Crazed Man Shoots 12 To Death

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

James C. Watson, Oil Editor

Upton Prospector Is Nearing Ellenburger

The Ellenburger is expected at Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 Powell, Central-North Upton County prospector, two miles southeast of the Pegasus field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 44, block 40, TP survey.

The venture had reached 12,861 feet in lower Simpson lime and shale, and was drilling deeper. Interested observers expect it to encounter the Ellenburger by the time it reaches 12,950 feet.

The formation is drilling rather soft and the Ellenburger top should be found within the next 24 hours.

An Important Project

This exploration has indicated possibilities of production in both the Devonian and in the Fusselman zone of the Silurian. Should it make an oil well in the Ellenburger it would be a major development and an important extension to the multi-pay Pegasus field.

Republic Natural No. 1 American Republics Corporation, three miles south of the Pegasus field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 6, block 40, TP survey, T-5-S, was drilling ahead past 5,136 feet in Permian lime, after developing sulphur water, and no shows of oil or gas in the San Andres lime.

The water came in a three-hour drillstem test at 4,655-4,825 feet. Recovery was 1,530 feet of drilling water and 1,440 feet of sulphur water. The project is to continue to 13,000 feet as an Ellenburger exploration.

Landon-Deep Offset Is Swabbing To Test

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Holt, one-quarter of a mile north stepout to production from the Devonian in the Landon-Deep field of Central-South Cochran County, was continuing to swab perforations at 11,747-794 feet in the Devonian to clean out, test, and complete.

Operator swabbed oil load and 154 barrels of new oil in 12 hours, cut with four and five-tenths per cent drilling water and mud.

This prospect drilled to a total depth of 11,817 feet and then plugged back to 11,795 feet and perforated in the Devonian.

It showed on two drillstem tests between 11,755 feet and bottom that it had a considerable amount of free oil despite the fact that it is low to the initial producer from that formation in the Landon-Deep field.

This venture is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block L, psl survey, and one-quarter of a mile north of Stanolind No. 2 Edwards, the first producer in the Landon area from the Devonian.

Ewing Is Set To Drill On Ector Exploration

Drilling is to be started immediately at a 5,100-foot wildcat in Northeast Ector County to test into the San Andres-Permian lime.

The venture will be drilled by Bayard Ewing, of Providence, R. I., and associates, as their No. 1 Augusta C. Barrow estate.

It will be eight miles north of Odessa, and three miles west of the nearest production from the San Andres in the North Cowden field.

The venture is on a block of three and one-quarter sections recently acquired by Ewing and associates.

It will be 440 feet from south and west lines of section 22, block 42, TP survey, T-1-S. Loffland Brothers Company has the rotary drilling contract and equipment is now being moved to the drillsite.

Lion Schedules Two Diamond-M Projects

Lion Oil Company has staked locations for two new explorations in the Diamond-M field of Southwest Scurry County, both of which are to drill to 6,800 feet to test for Canyon lime production, using rotary tools.

The company's No. 1 J. N. Bynum is located one-quarter of a mile south of the nearest producer on the southeast side of the Diamond-M field, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 178, block 97, H&TC survey.

It is 11 miles southwest of Snyder.

Lion No. 4 Gertie, 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 183, block 97, H&TC survey, is on the east side of the Diamond-M field, and 10 miles west of Snyder.

Both are due to start operations soon.

NE Upton Venture Is Taking Devonian DST

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Pembrook, Northeast Upton County wildcat, six miles north of the Benedum field, and 660 feet from north and 2,247 feet from east lines of block X, C. C. DeWitt survey, was bottomed at 11,944 feet in Devonian lime and chert, and was taking a drillstem test.

Up to now this exploration has not found any possibilities of petroleum production.

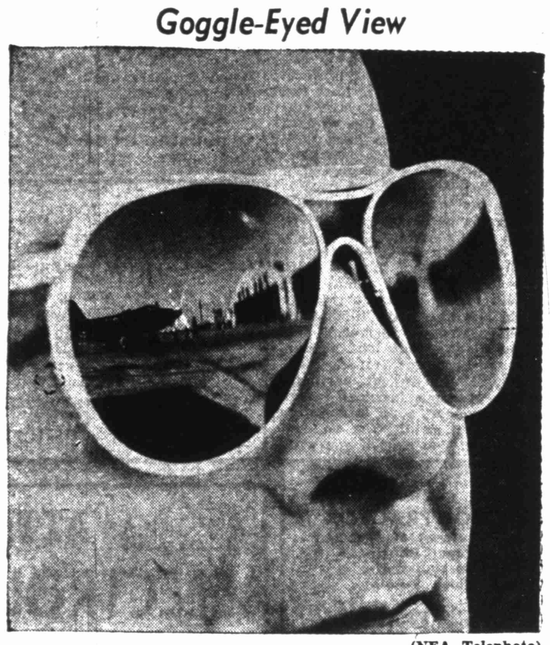

Location Of Reagan Wildcat Corrected

School Days Start Tuesday In Midland

Midland public schools opened Tuesday morning with a heavy enrollment in each of the eight schools, Supt. Frank Monroe said. Enrollment figures were not available at noon.

High school students attended their first day in the new, spacious and elegant plant on West Illinois Street. Regular classes with assignments and lectures began as an everyday procedure. Textbooks were issued. Charles Mathews is the principal.

Within one period after school began the junior high students were in their regular schedule of activities. Wesley Martin is the new principal. An extensive program including a student newspaper, band, student council and a full schedule of clubs is being offered in Midland Junior High School in its new location on West Texas Street.

Elementary Schools Full

Elementary schools were flooded with parents and boys and girls as they found their room assignments on the doors of the classrooms and became acquainted with new rooms and new teachers. A full program is being carried out during the day in these schools.

New principals in two of the elementary schools were on hand to greet the students and parents. They are C. D. Johnson, South Elementary, and Leslie R. Hinds, West Elementary. Both of these schools boast four new classrooms. W. D. Ladd is the North Elementary principal, and J. F. Wright heads the Terminal faculty.

Parent-Teacher Association units set up and maintained information booths in each of the elementary schools in order to assist children and their parents on the first day.

Cafeterias for the elementary schools served lunch. High school and junior high cafeterias are not ready for use yet, but will be soon.

Mrs. Lucy Mashburn is principal of the Latin-American School. The Carver School principal is E. L. Jordan.

Robeson Supporters Ask Impeachment Of Gov. Thomas Dewey

PEEKSKILL, N. Y. —(AP)— Paul Robeson supporters, protesting the violence that swept the countryside after his concert near here Sunday, have called on President Truman to help "restore law and order in New York state."

But Westchester County District Attorney George M. Fanelli, who had over-all command of a force of 900 law enforcement officers, says they did a "magnificent job."

The left-wing negro singer's sympathizers also have demanded the impeachment of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Westchester County officials for not preventing the five-hour rioting.

More than 100 persons were injured as anti-leftist demonstrators hurled rocks and other missiles at autos and buses carrying the concert crowd home.

Windows of hundreds of vehicles were smashed in scattered attacks spread over many miles of roads in the suburbs 40 miles north of New York City. At least eight autos and an empty bus were overturned.

Robeson charged that many of the 10,000 concert-goers were "attacked by arms of the state and local government." He called the concert crowd "peacefully assembled American citizens."

Pleasant Weather Holds On In Texas

Icy Channel Tides Defeat Shirley May

By HAL COOPER

IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL —(AP)— Shirley May France failed in a gallant attempt to swim the English Channel Tuesday after battling her way through swirling tides to within less than six miles of her goal—the White Cliffs of Dover.

Robbed of all her strength by the icy water and swift currents of the channel, the Somerset, Mass., schoolgirl was dragged moaning from the water. She struggled to keep from being pulled into the boat. In tears she pleaded for a chance to keep on.

The end came at 4:05 p.m. (9:05 a.m. CST) after she had been in the icy water 10 1/2 hours. Observers estimated she had swum more than 30 miles on a zig-zagging course.

"Please—please—leave me in," the pretty 17-year-old swimmer pleaded with her coach, Harry Boudakian.

Fights To Keep Going

She had fought to keep up the battle, spurred on by a message from her mother and by the shouted encouragement of her father, J. Walter France, who was on one of the boats accompanying her.

The Dover cliffs, shining in the sun, had been within her view for two and a half hours. "Look how near it is," she cried hysterically when she sought to fight off attempts to make her give up.

It is 19 miles across the English Channel but the flow of tides force swimmers to travel a much greater distance.

"There they are," she shouted when a wave carried her up and she spotted the cliffs for the first time.

Spurning suggestions that she give up, the plucky American girl conquered a brief spell of nausea and kept right on swimming with her long methodical strokes. If she had made it Shirley May would have

Labor Day Death Toll Passes 500

By The Associated Press

The nation Tuesday counted a record breaking accidental death toll for the three-day Labor Day holiday.

The full count of fatalities was not yet tabulated but the more than 500 persons who lost their lives in accidents over the extended holiday was the largest for any Labor Day weekend in history.

The highways took the heaviest toll. Of the 505 persons killed in violent accidents, 379 lost their lives in automobile mishaps. The traffic total was almost 100 above the estimated 280 probable death toll made by the National Safety Council. Forty-five persons drowned and 81 died in accidents of miscellaneous causes.

The fatalities in an Associated Press survey covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

This year's Labor Day total compared with the previous high of 428 over the 1937 Labor Day holiday.

Navy Engineer Says He Furnished Data For Note On B-36's

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A Navy aeronautical engineer said Tuesday he unknowingly supplied some of the data for a once-mysterious memo that touched off the congressional B-36 bomber investigation.

Hugh L. Hanson, now of Glendale, Calif., testified that he gave the information to Cedric R. Worth, suspended Naval official.

It was to the effect that the late James V. Forrestal, then secretary of defense, had indicated President Truman wanted to fire W. Stuart Symington as secretary of air.

Hanson said he told Worth that Forrestal, with some difficulty, talked the President out of doing so because Forrestal "didn't want to make Symington a martyr."

Writer Backs Down

Worth wrote the memo which was chiefly responsible for a spectacular injury last month by the House Armed Services Committee. The memo hinted at irregularities and frauds in the B-36 program.

But the hearing blew up with a bang when Worth backed down on all his charges and the committee exonerated everybody he had mentioned.

The Navy then set up its own court of inquiry to find out whether anyone else in the department had had a hand in preparation of the memo. Hanson and Chief Yeoman Virginia Charles, of Easton, Pa., were the first witnesses Tuesday.

Miss Charles, who had been Worth's secretary, testified almost inaudibly that she transcribed two memos involved. Worth was a special assistant to Undersecretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball.

Thomas Withdraws Demands For Data On Official Flying

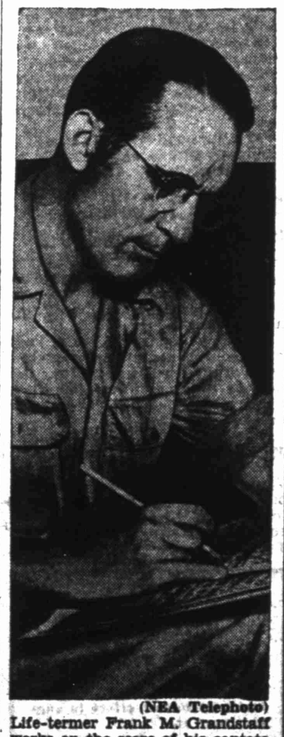

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) Tuesday dropped his demand on Secretary of Defense Johnson for information about the use of military aircraft by President Truman and other top government officials.

Thomas told reporters he was dropping it because Undersecretary of Defense Stephen Early had assured him that use of military aircraft will be restricted in the future to "public business."

Thomas added that he now considers a "closed matter" the controversy stirred up by Johnson's objections to a request from a group of senators for a military plane to fly them part way around the world.

Thomas is chairman of a Senate Appropriations Committee that passes on funds for the armed forces. He plans to lead members of the group to Europe to check on expenditures of public funds.

Heart-Warming Recovery Story—

Polio Victim Sends Two Dollars To Aid Joan Edwards Fund

Combine a warm heart and the faith of childhood and you get the heart-touching Joan Edwards Recovery Fund story of Tuesday.

Midlanders and West Texans will remember Don (Speck) Devore, popular newsboy who was stricken with polio. Don is at the Gonzales polio center fighting for his own recovery.

The freckle-faced kid sent in two dollars to the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund Tuesday.

Well, can you beat that?

He received many kindnesses and gifts from others and now he wants to help another, unfortunate like himself.

It's a lesson in the unselfish success of the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund, which now totals $3,935.69, thanks to two more dollars from a little boy, who can think of others when he, himself, is down.

Think of what his giving two dollars cost. His spirit of giving enhances the value of his two dollars to a thousand, yea million fold.

Five Others Wounded By Veteran

CAMDEN, N. J.—(AP)—A 28-year-old Army veteran on a maniacal rampage Tuesday killed 12 persons on a busy Camden street.

Five others were wounded.

Detective Marshal Thompson identified the killer as Howard Unruh. A quiet, well-dressed young man, his neighbors said they knew little about him.

The street "looked like a battlefield," Thompson said.

"He (Unruh) turned that German Luger loose on those people like ducks on a pond."

Killed in the 45-minute hail of bullets were five men, five women and two boys, aged two and five.

Police authorities here said they believe it was the worst mass slaughter on a city street in the nation's history.

It all began quietly enough.

Unruh walked out of his house, nattily dressed in a light suit and white shirt with bow tie.

Without warning he whipped out his gun and began firing. Before he was finished, he had raced in and out of half a dozen business establishments, cutting down men, women and children right and left.

Then he barricaded himself in the second-floor room where he lived.

For a time he shot it out with 50 policemen while men and women milled in the streets.

'Then They Got It'

"They gave us a hell of a time," Thompson said. "They wouldn't get out of the way."

"Men would stop for a traffic light," Thompson added. "Then they got it."

Failing to win the gun battle, police cut loose with a tear gas barrage.

Coughing and choking, Unruh emerged from his room. He was unhurt.

Police threw up a shoulder-to-shoulder cordon to convoy Unruh from the building.

A howling mob of men and women in the streets lunged for the police screaming:

"Lynch him!"

"Hang him now!"

But they didn't crash the line of police.

Thompson said Unruh served with the Army in an artillery unit in

Murray Injured Critically

AUSTIN —(AP)— Texas Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray, injured in a car-cab collision, is in critical condition in an Austin hospital.

Murray suffered a fractured hip, back injury and head injuries in the collision here Monday night, hospital attendants said.

Two daughters, Marsha, five, and Janice, two, were admitted to the hospital for observation. Attendants said they were not seriously hurt.

His wife was not hurt, and the Murray's eight-year-old daughter suffered only a black eye.

The Murrays, returning from a plane trip to Houston, had caught a cab and were enroute to their home. The accident occurred about 200 yards from the airport.

Police listed the driver of the cab as Harold Grady of Austin. He was uninjured. The driver of the other car was Joe Swain of Route 3, Austin, who was treated for a severe gash on his forehead.

Giant Hurricane Wallows Around In Area Near Bermuda

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)— A giant tropical hurricane with winds up to 120 miles an hour churned the Atlantic some 400 miles southsoutheast of Bermuda Tuesday with virtually no forward movement.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster here, said the gargantuan storm "apparently is just wallowing around hundreds of miles from anywhere."

"From information we now have it appears that the storm hasn't moved more than one degree of latitude in the last 24 hours," said Norton.

Norton said the storm was approximately 1,000 miles southsoutheast of New York, about 800 miles slightly south of east of Charleston, S. C., and between 850 and 900 miles east-northeast of Miami.

Trial Defendant Is Injured In Attack At Robeson Concert

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Communist conspiracy trial was delayed Tuesday by the absence of one defendant who was injured in the melee following the Paul Robeson concert last Sunday at Peekskill.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina ordered a recess until Tuesday afternoon pending the submission of a doctor's report on an eye injury suffered by the defendant, Irving Potash.

Potash, international vice president of the CIO Fur and Leather Workers Union, was in one of the cars stoned on the way home from the Robeson concert.

Bill Odom, Noted World Flier, Dies In Crash At Air Races

CLEVELAND —(AP)— William P. Odom, 30, who flew "the hump" and the Atlantic in wartime, rounded the world alone and without rest, crossed ocean and continent in a little plane, ran out of flying luck at 400-odd miles an hour.

Odom—"Bill" to everyone who met him—died in a screeching plunge that sent his green racing plane through a suburban home and killed a mother and her son Monday.

The other victims of the tragedy that marred the final big event of the National Air Races were Mrs. Jeanne Laird, 24, and her year-old son, Craig. They were caught in the fire that destroyed the house after the P-51 Mustang had roared through it from roof to basement.

It was Odom's first try at the $40,000 Thompson Trophy free-for-all race. He won a preliminary event Saturday without pushing the expensive speedster bought not long before by Jacqueline Cochran, one of the nation's most famous women pilots.

Miss Cochran chose Odom for his demonstrated skill and courage. He twice had set a round-the-world speed record.

Government aviation officials began seeking the cause of the accident immediately, but had no answer after a preliminary look at the wreckage.

Flier's Crash Threatens Future Thompson Events

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Sport flying's richest and toughest race faced a new threat to continuance Tuesday with the death of Distance Flier Bill Odom and two suburban residents.

Odom's death plunge into a Berea home during the second lap of the Thompson Trophy event Monday revived the protests of area residents against the low flying speedsters, shrieking over their homes at 400 miles an hour. The dark green racer, a converted fighter, ripped through the house, killing Mrs. Jeanne Laird, 24, and her year-old son, Craig.

Odom was flying an F-51 Mustang owned by Aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran.

Cook Cleland of Cleveland, former Navy fighter pilot, took the Thompson Trophy and $18,100 with a new record speed of 397 miles an hour. He also won in 1947 with a record 396 mph that stood until Monday.

Cleland's new mark was the last of a series established during three days of competition. Records were pushed up in both the propeller and jet divisions of the Bendix cross-country races, the Goodyear races for midget planes, the Sohio and Tinnerman Trophy races, and the jet division of the Thompson.

The Thompson, a free-for-all, is the traditional classic of all races.

Women Should Warn Hubby If He's A Reckless Driver

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"Of course, I wouldn't say this to Bob. But it was bound to happen some day. You know how fast he drives," said a wife whose husband had that day landed in a hospital after an accident that never would have happened if he had not been speeding.

No, she'd never admit to Bob that his accident was a direct result of reckless driving. His driving had been scaring her to death for years, but she never complained about it.

Such fun has been made of women's "back-seat drive."

From the time a girl starts dating, she thinks she has to put up with any kind of driving. She may be shaking inside because her date has had too much to drink to be at the wheel of a car, or because he's in a show-off mood and has decided to find out just how fast the old bus will go. But she puts a smile on her face and acts as nonchalant as he does.

After all, nobody is going to accuse her of being a back-seat driver.

Let's Not Pretend

And if she has the misfortune to marry a man who hasn't outgrown the tendency to drive with a flourish and take chances when he's at the wheel of a car, she goes right on being a good sport about his driving.

She pretends with him when he gets into minor trouble that it was the other driver's fault instead of calling a spade a spade and saying: "Look here, you had it coming and if you don't start driving more carefully you're going to get in a much worse wreck one of these days."

As long as men insist on doing the driving when they are in the family car, women have a perfect right to back-seat drive, when back-seat driving is indicated.

After all, just because a man is willing to risk his own life doesn't give him the right to risk the lives of his wife and children. And if his wife doesn't tell him off, who is going to?

Hoxha made his charges in a speech during the decoration of soldiers wounded in "defending the Albanian frontier" against Greek government forces. It was reported by the Albanian Telegraphic Agency and the Czech Press Agency.

"Our enemies have been spreading lies about Albania," he said. "They are trying to create a war physchosis around Albania in order to threaten and bully us.

"The Trotskyist agents from Belgrade led by Tito, the Greek monarcho-fascists, the Albanian war criminals who escaped abroad, the Italian neo-fascists, the pope and the Vatican—all these are hatching plots to endanger Albanian independence.

"But the small Albanian army is watchful and can and will fight to defend its rights."

Bolivian Revolution Nearly Stamped Out

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA. —(AP)— The government radio said Monday Carlos Torres, leader of the fast-collapsing right-wing revolt, had been captured at Sucre.

An army community said loyal troops and planes are pursuing remnants of the rebel forces as they flee through the countryside from their fallen strongholds of Potosi and Sucre.

HOW TO PLAY CANASTA: 8

Play Ends When Player Melds Out

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Here are the remaining laws of four-handed Canasta.

THE DISCARD: After completing a draw and melding (the latter is optional), the player discards. If he plays all of his cards, he does not have to have a card to discard.

FREEZING THE PACK: A deuce or a joker (or a red trey, if it is the first card turned over from the stock pile) freezes the pack. When the up-card is a deuce or a joker or a black trey, a player cannot pick up the pack. He must draw from the stock pile.

A black trey does not freeze the pack. It simply forces the next player to draw from the stock pile. But as long as the pack contains a deuce or a joker (or a red trey, if it is the first card turned over from the stock pile), it remains frozen.

When the pack is frozen, it can only be taken up by a player in his proper turn when he has two natural cards to match the up-card. For example, if the up-card is a five-spot, a player must have two natural fives in his own hand in order to pick up the pack if it is frozen.

When the pack is not frozen, a player can pick it up if he has one natural card to match the up-card and a wild card; or if he can play the up-card on one of the melds previously made by his side.

A player may meld out (with or without having a card to discard) without asking his partner's permission. Before going out, though, it is your privilege to ask your partner, "May I go out, partner?" It is always your privilege to ask this question in your turn before making any meld. You do not have to ask. You may, if you wish, just go out. But if you do ask, you are bound by your partner's reply. If he says "Yes," you must go out. And if you are unable to go out, your side must pay a 100-point penalty. If your partner says "No," you must keep at least one card in your hand.

However, when it next comes your turn, you again are privileged either to go out without asking your partner, or, before drawing, once again you may ask your partner, "May I go out, partner?" You are again bound by his reply.

If a player takes the pack by selecting the up-card, he cannot ask for permission to meld out, because he is required to place two cards from his hand on the table to form a meld with the up-card. If a player asks before drawing if he may meld out and partner says "No," he may then either draw a card from the stock-pile or take the pack or discard pile.

When a player melds out, play ends and the deal is scored in accordance with the scoring table.

TOMORROW: "Going out" and special rules.

Date Near For Annual Training Course To Prepare Girl Scout Adult Leaders

A date set last Spring is approaching for women who are to lead and work with the Girl Scout troops of Midland this year. On September 19 the group leadership training course will start, to continue for two hours every morning through September 23.

All troop leaders are urged to enroll for this training, which is planned also to benefit women who are preparing to work with Girl Scout troops for the first time. Prospective leaders, assistants and troop committee members will be given information that will help them start their work, and they will learn also what persons and reference material are available to help them with problems they encounter through the year.

Mrs. I. A. Searles, who has been Volunteer Trainer for the Permian Basin Girl Scout Area and who has been designated as Area Field Director this year, will conduct the course.

Chairmen In Charge

Arrangements for it are being made by Mrs. J. C. Rinker, training chairman for the Midland Girl Scout Association, and Mrs. Vernon Bottoms, organization chairman.

The first session will be held in the Children's Room of the Midland County Library, in the courthouse basement, and succeeding classes in the Parish House of the Trinity Episcopal Church.

Recruiting of new leaders to serve troops added to the growing Girl Scout organization in Midland, and to replace those who have moved or resigned, is being emphasized in the Girl Scout Association in preparation for the training course.

Purpose Of Scouting

Mrs. Bottoms, urging women of the community to volunteer assistance in the Girl Scout program, quotes a publication, "Leadership of Girl Scout Troops," on the purpose of Girl Scouting and the place of the adult leader in carrying out that purpose:

"Deep interest in the growing up of young people is as old as history. Every tribe, community or nation has realized that youth was a valuable asset for its own future . . . A girl growing up these days needs a variety of things . . . Girls need to see the problems of ethics, group living and democracy worked out in a girl-sized setting they can understand. A community that cares for its own future will see that girls have this opportunity.

"From its earliest beginnings the Girl Scout movement has been recognized as a way of developing good citizens. It emphasizes service to others, international friendship and fun for all.

"The organization has now nearly a million members. It will have double this number when more women understand that girls have a right to the fun, the creative activities and the citizenship training that the Girl Scout program offers. It will grow as more women understand youth leadership as an important civic service."

Trip To Canada Is Reported To B&PW

CRANE—Mrs. Myrtle Cherry and her daughter, Evelyn, of Midland told the Business and Professional Women's Club about their trip to Canada earlier this Summer in a meeting in the Community Hall recently.

Slides and photographs of scenes on the trip were shown. Evelyn Riden was elected to active membership in a business session presided over by Margaret Hugghins.

Others present were Winnie Browning, Estelle McCorley, Bernice Hagler, Mildred North, Glad Lewis, Waldine Curry, Joan Hogan and Maurine Hester.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit — back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

Conservation Problems

The steady exhaustion of the world's natural resources in the face of mounting population drew a lot of attention last year, largely because two extremely readable books on the subject were published.

How to protect failing resources and develop new ones still does not command, however, the time and thought it deserves in paraliments and cabinets throughout the world. Lawmakers here and abroad manage to talk about everything but conservation—one of the most elemental factors in world political and economic life.

But now, fortunately, the United Nations is delving into conservation and population problems. Some 400 scientists from 50 countries are gathered in a three-week conference devoted to the question of how to stop the rapid depletion of vital resources and bring them in line with population needs. The meeting is a healthy sign.

After the books by William Vogt and Fairfield Osborn appeared last year, they were branded by some people as "alarmist." Some rather strained efforts were made to disprove their thesis—that population may soon outrun the essentials of life.

None of these attempts tried to deny population growth or the dwindling of resources in soil, timber, minerals and the like. Instead, they pinned hope on science and technology to save the situation before starvation and similar crises develop.

Anyone must wish this will occur, for otherwise the outlook is dark indeed. Osborn told the UN conferences of scientists that the world's population will soar from the present 2,000,000,000 to 3,000,000,000 in 50 years. And a Canadian mineral resources chief warned that the time may not be far off when our best known sources of key materials will be used up.

With the staggering potentialities of atomic energy on the horizon, it would be foolish to predict that the world will not be bailed out of this tightening dilemma. Trygve Lie, UN secretary-general, told the delegates a fuller use of science in developing resources might lead to successful support of a vastly expanded population at a much higher standard of living than now prevails.

Yet the fear lingers that lost resources may never quite be matched. Many of the depleted materials were high grade, easy to mine or use, relatively close to population centers where they were needed.

W may be able to put amazing new life in worn-out soils; to devise synthetics and other substitutes; to extract great untapped mineral stores from remote places, or to refine low-grade ores now commercially unusable.

But who can be confident that these answers, however ingenious, will not be much more costly than we would like? Unless atomic furnaces bring us remarkably cheap power, a lower standard of living will be the outcome.

The world will welcome all the benefits science can yield. But meantime lawmakers everywhere ought to put conservation high on their agenda, as a hedge against a future that may not be quite as bright as they so blithely imagine.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: General Vaughan and puppies interrupted vacation; Vaughan once demanded criminal prosecution because of Maragon expose; FBI found Maragon had pleaded guilty of boot-legging.

WASHINGTON — About the middle of August I finally succumbed to Mrs. P's erroneous and unreasonable idea that Washington is hot in the Summertime and we went out to California on an alleged vacation.

Usually I have the excuse of filling the silo to stay right on the farm which is the best place in the world to relax. But by August my resistance against Mrs. P's arguments had broken down completely. In the first place we filled the silo early, using alfalfa instead of corn. In the second place I wanted to see my grandson who lives in California.

Well, we had a nice time in California. I spoiled to baby only a little bit, we met a lot of nice folks, I didn't get too lonesome for the constant ringing of the telephone, and in fact got almost reconciled to leaving Washington—when suddenly the office called up to report on a number of things.

Mrs. P's dog, they said, had had puppies. The kitten had become unhousebroken. The painter who was supposed to redo the kitchen in our absence got drunk and insisted on working at midnight. Also the bacteria count on the cows went up so high that I never will be able to win any more dairying arguments with Governor Dewey.

However, at least the pigs didn't get out. But, added the office, Gen. Harry Vaughan also was tapping my wires, feeding information derived therefrom to Westbrook Pegler and doing his best to put me in jail. Otherwise, said the office, everything was fine.

Vaughan Asked Prosecution

Of course, the fact that General Vaughan was trying to put me in jail wasn't exactly new. He tried to do that rather vigorously once before, at the time I wrote the first columns exposing the amazing Maragon back in March 1947.

I had then reported that Vaughan and Maragon were as thick as an unwashed syrup pitcher on its saucer, but I didn't realize how really close they were until the good general appeared in the office of the U. S. district attorney in Washington to demand that I be prosecuted for criminal libel.

General Vaughan, it seemed, was irked because I had reported various things about Maragon, many of which the Senate committee has since brought out under oath. Among other things, I stated that "he once pleaded guilty of transporting liquor illegally (7/17/30), was three times arrested for disorderly conduct but never prosecuted, once as recently as last November 29, and got into a brawl in the locker room of the Washington Senators where some of the ball players beat him up."

General Vaughan, appearing before the district attorney, claimed this was not true. His "lovable" friend, he said, had been maligned and he demanded prosecution of the guilty columnist.

Morris Fay, the district attorney, was a little flabbergasted at seeing the top military aide to the President of the United States turn up on an errand of this kind, but he replied that he would be glad to talk to Maragon.

However, he subsequently made it clear that there had been no criminal libel case brought in the District of Columbia since about the time of the civil war, and that he had instructions from the Justice Department to bring none without prior consultation.

This was because, in a criminal libel case, the government of the United States becomes the prosecutor, and undertakes to convict and jail the offending editor or newspaperman without any expense or effort on the part of the party supposedly libeled—in this case Maragon.

Vaughan Is Persistent

This explanation, conveyed to General Vaughan, did not dampen his persistency. It merely increased his efforts on behalf of his "lovable" friend.

With the question of prosecuting Pearson referred by the district attorney to the Justice Department, the good general transferred his pressure higher up, and tried to bulldoze J. Edgar Hoover.

"I thought when orders were given in this government, they were carried out," he stormed.

Hoover told him that his job was to investigate, not to prosecute, and that if orders were given him by the attorney general to investigate the Pearson charges against Maragon, he certainly would do so.

Shortly before this, Vaughan had lifted no audible voice of protest when Maragon violated the customs laws by smuggling perfume into the U.S.A. In fact, Vaughan had continued to give him White House credentials, even though Maragon had used them in attempted smuggling and had wantonly violated their use.

Nevertheless, Vaughan now demanded the prosecution of one who had exposed Maragon's lawbreaking.

FBI Investigates

And, thanks to Vaughan's persistency, the Justice Department did order the FBI to investigate. The investigation cost the taxpayers a few extra dollars, plus the time of busy FBI agents needed for loyalty tests.

Maragon had claimed that the man guilty of bootlegging on July 17, 1920, was a "John F. Maragon," not the "lovable" friend of General Vaughan, "John F. Maragon." So after a lot of work, including a search for fingerprints which were not taken at that time, the FBI finally located the handwriting of the bondsman's records back in 1920. This handwriting of "John F. Maragon" they found to be the very same handwriting of "John F. Maragon," the "lovable" friend.

Whereupon the criminal case against this writer was dropped.

Sequel came just the other day when Maragon publicly admitted in a press interview that he did plead guilty to transporting liquor in 1920. But in March and April 1947, the president's military aide, claiming just the contrary, wasted a lot of FBI time plus the taxpayers' money by his persistent demand that the newsman making this statement should be jailed.

Well, as I said, the office called me up on the beach at Santa Barbara, Calif., to report on the puppies, the kitten, the midnight painted kitchen, the cows' bacteria count and General Vaughan. So finally we came home—not to check on General Vaughan but to see the puppies.

Veteran West Texas Minister Succumbs

PAMPA —(AP)— William C. Hart, 88, retired Methodist minister who served 47 years in churches of West Texas, died at the home of daughter, Mrs. Bob Clements, here Sunday night.

Born in Florida, Hart moved to Texas in 1885 and held pastorates at O'Donnell, Roaring Springs, Stanton and many other West Texas towns.

He had lived with his daughter since his retirement in 1935. Survivors include five sons, two half-brothers, 15 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

Services were to be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at O'Donnell.

Officers Laugh Off Woman's Confession

FORT WORTH —(AP)— A 45-year-old woman jailed here by police on a drunkenness charge told officers Monday she murdered W. A. (Tex) Thornton, who was found slain June 23 in an Amarillo tourist court.

Potter County authorities said the woman was a frequent tenant in their jail and was released there September 1 on a drunkenness charge. "We don't want her," they said.

No group of fan mail letters would be complete if I did not get some complaints. People, generally, do not write to a columnist unless they have some complaint—but today I want to complain about my fans. I like to have them write me, complaints or no complaints, but I also would like to have them send me a hand from their own group of players. I write bridge as it is played all over the United States and Canada. If a certain bid or play happens to produce a good result for you, then my other readers would like to see that hand. It may help their game.

H. A. Jacobs of New York sent me today's hand, which was played in his group, and it is a beautiful squeeze.

West opened the seven of hearts, declarer won with the ace in dummy. He immediately ruffed a heart, dropping East's king. He cashed the ace of diamonds and led a small diamond to the ten spot. The six of spades was led and East jumped in with the ace. He returned a club, hoping his partner could ruff, but his trumps were all gone. South won with the queen. He played all the diamonds and on the last diamond West, who was down to the queen-ten of spades and the queen-ten of hearts, was squeezed. West discarded the ten of hearts, and declarer discarded the ten of clubs from dummy.

The king of clubs was played and again West was squeezed. If he discarded the queen of hearts, dummy's jack would be good, while if he discarded the ten of spades declarer would lead the four of spades and win the last two tricks with the king and jack of spades.

Shock Treatments Give Hope To Those With Mental Disease

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Those who have a mental disease are just as truly ill as are those who have a broken bone, a tumor or some other trouble which can be seen or felt. In the not too distant past those who suffered from a mental disease were often kept in chains or solitary confinement, were beaten, and no effort was made to get at the bottom of the difficulty. Reform finally came in most places and the mentally ill came to be treated more humanely. It was finally recognized that people who were mentally sick were no more responsible for their condition than those who had some obvious physical disorder.

Since 1928 new hope has arisen for many patients with mental conditions because of the discovery that some mentally diseased people may be improved by giving them shock treatment. At first shock was produced by giving large doses of insulin (which is used in the treatment of diabetes).

Disadvantages Found

In large doses this insulin causes a type of reaction which doctors call shock. The mental condition of many of the mental patients who received this shock treatment cleared up. However, certain disadvantages were found with insulin. A substance called metrazol was then tried. This also produced shock.

Several years later electricity began to be used to give the shock treatments and this, too, brought about good results in many cases. New electric shock is probably used most often and, although these treatments do not cure all mental patients, they do help in many cases.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

QUESTION: Are brown spots under the skin caused by something in the diet?

ANSWER: Sometimes brown spots on the body are called liver spots, but this is an incorrect term. Several different conditions can cause brown spots to develop, including skin diseases called tinea versicolor and chloasma.

Usually several shock treatments have to be given before the best results are obtained.

People who have friends or relatives whose cases warrant trying shock treatment ought not to expect too much. It does not always work, but it offers hope to many.

American Foreign Policy Not Tied To British Lion's Tail

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — One of the criticisms most frequently thrown at the U. S. State Department is that its policies are too pro-British. The charge is that U. S. foreign policy is in some mysterious way tied to the British Foreign Office to such an extent as to be indirectly subservient to it.

The degree to which suspicions of this subordination of American policy to British interests are justified probably will be revealed in the September financial negotiations between U. S. and U. K. officials in Washington. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Secretary of Treasury John Snyder are the principal negotiators for the U. S. Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps head the British delegation.

There is full realization in Washington that the British financial crisis will have to be solved, one way or another. There is no inclination to let the British Empire's ship of state sink, shot full of holes though it may be, and barnacled at the keel.

The reason for this is a firm official belief that the U. S. and the U. K. must be united in their general foreign policy objectives if international communism is to be contained in Soviet Russia. For the United States to attempt to win the cold war alone, without British support, is considered impossible.

Weak though Britain may be, it is still the strongest and most dependable force in Europe. If Britain goes down, all Europe goes down. The Truman doctrine policy for Greece, Turkey and Iran would be futile if the British lost their control and influence at Gibraltar, Malta, in the whole Mediterranean area and in the Middle East. Similarly, the United States is said to need British support in the Orient and even in Latin America.

Not A Strong Knot

To this extent it is possible to say that American foreign policy is tied to the British lion's tail. Consequently, it is doubtful if any serious attention can be paid to anti-British opinion in the United States. Belief that "Britain is bankrupt," or that "the British Empire is all washed up," cannot be considered.

Nevertheless, there must be complete realignment of American policies towards Britain and of British internal policies if the U. S.-U. K. alliance is to be maintained on a workable basis.

American policies in trying to support the British Empire for the last 25 years have been full of pity and high purpose. But they haven't accomplished the desired results.

Since 1914 the United States has given away about $100,000,000,000—an average of $4,000,000,000 a year. The British Empire has received about half of this amount. The money began to roll out in the Morgan and other highly respectable private loans to Britain in World War I. They were followed by U. S. government war loans.

For a few years in the depression, the United States behaved a bit more sensibly. But with World War II began the series of transactions known as Lend-Lease, UNRRA, British Loan, the Marshall Plan and now the Military Assistance program.

If this give-away policy is to be stopped, some way must be found for the United States to get something in return. The best and practically the only suggestion that has been made thus far to achieve this end is for the United States to increase its imports.

At the same time, a lot of the equally silly things which British and other European governments have been doing for the last 25 years will have to be stopped. Among the suggestions that will probably be thrown at the British in the forthcoming financial conference are; Stop the nationalization of industry program. Provide more incentive for private industry. Reduce manufacturing costs. Develop new foreign markets for exports in non-dollar areas. Devalue the pound sterling, allowing it to find its correct, natural level.

These suggestions are said to make economic sense. Some of the other proposals are less realistic. Telling the British that they must go on the six-day week, that they must cut out their health and welfare programs, that they must lower their standard of living, are beyond reason. Those things couldn't be sold to the American people, so there is not use trying to force them on the British.

The idea of forming an economic union with Britain, which has been kicked around a little bit in preliminary discussions, is not being given any serious consideration. The British don't want it any more than do Americans. To this extent, there are no grounds for accusing U. S. policy makers of being too pro-British.

Steps to the Moon

THE STORY: Gaynel Teare has accepted Fritz Freyman's proposal of marriage, even though she had been previously asked by Barry Bainbridge, young Detroit millionaire, to be his bride. Gaynel, however, has many problems to settle first. Her family, which she has supported since her father's death, must now get along on its moderate income, and not rely on Gaynel's salary. Gaynel also owes Barry money which he advanced for an emergency operation on Gaynel's younger sister Pat. But the hardest task will be to tell Barry, who is waiting for an answer to his proposal. Gaynel decides to tell Barry on the way home from a football game at Ann Arbor. But while they are at the game, Barry spies Denny, Gaynel's brother, with Madeline Day, a widow with whom Denny is infatuated.

BARRY put the glasses to his eyes. He said, after he had located them, "It's Denny, all right. And Madeline. Shall we try to make our way over? It would take quite a bit of doing. But I think we've got time."

"I told you I haven't any desire to meet Denny's new flame." Gaynel supposed she was being nasty. But that was the way she felt about it. "I didn't suppose you knew the lady well enough to call her by her first name," she added.

Barry said he didn't. Except that the one time they had met, through Denny, Mrs. Day had asked him to.

"Hum, how sweet of her!" Gaynel was having another look, thanks to the glasses. "She isn't exceptionally pretty. And she looks older than Denny."

"I expect she is. But that wouldn't matter. Any more than it matters that she isn't pretty."

Gaynel put the glasses down to look at Barry now. "What is there about her then?" she asked. She was simply dumbfounded at Barry's defense of this woman. He must have been taken in, too.

"You've heard of that indescribable something, haven't you?" Barry returned. "There's no word for it, really. Unless it might be 'glamour,' and that poor word has been so overdone and misused."

"It certainly has," Gaynel said. She put the glasses to her eyes again; then put them down as abruptly. "Have I got it, Barry?" she asked. "Glamour, I mean."

HE regarded her gravely, as though giving the matter his most serious attention. He shook his head. "No, but you don't need it, my dear. You have youth and beauty, joy and gayety—oh, lots of other things."

"Thank you," Gaynel said. "But I believe I'd rather have that indescribable something." She knew what it was. Fritz had it. Besides youth and good looks and laughter and fun. It was what made him irresistible. Disarming. Barry, with all his dark, lean attractiveness, with all his fabulous wealth, did not possess it. At least not for her.

"Maybe that's it," she said aloud. "Glamour is that something that one person has for certain people; that something that does not exist for anyone else."

"That's a good definition, in a way," Barry said. "Only in that case, my dear, you should have it for me, since you're the one-and-only girl, you know."

"You know me too well!" Gaynel put in quickly. Perhaps that was why Barry did not have it for her. "Glamour means uncertainty, the call to adventure that lies in the heart of all of us . . . mystery. That is the word for it." Perhaps she was not really the one-and-only girl for Barry, as he thought. She was no mystery to him. He had taken her pretty much for granted for a long time. Now he was more eager because he was not sure of her. It might not be so difficult now to tell him about Fritz. He would get over it, even though he might think he would not. Barry would find someone else who possessed that indescribable something for him.

The whistle blew for the start of the second half and Gaynel once more became part of the shouting and slightly hysterical crowd. Time lost its meaning for her, and it was with a start that she suddenly became conscious of Barry's voice making itself heard above the roar of the crowd.

"There's only one more minute to go. Don't you think we'd better get a head start and beat the mob?"

He was not the only one to think of that. Already people were beginning to leave their seats. The first big flaky drops of snow melted as soon as they found a resting place. By the time Gaynel and Barry had located the car, which was no easy task with row after row of cars packed as tightly as the proverbial sardine, it was raining a fine, steady drizzle. By the time they got onto the main road it was necessary to practically creep along, as the long line again formed a sort of procession.

GAYNEL thought, I'd better get it over and done. Before we get out of this parade and hit it up a bit. Before this opportunity slips through my fingers. But, oh, dear! how to begin. She had a sort of letdown feeling, anyway, after so much excitement. She doubted if her vocal cords could ever be the same.

"It was grand, wasn't it," she sighed, whipping off her hat and shaking the drops from it; slumping down so that she could rest her head against the back of the leather cushion.

Barry was pretty much occupied with his driving. The cars in back were honking impatiently for more speed ahead. The rain, which was coming down in sheets now, did not help any.

"Talking about glamour," Gaynel went on, "I think it's something one person must feel for another—to be really in love. What I mean is, you can be awfully fond of a person—as I am of you, Barry, and you are of me—but unless there's that glamour, too, it's just fondness, at least it's not the real thing. There's not that mystery . . ."

"What are you trying to say?"

Baked Alaska Is Easy Dessert

Easy homemade Baked Alaska begins with bakery cake.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Looking for easy de luxe desserts? Here are two that begin with bakery cake and end with cries of "more, more!"

Chocolate Baked Alaska Cake
(6-8 servings)

Four egg whites, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 (8-inch) layer bakers' cake, 1 quart chocolate ice cream.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Blend in sugar and vanilla extract. Continue beating until meringue stands in peaks and is well blended. Place cake on a cookie sheet. Pile ice cream on cake leaving about 1/2-inch around edge of cake uncovered. Cover ice cream and cake with meringue, making sure that ice cream is well covered by the meringue. Brown quickly in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for approximately five minutes. Serve immediately.

Pineapple-Coconut Custard Cake
(8 servings)

One-half package (1 1/2 ounces) prepared vanilla pudding, 1 cup milk, 1 (13-ounce) bakers' angel food cake, 1/4 cup grated coconut, 1/2 cup pineapple tidbits.

Prepare vanilla pudding according to directions on package. Cool until lukewarm. Pour pudding over angel food cake. Top with coconut and pineapple tidbits.

A tempting way to enjoy our plentiful apple supply is to put them into a scalloped dish: Allow about 2 small apples per person. Wash, core and slice them. Place them in layers in a baking dish. Sprinkle each layer with sugar and a little salt. Dot with table fat. Add a little water, sprinkle with crumbs, if desired. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes or until tender. During the last 15 minutes of baking, remove the cover for browning.

Program Plans For First Woman's Club Meeting Are Changed

A change in plans for the first 1949-50 program of the Midland Women's Club was made Monday when Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, program chairman, received a telegram from Mrs. Sam R. Greer of Tyler, scheduled to be the guest speaker, saying the serious illness of her husband necessitated canceling the engagement.

The initial meeting of the Woman's Club for this season will be held on September 15 in Mrs. Hodge's home, with the Fine Arts Club as hostess. Mrs. Greer, a prominent Texas clubwoman, was to have told of her own observations of the United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural Organization.

Substituting for her, Mrs. J. W. Carroll will discuss her subject, "UNESCO—A Peoples' Agency to Foster International Understanding for Peace."

Mrs. Greer's telegram said that her husband had suffered a heart attack. Her plans for coming to Midland had been completed, she told Mrs. Hodge when they were both at a meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Executive Board in Fort Worth last Thursday.

Mrs. Hodge returned Friday from the board meeting, at which preparations were completed for the state federation convention in November, including election and installation of new officers. Mrs. Hodge is the unopposed candidate for president to succeed Mrs. J. J. Perry of Sweetwater.

The Tribe returns home Thursday to face the Big Spring Broncs in two games. Thursday night has been designated "Harold Webb Night." The Midland skipper will be presented a gift before the game.

BALLINGER — Ernie Nelson elbowed the Midland Indians to a split in a double-header here Monday night in an iron-man role. He dropped the opener 6 to 4 and came back to shut out the Cats in a masterful performance, 4 to 0, in the nightcap.

Nelson set the Cats down with only four hits in the last game. The only time Ballinger threatened was early in the game when Stu Williams tripled.

The Indians led the opener by two runs for three innings but the Cats bunched three hits and an error in the sixth to ice the game after they had picked up one in the fourth and two in the fifth.

Indians Threate..

Midland threatened seriously in the seventh. After two runs were across to make the count 6-4, the Indians loaded the bases with two out. A base hit would have tied the score. However, Gus Pena grounded to the shortstop to end the rally.

It was Midland all the way in the nightcap. They scored two in the second and Nelson fired away to protect it nicely. Two more in the first of the seventh put it on cold storage.

Kenny Jones was injured in the first game as he slid into second. An examination proved his injuries were not serious. He was forced to retire from play, however.

Hole-In-One Gets Jeers, Not Cheers

SEATTLE —(AP)— Leon Amon stood on the 13th tee at the Maplewood Golf Course Monday and hit a neat five-iron shot which looped into the cup for a hole in one.

His fellow players did not congratulate him. They were in stitches.

The hole he had made in one stroke was on the 18th green.

Jack Williams Wins Big Spring Tourney

BIG SPRING —(AP)— Plainview's Jack Williams won the 18th annual Big Spring Invitational golf tournament Monday defeating Marion Plueger of Austin 4 and 3.

Williams succeeds Bill (Red) Roden of Odessa, who didn't play this year.

WINS TOP O' TEXAS

PAMPA —(AP)— Bill Houck of Borger Monday won the 13th annual Top O' Texas Golf Championship with a 20-hole, 1-up victory over Clary Freeman of Shamrock.

CRANE—Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Travis and children have returned from a trip that included visits in Fort Worth, Waco, Valley Mills and Abilene.

Bob Sprague spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Hal W. Frailey in the Gulf Camp. He has been attending Kansas State Teachers College at Emporia, Kan., and will teach in Burrton, Kan., this Fall. His young daughter, Paula, returned to Kansas with him.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Davidson entertained Sunday with a dinner in honor of Alvin and Marvin Davidson of Ruston, La. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Earp and children.

Mrs. C. R. Latham and children of Odessa spent Saturday in Crane with Mr. Latham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal W. Frailey.

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELBURNE

Ernie Nelson, the veteran Midland lefthander, deserves nothing but praise for his iron-man role against the Ballinger Cats Monday night. He took the mound in both ends of a double-header and went the distance in both.

Ernie was charged with a loss in the first game but it wasn't any more his fault than it was some of the other Indians who made several errors.

The surprising thing is, Nelson came back in the second game and mowed 'em down better than he did in the first. The longer he pitched, the more effective he was.

It was the first time this season a Midland hurler had gone the distance in both games of a double-header.

Snipe Conley, one of the best known baseball figures in the Permian Basin, has come up with a first-class benefit baseball game for the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund.

The tilt will be staged in Texon Sunday.

The Trans-Pecos All-Stars meet the Tri-County All-Stars. Both teams are giving their services free so that all proceeds may go to help Joan.

Lanky F. O. Scroggins, Monahans High School football mentor, says his all-state halfback of last season, Waldo Young, has some fine offers from colleges and universities. "In fact," he says, "Waldo can't make up his mind which one to take."

Texas Tech reported a few days ago Young would join the Red Raiders. But that seems to have backfired.

Last report said Waldo was down at Louisiana State University to take a look.

Pat Tone and Weldon Boggus, Lobo linemen, have joined up with the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys.

Alton Linne is going to the University of Wyoming.

—SS—

Ray Cathey, the prize of the Monahans backfield last season, and Pitzer are at Texas Christian University.

Eddie Samson, probably the coolest and smartest quarterback in the state and the boy who quarterbacked the Lobos to the state title, goes to the University of Oklahoma.

Mike Brumbelow, former TCU football great and coach, has changed up this season.

Mike, now a Midlander, has been coaching the line at Ole Miss in recent years.

He has passed that up this season to go into the scouting business.

Brumbelow will scout four games for the SMU Mustangs, two for Ole Miss and one for Wyoming.

He gets to peep at Notre Dame while on the Southern Methodist pay roll.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Yanks, Cards Hold Down-Stretch Edge

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Down the stretch come the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals, clinging desperately to 1 1/2-game leads that tradition says they should hold.

Only five of the last 20 Labor Day leaders have failed to make the World Series in the last 10 years . . . but maybe the runner-up Boston Red Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers don't read the record books.

St. Louis lost a game of its lead to the Dodgers Monday when they split with Pittsburgh while Brooklyn was thumping Boston twice 7-2 and 13-2.

Red Munger breezed to his thirteenth win in the Cards' opener as Enos Slaughter drove in five runs in the rout of Murry Dickson 9-1. The same Munger, trying for the daily double in the second game, lost the decision on relief in the tenth winning when doubles by Danny Murtaugh and Stan Rojek gave Pittsburgh a 5-4 edge.

Brooklyn turned the power loose on the weary Braves, who now are only one game above the .500 mark. After Joe Hatten was knocked out in the first inning of the morning game, Carl Erskine and Paul Miner contributed 8 2/3 innings of no-hit relief pitching for the edge over Warren Spahn. Preacher Roe tied the National League strikeout high for the year whiffing 11 in the lopsided second game.

The soaring Phillies extended their win streak to six games by dumping the New York Giants 9-7 and 4-2. Del Ennis' homer and three singles helped Dutch Meyer best Dave Koslo in the second game after a four-run rally in the ninth gave Ken Heintzelman the nod over Reliefer Adrian Zabala in the opener.

Cincinnati trimmed Chicago 7-3 in the first game with a four run knockout blast against Dutch Leonard in the ninth. Johnny Schmitz stopped the Reds in the second 7-2.

American Leaders Sweep

All four first-division clubs swept doubles in the American, leaving the Yank's lead safe at 1 1/2 games. New York blasted Philadelphia 13-4 and 5-2 while the Red Sox ran over Washington 5-2 and 12-2.

Joe DiMaggio's grand slam homer broke open the first game for the Yanks when Vic Raschi came up with his eighteenth victory over Lou Brissie.

DiMaggio was forced to leave the second game because of cramps in both legs after the first inning, but the Yanks put on a four-run splurge in the fourth to win. The game was called by darkness after seven innings.

Cleveland took a pair from Chicago 5-3 and 6-4. Larry Doby hit a homer in each game and George Metkovich hit two for the White Sox in the second game. And Bob Lemon tossed a four-hitter to cop No. 18 in the finale.

Detroit continued to sizzle, making it 14 out of their last 16 by subduing St. Louis twice, 4-0 and 2-1.

Gonzales Wins Net Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y.—(AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles still is the amateur tennis champion of the United States—but it is extremely doubtful that Pancho will remain an amateur very long.

At the moment, Pancho isn't talking. He's too happy over the amazing comeback he made in the finals of the national tournament Monday to discuss his plans for the future.

Two sets down and facing what appeared to be certain defeat, the 21-year-old champion brought his game to a peak and overhauled Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., 16-18, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont of Wilmington, Del., completed a successful defense of the women's title by whipping Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., 6-4, 6-1, in the final.

The veterans' title went to Gil Hall of New York for the sixth straight year. He defeated Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, 6-3, 6-2.

Southwest Gridders Speed Up Workouts

By The Associated Press

Labor Day was just another practice day for Southwest Conference football teams.

Texas A&M began three-a-day sessions Monday, with the addition of a night workout.

Co-captain Bobby Goff, senior right halfback who underwent a knee operation last month, rejoined the squad. The knee will be tested in scrimmage this week.

Southern Methodist lost a promising tackle for several days, at least. Jack Adkisson hurt his ankle running through plays Monday. Coach Matty Bell put the Ponies through two long drills, partly to work out muscle soreness.

The Baylor Bears spent part of the day posing for photographers and looking tough for reporters.

Two workouts kept the Texas Longhorns puffing. Coach Blair Cherry kept them concentrating on offensive drills. Meanwhile, Cherry was feeling cheerful about an unexpected find—Newell Kane, a junior from Palestine who looks like he might make a first-class fullback. Cherry said Kane looked fine to him in Saturday's drills.

Softball Teams To Meet In Benefit Baseball Game

Two of the top softball teams in West Texas pick up the baseball Wednesday night and tangle in a benefit tilt at Indian Park here. Starting time will be 8:15 p.m. The game is being played to benefit the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund.

The softball teams—Western Plastic and Joe's Gulf—are reported plenty good with the smaller pellet. The tilt stacks up to be first-rate.

Western Plastic edged Joe's Gulf for the softball league title here last week, but Joe Roberson, manager of Joe's Gulfers, says it'll be a different story in the benefit game.

Roberson will field a father-son battery for the game. Frank Roberson will be on the mound and Joe will be behind the plate for the Gulfers. Rolla Hargrave, Kenneth Baker and John Daylong all will do mound duty for Western Plastic. Son Wise will catch.

All Midland baseball fans have been urged to turn out for the tilt. A collection will be taken up for the Recovery Fund. There will be no admission charge at the gate.

Longhorn League—

Eight Teams Split In Labor Day Bill Of Double-Headers

By The Associated Press

The Midland Indians and the San Angelo Colts are staging a bitter battle for third and fourth places in the Longhorn League race as the season draws to a close.

Midland split a double-header Monday night with Ballinger. Ballinger won the first game 6-4. Midland took the second 4-0. Ernie Nelson hurled both games for the Indians.

San Angelo and Odessa also split. Odessa whitewashed the Colts in the opener 6-0. The Colts won the second contest 6-5. Frank Mormino hit a home run in each game for Odessa.

Vernon and Roswell also divided a twin bill. Roswell trounced the Dusters in the opener 13-1. Vernon won the nightcap 9-4 in ten innings with a five-run rally in the final frame.

Big Spring broke even with Sweetwater. The Swatters copped the first game 6-3. The Broncs won the second 3-2.

Bulldogs Edge Monahans Lobos In Scrimmage

The Class A Monahans Lobos moved into Memorial Stadium for a scrimmage tiff Monday afternoon and went away with just about all they wanted. The big Midland line wore out the middle of the Monahans forward wall in the course of time and stopped their ground gain dead in the latter part of the session.

Dalton Byerley, Jackie Mobley, Bob Wood and big Al Baze—the middle men—defensed the Monahans T formation to death with great play and wore the opposing line out with crushing blocks on offense.

The only weapon Monahans, which is a tough team for its classification, could use to advantage was speed. Several lateral plays and a few quick opening punches worked for the Lobos.

Midland's passing and ground game looked better than it has all season.

Thomas Goes

L. C. Thomas was getting into the Lobo secondary regularly with hard drives. Jack Burrus moved through big holes for nice yardage.

Coach Tugboat Jones used just about every backfield combination in the books. At one time Roy Kimsey, Robert Keisling, Larry Friday and Luther Mooney were back there. Kimsey tossed some beautiful passes and Keisling and Friday looked good on running plays.

The Bulldogs welcomed back Center Jimmy O'Neal. He had been out with an injury several days. His defensive play from linebacker was great.

Burks Shines

Jimmy Burks, the other center, played his best defense of the year. He made three pass interceptions and was in on more than a dozen tackles.

Jimmy Linebarger, an end, was brilliant both defensively and offensively.

With Jack Burrus throwing to Ends Duane Bush, Harrie Smith and Graham Mackey, the Monahans pass defense was duck soup. The anchormen also gave a good account of themselves on defense.

Reed Gilmore demonstrated his ability as a quarterback as he generaled the Bulldogs to several "touchdowns." He opened with a TD play, in fact.

Bob Conner, one of the most improved backs, slashed through the Lobo line nicely.

Pete English, Stan Coker, Jerry Culp, and several others helped greatly in checking the Lobo attack at times.

Monahans is much lighter this season than last and the backfield is not up to the Ray Cathey-Waldo Young-Eddie Samson combination of last year.

All in all, the Bulldogs looked better Monday than they have in any of the previous scrimmages.

The Bulldogs will drop into a single workout daily now that school has opened. They are due to start tapering off and polishing up for the season opener Friday in Ysleta.

Workouts hereafter will be in the afternoon only.

Texas League—

Sports, Eagles Go Into Deadlock For Berth In Playoffs

By The Associated Press

The home run king of the Texas League, Jerry Witte of Dallas, slammed his forty-eighth circuit wallop of the year Monday as Dallas downed Oklahoma City 10-5. But Shreveport swept a twin bill from San Antonio 2-0 and 7-2 and moved into a fourth-place tie with the Eagles.

Witte has six more games in which to hit seven homers that would tie him with Clarence Kraft's Texas League record. Kraft hit 55 homers for Fort Worth in 1924.

Dallas' second game with Oklahoma City Monday was called at the end of the ninth frame, because of darkness, with the score tied 0-0. Ben Guintini of Dallas and Grant Dunlap and Randy Jackson of the Indians also homered in the opener.

Hank Wyse hurled three-hit ball for Shreveport to whitewash the Missions in the opener. Les Burge's home run was the big blow in the Sports' attack in the nightcap.

Fort Worth and second-place Tulsa split a twin bill. Fort Worth won the opener 3-2. The Oilers won the second game 17-4. The split clinched first and second place in the final standings for the teams.

Beaumont and Houston split a double-header. Houston won the first game 6-2. Beaumont came back to take the nightcap 4-1.

Booster Club To Convene Tuesday

The Midland Bulldog Booster Club will meet at the Junior High School (old high school) at 8 p.m. Tuesday to hear a report from Tugboat Jones on the football training program.

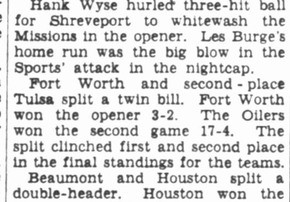

The club has grown by leaps and bounds in the last few days and a large turnout is expected. New members still are being accepted.

The Bulldogs will be honored at a "Kickoff Dinner" at The Colony from 7 to 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Bulldogs On Parade Wednesday

The Midland Bulldogs will put on their new game suits for the first time Wednesday night and go through an hour of play-running in the annual "dress rehearsal" for football fans at Memorial Stadium.

The event is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 p.m. and will last an hour.

New game suits arrived Monday.

Coach Tugboat Jones said he will send the Bulldogs through a complete "football game" for the fans. He invited everyone who is interested to be present for the show.

Player Suspended For Pushing Umpire

DALLAS —(AP)— Austin Shortstop Fred Campbell was out $50 and suspended indefinitely from baseball Tuesday.

Big State League President J. Walter Morris punished Campbell Monday, saying the player pushed an umpire in the Austin-Temple game at Temple Sunday night.

Crane, Stamford Meet In Tourney

GREELEY, COLO. —(AP)— Two Texas teams will meet each other in the National Softball Congress world tournament here Tuesday night. Crane meets Stamford at 9:30 p.m.

Monday Salt Lake City downed Lubbock, Texas, 2-0.

Starting in 1907, Chick Evans has played 75 matches in the U. S. amateur golf championships and won 51.

WT-NM League—

Abilene-Amarillo Wind Up In Tie For Loop's Second Slot

By The Associated Press

A flip of a coin Tuesday was to decide who wins second place in the West Texas-New Mexico League as the teams prepared for the playoffs.

The Abilene Blue Sox dropped a double-header to the first-place Albuquerque Dukes Monday night in the final games of the regular season. The scores were 8-4 and 5-4. The losses skidded Abilene into a tie with Amarillo.

Amarillo won one and lost one against Lubbock. The Hubbers took the first game 13-3. Amarillo won the night cap 15-12. Lamesa finished in fourth place after splitting a twin bill with Clovis. Lamesa won the opener 12-2. Clovis copped the second 7-6 after one extra frame.

Borger and Pampa split. Pampa won the first round 12-11. Borger won the nightcap 14-8. Jack Venable hit three homers for Borger in the first game.

Chandler Harper was a little erratic during the 1948 qualifying round for the PGA championship—he scored 41-29-70.

MP Employes Slate Strike Next Friday

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Missouri-Pacific train and engine service employes have called a strike for 2 p.m. Friday, P. J. Neff, chief executive of the line, said Monday.

Neff said the strike, if it takes place, would cause discontinuance of through service on the Missouri Pacific and its southern lines, the International Great Northern and the Gulf Coast Lines. The latter two lines will not be struck.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Shagganappy Remembers!

The Shagganappy was trying to remember where Old MacDonald had gone, but he couldn't. He has an awful time remembering things.

Daddy Ringtail was worried about it, too, because there he had found a torn piece of paper with words on it written by Old MacDonald. The words said: "Dear Daddy Ringtail. You will never see me again —."

And so: "Oh me," said Daddy Ringtail, "where has Old MacDonald gone? Why will I never see him again?"

"I don't know," said Mugwump, because he didn't know.

"Duh!" said the Shagganappy, because his rememberer still wouldn't work. And then: "Duh!" he said again. "I remember one thing, all right of a sudden. Here's a piece of paper in my pocket. I'm supposed to give it to you. Uhuh, and it's from Old MacDonald."

Daddy Ringtail took the piece of paper in a hurry. It was torn like the other paper Daddy Ringtail had found, an on this paper too were some words from Old MacDonald. The words said "—if you don't take care of your eyes."

What did the words mean? Mugwump didn't know, and the Shagganappy was sure that he didn't. But Daddy Ringtail was busy holding the pieces of paper together—the paper that he had found and the paper that the Shagganappy had given him.

"Uhuh," said the Shagganappy, "they use to be only one piece of paper, but I tore them in two so I would still have one of the pieces if I lost the other."

And so there were the pieces of paper together in Daddy Ringtail's hand. One of the pieces said: "Dear Daddy Ringtail. You will never see me again." And the other piece said: "If you don't take care of your eyes."

"That's it! That's it!" shouted the Shagganappy all of a sudden. He remembered. "Uhuh," he said, "you will never see Old MacDonald again if you don't take care of your eyes. And he means for you to keep your eyes clean and be sure you have enough light to read by. Because —duh— Old MacDonald didn't do it, and he had to go into town to get some glasses to see with. Duh!"

been the youngest person ever to conquer the swirling tides and icy water of the channel.

Six miles out the tide which had been buffeting her changed, giving her a boost toward the English Coast.

Mother Sends Message

Channel boats tooted encouragement as she plowed ahead. Occasionally she looked up and smiled at the watchers in the boats beside her.

Shirley's mother in Massachusetts sent her this message:

"Don't give up. I know you'll make it. We're all listening, waiting and wishing you the best of luck. And we're praying for you." The message was relayed to her by The Associated Press, which has a boat accompanying the swimmer.

Earlier her father, J. Walter France, asked her if she wanted to give up. Shirley May replied with a brief "Na-a" and continued churning the water. She used an Australian crawl making 24 strokes to the minute.

Fatigue and the cold channel waters make the last part of the crossing the hardest. In all, 28 distance swimmers have spanned this treacherous stretch of water separating France and England.

America's Gertrude Ederle holds the speed record for women. She crossed in 14 hours and 34 minutes on Aug. 6, 1926.

Shirley May entered the channel of Cap Gris Nez at 5:25 a.m. (10:25 p.m.CST Monday).

24 Or More Texans Die By Violence In Labor Day Weekend

By The Associated Press

Violent death took at least 24 lives in Texas during the Labor Day weekend.

The worst accident of all happened at midnight Monday. Four persons were killed in a highway crash eight miles from Houston on the Beaumont highway.

Traffic accidents took at least ten other lives during the three-day holiday. One man was shot to death, another was beaten to death and another was burned fatally. Two drowned. A woman was electrocuted. A Brownsville widow was stabbed to death. Two were killed in a plane crash. A child was killed when a train hit him as he played with his tricycle on railroad tracks.

A Consolidated Vultee engineer, H. T. Gill, Jr., 28, of Fort Worth, was killed Monday when his car overturned in a Parker County ditch on Highway 80. Scene of the accident was one mile west of the Parker-Tarrant line. Pfc. Robert L. Morton, 19, of Carswell Air Base, Fort Worth, was injured.

Sam Carson of Houston died in the flaming wreck of his oil truck 14 miles south of Victoria Sunday night. The truck crashed into a ditch on Highway 77 while avoiding collision with another vehicle. It burned an hour before Carson's body was removed.

Charles Osborn Higdon, 40, of Odessa, died Sunday in a Del Rio hospital from head and chest burns. Higdon and a co-worker, employes of the Odessa Welding Company, were pouring gasoline into the carburetor of a truck near Del Rio Saturday. The gasoline somehow ignited and Higdon's companion flung the gasoline can away. It accidentally struck Higdon on the chest.

Miss Geneva Klace, 40, who was in a two-car collision at San Antonio Saturday morning, died in a San Antonio hospital Monday.

Betty Bryant, 18, of Whitewright, was killed at midnight Sunday when a car failed to make a turn at an intersection north of Sherman.

Police Hold Man For Questioning In 'Phantom' Slayings

HOUSTON —(AP)— Police held Tuesday a man who boasted in a bar that he "knew all about" a series of unsolved murders in Texarkana.

Officers believed he meant the Texarkana "phantom" murders which took five lives in the Spring of 1946.

Detective Lt. W. P. Brown said the man claimed to be a resident of Texarkana, 50 years old and a civil engineer.

Brown said the man told him, "I wish I didn't know as much as I do about those killings."

Brown said the man was arrested Monday night after he made his boast to a bar acquaintance. The detective said the man had been drinking and his answers to questions about the killings were evasive.

Lengthy questioning was planned Tuesday.

Two-Year-Old Child Rescued From Well

ADA, OKLA.—(AP)—Two-year old Bud West went exploring and fell down a water well Monday.

His father, Louis West, heard the child's cries and scrambled down the well to the rescue.

When he got to the water, he found his son floating safely on his back. The water was 15 feet deep.

Bud suffered no injuries.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

Charles Self, Jr., was discharged Tuesday from Western Clinic-Hospital, where he underwent surgery recently.

HELD FOR EXAMINATION

Midland police removed a negro man from a Texas & Pacific passenger train here Monday night. He is being held for examination to determine if he is sane.

FALSE ALARM

Police were called to Kimbell-Midland Grocery Company Monday night when a nearby resident reported the burglar alarm had sounded. An investigation revealed a fire alarm had been set off by defective wiring.

FIRE AT TERMINAL

The Terminal Fire Department extinguished a grass fire near the entrance to Midland Air Terminal Monday. Some damage was done to asphalt paving at the gate.

VISITORS LEAVE

Mrs. W. J. Keeler and daughter, Surene, left Monday for their home in Dallas after a visit in the home of Mrs. Keeler's son, W. G. Keeler, and family.

Army Private Tells Of Striking Officer In Defense Of Girl

EL PASO—(AP)—A husky private said Monday he slugged Lt. Edward L. Helmstetter, Army officer found suffocated by his own blood in an El Paso driveway.

Pvt. Charles E. Meloche, 27, of New York said he struck in defense of his girl friend.

Helmstetter's body was found early Sunday. His jaw had been broken loose from his skull and he had concussion of the brain. An autopsy report said blood pouring from the break suffocated him.

Meloche went to Maj. Gen. John L. Homer, Fort Bliss commander, and said he hit Helmstetter twice with his fist.

General Homer said Meloche told him he did not know he struck the officer hard enough to kill him. The private decided to tell his story to the general after reading a newspaper account of the death.

General Homer said Meloche related that he and his girl were walking to her home when Helmstetter got out of a car and tried to force the girl to get into it with him.

Meloche said he knocked Helmstetter down, hit him again and then left with the girl, the Army reported.

West Texas Oil And Gas Log

ported as being at the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 104, block 2, TP survey.

This prospector is on a spread of acreage worked up by O. L. Johnson of Midland, and turned to York & Harper to drill the deep test. Several oil companies have large spreads in the vicinity of the wildcat, which is to be on a farmout from Honolulu Oil Corporation.

Operations are to start at once.

Kelly-Canyon Flanker Now Flowing To Test

Burdell Oil Company of New York, No. 1 Martin, stepout from production in the Kelly-Canyon field of Central Scurry County, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 190, block 97, H&TC survey, was flowing at the average rate of 13 barrels of oil per hour, through a 24/64th inch tubing choke, from pay in the Canyon lime at 6,823-28 feet.

The flow was natural and there was no water. Operator will take potential test and complete the development in a short time.

Magnolia Flanker Is Drilling In Montoya

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-30 Glass, northwest flanker to the opener of the Pegasus field in Central-North Upton County, had penetrated past 12,144 feet in the Montoya, upper Ordovician lime, and was drilling deeper.

This exploration, which is just inside the Midland County line, and 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 30, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S, flowed oil from the Pennsylvanian, showed good indications of production in the Devonian, and has indicated the discovery of oil and gas in commercial amounts from the Fusselman zone of the Silurian.

Magnolia No. 1-36 Glass, a long southwest stepout from the Pegasus field discovery, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 36, block 41, TP survey, T-4-S, had reached 11,860 feet in lower Devonian lime and chert, and was making more hole.

Operator probably will run a drillstem test in this venture in a short time. The Devonian has already logged some signs of petroleum. It also flowed oil from the Pennsylvanian.

Mississippian Has No Shows For Stanotex

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Dunn, Northwest Mitchell County wildcat, five miles east of Vincent, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 64, block 20, Lavaca Navigation survey, took a drillstem test at 8,280-8,305 feet in the Mississippian.

The tool was open one hour. Recovery was 15 feet of drilling mud which was void of any signs of oil, gas or formation water.

The project is making more hole. Top of the Mississippian was called at 8,160 feet. Elevation is 2,249 feet.

Some sources had reported that No. 1 Dunn tried to blow out late last week from the interval covered by the above drillstem test.

Informed observers reveal that some air bubbles did show at the top in the drilling mud, while the 8,280-8,305 foot horizon was being drilled. However the venture did not blow out and it has been determined that the section did not carry any appreciable amount of gas.

C-E Crane Producer Finished By Kewanee

Kewanee Oil & Gas Company No. 13-C Weekley-University, on the north side of the McElroy field in Central-East Crane County has been officially completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 1-178 barrels of 31-gravity oil, natural, and no water.

The flow was through open two-inch tubing and came from open hole at 3,056-3,105 feet.

This development is surrounded by producers from the same pay which are small pumpers. The initial production shown by No. 13-C Weekley-University ranks it as one of the best wells completed in the north end of the McElroy field in several years.

It is 1,650 feet from north and 330 feet from south lines of section 23, block 30, University survey, and about ten miles north and east of the town of Crane.

C-S Borden Venture Is Staked By Condor

Condor Petroleum Company has staked location for its No. 1-38 T. J. Good as an 8,500-foot exploration to test the Pennsylvanian lime section of the Good field in Central-South Borden County.

Rotary tools will be used to drill this venture which is 660 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 38, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey, and seven miles east of Ackerly.

Wildcat In C-S Garza Plugged By Anderson

P. W. Anderson of Midland, and associates, No. 1-A Miller, Central South Garza County wildcat, five miles southwest of Justiceburg, and 440 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 41, block 6, H&GN survey, drilled to 2,617 feet in Permian lime, and failed to find any indications of oil and gas production.

It has been abandoned and plugged.

Plymouth Employes Get Service Awards At Annual Barbecue

Six employes of Plymouth Oil Company in the West Texas district were given service awards Monday night at the company's annual Labor Day barbecue at Cloverdale Park in Midland.

Three of the awards were for 20 years of service and the other three went to men who had completed five years with the company.

The 20-year awards, which were diamond studded Plymouth emblems, were received by Charles N. Hickox of San Angelo, drilling superintendent; W. W. Hutchins of Texon, drilling superintendent, and S. E. Stewart of Texon, gauger.

The five-year pins went to David E Barnes, Jr., of Midland, scout; G. C. Camp of Big Spring, gauger, and W. E. Green of Big Spring, roustabout.

Ameche Attended

Approximately 200 persons, including Plymouth executives and employes from all parts of West Texas, together with their families, and a number of invited guests, attended the affair.

Among the guests were Don Ameche of Hollywood, Calif., who recently entered the oil business in West Texas by acquiring an interest in a large spread of leases in Borden County, on which he and his associates are to drill a deep wildcat in the near future.

Ameche acted as master-of-ceremonies for the presentation of the service awards to the Plymouth employes.

W. D. (Bill) Lane of Midland, general superintendent for the company for the West Texas district was in charge of the program and the barbecue.

Truman's Labor Day Talks Promise Scrap In 1950 Elections

INDEPENDENCE, MO. —(AP)— Top ranking advisers said Tuesday President Truman will spearhead the Democratic campaign in next year's congressional elections by personal appearances in key states.

These presidential associates, unquotable by name, said Truman's Labor Day speeches Monday were just a sample of the technique he will use in a rear platform stumping tour in 1950.

Most of them were agreed that Truman is undecided whether he will seek reelection in 1952.

The President started his 1950 campaigning early by lashing "organized special interests" in speeches at Pittsburgh and Des Moines.

He sought to drum up support for enactment of the Brannan production payment plan and for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

He defended the Democratic controlled 81st Congress for repairing "most of the damage" he said the GOP-dominated 80th did, but he added:

"There are still many reactionary senators and representatives in Congress, but they are no longer in control as they were last year and the year before."

The President flew into Missouri Monday night immediately after his address to the American Veterans of World War II (Amvets) at Des Moines.

He was to fly back to Washington Tuesday with Mrs. Truman.

12 Killed—

Austria during World War II. He then took a pharmacy course at Temple University, Philadelphia, under the GI Bill of Rights.

Thompson said the shootings began at 8:20 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Kills Druggist, Wife

At that time, the detective said Unruh ran out of the house where he was a roomer.

He swung his gun and fired at passersby on the street.

Then he ran into the drug store of Morris Cohen, 40, on the first floor of the house in which he lived.

Cohen's wife shrieked:

"It's a maniac! He's got a gun!"

She dashed upstairs where her son, Charles, 12, was in a bedroom. She locked the boy in a closet and hurried downstairs.

A bullet cut her down on the stairway. She died in her tracks.

Cohen, trying to get away, ran through a back door. He was shot as he ran and fell over dead in a gutter.

Cohen's mother, Mrs. Minnie Cohen, came down the stairs at that moment. Unruh turned and wounded her.

Barber Shop Next

Then the mad gunman ran from the drug store and into the barber shop of Clark Hoover.

He shot and killed Hoover.

Then he ran into a shoe repair shop and killed the proprietor.

From there Unruh dashed into a dry cleaning establishment and killed the proprietor there. At the same address he found a young bride and shot her.

Then, Thompson said, Unruh ran to his own room, where he had what Thompson described as an "arsenal of knives, clubs and ammunitions."

Shoots Out Of Window

He barred the door and took six shots out the window at passerby in the street. He felled several of them.

Among those shot down in the street were two-year-old Morris Smith and Thomas Hamilton, five.

Both died later at Cooper Hospital in Camden.

Also killed by out-the-window shots were James J. Hutton, 45, of nearby Westmont, N. J., and Alvin M. Day of Mantua, N. J.

The whole battle lasted less than three-quarters of an hour. It was 9:15 a.m. when Unruh was captured.

The dead and wounded were taken to Cooper Hospital, which for a time resembled a field station at a battlefront.

All available doctors and nurses were pressed into service as the litters were brought in.

After the shootings, police threw a cordon around the neighborhood and undertook a house-to-house search for any dead or wounded who might have been overlooked in the excitement.

Just Like A Battle

"It was just like a battle," said Dominic Latela, 34, who runs a frozen food business at 3216 River Road.

"I was in my shop when I heard shots and saw a bunch of children run out of the barber shop," Latela said. "Then one woman came out carrying a child. I took the child from her and rushed him to the hospital. Before I left I heard at least 10 more shots."

The child, Thomas Hamilton, died at Cooper Hospital.

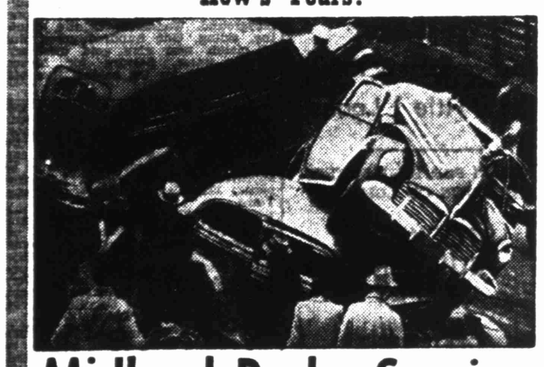

Eyewitnesses—and there were hundreds of them—linked the peaceful neighborhood to a "scene of war."

And one of those who watched the shootings related how Unruh calmly took time off from his wild barrage to lean from the window of his room and spit.

LEGAL NOTICES 1-A

SHERIFF'S SALE
THE STATE OF TEXAS
County of Midland

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Midland County, on the 15th day of July 1949, by judgment entered on the 19th day of May, 1949, ordering all of the community property, both real and personal, to be sold and the proceeds equally divided between the Plaintiff, Willie Lee Harrison, and Defendant, Bennie Carl Harrison, in a certain cause in said Court, No. 5076 and styled Willie Lee Harrison vs. Bennie Carl Harrison, placed in my hands for service, I, Ed Darnell, as Sheriff of Midland County, Texas, did, on the 6th day of September 1949, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Midland County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

Lot 2, Block 75, Southern Addition to the town of Midland County, Texas, together with all improvements situated thereon and levied upon as the Community property of Willie Lee Harrison and Bennie Carl Harrison and that on the first Tuesday in October 1949, the same being the 4th day of said month, at the Court House door, of Midland County, in the City of Midland, Texas, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the Community property of said Willie Lee Harrison and Bennie Carl Harrison.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale in the The Reporter-Telegram, a newspaper published in Midland County.

Witness my hand, this 6th day of September 1949.

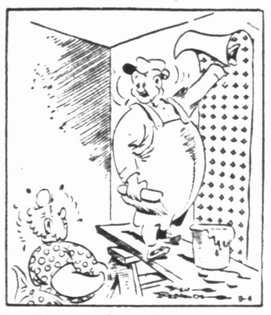

ED DARNELL, Sheriff
Midland County, Texas

For Safety, Go East, Young Man

The above map shows the accidental death rates by states during 1948, just released by the National Safety Council. Generally, the Eastern states had a lower rate than the West, the Rocky Mountain region being highest with 103 accidental deaths per 100,000 and the New England states having the lowest rate of 55. New Jersey was the safest state during 1948, with only 51.5 accidental deaths per 100,000 and Nevada the most dangerous with 154.9.

Firemen, Spectator Injured In $150,000 Fire At Royse City

ROYSE CITY—(AP)—Four business buildings were destroyed and two damaged heavily by fire that roared unchecked more than two hours Monday night. An explosion injured two firemen, and a spectator was hurt during the confusion of the blaze.

Damage was estimated unofficially at from $100,000 to $150,000. Mayor Roy Cookston's estimate was $125,000.

The fire began about 7:30 p.m. in the Clockwise Dress Factory. Firemen from three neighboring towns helped this North Texas community's volunteer crew bring the blaze under control about 9:45 p.m.

R. M. (Bob) Robison, editor of the Royse City American, said "pandemonium hit this town" when about "five thousand people came from every place within 20 miles" to see the fire.

"We don't have any police," Robison said. "We'd just pick out a man and say 'You help keep 'em back'."

Bank Damaged Heavily

The fire destroyed a blacksmith shop on the east side of the dress factory and the Polar Bear Ice Cream Plant on the west side. It burned down an empty, newly remodeled theater, next to the ice cream plant.

The blaze caused heavy damage to the Citizens State Bank on the west end of the block and to a garage adjoining the blacksmith shop. Important papers were saved from the bank.

Royse City Fire Chief Cap Dinsmore suffered a badly cut right arm muscle and back injuries when ammonia exploded in the ice cream plant. Volunteer Fireman Welby Sherrill also was hurt in the blast. Dinsmore was sent to a hospital in Dallas, about 34 miles southwest of here.

Mrs. Lloyd Hicks, a spectator, received a hip injury during the confusion. She was sent to a hospital in Greenville, about 20 miles east of here.

Four Persons Die In Midnight Road Crash

HOUSTON —(AP)— Four persons were killed in a midnight crash on the Beaumont Highway Monday night as two cars—each carrying persons returning from Labor Day outings—sideswiped and spun off opposite sides of the road.

The accident happened eight miles from the Houston city limits, near Hou-Mont Park. Dead are:

Bobby Frank Mason, 20, Houston, killed instantly when his head was crushed.

June Hemphill, 18, Houston, who died at 2:45 a.m. from internal injuries.

Daniel Leon Green, 27, Port Arthur, died instantly from head injuries.

Peggy O'Reilly, 27, of Port Arthur, who died enroute to a hospital.

Officers were unable to determine the exact cause of the accident, since the other occupants of the cars were too badly injured to give a clear picture.

Green and Miss O'Reilly, who went to Monterrey, Mexico, for a holiday weekend with a girl friend of Miss O'Reilly, were in a Buick sedan, returning to Port Arthur. Asleep in the rear seat was Ray Huber Barkley, 19, of Zanesville, Ohio, who said he hitched a ride in Monterrey. He was admitted to Jefferson Davis Hospital with a broken rib and broken ankle.

The Mason youth and Miss Hemphill were driving toward Houston in a Ford sedan with three other youngsters, all of whom were seriously injured. They are:

Donald Lucky, 18, Houston, possible skull fracture and concussion.

Roy W. Davis, 20, Houston, fractured jaw and suffering from severe shock.

Vera Patricia Roach, 16, Houston, unconscious and in critical condition with head injuries.

They were returning from a swimming party. Officers are not sure who was driving the Ford.

It rolled about 100 feet after the crash, landing upside down. Davis and Miss Roach were thrown clear.

American Progress Cited As Cause Of British Dollar Crisis

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Britain will ask permission to spend Marshall Plan dollars anywhere she likes —not just in the United States— as one way out of her financial crisis, officials said Tuesday.

Diplomatic authorities said British Foregin Minister Bevin—on his way here for three-power talks on Britain's economic plight—is convinced his country shortly will have to dip into her dwindling reserves for millions of dollars unless Marshall Plan policies are relaxed.

Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, are due in New York Tuesday night aboard the British liner Mauretania for the critical British-American-Canadian financial conference opening Wednesday at the State Department.

Top diplomats of the three governments hope to devise a series of stop-gap measures at these discussions to keep Britain's condition from getting worse. But they are reported pessimistic about finding an immediate formula for solving Britain's long-range problem.

Former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said Britain's basic trouble is that "American industry has achieved such a phenomenal peak of efficiency and productivity" that no country in Western Europe can compete with it.

In an article appearing in the Washington Post, Morgenthau said: "It is not that they are less efficient than before, but simply that we have so tremendously increased our own efficiency that they have been outdistanced."

Gas Well Runs Wild In East Texas Area

MARSHALL —(AP)— A wild gas well continued to spew water, mud and sand high into the air Tuesday, enlarging its crater which already has swallowed $65,000 worth of drilling equipment.

The test well, in a river bed 18 miles north of here, blew out about 8:30 a. m. Sunday.

Ed Stanley, chief engineer of the Oil and Gas Division of the Texas Railroad Commission field office at Kilgore visited the well Tuesday to determine what could be done.

Sheriff Joe Riggs of Marion County said the well continued to roar with unabated activity, deepening its big crater.

Highway patrolmen have blockaded the area.

The gas test is the Dallas No. 1 Black Cypress. It is on a 67.93-acre state lease about two miles northeast of Jefferson. The geysering gas broke loose when the gas test reachd 380 feet. Drilling of the gas test began last Friday. It was supposed to go to 11,500 feet.

Researchers Develop Protection Against Lethal Radiations

CHICAGO —(AP)— A method of protecting animals against death resutling from lethal radiations has been developed by four scientists at the Argonne National Laboratory.

The laboratory announced the new finding involves the use of cysteine, an inexpensive amino acid containing sulphur which usually is prepared from horsehair of wool.

The scientists found that a majority of mice and rats given usually fatal doses of radiation did not die if they previously had been treated with cysteine. The laboratory reported that 70 to 80 per cent of the animals given injections of cysteine survived irradition which killed about 80 per cent of the untreated mice and rats.

"These findings may provide important clues as to the nature of radiation damage and its treatment," the laboratory said in announcing the discovery. "Extensive research along these lines is in progress at the laboratory."
