. He explained that a year's supply of the compound costs no more than $1.50 but he alone knows its contents.

When Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo returned to Washington recently he took one of Bryant's hunting knives to President Roosevelt, a gift of the maker. Its bone handles were rings of red, white and blue.

The Texan did not go into detail of problems discussed. He remained here for further conferences.

The Center Leaves have the finest Tobacco Quality

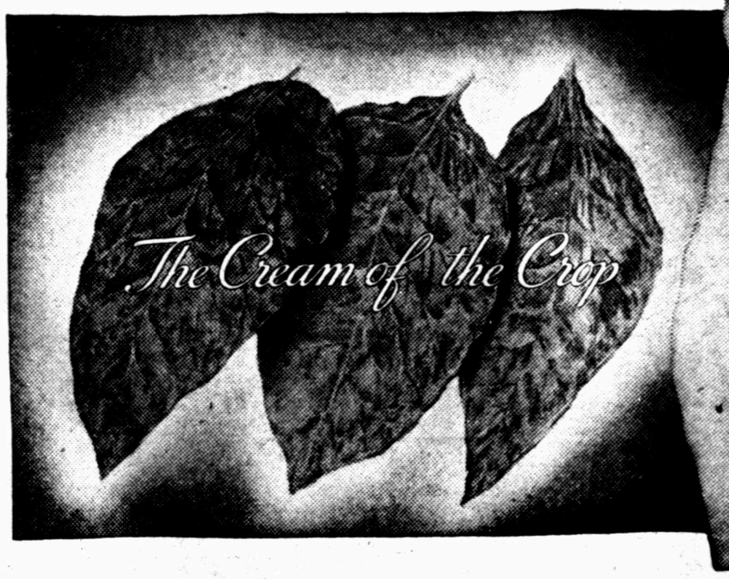

that's why only center leaves are used in Luckies

The first thing people see and like about Luckies is how round and firm they are. The tobacco doesn't spill out and there are no loose ends to cling to lips. That's because we pack each and every Lucky full to the brim with long, even strands of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos—only the center leaves. Not the top leaves—because those are under-developed. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We use only the center leaves—because they are the mildest and fully ripe for perfect smoking. That's why Luckies always draw easily, burn evenly—and are always mild and smooth. So smoke a Lucky, a fully packed cigarette. And remember, "It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Jackrabbits And Frosh To Clash

TECH PICADOR CAGERS AND WAYLAND TEAM TO PLAY TONIGHT

The week's local basketball program gets under way tonight at Texas Tech gymnasium when the freshman team of the college tangles with the Wayland college Jackrabbits of Plainview.

The tip-off is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

Tonight's game is free for fans. No admission charge will be made, and the township is invited to attend.

The Jackrabbits who shall be here represent the varsity athletic squad of Wayland college, one-time powerful contenders for collegiate honors in West Texas. The Jackrabbits lost to the House of David quintet last week, but allegedly put up a game struggle.

Coach Juicy Owen of the Picador cagers appears optimistic over his chances of putting a winning team on the floors this season. Among candidates for the fish team are Levi Garrett, all-state basketeer of New Mexico last season; Headstream, of the Ropesville state contenders last year; Robert Hale and Hugh Snodgrass, stars at Lubbock High school in 1933.

RACE OUTLOOK HELD BRIGHT

COL. WINN SEES MORE SUPPORT FOR TURF THIS SEASON

BY COL. MATT J. WINN
(President, American Turf Ass'n.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (AP)—With the American people generally more optimistic the new year promises that the racing associations of the nation will have a successful season and that the losses of 1933 will be recouped.

This will be brought about by the necessary adjustment in the value of stakes and purses. The race loving public will profit by further economics that will be carried out.

More Support Seen

The outstanding feature of the 1933 turf season was the increase in the number of states legalizing racing under the pari-mutuel system. While the apparent result of this will be too much racing, the turf will profit by securing a wider public support and the breeders will find a new market for their thoroughbreds with an increase over the low prices that prevailed in the past year.

Another impressive result of the 1933 racing was the fact that practically every track in America, with only a few exceptions, finished loser on the year. This was inevitable because their various jockey clubs found it impossible to reduce the value or cancel any of the rich fixed stakes and so had to accept the situation and face a certain deficit.

1933 Betting Light

While the attendance kept up surprisingly, the betting was the lightest in several years. The upturn came too late to keep the tracks out of the red in 1933.

The spring racing season in the west will open at Churchill Downs April 28 and the Kentucky Derby will be run on Saturday, May 5. There is assurance that every first-class three-year-old will be entered and that the classic will measure up to its best traditions.

VINES IMPRESSIVE IN LAST WORKOUT

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. (AP)—Shortening odds today reflected the fine showing Ellsworth Vines has been making in practice for his professional tennis debut against Big Bill Tilden in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Working out yesterday with Bruce Barnes, another member of the pro troupe, the tall Californian showed bursts of superlative speed and power in his hitting although Barnes was leading when the match was called, 6-4, 4-6, 3-2.

Tilden came out on the practice court a short time later and mopped up Sidney B. Wood, a leading amateur, 6-0, 6-3.

Promoters of the match announced the advance sale had reached about $12,000 and predicted close to a capacity crowd of 16,000. The Garden is "scaled" to bring a "gate" of $40,000 in the event of a sell-out. Tilden and Karel Kozeluh attracted the record professional tennis crowd in 1931 with 14,000 spectators paying about $30,000.

Lorenzo Man Given Jail Term, Fined

H. P. Misso of Lorenzo pleaded guilty in county court Monday afternoon of four charges of swindling and was fined $20 and costs and sentenced to five days in county jail in each.

The sentences will run concurrently, County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson said. If the fines and costs are unpaid, Misso must serve about 200 days, Judge E. L. Pitts passed sentence.

In another swindling case, filed in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court, Misso pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs of $13.15.

Misso served five months in county jail last year for swindling, the county attorney said. The man, arrested at Slaton Saturday, was transferred to Lubbock county jail Saturday night. Wilson said Misso told him he had passed other checks in Lubbock county.

LEAPING LENA UP IN ARMS

DEMANDS BIGGER CUT IF LEVINSKY IS TO FIGHT SCHMELING

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (AP)—The black eyes of Leaping Lena Levy, sister manager of her big brother, King Levinsky, snapped fire today as she bemoaned the loss of a fight with Max Schmeling, slated for the Chicago stadium, February 16.

The proposed bout fell through last night after a row over the division of the purse.

Demands Bigger Cut

Joe Jacobs, manager of the German, had demanded 37 1-2 per cent, with the expectation that Levinsky would accept 22 1-2 per cent, but Jacobs didn't figure Leaping Lena in his expectation. She yelled and screamed that the Kingfish, her big brother, the conqueror of Jack Sharkey, was entitled to just as much money as Schmeling. Unless she gets it, she said, there will be no fight.

"Why, the idea," she yelled, "why should that big Dutchman get more money than the King? Ain't he just as much of an attraction? Didn't he fight 30 rounds with Max Baer and never get knocked off his feet? And didn't Baer knock that Schmeling out? I'm telling the cockeyed world, he did. And didn't Jack Sharkey beat Schmeling? And didn't the Kingfish give Sharkey the pasting of his life? I'm telling you he did."

King Backs Sister

"That's right Lena, you tell 'em," chimed in the Kingfish, raising his 206 pounds out of the chair. "That guy don't want to fight me, that's all."

With the Levinsky-Schmeling bout off, at least temporarily, Jacobs was preparing to sign for a 15-round battle with Steve Hamas, former Penn State football star, at Philadelphia February 14. Schmeling is slated to sail from Germany Friday and is ready to go into immediate training.

The proposed Levinsky-Schmeling fight based on the expectations of Joe Foley, general manager of the Chicago stadium operating company, figured to draw $85,000.

LONGHORN CAGERS WIN OVER PONIES

DALLAS, Jan. 9. (AP)—Taking an early lead and holding it in spite of a driving finish by their opponents, the University of Texas Longhorns won a Southwest conference basketball game last night from Southern Methodist, 27 to 22.

It was the Longhorns' first conference win in two starts. The defending champions opened their season by losing to Texas Christian. Southern Methodist opened the season last week by beating Baylor but could do nothing with the Longhorns.

Francis, center, led the Longhorns with 4 field goals and two gratis shots for 10 points. Lovern, pivot man for Southern Methodist, was second high with 4 field goals and one free shot for 9 points.

To begin the three-bout show, Charley—Heard, muscle-twisting young terror from San Antonio, will tangle with Art Belcher, one of Amarillo's up and coming young pros. They meet in the curtain raiser, a one-fall, no time limit bout.

Van Bebber Back

The semi-final, also scheduled for one fall, no limit, sees one of the Panhandle's most extraordinary wrestlers, Otis Clingman, mixing head-locks and body-scissors with Lubbock's own Jack Van Bebber, Texas Tech coach and former welterweight of the amateur nation and of the 1932 Olympic games.

To top it off, Dorry Detton, likeable youngster from the University of Utah and Salt Lake City, will participate in a return match with that mauler of men, Professor Dick Kanthe, strong man from Detroit.

The Detton-Kanthe match which pleased a large gallery last week is due to be repeated, improved upon and otherwise emphatic of the rougher, tougher brand of professional grappling.

Lost Last Week

Detton lost to Kanthe last week. It was their first meeting, and the kid from Utah was not accustomed to the rough way they do it here, or to the rough way Kanthe does it. He took the first fall with a neat bit of strategy, then lost the next two. Detton believes he is capable of handling any situation that may arise out of another match with the Michigan mauler, and has demanded a chance to get back at him. It promises to be a lightning-like bout, with plenty of offensive punch.

Kanthe, a veteran in the local ring but with few friends in these or any other parts, thrives on the razzing and booing that are inevitable any time he steps to the mat. Detton, on the other hand, is quieter, flashier and appeals to the æsthetic sense as well as the sporting blood, and he is as full of tricks as a circus monkey.

SLENDER SCOT KEEPS PACE WITH PAR TO ANNEX GOLF MEET

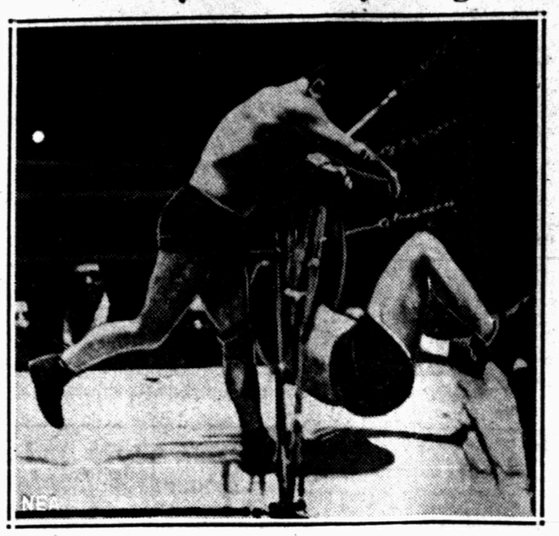

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (AP)—MacDonald Smith, a great golfer before some of his present day competitors were born, held the 1934 Los Angeles open championship today as evidence that at 43 years he still stands high among the game's leaders.

The slender Scot kept pace with par and outdistanced youth yesterday by shooting a 280 on the rugged Los Angeles Country club course for his fourth Los Angeles open title in the nine years of the tournament. He won $1,450 in prize money.

Smith was so far in front of an impressive field he could not be overcome by two of his closest rivals, who finish today. Darkness stopped George Von Elm and Willie Hunter on the seventeenth tee. If Von Elm shoots par on the last two holes he will finish in second place with a 287. Hunter had a potential 288 and a tie for third coming up.

A Hearty Heave—By George

After grappling and butting for an hour and 40 minutes in the longest and most strenuous wrestling match New York has seen in years, Ed Don George and Jim Browning, each a heavyweight champion recognized in different states, were rewarded with a draw for their efforts. A moment that thrilled the 10,000 fans at Madison Square Garden was caught by the cameraman as George threw his rival on the ropes.

Some of the first questions put to Coach Pete Cawthon upon his return last week from the annual convention of the American Football Coaches association at Chicago had to do, of course, with what, if any, steps he had taken toward scheduling some out of town games for the Matadors, and who he would bring here this summer for the fourth annual Texas Tech coaching school.

The Matador mentor is not prepared to answer any of the questions definitely. 'Tis true he interviewed several big time coaches in regard to intersectional games and the coaching school. 'Tis further true that he was met with a glad hand and a word of praise by all with whom he conversed. For the present, however, he does not wish to enlarge on the subject of intersectional games. None has been definitely scheduled, although several tentative dates for this year and future seasons were discussed.

Cawthon has requested the discretion of this department in connection with football games. He does not wish to get the populace and his boys all steamed up over a long trip with a good team that may not occur this next fall. He'd much prefer to get things settled once and for all before making comment. He is wise in this respect. In fact, we do not want to go spouting off about Tech making a trip to Brooklyn or Honolulu until we're pretty sure the club will at least get out of town.

As hinted above, Coach Cawthon was well met by fellow professionals at the Chicago meeting. Harry Kipke, Michigan mentor, big shot of the 1933 coaching school here, one of the most popular of all coaches, and chairman of the national coaches committee which recommends rule changes to the national rule committee, took Cawthon under his wing and showed him the town, introduced him to other major league names and faces and made quite a to-do over the Tech maestro.

Pete tells us that on one evening Kipke broke away from the masses who continually clung on his coat tail asking information and seeking points on plays and invited a select group to dinner. They were Chuck Bassett, former assistant at Arkansas; Bo McMillin of Kansas State, Jack Meagher, formerly of Rice, Matty Bell, formerly of Texas A. & M., Cawthon and Kipke. If you know the men, you know something of their nationality. "You never saw such a gathering of square-headed, funny-talking coaches in one small group," Cawthon said. Kipke, the host, took them to a place run by a man named Fritz, or something, and they had a large evening with the foods and service of Teutonic origin. "But don't get us wrong," warns Pete. "We took coffee with our meal."

A lot of coaches wanted to know more about Texas Tech. It seems that they've been hearing more about the Lubbock institution in recent years. Several coaches approached Cawthon even before Pete approached them, and asked for football dates. Cawthon got a bit choicy then, and turned several of them down, still gunning for the bigger fellows. He'll have more to say on that score as soon as some letters are answered.

We gather that the Tech coaching school is to be thanked for a large part of the Matador institution's notoriety. Cawthon said nearly everybody he talked with wanted to know the dates of the 1934 school and who would be here to conduct it. He was urged to go ahead with plans to stage it for yet another summer, and was assured of a large attendance.

As to who will conduct the 1934 school, the holding of which seems a certainty, Cawthon is not positive, but says that the coaches will be selected from this list: Dana Bible of Nebraska, almost a sure thing; Fritz Crisler of Princeton, another safe bet; Lou Little of Columbia, because of the upset on the coast; Rip Miller of Navy, Harry Kipke of Michigan and Noble Kizer of Purdue. Miller was here in 1932, and Kipke and Kizer were popular here last summer. But each of them would come back for the asking. Cawthon thinks that Kipke, because of his growing popularity, would be a great drawing card.

FIGHTERS ARE TO WORK OUT FOR BATTLE

ABE CHAVEZ TO MEET THURMAN MURDOCK IN TITLE BOUT

The main eventers in Friday night's Southwest bantamweight championship boxing bout are scheduled to arrive here this afternoon, Marty Fiedler, matchmaker announced this morning. The fight is booked for the National Guard armory here Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Abe Chavez, champion of New Mexico and popular in the West and Southwest, was expected last night, but a telegram from his manager, Carl P. Dourte, explained to Fiedler last night that they would be delayed one day.

Chavez meets Thurman Murdock, scrapping little bantamweight who recently was named state champion in his division by the Texas Boxing commission. Murdock, who bills out of Borger, also is expected this afternoon.

Open Workouts

A public workout is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Lubbock club, located at 1112 Broadway at which time Chavez will go through his training repetoire. Following him, at about 5 o'clock, will be Murdock. The public is invited to attend the workout, and open affair.

Matchmaker Fiedler, who is cooperating with Promoter Dee Puckett in staging the show, displayed a telegram from Woody Windham, popular West Texas lightweight of Abilene, in which the latter agreed to a semi-final bout with Lee Chavez, also of Albuquerque and of the same stables which harbor Abe Chavez. The Chavezes, however, are not related. Lee is a lightweight, and will tip the beam at Windham's fighting weight, 135 pounds.

Bulldogs To Be Here For Game

WESTERNERS TO PLAY PLAINVIEW CAGERS THURSDAY NIGHT

Lubbock's High school cagers will continue their Panhandle league basketball schedule here Thursday night when they meet the Plainview Bulldogs in a one-game stand at the Westerner gymnasium. Coach Swede McMurry announced yesterday that date for the game had been switched from Friday to Thursday night.

Yesterday the Westerners worked out with the lanky Texas Tech Picadors, and made a very good showing against the Freshmen considering the fact that McMurry's men are somewhat deficient in the height department.

In their three games to date the Westerners have met nothing but hard places. Opening on their home floor, they failed to keep a hotshot Athens High forward in check and lost by a wide margin. Then the high school boys met another Tartar in the Amarillo Sandstorm, losing this time 40 to 11.

However, Coach McMurry is not expecting too much of this year's inexperienced outfit. At least one and possibly three team potentialities will not be eligible until next semester which is still two weeks off. Warren Kerr, six-foot four inch veteran, would add a lot of needed altitude at center, and Glenn Jones, only tall man on the present squad, can move out to a forward. Rayburn Hale, who lettered at forward last season, becomes automatically ineligible at the end of this semester under the eight semester ruling.

Amarillo with the above mentioned victory over Lubbock and a triumph over Plainview by the unusual score of 12 to 10 are now at the top of the heap in the newly organized Panhandle high school conference.

GOOD NEWS IN CONTRACTS

PLAYERS WHO HELPED GIANTS TO SUCCESS ARE REMEMBERED

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. (AP)—Salary contracts for 1934 are travelling through the mails to 35 members of the world champion New York Giants today.

The news they carry will, in the main, be good, says Secretary Jim Tierney.

"Those who contributed most to our success last year have been remembered," Tierney explained. "We probably will have a few differences of opinion but on the whole I think the Giants will appreciate they are not participating in a downward revision."

Manager Bill Terry signed a five-year contract shortly after he had led the Giants to world series victory over the Washington Senators.

The Passing Of The OLD WICKER LAMP

"See Your Electrical Appliance Dealer."

In the days of the Wicker lamp, when electricity was in its infant stages of development, little was known and little would ever have been imagined of how greatly "harnessed energy" would reduce the labors and tedious tasks of the housewife.

Today, we live in an age of invention . . . an age in which man conceives vast, fanciful notions of household efficiency, creating therefore electrical appliances. And to what great extent this ingenuity is reflected in the home! Housewives have more time now to get away from drudgery and enjoy themselves among books, recreation, tea parties and the other good things of life.

FOUR DEAD OF STARVATION

MEN LEAD WOMEN IN 1933 DEATH LIST AT DEL RIO

DEL RIO, Jan. 9. (AP)—Four persons, including one youngster and three adults, died of starvation in Del Rio in 1933, records in the office of City Clerk E. F. Howard reveal.

Men led women in the death records and boys led girls in both birth and death registration.

Seventy-eight men, 46 women, 45 boys and 42 girls died over the entire year. Of the number 15 were violent deaths, which included automobile wrecks, accidents on trains, drowning and gun shot wounds. Most deaths among boys and girls under 21 years of age resulted from malnutrition.

Tuberculosis Most Fatal

Tuberculosis as a cause of death led with malnutrition a close second. Heart disease was third.

Approximately 80 per cent of the deaths were among the Mexicans with negroes at the foot of the list.

"Jesus" was the favored name given the 315 youngsters born during the year. "Jose" for boys and "Josephina" for girls took second place.

"William" among the Americans and "Rudolfo" among the Mexicans ranked third. "Modesto," "Innocenta," "Dolores" and "Maria" were also favored names.

"Betty" Popular

Among the Americans, "Betty" seemed prominent. However, old fashioned names, such as "Sally" and "Martha" were popular.

City Clerk Howard said Mexicans made more effort to register the births of their youngsters than the Americans. He attributed this to the fact that diligence of the United States border patrol made it necessary to produce certification of their American birth at an instant's notice.

Out-Of-State Fees At O. U. Are Hiked

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 9 (AP)—Tuition fees for out-of-state students attending the University of Oklahoma were doubled by the university board of regents at a meeting here Monday.

Effective next September, non-residents of Oklahoma will be charged $50 a semester. Last year there were 700 such students enrolled.

Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the university, explained the board's action was taken to bring the fees "more in line with those of other universities." He said many Texas students found it cheaper to attend the University of Oklahoma than the University of Texas.

The per capita cost of schooling in the university is approximately $186 a year.

The average monthly old age pension in 1932 was $19.31 as compared with $18.89 in 1931, says the federal bureau of labor.

NO MALICE HELD BY RELATIVES IN UNDERHILL DEATH

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 9. (AP)—Stating that they hold no malice toward officers for the death of Wilbur Underhill, but that they resented his being taken from a hospital "so that he might die in prison," relatives of the widely known killer today were preparing for his funeral Wednesday afternoon.

Enclosed in a grey metal casket, the body arrived here yesterday and was taken to the home of a sister, Mrs. Anna Lewis. The body was accompanied here by Underhill's mother, Mrs. Almira Underhill, and a sister, Miss Dorothy Underhill. Another sister, Mrs. Grace Baine, also lives here.

The slain bandit's widowed bride, Mrs. Hazel Underhill, was not permitted to accompany the body. She is under arrest in Oklahoma, being taken into custody in the house where her hurband was shot.

Wilbur's mother was indignant that his widow was not brought here.

LIVESTOCK KILLED IN DEMONSTRATION

Ten hogs and a beef were killed Monday at the state experimental sub-station east of here as part of a state experimental program. Roy Snyder, meat specialist of the state extension service, of College Station supervised the slaughtering.

Today the animals, after being left to cool over night, were to be butchered and the hams and bacons prepared for curing as a further experiment. Records will be kept on the length of cure, etc., as well as the weight of the cured meats and the shrinkage.

All Are Branded

All of the animals were branded with a number. The left ham, bacon and shoulder were marked also.

Fifteen or more farmers, interested in some phase of the killing, watched the work during the day. Others are expected to attend the butchering program today.

SAN AUGUSTINE STARTS TO WORK ON CENTENNIAL

SAN AUGUSTINE, Jan. 9 (AP)—With preliminary work under way for more than a year, San Augustine claims the honor of being the first county to begin preparation for the Texas centennial celebration in 1936.

Plans are on foot to reconstruct the old Spanish mission which stood on "Mission hill" a half mile south of the city. The mission was established in 1717 and was known as the mission of the Lady of Our Sorrows.

Inasmuch as San Augustine dates back to the beginning of Texas civilization and prior to the days of the Alamo, and the town played such an important part in the history of Texas prior to the republic, the local Centennial club aims to restore much of the natural charm and beauty that existed when General Sam Houston made his headquarters here. The Centennial club already boasts 1500 members.

Several places of interest have been marked and beautified with others of historical import scheduled in the plans. A museum of Spanish relics is to be established under the supervision of Rev. C. A. Tower and W. G. Sharp, who long have been interested in the early history of San Augustine county.

Singer Walks Out On Texas Audience

DALLAS, Jan. 9. (AP)—John Charles Thomas, American baritone, walked out on an audience of 1,000 persons here last night when the management was unable to pay him his fee of $1,500 for a recital.

There was only $500 available, as the audience was made up largely of season ticket holders who had paid a small fee. Thomas expressed his regrets and took a train for Los Angeles.

SURVEY TO BE BEGUN TODAY

FORTY-FOUR MEN ARE TO BE USED IN AREA AS ENUMERATORS

With part of the work scheduled to start today, James A. Hughes, assistant supervisor, Monday announced 44 men would be employed as enumerators in district 2, the South Plains, to take a census of retail business in the area's 28 counties. Charles B. Middleton is supervisor of the district. The census must be complete by Feb. 15.

Lubbock county has five enumerators, largest number of any county. Hale and Nolan counties have three each; Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Howard, Lamb, Mitchell and Scurry counties have two each and the others have one. Nine counties are grouped in four groups for one man to handle each group. Bailey and Cochran are in one group; Yoakum, Gaines and Andrews in another; Martin and Borden in a third and Kent and King in a fourth.

Not Enough Firms

Reason for this, Mr. Hughes said, is that there are not enough business concerns for the survey in one of these counties. The other counties, with one enumerator, include: Cottle, Dickens, Fisher, Garza, Hockley, Lynn, Motley, Stonewall and Terry.

In Hale county, two of the three enumerators will be located in Plainview. In the other counties one man probably will work in the county seat or the largest town and the other man in the other towns and the rural districts.

All To Be Covered

The district has a total of 5,073 concerns that are to be covered by the survey, Mr. Hughes said. There will be about 26 working days and each man is expected to have 115 concerns to visit, an average of 4.4 places per day.

"We want to get a picture of conditions as they are today," Mr. Hughes said. "It will show a comparison with conditions as they were in 1929 as shown by the census survey. The survey will show the volume of business in 1933, the number of people employed, the payroll and other items.

"The survey covers retail business only. It is a part of the recovery program and is being financed by the Civil Works Administration. The census bureau of the U. S. department of commerce has general supervision and an enumerator is to be used for every 140 businesses."

Concerns not included in the survey cover the following general lines: manufacturing, farmers, growers and other producers of commodities, commercial laundries, large bakeries, greenhouses, construction concerns, transportation such as airplanes and taxicabs, public utilities including telegraph, telephone, light and power, water and gas, apartment houses, educational institutions, professional services such as doctors, dentists and lawyers, financial institutions including banks, building and loan associations, etc., and insurance concerns.

HOG PLANT TO BE ESTABLISHED HERE

Walter Leur, vice president of the Leur Packing company of Los Angeles, Monday announced a concentration plant for shipment of livestock to the Los Angeles market would be established here. It will be on the former site of the Martin Kuykendall pens, immediately north of the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill.

The new firm is to be known as the Lubbock Hog company and will deal mainly in the concentration of hogs for the West Coast market. Other livestock will also be shipped. Mr. Kuykendall will be buyer for the firm in the Lubbock territory. Richard Roberts, formerly of Los Angeles, is to be general manager.

Mr. Leur and Mr. Roberts have been studying the Panhandle-Plains territory for the past several months regarding the establishment of a concentration point, they said Monday, and selected Lubbock because of its location, railroad facilities and pronounced hog-raising potentialities.

The pens of the company will have a capacity of 1,000 hogs, Mr. Leur said. Concrete pens are being erected on the grounds and shipments will be made from that point.

THE MAN (or perhaps it was a woman!) who invented the towel had a great idea! And an equally great benefactor was the man (or more likely a woman) who conceived the scheme of making towels as colorfully attractive as they are bathingly serviceable.

Along about this time of the year, towels also have their plan of moving from bargain counters to thrifty closets. Linens, handkerchiefs and blankets also beckon the eye and prices soothe the pocketbook. January is a glorious month for bargains!

Thought For Today

Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.—James, 4:2.

As a general thing we obtain very surely and very speedily what we are not too anxious to obtain.—Rousseau.

One Kind Of 'Honor'

The U. S. Government is trying to collect $9,375,000 from some 20 New York banks in connection with the collapse of the Harriman National Bank and Trust Co.

The Harriman bank began staggering a year ago. It was allowed to remain open because these 20 banks, as members of the Clearing House association, promised that they would not let it fail and agreed to assume its deposit liabilities if it was unable to weather the storm.

Last March the bank closed its doors. And now the 20 banks say they will not pay. Their guarantees, they protest, were given "in a crisis and without extended consideration of the technical formalities involved."

Having had plenty of time to examine those formalities, they now conclude that they cannot pay the money they promised to pay.

Some of these bankers, doubtless, were men who protested bitterly that the government's departure from the gold standard was a violation of a solemn promise!

The Right View

It would be a good thing if successful candidates for public office everywhere could adopt the attitude with which Fiorello H. LaGuardia assumed his duties as mayor of New York. Mr. LaGuardia announced blunt that he was not going to try to be "a good fellow."

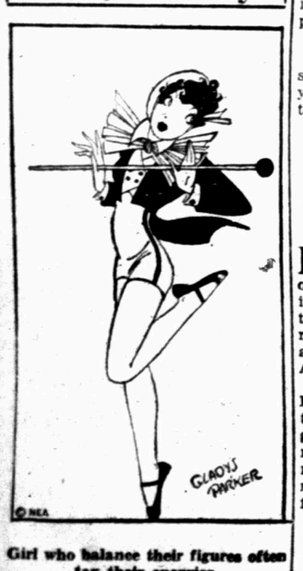

"An elected public official under our form of government must be ungrateful," he said. "I have many friends who worked hard for my election. I cannot appoint them to office, because they don't happen to be fitted to hold it. You can't be a good fellow and a good mayor."

Here is most excellent common sense. If more mayors had the same idea, our municipal governments generally would be run with a great deal more of efficiency and a great deal less of expense.

HAVE you lost a puppy? If so, maybe it's the one that drifted into the C. M. Traylor premises at 1702 Avenue M the other day and has been cared for by the Traylor family since.

Mr. Traylor, however, doesn't want to keep the pup, principally because Mrs. Traylor has as a pet Persian cat — and the cat and the pup don't hit it off so well together.

Anyone claiming ownership of the dog may have it—and if the owner is not found Mr. Traylor will present the pup to some youngster who wants it.

It is about three months old, is a female and looks like a cross between a collie and a police dog, with the police strain predominant.

BROWNIE AKERS, Parker Prouty and The Plainsman were holding an informal session yesterday afternoon when, for the want of something else, the conversation veered around to amnesia.

Amnesia, you know, is that mysterious malady which causes complete lapse of memory in an individual; its victims can't even recall their own names.

After we talked for ten or fifteen minutes Brownie crowned the conversation with a wise crack too good to keep.

"What I've never been able to figure out," he remarked, "is why nobody ever has amnesia while they're standing around home. They're always off in a big city some place!"

Of course, there is such a malady as amnesia.

It has been proven by reputable physicians and by the testimony of scores of reputable persons who have been smitten by it.

But big city departments of missing persons report that there is a lot less amnesia than there's supposed to be.

The disease is most unusual, although blame laid at its door covers a multitude of sins.

ONE of The Journal's Washington correspondents tells a story of Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury, how he runs his office by the clock and how 'hard-boiled' he is.

Goes the yarn:

"The other day Deputy Commissioner of Narcotics Ruppel had an appointment with his chief at 4:15 p. m. Ruppel's watch was about ten minutes slow and he was just leaving his office when the phone rang. It was Secretary Morgenthau and Ruppel explained that he was just on his way over.

"'No use to come now', said the secretary. 'It is already 4:20 and you'll have to wait until tomorrow!'"

Although that kind of thing can be run into the ground it is refreshing to learn that some of our leading officials have discovered the value of the government's time and aren't wasting any more of it than necessary.

That at least sounds a lot more like efficiency than the story that broke during the Hoover administration explaining how Postmaster-General Brown had ordered a new government-owned Lincoln limousine so he could ride in the back seat with a silk hat on and not have to duck his head!

REPRESENTATIVE Ben Cathey, of Quitman, is chairman of a House committee to look into nepotism in Texas and when the legislature meets again his group may be expected to make various and sundry recommendations down Austin way.

Mr. Cathey told the Associated Press at the capital a few days ago that "it seems state employes are getting to be just one large family", remarking that there are eleven members of one family drawing money from the state in exchange for labor of various kinds.

* * *

"Now I know why I haven't been able to get a job for anybody from Wood county", Representative Cathey mourned. "It's getting to be a regular family affair!"

He did allow, however, that steps to "eliminate one of the greatest evils in the state" would be taken when the solons gather again under the big dome.

"SCANDAL Charged In CWA Activity", said a Page 1 headline in yesterday afternoon's Journal.

"So what?" is the natural comeback. "So what?"

Everybody knew that the emergency recovery program was fraught with possibilities for graft. Everybody knew there would be some graft or inefficient handling of a part of the great campaign.

So why get excited about it?

Men grafted in food and in blood during the world war. They did it, not only in this country but in all of them.

It is not possible to keep scandal down in connection with great undertakings which must move and move rapidly.

Let us not condone inefficiency; let us not wink at graft or any form of corruption.

But let us not be led to believe that the whole thing is bad when, in reality, only a small part of it is.

Repeal Makes A Big Difference To Federal Prisoners As Overcrowding Will Be Ended By Liquor Conviction Drop

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—You wouldn't think repeal would make much difference to federal prisoners. But it does.

At last, the boys are going to be comfy.

Overcrowding long has been a source of great pain to penal officials. But you can imagine how much tougher it was on the inmates. The Atlanta and Leavenworth federal pens were overcrowded 100 per cent.

Thanks to the drop in liquor convictions, the government's prisons soon will be handling no more than their proper capacity. The influx of bootleggers began to decline some time ago and a more lenient prohibition policy from federal benches also is reducing the penal rolls, especially as concerns liquor law violators.

Dutcher

One year ago 23,000 prisoners were in the government's tolls. Today there are but 16,000. The number actually parked in federal penal institutions is 11,735, as against 13,395 a year ago.

The Atlanta population—once 3,400—has dropped in 12 months from 2833 to 2093, and that of Leavenworth from 3122 to 2529. New facilities, such as the Lewisburg penitentiary, had decreased the loads before repeal.

Director Sanford Bates of the Bureau of Prisons thinks no pen should house more than 1200 if the warden and his assistants are to have proper personal contact with individual inmates.

Wardens considered prohibition prisoners a better lot than the run of current arrivals.

Impartially Tough

General Johnson of NRA is impartial in his distribution of strong language and he calls his son "Pat." These vitally important facts were revealed to a recent visitor at his office who heard him telephone Lieut. Kilbourne Johnston (they spell their names differently), head of NRA's compliance section.

"Pat," yelled the general, "what the hell's the matter with you fellows down there? Haven't you got any brains?"

(Several "brain trust" members at a party here the other night were agreed that Johnson would be out of NRA within 60 days.)

F. R. Good in Papa Role

"Papa" Roosevelt, which is the way he sometimes refers to himself, knows how to keep peace in the family. It's a tough job in such a family as his, composed of reactionaries, conservatives, liberals and radicals.

And his system doesn't always work. But he has an amazing degree of success.

Senators Borah and Nye, in general New Deal sympathizers, became violently vocal against NRA. So what did "Papa" do but call them into a White House conference with Johnson so they could thresh it all out in the interests of harmony!

He expressed plenty of sympathy for the Borah-Nye viewpoint, which stressed the monopoly-fostering effects of NRA, and a scheme is being worked out which will mollify them.

Roosevelt hopes to disarm senatorial progressives and congressional critics within his own party by an attitude of constant frankness.

He thinks Congress should be kept in constant touch with workings of administration machinery and is evolving a plan to carry out that idea.

Modernizes Schools

Did somebody say modernization? Well, the Public Works Administration just has allotted $6000 to help build a new central school for Lyme, Conn. The new building will replace five one-room district schools erected from 92 to 150 years ago—the newest in 1841 and the oldest in 1783.

Thirty years usually is considered a reasonable life for any school structure.

With 'Whir' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 9. (AP)—Welfare agencies which have been created to look after the care of dependent and neglected children are finding their labors and problems intensified by the depression which has placed the families of children that were needing assistance on the direct relief rolls.

Mrs. Violet S. Greenhill, in charge of the Texas state child welfare department, has returned from Washington, where she attended a conference with reference to the situation.

Protection Urged

It was recommended that federal, state, and local emergency relief organizations assume as their "primary responsibility" the protection of the health and welfare of 6,000,000 children in families now on relief rolls.

Mrs. Greenhill said a survey had determined that there were many instances where emergency relief given to families was insufficient to protect the health and welfare of the children and prevent their removal from their own homes.

Texas Work Is New

The state welfare work in Texas is new, the department having been inaugurated only about three years ago. The legislature was not entirely "sold" on the proposition and the work has been somewhat "cramped," but Mrs. Greenhill said it was making good progress in spite of handicaps.

She recognizes the new problems that have arisen on account of the depression. The food provided for families is not of sufficient quantity or quality to keep children of such affected families in good health, she said.

FLASHES OF LIFE FROM EVERYWHERE

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

A Wise Bird

ENGLEWOOD, Colo.—It seems that Davy Jones' parrot can tell good liquor from bad.

Sparks, the 20-odd year old bird, enjoyed a regular whisky diet when Jones sailed the seas. When prohibition came, Jones offered Sparks a drink of moon. For three days the bird was as seasick as any landlubber. Never again would he touch a drop.

After repeal Jones bought a bottle of legal liquor. Sparks gave a parrot's imitation of a lip-smacking scene and asked for more.

Retain Manuscript

NEW YORK — The earliest authentic manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner," penned by Francis Scott Key in Baltimore nearly 120 years ago, is going back to that city for permanent enshrinement, purchased by funds from the estate of the man to whom it belonged.

The single sheet of time-yellowed paper on which Key penned the national anthem in 1814 was bought for $24,000 at an auction room by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, who announced later its new owner was the Walters Art gallery.

No Music For Jury

CHICAGO — For a time it looked as though a jury in criminal court might have music with its meditations.

This was because Mr. William R. Galter, a prospective member of the jury announced that he was a trumpeter, and that if he was to keep up with his work he really needed an hour's practice every day.

"How about an hour's practice a day?" he asked the judge, who solved the problem by permitting Mr. Galter to return to his home.

Bottled Ghosts

CHICAGO,—Kenneth Rouse was an apprentice embalmer.

"Was" is the correct word because he left his post about dawn, running into the street, clad only in his underwear, shouting that he was seeing ghosts.

The police found no ghosts, but they did mention that they found a bottle, which they surmized might have contained spirits.

Saki In Japan

ANTUNG, Manchuria—Sixty thousand bushels of first-grade rice will be brewed into saki (Japanese whisky) during the next year to meet the local demand. This is due to the high cost of importing wines and whisky from China and Europe.

POLICE PROBE BURGLARIES

SHALLOWATER LUMBER YARD, FLOYDADA STORE LOOTED

With investigation of a burglary of Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company quarters at Shallowater under way, it was learned this morning that Lubbock police and sheriff's departments were informed Monday of a burglary late Sunday or early Monday at Floydada, where eight shotguns, two rifles, and a dozen pocket knives were stolen.

Loot from the Shallowater lumber company quarters, totaling $300, included $75 in ammunition. The Shallowater burglary was effected early Monday.

Of the eight shotguns taken at Floydada, the Floyd county sheriff's department reported, six were pump guns, one of the pump models an automatic, and the other two were double-barreled.

A shotgun as well as pistol ammunition was stolen at Shallowater.

All revolver and pistol ammunition in the quarters was missing. J. A. Grimes, company manager at Shallowater, said the shells were for .32, .38, .380, .32, and .41-caliber guns. All 20 and 410-gauge shotgun shells were taken, and 12 and 16-gauge shells were in the loot.

Cookers Are Missing

Four steam-pressure cookers, valued at $50 at wholesale prices, were in the loot. Ten safety razors, razor blades, pocket and butcher knives, percolators, dishes, wagon sheets, and two typewriters were stolen.

The burglars, who apparently loaded the loot into two automobiles, entered the building by prying open the front door with a pinch bar. Grimes said he believed the men were frightened while they were loading the cars.

A bushel basket, which had been brought into the store, was left filled with dishes. Several pressure cookers, which had been moved, were left.

Sheriff Tom Abel and other members of Lubbock county sheriff's department were investigating the burglary. V. J. Farris, deputy sheriff at Shallowater, was in Lubbock yesterday conferring with the officers here.

A service station operated by L. Hardy lost several gallons of gasoline when lock on a pump was broken either late Sunday of early Monday.

Autos Are Heard

It was believed the lumber company offices were burglarized yesterday morning, because Shallowater residents said they heard automobiles being driven there about 2 o'clock.

Grimes said only $3 was missing. The cash was taken from an unlocked safe. An inner compartment, which was locked, was pried open, but checks it contained were not molested.

Three weeks ago three Shallowater business houses were burglarized. At that time Grimes' Chevrolet coach was stolen. The car later was recovered hidden in a canyon northeast of Aspermont.

Three men, Lefley Stewart, Roy Stewart, and Andrew H. Nelson, were charged with burglary of Gentry's Dry Goods store at Shallowater. Nelson, who escaped at Abilene from a United States deputy marshal just before Nelson's scheduled trial for burglary of a window postoffice, is only one of the trio unarrested.

public funds for its popularity must keep on squandering money, even if it has to start the printing press to get money."

"An administration with such a program," it said, "gets caught in the momentum of its own spending and finds itself unable to stop this cycle of destructive inflation. Under these circumstances 'controller' inflation is impossible."

The agriculture department was active also in gathering material to answer two senate requests, introduced by Republican members. Data was called for on a "sharp decline" in hog prices and for the operation of agricultural processing taxes.

Passage Predicted

When the senate resumes tomorrow the house-approved bill for a 5 gallon liquor tax will be ready for consideration. It was reported late yesterday by the senate finance committee after repeated efforts to filibuster it had failed. Chairman Harrison predicted senate passage by tomorrow night.

The house is expected to make quick work of the District of Columbia liquor control bill, and probably will turn before the week is out to the $270,000,000 revenue bill.

PRINCESS

cut simply, and trimmed with a fluffy fox collar in necklace fashion. The fur was dyed in the newest mode the exact color of the suit, and matched shoes and hat, which turned up in back and down in front, boat-shaped, with a bunch of aigrettes poking pertly forward from the beak-type brim. She wore white gloves and a blouse of pink organdie, gold-embroidered, with puffered sleeves, and a softened neckline of open work, threaded with gold.

Gold is a repeated note in the Mdivani wardrobe, carried into accessories such as the plain gold toilet set which gleamed solidly on her dresser, reflecting the bunches of orchids decorating it. It was a wedding present.

The princess likes simple lines, and is annoyed by trains. She has three fur coats, the mink, a gold seal, and a "very ordinary" one of muskrat for cold weather expected in China. There are furlined boots, and lots of woolens for that, too.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady, 3 to 5 lower on disappointing cables and under March liquidation, Jan. 10.55B; March 10.68; May 10.83; July 10.97; Oct. 11.17; Dec. 11.33.

Reactionary sentiment was evident in some quarters following yesterday's advance, but initial offerings were absorbed by continued trade buying and after easing to 10.67 for March and 10.97 for July, prices held fairly steady. Overnight reports of good business in cotton goods and private advices from the southwest indicating that farmers were signing up in the acreage reduction campaign in some sections were considered encouraging features but rallies of 2 or 3 points were barely maintained. The market at the end of the first half hour was at about the opening quotations.

The absorption of the early realizing by the trade on the comparatively moderate setback, seemed to leave the market in a firmer position and prices advanced later in the morning on a moderate demand from trade and local or commission house sources. March sold up from 10.67 to 10.74, while July advanced from 10.97 to 11.05, with the market at midday showing net advances of about 1 to 2 points.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9 (AP)—Cotton opened somewhat easier today with Liverpool lower than due. First trades here were 3 to 4 points down and prices eased a little further after the start on selling by ring traders and recent buyers. March dropped to 10.62 and May to 10.81, or 5 to 6 points under yesterday's close. At the end of the first half hour the market was quiet and steady but at the lows.

The market became quite active as the morning advanced and prices rallied on good trade demand and active price-fixing by the mills. A sharp upturn in stocks and firmer grains as well as favorable Washington and general trade advices helped the advance. Before noon March traded at 10.70, May at 10.88 and July at 11.02, or 7 to 8 points up from the lows and 2 points above the close of yesterday.

At noon the market was steady and at or near the best.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Stocks puffed up a bit today under a revival in the tobaccos and, while the trading volume was still at a minimum, sentiment apparently improved sufficiently to stiffen leading issues 1 to 2 or more points.

Following an announcement of an increase in cigaret rates, Liggett & Myers B jumped 6 points, American Tobacco B 4 and Reynolds B around 2. These lost part of their gains later. Other equities came out of their doldrums and followed the tobaccos at a more leisurely pace. Grains and cotton were fairly steady, but not buoyant. The dollar sagged and recovered in foreign exchange dealings. Bonds showed some improvement, although U. S. government securities were still a little uneasy.

Aside from the cigaret group, shares of American Telephone got up 3 and Case and Western Union advanced about 2 each. Others, up sizeable fractions to more than a point, included Westinghouse, U. S. Steel, American Can, Allied Chemical, J. C. Penney, Consolidated Gas, Du Pont, General Electric, General Motors, Chrysler, Johns-Manville, U. S. Smelting, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Santa Fe and N. Y. Central.

A boost in cigaret prices by leading companies from $5.50 to $6.10 a thousand was somewhat of a surprise to the various Wall Street prophets, although quarters close to the industry had been expecting an advance some time this spring.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Influenced by persistent lack of soaking rains in domestic winter wheat territory southwest, grain prices went upward early today.

An additional strengthening factor was a Washington report that the grain exchange code was about ready for adoption in a form unobjectionable to the grain trade.

Opening 1-8 to 5-8 up, wheat soon climbed higher. Corn started unchanged to 3-4 advance, and subsequently rose all around.

CATTLEMEN

The convention will close in time to allow the cattlemen to go to Denver for the opening of the Denver Livestock show there this week-end.

FILES BURNED

under the air mail subsidy law.

Secretary Named

Maher named Kenneth MacPherson as Brown's secretary who instructed him to burn correspondence.

The next witness, Thomas H. McKee, former employe of the Wedell-Williams Air Service corporation, told of efforts to get an air mail contract for that company's lines between New Orleans and Fort Worth and Houston.

He recounted vain efforts to negotiate with postal officials for a contract and being told the department was not interested in routes of less than 700 miles because they were uneconomical.

Finally the Wedell-Williams line "folded up" in December, 1931. McKee testified, as it was never granted an air mail contract.

The only contract for that section was awarded to the American Airways.

McKee testified the mail contracts were "sewed up body and soul so that the young but growing aviation trust could get all the gravy."

Death Weapons Are Offered In Trial

HASKELL, Jan. 9. (AP)—A pearl-handled knife and a large stone with which, the state contends, Mrs. Doye Arnold was killed in Breckenridge more than a year ago were introduced today at her husband's murder trial.

Four witnesses, all of Breckenridge, testified that they were in the vicinity when Mrs. Arnold was beaten and told of seeing Arnold strike her either with his fist or a knife. They said he then picked up a large stone and struck her in the head several times after she had fallen to the sidewalk.

The witnesses were Roy Hughes, Albert Ewing, Al Stallings and a Mrs. McCoy.

FAY HURLS CHARGES OF INFIDELITY AND VICIOUS TEMPER AGAINST RUDY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (AP)—An array of startling charges embracing infidelity, vicious temper, vile language, character assassination plots and niggardly financial settlements were heaped upon Rudy Vallee today by his actress-wife, the former Fay Webb, in a suit for separate maintenance.

The brewing marital storm between the young entertainer and the daughter of the police chief of Santa Monica, Calif., about which warning signals have been flying broke in the form of a 21-page complaint, which was sealed by court order for a time after being filed in the superior court here yesterday.

Anti-Climax Hinted

At Vallee's own insistence the seals were broken and the charges became public. After he had read them, the curly-headed singer, actor and orchestra leader, a recent arrival in Hollywood to make a motion picture, dropped a hint that an anti-climax to this initial sensation was in the offing.

"I will be very happy to classify the answer to certain paragraphs technically," he said. "I hope I never have to do this. I have no particular desire to blast the girl. But certainly I will have to defend myself and bring out the charges. I hope I do not have to do it but if I do, we will let Mrs. Vallee's own voice speak for itself and her letters also."

Indiscretions Charged

The dark-haired actress, who returned to her home in suburban Santa Monica several weeks ago in an effort to regain her health, accused Vallee of indiscretions with three women. She named only one, Alice Faye, actress and member of his troupe. The others were designated as Jane Does.

Mrs. Vallee alleged the singer's association with Miss Faye dated from January, 1933, and became so prominent the New York press referred to it. She said she confronted her husband, and Vallee and his New York attorney both told her the charges were untrue. Mrs. Vallee said she believed her husband.

Shortly afterward she came to California and Vallee took his orchestra to Miami, Fla., where his wife claimed he engaged in "open and notorious" association with Miss Faye.

"Conversations Recorded"

Mrs. Vallee said that after she returned to New York in the spring of 1933 her husband, with a "sinister motive," placed a device in her apartment by which all telephone conversations were recorded. She said he was unable to obtain any evidence of infidelity on her part and so "in his haste and impatience" he threatened to obtain a divorce in Mexico.

Plying her with liquor, sending her gifts and writing affectionate notes, she claimed he sought to "lull" her into a false sense of security, meantime continuing his association with Miss Faye. He also, she said, undertook to systematically force her into a "shockingly and grossly inadequate" property settlement, which, through "complete ignorance" she signed and received but $100 a week.

In contrast she claimed he was making at that time $350,000 a year and was worth three million dollars, but she said he attempted to conceal his assets and by other "subterfuges" sought to make her believe his income was much less.

Miss Faye, whom the singer's wife says he intends to marry, labelled the charges mentioning her as "ridiculous" She came here to appear in the Vallee picture.

FLYING MAJOR FACES TRIAL

MAJ. WILLIAM OCKER IS CITED FOR USE OF IMPROPER LANGUAGE

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Maj. William C. Ocker, famous blind flying expert who developed instruments enabling pilots to guide their planes through fog, was ordered court-martialed for use of "improper language" to other Kelly field officers after he had been subjected to a physical examination and was grounded on account of imperfect vision.

The charges, signed by Lieut. Col. Herry B. Clagett, commander, and Maj. C. C. Johnston, post surgeon, at Kelly field, were filed under the ninety-sixth article of war and alleged that on Sept. 29, Maj. Ocker was ordered to appear before Major Johnston for physical examination.

The specification under the accusations quoted Major Ocker as saying:

"If other pilots on this field, namely such as Col. Clagett, were given more than a cursory examination, they, too, would be off the flying status."

Another statement charged to him was:

"There was collusion between the commanding officer of this station and you (Major Johnston) relative to my examination."

After a second examination Major Ocker was placed back on the flying status.

Sale Starts Promptly at 1:30 P. M., Rain or Shine
AT FRED WHITEHEAD'S MULE BARN

Attend this Sale—There's always Bargains at an Auction

Listen Mr. Farmer and Mr. Speculator if you are going to buy stock it will pay you to attend this sale.

Today we are confronted with the greatest shortage of mules and farm work animals in the United States that has ever existed. In the expansion of agriculture the tractor was largely used until the economics of the agricultural situation exploded and the farmers are now compelled to go back to the use of mules and horses and operate on a common sense basis again.

The farmer cannot produce on his farm the gasoline and lubricants for a tractor but he can produce feed stuffs for his working animals RIGHT ON HIS FARM. Why not patronize yourself, Mister Farmer, by the utilization of feed stuffs produced on your farm instead of continuing on a basis of farming with machinery and purchasing your fuel?

What Wind Blew In

Queena Mario, the opera star, traveling with her pet marmoset, almost came in possession of another mascot when the ice owl she's shown holding fell exhausted aboard the liner Manhattan during a storm at sea. The marmoset discovered and became fast friends with the owl, but Miss Merio's ownership of the bird was contested by another passenger. In the deciding flip of the commander's coin, Miss Mario lost.

PLANS SENT TO CONTRACTORS

CONTRACTS TO BE LET JANUARY 19 ON TWO TECH DORMITORIES

With contracts to be let Jan. 19 for construction of two dormitories at Texas Technological college, plans for the buildings have been received by local contractors.

A 30-hour work-week is the maximum permitted in the construction, as it will be financed through the Public Works administration. No convict labor or materials may be used. The wage scale will range from $1 an hour for skilled to 40 cents for unskilled labor.

The plans call for two buildings with architectural lines similar to other buildings on the campus. The two buildings, estimated to cost $325,000 each, will face the main driveway of the campus, the girls' dormitory to be between the home economics building and the home economics practice house. The boys' dormitory will stand directly north of the girls' building and will face south on the driveway.

Have 225-Foot Front

Each building will form the letter "E" with a 225-foot front and 104-foot L extensions on each side. The buildings will be approximately 600 feet from College avenue.

The dormitories will have three floors, containing 163 rooms for students besides large, spacious dining rooms and lounging rooms. The dining rooms will be on the first floor of each building and the lounging rooms on the second floor. Each building will have a basement with trunk storage room and other storage units.

A lavatory and two closets will be in each student's room. Ten showers and two bathtubs will be on each floor.

Plans of each building are identical with the other except they are reversed due to the buildings facing each other.

TWENTY-EIGHT TEAMS IN RUNNING FOR CONTRACT BRIDGE PAIR CHAMPIONSHIP

BY BRYAN COLLIER

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. (AP)—The field for the pair championship of the United States Bridge association was narrowed to 28 teams early today. It was 3 a. m. when the last score was tabulated.

Fifty-seven boards were played and the final standing was an average of the two sessions.

Mrs. Ely Culbertson and Albert H. Morehead, leading at the halfway mark, maintained their advantage and finished with a score of 140.2, well above the next pair, Michael Gottlieb and Howard Schenken, of New York, with 128.5.

In order came H. D. Lent, jr., and J. M. Rothschild, New York, with 112.9; Ely Culbertson and Theodore A. Lightner with 109.6 and W. E. Brownback and C. C. Lockett, of St. Louis, with 108.8.

No favored team failed to make the grade with the exception of a pair comprising Whitner L. Cary, bridge editor of the Atlanta Constitution, one of the Georgia foursome that eliminated the defending champions in the recent Vanderbilt cup matches, and Commander Winfield Liggett, jr., a well known player. They were out with only 91.1 points, but Cary protested the score on one hand, which may lead to a recapitulation tomorrow.

The major team of four event begins Thursday.

Buttram Slated For Sooner Relief Post

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 9. (AP)—Governor William H. Murray, reports from Washington said today is to be supplanted by his political foe, Frank Buttram, Oklahoma City oil man and philanthropist, as driver of the Oklahoma federal relief machine.

Upon the request of Secretary Roper for a recommendation, Senator Elmer Thomas expressed his whole-hearted endorsement of Buttram, who was defeated by Murray in 1930 for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in a bitterly-contested run-off primary.
