My Korner Miss Montgomery

Interesting to note local History Appreciation Week, now in progress Ozona, coincides with the founding of the Crockett County Historical Society 29 years ago this year. Don't know whether coincidence or was planned.

activities planned for the day and displays of history scattered around town, it should be an interesting week for local buffs.

There will be a local history display at the high school library tonight during open house celebration of the first birthday. Tied to the events is the adult room, which was dedicated in memory of Mr. Robert Massie, a couple prominent in early history of the area.

We have been taking developing most of the pictures you have seen in the Stockman, and to be in danger of smothered with pictures rather than throw away, we would be glad to sell them to interested parties for a small fee.

Due to the problems of population explosion, it has recently been discovered that the United States is being surely and speedily encroached by the U. S. S. R. and the O. S. S. are advancing upon us. The Army Corps of Engineers says that at least the Atlantic Coast is being eroded and many public beaches are in danger of being carried away by the Gulf Coast and the Pacific are not much off.

It is true, and it sure is, but our rush to get on the moon may not help after all.

— K K —
The May 4 primary around the corner and an interest manifest in the various commissioners feel compelled to give careful attention to the candidates of their choice. Having government, the four commissioners actually running and are in charge of county funds in Crockett County. All important decisions concerning the county are made by these public officials.

Looking for these three candidates he feels qualified for the job, because he is a relative, he needs the job, he promises the voters because he is the entertaining to talk.

Every voter in the county has the opportunity to look at the past records of the candidates and to look in the qualifications of those who are running for the job. Remember these four officials represent your home, city and county and are in charge of your tax money. Think before you put the ballot in the box.

— K K —
I don't mean to mention this week, since my son informed me the column was getting because of so much chatter and the editor getting tired of it. I couldn't restrain myself a little surprise I always thought the column as adult fare. I decide if I am not as old as I thought I was (Continued on Last Page)

Junior Rodeo To Cut Affiliation With AJRA In '68

Changes in the annual Ozona junior rodeo were announced this week by rodeo chairman Bill Watson. The rodeo will not be sanctioned by the A. J. R. A. (American Junior Rodeo Assn.), as it has been in the past.

The committee decided to drop the affiliation with the national association in order to encourage the participation of more local youths and younger entries.

Dates for the annual affair have been moved up about a month this year and will be held June 21 and 22. The rodeo will be held both nights and Saturday, June 22, has been designated an all-day fun day for young and old alike. Plans for the fun day include a noon barbecue, horse-shoe pitching and picking and singing by local musicians, among other activities.

Events for the rodeo will remain about the same as in past years, with the addition of sack races, boot scrambles, greased pig races, etc. Entry fees will be $3 per event instead of the $10 fees charged in the past. No money prizes will be given this year which would disqualify a youngster from interscholastic league participation. Trophies will be given for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place in each event. All-around trophies will be awarded for both boys and girls in each age group.

Proceeds from the fun day will be used to initiate a fund for building new barns and stalls near the arena.

Mrs. Bill Sloan and daughters, Vivian, Cynthia and Susan of Saginaw spent last week with Mrs. Sloan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Perner. Mr. Sloan and son, Stephen, joined them Sunday in Eldorado for the dedication of the Doty Marker.

in the Regional Meet held last Saturday in Lubbock.

Sutton won the discus throw with 165'4" and was 2nd to Eldorado's Mayo with 55'155 in the shot put; Haire jumped 5'9 3/4" for the second place medal and a trip to Austin.

Larry Kilgore got a point with a 6th in the high hurdles, and Ernest Rios was 6th in the high jump as the Lions totaled 28 points in the meet won by the Eldorado Eagles with 42 points. Schools from District 8A were all high in the final point standing, with 3 teams finishing in the top 6.

This Saturday, Sutton will be in Corpus Christi for the Little State Meet, which invites only the boys and relay teams with the 6 best times and distances in all 15 official events. Sutton will enter both the shot and discus, and could rate the favorite's role in the discus.

On May 3 & 4th, the State Meet will be held in Austin with AA & AAA running events to be held on Friday night, May 3rd; Classes B, A, & AAAA running events will be on Saturday afternoon, May 4th.

WALKING AROUND MONEY

So much drivel has been written about the rioting and looting in our cities that it is not easy to put the disturbances in perspective. Politicians, wiping tears with one hand while holding aloft a campaign banner with the other, chorus that billions of the taxpayer's dollars will have to be spent on the good things of life for these downtrodden looter-voters.

Before you accept that verdict, ponder the following Associated Press dispatch out of Chicago on April 10: "The warden of the Cook County (Chicago) jail said yesterday that he is amazed at the sum of money found on the approximately 1,800 persons arrested during the rioting in Chicago Friday and Saturday.

"Winston Moore, the warden, said $85,000 was inventoried as taken from prisoners. One man arrested at the scene of looting had $563 in his possession. Moore said the average adult who was arrested for looting had $300 to $400."

That's a lot of walking around money and rather more than our friends and neighbors carry in their pockets. Where did these adult looters and arsonists get that kind of money? Were they paid in advance, by someone, to loot and set fires? And if so, who paid them? Maybe the President riot commission should be reconvened to review the matter of whether or not there is a conspiracy at the bottom of this. If the average adult looter had $300 to $400, certainly they don't need any billions from Washington very badly.

KEEP THE POLITICIANS OUT

Governor George Romney exercised remarkable restraint. In those feverish days last summer when Detroit was being sacked by rioters, President Johnson, the politician, allowed as how if the Governor of Michigan could not control the situation in his State, then Federal forces would be sent in. And thereupon, the President sent not only troops, but also a personal representative to "take charge."

Washington's agony was longer, more costly, more dangerous. But Governor Romney maintained a Christian silence. He refrained from embarrassing the President by wondering publicly if Johnson couldn't control the situation. Meantime, the President figuratively fiddled, like Nero, while the Rome of our country burned.

What possible inhibition can there be for a public official to protect the life and property of 99 percent of the population against the illegal looting of 1 percent? Truth be known, 99 percent of the negro population of Washington is asking that question, as are the police.

Police on Washington's streets expressed open bitterness about the orders under which they operated. They were instructed to make no arrests other than for felonies. Under such instruction, arrests for looting were barred. It is necessary only to remember that it is these uniformed police who will have to patrol the looted and burned blocks in the weeks and months ahead, and walk among the store owners and apartment dwellers, to understand the policeman's disgust.

Newspaper photographers and TV cameramen photographed looters, smiling and casual, carrying off treasure with uniformed police standing idly by, restrained by political orders. What impression will those photographs make on millions of young people in other cities across the land?

Politics and riots don't mix. Politicians are timid animals. Looters have learned this, and take advantage of it. By what thinking process does the politician elect to permit hoodlums to loot and burn the merchant's retail store, and the apartments above it?

The first politician with the guts to make riot control a police function is going to be amazed at how much respect he commands from black and white citizens.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

BY C. WILSON HARDER

In the past few years, anytime anyone goes so far as to suggest there might be a communist conspiracy going with roots in this nation, there are loud cries of "McCarthyism" or "John Birchism."

Yet there is the old saying that if something waddles like a duck, quacks like a duck, and looks like a duck, there can be an assumption that it is a duck.

C. W. Harder

A case in point along this line is the developments in the prolonged copper strike. As is well known, copper, which is also a component of brass, is a vital war element not only for shell casings, primers, but in modern warfare sophisticated electronic equipment requires copper.

The strike is against the entire copper industry from the mines through the smelting and fabricating processes. The main issue is that the union, the United Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers demands a master contract covering entire industry.

This is not practical. Several years ago the union was thrown out of the AFL-CIO complex on the grounds its leadership was communist dominated.

Now with Americans dying in southeast Asia, presumably to stop communism, there has been no domestic copper to supply the fighting forces. It has been necessary to import copper, with the normal price charged by our "allies" jumping from around 38 cents per pound, pre-strike to somewhere close to 80 cents per pound.

But that is not the entire story, either, because lately the longshore unions have either been refusing, or delaying the unloading of imported copper. While such a secondary boycott is presumably illegal, the longshoremen have just not been touching the stuff.

While the necessity to purchase foreign copper has been playing hob with the U. S. balance of trade situation, of far greater import at this time is the threat to the safety of the American fighting forces.

The situation could have been remedied at any time by use of the 80-day "cooling off" injunction provided under the Taft-Hartley Act. But in an election year there is a great reluctance to use this tool.

On the other hand, because the communists 11,000 miles away must be contained, there is no curtailment of the draft calls. But on the other hand, the 18-year olds cannot vote. And while there is a tendency to term the teen agers demonstrating against the Vietnam war as "confused" it might be well to ask just where does confusion end... and who are the ones really confused.

HIGH FINANCE EXPLAINED

The head of the foreign aid program appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee a few days ago to testify on the $3.1 billion foreign aid budget proposed by the President. A careful reading of the hearings makes it possible to print here, in a few inches of type, a simplified lesson in high finance. If you've had trouble understanding high finance in the past, bear with us. It is all very simple, really.

If you pay 6 percent, or some such rate of interest on the money you have borrowed to pay for your car, or your house, you will appreciate the economy that foreign governments realize in being able to borrow money from the International Development Association at less than 1 percent. The actual interest rate is 1/2 of 1 percent. Keep that 1/2 of 1 percent interest rate in mind. It is the foundation of our quick lesson in high finance.

Now a million dollars is a lot of money. Some of us work a lifetime without accumulating that much. But in high finance, it's pocket money. Vice Presidents of the United States have been known to promise $100 million in US aid money over breakfast coffee. Technically, of course, the $100 million is a loan. So let's use that convenient round figure as our example.

The head of a "developing" country borrows $100 million; the interest rate is 1/2 of 1 percent — $750,000 a year interest.

But Washington doesn't have the $100 million in hand. It has to sell government bonds to raise the money. And it pays at least 4.65 percent interest on the bonds. Any fool can see that there's a loss on that deal. Uncle Sam pays $4,650,000 in interest on the $100 million, but recovers only $750,000 when he puts it out on loan. You can go broke doing that. Right? At the rate of $3,900,000 a year. But as we mentioned, the foreign aid budget is $3.1 billion, not $100 million. So Uncle Sam pays to go broke faster.

You see? High finance is simple. The banker who pays 4.65 percent interest on money he borrows, and who loans the same money at 1/2 of 1 percent, is going to be very popular. He'll have a waiting list of clients who want to borrow money. But it developed in the hearings that last year banker Uncle Sam paid out $465 million in interest on government bonds to "foreign official institutions and international organizations." What governments? That is "highly confidential" information.

Is it possible, you ask, that some foreign governments borrowed money at 1/2 of 1 percent interest, invest it in US government bonds which pay 4.65 interest, and pocket the difference? Could be. Nobody can find out.

A Bird in Hand

Copyright 1968 Texas Advertising Service, Inc., Houston, Tex.

The hands are gentle and deft... the bird-banding process is painless and quick. Soon the bird will fly off, safe and unharmed, unaware that it has become another link in the chain of research concerning the migratory habits of birds.

Our feathered friend has no interest in the fact that his experience ultimately will help chart the flight lines of all migrant birds. With heart beating wildly in its soft, downy throat, it longs only to be free.

Sometimes people are like that bird. Caught in circumstances beyond our control, we flail and thrash about. Fear and doubt overwhelm us and we fail to realize and acknowledge the loving arm of God that is present and sustaining in every situation.

Place your faith and trust in God and His Church. In times of need, strength and help are yours for the asking.

Feverless

Give it time. Spring is late in coming this year.

Dear Gabby,

Several weeks ago this boy liked me a lot. He said he liked the way I acted. Well, he doesn't give a flip about me now and I still act the same. What happened?

Changed

Dear Changed,

You got old quick.

Dear Gabby,

I think I'm in love with a very nice boy. It seems like I'm always thinking about him, and daydreaming that we are married and groovy stuff like that. Every move I make I think about Martin. (fake name) I get butterflies in my stomach every time I see him. One time he asked me what time it was. Ohh Gabby, I was so shocked I stayed at home for a week. Gabby, I think he is so groovy, but he doesn't even know I'm alive. I'm good-looking, have a great personality. What's the matter with me?

Elroy

Improvements in Medicare Act Benefit Local Beneficiaries

Important improvements have been made in the Medicare program under social security amendments which became effective January 1, 1968.

Medicare beneficiaries whose physicians prefer to bill them directly instead of billing Medicare will no longer have to pay the bill and get it receipted before they can collect Medicare payments. Beginning January 1, 1968, all the beneficiary needs is an itemized bill, not an itemized receipted bill as in the past. Of course, the assignment - to - the - doctor method is still the simplest method for all concerned. It requires the use of only a single sheet of paper, the "request-for-payment" form.

Although the Crockett County Hospital chose not to participate in Medicare, it is approved by Medicare and patients covered by Medicare may get up to 70% of their total bill refunded by Medicare.

Also, the Medicare program may now make partial payment of bills for treatment before January 1, 1968, in hospitals not participating in the Medicare program. If a person covered by Medicare had to pay a bill because he was treated in such a hospital, it is possible he may be reimbursed. If you were a Medicare beneficiary between July 1, 1966 and December 31, 1967, and could not earlier get payment under Medicare for a stay in a hospital that did not take part in Medicare, ask your social security man to help you apply for benefits.

Beginning January 1, a person covered under the hospital insurance part of Medicare will be eligible for 60 additional days of care partly paid for by Medicare. This is a "lifetime reserve" that you can draw upon if you have used up the 90 days in a "spell of illness." During these additional days, your Medicare will pay all but $20 a day of your covered hospital expenses.

Sheep Field Day At Ranch Station Scheduled May 1

The Annual Sheep Field Day at the Ranch Experiment Station, Sonora, will be held May 1, reports County Agent Pete Jacoby.

Starting at 10 a. m., he said, inspections would be made of the performance test rams and bilies and an hour later, James A. Gray, Extension animal husbandman from San Angelo, will give a demonstration on sheep selection.

The Sutton County 4-H Club will provide the dutch-treat noon barbecue, the county agent said.

The afternoon session is scheduled to begin at 1 p. m. with A. H. Walker, state leader, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, serving as master of ceremonies. Dr. Leo Merrill, in charge of the Sonora unit of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will welcome the group to the Station.

Texas A & M University President Earl Rudder will speak on "The Commitment of the University to the Sheep and Goat Industry."

Activities of the National Wool Growers Association will be discussed by Association President W. E. Overton of Yesso, New Mexico.

F. H. Harris, Rambouillet breeder and ram test co-operator from Bronco, New Mexico, will give his observations of the ram test.

Jim Menzies, research associate at the Station, will conclude the day's program with a report on the ram test results and other research being conducted.

Mr. Jacoby said sheep producers from Crockett County have a special invitation to attend the field day. The program is fast moving and valuable information will be presented, he noted.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kost spent the weekend in San Antonio touring the HemisFair.

New Postal Rule Seeks To Curb Offensive Mail

Mail patrons offended by pandering advertisements can now take steps to curb such mail, Postmaster Floyd Hokit said today in announcing plans for administering a new law which gives each family the right to decide that an ad is "erotically arousing or sexually provocative."

When an advertisement sent through the mails is offensive on these grounds, a postal patron can now ask the post office to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him and to remove immediately the patron's name from all mailing lists he owns, controls or rents.

Last year the Post Office Department received some 140,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements. While in most cases the ads were not legally obscene and were therefore mailable, they are often offensive and are usually not the type of material one would want his children to read.

Murdoch said Tom Green, Crockett, Schleicher and Sutton Counties were designated by Secretary Freeman as areas in which emergency loans could be made by the Farmers Home Administration to eligible farmers and ranchers because of the recent drought years.

Dear Editor: I would like to take this opportunity to commend your editorial of April 11, 1968, concerning the death of Martin Luther King. It was amazing to me to read so many accounts of this incident and to find your paper the only one with enough courage or backbone to print it as it was. Best Wishes.

SENATE REPORT

SNELSON SAYS:

"TEXAS MUST MEET THE CRIME PROBLEM"

Pete Snelson feels deeply that the handcuffs placed on our law enforcement officers by the Texas Criminal Code written by his opponent (Hardeman), must be unlocked and placed on the hands of the Criminals where they belong. This "Code," which places the "rights" of the criminal above those of the public, must be revised to strengthen the hand of those men who have dedicated their lives to the protection of our lives and property. Texas' growing crime rate, a frightening spectacle in the light of nationwide riots and disorders, must be halted by sensible laws and a greater recognition of the responsibility of the men charged with enforcing them.

If you believe, with me, that we cannot tolerate lawlessness and that we must do all that we can to prevent it, then I hope you will join hands with me in this campaign for State Senator.
